Fredericksburg Route—Morden, Hamburg, Sillsville, Parma and Conway—Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays—Mail closes 1 p. m.
Switzerville—Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays—Mail closes 1:15 p. m.
Gosport and Grctna—Saturday—Mail closes 1 p. m.
Erinsville, Roblin and Selby, daily—Mail closes 1:30 p. m.
Overton, Forest Mills and Leinster, daily—Mail closes 1:30 p. m.

CHURCHES.

HOURS OF SERVICES.

Episcopal Methodist—Rev. C. Hartley. Services 10:30 a. m., and 6:30 p. m. Sunday School, 2 p. m.
Janada Methodist—Rev. A. B. Chambers, L.L.B. Services 10:30 a. m., and 6:30 p. m. Sunday School, 2 p. m.
Episcopal—Rev. J. J. Bogart, Rector. Services 11 a. m., and 7 p. m. Sunday School 3 p. m.
Presbyterian—Rev. A. Young. Services 11 a. m., and 7 p. m. Sunday School 3 p. m.
Roman Catholic—Rev. Father MacDonagh. Mass 10:30 a. m., and 6:30 p. m. Sunday School 2:30 p. m.
The Brethren—Meet at 11 a. m., and 7 p. m. Sunday School at 2:30 p. m., every Sunday in Grange Block.

GEO. P. ROWELL & Co.,

40 PARK ROW, NEW YORK,

AGENTS for the "NAPANEE EXPRESS", Napanee, Ont.

THE EXPRESS.

NAPANEE, NOV. 16th, 1877.

TO OUR PATRONS.

Custom has long since established the precedent, which has almost become a law, that an Editor, on assuming his responsible duties, shall address his readers at considerable length on what might be termed his line of policy. In our case, however, we can assure our friends that the infliction shall, for the present, at least, be brief. In assuming the position we fully appreciate its cares and responsibilities. We can only promise that in every instance will we do our best to serve the interest of the public and the party with which we and the EXPRESS have always been identified. While we shall constantly endeavor to further the interests of Reform in the Ridings from which we principally derive our support, we will give a condensed detail of the week's doings, with a sprinkling of

COMPARISONS.

Tory leaders, during their perigrinations through the country are ever harping upon the extravagance of the Grit Government. A comparison of how the "chieftain" conducted, his department, "spending money like a man" and the economical manner in which it has been conducted by the Hon. E. Blake, illustrates the value of their accusations. For telegraphing, in one year, Sir John charged the department $4,371.88; Mr. Blake's bill was only $330. For cab hire, Sir John set down $1,035.50; Mr. Blake's $14.80. For travelling expenses, Sir John claimed $1,218.12; Mr. Blake, $51.35. For postage, Sir John, with less than one-third the amount of correspondence, charged $493.37; and Mr. Blake did more than three times the business at a cost of $125.77. A saving of nearly $6,000 a year in one department may seem a trifle to a princely politician like Sir John, but the people, at whose expense he has been dispensing his royal favors think differently. No defense or explanation of this outlay is offered, Oppositionists wisely ignoring the comparison, content if they can distract public attention by resurrecting some of their exploded slanders.

RECIPROCITY.

Whether or no Canada is soon to have the privileges of reciprocal trade with our neighbors across the border, there is evidently a rapidly increasing tendency in its favor throughout the States. There are at the present time no less than four resolutions before Congress tending in the direction of a more liberal trade policy with other nations. Such convincing proofs of the suicidal policy which has been in vogue in that country for a number of years, as are presented by Mr. David Wells, that the present tariff system, "not only shut out foreign goods, but shut home manufactures in," and Secretary Eyarts, statement that free trade was the one great necessity of the United States, is having its influence. The first of the resolutions referred to authorizes the President to appoint three commissioners to confer with other commissioners to be appointed by the Emperor of Brazil, to ascertain on what basis a treaty of reciprocal trade for the mutual benefit of the people of the United States and the Empire of Brazil can be negotiated. Another resolution authorizes the President to appoint three commissioners to confer with commissioners from the Dominion of Canada for the same purposes as stated in the first resolution. The third resolution is for negotiating a reciprocity treaty with the Central American States, and the fourth for obtaining, if possible, a reciprocity treaty with Mexico. In the Senate, Senator Maxey, of Texas, has introduced a joint resolution of similar purport for the negotiation of reciprocal trade with Mexico, and Mr. Maxey is now preparing statistics of the trade of Mexico with foreign countries in comparison with her commerce with the United States. So the ball keeps rolling, one by one the most convincing proofs of the utter emptiness of the Protection myth are adduced, and its theories entirely exploded by the bitter test of practical experience.

GRAIN SHIPMENT.—The large shipments of grain from New York to Liverpool are calling into requisition the services of every available vessel—even the Faraday and the Great Eastern, both of which have been largely used for the laying of Atlantic cables, being brought into this service. The Faraday sailed from New York on Friday, loaded with grain and provisions and 500 horses and cattle on her decks, and the Great Eastern, 10,000 tons burden, is on her way to New York on a similar errand. It is said that enough orders have been received for grain on English account to give employment to every idle British vessel afloat. On account of the great movement in grain it is thought that England, anticipating a prolongation of the war, is laying in her next season's stock.

Because Mr. Laurier, the new Minister of Inland Revenue was defeated at the Polls by a majority of 26, Oppositionists are loud in their demands upon the Premier to dissolve the House. This is considered sufficient evidence that the tidal wave which has been sweeping over the Country during the past two years, devouring in its might grit government, buns and such like choice morsels, has at last reached such a height that all demands must be complied with. But out of curiosity let us examine how these same gentlemen acted under similar circumstances. Sir Archibald, an associate Minister with Sir John Macdonald was defeated by a majority of 263, and the Ministry did not resign in consequence. The majority against Sir Geo. E. Cartier was over 1000, and yet Sir John only gripped the reins tighter and sent his friend to a convenient constituency in Manitoba to represent a few half breeds. Sir Francis Hincks was defeated in 1872 by a majority of 270, and was compelled to seek a constituency in British Columbia. But what was still worse this redoubtable Knight retained Mr. Morrison in his Cabinet for two years without a seat in the House. Under these circumstances we cannot see justice in the demand and are inclined to believe that no one but a man possessing a cheek as tough as boiler-plate would think of repeating it.

WAR NEWS.

Friday.

THE SITUATION AT PLEVNA.

Affairs at Plevna are apparently nearing a crisis. Desertions are becoming alarmingly frequent, as well as numerous, the last batch reported at the Russian headquarters numbering five hundred, and the indications are that Osman Pasha must shortly either surrender or attempt a sortie. There is no news today from Cheket Pasha, who was said to be moving to the relief of Plevna, and it is doubtful if he will be able to make an enduring impression upon the large forces of Russians that blockade Osman Pasha on the south.

News has been received from Muktar Pasha up to Monday, when the Turks were occupying the fortifications of Erzeroum and preparing for such a defence as their weakened condition would allow them to make.

The news from Montenegro was engaged in bombarding one of their forts near Scutari, and in capturing batteries on

Tuesday.

Heavy fighting is said to have been going on at Plevna, which, according to Turkish advices, has resulted in a mention attempts made by the Turkish forces to capture the positions, but it is suspiciously silent as to results. A change of commanders in this quarter, reported, Cheket Pasha and M. Ali having exchanged commands, the going to Orhanie, whence operations in aid of Osman Pasha be made if made at all, and the taking the command at the Shipka. It has finally been decided that will take part in the war, and Milan has issued a proclamation army.

A Bogot despatch, dated Nov. 6th, says Osman Pasha's losses amounted at two hundred to three hundred from the Russian artillery. Pasha's is busily constructing fortifications, which point to his intention to hold out as long as possible rather than attempt a sortie. Prisoners and reports state that the Turks have six provisions.

A Bogot despatch says: The Turkish Saturday night attempted to capture Skobelev's positions. The Russians allowed the Turks to approach within a hundred paces, when they received with a heavy fire. The Turks retired to an entrenched position and made a violent fire until two o'clock the day morning.

Wednesday.

The only change in the situation in the vicinity of Plevna is the occupation of Gen. Skobelev's command of the position which yesterday's despatches them disputing with the Turks, attacks of the latter having been repulsed by a heavy fire from seventy guns. The new position will enable the besiegers to turn all intervening works in the direction of Tutenitza, Radishov, Gravitza—along the lines to the east Plevna. Preparations are, it being made for a general attack on Osman Pasha.

Another change in the Turkish commands is announced, Suleiman once more taking the army of R. and Fazli Pasha the army of Rasg this direction the Russians are upkovatz, to the west of Vratza, ably with the intention of crossing the Balkans once more. In the west Montenegrins have met with a success in the neighbourhood of Antyari, which enable them to commence more operations against that town. Preparations are being made for Servians. Fresh bodies of troops constantly on the move towards the frontier, ambulances are being sent and work is going on night and day at the arsenal at Kragujevatz.

There is no news of importance from Asia Minor. General Heymaer has marched upon Erzeroum but lost his way.

Thursday.

Muktar Pasha telegraphed from room this morning 9th inst., that the Russians attacked his positions at their troops were repulsed, and sued them four or five miles from room. The Russians were totally defeated. The trenches are filled with their dead. Earlier advices before this the situation was very serious. The inhabitants demanded the Russians to capitulate.

At Plevna there are indications of a general movement of the inside the town is visible from the Russian lines. Gen. Skobelev is reported to have captured additional Turkish positions on Monday night, thereby contracting the circle of besiegers. Reported well at Erzeroum. Reports having arrived the garrison refused to comply with a summons to surrender, and are confident of being able to hold the town. An active campaign against Kars is going on. In the

THE EXPRESS.

NAPANEE, NOV. 16th, 1877.

TO OUR PATRONS.

Custom has long since established the precedent, which has almost become a law, that an Editor, on assuming his responsible duties, shall address his readers at considerable length on what might be termed his line of policy. In our case, however, we can assure our friends that the infliction shall, for the present, at least, be brief. In assuming the position we fully appreciate its cares and responsibilities. We can only promise that in every instance will we do our best to serve the interest of the public and the party with which we and the EXPRESS have always been identified. While we shall constantly endeavor to further the interests of Reform in the Ridings from which we principally derive our support, we will give a condensed detail of the week's doings, with a sprinkling of choice literary selections, making a journal of interest to both old and young. During the next few weeks we purpose making several improvements in the typographical appearance and make up of the paper, and by paying unceasing attention to our business, furnish a paper which will be well worth the price of subscription. Of these changes, however, we will speak as they are made, and for the present merely crave your future favors and indulgencies.

WM. C. SCOTT.

FARMERS AND PROTECTION.

Some of our Conservative friends who find the Hon. Mr. Cartwright's address anent Protection, more especially that portion referring to farmers, rather a hard dose to swallow, affect not to understand this very lucid and exhaustive explanations. For their information we give a brief revise of a few of the Hon. Minister's sentiments. His first principle was "that native industry should be fostered, but that the promotion of trade for the benefit of a few instead of the whole, was erroneous." That the protection or enriching of a few at the expense of the mass was not a policy of good government. Secondly—that a further increase of duty on imports meant an increase of taxation, and as only about one-fourth of the population were at all interested in the so-called protection system, the great burden of the increase must come directly from the pockets of the agricultural community. Although it was desirable that every branch of our national industries should succeed, still success may be purchased at too dear a price, as our American neighbors, both manufacturers and agriculturists, have already found to their sorrow. One of the foremost principles, therefore expressed by Mr. Cartwright was that if a higher rate of tariff be inaugurated it would simply mean taking so much more money directly from the pockets of farmers and others in Canada, for the purpose of enriching a certain few of the community. It is not desirable, nor is it necessary, that home manufactures, and Secretary Eyarts, statement that free trade was the one great necessity of the United States, is having its influence. The first of the resolutions referred to authorizes the President to appoint three commissioners to confer with other commissioners to be appointed by the Emperor of Brazil, to ascertain on what basis a treaty of reciprocal trade for the mutual benefit of the people of the United States and the Empire of Brazil can be negotiated. Another resolution authorizes the President to appoint three commissioners to confer with commissioners from the Dominion of Canada for the same purposes as stated in the first resolution. The third resolution is for negotiating a reciprocity treaty with the Central American States, and the fourth for obtaining, if possible, a reciprocity treaty with Mexico. In the Senate, Senator Maxey, of Texas, has introduced a joint resolution of similar purport for the negotiation of reciprocal trade with Mexico, and Mr. Maxey is now preparing statistics of the trade of Mexico with foreign countries in comparison with her commerce with the United States. So the ball keeps rolling, one by one the most convincing proofs of the utter emptiness of the Protection myth are adduced, and its theories entirely exploded by the bitter test of practical experience.

From all parts of the Province and the Dominion come the highest eulogies of the masterly manner in which the Hon. Mr. Cartwright, in his Napanee address, dealt with the charges brought against him by John A. Macdonald, and his lieutenant, and prospective heir-at-law—Dr. Tupper.

The writ for the new election in Quebec East, was despatched from Ottawa Monday afternoon. The nomination will be held on Wednesday, the 21st inst. Hon. Mr. Laurier will be opposed by Mr. Tourangeau, ex-M. P. P. The local election in Quebec West will be contested by Mr. Ahearn, Liberal, and Mr. R. Alleen, Conservative.

The campaign in Quebec is being carried on vigorously and with a good prospect for the success of Mr. Laurier. The people and Mr. Thibadeau, who so generously tendered his position to the Minister of Inland Revenue, are working with a will to secure his election. Mr. Tourangeau, ex M. P., has accepted the nomination in the Conservative interest, Mr. Vallee having retired.

OKA INDIANS.—We are pleased to see that there is a prospect of an early, amicable settlement of the Oka Indian difficulty. The Government have offered the tribe an ample reserve of land, where they will have a better chance for earning a subsistence, and the Seminary offer a large amount for their conveyance to any reserve that may be set aside for them. This will obviate all the bitter feeling which would ensue from prolonged litigation and the Indians by being provided with good lands will have an opportunity of acquiring all the comforts and conveniences of civilized life.

The Globe says that it is reported that a "workmen's" testimonial in Hincks was defeated in 1872 by a majority of 270, and was compelled to seek a constituency in British Columbia. But what was still worse this redoubtable Knight retained Mr. Morrison in his Cabinet for two years without a seat in the House. Under these circumstances we cannot see justice in the demand and are inclined to believe that no one but a man possessing a cheek as tough as boiler-plate would think of repeating it.

WAR NEWS.

Friday.

THE SITUATION AT PLEVNA.

Affairs at Plevna are apparently nearing a crisis. Desertions are becoming alarmingly frequent, as well as numerous, the last batch reported at the Russian headquarters numbering five hundred, and the indications are that Osman Pasha must shortly either surrender or attempt a sortie. There is no news to-day from Cheket Pasha, who was said to be moving to the relief of Plevna, and it is doubtful if he will be able to make an enduring impression upon the large forces of Russians that blockade Osman Pasha on the south.

News has been received from Mukhtar Pasha up to Monday, when the Turks were occupying the fortifications of Erzerum and preparing for such a defence as their weakened condition would allow them to make.

The news from Montenegro is engaged in bombarding one of their forts near Spuz, and in erecting batteries opposite Podgoritz. Fears are entertained of a rising in Albania, the symptoms of hostility among the population being alarmingly on the increase, and a deputation of the local chiefs being actually on a mission at the Montenegrin headquarters.

Notwithstanding its continually growing troubles the Porte seems still disposed to carry matters with a high hand. Four hundred of the principal inhabitants of Bulgaria—including the Geshoffs—have, with their families, been exiled to Asia Minor, and are now on their way thither under a strong escort. The Porte, too, in spite of increasing weakness has made a demand upon Serbia for the withdrawal of the corps of observation now posted on the frontier, under pain of vigorous military measures. The threat sounds lamentably impotent in view of existing circumstances, but Serbia can no longer afford to bluster as when she had Russia at her back.

Saturday.

The plot is thickening at Plevna, and it is believed that the final catastrophe is close at hand. The Russians are strongly convinced that the beleaguered fortress cannot hold out many days longer, as Osman Pasha's men are fast deserting him on account of the hardships and privations to which they are exposed. It is expected, however, that a combined movement for the relief of the place will be made by Mehemet Ali and Cheket Pasha from without, seconded by a sortie by Osman Pasha. The Turks at Turtukai have met with a reverse, an attempt to cross the Danube and seize Olenitz having been repulsed with heavy losses.

In Asia Minor Mukhtar Pasha has succeeded in repelling an attack upon the redoubts to the south-east of Erzerum, and the success seems to have come in the very nick of time to avert a surrender, as the inhabitants of the city were becoming clamorous for a capitulation. The Turks pursued the attacking party to Deve-Boyun, where they were driven back again, but, rallying, they again put the Russians to flight. Mukhtar telegraphs that he still hopes to hold Erzerum, as he is well supplied with artillery and munitions, and reinforcements are on the way to his assistance.

A rumour has got abroad to the effect that the Porte has confidentially forwarded to some of the Powers the draft of a peace programme. This report is not confirmed, and the state of affairs at Constantinople would appear to justify it.

ably with the intention of crossing Balkans once more. In the west Montenegrins have met with a success in the neighbourhood of Antivari, which enable them to commence more vigorous operations against that town. (Preparations are being made by Servians. Fresh bodies of troops constantly on the move towards frontier, ambulances are being for and work is going on night and day at the arsenal at Kragujevatz.

There is no news of importance from Asia Minor. General Heymann is on a march upon Erzerum on Thursday last his way.

Thursday.

Mukhtar Pasha telegraph from Erzerum this morning 9th inst., that the Russians attacked his positions at A. Their troops were repulsed, and he sued them four or five miles from Erzerum. The Russians were totally defeated. The trenches are filled with their dead. Earlier advices show before this the situation was very critical. The inhabitants demanded the authorities to capitulate.

At Plevna there are indications of a sortie, as general movement of the troops inside the town is visible from the Russian lines. Gen. Skobelev is reported have captured additional Turkish positions on Monday night, thereby further contracting the circle of besiegers. It is reported well at Erzerum. Reinforcements having arrived the garrison refused to comply with a summons to surrender, and are confident of being able to hold the town. An active cannonade against Kars is going on. In the Balkans the Russians recently made an attack in the direction of Orchanie, but were repulsed, with a loss of four hundred and fifty men, by a Turkish corps of observation.

Serbia has apparently made up its mind to war and has replied to the Porte's demand for the withdrawal of troops from the frontier with the intimation that it is impossible to leave the inhabitants of the frontier without military protection. The Servian agent at Constantinople, however, asserts that he has received no confirmation of the repulsive attitude of the Principality.

New Montenegrin successes are reported from the neighbourhood of Antivari, and as there is no force either at that place or at Scutari sufficient to oppose the native troops, the probability is that the latter will, for a time at least, carry everything before them, and cannot fail to have a disquieting effect on the neighbouring population of Albania.

Pope Plus IX.

The most conflicting rumors are current respecting the state of the Pope's health, and news from the Vatican looked for with the most absorbing interest in all parts of the world. Two of the Cardinals are also reported as being seriously ill. There is hardly a day that the state of the Pope's health is not the cause of much anxiety to those intimately connected with him, although reliance can be set upon the sensational reports sent over the wires almost hourly. The following are the latest speculations:—

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—A London spatch reports that all hope of the Pope's recovery has been abandoned. The Italian Government has already taken precaution to station a strong guard around all the approaches of the Vatican to prevent any plugging that might follow the announcement of the death of Pope.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—A Herald correspondent says the Pope broke down a fortnight ago. After a period of unconsciousness he revived slightly on Saturday morning last. As night came on he grew weaker again, and the death rattle was heard in his throat. His condition alarmed attendants. During Sunday he rallied but a sore in his leg, which had served his safety valve, had closed. Prof. Vanzetti, the greatest physician in Italy was summoned. He believes there is a chance of recovery, and death will in the typographical appearance and make up of the paper, and by paying unceasing attention to our business, furnish a paper which will be well worth the price of subscription. Of these changes, however, we will speak as they are made, and for the present merely crave your future favors and indulgencies.

WM. C. SCOTT.

FARMERS AND PROTECTION.

Some of our Conservative friends who find the Hon. Mr. Cartwright's address afloat Protection, more especially that portion referring to farmers, rather a hard dose to swallow, affect not to understand this very lucid and exhaustive explanation. For their information we give a brief revise of a few of the Hon. Minister's sentiments. His first principle was "that native industry should be fostered, but that the promotion of trade for the benefit of a few instead of the whole, was erroneous." That the protection or enriching of a few at the expense of the mass was not a policy of good government. Secondly—that a further increase of duty on imports meant an increase of taxation, and as only about one-fourth of the population were at all interested in the so-called protection system, the great burden of the increase must come directly from the pockets of the agricultural community. Although it was desirable that every branch of our national industries should succeed, still success may be purchased at too dear a price, as our American neighbors, both manufacturers and agriculturists, have already found to their sorrow. One of the foremost principles, therefore expressed by Mr. Cartwright was that if a higher rate of tariff be inaugurated it would simply mean taking so much more money directly from the pockets of farmers and others in Canada, for the purpose of enriching a certain few of the community. It is not desirable, nor is it necessary, that the manufacturers shall cost the country such a price. Such industries as are flourishing do not require even the present duty, and those that are not able to live with a protection of 17½ per cent. held over their heads, the people of the Dominion, we are convinced, will say, should without further thought or concern be allowed to give place to others. The statement made by the Hon. Minister of our exports and imports of cereals, goes to show that a protective tariff for the farmer, would be practically a dead letter. Of barley we export nearly 10,000,000 bushels annually, while we import only about 500 bushels, and so on throughout the list of other grains. The fact is that the hue and cry which has lately been raised in the interest of Protection is all a myth, got up for party purposes to deceive and mislead the public, and to enrich a few capitalists. If these same gentlemen believed so strongly in the virtues of Protection, why did they carry a tariff of only 15 per cent., which has since been raised to 17½ per cent by the Reform Government. Or, if they are honest in their professions, why do they not at once point out the errors in the present schedule and suggest some definite amendment which can be considered and dealt with, rather than dealing out day by day and week by week, general and unsatisfactory charges of incompetency and mismanagement.

gies of the mastery manner in which the Hon. Mr. Cartwright, in his Napanee address, dealt with the charges brought against him by John A. Macdonald, and his lieutenant, and prospective heir-at-law—Dr. Tupper.

The writ for the new election in Quebec East, was despatched from Ottawa Monday afternoon. The nomination will be held on Wednesday, the 21st inst. Hon. Mr. Laurier will be opposed by Mr. Tourangeau, ex-M. P. P. The local election in Quebec West will be contested by Mr. Ahearn, Liberal, and Mr. R. Alleyn, Conservative.

The campaign in Quebec is being carried on vigorously and with a good prospect for the success of Mr. Laurier. The people and Mr. Thibadeau, who so generously tendered his position to the Minister of Inland Revenue, are working with a will to secure his election. Mr. Tourangeau, ex M. P., has accepted the nomination in the Conservative interest, Mr. Vallee having retired.

OKA INDIANS.—We are pleased to see that there is a prospect of an early, amicable settlement of the Oka Indian difficulty. The Government have offered the tribe an ample reserve of land, where they will have a better chance for earning a subsistence, and the Seminary offer a large amount for their conveyance to any reserve that may be set aside for them. This will obviate all the bitter feeling which would ensue from prolonged litigation and the Indians by being provided with good lands will have an opportunity of acquiring all the comforts and conveniences of civilized life.

The Globe says that it is reported that a "workingmen's" testimonial in honor of the chieftain is being got up in this city. It is hardly necessary to say that the character of the movement is like unto that of the Brantford and other affairs of the same description. The "workingmen" in the present instance is represented as a collector of funds by young kid-gloved exquisites with a strong flavour of the U. E. Club perfume about them, and funds are solicited with a generous disregard for social distinctions, the last "workingman" we heard of as one who was invited to contribute being a member of the legal profession. What a thorough sham is the Conservative party! Bogus through and through!

VENDOR'S DISCOVERIES.—Mr. Vennor tells us that between these two rivers (Liberia and Ottawa) lies a vast belt of apatite—phosphate of lime—which at its outer edges approaches the surface, but which towards the middle is deeply buried under formations of more recent geological date. It is believed that this identical belt of apatite crosses under the Ottawa river, and is continued southward and westward, capped over for a long distance by immense deposits of Silurian limestones and sandstones, between Ottawa and Poth, until it crops out again in the township of North Burgess at Rideau, at Sydenham village, back of Kingston, and other localities not far distant.

tation of the local chiefs being actually on a mission at the Montenegrin headquarters.

Notwithstanding its continually growing troubles the Porte seems still disposed to carry matters with a high hand. Four hundred of the principal inhabitants of Bulgaria—including the Geshlofs—have, with their families, been exiled to Asia Minor, and are now on their way thither under a strong escort. The Porte, too, in spite of increasing weakness has made a demand upon Servia for the withdrawal of the corps of observation now posted on the frontier, under pain of vigorous military measures. The threat sounds lamentably impotent in view of existing circumstances, but Servia can no longer afford to bluster as when she had Russia at her back.

Saturday.

The plot is thickening at Plevna, and it is believed that the final catastrophe is close at hand. The Russians are strongly convinced that the beleaguered fortress cannot hold out many days longer, as Osman Pasha's men are fast deserting him on account of the hardships and privations to which they are exposed. It is expected, however, that a combined movement for the relief of the place will be made by Mehemet Ali and Cheikot Pasha from without, seconded by a sortie by Osman Pasha. The Turks at Turtukai have met with a reverse, an attempt to cross the Danube and seize Oltenitz having been repulsed with heavy losses.

In Asia Minor Mukhtar Pasha has succeeded in repelling an attack upon the redoubts to the south-east of Erzeroum, and the success seems to have come in the very nick of time to avert a surrender, as the inhabitants of the city were becoming clamorous for a capitulation. The Turks pursued the attacking party to Deve-Beyun, where they were driven back again, but, rallying, they again put the Russians to flight. Mukhtar telegraphs that he still hopes to hold Erzeroum, as he is well supplied with artillery and munitions, and reinforcements are on the way to his assistance.

A rumour has got abroad to the effect that the Porte has confidentially forwarded to some of the Powers the draft of a peace programme. This report is not confirmed, and the state of affairs at Constantinople would appear to justify it. Disensions prevail in the Cabinet on the question of peace or war, the peace party fearing to press their policy lest they be accused of secret negotiations with Russia. Already inflammatory placards have been posted in Stamboul calling upon the populace to rise, as the Cabinet was in treaty with the enemy, and urging the assassination of Mahmoud Damad Pasha. The partisans of the ex-Sultan Murad are suspected of thus attempting to inflame the minds of the people, and several arrests and executions have taken place.

Monday.

Owing to their recent success at Dubnik, the Russians have been able to narrow down to thirty miles their circle of investment round Plevna. The beleaguering army now numbers 120,000 men, sufficient to fill two continuous lines of trenches round Osman Pasha's position. The latter is known to possess 6,000 head of cattle, and other indications point to the probability of his being able to hold out for thirty or forty days longer. Veretza, half way between Plevna and Sofia, has been captured by the Russians, with several thousand wagons and a quantity of stores, apparently intended for Plevna.

Kars has been summoned to surrender, but the summons, after being taken into consideration at a council of war, was not complied with. Batoum is again being bombarded, and the Russian Ardahan column has effected a junction with General Heymann's corps at Deve-Beyun.

Much excitement is reported at Constantinople in consequence of the arrest and execution of forty of the ex-Sultan Murad's servants. A rumour that the Prophet appeared to the Sultan and ordered him to conclude peace, may be taken as significant of the desire of the Porte to put an end to the war without exciting popular discontent.

Servia has apparently made up its mind to war and has replied to the Porte's demand for the withdrawal of the troops from the frontier with the plea that it is impossible to leave the inhabitants of the frontier without military protection. The Servian agent at Constantinople, however, asserts that he has received no confirmation of the reported warlike attitude of the Principality.

New Montenegrin successes are reported from the neighbourhood of Antivari, and as there is no force either at that place or at Scutari sufficient to oppose the native troops, the probabilities are that the latter will, for a time at least, carry everything before them, which cannot fail to have a disquieting effect on the neighbouring population of Albania.

Pope Plus IX.

The most conflicting rumors are current respecting the state of the Pope's health, and news from the Vatican looked for with the most absorbing interest in all parts of the world. Two Cardinals are also reported as dangerously ill. There is hardly a doubt that the state of the Pope's health is such as to cause much anxiety to those intimately connected with him, although some reliance can be set upon the sensational reports sent over the wires almost every hour. The following are the latest dispatches:—

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—A London dispatch reports that all hope of the Pope's recovery has been abandoned. The Italian Government has already taken precautions to station a strong guard around all the approaches of the Vatican to prevent any plugging that might follow the announcement of the death of the Pope.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—A Herald cable says the Pope broke down a fortnight ago. After a period of unconsciousness he revived slightly on Saturday morning last. As night came on he grew weaker again, and the death rattle was heard in his throat. His condition alarmed attendants. During Sunday he rallied, but a sore in his leg, which had served his safety valve, had closed. Professor Vanzetti, the greatest physician in Italy was summoned. He believes there is chance of recovery, and death will be without warning. Every time the Pope rallies he is perfectly unconscious.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—The Herald Rome special reports that the Pope gave a six minutes audience to a French delegation yesterday. He was borne in four palanquins. The Pope was looking pale and weak, and conversed with painful effort.

Dare-Devil Girl.

Rochester is excited over a dare-devil girl, 18 years of age, whose mischievous pranks have interested large numbers of citizens. Her name is Celia Flaher and she is now under arrest. She is possessed of a perfect mania to play jokes upon everybody. One of the victims was a young doctor, at whose office she ordered straw, coal, fish and other things to be delivered, and to whom she sent a letter detailing her tricks and enclosing a photograph of the back of her head. The letter and photograph combined to wreck her downfall, and she was arrested. Some of her pranks are full of humor; others again are very cruel, as in one case, at least, it may have a fatal effect. It so happened that the daughter of the lady who resided in the house which she caused a coffin to be sent, very sick at the time, and gave the lady such a fright that she has not recovered from it yet. In the letter to the doctor she gave the following description of herself:—

My hair is black,
My eyes speak evil;
I have no horns,
Yet I'm a devil.

(P. S.—Keep this picture, and for me not.)

GRAIN SHIPMENT.—The large shipments of grain from New York to Liverpool are calling into requisition the services of every available vessel—even the Faraday and the Great Eastern, both of which have been largely used for the laying of Atlantic cables, being brought into this service. The Faraday sailed from New York on Friday, loaded with grain and provisions and 500 horses and cattle on her decks, and the Great Eastern, 10,000 tons burden, is on her way to New York on a similar errand. It is said that enough orders have been received for grain on English account to give employment to every idle British vessel afloat. On account of the great movement in grain it is thought that England, anticipating a prolongation of the war, is laying in her next season's stock.

Because Mr. Laurier, the new Minister of Inland Revenue was defeated at the Polls by a majority of 26, Oppositionists are loud in their demands upon the Premier to dissolve the House. This is considered sufficient evidence that the tidal wave which has been sweeping over the Country during the past two years, devouring in its might grit government, buns and such like choice morsels, has at last reached such a height that all demands must be complied with. But out of curiosity let us examine how these same gentlemen acted under similar circumstances. Sir Archibald, an associate Minister with Sir John Macdonald was defeated by a majority of 263, and the Ministry did not resign in consequence. The majority against Sir Geo. E. Cartier was over 1000, and yet Sir John only gripped the reins tighter and sent his friend to a convenient constituency in Manitoba to represent a few half breeds. Sir Francis Hincks was defeated in 1872 by a majority of 270, and was compelled to seek a constituency in British Columbia. But what was still worse this redoubtable Knight retained Mr. Morrison in his Cabinet for two years without a seat in the House. Under these circumstances we cannot see justice in the demand and are inclined to believe that no one but a man possessing a cheek as tough as boiler-plate would think of repeating it.

WAR NEWS.

Friday.

THE SITUATION AT PLEVNA.

Affairs at Plevna are apparently nearing a crisis. Desertions are becoming alarmingly frequent, as well as numerous, the last batch reported at the Russian headquarters numbering five hundred, and the indications are that Osman Pasha must shortly either surrender or attempt a sortie. There is no news today from Chefket Pasha, who was said to be moving to the relief of Plevna, and it is doubtful if he will be able to make an enduring impression upon the large forces of Russians that blockade Osman Pasha on the south.

News has been received from Muktar Pasha up to Monday, when the Turks were occupying the fortifications of Erzeroum and preparing for such a defence as their weakened condition would allow them to make.

Tuesday.

Heavy fighting is said to have been going on at Plevna, which, according to Turkish advices, has resulted favorably for Osman Pasha. Russian accounts mention attempts made by the Turks on Saturday night and Sunday to surprise Gen. Skobelev's positions, but they are suspiciously silent as to results. Another change of commanders in this quarter is reported, Chefket Pasha and Mehemet Ali having exchanged commands, the latter going to Orhanie, whence outside operations in aid of Osman Pasha must be made if made at all, and the former taking the command at the Shipka Pass. It has finally been decided that Serbia will take part in the war, and Prince Milan has issued a proclamation to the army.

A Bogot despatch, dated November 6th, says Osman Pasha's losses are estimated at two hundred to three hundred daily from the Russian artillery. Osman Pasha is busily constructing fresh fortifications, which point to his intention to hold out as long as possible rather than attempt a sortie. Prisoners and deserters state that the Turks have six weeks' provisions.

A Bogot despatch says: The Turks on Saturday night attempted to surprise Skobelev's positions. The Russians allowed the Turks to approach within a hundred paces, when they received them with a heavy fire. The Turks retreated to an entrenched position and maintained a violent fire until two o'clock on Sunday morning.

Wednesday.

The only change in the situation in the vicinity of Plevna is the occupation by Gen. Skobelev's command of the position which yesterday's despatches left them disputing with the Turks, the last attacks of the latter having been repulsed by a heavy fire from seventy guns. This new position will enable the besiegers to turn all intervening works in the direction of Tutchenezitsa, Radishovo, and Gravitz—a long line to the south-east Plevna. Preparations are, it is said, being made for a general attack upon Osman Pasha.

Another change in the Turkish commands is announced, Suleiman Pasha once more taking the army of Roumelia and Fazli Pasha the army of Rasgrad. In this direction the Russians are upon Berkovatz, to the west of Vratza, presumably with the intention of crossing the Balkans once more. In the west the Montenegrins have met with a success in the neighbourhood of Antyari, which will enable them to commence more vigorous operations against that town. Great preparations are being made by the Servians. Fresh bodies of troops are constantly on the move towards the frontier, ambulances are being formed, and work is going on night and day in the arsenal at Kragujevatz.

There is no news of importance from Asia Minor. General Heymann began a march upon Erzeroum on Thursday, but lost his way.

Thursday.

Muktar Pasha telegraph from Erzeroum this morning 9th inst., that the Russians attacked his positions at Asizie. Their troops were repulsed, and he pursued them four or five miles from Erzeroum. The Russians were totally defeated. The trenches are filled with their dead. Earlier advices show that before this the situation was very critical. The inhabitants demanded the authorities to capitulate.

At Plevna there are indications of a sortie, as general movement of the troops inside the town is visible from the Russian lines. Gen. Skobelev is reported to have captured additional Turkish positions on Monday night, thereby further contracting the circle of besiegers. All is reported well at Erzeroum. Reinforcements having arrived the garrison have refused to comply with a summons to sur-

The Week's News.

Canadian.

A Dunking by-law is spoken of in the county of Carleton.

A Dunking by-law has been carried in Compton, E. T., by a majority of 200.

Diphtheria is very prevalent in Nova Scotia, and has proved extremely fatal in some districts.

The steamer Northern Light is being prepared for the winter navigation of Straits of Northumberland.

There are indications of a strike among the stone-cutters on the new Welland Canal.

A slight shock of earthquake was felt at Cornwall shortly before ten o'clock yesterday morning.

The petition in the Mentmawry contested election case has been dismissed with cost.

An effort is to be made at the next meeting of the Oxford County Council to have the Dunkin Act re-submitted in the county.

A legal document was recently sent from England to a gentleman in the city of Winnipeg, in which he was described as "residing in Cape Winnipeg, Colony of Canada."

There is no truth whatever in the report from the American side that the Dominion Government had granted a reservation to Sitting Bull and his Sioux.

Six of the Oka Indians committed to gaol at St Hyacinthe on a charge of arson have been liberated on a writ of habeas corpus, the application in the case of the other seven being refused.

Early on Saturday morning the Grand Trunk express from the west left the track near Prescott Junction. The engine, tender, and baggage and express cars were wrecked, and the express messenger slightly injured.

The trial of the man Smith for the murder of his wife at Wales, in Osnabruck, on the 28th of August last, was terminated at Cornwall yesterday, the jury returning a verdict of Not Guilty.

Mathew Carrol, an Arthur hotel-keeper, was brought before a bench of magistrates, last week, charged with selling liquor unlawfully, and condemned to pay a fine of $50 and costs or go to gaol for twenty days. He preferred twenty days and got it accordingly.

A convention of the Public School Inspectors of Eastern Ontario was held at Kingston yesterday. Mr. Jessup, Superintendent of Education in British Columbia, was present, and gave an account of the state of education in the Pacific Province.

Application has been made to the Court of Queen's Bench at Toronto for a warrant to prevent the payment by the city of Ottawa of a Bonus to the proposed Ottawa bridge scheme, on the ground of the illegality of such an expenditure, the proposed improvement being outside the corporation limits.

A deputation from Montreal waited on the Minister of the Interior yesterday with reference to the Oka troubles. Mr. Mills pointed out the inability of the Federal Government to interfere, but expressed an opinion that the difficulty might be disposed of if the Indians would be willing to place themselves in the hands of the Government.

The case for the United States before the Fishery Commission was closed on Saturday, the American argument being that the Maritime Provinces are entitled to no award, the advantages from the fishery clauses of the Washington Treaty being mutual. The Commission has adjourned until Tuesday, when the British argument will be commenced. It is expected that an award will be made before the end of the month.

MONTREAL, Nov. 9. The detectives have succeeded in unearthing a dangerous combination of thieves who have been

Great Britain.

A report that Sir Edward Thorpe would not return to Washington British Minister is contradicted.

A severe hurricane prevailed yesterday on the coast of Great Britain, and numerous disasters to shipping are reported.

The coming winter promises to be most severe known in England for years. Everybody is cutting down expenses, and in London alone there are 42,000 fewer male servants on the staff than two years ago. The coal trade is paralyzed, many of the great iron works have closed, and strikes are frequent. Crime has already alarmingly increased, and much apprehension is in all parts of the Kingdom.

At the month of the Humber B. England, is an island which 130 miles ago comprised an area of two and a square miles. Subsequently it came the possession of the Crown, which gave new leases on condition that at 2,700 acres of alluvial deposits which accumulated around the original element, should be reclaimed. Not was this secured, but as further deposits were made they also were reclaimed 1875 the leases fell in, and the island relet for £67,250 a year. It has plenty of room to grow.

Thomas Betton bequeathed to the "Mongers' Company of England, one years ago, his entire estate, with a vision that one-half of the proceeds should be applied to the redemption of British slaves in Turkey and Algeria, one-fourth toward the assistance of Church of England schools within London and its suburbs. Long ago ceased to be any English slaves to redeem from the Turks; the courts, therefore, permitted the slaves money also to be used in the aid of schools. The multitude of the sum accumulated during years can best be appreciated by the fact that 1,200 schools are now maintained from "Betton's charity."

EXTENSIVE FIRE AT MARKHAM.

SPEIGHT & SON'S NOVELTY WORKS BURNED.

MARKHAM, Nov. 13.—This morning about three o'clock, a fire broke out at the paint shop in Speight & Son's no works, and before the alarm became general, the fire was beyond control, and the shops, machinery, and a lot of finished work were entirely consumed. About $50,000; insured in the Wat Mutual for $6,000, and in the Manufacturers' and Merchants, for $2,500. residence of Mr. Thos. Speight, sr., also burned; loss, $2,000; no insurance. The damage to W. B. Speight's residence is estimated at $500; insured in Mercantile. Damage to Canada Methodist Church, $400; insured in the cantile. Damage to Mrs. Thos. Speight's residence, $200; insured in the Wat Mutual. Damage to stock of drug Wm. Miller & Co., $100; insured in Home District Mutual and Mercantile.

Repentant.

When young Chas. Renaud forged Geo. Denholm's name to cheques over $3,000 and drew the money, he repented it with one Magloire Dupuis, Wilfred Gingras, who both fled to York. Last Wednesday, Gingras, was in Philadelphia, and penniless, went to the Chief of Police of that city, confessed that he had, in company with Renaud, forged a cheque for $1,500. said that after leaving Montreal he Dupuis lived in good style, moving from place to place, as the police after them. Now, however, he felt for what he had done, and wished to sent back to Montreal, where he was going to suffer imprisonment for crime which he had committed. The chief concluded that it was a more connected to secure a free pass to Can-and are inclined to believe that no one but a man possessing a cheek as tough as boiler-plate would think of repeating it.

WAR NEWS.

Friday.

THE SITUATION AT PLEVNA.

Affairs at Plevna are apparently nearing a crisis. Desertions are becoming alarmingly frequent, as well as numerous, the last batch reported at the Russian headquarters numbering five hundred, and the indications are that Osman Pasha must shortly either surrender or attempt a sortie. There is no news today from Chetket Pasha, who was said to be moving to the relief of Plevna, and it is doubtful if he will be able to make an enduring impression upon the large forces of Russians that blockade Osman Pasha on the south.

News has been received from Muktar Pasha up to Monday, when the Turks were occupying the fortifications of Erzeroum and preparing for such a defence as their weakened condition would allow them to make.

The news from Montenegro were engaged in bombarding one of their forts near Spuz, and in erecting batteries opposite Podgoritz. Fears are entertained of a rising in Albania, the symptoms of hostility among the population being alarmingly on the increase, and a deputation of the local chiefs being actually on a mission at the Montenegrin headquarters.

Norwithstanding its continually growing troubles the Porte seems still disposed to carry matters with a high hand. Four hundred of the principal inhabitants of Bulgaria—including the Geshoffs—have, with their families, been exiled to Asia Minor, and are now on their way thither under a strong escort. The Porte, too, in spite of increasing weakness has made a demand upon Serbia for the withdrawal of the corps of observation now posted on the frontier, under pain of vigorous military measures. The threat sounds lamentably impotent in view of existing circumstances, but Serbia can no longer afford to bluster as when she had Russia at her back.

Saturday.

The plot is thickening at Plevna, and it is believed that the final catastrophe is close at hand. The Russians are strongly convinced that the beleaguered fortress cannot hold out many days longer, as Osman Pasha's men are fast deserting him on account of the hardships and privations to which they are exposed. It is expected, however, that a combined movement for the relief of the place will be made by Mehmet Ali and Chetket Pasha from without, seconded by a sortie by Osman Pasha. The Turks at Turtukai have met with a reverse, an attempt to cross the Danube and seize Oltenitz having been repulsed with heavy losses.

In Asia Minor Mukhtar Pasha has succeeded in repelling an attack upon the redoubts to the south-east of Erzeroum, and the success seems to have come in the very nick of time to avert a surrender, as the inhabitants of the city were becoming clamorous for a capitulation. The Turks pursued the attacking party to Deve-Boyun, where they were driven back again, but, rallying, they again put the Russians to flight. Mukhtar telegraphs that he still hopes to hold Erzeroum, as he is well supplied with artillery and munitions, and reinforcements are on the way to his assistance.

A rumour has got abroad to the effect that the Porte has confidentially forwarded to some of the Powers the draft of a peace programme. This report is not confirmed, and the state of affairs at Constantinople would appear to justify it. Discussions prevail in the Cabinet on the question of peace of war, the peace party fearing to press their policy lest they be accused of secret negotiations with Russia. Already inflammatory placards have been posted in Stamboul calling upon the populace to rise, as the Cabinet was in treaty with the enemy, and urging the assassination of Mahmoud Damad Pasha. The parties of the ex-Sultan Murad are still numerous, and are being organized, and work is going on night and day in the arsenal at Kragujevatz.

There is no news of importance from Asia Minor. General Heymann began a march upon Erzeroum on Thursday, but lost his way.

Thursday.

Muktar Pasha telegraph from Erzeroum this morning 9th inst., that the Russians attacked his positions at Asizie. Their troops were repulsed, and he pursued them four or five miles from Erzeroum. The Russians were totally defeated. The trenches are filled with their dead. Earlier advices show that before this the situation was very critical. The inhabitants demanded the authorities to capitulate.

At Plevna there are indications of a sortie, as general movement of the troops inside the town is visible from the Russian lines. Gen. Skobelev is reported to have captured additional Turkish positions on Monday night, thereby further contracting the circle of besiegers. All is reported well at Erzeroum. Reinforcements having arrived the garrison have refused to comply with a summons to surrender, and are confident of being able to hold the town. An active cannonade against Kars is going on. In the Balkans the Russians recently made an attempt in the direction of Orchanie, but were repulsed, with a loss of four hundred and fifty men, by a Turkish corps of observation.

Servia has apparently made up the mind to war and has replied to the Porte's demand for the withdrawal of the troops from the frontier with the plea that it is impossible to leave the inhabitants of the frontier without military protection. The Servian agent at Constantinople, however, asserts that he has received no confirmation of the reported warlike attitude of the Principality.

New Montenegrin successes are reported from the neighbourhood of Antivari, and as there is no force either at that place or at Scutari sufficient to oppose the native troops, the probabilities are that the latter will, for a time at least, carry everything before them, which cannot fail to have a disquieting effect on the neighbouring population of Albania.

Pope Pius IX.

The most conflicting rumors are current respecting the state of the Pope's health, and news from the Vatican is looked for with the most absorbing interest in all parts of the world. Two of the Cardinals are also reported as dangerously ill. There is hardly a doubt that the state of the Pope's health is such as to cause much anxiety to those intimately connected with him, although small reliance can be set upon the sensational reports sent over the wires almost every hour. The following are the latest despatches:—

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—A London despatch reports that all hope of the Pope's recovery has been abandoned. The Italian Government has already taken the precaution to station a strong guard around all the approaches of the Vatican to prevent any pilaging that might follow the announcement of the death of the Pope.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—A Herald cable says the Pope broke down a fortnight ago. After a period of unconsciousness he revived slightly on Saturday morning last. As night came on he grew worse again, and the death rattle was heard in his throat. His condition alarmed his attendants. During Sunday he rallied, but a sore in his leg, which had served as his safety valve, had closed. Professor Vanzetti, the greatest physician in Italy, was summoned. He believes there is no chance of recovery, and death will be without warning. Every time the Pope rallies he is perfectly conscious.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—The Herald's Rome special reports that the Pope gave a six minutes audience to a French delegation yesterday. He was borne in by four palanquins. The Pope was looking pale and weak, and conversed with painful effort.

warrant to prevent the payment of the city of Ottawa of a Bonus to the proposed Ottawa bridge scheme, on the ground of the illegality of such an expenditure, the proposed improvement being outside the corporation limits.

A deputation from Montreal waited on the Minister of the Interior yesterday with reference to the Oka troubles. Mr. Mills pointed out the inability of the Federal Government to interfere, but expressed an opinion that the difficulty might be disposed of if the Indians would be willing to place themselves in the hands of the Government.

The case for the United States before the Fishery Commission was closed on Saturday, the American argument being that the Maritime Provinces are entitled to no award, the advantages from the fishery clauses of the Washington Treaty being mutual. The Commission has adjourned until Tuesday, when the British argument will be commenced. It is expected that an award will be made before the end of the month.

MONTREAL, Nov. 9.—The detectives have succeeded in unearthing a dangerous combination of thieves who have been stealing cigars, silks, seal skins, and other goods from Boyd, Egan, & Co's bonded warehouse. A man named Chausse, supposing all was discovered, confessed that he and one P. Fournier had combined to make systematic robberies in Boyd, Egan, & Co's bonded warehouses, and had stolen therefrom 10,000 cigars, a number of seal skins, silks, besides groceries and liquors. Fournier, who sold the cigars in Quebec, was arrested last night, and the members of the gang are now securely caged.

United States.

Stanley arrived at Cape Town on the 21st ult.

A planet of the seventh magnitude was discovered at Ann Arbor on Monday.

Bartley, the Beaune murderer, is hiding in Maine with a party of some ten or eleven men, some of them deserters from H. M. S. Bellerophon.

Another effort is to be made to secure Tweed's release under the incoming Attorney General.

A body of marauding Indians from New Mexico, who crossed the Rio Grande in search of plunder, have been pursued by the Mexicans into Texas, engaged, and defeated.

Further hostilities are reported on the Rio Grande, a party of scouts who had crossed the river having been attacked and defeated by a body of five hundred Indians.

The importation into the United States of hides and cattle from Europe will be prohibited after the 1st prox., except in case where cargoes are accompanied by consular certificates of non-infection.

A Bill will be introduced in the House of Representatives on Monday chartering a new Atlantic Cable Company, who propose to carry their lines by way of the Azores, and to complete it within five years.

An attempt has been made in the State of Antioquia, as the instigation of the clerical party, to assassinate the popular candidate for the Presidency of the United States of Columbia. Martial law has been proclaimed until the Bishops withdraw from the country or are banished.

Two of the bodies of the crew of the Magellan, foundered off Manitowac, Wis., have been identified and sent home by express. One is that Ben. Marshall, of Clayton, Jefferson County, N. Y., the other P. Tait, of Jordan, Ont.

Field & Leiter's extensive dry goods store Chicago, was burned Wednesday evening. The loss is estimated at over one and a half millions. Two men were killed outright; two dangerously, and three severely injured. Two are missing. Scarcely a single fireman escaped without bruises. 850 workmen are thrown out of employment.

New York Herald reports give sensational accounts of the Pope's illness, stating that on Saturday the death rattle was dist Church, $400; insured in the Mercantile. Damage to Mrs. Thos. Speight residence, $200; insured in the Waterk Mutual. Damage to stock of drugs Wm. Miller & Co., $100; insured in tl Home District Mutual and Mercantile.

Repentant.

When young Chas. Renaud forged M Geo. Denholm's name to cheques for over $3,000 and drew the money, he divided it with one Magloire Dupuis, and Wilfred Gingras, who both fled to New York. Last Wednesday, Gingras, who was in Philadelphia, and penniless, went to the Chief of Police of that city, and confessed that he had, in company with Renaud, forged a cheque for $1,500. He said that after leaving Montreal he and Dupuis lived in good style, moving about from place to place, as the police were after them. Now, however, he felt sorry for what he had done, and wished to be sent back to Montreal, where he was willing to suffer imprisonment for the crime which he had committed. The chief concluded that it was a mere dodge concocted to secure a free pass to Canada. Gingras was, however, locked up, and despatch forwarded here to Chief Penton asking if such a party as Gingras was wanted. Chief Penton consulted the bank authorities, who concluded that a Gingras had spent all the money they did not want him. Gingras is respectfully commended here.

The Suez Canal.

From recent English reports giving the present standing of the Suez Canal, we gather the fact that the future prosperity of that great undertaking is assured beyond reasonable doubt. The canal runs, as known, from Port Said, on the Mediterranean, to Port Suez, on the Red Sea, a distance of about a hundred miles. Through out its entire length none of the predictions of its opponents have been verified. The navigation of the Red Sea has not proved dangerous. The canal has not become a stagnant ditch, a receptacle of the sand of the desert, and alluvium of the Nile. Neither have the bitter lakes through which it passes in part become filled with salt. The supposed difference of level between the Red Sea and the Mediterranean, if it exist at all, has had no appreciable effect. At the canal was completed it was found easy to keep it open to the required depth, and in excellent navigable order. When the work was done the main questions were: Would it pay? Would it secure the commerce from India and the parts adjacent? Would English jealousy be allayed in view of its manifest advantages, and would the policy of Egypt be liberal and impartial? As the capital expended in its construction had been double the estimate, would the tonnage dues be necessarily so high as to drive off the smaller craft? Of these questions the last was the most important. There has been some modification of the dues and some shifting about before the work were adjusted. But, judging from the present increase of tonnage passing through the canal, and from the fact that the share now yield a profit, it may be assumed that the toll is satisfactory, and has been fixed for some time to come. The canal was opened to traffic in 1869. From 1870 to 187 the net tonnage rose from 436,609 tons to 2,096,772 tons, and the receipts from two hundred thousand pounds sterling in 187 to one million two hundred thousand pounds sterling in 1875. In 1876, after all debts were paid, a small balance of profit was left to the shareholders. The result is regarded as satisfactory in England, where a large number of shares are held, some by private parties, but the greater part by the British Government, which bought of the Khedive a considerable portion of his interest in the canal.

Modern Miracles.

Art is not yet satisfied with her conquests over nature. Just now a couple of stupendous undertakings are in contemplation, one to bridge the Bosphorus, the other to tunnel the Straits of Dover. The former of these undertakings will borrow an interest from the fact of the locality of it being inseparably interlinked with the difficulty so well known as the Eastern question. The proposed being alarmingly on the increase, and a deputation of the local chiefs being actually on a mission at the Montenegrin headquarters.

Notwithstanding its continually growing troubles the Porte seems still disposed to carry matters with a high hand. Four hundred of the principal inhabitants of Bulgaria—including the Geshoffs—have, with their families, been exiled to Asia Minor, and are now on their way thither under a strong escort. The Porte, too, in spite of increasing weakness has made a demand upon Serbia for the withdrawal of the corps of observation now posted on the frontier, under pain of vigorous military measures. The threat sounds lamentably impotent in view of existing circumstances, but Serbia can no longer afford to bluster as when she had Russia at her back.

Saturday.

The plot is thickening at Plevna, and it is believed that the final catastrophe is close at hand. The Russians are strongly convinced that the beleaguered fortress cannot hold out many days longer, as Osman Pasha's men are fast deserting him on account of the hardships and privations to which they are exposed. It is expected, however, that a combined movement for the relief of the place will be made by Mehemet Ali and Cheikot Pasha from without, seconded by a sortie by Osman Pasha. The Turks at Turtukai have met with a reverse, an attempt to cross the Danube and seize Oltenitz having been repulsed with heavy losses.

In Asia Minor Mukhtar Pasha has succeeded in repelling an attack upon the redoubts to the south-east of Erzeroum, and the success seems to have come in the very nick of time to avert a surrender, as the inhabitants of the city were becoming clamorous for a capitulation. The Turks pursued the attacking party to Deve-Beyun, where they were driven back again, but, rallying, they again put the Russians to flight. Mukhtar telegraphs that he still hopes to hold Erzeroum, as he is well supplied with artillery and munitions, and reinforcements are on the way to his assistance.

A rumour has got abroad to the effect that the Porte has confidentially forwarded to some of the Powers the draft of a peace programme. This report is not confirmed, and the state of affairs at Constantinople would appear to justify it. Dissensions prevail in the Cabinet on the question of peace or war, the peace party fearing to press their policy lest they be accused of secret negotiations with Russia. Already inflammatory placards have been posted in Stambul calling upon the populace to rise, as the Cabinet was in treaty with the enemy, and urging the assassination of Mahmoud Damad Pasha. The partisans of the ex-Sultan Murad are suspected of thus attempting to inflame the minds of the people, and several arrests and executions have taken place.

Monday.

Owing to their recent success at Dubnik, the Russians have been able to narrow down to thirty miles their circle of investment round Plevna. The beleaguering army now numbers 120,000 men, sufficient to fill two continuous lines of trenches round Osman Pasha's position. The latter is known to possess 6,000 head of cattle, and other indications point to the probability of his being able to hold out for thirty or forty days longer. Verezta, half way between Plevna and Sofia, has been captured by the Russians, with several thousand wagons and a quantity of stores, apparently intended for Plevna.

Kars has been summoned to surrender, but the summons, after being taken into consideration at a council of war, was not complied with. Batoum is again being bombarded, and the Russian Ardahan column has effected a junction with General Heymann's corps at Deve-Beyun.

Much excitement is reported at Constantinople in consequence of the arrest and execution of forty of the ex-Sultan Murad's servants. A rumour that the Prophet appeared to the Sultan and ordered him to conclude peace, may be taken as significant of the desire of the Porte to put an end to the war without exciting popular discontent.

fifty men, by a Turkish corps of observation.

Servia has apparently made up the mind to war and has replied to the Porte's demand for the withdrawal of the troops from the frontier with the plea that it is impossible to leave the inhabitants of the frontier without military protection. The Servian agent at Constantinople, however, asserts that he has received no confirmation of the reported warlike attitude of the Principality.

New Montenegrin successes are reported from the neighbourhood of Antivari, and as there is no force either at that place or at Scutari sufficient to oppose the native troops, the probabilities are that the latter will, for a time at least, carry everything before them, which cannot fail to have a disquieting effect on the neighbouring population of Albania.

Pope Pius IX.

The most conflicting rumors are current respecting the state of the Pope's health, and news from the Vatican is looked for with the most absorbing interest in all parts of the world. Two of the Cardinals are also reported as dangerously ill. There is hardly a doubt that the state of the Pope's health is such as to cause much anxiety to those intimately connected with him, although small reliance can be set upon the sensational reports sent over the wires almost every hour. The following are the latest despatches:—

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—A London despatch reports that all hope of the Pope's recovery has been abandoned. The Italian Government has already taken the precaution to station a strong guard around all the approaches of the Vatican to prevent any plugging that might follow the announcement of the death of the Pope.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—A Herald cable says the Pope broke down a fortnight ago. After a period of unconsciousness he revived slightly on Saturday morning last. As night came on he grew worse again, and the death rattle was heard in his throat. His condition alarmed his attendants. During Sunday he rallied, but a sore in his leg, which had served as his safety valve, had closed. Professor Vanzetti, the greatest physician in Italy, was summoned. He believes there is no chance of recovery, and death will be without warning. Every time the Pope rallies he is perfectly conscious.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—The Herald's Rome special reports that the Pope gave a six minutes audience to a French delegation yesterday. He was borne in by four palanquins. The Pope was looking pale and weak, and conversed with painful effort.

Dare-Devil Girl.

Rochester is excited over a dare-devil girl, 18 years of age, whose mischievous pranks have interested large numbers of citizens. Her name is Celia Flaherty, and she is now under arrest. She was possessed of a perfect mania to play jokes upon everybody. One of the victims was a young doctor, at whose office she ordered straw, coal, fish and other things to be delivered, and to whom she sent a letter detailing her tricks and enclosing a photograph of the back of her head. The letter and photograph combined to work her downfall, and she was arrested. Some of her pranks are full of rich humour; others again are very cruel, and in one case, at least, it may have a fatal effect. It so happened that the daughter of the lady who resided in the house to which she caused a coffin to be sent, was very sick at the time, and gave the lady such a fright that she has not recovered from it yet. In the letter to the doctor she gave the following description of herself:—

My hair is black.
My eyes speak evil;
I have no horns or devil;
Yet I'm a devil.

(P. S.—Keep this picture, and forget me not.)

Egan, & Co's bonded warehouses, and had stolen therefrom 10,000 cigars, a number of sealskins, silks, besides groceries and liquors. Fournier, who sold the cigars in Quebec, was arrested last night, and the members of the gang are now securely caged.

United States.

Stanley arrived at Cape Town on the 21st ult.

A planet of the seventh magnitude was discovered at Ann Arbor on Monday.

Bartley, the Beauce murderer, is hiding in Maine with a party of some ten or eleven men, some of them deserters from H. M. S. Bellerophon.

Another effort is to be made to secure Tweed's release under the incoming Attorney General.

A body of marauding Indians from New Mexico, who crossed the Rio Grande in search of plunder, have been pursued by the Mexicans into Texas, engaged, and defeated.

Further hostilities are reported on the Rio Grande, a party of scouts who had crossed the river having been attacked and defeated by a body of five hundred Indians.

The importation into the United States of hides and cattle from Europe will be prohibited after the 1st prox., except in case where carcases are accompanied by consular certificates of non-infection.

A Bill will be introduced in the House of Representatives on Monday chartering a new Atlantic Cable Company, who propose to carry their lines by way of the Azores, and to complete it within five years.

An attempt has been made in the State of Antioquia, as the instigation of the clerical party, to assassinate the popular candidate for the Presidency of the United States of Columbia. Martial law has been proclaimed until the Bishops withdraw from the country or are banished.

Two of the bodies of the crew of the Magellan, founded off Manitowac, Wis., have been identified and sent home by express. One is that Ben. Marshall, of Clayton, Jefferson County, N. Y., the other P. Tait, of Jordan, Ont.

Field & Leiter's extensive dry goods store Chicago, was burned Wednesday evening. The loss is estimated at over one and a half millions. Two men were killed outright; two dangerously, and three severely injured. Two are missing. Scarcely a single fireman escaped without bruises. 850 workmen are thrown out of employment.

New York Herald reports give sensational accounts of the Pope's illness, stating that on Saturday the death-rattle was heard in his throat, but that he since rallied, through it is believed that there is no hope of his recovery, and that his death will be sudden. Reports direct from Rome state that he received visitors yesterday.

Continent.

The Pope's physicians are alarmed at his increasing illness.

Three hundred Mennonites left Berlin for America on the 9th instant.

The rumours of a reported rising in the north of Spain are contradicted.

German Admiralty is making preparations for a hostile expedition to Nicaragua.

A rising is expected in the north-western provinces of Spain, a number of disaffected Spaniards, armed with Remington rifles, having crossed the Pyrenees.

Germany and Italy have paid the balance of their subsidies to the St. Gothard Tunnel, 4,600,000 and 2,700,000 francs respectively.

It is asserted that Germany is urging Belgium to accept a German protectorate, and to make the military system conform to that of Germany, accepting in return territorial compensation, and a guarantee of her independence.

not want him. Ginzburg is respectfully connected here.

The Suez Canal.

From recent English reports giving the present standing of the Suez Canal, we gather the fact that the future prosperity of that great undertaking is assured beyond reasonable doubt. The canal runs, as is known, from Port Said, on the Mediterranean, to Port Suez, on the Red Sea, a distance of about a hundred miles. Throughout its entire length none of the predictions of its opponents have been verified. The navigation of the Red Sea has not proved dangerous. The canal has not become a stagnant ditch, a receptacle of the sand of the desert, and alluvium of the Nile. Neither have the bitter lakes through which it passes in part become filled with salt. The supposed difference of level between the Red Sea and the Mediterranean, if it exists at all, has had no appreciable effect. After the canal was completed it was found easy to keep it open to the required depth, and in excellent navigable order. When the work was done the main questions were:—Would it pay? Would it secure the commerce from India and the parts adjacent? Would English jealousy be allayed in view of its manifest advantages, and would the policy of Egypt be liberal and impartial? As the capital expended in its construction had been double the estimate, would the tonnage dues be necessarily so high as to drive off the smaller craft? Of these questions the last was the most important. There has been some modification of the dues and some shifting about before they were adjusted. But, judging from the present increase of tonnage passing through the canal, and from the fact that the shares now yield a profit, it may be assumed that the toll is satisfactory, and has been fixed for some time to come. The canal was opened to traffic in 1869. From 1870 to 1876 the net tonnage rose from 436,609 tons to 2,096,772 tons, and the receipts from two hundred thousand pounds sterling in 1870 to one million two hundred thousand pounds sterling in 1876. In 1876, after all debts were paid, a small balance of profit was left to the shareholders. The result is regarded as satisfactory in England, where a large number of shares are held, some by private parties, but the greater part by the British Government, which bought of the Khedive a considerable portion of his interest in the canal.

Modern Miracles.

Art is not yet satisfied with her conquests over nature. Just now a couple of stupendous undertakings are in contemplation, one to bridge the Bosphorus, the other to tunnel the Straits of Dover. The former of these undertakings will borrow an interest from the fact of the locality of it being inseparably interlinked with the difficulty so well known as the Eastern question. The proposed bridge, 6,000 feet long and 100 feet wide, is expected to cost $25,000,000, its principle span being 750 feet wide. No triumph of modern engineering will begin to compare, however, with the proposed railway tunnel under the British channel. The possibility of burrowing under the bed of the sea a distance of thirty miles almost staggers the imagination and sponges out the word impossible from the slate of human calculation. The international aspect of the work is by no means void of interest. In view of their ancient hostile attitude as traditional enemies, it is something worthy of remark that the two great rival nations of Western Europe, for the purposes of peace, should thus be making their mutual advances under the waters which divide their shores. And yet this is literally to happen, since the work is said to have been already begun, the intention of the British and the French railway companies being to push on the undertaking, commencing simultaneously from either shore. The saying is a trite one that wonders will never cease. Though this may be, yet the very frequency of their accomplishment will yet almost render the cessation of them the greatest wonder that can possibly happen. Very soon men will cease to wonder at the miraculous achievements of modern engineering skill. Truly truth hath its victories.—Whig.

Week's News.

Canadian.

making by-law is spoken of in the of Carleton.

making by-law has been carried in n, E. T., by a majority of 200. heria is very prevalent in Nova and has proved extremely fatal in stricts.

teamer Northern Light is being f for the winter navigation of f Northumberland.

are indications of a strike among e-cutters on the new Welland ht shock of earthquake was felt at l shortly before ten o'clock yesterday.

etition in the Mentmanffy contes- tion case has been dismissed with ort is to be made at the next meet- e Oxford County Council to have kin Act re-submitted in the county. l document was recently sent from e to a gentleman in the city of Win- i which he was described as "resid- ipe Winnipeg, Colony of Canada."

is no truth whatever in the re- n the American side that the n Government had granted a re- n to Sitting Bull and his Sioux.

the Oka Indians committed to St Hyacinthe on a charge of ave been liberated on a writ of corpus, the application in the he other seven being refused.

on Saturday morning the Grand xpress from the west left the track rescott Junction. The engine, and baggage and express cars ecked, and the express messenger injured.

of the man Smith for the mur- is wife at Wales, in Osunabruk, on l of August last, was terminated wall yesterday, the jury returning f Not Guilty.

w Carroll, an Arthur hotel-keeper, ht before a bench of magistrates, k, charged with selling liquor un- , and condemned to pay a fine of costs or go to gaol for twenty days. rr d twenty days and got it accord-vention of the Public School In- of Eastern Ontario was held at n yesterday. Mr. Jessup, Super- t of Education in British Colum- ; present, and gave an account of e of education in the Pacific Procation has been made to the f Queen's Bench at Toronto for a to prevent the payment by the tawa of a Bonus to the proposed bridge scheme, on the ground of ality of such an expenditure, the l improvement being outside the ion limits.

utation from Montreal waited on ister of the Interior yesterday erence to the Oka troubles. Mr. pnted out the inability of the Government to interfere, but ex- an opinion that the difficulty e disposed of it the Indians would ng to place themselves in the 'the Government.

ase for the United States before ery Commission was closed on y, the American argument being Maritime Provinces are entitled ward, the advantages from the lauses of the Washington Treaty utual. The Commission has d until Tuesday, when the argument will be commenced. eted that an award will be made re end of the month.

REAL. Nov. 9. The detectives eeded in unearthing a dangerous ion of thieves who have been cigars, silks, seal skins, and other

Great Britain.

A report that Sir Edward Thornton would not return to Washington as British Minister is contradicted.

A severe hurricane prevailed yesterday on the coast of Great Britain, and numerous disasters to shipping are reported.

The coming winter promises to be the most severe known in England for many years. Everybody is cutting down expenses, and in London alone there are 42,000 fewer male servants on the tax list than two years ago. The coal trade is paralyzed, many of the great iron mills have closed, and strikes are frequent and general. Crime has already alarmingly increased, and much apprehension is felt in all parts of the Kingdom.

At the mouth of the Humber River, England, is an island which 130 years ago comprised an area of two and a half square miles. Subsequently it came into the possession of the Crown, which granted new leases on condition that at least 2,700 acres of alluvial deposits which had accumulated around the original embankment, should be reclaimed. Not only was this secured, but as further deposits were made they also were reclaimed. In 1875 the leases fell in, and the island was relet for $67,250 a year. It has still plenty of room to grow.

Thomas Betton bequeathed to the Iron-mongers' Company of England, over 150 years ago, his entire estate, with a provision that one-half of the proceeds should be applied to the redemption of British slaves in Turkey and Algeria, and one-fourth toward the assistance of poor Church of England schools within London and its suburbs. Long ago there ceased to be any English slaves to redeem from the Turks; the courts, therefore, permitted the slaves money also to be used in the aid of schools. The magnitude of the sum accumulated during 150 years can best be appreciated by the statement that 1,200 schools are now aided from "Betton's charity."

EXTENSIVE FIRE AT MARKHAM.

SPEIGHT & SON'S NOVELTY WORKS BURNED.

MARKHAM, Nov. 13.—This morning, at about three o'clock, a fire broke out in the paint shop in Speight & Son's novelty works, and before the alarm became general, the fire was beyond control, and all the shops, machinery, and a lot of unfinished work were entirely consumed. Loss about $50,000; insured in the Waterloo Mutual for $6,000, and in the Manufacturers' and Merchants, for $2,500. The residence of Mr. Thos. Speight, sr., was also burned; loss, $2,000, no insurance. The damage to W. B. Speight's residence is estimated at $500; insured in the Mercantile. Damage to Canada Methodist Church, $400; insured in the Mercantile. Damage to Mrs. Thos. Speight's residence, $200; insured in the Waterloo Mutual. Damage to stock of drugs of Wm. Miller & Co., $100; insured in the Home District Mutual and Mercantile.

Repentant.

When young Chas. Renaud forged Mr. Geo. Denholm's name to cheques for over $2,000 and drew he money, he divided it with one Magloire Dupuis, and Wilfred Gingras, who both fled to New York. Last Wednesday, Gingras, who was in Philadelphia, and penniless, went to the Chief of Police of that city, and confessed that he had, in company with Renaud, forged a cheque for $1,500. He said that after leaving Montreal he and Dupuis lived in good style, moving about from place to place, as the police were after them. Now, however, he felt sorry for what he had done, and wished to be sent back to Montreal, where he was willing to suffer imprisonment for the crime which he had committed. The chief concluded that it was a mere dodge concocted to secure a free pass to Canada. Gingras was, however, locked up, and a

CAMPAIGN OPENED

FOR 1878.
Western Advertiser
& Weekly Liberal.

Reduced Price—Premium to every Sub- scriber. Harvest for Agents.

The Fifteenth Annual Campaign of the Western Advertiser and Weekly Liberal is now under full headway. Hundreds of new names are pouring in from all parts of Canada. We want 5,000 new subscribers during this canvass. Plenty of room for 1,000 more agents. Our terms to agents, and inducements to subscribers will be found in anything yet offered.

BILL OF FARE.

- 1—Best general newspaper in Canada.
- 2—Balance of year free to new subscribers.
- 3—Splendid Engraving to every subscriber.
- 4—Agricultural Department by W. F. Clarke.
- 5—Teacher's Department—Best in Canada.
- 6—Ladies' "Fashion and Kitchen" column.
- 7—Music, pictures, chess, humor, etc.
- 8—Full base ball, cricket and sporting news.
- 9—Complete Temperance Record.
- 10—Reliable and copious Market Reports.

TERMS FOR 1878:—$1.60, with engraving Landseer's "Sanctuary," 30x20 inches. $1.50, without engraving. Postage prepaid.

Liberal terms to agents. For free sample copies, or full instructions to agents, address.

JOHN CAMERON & Co.,

"Advertiser" Office, London, Ont

A BARGAIN.

A No. 9 Columbia Cooking Stove,

With Reservoir, Nearly New,

FOR SALE CHEAP,

With or without utensils. For further particulars, apply at the EXPRESS Office. 24-2in.

Insolvent Act of 1875.

CANADA: Province of Ontario, In the County Court of County of Lennox (the County of Lennox and Addington), and Addington.

IN THE MATTER OF EDWARD KIMERLY BOWEN,

An Insolvent, THE Undersigned has filed in the office of the Court, a Deed of Composition and Discharge, executed by his creditors, and on TUESDAY, the SIXTH day of NOVEMBER next, he will apply to the Judge of the said Court for a confirmation of the discharge thereby effected.

Napanee, October 25th, 1877.

E. K. BOWEN,

By E. B. STONE,

his Attorney, ad litem.

DOCTOR PIERCE'S ALT. EXT. OR

Golden Medical Discovery

DOWNEY'S

ARE NOW SHOWING

Full Lines

IN

COLORÉD MERINOS,
COLORÉD MERINOS,
COLORÉD ATHOL CLOTHS, COLORÉD PERSION CORDS, COLORÉD BROCADES.

Full Lines in

BLACK LUSTRES,
BLACK MERINOS,
BLACK CASHMERES,
BLACK CRAPE CLOTHS,
BLACK PARAMATTAS,
BLACK BARATHEDES,
BLACK RUSSEL CORDS

Full Lines in

BLACK SILKS, COLORÉD SILKS,
SILK VELVETS,
VELVETEENS'

Full Lines in

WINCEYS,
FLANNELS, BLANKETS,
RUGS, COTTONS,
PRINTS.

Full Lines in

GLOVES,
HOSIERY,
CORSETS,
SILK FRINGES,
WOOL FRINGES, GALLOONS,
BRAIDS.

Full Lines in

SHAWLS, MANTLES,
SKIRTS.

Full Lines in

MANTALASS

nition of the Public School In Eastern Ontario was held at yesterday. Mr. Jessup, Superintendent of Education in British Columbia, and gave an account of education in the Pacific Proion has been made to the Queen's Bench at Toronto for a prevent the payment by the awa of a Bonus to the proposed dge scheme, on the ground of ty of such an expenditure, the mprovement being outside the 1 limits.

ation from Montreal waited on or of the Interior yesterday nce to the Oka troubles. Mr. ted out the inability of the overment to interfere, but ex- a opinion that the difficulty iposed of it the Indians would o place themselves in the e Government.

for the United States before 7 Commission was closed on the American argument being aritime Provinces are entitled rd, the advantages from the es of the Washington Treaty al. The Commission has until Tuesday, when the gument will be commenced. ed that an award will be made end of the month.

AL. Nov. 9. The detectives pled in unearthing a dangerous n of thieves who have been ars, silks, seal skins, and other Boyd, Egan, & Co's bonded . A man named Chausse, sup- vas discovered, confessed, that P. Fournier had combined to ematic robberies in Boyd, o's bonded warehouses, and therefrom 10,000 cigars, a of seal skins, silks, besides nd liquors. Fournier, who ars in Quebec, was arrested and the members of the gang curly caged.

United States.

arrived at Cape Town on the

of the seventh magnitude red at Ann Arbor on Monday. the Beauce murderer, is hiding with a party of some ten or a, some of them deserters from Bellefophon.

effort is to be made to secure elense under the incoming general of marauding Indians from so, who crossed the Rio Grande f plunder, have been pursued xians into Texas, engaged, ed.

hostilities are reported on the e, a party of scouts who had e river having been attacked ed by a body of five hundred ortation into the United States n cattle from Europe will be after the 1st prox., except in corgees are accompanied by rtificates of non-infection.

ill be introduced in the House ntatives on Monday chartering ntic Cable Company, who pro- ry their lines by way of the ad to complete it within five upt has been made in the itequin, as the instigation of cal party, to assassinate the diliate for the Presidency of d States of Columbia. Martial n proclaimed until the Bishops rom the country or are bakihe bodies of the crew of the ounded off Manitowoc, Wis., identified and sent home by Ope is that Ben. Marshall, of Jefferson County, N. Y., the it, of Jordan, Ont.

Leiter's extensive dry goods are was burned Wednesday

eral, the fire was beyond control, and all the shops, machinery, and a lot of unfinished work were entirely consumed. Loss about $50,000; insured in the Waterloo Mutual for $6,000, and in the Manufacturers' and Merchants, for $2,500. The residence of Mr. Thos. Speight, sr., was also burned; loss, $2,000, no insurance. The damage to W. B. Speight's residence is estimated at $509; insured in the Mercantile. Damage to Canada Methodist Church, $400; insured in the Mercantile. Damage to Mrs. Thos. Speight's residence, $200; insured in the Waterloo Mutual. Damage to stock of drugs of Wm. Miller & Co., $100; insured in the Home District Mutual and Mercantile.

Repentant.

When young Chas. Renaud forged Mr. Geo. Deholm's name to cheques for over $3,000 and drew the money, he divided it with one Magloire Dupuis, and Wilfred Gingras, who both fled to New York Last Wednesday, Gingras, who was in Philadelphia, and penniless, went to the Chief of Police of that city, and confessed that he had, in company with Renaud, forged a cheque for $1,500. He said that after leaving Montreal he and Dupuis lived in good style, moving about from place to place, as the police were after them. Now, however, he felt sorry for what he had done, and wished to be sent back to Montreal, where he was willing to suffer imprisonment for the crime which he had committed. The chief concluded that it was a mere dodge concocted to secure a free pass to Canada. Gingras was, however, locked up, and a despatch forwarded here to Chief Penton asking if such a party as Gingras was wanted. Chief Penton consulted the bank authorities, who concluded that as Gingras had spent all the money they did not want him. Gingras is respectfully connected here.

The Suez Canal.

From recent English reports giving the present standing of the Suez Canal, we gather the fact that the future prosperity of that great undertaking is assured beyond reasonable doubt. The canal runs, as is known, from Port Said, on the Mediterranean, to Port Suez, on the Red Sea, a distance of about a hundred miles. Throughout its entire length none of the predictions of its opponents have been verified. The navigation of the Red Sea has not proved dangerous. The canal has not become a stagnant ditch, a receptacle of the sand of the desert, and alluvium of the Nile. Neither have the bitter lakes through which it passes in part become filled with salt. The supposed difference of level between the Red Sea and the Mediterranean, if it exists at all, has had no appreciable effect. After the canal was completed it was found easy to keep it open to the required depth, and in excellent navigable order. When the work was done the main questions were: Would it pay? Would it secure the commerce from India and the parts adjacent? Would English jealousy be allayed in view of its manifest advantages, and would the policy of Egypt be liberal and impartial? As the capital expended in its construction had been double the estimate, would the tonnage dues be necessarily so high as to drive off the smaller craft? Of these questions the last was the most important. There has been some modification of the dues and some shifting about before they were adjusted. But, judging from the present increase of tonnage passing through the canal, and from the fact that the shares now yield a profit, it may be assumed that the toll is satisfactory, and has been fixed for some time to come. The canal was opened to traffic in 1869. From 1870 to 1876 the net tonnage rose from 436,609 tons to 2,096,772 tons, and the receipts from two hundred thousand pounds sterling in 1870 to one million two hundred thousand pounds sterling in 1876. In 1876, after all debts were paid, a small balance of profit was left to the shareholders. The result is regarded as satisfactory in England, where a large number of shares are held, some by private parties, but the greater part by the British Government, which bought of the Khedive a considerable portion of his interest in the canal.

Modern Miracles.

24-211.

Insolvent Act of 1875.

CANADA: Province of Ontario. In the County Court of County of Lennox and Addington, and Addington. IN THE MATTER OF EDWARD KIMERLY BOWEN.

An Insolvent, THE Undersigned, filed in the office of this Court, a Deed of Composition and Discharge, executed by his creditors, and on TUESDAY, the SIXTH day of NOVEMBER next, he will apply to the Judge of the said Court for a confirmation of the discharge thereby effected.

Napanee, October 24th, 1877.

E. K. BOWEN,
By E. B. STONE,
his Attorney, ad litem.

DOCTOR PIERCE'S

ALT. EXT. OR

Golden Medical Discovery

CURES DISEASES OF THE THROAT, LUNGS, LIVER & BLOOD.

In the wonderful medicine to which the afflicted are above directed for relief, the discoverer believes he has combined in harmony more of Nature's sovereign curative properties, which God has instilled into the vegetable kingdom for healing the sick, than were ever before combined in one medicine. The evidence of this fact is found in the great variety of most obstinate diseases which it has been found to conquer. In the cure of Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, and the early stages of Consumption, it has astonished the medical faculty, and eminent physicians pronounce it the greatest medical discovery of the age. While it cures the severest Coughs, it strengthens the system and purifies the blood. By its great and thorough blood-purifying properties, it cures all Humors, from the worst Serofula to a common Itch, Pimple, or Eruption. Mercurial disease, Mineral Poisons, and their effects, are eradicated, and vigorous health and a sound constitution established. Erysipelas, Salt-rheum, Fever Sores, Scaly or Rough Skin, in short, all the numerous diseases caused by bad blood, are conquered by this powerful, purifying, and invigorating medicine.

If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flushes, low spirits, and gloomy forebodings, irregular appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint" only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy.

SOLD BY DRUGGISTS AT $1 PER BOTTLE.

Prepared by R. V. PIERCE, M. D., Sole Proprietor, at the WORLD'S DISPENSARY, Buffalo, N. Y.

This Cut Illustrates the Manner of Using

DR. PIERCE'S Fountain Nasal Injector,

OR

DOUCHE.

KNIVES, RUGS, COTTONS, PRINTS.

Full Lines in

GLOVES, HOSIERY, CORSETS, SILK FRINGES, WOOL FRINGES, GALOONS, BRAIDS.

Full Lines in

SHAWLS, MANTLES, SKIRTS.

Full Lines in

MANTALASSE, BEAVERS, NAPS, VICTORIA TWILLS, WATER PROOFS, AND PLAID FOR ULSTERS.

Full Lines in

LADIES' AND GENTS' MERINO UNDERCLOTHING, SCOTCH AND CANADIAN VENIT WOOLENS.

Full Lines in

CLOUDS, SCARFS, SQUARES, HOODS, JACKETS.

Full Lines in

MINK SETS, SEAL SETS, BALTIC SETS, ERMINE SETS, SEAL CAPS, MINK CAPS, FURS AND ROBES.

Full Lines in

LADIES STRAW & FELT HATS, FLOWERS, FEATHERS, PLUMES, &c., &c., MISS PHALEN, MANAGER.

liquors. Four men, who s in Quebec, were arrested
d the members of the gang rily caged.

United States.
rived at Cape Town on the
of the seventh magnitude
d at Ann Arbor on Monday.
e Boucaneer, is hiding with a party of some ten or some of them deserters from "Herophon."

It is to be made to secure ase under the incoming eral f marauding Indians from who crossed the Rio Grande blunder, have been pursued eians into Texas, engaged, stilities are reported on the a party of scouts who had river having been attacked by a body of five hundred tation into the United States attle from Europe will be ter the 1st prox., except in orgues are accompanied by ificates of non-infection.

e introduced in the House atives on Monday chartering ie Cable Company, who pro-y their lines by way of the to complete it within five

it has been made in the equia, as the investigation of l party, to assassinate the idate for the Presidency of States of Columbia. Martial proclaimed until the Bishops in the country or are hand-bodies of the crew of the ndered-off Manitowoc, Wis., identified and sent home by er is that Ben. Marshall, of erson County, N. Y., the of Jordan, Ont.

iter's extensive dry goods
o, was burned Wednesday
e loss is estimated at over f millions. Two men were ht; two dangerously, and y injured. Two are missing.
ngle fireman escaped without workmen are thrown out of

Herald reports give sensa-ts of the Pope's illness, stataturday the death-rattle was throat, but that he since h it is believed that there is his recovery, and that his e sudden. 'Reports direct tate that he received visitors

Continent
physicians are alarmed at illness.

ired Mennonites left Berlin
n the 9th instant.
rs of a reported rising in the a are contradicted.

lunarity is making preparaostile expedition to Near-expecting in the north-west of Spain, a number of disards, armed with Reminging crossed the Pyrenees, and Italy have paid the their subsidies to the St.

ad, 4,600,000 and 2,700,000
ively.

ed that Germany is urging cept a German protectorate, the military system conform many, accepting in return nspensation, and a guarantee ndence.

The Suez Canal

From recent English reports giving the present standing of the Suez Canal, we gather the fact that the future prosperity of that great undertaking is assured beyond reasonable doubt. The canal runs, as is known, from Port Said, on the Mediterranean, to Port Suez, on the Red Sea, a distance of about a hundred miles. Throughout its entire length none of the predictions of its opponents have been verified. The navigation of the Red Sea has not proved dangerous. The canal has not become a stagnant ditch, a receptacle of the sand of the desert, and alluvium of the Nile. Neither have the bitter lakes through which it passes in part become filled with salt. The supposed difference of level between the Red Sea and the Mediterranean, if it exists at all, has had no appreciable effect. After the canal was completed it was found easy to keep it open to the required depth, and in excellent navigable order. When the work was done the main questions were: Would it pay? Would it secure the commerce from India and the parts adjacent? Would English jealousy be allayed in view of its manifest advantages, and would the policy of Egypt be liberal and impartial? As the capital expended in its construction had been double the estimate, would the tonnage dues be necessarily so high as to drive off the smaller craft? Of these questions the last was the most important. There has been some modification of the dues and some shifting about before they were adjusted. But, judging from the present increase of tonnage passing through the canal, and from the fact that the shares now yield a profit, it may be assumed that the toll is satisfactory, and has been fixed for some time to come. The canal was opened to traffic in 1869. From 1870 to 1876 the net tonnage rose from 436,609 tons to 2,096,772 tons, and the receipts from two hundred thousand pounds sterling in 1870 to one million two hundred thousand pounds sterling in 1875. In 1876, after all debts were paid, a small balance of profit was left to the shareholders. The result is regarded as satisfactory in England, where a large number of shares are held, some by private parties, but the greater part by the British Government, which bought of the Khedive a considerable portion of his interest in the canal.

Modern Miracles.

Art is not yet satisfied with her conquests over nature. Just now a couple of stupendous undertakings are in contemplation, one to bridge the Bosphorus, the other to tunnel the Straits of Dover. The former of these undertakings will borrow an interest from the fact of the locality of it being inseparably interlinked with the difficulty so well known as the Eastern question. The proposed bridge, 6,000 feet long and 100 feet wide, is expected to cost $25,000,000, its principle span being 750 feet wide. No triumph of modern engineering will begin to compare, however, with the proposed railway tunnel under the British channel. The possibility of burrowing under the bed of the sea a distance of thirty miles almost staggers the imagination and sponges out the word impossible from the slate of human calculation. The international aspect of the work is by no means void of interest. In view of their ancient hostile attitude as traditional enemies, it is something worthy of remark that the two great rival nations of Western Europe, for the purposes of peace, should thus be making their mutual advances under the waters which divide their shores. And yet this is literally to happen, since the work is said to have been already begun, the intention of the British and the French railway companies being to push on the undertaking, commencing simultaneously from either shore. The saying is a trite one that wonders will never cease. Though this may be, yet the very frequency of their accomplishment will yet almost render the cessation of them the greatest wonder that can possibly happen. Very soon men will cease to wonder at the miraculous achievements of modern engineering skill. Truly truth hath its victories.—Whig.

CURES DISEASES OF THE THROAT, LUNGS, LIVER & BLOOD.

In the wonderful medicine to which the afflicted are above directed for relief, the discoverer believes he has combined in harmony more of Nature's sovereign curative properties, which God has instilled into the vegetable kingdom for healing the sick, than were ever before combined in one medicine. The evidence of this fact is found in the great variety of most obstinate diseases which it has been found to conquer. In the cure of Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, and the early stage of Consumption, it has astonished the medical faculty, and eminent physicians pronounce it the greatest medical discovery of the age. While it cures the severest Coughs, it strengthens the system and purifies the blood. By its great and thorough blood-purifying properties, it cures all Humors, from the worst Scrofula to a common Blotch, Pimple, or Eruption. Mercurial disease, Mineral Poisons, and their effects, are eradicated, and vigorous health and a sound constitution established. Erysipelas, Salt-rheum, Eczema, Scaly or Rough Skin, in short, all the numerous diseases caused by bad blood, are conquered by this powerful, purifying, and invigorating medicine.

If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flushes, low spirits, and gloomy forebodings, irregular appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint," only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy.

SOLD BY DRUGGISTS AT $1 PER BOTTLE.

Prepared by R. V. PIERCE, M. D., Sole Proprietor, at the WORLD'S DISPENSARY, Buffalo, N. Y.

This Cut Illustrates the Manner of Using

DR. PIERCE'S Fountain Nasal Injector,
OR

DOUCHE.

This instrument is especially designed for the perfect application of

DR. SAGE'S CATARRH REMEDY.

It is the only form of instrument yet invented with which fluid medicine can be carried high up and perfectly applied to all parts of the affected nasal passages, and the chambers or cavities communicating therewith, in which sores and ulcers frequently exist, and from which the catarrhal discharge generally proceeds. The want of success in treating Catarrh heretofore has arisen largely from the impossibility of applying remedies to these cavities and chambers by any of the ordinary methods. This obstacle in the way of effecting cures is entirely overcome by the invention of the Douche. Its use is pleasant and so simple that a child can understand it. Full and explicit directions accompany each instrument. When used with this instrument, Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy cures recent attacks of "Cold in the Head" by a few applications.

CATARRH

SYMPTOMS—Frequent headache, discharge falling into throat, sometimes profuse, watery, thick, mucous, purulent, offensive, etc. In other, a dryness, dry, watery, weak, or inflamed eyes, stopping up, or obstruction, of nasal passages, ringing in ears, deafness, hawking and coughing to clear throat, nose, itching, scales from ulcers, voice altered, nasal twang, offensive breath, impaired or total deprivation of sense of smell and taste, dizziness, mental depression, loss of appetite, indigestion, enlarged tonsils, tickling cough, etc. Only a few of these symptoms are likely to be present in any case at one time.

Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, when used with Dr. Pierce's Nasal Douche, and accompanied with the constitutional treatment which is recommended in the pamphlet that wraps each bottle of the Remedy, is a perfect specific for this bothersome disease. It is mild and pleasant to use, containing no strong or caustic drugs or poisons. The Catarrh Remedy is sold at 50 cents, Douche at 60 cents, by all Druggists.

R. V. PIERCE, M. D., Prop'r,
BUFFALO, N. Y.

Full Lines in

LADIES' AND GENTS'
MERINO UNDERCLOTHING,
SCOTCH AND CANADIAN
VENIT WOOLENS.

Full Lines in

CLOUDS, SCARFS, SQUARES, HOODS,
JACKETS.

Full Lines in

MINK SETS,
SEAL SETS,
BALISTIC SETS, ERMINE SETS,
SEAL CAPS,
MINK CAPS, FURS
AND ROBES.

Full Lines in

LADIES STRAW & FELT HATS,
FLOWERS,
FEATHERS,
PLUMES, &c., &c.,
MISS PHALEN, MANAGER.

CARPETS,
OIL CLOTHS,
LACE CURTAINS,
AND REPS.

Full Lines in

READY-MADE CLOTHING,
WORSTED COATINGS,
BEAVERS,
NAPS,
ENGLISH SCOTCH AND CANADIAN TWEEDS.

James Walters, Cutter.

Full Lines in

MEN AND BOYS FELT HATS,
CLOTH CAPS,
FUR CAPS,
AND GENTS' FURNISHINGS.

AT PRICES

TO SUIT THE TIMES

JOHN DOWNFY.

Napanee, Oct. 6th, 1877.

Advertisements this Week.

New Books—Henderson
Farm for Sale—R. McDowell Felt Roofing—Nelson German Wine is a Mockery—Henry Boyle
Stoves—Wright & Co.
Notice—Express Office

THE EXPRESS

NAPANEE, NOV. 16th, 1877.

—Any parties who wish to take a local paper can have the Express free to the end of the year, on trial, with the privilege of discontinuing at that time, if unsatisfactory. Only $1 for 1878, postage free. Readers are requested to send in the names of their friends.

To Doer Hunters.

An Eight Shooter Spencer Repeating Rifle for sale, Cheap, at F. CHINNECK'S, Napanee. 27-1f

Wine is a mockery; strong drink is raging; whosoever is deceived thereby is not wise. Therefore be not deceived by parties telling you that their Stoves are better than Boyle's. My Stoves are made of the best material (not of old iron, as asserted by others in the trade,) and are also as good, if not better, because they are heavier, and consequently throw out more heat, and have given good satisfaction. Give me a call before purchasing elsewhere. No connection with any other establishment in Town, but manufacture and repair Tinware of all kinds, by first-class Mechanics, and do Job Work of all kinds, in my line, and keep a large assortment of Cooking, Parlor Cook, Box and Coal-heating and Double Stoves. Extra castings for stoves; stoves refitted, Ploughs and Plough-shares of all kinds. Yours truly, H. BOYLE, agent, in William Miller's old stand, opposite Webster & Boyes.

—Indian summer this week.

—This is the time to roast chestnuts and pop corn and the question.

—Street cars with stoves inside are being built for winter use in Belleville.

—The knowing ones are predicting more than two weeks of open weather yet.

—This is the close season for whitefish, and dealers and others interested will do well to bear the fact in mind.

—The two things that cause most trouble in town these times are the tax-collector and last year's stove-pipes.

—The shipments of grain from Napanee have been very large during the past week. Vessels coming and going as fast as they could be loaded.

—Photographic counterfeit $1 bills, on the Dominion Bank, are in circulation in Belleville. They have more of a greasy feeling than the genuine.

—We direct attention to John Henderson's advertisement in this issue. "He is already getting in goods for the holiday season. Call on him when in town."

—The Belleville Town Council has resolved to petition the Dominion Government to pay the expenses of the Queen's Own Rifles of Toronto in connection with the Grand Trunk strike.

—The athletic sports announced to come off in the Academy Grounds on Friday last, were postponed on account of the unfavorable weather. The exhibition in the evening was very successful.

—The pupils of Odessa School purpose giving an entertainment in the Court House, in their village, on Friday evening, Nov. 23rd. A good programme is promised. We hope we may have to report a good turn out.

—A burglary is reported from Enterprize, and a suspicious party has been traced to Kingston. Our business men should be warned and take every precaution, or a visit from some of these gentry may have to be regretted.

—Mr. Rine has been holding most enthusiastic meetings in Kingston, a thousand people being unable to gain admittance to a meeting in the City Hall one evening this week. He goes to Montreal and Quebec shortly.

—The water in the river remains very low and vessels loading deeper than seven feet are very apt to find a soft berth. On Saturday last two ves-

New Venture.

A couple of venturesome youths are about to start a new journal in Mill Point to be called the Echo. Seven column sheet with patent outside pages.

Thanksgiving Day.

Thursday next has been set apart as a public Thanksgiving Day for the Province of Ontario, would it not be a proper thing for the church authorities to make provisions for the holiday of religious services. Surely the people of the Province, and this town and county in particular, can find much to be thankful for in the abundant harvest of the past season, etc.

Counterfeit.

Counterfeit $10 Ontario Bank Bills are in circulation. Merchants and others would do well to clip the following description for reference: The paper of the counterfeit is thinner, a quarter of an inch short, and the numbering letters smaller. The green tinting is lighter, the engraving badly done, and the engraver's name, which appears on the genuine note, is absent from the forged one. The bill purports to be of the head office issue. So nearly alike are they that the Merchants, Montreal, and Consolidated banks have taken them.

A Big Cargo.

In order to give to those accustomed to think 20,000 or 25,000 bushels of grain a heavy cargo, we give the following concerning one of the largest of ocean steamers:—"The steamer Faraday, loaded by Henderson Brothers, for London, sailed from New York on Thursday with over 4,000 tons of cargo, consisting of 93,084 bush. wheat, 24,600 bush. corn 3, 820 bbls. flour, 400 tons oil cake, 25 hhds, tobacco, 800 bales hops, 650 bbls. of resin, 100 bales sarsaparilla roots, 5,000 staves, and 50 live cattle, being the largest that ever left the port of New York in one ship, excepting the Great Eastern.

Marine Notes.

The schooner Berlin, of Buffalo, was wrecked on Tuesday night. Captain Johnson and the coloured cook were drowned. The remainder of the crew, numbering four, clung to the wreck all night; and till 4 p. m., next day. Two were rescued alive, and two perished from exposure, one being the captain's son. The survivors are Martin Oleson and Charles Harrison, of Buffalo, both Norwegians.

WRECK OF THE MAGELLAN.—The vessel was built in St. Catharines, rated A 1, and was partly insured. Four of the bodies have been found. On the person of one was found an envelope addressed, "H. P. Larson, Sailors' Home, Glasgow" and $75. On another a pass-book with the memorandum, "Sailed from Chicago Nov. 4, on schooner Magellan," and a tintype of a woman inscribed on the back, "Mrs. D. L. Marshall, Clayton, N. Y." On another an envelope containing a letter addressed to P. Tait and signed Wm. Tait. The wreck is lying near Manitowoc, Wis.

Valuable Invention.

Our attention has been called during the week to a valuable invention which has lately been invented and which has been just introduced to this town. Contractors and builders have always experienced great difficulty in securing a roofing material for flat roofs at once cheap and serviceable. Various inventions have been tried some time, all with the same result, leaky roofs, constant trouble and expense in making repairs and no end of complaints from customers. J. Brokenshire, Esq., of the Atlantic Foundry, Kingston, after long experimenting has succeeded in perfecting a material composed largely of metal and which when applied becomes as hard as slate, and impervious to changing temperature as cold does not crack, nor heat cause it

Lecture.

Bishop O'Brien's lecture in the Catholic Church on Sabbath evening last, was largely attended.

—The report of Mr. Cartwright's speech, at Napanee will probably appear next week.

We shall in future give market reports from Napanee, Belleville, and other points, which may interest the farming community. These reports will be changed throughout, weekly, and may be relied on.

Lumber.

The Ottawa Herald says:—"We understand that the Hon. Jas. Skead has sold all the sawn lumber in his mill-yards, and that he has signed an agreement for supplying a large quantity of lumber next year. This news makes prospects a little brighter. An approximate estimate of the sawn lumber now on hand at Ottawa and neighbourhood, places the amount at about one-third less than at this time last year. Some millers have not more than half the amount of stock on hand that they had last winter. On the line of the Canada Central it is calculated that the stock is about twenty-two million feet less than last season. The reduction has been caused by millers having reduced their operations.

Sir John's Contingencies.

When we come to consider Sir John Macdonald's fitness for office by the way in which he managed his department when Minister of Justice, it must be conceded that neglect of duty and extravagance prove his utter incapacity. We pointed out the other day that the cab hire for his department during one year amounted to $1,035.50, while during Mr. Blake's management $14.80 was found sufficient to pay all charges of that nature. Taking up a few others items, we find that for telegraphing, during the year 1872-3, Sir John's department cost $4,371.88. During the year 1876-7 the cost of telegraphing, under Mr. Blake's management was only $330—a saving of over four thousand dollars on this item in one year. Sir John's "travelling" expenses amounted to $1,218.12, while Mr. Blake's for a similar period cost only $51.35. The charge for postage in Sir John's time was for the year above named $493.37, and in Mr. Blake's $125.77. The curious part of the last comparison is that the correspondence while Mr. Blake was in office was three times as great as when Sir John ruled, yet the Tory chief charged the country three times as much for postage! With all this telegraphing travelling, cab hire, and prodigality in postage, it would naturally be expected that the business of the department was done up by Sir John in first-class style, but the fact shows that the arrears of business extended back for years, and that a most painful system of delays had grown up. Explanations, accounting for the extraordinary charges against contingencies quoted above, are what Sir John is now called upon to offer. Is it another case of Northern Railway cow contributions, with the Dominion treasury as the milch cow from which the Tory chieftain drew nourishment for his bribery funds? Parliamentary inquiry into the contingencies accounts of the late Administration might reveal a worse nest of corruption than either the Pacific Scandal or Northern Railway investigations.

A Brave Engineer.

A little railroad accident recently occurred at the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton station, which might have been serious but for the prompt action of Engineer Wheeler. The theatre train was standing in the station nearly full of passengers, and the engine detached, standing some distance in front of it, when a freight train was, by some blunder,

The question of the hour: Are insurance agents ever afflicted with faltness?

Bank managers, railroad students, and all that class of people hereby warned against accepting salaries without close scrutiny. A five cent piece are in circulation.

"Three strikes!—out, cried clerk; and, with his Ulster on and his "dish-brim" on his head, he was out on the sidewalk in less than seconds after the Custom House had struck three.

The master builders of London land, have declined to enter into negotiations with the striking masons, and decided to continue the import of foreign labour.

There is a good paragraph for the Burlington Hawkeye. Winter is closing in upon the city of this county with most appalling ties. A season of incessant and donation parties has been arranged, many of the denominations, in prospect is that hundreds of men who are not able to keep a fire don't know how to fire a gun, will from starvation.

A stupid-looking countryman before a blacksmith's shop the price of which was forging a shoe, at the performance with much inter-brawny smith, dissatisfied with the curiosity, held the red hot-iron s under his nose, hoping to unbeat a hasty retreat. "If you me sixpence I will lick it," said the countryman. "I'll stop the bit jaws," thought the smith, as he took his pocket a sixpence, and held the countryman quickly grab coin, licked it, and walked away v "did you ever catch a weasel as!

The doubt of whether the price of would make it a profitable one shipping meat to the English seems to have been thoroughly and so satisfactorily that we expect the trade to go on increasing. We not only supply England and other countries of Europe. The quotations, though somewhat belated, generally realized, are very encouraging. "At Mr. Tindall's sale last week were somewhat slow, at the prices: Fore-quarters, 4½d. to 5½d. quarters, 6½d. to 7½d. per pound prices charged by the retailers many cases 4d. per lb. above the rates. The beef was in splendid condition."

The London World tells why it dismissed his old physician, Dr. Gallo. It says: "One morning I feeling a good deal of soreness on his shoulders, drew Pellagallo's attention to it. The Doctor looked at it and recognized the presence of inflammation. He jumped at the conclusion that I had set it, and left the Vatican at that the days of Pius IX. were ended. Crossing the bridge of St. he met the correspondent of the on his way to the Vatican in a material. "How is the Holy Father morning?" he inquired. The shook his head and pronounced it erysipelas. "Dio mio, then his near." "Exactly so," and the p wheeled round, went direct to graph office and wired the all in news to his paper. The discord by the Pope was caused by nothing than an incipient boil, but the having been traced to the Doctor's ritation spread to the Pontiff's and Pellagallo was discharged.

THE CRADLE.

Close.—On the 2nd, of October, 1877, of Mr. Thomas Close, of Mill P daughter.

THE ALTAR.

QUAIGLEY—KELLER—On the evening inst., at the residence of the bride by the Rev. J. C. Ash, Mr. J. F. Q have been very large during the past week. Vessels coming and going as fast as they could be loaded.

—Photographic counterfeit $1 bills, on the Dominion Bank, are in circulation in Belleville. They have more of a greasy feeling than the genuine.

—We direct attention to John Henderson's advertisement in this issue. "He is already getting in goods for the holiday season. Call on him when in town."

—The Belleville Town Council has resolved to petition the Dominion Government to pay the expenses of the Queen's Own Rifles of Toronto in connection with the Grand Trunk strike.

—The athletic sports announced to come off in the Academy Grounds on Friday last, were postponed on account of the unfavorable weather. The exhibition in the evening was very successful.

—The pupils of Odessa School purpose giving an entertainment in the Court House, in their village, on Friday evening, Nov. 23rd. A good programme is promised. We hope we may have to report a good turn out.

—A burglar is reported from Enterprise, and a suspicious party has been traced to Kingston. Our business men should be warned and take every precaution, or a visit from some of these gentry may have to be regretted.

—Mr. Rine has been holding most enthusiastic meetings in Kingston, a thousand people being unable to gain admittance to a meeting in the City Hall one evening this week. He goes to Montreal and Quebec shortly.

—The water in the river remains very low and vessels loading deeper than seven feet are very apt to find a soft berth in the mud. On Saturday last two vessels loaded at 7 ft. 4 in. and 7 ft. 6 in., respectively, were got out of the river with great difficulty.

—The winter timetable of the Grand Trunk Railway has been received. Train leaves Napanee as follows: Going west, Express, 5:50 a.m., and 5:12 p.m.; Mixed, 7:35. Going east, Express, 1:10 a.m., and 1 p.m.; Mixed 9 p.m., Montreal time.

—Belleville fishermen report poor success of late. Herring, usually so plentiful at this season, are scarce, and instead of becoming more plentiful are actually becoming scarce. It seems now as if the catch would be far below the average of the last four or five years.

—"A new kind of a deadbeat is on his travels. He selects an uncommon name from the directory, calls on the person, and by claiming to be of the same name, bases an appeal for pecuniary assistance. Sharpen the toes of your boots in anticipation of his coming."—Tiscr.

—Grain Shipments from Napanee during the past week. By Diamond & Sherwood, per schooner to Oswego, 10,500 bushels barley, 2922 bushels Rye; per railway to Chicago, 500 bushels barley. By the Grangers, per sch. to Oswego, 27,800 bushels barley. From Mill Point, per sch. to Oswego, 1,750 bushels barley.

—An Act, passed at the last session of the Ontario Legislature, extended the time allowed for the registration of partnerships till the first of January next, after which, upon complaint of any one, parties who have failed to comply with the law, may be mulcted in $200. Members of firms should see to it that they do not expose themselves to that penalty. The law will be found on page 65 of the statutes of 1877.

The Napanee Dramatic Club announce one of their unequalled entertainments in the Town Hall on the Tuesday evening, Nov. 20th, when "Gwinnett" will be played on the boards for the first time in this town. These amateur theatricals have in the past been justly popular with our townspeople, and the boys are determined to sustain their reputation during the coming winter. Give them a bumper house.

—The Anniversary Services of the M.

Johnson and the coloured cook were drowned. The remainder of the crew, numbering four, clung to the wreck all night; and till 4 p.m., next day. Two were rescued alive, and two perished from exposure, one being the captain's son. The survivors are Martin Oleson and Charles Harrison, of Buffalo, both Norwegians.

WRECK OF THE MAGELLAN.—The vessel was built in St. Catharines, rated A 1, and was partly insured. Four of the bodies have been found. On the person of one was found an envelope addressed, "H. P. Larson; Sailors' Home, Glasgow" and $75. On another a pass-book with the memorandum, "Sailed from Chicago Nov. 4, on schooner Magellan," and a tintype of a woman inscribed on the back, "Mrs. D. L. Marshall, Clayton, N. Y." On another an envelope containing a letter addressed to P. Tait and signed Wm. Tait. The wreck is lying near Manitowoc, Wis.

Valuable Invention.

Our attention has been called during the week to a valuable invention which has lately been invented and which has been just introduced to this town. Contractors and builders have always experienced great difficulty in securing a roofing material for flat roofs at once cheap and serviceable. Various inventions have been tried some time, all with the same result, leaky roofs, constant trouble and expense in making repairs and no end of complaints from customers. J. Brokenshire, Esq., of the Atlantic Foundry, Kingston, after long experimenting has succeeded in perfecting a material composed largely of metal and which when applied becomes as hard as slate, and impervious to changing temperature as cold does not crack, nor heat cause it to run. The material is also perfectly fire proof. The invention will we feel assured prove a great boon to both owners and builders. Since its introduction at Kingston, other roofing material has been entirely discarded, and the highest testimonials have been presented the inventor setting forth its merit. Mr. N. German, is the first to use it in Napanee, having first used it on a roof at his carriage shop, and has also been appointed agent for Napanee and vicinity. We would advise parties interested to call around and inspect this roof or a specimen may be seen at this office.

The C. M. Church.

The additions and other improvements on the Canada Methodist Church here are rapidly approaching completion, and it is announced that the regular Sunday Services will be resumed in the basement on Sunday morning next. The regular Quarterly Meeting will then be held. The improvements are of an important character. Its size has been enlarged by the addition of over twenty feet to the length, and the old walls have been pointed over and pencilled, so as to add much to their appearance. Inside the same additions to the size have been made. The pulpit has been moved back somewhat, and more pews added on the main floor. The gallery has been lowered, and extended around the four sides of the entire building. The organ and Choir will be in the gallery immediately behind the pulpit, adding much to the appearance of the building, as well as the convenience of the worshippers. The gallery has also been lowered a few inches. A new pulpit and platform of a more modern character have been built. The ceiling and walls are now being decorated in a very neat and tasty manner, new stained glass windows are to be put in, and the entire wood work to be repainted. Gas fixtures are also being put in, and new hot air furnaces put up. When all is completed it will be the neatest appearing church in Napanee. The body of the church will probably, not be completed before the holidays.

The Churches.

On Sunday last the Rev. Dr. O'Brien, Bishop of Kingston, was at the Roman Catholic Church, here, and took part in the services morn-over four thousand dollars on this item in one year. Sir John's "travelling" expenses amounted to $1,218.12, while Mr. Blake's for a similar period cost only $51.35. The charge for postage in Sir John's time was for the year above named $493.87, and in Mr. Blake's $125.77. The curious part of the last comparison is that the correspondence while Mr. Blake was in office was three times as great as when Sir John ruled, yet the Tory chief charged the country three times as much for postage! With all this telegraphing travelling, cab hire, and prodigality in postage, it would naturally be expected that the business of the department was done up by Sir John in first-class style, but the fact shows that the arrears of business extended back for years, and that a most painful system of delays had grown up. Explanations, accounting for the extraordinary charges against contingencies quoted above, are what Sir John is now called upon to offer. Is it another case of Northern Railway cow contributions, with the Dominion treasury as the milch cow from which the Tory chieftain drew nourishment for his bribery funds? Parliamentary inquiry into the contingencies accounts of the late Administration might reveal a worse nest of corruption than either the Pacific Scandal or Northern Railway investigations.

A Brave Engineer.

A little railroad accident recently occurred at the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton station, which might have been serious but for the prompt action of Engineer Wheeler. The theatre train was standing in the station nearly full of passengers, and the engine detached, standing some distance in front of it, when a freight train was, by some blunder, backed down at a rapid rate directly towards the passenger train. Fortunately Billy Whalen, the engineer in charge of the engine, saw the situation, and understanding the danger, sprang at once, into the engine, which was yet detached from the passenger train, and turning on full steam, shot her ahead into the rear of the coming freight train. The shock was a terrible one. The trucks of the rear of the freight train climbed up the front of the engine; the headlight of Whalen's locomotive was smashed and considerable damage incurred. The bold Billy was badly shocked, but the force of the freight train was checked, and though it struck the passenger train, driving it back to the rear of the depot and shaking up the passengers at a pretty lively rate, none of them was seriously injured, for all of which they may thank the quick witted and brave Billy Whalen. Such an action requires more true heroism than is embodied in a thousand strikes.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

A Port Bruce Mystery

As two small boys were playing in a barn of Mr. Noah Mann's, a couple of miles west of Port Bruce, on Sunday week last, they found an overcoat and a pair of boots, which they took to the farmhouse, where the articles were thoroughly examined. The boots are No. 7's but little worn, and of ordinary quality; the overcoat is a good one, made of black cloth, in a fashionable manner. In the pocket of the coat was found a pocket-book containing thirty dollars, in three bills of ten dollars of the Imperial Bank; also a photograph of two children, on the back of which was scratched with a blunt instrument, "Send this money to—Smith, Culloden Post office, Ont." The Christian name is not easy to decipher, but it looks like "Alvin G." There were also in the pocket of the coat two small satchel keys, a pair of gold-rimmed and a pair of rubber-rimmed eye-glasses. The boots and coat would have fitted the man whose body was found on the beach at Port Bruce. Squire Gillet and Capt. Thompson went on Thursday, with authority, and brought the articles to Aylmer, and on Friday the same gentleman proceeded to Culloden to hunt up the person whom the money was intended for.—St. Thomas Times.

generally realized, are very uncommon. At Mr. Tindall's sale last week were somewhat slow, at the following prices: Fore-quarters, 4½d. to 5½d. quarters, 6½d. to 7½d. per pound, prices charged by the retailers in many cases 4d. per lb. above the ares. The beef was in splendid condition."

The London World tells why the dismissed his old physician, Dr. Gallo. It says: "One morning the feeling a good deal of soreness on his shoulders, drew Pellagallo's attention. The Doctor looked at the recognized the presence of inflammation jumped at the conclusion that ery had set in, and left the Vatican can that the days of Pius IX. were numbered. Crossing the bridge of St. Peter he met the correspondent of the N on his way to the Vatican in sea material. "How is the Holy Father morning?" he inquired. The shook his head and pronounced the erysipelas. "Dio mio, then his near." "Exactly so," and the pre wheeled round, went direct to the graph office and wired the all my news to his paper. The discomf by the Pope was caused by nothing than an incipient boil, but the having been traced to the Doctor, ritation spread to the Pontiff's and Pellagallo was discharged.

THE CRADLE.

Close.—On the 2nd, of October, 1877, the of Mr. Thomas Close, of Mill Point daughter.

THE ALTAR.

QUINLEY—KELLER.—On the evening of last, at the residence of the bride's by the Rev. J. C. Ash, Mr. J. F. Quai Euphenia, Lampton Co., to Miss Lizer, daughter of Peter Keller, Esq., Village of Newburgh

THE TOMB.

HAWLEY.—At Centreville, Nov. 6th, of c tion, Mrs. Maria Hawley, relict o Hawley, aged 63 years.
SILLS.—At Napanee, on the 6th inst., Cl daughter of E. J. Sils, of Belleville, years, and 16 months.
JACOBS.—At Mill Point, on the 5th inst. infant Jacob, aged 35 years.
SPENCER.—At Roblin, on the 4th inst., Spencer, aged 60 years and 9 months.
WALSH.—In Richmond, on the 9th inst. Walrath, aged 67 years.
AYRHART.—At Hay Bay, on the 14th inst., tharia, son of Mr. Ayhart, aged 7 years.

MARKETS.

NAPANEE Nov. 1

(Report by Diamond I and Sherwood, Na

Oats—3½c. per bushel.
Rye—5½c. per bushel.
Wheat—6½c. per bushel.
Barley—No. 2, 4½c. per bushel.
Barley—No. 1, 5½c. per bushel.
Wheat—No. 1, 10½c. per bushel.
Flour—$2.00 per cwt.
Buckwheat Flour—$2.75 per cwt.
Bran—$1.00 per ton.
Shorts—$2.50 per ton.
Buckwheat—40c. per bushel.
Wheat—$3.00 per cord.
Coal—$5.00 per ton.
Shipments from their Storehouse, bushels of barley, and 9,000 bushels of Rye

Report by the Market Clerk, Napanee
Hay—$10.00 to $12.00 per ton
Hides—$6.00 per cwt.
Butter—20c. to 22c. per lb.
Eggs—15c. per dozen.
Beef per cwt.—$3.00 to $5.00.
Bread—1½c. per loaf.
Coal—$4.50 to $5.00 per ton.
Chicken—25c. to 30c. per pair.
Ducks—10c. per pair.
Flour—$3.10 per cwt.
Deacon Skins—40c.
Lard—10-12c.
Lamb and Pelts—50c. to 80c.
Oatmeal—$1.00 per cwt.
Onions—70c. to $1.00 per bushel.
Potatoes—35c. per bushel.
Pork—$6.00.
Straw—$3.00 to $4.00

BELLEVILLE MARKETS.

Wheat, $1 15 to $1 25.
Barley, 45c. to 57c.
Rye, 55c. to 65c.
Oats, 30c. to 33c.
Peas 60c.
Dressed Hogs, $5 to $6 per cwt.
Butter, Roll, 18c. to 25c.
Butter, Tub, 16c. to 17c.
Eggs, 14c. to 16c.
Deerhide, 50c. to 60c. per head.

Frank Railway has been received. Train leaves Napanee as follows: Going west, Express, 5:50 a. m., and 7:12 p. m.; Mixed, 7:35. Going east, Express, 1:10 a. m., and 1 p. m.; Mixed 9 p. m., Montreal time.

—Belleville fishermen report poor success of late. Herring, usually so plentiful at this season, are scarce, and instead of becoming more plentiful are actually becoming scarcer. It seems now as if the catch would be far below the average of the last four or five years.

—“A new kind of a deadbeat is on his travels. He selects an uncommon name from the directory, calls on the person, and by claiming to be of the same name, bases an appeal for pecuniary assistance. Sharpen the toes of your boots in anticipation of his coming.”—Times.

Grain Shipments from Napanee during the past week. By Diamond & Sherwood, per schooner to Oswego, 10,500 bushels Barley, 2292 bushels Rye; per railway to Chicago, 500 bushels Barley. By the Grangers, per sch. to Oswego, 27,800 bushels Barley. From Mill Point, per sch. to Oswego, 4,750 bushels Barley.

—An Act, passed at the last session of the Ontario Legislature, extended the time allowed for the registration of partnerships till the first of January next, after which, upon complaint of any one, parties who have failed to comply with the law, may be mulcted in $200. Members of firms should see to it that they do not expose themselves to that penalty. The law will be found on page 65 of the statutes of 1877.

The Napanee Dramatic Club announce one of their unequalled entertainments in the Town Hall on the Tuesday evening, Nov. 20th, when “Gwyneth” will be played on the boards for the first time in this town. These amateur theatricals have in the past been justly popular with our townspeople, and the boys are determined to sustain their reputation during the coming winter. Give them a bumper house.

—The Anniversary Services of the M. E. Church, Napanee, will be held on Sabbath, 25th November. Rev. C. S. Eastman is expected to preach in the morning, and Rev. S. G. Stone, D. D., in the evening. On the following Monday evening the usual tea-meeting will be held, and the ladies of the congregation guarantee a treat. Those who can make it convenient to attend are sure of a very pleasant evening's enjoyment.

—During a visit to the establishment of Edwin Green, one day this week, that gentleman invited us over to look at a new house which he has just been adding to his establishment. Though at best it might be considered rather a melancholy experience, still we could not but admire the taste displayed in its construction and equipment. It is built in the latest Continental style, and is very elaborate in all its appointments. We hope Mr. Green's enterprise will be appreciated. Skating Rink

Is it not time some steps were made towards establishing a Skating and Curling Rink? Who will take the initiative?

Since writing the above we learn that Mr. Harry Woods, brother of G. M. Woods, Esq., intends opening a Skating Rink at the foot of West Street, as soon as the river closes. Mr. Woods is an old hand at the rink business, having given excellent satisfaction in Brockville and other places. We wish him success. Failure.

We regret to have to announce the failure of the well known firm of Grange Bros., doing business in Napanee, as druggists, paper manufacturers, etc. They have been doing a large business for a number of years, but through continued heavy losses have been brought to the unfortunate position of bankruptcy. The event is deeply regretted by all those with whom they have been doing business, and expressions of sympathy and hopes that they will be enabled to resume, are unanimotously discarded, and the highest testimonials have been presented the inventor setting forth its merit. Mr. N. German is the first to use it in Napanee, having first used it on a roof at his carriage shop, and has also been appointed agent for Napanee and vicinity. We would advise parties interested to call around and inspect this roof or a specimen may be seen at this office.

The C. M. Church.

The additions and other improvements on the Canada Methodist Church here are rapidly approaching completion, and it is announced that the regular Sunday Services will be resumed in the basement on Sunday morning next. The regular Quarterly Meeting will then be held. The improvements are of an important character. Its size has been enlarged by the addition of over twenty feet to the length, and the old walls have been pointed over and pencilled, so as to add much to their appearance. Inside the same additions to the size have been made. The pulpit has been moved back somewhat, and more pews added on the main floor. The gallery has been lowered, and extended around the four sides of the entire building. The organ and Choir will be in the gallery immediately behind the pulpit, adding much to the appearance of the building, as well as the convenience of the worshippers. The gallery has also been lowered a few inches. A new pulpit and platform of a more modern character have been built. The ceiling and walls are now being decorated in a very neat and tasty manner, new stained glass windows are to be put in, and the entire wood work to be repainted. Gas fixtures are also being put in, and new hot air furnaces put up. When all is completed it will be the neatest appearing church in Napanee. The body of the church will probably, not be completed before the holidays.

The Churches.

On Sunday last the Rev. Dr. O'Brien, Bishop of Kingston, was at the Roman Catholic Church, here, and took part in the services morning and evening. In the morning he preached after Mass, and there was a large congregation. In the evening he lectured, taking for his topic, “Can a Priest forgive sins,” and there was an immense crowd present. The church was filled to suffocation half an hour or more before the hour announced for the service. A large number were present from the various Protestant congregations.

Rev. Dr. Hartley has been delivering a series of Sunday Evening Lectures in the M. E. Church, here, and they are attracting large and increasing congregations. His lecture last Sunday evening on “The Tongue,” was a very able one, and was listened to with great interest.

The services, especially on the Sunday evenings, in the Church of England, are increasing in interest and attendance. The fine new church, and its beautiful gas lights gives excellent satisfaction to the congregation. The pastor, Mr. J. J. Bogert, is certainly working hard and indefatigably for the interests of his church, and with good success.

The congregation of the C. Methodist Church have been worshipping in the Town Hall for some weeks, while the Church is undergoing repairs. It has been a difficult matter to find seat room for all who attend the services, and in consequence many are going to other services. Rev. Mr. Chambers is an able and eloquent minister, and we doubt not but his congregations will much increase when his church re-opens.

Our townspeople, we are happy to say, seem to be more inclined to church-going than formerly. All the congregations in town are increasing considerably. Has not the hard times, and the “dry” times (the Dunkin reign) had much to do with it? Certainly the church-going people, at all our places of worship, have comfortable churches, good preaching, and good music. Why should they not go, therefore?

standing the danger, sprang at once, and the engine, which was yet detached from the passenger train, and turning on full steam, shot her ahead into the rear of the coming freight train. The shock was a terrible one. The trucks of the rear car of the freight train climbed up the front of the engine; the headlight of Whalen's locomotive was smashed and considerable damage incurred. The bold Billy was badly shocked, but the force of the freight train was checked, and though it struck the passenger train, driving it back to the rear of the depot and shaking up the passengers at a pretty lively rate, none of them was seriously injured, for all of which they may thank the quick-witted and brave Billy Whalen. Such an action requires more true heroism than embodied in a thousand strikes.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

A Port Bruce Mystery

As two small boys were playing in a barn of Mr. Noah Mann's, a couple of miles west of Port Bruce, on Sunday week last, they found an overcoat and a pair of boots, which they took to the farmhouse, where the articles were thoroughly examined. The boots are No. 7's but little worn, and of ordinary quality; the overcoat is a good one, made of black cloth, in a fashionable manner. In the pocket of the coat was found a pocket-book containing thirty dollars, in three bills of ten dollars of the Imperial Bank; also a photograph of two children, on the back of which was scratched with a blunt instrument, “Send this money to—Smith, Culloden Post office, Ont.” The Christian name is not easy to decipher, but it looks like “Alvin G.” There were also in the pocket of the coat two small satchel keys, a pair of gold-rimmed and a pair of rubber-rimmed eye-glasses. The boots and coat would have fitted the man whose body was found on the beach at Port Bruce. Squire Gilloil and Capt. Thompson went on Thursday, with authority; and brought the articles to Aylmer, and on Friday the same gentleman proceeded to Culloden to hunt up the person whom the money was intended for.—St. Thomas Times.

The Chicago Journal knows a thing or two. It says: “When a man imagines that he is a prophet and philosopher, he takes to long hair and a dirty overcoat.”

A Nashville man answered an advertisement, “How to Win at Poker,” and received for his two dollars the following: “Hold four aces or don't poke.”

One by one the roses fade. It is now boldly denied that men who wear long hair are possessed of any more talent than those who have it clipped close.

Young man go west. Go to Nevada. Where when you take a girl to spelling school, you have to ride twenty-five miles and she expects you to keep your arm around her all the way.

A Canada man tied his dog to the end of a rear car the other day, and then let the beast could keep up with the train. Strange to say, when they got into Detroit, the dog was a head—there was nothing else left of him.

A farmer wants us to tell him the best way to raise “kents.” The best way to raise the kind of beats that we have about here is to steal quietly up behind 'em, when they are not looking, and let fly a number fifteen boot at their coat tails.

General Sherman is known to be reticent, but interviewers still keep calling on him, owing to a bad habit he has fallen into of asking, with thoughtless generosity, as soon as a reporter shows himself, “Young man, will you take brandy or grasshopper juice?”

The leaves are turning slowly yellow, their hue is hence, the ripening fruit is on the mellow, the small boy is on the fence. He looks around, he views the ground, and thinks the moment suits; he fills his pockets full and round, then jumps the fence and scoots.

HAWLEY.—At Centreville, Nov. 6th, of election, Mrs. Maria Hawley, relict of Hawley, aged 63 years.

SILLS.—At Napanee, on the 6th inst., Clara Jacobs, daughter of E. J. Silks, of Belleville, 1 years, aged 18 years.

JACOBS.—At Mill Point, on the 5th inst., Isaac Jacobs, aged 18 years.

SPENCER.—At Roblin, on the 4th inst., E. Spencer, aged 67 years and 9 months.

WALRATH.—In Richmond, on the 9th inst. Walrath, aged 67 years.

AYRHAIR.—At Hay Bay, on the 14th inst., Ayrhaier, son of Mr. Ayrhaier, aged 7 years.

MARKETS.

NAPANEE NOV. 15.
Report by Diamond & Sherwood, Nat

Oats—20c. per bushel.
Rye—57c. per bushel.
Flour—60c. per bushel.
Barley—No. 2, 52c. per bushel.
Barley—No. 1, 57c. per bushel.
Wheat—$1.10 per bushel.
Flour—$2.90 per cwt.
Buckwheat Flour—$2.75 per cwt.
Bran—$1.00 per ton.
Shorts—$2.40 per ton.
Buckwheat—40c. per bushel.
Wood—$5.00 per cord.
Coal—$5.00 per ton.
Shipments from their Storehouse, bushels of Barley, and 9,000 bushels of Rye

Report by the Market Clerk, Napanee
Hay—$16.00 to $12.00 per ton
Hides—$9.00, per cwt.
Butter—20c. to 21c. per lb.
Eggs—15c. per dozen.
Beef per cwt.—$3.00 to $5.00.
Broad—11c. per loaf.
Coal—$4.50 to $5.00 per ton.
Chickens—25c. to 30c. per pair.
Shrimps—10c. per pair.
Flour—$3.10 per cwt.
Deacon Skins—40c.
Lard—11c. to 12c.
Lamb and Pelts—50c. to 80c.
Oatmeal—$1.00, per cwt.
Onions—20c. to 21c. per bushel.
Potatoes—35c. per bushel.
Pork—$6.00.
Straw—$3.00 to $3.00

BELLEVILLE MARKETS.

Wheat, $1.15 to $1.25.
Barley, 55c. to 57c.
Rye, 50c. to 52c.
Oats, 30c. to 32c.
Peas 60c.
Dressed Hogs, $5 to $6 per cwt.
Butter, 18c. to 20c.
Butter, Tub, 16c. to 17c.
Eggs, 14c. to 15c.
Potatoes, 50c. to 60c. per bag.
Flour, Wholesale, $5.50 per bbl.
Apples, 60c. to $1 per bag.

TORONTO MARKETS.

Wheat, fall, per bu. $1.20 to $1.25.
Wheat, spring, per bu. $1 to $1.05.
Barley, per bu. 50c. to 57c.
Oats, per bu. 30c. to 32c.
Peas, per bu. 60c. to 70c.
Rye, per bu. 50c. to 55c.
Butter, in rolls, 20c. to 22c.
Butter, large rolls, 20c.
Butter, tub dairy, best, 18c. to 19c.
Eggs, fresh, per doz. 17c. to 18c.
Eggs in lots, 15c.

MONTREAL MARKETS.

Flour: market quiet and steady at gen unchanged rates; superior extra at 5 82; at 5 65; strong baker's at 5 30; spring extra. Wheat, Canadian spring in store at $1.21 2d at $1.17.

CHICAGO MARKETS.

Wheat, $1.09 to 1.07.
Corn, 41c. to 41c.

OSWEGO MARKETS.

Wheat steady: No. 1 white Michigan, 5 Corn firm; No. 2, 58c; high mixed 36c. Barley, scarce; No. 2, Canada nominally to 80c; No. 1, 85c to 86c.

CHEESE MARKET.

NOVEMBER, 1
At Utica cheese market yesterday 10,000 were offered, and 4,000 boxes sold direct, boxes went forward on commission; 80¢ per cwt. brought 12c; extremes for 0 11c to 12c; leading factories 12c; average

NOTICE.

ALL accounts due the Express Office for paper subscription, Job Work, adve etc., up to Nov. 1st 1877, must be paid in Office at once to enable us to settle up. All accounts against the Office to the date to be sent to J. B. Denson Brighton.

Lecture.

Bishop O'Brien's lecture in the Catholic Church on Sabbath evening last, was largely attended.

--The report of Mr. Cartwright's speech, at Napanee will probably appear next week.

We shall in future give market reports from Napanee, Belleville, and other points, which may interest the farming community. These reports will be changed throughout, weekly, and may be relied on.

Lumber.

The Ottawa Herald says:—"We understand that the Hon. Jas. Skead has sold all the sawn lumber in his mill-yards, and that he has signed an agreement for supplying a large quantity of lumber next year. This news makes prospects a little brighter. An approximate estimate of the sawn lumber now on hand at Ottawa and neighbourhood, places the amount at about one-third less than at this time last year. Some millers have not more than half the amount of stock on hand that they had last winter. On the line of the Canada Central it is calculated that the stock is about twenty-two million feet less than last season. The reduction has been caused by millers having reduced their operations."

Sir John's Contingencies.

When we come to consider Sir John Macdonald's fitness for office by the way in which he managed his department when Minister of Justice, it must be conceded that neglect of duty and extravagance prove his utter incapacity. We pointed out the other day that the cab hire for his department during one year amounted to $1,035.50, while during Mr. Blake's management $14.80 was found sufficient to pay all charges of that nature. Taking up a few others items, we find that for telegraphing, during the year 1872-3, Sir John's department cost $4,371.88. During the year 1876-7 the cost of telegraphing, under Mr. Blake's management was only $930—a saving of over four thousand dollars on this item in one year. Sir John's "travelling" expenses amounted to $1,218.12, while Mr. Blake's for a similar period cost only $51.35. The charge for postage in Sir John's time was for the year above named $493.37, and in Mr. Blake's $125.77. The curious part of the last comparison is that the correspondence while Mr. Blake was in office was three times as great as when Sir John ruled, yet the Tory chief charged the country three times as much for postage! With all this telegraphing travelling, cab hire, and prodigality in postage, it would naturally be expected that the business of the department was done up by Sir John in first-class style, but the fact shows that the arrears of business extended back for years, and that a most painful system of delays had grown up. Explanations, accounting for the extraordinary charges against contingencies quoted above, are what Sir John is now called upon to offer. Is it another case of Northern Railway cow contributions, with the Dominion treasury as the milch cow from which the Tory chieftain drew nourishment for his bribery funds? Parliamentary inquiry into the contingencies accounts of the late Administration might reveal a worse nest of corruption than either the Pacific Scandal or Northern Railway investigations.

A Brave Engineer.

A little railroad accident recently occurred at the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton station, which might have been serious but for the prompt action of Engineer Wheeler. The theatre train was standing in the station nearly full of passengers, and the engine detached, stand-

The question of the hour: Are life insurance agents ever afflicted with bashfulness?

Bank managers, railroad superintendents, and all that class of people are hereby warned against accepting their salaries without close scrutiny. Counterfeit five cent pieces are in circulation.

"Three strikes!--out, cried the bank clerk; and, with his Ulster on his back and his "dish-brim" on his head, he was out on the sidewalk in less than five seconds after the Custom House clock had struck three.

The master builders of London, England, have declined to enter into negotiations with the striking masons, and have decided to continue the importation of of foreign labour.

There is a good paragraph for ministers from the Burlington Hawkeye: The winter is closing in upon the clergymen of this county with most appalling severities. A season of incessant and pitiless donation parties has been arranged by many of the denominations, and the prospect is that hundreds of ministers, who are not able to keep a dog, and don't know how to fire a gun, will perish from starvation.

A stupid-looking countryman halted before a blacksmith's shop the proprietor of which was forging a shoe, and eyed the performance with much interest. The brawny smith, dissatisfied with the man's curiosity, held the red hot-iron suddenly under his nose, hoping to make him beat a hasty retreat. "If you will give me sixpence I will lick it," said the countryman. "I'll stop the bragart's jaws," thought the smith, as he took from his pocket a sixpence, and held it out. The countryman quickly grabbed the coin, licked it, and walked away whistling "did you ever catch a weasel asleep?"

The doubt of whether the prices realized would make it a profitable enterprise, shipping meat to the English markets seems to have been thoroughly settled, and so satisfactorily that we may expect the trade to go on increasing until we not only supply England but the other countries of Europe. The following quotations, though somewhat below those generally realized, are very encouraging. "At Mr. Tindall's sale last week biddings were somewhat slow, at the following prices: Fore-quarters, 4½d. to 5½d; hind-quarters, 6½d. to 7½d. per pound. The prices charged by the retailers were in many cases 4d. per lb. above these figures. The beef was in splendid condition."

The London World tells why the Pope dismissed his old physician, Dr. Pellagallo. It says: "One morning the Pope, feeling a good deal of soreness on one of his shoulders, drew Pellagallo's attention to it. The Doctor looked at the place, recognized the presence of inflammation, jumped at the conclusion that erysipelas had set in, and left the Vatican convinced that the days of Pius IX. were numbered. Crossing the bridge of St. Angelo, he met the correspondent of the Nazione on his way to the Vatican in search of material. "How is the Holy Father this morning?" he inquired. The Doctor shook his head and pronounced the word erysipelas. "Dio mio, then his end is near." "Exactly so," and the press man who led round, went direct to the telegraph office and wired the all important news to his paper. The discomfort felt by the Pope was caused by nothing worse than an incipient boil, but the "scare" having been traced to the Doctor, the irritation spread to the Pontiff's temper and Pellagallo was discharged.

THE CRADLE.

Closed--On the 2nd, of October, 1877, the wife of Mr. Thomas Close, of Mill Point, of a daughter.

THE ALTAR.

On the evening of the 16th

PETITTS' EYE-SALVE.

An Infallible Remedy for all Diseases of the Eye (acute or chronic), Granulation of the Lids, Ulceration of the Lachrymal Glands, Film, and Weakness of the Vision from any cause.

THE AMERICAN EYE-SALVE is presented to the public with the assurance of its efficiency as a curative of most diseases of the eye, acute or chronic information, whether induced by scrofulous origin or otherwise, weakness or defect of vision, diminished tone of the optic nerve, or a diseased state of the tissues constituting that organ. Also, for all persons whose vocation requires an incessant action of the eyes, the Salve will act as a charm in restoring a uniform healthy action, where weakness, pain, and misery may have long threatened a fatal termination. It is the most simple, safe, and effectual remedy ever discovered. The materials of which it is made are pure, perfect, and costly, compounded with elaborate care and exactness, safe in its application, being used externally, and, of course, avoiding the pain and danger which necessarily attends the introduction of caustic minerals and eye-washes. RINGWORM and OLD CHRONIC SORES, of scrofulous origin, or resulting from whatever cause, yield to the AMERICAN EYE-SALVE. IT IS USED SUCCESSFULLY FOR PILES. Its soothing effect is immediate, and a permanent cure requires but a few applications. The proprietors of "DR. J. PETTIT'S AMERICAN EYE-SALVE," while making new and improved machinery for making a more perfect box for the Eye-Salve, have changed the Trade Mark on the cover so as to correspond with the Cut on the Wrapper, Circulars, Advertisements, etc. We call attention to this, as it might otherwise be regarded as counterfeiting.

• PETTIT & BARKER, Proprietors, Freedonia, N. Y. NORTHOP & LYMAN, Toronto, Agents for Canada. 19-y

New Books

—AT—

HENDERSON'S

BOOKSTORE,

Dundas Street, - - Napanee.

ONLY 15 CTS. EACH,

That Husband of Mine.
That Wife of Mine
The New School Ma'am.
His Grandmother's.
Tom's Wife.
That Married Girl.
That Lass O' Lowrie's.
Theo.
They all do it.

CHRISTMAS CARDS.

NEW YEARS CARDS.

CHRISTMAS

PERFUMED

SACHELS.

SILK WORM BOOK-MARKS.

ON THE EVENING OF THE 16TH

IMPROVEMENT.

FELT ROOFS

THE Subscriber would call the attention of people of Napanee, to an improvement Felt Roofs, Invented by

Mr. Brokenshire, of the Atlantic Foundry, Kingston.

This Roofing Material is composed of Min

als which form a Cement, proof against ettl

Fire or Water,

It will not crack in winter, or get soft a run in summer, and when dry it is as hard, flat and more durable than Tin or Galvaniz Iron, in fact nothing else is now used in Kingston on felt roofs.

References to a few who have the roof in use
Mr. C. F. Gildersleeve, Kingston;
Messrs. Wagner & McMillan, Albion Hotel;
Mr. MacRae's Store, Princess Street, Kingston;
Mr. Parker's Drug Store, Kingston;
Mr. Thornton's Hotel, Kingston;
Mr. Overend, Contractor, on his residence, at Kingston Street Railway Buildings;
Rev. Mr. Graftley, Kingston;
Atlantic Foundry, Kingston, and many others.

Any parties wanting New Roofs or Old Roofs repaired should see

NELSON GERMAN,

Agent, Napanee.

Napanee, Nov. 15th 1877.

MORTGAGE SALE

UNDER and by Virtue of a Power of Sale contained in a certain Mortgage, (which will be produced at the time of Sale) dated the 28th of December, A. D. 1872, and made by Staats Madden, (now deceased) Sophia Madden his wife (for barring dower) to William Hamby at Samuel Hamby. Default having been made the payment of the moneys thereby secured, the will be sold by

PUBLIC AUCTION,

SATURDAY, the 24th day of Nov. 1877

TOWN HALL

In the Town of Napanee, at Eleven o'clock in the forenoon, by James Allen, Auctioneer, All and singular, that certain parcel or tract of land and premises, situate, lying and being the Town of Napanee, in the County of Lennox and Addington, and Province of Ontario, being composed of Lot Number Seven, on the West side of Adelaide Street, and of Water Lot Number Seven on the South Side of Water Street, the said Town of Napanee. On the said premises are two frame and one Brick Dwelling Houses.

Terms and conditions made known at the Sale. For further particulars, apply to

BEEVE & MORDEN,

28-3in.

Vendor's Solicitor

Business Change

THE undersigned has sold out all his stock in trade to THOMAS SEAWARD, who will carry on the business in my old shop. All accounts due me must be paid forthwith.

ROBERT MOTT
Bath, Nov. 2nd, 1877.

Mortgage Sale OF VALUABLE FARM PROPERTY

PURSUANT to the power of sale contained in a Mortgage, dated the 7th day of November A.D. 1873, made by G. C. Bogart, (since deceased) to the Vendor, there will be sold by

PUBLIC AUCTION,

Rooms of Robert McCoy, Auctioneer

TOWN HALL, NAPANEE,

On Saturday, the 17th day of Nov. 1877.

AT TWELVE O'CLOCK, NOON,

The following lands and premises, viz.: The West half of Lot No. Twenty-three, in the First Concession of the Township of Camden, in the County of Lennox and Addington, containing 1 acre more or less, and also part of the East half of Lot No. Twenty-two, in the said First Concession of the Township of Camden, containing one acre more or less.

On this is erected a large Stone Grist-mill three stories high, with three run of stone, well suitable barn and sheds. There are also on the property three frame houses.

This is one of the most valuable mill properties in this section of the country.

The Vendor reserves to himself the right to bid the Mortgage will be produced and conditions made known at the time of sale.

was in office three times as great as when Sir John ruled, yet the Tory chief charged the country three times as much for postage! With all this telegraphing travelling, cab hire, and prodigality in postage, it would naturally be expected that the business of the department was done up by Sir John in first-class style, but the fact shows that the arrears of business extended back for years, and that a most painful system of delays had grown up. Explanations, accounting for the extraordinary charges against contingencies quoted above, are what Sir John is now called upon to offer. Is it another case of Northern Railway cow contributions, with the Dominion treasury as the milch cow from which the Tory chieftain drew nourishment for his bribery funds? Parliamentary inquiry into the contingencies accounts of the late Administration might reveal a worse nest of corruption than either the Pacific Scandal or Northern Railway investigations.

A Brave Engineer

A little railroad accident recently occurred at the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton station, which might have been serious but for the prompt action of Engineer Wheeler. The theatre train was standing in the station nearly full of passengers, and the engine detached, standing some distance in front of it, when a freight train was, by some blunder, backed down at a rapid rate directly towards the passenger train. Fortunately Billy Whalen, the engineer in charge of the engine, saw the situation, and understanding the danger, sprang at once into the engine, which was yet detached from the passenger train, and turning on full steam, shot her ahead into the rear of the coming freight train. The shock was a terrible one. The trucks of the rear car of the freight train climbed up the front of the engine; the headlight of Whalen's locomotive was smashed and considerable damage incurred. The bold Billy was badly shocked, but the force of the freight train was checked, and though it struck the passenger train, driving it back to the rear of the depot and shaking up the passengers at a pretty lively rate, none of them was seriously injured, for all of which they may thank the quick-witted and brave Billy Whalen. Such an action requires more true heroism than embodied in a thousand strikes.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

A Port Bruce Mystery

As two small boys were playing in a barn of Mr. Noah Mann's, a couple of miles west of Port Bruce, on Sunday week last, they found an overcoat and a pair of boots, which they took to the farmhouse, where the articles were thoroughly examined. The boots are No. 7's but little worn, and of ordinary quality; the overcoat is a good one, made of black cloth, in a fashionable manner. In the pocket of the coat was found a pocket-book containing thirty dollars, in three bills of ten dollars of the Imperial Bank; also a photograph of two children, on the back of which was scratched with a blunt instrument, "Send this money to — Smith, Culloden Post office, Ont." The Christian name is not easy to decipher, but it looks like "Alvin G." There were also in the pocket of the coat two small satchel keys, a pair of gold-rimmed and a pair of rubber-rimmed eye-glasses. The boots and coat would have fitted the man whose body was found on the beach at Port Bruce. Squire Gillet and Capt. Thompson went on Thursday, with authority, and brought the articles to Aylmer, and on Friday the same gentleman proceeded to Culloden to hunt up the person whom the money was intended for.—St. Thomas Times.

The Chicago Journal knows a thing or two. It says: "When a man imagines that he is a prophet and philosopher, he takes to long hair and a dirty overcoat." A Nashville man answered an advertisement, "How to Win at Poker," and received for his two dollars the following: "Hold four aces or don't."

The London World tells why the Pope dismissed his old physician, Dr. Pellagallo. It says: "One morning the Pope, feeling a good deal of soreness on one of his shoulders, drew Pellagallo's attention to it. The Doctor looked at the place, recognized the presence of inflammation, jumped at the conclusion that erysipelas had set in, and left the Vatican convinced that the days of Pius IX. were numbered. Crossing the bridge of St. Angelo, he met the correspondent of the Nazione on his way to the Vatican in search of material. "How is the Holy Father this morning?" he inquired. The Doctor shook his head and pronounced the word erysipelas. "Dio mio, then his end is near." "Exactly so," and the press man who led round, went direct to the telegraph office and wired the all important news to his paper. The discomfort felt by the Pope was caused by nothing worse than an incipient boil, but the "scare" having been traced to the Doctor, the irritation spread to the Pontiff's temper and Pellagallo was discharged.

THE CRADLE.

CLOSE.—On the 2nd, of October, 1877, the wife of Mr. Thomas Close, of Mill Point, of a daughter.

THE ALTAR.

QUAIGLEY—KELLER.—On the evening of the 12th inst., at the residence of the bride's father, by the Rev. J. C. Ash, Mr. J. F. Quaigley, of Euphemia, Lampton Co., to Miss Lizzie Keller, daughter of Peter Keller, Esq., of the Village of Newburgh.

THE TOMB.

HAWLEY.—At Centreville, Nov. 6th, of consumption, Mrs. Maria Hawley, relict of James Hawley, aged 63 years.
SILLS.—At Napanee, on the 6th inst., Clara Sils, daughter of E. J. Sils, of Belleville, aged, 7 years, and 10 months.
JACOBS.—At Mill Point, on the 5th inst., Margaret Jacobs, aged 38 years.
SPENCER.—At Roblin, on the 4th inst., Ezra A. Spencer, aged 63 years and 9 months.
WALRATH.—In Richmond, on the 9th inst., Eliza Walrath, aged 67 years.
AYRHART.—At Hay Bay, on the 14th inst., of diphtheria, son of Mr. Ayhart, aged 7 years.

MARKETS.

NAPANEE Nov. 15th.
(Report by Dismont and Sherwood, Napanee.)
Oats—20c. per bushel.
Rye—50c. per bushel.
Peas—60c. per bushel.
Barley—No. 2, 50c. per bushel.
Barley—No. 1, 55c. per bushel.
Wheat—$1.10 per bushel.
Flour—$2.00 per cwt.
Buckwheat Flour—$2.75 per cwt.
Bran—$1.00 per ton.
Shorts—$2.40 per ton.
Buckwheat—10c. per bushel.
Wheat—$5.00 per cord.
Coal—$5.00 per ton.
Shipments from their Storehouse, 10,000 bushels of Barley, and 9,000 bushels of Rye.
(Report by the Market Clerk, Napanee.)
Hay—$16.00 to $12.00 per ton.
Hides—$6.00 per cwt.
Butter—20c. to 24c. per lb.
Eggs—15c. per dozen.
Beef per cwt.—$3.00 to $5.00.
Bread—11c. per loaf.
Coal—$4.50 to $5.00 per ton.
Chickens—25c. to 30c. per pair.
Ducks—10c. per pair.
Flour—$3.10 per cwt.
Deacon Skins—40c.
Lard—11c. to 12c.
Lamb and Pigs—50c. to 80c.
Oatmeal—$1.00 per cwt.
Onions—10c. to $1.00 per bushel.
Potatoes—35c. per bushel.
Pork—$6.00.
Straw—$3.00 to $1.00.

BELLEVILLE MARKETS.

Wheat, $1.15 to $1.25.
Barley, 55c. to 57c.
Rye, 55c. to 57c.
Oats, 20c. to 35c.
Peas 60c.
Dressed Hogs, $5 to $6 per cwt.
Butter, Roll, 18c. to 25c.
Butter, Tub, 16c. to 17c.
Eggs, 11c. to 15c.
Potatoes, 50c. to 90c. per bag.
Flour, Wholesale, $5.50 per bl.
Apples, 60c. to $1 per bag.

TORONTO MARKETS.

Wheat, fall, per bu. $1.20 to $1.25.
Wheat, spring, per bu. $1 to $1.05.
Barley, per bu. 50c. to 57c.
Oats, per bu. 35c. to 37c.
Peas, per bu. 65c. to 75c.
Rye, per bu. 60c.

Dundas Street, - - Napanee.

ONLY 15 CTS. EACH,

That Husband of Mine,
That Wife of Mine
The New School Ma'am.
His Grandmother's.
Tom's Wife.
That Married Girl.
That Lass O' Lowrie's.
Theo.
They all do it.

CHRISTMAS CARDS.
NEW YEARS CARDS.
BIRTHDAY CARDS.
CHRISTMAS PERFUMED
SATCHELS.
SILK WORM BOOK-MARKS.
SMALL SCRAP PICTURES FOR SCRAP BOOKS.

VERY LARGE STOCK OF

Photograph Albums,

Any Size, and at any Price.

The Easel Album,

A new and very handsome article, various sizes and prices.

Books Only 10c. Each,

Christie Johnston, by Charles Reade.
Katerfelto, by With-Melville.
The Best of Husbands, by James Payne.
Guy Livingstone, by George Lawrence.
Silas Warner, by George Eliot.
The Black Ladies, by Jules Verne.
The English at the North Pole, do.
Michael Strogoff, by Jules Verne.
In Silk Attire, by William Black.
A Simpleton, by Charles Reade.
The Queen of Hearts, by Wilkie Collins.
The Last Days of Pompeii, by Lord Lytton.

Books at 20c. Each.

Eugene Aram, by Lord Lytton.
After Dark, by Wilkie Collins.
Toilers of the Sea, by Victor Hugo.
The Heritage of Langdale, by Mrs. Alexander.
Barbaras History, by Amelia B. Edwards.
Under Two Flags, by "Ouida."
The Tower of London, by Harrison Ainsworth.
Old Curiosity Shop, by Charles Dickens.
A Princess of Truth, by William Black.
White Lies, by Charles Reade.
It is never Too Late to Mend, by Charles Reade.
Lady Audley's Secret, by Miss Braddon.
Birds of Prey, by Miss Braddon.

Others of the above Books, and lots of others at the same price, at

HENDERSON'S BOOKSTORE,
Dundas St.
Napanee, Nov. 14th, 1877.

FARM FOR SALE.

About 75 acres of the counts due me must be paid forthwith.

ROBERT MOTT
Bath, Nov. 2nd, 1877.

Mortgage Sale
OF VALUABLE FARM PROPERTY.

PURSUANT to the power of sale contained in a Mortgage, dated the 7th day of November A.D. 1873, made by G. C. Bogart, (since deceased) to the Vendor, there will be sold by
PUBLIC AUCTION,

Rooms of Robert McCoy, Auctioneer
—IN THE—

TOWN HALL, NAPANEE,
On Saturday, the 17th day of Nov. 1877,
AT TWELVE O'CLOCK, NOON,

The following lands and premises, viz: The West half of Lot No. Twenty-three in the First Concession of the Township of Camden, in the County of Lennox and Addington, containing 100 acres more or less, and also part of the East half of Lot No. Twenty-two, in the said First Concession of the Township of Camden, containing one acre more or less.

On this is erected a large Stone Grist-mill three stories high, with three run of stone, with suitable barn and sheds. There are also on the property three frame houses.

This is one of the most valuable mill properties in this section of the country.

The Vendor reserves to himself the right to bid. The Mortgage will be produced and conditions made known at the time of sale.

TERMS: 10 per cent cash, and 25 per cent additional within one month, with interest at 8 per cent. Balance to be secured by Mortgage on the premises, payable in one and two years with interest at 8 per cent, half yearly.

For further particulars, apply to Messrs Reeve & Morden, solicitors, Napanee, or to BLAKE, KEIR & BOYD,
Solicitors for Vendor.

CUSTOMS' DEPARTMENT.

Ottawa, Oct. 12th, 1877.
Authorized Discount on American Invoices until further notice 3 per cent.
J. JOHNSON,
Commissioner.

WINE IS A STRONG DRI

Whosoever is Deceive

Therefore be not deceived by parties telling your old friend BOYLE'S. My Stoves old iron, as asserted by others in the ter, because they are heavier and have given

Give Me a Call Before

No connection with any other
But Manufact

Tinware of

BY FIRST-CLASS M
JOB

Of all kinds in my line, and

COOKING, PARLOR, COOK, BOX &
EXTRA CASTINGS FOR ST
PLOUGHS & PLOUGH-S

Yours tr

In Wm. Mill
Napanee, Nov. 14th, 1877.

"The Proof of the Puc

But it is only necessary t

COOKING STOVES, for Co

steam, shot her ahead into the rear of the coming freight train. The shock was a terrible one. The trucks of the rear car of the freight train climbed up the front of the engine; the headlight of Whalen's locomotive was smashed and considerable damage incurred. The bold Billy was badly shocked, but the force of the freight train was checked, and though it struck the passenger train, driving it back to the rear of the depot and shaking up the passengers at a pretty lively rate, none of them was seriously injured, for all of which they may thank the quick witted and brave Billy Whalen. Such an action requires more true heroism than is embodied in a thousand strikes.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

A Port Bruce Mystery

As two small boys were playing in a barn of Mr. Noah Mann's, a couple of miles west of Port Bruce, on Sunday week last, they found an overcoat and a pair of boots, which they took to the farmhouse, where the articles were thoroughly examined. The boots are No. 7's but little worn, and of ordinary quality; the overcoat is a good one, made of black cloth, in a fashionable manner. In the pocket of the coat was found a pocket-book containing thirty dollars, in three bills of ten dollars of the Imperial Bank; also a photograph of two children, on the back of which was scratched with a blunt instrument, "Send this money to—Smith, Culloden Post office, Ont." The Christian name is not easy to decipher, but it looks like "Alvin G." There were also in the pocket of the coat two small satchel keys, a pair of gold-rimmed and a pair of rubber-rimmed eye-glasses. The boots and coat would have fitted the man whose body was found on the beach at Port Bruce. Squire Gillet and Capt. Thompson went on Thursday, with authority, and brought the articles to Aylmer, and on Friday the same gentleman proceeded to Culloden to hunt up the person whom the money was intended for.—St. Thomas Times.

The Chicago Journal knows a thing or two. It says: "When a man imagines that he is a prophet and philosopher, he takes to long hair and a dirty overcoat."

A Nashville man answered an advertisement, "How to Win at Poker," and received for his two dollars the following: "Hold four aces or don't puke."

One by one the roses fade. It is now bodily denied that men who wear long hair are possessed of any more talent than those who have it clipped close.

Young man go west. Go to Nevada. Where when you take a girl to spelling school, you have to ride twenty-five miles and she expects you to keep your arm around her all the way.

A Canada man tied his dog to the end of a rear car the other day, and then bet the beast could keep up with the train. Strange to say, when they got into Detroit, the dog was a head—there was nothing else left of him.

A farmer wants us to tell him the best way to raise "beats." The best way to raise the kind of beats that we have about here is to steal quietly up behind 'em, when they are not looking, and let fly a number fifteen boot at their coat tails.

General Sherman is known to be efficient, but interviewers still keep calling on him, owing to his bad habit he has fallen into of asking, with thoughtless generosity, as soon as a reporter shows himself, "Young man, will you take brandy or grasshopper juice?"

The leaves are turning slowly yellow, their hue is hence, the ripening fruit is on the mellow, the small boy is on the fence. He looks around, he views the ground, and thinks the moment suits; he fills his pockets full and round, then jumps the fence and scoots.

Howley, aged 63 years.
SILLS.—At Napanee, on the 6th inst., Clara Silles, daughter of E. J. Silles, of Belleville, aged 7 years, and 10 months.
JACOBS.—At Mill Point, on the 5th inst., Margaret Jacobs, aged 38 years.
SPENCER.—At Roblin, on the 4th inst., Ezra A. Spencer, aged 69 years and 9 months.
WAGGARD.—In Richmond, on the 9th inst., Eliza Walrath, aged 67 years.
AYLMER.—At Hay Bay, on the 14th inst., of diptheria, son of Mr. Ayrhart, aged 7 years.

MARKETS.

NAPEANEE Nov. 15th.
(Report by Diamond & Sherwood, Napanee.)
Oats—20c. per bushel.
Rye—57c. per bushel.
Peas—60c. per bushel.
Barley—No. 2, 52c. per bushel.
Barley—No. 1, 57c. per bushel.
Wheat—$1.10 per bushel.
Flour—$2.40 per cwt.
Buckwheat Flour—$2.75 per cwt.
Bran—$14.00 per ton.
Shorts—$22.00 per ton.
Buckwheat—40c. per bushel.
Wheat—$3.00 per cwt.
Coal—$5.00 per ton.
Shipments from their Storehouse, 10,000 bushels of Barley, and 9,000 bushels of Rye.

(Report by the Market Clerk, Napanee.)
Hay—$16.00 to $12.00 per ton
Hides—50c. per cwt.
Butter—20c. to 25c. per lb.
Eggs—15c. per dozen.
Beef per cwt.—$3.00 to $5.00.
Bread—1c. per loaf.
Coal—$1.50 to $5.00 per ton.
Chickens—25c. to 30c. per pair.
Ducks—40c. per pair.
Flour—$3.10 per cwt.
Peas—50c. per bushel.
Lard—10c. to 12c.
Lamb and Pelts—50c. to 80c.
Oatmeal—$1.00 per cwt.
Onions—70c. to $1.00 per bushel.
Potatoes—35c. per bushel.
Pork—$5.00 per cwt.
Straw—$3.00 to $4.00.

BELLEVILLE MARKETS.

Wheat, $1 15 to $1 25.
Barley, 55c. to 57c.
Rye, 55c. to 60c.
Oats, 30c. to 35c.
Peas 60c.
Dressed Hogs, $5 to $6 per cwt.
Butter, Roll, 18c. to 25c.
Butter, Tub, 16c. to 17c.
Eggs, 14c. to 16c.
Potatoes, 50c. to 60c. per bag.
Flour, Wholesale, $5 50 per bbl.
Apples, 60c. to $1 per bag.

TORONTO MARKETS.

Wheat, fall, per bu. $1 20 to $1 25
Wheat, spring, per bu. $1 to $1 00
Barley, per bu. 50c. to 57c.
Oats, per bu. 33c. to 35c.
Peas, per bu. 63c. to 70c.
Rye, per bu. 60c.
Butter, to rolls, 20c. to 22c.
Butter, large rolls, 20c.
Butter, tub dairy, best, 18c. to 19c.
Eggs, fresh, per doz. 17c. to 18c.
Eggs, in lots, 15c.

MONTREAL MARKETS.

Flour: market quiet and steady at generally unchanged rates; superior extra at 58c; extra at 56c; strong baker's at 55c; spring extra at 53c.
Wheat, Canadian spring in store at $1 21; No. 2 about $1 17.

CHICAGO MARKETS.

Wheat, $1 06 to 1 07.
Corn, 41c. to 44c.

OSWEGO MARKETS.

Wheat steady; No. 1 white Michigan, $1 41.
Corn firm; No. 2, 58c; high mixed 50c.
Barley, scarce; No. 2 Canada nominally at 80c to 82c; No. 1, 85c to 86c.

CHEESE MARKET.

NOVEMBER, 13th.
At Utica cheese market yesterday 10,000 boxes were offered and 8,000 boxes sold direct; 700 boxes went forward on commission; 800 September cheese brought 12c; extremes for October 11c to 12c; leading factories 12c; average 12c.

NOTICE.

ALL accounts due the EXPRESS Office for newspaper subscription, Job Work, advertising etc., up to Nov. 1st 1877, must be paid in at the Office at once to enable us to settle up our books. All accounts against the Office to the same date to be sent to J. B. Benson Brighton.

Photograph Albums,

Any Size, and at any Price.

The Easel Album,

A new and very handsome article, various sizes and prices.

Books Only 10c. Each,

Christie Johnston, by Charles Reade.
Katerfelto, by With-Melville.
The Best of Husbands, by James Payne.
Guy Livingstone, by George Lawrence.
Silas Warner, by George Eliot.
The Black Ladies, by Jules Verne.
The English at the North Pole, do.
Michael Strogoff, by Jules Verne.
In Silk Attire, by William Black.
A Simpleton, by Charles Reade.
The Queen of Hearts, by Wilkie Collins.
The Last Days of Pompeii, by Lord Lytton.

Books at 20c. Each.

Eugene Aram, by Lord Lytton.
After Dark, by Wilkie Collins.
Toilers of the Sea, by Victor Hugo.
The Heritage of Langdale, by Mrs. Alexander.
Barbaras History, by Amelia B. Edwards.
Under Two Flags, by "Ouida."
The Tower of London, by Harrison Ainsworth.
Old Curiosity Shop, by Charles Dickens.
A Princess of Truth, by William Black.
White Lies, by Charles Reade.
It is never Too Late to Mend, by Charles Reade.
Lady Audley's Secret, by Miss Braddon.
Birds of Prey, by Miss Braddon.

Any of the above Books, and lots of others at the same price, at

HENDERSON'S BOOKSTORE,
Dundas St.

Napanee, Nov. 14th, 1877.

FARM FOR SALE.

About 75 acres of the

BEST LAND

—IN—

PRINCE EDWARD COUNTY,

5 1/2 miles from Picton, and 3 1/2 miles from Demorestville.

This is a rare chance to get a Choice Farm. It is well watered and nicely situated.

A Special Price to a purchaser before the 1st December.

Apply to

R. McDOWALL,
Demorestville, 29.

Or at this Office.

1823. SEND FOR 1878

New York Observer

The Best Religious and Secular Family Newspaper. $3.15 a Year, post-paid. Established 1823.

37 PARK ROW, NEW YORK.
22. SAMPLE COPIES FREE.

GRACE'S SALVE.

A Vegetable Preparation, invented in the 17th century by Dr. Wm. Grace, Surgeon in King James' army. Through its agency he cured thousands of the most serious sores and wounds, and was regarded by all who knew him as a public benefactor. 25c. a box, by mail 30c. For sale by druggists generally.

AGENTS WANTED.

Address BETH W. FOWLE & SONS, Boston Mass.

CUSTOMS' DEPARTMENT.

Ottawa, Oct. 12th, 1877.

Authorized Discount on American Invoices until further notice 3 per cent.

J. JOHNSON,
Commissioner.

WINE IS A

STRONG DRI

Whosoever is Deceive

Therefore be not deceived by parties telling your old friend BOYLE'S. My Stoves old iron, as asserted by others in the ter, because they are heavier and co and have given

Give Me a Call Before

No connection with any oth But Manufactu

Tinware of

BY FIRST-CLASS M

JOB

Of all kinds in my line, and

COOKING, PARLOR, COOK, BOX & C

EXTRA CASTINGS FOR STO

PLOUGHS & PLOUGH-S

Yours tr

In Wm. Mille

Napanee, Nov. 14th, 1877.

"The Proof of the Pud

But it is only necessary f

COOKING STOVES, for Coa

PARLOR STOVE

BOX S

To see our Stock to ba Co

Best Stoves i

Our "ST. GEORGE" Cookin

And "SPLEN

Are not equalled by any Stoves in Cana

ALWAYS ON HAND,

STOVE PIPES, EL

TEE PIPES,

DUMB PIPES,

EXTRA STOVE C

Our Stock is very Large and Complet

Our Stock of Hardware is the Largest EOT

Napanee, Nov. 14th, 1877.

PETITTS' EYE-SALVE.

Infallible Remedy for all Diseases of the Eye (acute or chronic), Granulation of the Lids, Ulceration of the Lachrymal Glands, Film, and Weakness of the Vision from any cause.

THE AMERICAN EYE-SALVE is presented to the public with the assurance of its efficacy as a curative of most diseases of the eye, acute or chronic inflammation, whether used by scrofulous origin or otherwise, blindness or defect of vision, diminished action of the optic nerve, or a diseased state of the tissues constituting that organ. Also, all persons whose vocation requires an incessant action of the eyes, the Salve will be a charm in restoring a uniform healthy action, where weakness, pain, and ery may have long threatened a fatal termination. It is the most simple, safe, and effectual remedy ever discovered. The formula of which it is made are pure, perfect, and costly, compounded with elaborate care and exactness, safe in its application, used externally, and, of course, avoid the pain and danger which necessarily attend the introduction of caustic minerals into the eye-washes. RINGWORM and OLD SORES, of scrofulous origin, or arising from whatever cause, yield to the AMERICAN EYE-SALVE. IT IS USED SUCCESSFULLY FOR PILES. Its soothing action is immediate, and a permanent cure affords but a few applications. The proprietors of "DR. J. PETTIT'S AMERICAN EYE-SALVE," while making new and improved machinery for making a more perfect box for the Eye-Salve, have changed the Trade Mark on the cover so as to correspond with the Cut on the Wrapper, Circulars, Advertisements, etc. We call attention to this, it might otherwise be regarded as counterfeiting.

* PETTIT & BARKER,
Proprietors, Freedom, N. Y.
RTHOP & LYMAN,
Toronto, Agents for Canada. 19-y

New Books

—AT—

ENDERSON'S

BOOKSTORE,

Indas Street, - - Napanee.

ONLY 15 CTS. EACH,

That Husband of Mine,
That Wife of Mine
The New School Ma'am.
His Grandmother's.
Tom's Wife.
That Married Girl.
That Lass O' Lowrie's.
Theo.
They all do it.

CHRISTMAS CARDS.
NEW YEARS CARDS.
BIRTHDAY CARDS.
CHRISTMAS PERFUMED
SATCHELS.
SILK WORM BOOK-MARKS.
ALL SCRAP PICTURES FOR SCRAP BOOKS.

IMPROVEMENT FELT ROOFS.

THE Subscriber would call the attention of the people of Napanee, to an improvement on Felt Roofs, invented by
Mr. Brokenshire, of the Atlantic Foundry, Kingston.

This Roofing Material is composed of Minerals which form a Cement, proof against either Fire or Water,

It will not crack in winter, or get soft and run in summer, and when dry it is as hard as Slate and more durable than Tin or Galvanized Iron, in fact nothing else is now used in Kingston on felt roofs.

References to a few who have the roof in use:—
Mr. C. F. Gildersleeve, Kingston;
Messrs. Wagner & McMillan, Albion Hotel;
Mr. McKee's Store, Princess Street, Kingston;
Mr. Parker's Drug Store, Kingston;
Mr. Thorburn's Hotel, Kingston;
Mr. Overend, Contractor, on his residence, do.;
Kingston Street Railway Buildings;
Rev. Mr. Gaffney, Kingston;
Atlantic Foundry, Kingston, and many others.

Any parties wanting New Roofs or Old Roofs repaired should see

NELSON GERMAN,
Agent, Napanee.
29

Napanee, Nov. 15th 1877.

MORTGAGE SALE

UNDER and by Virtue of a Power of Sale contained in a certain Mortgage, (which will be produced at the time of Sale) dated the 28th day of December, A. D. 1872, and made by Sophia S. Madden, (now deceased) Sophia Madden his wife, (for bearing dower) to William Hambley and Samuel Hambley. Default having been made in the payment of the moneys thereby secured, there will be sold by

PUBLIC AUCTION,
—ON—
SATURDAY, the 24th day of Nov. 1877,

—AT THE—
TOWN HALL,
In the Town of Napanee, at Eleven o'clock in the forenoon, by James Allen, Auctioneer, All and singular, that certain parcel or tract of land and premises, situate, lying and being in the Town of Napanee, in the County of Lennox and Addington, and Province of Ontario, being composed of Lot Number Seven, on the West side of Adelphi Street, and of Water Lot Number Seven on the South Side of Water Street, in the said Town of Napanee. On the said premises are two Frame and one Brick Dwelling Houses.

Terms and conditions made known at the Sale. For further particulars, apply to
REEVE & MORDEN,
28-3in. Vendor's Solicitors.

Business Change.

THE undersigned has sold out all his stock in trade to THOMAS SEAWARD, who will carry on the business in my old shop. All accounts due me must be paid forthwith.

ROBERT MOTT
Bath, Nov. 2nd, 1877. 28-3in.

Mortgage Sale OF VALUABLE FARM PROPERTY.

PURSUANT to the power of sale contained in a Mortgage, dated the 7th day of November, A.D. 1873, made by G. C. Bogart, (since deceased) to the Vendor, there will be sold by

PUBLIC AUCTION,
—AT THE—
Rooms of Robert McCoy, Auctioneer,

—IN THE—
TOWN HALL, NAPANEE,
On Saturday, the 17th day of Nov. 1877,
AT TWELVE O'CLOCK, NOON.

The following lands and premises, viz.: The West half of Lot No. Twenty-three, in the First Concession of the Township of Camden, in the County of Lennox and Addington, containing 140 acres more or less, and also part of the East half of Lot No. Twenty-two, in the said First Concession of the Township of Camden, containing one acre more or less.

On this is erected a large Stone Grist-mill three stories high, with three run of stone, with suitable barn and sheds. There are also on the property three frame houses.

This is one of the most valuable mill properties in this section of the country. The Vendor reserves to himself the right to bid. The Mortgage will be produced and conditions made known at the time of sale.

TERMS: 10 per cent cash, and 25 per cent additional within one month, with interest at 8 per

FARM FOR SALE.

FARM of 175 Acres, the most desirable property in the County of Northumberland, for Sale. Being all that portion of lot No. 34 in Concession A, of the Village and Township of Brighton, lying North of the old Kingston Road, and only quarter of a mile from the P. O. and the centre of the village. Upon the premises are good brick and wooden buildings; a large orchard of young and bearing trees; a beautiful grove of pine and hardwood timber; spring creeks, and other advantages which rendered it desirable. Also several other good Farms and Village Properties for sale.

I. O. PROCTOR.
7-tfd4 Brighton.

Land PLASTER

Now grinding and ready for use.

Superior Fine Ground Land Plaster,

AT THE LOW RATE OF
$5 per Ton, or 25 cts. per Hundred.
ALL orders left at the Mill, or at the Woolen Factory, for Williams' and Lasher's Water Lime, or Quick Lime, will be promptly attended to. Lime delivered when required. No Credit.

JAMES PERRY.
Napanee, March 5th, 1877. 46.

Important Notice.

$2,000 WORTH OF New Bankrupt Stock,

JUST ARRIVED AT

MEAGHER'S.

Come and See. We are determined to sell Cheaper than can be bought in a regular way. Our prices are far below the Wholesale Price.

GREAT BARGAINS IN
COTTON AND WINCEY SHIRTINGS.
PRINTS AT 5c. A YARD.

BARGAINS IN DRESS GOODS.

Good Black Lustres at 15c. a yard.
Boots and Shoes, Ready-made Clothing, Remarkably Cheap.

Mens' Long Boots, $1.50,
Worth, $2.50.

Boys' Long Boots 70c. worth $1.50.

200 OVERCOATS,

From $5.00 to $15.00.

Every Line of Goods to be sold below Cost.

Don't fail to call and inspect before making your purchases.
25-tf MEAGHER BROS.

UNION BAKERY.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

I beg to call the attention of the public to the Union Bakery, where you will find always on hand an abundant stock of

Bread, Cake, Biscuit and Confectionery.

All orders promptly attended to. Wedding Cakes a speciality. Icing done in the neatest

JOB

Printing!

THE JOBBING DEPARTMENT

—OF THE—

NAPANEE EXPRESS

AS EXCELLED BY

No Office In The Dominion,

ITS OUTFIT INCLUDES A

LARGE STOCK

OF THE

Very Latest Styles Of New Type

And every Facility exists for turning out

JOB PRINTING

IN THE

-AT-

ENDERSON'S

BOOKSTORE,

Dundas Street, - - Napanee.

LY 15 CTS. EACH,

Husband of Mine.
 Hat Wife of Mine
 The New School Ma'am.
 His Grandmother's.
 Tom's Wife.
 That Married Girl.
 That Lass O' Lowrie's.
 Theo.
 They all do it.

CHRISTMAS CARDS.
 NEW YEARS CARDS.
 BIRTHDAY CARDS.
 CHRISTMAS PERFUMED
 SATCHELS.
 SILK WORM BOOK-MARKS.
 ALL SCRAP PICTURES FOR SCRAP BOOKS.

VERY LARGE STOCK OF

Photograph Albums,

Any Size, and at any Price.

ie Easel Album,

and very handsome article, various sizes and prices.

oks Only 10c. Each,

tie Johnston, by Charles Reade.
 rfello, by With-Melville.
 Best of Husbands, by James Payne.
 Livingstone, by George Lawrence.
 Warner, by George Eliot.
 Black Ladies, by Jules Verne.
 English at the North Pole, do.
 el Strogoff, by Jules Verne.
 k Attire, by William Black.
 pletton, by Charles Reade.
 Queen of Hearts, by Wilkie Collins. ast Days of Pompeii, by Lord
 tton.

oks at 20c. Each.

ng Aram, by Lord Lytton.
 Dark, by Wilkie Collins.
 s of the Sea, by Victor Hugo.
 Heritage of Langdale, by Mrs.
 xander.
 ras History, by Amelia E. Edwards.
 r Two Flags, by "Ouida."
 'ower of London, by Harrison Ams-
 th.
 'uriosity Shop, by Charles Dickens.
 ncess of Truth, by William Black.
 e Lies, by Charles Reade. reat Too Late to Mend, by Charles ide.
 Audley's Secret, by Miss Braddon.
 of Frey, by Miss Braddon.

and Addition, and a Province of Ontario, being composed of Lot Number Seven, on the West ide of Adelphi Street, and of Water Lot Number Seven on the South Side of Napanee Street, in the said Town of Napanee. On the said premises are two frame and one brick dwelling houses.

Terms and conditions made known at the Sale.

For further particulars, apply to

REEVE & MORDEN,
 Vendor's Solicitors.

28-3in.

Business Change.

THE undersigned has sold out all his stock in trade to THOMAS SEAWARD, who will carry on the business in my old shop. All accounts due me must be paid forthwith.

ROBERT MOTT

Bath, Nov. 2nd, 1877.

28-3in.

Mortgage Sale OF VALUABLE FARM PROPERTY.

PURSUANT to the power of sale contained in a Mortgage, dated the 7th day of November, A.D. 1873, made by H. C. Bogart, (since deceased) to the Vendor, there will be sold by

PUBLIC AUCTION,

-AT THE-

Rooms of Robert McCoy, Auctioneer,

-IN THE-

TOWN HALL, NAPANEE,
 On Saturday, the 17th day of Nov. 1877.
 AT TWELVE O'CLOCK, NOON.

The following lands and premises, viz.: The West half of Lot No. Twenty-three, in the First Concession of the Township of Camden, in the County of Lennox and Addington, containing 100 acres more or less, and also part of the East half of Lot No. Twenty-two, in the said First Concession of the Township of Camden, containing one acre more or less.

On this is erected a large Stone Grist-mill three stories high, with three run of stone, with suitable barn and sheds. There are also on the property three frame houses.

This is one of the most valuable mill properties in this section of the country.

The Vendor reserves to himself the right to bid.
 The Mortgage will be produced and conditions made known at the time of sale.

TERMS: 10 per cent cash, and 25 per cent additional within one month, with interest at 8 per cent. Balance to be secured by Mortgage on the premises, payable in one and two years with interest at 8 per cent, half yearly.

For further particulars, apply to Messrs.
 Reeve & Morden, solicitors, Napanee, or to

BLAKE, KERR & BOYD,
 Solicitors for Vendor.

27-3in.

CUSTOMS' DEPARTMENT.

Ottawa, Oct. 12th, 1877.

Authorized Discount on American Invoices
 until further notice 5 per cent.

J. JOHNSON,
 Commissioner.

WINE IS A MOCKER.

STRONG DRINK RAGING!

Whosoever is Deceived thereby is not Wise,

Therefore be not deceived by parties telling you that their STOVES are better than your old friend BOYLE'S. My Stoves are made of the Best Material (not of old iron, as asserted by others in the trade), and are also as good, if not better, because they are heavier and consequently throw out more heat,
 and have given good satisfaction.

Give Me a Call Before Purchasing Elsewhere.

No connection with any other Establishment in Town,
 But Manufacture and Repair

Tinware of All Kinds,

BY FIRST-CLASS MECHANICS, AND DO

JOB WORK

Of all kinds in my line, and keep a Large Assortment of

COOKING, PARLOR, COOK, BOX & COAL HEATING & DOUBLE STOVES.

EXTRA CASTINGS FOR STOVES. STOVES REFITTED.

PLOUGHS & PLOUGH-SHARES OF ALL KINDS.

Yours truly,

MEAGHER'S.

Come and See. We are determined to sell
 Cheaper than can be bought in a regular way.
 Our prices are far below the Wholesale Price.

GREAT BARGAINS IN

COTTON AND WINCEY SHIRTINGS.

PRINTS AT 5c. A YARD,

BARGAINS IN DRESS GOODS.

Good Black Lustres at 15c. a yard.

Boots and Shoes, Ready-made Clothing,
 Remarkably Cheap.

Mens' Long Boots, $1.50,
 Worth, $2.50.

Boys' Long Boots 70c. worth $1.50.

200 OVERCOATS,

From $5.00 to $15.00,

Every Line of Goods to be sold below
 Cost.

Don't fail to call and inspect before making
 your purchases.

25-4 MEAGHER BROS.

UNION BAKERY.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

I beg to call the attention of the public to the Union Bakery, where you will find always on hand an abundant stock of

Bread, Cake, Biscuit and Confectionery.

All orders promptly attended to. Wedding Cakes a speciality. Iceing done in the neatest manner.

In addition to my Bakery, will keep a general assortment of

Groceries on Hand,

SUCH AS

Tea, Sugar, Butter, Eggs,
 Syrups, Vinegar, & c.,

and the general wants of the public.

Remember the place, one door east, corner o
 Dundas and West streets, Napanee.

25-4 NEIL SHANNON.

No Office In The Dominion,

—o—

ITS OUTFIT INCLUDES A

LARGE STOCK

OF THE

Very Latest Styles Of New Type

And every Facility exists for turning out

JOB PRINTING

IN THE

BEST STYLE

OF THE ART.

LAW WORK A SPECIALITY

—o—

Assessment Blanks,
 Auction Bills,
 Articles of Agreement,
 Briefs,
 Bill Heads,
 Ball Programmes,
 Bills of Fare,
 Circulars,
 Chancery Bills,
 Cards,
 Catalogues,
 Debentures

Dodgers,
 Date Lines,
 Envelopes,
 Exhibition Bills,
 Funeral Circulars,
 Financial Reports,
 Headings,
 Horse Bills,
 Indentures,
 Invitations

Letter Headings,
 Law Forms,
 Lawyers' Briefs,
 Labels,
 Monthly Statements,
 Mourning Cards,
 Municipal Forms,

Photograph Albums,

Any Size, and at any Price.

the Easel Album,

and very handsome article, various sizes and prices.

Books Only 10c. Each,

Johnston, by Charles Reade.
Tello, by With-Melville.
est of Husbands, by James Payne.
ivingstone, by George Lawrence.
Varner, by George Eliot.
lack Ladies, by Jules Verne.
nglish at the North Pole, do.
el Strogoff, by Jules Verne.
Attire, by William Black.
leton, by Charles Reade.
een of Hearts, by Wilkie Collins.
st Days of Pompeii, by Lord on.

Books at 20c. Each.

Ararn, by Lord Lytton.
Dark, by Wilkie Collins.
of the Sea, by Victor Hugo.
eritage of Langdale, by Mrs. ander.
as History, by Amelia B. Edwards.
Two Flags, by "Ouida."
ower of London, by Harrison Ains- h. riosity Shop, by Charles Dickens.
cess of Truth, by William Black.
Lies, by Charles Reade ever Too Late to Mend, by Charles le.
Audley's Secret, by Miss Braddon.
of Frey, by Miss Braddon.

of the above Books, and lots of at the same price, at

ENDERSON'S BOOKSTORE,
Dundas St.
ee, Nov. 14th, 1877.

ARM FOR SALE.

EST LAND

INCE EDWARD COUNTY,

as from Picton, and 3½ miles from Demorestville.

is a rare chance to get a Choice Farm. well watered and nicely situated. ecial Price to a purchaser before the ember.

Apply to
R. McDOWALL,
Demorestville, 29.
his Office.

SEND FOR 1878

THE New York Observer

st Religious and Secular Family News- paper. $3.15 a Year, post-paid. Established 1823.

PARK ROW, NEW YORK.
SAMPLE COPIES FREE.

LACE'S SALVE.

getable Preparation, invented in the tury by Dr. Wm. Grace, Surgeon in King army. Through its agency he cured ds of the most serious sores and wounds, regarded by all who knew him as a pub- lic factor. 25c. a box, by mail 30c. For sale gists generally.

ENTS WANTED.
SETH W. FOWLE & SONS, Boston

CUSTOMS' DEPARTMENT.

Ottawa, Oct. 12th, 1877.

Authorized Discount on American Invoices until further notice 3 per cent.

J. JOHNSON,
Commissioner.

WINE IS A MOCKER.

STRONG DRINK RAGING!

Whosoever is Deceived thereby is not Wise,

Therefore be not deceived by parties telling you that their STOVES are better than your old friend BOYLE'S. My Stoves are made of the Best Material (not of old iron, as asserted by others in the trade), and are also as good, if not better, because they are heavier and consequently throw out more heat, and have given good satisfaction.

Give Me a Call Before Purchasing Elsewhere.

No connection with any other Establishment in Town,
But Manufacture and Repair

Tinware of All Kinds,

BY FIRST-CLASS MECHANICS, AND DO

JOB WORK

Of all kinds in my line, and keep a Large Assortment of

COOKING, PARLOR, COOK, BOX & COAL HEATING & DOUBLE STOVES.

EXTRA CASTINGS FOR STOVES. STOVES REFITTED.

PLOUGHS & PLOUGH-SHARES OF ALL KINDS.

Yours truly,

H. BOYLE, Agt.,

In Wm. Miller's Old Stand, Opposite Webster & Boyes.

Napanee, Nov. 14th, 1877.

"The Proof of the Pudding is in the Eating."

But it is only necessary for parties wanting either

COOKING STOVES, for Coal or Wood,

PARLOR STOVES, for Coal or Wood,

BOX STOVES or HALL STOVES,

To see our Stock to be Convinced that we have, the Best Stoves in the Market.

Our "ST. GEORGE" Cooking Stoves,

And "SPLENDID" Hall and Parlor Stoves,

Are not equalled by any Stoves in Canada. Come and see, and be convinced.

ALWAYS ON HAND, A LARGE STOCK OF

STOVE PIPES,

TEE PIPES,

ELBOWS,

DAMPER PIPES,

DUMB PIPES,

GALLOW'S PIPES,

EXTRA STOVE CASTINGS, &c., &c.

Our Stock is very Large and Complete, and Prices Lower than the Lowest.

Our Stock of Hardware is the Largest in the County, and our Prices ROCK BOTTOM.

WRIGHT & Co.

Napanee, Nov. 14th, 1877.

GROCERIES ON HAND,

SUCH AS

Tea, Sugar, Butter, Eggs,
Syrups, Vinegar, & c.,

and the general wants of the public.

Remember the place, one door east, corner o
Dundas and West streets, Napanee.

25 tf

NEIL SHANNON.

LAW WORK A SPECIALITY

Assessment Blanks,
Auction Bills,
Articles of Agreement,
Briefs,
Bill Heads,
Ball Programmes,
Bills of Fare,
Circulars,
Chancery Bills,
Cards,
Catalogues,
Debentures

Dodgers,
Date Lines,
Envelopes,
Exhibition Bills,
Funeral Circulars,
Financial Reports,
Headings,
Horse Bills,
Indentures,
Invitations

Letter Headings,
Law Forms,
Lawyers' Briefs,
Labels,
Monthly Statements,
Mourning Cards,
Municipal Forms,
Note Headings,
Notarial Circulars

Pbituary Notices,
Oamphlets,
Posters,
Programmes,
Promissory Notes,
Receipt Books,
Shipping Tags,
Statements,
Sale Bills,
Tickets,

Tax Collectors Rolls,
Tax Receipts,
Visiting Cards,
Voters' Lists,
Wheat Receipts,
Wedding Cards,

ALL THE ABOVE

PRINTED WITH DESPATCH

AT THE

"EXPRESS" OFFICE.

ANY AMOUNT OF TARIFF POLICIES BUT NO DEFINITE ONE.

When Sir John Macdonald in his recent speech at Hamilton declined to tell Mr. Gurney what amount of Protection he was prepared to give to Canadian manufactures, he in one sense proved himself a political charlatan. He showed by his answer that in spite of all his protectionist speeches, in the face of the fact that he has or ought to have read the evidence given by manufacturers before committees of the House, and though he has been personally interviewed by manufacturers in all sections of Ontario and Quebec, he is at the present moment either so grossly ignorant of the condition and need of our industries that he cannot tell what tariff aid they require, or is so fully resolved not to pledge himself to anything definite that he will not make any specific promise to those whose support he clamors for. A man occupying his position who makes such a confession is guilty of gross ignorance or of unpardonable duplicity. But from one point of view what he then said was sound doctrine. It was in substance that different manufacturers and different employments required different methods of treatment. That is the principal we have all along contended for and called upon both the manufacturers and Sir John, as the leader of a political Protectionist movement, to say what Protection each industry needs, why it needs it and what the result will probably be to the capitalist, the workman, and the consumer, in case it is granted. The difference on this point between us is this: We insist that Sir John shall show definitely what he means by Protection, what industries he intends to specially protect, and to what extent, before he receives the confidence of those most closely interested in this question, while he contends that he must be placed in power first, without any definite declaration of his intentions in the matter, and the whole question left in trust to him. Who are they who are so unwise as to trust him, remembering, as they must, that it was he who reduced the tariff to 15 per cent.; that it was he who (when firmly in power) told a deputation of Western manufacturers, that if the existing tariff did not suit them they might go home and close their workshops for all he cared, and that it was he who after pledging himself to a Protective policy in 1872, and securing his continuance in power by means of that and Sir Hugh Allan's money, went back to Ottawa and left the tariff just as it was. Is it one with a record like this who is to be entrusted with the fostering of Canadian industries, when all he had to say at Hamilton was, that after he is made Premier he will look into the matter and grant sufficient protection—that "sufficient" protection being just what will be sufficient to keep him in power, whether it be a 12½, a 15 or 20 per cent. tariff.

It is true Sir John is committed to the principle of protecting home industries. So far that matter is Mr. Mackenzie, only the latter gentleman thinks that with a 17½ per cent. incidentally protective tariff, the revival of trade caused by the splendid harvest of the year and the comparatively light taxation which the people of Canada have to bear, the Canadian manufacturer and the Canadian workmen have golden days before them, such as highly protected States will have long to wait for. And the facts that come to hand show Mr. Mackenzie's estimate to be proving true to some extent, at least. For instance the Hamilton correspondent of the Globe says to day of Hamilton—what in substance journals in all parts of the Dominion are saying of their several localities:

A visit to several of the leading manufacturing establishments of the city to-day enables me to corroborate my remarks made some time ago as to the revival of trade. Most of the manufacturers visited are running at full time, and with the full complement of hands. In more than one instance I was informed that the orders on hand exceed the current capacity of the works proach to detail what industries he purposes dealing with and in what manner, before he is entrusted with office.

By the way, should Sir John reach power, Dr. Tupper—if the quarrel between them is not so serious—will be his Finance Minister. As Finance Minister it will be his special province to deal with tariff questions. How is it then that, amid the loud outcry of the Tory protectionists, the supposed prospective Finance Minister has never once dealt with the alleged faults of the present tariff—nor in a single instance declared in what particulars and in what direction he would amend it had he the power. Is he attempting to rival the Chieftain in mingled ignorance and duplicity? or is he quietly awaiting the hour when, on his return from the Mediterranean, he shall hoist the Free Trade banner in the Maritime Provinces, in revenge for those crazy Protectionist speeches through which the Chieftain has inflicted so heavy a blow on him in Nova Scotia.—Times.

Wreck of the Canadian Schooner "Magellan."

CHICAGO, Nov. 11.—Further news has been received to-day concerning the loss of the ill-fated schooner Magellan, of St. Catharines, which left this port for Toronto with a load of twenty thousand bushels of corn on Tuesday last. The vessel was damaged before leaving port by a collision with one of the city barges, and thus was in a measure less able to weather the terrific storms last week. She was seen in distress off Two Rivers, Michigan, and undoubtedly sank with all on board during the storm on Thursday last.

The beach near Manitowoc, Wisconsin, is covered for the space of five miles with corn, and four bodies have already been washed ashore. Papers found on the bodies bear the names of H. P. Larson, Glasgow; P. Tait, of Quebec; and a tinsmith of a lady with the name of Mrs. D. L. Marshall, Clayton, N. Y. Part of the body of a woman, supposed to be the female cook, has also been washed ashore, together with a portion of a woman's dress. The bodies when found were all frozen hard. A coroner's inquest is now taking evidence.

The Magellan was commanded by Captain John Belyea, of St. Catharines, and his brother. The rest of the crew were from Sarnia. The vessel was not insured. Her cargo was insured for $11,000. The Canadian schooner Mary Merritt, that left at the same time as the Magellan, put back to port.

Anecdote of Lincoln.

"One day," said Mr. Lincoln, "when I first came here, I got into a fit of musing in my room, and stood resting my elbows on the bureau. Looking into the glass, it struck me what an awful ugly man I was. The fact grew on me; and I made up my mind that I must be the ugliest man in the world. It so maddened me that I resolved, should I ever see an uglier I would shoot him at sight. Not long after this Andy— (naming a lawyer present) 'came to town, and the first time I saw him I said to myself, 'There's the man' I went home, took down my gun, and prowled around the streets waiting for him. He soon came along. 'Halt Andy,' said I, pointing my gun at him. 'Say your prayers, for I'm going to shoot you.'"

"Why, Mr. Lincoln, what's the matter? what have I done?"

"Well, I made an oath that if I ever saw a man uglier than I am, I'd shoot him on the spot. You are uglier, sure; so make ready to die."

"Mr. Lincoln, do you really think I'm uglier than you?"

"Yes."

"Well, Mr. Lincoln," replied Andy, deliberately, and looking me squarely in the face, if I am any uglier, fire away!"

"Among American Reviews the INTERNATIONAL is always conspicuous."—ACADEMY, New York.

"Will not suffer by comparison with the best foreign quarterlies."—CHURCHMAN, New York.

"Not equalled by any of its contemporaries, home or foreign, in spirit, style, or ability."—INTERIOR, Chicago.

"This is the leading Magazine of America."—ELGIN COURANT, England.

1878 THE 1878

International Review.

Between the Quarterlies and the Monthlies SIX TIMES A YEAR.

I. The chief object of this Review is to supply the demand for a non-partisan and international literature. In politics and religion the Review will subvert the interest of no sect or party. The Review will aim to discuss, in a vigorous, interesting and impartial manner, both sides of many of the important literary, scientific, social, political and religious questions of the day.

II. It brings to its pages the best talent of Europe and America, and seeks to be a medium of communication between representative thinkers of every nation.

III. The interests and union of the many foreign elements that constitute American society are a very important part of the work assumed by the INTERNATIONAL REVIEW.

IV. Like the Quarterlies, it addresses scholars, and like the Monthlies, aims to be of value to practical men in business and the professions, and of interest to the members of the family.

V. Each number contains fresh and reliable notices of important new American and European books.

VI. The Art Department will be conducted by Mr. Phillip Gilbert Hamerton.

VII. Editorial comments upon the course of events at home and abroad, having special reference to the interests of the United States, are given in, and add strength and timeliness to every issue.

VIII. The success of the INTERNATIONAL REVIEW is made to depend upon a comprehensive plan, solid merit, and adaption in style and subject to the age in which we live.

ALL ARTICLES ARE ORIGINAL.

SOME OF THE CONTRIBUTORS:

WM. CULLEN BRYANT, U. States of America.
Hon. C. F. ADAMS, Sr. "
Ex-Pres. TH. D. WOOLSEY, " Pres. NAH P. B. RAY, "
Pres. JAMES MCCOSH, " Prof. A. P. PEARBODY, "
Mr. JUSTICE STRONG, "
Prof. J. E. HILGARD, "
E. P. WHITE, "
Dr. FRANCIS WHARTON, "
THEODORE DWIGHT, "
Hon. JOHN BIGELOW, "
H. H. BOYESEN, "
E. A. WASHBURN, " BAYARD RUSTEN, "
DAVID A. WELLS, "
Hon. T. M. COOLEY, "
Hon. A. H. STEVENS, "
Gen. F. A. WALKER, "
Hon. JOHN JAY, "
Hon. CARL SCHURZ, "
Principal J. W. DAWSON, Canada.
WALTER BESANT, England.
CHAS. TENNYSON TURNER, England.
DEAN SMITH, of Canterbury, England.
DEAN STANLEY, of Westminster, England.
Professor WM. B. CARPENTER, England.
Professor E. H. PALMER, England.
PHILIP GILBERT HAMERTON, England.
EDWARD A. FREEMAN, England.
Prof. W. S. JEVONS, England.
THOMAS HUGHES, M. P., England.
WILKIE COLLINS, England.
JAMES H. RIGG, England.
Professor EDWARD LABOULAYE, France.
M. ERNEST NAVILLE, France.
M. SPULLER, Do., France.
Pasteur EUGENE BERTIER, France.
Professor ERNST CURTIUS, Germany.
Dr. CARL ABEL, Germany.
Baron F. VON HOLTZENDORF, Germany.
Professor AUGUST VOGEL, Germany.
Professor J. E. DORNER, Germany.
Professor R. BONGHI, Italy.
Professor A. DEGUERNATI, Italy.
Princess DORA D'ISTRIA, Italy.
Madame VILLARI, Italy.

NOW IS THE TIME TO SUBSCRIBE.

Price, $5.00 Per Annum.

New York: A. S. BARNES & Co.,
111 & 113 William Street.
London: TRUBNER & Co.,
57 & 59 Ludgate Hill.

"Unquestionably the best sustained work of the kind in the World."

Harper's Magazine.

ILLUSTRATED.

Notices of the Press.

UNION BAKER

SPECIAL NOTICE

I beg to call the attention of the public Union Bakery, where you will find always on hand an abundant stock of

Bread, Cake, Biscuit and Confectionery.

All orders promptly attended to. We make a speciality. Icing done in the most manner.

In addition to my Bakery, will keep a large assortment of

Groceries on Hand

SUCH AS

Tea, Sugar, Butter, Eggs, Syrup, Vinegar, &c.

and the general wants of the public. Remember the place, one door east, on Dundas and West streets, Napanee.

25 tf NEIL SHANNON

Important Notice

$2,000 WORTH OF New Bankrupt Stock

JUST ARRIVED AT

MEAGHER'S

Come and See. We are determined. Cheaper than can be bought in a regular Wholesale.

GREAT BARGAINS IN

COTTON AND WINCEY SHIRT

PRINTS AT 5c. A YARD

BARGAINS IN DRESS GOODS

Good Black Lustres at 15c. a yard

Boots and Shoes, Ready-made Clothing. Remarkably Cheap.

Mens' Long Boots, $3 Worth, $2.50.

Boys' Long Boots 70c. worth

200 OVERCOATS

From $5.00 to $15.00.

Every Line of Goods to be sold at Cost.

Don't fail to call and inspect before you purchase. 25-tf MEAGHER BROS.

Land PLASTER

Now grinding and ready for

Superior Fine Ground

Land Plaster

AT THE LOW RATE OF

$5 per Ton, or 25 cts. per Hundred. ALL orders left at the Mill, or at the Woolen Factory, for William Lasher's Water Lime, or Quick Lime, be promptly attended to. Lime delivered when required. No Credit.

JAMES PERRIN
Napanee, March 5th, 1877.

was new when they were in power, and a deputation of Western manufacturers, that if the existing tariff did not suit them they might go home and close their workshops for all he cared, and that it was he who after pledging himself to a Protective policy in 1872, and securing his continuance in power by means of that and Sir Hugh Allan's money, went back to Ottawa and left the tariff just as it was. Is it one with a record like this who is to be entrusted with the fostering of Canadian industries, when all he had to say at Hamilton was, that after he is made Premier he will look into the matter and grant sufficient protection—that "sufficient" protection being just what will be sufficient to keep him in power, whether it be a 12½, a 15 or 20 per cent. tariff.

It is true Sir John is committed to the principle of protecting home industries. So for that matter is Mr. Mackenzie, only the latter gentleman thinks that with a 17½ per cent. incidentally protective tariff, the revival of trade caused by the splendid harvest of the year and the comparatively light taxation which the people of Canada have to bear, the Canadian manufacturer and the Canadian workmen have golden days before them, such as highly protected States will have long to wait for. And the facts that come to hand show Mr. Mackenzie's estimate to be proving true to some extent, at least. For instance the Hamilton correspondent of the Globe says to day of Hamilton—what in substance journals in all parts of the Dominion are saying of their several localities:

A visit to several of the leading manufacturing establishments of the city, to-day enables me to corroborate my remarks made some time ago about the revival of trade. Most of the manufacturing concerns are running on full time, and with the full complement of hands. In more than one instance I was informed that the orders on hand exceeded the capacity of the works by several weeks, and that in all probability the ordinary working hours would have soon to be increased to twelve or even fifteen in order to meet the pressure. The stove trade is at present exceptionally brisk, and judging from the immense truck loads seen passing most continuously along the streets, the traffic in this particular branch must be very great.

It may be said that this comes from a prejudiced source. If this is contended, our columns are open to any Hamilton manufacturer who, over his own signature will say that his business is suffering from causes which the Government can remove. Such an one's cause we shall readily advocate. On the other hand, we clip the following from the Boston Journal of a few days ago. Under the head of "Hard Times for American Shoe Operators" the Journal says:—

Never before in the history of Lynn, as a shoe manufacturing city, has the business been so dull as at present. The period following the 4th of July until the 1st of October has always been considered the busiest for shoe operatives; but the present year is an exception, and unless business picks up there will be much suffering during the ensuing winter. The majority of shoe manufacturers have already filled their orders, and have commenced to discharge employees. Over 300 men have been discharged during the past week, some manufacturers discharging as many as 40 at one time.

Compare the two statements, and then say whether the moderate protection we enjoy in Canada has worked on our operatives such evil as has the extravagant protectionism of the United States (which Sir John desires to imitate) brought on the workingman of that country.

But, to return to Sir John's adoption of the "principle" of protection, about which so much has been said. It appears to have even disturbed the balance of mind of shrewd and sensible business men. One of them in this city, a leading manufacturer, recently said that the existing tariff was quite high enough for him, but that he would favor Sir John because he wanted the tariff based on the protective "principle." If this be the general feeling, then should Sir John attain power his task will be a wonderfully easy one. It will simply be to pass an Act declaring that "whereas the existing 17½ tariff is considered to be and is called a revenue one and only incidentally protective, therefore Her Majesty by and with the advice and consent of the Senate and House of Commons of Canada enacts that the said 17½ per cent. tariff be continued, but that it shall henceforth be denominated by all Her Majesty's subjects a 'Protective tariff,' and not a revenue one." What a splendid statement!

dress. The bodies when found were all frozen hard. A coroner's inquest is now taking evidence.

The Magellan was commanded by Captain John Belyea, of St. Catharines, and his brother. The rest of the crew were from Sarnia. The vessel was not insured. Her cargo was insured for $11,000. The Canadian schooner Mary Merritt, that left at the same time as the Magellan, put back to port.

Anecdote of Lincoln.

"One day," said Mr. Lincoln, "when I first came here, I got into a fit of musing in my room, and stood resting my elbows on the bureau. Looking into the glass, it struck me what an awful ugly man I was. The fact grew on me; and I made up my mind that I must be the ugliest man in the world. It so saddened me that I resolved, should I ever see an uglier I would shoot him at sight. Not long after this Andy— (naming a lawyer present) 'came to town, and the first time I saw him I said to myself, 'There's the man' I went home, took down my gun, and prowled around the streets waiting for him. He soon came along. 'Halt Andy,' said I, pointing my gun at him. 'Say your prayers, for I'm going to shoot you.'"

"Why, Mr. Lincoln, what's the matter? what have I done?"

"Well, I made an oath that if I ever saw a man uglier than I am, I'd shoot him on the spot. You are uglier, sure; so make ready to die."

"Mr. Lincoln, do you really think I'm uglier than you?"

"Yes."

"Well, Mr. Lincoln," replied Andy, deliberately, and looking me squarely in the face, if I am any uglier, fire away!"

—EDITOR'S DRAWER, in Harper's Magazine for December.

Atlantic Cable.

The bill introduced by Loring aiding the establishment of additional telegraphic communication between the United States and Europe proposes to give the American Cable Company, in consideration of the free transmission of Government messages, their preference in point of time, and for a reduction of two-thirds on the present tolls the exclusive right to land ocean cables on the Atlantic coast for eight years after the cables have been working between the city of New York and England and France. The rates are to be reduced to 20 cents a word. At the expiration of eight years to 17c, in twelve years to 15c, and after fifteen years to 10c.

Cut This Out!—Croup can be cured in one minute, and the remedy is simply alum and sugar. The way to accomplish the deed is to take a knife or grater, and shave off in particles about a teaspoonful of alum; then mix it with twice its quantity of sugar, to make it palatable, and administer it as quickly as possible. Almost instantaneous relief will follow.

MONEY ORDER SYSTEM.—An additional agreement between the Postal Department of Canada and the United States, is published, bearing date the 22nd Oct., and providing that: "To facilitate the exchange of money orders between the United States and the Dominion of Canada, it is agreed that all money orders mailed at the Exchange Offices in the United States and addressed to payees in the Dominion of Canada shall be transmissible in the mails between the two countries free of postage."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets

SIZE OF PELLETS.

Or Sugar-Coated, Concentrated, Root and Herbal Juice, Anti-Bilious Granules. THE "LITTLE GIANT" CATHARTIC, or Miltum in Parvo

E. F. WHIPPLE, " "
Dr. FRANCIS WHARTON, " "
THEODORE DWIGHT, " "
Hon. JOHN BIGLOW, " "
H. J. BOYSEN, " "
E. A. WASHBURN, " "
BAYARD TAYLOR, " "
DAVID A. WELLS, " "
Hon. T. M. COOLEY, " "
Hon. A. H. STEVENS, " "
Gen. F. A. WALKER, " "
Hon. JOHN JAY, " "
Hon. CARL SCHURZ, " "
Principal J. W. DAWSON, Canada. "
WALTER BESANT, England. "
CHAS. TENNYSON TURNER, England. "
DEAN SMITH, of Canterbury, England. "
DEAN STANLEY, of Westminster, England. "
Professor W. M. B. CARPENTER, England. "
Professor E. H. PALMER, England. " PHILIP GILBERT HAMPTON, England. "
EDWARD A. FREEMAN, England. "
Prof. W. S. JEVONS, England. "
THOMAS HUGHES, England. "
THOMAS BRASSEY, M. P., England. "
WILKIE COLLINGS, England. "
JAMES H. RIGG, England. "
Professor EDWARD LABOULAYE, France. "
M. ERNEST NAVILLE, France. "
M. SPULLER, Dep. France. "
Pastour EUGENE BERLIER, France. " Professor ERNST CULLEY'S, Germany. "
Dr. CARL ABEL, Germany. "
Baron F. VON HOLTZENDORF, Germany. "
Professor AUGUST VOGEL, Germany. "
Professor J. E. DORNER, Germany. "
Professor R. BUNIGLI, Italy. "
Professor A. DIGUEBENATIS, Italy. "
Princess DORA D'ISTRIA, Italy. "
Madame VILLARI, Italy. "

NOW IS THE TIME TO SUBSCRIBE.

Price, $5.00 Per Annum.

New York: A. S. BARNES & Co., 111 & 113 William Street.

London: TRUBNER & Co., 57 & 59 Ludgate Hill.

"Unquestionably the best sustained work of the kind in the world."

Harper's Magazine.

ILLUSTRATED.

Notices of the Press.

The veteran Magazine, which long ago outgrew its original title of the New Monthly Magazine, has not in the least abated the popularity it won at the outset, but has added to it in many ways, and has kept fairly abreast of the times, thanks to the enterprise of the publishers and the tact and wisdom of its editors. For whatever is best and most readable in the literature of travel, discovery, and fiction, the average reader of to-day looks to Harper's Magazine, just as expectantly as did the reader of a quarter of a century ago; there is the same admirable variety of contents and the same freshness and suggestiveness in its editorial departments now as then. —Boston Journal.

TERMS:

Postage free to all Subscribers in the United States.

HARPER'S MAGAZINE, one year.....$4.00

$4.00 includes payment of U. S. postage by the publishers.

Subscriptions to HARPER'S MAGAZINE, WEEKLY, and BAZAAR, to one address for one year, $4.00; or, two of Harper's Periodicals, to one address for one year, $7.00; postage free.

An Extra Copy of the MAGAZINE, WEEKLY, or BAZAAR will be supplied gratis for every Club of FIVE SUBSCRIBERS at $4.00 each, paid for by one remittance; or, Six Copies one year, without extra charge, for $20.00.

Back Numbers can be supplied at any time.

The Volumes of the Magazine commence with the Number for June and December of each year. When no time is specified, it will be understood that the subscriber wishes to begin with the current Number.

A Complete set of HARPER'S MAGAZINE, now comprising 55 Volumes, in neat cloth binding, will be sent by express, freight at expense of purchaser, for $2.25 per volume. Single volumes, by mail, postpaid, $3.00. Cloth cases, for binding, 5c each, by mail, postpaid.

A Complete Analytical Index to the first Fifty Volumes of HARPER'S MAGAZINE has been published, rendering available for reference the vast and varied wealth of information which constitutes this periodical a perfect illustrated literary encyclopedia. 8vo, Cloth, $3.00; half-Cloth, $2.25. Sent postage prepaid.

Subscriptions received for Harper's Periodicals only.

Newspapers are not to copy this advertisement without the express order of HARPER & BROTHERS.

Address HARPER & BROTHERS, New York.

BARGAINS IN DRESS GOOD

Good Black Lustres at 15c. a yard

Boots and Shoes, Ready-made Cloth Remarkably Cheap.

Mens' Long Boots, $1.50 Worth, $2.50.

Boys' Long Boots 70c. worth $1.

200 OVERCOATS,

From $5.00 to $15.00.

Every Line of Goods to be sold below Cost.

Don't fail to call and inspect before making your purchases. 25-11 MEAGHER BROS

Land PLASTER

Now grinding and ready for use.

Superior Fine Ground Land Plaster,

AT THE LOW RATE OF $5 per Ton, or 25 cts. per Hundred.

All orders left at the Mill, or at A Woolen Factory, for Williams' Lasher's Water Lime, or Quick Lime, be promptly attended to—Lime delivered when required. No Credit. JAMES PERRY.

Napanee, March 5th, 1877.

1823. SEND FOR 18

THE

New York Observer

The Best Religious and Secular Family Newspaper. $3 15 a Year, post-paid. Established 1823.

37 PARK ROW, NEW YORK. 22. SAMPLE COPIES FREE.

GRACE'S SALV.

A Vegetable Preparation, invented in 17th century by Dr. Wm. Grace, Surgeon in James' army. Through its agency he cured thousands of the most serious sores and wounds and was regarded by all who knew him as a beneficent. 25c. a box, by mail 30c. For by druggists generally.

AGENTS WANTED

Address BETHW. FOWLE & SONS, Boston, Mass.

PULMON

is beyond comparison the best remedy for cure of CONSUMPTION (EVEN IN ITS ADVANCED STAGES), Asthma, Bronchitis, Catarrh, and derangements of the NERVOUS SYSTEM. Circular containing PARTICULARS OF MANY SUCCESSFUL TREATMENTS, full advice for the treatment of the diseases above mentioned, and certificates of actual cures, will be sent free by mail to all applicants. Address OSCAR MOSES, Sole Proprietor, 18 Cortlandt St New York.

FARM FOR SALE.

FARM of 175 Acres, the most desirable property in the County of Northumberland, for Sale. Being all that portion of lot No. 34 in Concession A, of Village and Township of Brighton, 1 North of the old Kingston Road, and a quarter of a mile from the P. O. and centre of the village. Upon the premises are good brick and wooden buildings, large orchard of young and bearing fruit, a beautiful grove of pine and hardy timber; spring creeks, and other advantages which rendered it desirable. Several other good Farms and Villages for sale.

I. O. PROCTOR. 7-1144 Brighton

F. LEZOS

RESTAURANT (Opposite the Tichborne House.)

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

By an immense practice, extending through a period of years, having within that time treated many thousands of cases of those diseases peculiar to woman, I have been enabled to perfect a most potent and agreeable medicine that meets the indications presented by that class of diseases with positive certainty and exactness.

To designate this natural specific compound, I have named it

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

The term, however, is but a feeble expression

Box 66, Brockville, Ont.

"Among American Reviews the INTERNATIONAL is always conspicuous."—ACADEMY, New York.

"Will not suffer by comparison with the best foreign quarterlies."—CHURCHMAN, New York.

"Not equalled by any of its contemporaries, home or foreign, in spirit, style, or ability."—LITERATOR, Chicago.

"This is the leading Magazine of America."—ELGIN COURANT, England.

1878 THE 1878 International Review.

Between the Quarterlies and the Monthlies
SIX TIMES A YEAR.

I. The chief object of this Review is to supply the demand for a non-partisan and international literature. In politics and religion the Review will subserve the interest of no sect or party. The Review will aim to discuss, in a vigorous, interesting and impartial manner, both sides of many of the important literary, scientific, social, political and religious questions of the day.

II. It brings to its pages the best talent of Europe and America, and seeks to be a medium of communication between representative thinkers of every nation.

III. The interests and union of the many foreign elements that constitute American society are a very important part of the work assumed by the INTERNATIONAL REVIEW.

IV. Like the Quarterlies, it addresses scholars, and like the Monthlies, aims to be of value to practical men in business and the professions, and of interest to the members of the family.

V. Each number contains fresh and reliable notices of important new American and European books.

VI. The Art Department will be conducted by Mr. Philip Gilbert Hamerton.

VII. Editorial comments upon the course of events at home and abroad, having special reference to the interests of the United States, are given in, and add strength and timeliness to every issue.

VIII. The success of the INTERNATIONAL REVIEW is made to depend upon a comprehensive plan, solid merit, and adaption in style and subject to the age in which we live.

ALL ARTICLES ARE ORIGINAL.

SOME OF THE CONTRIBUTORS :

WM. CULLEN DRYANT, U. States of America.
Hon. C. F. ADAMS, Sr. " "
Ex-Pres. TH. D. WOOLSEY, " "
Pres. NOAH PORTER, " "
Pres. JAMES MCCOSH, " "
Prof. A. P. PEABODY, " "
Mr. JUSTICE, " "
Prof. J. E. HILGARD, " "
E. P. WHIPPLE, " "
Dr. FRANCIS WHARTON, " "
THEODORE DWIGHT, " "
Hon. JOHN BIGLOW, " "
H. H. BOYSEN, " "
E. A. WASHBURN, " "
BAYARD TAYLOR, " "
DAVID A. WELLS, " "
Hon. T. M. COVLEY, " "
Hon. A. H. STEVENS, " "
Gen. F. A. WALKER, " "
Hon. JOHN JAY, " "
Hon. CARL SCHURZ, " "
Principal J. W. DAWSON, Canada.
WALTER DEAN, England.
CHAS. TENNYSON TURNER, England.
DEAN SMITH, of Canterbury, England.
DEAN STANLEY, of Westminster, England.
Professor WM. B. CARPENTER, England.
Professor E. H. PALMER, England.
PHILIP GILBERT HAMERTON, England.
EDWARD A. FREEMAN, England.
Prof. W. S. JEVONS, England.
THOMAS HUGHES, England.
THOMAS BRASSEY, M. P., England.
WILKIE COLLINS, England.
JAMES H. RICE, England.
Professor EDWARD LABOULAYE, France.
M. ERNEST NAVILLE, France.
M. SPULLER, Dep. France.
Pasteur EUGENE BEKLER, France.
Professor ERNST CURTIUS, Germany.
Dr. CARL ABEL, Germany.
Baron F. VON HOLTZENDORF, Germany.
Professor AUGUST VOGEL, Germany.
Professor J. E. DORNER, Germany.
Professor R. BONGHI, Italy.
Professor A. DEGUENATIS, Italy.
Princess DORA D'ISTRI, Italy.
Madame VILLARI, Italy.

NOW IS THE TIME TO SUBSCRIBE.

Price, $5.00 Per Annum.

New York: A. S. BARNES & Co.,
111 & 113 William Street.
London: TRUBNER & Co.
57 & 59 Ludgate Hill.

"Unquestionably the best sustained work of the kind in the World."

Harper's Magazine.

ILLUSTRATED.

Notices of the Press.

UNION BAKERY.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

I beg to call the attention of the public to the Union Bakery, where you will find always on hand an abundant stock of

Bread, Cake, Biscuit and Confectionery.

All orders promptly attended to. Wedding Cakes a speciality. Icing done in the neatest manner.

In addition to my Bakery, will keep a general assortment of

Groceries on Hand,

SUCH AS

Tea, Sugar, Butter, Eggs, Syrups, Vinegar, & c.,

and the general wants of the public.

Remember the place, one door east, corner of Dundas and West streets, Napanee.

25 of NEIL SHANNON.

Important Notice.

$2,000 WORTH OF
New Bankrupt Stock,

JUST ARRIVED AT

MEAGHER'S.

Come and See. We are determined to sell Cheaper than can be bought in a regular way. Our prices are far below the Wholesale Price.

GREAT BARGAINS IN

COTTON AND WINCEY SHIRTINGS.

PRINTS AT 5c. A YARD.

BARGAINS IN DRESS GOODS.

Good Black Lustres at 15c. a yard.

Boots and Shoes, Ready-made Clothing, Remarkably Cheap.

Mens' Long Boots, $1.50, Worth, $2.50.

Boys' Long Boots 70c. worth $1.50.

200 OVERCOATS,

From $5.00 to $15.00.

Every Line of Goods to be sold below Cost.

Don't fail to call and inspect before making your purchases.

25-tf MEAGHER BROS.

Land PLASTER

Now grinding and ready for use.

Superior Fine Ground

Land Plaster,

AT THE LOW RATE OF

$5 per Ton, or 25 cts. per Hundred. ALL orders left at the Mill, or at the Woollen Factory, for Williams' and Lasher's Water Lime, or Quick Lime, will be promptly attended to—Lime delivered when required. No Credit.

JAMES PERRY.

Napanee, March 5th, 1877.

46.

Crockery & Glassware

AT COST

OUR ENTIRE STOCK OF

Crockery & Glassware,

WILL BE SOLD AT

Cost and Under

FOR CASH,

As we intend going out of that line.

Call and Secure Bargains.

Cash Paid for Butter and Eggs.

SMITH & ANDERSON.

Mitchell's Belladonna Improved India Rubber Porous Plaster.

There never has been a time when the healing of so many different diseases has been caused by outward application as the present. It is an undisputed fact that over half of the entire population of the globe resort to the use of ordinary plasters.

The principal ingredients used in making these Plasters are Gum Olibanum—or better known as the Frankincense of the Bible—Rubber and Burgundy Pitch, which, when scientifically compounded, is full of electricity, and when combined with the pure medicinal gums, is found to be one of the greatest healing mediums ever brought before the human race.

They are acknowledged by all who have used them to act quicker than any other Plaster they ever before tried, and that one of these Plasters will do more real service than a hundred of the ordinary kind. All other plasters are slow of action, and require to be worn continually to effect a cure; but with these it is entirely different; the instant one is applied the patient will feel its effect.

They possess all the soothing, warming, supporting and strengthening qualities of all other Plasters. Many who have been relieved of RHEUMATISM, TIC DOLOREUX, and various other pains in the KIDNEYS, BREAST or SIDE, and believe it is solely due by the electrical qualities which the Porous Plasters contain, and which is imparted to the system, thus restoring them to a healthy condition.

They are very soft and pliable, still very adhesive, and a sure cure for WEAIR BACKS, PAINS IN THE SIDE AND BREAST; and are invaluable to those who have a COLD of long standing, and often prevents CONSUMPTION. Some even tell us they believe they were entirely cured by the use of them of a long-standing Consumption.

Prepared by GEO. E. MITCHELL, Lowell, Mass. Sold by all Druggists.

Will Cure Consumption.

TO all suffering from the following diseases a ray of hope is offered through the kindness of an missionary friend who has sent me the formula of a pure vegetable medicine which has long been used by the native medicine men of Hindostan:—for the positive and radical cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma, Catarrh, Dyspepsia, Throat, and Lung difficulty, General Debility, Loss of Manhood and all Nervous Affections, its power has been tested in hundreds of cases without a failure. I now feel it my sacred duty as far as possible to relieve human misery and will send the recipe—FREE OF CHARGE—to any person who may desire it with directions for using. Sent by return mail by addressing with 2 stamps naming this paper, Dr. O. R. Brigham, Drawer 28, Utica, N. Y.

GLOBE

Life Assurance Co.

OF NEW YORK.

Assets, - - - $5,000,000

Premium Reserve, $3,600,000

Income for Year 1876, $857,000

This company only accepts first-class risks, and is noted for the promptness with which claims are paid.

It offers insurance on the ordinary life as well as the endowment plans, besides those also known as the ten, fifteen and twenty year reserve dividend plan, by which the reserves as well as all other accumulation may be withdrawn at the time specified thereby affording a system of endowment under ordinary life rates.

See prospectus in hands of local agent

H. L. COOK,
General Agent for On
THOS. A. HUFFMAN,
Ag't. for Napanee
Napanee, 15th June, 1877.

WESTERN

ASSURANCE COMPANY

Incorporated 1851.

CAPITAL, - - - - - $800,000

With power to increase to $1,000,000.

FIRE AND MARINE.

HEAD OFFICE: Toronto, Ont.

President,
HON. JOHN MCURRICH.

CHARLES MAGRATH.

Directors.

JAS. MICHIE, Esq. NOAH BARNHART, Esq.
JOHN FISKEIN, Esq. ROBT. KEATY, Esq.
A. M. SMITH, Esq. WM. GOODERHAM, Esq.

BARNARD HILDAN, Managing Director
FRED'K G. C. LOVELACE, Secretary.
WM. BLIGHT, Fire Inspector.
JAMES PRINGLE, General Agent.

Insurance effected at the lowest current rates on Buildings, Merchandise, and other property, against loss or damage by fire.

On Hull Cargo, and Freight against the perils of Inland Navigation.

On Cargo Risks with the Maritime Provinces by sea or steam.

On Ca'goes by steamers to British Ports.

W. V. DETLOF,
Agent for Napanee

Tailoring

HAVING commenced business in the above line on my own account, directly over

Coxall & Paisley's Store,

Where I will be ready to attend to the wants of all who may favor me with a call.

Nice Samples to Select from, and Good Fit Guaranteed.

Cutting Boys' Cloths, & Ladies Jackets

A SPECIALITY.

JAS. BLAIR.

Napanee, Aug. 20th, 1877.

GOOD ADVERTISING

$3,250.40 worth of space in various newspapers distributed through thirty states, will be sold at $700 cash. Accurate insertions guaranteed.

WM. B. CARPENTER, England.
 professor E. H. PALMER, England.
 HILIP GILBERT HAMERTON, England.
 EDWARD A. FREEMAN, England.
 ROF. W. S. JEVONS, England.
 HOMAS HUGHES, England.
 HOMAS BRASSEY, M. P., England.
 ILLIE COLLINS, England.
 AMES H. RIGG, England.
 professor EDWARD LABULAYE, France.
 ERNEST NAVILLE, France.
 SPULLER, Dep. France.
 asteur EUGENE BERLIER, France.
 professor ERNEST CURTIUS, Germany.
 R. CARL ABEL, Germany.
 professor F. VON HOLTZENDORF, Germany.
 professor AUGUST VOGEL, Germany.
 professor J. E. DORNER, Germany.
 professor R. BONGHIL, Italy.
 professor A. DE GUBERNATIS, Italy.
 princess DORA D'ISTRIA, Italy.
 adame VILLARI, Italy.

OW IS THE TIME TO SUBSCRIBE.

Price, $5.00 Per Annum.
 New York: A. S. BARNES & Co.,
 111 & 113 William Street.
 London: TRUBNER & Co.,
 57 & 59 Ludgate Hill.

Unquestionably the best sustained work of the kind in the World."

Harper's Magazine.

ILLUSTRATED.

Notices of the Press.

The veteran Magazine, which long ago outgrew its original title of the New Monthly Maga- zine, has not in the least abated the popularity it on at the outset, but has added to it in many ways, and has kept fairly abreast of the times, thanks to the enterprise of the publishers and the tact and wisdom of its editors. For whatever is best and most readable in the literature of travel, discovery, and fiction, the average reader of to-day looks to Harper's Magazine, just as expectantly as did the reader of a quarter of a century ago; there is the same admirable variety of contents and the same freshness and sugges-tiveness in its editorial departments now as then.
-Boston Journal.

TERMS:

Postage free to all Subscribers in the United States.
 HARPER'S MAGAZINE, one year.....$4.00 $4.00 includes payment of U. S. postage by the publishers.

Subscriptions to HARPER'S MAGAZINE, WEEKLY, and BAZAAR, to one address for one year, $4.00;
 or, two of HARPER'S Periodical, to one address for one year, $7.00; postage free.

An Extra Copy of the MAGAZINE, WEEKLY, and BAZAAR, will be supplied gratis for every Club of FIVE SUBSCRIBERS at $4.00 each, paid for by one emittance; or, Six Copies one year, without extra copy, for $20.00.

Back Numbers can be supplied at any time.

The Volumes of the Magazine commence with the Numbers for June and December of each year. When no time is specified, it will be understood that the subscriber wishes to begin with the current Number.

A Complete set of HARPER'S MAGAZINE, now comprising 55 Volumes, in neat cloth binding, will be sent by express, freight at expense of purchaser, for $225 per volume. Single volumes, by mail, postpaid, $3.00. Cloth cases, for binding, 38 cents, by mail, postpaid.

A Complete Analytical Index to the first Fifty volumes of HARPER'S MAGAZINE has been published, rendering available for reference the vast and varied wealth of information which constitutes this periodical a perfect illustrated literary yclopedia. 8vo, Cloth, $3.00; half, $2.25.
 Sent postage prepaid.

Subscriptions received for Harper's Periodicals only.

Newspapers are not to copy this advertisement without the express order of HARPER & BROTHERS.

Address HARPER & BROTHERS, New York.

WOMAN.

By an immense practice, extending through a period of years, having within that time treated many thousand cases of those diseases peculiar to woman, I have been enabled to perfect a most potent and agreeable medicine that meets the indications presented by that class of diseases with positive certainty and exactness.

To designate this natural specific compound,
 I have named it

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

The term, however, is but a feeble expression of my high appreciation of its value, based upon my own personal observation. As a close observer, I have, while witnessing its positive results in the few special diseases incident to the female organism of woman, singled it out as the climax of a growing era of my medical career. On its merits, as a positive, safe, and effectual remedy for this class of diseases, and one that will, at all times and under all circumstances, act kindly and in harmony with the laws which govern the female system, I am willing to stake my reputation as a physician. Nay, even more, so confident am I that it will not disappoint the most sanguine expectations of a single invalid lady who uses it for any of the ailments for which I recommend it that I offer and sell it under A POSITIVE GUARANTEE. If a beneficial effect is not

200 OVERCOATS,

From $5.00 to $15.00.

Every Line of Goods to be sold below
 Cost.

Don't fail to call and inspect before making
 your purchases.
 25-26 MEAGHER BROS.

Land PLASTER

Now grinding and ready for use.

Superior Fine Ground

Land Plaster,

AT THE LOW RATE OF

$5 per Ton, or 25 cts. per Hundred.
 ALL orders left at the Mill, or at the Woollen Factory, for Williams' and Lasher's Water Lime, or Quick Lime, will be promptly attended to - Lime delivered when required. No Credit.

JAMES PERRY.
 Napanee, March 5th, 1877. 46.

1823. SEND FOR 1878

New York Observer

The Best Religious and Secular Family Newspaper. $3.15 a Year, post-paid.
 Established 1823.

37 PARK ROW, NEW YORK.
 22. SAMPLE COPIES FREE.

GRACE'S SALVE.

A Vegetable Preparation, invented in the 17th century by Dr. Wm. Grace, Surgeon in King
 James' army. Through its agency he cured
 thousands of the most serious sores and wounds,
 and was regarded by all who knew him as a public benefactor of his country. For sale by druggists generally.

AGENTS WANTED.

Address BETH-W. FOWLE & SONS, Boston
 Mass. 22

PULMONA

is beyond comparison the best remedy for the cure of CONSUMPTION (EVEN IN ITS ADVANCED STAGES), Asthma, Bronchitis, Catarrh, and all derangements of the NERVOUS SYSTEM. A circular containing PARTICULARS of many CASES SUCCESSFULLY TREATED, full advice for the treatment of the diseases above mentioned, and certificates of actual cures, will be sent free by mail to all applicants. Address OSWALD G.
 MOSES, Sole Proprietor, 18 Cortlandt Street,
 New York. 22.

FARM FOR SALE.

FARM of 175 Acres, the most desirable property in the County of Northumberland, for Sale. Being all that portion of lot No. 34 in Concession A, of the Village and Township of Brighton, lying North of the old Kingston Road, and only quarter of a mile from the P. O. and the centre of the village. Upon the premises are good brick and wooden buildings; a large orchard of young and bearing trees;
 a beautiful grove of pine and hardwood timber; spring creeks, and other advantages which rendered it desirable. Also several other good Farms and Village Properties for sale.

L. O. PROCTOR.
 7-1644 Brighton.

F. BEZO'S

RESTAURANT,

(Opposite the Tichborne House.)

Meals or lunch can be obtained on most reasonable terms. Board by the day or week.

FRUIT OR GROCERIES

Toys and Fancy Goods, and

D. D. MALLORY, CELEBRATED OYSTERS,
 Best in the Market.

25-26 F. BEZO.

CATARRH

ion, and require to be worn continually to effect a cure; but with these it is entirely different; the instant one is applied the patient will feel its effect.

They possess all the soothing, warming, supporting and strengthening qualities of all other Plasters. Many who have been relieved of RHEUMATISM, TIC DOLOREUX, and various other pains in the KIDNEYS, BREAST, or SIDE, and believe it is solely done by the electrical qualities which the Porous Plasters contain, and which is imparted to the system, thus restoring them to a healthy condition.

They are very soft and pliable, still very adhesive, and a sure cure for WEAK BACKS, PAINS IN THE SIDE AND BREAST; and are invaluable to those who have a COLD of long standing, and often prevents CONSUMPTION.
 Some even tell us they believe they were entirely cured by the use of them of a long-seated Consumption.

Prepared by GEO. E. MITCHELL, Lowell,
 Mass. Sold by all Druggists. 19-21

Will Cure Consumption.

TO all suffering from the following diseases a ray of hope is offered through the kindness of a missionary friend who has sent me the formula of a pure vegetable medicine which has long been used by the native medicine men of Hindostan—for the positive and radical cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma, Catarrh, Dys-
 pnoea, Throat and Lung difficulty, General Debility, Loss of Manhood and all Nervous Affections. The power has been seen in hundreds of cases without a failure. I now feel it my sacred duty as far as possible to relieve human misery
 and will send the recipe—FREE OF CHARGE—to any person who may desire it with directions for using. Sent by return mail by addressing with 2 stamps naming this paper, Dr. O. R. Brigham,
 Drawer 28, Utica, N. Y. 19-21

THE GREAT CAUSE OF HUMAN MISERY.

WE have recently published a new edition of Dr. Culvertwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical and permanent cure (without medicine) of Nervous Debility, Mental and Physical Impairment, Impediments to Marriage, etc., resulting from excesses.

Price, in a sealed envelope, only 6 cents, or two postage stamps.

The celebrated author, of this admirable Essay clearly demonstrates, from thirty years' successful practice, that alarming consequence may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual; by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

This Lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land.

Address
 THE CULVERTWELL MEDICAL CO.,
 41 Ann St., New York.
 Office Box 4586 45-47.

$777

It is not easily earned in these times, but it can be made in three months by any one of either sex, in any part of the country who is willing to work steadily at the employment that we furnish, $6 per week in your own town. You need not be away from home over night. You can give your whole time to the work or only your spare moments. We have agents who are making over $20 per day.
 All who engage at once can make money fast.
 At the present time money cannot be made so easily and rapidly at any other business. It costs nothing to try the business. Terms and full particulars free. Address at once, H. HALLETT &
 Co., Portland, Maine. 22.

On Hull Cargo, and Freight against the perils
 of Inland Navigation.

On Cargo Risks with the Maritime Provinces
 by sail or steam.

On Cargo goes by steamers to British Ports.
 W. V. DETLOR,
 Agent for Napanee

Tailoring!

HAVING commenced business in the above
 line on my own account, directly over

Coxall & Paisley's Store,
 Where I will be ready to attend to the wants of all who may favor me with a call.

Nice Samples to Select from, and Good
 Fit Guaranteed.
 Cutting Boys' Cloths, & Ladies Jackets

A SPECIALITY.

JAS. BLAIR.

Napanee, Aug. 20th, 1877. 18-6m

GOOD ADVERTISING

$3,250,40 worth of space in various newspapers distributed through thirty states, will be sold for $700 cash. Accurate insertions guaranteed. A list of papers giving daily and weekly circulation and printed schedule of rates, sent free on application to GEO. P. ROWELL & Co., Newspaper Advertising Agents, No. 41 Park W, New York. 31-17

NOTICE is hereby given, that on and after the 1st day of July next, Shippers or Exporters of goods by Vessel, Railway, or any other conveyance to any country or place, outside of the Dominion of Canada, must make export entries verified by oath at the Custom House, with particulars of quantity and value, under a penalty not exceeding $200, and no clearance will be granted to any vessel until the said entries are made and verified.

J. BENSON, Collector.
 Custom House, Napanee June 25th, 1877.

PHOSFOZOE,

For Stomach Complaints, General Weakness and Pulmonary Affections.

Messrs. Evans, Mercer & Co.:—DEAR SIRS,—I can confidently recommend PHOSFOZONE, and find my customers speak very highly of its merits.
 J. A. HARTE, Chemist.
 Notre Dame Street, Montreal.

SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

Splendid! Splendid!!

BUY THE BEST!

"SPLENDID" COAL STOVE

FINEST PARLOR STOVE

EVER INVENTED.

Is beyond all question the most Perfect and the

It is the Most Powerful Heater.

It is the Most Economical in Fuel.

It is the Only Stove having a Suspend Sectional FIRE POT.

It is the only Stove that does not have to be dismantled to put in a new Fire Pot.

any day; there is the same admirable variety of contents and the same freshness and suggestiveness in its editorial departments now as then. Boston Journal.

TERMS:

Take free to all Subscribers in the United States.
HARPER'S MAGAZINE, one year, $4.00.
$0.00 includes payment of U. S. postage by the publishers.
Subscriptions to HARPER'S MAGAZINE, WEEKLY, BAZAAR, to one address for one year, $4.00; two of Harper's Periodical, to one address one year, $7.00; postage free.
An Extra Copy of the MAGAZINE, WEEKLY, or BAZAAR will be supplied gratis for every Club of 10 Subscribers at $4.00 each, paid for by one titance; or, Six Copies one year, without extra copy, for $20.00.
Back Numbers can be supplied at any time.

10 Volumes of the Magazine commence with Numbers for June and December of each year. When no time is specified, it will be understood that the subscriber wishes to begin at the current Number.

Complete sets of HARPER'S MAGAZINE, now printing 55 Volumes, in neat cloth binding, to be sent by express, freight at expense of subscriber, for $2.25 per volume. Single volumes, by mail, postpaid, $0.30. Cloth cases, for bind-55 cents, by mail, postpaid.

Complete Analytical Index to the first Fifty Volumes of HARPER'S MAGAZINE has been published, rendering available for reference the vast wealth of information which constitutes this periodical in a perfect illustration of literary opulence. 8vo, Cloth, $3.00; half, $2.50. Postage prepaid.

Subscriptions received for Harper's Periodical only.

Newspapers are not to copy this advertisement, but the express order of HARPER & BROTHERS.

Address HARPER & BROTHERS, New York.

WOMAN.

By an immense practice, extending through a host of years, having within that time treated my thousand cases of those diseases peculiar woman, I have been enabled to perfect a potent and agreeable medicine that meets indications presented by that class of diseases with positive certainty and exactness. To designate this natural specific compound, we named it

Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

The term, however, is but a feeble expression of my high appreciation of its value, based upon my own personal observation. As a close observer, I have, while witnessing its positive results in the few special diseases incident to the female organism of woman, singled it out as the climax or crowning gem of my medical career. On its merits, as a positive, safe, and effective remedy for this class of diseases, and one that will, at all times and under all circumstances, act kindly and in harmony with the laws which govern the female form, I am willing to stake my reputation as a physician. Nay, excessive more, so confident am I that it will not disappoint the most sanguine expectations of a single invalid lady who uses it, that I offer and sell it under a POSITIVE GUARANTEE. If a beneficial effect is not experienced by the time two-thirds of the contents of the bottle are used, I will, on return of bottle, two-thirds of the medicine having been taken according to directions, and the case one for which I recommend it, promptly refund the money paid for it. Had I not the perfect confidence in its virtues, I could not offer it as I do under these conditions; but having witnessed its truly miraculous cures in thousands of cases, I feel warranted and rightly satisfied in risking both my reputation and my money on its merits.

The following are among those diseases in which my Favorite Prescription has effected cures, as if by magic, and with a certainty never before attained by any medicine: Excessive Flowing, Painful Monthly Periods, Suppressions when from natural causes, Irregularities, Weak Back, Protrusion, or falling of the Uterus, Anterior and Posterior, Bearing Down Sensations, Inter-Hemorrhoids, Nervous Depression, Debility, Dependence, Threatened Miscarriage, Chronic Inflammation and Ulceration of the Uterus, Impotency, Barrenness, or Sterility, Female Weakness, and very many other chronic cases incident to woman not mentioned here. All affections of this nature, my Favorite Prescription works cures—the marvel of the world. This medicine I do not extol as a palliative, but it admirably fulfills a single purpose, being a most perfect specific in all chronic diseases of the sexual system of woman. It will not disappoint, nor will it harm, in any state or condition.

Those who desire further information on the subjects can obtain it in THE PEOPLE'S MEDICAL SENSE MEDICAL ADVISER, a book over 500 pages, sent, post-paid, on receipt of 15 cents. It treats minutely of those diseases peculiar to females, and gives much valuable information in regard to the management of those diseases.

FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION SOLD ALL DRUGGISTS.

R. V. PIERCE, M. D., Prop'r,
BUFFALO, N. Y.

37 PARK ROW, NEW YORK.
22. SAMPLE COPIES FREE.

GRACE'S SALVE.

A Vegetable Preparation, invented in the 17th century by Dr. Win. Grace, Surgeon in King James' army. Through the agency he cured thousands of the most serious sores and wounds, and was regarded by all who knew him as a public benefactor. 25c. a box, by mail 30c. For sale by druggists generally.

AGENTS WANTED.

Address BETH W. FOWLE & SONS, Boston Mass.

PULMONA

is beyond comparison the best remedy for the cure of CONSUMPTION (EVEN IN ITS ADVANCED STAGES), Asthma, Bronchitis, Catarrh, and all derangements of the NERVOUS SYSTEM. A circular containing PARTICULARS of MANY CASES SUCCESSFULLY TREATED, full advice for the treatment of the diseases above mentioned, and certificates of actual cures, will be sent free by mail to all applicants. Address OSCAR G. MOSES, Sole Proprietor, 18 Cortlandt Street, New York.

FARM FOR SALE.

FARM of 175 Acres, the most desirable property in the County of Northumberland, for Sale. Being all that portion of lot No. 34 in Concession A, of the Village and Township of Brighton, lying North of the old Kingston Road, and only quarter of a mile from the P. O. and the centre of the village. Upon the premises are good brick and wooden buildings; a large orchard of young and bearing trees; a beautiful grove of pine and hardwood timber; spring creeks, and other advantages which rendered it desirable. Also several other good Farms and Village Properties for sale.

I. O. PROCTOR.
7-ft-4d Brighton.

F. BEZO'S RESTAURANT,

(Opposite the Tichenborne House.)

Meals or lunch can be obtained on most reasonable terms. Board by the day or week.

FRUIT OR GROCERIES

Toys and Fancy Goods, and D. D. MALLORY'S CELEBRATED OYSTERS, Best in the Market.

25-ft. F. BEZO.

CATARRH

CANNOT be cured by Snuffs, Washes, or Local Applications. Thousands of cases, some of forty years standing, have been entirely cured by COVERT'S PATENT CATARRH REMEDY. For Sale in all druggists. Send stamp for Treatise on Catarrh to

T. J. B. HARDING, BROOKVILLE, OHIO.

Five Years' Sicknes cured by Four Bottles of Constitutional Catarrh Remedy. Pain in Shoulders, Back and Lungs, and Droppings in Throat Disappear.

ST. ARMAND, P. Q., Sept. 12, 1876.

Mr. T. J. B. HARDING, Sir:—Being desirous that others may know something of the merits of your Constitutional Catarrh Remedy, I wish to inform you what it has done for me. I am 52 years old, had been out of health for about five years. I had employed three or four different doctors, and tried various medicines, without receiving any permanent benefit, but continued rather to grow worse, until last fall, when I had become so bad as to be unable to do an hour's work at a time. Had severe soreness and pain under the shoulder blades and through the shoulders, with very lame back, and a feeling in my right lung as though there was a weight bearing it down, with continual droppings in the throat, and down upon the lungs. Such was my condition when I commenced to take your Catarrh Remedy one bottle of which relieved my pains and gave me an improved appetite, and after taking four bottles I was restored to health, so as to be able to secure hard and continued labor, such as chopping and clearing land, at which I have been engaged the past season. My recovery I attribute solely to your Catarrh Remedy. I enclose you your Catarrh Remedy. Yours truly, HENRY AN. TARK NO OTHER.

Consumption Cured.

AN OLD PHYSICIAN, retired from active practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India Missionary the formula of a Vegetable Remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of CONSUMPTION ASTHMA BRONCHITIS CATARRH and all Throat and Lung Affections; also a Positive and Radical Cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Complaints, after having thoroughly tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, feels it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellow-men. Actuated by this motive, and a conscientious desire to relieve human suffering, he will send a FREE OF CHARGE, to all who desire it, this remedy, with full directions for preparing and successfully using same. Sent by return mail at addressing with stamp, naming this paper.

DR. C. STEVENS,
Box 65, Brookville, Ont.

two postage stamps. The celebrated author, of this admirable Essay clearly demonstrates, from thirty years' successful practice, that alarming consequence may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual; by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

This Lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land.

THE CULVERTWELL MEDICAL CO.,
Office Box 4586 11 Ann St., New York 45-ly.

$777

is not easily earned in these times, but it can be made in three months by any one of either sex, in any part of the country who is willing to work steadily at the employment that we furnish. $8 per week in your own town. You need not be away from home over night. You can give your whole time to the work or only your spare moments. We have agents who are making over $20 per day. All who engage at once can make money fast. At the present time money cannot be made so easily and rapidly at any other business. It costs nothing to try the business. Terms and 25 Outfit free. Address at once, H. HALLLEY & Co., Portland, Maine.

NOTICE is hereby given, that on and after the 1st day of July next, Shippers or Exporters of goods, by Vessel, Railway, or any other conveyance to any country or place, outside of the Dominion of Canada, must make export entries verified by oath at the Custom House, with particulars of quantity and value, under a penalty not exceeding $200, and no clearance will be granted to any vessel until the said entries are made and verified.

J. BENSON, Collector.
Custom House, Napanee June 25th, 1877.

PHOSFOZOE,

For Stomach Complaints, General Weakness and Pulmonary Affections.

Messrs. Evans, Mercer & Co.—DEAR SIRS,—I can confidently recommend PHOSFOZONE, and find my customers speak very highly of its merits. J. A. HARTE, Chemist.
Notre Dame Street, Montreal.

SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

Splendid! Splendid!!

BUY THE BEST!

"SPLENDID" COAL STOVE

It is beyond all question the best Perfect and the

FINEST PARLOR STOVE

EVEN INVENTED.

It is the Most Powerful Heater.
It is the Most Economical in Fuel.
It is the Only Stove having a Suspend Sectional FIRE POT.

It is the only Stove that does not have to be dismantled to put in a new Fire Pot.

It is the only stove having a Portable Oven, enabling any party to have an oven put on or taken off at any time without alteration to the stove.

The "SPLENDID" has many other points of excellence not possessed by any other Stove, which cannot be given in a short advertisement.

We hope every person wanting a new Stove will call and see the "SPLENDID" before purchasing.

WRIGHT & Co.

MONEY TO LOAN.

We have received instructions from England, to Lend a large amount of Money,

AT LOWER RATES THAN HAS YET BEEN OFFERED.

CALL IN AND EXAMINE RATES.

NO COMMISSION CHARGED.

WILLIAMS & HOOPER.

IV. 16. 1877.

ery & Glassware

AT COST

OUR ENTIRE STOCK OF

ery & Glassware,

WILL BE SOLD AT

t and Under

R CASH,

Intend going out of that line.

and Secure Bargains.

Paid for Butter and Eggs.

SMITH & ANDERSON.

Belladonna Improved India Rubber Porous Plaster.

er has been a time when the healing different diseases has been caused by plication as the present. It is an un- st that over half of the entire popula globe resort to the use of ordinary ing ingredients used in making these Gum Olibanum—or better known as cense of the Bible—Rubber and Burh, which, when scientifically com- full of electricity, and when combin- medicinal gums, is found to be entest healing medium ever brought human race.

acknowledged by all who have used quicker than any other Plaster they tried, and that one of these Plasters real service than a hundred of the id. All other plasters are slow of ac- ure to be worn continually to effect with these it is entirely different; the is applied the patient will feel its ef-ess all the soothing, warming, sup- strengthening qualities of all other. Many who have been relieved of ISM TICDOLOREUX, and various in the KIDNEYS, BREAST or SIDE, it is solely done by the electrical rich the Porous Plasters contain, and parted to the system, thus restoring healthy condition.

very soft and pliable, still very ad- a sure cure for WEAK BACKS, THE SIDE AND BREAST; and are to those who have a COLD of long id often prevents CONSUMPTION. tell us they believe they were entire- the use of them of them of a long- sumption.

by GEO. E. MITCHELL, Lowell, 11 Druggists. 19-v1

Cure Consumption.

tering from the following diseases a hope is offered through the kindness ary friend who has sent me the for- ure vegetable medicine which has sed by the native medicine men of —for the positive and radical cure of on, Bronchitis, Asthma, Catarrh, Dys- out and Lung difficulty, General De- of Manhood and all Nervous Affec- over has been tested in hundreds of out a failure. I now feel it my sacred as possible to relieve human misery ad the recipe. FREE OF CHARGE to who may desire it with directions for it by return mail by addressing with 2 aining this paper, Dr. O. R. Brigham, Utica, N. Y. 19-1y.

HEAT CAUSE OF HUMAN

GLOBE

Life Assurance Co.

OF NEW YORK.

Assets, - - - $5,000,000
Premium Reserve, $3,600,000
Income for Year 1876, $857,000

This company only accepts first-class risks, and is noted for the promptness with which claims are paid.

It offers insurance on the ordinary life as well as the endowment plans, besides those also known as the ten, fifteen and twenty-year reserve dividend plan, by which the reserves as well as all other accumulations may be withdrawn at the time specified, thereby affording a system of endowment under ordinary life rates.

See prospectus in hands of local agents.

H. L. COOK,
General Agent for Ont.
THOS. A. HUFFMAN,
Agt. for Napanee
Napanee, 15th June, 1877. 8-1f.

WESTERN ASSURANCE COMPANY

Incorporated 1851.

CAPITAL, - - - - - $800,000
With power to increase to $1,000,000.

FIRE AND MARINE.

HEAD OFFICE: Toronto, Ont.

P. sidnt.
HON. JOHN McMURRICH.
CHARLES MAGRATH.

Directors.

JAS. MICHIE, Esq. NOAH BARNHART, Esq.
JOHN FISKIN, Esq. ROBT. KEATY, Esq.
A. M. SMITH, Esq. WM. GOODERHAM, Esq.

BARNARD HILDAN, Managing Director
FRED'K G. C. LOVELACE, Secretary.
WM. BLIGHT, Fire Inspector.
JAMES PRINGLE, General Agent.

Insurance effected at the lowest current rates on Buildings, Merchandise, and other property, against loss or damage by fire.

On Hull Cargo, and Freight against the perils of Inland Navigation.

On Cargo Risks with the Maritime Provinces by sail or steam.

On Cargoes by steamers to British Ports.
W. V. DETLOR,
Agent for Napanee

Tailoring

HAVING commenced business in the above line on my own account, directly over

Coxall & Paisley's Store,

Where I will be ready to attend to the wants of all who may favor me with a call.

Nice Samples to Select from, and Good Fit Guaranteed.

Cutting Boys' Cloths, & Ladies Jackets

A SPECIALITY.

JAS. BLAIR.

Napanee, Aug. 20th, 1877. 18-6m

GOOD ADVERTISING

$3,250.40 worth of space in various newspapers distributed through thirty states, will be sold for $700 cash. Accurate insertions guaranteed. A list of papers giving daily and weekly circulation and printed schedule of rates, sent free on application to GEO. P. ROWELL & Co. News.

JUST ARRIVED,

—AT—

ROSE & FRALICK'S,

IN THE PERRY BLOCK,

100 CASES of NEW BOOTS & SHOES,

THE BEST AND CHEAPEST IN TOWN.

Come and See Them, as We will not be Undersold.

—o—

ALSO A FULL ASSORTMENT OF

New Hats, Caps, Clothing, Gents' Furnishings, &c.

—o—

BOOTS MADE TO ORDER

ROSE & FRALICK.

21-y1.

A SPECULATION!

—o—

During the dull summer months, the undersigned will sell Furniture, Chairs, &c., at greatly reduced Prices, for Cash or Good Notes.

J. GIBBARD & SON.

alladonna Improved India
er Porous Plaster.

as been a time when the healing rent diseases has been caused by tion as the present. It is an un-at over half of the entire populae resort to the use of ordinary ingredients used in making these in Oilbanum—or better known as se of the Bible—Rubber and Bur-zhich, when scientifically com-of electricity, and when combin-medicinal gums, is found to be est healing medium ever brought an race.

nowledged by all who have used cker than any other Plaster they d, and that one of these Plasters d service than a hundred of the All other plasters are slow of act-to be worn continually to effect these it is entirely different; the plied the patient will feel its ef-

all the soothing, warming, supngthening qualities of all other y who have been relieved of
C. TIC DOLOREUX, and various be KIDNEYS, BREAST or SIDE, s solely done by the electrical the Porous Plasters contain, and ted to the system, thus restoring by condition.

ys soft and pliable, still very ad-
sure cure for WEAK BACKS, SIDE AND BREAST; and are ose who have a COLD of long
ften prevents CONSUMPTION. us they believe they were entire-use of them of them of a longption.

GEO. E. MITCHELL, Lowell, uggists. 19-11

are Consumption.

ng from the following diseases a is offered through the kindness friend who has sent me the for-vegetable medicine which has by the native medicine men of or the positive and radical cure of Bronchitis, Asthma, Catarrh, Dys-and Lung difficulty. General Debilitated and all Nervous Affec-has been tested in hundreds of failure. I now feel it my sacred ossible to relieve human misery he recipe. PRICE OF CHANGE—to o may desire it with directions for return mail by addressing with 2
g this paper, Dr. O. R. Brigham, a, N. Y. 19-1y.

CAUSE OF HUMAN ERY.

cently published a new edition Ivertwell's Celebrated Es-tical and permanent cure (with-of Nervous Debility, Mental and acety, Impediments to Marriage, roun excesses.

a sealed envelope, only 6 cents, or amps.
d author, of this admirable Esonstrates, from thirty years' exe, that alarming consequence ly cured without the dangerous medicine or the application of ting out a mode of cure at once and effectual; by means of which no matter what his condition may nself cheaply, privately and raditure should be in the hands of d every man in the land.

ERTWELL MEDICAL CO.,
11 Ann St., New York.
586 45-1y.

is not easily earned in these times, but it can be made in three months by any one
of either sex, in any part of
the country who is willing to work steadily at the en-we furnish. $50 per week in
c. You need not be away from
it. You can give your whole time only your spare moments. We are making over $20 per day at once can make money fast.
time money cannot be made so lily at any other business. It o try the business. Terms and Address at once, H. HALLETT & Maupe 22.

endid! Splendid!!

BUY THE BEST!

THE PLENDID" COAL STOVE

Is beyond a question the best Perfect and the

HEAD OFFICE: Toronto, Ont.

P sident.
HON. JOHN McMURRICH.

CHARLES MAGRATH.

Directors.

JAS. MICHIE, Esq. NOAH BARNHART, Esq.
JOHN FISKIN, Esq. ROBT. BEATY, Esq.
A. M. SMITH, Esq. WM. GOODERHAM, Esq.

BARNARD HILDAN, Managing Director
FRED'K G. C. LOVELACE, Secretary.
WM. BLIGHT, Fire Inspector.
JAMES PRINGLE, General Agent.
Marine Inspector.

Insurance effected at the lowest current
rates on Buildings, Merchandise, and other property, against loss or damage by fire.

On Hull Cargo, and Freight against the perils
of Inland Navigation.

On Cargo Risks with the Maritime Provinces
by sail or steam.

On Cargoes by steamers to British Ports.
W. V. DETLOR,
Agent for Napanee

Tailoring!

HAVING commenced business in the above
line on my own account, directly over

Coxall & Paisley's Store,

Where I will be ready to attend to the wants of
all who may favor me with a call.

Nice Samples to Select from, and Good
Fit Guaranteed.

Cutting Boys' Cloths, & Ladies Jackets

A SPECIALITY.

JAS. BLAIR.

Napanee, Aug. 29th, 1877. 18-6m

GOOD ADVERTISING

$3,250.40 worth of space in various newspapers distributed through thirty states, will be sold for $700 cash. Accurate insertions guaranteed. A set of papers giving daily and weekly circulation
and printed schedule of rates, sent free on application to GEO. P. ROWELL & Co., New-paper Advertising Agents, No. 41 Park w, New York. 31-1y.

NOTICE is hereby given, that on and after the 1st day of July next, Shippers or Exporters
of goods, by Vessel, Railway, or any other conveyance to any country or place, outside of the Dominion of Canada, must make export entries
verified by oath at the Custom House, with particulars of quantity and value, under a penalty
not exceeding $200, and no clearance will be granted to any vessel until the said entries are
made and verified.

J. BENSON, Collector.

Custom House, Napanee June 25th, 1877.

PHOSFOZOE,

For Stomach Complaints, General Weakness and Pulmonary Affections.

Messrs. Evans, Mercer & Co.—DEAR SIRS,—I can confidently recommend PHOSFOZONE, and
find my customers speak very highly of its merits.
J. A. HARTE, Chemist.
Notre Dame Street, Montreal.

SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

A SPECULATION!

During the dull summer
months, the undersigned will sell Furniture, Chairs,
&c., at greatly reduced
Prices, for Cash or Good
Notes.

J. GIBBARD & SON.

S. G. BEATTY & Co.,

BELLEVILLE, - - Ontario.

S. G. BEATTY. W. R. ROBINSON. J. W. JOHNSON.

Ontario Business College,

Which has been in existence for 10 years, and, during which time

Has Trained Hundreds of Young Men

For Business Life, who are now filling important positions in the community, offers advantages
for obtaining a

COMMERCIAL EDUCATION,

Equal to any Institution in Canada, or the United States. Its several departments are conducted by thoroughly competent men who teach that which they have learned by actual business experience, and therefore practically understand.

THE PUBLICATIONS OF THE COLLEGE:

The "Canadian Accountant," "Joint Stock Company Book Keeping," "Beatty's Guide to Elegant
Writing, etc., have obtained a National reputation, and are the productions of the principals of the College, who are daily engaged, together with their staff of teachers, in the Class and Lecture
Rooms, College Bank, and Merchants Emporium with the Students.

THE COURSE IS SHORT,

because the teaching is thorough and practical, and no pains are spared to give to each student individually, as well as to the various classes, the personal attention of the teachers.

GOOD BOARD

can be obtained in Belleville at a lower rate than in any other place having a Business College in Canada or the United States.

For The College Journal, containing full information respecting terms, nature of course, etc.,
and specimens of penmanship, sent free on application.

Address, S. G. BEATTY & Co.,
BELLEVILLE, ONTARIO.

Belleville, September 1877.

19-6m.

ured without the dangerous decline or the application of outa mode of cure at once effected by means of which after what this condition may be cheaply, privately and radishould be in the hands of very man in the land.

TWELF MEDICAL CO.,
 11 Ann St., New York.
 45-ly.

is not easily carried in these times, but it can be made
 in three months by any one
 of either sex, in any part of
 the country who is willing to work steadily at the en-furnish. $85 per week in on need not be away from You can give your whole time your spare moments. We making over $20 per day.
 once can make money fast.
 money cannot be made so at any other business. It y the business. Terms and dress at once, H. HALLETT & 42.

of goods, by vessel, railway, or any other con-voyance to any country or place, outside of the Dominion of Canada, must make export entries
 verified by oath at the Custom House, with particulars of quantity and value, under a penalty
 not exceeding $200, and no clearance will be granted to any vessel until the said entries are
 made and verified.

J. BENSON, Collector.
 Custom House, Napanee June 25th, 1877.

PHOSFOZOE,

For Stomach Complaints, General Weakness and Pulmonary Affections.

Messrs. Evans, Mercer & Co.:—DEAR SIRS,—I can confidently recommend PHOSFOZONE, and
 find my customers speak very highly of its merits.
 J. A. HARTE, Chemist.
 Notre Dame Street, Montreal.

SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

S. G. BEATTY & Co.,

BELLEVILLE, - - Ontario.

S. G. BEATTY. W. R. ROBINSON. J. W. JOHNSON.

Ontario Business College,

Which has been in existence for 10 years, and, during which time

Has Trained Hundreds of Young Men

For Business Life, who are now filling important positions in the community, offers advantages
 for obtaining a

COMMERCIAL EDUCATION,

Equal to any Institution in Canada, or the United States. Its several departments are conducted by thoroughly competent men who teach that which they have learned by actual business experience, and therefore practically understand.

THE PUBLICATIONS OF THE COLLEGE :

The "Canadian Accountant," "Joint Stock Company Book Keeping," "Beatty's Guide to Elegant
 Writing, etc., have obtained a National reputation, and are the productions of the principals of the College, who are daily engaged, together with their staff of teachers, in the Class and Lecture
 Rooms, College Bank, and Merchants Emporium with the Students.

THE COURSE IS SHORT,

because the teaching is thorough and practical, and no pains are spared to give to each student individually, as well as to the various classes, the personal attention of the teachers.

GOOD BOARD

can be obtained in Belleville at a lower rate than in any other place having a Business College in Canada or the United States.

1. The College Journal, containing full information respecting terms, nature of course, etc.,
 and specimens of penmanship, sent free on application.

Address. S. G. BEATTY & Co.,
BELLEVILLE, ONTARIO.

Belleville, September 1877.

19-6m.

ndid ! Splendid !!

UY THE BEST !

THE LENDID" COAL STOVE

Is beyond all question the cost Perfect and the

INEST PARLOR STOVE

EVER INVENTED.

is the Most Powerful Heater. is the Most Economical in Fuel.
 is the Only Stove having a Suspend Sectional FIRE is the only Stove that does not have to be dismantled new Fire Pot.

is the only stove having a Portable Oven, enabling to have an oven put on or taken off at any time relation to the stove.

"SPLENDID" has many other points of excellence ed by any other Stove, which cannot be given in a tisement.

pe every person wanting a new Stove will call and
 "PLENDID" before purchasing.

WRIGHT & Co.

MONEY TO LOAN.

received instructions from England, to Lend a large amount of Money,

R RATES THAN HAS YET BEEN OFFERED.

CALL IN AND EXAMINE RATES.

COMMISSION CHARGED.

WILLIAMS & HOOPER.

SPECIAL NOTICE !

THE SUBSCRIBER IS NOW PREPARED TO Manufacture and Furnish

AT SHORT NOTICE,

EAVETROUGHING AND PIPING,

AND

All kinds of Ware in my Line

ALSO REPAIRING ALL KINDS OF COPPER AND TINWARE.

HAVE IN STOCK A GOOD ASSORTMENT OF

Cooking Stoves, Sinks, Cistern Pumps,

LEAD PIPE AND ZINC.

PLOWS AND PLOW-SHEARS A SPECIALITY.

Give me a Call before purchasing elsewhere, as you will get good value for your money.

H. BOYLE, Agt.

Napanee, July 5th,

Wm. Miller's Old Stand.

THE "EXPRESS."

NEXT week we purpose inaugurating several needed changes in the dress and make up of the newspaper, which, together with personal supervision of the selection of the week's news and a fearless dealing with the political questions of the day, will make the "Express" a necessity in every family.

AGENTS

Will probably canvass the county during the next two months.

Business Cards.

Alex. C. Davis,
ISSUER of Marriage Licenses, Napanee (Ontario)

James Aylsworth,
ISSUER of Marriage Licenses, Tamworth.

S. D. Clarke,
ISSUER of Marriage Licenses, Odessa, Ontario.

J. J. Watson,
ISSUER of Marriage Licenses and Certificates, Adolphustown.

Peter E. R. Miller,
ISSUER of Marriage Licenses, Switzerville Ont.

Robert Graham,
ISSUER of Marriage Licenses. Office in the Dominion Store, Enterprise.

Charles Lane,
ISSUER of Marriage Licenses and Certificates. Office—Front of Grammar School, Bridge Street, Napanee.

J. B. Rahdall,
ISSUER of Marriage Licenses and Certificates. Also Agent for the Beaver and Toronto Fire Insurance Company and the Mutual Life Association of Canada. Residence—Shannonville, Ont.

Murphy & Bedford,
BARRISTERS, &c., MILL POINT.
Money to lend on improved Real Estate.

E. B. Stone,
BARRISTER, Attorney at Law, Solicitor in Chancery, etc. OFFICE—Grange Block, Dundas St.

Deroche & Madden,
BARRISTERS and Attorneys-at-Law, Solicitor in Chancery, Conveyancers, Notaries Public, etc. OFFICE—In Grange Block, Napanee. Money to loan on easy terms.
H. M. DEROCHE. J. H. MADDEN.

S. Gibson,
BARRISTER, Attorney-at-Law, Solicitor in Chancery and Insolvency, Notary Public, etc. OFFICE—Grange Block—John Street, Napanee.

R. Tracy, M. D.,
BELLEVILLE,
PHYSICIAN, Surgeon and Accoucheur Office and Residence, two doors east from the Bank of Montreal, near the Congregational Church, Hotel St. 39

Reeve & Morden,
BARRISTERS and Attorneys-at-Law Solicitors in Chancery, Conveyancers, etc. OFFICE—Perry's New Block Dundas Street, Napanee, Ontario.
W. A. REEVE, M. A., L. MORDEN.
Co. Crown Attorney.

E. A. Deroche,
OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE, under New Act of 1875.

Napanee

W. C. SCOTT, Editor.)

"THE GREATEST GO"

VOL. 16.

NAPANEE, ONT., F

NAPANEE TICKET AGENCY.

Grand Trunk Railway Tickets for sale at
Grange & Bro's Drug Store,
For all stations east and west. American money taken at par, from Napanee to Milwaukee, Chicago, St. Louis, Omaha, San Francisco &c., to all Lake Ports. Passengers purchasing tickets from the undersigned avoid the double and delay of exchanging tickets and re-checking baggage to Toronto. Cheapest route to the west. Return tickets to Kingston, Belleville, Toronto, Montreal, Portland etc. For further particulars apply at GRANGE & BRO'S Exchange Office, Passenger Agent G. T. R. Uncurrent money ought and sold.

THE PRINCE EDWARD COUNTY MUTUAL FIRE INSURANCE CO.

HEAD OFFICE—PICTON, ONT.
(Established 30th Sept., 1854).

PRESIDENT—STEPHEN B. HUBBS,
VICE-PRESIDENT—JOHN PRINYER.
MANAGER AND INSPECTOR—L. B. STINSON.

SECRETARY—JOHN TWIGG.
TREASURER—PHILIP LOW, Q. C.
SOLICITOR—W. H. R. ALLISON
DIRECTORS—STEPHEN B. HUBBS, JNO. PRINYER, JOHN VANALSTINE, LEWIS B. STINSON, W. BOULTER, ADAM H. SAYLOR, and JAMES CALNAN, Esqs.

HONORARY DIRECTORS.—G. Striker, Esq. M. P. P., Picton; R. Clapp, Esq., Milford; K. Graham, Esq., Belleville; P. Allan, C. A. Lloyd, J. P. Dorland, Esqs., Adolphustown; J. C. Huffman, Esq., J. T. Grange, Esq., M. P. P., Napanee; J. E. Proctor, Esq., "Brighton"; G. W. Webb, Esq., Colborne; G. Jones, Esq., Trenton; J. Redner, Esq., Rednersville; Owen Roblin, Esq., Wm. Delong, Esq., Ameliasburg; H. A. McFaul, Esq., Hillier; Wm. Delong, Esq., Ameliasburg; Jas. Johnson, Esq., Athol.

This Company is established upon strictly Mutual principles, insuring farm property Townships, and property not more hazardous in Towns and Villages and offers great advantages to insure at low rates for Three or Four years either, on the Premium Note or Cash System.

March 9th, 1875. 521-y.

LIVERY at MILL POINT.

MR. JOHN FINLAYSON is prepared to furnish the best of rigs, either single or double.

At the Old Commercial Hotel' P MAIN STREET

Mill Point, Jan. 30th, 1877. 45

Farm and Town Prop. rty FOR SALE.

A NUMBER of farms in the Counties of Northumberland and Hastings, also some very valuable city property in Belleville, and both village and farming property, in and near the village of Brighton.

Apply to
J. B. BENSON,
Napanee.

March 12th, 1877.

47-4f.

Benoni Briggs

BRISCO HOUSE,
NAPANEE, ONT.

POTTER BROS., PROPRIETORS.
First-Class Sample Rooms for Commercial Travellers.

Omnibus to and from all Trains and Boats.

LIVERY ATTACHED.

PAISLEY HOUSE.
(John St. opposite the Market.)
NAPANEE, ONT.

A First Class Hotel centrally located, with excellent yard and stabling accommodation
CHAS. PAISLEY,
PROPRIETOR.

QUEEN'S HOTEL,
BELLEVILLE.

Every Accommodation for Commercial Travellers.

35. A. P. FARRELL,
PROPRIETOR.

MCDONALD HOUSE,
(Late Clark House)
BRIGHTON, ONT.

Stages leave this House daily, for Picton and Campbellford.
Buss to and from the cars. 39-y.

Land for Sale
30,000 ACRES.

THE subscriber has been appointed Agent for the sale of Splendid Improved Farms, and Wild Timber Lands, to the extent of 30,000 acres; also of City, Town and Village property, in all parts of the Province of Ontario, at very low prices and easy terms.
Office, corner of Dundas and West Streets Napanee.

JAMES F. BARTLES,
Napanee, 3ept. 12th 1876.

POTTER BROS., LIVERY AND SALE STABLES

(ADJOINING THE BRISCO HOUSE.)
NAPANEE, ONT.

We keep nothing but First-Class

Poetry.

A Turned-Down Page.

There's a turned-down page, as some writers say
In every human life—
A hidden story of happier days
Of peace amid the strife.

A folded leaf that the world knows not—
A love-dream rudely crushed:
The sight of a foe that is not forgot,
Altho' the voice be hushed.

The far distant sounds of a harp's soft strings,
An echo on the air:
The hidden page may be full of such things,
Of things, that once were fair.

There is a hidden page in each life, and mine
A story might unfold;
But the end was sad of the dream divine—
It better rests unfold.

Literature.

THE LILY OF ST. ERNE

BY L. CROW.

CHAPTER I.

WHEREIN A TRAVELLER MAKES HIS FIRST APPEARANCE IN LONDON AND TO THE READER.

"Where to, sir?" asked the cabman whose Hansom had just been engaged. one of the passengers pouring out of crowded train from Liverpool. "Where to, Sir?"

The gentleman who had the bronzed features, well-developed muscles, a lithe, easy movements of a man accustomed to an out-door life, did not answer the question till it was repeated. I was leaning forward, alternately surveying the huge glass-roofed terminus, at the motley throngs of people hurrying and fro, with the amused and interest air of one to whom such a scene has charm of novelty. When he did reply it was with a smile at his own ignorance. "Where to? 'Pon my word, I do not know. Take me to some hotel; you can find a decent one, I suppose? And be quiet about it, for I am half starved."

The cabman, who had been furtively surveying his fare, and drawing his conclusions from the stranger's rather unconventional attire, touched his hat and ventured another query.

"West End or City, sir? Some gentleman like one, some the 'other. You're stranger in London, I s'pose?"

A slight nod checked his disposition to be too familiar.

"My good fellow. I must leave to you the choice of locality; only take me where I am most likely to get a glimpse of the sky, and a breath of air. The sun never shine on this murky metropolis?"

"Lor' bless ye, sir, their ain't a healthier place in the world than this 'ere London!" he was emphatically told; gaining no other response than an indolent shrug cabby clambered to seat, and at a brisk pace for one of the palatial hotels to be found in the aristocratic purlieus of Belgravia. He had aided in his own mind that he had hold of one of those fortunate men who occasionally find their way back from "golden Americas," with pockets well lined with the rich ore they have toiled to gain. Acting on this belief, and

...Shool, Bridge Street, Napanee.

J. B. Rahdall,
ISSUER of Marriage Licenses and Certificates. Also Agent for the Beaver and Toronto Life Insurance Company and the Mutual Fire Association of Canada. Residence—Shannonville, Ont.

Murphy & Bedford,
BARRISTERS, &c., MILL POINT.
Money to lend on improved Real Estate.

E. B. Stone,
BARRISTER, Attorney at Law, Solicitor in Chancery, etc. OFFICE—Grange Block, Dundas St.

Deroche & Madden,
BARRISTERS and Attorneys-at-Law, Solicitor in Chancery, Conveyancers, Notaries Public, etc. OFFICE—In Grange Block, Napanee. Money to loan on easy terms.
H. M. DEROCHE. J. H. MADDEN.

S. Gibson,
BARRISTER, Attorney-at-Law, Solicitor in Chancery and Insolvency, Notary Public, etc. OFFICE—Grange Block—John Street, Napanee.

R. Tracy, M. D.,
BELLEVILLE,
PHYSICIAN, Surgeon and Accoucheur. Office and Residence, two doors east from the Bank of Montreal, near the Congregational Church, Hotel St. 39

Reeve & Morden,
BARRISTERS and Attorneys-at-Law, Solicitors in Chancery, Conveyancers, etc. OFFICE—Perry's New Block Dundas Street, Napanee, Ontario.
W. A. REEVE, M. A., L. MORDEN.
Co. Crown Attorney.

E. A. Deroche,
OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE, under New Act of 1875.
Office in H. M. Deroche's Law Office.

Williams & Hooper,
BARRISTERS, Attorneys-at-Law, Solicitors in Chancery and Insolvency, Conveyancers, Notaries Public, etc., Napanee, Ontario.
W. S. WILLIAMS, E. W. HOOPER, M. A.
Official Assignee

W. F. Hall,
OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE, under Insolvent Act of 1875. Fire Insurance Agent, &c. Office of Napanee Paper Mills. East Street.

James F. Bartles,
LAND AGENT, Fire, Life and Accident Insurance Agent. Office—corner of Dundas and West Streets Napanee.

F. Bartlett,
ARCHITECT and BUILDER, West Street, Napanee. Plans, Specification and Detail Drawings furnished. Builders work measured and value computed

Yair's Machine Shop,
STEAM ENGINES and all kinds of Machinery made to order. Also all kinds of Machinery repaired on the shortest notice. Remember the place, opposite the H. City Hotel, corner of Adelaide and Bridge Streets.

Hartford Fire Insurance Co.
ESTABLISHED 1810.
CAPITAL, $1,000,000.
AMOUNT DEPOSITED IN CANADA in accordance with the Act 130,000.

Insures property against fire as low as any other reliable company. All losses equitably adjusted and promptly paid in Canada funds or Gold. Isolated dwellings insured at exceedingly low rates.

H. L. GEDDES, Agent.
for Napanee and vicinity.

Harris & Emery

STINE, LEWIS B. STINSON, & BOULTER, ADAM & SAYLOR, and JAMES CALNAN, Esqs.
HONORARY DIRECTORS.—G. Striker, Esq. M. P. P., Picton; R. Clapp, Esq., Milford; K. Graham, Esq., Belleville; P. Allan, C. A. Lloyd, J. P. Dorland, Esqs., Adolphustown; J. C. Huffman, Esq., J. T. Grange, Esq., M. P. P., Napanee; J. E. Proctor, Esq., Brighton; G. W. Webb, Esq., Colborne; G. Jones, Esq., Trenton; J. Redner, Esq., Rednersville; Owen Roblin, Esq., Wm. Delong, Esq., Ameliasburg; H. A. McFaul, Esq., Hillier; Wm. Delong, Esq., Ameliasburg; Jas. Johnson, Esq., Athol.

This Company is established upon strictly Mutual principles, insuring farm property Townships, and property not more hazardous in Towns and Villages and offers great advantages to insure at low rates for Three or Four Years either, on the Premium Note or Cash System.
March 9th, 1875. 521-y.

LIVERY at MILL POINT.

MR. JOHN FINLAYSON is prepared to furnish the best of rigs, either single or double.
At the Old Commercial Hotel, MAIN STREET
Mill Point, Jan. 30th, 1877. 45

Farmand Town Prop. rty FOR SALE.

A NUMBER of farms in the Counties of Northumberland and Hastings, also some very valuable city property in Belleville, and both village and farming property, in and near the village of Brighton.

Apply to
J. B. BENSON,
Napanee.
March 12th, 1877. 47-ff.

Benoni Briggs

WISHES to return his sincere thanks to his numerous friends and the public generally for the liberal patronage they have extended to him during the past twenty-five years, and begs to announce that he has

AGAIN COMMENCED BUSINESS in the Boot and Shoe line, in the shop, opposite the Campbell House, Napanee, at the sign of the "Big Boot." Having engaged Mr. Geo. Mitchell, formerly in the employ of Messrs. McRossie & Downey, he intends to manufacture all kinds of custom work of the very best material and workmanship, and solicits a continuance of public patronage.
Repairing done on short notice, and on liberal terms. 8-ff. BENONI BRIGGS.

MARBLE ! MARBLE

Monuments, Headstones, etc.,
Carved in newest style in American and Foreign Marble and carefully put up in any part of the country at reasonable rates.
ALL KINDS OF CEMETERY WORK DONE WITH CARE AND PROMPTNESS.
Call before you engage elsewhere. Dundas st., nearly opposite Beeman's corner.
10-6m. V. KOUBER.

Important to Butter Workers.

ONE GOOD ACTIVE AGENT WANTED in every township to introduce the Victor Butter Worker. Sample Machine Free to Agents. Price, $6.00, $7.00 and $8.00 each. One Million to be sold in the Dominion. Apply early with stamp, for agents circular, to the VICTOR WRINGER CO.,
Brockville, Ont.

KNOW THYSELF
By reading and practicing the inestimable truths contained in the best medical book ever issued, entitled SELF-PRESERVATION. Price only $1. Sent by mail on receipt of price. It treats of Exhausted Vitality, Premature Decline, Nervous and Physical Debility, and the endless concomitant ills and untold miseries that result therefrom, and contains more than 60 original prescriptions, any one of which is worth the price of the book. This book was written by the most extensive and probably the most skillful practitioner in America, to whom was awarded a gold and jeweled medal by the National Medical Association. A Pamphlet, illustrated with the very finest Steel Engravings—a marvel of art and beauty—sent FREE to all. Send for it at once. Address
PEABODY MEDICAL

(John St. opposite the Market.)
NAPANEE, ONT.
A First Class Hotel centrally located, with excellent yard and stabling accommodation
CHAS. PAISLEY,
PROPRIETOR.
QUEEN'S HOTEL, BELLEVILLE.
Every Accommodation for Commercial Travellers.
A. P. FARRELL, PROPRIETOR.
MCDONALD HOUSE, (Late Clark House) BRIGHTON, ONT.
Stages leave this House daily, for Picton and Campbellford.
Bus to and from the cars. 39-yf.

Land for Sale 30,000 ACRES.

THE subscriber has been appointed Agent for the sale of Splendid Improved Farms, and Wild Timber Lands, to the extent of 30,000 acres; also of City, Town and Village property, in all parts of the Province of Ontario, at very low prices and easy terms.
Office, corner of Dundas and West Streets Napanee.
JAMES F. BARTLES.
Napanee, Sept. 12th 1876.

POTTER BROS., LIVERY AND SALE STABLES

(ADJOINING THE ERISCO HOUSE.)
NAPANEE, ONT.
We keep nothing but First-Class Horses and Vehicles, and at REASONABLE PRICES

GRADUATE OF
Ontario Veterinary College.
May be consulted on all diseases of Domesticated Animals, personally at Campbell House or by letter.
TERMS MODERATE
OFFICE—Bridge Street.

1877 SEASON 1877. PICTON & NAPANEE ROUTE.

The Steamer Shannon,
CAPT. EARLY W. JOHNSON,
will run during the season, to Napanee DAILY (Sundays excepted) as follows:
LEAVING PICTON at 6 a. m., calling at intermediate ports, arriving at Napanee at about 9:30.
RETURNING to PICTON—Leaves Napanee at 3 o'clock, p. m., calling at intermediate ports, arriving in Picton at about 6:30.
This is the cheapest and most expeditious route to all points EAST, and affords passengers three hours time in the flourishing town of Napanee for business or pleasure, before embarking for the I. O. C. Day Express Train going East.
When returning, connects with the Merchants' Express Train from Montreal, thereby making the quickest dispatch for Eastern traffic to Picton. Bonded Merchandise (or other freight) will be promptly looked after, carefully handled and attended to.
P. F. McQUAIG, Wharfinger, Picton.
JOHN BOWEY, do Napanee.
Napanee, 15th June, 1877.

54 30 PER WEEK AT HOME.

APPEARANCE IN LONDON AND TO THE READER.
"WHERE to, sir?" asked the cabman, whose Hansom had just been engaged by one of the passengers pouring out of a crowded train from Liverpool. "Where to, Sir?"
The gentleman who had the bronzed features, well-developed muscles, and lithe, easy movements of a man accustomed to an out-door life, did not answer the question till it was repeated. He was leaning forward, alternately surveying the huge glass-roofed terminus, and the motley throngs of people hurrying to and fro, with the amused and interested air of one to whom such a scene has the charm of novelty. When he did reply, it was with a smile at his own ignorance. "Where to? 'Pon my word, I don't know. Take me to some hotel; you can find a decent one, I suppose? And be quick about it, for I am half starved."

The cabman, who had been furtively surveying his fare, and drawing his own conclusions from the stranger's rather unconventional attire, touched his hat and ventured another query.

"West End or City, sir? Some gent like one, some the t'other. You're a stranger in London, I s'pose?"

A slight nod checked his disposition to be too familiar.

"My good fellow. I must leave to you the choice of locality; only take me where I am most likely to get a glimpse of the sky, and a breath of air. Does the sun never shine on this murky metro polis?"

"Lor' bless ye, sir, their ain't a healthier place in the world than this 'ere London!" he was emphatically told; but gaining no other response than an incredulous shrug cabby clambered to his seat, and at a brisk pace for one of the palatial hotels to be found in the aristocratic purlieus of Belgravia. He had decided in his own mind that he had got hold of one of those fortunate men who occasionally find their way back from the "golden Americas," with pockets well lined with the rich ore they have toiled to gain. Acting on this belief, and his reputed readiness of the so-called luck fellows to submit to be fleeced, he asked when his fare alighted, nearly treble the sum to which he was entitled for the journey.

But he fell into a strange error when he imagined that the frank good humour on which he traded evinced the weakness of a nature easily duped. The dark brows of the stranger contracted, the curiously bright eyes subjected his surl face to a keen scrutiny, and he was sharply catched.

"It seems a large sum to demand for so short a ride! If it is justly your due you shall have it, but I should like to be satisfied on that point before I pay you."

The stranger's temperate manner encouraged cabby to make a saucy retort.

"Do you think I wish to cheat you?"

"How can I tell?" he was quietly asked.

"It's what my Lord Miffington a ways gives me for bringing him here, said the man, in testy tones; "and n real gentleman as knows hisself would think of offering no less."

"Then I am not a gentleman, according to your definition of the word," was the prompt reply; "for I never submit to imposition, if I know it."

"No gentleman!—of course you're no or you wouldn't try to wrong a poor cha like me out of his hard earnings," said the cabby who was beginning to lose his temper, now he saw no advantages to be reaped by civility.

A dark flush dyed the stranger's cheeks, and his hands clenched ominously; but still he restrained himself, and turning from the driver, he appealed to the bystanders.

"Will any one kindly tell me how much I ought to pay this man?"

A young officer, who was leisurely strolling by, in his way home from a parade, paused as the appeal fell on his ears. He had heard the greater part of the colloquy, and sympathized with the stranger; yet, with an Englishman's national unwillingness to interfere in other folk's affairs, he was still hesitating, when water from the hotel came forward and

“ But he has not cheated you, for you were too sharp for him ; and as you have saved your pocket, you may as well spare him the punishment. He has had a wholesome fright, and is no match for you. Besides, the police would be here directly, and you would not care to spend your first night in town in studying the interior of a cell at a station-house ! ”

The irate fare drew himself up haughtily, as if to ask, “ Who would dare arrest me ! ” but the pleasant, yet half-jocular

A book containing a list of towns in the U. S. having 5,000 pop. and the newspapers having the largest circulation. Also the Religions, Agriculture, Scientific and other special class journals. Tables of rates, showing cost of advertising and everything which an advertiser would like to know. Mailed on receipt of ten cents. Address GEORGE P. ROWELL & CO., 10 Spruce St., N. Y. (opposite "Tribune" building).

Napanee Express

"THE GREATEST GOOD TO THE GREATEST NUMBER."

NAPANEE, ONT., FRIDAY, NOV. 23, 1877.

BRISCO HOUSE,
NAPANEE, ONT.

POTTER BROS., PROPRIETORS.

First-Class Sample Rooms for Commercial Travellers.

Omnibus to and from all Trains and Boats.

LIVERY ATTACHED.

PAISLEY HOUSE.

(John St. opposite the Market.)
NAPANEE, ONT.

A First Class Hotel centrally located, with excellent yard and stabling accommodation.

CHAS. PAISLEY,
PROPRIETOR.

QUEEN'S HOTEL,
BELLEVILLE.

Every Accommodation for Commercial Travellers.

35.

A. P. FARRELL,
PROPRIETOR.

MCDONALD HOUSE,
(Late Clark House)

BRIGHTON, ONT.

Stages leave this House daily, for Picton and Campbellford.
Buss to and from the cars. 39-yl.

Land for Sale
30,000 ACRES.

THE subscriber has been appointed Agent for the sale of Splendid Improved Farms, and Wild Timber Lands, to the extent of 30,000 acres; also of City, Town and Village property, in all parts of the Province of Ontario, at very low prices and easy terms.
Office, corner of Dundas and West Streets Napanee.

JAMES F. BARTLES.

Napanee, Sept. 12th 1876.

POTTER BROS., LIVERY AND SALE STABLES

(ADJOINING THE BRISCO HOUSE.)
NAPANEE, ONT.

We keep nothing but First-Class

Poetry.

A Turned-Down Page.

There's a turned-down page, as some writers say
In every human life—
A hidden story of happier days
Of peace amid the strife.

A folded leaf that the world knows not—
A love-dream rudely crushed:
The sight of a foe that is not forgot,
Altho' the voice be hushed.

The far distant sounds of a harp's soft strings,
An echo on the air:
The hidden page may be full of such things,
Of things, that once were fair.

There is a hidden page in each life, and mine
A story might unfold;
But the end was sad of the dream divine—
It better rests untold.

Literature.

THE LILY OF ST. ERNE.

BY L. CROW.

CHAPTER I.

WHEREIN A TRAVELLER MAKES HIS FIRST APPEARANCE IN LONDON AND TO THE READER.

"Where to, sir?" asked the cabman, whose Hansom had just been engaged by one of the passengers pouring out of a crowded train from Liverpool. "Where to, Sir?"

The gentleman who had the bronzed features, well-developed muscles, and lithe, easy movements of a man accustomed to an out-door life, did not answer the question till it was repeated. He was leaning forward, alternately surveying the huge glass-roofed terminus, and the motley throngs of people hurrying to and fro, with the amused and interested air of one to whom such a scene has the charm of novelty. When he did reply, it was with a smile at his own ignorance. "Where to? 'Pon my word, I don't know. Take me to some hotel; you can find a decent one, I suppose? And be quick about it, for I am half starved."

The cabman, who had been fruitively surveying his fare, and drawing his own conclusions from the stranger's rather unconventional attire, touched his hat, and ventured another query. "West End or City, sir? Some gent's like one, some the t'other. You're a stranger in London, I s'pose?"

A slight nod checked his disposition to be too familiar. "My good fellow, I must leave to you the choice of locality; only take me where I am most likely to get a glimpse of the sky, and a breath of air. Does the sun never shine on this murky metropolis?"

"Lor' bless ye, sir, their ain't a healthier place in the world than this 'ere London!" he was emphatically told; but gaining no other response than an incredulous shrug cabby clambered to his seat, and at a brisk pace for one of the palatial hotels to be found in the aristocratic purlieus of Belgravia. He had decided in his own mind that he had got hold of one of those fortunate men who occasionally find their way back from the "golden Americas," with pockets well-lined with the rich ore they have toiled to gain. Acting on this belief, and the look of his adversary made him feel ashamed of his impetuosity, and he flung the trembling cabman from him.

"It's hard to let him go," he muttered, regretfully. "for he richly deserved a thrashing! But you are quite right, sir," he frankly added; "it would be a folly to commence my English career with such a quarrel, especially as it would be at variance with your customs; though I still think our summary method of settling a dispute the best."

"If might and right always went together, I should agree with you," was the laughing reply; "and, I dare say, it answers well enough in unsettled countries where every man must take care of himself. But here the law arranges our differences for us; and you know the old adage—'At Rome we must be Romans.'"

Raising his hat the officer was passing on, leaving the new arrival to follow his luggage, which the porters were carrying into the hotel, but his steps were arrested by an earnest entreaty that he would remain.

"Don't go yet! Yours is the first friendly voice I have heard, and I should like to know you better! Come and try some of the cigars I have in one of my trunks, and give me another word or two of your good counsel. But you don't know me," the gentleman added, as he saw that his new acquaintance hesitated. "My name is Max Havering, an Englishman by descent, a Californian by birth and education. I am visiting the mother-country for a holiday, and to look up my paternal relatives. As yet I don't know a soul, and it's such wretched work dining alone, that I hope you'll not refuse my invitation!"

He spoke with such a pleasant, winning warmth, that British reserve thawed, and Captain Renton answered with equal cordiality.

"I regret to be obliged to say that I have an engagement for the evening, which I must keep; but I have an hour to spare, which I shall be happy to spend with you. I am a Captain in the Guards, and my name is Renton—Charles Renton."

The gentleman shook hands and went into the hotel together. The rather fastidious Guardsman was not in the habit of fraternising with strangers; but he had not been able to resist Max Havering's genial manner; and there mutual liking increased when the cigars had been unpacked, pronounced excellent, and something warming imbibed to keep out the fogs of the cheerless March day, while a substantial meal was being prepared for the hungry traveller.

Max was an amusing companion, for he was young, bold, and light-hearted, and he came fresh from one of those half-peopled countries, miles and miles of whose virgin soil still remain untrod; while Captain Renton was sufficiently romantic and adventurous to listen with interest and question him eagerly when he described life as it is in the Far West, with all those vivid and graphic details that only eye-witnesses can give.

But a closer observer than the gay, thoughtless Max would have noticed how even in their unreserved chat, the difference of education and disposition made itself known. Charlie Renton said so little about himself, that, when the young men parted, Max scarcely knew more concerning him than the name and ad-

most happy; but I thought you spoke of leaving town immediately."

"Why, so I shall; and therefore I suppose I must decline your invitation, though I should like to have a peep at the great dusty camp of which your nation seems so proud."

"Then why not say yes? There will be a review on the Long Valley on Saturday, and I should like to make you confess that our soldiers are worth seeing when they play the game of war."

"I'd be delighted to accept," said Max, frankly; "but I fancy I would not be polite to my father's relatives to roam about and enjoy myself still I have paid my respects to them. As soon as I return from Cornwall, I shall look you up."

"Cornwall, did you say?" and Captain Renton looked decidedly inquisitive. "I also have friends in that country, whom I propose visiting—probably in the course of a week or two."

"Then it's just possible that we may meet there. I hope we shall, though the name of the particular village for which I am bound has escaped my memory. Must you really be going, just, too, as they have brought a dinner that looks so appetizing?"

"Don't let me detain you from it," said Captain Renton, shaking hands with the hospitable Californian; "and don't forget your promise to look me up at Aldershot."

Max nodded. "Always providing we do not run against each other earlier. By the bye, you have not given me that word of advice."

"No, indeed!" was the laughing reply; "there's no occasion for it, while you can take care of yourself so well, especially against the attacks of extortionate cabmen. There is one thing, however, I will suggest, as I am sure you are too sensible to be offended."

But he paused, and looked at Max inquiringly, till encouraged with a laughing "Say on, Macduff!"

"Go and see one of our West End tailors before you leave London, for the fashions of San Francisco vary in some particulars from ours, and no man likes to look peculiar when he first makes the acquaintance of his relatives."

Max surveyed his loose suit, compared it with the well-made attire of the Guardsman, and reddened a little at the contrast. But he thanked him warmly for the suggestion, and followed him to the door, saying, "You may as well give me the address of your Cornish friends, for I shall call upon you while you are with them, if they will not look agast at the intrusion."

Captain Renton scribbled it on a leaf torn from his pocket-book, but remarked at the same time, "I suppose I ought to warn you that, as I am barely tolerated at Ruan Abbey myself, there may not be a very gracious reception accorded to one of my acquaintances."

"Shall I chance that?" he was frankly asked, "or would you rather I stayed away?"

Something like a jealous spasm shot through Charlie Renton's heart. The beautiful Eleanor, for whose sake he was ready to leave London at the commencement of the season, was rarely kind, and always coy. Sometimes, he could have sworn that she loved him; but more frequently she held him at bay, with a

NAPANEE, CANT.

A First Class Hotel centrally located, with excellent yard and stabling accommodation.
CHAS. PAISLEY,
PROPRIETOR.

QUEEN'S HOTEL, BELLEVILLE

Every Accommodation for Commercial Travellers.

A. P. FARRELL,
PROPRIETOR.

McDONALD HOUSE, (Late Clark House)

BRIGHTON, ONT.

Stages leave this House daily, for Picton and Campbellford.
Buses to and from the cars. 39-yl.

Land for Sale 30,000 ACRES.

THE subscriber has been appointed Agent for the sale of Splendid Improved Farms, and Wild Timber Lands, to the extent of 30,000 acres; also of City, Town and Village property, in all parts of the Province of Ontario, at very low prices and easy terms.
Office corner of Dundas and West Streets (Napanee).
JAMES F. BARTLES.

Napanee, Sept. 12th 1876.

POTTER BROS., IVERY AND SALE STABLES

(ADJOINING THE EXHIBITION HOUSE.)
NAPANEE, ONT.

We keep nothing but First-Class horses and vehicles, and at REASONABLE PRICES

GRADUATE OF

Ontario Veterinary College.

May be consulted on all diseases of Domesticated Animals, personally at Campbell House or by letter.

TERMS MODERATE
OFFICE—Bridge Street.

877 SEASON 1877.

PICTON & NAPANEE ROUTE.

The Steamer Shannon,
CAPT. EARLY W. JOHNSON,

will run during the season, to Napanee DAILY (Sundays excepted) as follows:
LEAVING PICTON at 6 a. m., calling at intermediate ports, arriving at Napanee at about 9:30.
RETURNING to PICTON—Leaves Napanee at 3 o'clock, p. m., calling at intermediate ports, arriving at Picton at about 6:30.

This is the cheapest and most expeditious route to all points East, and affords passengers hours of time in the flourishing town of Napanee for business or pleasure before embarking on the 1 o'clock Day Express Train going East. When returning, connects with the Merchants' Express Train from Montreal, thereby making the quickest dispatch for Eastern traffic to Picton. Bonded Merchandise (or other freight) will be promptly looked after, carefully handled and tendered to.

P. F. McQUAIG, Wharfinger, Picton.
JOHN BOWEY, do Napanee.
Napanee, 15th June, 1877.

54-30 PER WEEK AT HOME.
Samples and Watch free to all.
Address: MONTREAL NOVELTY CO. P. O.

READER.

"Where to, sir?" asked the cabman, whose Hansom had just been engaged by one of the passengers pouring out of a crowded train from Liverpool. "Where to, Sir?"

The gentleman who had the bronzed features, well-developed muscles, and lithe, easy movements of a man accustomed to an out-door life, did not answer the question till it was repeated. He was leaning forward, alternately surveying the huge glass-roofed terminus, and the motley throngs of people hurrying to and fro, with the amused and interested air of one to whom such a scene has the charm of novelty. When he did reply, it was with a smile at his own ignorance.

"Where to? 'Pon my word, I don't know. Take me to some hotel; you can find a decent one, I suppose? And be quick about it, for I am half starved."

The cabman, who had been furiously surveying his fare, and drawing his own conclusions from the stranger's rather unconventional attire, touched his hat, and ventured another query.

"West End or City, sir? Some gents like one, some the 't'other. You're a stranger in London, I s'pose?"

A slight nod checked his disposition to be too familiar.

"My good fellow. I must leave to you the choice of locality; only take me where I am most likely to get a glimpse of the sky, and a breath of air. Does the sun never shine on this murky metropolis?"

"'Lor' bless ye, sir, their ain't a healthier place in the world than this 'ere London!" he was emphatically told; but gaining no other response than an incredulous shrug cabby clambered to his seat, and at a brisk pace for one of the palatial hotels to be found in the aristocratic purlieus of Belgrave. He had decided in his own mind that he had got hold of one of those fortunate men who occasionally find their way back from the "golden Americas," with pockets well-lined with the rich ore they have toiled to gain. Acting on this belief, and the reputed readiness of the so-called lucky fellows to submit to be fleeced, he asked, when his fare alighted, nearly treble the sum to which he was entitled for the journey.

But he fell into a strange error when he imagined that the frank good humour on which he traded evinced the weakness of a nature easily duped. The dark brows of the stranger contracted, the curiously bright eyes subjected his surly face to a keen scrutiny, and he was sharply catechised.

"It seems a large sum to demand for so short a ride! If it is justly your due, you shall have it, but I should like to be satisfied on that point before I pay you."

The stranger's temperate manner encouraged cabby to make a saucy retort.

"Do you think I wish to cheat you?"

"How can I tell?" he was quietly asked.

"It's what my Lord Miffington always gives me for bringing him here," said the man, in testy tones; "and no real gentleman as knows himself would think of offering no less."

"Then I am not a gentleman, according to your definition of the word," was the prompt reply; "for I never submit to imposition, if I know it."

"No gentleman!—of course you're not, or you wouldn't try to wrong a poor chap like me out of his hard earnings," said the cabby who was beginning to lose his temper, now he saw no advantages to be reaped by civility.

A dark flush dyed the stranger's cheeks, and his hands clenched ominously; but still he restrained himself, and, turning from the driver, he appealed to the bystanders.

"Will any one kindly tell me how much I ought to pay this man?"

A young officer, who was leisurely strolling by, on his way home from a parade, paused as the appeal fell on his ear. He had heard the greater part of the colloquy, and sympathised with the stranger; yet, with an Englishman's national unwillingness to interfere in other folks' affairs, he was still hesitating, when a waiter from the hotel came forward and gave the required information.

of your good counsel. But you don't know me," the gentleman added, as he saw that his new acquaintance hesitated. "My name is Max Haveryng, an Englishman by descent, a Californian by birth and education. I am visiting the mother-country for a holiday, and to look up my paternal relatives. As yet I don't know a soul, and it's such wretched work dining alone, that I hope you'll not refuse my invitation!"

He spoke with such a pleasant, winning warmth, that British reserve thawed, and Captain Renton answered with equal cordiality.

"I regret to be obliged to say that I have an engagement for the evening, which I must keep; but I have an hour to spare, which I shall be happy to spend with you. I am a Captain in the Guards, and my name is Renton—Charles Renton."

The gentleman shook hands and went into the hotel together. The rather fastidious Guardsman was not in the habit of fraternising with strangers; but he had not been able to resist Max Haveryng's genial manner; and there mutual liking increased when the cigars had been unpacked, pronounced excellent, and something warming imbibed to keep out the fogs of the cheerless March day, while a substantial meal was being prepared for the hungry traveller.

Max was an amusing companion, for he was young, bold, and light-hearted, and he came fresh from one of those half-peopled countries, miles and miles of whose virgin soil still remain untrod; while Captain Renton was sufficiently romantic and adventurous to listen with interest and question him eagerly when he described life as it is in the Far West, with all those vivid and graphic details that only eye-witnesses can give.

But a closer observer than the gay, thoughtless Max would have noticed how even in their unreserved chat, the difference of education and disposition made itself known. Charlie Renton said so little about himself, that, when the young men parted, Max scarcely knew more concerning him than the name and address on the card he had thrust in his pocket; while the Californian, with unconscious egotism, had laid his inmost thoughts bare. He had nothing to conceal, and so he spoke openly of his position and prospects. He had been an orphan for some years. His father—a younger son—had emigrated during the first rush to the gold-fields, and, without joining in any of the wild speculations in which so many embarked, had contrived to amass money and make friends. He had married the pretty daughter of a Spanish merchant of Monterey, and settled down on a small estate he purchased in the valley of the Sacramento.

"And there I suppose, ought to be at this moment," added Max, thoughtfully, "looking after my cattle, and increasing my stock; but I have grown tired of living alone, or of varying my monotonous life with a few weeks in one of the cities. I am no gambler, and there is little else to amuse one there. Besides, I am not what you would call rich, and the loss of a few hundred dollars would be serious; so I was debating whether I should join and expedition to the Society Islands, or—don't laugh at me; you can't understand how wretched it is to have no society half the year round but one's own thoughts—get married; when I came by chance upon an old journal of my father's, kept while he was a lad staying at the home of his ancestors; and the whim seized me to come and view for myself the spots he describes so glowingly."

"A very good idea, travel enlarges a man's views, and makes him more practical," said Captain Renton, approvingly.

"But how did la belle fancee take the separation?"

Max coloured and laughed.

"Oh, she opened her dark eyes wonderfully, sighed a little, bade me take care of myself, and bring her all the latest fashions. I am not actually affianced to my cousin Elvira, so, you see, the affair is not as serious as you imagined."

"Je comprends; it hasn't reached the heart-breaking stage. You are still cool enough to be aware that she is not all angel!"

Captain Renton, shaking hands with the hospitable Californian; "and don't forget your promise to look me up at Aldershot."

Max nodded.

"Always providing we do not run against each other earlier. By the bye, you have not given me that word of advice."

"No, indeed!" was the laughing reply; "there's no occasion for it, while you can take care of yourself so well, especially against the attacks of extortionate cabmen. There is one thing, however, I will suggest, as I am sure you are too sensible to be offended."

But he paused, and looked at Max inquiringly, till encouraged with a laughing "Say on, Macduff!"

"Go and see one of our West End tailors before you leave London, for the fashions of San Francisco vary in some particulars from ours, and no man likes to look peculiar when he first makes the acquaintance of his relatives."

Max surveyed his loose suit, compared it with the well-made attire of the Guardsman, and reddened a little at the contrast. But he thanked him warmly for the suggestion, and followed him to the door, saying, "You may as well give me the address of your Cornish friends, for I shall call upon you while you are with them, if they will not look agast at the intrusion."

Captain Renton scribbled it on a leaf torn from his pocket-book, but remarked at the same time, "I suppose I ought to warn you that, as I am barely tolerated at Ruan Abbey myself, there may not be a very gracious reception accorded to one of my acquaintances."

"Shall I chance that?" he was frankly asked, "or would you rather I stayed away?"

Something like a jealous spasm shot through Charlie Renton's heart. The beautiful Eleanor, for whose sake he was ready to leave London at the commencement of the season, was rarely kind, and always coy. Sometimes, he could have sworn that she loved him; but more frequently she held him at bay, with a haughty reserve that maddened him. What if this handsome, dashing Californian found that favour in her eyes which he could never obtain?

Two proud, however, to let Max see that he feared a rival, he answered, "Come if you feel any desire to see beautiful scenery or enjoy deep-sea fishing. You can have both in the neighbourhood of Ruan Abbey; and if I cannot promise you a welcome from its owners, I can get you the best of quarters at Jennifer Madron's, in the village; so I'll not say goodbye, but au revoir."

"I wish I had asked him where this Abbey is located," mused Max, as he sat enjoying his wine, when the cloth had been cleared. "The name sounds so familiar, that I must have seen it in my father's journal. I'll hunt it out."

Accordingly, though page after page of the faded and almost illegible manuscript the Californian pored, till he found the passage he sought. It was a brief account of a tour along the coast, made in the writer's boyhood, and contained these words:—

"Kode with my cousin, John Penruan, as far as the Abbey, from which he takes his name. He was half offended because I said it was a pity that such a fine building should be falling to decay, and quite fiercely asked me what a man could do who had no money. He is a strange, unsocial fellow, and I have been warned to avoid him."

Beneath these lines, and evidently written some years afterwards, was the following note:—

"John Penruan is rich enough now to rebuild the old Abbey, for news has reached me that he is married to the widow of a millionaire."

"It's the same!" said Max, sagely nodding his head; "and I must contrive to time my visit to Ruan Abbey so that I may meet this pleasant, gentlemanly, new acquaintance of mine. I wonder what he meant by saying that his presence is only tolerated at the Abbey! Perhaps wealth has not improved Mr. Penruan; but if he is not a genial host, why does

Dr. J. A. REID

VET. SURGEON
NAPANEE ONT.

GRADUATE OF

Ontario Veterinary College.

May be consulted on all diseases of Domesticated Animals, personally at Campbell House by letter.

TERMS MODERATE

Office—Bridge Street.

1877 SEASON 1877.

PICTON & NAPANEE ROUTE.

The Steamer Shannon,

CAPT. EARLY W. JOHNSON,

It runs during the season, to Napanee DAILY (Sundays excepted) as follows:

LEAVING PICTON at 6 a.m., calling at intermediate ports, arriving at Napanee at about 9:30.
RETURNING TO PICTON—Leaves Napanee at 3 o'clock, p.m., calling at intermediate ports, arriving at Picton at about 6:30.

This is the cheapest and most expeditious route to all points East, and affords passengers hours of time in the flourishing town of Napanee for business or pleasure, before embarking the 1 o'clock Day Express Train going East. When returning, connects with the Merchants' Press Train from Montreal, thereby making the quickest dispatch for Eastern traffic. (If desired Merchandise (or other freight), will promptly be looked after, carefully handled and ended to.)

P. F. McQUAIG, Wharfinger, Picton.
JOHN BOWEY, do Napanee,
Napanee, 15th June, 1877.

54.30 PER WEEK AT HOME.
Samples and Watch free to all
Address, MONTREAL NOVELTY CO. P.Q.
F 235 St. James Street, Montreal

WANTED.

We want reliable, energetic canvassing agents in every town in the Dominion for a new "Illustrated History of the Dominion of Canada." This work is truly magnificent, containing over 2,000 double column quarto pages, and over 300 superb page engravings. The work is published in Parts, on a plan which insures welcome to every English reading man. To energetic young men and ladies, a permanent position for two years, a GOOD PAY. Don't fail write! to our publishers, sample pages, etc. This is a grand opportunity for school teachers make more than double their salaries without interfering with their professional duties. The works being manufactured at a cost of over $20,000 for the rare, artistic and mechanical work of designing the plates by the old well known, reliable Lovell Printing and Publishing Co., of Montreal. All letters from agents must be addressed to the Publishers and sent to the following:

HAZEN B. BIGNEY & Co.,
and 30 St. Francis Xavier Street,
MONTREAL, QUE.

William Gray's Specific Medicine.

The Great English Remedy is especially recommended as an unfailing cure for Seminal Weakness, Spermatorrhoea, Impotency, and all other diseases that After taking it as a sequence of Self Abuse, as Loss of Power, Universal Lassitude, Pain in the Back, Stiffness of Vision, Premature Old Age, and many other diseases that lead to Insanity or Consumption, and a Premature Grave, all of which as are first caused by deviating from the path of nature and overindulgence. The Specific Medicine is the result of a life long and many years of experience in treating special diseases. Pamphlet free by mail. The Specific Medicine is sold by all Druggists at 1 per package, or six packages for $5, or will sent by mail on receipt of the money by advertising.

WILLIAM GRAY & Co.,
Windsor, Ont.

sum to which he was entitled for the journey.

But he fell into a strange error when he imagined that the frank good humour on which he traded evinced the weakness of a nature easily duped. The dark brows of the stranger contracted, the curiously bright eyes subjected his surly face to a keen scrutiny, and he was sharply catechised.

"It seems a large sum to demand for so short a ride! If it is justly your due, you shall have it, but I should like to be satisfied on that point before I pay you." The stranger's temperate manner encouraged caddy to make a saucy retort.

"Do you think I wish to cheat you?"

"How can I tell?" he was quietly asked.

"It's what my Lord Miffington always gives me for bringing him here," said the man, in testy tones; "and no real gentleman as knows himself would think of offering no less."

"Then I am not a gentleman, according to your definition of the word," was the prompt reply; "for I never submit to imposition, if I know it."

"No gentleman!—of course you're not, or you wouldn't try to wrong a poor chap like me out of his hard earnings," said the caddy who was beginning to lose his temper, now he saw no advantages to be reaped by civility.

A dark flush dyed the stranger's cheeks, and his hands clenched ominously; but still he restrained himself, and, turning from the driver, he appealed to the bystanders.

"Will any one kindly tell me how much I ought to pay this man?"

A young officer, who was leisurely strolling by, on his way home from a parade, paused at the appeal fell on his ear. He had heard the greater part of the colloquy, and sympathized with the stranger; yet, with an Englishman's national unwillingness to interfere in other folks' affairs, he was still hesitating, when a waiter from the hotel came forward and gave the required information.

"You are sure of this?" he was pointedly asked. "Quite sure that the sum you name is the correct one?"

As soon as he had received the required assurance, the traveller counted out the precise number of coins of the realm, and offered them to caddy, by whom they were pocketed after some grumbling, and an attempt to play the bully, that was checked by something in the air and attitude his fare was taking.

As he turned to clamber to his perch, he was seized by the collar and swung sharply round; and now there was a look in the stranger's face that told how he had played with fire, when he sought to dupe the hot-blooded young fellow in whose grasp he was writhing.

"Stay, my man! You have not had all I owe you! Scoundrel! do you think I shall let your attempt to rob me go unpunished! Give me his whip, some one, and I'll teach him how we serve roguish drivers at 'Frisco!" (San Francisco.)

A fracas was too impending, but the officer was too generous not to make an effort to prevent it; and, throwing away his cigar, he stepped to the side of the angry Californian, and laid a persuasive hand on his broad shoulders.

"My dear sir, take a Londoner's advice, and let the scamp go! There's no honour to be won in a street row; you will only create a scene, and give your opponent the advantage."

At first he was heard with displeasure. The stranger frowned, and asked him what he meant. "Is it your London fashion to let any fellow cheat you?"

"But he has not cheated you, for you were too sharp for him; and as you have saved your pocket, you may as well spare him the punishment. He has had a wholesome fright, and is no match for you. Besides, the police would be here directly, and you would not care to spend your first night in town in studying the interior of a cell at a station-house!"

The irate fare drew himself up haughtily, as if to ask, "Who would dare arrest me!" but the pleasant, yet half-quizzical thoughts bare. He had nothing to conceal, and so he spoke openly of his position and prospects. He had been an orphan for some years. His father—a younger son—had emigrated during the first rush to the gold-fields, and, without joining in any of the wild speculations in which so many embarked, had contrived to amass money and make friends. He had married the pretty daughter of a Spanish merchant of Monterey, and settled down on a small estate he purchased in the valley of the Sacramento.

"And there I suppose, ought to be at this moment," added Max, thoughtfully, "looking after my cattle, and increasing my stock; but I have grown tired of living alone, or of varying my monotonous life with a few weeks in one of the cities. I am no gambler, and there is little else to amuse one there. Besides, I am not what you would call rich, and the loss of a few hundred dollars would be serious; so I was debating whether I should join and expedition to the Society Islands, or—don't laugh at me; you can't understand how wretched it is to have no society half the year round but one's own thoughts—get married; when I came by chance upon an old journal of my father's, kept while he was a lad staying at the home of his ancestors; and the whim seized me to come and view for myself the spots he describes so glowingly."

"A very good idea, travel enlarges a man's views, and makes him more practical," said Captain Renton, approvingly. "But how did la belle fiancée take the separation?"

Max coloured and laughed.

"Oh, she opened her dark eyes wonderingly, sighed a little, bade me take care of myself, and bring her all the latest fashions. I am not actually affianced to my cousin Elvira, so, you see, the affair is not as serious as you imagined."

"Je comprends; it hasn't reached the heart-breaking stage. You are still cool enough to be aware that she is not all angel!"

"Nay, by San Jago! she is comparably beautiful!" cried Max, with boyish enthusiasm. "Such eyes, such teeth; and her skin is wax-like in its purity! There is not a handsomer woman in the State! But still—"

"Oh, lukewarm lover, to end a summary of his lady's perfections with a but!" was the jesting comment upon his speech.

"I cannot help it," Max replied, with sudden gravity. "When I am with her—Elvira's father is wealthy and hospitably—when I am with her, I gaze, and adore, and fall into jealous furies whenever I see that she does not favour me more than half-a-dozen others; but when I get back to Aguas Dulces—my own little location—I find myself asking how Elvira would contrive to exist there. I cannot picture her delicate white hands sewing buttons on my hunting-shirt, or cooking my supper; and what society would one have with a wife who never reads or cares to walk abroad, and would take no interest in a fellow's pursuits? Bah! she will have married some luckier man before I get back to America; so why do I talk of her?"

Captain Renton smiled as he rose to depart, and hummed the old song—

"If she be not fair for me,
What care I how fair she be?"

"Comfort yourself, mon ami," he added; "for I can perceive that la donna has not made a very lasting impression on you. If we should meet again before you return to California, I shall not be at all surprised to find you arranging to carry an English bride with you."

"If we meet again!" Max repeated. "Why, I hope we shall see a great deal of each other. I can't afford to let a friend drift away, while I am so wholly at sea, as I feel to be in this noisy London. Will you not smoke another cigar with me to-morrow?"

But Captain Renton shook his head. "I am only in town for the day. If you will come and dine with me at Aldershot, where I am on duty, I shall be as bound that I will be in her eyes which he could never obtain!"

Two proud, however, to let Max see that he feared a rival, he answered, "Come if you feel any desire to see beautiful scenery or enjoy deep-sea fishing. You can have both in the neighbourhood of Ruan Abbey; and if I cannot promise you a welcome from its owners, I can get you the best of quarters at Jennifer Madron's, in the village; so I'll not say goodbye, but au revoir."

"I wish I had asked him where this Abbey is located," mused Max, as he sat enjoying his wine, when the cloth had been cleared. "The name sounds so familiar, that I must have seen it in my father's journal. I'll hunt it out."

Accordingly, though page after page of the faded and almost illegible manuscript the Californian pored, till he found the passage he sought. It was a brief account of a tour along the coast, made in the writer's boyhood, and contained these words:—

"Rode with my cousin, John Penruan, as far as the Abbey, from which he takes his name. He was half offended because I said it was a pity that such a fine building should be falling to decay, and quite fiercely asked me what a man could do who had no money. He is a strange, unsocial fellow, and I have been warned to avoid him."

Beneath these lines, and evidently written some years afterwards, was the following note:—

"John Penruan is rich enough now to rebuild the old Abbey, for news has reached me that he is married to the widow of a millionaire."

"It's the same!" said Max, sagely nodding his head; "and I must contrive to time my visit to Ruan Abbey so that I may meet this pleasant, gentlemanly, new acquaintance of mine. I wonder what he meant by saying that his presence is only tolerated at the Abbey! Perhaps wealth has not improved Mr. Penruan; but if he is not a genial host, why does Captain Renton insist on visiting him? It strikes me that I am just turning over the first page of romance, of which the gallant Captain is the hero; but I shall know more about it when I honour Mr. Penruan with a call."

Fresh from the unquestioning good fellowship of Californian life, and imbued with a notion that every one who had known and loved his excellent father would, for his sake, rejoice to see his son, Max Havering made no further delay in town than was involved in a visit to Poole's ere he went down into Cornwall. But a lapse of thirty or forty years had effected great alterations. The lovely scenes described in the journal of the elder Havering were there, just clothed in the first soft tints of early spring but the friends of his boyhood were dispersed or dead. His name was almost forgotten, and though the people to whom Max recalled it were civilly pleased to see him, no one testified that cordiality he had anticipated. It was, therefore, with a feeling of unwelcome depression that he found himself one evening ringing the large bell in the porch of Ruan Abbey, and speculating the while whether it would not have been wiser to give up all hope of being welcomed by a kinsman, and return to London.

(To be Continued.)

Billingsisms.

I never had a man cum to me for advice, but before he got thru he had more advice to offer than to ask for.

To avoid all trouble or law suits from heirs and others, I have concluded to administer upon my own estate by spending it as I go along.

When an ole man marries a young wife the lov in the tranackshun is alwus on the one side, but the folly is equally divided.

A burnet is not so innsent az a katterpillar, but I venerate them more. There is one end oy them that no man kan with impunity phool with.

Express.

THE GREATEST NUMBER."

($1.00 per annum, if paid in advance.

DAY, NOV. 23, 1877.

NO. 30.

of his adversary made him feel led of his impetuosity, and he flung smiling cabman from him.

"'s hard to let him go," he muttered.
fully, "for he richly deserved a ing! But you are quite right, sir."
nkly added; "it would be a folly nounce my English career with quarrel, especially as it would be iance with your customs; though think our summary method of set-dispute the best."

"might and right always went to-I should agree with you," was the ng reply; "and, I dare say, it an-well enough in unsettled countries every man must take care of him-But here the law arranges our differences for us; and you know the old —'At Rome we must be Romans.'" ag his, but the officer was passing on,
for the new arrival to follow his lug-which the porters were carrying in-hotel, but his steps were arrested earnest entreaty that he would re-n't go yet! Yours is the first ly voice I have heard, and I should know you better! Come and try of the cigars I have in one of my s, and give me another word or two good counsel. But you don't me," the gentleman added, as he at his new acquaintance hesitated.

ame is Max Havering, an English-
y descent, a Californian by birth location. I am visiting the mother-y for a holiday, and to look up my al relatives. As yet I don't know and it's such wretched work din-ne, that I hope you'll not refuse itation!"

poke with such a pleasant, winning b, that British reserve thawed, and n Renton answered with equal coregret to be obliged to say that I an engagement for the evening,

I must keep; but I have an hour
e, which I shall be happy to spend on. I am a Captain in the Guards, y name is Renton—Charles Ren-gentleman shook hands and went e hotel together. The rather fasti-guardsman was not in the habit of ising with strangers; but he had n able to resist Max Havering's manner; and there mutual liking sed when the cigars had been unl, pronounced excellent, and somewarming imbibed to keep out the the cheerless March day, while a ntial meal was being prepared for ngry traveller.

was an amusing companion, for young, bold, and light-hearted, and e fresh from one of those half-d countries, miles and miles of virgin soil still remain untrod;
Captain Renton was sufficiently tic and adventurous to listen with t and question him eagerly when cribed life as it is in the Far West.
ll those vivid and graphic details
ly eye-witnesses can give.

a closer observer than the gay, tless Max would have noticed how a their unreserved chat, the differ-e education and disposition made known. Charlie Renton said so bout himself that, when the young most happy; but I thought you spoke of leaving town immediately."

"Why, so I shall; and therefore I suppose I must decline your invitation, though I should like to have a peep at the great dusty camp of which your nation seems so proud."

"Then why not say yes? There will be a review on the Long Valley on Saturday, and I should like to make you confess that our soldiers are worth seeing when they play the game of war."

"I'd be delighted to accept," said Max, frankly; "but I fancy I would not be polite to my father's relatives to roam about and enjoy myself till I have paid my respects to them. As soon as I return from Cornwall, I shall look you up."

"Cornwall, did you say?" and Captain Renton looked decidedly inquisitive. "I also have friends in that country, whom I propose visiting—probably in the course of a week or two."

"Then it's just possible that we may meet there. I hope we shall, though the name of the particular village for which I am bound has escaped my memory.
Must you really be going, just, too, as they have brought a dinner that looks so appetizing?"

"Don't let me detain you from it," said Captain Renton, shaking hands with the hospitable Californian; "and don't forget your promise to look me up at Aldershot."

Max nodded.

"Always providing we do not run against each other earlier. By the bye, you have not given me that word of advice."

"No, indeed!" was the laughing reply;
"there's no occasion for it, while you can take care of yourself so well, especially against the attacks of extortionate cab-men. There is one thing, however, I will suggest, as I am sure you are too sensible to be offended."

But he paused, and looked at Max inquiringly, till encouraged with a laughing "Say on, Macduff!"

"Go and see one of our West End tailors before you leave London, for the fashions of San Francisco vary in some particulars from ours, and no man likes to look peculiar when he first makes the acquaintance of his relatives."

Max surveyed his loose suit, compared it with the well-made attire of the Guardsman, and reddened a little at the contrast.
But he thanked him warmly for the suggestion, and followed him to the door, saying, "You may as well give me the address of your Cornish friends, for I shall call upon you while you are with them, if they will not look agast at the intrusion."

Captain Renton scribbled it on a leaf torn from his pocket-book, but remarked at the same time, "I suppose I ought to warn you that, as I am barely tolerated at Ruan Abbey myself, there may not be a very gracious reception accorded to one of my acquaintances."

"Shall I chance that?" he was frankly asked, "or would you rather I stayed away?"

Something like a jealous spasm shot through Charlie Renton's heart. The beautiful Eleanor, for whose sake he was ready to leave London at the commencement of the season, was rarely kind, and always cov. Sometimes, he could have Varieties.

He Lipped.

Mr. Sayre, of Lexington, was troubled with a lip. One day the overseer of one of his farms came to headquarters to say he wanted some porkers. "Very well," said Mr. Sayer, "go and buy four or five thowth and pigth and put them on the farm." The man inquired if he should take the money with him to pay for them.
"No," said Sayre, "they all know me.
Thend them here, and I'll pay." In a fortnight's time the overseer reappeared with the information that he had been all over the country, but could not get more than 900 pigs. "Nine hundred pigth!"
exclaimed the employer; "who told you to buy 900 pigth?" "Why, you did, sir," replied the overseer; "You told me to buy four or five thousand pigs; and I tried to do it." "I did no thuth thing," said Sayre; "I told you to buy four or five thowth and their little pigth."

A wood teamster yesterday had some business to transact with the occupant of a room in the top storey of a block on Griswold Street, and as he reached the landing of the last flight of stairs his heel caught and down he rolled, bumping from stair to stair, and unable to catch hold of anything.

A lawyer leaned over the stairs, as he heard the noise, and shouted:

"You'll strike bottom pretty quick—don't get discouraged."

"Oh, I know just where I am, I counted the stairs when I went up!" replied the teamster.

As he landed, he rubbed his bruised back, and looking up the stairs, he mused:

"I counted fourteen steps going up and fifteen bumps coming down. Something wrong with the architecture of this building!"—Detroit Free Press.

A minister taking a walk on a fine day, between Dunbar and a neighboring village, saw a man, evidently the worse of drink, measuring the road from side to side, when he said to himself, "How will I get past that wretched creature?"
He then bethought himself of a break in the hedge, which opened up a way to some standing corn, by lying down among which, the man, he thought, without seeing him would pass on. But no! The man having got his eye upon him, when entering into the place of retreat, wet directly to it, and lifting up his hands, said, "Oh! I'm sorry, sorry at this. It's nothing for me to gang off the course; but, oh! if awt' to see what I see." The minister then said, "O, man, John, go awa', ye're drunk." "Me drunk?" said the man; "faith sir, I'm no sae drunk as yoursel"—for I can keep the road!"

How A Millionaire Stopped Smoking.

William H. Vanderbilt was, at one time, greatly addicted to the habit of smoking. One day, on their way to St.
Petersburg, on board the steam yacht Northern Star, the father and son were walking on deck. The latter was puffing away his after-dinner cigar. "I wish you would give up that smoking of yours."

THE

"Express" Job Rooms.

We are this week, giving extensive orders for a new assortment of

PLAIN AND FANCY JOB TYPE,

from the best Canadian and American Foundries, and will before the 25th inst., be in a position to turn out all classes of work in a style not to be surpassed by any office in the Province.

WE MAKE A SPECIALTY OF FINE & COLORED WORK.

Prices Low. Give us a Call.

WITH THE RUSSIANS IN BULGARIA.

DIFFICULTY OF THE COMMISSARIAT.

(Correspondence London News.)

We have just had a foretaste of what the rainy season will be, for a storm of a week or ten days has given us sufficiently vivid impressions of the possibilities of a town like Simniza, and they are disheartening to contemplate. The first day or two of rain it was within the power of a strong man with a pair of tall boots to go to post, but in the course of the week the building used for the office of post and telegraph was an island in a sea of black mud of the consistency of soft butter up to the bellies of the horses, and the only way to go to the post was on horseback, or in a strong waggon towed through the mud by a good team. As for the streets in the neighborhood of the hotel, circus, restaurants, an, in fact, the centre of the town, they were morasses strewn with broken carts buried nearly out of sight in the mud horses dead or choking to death in their last feeble effort to rise from the depths of the slough into which they had fallen exhausted with the struggle to haul the clumsy cart through the streets. Those who had to go on foot picked out a sticky path along the shanties and fences, sometimes requiring assistance to get out of a place into which they had ventured in the hope of being able to cross the street.

Soldiers in their long boots waded along to their posts entirely drenched, and the half-naked Wallachian hugged his sheepskin jacket to his sides, and went about with bare legs. Such a spectacle of human misery as I witnessed in that storm has rarely met my eyes before and it is scarcely to be described. All the time the shuffe trains were toiling along on their way to the front, the miserable oxen staggering through the mire, and the half-soaked driver crouched upon his load with scarcely courage enough left to flourish his whip or emit his accustomed yell. At night fire was often impossible, but when there was a lull in the storm everywhere along the road blazed little fires of cornstalks or carefully guarded chips, and a circle of peasants in sheepskin caps and jackets, their long tangled hair dripping with wet, stretched out their stiff fingers into the welcomed heat of the flame, and so lived through the long hours of darkness, until the higher temperature of daylight made it possible to sleep even in wet garments. Along the marsh between Simniza and the bridges the soft soil was so wet it became and trodden into paste, that the trains only with the greatest difficulty, and after hours of hard work, could reach the platform. The chassees leading directly from the bluff to the bridge is still in the course of preparation, the ditches and dykes already made have only served thus far to prevent free passage to the river. Everything finishes at last, and even this short piece of roadway may be complete in time to be of service in the winter. Over the bridges moved wearily the long lines of carts, the wheels solid with mud and dragging upon the platforms of the boats ankle-deep layers of mire, which required a force of men continually at work to re-

u. I am a Captain in the Guards, name is Renton—Charles Ren-gentleman shook hands and went hotel together. The rather fastidious man was not in the habit of sing with strangers; but he had a taste to resist Max Havering's manner; and there mutual liking when the cigars had been unpronounced excellent, and some-arming imbibed to keep out the cheerless March day, while a meal was being prepared for the traveller.

was an amusing companion, for young, bold, and light-hearted, and fresh from one of those half-countries, miles and miles of virgin soil still remain untrod; Captain Renton was sufficiently candid and adventurous to listen with interest and question him eagerly when he spoke of life as it is in the Far West, those vivid and graphic details of eye-witnesses can give.

A closer observer than the gay, less Max would have noticed how their unreserved chat, the difference in education and disposition made plain. Charlie Renton said so out himself, that, when the young man, Max scarcely knew more of him than the name and address of the card he had thrust in his hand while the Californian, with un-ise egotism, had laid his inmost bare. He had nothing to con- d so he spoke openly of his posi- prospects. He had been an for some years. His father—a son—had emigrated during the h to the gold-fields, and, without in any of the wild speculations in many embarked, had contrived to money and make friends. He had the pretty daughter of a Spanish it of Monterey, and settled down all estate he purchased in the f the Sacramento.

there I suppose, ought to be at nent," added Max, thoughtfully; after my cattle, and increasing t; but I have grown tired of living of varying my monotonous life w weeks in one of the cities. I am- bles, and there is little else to ne there. Besides, I am not u would call rich, and the loss of undred dollars would be serious; debating whether I should join egition to the Society Islands, or laugh at me; you can't under- wretched it is to have no alf the year round but one's own s—get married; when I came by upon an old journal of my kept while he was a lad staying one of his ancestors; and the eized me to come and view for he spots he describes so glowry good idea, travel enlarges a ws, and makes him more practi- ed Captain Renton, approvingly. w did la belle fiancée take the n?"

coloured and laughed. she opened her dark eyes wonder- ghed a little, bade me take care f, and bring her all the latest t. I am not actually affianced to in Elvira, so, you see, the affair s serious as you imagined." s upends; it hasn't reached the aking stage. You are still cool to be aware that she is not all by San Jago! she is comparably y!" cried Max, with boyish enthu- "Such eyes, such teeth; and is wax-like in its purity! There handsome woman in the State!

ukewarm lover, to end a summary y's perfections with a but "was g comment upon his speech.

not help it," Max replied, with gravity. "When I am with her's father is wealthy and hospita- I am with her, I gaze, and id fall into jealous furies when- e that she does not favour me n half-a-dozen others; but when k to Agua Dulce—my own ation—I find myself asking how

"Go and see one of our West End tailors before you leave London, for the fashions of San Francisco vary in some particulars from ours, and no man likes to look peculiar when he first makes the acquaintance of his relatives."

Max surveyed his loose suit, compared it with the well-made attire of the Guardsman, and reddened a little at the contrast. But he thanked him warmly for the suggestion, and followed him to the door, saying, "You may as well give me the address of your Cornish friends, for I shall call upon you while you are with them, if they will not look aghast at the intrusion."

Captain Renton scribbled it on a leaf torn from his pocket-book, but remarked at the same time, "I suppose I ought to warn you that, as I am barely tolerated at Ruan Abbey myself, there may not be a very gracious reception accorded to one of my acquaintances."

"Shall I chance that?" he was frankly asked, "or would you rather I stayed away?"

Something like a jealous spasm shot through Charlie Renton's heart. The beautiful Eleanor, for whose sake he was ready to leave London at the commencement of the season, was rarely kind, and always coy. Sometimes, he could have sworn that she loved him; but more frequently she held him at bay, with a haughty reserve that maddened him. What if this handsome, dashing Californian found that favour in her eyes which he could never obtain!

Two proud, however, to let Max see that he feared a rival, he answered, "Come if you feel any desire to see beautiful scenery or enjoy deep-sea fishing. You can have both in the neighbourhood of Ruan Abbey; and if I cannot promise you a welcome from its owners, I can get you the best of quarters at Jennifer Madron's, in the village; so I'll not say good-bye, but au revoir."

"I wish I had asked him where this Abbey is located," mused Max, as he sat enjoying his wine, when the cloth had been cleared. "The name sounds so familiar, that I must have seen it in my father's journal. I'll hunt it out."

Accordingly, though page after page of the faded and almost illegible manuscript the Californian pored, till he found the passage he sought. It was a brief account of a tour along the coast, made in the writer's boyhood, and contained these words:—

"Rode with my cousin, John Penruan, as far as the Abbey, from which he takes his name. He was half offended because I said it was a pity that such a fine building should be falling to decay, and quite fiercely asked me what a man could do who had no money. He is a strange, unsocial fellow, and I have been warned to avoid him."

Beneath these lines, and evidently written some years afterwards, was the following note:—

"John Penruan is rich enough now to rebuild the old Abbey, for news has reached me that he is married to the widow of a millionaire."

"It's the same!" said Max, sagely nodding his head; "and I must contrive to time my visit to Ruan Abbey so that I may meet this pleasant, gentlemanly, new acquaintance of mine. I wonder what he meant by saying that his presence is only tolerated at the Abbey! Perhaps wealth has not improved Mr. Penruan; but if he is not a genial host, why does Captain Renton insist on visiting him? It strikes me that I am just turning over the first page of romance, of which the gallant Captain is the hero; but I shall know more about it when I honour Mr. Penruan with a call."

Fresh from the unquestioning good fellowship of Californian life, and imbued with a notion that every one who had known and loved his excellent father would, for his sake, rejoice to see his son, Max Havering made no further delay in town than was involved in a visit to Poole's ere he went down into Cornwall. But a lapse of thirty or forty years had effected great alterations. The lovely scenes described in the journal of the elder Havering were there, just between Dunbar and a neighboring village, saw a man, evidently the worse of drink, measuring the road from side to side, when he said to himself, "How will I get past that wretched creature?" He then bethought himself of a break in the hedge, which opened up a way to some standing corn, by lying down among which, the man, he thought, without seeing him would pass on. But no! The man having got his eye upon him, when entering into the place of retreat, wet directly to it, and lifting up his hands, said, "Oh! I'm sorry, sorry at this. It's naughting for me to gang af the course; but, oh! if awid' to see what I see." The minister then said, "O, man, John, go awa', ye're drunk." "Me drunk!" said the man; "faith sir, I'm no sae drunk as yersel"—for I can keep the road!"

How A Millionaire Stopped Smoking.

William H. Vanderbilt was, at one time, greatly addicted to the habit of smoking. One day, on their way to St. Petersburg, on board the steam yacht Northern Star, the father and son were walking on deck. The latter was puffing away his after-dinner cigar. "I wish you would give up that smoking of yours. I'll give $10,000 if you do," said the Commodore abruptly. "You need not give any money. Your wish is quite sufficient," answered the son, throwing the cigar overboard. And he has never smoked since. The command which William H. has always had over himself is quite remarkable. He was, for example, like his father very fond of a game of whist, and like him, considered himself to be one of the best players. When he had removed to New York, and became connected with the Harlem Railroad, he used to spend three or four evenings a week at the Union Club. But he noticed that tobacco smoke and midnight hours interfered with the clearness of his head the next morning, and he at once gave up both club and whist. The same thing happened with wine. He liked a glass of champagne, but having discovered or imagined that his head felt it next day, he never touches any wine now, not even at public banquets and dinner parties at his own house. As to spirits, they were always out of the question with him.

Sitting Bull's Last Speech.

MY FRIENDS AND ALL THE QUEEN'S MEN WHOM I SO RESPECT:—I have heard your talk. I knew you would speak to me in that way. Nobody told me. I just knew it. It is right. I came to you in the first place because I was being hard driven by the Americans. They broke their treaties with my people, and when I rose up and fought, not against them, but for our right, as the first people on this part of the earth, they pursued me like a dog, and would have hung me to a tree. They are not just. They drive us into war, and then seek to punish us for fighting. This is not honest. The Queen would not do that. Long ago, when I was a boy, I heard of the Queen, now my Great Mother. I heard that she was just and good. Now I know it. You gave me shelter when I was hard pressed. My own life is dear to me, but I did not value it when I fought the Americans, but I did value the life of my nation. Therefore, I brought my people to you. I thank you for what you done for them. I will go to the Red Deer and be at peace. Tell the Queen that. Tell her I will be a good man, that my people will be good. Tell her also that we never were bad, for she knows that it is not wrong to fight for life. My people are weary and sick. I will take them to Red Deer; and now I declare before you that I will not make trouble, or annoy you, or give pain to the Queen. I will be quiet. I will never fight on your soil unless you ask me to help you. Then I will fight. I wish you good-by. Place me where you like, I will be at peace in Canada. But you who are brave soldiers and not treaty-breakers, thieves and murderers, you would think me a coward if I did not die fighting the Americans. Therefore, while I go to Red Deer now to live at peace (here courage enough, I want to nourish his whip or emit his accustomed yell. At night fire was often impossible, but when there was a full in the storm everywhere along the road blazed little fires of cornstalks or carefully guarded chips, and a circle of peasants in sheepskins caps and jackets, their long tangled hair dripping with wet, stretched out their stiff fingers into the welcomed heat of the flame, and so lived through the long hours of darkness, until the higher temperature of daylight made it possible to sleep even in wet garments. Along the marsh between Simnitsa and the bridges the soft soil was so cut in pieces and trodden into paste, that the trains only with the greatest difficulty, and after hours of hard work, could reach the platform. The chaussée leading directly from the bluff to the bridge is still in the course of preparation, and the ditches and dykes already made have only served thus far to prevent free passage to the river. Everything finishes at last, and even this short piece of roadway may be complete in time to be of service in the winter. Over the bridges moved wearily the long lines of carts, the wheels solid with mud and dragging upon the platforms of the boats ankle deep layers of myre, which required a force of men continually at work to remove. On this side of the river, the Sistova side, the bridge ended in a slough to which the worst morass in Simnitsa was but a joke. Along the short path between the bridges and the town, perhaps the eighth of a mile in length, two score waggons were mired, broken, and useless, and many beasts perished. Here, too, a chaussée is in process of building along under the bluff a couple of yards above the level of the stream, and winding up the hill to the broad road that leads to Biela and Turnova. It promises well after several weeks of work, but is far from completion. The bridges themselves show no signs of weakness, but they cannot hold against any great rise of water, and certainly the river ice will leave no trace of their construction.

The Future of Canada.

Said Mr. Blake to his constituents when he addressed them at Teeswater:—And here I must seize the opportunity of saying a word or two with reference to our relation to the Empire, which were necessarily to some extent, however, slightly and incidentally involved in that discussion. You know that I have expressed the opinion which I believe is shared by most thinking men, that these relations are anomalous, and that the present form of connection is not destined to be perpetual. My opinion is that the day must come when we shall cease to be dependents, as I hope, by exchanging dependence for association; by rising from the present position of colonist to that of partners in the freedom, the fortunes and the responsibilities of the Empire. (Cheers.) The subject has received a considerable impetus since its discussion three years ago. One of the foremost statesmen of the English Liberal party, Mr. Balfour, in the fall of 1875, delivered a long address in which he fully recognized what some people here do not appear disposed to recognize—the anomalous character of the present relation of England and her colonies, and said that the choice was between separation and federation; between partnership and disassociation. He gave his powerful voice for partnership; and he invited his fellow-countrymen, as I in my humble way invite mine, to look at the subject calmly from that point of view; and—the present is obviously lacking the element of permanence—to prepare their minds for the assumption of that full measure of freedom and responsibility which belongs to us as fellow-subjects of those Britons who inhabit the United Kingdom. (Loud cheers.)

Come to Grief.

A Montreal man, who was only lately married, set out some years ago for California, leaving his young wife behind. He corresponded with her, but at last ceased to write. The wife subsequently heard that he had been killed poCKET; while the Californian, with unconscious egotism, had laid his inmost thoughts bare. He had nothing to conceal, and so he spoke openly of his position and prospects. He had been an orphan for some years. His father—a younger son—had emigrated during the first rush to the gold-fields, and, without joining in any of the wild speculations in which so many embarked, had contrived to amass money and make friends. He had married the pretty daughter of a Spanish merchant of Monterey, and settled down on a small estate he purchased in the valley of the Sacramento.

"And there I suppose, ought to be at this moment," added Max, thoughtfully, "looking after my cattle, and increasing my stock; but I have grown tired of living alone, or of varying my monotonous life with a few weeks in one of the cities. I am no gambler, and there is little else to amuse one there. Besides, I am not what you would call rich, and the loss of a few hundred dollars would be serious; so I was debating whether I should join and expedition to the Society Islands, or—don't laugh at me; you can't understand how wretched it is to have no society half the year round but one's own thoughts—get married; when I came by chance upon an old journal of my father's, kept while he was a lad staying at the home of his ancestors; and the whim seized me to come and view for myself the spots he describes so glowingly."

"A very good idea, travel enlarges a man's views, and makes him more practical," said Captain Renton, approvingly. "But how did la belle fiancée take the separation?"

Max coloured and laughed.

"Oh, she opened her dark eyes wonderingly, sighed a little, bade me take care of myself, and bring her all the latest fashions. I am not actually affianced to my cousin Elvira, so, you see, the affair is not as serious as you imagined."

"Je comprends; it hasn't reached the heart-breaking stage. You are still cool enough to be aware that she is not all angel!"

"Nay, by San Jago! she is comparably beautiful!" cried Max, with boyish enthusiasm. "Such eyes, such teeth; and her skin is wax-like in its purity! There is not a handsomer woman in the State! But still—"

"Oh, lukewarm lover, to end a summary of his lady's perfections with a but!" was the jesting comment upon his speech.

"I cannot help it," Max replied, with sudden gravity. "When I am with her—Elvira's father is wealthy and hospitably—when I am with her, I gaze, and adore, and fall into jealous furies whenever I see that she does not favour me more than half-a-dozen others; but when I get back to Aguas Dulces—my own little location—I find myself asking how Elvira would contrive to exist there. I cannot picture her delicate white hands sewing buttons on my hunting-shirt, or cooking my supper; and what society would one have with a wife who never asks or cares to walk abroad, and would take no interest in a fellow's pursuits? Bah! she will have married some luckier man before I get back to America; so why do I talk of her?"

Captain Renton smiled as he rose to depart, and hummed the old song—

"If she be not fair for me,
What care I how fair she be?"

"Comfort yourself, mon ami," he added; "for I can perceive that la donna has not made a very lasting impression on you. If we should meet again before you return to California, I shall not be at all surprised to find you arranging to carry an English bride with you."

"If we meet again!" Max repeated. "Why, I hope we shall see a great deal of each other. I can't afford to let a friend drift away, while I am so wholly at sea, as I feel to be in this noisy London. Will you not smoke another cigar with me to-morrow?"

But Captain Renton shook his head. "I am only in town for the day. If you will come and dine with me at Alderhot, where I am on duty, I shall be pleased to do so. What a handsome dash-dash Californian found that favour in her eyes which he could never obtain!"

Two proud, however, to let Max see that he feared a rival, he answered, "Come if you feel any desire to see beautiful scenery or enjoy deep-sea fishing. You can have both in the neighbourhood of Ruau Abbey; and if I cannot promise you a welcome from its owners, I can get you the best of quarters at Jennifer Madrons in the village; so I'll not say goodbye, but au revoir."

"I wish I had asked him where this Abbey is located," mused Max, as he sat enjoying his wine, when the cloth had been cleared. "The name sounds so familiar, that I must have seen it in my father's journal. I'll hunt it out."

Accordingly, though page after page of the faded and almost illegible manuscript the Californian pored, till he found the passage he sought. It was a brief account of a tour along the coast, made in the writer's boyhood, and contained these words:—

"Rode with my cousin, John Penruan, as far as the Abbey, from which he takes his name. He was half offended because I said it was a pity that such a fine building should be falling to decay, and quite fiercely asked me what a man could do who had no money. He is a strange, unsocial fellow, and I have been warned to avoid him."

Beneath these lines, and evidently written some years afterwards, was the following note:—

"John Penruan is rich enough now to rebuild the old Abbey, for news has reached me that he is married to the widow of a millionaire."

"It's the same!" said Max, sagely nodding his head; "and I must contrive to time my visit to Ruau Abbey so that I may meet this pleasant, gentlemanly, new acquaintance of mine. I wonder what he meant by saying that his presence is only tolerated at the Abbey! Perhaps wealth has not improved Mr. Penruan; but if he is not a genial host, why does Captain Renton insist on visiting him? It strikes me that I am just turning over the first page of romance, of which the gallant Captain is the hero; but I shall know more about it when I honour Mr. Penruan with a call."

Fresh from the unquestioning good fellowship of Californian life, and imbued with a notion that every one who had known and loved his excellent father would, for his sake, rejoice to see his son, Max Havering made no further delay in town than was involved in a visit to Poole's ere he went down into Cornwall. But a lapse of thirty or forty years had effected great alterations. The lovely scenes described in the journal of the elder Havering were there, just clothed in the first soft tints of early spring but the friends of his boyhood were dispersed or dead. His name was almost forgotten, and though the people to whom Max recalled it were civilly pleased to see him, no one testified that cordiality he had anticipated. It was, therefore, with a feeling of unworried depression that he found himself one evening ringing the large bell in the porch of Ruau Abbey, and speculating the while whether it would not have been wiser to give up all hope of being welcomed by a kinsman, and return to London.

(To be Continued.)

BILLINGSMS.

I never had a man cum to me for advice, but before he got thru he had more advice to offer than to ask for.

To avoid all trouble or law suits from heirs and others, I have concluded to administer upon my own estate by spending it as I go along.

When an old man marries a young wife the love in the transackshun is always on the one side, but the folly is equally divided.

A hornet is not so innocent as a katterpillar, but I venerate them more. There is one end of them that no man can with impunity phool with.

cient," answered the son, throwing the cigar overboard. And he has never smoked since. The command which William H. has always had over himself is quite remarkable. He was, for example, like his father very fond of a game of whist, and like him, considered himself to be one of the best players. When he had removed to New York, and became connected with the Harlem Railroad, he used to spend three or four evenings a week at the Union Club. But he noticed that tobacco smoke and midnight hours interfered with the clearness of his head the next morning, and he at once gave up both club and whist. The same thing happened with wine. He liked a glass of champagne, but having discovered or imagined that his head felt it next day, he never touches any wine now, not even at public banquets and dinner parties at his own house. As to spirits, they were always out of the question with him.

Sitting Bull's Last Speech.

MY FRIENDS AND ALL THE QUEEN'S MEN WHOM I SO RESPECT—I have heard your talk. I knew you would speak to me in that way. Nobody told me. I just knew it. It is right. I came to you in the first place because I was being hard driven by the Americans. They broke their treaties with my people, and when I rose up and fought, not against them, but for our right, as the first people on this part of the earth, they pursued me like a dog, and would have hung me to a tree. They are not just. They drive us into war, and then seek to punish us for fighting. This is not honest. The Queen would not do that. Long ago, when I was a boy, I heard of the Queen, now my Great Mother. I heard that she was just and good. Now I know it. You gave me shelter when I was hard pressed. My own life is dear to me, but I did not value it when I fought the Americans, but I did value the life of my nation. Therefore, I brought my people to you. I thank you for what you done for them. I will go to the Red Deer and be at peace. Tell the Queen that. Tell her I will be a good man, that my people will be good. Tell her also that we never were bad, for she knows that it is not wrong to fight for life. My people are weary and sick. I will take them to Red Deer; and now I declare before you that I will not make trouble, or annoy you, or give pain to the Queen. I will be quiet. I will never fight on your soil unless you ask me to help you. Then I will fight. I wish you good-by. Place me where you like, I will be at peace in Canada. But you who are brave soldiers and not treaty-breakers, thieves and murderers, you would think me a coward if I did not die fighting the Americans. Therefore, while I go to Red Deer now to live at peace (here the speaker almost shrieked) I will come back when my braves are strong, or if they will not come with me I will come alone and fight the Americans until death. You I love and respect; them I hate, and you Queen's soldiers, would despise me if I did not hate them. That is all. I am ready to go with you to the Red Deer."

Sitting Bull's head men grunted their assent and approbation, and then retired. On leaving the fort for his camp, Sitting Bull wept, and handed a few beads among the police officers as a keepsake. At the camp the braves embraced him, and he made another speech, reviewing what he had said to the police. When he told them that he had to fight the Americans again, even if he had to fight single handed, the braves yelled and grunted enthusiastically.

The Brant Memorial Association is to apply at the next sitting of the Ontario Legislature for an Act of Incorporation.

Berlin, Nov. 19.—It is expected the German Government will ask Parliament for permission to contract a loan of $37,500,000, a third of which is represented by loss on the resumption of gold currency.

between the bridges and the town, perhaps the eighth of a mile in length, two score wagons were mired, broken, and useless, and many beasts perished. Here, too, a chaussée is in process of building along under the bluff a couple of yards above the level of the stream, and winding up the hill to the broad road that leads to Diela and Turnova. It promises well after several weeks of work, but is far from completion. The bridges themselves show no signs of weakness, but they cannot hold against any great rise of water, and certainly the river ice will leave no trace of their construction.

The Future of Canada.

Said Mr. Blake to his constituents when he addressed them at Teeswater:—And here I must seize the opportunity of saying a word or two with reference to our relation to the Empire, which were necessarily to some extent, however, slightly and incidentally involved in that discussion. You know that I have expressed the opinion which I believe is shared by most thinking men, that these relations are anomalous, and that the present form of connection is not destined to be perpetual. My opinion is that the day must come when we shall cease to be dependents, as I hope, by exchanging dependence for association; by rising from the present position of colonist to that of partners in the freedom, the fortunes and the responsibilities of the Empire. (Cheers.) The subject has received a considerable impetus since its discussion three years ago. One of the foremost statesmen of the English Liberal party, Mr. Buxton, in the fall of 1875, delivered a long address in which he fully recognized what some people here do not appear disposed to recognize—the anomalous character of the present relation of England and her colonies, and said that the choice was between separation and federation; between partnership and disassociation. He gave his powerful voice for partnership; and he invited his fellow-countrymen—as I in my humble way invite mine—to look at the subject calmly from that point of view; and—the present tie obviously lacking the element of permanence—to prepare their minds for the assumption of that full measure of freedom and responsibility which belongs to us as fellow-subjects of those Britons who inhabit the United Kingdom. (Loud cheers.)

Come to Cref.

A Montreal man, who was only lately married, set out some years ago for California, leaving his young wife behind. He corresponded with her, but at last ceased to write. The wife subsequently heard that he had been killed in a quarrel, and married again. The second husband died shortly after, and the lady married as her third husband a rich real estate agent here. Their happiness, however, was not of long duration, as letters soon came from San Francisco from the first husband, requesting his spouse to go out there to meet him. In order to satisfy herself, the lady went out, found her recalcitrant husband, but declined to stay with him, and returned to the man she was last wedded to. Between two stools, however, she came to grief, as the last husband, having taken legal advice, declined to take her back. The affair is very unfortunate, as the lady is highly respectable and respected in this community, where she has resided all her life.—Witness.

Several porpoises have made their appearance in the river near Quebec of late, and one was seen yesterday opposite Sillery.

The missing canal schooners that were so long delayed, both up and down the lakes, in the late storm, have been heard from.

DIRECTORY.

TRAVELER'S GUIDE.

G. T. RAILWAY.

GOING EAST.	GOING WEST.
Express.....12:55 a. m.	Express.....5:12 p. m.
Express.....12:55 p. m.	Express.....5:52 a. m.
Mixed.....11:20 p. m.	Mixed.....7:55 a. m.

STAGES ARRIVE AT NAPANEE.

From Newburgh and Tamworth,	10 1/2 a. m.
From Pictou and Mill Point,	10 1/2 a. m.
From Erinsville,	10 1/2 a. m.

DEPART FROM NAPANEE.

To Newburgh and Tamworth,	2 1/2 p. m.
To Mill Point and Pictou,	2 1/2 p. m.
To Erinsville,	2 1/2 p. m.

STEAMBOATS.

Str. Shannon , leaves Pictou daily,	6 a. m.
Arriving at Napanee,	9:30 a. m.
Leaves Napanee,	3 p. m.
Arriving in Pictou,	6 p. m.
Str. Pilgrim , (Napanee and Mill Point),
Leaves Napanee 8:30 a. m., and 1:15 p. m.
Leaves Mill Point 11 a. m., and 3:30 p. m.

POST OFFICE.

The Post Office Napanee is open from 8 a. m. till 6 p. m.
Day Train East Mail closes,	12:05 p. m.
West,	4:30 p. m.
Night Train East,	9:00 p. m.
West,	9:00 p. m.
Camden Route—Tamworth, Centreville, Camden East, Newburgh and Napanee Mills—Mail closes 2:15 p. m.
Mill Point and Prince Edward County Route—Mill Point, Pictou, Northport, and Demorestville—Mail closes 6:30 a. m.
Fredericksburg Route—Morven, Hamburg, Sillsville, Parma and Conway—Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays—Mail closes 1 p. m.
Switzerville—Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays—Mail closes 1:15 p. m.
Gosport and Gretna—Saturday—Mail closes 1 p. m.
Erinsville, Roblin and Selby, daily—Mail closes 1:30 p. m.
Overton, Forest Mills and Leinster, daily—Mail closes 1:30 p. m.

CHURCHES.

HOURS OF SERVICES.

Episcopal Methodist—Rev. C. Hartley. Services 10:30 a. m., and 6:30 p. m. Sunday School, 2 p. m.
Canada Methodist—Rev. A. B. Chambers, L.L.B. Services 10:30 a. m., and 6:30 p. m. Sunday School, 2 p. m.
Episcopal—Rev. J. J. Bogart, Rector. Services 11 a. m., and 7 p. m. Sunday School 3 p. m.
Presbyterian—Rev. A. Young. Services 10:30 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Sunday School 2 p. m.
Roman Catholic—Rev. Father MacDonagh. Mass 10:30 a. m., and 6:30 p. m. Sunday School 2:30 p. m.
The Brethren—Meet at 11 a. m., and 7 p. m. Sunday School at 2:30 p. m., every Sunday in Grange Block.

GEO. P. ROWELL & Co.,

40 PARK ROW, NEW YORK,

—AND—

ROWELL & CHESMAN,

St. Louis,

AGENTS for the "NAPANEE EXPRESS", Napanee, Ont.

THE EXPRESS.

NAPANEE, NOV. 23rd, 1877.

PITIFUL.

Tory leaders have a peculiar way of dealing with opponents, which, when examined, may be styled pitiful indeed. During the last two years, in the wanderings of John A. and his star troupe up and down the Province, from one end of the Dominion to the other, that Right Honorable gentleman and his followers have made it an invariable practice on all occasions to pour forth volumes of abuse on the devoted heads of the Grit Government. Not satisfied with uttering the basest misrepresentations, the most unfounded scandals of political abuses, which, when brought to task and given an opportunity, they dare not repeat on the floor of the House, they have stooped to pour out the bitterest, most malignant personal abuse, which a ready tongue and

WHO SOLD HIS BIRTH-RIGHT?

The Standard of this week appears to be suffering from a relapse of the fever which so nearly proved fatal to its diseased temperament a few weeks since. The editor of that journal vainly endeavors to make out that although the Conservatives of Lennox, through their so-called Liberal Association, bartered, or rather gave, away their liberty of franchise to a few kid-gloved gentry of Toronto, who purpose manipulating the whole Tory party in Ontario, the Reformers have been guilty of a similar act, because the friends of the Government have formed themselves into an organization to secure the election of their candidate. The evidence, however, except in the judgment of the Standard man, comes far short of establishing his plea. The positions are as widely different as the North Pole and the Equator. In the case of the Conservatives, they blindly swallow a cast iron pledge to support whoever or whatever may be the nominee of the Association, i. e., the U. E. Club, at Toronto, which directs all the movements and makes the all important laws for their subordinates. On the other hand the Reform Association is composed of electors desirous of securing the return of a candidate already in the field, a body who frame their own rules and regulations and are dictated to by no city magnates as to who shall or who shall not be their representative. They have not, like their opponents, directly and blindly given away their franchise, their liberty, to a few wire-pullers at Toronto, who from a back room in the U. E. Club, may dispose of their votes as may best suit their personal interests or their pockets.

—Further evidence of the success of policy of adopted by the Government in looking after our trade relations with other countries are coming rapidly to hand. Notwithstanding the predictions of a virulent opposition, these relations are constantly brightening. The Montreal Herald understands that very considerable shipments of Canadian manufactures are being made from Ontario, on orders from Australia for these goods, and consequent on the exhibition of Canadian products in April last at Sydney. Shipments of Canadian slates are also being made at Boston, as well as of other goods, and two cargoes of timber have been sent this fall from St. Lawrence. Good hopes are entertained of orders from Australia for Canadian made car wheels.

—News from the Maritime Provinces say that the operations at the Nova Scotia coal mines have become brisker, and most of the mines are being worked on full time. Several large orders have been received from the United States, also that the lower provinces are exporting potatoes to Europe, as well as Quebec. The St. John Telegraph says: "John E. O'Brien, Esq., is loading his new vessel at Bathurst with potatoes for Liverpool. Nine thousand barrels will be on board this week, costing 70c. to 80c. per barrel. Special arrangements have been made for ventilation. Surely that sinful Grit Government is ruining

Fresh successes have crowned the efforts of the Montenegrins in the neighborhood of Antivari, and the Prince of Montenegro, encouraged thereby, is planning an invasion of Albania, in which he has invited Greece to co-operate. Certain advice accuses the Russian agents in the Principality of having applied three hundred thousand roubles, intended for the relief of the inhabitants, to the purchase of political influence.

The rumoured peace negotiations are officially contradicted at Constantinople. Saturday.

The news from the seat of war is meagre to-day. General Gourko is said—though the report lacks confirmation—to have effected a junction with a Servian corps under Horvatovitch near the frontier. Nothing new is reported from Erzeroum. The assault on Kars was to have been on the 13th, and the Russian troops were ready for the attack, which, however had to be postponed owing to the bad weather. Orders have been issued at St. Petersburg for the preparation of the stores necessary for the mobilization of the rest of the army.

Monday.

Two operations of an important character are announced this morning. An assault, has been, or is said to have been, made upon Plevna, resulting in the repulse of the Russians. And a report from a Russian source announces the fall of Kars yesterday after twelve hours' fighting. An engagement has also taken place at Etropol, in the direction of Sofia, in which a Russian attack on the Turkish positions, was repulsed with heavy loss. The Montenegrins are also reported to have captured Antivari.

The attitude of Serbia is again attracting attention, Russia is said to be urging Prince Milan to co-operate in the war, in view of the fact that Mehemet Ali is expected to make an attempt to relieve Plevna at the beginning of next month; and of the further fact that the Turks have begun to construct entrenchments along the line of the frontier and are concentrating troops at Olisoura and neighbouring points, and may any day attempt an invasion. The greatest activity prevails at Belgrade. Eight thousand infantry and six battalions left the city on Saturday for the frontier, the direction taken indicating a demonstration against Austria. Andrassy, however, expresses his belief that Serbia will not break the peace.

A feeling in favour of peace is now manifested in high circles at Constantinople. At a Council held on Friday—presided over by the Sultan—a general feeling, in which the Sultan participated, was expressed in favour of bringing the war to a close, and a hope is expressed that England would aid in such a movement.

Tuesday.

The report published yesterday of the capture of Kars by General Melikoff's troops has received a confirmation which gives some brief details of the affair.

A special despatch to the London Daily News from Erzeroum, reporting the capture of Kars by the Russians, says the Turks evacuated the place and retreated towards Erzeroum. The Russians pursued, and captured forty of the retreating Turkish battalions. The Turks lost 5,000 men killed and 10,000 taken prisoners, besides three hundred cannon. The Russian losses are reported at 2,700 men.

Kars was captured by 15,000 Russians, who climbed the steep rocks, ramparts, and walls, and drove an equal number of desperately fighting Turks in headlong flight over their ditches and parapets, compelling them to die or surrender. The principal attack was made on the southern forts by General Lazareff, who commanded the right wing. The attack began in the centre about 8:30 o'clock in the evening, when Count Grabbe led his brigade against the Khanli Rebout, and himself fell dead at the first onset. Captain Kwadnicki, of the 89th Regiment, was the first to enter the redoubt.

Sitting Bull in His New Home.

DEVOTION OF HIS FOLLOWERS.

(Correspondence N. Y. World.)

FORT WALSH, Cypress Hills, N. B. Territories, Nov. 8.—On the 2nd inst. rode out to Dead Horse Valley, 10 miles south-east of this post, where Sioux are encamped. Many of the braves were out hunting, and Sitting Bull himself was away at the Cache Forks, a point of call for traders, ten miles off. He turned about four o'clock, and after getting the rounds among the lodges we adjourned to his own lodge. I met him by appointment for the purpose of having quiet talk with him on his own case. Indian matters generally. A fierce storm had set in, and the soaking weather outside was bitterly cold, but the Oh lodge is well skinned, and with a his fire of popular sticks very comfortable. Two squaws, one a handsome maiden twenty, sat huddled up in a corner, laughing and chatting with one of the young men. Little Current, a half-breed Indian and a very clever fellow, who is Sitting Bull's right hand, was taking the belt of a cabri in the other corner. Poplar was a smoky fire, and as the wind tore at the centre-hole in big gusts, it was times difficult for one to see his neighbor's face. The Marmot, a young Sioux great renown among the people, lay a sleeping dog inside the door, and swore the braves who every few minutes poked in their heads to speak with Little Current, who is "boss" of the camp. Sitting Bull is engaged, and Chief director of the chase. While we waited supper, which was being prepared in the lodge in the rear, Sitting Bull showed some of the adornments of his tepee. He has two rifles, one a Winchester, the other a repeater, and an old fowl piece slung in a wampum belt; a nun of knick-knacks, e. g., buffalo horns, plated glass, a looking-glass, pouches, &c.; a hat of the species "jerry," which he said he found after departure of the American Commissioners; clothes, trinkets, some fine pol and a quantity of old newspapers. He asked him if he had any relics of Custer affair, and he said he had not would tell me about that by-and-by. He said he had a number of French br given him by Catholic missionaries, others, but they were stowed away in other lodge. Half an hour spent in imaging through the lodge brought per, which consisted of pemican, c steak, and good spring water. The t—a buffalo hide—being cleared, the y men carried what remained into a co and despatched it down the Marmot return and flinging himself down at the c Sitting Bull, Little Current, and m then crowded up to the fire, which a client squaw fed from time to time, and gan our talk in French very well, Sitting Bull speaks it admirably, in p of which I send his opening talk verba He spoke fluently in a low tone, f was suffering from a hacking cough. had told him that I intended to n our talk public, and he had evide prepared himself. It is impossible t interview an Indian by a direct que and answer, for when he is in the n for talking he runs on in defiance of interruptions, however brusque, to the e the chapter. I simply gave Sitting a text, and stopped when he exhauste then I gave him another, and so on began by telling him that I had heard that Bishop McLean—the e lent Episcopal Bishop of the Dioces the Saskatchewan—had left Winn for Eastern Canada to bring the cas the North-west Indians, including Ni Bull, before the Churches, and also fore the Government at Ottawa.

Sitting Bull, gazing into the fire speaking as though in a reverie, slowly began:—

The Great Spirit has made the man and the white man brothers, they ought to take each other by hand. The Great Spirit loves all children. He esteems the white

GEO. P. ROWELL & Co.,

40 PARK ROW, NEW YORK,

—AND—

ROWELL & CHESMAN,

ST. LOUIS.

AGENTS for the "NAPANEE EXPRESS",
Napanee, Ont.

THE EXPRESS.

NAPANEE, NOV. 23rd, 1877.

PITIFUL.

Tory leaders have a peculiar way of dealing with opponents, which, when examined, may be styled pitiful indeed. During the last two years, in the wanderings of John A. and his star troupe up and down the Province, from one end of the Dominion to the other, that Right Honorable gentleman and his followers have made it an invariable practice on all occasions to pour forth volumes of abuse on the devoted heads of the Grit Government. Not satisfied with uttering the basest misrepresentations, the most unfounded scandals of political abuses, which, when brought to task and given an opportunity, they dare not repeat on the floor of the House, they have stooped to pour out the bitterest, most malignant personal abuse, which a ready tongue and a depraved wit could frame. No member of the Government could hope to escape its virulence. Even the honored dead were assailed to injure the feelings of the objects of their malice. For nearly two years was the constant stream borne with a fortitude becoming high-minded gentlemen and statesmen. Beyond a soft remonstrance now and again, no retaliation was attempted, until emboldened by their apparent successes, they overstepped the bounds—forbearance was no longer a virtue; the honest indignation of cruelly injured men rose in its might and punishment followed, sure and signal. Now that the leash has been applied to their own shoulders, those petty haulequins whine and howl in the most dismal manner, and their friends tar and wide cry out, that the penalty is excessive, and blame the members of the Ministry for stooping to reply to personalities. Now we hear it on all sides, "why do they not defend their acts of legislation? why not discuss the political questions of the day, and leave those personalities to take care of themselves?" Because, we reply, that the hour for forbearance had long since passed, nothing short of a castigation such as has been given would have any effect on the torrent which has flowed from the lips of those calumniators, and who but those who win at the blows will, under existing circumstances, say that they have been misapplied. Mr. Cartwright, being, as he was, for some time intimately associated with those gentlemen before the fall, and knowing as he does the tricks and schemes by which their tenure of office was prolonged, has been the especial butt for the shafts hurled by these maligners. With the patience of a Job did he bare their abuse. But the time best suit their personal interests or their pockets.

—Further evidence of the success of policy of adopted by the Government in looking after our trade relations with other countries are coming rapidly to hand. Notwithstanding the predictions of a virulent opposition, these relations are constantly brightening. The Montreal Herald understands that very considerable shipments of Canadian manufactures are being made from Ontario, on orders from Australia for these goods, and consequent on the exhibition of Canadian products in April last at Sydney. Shipments of Canadian slates are also being made at Boston, as well as of other goods, and two cargoes of timber have been sent this fall from St. Lawrence. Good hopes are entertained of orders from Australia for Canadian made car wheels.

—News from the Maritime Provinces say that the operations at the Nova Scotia coal mines have become briske, and most of the mines are being worked on full time. Several large orders have been received from the United States, also that the lower provinces are exporting potatoes to Europe, as well as Quebec. The St. John Telegraph says: "John E. O'Brien, Esq., is loading his new vessel at Bathurst with potatoes for Liverpool. Nine thousand barrels will be on board this week, costing 70c. to 80c. per barrel. Special arrangements have been made for ventilation. Surely that sinful Grit Government is ruining the county with its free trade proclivities.

SOME TIME SINCE attention was drawn to the efforts of the Australians, particularly the inhabitants of Queensland, to impose a differential tax on Chinese immigrating into the country. The object was, of course, to prevent their coming. This was in direct violation of the treaty between England and China, which guaranteed to the subjects of each of these empires entrance into the territories of the other on the same conditions as were accorded to the citizens of any other nationality. As, however, the Chinese have repeatedly broken this stipulation, and as the Colonists persisted in their attempt to levy the impost upon the objectionable immigrants, the British Government has yielded, and the Royal assent has been given to the Queensland Act.

—Reports of the progress of the canvass in Quebec East, show that the enthusiasm with which Mr. Laurier was received is undiminished, and that his chances of success, notwithstanding the unscrupulous tactics which have, and are being used against him by the opposition. At the mass meeting on Friday, where they defied Mr. Laurier and his friends to meet them, at the close of the meeting, according to the Mercury, three-fourths of the assemblage formed in procession, and escorted Mr. Laurier off the grounds. Mr. Thibault was not allowed to speak at all, on account of his insult to Madame Laurier, while Mr. Chapeau was confronted with embarrassing questions concerning the Tanneries Land Swap. Toronto and Montreal Opposition journals, however, predict Mr. Laurier's defeat with as much confidence as they have centrating troops at Olissoura and neighbouring points, and may any day attempt an invasion. The greatest activity prevails at Belgrade. Eight thousand infantry and six battalions left the city on Saturday for the frontier, the direction taken indicating a demonstration against Austria. Andrassy, however, expresses his belief that Serbia will not break the peace.

A feeling in favour of peace is now manifested in high circles at Constantinople. At a Council held on Friday—presided over by the Sultan—a general feeling, in which the Sultan participated, was expressed in favour of bringing the war to a close, and a hope is expressed that England would aid in such a movement.

Tuesday.

The report published yesterday of the capture of Kars by General Melikoff's troops has received a confirmation which gives some brief details of the affair.

A special despatch to the London Daily News from Erzeroum, reporting the capture of Kars by the Russians, says the Turks evacuated the place and retreated towards Erzeroum. The Russians pursued, and captured forty of the retreating Turkish battalions. The Turks lost 5,000 men killed and 10,000 taken prisoners, besides three hundred cannon. The Russian losses are reported at 2,700 men.

Kars was captured by 15,000 Russians, who climbed the steep rocks, ramparts, and walls, and drove an equal number of desperately fighting Turks in headlong flight over their ditches and parapets, compelling them to die or surrender. The principal attack was made on the southern forts by General Lazareff, who commanded the right wing. The attack began in the centre about 8:30 o'clock in the evening, when Count Grabbe led his brigade against the Khanli Redoubt, and himself fell dead at the first onset. Captain Kwadnicki, of the 89th Regiment, was the first to enter the redoubt at eleven o'clock at night. His sword was cut clean out of his hand, and his clothes had been pierced. The redoubt surrendered early in the morning, and then the towers. Almost simultaneously with the capture of the Kahpli Redoubt, the citadel, Fort Sanoarri, and Fort Hafiz Pasha were carried by assault. By daylight on Sunday morning Lazareff's troops had made progress as far as the capture of Fort Karadagh. The other forts maintained a stubborn resistance until eight o'clock, when all the garrisons which could escape fled towards Erzeroum. These were overtaken by dungeons and Cossacks and brought back.

The success will enable Gen. Melikoff to advance to the assistance of Gen. Heyman in his operations against Erzeroum, which is not apparently doomed. Elated by her victories, Russia will now, it is stated, decline to listen to any offers of mediation.

There is still a hitch in the negotiations between Serbia and Russia, in consequence of the unwillingness of the latter to accede to certain of the former's demands.

The successes of the Montenegrins continue. Though still unable to make any impression on Antivari they have stormed the citadel of Spizza, and now hold the coast line from the Austrian frontier to the River Bojana, but are here held in check by two Turkish ships of war.

Appropos of Austria, a report is current that the Turks have violated the territory of the Empire, certain troops having sacked several houses, and carried off cattle from the northern side of the line.

An article in the St. Petersburg Gazette having recommended a Franco-Russian alliance to the North German Gazette points out that such a step would at once convert the friendship of Austria and Germany into hostility.

Wednesday.

The fall of Kars will seriously affect the chances, not only of Erzeroum holding out, but of a continuation of Osman Pasha's stubborn resistance at Plevna. And this entirely apart from the effect this crushing reverse will necessarily pro-

ers; clothes, trinkets, some nine pounds and a quantity of old newspapers. asked him if he had any relics of the Custer affair, and he said he had not; I would tell me about that by-and-bye. E said he had a number of French bibles given him by Catholic missionaries and others, but they were stowed away in another lodge. Half an hour spent in rummaging through the lodge brought super, which consisted of pemmican, oat steak, and good spring water. The tab— a buffalo hide—being cleared, the young men carried what remained into a corn and despatched it the Marmot returned and flinging himself down at the doc Sitting Bull, Little Current, and myself then crowded up to the fire, which a patient squaw fed from time to time, and began our talk in French very well, but Sitting Bull speaks it admirably, in proof of which I send his opening talk verbatim. He spoke fluently in a low tone, for I was suffering from a hacking cough. had told him that I intended to make our talk public, and he had evidently prepared himself. It is impossible to interview an Indian by a direct question and answer, for when he is in the mood for talking he runs on in defiance of interruptions, however brusque, to the end of the chapter. I simply gave Sitting Bull a text, and stopped when he exhausted it then I gave him another, and so on. began by telling him that I had just heard that Bishop McLean—the excellent Episcopal Bishop of the Diocese the Saskatchewan—had left Winnipeg for Eastern Canada to bring the case of the North-west Indians, including Sitting Bull, before the Churches, and also before the Government at Ottawa.

Sitting Bull, gazing into the fire and speaking as though in a reverie, then slowly began:—

The Great Spirit has made the man and the white man brothers, as they ought to take each other by the hand. The Great Spirit loves all children. He esteems the white man and the red man alike. The wicked white man and the wicked red man are the only ones He does not love. It was the Great Spirit, not the white man, who gave us these lands. I do not think the Great Spirit sent the white man across the water to execute His works, because the white man has robbed us.

Little Current chimed in:

We have a right to hunt on all the Great Father's prairies, but the bad white man on the other side is unjust. They will not keep their word. The Queen has always kept her engagements with the Indians, but the white man on the other side, is full of tricks. After he has robbed us he exclaims, "Sitting Bull is a wretch; he deserves hanging."

Little Current—You know this is true.

I then asked Sitting Bull what he thought of his prospects for the future. He said:

I cannot say. I trust the police at Stambulokkon (Colonel McLeod). I trust the Great mother (the Queen). What am I? I am a poor Indian. I have a friend but the Queen and the Great Spirit. My heart is heavy. My nation—and we were once a great people—now weak. The hands of the Americans are against us. We have done them wrong. God placed us in the West for some end. Surely he did not place there to be killed and bung to trees. The Americans say they are civilized that we are savages. I doubt that, for the reason that they commit crime I should derat. If they are civilized then the state cannot be pleasing to the Great Spirit, for He is just and hates murder and cheating. My future is in his hand. Many moons have passed since I became a warrior among my people, but I say before Him this night that I have taken no life but in fair fight. The hands of Americans are red with the blood of my poor children. Therefore I am sure the Great Spirit will aid me and save me and my people from them. I think more than that. He is just, is he not? He punishes the guilty (les coupables) does he not? He helps the weak, is he not like him? And does he not let the weak triumph over those who seek to hu-

Dead were assumed to injure the feelings of the objects of their malice. For nearly two years was the constant stream borne with a fortitude becoming high-minded gentlemen and statesmen. Beyond a soft remonstrance now and again, no retaliation was attempted, until emboldened by their apparent successes, they overstepped the bounds—fearlessness was no longer a virtue; the honest indignation of cruelly injured men rose in its might and punishment followed, sure and signal. Now that the leash has been applied to their own shoulders, those petty harlequins whine and howl in the most dismal manner, and their friends far and wide cry out, that the penalty is excessive, and blame the members of the Ministry for stooping to reply to personalities. Now we hear it on all sides, "why do they not defend their acts of legislation? why not discuss the political questions of the day, and leave those personalities to take care of themselves?" Because, we reply, that the hour for forbearance had long since passed, nothing short of a castigation such as has been given would have any effect on the torrent which has flowed from the lips of those calumniators, and who but those who winced at the blows will, under existing circumstances, say that they have been misapplied. Mr. Cartwright, being, as he was, for some time intimately associated with those gentlemen before the fall, and knowing as he does the tricks and schemes by which their tenure of office was prolonged, has been the especial butt for the shafts hurled by these maligners. With the patience of a Job did he bare their abuse. But the time came when even his forbearance gave way and the result of his arraignment of Sir John and his co-partner at Napanee, has spread consternation in the Opposition camp, and his followers can only set up a pitiful whine, and cry, "shame on beating a poor boy so," "be his punishment never so just. Mr. Blake's reply to personal charges at Teeswater, is pronounced by the unprejudiced, the completest vindication, and the most signal reproof ever delivered in the Dominion. His answer to the calumnies against his dead parent has been read with admiration even by his opponents, and we doubt not caused even the cheek of Sir John to redden with shame. That the Ministers of the Dominion are perfectly capable of discussing political matters affecting the country has been abundantly shown in their speeches during the past summer. That they are also able to "break a lance" with their opponents on personalities has been fully illustrated, and if these Hon. gentlemen and their friends complain of the issue they must remember they have but themselves to blame, who commenced the fray.

—We notice by our exchanges, that the Board of Education, Stratford, have notified their teachers that in assigning home lessons to pupils they must have regard to the time to be occupied by the pupils in their preparation. The home work to be given not to exceed half an hour for pupils in the first class, an hour for second and third classes, and an hour and a half for the fourth class. Some such regulation might well be adopted by other places, as the system of cramming which exists to a great extent throughout the country, is not only injurious to the health of the pupils, but ultimately a drawback to their educational progress.

to the efforts of the Australians, particularly the inhabitants of Queensland, to impose a differential tax on Chinese immigrating into the country. The object was, of course, to prevent their coming. This was in direct violation of the treaty between England and China, which guaranteed to the subjects of each of these empires entrance into the territories of the other on the same conditions as were accorded to the citizens of any other nationality. As, however, the Chinese have repeatedly broken this stipulation, and as the Colonists persisted in their attempt to levy the impost upon the objectionable immigrants, the British Government has yielded, and the Royal assent has been given to the Queensland Act.

—Reports of the progress of the canvass in Quebec East, show that the enthusiasm with which Mr. Laurier was received is undiminished, and that his chances of success, notwithstanding the unscrupulous tactics which have, and are being used against him by the opposition. At the mass meeting on Friday, where they defied Mr. Laurier and his friends to meet them, at the close of the meeting, according to the Mercury, three-fourths of the assemblage formed in procession, and escorted Mr. Laurier off the grounds. Mr. Thibault was not allowed to speak at all, on account of his insult to Madame Laurier, while Mr. Chapeau was confronted with embarrassing questions concerning the Tanneries Land Swap. Toronto and Montreal Opposition journals, however, predict Mr. Laurier's defeat with as much confidence as if they knew that the "sinews of war" for a renewal of the work in Arthabaska were on hand. The corruption agents, however, are being subjected to a vigilant espionage, and it will go hard if they find opportunity to ply their nefarious work undetected. The nomination took place on Wednesday.

WAR NEWS.

Friday.

General activity in all quarters at the seat of war, with the exception of the central point, Plevna, is reported this morning. On Monday Osman Pasha was summoned to surrender, but refused; and this, taken in conjunction with the reported movements of troops within the Turkish lines, would seem to indicate on the one hand an intention of attempting to break through the besiegers, cordon by a sortie, and a purpose on the other of endeavoring to reduce the stronghold by assault.

Further changes continue to be reported from Bulgaria. Chakir Pasha has replaced Chefket Pasha at Orhanie, and Mehmet Ali, who is to be strongly reinforced in view of the aggressive movements of Serbia, has taken up a position ten miles west of Sofia, where he can keep the Servians in check, and at the same time co-operate with the forces at Orhanie. Several skirmishes are reported between the Serbian frontier guard and the Bashi-Bazouks in the neighborhood.

In Asia Minor the Russians are reported to have been repulsed in an attack upon Kars and in a movement upon Fort Azizie, near Erzeroum—a position which they succeeded in carrying, but from which they were immediately expelled. The Russian force of investment at this point is estimated at 25,000, which is not sufficient and Mukhtar Pasha is confident of his ability to hold the place until relief arrives.

ing, and then the capture of the Kahlpi Redoubt, the citadel, Fort Sanoarri, and Fort Hafiz Pasha were carried by assault. By daylight on Sunday morning Lazareff's troops had made progress as far as the capture of Fort Karadagh. The other forts maintained a stubborn resistance until eight o'clock, when all the garrisons which could escape fled towards Erzeroum. These were overtaken by dungeons and Cossacks and brought back.

The success will enable Gen. Melikoff to advance to the assistance of Gen. Heyman in his operations against Erzeroum, which is not apparently doomed. Elated by her victories, Russia will now, it is stated, decline to listen to any offers of mediation.

There is still a hitch in the negotiations between Serbia and Russia, in consequence of the unwillingness of the latter to accede to certain of the former's demands.

The successes of the Montenegrins continue. Though still unable to make any impression on Antivari they have stormed the citadel of Spizza, and now hold the coast line from the Austrian frontier to the River Bojana, but are here held in check by two Turkish ships of war.

Appropos of Austria, a report is current that the Turks have violated the territory of the Empire, certain troops having sacked several houses and carried off cattle from the northern side of the line.

An article in the St. Petersburg Gazette having recommended a Franco-Russian alliance to the North German Gazette points out that such a step would at once convert the friendship of Austria and Germany into hostility.

Wednesday.

The fall of Kars will seriously affect the chances, not only of Erzeroum holding out, but of a continuation of Osman Pasha's stubborn resistance at Plevna. And this entirely apart from the effect this crushing reverse will necessarily produce upon the morals of the Turkish troops. Immediately after the fall of Kars Gen. Melikoff set out with 15,000 men for Erzeroum, and 17,000 men of the Kars army were dispatched for services at the siege of Plevna. A suggestion has been made by a prominent Gen. on Melikoff's staff that a corps should be left to cover Erzeroum while the remainder of the Kars army should be sent overland to Scutari, which, if acted upon, would bring the invaders to the very walls of the Ottoman capital. Mukhtar Pasha has been summoned to surrender, but has refused, and is still confident of being able to hold out at Erzeroum.

The Montenegrins have sustained a slight reverse on the road between Antivari and Scutari (on the Adriatic side,) losing three hundred killed.

The Greek Chamber of deputies was yesterday occupied in debating a proposal for consular reports relative to Turkish outrages on Hellenic subjects, to which the Government was opposed, but the result is not given.

A Berlin despatch asserts that Germany will support Russia's claims to the free passage of the Dardanelles.

A Frenchman thinks the English language is very tough. "Dere is look out," he says, "which is to put out your head and see; and look out, which is to haul in your head and not far to see—just contrairie."

Some experienced parties have visited the wreck of the Magellan, on the beach at Manitowoc, and concluded that the vessel has been cut down by some heavier craft.

They were seated on a parlor sofa last evening, and as her fair cheek nestled confidently on his shoulder he poured sweet tales of love into her ear. As he likened her to the hours of the East and rapturously dwelt on her beauty, she lifted her upturned eyes to his, and in an emotional spasm gushed, "What d'yer say?"

the great spirit sent the white man to the water to execute His works, bec the white man has robbed us.

Little Current chimed in :

We have a right to hunt on all Great Father's prairies, but the bad w man on the other side is unjust. I will not keep their word. The Qu has always kept her engagements with Indians, but the white man on the c side, is full of tricks. After he has bed us he exclaims, "Sitting Bull wretch; he deserves hanging."

Little Current—You know this is

I then asked Sitting Bull what thought of his prospects for the fu He said :

I cannot say. I trust the police Stauixotukon (Colonel McLeod). I the Great mother (the Queen). I am I? I am a poor Indian. I have friend but the Queen and the C Spirit. My heart is heavy. My n —and we were once a great people now weak. The hands of the Amer are against us. We have done ther wrong. God placed us in the Wes some end. Surely he did not plac there to be killed and hung to t The Americans say they are civiliz that we are savages. I doubt that the reason that they commit crime I der at. If they are civilized then state cannot be pleasing to the C Spirit, for He is just and hates m and cheating. My future is in his h Many moons have passed since I b a warrior among my people, but say before Him this night that I taken no life but in fair fight. The l of Americans are red with the blc my poor children. Therefore I am the Great Spirit will aid me and me and my people from them. I more than that. He is just, is he He punishes the guilty (les coupas does he not? He helps the weak, i that like him? And does he not let the triumph over those who seek to them? Therefore I think He will day help me to strike Americans. I mean to-morrow or next day, but day before I die. I always ask the Spirit to help me in that. I some wish I were dead. That is when I low in spirit. When I was on the othe I was in great sorrow. When I down my head every noise of the frightened me; my sleep was trou I trembled for my children, for the a were cheats. They would make people drink fire-water, and when quarrelled with one another ever liquor the agent robbed them and dered them. Then when I, bein father of my people, struck back at wicked men, the President sent bi diers to kill me. That was ter Sometimes I thought I would go an the President. Surely he would not murderers. He must be deceived l head men. I do not think the Co sioners who were here the other would deceive him. I told the story; and two of them said I have treated badly, and they would tren well if I would return. But I have those fair words so often, I cannot the Americans. I can only fight I know they have many soldiers. I my people are weak. But what m that? They are going to kill us in way, and I think it will become u killed fighting. I am ready, but you my poor people want rest. I love all. Look at the Marmot (pointin the young brave lying by the door) would die for me now. I will show Kenawahceena! Kenawahceena!

The Marmot sprang to his feet moment, and stood respectfully b us. Speaking in Sioux, Sitting Bull ed him if he was ready to die with in a fight against the Americans. young brave, a handsome boy of tw with the figure of an athlete, looked xiously into his chief's face as thoug see if he was in earnest, and then ping on his knees beside him buried tawny face in his hands and wept. ting Bull smiled sadly, patted the y

Fresh successes have crowned the efforts of the Montenegrins in the neighborhood of Antivari, and the Prince of Montenegro, encouraged thereby, is planning an invasion of Albania, in which he has invited Greece to co-operate. Getting advice from the Russian agents in the Principality of having applied three hundred thousand roubles, intended for the relief of the inhabitants, to the purchase of political influence.

The rumoured peace negotiations are officially contradicted at Constantinople.

Saturday.
The news from the seat of war is meagre to-day. General Gourko is said—though the report lacks confirmation—to have effected a junction with a Servian corps under Horvatovitch near the frontier. Nothing new is reported from Erzeroum. The assault on Kars was to have been on the 13th, and the Russian troops were ready for the attack, which, however had to be postponed owing to the bad weather. Orders have been issued at St. Petersburg for the preparation of the stores necessary for the mobilization of the rest of the army.

Monday.
Two operations of an important character are announced this morning. An assault, has been, or is said to have been, made upon Plevna, resulting in the repulse of the Russians. And a report from a Russian source announces the fall of Kars yesterday after twelve hours, fighting. An engagement has also taken place at Etropol, in the direction of Sofia, in which a Russian attack on the Turkish positions, was repulsed with heavy loss. The Montenegrins are also reported to have captured Antivari.

The attitude of Servia is again attracting attention, Russia is said to be urging Prince Milan to co-operate in the war, in view of the fact that Mehemet Ali is expected to make an attempt to relieve Plevna at the beginning of next month; and of the further fact that the Turks have begun to construct entrenchments along the line of the frontier and are concentrating troops at Olissoura and neighbouring points, and may any day attempt an invasion. The greatest activity prevails at Belgrade. Eight thousand infantry and six battalions left the city on Saturday for the frontier, the direction taken indicating a demonstration against Austria. Andrassy, however, expresses his belief that Servia will not break the peace.

A feeling in favour of peace is now manifested in high circles at Constantinople. At a Council held on Friday—presided over by the Sultan—a general feeling, in which the Sultan participated, was expressed in favour of bringing the war to a close, and a hope is expressed that England would aid in such a movement.

Tuesday.
The report published yesterday of the capture of Kars by General Melikoff's troops has received a confirmation which gives some brief details of the affair.

A special despatch to the London Daily News from Erzeroum, reporting the capture of Kars by the Russians, says the Turks evacuated the place and retreated towards Erzeroum. The Russians pursued, and captured forty of the retreating Turkish battalions. The Turks lost 5,000 men killed and 10,000 taken prisoners, besides three hundred cannon. The Russian losses are reported at 2,700 men.

Kars was captured by 15,000 Russians, who climbed the steep rocks, ramparts, and walls, and drove an equal number of desperately fighting Turks in headlong flight over their ditches and parapets, compelling them to die or surrender. The principal attack was made on the southern forts by General Lazaroff, who commanded the right wing. The attack began in the centre about 8:30 o'clock in the evening, when Count Grabbe led his brigade against the Khanli Reboubt, and himself fell dead at the first onset.

Sitting Bull In His New Home.

DEVOTION OF HIS FOLLOWERS.
(Correspondence N. Y. World.)

FORT WALSH, Cypress Hills, N. B. W. Territories, Nov. 6.—On the 2nd inst., I rode out to Dead Horse Valley, forty miles south-east of this post, where the Sioux are encamped. Many of the bucks were out hunting, and Sitting Bull himself was away at the Cache Forks, a place of call for traders, ten miles off. He returned about four o'clock, and after going the rounds among the lodges we adjourned to his own lodge. I met him by appointment for the purpose of having a quiet talk with him on his own case and Indian matters generally. A fierce snow storm had set in, and the scolding wind outside was bitterly cold, but the Chief's lodge is well skinned, and with a hissing fire of popular sticks very comfortable. Two squaws, one a handsome maiden of twenty, sat huddled up in a corner laughing and chatting with one of the young men. Little Current, a half-breed Sioux and a very clever fellow, who is Sitting Bull's right hand, was taking the belt off a cabri in the other corner. Poplar makes a smoky fire, and as the wind tore down the centre-hole in big gusts, it was at times difficult for one to see his neighbor's face. The Marmot, a young Sioux of great renown among the people, lay like a sleeping dog inside the door, and answered the braves who every few minutes poked in their heads to speak with Little Current, who is "boss" of the camp when Sitting Bull is engaged, and Chief director of the chase. While we waited for supper, which was being prepared in a lodge in the rear, Sitting Bull showed me some of the adornments of his tepee. He has two rifles, one a Winchester, the other a repeater, and an old fowling-piece slung in a wampum belt; a number of knick-knacks, e. g. buffalo heels, horns, plaited glass, a looking-glass, pipes, pouches, &c.; a hat of the species "jerry," which he said he found after the departure of the American Commissioners; clothes, trinkets, some fine polities and a quantity of old newspapers. I asked him if he had any relics of the Custer affair, and he said he had not; he would tell me about that by-and-bye. He said he had a number of French books given him by Catholic missionaries and others, but they were stowed away in another lodge. Half an hour spent in rummaging through the lodge brought supper, which consisted of pemmican, cabri steak, and good spring water. The table—a buffalo hide—being cleared, the young men carried what remained into a corner and despatched it the Marmot returning and flinging himself down at the door. Sitting Bull, Little Current, and myself then crowded up to the fire, which a patient squaw fed from time to time, and began our talk in French very well, but Sitting Bull speaks it admirably, in proof of which I send his opening talk verbatim. He spoke fluently in a low tone, for he was suffering from a hacking cough. I had told him that I intended to make our talk public, and he had evidently prepared himself. It is impossible to interview an Indian by a direct question and answer, for when he is in the mood for talking he runs on in defiance of interruptions, however brusque, to the end of the chapter. I simply gave Sitting Bull a text, and stopped when he exhausted it; then I gave him another, and so on. I began by telling him that I had just heard that Bishop McLean—the excellent Episcopal Bishop of the Diocese of the Saskatchewan—had left Winnipeg for Eastern Canada to bring the case of the North-west Indians, including Sitting Bull, before the Churches, and also before the Government at Ottawa.

Sitting Bull, gazing into the fire and speaking as though in a reverie, then slowly began:—

The Great Spirit has made the red man and the white man brothers, and they ought to take each other by the warrior on the head, and then putting his arms about the boy's neck, continued:—

They are all ready. This is one of the best, I think he is the very best, of my young men. His feet are swift and his rifle sure. When I am killed he will take my place. He is a cunning fighter and a brave fighter. I think he is the best Indian fighter that ever was. When I am dead he will lead my people, if any remain then. They will never forget what we have went through—what we have suffered from the bad agents. Their unjust system has been at the bottom of murders without number. From what it has done in the past you can judge of what it will do in the future. (Par ce qu'elle a fait dans le passe vous pouvez juger de ce qu'elle fera dans l'avenir.) I shall never forget their wicked conduct to us. I will remember it as long as the moon shall shine by night as long as water shall run and the grass grow in the spring time. (Je m'en souviendrai tant que la lune brillera pendant la nuit, tant que l'eau coulera et que l'herbe croitra au printemps.)

There was a pause here, and the Marmot rose, and bowing to us again, threw himself by the door.

Terrible Double Murder in England

On Saturday a double murder would appear to have been committed at Wyndham, a market town within a few miles of Norwich, and but a short distance from the scene of the Stanfield Hall murders committed by the notorious Rush. The accused is a working blacksmith named Henry March. His victims were a fellow workman named Henry Bidewell, and their employer, Thomas Mayes, a veterinary surgeon, who was well known and highly respected. March was in the morning sent a short distance into the country to shoe a horse, and it is believed he took more drink than was good for him, though he was perfectly sober when seen immediately after he committed the crime. About noon he had returned, and was at work at the forge with Bidewell who was blowing the bellows while March was at the fire. Some wrangling arose between the men, and something which Bidewell said so annoyed March that he turned round, and with his fist knocked him down. A servant girl named Sarah Ann Bailey, hearing the noise, looked out of the window of the house opposite the forge, and heard March say, "I may as well finish you; I can only be hung." He then seized a bar of iron about two feet six inches long and three quarter inches square, and with it struck Bidewell several heavy blows about the head while he lay on the ground. The girl, seeing this savage attack on the prostrate man, ran down and informed her master of what she had seen; and Mr. Mayes, who was upwards of seventy years of age, ran out and remonstrated with March, who, without saying a word, knocked him down, and with the same iron bar battered his head in a frightful manner. Leaving his victims lying in the ash-pit, the one across the other, March left the workshop and went down the lane to his home, about one hundred yards distant. In the meantime the servant girl who had witnessed the occurrence ran and called her father, who passed March in the lane, and said to him, "What have you done?" To this he replied, "Nothing." Bailey went into the workshop and found the bodies of the two men as they had fallen, their heads lying in a pool of blood. Both men, who were breathing heavily, were removed to their homes, and surgical aid promptly obtained, but it was of no avail. Mr. Mayes' skull was found badly fractured, the brains protruding. Bidewell's jaw was broken and his head fearfully battered. Mayes died in about two hours, and Bidewell in about four.

Suicide—Il Treatment by a Drunken Husband—The Cause.

(From the New York Tribune, Nov. 13 th.)

laudum, nearly empty. Mrs. Stuart in full dinner dress of light silk and her ornaments were still upon the sofa. The husband's condition was from the effects of drink, grief and sorrow. He said he had entered the room Sunday evening and had noticed wife lying on the sofa. Thinking to be only sleeping he lay down on bed. Just before six o'clock in morning he had awakened. Mrs. Stuart still on the sofa, he went, spoke to her and "took her." She fell upon the floor, and he found she could give no sign of consciousness he rang for a servant sent for a physician. That was a young man could say. He grew thin and furious at times, and he remained in a half-crazed condition since, at the Berkeley.

THE ALTAR

McGEE—HENRY.—At the residence of the father, on the 21st inst., by the Rev. J. G. Young, William McGee, Esq., and his eldest second daughter of High School, of Napanee.

TAPLIN—FERGUSON.—On the 20th inst., at E. Personage, Canifton, by the Rev. J. G. Young, L. L. B. Mr. William Taplin, Esq., and his eldest son Sidney Taplin, Esq., of Farmersville, to Miss Anne M. Ferguson, daughter of Rev. John Ferguson, of Canifton circuit.

The Great Female Remedy
JOB MOSES' PERIODICAL PILLS

This well known medicine is no imaginary and safe remedy for Female Complaints and Obstructions, from any cause whatever, and although a powerful remedy, it is nothing hurtful to the constitution.
To MARRIED LADIES it is perfectly suitable, in a short time bring on the monthly with regularity.
In all cases of Nervous and spinal Afflictions in the Back and Limbs, Heaviness, on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Headaches, all the painful diseases occurring by a disordered system, these Pills will cure when all other means have failed.
These Pills have never been known to fail, where the directions on 2nd page of package are well observed.
For further particulars, get a pamphlet the agent.
JOB MOSES, NEW YORK, SOLE PROPRIETOR.
$1.00 and 12 cents for postage, enclosing Northrop & Lyman, Toronto, Ont., general for the Dominion, will insure a bottle containing 50 pills, by return mail.
Sold in Napanee by all Druggists, Mill by W. G. Egar, Tamworth J. Aylsworth, medicine dealers.

ELECTRICITY

THOMAS' EXCELSIOR ELECTRIC

WORTH TEN TIMES ITS WEIGHT IN CURE PAIN CANNOT STAY WHERE IT IS

IT is the cheapest medicine ever. One dose cures common sore. One bottle has cured Bronchitis. One bottle has cured an old cough. It positively cures catarrh, ma, and croup. Fifty cents' worth cured crick in the back, and the same time lame back of eight years' standing. It cures swollen neck, tumors, rheumatism, neuralgia, contraction of the muscle joints, spinal difficulties, and pain in any part, no matter where, be, nor from what cause it may arise, wades you good. Twenty-five worth has cured bad cases of chronic bloody dysentery. One teaspoonful cures in 15 minutes. It will cure all of piles it is possible to cure. Six applications is warranted to cure all of excoriated nipples or inflamed. For bruises, if applied often and but there is never the slightest discoloration to the skin. It stops the pain of a burn soon as applied. Cures frost-bitten feet, warts, and corns, and wounds of every description on man or beast.

Beware of Imitations.—Ask for Thomas' Electric Oil. See that the name of S. N. THOMAS is on the wrapper and the names of Northrop and Lyman are on the bottle, and you are safe.

vails at Belgrade. Eight thousand infantry and six battalions left the city on Saturday for the frontier, the direction taken indicating a demonstration against Austria. Andrassy, however, expresses his belief that Serbia will not break the peace.

A feeling in favour of peace is now manifested in high circles at Constantinople. At a Council held on Friday—presided over by the Sultan—a general feeling, in which the Sultan participated, was expressed in favour of bringing the war to a close, and a hope is expressed that England would aid in such a movement.

Tuesday.

The report published yesterday of the capture of Kars by General Melikoff's troops has received a confirmation which gives some brief details of the affair.

A special despatch to the London Daily News from Erzeroum, reporting the capture of Kars by the Russians, says the Turks evacuated the place and retreated towards Erzeroum. The Russians pursued, and captured forty of the retreating Turkish battalions. The Turks lost 5,000 men killed and 10,000 taken prisoners, besides three hundred cannon. The Russian losses are reported at 2,700 men.

Kars was captured by 15,000 Russians, who climbed the steep rocks, ramparts, and walls, and drove an equal number of desperately fighting Turks in headlong flight over their ditches and parapets, compelling them to die or surrender. The principal attack was made on the southern forts by General Lazareff, who commanded the right wing. The attack began in the centre about 8.30 o'clock in the evening, when Count Grabo led his brigade against the Khanli Rebout, and himself fell dead at the first onset. Captain Kwadmiok, of the 89th Regiment, was the first to enter the redoubt at eleven o'clock at night. His sword was cut clean out of his hand, and his clothes had been pierced. The redoubt surrendered early in the morning, and then the towers. Almost simultaneously with the capture of the Khanli Redoubt, the citadel, Fort Sanoari, and Fort Hafiz Pasha were carried by assault. By daylight on Sunday morning Lazareff's troops had made progress as far as the capture of Fort Karadagh. The other forts maintained a stubborn resistance until eight o'clock, when all the garrisons which could escape fled towards Erzeroum. These were overtaken by dungeons and Cossacks and brought back.

The success will enable Gen. Melikoff to advance to the assistance of Gen. Heyman in his operations against Erzeroum, which is not apparently doomed. Elated by her victories, Russia will now, it is stated, decline to listen to any offers of mediation.

There is still a hitch in the negotiations between Serbia and Russia, in consequence of the unwillingness of the latter to accede to certain of the former's demands.

The successes of the Montenegrins continue. Though still unable to make any impression on Antivari they have stormed the citadel of Spizza, and now hold the coast line from the Austrian frontier to the River Bojana, but are here held in check by two Turkish ships of war.

Apròpos of Austria, a report is current that the Turks have violated the territory of the Empire, certain troops having sacked several houses and carried off cattle from the northern side of the line.

An article in the St. Petersburg Gazette having recommended a Franco-Russian alliance to the North German Gazette points out that such a step would at once convert the friendship of Austria and Germany into hostility.

Wednesday.

The fall of Kars will seriously affect the chances, not only of Erzeroum holding out, but of a continuation of Osman Pasha's stubborn resistance at Plevna. And this entirely apart from the effect this crushing reverse will necessarily produce upon the morals of the Turkish troops. Immediately after the fall of Kars Gen. Melikoff set out with 15,000

under affair, and he said he had not, and he would tell me about that by-and-bye. He said he had a number of French books given him by Catholic missionaries and others, but they were stowed away in another lodge. Half an hour spent in rummaging through the lodge brought supper, which consisted of pemmican, cabri steak, and good spring water. The table—a buffalo hide—being cleared, the young men carried what remained into a corner and despatched it the Marmot returning and flinging himself down at the door. Sitting Bull, Little Current, and myself then crowded up to the fire, which a patient squaw fed from time to time, and began our talk in French very well, but Sitting Bull speaks it admirably, in proof of which I send his opening talk verbatim. He spoke fluently in a low tone, for he was suffering from a hacking cough. I had told him that I intended to make our talk public, and he had evidently prepared himself. It is impossible to interview an Indian by a direct question and answer, for when he is in the mood for talking he runs on in defiance of interruptions, however brusque, to the end of the chapter. I simply gave Sitting Bull a text, and stopped when he exhausted it; then I gave him another, and so on. I began by telling him that I had just heard that Bishop McLean—the excellent Episcopal Bishop of the Diocese of the Saskatchewan—had left Winnipeg for Eastern Canada to bring the case of the North-west Indians, including Sitting Bull, before the Churches, and also before the Government at Ottawa.

Sitting Bull, gazing into the fire and speaking as though in a reverie, then slowly began:—

The Great Spirit has made the red man and the white man brothers, and they ought to take each other by the hand. The Great Spirit loves all his children. He esteems the white man and the red man alike. The wicked white man and the wicked red man are the only ones He does not love. It was the Great Spirit, not the white man, who gave us these lands. I do not think that the Great Spirit sent the white man across the water to execute His works, because the white man has robbed us.

Little Current chimed in:

We have a right to hunt on all our Great Father's prairies, but the bad white man on the other side is unjust. They will not keep their word. The Queen has always kept her engagements with the Indians, but the white man on the other side, is full of tricks. After he has robbed us he exclaims, "Sitting Bull is a wretch; he deserves hanging."

Little Current—You know this is true.

I then asked Sitting Bull what he thought of his prospects for the future. He said:

I cannot say. I trust the police and Staminxotkon (Colonel McLeod). I trust the Great mother (the Queen). What am I? I am a poor Indian. I have no friend but the Queen and the Great Spirit. My heart is heavy. My nation—and we were once a great people—is now weak. The hands of the Americans are against us. We have done them no wrong. God placed us in the West for some end. Surely he did not place us there to be killed and hung to trees. The Americans say they are civilized—that we are savages. I doubt that, for the reason that they commit crime I shudder at. If they are civilized then their state cannot be pleasing to the Great Spirit, for He is just and hates murder and cheating. My future is in his hands. Many moons have passed since I became a warrior among my people, but I can say before Him this night that I have taken no life but in fair fight. The hands of Americans are red with the blood of my poor children. Therefore I am sure the Great Spirit will aid me and save me and my people from them. I think more than that. He is just, is he not? He punishes the guilty (les coupables), does he not? He helps the weak, is not that like him? And does he not let the weak triumph over those who seek to hurt them? Therefore I think He will some day help me to strike Americans. I don't mean to-morrow or next day, but some and something which Bidewell said so annoyed March that he turned round, and with his fist knocked him down. A servant girl named Sarah Ann Bailey, hearing the noise, looked out of the window of the house opposite the forge, and heard March say, "I may as well finish you; I can only be hung." He then seized a bar of iron about two feet six inches long and three quarter inches square, and with it struck Bidewell several heavy blows about the head while he lay on the ground. The girl, seeing this savage attack on the prostrate man, ran down and informed her master of what she had seen; and Mr. Mayes, who was upwards of seventy years of age, ran out and remonstrated with March, who, without saying a word, knocked him down, and with the same iron bar battered his head in a frightful manner. Leaving his victims lying in the ash-pit, the one across the other, March left the workshop and went down the lane to his home, about one hundred yards distant. In the meantime the servant girl who had witnessed the occurrence ran and called her father, who passed March in the lane and said to him, "What have you done?" To this he replied, "Nothing." Bailey went into the workshop and found the bodies of the two men as they had fallen, their heads lying in a pool of blood. Both men, who were breathing heavily, were removed to their homes, and surgical aid promptly obtained, but it was of no avail. Mr. Mayes' skull was found badly fractured, the brains protruding. Bidewell's jaw was broken and his head fearfully battered. Mayes died in about two hours, and Bidewell in about four.

Suicide—Ill-Treatment by a Drunken Husband—The Cause.

(From the New York Tribune, Nov. 13 th.)

Robert Stuart and his wife occupied a handsome suit of rooms on the second floor, looking out upon Ninth street. They were a quiet couple, very fashionable, very wealthy, and to all appearance very happy. The two were married at St. Thomas's Church last April, just after Easter, by the Rev. Dr. Morgan. The wedding ceremony was quiet, but a large reception was given in the evening at the bride's house. After the wedding trip the couple took rooms at the Berkeley. General and Mrs. Ward and the latter's daughter sailed for Europe, where they now are. Young Stuart had a position, nominal at least, in the Gallatin National Bank, of this city, at No. 36 Wall Street. Young Stuart was always more or less irregular in his attendance at the Bank. He complained of frequent attacks of pain in the head, and often remained for days in his room. The young man's health had never been strong, and no questions were asked. Apparently Mr. and Mrs. Stuart lived very happily at the Berkeley, amid elegant surroundings. They did not get out much, nor receive many visitors. This was attributed to their pleasure in each other's society.

But Robert Stuart was an habitual drunkard. A passion for liquor, which he had inherited, had long been indulged in the retirement of his apartment. Until recently he did not become violent, but drank and drank until he was stupid. His friends did not know of his habit. The young girl whom he married was in perfect ignorance of it until she became his wife. After marriage the fatal passion grew stronger and the days of drunken stupor were more frequent. Mrs. Stuart soon realized her terrible lot. Within two months her situation had grown desperate. The wife begged and wept and prayed. The husband drank, became brutal, and beat her

AT LENGTH HE KNOCKED HER DOWN.

On Saturday afternoon she went to her mother's house in Thirty-fourth street, and said she could bear her troubles no

the agent.
J. M. MOSES, NEW YORK, SELLER PROPRIETOR
$1.00 and 12½ cents for postage, enclose Northrop & Lyman, Toronto, Ont., general agents for the Dominion, will insure a bottle containing over 30 pills, by return mail.
Sold by Messrs. H. H. Druggists, Mill P. by W. G. Egan, Tamworth J. Aylsworth, and medicine dealers.

ELECTRICITY

THOMAS' EXCELSIOR ELECTRIC

WORTH TEN TIMES ITS WEIGHT IN GOLD
PAIN CANNOT STAY WHERE IT IS USED

IT is the cheapest medicine ever known. One dose cures common sore throat. One bottle has cured Bronchitis. 1 cent's worth has cured an old stout cough. It positively cures catarrh, influenza, and croup. Fifty cents' worth cures crick in the back, and the same quantity lame back of eight years' standing. It cures swollen neck, tumors, rheumatism, neuralgia, contraction of the muscles, joints, spinal difficulties, and pain and numbness in any part, no matter where it be, nor from what cause it may arise. It cures you good. Twenty-five cents' worth has cured bad cases of chronic bloody dysentery. One teaspoonful of colic in 15 minutes. It will cure any of piles it is possible to cure. Six or applications is warranted to cure any of excoriated nipples or inflamed breasts. For bruises, if applied often and bound there is never the slightest discoloration of the skin. It stops the pain of a burn soon as applied. Cures frost-bitten feet, warts, and corns, and wounds of every description on man or beast.

Beware of Imitations.—Ask for Thomas' Electric Oil. See that the signature of S. N. THOMAS is on the wrapper and the names of Northrop and Lyman blown in the bottle, and TAKE NO OTHER SOLD BY ALL MEDICINE DEALERS. Price 25 NORTHROP & LYMAN, Toronto, 21 Proprietors for the Dominion.

Note.—Electric—Selected and Electrized

THE

"Scientific American"

THIRTY-THIRD YEAR.

The Most Popular Scientific Paper in the World.

Only $3.21 a Year including Postage. We send Numbers a Year 4.00 per Annum.

THE SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN is a large First Weekly Newspaper of sixteen pages, printed in the most beautiful style, profusely illustrated with splendid engravings, representing the best inventions and the most recent advances in the Arts and Sciences, including Mechanics and Engineering, Steam Engineering, Railways, Civil, Gas and Hydraulic Engineering, Mill Work, Iron, Steel and Metal Work; Chemistry and Chemical Processes; Electricity, Light, Sound; Technology; Photography; Printing; New Machines, New Processes, New Inventions, Improvements pertaining to Textile Industries, Animal, Vegetable, and Mineral; and interesting facts in Agriculture, Horticulture, the Home, Health, Medical Progress, Science, Natural History, Geology, Astronomy, etc.

The most valuable practical papers, by eminent writers in all departments of Science, are found in the Scientific American; the presented in popular language, free from technical terms, illustrated with engravings, arranged so as to interest and inform all classes, readers, old and young. The Scientific American is a promotor of knowledge and progress every community where it circulates. It has a place in every family. Reading Library, College or School. Terms $3.21 per Annum, $1.00 per half year, which includes prepaid postage. Discount to Clubs and Agents. Single copies ten cents. Sold by all News Dealers. Remit by postal order to MUNN & CO., Publishers, 37 Park Row, New York.

In connection with PATENTS, Scientific American Messrs. MUNN & CO. are Solicitors of American and Foreign Patents, and have the largest establishment in the world. Patents are obtained in the best terms. Models of New Inventions Sketches examined, and advice given. A statement is made in the Scientific American of all Inventions Patented through this Agency with the name and residence of the Patentee. Public attention is thus directed to the merits of the patent, and sales or introduction effected.

Any person who has made a new discovery or invention, can ascertain, free of charge, what a patent can probably be obtained by writing the undersigned. Address for the Paper or concerning Patents.

MUNN & CO., 37 Park Row, New York. Branch Office, Cor. F & 7th Sts., Washington.

"A Complete Pictorial History of Times."—The best, cheapest, and most successful Family Paper in the Union.

THE SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN is a large First Class Weekly Newspaper of sixteen pages, printed the most beautiful and complete, representing the most important and the most recent Advances in the Arts and Sciences; including: Mechan and Engineering, Steam Engineering, Railway Mining, Civil, Gas and Hydraulic Engineering, Mill Work, Iron, Steel and Metal Work, Electricity and Chemical Processes, Electricity, Light, Heat, Sound, Technology, Photography, Printing, New Machines, New Processes, New Reel Improvements pertaining to Textile Industry, Weaving, Dyeing, Coloring, New Industrial Products, Animal Vegetable and Mineral, and interesting Facts in Agriculture, Horticulture, the Home, Health, Medical Progress, Social Science, Natural History, Geology, Astronomy etc.

It contains the most valuable practical papers, by eminent writers in all departments of Science, which are found in the Scientific American, the well presented in popular language, free from technical terms, illustrated with engravings, and arranged so as to interest and inform all classes of readers, old and young. The Scientific American is a promoter of knowledge and progress in every community where it circulates. It also has a place in every family. Reading Room, Library, College or School. Terms $3.20 yearly, $1.00 half year, which includes prepayment of postage. Discount to Clubs and Agents. Single copies ten cents. Sent by all Newsdealers. Remit by postal order to MUNN & CO., Publishers, 37 Park Row, New York.

PATENTS. In connection with Messrs. MUNN & CO., are Solicitors of American and Foreign Patents, and have the largest establishment in the world. Patents are obtained the best terms. Models of New Inventions, Sketches examined, and advice free. A special notice is made in the Scientific American of all Inventions Patented through this Agency with the residence of the Patent Office. Public attention is thus directed to the merit of the new patent, and sales or introduction effected.

Any person who has made a new discovery or invention, can ascertain, free of charge, what patent can be obtained, by writing to the undersigned. Address for the Paper or concerning Patents.

MUNN & CO., 37 Park Row, New York
Branch Office, Cor. F & 7th Sts., Washington D.C.

"A Complete Pictorial History of the Times." The best, cheapest, and most successful family paper in the Union.

Harper's Weekly.
ILLUSTRATED.

Notices of the Press.

The Weekly is the ablest and most powerful illustrated periodical published in this country. Its editorials are scholarly and convincing, and carry much weight. Its illustrations of current events are full and fresh, and are prepared by our best designers. --Louisville Courier-Journal Harper's Weekly should be in every family throughout the land, as a purer, more interesting, higher toned, better illustrated paper is not published in this or any other country. --Commercial Bulletin, Boston.

The Weekly is the only illustrated paper of its kind in this essential character, and is recognized as a national paper. --Brooklyn Eagle.

TERMS:

Postage free to all Subscribers in the United States.

HARPER'S MAGAZINE, one year $4.00
$4.00 includes payment of U. S. postage by the publishers.

Subscriptions to HARPER'S MAGAZINE, WEEKLY, and BAZAAR, to one address for one year, $4.00 or, two of Harper's Periodical, to one address for one year, $7.00; postage free.

An Extra Copy of the MAGAZINE, WEEKLY, BAZAAR will be supplied gratis for every Club Five SUBSCRIBERS at $4.00 each, paid for by remittance; or, Six Copies one year, without extra copy, for $20.00.

Back Numbers can be supplied at any time.

The Volumes of the Weekly commence with the year. When no time is mentioned, it will be understood that the subscribers wish to commence with the Number next after the receipt of his order.

The Annual Volumes of HARPER'S WEEKLY, neat cloth binding, will be sent by express, free of expense, provided the freight does not exceed one dollar, for $7.00 each. A complete set, comprising Twenty-one Volumes, sent on receipt cash at the rate of $5.25 per vol., freight at expense of purchaser.

Cloth Cases for each volume, suitable for binding, will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt $1.00 each.

Indexes to each volume sent gratis on receipt of stamp.

Subscriptions received for Harper's Periodicals only.

Newspapers are not to copy this advertisement without the express order of HARPER & BROTHERS.

Address HARPER & BROTHERS, New York

the water to execute His works, because the white man has robbed us.

Little Current chimed in:

We have a right to hunt on all our Great Father's prairies, but the bad white man on the other side is unjust. They will not keep their word. The Queen has always kept her engagements with the Indians, but the white man on the other side, is full of tricks. After he has robbed us he exclaims, "Sitting Bull is a wretch; he deserves hanging."

Little Current--You know this is true.

I then asked Sitting Bull what he thought of his prospects for the future. He said:

I cannot say. I trust the police and Staniukotuk (Colonel McLeod). I trust the Great mother (the Queen). What am I? I am a poor Indian. I have no friend but the Queen and the Great Spirit. My heart is heavy. My nation--and we were once a great people--is now weak. The hands of the Americans are against us. We have done them no wrong. God placed us in the West for some end. Surely he did not place us there to be killed and hung to trees. The Americans say they are civilized--that we are savages. I doubt that, for the reason that they commit crime I shudder at. If they are civilized then their state cannot be pleasing to the Great Spirit, for He is just and hates murder and cheating. My future is in his hands. Many moons have passed since I became a warrior among my people, but I can say before Him this night that I have taken no life but in fair fight. The hands of Americans are red with the blood of my poor children. Therefore I am sure the Great Spirit will aid me and save me and my people from them. I think more than that. He is just, is he not? He punishes the guilty (les coupables), does he not? He helps the weak, is not that like him? And does he not let the weak triumph over those who seek to hurt them? Therefore I think He will some day help me to strike Americans. I don't mean to-morrow or next day, but some day before I die. I always ask the Great Spirit to help me in that. I sometimes wish I were dead. That is when I am in low in spirit. When I was on the other side I was in great sorrow. When I laid down my head every noise of the night frightened me; my sleep was troubled. I trembled for my children, for the agents were cheats. They would make my people drink fire-water, and when they quarrelled with one another over the liquor the agent robbed them and murdered them. Then when I, being the father of my people, struck back at these wicked men, the President sent his soldiers to kill me. That was terrible. Sometimes I thought I would go and see the President. Surely he would not help murderers. He must be deceived by his head men. I do not think the Commissioners who were here the other day would deceive him. I told them my story; and two of them said I have been treated badly, and they would treat me well if I would return. But I have heard those fair words so often, I cannot trust the Americans. I can only fight them. I know they have many soldiers. I know my people are weak. But what matters that? They are going to kill us in some way, and I think it will become us to be killed fighting. I am ready, but you see my poor people want rest. I love them all. Look at the Marmot (pointing to the young brave lying by the door) He would die for me now. I will show you. Kenawheena! Kenawheena!

The Marmot sprang to his feet in a moment, and stood respectfully before us. Speaking in Sioux, Sitting Bull asked him if he was ready to die with him in a fight against the Americans. The young brave, a handsome boy of twenty, with the figure of an athlete, looked anxiously into his chief's face as though to see if he was in earnest, and then dropping on his knees beside him buried his tawny face in his hands and wept. Sitting Bull smiled sadly, patted the young just after Easter, by the Rev. Dr. Morgan. The wedding ceremony was quiet, but a large reception was given in the evening at the bride's house. After the wedding trip the couple took rooms at the Berkeley. General and Mrs. Ward and the latter's daughter sailed for Europe, where they now are. Young Stuart had a position, nominal at least, in the Gallatin National Bank, of this city, at No. 36 Wall Street. Young Stuart was always more or less irregular in his attendance at the Bank. He complained of frequent attacks of pain in the head, and often remained for days in his room. The young man's health had never been strong, and no questions were asked. Apparently Mr. and Mrs. Stuart lived very happily at the Berkeley, amid elegant surroundings. They did not get out much, nor receive many visitors. This was attributed to their pleasure in each other's society.

But Robert Stuart was an habitual drunkard. A passion for liquor, which he had inherited, had long been indulged in the retirement of his apartment. Until recently he did not become violent, but drank and drank until he was stupid. His friends did not know of his habit. The young girl whom he married was in perfect ignorance of it until she became his wife. After marriage the fatal passion grew stronger and the days of drunken stupor were more frequent. Mrs. Stuart soon realized her terrible lot. Within two months her situation had grown desperate. The wife begged and wept and prayed. The husband drank, became brutal, and beat her

AT LENGTH HE KNOCKED HER DOWN.

On Saturday afternoon she went to her mother's house in Thirty-fourth street, and said she could bear her troubles no longer. Mrs. Marks begged her to remain at the house and not return to the Berkeley. However, the wife remained only to dinner, and went back broken-hearted to her beautiful rooms and her drunken husband. Sunday morning Stuart left the Berkeley at 9 o'clock. At 11, Mrs. Stuart rang for the chambermaid, Catherine Cummings, and in great distress of mind exclaimed as the girl entered the room, "I would rather die than live as I am living." Then she said that Mr. Stuart had spoken roughly to her on Saturday night, and that she could not endure it. She directed the girl to tell Mr. Stuart, if he came in, that Mrs. Stuart had gone out for a few moments, but that she would return soon. She was out about ten minutes, returned to her room and sat down at her writing-desk. The maid left the room. Nothing further was heard from Mrs. Stuart during the day. At half-past four in the afternoon Stuart returned. Mr. Slater, the proprietor of the house, noticed as he opened the door, that Stuart was maudlin drunk. Nothing was heard during the night, but at a quarter to six a sharp summons was sent to the proprietor of the house for the nearest physician. Mr. Slater had known for a long time that Stuart drank deeply, and he sent immediately for Dr. I. F. Hubbard, of No. 27 West Ninth street, thinking that Stuart had delerium tremens.

Dr. Hubbard came in haste and found Mrs. Stuart lying on the floor, wholly insensible and nearly dead. The husband was holding her head, and in an insane way.

TRYING TO REVIVE HER.

Close by her lay a four-ounce bottle of the Kahlpi Redoubt, the citadel, Fort Sanobarri, and Fort Hafiz Pasha were carried by assault. By daylight on Sunday morning Lazareff's troops had made progress as far as the capture of Fort Kadragah. The other forts maintained a stubborn resistance until eight o'clock, when all the garrisons which could escape fled towards Erzeroum. These were overtaken by dungeons and Cossacks and brought back.

The success will enable Gen. Melikoff to advance to the assistance of Gen. Heyman in his operations against Erzeroum, which is not apparently doomed. Elated by her victories, Russia will now, it is stated, decline to listen to any offers of mediation.

There is still a hitch in the negotiations between Serbia and Russia, in consequence of the unwillingness of the latter to accede to certain of the former's demands.

The successes of the Montenegrins continue. Though still unable to make any impression on Antivari they have stormed the citadel of Spizza, and now hold the coast line from the Austrian frontier to the River Bojana, but are here held in check by two Turkish ships of war.

Apròpos of Austria, a report is current that the Turks have violated the territory of the Empire, certain troops having sacked several houses and carried off cattle from the northern side of the line.

An article in the St. Petersburg Gazette having recommended a Franco-Russian alliance to the North German Gazette points out that such a step would at once convert the friendship of Austria and Germany into hostility.

Wednesday.

The fall of Kars will seriously affect the chances, not only of Erzeroum holding out, but of a continuation of Osman Pasha's stubborn resistance at Plevna. And this entirely apart from the effect this crushing reverse will necessarily produce upon the morals of the Turkish troops. Immediately after the fall of Kars Gen. Melikoff set out with 15,000 men for Erzeroum, and 17,000 men of the Kars army were dispatched for services at the siege of Plevna. A suggestion has been made by a prominent Gen. on Melikoff's staff that a corps should be left to cover Erzeroum while the remainder of the Kars army should be sent overland to Sentari, which, if acted upon, would bring the invaders to the very walls of the Ottoman capital. Mukhtar Pasha has been summoned to surrender, but has refused, and is still confident of being able to hold out at Erzeroum.

The Montenegrins have sustained a slight reverse on the road between Antivari and Scutari (on the Adriatic side), losing three hundred killed.

The Greek Chamber of deputies was yesterday occupied in debating a proposal for consular reports relative to Turkish outrages on Hellenic subjects, to which the Government was opposed, but the result is not given.

A Berlin despatch asserts that Germany will support Russia's claims to the free passage of the Dardanelles.

A Frenchman thinks the English language is very tough. "Dere is look out," he says, "which is to put out your head and see; and look out, which is to haul in your head and not far to see--just contrairé."

Some experienced parties have visited the wreck of the Magellan, on the beach at Maniowoc, and concluded that the vessel has been cut down by some heavier craft.

They were seated on a parlor sofa last evening, and as her fair cheek nestled confidently on his shoulder he poured sweet tales of love into her ear. As he likened her to the hours of the East and rapturously dwelt on her beauty, she lifted her upturned eyes to his, and in an emotional spasm gushed, "What d'yer say?"

on the head, and then putting me about the boys neck, continued: "You are all ready. This is one of the best I think he is the very best, of my men. His feet are swift and his arms. When I am killed he will lay place. He is a cunning fighter, a brave fighter. I think he is the Indian fighter that ever was. When dead he will lead my people, if any then. They will never forget we have went through—what we suffered from the bad agents. An unjust system has been at the bottom of murders without number. From it has done in the past you can see what it will do in the future. Je qu'elle a fait dans le passe vous jugez de ce qu'elle fera dans l'ir." I shall never forget their conduct to us. I will remember as the moon shall shine by night as water shall run and the grass in the spring time. (Je m'endrait tant que la lune brillera penla nuit, tant que l'eau coulera et herbe croitra au printemps.) There was a pause here, and the Mar- se, and bowing to us again, threw if by the door.

Double Murder in England

Saturday a double murder would r to have been committed at Wyham, a market town within a few of Norwich, and but a short dis- from the scene of the Stanfield Hall rs committed by the notorious The accused is a working black- named Henry March. His victims a fellow workman named Henry ell, and their employer, Thomas s, a veterinary surgeon, who was nown and highly respected. March i the morning sent a short distance he country to shoe a horse, and it is ed he took more drink than was for him, though he was perfectly when seen immediately after he itted the crime. About noon he etructured, and was at work at the with Bidewell who was blowing the rs while March was at the fire. wrangling arose between the men, smething which Bidewell said so ed March that he turned round, ith his fist knocked him down. A t girl named Sarah Ann Bailey, g the noise, looked out of the win- of the house opposite the forge, and March say, "I may as well finish I can only be hung." He then l a bar of iron about two feet s long and three quarter inches e, and with it struck Bidewell seve- ay blows about the head while he i the ground. The girl, seeing this e attack on the prostrate man, ran and informed her master of what ad seen; and Mr. Mayes, who was rds of seventy years of age, ran out emonstrated with March, who, with- ying a word, knocked him down, ith the same iron bar battered his in a frightful manner. Leaving his s lying in the ash-pit, the one s the other, March left the workshop rent down the lane to his home, one hundred yards distant. In the time the servant girl who had wit- d the occurrence ran and called her t, who passed March in the lane, and o him, "What have you done?" he is replied, "Nothing." Bailey into the workshop and found the s of the two men as they had fallen, heads lying in a pool of blood. men, who were breathing heavily, removed to their homes, and surgi- d promptly obtained, but it was of ail. Mr. Mayes' skull was found fractured, the brains protruding. vell's jaw was broken and his head ily battered. Mayes died in about ours, and Bidewell in about four.

de---ill-Treatment by a Drunken Husband--The Cause.

laudatum, nearly empty. Mrs. Stuart was in full dinner dress of light silk and lace, and her ornaments were still upon her. The husband's condition was painful from the effects of drink, grief and terror. He said he had entered the room on Sunday evening and had noticed his wife lying on the sofa. Thinking her to be only sleeping he lay down on the bed. Just before six o'clock in the morning he had awakened. Seeing Mrs. Stuart still on the sofa, he went to her, spoke to her and "took hold of her." She fell upon the floor, and when he found she could give no sign of consciousness he rang for a servant and sent for a physician. That was all the young man could say. He grew maulin and furious at times, and has remained in a half-crazed condition ever since, at the Berkeley.

THE ALTAR

McGEE--HENRY. At the residence of the bride's father, on the 21st inst., by the Rev. A. Young, William McKee, Esq., of Pictou, to Elizabeth, second daughter of Hugh Henry, Esq., of Nanapan.

TAPLIN--FERGUSON. On the 20th inst., at the M. E. Parsonage, Capetown, by the Rev. I. B. Aylsworth, L. B. Mr. William Henry Taplin, eldest son of Sidney Taplin, Esq., of Farmersville, to Miss Annie M. Fergusson, daughter of Rev. John Fergusson, pastor of Canifton circuit.

The Great Female Remedy. JOB MOSES' PERIODICAL PILLS.

This well known medicine is no imposition, but a sure and safe remedy for Female Difficulties and Obstructions, from any cause, whatever, and although a powerful remedy, it contains nothing hurtful to the constitution.

To MARRIED LADIES it is perfectly suited. It will, in a short time bring on the monthly period with regularity.

In all cases of Nervous and spinal Affections, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Heaviness, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Low- ness of Spirits, Hysterics, Sick Headaches, Whites, and all the painful diseases occasioned by a disordered system, these Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed.

These Pills have never been known to fail where the directions on 2nd page of pamphlet are well observed.

For further particulars, get a pamphlet from the agent.

JOB MOSES, NEW YORK, SOLE PROPRIETOR.

$1.00 and 12 1/2 cents for postage, enclosed to Northop & Lyman, Toronto, Ont., general agents for the Dominion, will insure a bottle containing over 50 pills by return mail.

Sold in Nanapan by all Druggists, Mill Point, by W. G. Egar, Tamworth J. Aylsworth, and all medicine dealers.

ELECTRICITY!

THOMAS' EXCELSIOR ELECTRIC OIL.

WORTH TEN TIMES ITS WEIGHT IN GOLD-- PAIN CANNOT STAY WHERE IT IS USED

IT is the cheapest medicine ever made. One dose cures common sore throat. One bottle has cured Bronchitis. Fifty cents' worth has cured an old standing cough. It positively cures catarrh, asthma, and croup. Fifty cents' worth has cured crick in the back, and the same quantity lame back of eight years' standing. It cures swelled neck, tumors, rheumatism, neuralgia, contraction of the muscles, stiff joints, spinal difficulties, and pain and soreness in any part, no matter where it may be, nor from what cause it may arise, it always does you good. Twenty-five cents' worth has cured bad cases of chronic and bloody dysentery. One teaspoonful cures colic in 15 minutes. It will cure any case of piles it is possible to cure. Six or eight applications is warranted to cure any case of excoriated nipples or inflamed breast. For bruises, if applied often and bound up, there is never the slightest discoloration to the skin. It stops the pain of a burn as soon as applied. Cures frosted feet, boils, warts, and corns, and wounds of every description on man or beast.

Beware of Imitations.--Ask for Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. See that the signature of S. N. THOMAS is on the wrapper,

CAMPAIGN OPENED FOR 1878. Western Advertiser & Weekly Liberal.

Reduced Price. Premium to every Sub- scriber. Harvest for Agents.

The Fifteenth Annual Campaign of the Western Advertiser and Weekly Liberal is now under full headway. Hundreds of new names are pouring in from all parts of Canada. We want 5,000 new subscribers during this canvass. Plenty of room for 1,000 more agents. Our terms to agents, and inducements to subscribers will be found in anything yet offered.

BILL OF FARE.

- 1--Best general newspaper in Canada.
 - 2--Balance of year free to new subscribers.
 - 3--Splendid Engraving to every subscriber.
 - 4--Agricultural Department by W. F. Clarke.
 - 5--Teacher's Department--Best in Canada.
 - 6--Ladies' "Fashion and Kitchen" column.
 - 7--Music, pictures, chess, humor, etc.
 - 8--Full base ball, cricket and sporting news.
 - 9--Complete Temperance Record.
 - 10--Reliable and copious Market Reports.
- TERMS FOR 1878--$1.60, with engraving Landwehr's "Sanctuary," 3x20 inches. $1.50, without engraving. Postage prepaid.
- Liberal terms to agents. For free sample copies, or full instructions to agents, address.
- JOHN CAMERON & Co.,
21. "Advertiser" Office, London, Ont

A BARGAIN.

A No. 9 Columbia Cooking Stove,

With Reservoir, Nearly New.

FOR SALE CHEAP.

With or without utensils. For further particulars, apply at the EXPRESS Office. 24-25in.

Insolvent Act of 1875.

CANADA: Province of Ontario. In the County Court of County of Lennox and Addington, the County of Lennox and Addington, IN THE MATTER OF EDWARD KIMERLY BOWEN,

An Insolvent. THE Undersigned has filed in the office of this Court, a Deed of Composition and Discharge, executed by said EDWARD, and on THURSDAY, the SIXTH day of NOVEMBER next, he will apply to the Judge of the said Court for a confirmation of the discharge thereby effected.

Nanapan, October 6th, 1877.

E. K. BOWEN,
By E. B. STONE,
his Attorney, ad litem.

New Books

—AT—

HENDERSON'S

BOOKSTORE,

DOWNEY'S

ARE NOW SHOWING

Full Lines

COLORED MERINOS, COLORED MERINOS, COLORED ATHOL CLOTHS, COLORED PERSTON CORDS, COLORED BROCADES.

Full Lines in

BLACK LUSTRES, BLACK MERINOS, BLACK CASHMERES, BLACK CRAPE CLOTHS, BLACK PARAMATTAS, BLACK BARATHEADS, BLACK RUSSEL CORDS

Full Lines in

BLACK SILKS, COLORED SILKS, SILK VELVETS, VELVETEENS

A No. 9 Columbia Cooking Stove,

With Reservoir, Nearly New.

FOR SALE CHEAP.

With or without utensils. For further particulars, apply at the EXPRESS Office. 24-25in.

Insolvent Act of 1875.

CANADA: Province of Ontario. In the County Court of County of Lennox and Addington, the County of Lennox and Addington, IN THE MATTER OF EDWARD KIMERLY BOWEN,

An Insolvent. THE Undersigned has filed in the office of this Court, a Deed of Composition and Discharge, executed by said EDWARD, and on THURSDAY, the SIXTH day of NOVEMBER next, he will apply to the Judge of the said Court for a confirmation of the discharge thereby effected.

Nanapan, October 6th, 1877.

E. K. BOWEN,
By E. B. STONE,
his Attorney, ad litem.

Full Lines in

WINCEYS, FLANNELS, BLANKETS, RUGS, COTTONS, PRINTS.

Full Lines in

GLOVES, HOSIERY, CORSETS, SILK FRINGES, WOOL FRINGES, GALOONS, BRAIDS

Full Lines in

SHAWLS, MANTLES, SKIRTS.

Full Lines in

girl named Sarah Ann Bailey, the noise, looked out of the window house opposite the forge, and larch say, "I may as well finish can only be hung." He then bar of iron about two feet six and three quarter inches and with it struck Bidewell seven blows about the head while he ground. The girl, seeing this attack on the prostrate man, ran informed her master of what seen; and Mr. Mayes, who was of seventy years of age, ran out rostrated with March, who, withing a word, knocked him down, the same iron bar battered his a frightful manner. Leaving his lying in the ash-pit, the one he other, March left the workshop it down the lane to his home, a hundred yards distant. In the the servant girl who had with the occurrence ran and called her who passed March in the lane, and him, "What have you done?" he replied, "Nothing." Bailey to the workshop and found the f the two men as they had fallen, ads lying in a pool of blood. an, who were breathing heavily, moved to their homes, and surgipromptly obtained, but it was of . Mr. Mayes' skull was found actured, the brains protruding. l's jaw was broken and his head battered. Mayes died in about ra, and Bidewell in about four.

---All Treatment by a Drunken Husband---The Cause.

(the New York Tribune, Nov. 13 th.)
rt Stuart and his wife occupied ome suit of rooms on the second oking out upon Ninth street. ere a quiet couple, very fashion-ry wealthy, and to all appear-ly happy. The two were mar-St. Thomas's Church last April, ter Easter, by the Rev. Dr. . The wedding ceremony was at a large reception was given evening at the bride's house. e wedding trip the couple took t the Berkeley. General and Vard and the latter's daughter r Europe, where they now are. Stuart had a position, nominal , in the Gallatin National Bank, city, at No. 36 Wall Street. Stuart was always more or less r in his attendance at the Bank. plained of frequent attacks of the head, and often remained for his room. The young man's had never been strong, and no ns were asked. Apparently l Mrs. Stuart lived very happily erkeley, amid elegant surround-They did not get out much, nor many visitors. This was attri-o their pleasure in each other's Robert Stuart was an habitual d. A passion for liquor, which inherited, had long been in- in the retirement of his apart-Until recently he did not be-olent, but drank and drank until stupid. His friends did not f his habit. The young girl e married was in perfect ignor- until she became his wife arriage the fatal passion grew r and the days of drunken stupor ore frequent. Mrs. Stuart soon her terrible lot. Within two her situation had grown desper- The wife begged and wept and The husband drank, became and beat her GTH HE KNOCKED HER DOWN.

riday afternoon she went to her s house in Thirty-fourth street, l she could bear her troubles no Mrs. Marks begged her to re- the house and not return to keley, However, the wife re-over 50 pills, by return mail.

Sold in Napanee by all Druggists, Mill Point, by W. G. Egar, Tamworth J. Aylsworth, and all medicine dealers. 30

ELECTRICITY!

THOMAS' EXCELSIOR ELECTRIC OIL.

WORTH TEN TIMES ITS WEIGHT IN GOLD--
PAIN CANNOT STAY WHERE IT IS USED

It is the cheapest medicine ever made. One dose cures common sore throat. One bottle has cured Bronchitis. Fifty cents' worth has cured an old standing cough. It positively cures catarrh, asthma, and croup. Fifty cents' worth has cured crick in the back, and the same quantity lame back of eight years' standing. It cures swelled neck, tumors, rheumatism, neuralgia, contraction of the muscles, stiff joints, spinal difficulties, and pain and soreness in any part, no matter where it may be, nor from what cause it may arise, it always does you good. Twenty-five cents' worth has cured bad cases of chronic and bloody dysentery. One teaspoonful cures colic in 15 minutes. It will cure any case of piles it is possible to cure. Six or eight applications is warranted to cure any case of excoriated nipples or inflamed breast. For bruises, if applied often and bound up, there is never the slightest discoloration to the skin. It stops the pain of a burn as soon as applied. Cures frosted feet, boils, warts, and corns, and wounds of every description on man or beast.

Beware of Imitations.--Ask for Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. See that the signature of S. N. THOMAS is on the wrapper, and the names of Northrop and Lyman are blown in the bottle, and TAKE NO OTHER. Sold by all medicine dealers. Price 25 cts. NORTHROP & LYMAN, Toronto, Ont., Proprietors for the Dominion.
NOTE.--Electric--Selected and Electrized.

THE "Scientific American."

THIRTY-THIRD YEAR.
The Most Popular Scientific Paper in The World.

Only $3.20 a Year including Postage. Weekly. 52 Numbers a Year. 4,000 pages.

THE SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN is a large First Class Weekly Newspaper of sixteen pages, printed in the most beautiful style, profusely illustrated with splendid engravings, representing the newest inventions and the most recent Advances in the Arts and Sciences; including Mechanics and Engineering, Steam Engineering, Railway, Mining, Civil, Gas and Hydraulic Engineering, Mill Work, Iron, Steel and Metal Work; Chemistry and Chemical Processes; Electricity, Light, Heat, Sound; Technology, Photography, Printing, New Machines, New Processes, New Receipts Improvements pertaining to Textile Industry, Weaving, Dyeing, Coloring, New Industrial Products, Animal, Vegetable, and Mineral; New and Interesting Facts in Agriculture, Horticulture, the Home Health, Medical Progress, Social Science, Natural History, Geology, Astronomy etc.

The most valuable practical papers, by eminent writers in all departments of Science, will be found in the Scientific American; the whole presented in popular language, free from technical terms, illustrated with engravings, and so arranged as to interest and inform all classes of readers, old and young. The Scientific American is promotive of knowledge and progress in every community where it circulates. It should have a place in every Family, Reading Room, Library, College or School. Terms $3.20 per year, $1.60 half year, which includes prepayment of postage. Discount to Clubs and Agents. Single copies ten cents. Sold by all Newsdealers. Remit by postal order to MUNN & CO., Publishers, 37 Park Row, New York.

PATENTS, Scientific American, Messrs. MUNN & CO., are Solicitors of American and Foreign Patents, and have the largest establishment in the world. Patents are obtained on the best terms. Models of New Inventions and Sketches examined, and advice free. A special notice is made in the Scientific American of all Inventions Patented through this Agency, with the name and residence of the Patentee. Public attention is thus directed to the merits of the new patent, and sales or introduction often effected.

Any person who has made a new discovery or invention, can ascertain, free of charge, whether a patent can probably be obtained by writing to the undersigned. Address for the Paper or concerning Patents.

MUNN & CO., 37 Park Row, New York. Branch Office, Cor. F & 7th Sts., Washington D. C.

"A Complete Pictorial History of the Times."--The best, cheapest, and most successful Family Paper in the Union.

Harper's Weekly.

24-2in.

Insolvent Act of 1875.

CANADA: Province of Ontario, In the County Court of County of Lennox, the County of Lennox and Addington, and Addington, IN THE MATTER OF EDWARD KIMERLY BOWEN,

An Insolvent, THE Undersigned has filed in the office of this Court a Declaration of Composition and Discharge, executed by his creditors, and on TUESDAY, the SIXTH day of NOVEMBER next, he will apply to the Judge of the said Court for a confirmation of the discharge thereby effected, Napanee, October 6th, 1877. E. K. BOWEN, By E. B. STONE, his Attorney, at litem.

New Books

---AT---
HENDERSON'S

BOOKSTORE,

Dundas Street, - - Napanee.

ONLY 15 CTS. EACH,

That Husband of Mine.
That Wife of Mine.
The New School Ma'am.
His Grandmother's.
Tom's Wife.
That Horrid Girl.
That Lass O' Lowrie's.
Theo.
They all do it.

CHRISTMAS CARDS.
NEW YEARS CARDS.
BIRTHDAY CARDS.
CHRISTMAS PERFUMED SATCHETS.
SILK WOVEN BOOK-MARKS.
SMALL SCRAP PICTURES FOR SCRAP BOOKS.

VERY LARGE STOCK OF
Photograph Albums,
Any Size, and at any Price.

The Easel Album,

A new and very handsome article, various sizes and prices.

Books Only 10c. Each,

Christie Johnston, by Charles Reade.
Katerfolto, by Whyte-Melville.
The Best of Husbands, by James Payne.
Guy Livingstone, by George Lawrence.
Silas Marner, by George Eliot.

BLANKETS, RUGS, COTTONS, PRINTS.

Full Lines in

GLOVES, HOSIERY, CORSETS, SILK FRINGES, WOOL FRINGES, GALOONS, BRAIDS

Full Lines in

SHAWLS, MANTLES, SKIRTS.

Full Lines in

MANTALASSE, BEAVERS, NAPS, VICTORIA TWILLS, WATER-PROOFS, AND PLAID FOR ULSTERS.

Full Lines in

LADIES' AND GENTS' MERINO UNDERCLOTHING. SCOTCH AND CANADIAN VENIT WOOLENS.

Full Lines in

CLOUDS, SCARFS, SQUARES, HOODS, JACKETS.

Full Lines in

MINK SETS. SEAL SETS. BALTIC SETS. ERMINE SETS. SEAL CAPS. MINK CAPS. FURS AND ROBES.

Full Lines in

LADIES STRAW & FELT HATS. FLOWERS. FEATHERS. PLUMES, &c., &c.,

happy. The two were married by Thomas's Church last April, on Easter, by the Rev. Dr. The wedding ceremony was a large reception was given evening at the bride's house. The wedding trip the couple took the Berkeley. General and the latter's daughter Europe, where they now are. Stuart had a position, nominal in the Gallatin National Bank, city, at No. 36 Wall Street. Stuart was always more or less in his attendance at the Bank. He was the victim of frequent attacks of the head, and often remained for his room. The young man's id never been strong, and no were asked. Apparently Mrs. Stuart lived very happily rekeley, amid elegant surroundings. They did not get out much, nor many visitors. This was attributed their pleasure in each other's.

Robert Stuart was an habitual A passion for liquor, which inherited, had long been in the retirement of his apartment. Recently he did not be- lent, but drank and drank until stupid. His friends did not his habit. The young girl married was in perfect ignorance until she became his wife. The fatal passion grew and the days of drunken stupor frequent. Mrs. Stuart soon her terrible lot. Within two her situation had grown desperate. His wife begged and wept and The husband drank, became and beat her.

THE HE KNOCKED HER DOWN. day afternoon she went to her house in Thirty-fourth street, she could bear her troubles no Mrs. Marks begged her to re- he house and not return to eley. However, the wife re- nly to dinner, and went back started to her beautiful rooms drunken husband. Sunday Stuart left the Berkeley at 9 At 11, Mrs. Stuart rang for ermaid, Catherine Cummings, at distress of mind exclaimed entered the room, "I would e than live as I am living." e said that Mr. Stuart had oughly to her on Saturday that she could not endure it. ed the girl to tell Mr. Stuart, in, that Mrs Stuart had gone few moments, but that she turn soon. She was out minutes, returned to her room own at her writing-desk. The the room. Nothing further from Mrs. Stuart during the half-past four in the afternoon rned. Mr. Slater, the pro- the house, noticed as he e door, that Stuart was maul- Nothing was heard during but at a quarter to six a sharp was sent to the proprietor of or the nearest physician. Mr. known for a long time that k deeply, and he sent im- for Dr. L. F. Hubbard, of No. Ninth street, thinking that delerium tremens. bhard came in haste and Stuart lying on the floor, sensible and nearly dead. nd was holding her head, insane way.

ING TO REVIVE HER. er lay a four-ounce bottle of

THE "Scientific American."

THIRTY-THIRD YEAR.
The Most Popular Scientific Paper in The World.

Only $3.20 a Year including Postage. Weekly. 52 Numbers a Year. 1,000 pages.

THE SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN is a large First Class Weekly Newspaper of sixteen pages, printed in the most beautiful style, profusely illustrated with splendid engravings, representing the newest inventions and the most recent advances in the Arts and Sciences; including Mechanics and Engineering, Steam Engineering, Railway, Mining, Civil, Gas and Hydraulic Engineering, Mill Work, Iron, Steel and Metal Work; Chemistry and Chemical Processes; Electricity, Light, Heat, Sound; Technology, Photography, Printing, New Machines, New Processes, New Recipes, Improvements pertaining to Textile Industry, Weaving, Dyeing, Coloring, New Industrial Products, Animal, Vegetable, and Mineral; New and Interesting Facts, in Agriculture, Horticulture, the Home, Medical Progress, Social Science, Natural History, Geology, Astronomy etc.

The most valuable practical papers, by eminent writers in all departments of Science, will be found in the Scientific American; the whole presented in popular language, free from technical terms, illustrated with engravings, and so arranged as to interest and inform all classes of readers, old and young. The Scientific American is a promoter of knowledge and progress in every community where it circulates. It should have a place in every Family, Reading Room, Library, College or School. Terms $3.20 per year, $1.90 half year, which includes prepayment of postage. Discount to Clubs and Agents. Single copies ten cents. Sold by all Newsdealers. Remit by postal order to MUNN & CO., Publishers, 37 Park Row, New York.

PATENTS. In connection with the Scientific American, Messrs. MUNN & CO., are Solicitors of American and Foreign Patents, and have the largest establishment in the world. Patents are obtained on the best terms. Models of New Inventions and Sketches examined, and advice free. A special notice is made in the Scientific American of all Inventions Patented through this Agency, with the name and residence of the Patentee. Public attention is thus directed to the merits of the new patent, and sales or introduction, often effected.

Any person who has made a new discovery or invention, can ascertain, free of charge, whether a patent can probably be obtained by writing to the undersigned. Address for the Paper or concerning Patents.

MUNN & CO., 37 Park Row, New York.
Branch Office, Cor. F & 7th Sts., Washington D.C.

"A Complete Pictorial History of the Times." "The best, cheapest, and most successful Family Paper in the Union."

Harper's Weekly.

ILLUSTRATED.

Notices of the Press.

The Weekly is the ablest and most powerful illustrated periodical published in this country. Its editorials are scholarly and convincing, and carry much weight. Its illustrations of current events are full and fresh, and are prepared by our best designers.---Louisville Courier-Journal.

Harper's Weekly should be in every family throughout the land, as a purer, more interesting, higher toned, better illustrated paper is not published in this or any other country.---Commercial Bulletin, Boston.

The Weekly is the only illustrated paper of the day that in its essential characteristics is recognized as a national paper.---Brooklyn Eagle.

TERMS:

Postage free to all Subscribers in the United States.
HARPER'S MAGAZINE, one year.....$4.00

$4.00 includes payment of U. S. postage by the publishers.

Subscriptions to HARPER'S MAGAZINE, WEEKLY, and BAZAAR, to one address for one year, $4.00; or, two of Harper's Periodical, to one address for one year, $7.00; postage free.

An Extra Copy of the MAGAZINE, WEEKLY, or BAZAAR will be supplied gratis for every Club of FIVE SUBSCRIBERS at $4.00 each, paid for by one remittance; or, Six Copies one year, without extra copy, for $20.00.

Back Numbers can be supplied at any time.

The Volumes of the Weekly commence with the year. When no time is mentioned, it will be understood that the subscriber wishes to commence with the Number next after the receipt of his order.

The Annual Volumes of HARPER'S WEEKLY, in neat cloth binding, will be sent by express, free of expense, provided the freight does not exceed one dollar, for $7.00 each. A complete Set, comprising Twenty-one Volumes, sent on receipt of cash at the rate of $5.25 per vol., freight at expense of purchaser.

Cloth Cases for each volume, suitable for binding, will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of $1.00 each.

Indexes to each volume sent gratis on receipt of stamp.

Subscriptions received for Harper's Periodicals only.

Newspapers are not to copy this advertisement without the express order of HARPER & BROTHERS.

Address HARPER & BROTHERS, New York.

ONLY 15 CTS. EACH,

That Husband of Mine.
That Wife of Mine.
The New School Ma'am.
His Grandmother's
Tom's Wife.
That Horrid Girl.
That Lovers' Quarrel.
Then.
They all do it.

CHRISTMAS CARDS.
NEW YEARS CARDS.
BIRTHDAY CARDS.
CHRISTMAS PERLUMED SATCHETS.
SILK WOVEN BOOK-MARKS.
SMALL SCRAP PICTURES FOR SCRAP BOOKS.

VERY LARGE STOCK OF
Photograph Albums,
Any Size, and at any Price.

The Easel Album,
A new and very handsome article, various sizes and prices.

Books Only 10c. Each,

Christie Johnston, by Charles Reade.
Katerfelto, by Whyte-Melville.
The Best of Husbands, by James Payne.
Guy Livingstone, by George Lawrence.
Silas Marner, by George Eliot.
The Black Indies, by Jules Verne.
The English at the North Pole, do.
Michael Strogoff, by Jules Verne.
In Silk Attire, by William Black.
A Shipwreck, by Charles Reade.
The Queen of Hearts, by Walter Collins.
The Last Days of Pompeii, by Edward Lytton.

Books at 20c. Each.

Eugene Aram, by Lord Lytton.
After Dark, by Wilkie Collins.
Tobacco of the Sea, by Victor Hugo.
The Heritage of Langdale, by Mrs. Alexander.
Barbaras History, by Amelia B. Edwards.
Under Two Flags, by "Ouida."
The Tower of London, by Harrison Ainsworth.
Old Curiosity Shop, by Charles Dickens.
A Princess of India, by Walter Black.
White Lies, by Charles Reade.
It is never Too Late to Mend, by Charles Reade.
Lady Audley's Secret, by Miss Braddon.
Birds of Prey, by Miss Braddon.

Any of the above Books, and lots of others at the same price, at

HENDERSON'S BOOKSTORE,
Dundas St.
Napanea, Nov. 14th, 1877.

GRACE'S GALVE.

A Vegetable Preparation, invented in the 17th century by Dr. Wm. Grace, Surgeon in King James's army. Through its agency he cured thousands of the most serious sores and wounds, and was regarded by all who knew him as a public benefactor. 25c. a box, by mail 30c. For sale by druggists generally.

AGENTS WANTED.

Address: ETHEL W. FOWLE & SONS, Boston Mass.

Full Lines in

LADIES' AND GENTS' MERINO UNDERCLOTHING. SCOTCH AND CANADIAN VENET WOOLENS.

Full Lines in

CLOUDS, SCARVES, SQUARES, HOODS, JACKETS.

Full Lines in

MINK SETS. SEAL SETS. BALTIC SETS. ERMINE SETS. SEAL CAPS. MINK CAPS. FURS AND ROBES.

Full Lines in

LADIES STRAW & FELT HATS. FLOWERS. FEATHERS. PLUMES, &c., &c., MISS PHALEN, MANAGER.

CARPETS. OIL CLOTHS. LACE CURTAINS. AND REPPS.

Full Lines in

READY-MADE CLOTHING. WORSTED COATINGS. BEAVERS. NAPS. ENGLISH SCOTCH AND CANADIAN TWEEDS.

James Walters, Cutter.

Full Lines in

MEN AND BOYS FELT HATS. CLOTH CAPS. FUR CAPS. GENTS' FURNISHINGS.

AT PRICES

TO SUIT THE TIMES

JOHN DOWNFY.

Napanea, Oct. 6th, 1877.

Advertisements this Week.

Scientific American—Munn. & Co.
Electricity—Northrop & Lyman.
Periodical Pills—Northrop & Lyman.
Consumption Cured—Sherar.
Harper's Bazar—Harper & Bros.

THE EXPRESS.

NAPANEE, NOV. 23rd, 1877.

Wine is a mocker; strong drink is raging; whoever is deceived thereby is not wise. Therefore be not deceived by parties telling you that their Stoves are better than Boyle's. My stoves are made of the best material (not of old iron, as asserted by others in the trade), and are also good, if not better, because they are heavier, and consequently throw out more heat, and have given good satisfaction. Give me a call before purchasing elsewhere. No connection with any other establishment in Town, but manufacture and repair fireware of all kinds, by first-class Mechanics, and do Job Work of all kinds, in my line, and keep a large assortment of Cooking, Parlor Cook, Box and Coal-heating, and Double Stoves. Extra castings for stoves: stoves refitted, Ploughs and Plough-shares of all kinds. Yours truly, H. BOYLE, agent, in William Miller's old stand, opposite Webster & Boyes.

—Any parties who wish to take a local paper can have the EXPRESS free to the end of the year, on trial, with the privilege of discontinuing at that time, if unsatisfactory. Only $1 for 1878, postage free. Readers are requested to send in the names of their friends.

What the frost said to the fly: "Git." Now paint your sled and mend your skate And bring in the flowers if 'taint too late.

Advertise and beat your competitors by a large majority.

If you haven't caught a cold, catch one now—this is a good season.

The ties that connect business men with the public—Advertise.

Christmas comes on Tuesday, and is only about five weeks in the future.

The fashionable glove this winter will be a mitten with a hole in the thumb.

—Napanee is blessed with one of the most accommodating Postmasters in the Province.

—The reductions in the assessment at Belleville by the Court of Revision amounts to $35,025.

—Rumor says we are to have two skating rinks this season. All right. The more the merrier.

—The County Council will meet in Napanee, for the transaction of business on the 11th of December.

Christmas is coming, and wide-awake dealers should proclaim the glad tidings in our advertising columns.

"Time flies," suggested she. "Yes," he answered sadly, taking a dark object out of the cream, "time flies were gone."

—A young man named Leggate, working in Edwin Green's cabinet factory had two of his fingers mangled by a circular saw on Wednesday morning.

—A number of the large plate-glass windows on Dundas street have been shattered during the week, supposed to have been caused by the settling of the buildings.

—The Rev. C. S. Eastman, of Picton, will preach in the M. E. Church, Napanee, next Sabbath morning, and the Rev. Dr. Stone, of Hamilton, in the evening.

—It doesn't seem exactly right that a man should be obliged to walk through life on two bow-legs just because he indulged in the innocent diversion of sucking his toes in babyhood.

The courage that can face the cannon's mouth without flinching is of a high order, but is it safe to bet that it outranks that required to look a cold cook stove in the face about 5 a. m., during the present cold snap?

—The Intelligencer says fire is smoldering in the ruins of the Farmer's Elevator still.

—A successful social was held in the C. M. Church, on Wednesday evening.

—Yesterday being Thanksgiving Day, services were held in the Presbyterian and C. M. Churches, and church of St. Mary Magdalene.

—We have been favored with a copy of the Mill Point Echo, the new paper just started at Mill Point. It is neat and spicy for the first issue.

—Napanee has a Debating Club. Subjects of general interest and every day importance are discussed, and much good may result therefrom.

—Mr. A. Pringle, takes serious exceptions to a rather humorous "hit" at Free-thinkers which appeared in our columns a few weeks since. We give space to his communication in reply this week.

—We are requested to state that the repairs on the bridge on the Napanee and Hamburg road near the Town Hall, N. Fredericksburgh, will commence on Monday next. The public are cautioned to look out for it as the old one has to be torn up immediately.

—A young man named Hearn, who was taken to the Hospital at Kingston last week, with inflammatory rheumatism, had his leg amputated soon after arrival. He is slowly recovering, though as he aptly expressed it, they might as well took it off just behind the ears while they were at it. We hope to see him around again soon.

—The close of navigation cannot be far distant judging from the cold weather which we have been experiencing of late, the slip having been frozen over mornings this week. Last year navigation virtually closed on December 1st, although the Pirrepoint made one trip from Kingston to Belleville a week after that date. The Norseman has already laid up for the season.

—At a regular meeting of the Juvenile Temple, I. O. G. T., held on Friday evening, October 16th, in the Town Hall, Napanee, the following officers were installed by H. V. Fralick, Esq., superintendent:—W. C. T.—Bro. F. Holmes; W. V. T.—Sister T. Walker; W. S.—Bro. M. S. Plumley; W. A. S.—Bro. I. Osborne; W. F. S.—Bro. F. Schryver; W. T.—Bro. J. Rose; W. M.—Bro. R. Matheson; W. D. M.—Sister M. Roney; W. G.—Bro. E. Clements; W. Sent.—Bro. J. Wilson; W. Chap.—Bro. E. Sills; W. R. H. S.—Sister M. Conger; W. L. H. S.—Sister M. Fellows; P. W. C. T.—Bro. A. Roney.

—A young man named David Johnson was arrested on the arrival of the up-train last night at the Napanee station and lodged in the lock-up, charged with stealing Sheriff McKellar's pocket-book at Kingston. The Sheriff had been conducting a prisoner to the Penitentiary and was at Kingston station ready to return, when in the act of drawing something from his pocket, he dropped his purse, and on looking for it, the purse had disappeared. In the pocket-book was a ticket for Toronto, and the conductor being notified of the occurrence, that officer kept a sharp look-out for tickets to that place. Soon the right man was spotted, as was shown by his not being able to tell what amount he had paid for it. The young man offered to give up the ticket, but would not refund the $1.00 which was missing from the purse. He claims that he found the pocket-book and as he was going to Toronto, determined to use the ticket. He awaits examination.

More Burglaries.

The store of Owen Roblin, Ameliasburgh, was entered by burglars the other evening and a quantity of valuable goods extracted. The property in the post office, which is in the same room and among which were a number of registered

Progressive.

The enterprising managers of the Byss House, have lately had a telegraph line brought into their office for the accommodation of their guests. We are pleased to see the success which has attended the enterprise of running a house on strictly temperance principles.

ORGANIZING.

During the summer the Reformers thought the Province of the Dominion, seeing the necessity of thorough organization and united efforts have been establishing Associations in the several countries, whose special duty it becomes to look after the interest of the party in their several districts. The initiative for the establishment of such an Association in Lennox, was taken some time since, but its final establishments was only completed on Saturday last. In accordance with a request from the Secretary, about one hundred prominent supporters of the Government met in the Town Hall Napanee, for the above purpose, Mr. John Sharp, Esq., being called to the chair after few remarks from Mr. Morden, Mr. Patullo, the general secretary of the Reform Association, Toronto, addressed the meeting on the wants and needs of such a club, explaining its working, etc., after which the work of organization was proceeded with. The following officers were elected:—President, John Herring, Esq.; 1st Vice, W. H. Perry, Esq.; 2nd Vice, John Sharp, Esq.; Secretary, A. L. Morden, Esq. Vice Presidents—Ernesttown, C. W. Huffman, Esq.; Richmond, Wm. Caton, Esq.; Bath H. W. Purdy, Esq.; South Fredericksburgh, Henry Huffman, Esq.; North Fredericksburgh, Thos. Anderson, Esq.; Adolphustown, H. H. Allison, Esq.; Napanee A. McNeill, Esq.

It is expected that a branch Association will be established in every township, with working committees, who by their vigilance will be able to secure the rights, and a proper representation for the Government party at the coming elections. We suppose it is unnecessary to urge upon our friends the importance taking hold of this matter with a will. Everything depends upon the zeal of friends in the agricultural portions of the Riding. The opposition have been working long and assiduously and if we expect justice and a fair representation at the polls in the not far distant contest we must awaken and look after our common interests. Let it not be said in future that the majority with which Lennox has lately returned her members was reduced through negligence and over confidence in our own strength.

CORRESPONDENCE.

Our columns will always be open to the discussion of matters of public interest, when presented in a candid and unbiassed manner. We reserve to ourselves the right of criticism.

Darwinism.

To the Editor of the Napanee Express;

SIR,—In your last issue you publish what you call a "sharp hit for Free-thinkers," being four chapters illustrated on the "Origin of Man," burlesquing the Darwinian Theory. Now, I have no doubt that your sense of justice and love of fair play will enable you cheerfully to take a "hit" back. To be honorable you must take it for tat. First, I would remind the sapient writer of the four chapters that ridicule is not argument. Had I any hope you would publish it, I too might write "four chapters" on the "Origin of Man," as per Brahma, Allah, Ormazd, or Elohim, and by showing the inherent and intrinsic absurdities of these Scriptural accounts, bring them into contempt and ridicule. In regard to the account by the latter, I might ask the Theologian whether he wishes me to accept that contained in the first chapter of Genesis, or that given in the second, for there are two,

The Week's News.

Canadian.

Navigation at Montreal is expected close with his week.

The remains of Bishop Laval are interred in the chapel of the seminary Quebec.

The opening of a branch of Laval university at Montreal has been decided upon.

Before the Fishery Commissioners yesterday Mr. Thompson, of St. John, commenced the closing argument on the British view. He is said to have made a capital case. The award expected next week.

A forgery of the signature of an officer of the Superior Court, for the district Terrebonne, affecting the contest pending between the Seminary of Montreal and the Oka Indians in relation to the proprietorship of the site now held by the Indians' church, has been discovered at Ste. Scholastique.

It is understood that the Quebec legislature will meet for the despatch of business on the 13th prox.

A mass meeting of the electors of the East was held on Thursday when both the candidates and their porters delivered addresses.

Dr. Ahearn has declined to contest Quebec West for the Local Legislature and another candidate will be selected.

The Ottawa saw-mills stopped work on Thursday, throwing between four hundred men out of employment.

Three-fourths of the electors present at the political meeting in Quebec on Thursday night were in favor of Laurier.

The farmers of Prince Edward are rejoicing over the largest crop raised and safely housed by them. The crops are good, but the yield of wheat and oats is much above the average. Potatoes are, as usual, very fine in quality and as to quantity, there is no room for complaint.

The political contest in Quebec continues to increase in interest. Parties are conducting active canvassing from door to door.

A portion of the gaol yard in I. is to be set apart for the employment of vagrants in breaking stones for making purposes.

At a meeting of the Barrister's Association at Halifax on Saturday a committee appointed to draft a Bill for precept to the Legislature, praying for the abolition of trial by jury in civil cases.

QUEBEC, NOV. 18.—A private letter from St. John's, Nfld., states that the steamship Thames, Capt. Camphe, this port, has put in there, having tained terrific weather on the way and lost overboard her second an officers and a seaman.

The Government steamer Druid, Captain Marmen, left Quebec Tuesday the Lower St. Lawrence to bring the buoys except the four in the T which will remain there until the mail steamer passes down.

The Montreal Rine committee already succeeded in opening temperance coffee and lodging for the first of the kind in the Dominion. There is accommodation for about lodgers, who will only be charged cents each. The Montreal men have been very liberal in this matter.

The Government steamer N. chartered for the conveyance of for the Paris Exposition, arrived to-day. Goods will be received by The Deputy-Minister of Marine last evening to see to the shipper's goods.

Springle, the suspected steamship complains bitterly that the paper done him an injustice, and says he is indignant that the people of Canada know him. He will be committed to prison Monday afternoon.

A number of the large plate-glass windows on Dundas street have been shattered during the week, supposed to have been caused by the settling of the buildings.

The Rev. C. S. Eastman, of Picton, will preach in the M. E. Church, Nanawau, next Sabbath morning, and the Rev. Dr. Stone, of Hamilton, in the evening.

It doesn't seem exactly right that a man should be obliged to walk through life on two-bow-legs just because he indulged in the innocent diversion of sucking his toes in babyhood.

The courage that can face the cannon's mouth without flinching is of a high order, but it is safe to bet that it outranks that required to look a cold cook stove in the face about 5 a. m., during the present cold snap?

The corn has been much shocked, the potatoes have cast their eyes towards winter quarters, the leaves are out on a fly, and the mosquitoes have gone out of the opera business; all on account of the lateness of the season.

As the Band was promenading Dundas street, on Tuesday, in the interest of the Dramatic Club, Jerry struck in with his chimes in opposition, to the alarm of the citizens. Only the chimney on Fraser & Rennie's establishment burning out.

On Saturday evening the members and attendants of the M. E. Church, Nanawau, met in the basement of the church for a conference relative to the financial interests of the body. All interested are cordially invited to attend.

The Butcher's Orchestra organized in the rear of Music Hall on Tuesday evening, was not musical at least kept very loud time. Chief Allan should be on hand on such occasions as "leader," to make the entertainment a success.

The young bootblack, who is endeavoring to earn an honest livelihood about town, was one day this week violently assaulted by a drunken rowdy. Shiner, however, "took the law of him," and the six-footer was awarded two months at hard labor.

Wilson Mastin, a skeddaddler well-known in Prince Edward County, made his appearance in Nanawau on Tuesday. He has figured as a school teacher, sewing machine agent, ect., in various parts of Ontario, and his exploits are numerous for a youngster.

The miscreants who have been committing acts of burglary in Picton, were brought up last week. McMain pleaded guilty before the Judge on several charges, but sentence was reserved until yesterday. Lalone, his "pal," elected to be tried by jury and has been remanded until next sessions.

A large number turned out on Sunday evening last to hear Rev. Mr. Hartley's lecture on "profanity," it being the ninth of the course being delivered by that gentleman. The tenth lecture of the series will be delivered one week from next Sunday evening. Subject, "Wisdom's Choice."

The Editor of the Waterloo Chronicle was assaulted one day last week by a limb of the law. The quill-driver succeeded in projecting his assailant's limbs down stairs, and the justice inflicted a further penalty of $10 and costs. When will people learn to let such jobs out in sections, by special contract?

We direct the special attention of farmers to the advertisement of R. J. McDowall, Demorestville. The land is good, and the property can be had at a very low price if purchased before December. The location is one of the best in the county, the facilities for shipping grain being such that two cents per bushel above the usual prices, can be realized. If you wish to buy a farm see this one.

The Rev. A. Young is announced to deliver a lecture in the Town Hall, this evening. Subject—"Opposition to Great Discoveries and Inventions," being a turn, when in the act of drawing a something from his pocket, he dropped his purse, and on looking for it, the purse had disappeared. In the pocket-book was a ticket for Toronto, and the conductor being notified of the occurrence, that officer kept a sharp look-out for tickets to that place. Soon the right man was spotted, as was shown by his not being able to tell what amount he had paid for it. The young man offered to give up the ticket, but would not refund the $1.00 which was missing from the purse. He claims that he found the pocket-book and as he was going to Toronto, determined to use the ticket. He awaits examination.

More Burglaries.

The store of Owen Roblin, Ameliasburgh, was entered by burglars the other evening and a quantity of valuable goods extracted. The property in the post office, which is in the same room and among which were a number of registered letters, remained untouched.

Paris Exposition.

Among the curiosities to be sent to Paris as a sample of Canadian produce and industry is a plank of pine 13 feet 2 inches long, 8 feet broad, and ten inches thick; it weighs 1,431 pounds. A section of pine ten eight feet in diameter, and two feet three inches deep, weighs 4,860 and also goes to Paris. Wm. English, of Hamilton, exports two Indian hunting canoes of splendid finish.

Good Appointment.

The Kingston News says:—"We are pleased to learn that Capt. F. A. Carroll, of Picton, has been appointed an overseer at the Central Prison, Toronto. Captain Carroll for many years sailed the steamer 'Bay of Quinte' between Kingston and Picton, and was also purser on board the 'Alexandra,' between the Bay and Montreal, and was a very great favorite with the travelling public. His many friends will be glad to hear of his appointment.

Retrospective.

The Campbellford Herald says:—"The village of Blairton is beginning to have the appearance of a deserted locality. When the mines were in operation a few years ago, there was quite an influx of people, it was prosperous and the thriving little place presented a busy spectacle. With the suspension of work in the mines, the minors were obliged to seek other places for employment. Family after family left, and gradually it became depopulated. Once it had a post office and issued money orders; now both have been cancelled.

More Gold.

We learn from the Belleville Intelligencer that Mr. McKee, Manager of the Feigl mine, Marmora, brought to that town on Saturday last a "brick" of gold, weighing upwards of two and a half pounds, and valued at about $600, the produce of the mine in question. Mr. McKee reports that the vein shows increasing richness. It has now been worked to a depth of over 40 feet, with a drift of 50 feet to another opening on the same vein. It is very encouraging to hear such favorable reports, confirmed as they are by results of the gold mines in our north country.

N. D. C.

The Nanawau Dramatic Club gave the first of a series of entertainments with which they promise to make the long winter evenings merry—on Tuesday evening. The reputation which they established last season was sufficient to secure them a full house, and ushers were kept as busy as bees in seating the crowd as it flowed in. "Ambrose Gwinnett," a sea-side tale, was placed on the boards for the first time in this town, and when we say that the Club made a decided "hit" in their selection, we are bestowing no undeserved commendation. Throughout the role the parts were ably sustained, the acting in some cases surpassing that of pretentious troupes who come heralded by flaming posters. W. Madden, as "Ned Grayling," had probably the best conception of the character he had to sustain as the villain of the plot, and his portrayal of the gradual fall of a depraved

Darwinism.

To the Editor of the Nanawau Express:

SIR,—In your last issue you publish what you call a "sharp hit for Freethinkers," being four chapters illustrated on the "Origin of Man," burlesquing the Darwinian Theory. Now, I have no doubt that your sense of justice and love of fair play will enable you cheerfully to take a "hit" back. To be honorable you must take tit for tat. First, I would remind the sapient writer of the four chapters that ridicule is not argument. Had I any hope you would publish it, I too might write "four chapters" on the "Origin of Man," as per Brahma, Allah, Ormazd, or Elohim, and by showing the inherent and intrinsic absurdities of these Scriptural accounts, bring them into contempt and ridicule. In regard to the account by the latter, I might ask the Theologian whether he wishes me to accept that contained in the first chapter of Genesis, or that given in the second, for there are two, and they happen to be at variance. Regarding the vexed question as to the origin of man upon this earth, there is the scientific solution of the matter, and the theological account, two theories as wide apart as possible. But before bestowing too much shallow ridicule upon the scientific presentation of the question, religionists would do well to clear away some of the many absurdities which cluster around their own theory. They ought to tell us, for instance, if the "first man" was "made" less than 6000 years ago, when, how, and by whom were the people made that Geology and Archaeology demonstrate to have existed on the earth long ages before Adam's time? They ought also to tell us how it is that the Hindoo account of the creation of man, as contained in the Shaster, which long antedates the Jewish account, so very much resembles the latter? And if man is not a product of nature, according to Darwin, but has been "made" by the gods, ("let us make man"), we would like to be informed if the men of Africa, of whom Dr. Livingstone gives us an account, who he says are no higher than some of the apes were "made." If so they certainly reflect no credit on the workmanship. The Siam "Weekly Advertiser" contains the following:—"On the island of Borneo has been found a certain race of wild creatures, of which kindred varieties have been discovered in the Philippine Islands, in Terre del Faego, and in South America. They seldom walk, almost erect, on two legs, and in that attitude measure about four feet in height. They construct no habitations form no families, scarcely associate together, sleep in caves and trees, feed on snakes and vermin, on ant's eggs, and on each other. They cannot be tamed or forced to any labor, and are hunted and shot among the trees like the great gorilla, of which they are a stunted copy. When captured alive one finds with surprise that their uncouth jabbering sounds are like articulate language. They turn up a human face to gaze at their captors, and females show instincts of modesty; in fine, these wretched beings are men and women." If these "men and women" are not an evolution of nature, they were doubtless "made," too! When such specimens of the "genus homo" are still being turned out—"made"—it little becomes the believer in the Mosaic Cosmogony to sneer at Darwinism.

Yours very truly,

ALLAN PRINGLE.

Richmond, Nov. 13th, 1877.

"Enquirer's" letter is omitted as we cannot see where the public would be benefited by opening a discussion on the subject.—Ed.

Gunboat on the Lakes.

The Detroit Post says that a British naval officer is on the way from Ottawa to Windsor, where he will arrive soon, commissioned to charter a steamboat and fit her out as a gunboat to be kept ready for service in view of the troubles that have lately arisen on the question of American tugs wrecking in Canadian waters. The officer is to be clothed with extraordinary powers, included among which are the authority to enforce international regulations and settle recent difficulties and the appointment of subordinates in the various customhouse districts to look after Canadian interests in the connection named.

The Steamer "Thames."

The news of the arrival of the steamer

the buoys except the four in the 'Tra which will remain there until the mail steamer passes down.

The Montreal Rine committee already succeeded in opening temperance coffee and lodging house first of the kind in the Dominion. There is accommodation for about lodgers, who will only be charged cents each. The Montreal mercantile have been very liberal in this matter.

The Government steamer Nesque, chartered for the conveyance of goods for the Paris Exposition, arrived in to-day. Goods will be received at The Deputy-Minister of Marine as last evening to see to the shipment of goods.

Springle, the suspected steamship, complains bitterly that the papers done him an injustice, and says it is dent that the people of Canada do know him. He will be committed on Monday afternoon to take trial at the sessions of the peace, v open here in January next. Another vestigation is to be opened against on the arrival here of the Hon. Mr. manche, who has been written for, the charge of having stolen diamonds from him on the high seas.

Lieut.-Governor Cauchon was expected at Winnipeg yesterday.

The Quebec Legislature is expected meet for the despatch of business on 19th of December; and in that case adjourn on the 22nd over the holidays.

The design of Mr. Scott, chief architect to the Public Works Department for the Canadian trophy for the Exposition, has been approved of at Colonial office.

There is a dead-lock in Owen Sound police circles, the Town Council has closed the police office in order to prevent the trial of county cases in the court.

United States.

At Pittsburg the Grand Jury have turned indictments against one hundred rioters.

Iowa and Nebraska were visited Thursday last by several distinct shocks of earthquake.

Eight of the Maine and two of Maryland railroad strikers have been convicted of obstructing the mails.

The San Francisco cigar maker about to discharge their Chinese employees and bring hands from York.

Ninety thousand models were destroyed by the recent fire at the Washington Patent Office.

One Harvard student is paying his tuition through college by turning his room into stationery and book store, and another a graduate of Wesleyan University meeting his expenses at the law school working in a barber's shop.

Escopedo has been acquitted on charge of Violation of the United States neutrality laws, but fears are expressed that he will at once endeavor to ex new revolutionary movement against Diaz. El Paso county, Texas, is the hands of a Mexican mob, who backed by their countrymen to the of the river, and claim the region question as Mexican territory. Parties of marauding Indians have crossed into Texas, and are engaged depredation upon cattle and horses.

Great Britain.

A general strike of Lancashire spinners is apprehended.

Mr. Gladstone has been elected Rector of the University of Glasgow, defeating Sir Stafford Northcote.

The chief of the proposed Roman Catholic hierarchy in Scotland will be the Archbishop of St Andrews will reside at Edinburgh. There will be bishops of Glasgow, Lismore, dean, Whithorn, and Dunkeld.

Fifteen hundred weavers at Old Lancashire, have struck against a reduction, and the masters threaten a clash street, on Tuesday, in the interest of the Dramatic Club, Jerry struck in with his chimes in opposition, to the alarm of the citizens. Only the chimney on Fraser & Rennie's establishment burning out.

—On Saturday evening the members and attendants of the M. E. Church, Nanawee, meet in the basement of the church for a conference relative to the financial interests of the body. All interested are cordially invited to attend.

The Butcher's Orchestra organized in the room of Music Hall on Tuesday evening, is not musical at least kept very loud time. Chief Allan should be on hand on such occasions as "leader," to make the entertainment a success.

—The young bootblack, who is endeavoring to earn an honest livelihood about town, was one day this week violently assaulted by a drunken rowdy. Shiner, however, "took the law of him," and the six-footer was awarded two months at hard labor.

—Wilson Mastin, a skeddaddler well-known in Prince Edward County, made his appearance in Nanawee on Tuesday. He has figured as a school teacher, sewing machine agent, etc., in various parts of Ontario, and his exploits are numerous for a youngster.

—The miscreants who have been committing acts of burglary in Pictou, were brought up last week. McMain pleaded guilty before the Judge on several charges, but sentence was reserved until yesterday. Lalone, his "pal," elected to be tried by jury and has been remanded until next session.

—A large number turned out on Sunday evening last to hear Rev. Mr. Hartley's lecture on "profanity," it being the ninth of the course being delivered by that gentleman. The tenth lecture of the series will be delivered one week from next Sunday evening. Subject, "Wisdom's Choice."

—The Editor of the Waterloo Chronicle was assaulted one day last week by a limb of the law. The quill-driver succeeded in projecting his assailant's limbs down stairs, and the justice inflicted a further penalty of $10 and costs. When will people learn to let such jobs out in sections, by special contract?

—We direct the special attention of farmers to the advertisement of R. J. McDowall, Demorestville. The land is good, and the property can be had at a very low price if purchased before December. The location is one of the best in the county, the facilities for shipping grain being such that two cents per bushel above the usual prices, can be realized. If you wish to buy a farm see this one.

—The Rev. A. Young is announced to deliver a lecture in the Town Hall, this evening. Subject—"Opposition to Great Discoveries and Inventions," being a sequel to a lecture delivered by the Rev. gentleman here, last winter. From the lecturer's well-known ability we can promise a rare intellectual treat. Admission only 15 cents. Proceeds for the benefit of the church.

—Rev. Mr. Young arrived home on Wednesday evening from a two weeks' tour west in connection with the Bible Society's work, he having been specially selected for that duty. We are pleased on this opportunity to add our testimony to the efficient work in the gospel ministry which this Rev. gentleman has performed since his location in Nanawee. By quiet, unremitting labor, he has succeeded in bringing together a goodly following, and secured their future welfare as a congregation of worshippers. Mr. Young has always been among the first in aiding charitable and literary enterprises in and about Nanawee, and we are pleased to avail ourselves of an opportunity to give a small amount of the credit due him as a worker in the cause of humanity.

It weighs 1,201 pounds. The pine tree eight feet in diameter, and four feet three inches deep, weighs 4,860 and also goes to Paris. Wm. English, of Hamilton, sends two Indian hunting canoes of splendid finish."

Good Appointment.

The Kingston News says:—"We are pleased to learn that Capt. F. A. Carroll, of Pictou, has been appointed an overseer at the Central Prison, Toronto. Captain Carroll for many years sailed the steamer "Bay of Quinte" between Kingston and Pictou, and was also purser on board the "Alexandra," between the Bay and Montreal, and was a very great favorite with the travelling public. His many friends will be glad to hear of his appointment."

Retrospective.

The Campbellford Herald says:—"The village of Blairton is beginning to have the appearance of a deserted locality. When the mines were in operation a few years ago, there was quite an influx of people, it was prosperous and the thriving little place presented a busy spectacle. With the suspension of work in the mines, the miners were obliged to seek other places for employment. Family after family left, and gradually it became depopulated. Once it had a post office and issued money orders; now both have been cancelled."

Moro Gold.

We learn from the Belleville Intelligencer that Mr. McKee, Manager of the Feigl mine, Marmora, brought to that town on Saturday last a "brick" of gold, weighing upwards of two and a half pounds, and valued at about $400, the produce of the mine in question. Mr. McKee reports that the vein shows increasing richness. It has now been worked to a depth of over 40 feet, with a drift of 50 feet to another opening on the same vein. It is very encouraging to hear such favorable reports, confirmed as they are by results of the gold mines in our north country.

N. D. C.

The Nanawee Dramatic Club gave the first of a series of entertainments with which they promise to make the long winter evenings merry—on Tuesday evening. The reputation which they established last season was sufficient to secure them a full house, and ushers were kept as busy as bees in seating the crowd as it flowed in. "Ambrose Gwinnett," a seaside tale, was placed on the boards for the first time in this town, and when we say that the Club made a decided "hit" in their selection, we are bestowing no undeserved commendation. Throughout the role the parts were ably sustained, the acting in some cases surpassing that of pretentious troupes who come heralded by flaming posters. W. Madden, as "Ned Grayling," had probably the best conception of the character he had to sustain as the villain of the plot, and his portrayal of the gradual fall of a depraved heart from the first step in vice to the end of a mispent and plotting existence, when repentance came only too late, was vivid and soul-stirring. His delivery is remarkably free from that set, stagey style which the amateur has always to avoid. J. S. Robinson, as "Ambrose Gwinnett," and Mrs. Robinson, as "Lucy Fairlove," were scarcely second to Mr. Madden in their acting, and in their many trials carried the entire sympathies of the audience with them until the final tableaux. The prison scene, in which the hero and heroine, after hoping past hope, met to take a last farewell, was the best of the evening. The other parts were well sustained. Mr. Richardson, as "Label," hadn't sufficient scope to exhibit his comedian qualities, though he elicited rounds of applause. "Make your Wills," was given as a farce, and here we may say that Mr. Robinson as "Brag," was perfectly at home, keeping the entire audience on a string of laughter from the beginning. The success of this evening is a sufficient guarantee of their success during the winter.

to clear away some of the many absurdities which cluster around their own theory. They ought to tell us, for instance, if the "first man" was "made" less than 6000 years ago, when, how, and by whom were the people made that Geology and Archaeology demonstrates to have existed on the earth long ages before Adam's time? They ought also to tell us how it is that the Hindoo account of the creation of man, as contained in the Shaster, which long antedates the Jewish account, so very much resembles the latter? And if man is not a product of nature, according to Darwin, but has been "made" by the gods, ("let us make man"), we would like to be informed if the men of Africa, of whom Dr. Livingstone gives us an account, who he says are no higher than some of the apes were "made." If so they certainly reflect no credit on the workmanship. The Siam "Weekly Advertiser" contains the following:—"On the island of Borneo has been found a certain race of wild creatures, of which kindred varieties have been discovered in the Philippine Islands, in Terre del Faego, and in South America. They seldom walk, almost erect, on two legs, and in that attitude measure about four feet in height. They construct no habitations form no families, scarcely associate together, sleep in caves and trees, feed on snakes and vermin, on ant's eggs, and on each other. They cannot be tamed or forced to any labor, and are hunted and shot among the trees like the great gorilla, of which they are a stunted copy. When captured alive one finds with surprise that their uncouth jabbering sounds are like articulate language. They turn up a human face to gaze at their captors, and females show instincts of modesty; in fine, these wretched beings are men and women." If these "men and women" are not an evolution of nature, they were doubtless "made," too! When such specimens of the "genus homo" are still being turned out—"made"—it little becomes the believer in the Mosaic Cosmogony to sneer at Darwinism.

Yours very truly,

ALLEN PRINGLE,

Richmond, Nov. 13th, 1877.

"Enquirer's" letter is omitted as we cannot see where the public would be benefited by opening a discussion on the subject.—Ed.

Gunboat on the Lakes.

The Detroit Post says that a British naval officer is on the way from Ottawa to Windsor, where he will arrive soon, commissioned to charter a steamboat and fit her out as a gunboat to be kept ready for service in view of the troubles that have lately arisen on the question of American tugs wrecking in Canadian waters. The officer is to be clothed with extraordinary powers, included among which are the authority to enforce international regulations and settle recent difficulties and the appointment of subordinates in the various customhouse districts to look after Canadian interests in the connection named.

The Steamer "Thames."

The news of the arrival of the steamer "Thames" at St. John's, N. F., under sail, yesterday, was received with satisfaction, some Quebecers being on board. The passengers are believed to be all safe. Amongst other injuries the Thames had her compasses, ventilators, skylights and deck houses swept entirely away by a storm, and lost all her boats. It has been ascertained that the necessary repairs will be effected at St. John's. It is more than likely that her passengers will be transferred to the ss. Nova Scotian, which is due at St. John's on Wednesday, and will land them at Halifax. Capt. Campbell must have displayed considerable ability in bringing his ship safe to port under the distressing circumstances in which he was placed by the loss of his compass.

A lawyer, returning to his office one day, said complacently to his assistant: "Mr. Perkins, the world looks different to a man when he has three inches of rum in him." "Yes," replied the junior; "and he looks different to the world."

from him on the high seas.

Lieut.-Governor Cauchon was expected at Winnipeg yesterday.

The Quebec Legislature is expected meet for the despatch of business on 19th of December; and in that case adjourn on the 22nd over the holiday.

The design of Mr. Scott, chief architect to the Public Works Department for the Canadian trophy for the 1876 Exposition, has been approved of at Colonial office.

There is a dead-lock in Owen Sound police circles, the Town Council has closed the police office in order to prevent the trial of county cases in the p. court.

United States.

At Pittsburg the Grand Jury have turned indictments against one hundred voters.

Iowa and Nebraska were visited Thursday last by several distinct shocks of earthquake.

Eight of the Maine and two of the Maryland railroad strikers have been convicted of obstructing the mails.

The San Francisco cigar makers about to discharge their Chinese employees and bring hands from Y.ork.

Ninety thousand models were destroyed by the recent fire at the Washington Patent Office.

One Harvard student is paying his through college by turning his room into stationery and book store, and another a graduate of Wesleyan University meeting his expenses at the law school working in a barber's shop.

Escopedo has been acquitted on charge of Violation of the United States neutrality laws, but fears are expressed that he will at once endeavor to excite new revolutionary movement against Diaz. El Pazo county, Texas, is at the hands of a Mexican mob, who backed by their countrymen to the south of the river, and claim the region question as Mexican territory. I parties of marauding Indians have crossed into Texas, and are engaged in depredation upon cattle and horses.

Great Britain.

A general strike of Lancashire spinners is apprehended.

Mr. Gladstone has been elected Rector of the University of Glasgow (beating Sir Stafford Northcote).

The chief of the proposed Roman Catholic hierarchy in Scotland will be the Archbishop of St. Andrews, will reside at Edinburgh. There will be bishops of Glasgow, Lismore, Aberdeen, Whithorn, and Dunkeld.

Fifteen hundred weavers at Old Lancashire, have struck against a reduction, and the masters threaten a lock-out.

The London correspondent of an English paper asserts that a peace pact the Cabinet lately received a notable session, and that five of the Ministers are now virtually committed to non-vention.

The London Chamber of Commerce proposes the amendment of the Stamp Act and further amendments the Weights and Measures Act as subjects for discussion by the Dominion Board of Trade.

A strike of the Lancashire cotton operatives has been averted by an arrangement with the masters for a five per cent reduction of wages on the 2nd of January, if trade should not improve in the meantime.

The Scotland yard detectives and solicitor Froggatt, charged with the duty to defeat the ends of justice, with the exception of Detective Beep found guilty, and sentenced to years' imprisonment.

Progressive.

The enterprising managers of the Bisco House, have lately had a telegraph line brought into their office for the accommodation of their guests. We are pleased to see the success which has attended the enterprise of running a house on strictly temperance principles.

ORGANIZING.

During the summer the Reformers throught the Province of the Dominion, seeing the necessity of thorough organization and united efforts have been establishing Associations in the several countries, whose special duty it becomes to look after the interest of the party in their several districts. The initiative for the establishment of such an Association in Lennox, was taken some time since, but its final establishments was only completed on Saturday last. In accordance with a requisition from the Secretary, about one hundred prominent supporters of the Government met in the Town Hall Napanee, for the above purpose. Mr. John Sharp, Esq., being called to the chair after few remarks from Mr. Morden, Mr. Patullo, the general secretary of the Reform Association, Toronto, addressed the meeting, on the wants and needs of such a club, explaining its working, etc., after which the work of organization was proceeded with. The following officers were elected:—President, John Herring, Esq.; 1st Vice, W. H. Perry, Esq.; 2nd Vice, John Sharp, Esq.; Secretary, A. L. Morden, Esq. Vice Presidents—Ernestown, C. W. Huffman, Esq.; Richmond, Wm. Caton, Esq.; Bath H. W. Purdy, Esq.; South Fredericksburgh, Henry Huffman, Esq.; North Fredericksburgh, Thos. Anderson, Esq.; Adolphustown, H. H. Allison, Esq.; Napanee A. McNeill, Esq.

It is expected that a branch Association will be established in every township, with working committees, who by their vigilance will be able to secure the rights, and a proper representation for the Government party at the coming elections. We suppose it is unnecessary to urge upon our friends the importance taking hold of this matter with a will. Everything depends upon the zeal of friends in the agricultural portions of the Riding. The opposition have been working long and assiduously and if we expect justice and a fair representation at the polls in the not far distant contest we must awake and look after our common interests. Let it not be said in future that the majority with which Lennox has lately returned her members was reduced through negligence and over confidence in our own strength.

CORRESPONDENCE.

Our columns will always be open to the discussion of matters of public interest, when we conceive such discussion will benefit or enlighten the public. By inserting such articles, however, we do not thereby endorse or approve in any way the sentiments expressed, and always reserve to ourselves the right of criticism.

Darwinism.

To the Editor of the Napanee Express;

SIR,—In your last issue you publish what you call a "sharp hit for Free thinkers," being four chapters illustrated on the "Origin of Man," burlesquing the Darwinian Theory. Now, I have no doubt that your sense of justice and love of fair play will enable you cheerfully to take a "hit" back. To be honorable you must take tit for tat. First, I would remind the sapient writer of the four chapters that ridicule is not argument. Had I any hope you would publish it, I too might write "four chapters" on the "Origin of Man," as per Brahma, Allah, Ormazd, or Elohim, and by showing the inherent and intrinsic absurdities of these Scriptural accounts, bring them into contempt and ridicule. In regard to the account by the latter, I might ask the Theologian whether he wishes me to accept that

The Week's News.

Canadian.

Navigation at Montreal is expected to close with his week.

The remains of Bishop Laval are to be interred in the chapel of the seminary of Quebec.

The opening of a branch of Laval University at Montreal has been definitely decided upon.

Before the Fishery Commissioner yesterday Mr. Thompson, of St. John, commenced the closing argument on behalf of the British view. He is said to have made a capital case. The award may be expected next week.

A forgery of the signature of an officer of the Superior Court for the district of Terrebonne, affecting the contest now pending between the Seminary of Montreal and the Oka Indians in relation to the proprietorship of the site now occupied by the Indians' church, has been discovered at Ste. Scholastique.

It is understood that the Quebec Legislature will meet for the despatch of business on the 13th prox.

A mass meeting of the electors of Quebec East was held on Thursday last, when both the candidates and their supporters delivered addresses.

Dr. Ahearn has declined to contest Quebec West for the Local Legislature, and another candidate will be selected.

The Ottawa saw-mills stopped running on Thursday, throwing between three and four hundred men out of employment.

Three-fourths of the electors present at the political meeting in Quebec East on Thursday night were in favor of Mr. Laurier.

The farmers of Prince Edward Island are rejoicing over the largest crops ever raised and safely housed by them. All the crops are good, but the yield of wheat and oats is much above the average. Potatoes are, as usual, very fine in quality, and as to quantity, there is no room for complaint.

The political contest in Quebec East continues to increase in interest. Both parties are conducting active canvasses from door to door.

A portion of the gaol yard in London is to be set apart for the employment of vagrants in breaking stones for road-making purposes.

At a meeting of the Barrister's Society at Halifax on Saturday a committee was appointed to draft a Bill for presentation to the Legislature, praying for the abolition of trial by jury in civil cases.

QUEBEC, NOV. 18.—A private telegram from St. John's, Nfld., states that the steamship Thames, Capt. Campbell, for this port, has put in there, having sustained terrific weather on the way out, and lost overboard her second and third officers and a seaman.

The Government steamer Druid Captain Marmen, left Quebec Tuesday for the Lower St. Lawrence to bring up all the buoys except the four in the Traverse which will remain there until the last mail steamer passes a down.

The Montreal Rine committee have already succeeded in opening a temperance coffee and lodging house, the first of the kind in the Dominion. There is accommodation for about fifty lodgers, who will only be charged ten cents each. The Montreal merchants have been very liberal in this matter.

The Government steamer Newfield, chartered for the conveyance of goods for the Paris Exposition, arrived in port to-day. Goods will be received at once. The Deputy-Minister of Marine arrived last evening to see to the shipment of the goods.

Springle, the suspected steamship thief, complains bitterly that the papers have done him an injustice, and says it is evi-

Continent.

The Pope has sent his first Envoy-Extraordinary to Peru.

Peace is about to be concluded between Egypt and Abyssinia.

The revolted Caffre tribe, the Galekas, have been completely reduced to submission.

A Pole has been arrested at Berlin on suspicion of intending to assassinate the Emperor and Prince Bismarck. The plot is supposed to have originated with Polish Ultramontanes.

Reports of the French harvest have not mended of late. From the results of threshing, as far as have been gathered, the wheat yield has been up to the average in bulk, but as to the bread-making qualities, a deficiency of more than ten per cent, on the average has been detected.

The Council of the Vatican has declared that no Power can veto the Conclave's election of a successor to the Pope.

A collision has occurred between the British barque Nydia, from Liverpool for Tybee, and a steamer bound for Genoa. Both vessels sank, but the crews, with the exception of three men, were saved. The locality of the disaster is not given.

Other Countries.

The Mexican Senate has passed a law prohibiting the election of the President to second term.

The Spanish commander-in-chief in Cuba is said to have issued an order that all Cuban prisoners-of-war be shot and reported as if killed in battle.

An unusually rich deposit of gold and silver—said to be the broadest known vein of these metals—has been discovered in the neighborhood of Arequipa, Peru.

Much suffering exists in the north-eastern Provinces of Brazil, owing to the prolonged drought. In some districts the cattle have all perished, the loss up to the 1st ult., being estimated at eighty thousand head. In Cachoeira over one hundred lives have been lost, and thousands more must succumb. Though the Government has expended half a million dollars for their relief fifteen thousand persons are in want.

MARKETS.

(Corrected weekly.)

NAPANEE NOV. 15th.
(Report by Diamond and Sherwood, Napanee.)

Oats—30c. per bushel.
Rye—57c. per bushel.
Pease—60c. per bushel.
Barley—No 2, 55c. per bushel.
Barley—No 1, 68c. per bushel.
Wheat—$1.10 per bushel.
Flour—$2.30 per cwt.
Buckwheat Flour—$2.75 per cwt.
Bran—$1.40 per ton.
Shorts—$2.20 per ton.
Buckwheat—40c. per bushel.
Wood—$3.00 per cord.
Coal—$5.00 per ton.

(Report by the Market Clerk, Napanee.)

Hay—$10.00 to $12.00 per ton.
Hides—$7.00. to $8.00 per cwt.
Butter—20c. to 24c. per lb.
Eggs—15c. per dozen.
Beef per cwt.—$3.00 to $5.00.
Bread—14c. per loaf.
Coal—$4.50 to $5.00 per ton.
Chickens—25c. to 30c. per pair.
Ducks—40c. per pair.
Flour—$3.10 per cwt.
Deacon Skins—40c.
Lard—12c. per lb.
Lamb and Pelts—50c. to $1.00
Oatmeal—$4.00 per cwt.
Onions—70c. to $1.00 per bushel.
Potatoes—35c. per bushel.
Pork—$5.00 to $6.00.
Straw—$3.00 to $4.00.

BELLEVEILLE MARKETS.

Wheat, $1 15 to $1 25.
Barley, 45c. to 57c.
Rye, 55c to 56c
Oats, 30c to 33c
Peas 60c
Dressed Hogs, $5 to $6 per cwt.
Butter, Roll, 18c to 25c
Butter, Tub, 16c to 17c
Eggs, 14c to 16c
Potatoes, 50c to 60c per bag.
Flour, Wholesale, $8 per bbl.
Flour, Retail, $11 per bbl.

IMPROVEMENT
—ON—
FELT ROOFS.

THE Subscriber would call the attention of the people of Napanee to an improvement on Felt Roofs, invented by Mr. Brokenshire, of the Atlantic Foundry, Kingston.

This Roofing Material is composed of Minerals which form a Cement, proof against either

Fire or Water,

It will not crack in winter, or get soft and run in summer, and when dry it is as hard as Slate and more durable than Tin or Galvanized Iron, in fact nothing else is now used in Kingston on felt roofs.

References to a few who have the roof in use:—
Mr. C. F. Gildersleeve, Kingston;
Messrs. Wagner & McMillan, Albion Hotel;
Mr. McRae's Store, Princess Street, Kingston;
Mr. Parker's Drug Store, Kingston;
Mr. Thornton's Hotel, Kingston;
Mr. Ovensh, Contractor, on his residence, do.;
Kingston Street Railway Buildings;
Rev. Mr. Grafty, Kingston;
Atlantic Foundry, Kingston, and many others.

Any parties wanting New Roofs or Old Roofs repaired should see

NELSON GERMAN,
Agent, Napanee.
29

Napanee, Nov. 15th 1877.

MORTGAGE SALE

UNDER and by Virtue of a Power of Sale contained in a certain Mortgage, (which will be produced at the time of Sale) dated the 28th day of December, A. D. 1872, and made by Staats S. Madden, (now deceased) Sophia Madden his wife, (or herding dower) to William Hamby and Samuel Hamby. Default having been made in the payment of the moneys thereby secured, there will be sold by

PUBLIC AUCTION,

—ON—SATURDAY, the 24th day of Nov. 1877,

—AT THE—
TOWN HALL,

In the Town of Napanee, at Eleven o'clock in the forenoon, by James Allen, Auctioneer, All and singular, that certain parcel or tract of land and premises, situate, lying and being in the Town of Napanee, in the County of Lennox and Addington, and Province of Ontario, being composed of Lot Number Seven, on the West side of Adelaide Street, and of Water Lot Number given on the South Side of Water Street, in the said Town of Napanee. On the said premises are two Frame and one Brick Dwelling Houses.

Terms and conditions made known at the Sale. For further particulars, apply to

REEVE & MORDEN,
28-3in. Vendor's Solicitors.

Business Change.

THE undersigned has sold out all his stock in L. trade to THOMAS SEAWARD, who will carry on the business in my old shop. All accounts due me must be paid forthwith.

ROBERT MOTT.
Bath, Nov. 2nd 1877. 28-3in.

FARM FOR SALE.

About 75 acres of the

BEST LAND

—IN—

PRINCE EDWARD COUNTY,

5½ miles from Picton, and 3½ miles from Demorestville.

This is a rare chance to get a Choice Farm. It is well watered and nicely situated.

A Special Price to a purchaser before the 1st December.

Apply to R McDOWALL,
Demorestville, 29.
Or at this Office.

riends in the agricultural portions of the liding. The opposition have been working ong and assiduously and if we expect ustice and a fair representation at the olls in the not far distant contest we must awaken, and look after our common interests. Let it not be said in future hat the majority with which Lennox has ately returned her members was reduced through negligence and over confidence in our own strength.

CORRESPONDENCE.

ur columns will always be open to the discussion of matters of public interest, when we conceive such discussion will benefit or enlighten the public. By inserting such articles, however, we do not thereby endorse or approve in any way the sentiments expressed, and always reserve to ourselves the right of criticism.

Darwinism.

To the Editor of the Napanee Express;

Sir,—In your last issue you publish what you call a "sharp hit for Freethinkers," being four chapters illustrated on the "Origin of Man," burlesquing the Darwinian Theory. Now, I have no doubt that your sense of justice and love of fair play will enable you cheerfully to take a "hit" back.
To be honorable you must take tit for tat.
First, I would remind the sapient writer of the four chapters that ridicule is not argument. Had I any hope you would publish it, I too might write "four chapters" on the "Origin of Man," as per Brahma, Allah, Ormezz, or Elohim, and by showing the inherent and intrinsic absurdities of these scriptural accounts, bring them into contempt and ridicule. In regard to the account by the latter, I might ask the Theologian whether he wishes me to accept that contained in the first chapter of Genesis, or that given in the second, for there are two, and they happen to be at variance. Regarding the vexed question as to the origin of man upon this earth, there is the scientific solution of the matter, and the theological account, two theories as wide apart as possible. But before bestowing too much shallow ridicule upon the scientific presentment of the question, religionists would do well to clear away some of the many absurdities which cluster around their own theory.
They ought to tell us, for instance, if the "first man" was "made" less than 6000 years ago, when, how, and by whom were the people made that Geology and Archaeology demonstrates to have existed on the earth long ages before Adam's time? They ought also to tell us how it is that the Hindoo account of the creation of man, as contained in the Shaster, which long antedates the Jewish account, so very much resembles the latter? And if man is not a product of nature, according to Darwin, but has been "made" by the gods, ("let us make man"), we would like to be informed if the men of Africa, of whom Dr. Livingstone gives us an account, who he says are no higher than some of the apes were "made."
If so they certainly reflect no credit on the workmanship. The Siam "Weekly Advertiser" contains the following:—"On the island of Borneo has been found a certain race of wild creatures, of which kindred varieties have been discovered in the Philippine Islands, in Terre del Faego, and in South America. They seldom walk, almost erect, on two legs, and in that attitude measure about four feet in height. They construct no habitations form no families, scarcely associate together, sleep in caves and trees, feed on snakes and vermin, on ant's eggs, and on each other. They cannot be tamed or forced to any labor, and are hunted and shot among the trees like the great gorilla, of which they are a stunted copy. When captured alive one finds with surprise that their uncouth jabbering sounds are like articulate language. They turn up a human face to gaze at their cap-tors, and females show instincts of modesty; in fine, these wretched beings are men and women." If these "men and women" are not an evolution of nature, they were doubtless "made," too! When such specimens of the "genus homo" are still being turned out—"made"—it little becomes the believer in the Mosaic Cosmogony to sneer at Darwinism.

Yours very truly,
ALLEN PRINGLE.

Richmond, Nov. 13th, 1877.

"Enquirer's" letter is omitted as we cannot see where the public would be benefited by opening a discussion on the subject.—Ed.

Gunboat on the Lakes.

from door to door.
A portion of the gaol yard in London is to be set apart for the employment of vagrants in breaking stones for road-making purposes.

At a meeting of the Barrister's Society at Halifax on Saturday a committee was appointed to draft a Bill for presentation to the Legislature, praying for the abolition of trial by jury in civil cases.

QUEBEC, Nov. 18.—A private telegram from St. John's, Nfld., states that the steamship Thames, Capt. Campbell, for this port, has put in there, having sustained terrific weather on the way out, and lost overboard her second and third officers and a seaman.

The Government steamer Druid Captain Marmen, left Quebec Tuesday for the Lower St. Lawrence to bring up all the buoys except the four in the Traverse which will remain there until the last mail steamer passes down.

The Montreal Rine committee have already succeeded in opening a temperance coffee and lodging house, the first of the kind in the Dominion. There is accommodation for about fifty lodgers, who will only be charged ten cents each. The Montreal merchants have been very liberal in this matter.

The Government steamer Newfield, chartered for the conveyance of goods for the Paris Exposition, arrived in port to-day. Goods will be received at once.
The Deputy-Minister of Marine arrived last evening to see to the shipment of the goods.

Springle, the suspected steamship thief, complains bitterly that the papers have done him an injustice, and says it is evident that the people of Canada do not know him. He will be committed probably on Monday afternoon to take his trial at the sessions of the peace, which open here in January next. Another investigation is to be opened against him on the arrival here of the Hon. Mr. Tolle-mache, who has been written for, into the charge of having stolen diamond studs
from him on the high seas.

Lieut.-Governor Cauchon was expected at Winnipeg yesterday.

The Quebec Legislature is expected to meet for the despatch of business on the 19th of December; and in that case will adjourn on the 22nd over the holidays.

The design of Mr. Scott, chief architect to the Public Works Department, for the Canadian trophy for the Paris Exposition, has been approved of at the Colonial office.

There is a dead-lock in Owen Sound police circles, the Town Council having closed the police office in order to prevent the trial of county cases in the police court.

United States.

At Pittsburg the Grand Jury have returned indictments against one hundredrioters.

Iowa and Nebraska were visited on Thursday last by several distinct shocks of earthquake.

Eight of the Maine and two of the Maryland railroad strikers have been convicted of obstructing the mails.

The San Francisco cigar makers are about to discharge their Chinese employees and bring hands from New York.

Ninety thousand models were destroyed by the recent fire at the Washington Patent Office.

One Harvard student is paying his way through college by turning his room into a stationery and book store, and another, a graduate of Wesleyan University, is meeting his expenses at the law school by working in a barber's shop.

Escapedo has been acquitted on the charge of Violation of the United States neutrality laws, but fears are expressed that he will at once endeavor to excite a new revolutionary movement against Diaz. El Pazo county, Texas, is still in the hands of a Mexican mob, who are backed by their countrymen to the south of the river, and claim the region in question as Mexican territory. Large numbers of Mexicans have also

MARKETS.

(Corrected weekly.)
NAPANEE Nov. 15th.

(Report by Diamond and Sherwood, Napanee.)

Oats—30c. per bushel.
Rye—57c. per bushel.
Pease—60c. per bushel.
Barley—No 2, 55c. per bushel.
Barley—No. 1, 65c. per bushel.
Wheat—$1.10 per bushel.
Flour—$2.90 per cwt.
Buckwheat Flour—$2.75 per cwt.
Bran—$14.00 per ton.
Shorts—$22.00 per ton.
Buckwheat—60c. per bushel.
Wheat—$3.00 per cord.
Coal—$5.00 per ton.

(Report by the Market Clerk, Napanee.)

Hay—$10.00 to $12.00 per ton.
Hides—$7.00 to $8.00 per cwt.
Butter—20c. to 24c. per lb.
Eggs—15c. per dozen.
Beef per cwt.—$3.00 to $5.00.
Bread—14c. per loaf.
Coal—$4.50 to $5.00 per ton.
Chickens—25c. to 30c. per pair.
Ducks—40c. per pair.
Flour—$3.10 per cwt.
Deacon Skins—40c.
Lard—11-12c.
Lamb and Pelts—50c. to $1.00
Oatmeal—$4.00 per cwt.
Onions—70c. to $1.00 per bushel.
Potatoes—35c. per bushel.
Pork—$5.00 to $6.00.
Straw—$3.00 to $1.00.

BELLEVILLE MARKETS.

Wheat, $1 15 to $1 25.
Barley, 45c. to 57c.
Rye, 55c to 56c
Oats, 30c to 33c
Peas 60c
Dressed Hogs, $5 to $6 per cwt.
Butter, Roll, 18c to 25c
Butter, Tub, 16c to 17c
Eggs, 14c to 15c
Potatoes, 50c to 60c per bag.
Flour, Wholesale, $5 50 per bbl.
Apples, 60c to $1 per bag.

TORONTO MARKETS.

Wheat, fall, per bu. $1 20 to $1 25
Wheat spring, per bu. $1 to $1 00
Barley, per bu. 50c to 57c
Oats, per bu. 33c to 35c
Peas, per bu. 63c to 70c
Rye, per bu. 60c
Butter, 15 rolls, 20c to 22c
Butter, large rolls, 20c
Butter, tub dairy, best, 18c to 19c
Flour, wholesale, $5 50 per bbl
Flour, Retail, $6 00 per bbl
Beef, Per quarter 31 to 5c
Cheese, 9c to 10c
Lard, 13c to 15c
Tallow, Rough, 4c
Tallow, Rendered, 7c to 7 1/2c
Eggs, fresh, per doz. 17c to 18c
Eggs, in lots, 15c
Hay, $11 to $15 per ton

OSWEGO MARKETS.

OSWEGO, N. Y., Nov. 21.—1 p.m.
Wheat quiet—No. 1 Milwaukee club
$1.34; No. 1 white Michigan, $1.43;
white State $1.42.
Barley quiet—No. 2 Canada nominal
at 86c.
Receipts since 11 a.m.—17,600 wheat;
16,000 barley.

MONTREAL MARKETS.

MONTREAL, Nov. 21.
Flour; Receipts 3,140 brls. More active at generally unchanged rates. Sales 200 brls. superior extra at $5.90; 100 extra at $5.70; 200 do $5.75; 100 fancy $5.60; 100 and 200 strong bakers at $5.65; 500, 200, 300 and 100 spring extra $5.40.
Grain, Provisions and Ashes unchanged.

PRODUCE MARKET.

Montreal, Nov. 21.—Flour market more active, sales superior extra 5.90;
extra 5.70 to 5.75; fancy 5.60, strong bakers at 5.65.

HAMILTON MARKETS.

THE GRAIN MARKET.—There was a very fair amount of grain in the market this morning, there being a little of everything. The following were the quotations:—
Fall wheat, $1.25
Red wheat, $1.15
Spring wheat, $1.15 to $1.12
Barley, 55c. to 56c.
Oats, 84c. to 85c.
Peas, 60c.

CHICAGO MARKETS.

Terms and conditions made known at the Sale
For further particulars, apply to
REEVE & MORDEN,
28-3in. Vendor's Solicitors.

Business Change.

THE undersigned has sold out all his stock in trade to THOMAS SEAWARD, who will carry on the business in my old shop. All accounts due me must be paid forthwith.
ROBERT MOTT
Bath, Nov. 2nd 1877. 28-3in.

FARM FOR SALE.

About 75 acres of the BEST LAND
—IN—
PRINCE EDWARD COUNTY,

5 1/2 miles from Picton, and 3 1/2 miles from
Demorestville.

This is a rare chance to get a Choice Farm,
It is well watered and nicely situated.

A Special Price to a purchaser before the 1st December.

Apply to
R McDOWALL,
Demorestville, 29.
Or at this Office.

1823. SEND FOR 1878
THE
New York Observer

The Best Religious and Secular Family Newspaper. $3.15 a Year, post-paid.
Established 1823.
37 PARK ROW, NEW YORK.
22. SAMPLE COPIES FREE.

CUSTOMS' DEPARTMENT.

Ottawa, Oct. 12th, 1877.
Authorized Discount on American Invoices
until further notice 3 per cent.
J. JOHNSON,
Commissioner.

WINE IS A STRONG DRI

Whosoever is Deceive

Therefore be not deceived by parties telling your old friend BOYLE'S. My Stoves old iron, as asserted by others in the t ter, because they are heavier and co and have given g

Give Me a Call Before

No connection with any other
But Manufactu

Tinware of
BY FIRST-CLASS M
JOB

Of all kinds in my line, and
COOKING, PARLOR, COOK, BOX & C
EXTRA CASTINGS FOR STO
PLOUGHS & PLOUGH-S

Yours tr

In Wm. Mille
Napanee, Nov. 14th, 1877.

to clear away some of the many absurdities which cluster around their own theory. They ought to tell us, for instance, if the first man was "made" less than 6000 years ago, when, how, and by whom were people made that Geology and Archaeology demonstrates to have existed on the earth long ages before Adam's time? They ought also to tell us how it is that the lindoo account of the creation of man, as contained in the Shaster, which long antedates the Jewish account, so very much resembles the latter? And if man is not product of nature, according to Darwin, it has been "made" by the gods, ("let us make man"), we would like to be informed the men of Africa, of whom Dr. Livingstone gives us an account, who he says are no higher than some of the apes were "made," so they certainly reflect no credit on the workmanship. The Siam "Weekly Advertiser" contains the following:—"On the island of Borneo has been found a certain race of wild creatures, of which kind varieties have been discovered in the Philippine Islands, in Terre del Faego, and in South America. They seldom walk, almost erect, on two legs, and in that attitude measure about four feet in height. They construct no habitations form no families, scarcely associate together, sleep in caves and trees, feed on snakes and vermin, on nuts, eggs, and on each other. They cannot be tamed or forced to any labor, and are hunted and shot among the trees like the great gorilla, of which they are a stunted copy. When captured alive one finds with surprise that their uncouth jabbering sounds are like articulate language. They turn up a human face to gaze at their captors, and females show instincts of modesty; a fine, these wretched beings are men and women." If these "men and women" are of an evolution of nature, they were doubtless "made," too! When such specimens of the "genus homo" are still being turned out "made"—it little becomes the believer in the Mosaic Cosmogony to sneer at Darwinism.

Yours very truly,
ALLEN PRINGLE,
Richmond, Nov. 13th, 1877.
"Enquirer's" letter is omitted as we cannot see where the public would be benefited by opening discussion on the subject.—Ed.

Gunboat on the Lakes.

The Detroit Post says that a British naval officer is on the way from Ottawa to Windsor, where he will arrive soon, commissioned to charter a steamboat and to her our as a gunboat to be kept ready or service in view of the troubles that have lately arisen on the question of American tugs wrecking in Canadian waters. The officer is to be clothed with extraordinary powers, included among which are the authority to enforce international regulations and settle recent difficulties and the appointment of subordinates in the various customhouse districts to look after Canadian interests in the connection named.

The Steamer "Thames."

The news of the arrival of the steamer "Thames" at St. John's, N. F., under sail, yesterday, was received with satisfaction, some Quebecers being on board. The passengers are believed to be all safe. Amongst other injuries the Thames had her compasses, ventilators, skylights and deck houses swept entirely away by a storm, and lost all her boats. It has been ascertained that the necessary repairs will be effected at St. John's. It is more than likely that her passengers will be transferred to the ss. Nova Scotian, which is due at St. John's on Wednesday, and will land them at Halifax. Capt. Campbell must have displayed considerable ability in bringing his ship safe to port under the distressing circumstances in which he was placed by the loss of his compass.

A lawyer, returning to his office one day, asked complacently to his assistant: "Mr. Perkins, the world looks different to a man when he has three inches of rum in him." "Yes," replied the junior; "and he looks different to the world."

from him on the high seas.

Lieut.-Governor Cauchon was expected at Winnipeg yesterday.

The Quebec Legislature is expected to meet for the despatch of business on the 19th of December; and in that case will adjourn on the 22nd over the holidays.

The design of Mr. Scott, chief architect to the Public Works Department, for the Canadian trophy for the Paris Exposition, has been approved of at the Colonial office.

There is a dead-lock in Owen Sound police circles, the Town Council having closed the police office in order to prevent the trial of county cases in the police court.

United States.

At Pittsburg the Grand Jury have returned indictments against one hundred rioters.

Iowa and Nebraska were visited on Thursday last by several distinct shocks of earthquake.

Eight of the Maine and two of the Maryland railroad strikers have been convicted of obstructing the mails.

The San Francisco cigar makers are about to discharge their Chinese employees and bring hands from New York.

Ninety thousand models were destroyed by the recent fire at the Washington Patent Office.

One Harvard student is paying his way through college by turning his room into a stationery and book store, and another, a graduate of Wesleyan University, is meeting his expenses at the law school by working in a barber's shop.

Escopedo has been acquitted on the charge of Violation of the United States neutrality laws, but fears are expressed that he will at once endeavor to excite a new revolutionary movement against Diaz. El Pazo county, Texas, is still in the hands of a Mexican mob, who are backed by their countrymen to the south of the river, and claim the region in question as Mexican territory. Large parties of marauding Indians have also crossed into Texas, and are engaged in depredation upon cattle and horses.

Great Britain.

A general strike of Lancashire spinners is apprehended.

Mr. Gladstone has been elected Lord Rector of the University of Glasgow, defeating Sir Stafford Northcote.

The chief of the proposed Roman Catholic hierarchy in Scotland will be known as the Archbishop of St Andrews, and will reside at Edinburgh. There will also be bishops of Glasgow, Lismore, Aberdeen, Whithorn, and Dunkeld.

Fifteen hundred weavers at Oldham, Lancashire, have struck against a reduction, and the masters threaten a lock-out.

The London correspondent of an Edinburgh paper asserts that a peace party in the Cabinet lately received a notable accession, and that five of the Ministers are now virtually committed to non-intervention.

The London Chamber of Commerce proposes the amendment of the Bill Stamp Act and further amendments to the Weights and Measures Act as subjects for discussion by the Dominion Board of Trade.

A strike of the Lancashire cotton operatives has been averted by an arrangement with the masters for a five per cent. reduction of wages on the 2nd of January, if trade should not improve in the meantime.

The Scotland yard detectives and the solicitor Froggatt, charged with conspiring to defeat the ends of justice, have, with the exception of Detective Clark, been found guilty, and sentenced to two years' imprisonment.

Butter, tub dairy, best, 18c to 19c
Flour, wholesale, $5.50 per bbl
Flour, Retail, $6.00 per bbl
Beef, Per quarter 3j to 5c
Cheese, 8c to 15c
Lard, 13c to 15c
Tallow, Rough, 4jc
Lard, Rendered, 7c to 7jc
Eggs, fresh, per doz. 17c to 18c
Eggs, in lots, 15c
Hay, $11 to $13 per ton

OSWEGO MARKETS.

OSWEGO, N. Y., Nov. 21.—1 p.m.
Wheat quiet—No. 1 Milwaukee club $1.34; No. 1 white Michigan, $1.43; white State $1.42.
Barley quiet—No. 2 Canada nominal at 86c.
Receipts since 11 a.m.—17,600 wheat; 16,000 barley.

MONTREAL MARKETS.

MONTREAL, Nov. 21.
Flour; Receipts 3,140 brls. More active at generally unchanged rates. Sales 200 brls. superior extra at $5.90; 100 extra at $5.70; 200 do $5.75; 100 fancy $5.60; 100 and 200 strong bakers at $5.65; 500, 200, 300 and 100 spring extra $5.40.
Grain, Provisions and Ashes unchanged.

PRODUCE MARKET,
Montreal, Nov. 21.—Flour market more active, sales superior extra 5.90; extra 5.70 to 5.75; fancy 5.60, strong bakers at 5.65.

HAMILTON MARKETS.

THE GRAIN MARKET.—There was a very fair amount of grain in the market this morning, there being a little of everything. The following were the quotations:—

Fall wheat, $1.25
Red wheat, $1.15
Spring wheat, $1.15 to $1.12
Barley, 55c. to 56c.
Oats, 84c. to 85c.
Peas, 60c.

CHICAGO MARKETS.

CHICAGO, Nov. 21.—1:05 p.m.
Barley—64, 64½ cash nominally; 65 Dec.; 66 Jan.; extra No. 3, sales 47; now offered at 47.
Wheat steady—$1.07½ 2 Dec. or year; $1.08½ Jan.; $1.10½ Nov.; No. 1 $1.10½ No. 3 $1.04.
Corn firm—47½c to 48 cash or Nov.; 48 40½ Dec or year or May; 41½ Jan.
Oats—25½ cash or Nov.; 25½ Dec.; 25½ to 1 Jan.
Pork easier—$12.02½ 5 Nov. one year; $12.02 to 2½ to 5 Jan.
Lard—$7.80 year; 47.85 to 87½ Jan.; sale $7.90 cash.

CHEESE MARKET.

CHEESE.—Utica, Nov. 19.—The market to-day was more active and a fraction higher. Some 10,000 boxes were offered. About 7,000 of these were disposed of, some 2,000 going on commission with a guarantee of not over 12 cents. The prices obtained for those sold directly were determined by the time of making. The range for October was 11½ to 12½c. At least a dozen factories obtained the latter figure. The range for September was 12½ to 13½c.

Utica N. Y. Nov. 20.—Cheese market yesterday therewere 10,000 boxes offered 8,000 boxes of which sold direct at from 11½c. to 12½, for October, and 12½ for fine September. The average prices for all cheese sold at 12½. About 2,000 boxes went forward on commission, and the market was active and higher.

A brisk and active business characterized the Little Falls, N. Y., cheese market yesterday, at about last week's prices. The sales amounted to 7,886 boxes of factory at from 11c to 12½c; mostly 12c; 300 jars sold at 10c to 12c; mostly 11½c. Factories are rapidly closing for the season.

CUSTOMS' DEPARTMENT.

Ottawa, Oct. 12th, 1877.

Authorized Discount on American Invoices until further notice 3 per cent.
J. JOHNSON,
Commissioner.

WINE IS A STRONG DRINK

Whosoever is Deceived

Therefore be not deceived by parties telling your old friend BOYLE'S. My Stoves are old iron, as asserted by others in the trade, because they are heavier and cost more and have given good results.

Give Me a Call Before

No connection with any other
But Manufactured

Tinware of JOB

Of all kinds in my line, and
COOKING, PARLOR, COOK, BOX & C
EXTRA CASTINGS FOR STOVES
PLOUGHS & PLOUGH-S
Yours truly
In Wm. Miller

Napanee, Nov. 14th, 1877.

"The Proof of the Pudding"

But it is only necessary for you to see our Stoves, for Coal
COOKING STOVES, PARLOR STOVES, BOX STOVES

To see our Stock to be convinced

Best Stoves in

Our "ST. GEORGE" Cooking
And "SPLENDID"

Are not equalled by any Stoves in Canada

ALWAYS ON HAND,

STOVE PIPES, DUMB PIPES, TEE PIPES, EXTRA STOVE CO

Our Stock is very Large and Complete

Our Stock of Hardware is the Largest in the Province

Napanee, Nov. 14th, 1877.

Continued.

The Pope has sent his first Envoy-Extraordinary to Peru. The mission is about to be concluded between the Pope and Abyssinia.

A revolted Caffre tribe, the Galekas, have been completely reduced to submission.

Pole has been arrested at Berlin on suspicion of intending to assassinate the Emperor and Prince Bismarck. The Emperor is supposed to have originated with Ultramontanes.

Reports of the French harvest have been extended of late. From the results of the year, as far as have been gathered, the heat yield has been up to the average, but as to the bread-making qualities, a deficiency of more than ten per cent, on the average has been detected.

The Council of the Vatican has declared that no Power can veto the Conclave of a successor to the Pope.

A collision has occurred between the barque Nydia, from Liverpool for Genoa, and a steamer bound for Genoa. The vessels sank, but the crews, with the exception of three men, were saved. The locality of the disaster is not given.

Other Countries.

The Mexican Senate has passed a law prohibiting the election of the President and term.

A Spanish commander-in-chief in Cuba is said to have issued an order that any prisoners-of-war be shot and killed as if killed in battle.

An unusually rich deposit of gold and silver—said to be the broadest known of these metals—has been discovered in the neighborhood of Arequipa,

Peru, suffering exists in the northern Provinces of Brazil, owing to the prolonged drought. In some districts the crops have all perished, the loss up to $100,000, being estimated at eighty and head. In Cachoeira over one hundred lives have been lost, and thousands more must succumb. Though the Government has expended half a million for their relief fifteen thousand are in want.

MARKETS.

(Corrected weekly.)

NAPANEE Nov. 15th.
Report by Diamond and Sherwood, Napanee.

- 30c. per bushel.
- 57c. per bushel.
- 60c. per bushel.
- No 2, 55c. per bushel.
- No 1, 68c. per bushel.
- $1.10 per bushel.
- $2.00 per cwt.
- Wheat Flour—$2.75 per cwt.
- $14.00 per ton.
- $22.00 per ton.
- Wheat—40c. per bushel.
- $3.00 per cord.
- $5.00 per ton.

Report by the Market Clerk, Napanee.

- $10.00 to $12.00 per ton.
- $7.00 to $8.00 per cwt.
- 20c. to 24c. per lb.
- 15c. per dozen.
- per cwt.—$3.00 to $5.00.
- 14c. per loaf.
- $4.50 to $5.00 per ton.
- kenns—25c. to 30c. per pair.
- ks—40c. per pair.
- r—$3.10 per cwt.
- on Skins—40c.
- l—15—22c.
- lbs and Pelts—50c. to $1.00
- neal—$4.00. per cwt.
- ns—70c. to $1.00 per bushel.
- toes—35c. per bushel.
- r—$5.00 to $6.00.
- w—$3.00 to $4.00.

BELLEVILLE MARKETS.

- at, $1.15 to $1.25.
- ey, 45c. to 57c.
- 55c. to 56c.
- 30c. to 33c.
- 160c.
- used Hogs, $5 to $6 per cwt.
- er, Roll, 18c. to 25c.
- er, Tub, 16c. to 17c.
- 1, 14c. to 16c.
- toes, 50c. to 60c. per bag.
- r, Wholesale, $1.50 per bbl.
- les, 60c. to $1 per bag.

IMPROVEMENT
—ON—
FELT ROOFS.

THE Subscriber would call the attention of the people of Napanee, to an improvement on Felt Roofs, invented by Mr. Brokenshire, of the Atlantic Foundry, Kingston.

This Roofing Material is composed of Minerals which form a Cement, proof against either

Fire or Water,

It will not crack in winter, or get soft and run in summer, and when dry it is as hard as slate and more durable than Tin or Galvanized Iron, in fact nothing else is now used in Kingston on felt roofs.

References to a few who have the roof in use:—
Mr. C. F. Gildersleeve, Kingston;
Messrs. Wagner & McMillan, Albion Hotel;
Mr. McRae's Store, Princess Street, Kingston;
Mr. Parker's Drug Store, Kingston;
Mr. Thornton's Hotel, Kingston;
M. Orend, Contractor, on his residence, do.;
Kingston Street Railway Buildings;
Rev. Mr. Graftey, Kingston;
Atlantic Foundry, Kingston, and many others.

Any parties wanting New Roofs or Old Roofs repaired should see

NELSON GERMAN,
Agent, Napanee.

Napanee, Nov. 15th 1877.

MORTGAGE SALE

UNDER and by Virtue of a Power of Sale contained in a certain Mortgage, (which will be produced at the time of Sale) dated the 28th day of December, A. D. 1872, and made by Stants S. Madden, (now deceased) Sophia Madden his wife, (for bearing dower) to William Hambley and Samuel Hambley. Default having been made in the payment of the moneys thereby secured, there will be sold by

PUBLIC AUCTION,

SATURDAY, the 24th day of Nov. 1877,

AT THE TOWN HALL,
In the Town of Napanee, at Eleven o'clock in the forenoon, by James Allen, Auctioneer,

All and singular, that certain parcel or tract of land and premises, situate, lying and being in the Town of Napanee, in the County of Lennox and Addington, and Province of Ontario, being composed of Lot Number Seven, on the West side of Adelphi Street, and of Water Lot Number even on the South Side of Water Street, in the said Town of Napanee. On the said premises are two Frame and one Brick Dwelling Houses.

Terms and conditions made known at the Sale. For further particulars, apply to

REEVE & MORDEN,
28-3in. Vendor's Solicitors.

Business Change.

THE undersigned has sold out all his stock in trade to THOMAS SEAWARD, who will carry on the business in my old shop. All accounts due me must be paid forthwith.

ROBERT MOTT.
Bath, Nov. 2nd 1877. 28-3in.

FARM FOR SALE.

About 75 acres of the

BEST LAND

—IN—

PRINCE EDWARD COUNTY,

5½ miles from Picton, and 3¼ miles from Demorestville.

This is a rare chance to get a Choice Farm. It is well watered and nicely situated.

A Special Price to a purchaser before the 1st December.

Apply to
R McDOWALL,
Demorestville, 29.
Or at this Office.

1823. SEND FOR 1878

FARM FOR SALE.

FARM of 175 Acres, the most desirable property in the County of Northumberland, for Sale. Being all that portion of lot No. 34 in Concession A, of the Village and Township of Brighton, lying North of the old Kingston Road, and only quarter of a mile from the P. O. and the centre of the village. Upon the premises are good brick and wooden buildings; a large orchard of young and bearing trees; a beautiful grove of pine and hardwood timber; spring creeks, and other advantages which rendered it desirable. Also several other good Farms and Village Properties for sale.

I. O. PROCTOR.
Brighton.

7-tfd4

Land PLASTER

Now grinding and ready for use.

Superior Fine Ground
Land Plaster,

AT THE LOW RATE OF
$5 per Ton, or 25 cts. per Hundred.
ALL orders left at the Mill, or at the Woolen Factory, for Williams' and Lasher's Water Lime, or Quick Lime, will be promptly attended to. Lime delivered when required. No Credit.

JAMES PERRY.
Napanee, March 5th, 1877. 46.

Important Notice.

$2,000 WORTH OF
New Bankrupt Stock,

JUST ARRIVED AT

MEAGHER'S.

Come and See. We are determined to sell Cheaper than can be bought in a regular way. Our prices are far below the Wholesale Price.

GREAT BARGAINS IN.

COTTON AND WINCEY SHIRTINGS.

PRINTS AT 5c. A YARD.

BARGAINS IN DRESS GOODS.

Good Black Lustres at 15c. a yard.

Boots and Shoes, Ready-made Clothing, Remarkably Cheap.

Mens' Long Boots, $1.50, Worth, $2.50.

Boys' Long Boots 70c. worth $1.50.

200 OVERCOATS,

From $5.00 to $15.00.

Every Line of Goods to be sold below Cost.

Don't fail to call and inspect before making your purchases.
25-tf MEAGHER BROS.

UNION BAKERY.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

I beg to call the attention of the public to the Union Bakery, where you will find always on hand an abundant stock of

Bread, Cake, Biscuit and Confectionery.

All orders promptly attended to. Wedding

JOB

Printing!

THE JOBBING DEPARTMENT

—OF THE—

NAPANEE EXPRESS

AS EXCELLED BY

No Office In the Dominion,

LARGE STOCK

OF THE

Very Latest Styles Of New Type

And every Facility exists for turning out

JOB PRINTING

IN THE

MARKETS.

(Corrected weekly.)

NAPANEE Nov. 15th.

by Diamond and Sherwood, Napanee.)

30c. per bushel.
57c. per bushel.
60c. per bushel.
y--No 2. 55c. per bushel.
y--No 1. 68c. per bushel.
t--$1.10 per bushel.
t--$2.90 per cwt.
heat Flour--$2.75 per cwt.
--$14.00 per ton.
s--$22.00 per ton.
wheat--40c. per bushel.
--$3.00 per cord.
--$5.00 per ton.

port by the Market Clerk, Napanee.)

$10.00 to $12.00 per ton.
--$7.00. to $8.00 per cwt.
r--20c. to 24c. per lb.
--15c. per dozen.
per cwt. --$3.00 to $5.00.
--14c. per loaf.
--$4.50 to $5.00 per ton.
ens--25c. to 30c. per pair.
s--40c. per pair.
--$3.10 per cwt.
n Skins--40c.
b--12c.
s and Poles--50c. to $1.00
cal--$4.00. per cwt.
s--70c. to $1.00 per bushel.
oes--35c. per bushel.
--$5.00 to $6.00.
--$3.00 to $4.00

BELLEVILLE MARKETS.

t, $1 15 to $1 25.
y, 45c. to 57c.
5c to 56c
30c to 33c
30c
ed Hogs, $5 to $6 per cwt.
r, Roll, 18c to 25c
r, Tub, 16c to 17c
14c to 16c
oes, 50c to 60c per bag.
y, Wholesale, $5 50 per bbl.
s, 60c to $1 per bag.

TORONTO MARKETS.

t, fall, per bu. $1 20 to $1 25
t, spring, per bu. $1 to $1 09
y, per bu. 50c to 67c
per bu. 33c to 35c
per bu. 63c to 70c
per bu. 60c
r, 10 rolls, 20c to 22c
r, large rolls, 20c
r, tub dairy, best, 18c to 19c
y, wholesale, $5 50 per bbl
Retail, $6 00 per bbl
Per quarter 3 1/2 to 5c
e, 9c to 10c
15c to 15c
w, Rough, 4c
w, Rendered, 7c to 7 1/2c fresh, per doz. 17c to 18c
in lots, 15c
$11 to $15 per ton

OSWEGO MARKETS.

OSWEGO, N. Y., Nov. 21--1 p.m. eat quiet--No. 1 Milwaukee club
No. 1 white Michigan, $1.48;
State $1.42.
ley quiet--No. 2 Canada nominal epts since 11 a.m.--17,600 wheat;
barley.

MONTREAL MARKETS.

MONTREAL, Nov. 21.
r; Receipts 3,140 brls. More ac-generally unchanged rates. Sales
s, superior extra at $5.90; 100
at $5.70; 200 do $5.75; 100 fancy
100 and 200 strong bakers at 500, 200, 300 and 100 spring ex-40.
in, Provisions and Ashes unchang-

PRODUCE MARKET,

ntreal, Nov. 21.--Flour market active, sales superior extra 5.90; 5.70 to 5.75; fancy 5.60, strong
at 5.65-

HAMILTON MARKETS.

GRAIN MARKET.--There was a air amount of grain in the market morning, there being a little of bing. The following were the ions:--

wheat, $1.25
l wheat, $1.15
ing wheat, $1.15 to $1.12
ley, 55c. to 56c.
s, 84c. to 85c.
s, 60c.

CHICAGO MARKETS.

For further particulars, apply to
REEVE & MORDEN,
28-3in. Vendor's Solicitors.

Business Change.

THE undersigned has sold out all his stock in trade to THOMAS SEAWARD, who will carry on the business in my old shop. All accounts due me must be paid forthwith.

ROBERT MOTT

Bath, Nov. 2nd 1877.

28-3in.

FARM FOR SALE.

About 75 acres of the

BEST LAND

—IN—

PRINCE EDWARD COUNTY,

5 1/2 miles from Picton, and 3 1/2 miles from
Demorestville.

This is a rare chance to get a Choice Farm.
It is well watered and nicely situated.

A Special Price to a purchaser before the 1st December.

Apply to

R McDOWALL,
Demorestville,

29.

Or at this Office.

1823. SEND FOR 1878

THE

New York Observer

The Best Religious and Secular Family Newspaper. $3.15 a Year, post-paid.
Established 1823.

37 PARK ROW, NEW YORK.
22. SAMPLE COPIES FREE.

CUSTOMS' DEPARTMENT.

Ottawa, Oct. 12th, 1877.

Authorized Discount on American Invoices
until further notice 3 per cent.

J. JOHNSON,
Commissioner.

WINE IS A MOCKER.

STRONG DRINK RAGING!

Whosoever is Deceived thereby is not Wise,

Therefore be not deceived by parties telling you that their STOVES are better than your old friend BOYLE'S. My Stoves are made of the Best Material (not of old iron, as asserted by others in the trade), and are also as good, if not better, because they are heavier and consequently throw out more heat,
and have given good satisfaction.

Give Me a Call Before Purchasing Elsewhere.

No connection with any other Establishment in Town,
But Manufacture and Repair

Tinware of All Kinds,

BY FIRST-CLASS MECHANICS, AND DO

JOB WORK

Of all kinds in my line, and keep a Large Assortment of

COOKING, PARLOR, COOK, BOX & COAL HEATING & DOUBLE STOVES.

EXTRA CASTINGS FOR STOVES. STOVES REFITTED.

PLOUGHS & PLOUGH-SHARES OF ALL KINDS.

Yours truly,

H. BOYLE, Agt.,

In Wm. Miller's Old Stand, Opposite Webster & Boyes.

Napanee, Nov. 14th, 1877.

COTTON AND WINCEY SHIRTINGS.

PRINTS AT 5c. A YARD.

BARGAINS IN DRESS GOODS.

Good Black Lustres at 15c. a yard.

Boots and Shoes, Ready-made Clothing,
Remarkably Cheap.

Mens' Long Boots, $1.50,
Worth, $2.50.

Boys' Long Boots 70c. worth $1.50.

200 OVERCOATS,

From $5.00 to $15.00,

Every Line of Goods to be sold below
Cost.

Don't fail to call and inspect before making
your purchases.

MEAGHER BROS.

UNION BAKERY.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

I beg to call the attention of the public to the Union Bakery, where you will find always on hand an abundant stock of

Bread, Cake, Biscuit and Confec-
tionery.

All orders promptly attended to. Wedding Cakes a speciality. Icing done in the neatest manner.

In addition to my Bakery, will keep a general assortment of

Groceries on Hand,

SUCH AS

Tea, Sugar, Butter, Eggs,
Syrups, Vinegar, & c.,

and the general wants of the public.

Remember the place, one door east, corner o
Dundas and West streets, Napanee.

25 tf NEIL SHANNON.

ITS OUTFIT INCLUDES A

LARGE STOCK

OF THE

Very Latest Styles Of New Type

And every Facility exists for turning out

JOB PRINTING

IN THE

BEST STYLE

OF THE ART.

LAW WORK A SPECIALITY

Assessment Blanks,
Auction Bills,
Articles of Agreement,
Briefs,
Bill Heads,
Ball Programmes,
Bills of Fare,
Circulars,
Chancery Bills,
Cards,
Catalogues,
Debentures

Dodgers,
Date Lines,
Envelopes,
Exhibition Bills,
Funeral Circulars,
Financial Reports,
Headings,
Horse Bills,
Indentures,
Invitations

Letter Headings,
Law Forms,
Lawyers' Briefs,
Labels,
Monthly Statements,
Mourning Cards,
Municipal Forms,
Note Headings,
Notarial Circulars

Funerary Notices.

per bu. 30c to 35c
 per bu. 35c to 75c
 or bu. 80c
 10 rolls, 20c to 22c
 large rolls, 20c
 tub dairy, best, 18c to 19c wholesale, $5.50 per bbl
 Retail, $6.00 per bbl
 Per quarter 31 to 5c
 3, 8c to 10c
 13c to 15c
 7, Rough, 41c
 7, Handered, 7c to 7 1/2c
 Fresh, per doz. 17c to 18c
 in lots, 15c
 11 to 215 per ton

OSWEGO MARKETS.

OSWEGO, N. Y., Nov. 21.—1 p.m. at quiet—No. 1 Milwaukee club
 No. 1 white Michigan, $1.48;
 State $1.42.

at quiet—No. 2 Canada nominal since 11 a.m.—17,600 wheat;
 barley.

MONTREAL MARKETS.

MONTREAL, Nov. 21.
 r; Receipts 8,140 bris. More ac-
 generally unchanged rates. Sales
 s. superior extra at $5.90; 100
 t $5.70; 200 do $5.75; 100 fancy
 100 and 200 strong bakers at 500, 200, 300 and 100 spring ex-40.
 n, Provisions and Ashes unchang-

PRODUCE MARKET,

trial, Nov. 21.—Flour market
 ctive, sales superior extra 5.90; 5.70 to 5.75; fancy 5.60, strong
 at 5.65-

HAMILTON MARKETS.

GRAIN MARKET.—There was a ir amount of grain in the market morning, there being a little of ping. The following were the ions:—

wheat, $1.25
 wheat, $1.15
 ng wheat, $1.15 to $1.12
 ey, 55c. to 56c.
 , 84c. to 85c.
 , 60c.

CHICAGO MARKETS.

CHICAGO, Nov. 21—1:05 p.m.
 ey—64, 64 1/2 cash nominally; 65 96 Jan.; extra No. 3, sales 47;
 yered at 47.
 at steady—$1.07 1/2 Dec. or year;
 Jan.; $1.10 1/2 Nov.; No. 1 $1.10 1/2
 $1.04,
 1 firm—47 1/2c to 48 cash or Nov.; 48
 Dec or year or May; 41 1/2 Jan.
 —25 1/2 cash or Nov.; 25 1/2 Dec.; 25 1/2
 an.
 k easier—$12.02 1/2 5 Nov. one year;
 to 2 1/2 to 5 Jan.
 1—$7.80 year; 17.85 to 87 1/2 Jan.;
 .90 cash.

CHEESE MARKET.

SE.—Utica, Nov. 19.—The market was more active and a fraction
 . Some 10,000 boxes were offered.
 7,000 of these were disposed of,
 2,000 going on commission with a tee of not over 12 cents. The obtained for those sold directly letetermined by the time of making.
 ange for October was 11 1/2 to 12 1/2c.
 st a dozen factories obtained the figure. The range for Septembers
 2 1/2 to 12 1/2c.
 ca N. Y. Nov. 20—Cheese market day therewere 10,000 boxes offered boxes of which sold direct at from to 12 1/2, for October, and 12 1/2 for fine mber. The average prices for all sold at 12 1/2. About 2,000 boxes forward on commission, and the
 at was active and higher.
 risk and active business character-the Little Falls, N. Y., cheese mar-yesterday, at about last week's prices.
 ales amounted to 7,886 boxes of y at from 11c to 12 1/2c; mostly 12c;
 airies sold at 10c to 12c; mostly 11 1/2c ries are rapidly closing for the n.

37 PARK ROW, NEW YORK.
 22. SAMPLE COPIES FREE.

CUSTOMS' DEPARTMENT.

Ottawa, Oct. 12th, 1877.

Authorized Discount on American Invoices
 until further notice 3 per cent.

J. JOHNSON,
 Commissioner.

52

OF THE ART.

Groceries on Hand,

SUCH AS

Tea, Sugar, Butter, Eggs,
 Syrups, Vinegar, & c.,

and the general wants of the public.

Remember the place, one door east, corner of Dundas and West streets, Napanee.

25 tf NEIL SHANNON.

WINE IS A MOCKER.

STRONG DRINK RAGING!

Whosoever is Deceived thereby is not Wise,

Therefore be not deceived by parties telling you that their STOVES are better than your old friend BOYLE'S. My Stoves are made of the Best Material (not of old iron, as asserted by others in the trade), and are also as good, if not better, because they are heavier and consequently throw out more heat,
 and have given good satisfaction.

Give Me a Call Before Purchasing Elsewhere.

No connection with any other Establishment in Town,
 But Manufacture and Repair

Tinware of All Kinds,

BY FIRST-CLASS MECHANICS, AND DO

JOB WORK

Of all kinds in my line, and keep a Large Assortment of
 COOKING, PARLOR, COOK, BOX & COAL HEATING & DOUBLE STOVES,

EXTRA CASTINGS FOR STOVES. STOVES REFITTED.

PLOUGHS & PLOUGH-SHARES OF ALL KINDS.

Yours truly,

H. BOYLE, Agt.,

In Wm. Miller's Old Stand, Opposite Webster & Boyes.

Napanee, Nov. 14th, 1877.

"The Proof of the Pudding is in the Eating."

But it is only necessary for parties wanting either

COOKING STOVES, for Coal or Wood,

PARLOR STOVES, for Coal or Wood,

BOX STOVES or HALL STOVES,

To see our Stock to be Convinced that we have the Best Stoves in the Market.

Our "ST. GEORGE" Cooking Stoves,

And "SPLENDID" Hall and Parlor Stoves,

Are not equalled by any Stoves in Canada. Come and see, and be convinced.

ALWAYS ON HAND, A LARGE STOCK OF

STOVE PIPES

TEE PIPES,

DUMB PIPES,

EXTRA STOVE CASTINGS, &c., &c.

ELBOWS,

DAMPER PIPES,

GALLOW PIPES,

Our Stock is very Large and Complete, and Prices Lower than the Lowest.

Our Stock of Hardware is the Largest in the County, and our Prices ROCK BOTTOM.

WRIGHT & Co.

Napanee, Nov. 14th, 1877.

OF THE ART.

LAW WORK A SPECIALITY

Assessment Blanks,
 Auction Bills,
 Articles of Agreement,
 Briefs,
 Bill Heads,
 Ball Programmes,
 Bills of Fare,
 Circulars,
 Chancery Bills,
 Cards,
 Catalogues,
 Debentures

Dodgers,
 Date Lines,
 Envelopes,
 Exhibition Bills,
 Funeral Circulars,
 Financial Reports,
 Headings,
 Horse Bills,
 Indentures,
 Invitations

Letter Headings,
 Law Forms,
 Lawyers' Briefs,
 Labels,
 Monthly Statements,
 Mourning Cards,
 Municipal Forms,
 Note Headings,
 Notarial Circulars

Obituary Notices,
 Pamphlets,
 Posters,
 Programmes,
 Promissory Notes,
 Receipt Books,
 Shipping Tags,
 Statements,
 Sale Bills,
 Tickets,

Tax Collectors Rolls,
 Tax Receipts,
 Visiting Cards,
 Voters' Lists,
 Wheat Receipts,
 Wedding Cards.

ALL THE ABOVE

PRINTED WITH DESPATCH

AT THE

'EXPRESS' OFFICE.

THE FINANCE MINISTER BEFORE HIS CONSTITUENTS.

Full Report of Mr. Cartwright's Speech at Napanee.

The following is a full report of the speech delivered by Hon. Mr. Cartwright, in the Town Hall, Napanee, on Friday evening, 2nd instant:—

Hon. Mr. Cartwright on rising to address the meeting was received with loud and prolonged cheers. After briefly expressing his pleasure at again meeting his constituents, and his regret that he had been prevented by absence in England from addressing them last year according to his usual custom, he proceeded as follows:—I cannot but be forcibly reminded of the very considerable period which has elapsed since I first had the pleasure of representing the county of Lennox in the Parliament of my native country. Looking round these benches, though I am glad to perceive so many old familiar faces present to-night, I miss not a few whom all of us would have been glad to see again amongst us, and whose absence may remind us, one and all, of the rapid changes time is working in ourselves. Sooth to say, Mr. Chairman, I am inclined to think that almost the only thing which has not changed materially in these same fifteen years is the attitude, as respects myself, of a certain number of gentlemen who have always shown themselves pretty consistent in opposing me under all circumstances. Formerly, as near as I can remember, these worthy people conceived it to be their bounden duty (at least so they told me) to oppose me because I supported Sir John Macdonald. Now it appears it is equally their bounden duty to oppose me because I won't support Sir John Macdonald any longer. (Here, here, and laughter.) When I first came forward as a candidate for your suffrages they were good enough to inform me that they would be glad to support me for my own sake, but that they dreaded that one so young and inexperienced would become an easy prey to the wiles of that crafty intriguer, in fine, that they could swallow me, but that Sir John Macdonald was "really too bad." (Here, here, and laughter.) Well, Sir, times have changed. How are we to explain this little anomaly? Have these gentlemen converted Sir John Macdonald? or is it possible that Sir John Macdonald has corrupted them? (Laughter.) I should really like to have an answer to this question at some convenient season. If, as I sincerely hope and trust, they did really succeed in turning Sir John Macdonald's last visit here to such good purpose as to have brought him, even for a time, to a due sense of the error of his ways, few things would afford me greater pleasure. I fear, however, that even if that were the case, his conversion must have taken place after, and not before, the demonstration in the Crystal Palace grounds; and what is still more to be lamented, that if there be a particle of truth in the reports that have reached us from so many quarters, of the right honorable gentleman's language and conduct at Whitby, at Lindsay, at Ailsa Craig, at Hagarsville, at St. Thomas, and at divers other places, I fear that his conversion cannot have been of a very durable character, and that his fall from grace (when once he left the pure atmosphere of Napanee) was both rapid and signal. (Cheers and laughter.) Now, Sir, there is one small point of difference between these excellent gentlemen and myself. In former days, when the charges against Sir John Macdonald, however grave, rested mainly on suspicion and circumstantial evidence which might be explained away, I gave him the benefit of the doubt; I refused to pre- scribe him, and I demanded that before I was asked to condemn him the evidence must be clear and uncontrovertible.

near it as any mere piped can; and, after no inconsiderable experience, I am willing to bear testimony that Dr. Tupper is one of the finest living specimens of a pachyderm in existence. (Loud laughter.) Asking your pardon for this little digression, I observe that in his speech delivered here the good Doctor has followed his usual custom. On all occasions on which I have hitherto had the pleasure of hearing or reading his efforts, I have remarked that he invariably commences with a vehement flourish of trumpets, in the course of which he declares that he is about to answer every argument and analyse every statement; to take up his opponent's speeches bit by bit and disprove them in detail. I have observed also that as soon as this preliminary flourish is well over, it is equally his invariable custom to diverge to totally irrelevant subjects, and to leave his promised analysis to anyone who cares to try his hand upon it. I perceive that he has faithfully adhered to his old tactics here. He had obtained that morning, for the first time (so he stated,) a copy of my Newmarket speech, delivered and printed some months before, and he promised a most critical review of the same. Now, whatever my faults may be, I don't think any man can reasonably charge me with lack of plain speaking, especially with respect to my predecessor's financial sms. (Hear, here, and laughter.) My charges and my language were plain and clear. They were mainly these two: I condemned the fiscal administration of the late Government of two grounds; first, because they had raised the annual expenditure of Canada some ten millions of dollars in six years, that is, from about thirteen and a half millions in 1867-8, to twenty-three and a half millions in 1873-4; secondly, because, not content with this, they had further entangled us in additional liabilities, involving, at the least, a further annual outlay of three millions per annum, and I alleged that in so doing they had committed a most grave error, and shown great want of foresight. Now if in bringing this accusation, which was supported by many minute details, for which I refer you to my speech at Newmarket, I had made any false statements or committed any serious mistakes, nothing could have been easier than for the learned Doctor to have exposed my errors. My statements and my figures are matters of public record, and Dr. Tupper has had every opportunity for a long time back to analyse and expose them, so far, at any rate, as 1874 and 1876 are concerned. (Hear, here.) Now, what was his answer? Passing over for the moment any objection taken by him to a certain amount charged by me to income, and which he alleges should have been properly charged to capital, his whole and sole defence would appear to be this:—That we have no right to charge the preceding Government with extravagance because, forsooth, we expended $1,170,000 more in 1875-6 than was expended in 1873-4! Why, Sir, this is part, and by no means the lightest part, of my indictment against them. I have always held it to be one of the worst parts of their offences against the State that, besides making an enormous addition to our annual expenditure, they left behind them such a monstrous mass of unmatured debts and liabilities that it was wholly impossible for us, in spite of all our exertions, to bring our total expenditure within anything like moderate bounds for at least two or three years. Let us do what Dr. Tupper either could not or would not do. Let us analyse the $1,170,000 excess, and then judge for yourselves how far we can be held responsible for it. Here are the figures:—

Second half-year's interest on Mr. Tilly's loan.....	$225,000
Boundary Survey, extended in 1873-4.....	135,000
Public Works, chargeable to income actually put under contract by the late Government.....	1,106,000
Cost of working Prince Edward Island Railway.....	220,000
Cost of Mounted Police.....	150,000
Interest on cost of public works entered into by the late Government up to end

a fair question might be raised as to the relative merit of a specific and an ad valorem system; but there is no question that such a comparison does not arise in the present case, while the specific duty is much more easily collected, is less exposed to fraud, and prevents the importation of a class of deleterious and low-priced teas into the country. As a matter of fact, it was found in England that if you had any duty at all the true protection of the public required the imposition of a specific duty, so as to check the importation of these worthless goods. The true doctrine, as I contend, is not to attempt an over nice adjustment of these matters by an ad valorem tariff, which is liable in certain classes of articles to be grossly abused; but if you find by any chance that the taxes press too heavily on the poorer classes of the community—whose interests should be the special care of all legislators—the proper way is to balance that pressure, by remissions in other directions, or by putting taxes—as we have done—on articles which may be termed luxuries of one kind or another. That is the way to obtain the true balance, not by talking nonsense about the difference between specific and ad valorem duties. (Hear, hear, and cheers.) I notice that these gentlemen are making a great point of our iniquity in refunding some $69,000 to the Great Western Railway. Well, Sir, it was not to the Great Western alone, but also to the Canadian Southern and the Northern; and what will this assemblage say—because I know that, whether you are supporters of the Government or not, the most of you are fair and candid people—what will you say when I tell you that the refund was only made by us because the Grand Trunk had received from these gentlemen a refund to the extent of $200,000 on precisely the same class or articles? (Hear, hear.) It was an act of the simplest justice; these railroads had a right to demand it, all admitted that right but finding that this exemption was one likely to be abused, my first act in adjusting the tariff in 1874 was to remove the articles in respect of which the refund was made from the free list, and make them pay a ten per cent. duty for the future. (Cheers.) Then as to the charge of having improperly transferred items from capital to income, I have no hesitation in saying that one of the duties of a Finance Minister is to revise these matters, and see that such items are classed under their proper heads. This was the view taken by other Ministers of Finance, and notably by Sir Francis Hincks, who, and very properly too, caused several entries aggregating some hundreds of thousands of dollars to be transported from capital to income account under somewhat analogous circumstances. I exercised the right of that duty for the following reasons:—I lay down the position that in the case of old railways like those of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick you must not allow an open account to be kept. To keep an open account is to pave the way for all sorts of disorder and irregularity. You never know where you are, and you run the greatest risk of encouraging your officials (as was actually the case to no small extent) to allow the road to be run down to a ruinous degree in order to keep down the apparent expenditure, trusting it will be all made good out of capital and no one the wiser. The true policy, as I have always contended, is to close your capital account once and for all as soon as the road is fully stored and equipped and in good running order, and never allow it to be opened on any pretence whatever, unless under such circumstances (as for example a change of gauge) as would warrant you in effecting a new loan for a large and substantial improvement. Now, with regard to the loans which I effected on the English market, I will not detain you with any elaborate account of these. Those of you who desire to see in extenso the reason why I transacted the late loan in the manner I did will find them in my budget speech of 1877; and to that I must ple of Canada? Did you loose the operation? The best answer to the question is the fact that you have got $400,000 or $500,000 for your while at the same time the burden the consumer is far less than before you will also bear in mind that in the country the consumption of tea is a necessity, the consumption of however pleasant it may be to some, must be regarded to a very considerable extent as a luxury and a subject of taxation, and in no climate at least, as a genuine necessity of life. Dr. Tupper's last was one of the most extraordinary addressed to an intelligent assembly. "Though we spent a great deal of he says, "We always had the and we spent it like men." I just add to this remark, that if the it like men, they spent it like ver men. There would have been force in that argument if I had only increased the exp in such a way that it co decreased at will, though even th a very foolish and dangerous ac custom the people to a lavish necessary expenditure merely from sudden and accidental cau find an unexpected surplus in yo sury. But what they did was different thing, and vastly more n ous. Mistaking a period of sudd tion for one of permanent pro they added large sums to our exp and in consequence to the the people, they incurred ob which they left as a legacy to having done so, they now turn ro accuse us because we were not once to restore the balance, and their errors. Dr. Tupper has lime audacity to charge against fault that we have undertaken struct two-thirds of the Pacific within a period of twenty years. Sir, when we entered office w Canada bound by solemn pledge the whole Pacific Railway—as three thousand miles—within a ten years from 1871, an und which was simply a physical bility, even if we had the money these men, when we had the length of the railway by or and the expense by much than one-third, when we e the period from ten to years, have the audacity to tell we are making a bad bargain for ple of Canada. Dr. Tupper alleges that the assumption of v incial debts was no additional all; that no burthen was thereb ed on the people of Canada. I easy to see that the men wh that statement had nothing to providing the money to pay f additional debt. We had only $2,900,000 in 1872-3 and the ne $3,750,000; and that, Sir, was part the direct and immediate the taxation which I was oblig ed the first year we were in off yet, according to Dr. Tupper, it addition to the burthens of the of Canada. Dr. Tupper co because we take the year 1878 standard of comparison, inasmu were in office for the latter hal year; and though he knows nothing to do with framing t mates or giving out the contrac which the expenditures were ge yet he expects you to blame u great part of the expenditure. I am prepared for him on that poi objects to 1873-4. We will tak —a year in which, as you will ber, Sir J. Macdonald had unce sway in this country—and con with the estimated expenditure current year, deducting from items, and those alone, which ar due to action of the late Gover and I will leave it to you to sa of us are conducting the Govern the country most economically. hear, and cheers.) Now, Sir, i experienced would become an easy prey to the wiles of that crafty intriguer, in fine, that they could swallow me, but that Sir John Macdonald was "really too bad." (Here, here, and laughter.) Well, Sir, times have changed. How are we to explain this little anomaly? Have these gentlemen converted Sir John Macdonald? or is it possible that Sir John Macdonald has corrupted them? (Laughter.) I should really like to have an answer to this question at some convenient season. If, as I sincerely hope and trust, they did really succeed in turning Sir John Macdonald's last visit here to such good purpose as to have brought him, even for a time, to a due sense of the error of his ways, few things would afford me greater pleasure. I fear, however, that even if that were the case, his conversion must have taken place after, and not before, the demonstration in the Crystal Palace grounds; and what is still more to be lamented, that if there be a particle of truth in the reports that have reached us from so many quarters, of the right honorable gentleman's language and conduct at Whitby, at Lindsay, at Ailsa Craig, at Hagersville, at St. Thomas, and at divers other places, I fear that his conversion cannot have been of a very durable character, and that his fall from grace (when once he left the pure atmosphere of Napanee) was both rapid and signal. (Cheers and laughter.) Now, Sir, there is one small point of difference between these excellent gentlemen and myself. In former days, when the charges against Sir John Macdonald, however grave, rested mainly on suspicion and circumstantial evidence which might be explained away, I gave him the benefit of the doubt; I refused to prescribe him, and I demanded that before I was asked to condemn him the evidence must be clear and uncontrovertible. These persons, Sir, took a different course. So long as Sir John's conduct was merely suspicious they showed no mercy and no quarter to his weakness; but now that his guilt is open and manifest to all the world, proved by his testimony and admitted by himself, they have taken him back to their confidence, and they can find no language too severe to stigmatize my conduct in deserting so great a statesman and so pure a patriot, and they do not hesitate to insinuate that Sir John Macdonald is a deeply injured individual, and myself and my colleagues, wrongdoers, who are persistently misleading the public. (Hear, hear, and a laugh.) Well, Mr. Chairman, about six weeks back that injured innocent, Sir John Macdonald, having added to him divers other injured innocents like himself, was good enough to hold what they were pleased to call a grand demonstration in the good town of Napanee, at which, if I may judge by the newspaper reports which have reached me, they seem to have devoted themselves for the space of about four hours to what might be not inaptly described as a weeping and wailing and a gnashing of teeth, literally and metaphorically, over me and my infirmities. (Laughter.) I have no doubt they found it a pleasant pastime, and so far am I from grudging it to them, that I am ready and willing to put my grounds at their disposal for that purpose whenever and as often as they please. (Hear, hear, laughter and cheers.) It may be added, too, that the demonstration was by no means absolutely without results, since, if I am correctly informed, it was the means of settling at least one disputed fact. We had, some of us, a shrewd suspicion all along that Sir John Macdonald's bark was worse than his bite. It was reserved for that auspicious occasion to afford even to the most skeptical, oculat demonstration of the truth of that suspicion. (Loud laughter.) It is not my purpose to review in detail the several questions which are now agitating the public mind. This has already been done at some length, and I shall therefore confine myself chiefly to the discussion of the various charges which were brought against myself on that occasion, or within a very recent period. First of all I perceive that my worthy friend, Dr. Tupper, improved the occasion by delivering himself of a pretty long and comprehensive attack on my various misstatements or committed any serious mistakes, nothing could have been easier than for the learned Doctor to have exposed my errors. My statements and my figures are matters of public record, and Dr. Tupper has had every opportunity for a long time back to analyse and expose them, so far, at any rate, as 1874 and 1876 are concerned. (Hear, hear.) Now, what was his answer? Passing over for the moment any objection taken by him to a certain amount charged by me to income, and which he alleges should have been properly charged to capital, his whole and sole defence would appear to be this:—That we have no right to charge the preceding Government with extravagance because, forsooth, we expended $1,170,000 more in 1875-6 than was expended in 1873-4! Why, Sir, this is part, and by no means the lightest part, of my indictment against them. I have always held it to be one of the worst parts of their offences against the State that, besides making an enormous addition to our annual expenditure, they left behind them such a monstrous mass of unmatured debts and liabilities that it was wholly impossible for us, in spite of all our exertions, to bring our total expenditure within anything like moderate bounds for at least two or three years. Let us do what Dr. Tupper either could not or would not do. Let us analyse the $1,170,000 excess, and then judge for yourselves how far we can be held responsible for it. Here are the figures:—

Second half-year's interest on Mr. Tilly's loan.....	$225,000
Boundary Survey, expended in 1873-4.....	135,000
Public Works, chargeable to income actually put under contract by the late Government.....	1,106,000
Cost of working Prince Edward Island Railway.....	230,000
Cost of Mounted Police.....	150,000
Interest on cost of public works entered into by the late Government up to end of 1875.....	700,000
Statutory increases under Act of late Government.....	75,000
Cross entry representing interest on investments not existing in 1873-4.....	150,000

And (which was Dr. Tupper's own special and specific legacy) an annual charge of $100,000 for the working of his precious bantling, the Weights and Measures Act. As these amounts collectively equal $2,861,000, which did not exist in 1873-4, and which are fairly chargeable to the late Government and not to us, I think I may fairly contend that Dr. Tupper showed considerable want of discretion in bringing that additional $1,170,000 forward as a good and sufficient answer to my charge of extravagant expenditure. (Hear, hear.) To his other allegations—that we have grossly abused the Superannuation Act—that we acted with injustice and impolicy in imposing a small duty upon tea—that we bribed the Great Western Railway by refunding some $69,000 to that corporation—that we made charges to Income which should have gone to Capital and vice versa—that we mismanaged the emission of our loans, and that we have injured the agricultural community and reduced the price of barley by imposing a tax on malt, I shall reply very briefly. Touching our abuse of the Superannuation Act, which I may remind you was passed by our predecessors, I have simply to state that we have now on our list 2,175 persons entitled to claim superannuation allowance; that of these nearly 500 are over 60 years of age, at which time the statute is made to apply if required; that of these 500 some 200 odd are well over 65, beyond which period no one is allowed to remain in the service except on special report; that we have superannuated between 30 and 40 per annum out of some 2,200, being something under two per cent. per annum; that we have increased the superannuation grant by about $41,000, in three years, against which are to be set off—first, the sum of $4,000 additional paid in by our employees; and secondly, a sum of $36,000, or thereabouts, saved by the abolition of offices; and that whereas the net cost of our proceedings to the public of Canada is about $1,000 in three years, the late Government in a similar period of three years incurred an annual cost of $33,000 with very little set off in the way of abolition of offices, as I have had occasion to observe elsewhere. (Hear, hear, and cheers.) As to the duty upon tea, I object to the charge of having improperly transferred items from capital to income, I have no hesitation in saying that one of the duties of a Finance Minister is to revise these matters, and see that such items are classed under their proper heads. This was the view taken by other Ministers of Finance, and notably by Sir Francis Hincks, who, and very properly too, caused several entries aggregating some hundreds of thousands of dollars to be transported from capital to income account under somewhat analogous circumstances. I exercised the right of that duty for the following reasons:—I lay down the position that in the case of old railways like those of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick you must not allow an open account to be kept. To keep an open account is to pave the way for all sorts of disorder and irregularity. You never know where you are, and you run the greatest risk of encouraging your officials (as was actually the case to no small extent) to allow the road to be run down to a ruinous degree in order to keep down the apparent expenditure, trusting it will be all made good out of capital and no one the wiser. The true policy, as I have always contended, is to close your capital account once and for all as soon as the road is fully stored and equipped and in good running order, and never allow it to be opened on any pretence whatever, unless under such circumstances (as for example a change of gauge) as would warrant you in effecting a new loan for a large and substantial improvement. Now, with regard to the loans which I effected on the English market, I will not detain you with any elaborate account of these. Those of you who desire to see in extenso the reason why I transacted the late loan in the manner I did will find them in my budget speech of 1877; and to that I must refer you. I will say, however, in brief, that when these gentlemen condemned my management of that loan, they should have told you that we have been obliged to borrow more money in a shorter time than any previous Canadian Government, that we have been able to borrow it on better terms than any of our predecessors, and that the last loan was effected on the best terms of all. (Cheers.) And they might have added, that whether the course we pursued was good or bad, we have the satisfaction of knowing that we have materially reduced the rate of interest on the whole national debt since our accession to office. (Hear, hear, and loud cheers.) I must also say a few words in regard to this malt and barley matter. Dr. Tupper and Sir John Macdonald are constantly expressing their anxiety to protect the poor man, and I see they condemn me, inter alia, because I did not put a heavier tax on the spirituous liquors made, or imported into this country, in place of taxing the "poor man's beer," as they euphoniously express it. I would have been glad to have imposed a heavier duty on whiskey, but it is a notorious fact that even under the existing duty illicit distillation was making rapid strides all over the country, although very heavy penalties were imposed on those who were found perpetrating these frauds on the revenue. It is all we can do to protect the revenue under the existing duty, and it would have been an act of rash folly to have added to that difficulty by imposing a heavier one. But let us see what the extent of this tax on malt, of which they complain so much, really is; and first, let us understand how far it is likely to distress the agricultural community of this country. According to the best estimates we have been able to obtain, about ten million bushels of barley were grown in Canada this last year. Now, there were just 9,115,000 gallons of ale manufactured in Canada during the same period which paid an excise duty; and out of these ten million bushels of barley we consumed some 600,000 or 700,000 bushels in making malt. Now, even supposing that a tax on malt is equivalent to a tax on barley, which I don't at all admit, I would like to ask any man how it would be possible that the price of barley would be affected by a tax on the 600,000 or 700,000 bushels so consumed while some 9,300,000 bushels remained unaffected. (Hear, hear, and these men, when we had the length of the railway by and the expense by much than one-third, when we the period from ten to years, have the audacity to to we are making a bad bargain for people of Canada. Dr. Tupper alleges that the assumption of vinal debts was no additional all; that no burthen was there ed on the people of Canada. easy to see that the men w that statement had nothing to providing the money to pay additional debt. We had only $2,900,000 in 1872-3 and the n $3,750,000; and that, Sir, was part the direct and immediate the taxation which I was oblige the first year we were in o yet, according to Dr. Tupper, addition to the burthens of th of Canada. Dr. Tupper (because we take the year 1877 standard of comparison, inasm were in office for the latter ha year; and though he knows nothing to do with framing mates or giving out the contra which the expenditures were yet he expects you to blame great part of the expenditure. am prepared for him on that p objects to 1873-4. We will ta —a year in which, as you wiber, Sir J. Macdonald had unsway in this country—and c with the estimated expenditure current year, deducting from items, and those alone, which due to action of the late Gov and I will leave it to you to of us are conducting the Govern the country most economically hear, and cheers.) Now, Sir, —and, mind you, I am taking favourable aspect of the cas Tupper, for I don't take the but the sum actually expended expenditure was $19,174,647. current year our total expen estimated at $23,128,000, ded both sides the interest on in which did not exist in 1872-3, certainly no man can pretend any additional burden on ou That will leave a difference bet two years of $3,953,343. Now is this:—If I show you that an four millions, the difference bet 3 and 1877-8, is made up and n made up by charges placed i country by the direct action of Government, then I say that before you is, are not these g condemned on the evidence of acts placed on the statute books been responsible for that on crase? (Hear, hear.) Let us items and examine them. The is the charge for the subsidy Brunswick, amounting to $150 the charges for the assumption Provincial debts amounting al 000 nearly. The second is the admission of Prince Edwa into the Union, and the annua ture entailed thereby including tenance of the railway and st navigation. That also amount 000 per year. Then Sir, came est on the loan contracted by A in September, 1873, amounting 000 while the additions to th working the Post-offices—altho perly speaking, it is a cross bet the amount by some $300,000 creases in salaries covering rat than $850,000, the cost of worki tercolonel Railway, which was n in 1872-3, amounts to $500,00 interest on public works for w had given out the contracts, a they had commenced before the of office, amounts to $1,200,0 up to the close of the current y cost of the Mounted Police for they organized, an I have alre amounts to $330,000. The cost of Indian treaties which they ha amounts to $330,000 more, bein in all as nearly as may be of $1 as against the total balance of $1 (Hear, hear, and cheers.) P briefly, you have this result, a

GLOBE

Life Assurance Co.

OF NEW YORK.

Assets, - - - $5,000,000

Premium Reserve, $3,600,000

Income for Year 1876, $857,000

This company only accepts first-class risks, and is noted for the promptness with which claims are paid.

It offers insurance on the ordinary life as well as the endowment plans, besides those also known as the ten, fifteen and twenty-year reserve dividend plan, by which the reserves as well as all other accumulations may be withdrawn at the time specified, thereby affording a system of endowment under ordinary life rates.

See prospectus in hands of local agents.

H. L. COOK,
General Agent for Ont.
THOS. A. HUFFMAN,
Agt. for Napanee

Napanee, 15th June, 1877. 8-tf.

WESTERN ASSURANCE COMPANY

Incorporated 1851.

CAPITAL, - - - - - $800,000
With power to increase to $1,000,000.

FIRE AND MARINE.

HEAD OFFICE: Toronto, Ont.

President,
HON. JOHN MCMURRICH.
Vice-President,
CHARLES MAGRATH.

Directors,
JAS. MICHIE, Esq. NOAH BARNHART, Esq.
JOHN FISKE, Esq. ROBT. HEATY, Esq.
A. M. SMITH, Esq. WM. GOODERHAM, Esq.
BARNARD HILDAN, Managing Director
FRED'K. G. LOVELACE, Secretary.
WM. BLIGHT, Fire Inspector.
JAMES PRINGLE, General Agent.

Insurance effected at the lowest current rates on Buildings, Merchandise, and other property, against loss or damage by fire.

On Hull Cargo, and Freight against the perils of Inland Navigation.

On Cargo Risks with the Maritime Provinces by sail or steam.

On Cargoes by steamers to British Ports.

W. V. DETLOR,
Agent for Napanee

F. BEZO'S RESTAURANT,

(Opposite the Tichborne House.)
Meals or lunch can be obtained on most reasonable terms. Board by the day or week.

FRUIT OR GROCERIES

Toys and Fancy Goods, and
D. D. MALLORY'S CELEBRATED OYSTERS,
Best in the Market.

25-tf. F. BEZO.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets

SIZE OF PELLETS.

Or Sugar-Coated, Concentrated, Root and Herbal Juice, Anti-Bilious Granules. THE "LITTLE GIANT" CATHARTIC, or Maltum in Parvo Physic.

The novelty of modern Medical, Chemical, and Pharmaceutical Science. No use of any longer taking the large, repulsive, and nauseous pills.

"Among American Reviews, the INTERNATIONAL is always conspicuous."—ADAM DEMY, New York.
"Will not suffer by comparison with the best foreign quarters."—CHURCHMAN, New York.
"Not equalled by any of its contemporaries, home or foreign, in spirit, style, or ability."—INTERIOR, Chicago.
"This is the leading Magazine of America."—ELGIN COURANT, England.

1878 THE 1878 International Review.

Between the Quaterlies and the Monthlies.
SIX TIMES A YEAR.

I. The chief object of this Review is to supply the demand for a non-partisan and international literature. In politics and religion the Review will subscribe the interest of no sect or party. The Review will aim to discuss, in a vigorous, interesting and impartial manner, both sides of many of the important literary, scientific, social, political and religious questions of the day.

II. It brings to its pages the best talent of Europe and America, and seeks to be a medium of communication between representative thinkers of every nation.

III. The interests and union of the many foreign elements that constitute American society are a very important part of the work assumed by the INTERNATIONAL REVIEW.

IV. Like the Quaterlies, it addresses scholars, and like the Monthlies, aims to be of value to practical men in business and the professions, and of interest to the members of the family.

V. Each number contains fresh and reliable notices of important new American and European books.

VI. The Art Department will be conducted by Mr. Philip Gilbert Hamerton. Editorial comments upon the course of events at home and abroad, having special reference to the interests of the United States, are given in, and add strength and timeliness to every issue.

VII. The success of the INTERNATIONAL REVIEW is made to depend upon a comprehensive plan, solid merit, and adaption in style and subject to the age in which we live.

ALL ARTICLES ARE ORIGINAL.

SOME OF THE CONTRIBUTORS:
WM. CULLEN BRYANT, U. States of America.
Hon. C. F. ADAMS, Sr. " "
Ex-Pres. TH. D. WOOLSEY, " "
Pres. JOHN PORTER, " "
Pres. JAMES MACDONALD, " "
Prof. A. P. PEABODY, " "
Mr. JUSTICE STRONG, " "
Prof. J. E. HILGARD, " "
E. P. WHIPPLE, " "
Dr. FRANCIS WHARTON, " "
THEODORE DWIGHT, " "
Hon. JOHN BIGELOW, " "
H. H. BOYSEN, " "
E. A. WASHBURN, " "
BAYARD TAYLOR, " "
DAVID A. WELLS, " "
Hon. T. M. COOLEY, " "
Hon. A. H. STEVENS, " "
Gen. F. A. WALKER, " "
Hon. JOHN JAY, " "
Hon. CARL SCHURZ, " "
Principal J. W. DAWSON, Canada.
WALTER BESANT, England.
CLAS. TENNYSON TURNER, England.
DEAN SMITH, of Canterbury, England.
DEAN STANLEY, of Westminster, England.
Professor WM. B. CARSWATER, England.
Professor E. H. PALMER, England.
PHILIP GILBERT HAMERTON, England.
EDWARD A. FREEMAN, England.
Prof. W. S. JEVONS, England.
THOMAS HUGHES, England.
THOMAS BRASSEY, M. P., England.
WILKIE COLLINS, England.
JAMES H. RIGG, England.
Professor EDWARD LABOULAYE, France.
M. ERNEST NAVILLE, France.
M. SPULLER, Dep. France.
Pasteur EUGENE BELIER, France.
Professor ERNST CURTIUS, Germany.
Dr. CARL ABEL, Germany.
Baron F. VON HOLTZENDORF, Germany.
Professor AUGUST VOGEL, Germany.
Professor J. E. DORNBER, Germany.
Professor R. BONGHI, Italy.
Professor A. DE GUBERNATIS, Italy.
Princess DORA D'ISTRIA, Italy.
Madame VILLARI, Italy.

Crockery & Glassware

AT COST

OUR ENTIRE STOCK OF

Crockery & Glassware.

ple of Canada? Did you loose much on the operation? The best answer to the question is the fact that you have obtained $400,000 or $500,000 for your revenue while at the same time the burden upon the consumer is far less than before; and you will also bear in mind that while in the country the consumption of coal oil is a necessity, the consumption of beer, however pleasant it may be to some people, must be regarded to a very considerable extent as a luxury and a proper subject of taxation, and in no wise, in this climate at least, as a genuine necessary of life. Dr. Tupper's last argument was one of the most extraordinary ever addressed to an intelligent assemblage. "Though we spent a great deal of money," he says, "we always had the money, and we spent it like men." I would just add to this remark, that if they spent it like men, they spent it like very foolish men. There would have been some force in that argument if they had only increased the expenditure in such a way that it could be decreased at will, though even then it is a very foolish and dangerous thing to accustom the people to a lavish and unnecessary expenditure merely because from sudden and accidental causes you find an unexpected surplus in your treasury. But what they did was a very different thing, and vastly more mischievous. Mistaking a period of sudden inflation for one of permanent prosperity, they added large sums to our expenditure, and in consequence to the taxes of the people, they incurred obligations which they left as a legacy to us, and having done so, they now turn round and accuse us because we were not able at once to restore the balance, and retrieve their errors. Dr. Tupper has the sublime audacity to charge against us as a fault that we have undertaken to construct two-thirds of the Pacific Railway within a period of twenty years. Why, Sir, when we entered office we found Canada bound by solemn pledge to build the whole Pacific Railway—say some three thousand miles—within a period of ten years from 1871, an undertaking which was simply a physical impossibility, even if we had the money. Yet these men, when we had reduced the length of the railway by one-third, and the expense by much more than one-third, when we extended the period from ten to twenty years, have the audacity to tell us that we are making a bad bargain for the people of Canada. Dr. Tupper further alleges that the assumption of the Provincial debts was no additional debt at all; that no burthen was thereby inflicted on the people of Canada. It is very easy to see that the men who made that statement had nothing to do with providing the money to pay for this additional debt. We had only to pay $2,900,000 in 1872-3 and the next year $3,750,000; and that, Sir, was in great part the direct and immediate cause of the taxation which I was obliged to levy the first year we were in office, and yet, according to Dr. Tupper, it was no addition to the burthens of the people of Canada. Dr. Tupper complains because we take the year 1874-75 as a standard of comparison, inasmuch as we were in office for the latter half of that year; and though he knows we had nothing to do with framing the estimates or giving out the contracts under which the expenditures were going on, yet he expects you to blame us for a great part of the expenditure. Well, I am prepared for him on that point. He objects to 1873-4. We will take 1872-3—a year in which, as you will remember, Sir J. Macdonald had uncontrolled sway in this country—and compare it with the estimated expenditure for the current year, deducting from it those items, and those alone, which are clearly due to action of the late Government; and I will leave it to you to say which of us are conducting the Government of the country most economically. (Hear, hear, and cheers.) Now, Sir, in 1872-3 a fair question might be raised as to the relative merit of a specific and an ad valorem system; but there is no question that such a comparison does not arise in the present case, while the specific duty is much more easily collected, is less exposed to fraud, and prevents the importation of a class of deleterious and low-priced teas into the country. As a matter of fact, it was found in England that if you had any duty at all the true protection of the public required the imposition of a specific duty, so as to check the importation of these worthless goods. The true doctrine, as I contend, is not to attempt an over nice adjustment of these matters by an ad valorem tariff, which is liable in certain classes of articles to be grossly abused; but if you find by any chance that the taxes press too heavily on the poorer classes of the community—whose interests should be the special care of all legislators—the proper way is to balance that pressure, by remissions in other directions, or by putting taxes—as we have done—on articles which may be termed luxuries of one kind or another. That is the way to obtain the true balance not by talking nonsense about the difference between specific and ad valorem duties. (Hear, hear, and cheers.) I notice that these gentlemen are making a great point of our iniquity in refunding some $69,000 to the Great Western Railway. Well, Sir, it was not to the Great Western alone, but also to the Canadian Southern and the Northern; and what will this assemblage say—because I know that, whether you are supporters of the Government or not, the most of you are fair and candid people—what will you say when I tell you that the refund was only made by us because the Grand Trunk had received from these gentlemen a refund to the extent of $200,000 on precisely the same class or articles? (Hear, hear.) It was an act of the simplest justice; these railroads had a right to demand it, all admitted that right but finding that this exemption was one likely to be abused, my first act in adjusting the tariff in 1874 was to remove the articles in respect of which the refund was made from the free list, and make them pay a ten per cent. duty for the future. (Cheers.) Then as to the charge of having improperly transferred items from capital to income, I have no hesitation in saying that one of the duties of a Finance Minister is to revise these matters, and see that such items are classed under their proper heads. This was the view taken by other Ministers of Finance, and notably by Sir Francis Hincks, who, and very properly too, caused several entries aggregating some hundreds of thousands of dollars to be transported from capital to income account under somewhat analogous circumstances. I exercised the right of that duty for the following reasons:—I lay down the position that in the case of old railways like those of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick you must not allow an open account to be kept. To keep an open account is to pay the way for all sorts of disorder and irregularity. You never know where you are, and you run the greatest risk of encouraging your officials (as was actually the case to no small extent) to allow the road to be run down to a ruinous degree in order to keep down the apparent expenditure, trusting it will be all made good out of capital and no one the wiser. The true policy, as I have always contended, is to close your capital account once and for all as soon as the road is fully stored and equipped and in good running order, and never allow it to be opened on any pretence whatever, unless under such circumstances (as for example a change of gauge) as would warrant you in effecting a new loan for a large and substantial improvement. Now, with regard to the loans which I effected on the English market, I will not detain you with any elaborate account of these. Those of you who desire to see in extenso the reason why I transacted the late loan in the manner I did will find them in my budget speech of 1877, and to that I must ferred items from capital to income, I have no hesitation in saying that one of the duties of a Finance Minister is to revise these matters, and see that such items are classed under their proper heads. This was the view taken by other Ministers of Finance, and notably by Sir Francis Hincks, who, and very properly too, caused several entries aggregating some hundreds of thousands of dollars to be transported from capital to income account under somewhat analogous circumstances. I exercised the right of that duty for the following reasons:—I lay down the position that in the case of old railways like those of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick you must not allow an open account to be kept. To keep an open account is to pave the way for all sorts of disorder and irregularity. You never know where you are, and you run the greatest risk of encouraging your officials (as was actually the case to no small extent) to allow the road to be run down to a ruinous degree in order to keep down the apparent expenditure, trusting it will be all made good out of capital and no one the wiser. The true policy, as I have always contended, is to close your capital account once and for all as soon as the road is fully stored and equipped and in good running order, and never allow it to be opened on any pretence whatever, unless under such circumstances (as for example a change of gauge) as would warrant you in effecting a new loan for a large and substantial improvement. Now, with regard to the loans which I effected on the English market, I will not detain you with any elaborate account of these. Those of you who desire to see in extenso the reason why I transacted the late loan in the manner I did will find them in my budget speech of 1877; and to that I must refer you. I will say, however, in brief, that when these gentlemen condemned my management of that loan, they should have told you that we have been obliged to borrow more money in a shorter time than any previous Canadian Government, that we have been able to borrow it on better terms than any of our predecessors, and that the last loan was effected on the best terms of all. (Cheers.) And they might have added, that whether the course we pursued was good or bad, we have the satisfaction of knowing that we have materially reduced the rate of interest on the whole national debt since our accession to office. (Hear, hear, and loud cheers.) I must also say a few words in regard to this malt and barley matter. Dr. Tupper and Sir John Macdonald are constantly expressing their anxiety to protect the poor man, and I see they condemn me, inter alia, because I did not put a heavier tax on the spirituous liquors made, or imported into this country, in place of taxing the "poor man's beer," as they euphoniously express it. I would have been glad to have imposed a heavier duty on whiskey, but it is a notorious fact that even under the existing duty illicit distillation was making rapid strides all over the country, although very heavy penalties were imposed on those who were found perpetrating these frauds on the revenue. It is all we can do to protect the revenue under the existing duty, and it would have been an act of rash folly to have added to that difficulty by imposing a heavier one. But let us see what the extent of this tax on malt, of which they complain so much, really is; and first, let us understand how far it is likely to distress the agricultural community of this country. According to the best estimates we have been able to obtain, about ten million bushels of barley were grown in Canada this last year. Now, there were just 9,115,000 gallons of ale manufactured in Canada during the same period which paid an excise duty; and out of those ten million bushels of barley we consumed some 600,000 or 700,000 bushels in making malt. Now, even supposing that a tax on malt is equivalent to a tax on barley, which I don't at all admit, I would like to ask any man how it would be possible that the price of barley would be affected by a tax on the 600,000 or 700,000 bushels so consumed while some 9,300,000 bushels remained unaffected. (Hear, hear, and cheers.) And you must bear in mind that the only way in which the price of the length of the railway for one-third, and the expense by much more than one-third, when we extended the period from ten to twenty years, have the audacity to tell us that we are making a bad bargain for the people of Canada. Dr. Tupper further alleges that the assumption of the Provincial debts was no additional debt at all; that no burthen was thereby inflicted on the people of Canada. It is very easy to see that the men who made that statement had nothing to do with providing the money to pay for this additional debt. We had only to pay $2,900,000 in 1872-3 and the next year $3,750,000; and that, Sir, was in great part the direct and immediate cause of the taxation which I was obliged to levy the first year we were in office, and yet, according to Dr. Tupper, it was no addition to the burthens of the people of Canada. Dr. Tupper complains because we take the year 1878-79 as a standard of comparison, inasmuch as we were in office for the latter half of that year; and though he knows we had nothing to do with framing the estimates or giving out the contracts under which the expenditures were going on, yet he expects you to blame us for a great part of the expenditure. Well, I am prepared for him on that point. He objects to 1873-4. We will take 1872-3—a year in which, as you will remember, Sir J. Macdonald had uncontrolled sway in this country—and compare it with the estimated expenditure for the current year, deducting from it those items, and those alone, which are clearly due to action of the late Government; and I will leave it to you to say which of us are conducting the Government of the country most economically. (Hear, hear, and cheers.) Now, Sir, in 1872-3—and, mind you, I am taking the most favourable aspect of the case for Dr. Tupper, for I don't take the estimates, but the sum actually expended—our total expenditure was $19,174,647. In the current year our total expenditures is estimated at $23,128,000, deducting on both sides the interest on investments which did not exist in 1872-3, and which certainly no man can pretend to say is any additional burden on our people. That will leave a difference between the two years of $3,953,343. Now the point is this:—If I show you that sum of, say, four millions, the difference between 1872-3 and 1877-8, is made up and more than made up by charges placed upon this country by the direct action of the late Government, then I say that the question before you is, are not these gentlemen condemned on the evidence of their own acts placed on the statute books of having been responsible for that enormous increase? (Hear, hear.) Let us take the items and examine them. The first item is the charge for the subsidy to New Brunswick amounting to $150,000, and the charges for the assumption of the Provincial debts amounting all to $820,000 nearly. The second is the charge for the admission of Prince Edward Island into the Union, and the annual expenditure entailed thereby including the maintenance of the railway and steam ferry navigation. That also amounts to $820,000 per year. Then Sir, came the interest on the loan contracted by Mr. Tilley in September, 1873, amounting to $450,000 while the additions to the cost of working the Post-offices—although, properly speaking, it is a cross entry—swell the amount by some $300,000. Their increases in salaries covering rather more than $850,000, the cost of working the Intercolonial Railway, which was not running in 1872-3, amounts to $500,000. The interest on public works for which they had given out the contracts, and which they had commenced before they went out of office, amounts to $1,200,000 in all, up to the close of the current year. The cost of the Mounted Police force, which they organized, an I have already said, amounts to $330,000. The cost of a system of Indian treaties which they had initiated amounts to $330,000 more, being the sum in all as nearly as may be of $5,105,353. (Hear, hear, and cheers.) Putting it briefly, you have this result, and I call your attention to it, and the attention of the people of Canada:—In 1872-3 it took

Hon. T. M. COOLIDGE, " " "
Hon. A. H. STEVENS, " " "
Gen. F. A. WALKER, " " "
Hon. JOHN JAY, " " "
Hon. CARL SCHURZ, " " "
Principal J. W. DAWSON, Canada.
WALTER BESANT, England.
CHAS. TENNYSON TURNER, England.
DEAN SMITH, of Canterbury, England.
DEAN STANLEY, of Westminster, England.
Professor W. B. CARPENTER, England.
Professor E. H. PALMER, England.
PHILIP GILBERT HAMERTON, England.
EDWARD A. FREEMAN, England.
Prof. W. S. JEVONS, England.
THOMAS HUGHES, England.
THOMAS BRASSEY, M. P., England.
WILKIE COLLINS, England.
JAMES H. RIGG, England.
Professor EDWARD LABOULAYE, France.
M. ERNEST NAVILLE, France.
M. SPULLER, Dep. France.
Pastor EUGENE BEILLIER, France.
Professor ERNST CURTIUS, Germany.
Dr. CARL ABLER, Germany.
Baron F. VON HOLTZENDORF, Germany.
Professor AUGUST VOGEL, Germany.
Professor J. E. DORNER, Germany.
Professor R. BONGHI, Italy.
Professor A. DE GUBERNATIS, Italy.
Princess DORA D'ISTRIA, Italy.
Madame VILLARI, Italy.

Crockery & Glassware

AT COST
OUR ENTIRE STOCK OF

Crockery & Glassware

WILL BE SOLD AT

Cost and Under FOR CASH

As we intend going out of that line.

Call and Secure Bargains.

Cash Paid for Butter and Eggs.

SMITH & ANDERSON.

Mitchell's Belladonna Improved India Rubber Porous Plaster.

There never has been a time when the healing of so many different diseases has been caused by outward Application as the present. It is an undisputed fact that over half of the entire population of the globe resort to the use of ordinary plasters. The principal ingredients used in making these Plasters are Gum Olibanum—or better known as Frankincense of the Bible—butter and Burgundy Pitch, which, when scientifically compounded, is full of electricity, and when combined with the pure medicinal gums, is found to be one of the greatest healing mediums ever brought before the human race. They are acknowledged by all who have used them to act quicker than any other Plaster they ever before tried, and that one of these Plasters will do more real service than a hundred of the ordinary kind. All other plasters are slow of action, and require to be renewed continually to effect a cure, in which it is entirely different: the patient can, in a few days, find the plaster well fast of its feet. They possess all the soothing, warming, supporting and strengthening qualities of all other Plasters. Many who have been relieved of RHEUMATISM, TRIPLOIDITIS, and various other ailments, and EYES, EARS, THROAT, and head, have been cured by the electrical qualities which this Porous Plaster contain, and which is imparted to the system, thus restoring them to a healthy condition. They are very soft and pliable, still very adhesive, and a sure cure for WIND, FLATULUS, PAIN IN THE SIDE, AND BREAST; and are invaluable to those who have a COLD of long standing, and often prevents CONSUMPTION. Some even tell us they believe they were entirely cured by the use of them of them of a long-sustained consumption. Prepared by W. E. MITCHELL, Lowell.

JOHN FISKE, Esq. ROBT. HEATY, Esq.
A. M. SMITH, Esq. WM. GOODERHAM, Esq.
BARNARD HILDAN, Managing Director
FRED'K G. C. LOVELACE, Secretary.
WM. BLIGHT, Fire Inspector.
JAMES PRINGLE, General Agent.
Marine Inspector.
Insurances effected at the lowest current rates on Buildings, Merchandise, and other property, against loss or damage by fire.
On Hull Cargo, and Freight against the perils of Inland Navigation.
On Cargo Risks with the Maritime Provinces by sail or steam.
On Car-goes by steamers to British Ports.
W. V. DETLOR,
Agent for Nabane

F. BEZO'S
RESTAURANT,
(Opposite the Tichborne House.)
Meals or lunch can be obtained on most reasonable terms. Board by the day or week.
FRUIT OR GROCERIES
Toys and Fancy Goods, and
D. D. MALLORY'S CELEBRATED OYSTERS
Best in the Market.
25-st. F. BEZO.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets
SIZE OF PELLETS.
Or Sugar-Coated, Concentrated, Root and Herbal Juice, Anti-Bilious Granules. THE "LITTLE GIANT" CATHARTIC, or Miltum in Parvo Physic.

The novelty of modern Medical, Chemical, and Pharmacological Science. No use of any longer taking the large, repulsive, and nauseous pills, composed of cheap, crude, and bulky ingredients, when we can, by a careful application of chemical science, extract all the cathartic and other medicinal properties from the most valuable roots and herbs, and concentrate them into a minute Granule, scarcely larger than a mustard seed, that can be readily swallowed by those of the most sensitive stomachs and fastidious tastes. Each little Purgative Pellet represents, in a most concentrated form, as much cathartic power as is embodied in any of the large pills found for sale in drug-shops. From their wonderful cathartic power, in comparison to their size, people who have not tried them are apt to suppose that they are harsh or drastic in effect; but such is not at all the case, the different active medicinal principles of which they are composed, being so harmonized and blended, and one by the others, as to produce a most searching and thorough, yet gently and kindly operating, cathartic.

$500 Reward is hereby offered by the proprietor of these Pellets, to any chemist who, upon analysis, will find in them any calomel or other forms of mercury, mineral poison, or injurious drug.

Being entirely vegetable, no particular care is required while using them. They operate without disturbance to the constitution, diet, or occupation. For Jaundice, Headache, Constipation, Impure Blood, Fat in the Shoulders, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations from the Stomach, Bad taste in the mouth, Bilious attacks, Pain in region of Kidneys, Internal Fever, Bloated feeling about Stomach, Rush of Blood to Head, High-colored Urine, Unsociability and Gloomy Forebodings, take Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets. In consequence of the remedial power of my Purgative Pellets over so great a variety of diseases, I wish to say that their action upon the animal economy is universal, not a gland or tissue escaping their purgative impress. Age does not impair the properties of these Pellets. They are sugar-coated and enclosed in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved unimpaired for any length of time, in any climate, so that they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the case with those pills which are put up in cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes. Recollect that for all diseases where a Laxative, Alternative, or Purgative, is indicated, these Pellets will give the most perfect satisfaction to all who use them.

They are sold by all Druggists at 25 cents a bottle.

R. V. PIERCE, M. D., Prop'r,
BUFFALO, N. Y.

WOMAN.

By an immense practice, extending through a period of years, having within that time treated many thousand cases of those diseases peculiar to woman, I have been enabled to perfect a most potent and agreeable medicine that meets the indications of that class of diseases with positive certainty and exactness.

To designate this natural specific compound, I have named it

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

The term, however, is but a feeble expression of my high appreciation of its value, based upon my own personal observation. As a close ob-

and any previous Canadian Government, that we have been able to borrow it on better terms than any of our predecessors, and that the last loan was effected on the best terms of all. (Cheers.) And they might have added, that whether the course we pursued was good or bad, we have the satisfaction of knowing that we have materially reduced the rate of interest on the whole national debt since our accession to office. (Hear, hear, and loud cheers.) I must also say a few words in regard to this malt and barley matter. Dr. Tupper and Sir John Macdonald are constantly expressing their anxiety to protect the poor man, and I see they condemn me, inter alia, because I did not put a heavier tax on the spirituous liquors made, or imported into this country, in place of taxing the "poor man's beer," as they euphorically express it. I would have been glad to have imposed a heavier duty on whiskey, but it is a notorious fact that even under the existing duty illicit distillation was making rapid strides all over the country, although very heavy penalties were imposed on those who were found perpetrating these frauds on the revenue. It is all we can do to protect the revenue under the existing duty, and it would have been an act of rash folly to have added to that difficulty by imposing a heavier one. But let us see what the extent of this tax on malt, of which they complain so much, really is; and first, let us understand how far it is likely to distress the agricultural community of this country. According to the best estimates we have been able to obtain, about ten million bushels of barley were grown in Canada this last year. Now, there were just 9,115,000 gallons of ale manufactured in Canada during the same period which paid an excise duty; and out of these ten million bushels of barley we consumed some 600,000 or 700,000 bushels in making malt. Now, even supposing that a tax on malt is equivalent to a tax on barley, which I don't at all admit, I would like to ask any man how it would be possible that the price of barley would be affected by a tax on the 600,000 or 700,000 bushels so consumed while some 9,300,000 bushels remained unaffected. (Hear, hear, and cheers.) And you must bear in mind that the only way in which the price of barley could be affected by the duty, would be in so far as the quantity consumed for the purpose of brewing was materially diminished. Now, up to the present day (unless, indeed, the brewers have been putting less barley in their beer, and that is a point upon which I can give you no information) the quantity of beer which pays excise has in no respect diminished (hear, hear); and in any case the sum total of the diminution would be so utterly insignificant, comparatively speaking—amounting to a mere fraction of one per cent. of the quantity of barley grown—that it can by no possible means diminish the price you receive for that cereal. As to its actual cost to the beer consumer, I would say that, according to the best evidence we could obtain, it would amount to about one-eighth of a cent per tumbler—(hear, hear, and laughter)—and if any gentleman accustomed to indulge in that beverage chose to deny himself two glasses in the hundred it would amply make up all the additional tax he would be called on to pay to the general exchequer. And I wish to call your attention to the fact that when I imposed that tax I took right good care that no additions should be made to the burdens of the people, for while with one hand I imposed a tax on malt and tea, with the other I removed the tax of at least nine cents per gallon on the coal oil you consumed, which amounts to eight millions of gallons; in other words, while we added by the duties we imposed, some $400,000 or $500,000 to your taxes, we at the same time, by the enormous reductions which are said to have been occasioned by the removal of the excise restrictions from the article of coal oil, lessened your taxes by from $800,000 to $1,000,000 at the very lowest calculation. (Hear, hear, and loud cheers.) Was that a bad transaction for the people?

current year our total expenditures are estimated at $23,128,000, deducting on both sides the interest on investments which did not exist in 1872-3, and which certainly no man can pretend to say is any additional burden on our people. That will leave a difference between the two years of $3,953,443. Now the point is this.—If I show you that sum of, say, four millions, the difference between 1872-3 and 1877-8, is made up and more than made up by charges placed upon this country by the direct action of the late Government, then I say that the question before you is, are not these gentlemen condemned on the evidence of their own acts placed on the statute books of having been responsible for that enormous increase? (Hear, hear.) Let us take the items and examine them. The first item is the charge for the subsidy to New Brunswick amounting to $150,000, and the charges for the assumption of the Provincial debts amounting all to $820,000 nearly. The second is the charge for the admission of Prince Edward Island into the Union, and the annual expenditure entailed thereby including the maintenance of the railway and steam ferry navigation. That also amounts to $820,000 per year. Then Sir, came the interest on the loan contracted by Mr. Tilley in September, 1873, amounting to $450,000 while the additions to the cost of working the Post-offices—although, properly speaking, it is a cross entry—swell the amount by some $300,000. The increases in salaries covering rather more than $850,000, the cost of working the Intercolonial Railway, which was not running in 1872-3, amounts to $500,000. The interest on public works for which they had given out the contracts, and which they had commenced before they went out of office, amounts to $1,200,000 in all, up to the close of the current year. The cost of the Mounted Police force, which they organized, and I have already said, amounts to $330,000. The cost of a system of Indian treaties which they had initiated amounts to $330,000 more, being the sum in all as nearly as may be of $5,106,000, as against the total balance of $3,953,353. (Hear, hear, and cheers.) Putting it briefly, you have this result, and I call your attention to it, and the attention of the people of Canada:—In 1872-3 it took these gentlemen $19,174,000 to administer the affairs of 3,600,000 people, that date being anterior to the admission of Prince Edward Island; while for 1877-8, after deducting the expenditure which these gentlemen laid upon our shoulders, it just cost to administer the affairs of four millions of people a sum of $1,100,000 less than the amount required in 1872-3. (Loud cheers.) Now, Sir, I cannot, I am afraid—though it is a pleasure I promise myself at no distant day—I cannot at present devote any more time to Dr. Tupper. Another and older acquaintance of yours and mine will require our attention, and so I must, somewhat unwillingly, say good bye to Dr. Tupper, for the present at all events.

(Continued to third page.)

CATARH

CANNOT be cured by Smears, Washes, or Local Applications. Thousands of cases, some of forty years standing, have been cured by the use of this Remedy. It is a Constitutional Remedy. It is a Constitutional Remedy. It is a Constitutional Remedy. Send stamp for Testimonial.

T. J. B. HARDING, BROOKVILLE, ONT.

Five Years' Success. One of five bottles of Constitutional Catarrh Remedy. Pain in Shoulder, Back and Lungs, and Drooping in Throat Disappeared.

ST. AMAND, P. Q., Sept. 12, 1876.

Mr. T. J. B. HARDING.

DEAR SIR:—Being desirous that others may know something of the merits of your Constitutional Catarrh Remedy, I feel it my duty to inform you what it has done for me. I am 28 years old; had been out of health for about five years. I had employed three or four different doctors, and tried various medicines, without receiving any permanent benefit. I had severe nervousness and pain under the shoulder blades and through the shoulders, with very lame back, and a feeling in my right leg as though there was a weight bearing it down. I was very nervous, and I could not sleep. I had been told that you had cured many cases of this kind, and I was very anxious to try your medicine. I ordered a bottle of your Catarrh Remedy, and after taking four bottles I was cured. I am now able to endure hard and continued labor, such as chopping and sawing, which I have been engaged in for several seasons. My recovery is due to your Catarrh Remedy. I feel it my duty to state this to the benefit of others. I am, Sir, very respectfully, your obedient servant, HENRY SMITH.

ASK FOR LITTLE BOTTLE'S CONSTITUTIONAL CATARRH REMEDY AND TAKE NO OTHER.

Cost and Under

FOR CASH.

As we intend going out of that line.

Call and Secure Bargains.

Cash Paid for Butter and Eggs.

SMITH & ANDERSON.

Mitchell's Belladonna Improved India Rubber Porous Plaster.

There never has been a time when the healing of so many different diseases has been caused by outward Application as the present. It is an undisputed fact that over half of the entire population of the globe resort to the use of ordinary plasters.

The principal ingredients used in making these Plasters are Gum Olibanum—or better known as the Frankincense of the Bible—Ruber and Burgundy Pitch, which, when scientifically compounded, is full of electricity, and when combined with the pure medicinal gums, is found to be one of the greatest healing mediums ever brought before the human race.

They are acknowledged by all who have used them to act quicker than any other Plaster they ever before tried, and that one of these Plasters will do more real service than a hundred of the ordinary kind. All other plasters are slow of action, and require to be worn continually to effect cures; in Smith & Anderson's it is entirely different; the instant ones applied the patient will feel its effect.

They possess all the soothing, warming, supporting and strengthening qualities of all other Plasters. Many who have been relieved of RHEUMATISM, TIC DOULOUREUX, and various other pains in the KIDNEYS, BREAST or SIDE, and believe it is solely done by the electrical qualities which this Porous Plaster contain, and which is imparted to the system, thus restoring them to a healthy condition.

They are very soft and pliable, still very adhesive, and will cure all the following diseases:

Prepared by W. E. MITCHELL, Lowell, Mass.

Sold by all Druggists. 19-1

Will Cure Consumption.

No all suffering from the following diseases a ray of hope is offered through the kindness of an missionary friend who has sent me the formula of a pure vegetable medicine which has long been used by the native medicine men of Hindostan—for the positive and radical cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma, Catarrh, Dyspepsia, Throat and Lung affections, General Debility, Loss of Manhood and all Nervous Affections, its power has been tested in hundreds of cases without a failure. I now feel it my sacred duty as far as possible to relieve human misery and will send the recipe—FREE OF CHARGE—to any person who may desire it with directions for using. Sent by return mail by addressing with 2 stamps naming this paper, Dr. O. R. Brigham, Drawer 28, Utica, N. Y. 19-1y.

THE GREAT CAUSE OF HUMAN MISERY.

WE have recently published a new edition of Dr. Culvertwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical and permanent cure (without medicine) of Nervous Debility, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc., resulting from excesses.

Price, in a sealed envelope, only 6 cents, or two postage stamps.

The celebrated author, of his admirable Essay clearly demonstrates, from thirty years' successful practice, that alarming nervous debility can be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

This Lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land.

Address

Consumption Cured.

A NEW PHYSICIAN, retired from active practice, has been placed in charge of an English Missionary Dispensary, and is offering the following remedy for the cure of Consumption.

CONSUMPTION ASTHMA BRONCHITIS CATARRH and all the other Lung Affections; also a Positive and Radical cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Complaints after having thoroughly tested his wonderful curative powers in their cure. He desires to send to the world a remedy which will be of service to all who are afflicted with these diseases. He desires to send to the world a remedy which will be of service to all who are afflicted with these diseases. He desires to send to the world a remedy which will be of service to all who are afflicted with these diseases.

DR. C. STEVENS, Box 38, Brockville, Ont.

tidious tastes. Each little Purgative Pellet represents, in a most concentrated form, as much cathartic power as is embodied in any of the large pills found for sale in drug-shops. For the wonderful cathartic power, and in comparison to their size, people who have not tried them are apt to suppose that they are harsh or drastic effect; but such is not at all the case, the difference of medicinal principles of which they are composed being so harmonized and modulated by the others, as to produce a most searching and thorough, yet gentle and kindly operating, cathartic.

$500 Reward is hereby offered by the proprietor of these Pellets, to any chemist who upon analysis, will detect in any of our cathartics other forms of mercury, mineral poison, or in any other drug.

Being entirely vegetable, no particular care is required while using them. They operate without disturbance to the constitution, diet or occupation. For Jaundice, Headache, Constipation, Impure Blood, Pains in the Shoulders, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructation from the Stomach, Bad taste in the mouth, Bilious attacks, Pains in the bowels, Flatulency, Intestinal Revulsion, Bloating feeling about the Stomach, Rush of Blood to Head, High-colored Urine, Unsociability and Gloom; For Feeding, take Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets. These Pellets are the remedial power of our Purgative Pellet over so great a variety of diseases, I wish to say that their action upon the animal economy is universal, not a gland of tissue escapes their influence.

Age does not impair the properties of these Pellets. They are sugar-coated and in closed in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved unimpaired for any length of time in any climate, so that they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the case with those pills which are put up in cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes. Recollect that for all diseases, Laxative, Alternative, or Purgative, is indicated by that class of diseases with positive certainty and exactness.

They are sold by all Druggists at 25 cents a bottle.

R. V. PIERCE, M. D., Prop'r,

BUFFALO, N. Y.

WOMAN.

By an immense practice, extending through a period of years, having within that time treated many thousand cases of those diseases peculiar to woman, I have been enabled to perfect a most potent and agreeable medicine that meets the indications presented by that class of diseases with positive certainty and exactness.

To designate this natural specific compound I have named it

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

The term, however, is but a feeble expression of my high appreciation of its value, based upon my own personal observation. As a close observer, I have, while witnessing its marvelous results in the few special diseases incident to the separate organism of woman, singled it out as the climax or crowning gem of my medical career. On its merits, as a positive, safe, and effectual remedy for this class of diseases, and one that will, at all times and under all circumstances, act kindly and in harmony with the laws which govern the female system, I am willing to stake my reputation as a physician. Nay, even more, so confident am I that it will never disappoint the most sanguine expectations of a single invalid lady who uses it for any of the ailments for which I recommend it that I offer and sell it under a POSITIVE GUARANTEE. If a beneficial effect is not produced within the two-thirds of the contents of the bottle are used, I will, on return of the bottle, two-thirds of the medicine having been taken according to directions, and the case refused one for which I recommend it, promptly refund the money paid for it, and I will not do so until I have the most perfect confidence in its virtues, I could not offer it as I do under these conditions; but having witnessed its truly marvellous cures in thousands of cases, I feel warranted and perfectly safe in offering it to the world under my reputation and my money on its merits.

The following are among those diseases in which my Favorite Prescription has been used with cures, as if by magic, and with a certainty never before attained by any medicine: Leucorrhoea, Excessive Flowing, Painful Monthly Periods, Suppressions when from unnatural causes, Irregularities, Weak Back, Protrusion, or falling of the Uterus, Anterior and Retroversion, Boaring Down, Intermenstrual Heat, Nervous Depression, Debility, Dependancy, Threatened Miscarriage, Chronic Congestion, Inflammation and Ulceration of the Uterus, Impediment, Barrenness, or Sterility, Female Weakness, and very many other chronic diseases incident to woman not mentioned here. In all affections of this nature, my Favorite Prescription works cures—the marvel of the world. This medicine I do not extol as a cure, but as a remedy, being a most perfect specific in all chronic diseases of the sexual system of woman. It will not disappoint, nor will it do harm, in any state or condition.

Those who desire further information on the subject, should send for THE PEOPLE'S COMMON SENSE MEDICAL ADVICE, a book of over 900 pages, sent, post-paid, on receipt of $1.50. It treats minutely of those diseases peculiar to Females, and gives much valuable advice in regard to the management of those affections.

FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

R. V. PIERCE, M. D., Prop'r,

BUFFALO, N. Y.

ong American Reviews the INTER- NALIS always conspicuous."—AT-
New York.
It not suffer by comparison with the best quarteries." CHURCHMAN, New t equalled by any of its contemporaries, or foreign, in spirit, style, or ability."— RICH, Chicago. is the leading Magazine of America."— N COURANT, England.

1878
THE International Review.

een the Quarteries and the Monthlies
SIX TIMES A YEAR.

The chief object of this Review is to the demand for a non-partisan and Inter-al literature. In politics and religion the will subscribe the interest of no sect or The Review will aim to discuss, in a as, interesting and impartial manner, both f many of the important literary, scientifical, political and religious questions of

It brings to its pages the best talent of e America, and seeks to be a medium munication between representative think-very nation.

The interests and union of the many lements that constitute American soe a very important part of the work asby the INTERNATIONAL REVIEW.

Like the Quarteries, it addresses schol-like the Monthlies, aims to be of value
tical men in business and the professions, interest to the members of the family.

Each number contains fresh and reli-cious of important new American and an books.

The Art Department will be conducted Phillip Gilbert Hamerton.

Editorial comments upon the course of at home and abroad, having special refer-the interests of the United States, are n, and add strength and timeliness to sue.

The success of the INTERNATIONAL Re- made to depend upon a comprehensive old merit, and adaption in style and sub-the age in which we live.

ARTICLES ARE ORIGINAL.

SOME OF THE CONTRIBUTORS :

- ULLEN BRYANT, U. States of America.
F. ADAMS, Sr., " "
TH. D. WOOLSEY, " "
JOHN PORTER, " "
AMES MCCOSH, " "
P. PEABODY, " "
JUSTICE STRONG, " "
E. HILGARD, " "
WHIPPLE, " "
LANCELOT WARTON, " " DORE DWIGHT, " "
JOHN BIGELOW, " "
J. BOYESEN, " "
WASHBURN, " "
RD TAYLOR, " "
D. A. WELLS, " "
M. COOLEY, " "
A. H. STEVENS, " "
A. WALKER, " "
JOHN JAY, " "
EARL SCHURZ, " "
pal J. W. DAWSON, Canada.
ER BESANT, England.
TENNYSOON TURNER, England. :
SMITH, of Canterbury, England.
STANLEY, of Westminster, England.
sor WM. B. CARPENTER, England.
sor E. H. PALMER, England.
P GILBERT HAMERTON, England.
LORD A. FREEMAN, England.
V. S. JEVONS, England.
AS HUGHES, England.
AS BRASSEY, M. P., England.
IF COLLINS, England.
S. H. RIGG, England.
sor EDWARD LABOULAYE, France.
NEST NAVILLE, France.
ULLER Dep. France.
r EUGENE BERTIER, France.
sor ERNST CURTIUS, Germany.
RL ABEL, Germany.
F. VON HOLTZENDORF, Germany.
sor AUGUST VON HEL, Germany.
sor J. E. DORNER, Germany.
sor R. BONGHI, Italy.
sor A. DE GUBERNATIS, Italy.
ss DORA D'ISTRIA, Italy.
ne VILLARI, Italy.

ckery & Glassware

AT COST

OUR ENTIRE STOCK OF

ckery & Glassware.

GLOBE JUST ARRIVED,
Life Assurance Co.
OF NEW YORK.

Assets, - - - $5,000,000
Premium Reserve, $3,600,000
Income for Year 1876, $857,000

This company only accepts first-class risks, and is noted for the promptness with
which claims are paid.

It offers insurance on the ordinary life as well as the endowment plans, besides those also known as the ten, fifteen and twenty-year reserve dividend plan, by which the reserves as well as all other accumulations
may be withdrawn at the time specified, thereby affording a system of endowment
under ordinary life rates.

See prospectus in hands of local agents.

H. L. COOK,
General Agent for Ont.
THOS. A. HUFFMAN,
Agt. for Napanee
Napanee, 15th June, 1877. 8-11.

WESTERN ASSURANCE COMPANY

Incorporated 1851.

CAPITAL, - - - - - $800,000
With power to increase to $1,000,000.

FIRE AND MARINE.

HEAD OFFICE: Toronto, Ont.

President,
HON. JOHN McMURRICH.
Vice-President,
CHARLES MAGRATH.

Directors.

JAS. MICHIE, Esq. NOAH BARNHART, Esq.
JOHN FISKIN, Esq. ROBT. BEATY, Esq.
A. M. SMITH, Esq. WM. GOODERHAM, Esq.
BARNARD HILDAN, Managing Director
FRED'K G. C. LOVELACE, Secretary.
WM. BLIGHT, Fire Inspector.
JAMES PRINGLE, General Agent.

Insurances eff ected at the lowest current
rates on Buildings, Merchandise, and other property, against loss or damage by fire.

On Hull Cargo, and Freight against the perils
of Inland Navigation.

On Cargo Risks with the Maritime Provinces
by sail or steam.

On Ca'goes by steamers to British Ports.

W. V. DETLOR,
Agent for Napanee

F. BEZO'S RESTAURANT,
(Opposite the Tichborne House.)

Meals or lunch can be obtained on most reasonable terms. Board by the day or week.

FRUIT OR GROCERIES

Toys and Fancy Goods, and
D. D. MALLORY'S CELEBRATED OYSTERS,
Best in the Market.

25-11. F. BEZO.

Or Sugar-Coated, Concentrated, Root and Herbal Juice, Anti-Bilious Granules. THE "LITTLE GIANT" CATHARTIC, or Maltum in Parvo Physic.

The novelty of modern Medical, Chemical, and Pharmaceutical Science. No use of any longer taking the large, repulsive, and nauseous pills.

JUST ARRIVED,
ROSE & FRALICK'S,
IN THE PERRY BLOCK,

100 CASES of NEW BOOTS & SHOES,
THE BEST AND CHEAPEST IN TOWN.

Come and See Them, as We will not be Undersold.

ALSO A FULL ASSORTMENT OF

New Hat, Caps, Clothing, Gents' Furnishings, &c.

BOOTS MADE TO ORDER
ROSE & FRALICK.

A SPECULATION!

During the dull summer months, the undersigned will sell Furniture, Chairs, &c., at greatly reduced Prices, for Cash or Good Notes.

J. GIBBARD & SON.

MES MCCOUSH, " " " "
P. PEABODY, " " " "
ICE STRONG, " " " "
HILGARD, " " " " HIPPLE, " " " "
NOIS WHARTON, " " " "
RE DWIGHT, " " " "
IN BIGELOW, " " " " BOYES, " " " " ASHBURN, " " " "
TAYLOR, " " " "
A. WELLS, " " " "
I. COOLEY, " " " "
L. STEVENS, " " " "
I. WALKER, " " " "
IN JAY, " " " "
RE SCHURZ, " " " "

J. W. DAWSON, Canada.
J. BESANT, England.
ENNYSON TURNER, England.
MITH, of Canterbury, England.
LANLEY, of Westminster, England.
WM. B. CARPENTER, England.
E. H. PALMER, England.
GILBERT HAMBERTON, England.
D. A. FREEMAN, England.
S. JEVONS, England.
HUGHES, England.
BRASSEY, M. P., England.
COLLINS, England.
I. RIGG, England.
EDWARD BOULAYE, France.
ST NAVILLE, France.
LER, Dep. France.
EUGENE BERLIER, France.
ERNST URTIUS, Germany.
A. BEEL, Germany.
VON HOLTZENDORF, Germany.
AUGUST VOGEL, Germany.
J. E. DORNER, Germany.
R. BONGHI, Italy.
A. DUBERNATIS, Italy.
DORA DIESTRIA, Italy.
VILLARI, Italy.

ery & Glassware

AT COST

OUR ENTIRE STOCK OF

ery & Glassware.

WILL BE SOLD AT

st and Under

OR CASH.

we intend going out of that line.

and Secure Bargains.

Paid for Butter and Eggs.

SMITH & ANDERSON.

It's Belladonna Improved India Rubber Porous Plaster.

never has been a time when the healing of different diseases has been caused by application as the present. It is an un-faded resort to the use of ordinary incidental ingredients used in making these are Gum Olibanum—or better known as kinosene of the Bible—Rutber and Bur-itch, which, when scientifically combined, is full of electricity, and when combined with pure medicinal gums, is found to be the greatest healing medium ever brought to human race.

re acknowledged by all who have used it quicker than any other Plaster they re tried, and that one of these Plasters are real service than a hundred of the kind. All other plasters are slow of acting, require to be worn continually to effect it, with this it is entirely different; the acts against the poison will feel its ef-cess all the soothings, warming, sup-plastic, and strengthening qualities of all other Many who have been relieved of ATHEMATIC DOLOREUX, and various as in the KIDNEYS, BREAST or SIDES, it is solely done by the electrical which this Porous Plaster contains, and

HEAD OFFICE: Toronto, Ont.

President.
HON. JOHN McMURRICH.
Vice-President.
CHARLES MAGRATH.
Directors.
JAS. MICHIE, Esq. NOAH BARNHART, Esq.
JOHN FISKIN, Esq. ROBT. BEATTY, Esq.
A. M. SMITH, Esq. WM. GOODERHAM, Esq.
BARNARD HILDAN, Managing Director
FRED'K G. C. LOVELACE, Secretary.
Wm. Wright, Esq. Fire Inspector.
JAMES PRINGLE, General Agent.
Marine Inspector.

Insurances effected at the lowest current
rates on Buildings, Merchandise, and other property, against loss or damage by fire.

On Hull Cargo, and Freight against the perils
of Inland Navigation.

On Cargo Risks with the Maritime Provinces
by sail or steam.

On Cargoes by steamers to British Ports.

W. V. DETLOR,
Agent for Napanee

F. BEZO'S
RESTAURANT,
(Opposite the Tichborne House.)

Meals or lunch can be obtained on most reasonable terms. Board by the day or week.

FRUIT OR GROCERIES

Toys and Fancy Goods, and
D. D. MALLORY'S CELEBRATED OYSTERS,
Best in the Market.

25-11. F. BEZO.

Dr. Pierce's
Pleasant
Purgative
Pellets

Or Sugar-Coated, Concentrated, Root and Herbal Juice, Anti-Bilious Granules. THE "LITTLE GIANT"
CATHARTIC, or Miltum in Parvo
Physic.

The novelty of modern Medical, Chemical, and Pharmaceutical Science. No use of any longer taking the large, repulsive, and nauseous pills, composed of cheap, crude, and bulky ingredients, when we can, by a careful application of chemical science, extract all the cathartic and other medicinal properties from the most valuable roots and herbs, and concentrate them into a minute Granule, scarcely larger than a mustard seed, that can be readily swallowed by those of the most sensitive stomachs and fastidious tastes. Each little Purgative Pellet represents, in a most concentrated form, as much cathartic power as is embodied in any of the large pills found for sale in drug-shops. From their wonderful cathartic power, in comparison to their size, people who have not tried them are apt to suppose that they are harsh or drastic in effect; but such is not at all the case, the different active medicinal principles of which they are composed being so harmonized and modified, one by the others, as to produce a most searching and thorough, yet gently and kindly operating, cathartic.

$500 Reward is hereby offered by the proprietor of these Pellets, to any chemist who, upon analysis, will find in them any calomel or other forms of mercury, mineral poison, or injurious drug.

Being entirely vegetable, no particular care is required while using them. They operate without disturbance to the constitution, diet, or occupation. For Jaundice, Headache, Constipation, Impure Blood, Pain in the Shoulders, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations from the Stomach, Bad taste in the mouth, Bilious attacks, Pain in region of Kidneys, Internal Fever, Bloated feeling about Stomach, Rush of Blood to Head, High-colored Urine, Unsociability and Gloomy Forebodings, take Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets. In explanation of the remedial power of my Purgative Pellets over so great a variety of diseases, I wish to say that their action upon the animal economy is universal, not a gland or tissue escaping their sanative impress. Age does not impair the properties of these Pellets. They are sugar-coated and inclosed in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved unimpaired for any length of time, in any climate, so that they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the case with those pills which are put up in cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes. Be careful that you do not disease where a Laxative, Alternative, or Purgative, is indicated, these little Pellets will give the most perfect satisfaction to all who use them.

They are sold by all Druggists at 25 cents a bottle.

R. V. PIERCE, M. D., Prop'r,
BUFFALO, N. Y.

WOMAN.

By an immense practice, extending through a period of years, having within that time treated many thousands of cases of these diseases peculiar to women, I have been enabled to perfect a most natural and successful method of curing

21-11.

ROSE & FRALICK.

A SPECULATION!

During the dull summer
months, the undersigned will sell Furniture, Chairs,
&c., at greatly reduced
Prices, for Cash or Good
Notes.

J. GIBBARD & SON.

S. G. BEATTY & Co.,

BELLEVILLE, - - Ontario.

S. G. BEATTY, W. R. ROBINSON, J. W. JOHNSON.

Ontario Business College,

Which has been in existence for 10 years, and, during which time

Has Trained Hundreds of Young Men

For Business Life, who are now filling important positions in the community, offers advantages
for obtaining a

COMMERCIAL EDUCATION,

Equal to any Institution in Canada, or the United States. Its several departments are conducted by thoroughly competent men who teach that which they have learned by actual business experience, and therefore practically understand.

THE PUBLICATIONS OF THE COLLEGE:

The "Canadian Accountant," Joint Stock Company Book Keeping," "Beatty's Guide to Elegant
Writing," etc., have obtained a national reputation, and are the productions of the principals of the College, who are actively engaged, together with their staff of teachers, in the Class and Lecture Rooms, College Bank and Merchants' Emorium with the Students.

THE COURSE IS SHORT,

because the teaching is practical and practical, and no pains are spared to give to each student individually, as well as to the various classes, the personal attention of the teachers.

GOOD BOARD

can be obtained in Belleville at a lower rate than in many other place having a Business College in Canada or the United States.

The College Journal, containing full information respecting terms, nature of course, etc.,
and specimens of penmanship, sent free on application.

Address S. G. BEATTY & Co.

$3,250.40 worth of space in various newspapers distributed through thirty states, will be sold for $700 cash. Accurate insertions guaranteed. A post of papers giving daily and weekly circulation and printed schedule of rates, sent free on application to GEO. P. ROWELL & Co., News Paper Advertising Agents, No. 41 Park w, New York.

THE "EXPRESS."

NEXT week we purpose inaugurating several needed changes in the dress and make up of the newspaper, which, together with personal supervision of the selection of the week's news and a fearless dealing with the political questions of the day, will make the "Express" a necessity in every family.

AGENTS

Will probably canvass the county during the next two months.

Business Cards.

Alex. C. Davis,
ISSUER of Marriage Licenses, Napanee
Ontario.

James Aylsworth,
ISSUER of Marriage Licenses, Tamworth.

S. D. Clarke,
ISSUER of Marriage Licenses, Odessa,
Ontario.

J. J. Watson,
ISSUER of Marriage Licenses and Certificates, Adolphustown.

Peter E. R. Miller,
ISSUER of Marriage Licenses, Switzerland Ont.

Robert Graham,
ISSUER of Marriage Licenses, Office
In the Dominion Store, Enterprise.

Charles Lane,
ISSUER of Marriage Licenses and Certificates. Office—Front of Grammar School, Bridge Street, Napanee.

J. B. Randall,
ISSUER of Marriage Licenses and Certificates. Also Agent for the Beaver and Toronto Fire Insurance Company and the Mutual Life Association of Canada. Residence—Shannonville, Ont.

Murphy & Bedford,
BARRISTERS, &c., MILL POINT.
Money to lend on improved Real Estate.

E. B. Stone,
BARRISTER, Attorney at Law, Solicitor in Chancery, etc. OFFICE—Grange Block, Dundas St.

Deroche & Madden,
BARRISTERS and Attorneys-at-Law, Solicitor in Chancery, Conveyancers, Notaries Public, etc. OFFICE—In Grange Block, Napanee. Money to loan on easy terms.
H. M. DEROCHE. J. H. MADDEN.

S. Gibson,
BARRISTER, Attorney-at-Law, Solicitor in Chancery and Insolvency, Notary Public, etc. OFFICE—Grange Block—John Street, Napanee.

R. Tracy, M. D.,
BELLEVILLE,
PHYSICIAN, Surgeon and Accoucheur
Office and Residence, two doors east from the Bank of Montreal, near the Congregational Church, Hotel St. 39

Reeve & Morden,
BARRISTERS and Attorneys-at-Law

NAPANEE

W. C. SCOTT, Editor.)

"THE GREATEST

VOL. 16.

NAPANEE, ONT.

Tailoring!

HAVING commenced business in the above line on my own account, directly over
Coxall & Paisley's Store,
Where I will be ready to attend to the wants of all who may favor me with a call.
Nice Samples to Select from, and Good Fit Guaranteed.

Cutting Boys' Cloths, & Ladies Jackets
A SPECIALTY.
JAS. BLAIR.
Napanee, Aug. 29th, 1877. 18-5m

PAISLEY HOUSE.
(John St. opposite the Market).
NAPANEE, C.N.T.
A First Class Hotel centrally located, with excellent yard and stabling accommodation
CHAS. PAISLEY,
PROPRIETOR.

QUEEN'S HOTEL,
BELLEVILLE.
Every Accommodation for Commercial Travellers.
A. P. FARRELL,
35. PROPRIETOR.

NAPANEE TICKET AGENCY.

Grand Trunk Railway Tickets for sale at
Grange & Bro's Drug Store.
For all stations east and west. American money taken at par, from Napanee to Milwaukee, Chicago, St. Louis, Omaha, San Francisco &c., to all Lake Ports. Passengers purchasing tickets from the undersigned avoid the double and delay of exchanging tickets and re-checking baggage to Toronto. Cheapest route to the west. Return tickets to Kingston, Belleville, Toronto, Montreal, Portland etc. For further particulars apply at GRANGE & BRO'S Exchange Office, Passenger agent G. T. R. Uncurrent money bought and sold

THE PRINCE EDWARD COUNTY
MUTUAL FIRE INSURANCE CO.
HEAD OFFICE—PICTON, ONT.
(Established 30th Sept., 1854).

PRESIDENT—STEPHEN B. HUBBS,
VICE-PRESIDENT—JOHN PRINYER.
MANAGER AND INSPECTOR—L. B. STINSON.
SECRETARY—JOHN TWIGG.
TREASURER—PHILIP LOW, Q. C.
SOLICITOR—W. H. R. ALLISON
DIRECTORS—STEPHEN B. HUBBS, JNO. PRINYER, JOHN VANALSTINE, LEWIS B. STINSON, W. BOULTER, ADAM A. SAYLOR, and JAMES CALSAN, Esqs.
HONORARY DIRECTORS.—G. Striker, Esq. M. P. P., Pictou; R. Clapp, Esq., Milford; K. Graham, Esq., Belleville; P. Allan, C. A. Lloyd, J. P. Dorland, Esqs., Adolphustown; J. C. Huffman, Esq., J. T. Grange, Esq., M. P. P., Napanee; J. E. Proctor, Esq., Brighton; G. W. Webb, Esq., Colborne; G. Jones, Esq., Trenton; J. Redner, Esq., Rednersville; Owen Roblin, Esq., Wm. Delong, Esq., Ameliasburg; H. A. McFaul, Esq., Hillier; Wm. Delong, Esq., Ameliasburg; Jas. Johnson,

"A Repository of Fashion, Pleasure, and Instruction."

Harper's Bazar.

ILLUSTRATED.

Notice of the Press.

The Bazar is the organ of the fashionable world, and the expounder of that world's laws; and it is the authority in all matters of manners, etiquette, costume, and social habits.—Boston Traveller.
The BAZAR commends itself to every member of the household—to the children by droll and pretty pictures, to the ladies by its fashion plates in endless variety, to the provident matron by its patterns for children's clothes to enter families by its tasteful designs for embroidered slippers and luxurious dressing-gowns. But the reading matter of the BAZAR is uniformly of great excellence. The paper has acquired a wide popularity for the fire-side enjoyment it affords, and has become an established authority with the ladies of America.—N. Y. Evening Post.

TERMS:

Postage free to all Subscribers in the United States.
HARPER'S BAZAR, one year.....$4.00
$4.00 includes payment of U. S. postage by the publishers.
Subscriptions to HARPER'S MAGAZINE, WEEKLY, and BAZAR, to one address for one year, $10.00; or, two of Harper's Periodicals, to one address for one year, $7.00; postage free.
An Extra Copy of the MAGAZINE, WEEKLY, or BAZAR will be supplied gratis for every Club of FIVE SUBSCRIBERS at $4.00 each, paid for by one remittance; or, Six Copies one year, without extra copy, for $20.00.

Back Numbers can be supplied at any time.
The Volumes of the BAZAR commence with the year. When no time is mentioned, it will be understood that the subscriber wishes to commence with the Number next after the receipt of his order.
The Annual Volumes of HARPER'S BAZAR, in neat cloth binding, will be sent by express, free of expense, provided the freight does not exceed one dollar, for $7.00 each. A complete set, comprising Twenty-one Volumes, sent on receipt of cash at the rate of $5 25 per vol., freight at expense of purchaser.
Cloth Cases for each volume, suitable for binding, will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of $1.00 each.
Indexes to each volume sent gratis on receipt of stamp.
Subscriptions received for Harper's Periodicals only.

Newspapers are not to copy this advertisement without the express order of HARPER & BROTHERS.
Address HARPER & BROTHERS, New York.

THE "Scientific American."

THIRTY-THIRD YEAR.
The Most Popular Scientific Paper in The World.

Only $3 25 a Year including Postage. Weekly. 52 Numbers a Year, 4,000 pages.

THE SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN is a large First Class Weekly Newspaper of sixteen pages, printed in the most beautiful style, profusely illustrated with splendid engravings, representing the newest Inventions and the most recent Advances in the Arts and Sciences; including Mechanics and Engineering, Steam Engineering, Railway, Mining, Civil, Gas and Hydraulic Engineering, Mill Work, Iron, Steel and Metal Work; Chemistry and Chemical Processes; Electricity, Light, Heat, Sound, Technology, Photography, Printing, New Machines, New Processes, New Recipes Improvements pertaining to Textile Industry, Weaving, Dyeing, Coloring, New Industrial Products, Animal, Vegetable, and Mineral; New and Interesting Facts in Agriculture, Horticulture, the Home Health, Medical Progress, Social Science, Natural History, Geology, Astronomy etc.
The most valuable practical papers, by eminent writers in all departments of Science, will be found in the Scientific American; the whole presented in popular language, free from technical terms, illustrated with engravings, and so arranged as to interest and inform all classes of readers, old and young. The Scientific American is promotive of knowledge and progress in every community where it circulates. It should have a place in every Family, Reading Room, Library, School, or Church. Terms $3 25 per

Poetry.

The Old Clock.

O, the old, old clock, of the household is
Was the brightest thing and neatest;
Its hands, though old, had touch of gold
And its chimes rang still the sweetest.
'Twas a monitor, too, though its words were
Yet they lived, though nations altered
And its voice, still strong, warned old and
When the voice of friendship faltered.
"Tick, tick," it said—"quick, quick to bed
For ten I've given warning;
Up and go, or else you know.
You'll never rise soon in the morning.

A friendly voice was that old, old clock,
As it stood in the corner smiling,
And blessed the time with a merry chim
The winter hours beguiling;
But a cross old voice was that tiresome
As it called at the daybreak boldly,
When the dawn looked gray on the misty
And the early air blew coldly;
"Tick, tick," it said—"quick out of bed,
For five I've given warning;
You'll never get up, you'll never get
Unless you're up soon in the morning.

Still hourly the clock goes round and round
With a tone that ceases never;
While tears are shed for bright days fled
And the old friends lost forever;
Its heart beats on, though hearts are gone
That warmer beat and younger;
Its hands still move, though hands we lose
Are clasped on earth no longer!
"Tick, tick," it said—"to the churchyard
The grave hath given warning;
Up, up, and rise, and look to the skies,
And prepare for the heavenly morning

Literature.

THE LILY OF ST. EF

BY L. CROW.

CHAPTER II.

SHOWING THAT THE TRAVELLER
NEITHER LOIGED AT RUAN ABBE
AT JENIFER MADRON'S.

By the brisk little woman who an his summons, Max was informed t family was from home. The mas gone to Penzance to attend a mee an archeological society, and had the mistress with him and Miss E and they would be away for a we tain, if not longer.

On the whole, Max was more r than sorry that his interview r postponed with the redoubtable man, whose name had never been tioned in his hearing without a sh an exclamation, the precise mea which he had not been able to People a charge of spreading evil when the object of them is inn wealthy and revengeful; and it w understood that it was an unwise offend Squire Penruan.

"No, I'll not leave my name,
said, when the young woman
charge of the Abbey suggested it.
a stranger here, and prefer to int myself to Mr. Penruan when he home. I am told that the neig hood is very picturesque, so I'll myself with the exploring it. I s I can get a bed in the village? I bye, where is it?—I have not see signs of it yet?"

The housekeeper, who was attra Max's handsome face and lively m would dearly have liked to offer hi hospitality of the Abbey till her

ISSUE of Marriage Licenses and Certificates. Also Agent for the Beaver and Toronto Fire Insurance Company and the Mutual Life Association of Canada. Residence—Shannonville, Ont.

Murphy & Bedford,

BARRISTERS, &c., MILL POINT.
Money to lend on improved Real Estate.

E. B. Stone,

BARRISTER, Attorney at Law, Solicitor in Chancery, etc. OFFICE—Grange Block, Dundas St.

Deroche & Madden,

BARRISTERS and Attorneys-at-Law, Solicitor in Chancery, Conveyancers, Notaries Public, etc. OFFICE—In Grange Block, Napanee. Money to loan on easy terms.

H. M. DEROCHE. J. H. MADDEN.

S. Gibson,

BARRISTER, Attorney-at-Law, Solicitor in Chancery and Insolvency, Notary Public, etc. OFFICE—Grange Block—John Street, Napanee.

R. Tracy, M. D.,

BELLEVILLE,

PHYSICIAN, Surgeon and Accoucheur. Office and Residence, two doors east from the Bank of Montreal, near the Congregational Church, Hotel St. 39

Reeve & Morden,

BARRISTERS and Attorneys-at-Law Solicitors in Chancery, Conveyancers, etc. OFFICE—Perry's New Block Dundas Street, Napanee, Ontario.

W. A. REEVE, M. A., L. MORDEN.
Co. Crown Attorney.

E. A. Deroche,

OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE, under New Act of 1875.
Office in H. M. Deroche's Law Office.

Williams & Hooper,

BARRISTERS, Attorneys-at-Law, Solicitors in Chancery and Insolvency, Conveyancers, Notaries Public, etc., Napanee, Ontario.

W. S. WILLIAMS, E. J. HOOPER, M. A.
Official Assignee

W. F. Hall,

OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE, under Insolvent Act of 1875. Fire Insurance Agent, &c. Office of Napanee Paper Mills. East Street.

James F. Bartles,

LAND AGENT, Fire, Life and Accident Insurance Agent. Office—across of Dundas and West Streets, Napanee.

F. Bartlett,

ARCHITECT and BUILDER, West Street, Napanee. Plans, Specification and Detail Drawings furnished. Builder's work measured and value computed.

Mair's Machine Shop,

STEAM ENGINES and all kinds of Boilers made to order. Also all kinds of Machinery repaired on the shortest notice. Remember the place, opposite the City Hotel, corner of Adelaide and Bridge Streets.

Hartford Fire Insurance Co.

ESTABLISHED - - 1810.
CAPITAL, $1,000,000.

AMOUNT DEPOSITED IN CANADA in accordance with the Act 130,000.

Insures property against fire as low as any other reliable company. All losses equitably adjusted and promptly paid in Canada funds or Gold. Isolated dwellings insured at exceedingly low rates.

H. L. GEDDES, Agent.
for Napanee and vicinity.

Grange & Bro's Drug Store

For all stations east and west. American money taken at par, from Napanee to Milwaukee, Chicago, St. Louis, Omaha, San Francisco &c., to all Lake Ports. Passengers purchasing tickets from the undersigned avoid the double and delay of exchanging tickets and re-checking baggage to Toronto, Cheaper route to the west. Return tickets to Kingston, Belleville, Toronto, Montreal, Portland etc. For further particulars apply at GRANGE & BRO'S Exchange Office, Passenger agent G. T. R. Uncurrent money bought and sold

THE PRINCE EDWARD COUNTY

MUTUAL FIRE INSURANCE CO.

HEAD OFFICE—PICTON, ONT.
(Established 30th Sept., 1854).

PRESIDENT—STEPHEN B. HUBBS.
VICE-PRESIDENT—JOHN PRINYER.
MANAGER AND INSPECTOR—L. B. STINSON.

SECRETARY—JOHN TWIGG.

TREASURER—PHILIP LOW, Q. C.

SOLICITOR—W. H. R. ALLISON

DIRECTORS—STEPHEN B. HUBBS, JNO. PRINYER, JOHN VANALSTINE, LEWIS B. STINSON, W. BOUTLER, ADAM S. SAYLOR, and JAMES CALNAN, ESQS.

HONORARY DIRECTORS.—G. Striker, Esq. M. P. P., Pictou; R. Clapp, Esq., Milford; K. Graham, Esq., Belleville; P. Allan, C. A. Lloyd, J. P. Dorland, Esqs., Adolphustown; J. C. Hoffman, Esq., J. T. Grange, Esq., M. P. P., Napanee; J. E. Proctor, Esq., Brighton; G. W. Webb, Esq., Colborne; G. Jones, Esq., Trenton; J. Redner, Esq., Rednersville; Owen Robin, Esq., Wm. Delong, Esq., Ameliasburg; H. A. McFaul, Esq., Hillier; Wm. Delong, Esq., Ameliasburg; Jas. Johnson, Esq., Athol.

This Company is established upon strictly Mutual principles, insuring farm property Townships, and property not more hazardous in Towns and Villages and offers great advantages to insure at low rates for Three or Four Years either, on the Premium Note or Cash System.

March 9th, 1875. 521-v.

Benoni Briggs

WISHES to return his sincere thanks to his numerous friends and the public generally for the liberal patronage they have extended to him during the past twenty-five years, and begs to announce that he has

AGAIN COMMENCED BUSINESS

in the Boot and Shoe line, in the shop opposite the Campbell House, Napanee, at the sign of the "Big Boot." Having engaged Mr. Geo. Mitchell, formerly in the employ of Messrs. McKossie & Downey, he intends to manufacture all kinds of custom work of the very best material and workmanship, and solicits a continuance of public patronage.

Repairing done on short notice; and on liberal terms. 8-11. BENONI BRIGGS.

MARBLE! MARBLE!

Monuments, Headstones, etc.,

Carved in newest style in American and Foreign Marble and carefully put up in any part of the country at reasonable rates.

ALL KINDS OF CEMETERY WORK DONE WITH CARE AND PROMPTNESS.

Call before you engage elsewhere. Dundas st., nearly opposite Beeman's corner.

10-6-n. V. KOUBER.

Important to Butter Workers.

ONE GOOD ACTIVE AGENT WANTED in every township to introduce the Victor Butter Worker. Sample Machine Free to Agents. Price, $6.00, $7.00 and $8.00 each. One Million to be sold in the Dominion. Apply early with stamp, for agents circular, to the VICTOR WRINGER Co., Brockville, Ont.

ADVERTISING!

$1,000 WORTH FOR $87.50.

The cheapest and best way to reach readers outside of the large cities is by using one or more of our six lists of over 1000 newspapers, divided to cover different sections of the country. Weekly Circulation of over 600,000. Advertisements received for one or more lists. For catalogues containing names of papers, and other information and for estimates, one dollar, for $7.00 each. A complete set, comprising Twenty-one Volumes, sent on receipt of cash at the rate of $5.25 per vol., freight at expense of purchaser.

Cloth Cases for each volume, suitable for binding, will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of $1.00 each.

Indexes to each volume sent gratis on receipt of stamp.

Subscriptions received for Harper's Periodicals only.

Newspapers are not to copy this advertisement without the express order of HARPER & BROTHERS.

Address HARPER & BROTHERS, New York.

THE "Scientific American."

THIRTY-THIRD YEAR.
The Most Popular Scientific Paper in the World.

Only $3.20 a Year including Postage. Weekly. 52 Numbers a Year. 4,000 pages.

THE SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN is a large First Class Weekly Newspaper of sixteen pages, printed in the most beautiful style, profusely illustrated with splendid engravings, representing the newest inventions and the most recent Advances in the Arts and Sciences, including Mechanics, and Engineering, Steam Engineering, Railway, Mining, Civil, Gas and Hydraulic Engineering, Mill Work, Iron, Steel and Metal Work; Chemistry and Chemical Processes; Electricity, Light, Heat, Sound; Technology, Photography, Printing, New Machines, and Processes, New Recipes Improvements pertaining to Textile Industry, Weaving, Dyeing, Coloring, New Industrial Products, Animal, Vegetable, and Mineral; New and Interesting Facts in Agriculture, Horticulture, the Home, Health, Medical Progress, Social Science, Natural History, Geology, Astronomy etc.

The most valuable practical papers, by eminent writers in all departments of Science, will be found in the Scientific American; the whole presented in popular language, from technical terms, illustrated with engravings, and so arranged as to interest and inform all classes of readers, old and young. The Scientific American is promotive of knowledge and progress in every community where it circulates. It should have a place in every Family, Reading Room, Library, College or School. Terms $3.20 per year, $1.60 half year, which includes prepayment of postage. Discount to Clubs and Agents. Single copies ten cents. Sold by all Newsdealers. Remit by postal order to MUNN & CO., Publishers, 37 Park Row, New York.

PATENTS. In connection with the Scientific American, Messrs. MUNN & CO. are Solicitors of American and Foreign Patents, and have the largest establishment in the world. Patents are obtained on the best terms. Models of New Inventions and Sketches examined, and advice free. A special notice is made in the Scientific American of all Inventions Patented through this Agency, with the name and residence of the Patentee. Public attention is thus directed to the merits of the new patent, and sales or introduction often effected.

Any person who has made a new discovery or invention, can ascertain, free of charge, whether a patent can probably be obtained, by writing to the undersigned. Address for the Paper or concerning Patents.

MUNN & CO. 37 Park Row, New York. Branch Office, Cor. F & 7th Sts., Washington D. C.

The Great Female Remedy.

JOB MOSES' PERIODICAL PILLS.

This well known medicine is no imposition, but a sure and safe remedy for Female Difficulties and Obstructions, from any cause whatever, and although a powerful remedy, it contains nothing hurtful to the constitution.

For Married Ladies it is perfectly suited. It will in a short time bring on the monthly period with regularity.

In all cases of Nervous and spinal Affections, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Heaviness, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Lowness of Spirits, Hysterical Sickness, Headaches, Whites, and all the painful diseases occasioned by a disordered system, these Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed.

These Pills have never been known to fail where the directions on 2nd page of pamphlet are well observed.

For further particulars, get a pamphlet from the agent.

JOB MOSES, NEW YORK, SOLE PROPRIETOR.
$1.00 and 121 cents for postage, enclosed to Northop & Lyman, Toronto, Ont., general agents for the Dominion, will insure a bottle containing over 50 pills, by return mail.

Sold in Napanee by all Druggists, Mill Point, by W. G. East, and at Mr. J. Aylsworth, and at medicine dealers.

30

WANTED.

We want reliable, energetic canvassing agents in every town in the Dominion for the new "Illustrated History of the Dominion of Canada." This work is truly magnificent, containing over 2,000 double column quarto pages, and over 300 superb full page engravings. The work is published in Parts, on a plan which insures its welcome to every English reading family. To energetic young men and ladies, who are willing to work, we will guarantee a permanent position for two years, and good pay. Don't fail write to for our private terms, sample pages, etc. This is a grand opportunity for school teachers to make more than double their salaries without interfering with their profes-

BY L. CROW.

CHAPTER II.

SHOWING THAT THE TRAVELLER NEITHER LOIGED AT RUAN ABBEY, AT JENIFER MADRON'S.

By the brisk little woman who answers his summons, Max was informed the family was from home. The master gone to Penzance to attend a meeting an archeological society, and had the mistress with him and Miss Ele and they would be away for a week tain, if not longer.

On the whole, Max was more than sorry that his interview must be postponed with the redoubtable gentleman, whose name had never been mentioned in his hearing without a shrill exclamation, the precise meaning which he had not been able to tell. People are a chary of spreading evil when the object of them is immensely wealthy and revengeful; and it was understood that it was an unwise affair. Squire Penruan.

"No, I'll not leave my name," said, when the young woman's charge of the Abbey suggested it. "a stranger here, and prefer to intrude myself to Mr. Penruan when he returns. I am told that the neighborhood is very picturesque, so I'll amuse myself with the exploring it. I suppose I can get a bed in the village? By the way, where is it?—I have not seen signs of it yet?"

The housekeeper, who was attracted by Max's handsome face and lively manner, would dearly have liked to offer him hospitality of the Abbey till her name came back, but she dare not do this was obliged to content herself with planning that there were not any nearer than the few cottages grouped around a rugged promontory, a half a mile away, called St. E Point. Just beyond the point, how there lived a decent widow, named Mrs. Iron, who sometimes accommodated or invalids, and the gentleman might be able to get a bed at her house.

"Of course I shall!" said Max, fully; "for it is to this identical old I am recommended. I am sorry I kept you out in the cold so long. I will tell me how to find my way to Erne, I'll not detain you any longer."

The housekeeper looked out into misty twilight, and cogitated.

"I'm afraid, sir, you'll have to find the road, though it's more than a round, for, you see, it's growing dusk, and even in broad daylight, the down the cliff is steep and awkward any one that's not used to it. If one of the men were at home they could guide you, but they're all away to fair at—"

"Tell me where this path is found," said Max, "and I'll go and look at it. I've walked so many to-day, that I'm not in the humor add another to the number, if I can it."

The woman gave him the necessary directions, coupling with them an anecdote that he would find the longest and the safest; then shivering in the rain of the cold spring evening, she went back to her cosy room; while whistling a lively air, shouldered his travelling-bag, and strode to the edge of the cliffs, on whose summit the Abbey was built.

A tiny track, scarcely discernible by fading light, sloped downwards between two huge masses of serpentine rock; after descending cautiously for some paces, a sudden turn in the path enabled him to obtain a very pretty view of beach far below him. He could hear measured beat of the waves as they ran upon the shingle, and the voices of half a dozen fishermen, who, as strolled home together, were intoning a chanting old sea-song with excellent effect. Half unconsciously, Max hummed the chorus, as, mellowed by the distance, it came floating toward him, not a thought of danger troubled his hardy spirit while he pursued his way, and never doubting that every

E. A. Deroche,
OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE, under New Act
of 1875.
Office in H. M. Deroche's Law Office.

Williams & Hooper,
BARRISTERS, Attorneys-at-Law, So-licitors in Chancery and Insolvency,
Conveyancers, Notaries Public, etc.,
Napanee, Ontario.
W. S. WILLIAMS, E. J. HOOPER, M. A.
Official Assignee

W. F. Hall,
OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE, under Insol-
vent Act of 1875. Fire Insurance
Agent, &c. Office of Napanee Paper Mills,
East Street.

James F. Bartles,
LAND AGENT, Fire, Life and Accident Insurance Agent OFFICE—
corner of Dundas and West Streets, Napanee.

F. Bartlett,
ARCHITECT AND BUILDER, West
Street, Napanee. Plans, Specification
and Detail Drawings furnished. Builder's work measured and value computed

Kair's Machine Shop,
STEAM ENGINES and all kinds of Boilers made to order. Also all kinds of Machinery repaired on the shortest notice. Remember the place, opposite the old City Hotel, corner of Adelaide and Bridge Streets.

Hartford Fire Insurance Co.
ESTABLISHED - - 1810.
CAPITAL, $1,000,000.
AMOUNT DEPOSITED IN CAN-ADA in accordance with the Act 130,000.

Insures property against fire as low as any other reliable company. All losses equitably adjusted and promptly paid in Canada funds or Gold. Isolated dwellings insured at exceedingly low rates.
H. L. GEDDES, Agent,
for Napanee and vicinity.

Harris & Empey,
(Successors to J. C. Bogart.)
Livery & Sale Stables,
JOHN STREET,
South of Dundas Street, Napanee Ont.
The best Matched Teams and Single Rigs
always on hand.
Carriages, Cutters, Sleigh Robes, &c., the best in the country. No-4 1st.

TO RENT,
The dwelling known as Dr. Oronhy-tekh's.
Apply to
W. S. WILLIAMS.

STRENGTH for the DEBILITATED.
PHOSFOZONE,
The Great Remedy for Indigestion, Weakness of the Limbs,
Torpor of the Liver.

The history of this preparation is simply a record of uninterrupted success, and probably no proprietary article was ever recommended to the public of any country by such a large number of Physicians who have endorsed, in the most unreserved and unqualified manner, this celebrated medicine. Sold by all Druggists, and prepared in the Laboratory of the Proprietors, Nos. 41 and 43 St. Jean Baptiste street, Montreal.

LIVERY at MILL POINT.
MR. JOHN FINLAYSON is prepared to furnish the best of rigs, either
single or double.
At the Old Commercial Hotel 14
MAIN STREET.
Mill Point, Jan. 30th, 1877.

or Four Years either, on the Premium
Note or Cash System.
March 9th, 1875. 521-y.

Benoni Briggs
WISHES to return, his sincere thanks to his numerous friends and the public generally for the liberal patronage they have extended to him during the past twenty-five years, and begs
to announce that he has
AGAIN COMMENCED BUSINESS
in the Boot and Shoe line, in the shop, opposite the Campbell House, Napanee, at the sign of the
"Big Boot." Having engaged Mr. Geo. Mitchell, formerly in the employ of Messrs. McKessie & Downey, he intends to manufacture all kinds of custom work of the very best material and workmanship, and solicits a continuance of public patronage.
Repairing done on short notice; and on liberal terms. 8-11. BENONI BRIGGS.

MARBLE : MARBLE
Monuments, Headstones, etc.,
Carved in newest style in American and Foreign Marble and carefully put up in any part of the country at reasonable rates.
ALL KINDS OF CEMETERY WORK DONE
WITH CARE AND PROMPTNESS.
Call before you engage elsewhere. Dundas st.,
nearly opposite Beaman's corner.
10-6-m. V. KOUBER.

Important to Butter Workers.
ONE GOOD ACTIVE AGENT WANTED in every township to introduce the Victor Butter
Worker. Sample Machine Free to Agents.
Price, $6.00, $7.00 and $8.00 each. One Million to be sold in the Dominion. Apply early with stamp, for agents circulars to the VICTOR WRINGER CO.,
Brookville, Ont.

ADVERTISING !
$1,000 WORTH FOR $87.50.
The cheapest and best way to reach readers outside of the large cities is by using one or more of our six lists of over 1000 newspapers, divided to cover different sections of the coun-
try. Weekly Circulation of over 600,000.
Advertisements received for one or more lists. For catalogues containing names of papers, and other information, call for estimates,
address BEALS & FOSTER,
22, 41 Park Row (Times Building), New York

1877 SEASON 1877.
PICTON & NAPANEE ROUTE.

The Steamer Shannon,
CAPT. EARLY W. JOHNSON,
will run during the season, to Napanee DAILY
(Sundays excepted) as follows:
Leaves Pictou at 6 a. m., calling at intermediate ports, arriving at Napanee at about 9:30.
Returning to Pictou—Leaves Napanee at 3 o'clock, p. m., calling at intermediate ports, arriving in Pictou at about 6:30.
This is the cheapest and most expeditious route to all points East, and affords passengers
three hours time in the flourishing town of Napanee for business or pleasure, before embarking on the 1 o'clock Day Express Train going East.
When returning, connects with the Merchants'
Express Train from Montreal, thereby the quickest dispatch for Eastern trade to Picton. Bonded Merchandise (or other freight,) will be promptly looked after, carefully handled and
attended to.
P. F. McQUAIG, Wharfinger, Pictou.
JOHN BOWEY, do Napanee,
Napanee, 15th June, 1877.

Will Cure Consumption.
TO all suffering from the following diseases a ray of hope is offered through the kindness
of a missionary friend who has sent me the formula of a pure vegetable medicine which has long been used by the native medicine men of Hindustan—for the positive and radical cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma, Catarrh, Dyspepsia, Throat and Lung difficulty, General Debility, Loss of Manhood and all Nervous Affections, its power has been tested in hundreds of cases without a failure. I now feel it my sacred duty as far as possible to relieve human misery
and will send the recipe—FREE OF CHARGE—to any person who may desire it, with directions for using. Sent by return mail addressing with 2
stamps naming this paper, Dr. O. R. Brigham,
Drawer 28, Utica, N. Y. 19-13.

Messrs. MUNN & CO. are Solicitors of American and Foreign Patents, and have the largest establishment in the world. Patents are obtained on the best terms. Models of New Inventions and Sketches examined, and advice free. A special notice made in the Scientific American of all Inventions Patented through this Agency,
with the name and residence of the Patentee.
Public attention is thus directed to the merits of the new patent, and sales or introduction often effected.
Any person who has made a new discovery or invention, can ascertain, free of charge, whether a patent can probably be obtained, by writing to the undersigned. Address for the Paper or concerning Patents.
MUNN & CO. 37 Park Row, New York.
Branch Office, Cor. Fifth Sts., Washington D. C.

The Great Female Remedy.
JOB MOSES' PERIODICAL PILLS.

This well known medicine is no imposition,
but a sure and safe remedy for Female Difficulties and Obstructions, from any cause whatever,
and although a powerful remedy, it contains nothing hurtful to the constitution.
To MARRIED LADIES it is perfectly suited. It will, in a short time bring on the monthly period
with regularity.
In all cases of Nervous and spinal Affections,
Pain in the Back and Limbs, Headaches, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Low-
ness of Spirits, Hysterics, Sick Headaches,
Whites, and all the painful diseases occasioned
by a disordered system, these Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed.
These Pills have never been known to fail
where the directions on 2nd page of pamphlet
are well observed.
For further particulars, get a pamphlet from
the agent.
JOB MOSES, NEW YORK, SOLE PROPRIETOR.
$1.00 and 12 1/2 cents for postage, enclosed to Northop & Lyman, Toronto, Ont., general agents for the Dominion, will insure a bottle containing over 30 pills, by return mail.
Sold in Napanee by all Druggists, Mill Point,
by W. G. Egar, Tamworth J. Aylsworth, and all medicine dealers. 30

WANTED.
We want reliable, energetic canvassing agents in every town in the Dominion for the new "Illustrated History of the Dominion of Canada." This work is truly magnificent, containing over 2,000 double column quarto pages, and over 300 superb full page engravings. The work is published in Parts, on a plan which insures its welcome to every English reading
family. To energetic young men and ladies, who are willing to work, we will guarantee a permanent position for two years, and GOOD PAY. Don't fail write to for our private terms, sample pages, etc. This is a grand opportunity for school teachers to make more than double their salaries
without interfering with their professional duties. The works being manufactured at a cost of over $20,000 for the literary, artistic and mechanical work of producing the plates by the old well known, reliable Lovell Printing and Publishing Co., of Montreal. All letters from agents must be addressed to the Publishers
General agents as follows:
HAZEN B. BIGNEY & Co.,
28 and 30 St. Francis Xavier Street,
MONTREAL, QUE.

Dr. William Gray's Specific Medicine.

The Great English Remedy for all diseases of the system, and is recommended
as an unfailing cure for Sentinal Weakness, Spermatorrhea, Impe-tency, and all
Before Taking, diseases that After Taking follow as a consequence of Self Abuse, as Loss of Memory, Universal Lassitude, Pain in the Back, Dimness of Vision, Premature Old Age, and many other diseases that lead to Insanity or Consumption and Premature Grave, all of which as a rule are first caused by degeneration from the path of nature and overindulgence.
The Specific Medicine is the result of a life
study and many years of experience in treating these special diseases. Pamphlet free by mail.
The Special Medicine is sold by all Druggists
at 21 per package, or six packages for $5, or will be sent by mail on receipt of the money by addressing.
WILLIAM GRAY & Co.,
Windsor, Ont.

F. BEZO'S
RESTAURANT,
(Opposite the Tielborne House.)
Meals or lunch can be obtained on most reasonable terms. Board by the day or week.
FRUIT OR GROCERIES
Toys and Fancy Goods, and
D. D. MALLORY'S CELEBRATED OYSTERS,
Best in the Market.
25-1f. F. BEZO.

a man a mine away, called St. El-Point. Just beyond the point, however lived a decent widow, named Maxon, who sometimes accommodated ar-or invalids, and the gentleman might able to get a bed at her house.
"Of course I shall!" said Max, ch-fully; "for it is to this identical old I am recommended. I am sorry I kept you out in the cold so long. If will tell me how to find my way to Erne, I'll not detain you any longer."
The house-keeper looked out into misty twilight, and cogitated.
"I'm afraid, sir, you'll have to follow the road, though it's more than a round, for you see, it's growing dusk and, even in broad daylight, the down the cliff is steep and awkward, any one that's not used to it. If of the men were at home they co-guide you, but they're all away to-fair at—"
"Tell me where this path is to found," said Max, "and I'll go and look at it. I've walked so many mto-day, that I'm not in the humour add another to the number, if I can it."
The woman gave him the necessary directions, coupling with them an assurance that he would find the longest r-the safest; then shivering in the raw of the cold spring evening, she w-back to her cosy room; while Mwhistling a lively air, shouldered his li-tarvelly bag, and strode to the edge the cliffs, on whose summit the Ab-was built.
A tiny track, scarcely discernible by fading light, sloped downwards bettwo huge masses of serpentine rock; after descending cautiously for some paces, a sudden turn in the path enal-him to obtain a very pretty view of beach far below him. He could hear measured beat of the waves as they roin upon the shingle, and the voices o-half a dozen fishermen, who, as tstrolled home together, were cha-chanting an old sea-song with excel-effect. Half unconsciously, Max h-ryng hummed the chorus, as, melloby the distance, it came floating tow-him, not a thought of danger troubhis hardy spirit while he pursued way, and never doubting that every was carrying him nearer and nearer the lights that were beginning to twiin the fishers' dwellings.
But presently, to his great vexation found all further progress barred by steep descent, so precipitous that it impossible to obtain good hold. He evidently contrived to diverge from regular track, and must retrace his to the spot where he had left it—no pleasing prospect to a weary man, wh-unacquainted with the locality, and further bewildered by the deeper gloom. Yet, unhesitatingly, Max pded on, sometimes stumbling over sharp crags, sometimes ascending, so-times descending, till once more he on a projection, from which the be-and the sea were distinctly visible.
With an impatient sigh, he leaned back against the cliff, and rested aw-In spite of his dogged perseverance, he not flatter himself that he had regaithe track, and the question now whether it would be easier to go door up before it became too dark to acc-plish either. It was decided for more speedily than pleasantly. As stepped forward to examine the face the heights that towered above him stone, on which he had too incautistepped, rolled from under his foot, Max lost his equilibrium. He tried to regain it, but so narrow was the on which he had been standing, that was impossible. Still he did not l-his presence of mind, but, as he ro-over and over, grasped at whatever m-assist in breaking his fall, and finally trived to clutch a mass of rock, to whe clung, bruised and panting, utter hoarse cries for help, which no one h-but the wild birds his voice startled f-their sleep.

NAPANEE EXPRESS

"THE GREATEST GOOD TO THE GREATEST NUMBER."

NAPANEE, ONT., FRIDAY, NOV. 30, 1877.

"A Repository of Fashion, Pleasure, and Instruction."

Harper's Bazar.

ILLUSTRATED.

Notices of the Press.

The Bazar is the organ of the fashionable world, and the expounder of that world's laws; and it is the authority in all matters of manners, etiquette, costume, and social habits.—Boston Traveller.

The BAZAR commends itself to every member of the household—to the children by droll and pretty pictures, to the ladies by its fashion plates in endless variety, to the provident matron by its patterns for children's clothes to perfection by its tasteful designs for embroidered slippers and luxurious dressing-gowns. But the reading matter of the BAZAR is uniformly of great excellence. The paper has acquired a wide popularity for the fire-side enjoyment it affords, and has become an established authority with the ladies of America.—N. Y. Evening Post.

TERMS:

Postage free to all Subscribers in the United States.

HARPER'S BAZAR, one year.....$4.00

$4.00 includes payment of U. S. postage by the publishers.

Subscriptions to HARPER'S MAGAZINE, WEEKLY, and BAZAR, to one address for one year, $10.00; or two of Harper's Periodical, to one address for one year, $7.00; postage free.

An Extra Copy of the MAGAZINE, WEEKLY, or BAZAR will be supplied gratis for every Club of FIVE SUBSCRIBERS at $1.00 each, paid for by one remittance; or, Six Copies one year, without extra copy, for $20.00.

Back Numbers can be supplied at any time.

The Volumes of the BAZAR commence with the year. When no time is mentioned, it will be understood that the subscriber wishes to commence with the Number next after the receipt of his order.

The Annual Volumes of HARPER'S BAZAR, in neat cloth binding, will be sent by express, free of expense, provided the freight does not exceed one dollar, for $7.00 each. A complete Set, comprising Twenty-one Volumes, sent on receipt of cash at the rate of $5.25 per vol., freight at expense of purchaser.

Cloth Cases for each volume, suitable for bidding, will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of $1.00 each.

Indexes to each volume sent gratis on receipt of stamp.

Subscriptions received for Harper's Periodicals only.

Newspapers are not to copy this advertisement without the express order of HARPER & BROTHERS.

Address HARPER & BROTHERS, New York.

THE

"Scientific American."

THIRTY-THIRD YEAR.

The Most Popular Scientific Paper in The World.

Only $3.21 a Year including Postage. Weekly. 52 Numbers a Year. 4,000 pages.

THE SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN is a large First Class Weekly Newspaper of sixteen pages, printed in the most beautiful style, profusely illustrated with splendid engravings, representing the newest Inventions and the most recent Advances in the Arts and Sciences; including Mechanics and Engineering, Steam Engineering, Railway, Mining, Civil, Gas and Hydraulic Engineering, Mill Work, Iron, Steel and Metal Work; Chemistry and Chemical Processes; Electricity, Light, Heat, Sound; Technology, Photography, Printing, New Machines, New Processes, New Receipts, Improvements pertaining to Textile Industry, Weaving, Dyeing, Coloring, New Industrial Products, Animal, Vegetable, and Mineral; New and Interesting Facts in Agriculture, Horticulture, the Home, Health, Medical Progress, Social Science, Natural History, Geology, Astronomy, etc.

The most valuable practical papers, by eminent writers in all departments of Science, will be found in the Scientific American; the whole presented in popular language, free from technical terms illustrated with engravings, and so arranged as to interest and inform all classes of readers, old and young. The Scientific American is promotive of knowledge and progress in

Poetry.

The Old Clock.

O, the old, old clock, of the household stock,
Was the brightest thing and neatest;
Its hands, though old, had touch of gold,
And its chimes rang still the sweetest.
'Twas a monitor, too, though its words were few,
Yet they lived, though nations altered,
And its voice, still strong, warned old and young,
When the voice of friendship faltered.
"Tick tick," it said—"quick, quick to bed,
For ten I've given warnings;
Up up and go, or else you know,
You'll never rise soon in the morning."

A friendly voice was that old, old clock,
As it stood in the corner smiling,
And blessed the time with a merry chime,
The winter hours beguiling;
But a cross old voice was that tiresome clock,
As it called at the daybreak boldly,
When the dawn looked grey on the misty way,
And the early air blew coldly:
"Tick, tick," it said—"quick out of bed,
For five I've given warnings;
You'll never get health, you'll never get wealth,
Unless you're up soon in the morning."

Still hourly the clock goes round and round,
With a tone that ceases never;
While tears are shed for bright days fled,
And the old friends lost forever;
Its heart beats on, though heart's are gone,
That warmer beat and younger;
Its hands still move, though hands we love
Are clasped on earth no longer!
"Tick, tick," it said—"to the churchyard bed,
The grave hath given warnings;
Up, up, and rise, and look to the skies,
And prepare for the heavenly morning."

Literature.

THE LILY OF ST. ERNE.

BY L. CROW.

CHAPTER II.

SHOWING THAT THE TRAVELLER WAS NEITHER LOGGED AT RUAN ABBEY, NOR AT JENIFER MADRON'S.

By the brisk little woman who answered his summons, Max was informed that the family was from home. The master had gone to Penzance to attend a meeting of an archaeological society, and had taken the mistress with him and Miss Eleanor, and they would be away for a week certain, if not longer.

On the whole, Max was more relieved than sorry that his interview must be postponed with the redoubtable gentleman, whose name had never been mentioned in his hearing without a shrug or an exclamation, the precise meaning of which he had not been able to learn. People are chary of spreading evil reports when the object of them is immensely wealthy and revengeful; and it was well understood that it was an unwise act to offend Squire Penruan.

"No, I'll not leave my name," Max said, when the young woman left in charge of the Abbey suggested it. "I am a stranger here, and prefer to introduce myself to Mr. Penruan when he returns home. I am told that the neighbourhood is very picturesque, so I'll amuse myself with the exploring it. I suppose I can get a bed in the village? By-the-by, where is it?—I have not seen any signs of it yet?"

The housekeeper, who was attracted by Max's handsome face and lively manner, would doubtless have liked to offer him the

He made desperate efforts to raise himself on to the rock, but his arms had lost their power, and one of his ankles gave him exquisite pain. He could not hold on much longer, unless some one came to his aid, and who would—nay, who could? Even if it had been light enough for any one on the beach to descry him, it would have been impossible to render any efficient help, for his wanderings had carried him to one of the most inaccessible parts of the cliffs.

And yet he was so near one of the cottages, a quaint little structure, perched on a small three-cornered bit of level ground and approached from the beach by some rudely-cut steps, that he could hear a female voice singing "The Sands of Dee." Strange thoughts were evoked by the plaintive song. Would any one seek for him, as they sought for the golden-haired Mary? Would his final resting-place be those hungry waters, whose ceaseless lapping now sounded so near, or would his mangled remains moulder in some cleft of these darkly-veined cliffs, and no one ever learn his untimely fate?

A sob burst from his labouring chest, and he made one more mighty effort to raise himself. Once on the summit of this projection, he would be in comparative safety until the morning dawned, when his shout or signals would surely bring some one to the rescue; but the effort was in vain, and he felt that he was rapidly growing exhausted.

And yet, oh, heavens! he was so young to die—and to die thus! He glanced upward; the stars were beginning to pierce the veil of night, and look down upon him. Was it in mockery, or to teach him resignation? He knew not, for his relaxing hands were slowly, surely slipping from their hold; he felt that he was falling—not as before, from crag to crag, but down, down in one swift rush; and then he remembered no more, but lost himself in a troubled vision, wherein he wandered in the primeval forests of America, pursued by Indians, whose arrows were being launched at his quivering flesh.

It last his tormentors vanished, and he awoke from the long trance of insensibility. But still those torturing pains were in his head and limbs, forcing from him a moan of agony.

It was echoed by a feminine voice, to which another, in sharper tones, murmured a rebuke; and then Max heard some one say, in a low thrilling accents, "I could not help it! He suffers so frightfully, it rends my heart to see him!"

"Take the child away," said someone else "his no fit sight for her."

"But I'll not be taken away, Uncle Dan!" replied the sweet, girlish voice, which was surely the same that Max had heard singing the plaintive ballad. "How can I be contented to leave him till he is easier? Don't sit by so calmly! Surely you can do something more for him?"

"Nay, nay, child; but I cannot," said the old man. "And'twouldn't be of no use if I could. Tain't in nature that he should live, after falling from Ruan cliffs, as he must ha' done. I ha' set his broken leg—and let old Dannel Calynack alone for doing that as well as a town

How time sped on for the follow week or two he scarcely knew, for t injuries he had received in his fall w such serious ones that he was too ill raise himself from his pillow. But was conscious that a gray-haired, weath beaten old man, in the rough garb of fisherman, rarely left his side; and th once or twice a face, so far and sweet to be almost angelic, had bent over h as he lay. But when the feveri symptoms disappeared, and though we and helpless as a child, he was clea headed and capable of conversing rati ally once more, the cottage appear have no other inmate than the fish man, who sat on a low stool at the fo of the bed, repairing one of his nets,

"I am afraid I have given you a gre deal of trouble," said Max, the first tir he felt equal to open a conversation w the silent but pleasant-looking old Corni man.

"Nay, nay; not hafe so much as the dogfish, rot'em!" was the reply. "Look here, at the rents they ha' made in the meshes,—more nor I shall fill up in t other hour, I knows."

"I'll buy you a new net, if you'll on put that down, and talk to me. I ha so much to ask you," cried Max, eag ly.

"Talk away, lad, if it don't hurt t and keep your money in your pocket. don't want to be paid for listening."

"Tell me, then, how long have I be here?"

Dan put his thumb against his tee and mused.

"Ever sin' last Friday was a week."

"And how and where did you discov me?"

"How?—why, doubled up. Where? not a hundred yards from my own do I should have passed ye, though, for I my oars and my nets on my shoulder— coming up, I was, fro' the boat—if s hadn't a said—"

"Who is she?" interrupted Max.

"If she hadn't a said," the old man peated, "What's that a laying there, Unc Dan?" And then—"

"And then," his impatient hearer we on, "you brought me here, and ha nursed me most kindly ever since. G bless you for it! But who was it th first saw me?"

Dan threaded his huge needle wi coarse twine very deliberately before replied.

"Well, if you ha' answered the questi yoursen, why need I? Tain't my gran mer nor my great aunts that calls n uncle!"

"Then it was your niece to whom I a indebted. I should like to thank he Where is she?"

"Gone back to where she came from "Then she does not live with you said the disappointed Max.

"Now and then she do," was th brief answer.

"Is it because I am here that she h left you?"

"Ain't you a talking more nor's got for you?" queried Dan, instead of repl ing to the question.

"If you think so why don't you answe me more directly? Is it on my accou that your niece has quitted the cottag I am in the the way—if I am trespas

The Annual Volumes of HARPER'S BAZAR, in neat cloth binding, will be sent by express, free of expense, provided the freight does not exceed one dollar, for $7.00 each. A complete set, comprising Twenty-one Volumes, sent on receipt of cash at the rate of $5.25 per vol., freight at expense of purchaser.

Cloth Cases for each volume, suitable for bidding, will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of $1.00 each.

Indices to each volume sent gratis on receipt of stamp.

Subscriptions received for Harper's Periodicals only.

Newspapers are not to copy this advertisement without the express order of HARPER & BROTHERS.

Address HARPER & BROTHERS, New York.

THE

"Scientific American."

THIRTY-THIRD YEAR.

The Most Popular Scientific Paper in the World.

Only $3.25 a Year including Postage. Weekly. 52 Numbers a Year. 4,000 pages.

THE SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN is a large First Class Weekly Newspaper of sixteen pages, printed in the most beautiful style, profusely illustrated with splendid engravings, representing the newest inventions and the most recent Advances in the Arts and Sciences; including Mechanics and Engineering, Steam Engineering, Railway, Mining, Civil, Gas and Hydraulic Engineering, Mill Work, Iron, Steel and Metal Work, Chemistry and Chemical Processes; Electricity, Light, Heat, Sound; Technology, Photography, Printing, New Machines, New Processes, New Recipes Improvements pertaining to Textile Industry, Weaving, Dyeing, Coloring, New Industrial Products, Animal, Vegetable, and Mineral; New and Interesting Facts in Agriculture, Horticulture, the Home, Health, Medical Progress, Social Science, Natural History, Geology, Astronomy etc.

The most valuable practical papers, by eminent writers in all departments of Science, will be found in the Scientific American; the whole presented in popular language, free from technical terms, illustrated with engravings, and so arranged as to interest and inform all classes of readers old and young. The Scientific American is promotive of knowledge and progress in every community where it circulates. It should have a place in every Family, Reading Room, Library, College or School. Terms $3.25 per year, $1.00 half year, which includes prepayment of postage. Discount to Clubs and Agents. Single copies ten cents. Sold by all Newsdealers. Remit by postal order to MUNN & CO., Publishers, 37 Park Row, New York.

PATENTS. In connection with the Scientific American, Messrs. MUNN & CO. are Solicitors of American and Foreign Patents, and have the largest establishment in the world. Patents are obtained on the best terms. Models of New Inventions and Sketches examined, and advice free. A special notice is made in the Scientific American of all Inventions Patented through this Agency, with the name and residence of the Patentee. Public attention is thus directed to the merits of the new patent, and sales or introduction often effected.

Any person who has made a new discovery or invention, can ascertain, free of charge, whether a patent can probably be obtained by writing to the undersigned. Address for the Paper or concerning Patents.

MUNN & CO., 37 Park Row, New York. Branch Office, Cor. F & 7th Sts., Washington D. C.

The Great Female Remedy. JOB MOSES' PERIODICAL PILLS.

This well known medicine is no imposition, but a sure and safe remedy for Female Difficulties, such as Obstructions, from any cause whatever, and although a powerful remedy, it contains nothing hurtful to the constitution.

TO MARRIED LADIES it is perfectly suited. It will, in a short time bring on the monthly period with regularity.

In all cases of Nervous and spinal Affections, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Heaviness, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Loss of Spirits, Hysterics, Sick Headaches, Whites, and all the painful diseases occasioned by a disordered system, these Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed.

These Pills have never been known to fail where the directions on 2nd page of pamphlet are well observed.

For further particulars, get a pamphlet from the agent.

JOB MOSES, NEW YORK, SOLE PROPRIETOR.

$1.00 and 12 cents for postage, enclosed to Northrop & Lyman, Toronto, Ont.; general agents for the Province, will insure a bottle containing over 50 pills, by return mail.

Sold in Napanee by all Druggists, Mill Point, by W. G. Egar, Tamworth by J. Aylsworth, and all medicine dealers.

WANTED.

We want reliable, energetic canvassing agents in every town in the Dominion for the new "Illustrated History of the Dominion of Canada." This work is truly magnificent, containing over 2,000 double column quarto pages, and over 300 superb full page engravings. The work is published in Parts, on a plan which insures its welcome to every English reading family. To energetic young men and ladies, who are willing to work, we will guarantee a permanent position for two years, and good pay. Don't fail write! to for our private terms, sample pages, etc. This is a second opportunity for school teachers

THE LILY OF ST. ERNE.

BY L. CROW.

CHAPTER II.

SHOWING THAT THE TRAVELLER WAS NEITHER LOIGED AT RUAN ABBEY, NOR AT JENIFER MADRON'S.

By the brisk little woman who answered his summons, Max was informed that the family was from home. The master had gone to Penzance to attend a meeting of an archeological society, and had taken the mistress with him and Miss Eleanor, and they would be away for a week certain, if not longer.

On the whole, Max was more relieved than sorry that his interview must be postponed with the redoubtable gentleman, whose name had never been mentioned in his hearing without a shrug or an exclamation, the precise meaning of which he had not been able to learn. People are a chary of spreading evil reports when the object of them is immensely wealthy and revengeful; and it was well understood that it was an unwise act to offend Squire Penruan.

"No, I'll not leave my name," Max said, when the young woman left in charge of the Abbey suggested it. "I am a stranger here, and prefer to introduce myself to Mr. Penruan when he returns home. I am told that the neighbourhood is very picturesque, so I'll amuse myself with the exploring it. I suppose I can get a bed in the village? By-the-by, where is it?—I have not seen any signs of it yet?"

The housekeeper, who was attracted by Max's handsome face and lively manner, would dearly have liked to offer him the hospitality of the Abbey till her master came back, but she dare not do this, and was obliged to content herself with explaining that there were not any houses nearer than the few cottages grouped on and around a rugged promontory, about a half a mile away, called St. Erne's Point. Just beyond the point, however, there lived a decent widow, named Madron, who sometimes accommodated artists or invalids, and the gentleman might be able to get a bed at her house.

"Of course I shall!" said Max, cheerfully; "for it is to this identical old lady I am recommended. I am sorry I have kept you out in the cold so long. If you will tell me how to find my way to St. Erne, I'll not detain you any longer."

The housekeeper looked out into the misty twilight, and cogitated.

"I'm afraid, sir, you'll have to follow the road, though it's more than a mile round, for, you see, it's growing duskish; and, even in broad daylight, the path down the cliff is steep and awkward, for any one that's not used to it. If either of the men were at home they could guide you, but they're all away to the fair at—"

"Tell me where this path is to be found," said Max, "and I'll go and have a look at it. I've walked so many miles to-day, that I'm not in the humour to add another to the number, if I can help it."

The woman gave him the necessary directions, coupling with them an assurance that he would find the longest route the safest; then shivering in the raw air of the cold spring evening, she went back to her cosy room; while Max, whistling a lively air, shouldered his little travelling-bag, and strode to the edge of the cliffs, on whose summit the Abbey was built.

A tiny track, scarcely discernible by the fading light, sloped downwards between two huge masses of serpentine rock; and after descending cautiously for some fifty paces, a sudden turn in the path enabled him to obtain a very pretty view of the beach far below him. He could hear the measured beat of the waves as they rolled in upon the shingle, and the voices of a half a dozen fishermen, who, as they strolled home together, were lustily chanting an old sea-song with excellent effect. Half unconsciously, Max Haverly hummed the chorus, as, mellowed by the distance, it came floating towards him, not a thought of danger troubling to die—and to die thus! He glanced upward; the stars were beginning to pierce the veil of night, and look down upon him. Was it in mockery, or to teach him resignation? He knew not, for his relaxing hands were slowly, surely slipping from their hold; he felt that he was falling—not as before, from crag to crag, but down, down in one swift rush; and then he remembered no more, but lost himself in a troubled vision, wherein he wandered in the primeval forests of America, pursued by Indians, whose arrows were being launched at his quivering flesh.

It last his tormentors vanished, and he awoke from the long trance of insensibility. But still those torturing pains were in his head and limbs, forcing from him a moan of agony.

It was echoed by a feminine voice, to which another, in sharper tones, murmured a rebuke; and then Max heard some one say, in a low thrilling accents, "I could not help it! He suffers so frightfully, it rends my heart to see him!"

"Take the child away!" said someone else, "his no fit sight for her."

"But I'll not be taken away, Uncle Dan!" replied the sweet, girlish voice, which was surely the same that Max had heard singing the plaintive ballad. "How can I be contented to leave him till he is easier? Don't sit by so calmly! Surely you can do something more for him?"

"Nay, nay, child; but I cannot," said the old man. "And 'twouldn't be of no use if I could. Tain't in nature that he should live, after falling from Ruau cliffs, as he must ha' done. I ha' set his broken leg—and let old Dannel Calynack alone for doing that as well as a town surgeon—and we can't do no more."

"Only stand here and see him writhe with suffering! Oh! but it is too terrible!" sighed the girl. "Why did you you not let me send for Doctor Treloar? It is not too late to do that now. Dear Uncle Dan, pray go and seek some one who will do my errand, and I will pay them handsomely!"

"Nay," said the other female; "Doctor Treloar must not come here; you are mad to propose it! Let the stranger be carried hence, if he must have further advice."

"What!" cried the girl, indignantly; "jolted over miles of rough road in a cart, to die, perhaps on the way; or else consigned to the stifling hovel and rude hands of one of the fishwives! I will not hear of such barbarity! It was I who saw the stranger fall, as I ran to meet Uncle Dan; but for this, he might have lain helpless and untended till the morning; and having found him, it is plainly our duty to take care of him till he recovers, or—"

She could not bring her self to name the alternative; but her reasoning was not convincing to her companion, who answered with great significance.

"In ordinary cases I shall agree with you, but there are your own risks to be considered. Do you quite forget these?"

"I cannot always be thinking of myself!" was the hasty reply; "nor will I let any personal consideration teach me to be unfeeling."

The elder female commenced a tart response; but ere she had uttered half a dozen reproachful words, the old fisherman, who has designated himself as Dannel Calynack, gravely interferred.

"Do 'ee be quiet! Esther, wench; there's no harm done by letting the child have her way, for the poor lad's a'most at St. last. Let 'un die in peace, my soas—let 'un die in peace!"

Max heard the girlish voice breath an inarticulate murmur, half sigh, half sob; and, in spite of his aches and pains, he longed to be able to relieve her of her generous anxiety on his account. If he could but shake off the numbing faintness that prevailed every sense, how gladly would he reassure her!

"Poor youth!" said the elder female, approaching his prostrate form, and speaking with more pity than she had hitherto evinced. "Dan is right; he will not trouble us much longer; he is dying."

and mused.

"Ever sin' last Friday was a week."

"And how and where did you discover me?"

"How?—why, doubled up. Where?—not a hundred yards from my own door I should have passed ye, though, for I'm oars and my nets on my shoulder—a coming up, I was, fro' the boat—if sh hadn't a said—"

"Who is she?" interrupted Max.

"If she hadn't a said," the old man repeated, "What's that a laying there, Uncle Dan?" And then—

"And then," his impatient hearer went on, "you brought me h're, and have nursed me most kindly ever since. Go bless you for it! But who was it that first saw me?"

Dan threaded his huge needle with coarse twine very deliberately before he replied.

"Well, if you ha' answered the question yourself, why need I? Tain't my grand mer nor my great aunts that calls m' uncle!"

"Then it was your niece to whom I am indebted. I should like to thank her. Where is she?"

"Gone back to where she came from! Then she does not live with you?" said the disappointed Max.

"Nows and then she do," was the brief answer.

"Is it because I am here that she has left you?"

"Ain't you a-talking more nor's good for you?" queried Dan, instead of replying to the question.

"If you think so why don't you answer me more directly? Is it on my account that your niece has quitted the cottage? If I am in the way—if I am trespassing too long on your hospitality—pray tell me so at once!"

"Nay, lad," said Dan, coming to his bedside. "You're as welcome as a fair wind; and be loath to let ye go till I've cured ye out and out! The child w'en became Esther said it was best for her and now ye meant ask me no more questions about her, for I sha'n't answer them! It's time ye had something to eat and I mun go and cook it."

"I dare say old Dan is quite right to keep his pretty niece out of my way," Max concluded; "for if she is as charming as she seemed to me when I was ha' delirious, I should certainly not be able to resist falling in love with her. Still I should like to see her at once again, if only to ascertain whether my eyes played me false when they pictured her so beautiful."

That she had not removed to any great distance he felt convinced, for every evening he heard the rustle of feminine garments, and the whispering of voices in the little kitchen adjoining his chamber; and dainty dishes were served up to him, as his appetite improved, which certainly surpassed old Dan's culinary skill to concoct. Yet neither the female called Esther, nor the gentle girl who had so generously compassionated his sufferings, came near him; and, having nothing else to do, he gave way more and more to the curiosity that tormented him.

(To be Continued.)

An Extraordinary Suicide.

A BROTHER'S INEFFECTUAL STRUGGLES.

As mentioned in Monday evening's edition, a joiner named Louis Lalumiere 48 years of age, jumped into the river at St. Mary's current, Montreal, and was drowned. The circumstances of this suicide are most remarkable. Deceased was a sufferer from epileptic fits, and getting into a despondent condition, went yesterday to his brother and said: "I am going to drown myself." The brother thought he was not altogether serious, but concluded to follow him. On seeing him enter St. Peter's Church, in Visitation street (where deceased went to make his last prayer on earth), the brother thought all was right, and lost sight of him for a few minutes. However, deceased on coming out of the church walked rapidly toward the river, but being seen by the brother, he was hastily pursued. The doomed man had reached

PATENTS. In connection with the Scientific American, Messrs. MUNN & CO., are Solicitors of American and Foreign Patents, and have the largest establishment in the world. Patents are obtained on the best terms. Models of New Inventions and Sketches examined, and advice free. A special notice is made in the Scientific American of all Inventions Patented through this Agency, with the name and residence of the Patentee. Public attention is thus directed to the merits of the new patent, and sales or introduction often effected.

Any person who has made a new discovery or invention, can ascertain in, free of charge, whether a patent can probably be obtained, by writing to the undersigned. Address for the Paper or concerning Patents.

MUNN & CO., 37 Park Row, New York.
Branch Office, Cor. F & 7th Sts., Washington D. C.

The Great Female Remedy.

JOB MOSES' PERIODICAL PILLS.

This well known medicine is no imposition, but a sure and safe remedy for Female Difficulties and Obstructions, from any cause whatever, and although a powerful remedy, it contains nothing hurtful to the constitution.

To MARRIED LADIES it is perfectly suited. It will, in a short time bring on the monthly period with regularity.

In all cases of Nervous and spinal Affections, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Headaches, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Loss of Spirits, Hysterics, Sick Headaches, Whites, and all the painful diseases occasioned by a disordered system, these Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed.

These Pills have never been known to fail where the directions on 2nd page of pamphlet are well observed.

For further particulars, get a pamphlet from the agent.

JOB MOSES, NEW YORK, SOLE PROPRIETOR.

$1.00 and 12c, cents for postage, enclosed to Northrop & Lyman, Toronto, Ont., general agents for the Dominion, will insure a bottle containing over 30 pills, by return mail.

Sold in Napanee by all Druggists, Mill Point, by W. G. Egar, Tamworth J. Aylsworth, and all medicine dealers. 30

WANTED.

We want reliable, energetic canvassing agents in every town in the Dominion for the new "Illustrated History of the Dominion of Canada." This work is truly magnificent, containing over 2,000 double column quarto pages, and over 300 superb full page engravings. The work is published in Parts, on a plan which insures its welcome to every English reading family. To energetic young men and ladies, who are willing to work, we will guarantee a permanent position for two years, and good pay. Don't fail write to for our private terms, sample pages, etc. This is a grand opportunity for school teachers to make more than double their salaries without interfering with their professional duties. The works being manufactured at a cost of over $20,000 for the literary, artistic and mechanical work of producing the plates by the old well known, reliable Lovell Printing and Publishing Co., of Montreal. All letters from agents must be addressed to the Publishers General agents as follows:

HAZEN B. BIGNEY & Co.,
28 and 30 St. Francis Xavier Street,
MONTREAL, QUE.

Dr. William Gray's Specific Medicine.

The Great English Remedy is especially recommended as an unfailing cure for Seminal Weakness, Spinal Torpor, Impotency, and all the diseases that follow as a consequence of Self Abuse, as Loss of Memory, Universal Lassitude, Pain in the Back, Dimness of Vision, Premature Old Age, and many other diseases that lead to Insanity or Consumption and a Premature Grave, all of which as a rule are first caused by deviating from the path of nature and over indulgence in the pleasures of the flesh.

The Specific Medicine is the result of a life study and many years of experience in treating these special diseases. Pamphlet free by mail.

The Special Medicine is sold by all Druggists at $1 per package, or six packages for $5, or will be sent by mail on receipt of the money by addressing.

WILLIAM GRAY & Co.,
Windsor, Ont.

F. BEZO'S
RESTAURANT,
(Opposite the Tichborne House.)
Meals or lunch can be obtained on most reasonable terms. Board by the day or week.

FRUIT OR GROCERIES

Toys and Fancy Goods, and
D. D. MALLORY'S CELEBRATED OYSTERS,
Best in the Market.
25-tf. F. BEZO.

and around a rugged promontory, about a half a mile away, called St. Erne's Point. Just beyond the point, however, there lived a decent widow, named Madron, who sometimes accommodated artists or invalids, and the gentleman might be able to get a bed at her house.

"Of course I shall!" said Max, cheerfully; "for it is to this identical old lady I am recommended. I am sorry I have kept you out in the cold so long. If you will tell me how to find my way to St. Erne, I'll not detain you any longer."

The housekeeper looked out into the misty twilight, and cogitated.

"I'm afraid, sir, you'll have to follow the road, though it's more than a mile round, for, you see, it's growing duskish; and, even in broad daylight, the path down the cliff is steep and awkward for any one that's not used to it. If either of the men were at home they could guide you, but they're all away to the fair at—"

"Tell me where this path is to be found," said Max, "and I'll go and have a look at it. I've walked so many miles to-day, that I'm not in the humour to add another to the number, if I can help it."

The woman gave him the necessary directions, coupling with them an assurance that he would find the longest route the safest; then shivering in the raw air of the cold spring evening, she went back to her cosy room; while Max, whistling a lively air, shouldered his little tarrying-bag, and strode to the edge of the cliffs, on whose summit the Abbey was built.

A tiny track, scarcely discernible by the fading light, sloped downwards betwixt two huge masses of serpentine rock; and after descending cautiously for some fifty paces, a sudden turn in the path enabled him to obtain a very pretty view of the beach far below him. He could hear the measured beat of the waves as they rolled in upon the shingle, and the voices of a half a dozen fishermen, who, as they strolled home together, were lustily chanting an old sea-song with excellent effect. Half unconsciously, Max Haverly hummed the chorus, as, mellowed by the distance, it came floating towards him, not a thought of danger troubling his hardy spirit while he pursued his way, and never doubting that every step was carrying him nearer and nearer to the lights that were beginning to twinkle in the fishers' dwellings.

But presently, to his great vexation, he found all further progress barred by a steep descent, so precipitous that it was impossible to obtain good hold. He had evidently contrived to diverge from the regular track, and must retrace his way to the spot where he had left it—no very pleasing prospect to a weary man, wholly unacquainted with the locality, and still further bewildered by the deepening gloom. Yet, unhesitatingly, Max plodded on, sometimes stumbling over the sharp crags, sometimes ascending, sometimes descending, till once more he stood on a projection, from which the beach and the sea were distinctly visible.

With an impatient sigh, he leaned his back against the cliff, and rested awhile. In spite of his dogged perseverance, he did not flatter himself that he had regained the track, and the question now was whether it would be easier to go down or up before it became too dark to accomplish either. It was decided for him more speedily than pleasantly. As he stepped forward to examine the face of the heights that towered above him, a stone, on which he had too incautiously stepped, rolled from under his foot, and Max lost his equilibrium. He tried hard to regain it, but so narrow was the ledge on which he had been standing, that it was impossible. Still he did not loose his presence of mind, but, as he rolled over and over, grasped at whatever might assist in breaking his fall, and finally contrived to clutch a mass of rock, to which he clung, bruised and panting, uttering hoarse cries for help, which no one heard but the wild birds his voice startled from their sleep.

It is not too late to do that now. Dear Uncle Dan, pray go and seek some one who will do my errand, and I will pay them handsomely!"

"Nay," said the other female; "Doctor Treloar must not come here; you are mad to propose it! Let the stranger be carried hence, if he must have further advice."

"What!" cried the girl, indignantly; jolted over miles of rough road in a cart, to die, perhaps on the way; or else consigned to the stifling hovel and rude hands of one of the fishwives! I will not hear of such barbarity! It was I who saw the stranger fall, as I ran to meet Uncle Dan; but for this, he might have lain helpless and untended till the morning; and having found him, it is plainly our duty to take care of him till he recovers, or—"

She could not bring her self to name the alternative; but her reasoning was not convincing to her companion, who answered with great significance.

"In ordinary cases I shall agree with you, but there are your own risks to be considered. Do you quite forget these?"

"I cannot always be thinking of myself!" was the hasty reply; "nor will I let any personal consideration teach me to be unfeeling."

The elder female commenced a tart response; but ere she had uttered half a dozen reproachful words, the old fisherman, who has designated himself as Daniel Calynaek, gravely interfered.

"Do 'ee be quiet! Esther, wench; there's no harm done by letting the child have her way, for the poor lad's almost at his last. Let 'un die in peace, my soas—let 'un die in peace!"

Max heard the girlish voice breath an inarticulate murmur, half sigh, half sob; and, in spite of his aches and pains, he longed to be able to relieve her of her generous anxiety on his account. If he could but shake off the numbing faintness that pervaded every sense, how gladly would he reassure her!

"Poor youth!" said the elder female, approaching his prostrate form, and speaking with more pity than she had hitherto evinced. "Dan is right; he will not trouble us much longer; he is dying."

"Indeed, I am not!" Max feebly ejaculated, the hollow, far-away sound of his own voice startling him. "I have had a nasty tumble, but I'm going to get over it."

There must have been something ludicrous in this assertion, or else in the effect it had upon the watchers, both of whom recoiled, startled and discomfited, for a burst of low, rippling laughter broke the silence that followed.

It was, however, instantly repressed; there was some whispering between the inmates of the cottage, and then, as Max began to dreamily gaze around, the elder female returned to the low pallet on which he had been laid, and firmly but gently pressed down the lids of his aching eyes.

"Not to-night," she said. "Carry the lamp in the other room, Uncle Dan, and then come and make your patient understand that he will grow feverish if he attempts to talk."

"But just let him tell us where his friends are to be found," Max heard the girl interpose. "He may have a mother, with whom we ought to communicate immediately. You are a stranger here, are you not sir?" she added, addressing herself to the sufferer. "Will, you give us the address of your relatives, that we may send for them? Where are they to be found?" she queried again, on receiving no answer.

"In heaven," said Max, confusedly. "Address did you say? Aquas Dolces, valley of the Sacramento!"

"He is delicious, my dearest child; do come away!" whispered the elder female; but Max distinctly felt a warm tear fall upon his cheek before her wishes were complied with, and he was left to the care of Daniel Calynaek, whoever that worthy individual might be.

cured ye out and out! The child went because Esther said it was best for her; and now ye meant ask me no more questions about her, for I shan't answer them! It's time ye had something to eat, and I mun go and cook it."

"I dare say old Dan is quite right" to keep his pretty niece out of my way." Max concluded; "for if she is as charming as she seemed to me when I was half delirious, I should certainly not be able to resist falling in love with her. Still I should like to see her at once again, if only to ascertain whether my eyes played me false when they pictured her so beautiful."

That she had not removed to any great distance he felt convinced, for every evening he heard the rustle of feminine garments, and the whispering of voices in the little kitchen adjoining his chamber; and dainty dishes were served up to him, as his appetite improved, which certainly surpassed old Dan's culinary skill to concoct. Yet neither the female called Esther, nor the gentle girl who had so generously compassionated his sufferings, came near him; and, having nothing else to do, he gave way more and more to the curiosity that tormented him.

(To be Continued.)

An Extraordinary Suicide.

A BROTHER'S INEFFECTUAL STRUGGLES.

As mentioned in Monday evening's edition, a joiner named Louis Lalumiere 48 years of age, jumped into the river at St. Mary's current, Montreal, and was drowned. The circumstances of this suicide are most remarkable. Deceased was a sufferer from epileptic fits, and getting into a despondent condition, went yesterday to his brother and said: "I am going to drown myself." The brother thought he was not altogether serious, but concluded to follow him. On seeing him enter St. Peters Church, in Visitation street (where deceased went to make his last prayer on earth), the brother thought all was right, and lost sight of him for a few minutes. However, he ceased on coming out of the church walked rapidly toward the river, but being seen by the brother, he was hastily pursued. The doomed man had reached the river side, and divested himself of his coat, hat, and boots, when the brother seized him by the arm. Then ensued a singular struggle as ever took place on terra firma. Desperately did the intending suicide twist and squirm to clear himself of his brother's grasp, and was gradually accomplishing his purpose. Seeing some men on a barge, the latter shouted in agony, "Help me; this man is going to throw himself into the water!" "Let me die," said the other, and before help could arrive he shook his brother off and plunged into the ice-cold waters. Mr. O. Desrochers, who was directing the unloading of a hay barge, promptly jumped in to a small boat, which was connected with the barge, and managed to get hold of the drowning man. However, he could not drag Lalumiere's body into the boat and, meantime, life had fled, for when the captain and engineer of steamer "St. Louis" came to Mr. Desrochers' help and pulled the body out of the water it was too late.

The Coroner held an inquest subsequently, and returned a verdict of "Suicide while in a state of mental aberration."

A laborer named Edward Todd, in the employ of Mr. Whitney, near Meaford, committed suicide last week. No reason assigned.

The clerical journals in Mexico are distinguishing themselves by their violent opposition to Diaz, and their extreme animosity against the United States, one journal going so far as to denounce the citizens of the neighboring Republic as the enemies of God.

The German Government are expected to ask permission of Parliament to contract a new loan of thirty-seven millions and a half, one-third of which is represented by the loss on the resumption of the gold currency.

EXPRESS.

THIRD

"Express" Job Rooms.

We are this week, giving extensive orders for a new assortment of

PLAIN AND FANCY JOB TYPE,

from the best Canadian and American Foundries, and will before the 25th inst., be in a position to turn out all classes of work in a style not to be surpassed by any office in the Province.

WE MAKE A SPECIALTY OF

FINE & COLORED WORK.

Prices Low. Give us a Call.

THE GREATEST NUMBER."

($1.00 per annum, if paid in advance.

AY, NOV. 30, 1877.

NO. 31.

made desperate efforts to raise him to the rock, but his arms had lost power, and one of his ankles gave exquisite pain. He could not hold on longer, unless some one came to him, and who would—nay, who could? It had been light enough for any the beach to desert him, it would seem impossible to render any assistance, for his wanderings had carried one of the most inaccessible parts of the cliffs.

yet he was so near one of the sea, a quaint little structure, perchance a small three-cornered bit of level and approached from the beach by a rudely-cut steps, that he could hear a female voice singing "The Sands." Strange thoughts were evoked by the plaintive song. Would any one remember him, as they sought for the haired Mary? Would his final place be those hungry waters, ceaseless lapping now sounded so near or would his mangled remains lie in some cleft of these darkly-cliffed, and no one ever learn his fate?

He burst from his labouring chest, made one more mighty effort to himself. Once on the summit of the rock, he would be in comparative safety until the morning dawned, and shout or signals would surely come one to the rescue; but the sea was in vain, and he felt that he was pining exhausted.

yet, oh, heavens! he was so young—and to die thus! He glanced at the stars were beginning to show the veil of night, and look down on him, as if in mockery, or to him resignation? He knew not, relaxing hands were slowly, surely, from their hold; he felt that he was sinking—as before, from crash to down, down in one swift rush; he remembered no more, but he was in a troubled vision, wherein he seemed in the primeval forests of a world, pursued by Indians, whose were being launched at his quivering.

His tormentors vanished, and he rose from the long trance of insensibility. But still those torturing pains in his head and limbs, forcing from him a moan of agony.

It was echoed by a feminine voice, to another, in sharper tones, murmured a rebuke; and then Max heard a low, in a low thrilling accents, "Do not help it! He suffers so illy, it tends my heart to see the child away," said someone in no fit sight for her."

"I'll not be taken away, Uncle," replied the sweet, girlish voice, was surely the same that Max had heard in the plaintive ballad. "How contented to leave him till he is dead!"

"Don't sit by so calmly! Surely I do something more for him?" said Max, child; but I cannot," said Mary. "And 'twouldn't be of no use. 'Tain't in nature that he live, after falling from Ruian; he must have done. I have set his leg—and let old Daniel Calynack or doing that as well as a town—and we can't do no more."

How time sped on for the following week or two he scarcely knew, for the injuries he had received in his fall were such serious ones that he was too ill to raise himself from his pillow. But he was conscious that a gray-haired, weather-beaten old man, in the rough garb of a fisherman, rarely left his side; and that once or twice a face, so far and sweet as to be almost angelic, had bent over him as he lay. But when the feverish symptoms disappeared, and though weak and helpless as a child, he was clear-headed and capable of conversing rationally once more, the cottage appeared to have no other inmate than the fisherman, who sat on a low stool at the foot of the bed, repairing one of his nets.

"I am afraid I have given you a great deal of trouble," said Max, the first time he felt equal to open a conversation with the silent but pleasant-looking old Cornishman.

"Nay, nay; not half so much as them dogfish, rot'em!" was the reply. "Look 'ee here, at the rents they have made in these meshes,—more nor I shall fill up in another hour, I knows."

"I'll buy you a new net, if you'll only put that down, and talk to me. I have so much to ask you," cried Max, eagerly.

"Talk away, lad, if it don't hurt 'ee; and keep your money in your pocket. I don't want to be paid for listening."

"Tell me, then, how long have I been here?"

Dan put his thumb against his teeth, and mused.

"Ever sin' last Friday was a week."

"And how and where did you discover me?"

"How?—why, doubled up. Where?—not a hundred yards from my own door. I should have passed ye, though, for I'd my oars and my nets on my shoulder—coming up, I was, from the boat—if she hadn't said—"

"Who is she?" interrupted Max.

"If she hadn't said," the old man repeated, "What's that a laying there, Uncle Dan?" And then—

"And then," his impatient hearer went on, "you brought me here, and have nursed me most kindly ever since. God bless you for it! But who was it that first saw me?"

Dan threaded his huge needle with coarse twine very deliberately before he replied.

"Well, if you have answered the question yourself, why need I? 'Tain't my grandmother nor my great aunts that calls me uncle."

"Then it was your niece to whom I am indebted. I should like to thank her. Where is she?"

"Gone back to where she came from."

"Then she does not live with you?" said the disappointed Max.

"Nows and then she do," was the brief answer.

"Is it because I am here that she has left you?"

"Ain't you a-talking more nor's good for you?" queried Dan, instead of replying to the question.

"If you think so why don't you answer me more directly? Is it on my account that your niece has quitted the cottage? If I am in the way—why I am trespassing too long on your hospitality—may

Agricultural.

Wintering Stock.

In a large portion of the stock growing States, the feeding season is from four to six months of the year. If, during this long period, we feed our stock so as to continue its growth, we shall realize a profit on our grain and fodder; whereas, if we merely "keep them through," as is the custom with too many farmers, we shall have no return for our outlay. If, for example, we have a lot of steers or pigs wintered in such a way that they have no gain whatever between the autumn and spring, it is obvious that we have added nothing whatever to their value, and that what we have fed them has been a clear loss. But the intelligent reader will not need to be told that a great many farmers winter their stock at a much more ruinous loss than this—that with no inconsiderable number of American farmers the practice is to allow stock to go into winter quarters—or, perhaps we should say, begin the winter without quarters—in good condition, and to come out in the spring so thin and emaciated that it requires nearly all the grazing season to regain the condition it had the previous fall. This, together with the inferior blood, accounts for the slow growth made by so large a portion of our cattle, requiring four or five years to make the weights—say 1,200—which good stock, on good keeping should make in two years. Twenty or thirty years ago, the management of pigs was no better. But now, in all our great stock-growing States, the large majority of farmers have swine of the improved breeds, and have learned that to make the business profitable the pig must be kept growing from its birth to the time it is slaughtered, which is now frequently as early as the age of ten months, and seldom later than a year and a half, instead of two or three years, as was the old practice. As swine are reared for the one purpose of producing meat, the importance of a system that will give us the most profitable returns in this product is more directly felt than in the case of cattle and sheep, that yield, in addition, milk and wool. But it is obvious that attention to the profits we make in the meat product is as important in the one case as the other. If we raise a steer, we have, as with the pig, but the one question—how much profit will the carcass yield.

With sheep, too, in all the varieties, especially on high-priced lands, the mutton is quite as important as the wool product; and it must not be forgotten that the best system for the profitable growth of wool is also the best for the production of mutton—we speak now of the feeding and management, and not of breeds.

But the great loss in the rearing of cattle results from bad management in the beginning. The calf does not get milk enough, and it is frequently put on poor grass; and by the beginning of winter it is lean, paunchy and out of shape. It is then put on straw, corn fodder or hay, and in the spring, at the age of twelve months, it weighs less than a good calf should at four months. It has besides an unthrifty habit established

Poetry.

My Girl.

A little corner with its crib,
A little mug, a spoon, a bib,
A little tooth so pearly white,
A little rubber ring to bite.

A little plate all lettered round,
A little rattle to resound,
A little creeping—see! she stands!
A little step 'twixt outstretched hands.

A little doll with flaxen hair,
A little willow rocking chair,
A little dress of richest hue,
A little pair of gaiters blue.

A little school day after day,
A little schoolman to obey,
A little study—soon 'tis past,
A little graduate at last.

A little muff for winter weather,
A little jockey hat and feather,
A little sack with funny pockets,
A little chain, a ring and locket.

A little while to dance and bow,
A little escort homeward now,
A little party, somewhat late,
A little lingering at the gate.

A little walk in leafy June,
A little talk while shines the moon,
A little reference to papa,
A little planning with mamma.

A little ceremony grave,
A little struggle to be brave,
A little cottage on the lawn,
A little kiss—my girl was gone!

John S. Adams, in St. Nicholas.

Varieties.

The Ass and the Angel.

B——, when years enough had passed to make him the father of a good sized family, received a visit from Dr. —, a specially congenial member of the old seminary class. Neither his own olive plants, nor the rather early grey hairs of his visitor, seemed to have touched the spirit of former days, and, like regular old boys, as they were, the two could not wait for toilets to be completed, the next morning, but began an old time run of jokes and nonsense through the bolted door that separated them. This went on successfully, until at last it struck B——'s youngest, peacefully waiting his turn in the cradle, as a mysterious and disorderly proceeding, and he began to signify his disapproval by an outcry that no parental effort could subdue.

"What's the matter with that baby?" called the doctor at last, his patience under the interruption beginning to give way.

"Oh, I don't know," drawled B——; "I suppose, like Paul, he hears a voice but sees no man. No—probably more like Balaam."

"Ah," retorted the doctor, "he sees the ass, but doesn't see the angel."

The laughter inside that room left the baby free to come in on any key he pleased for some indefinite time following.

"Not Prepared."

from their hold; he felt that he was not as before, from crag to t down, down in one swift rush; he remembered no more, but self is a troubled vision, wherein ered in the primeval forests of , pursued by Indians, whose ere being launched at his quiver- his tormentors vanished, and e from the long trance of insens- But still those torturing pains his head and limbs, forcing from an of agony.

echoed by a feminine voice, to nother, in sharper tones, mur- rebuke; and then Max heard ay, in a low thrilling accents, I not help it! He suffers so ly, it rends my heart to see the child away," said someone no fit sight for her." I'll not be taken away, Uncle replied the sweet, girlish voice, as surely the same that Max had igned the plaintive ballad. "How contented to leave him till he is. Don't sit by so calmly! Surely do something more for him?" nay, child; but I cannot," said nan. "And wouldn't be o' no ould. T'ain't in nature that he ive, after falling from Ruan he must ha' done. I ha' set his g—and let old Dannel Calynack doing that as well as a town —and we can't do no more." stand here and see him writhe ring! Oh! but it is too ter- ighed the girl. "Why did you et me send for Doctor Treloar; too late to do that now. Dear un, pray go and seek some one do my errand, and I will pay dsomely!" said the other female; "Doctor must not come here; you are ropose it! Let the stranger be ence, if he must have further

!" cried the girl, indignantly; or miles of rough road in a cart, rhaps on the way; or else con- the stifling hotel and rude one of the fishwives! I fear of such barbarity! It was e the stranger fall, as I ran to le Dan; but for this, he might helpless and untended till the ; and having found him, it is r duty to take care of him till rs, or—"

ld not bring her self to name ative; but her reasoning was ineing to her companion, who with great significance.

inary cases I shall agree with there are your own risks to be d. Do you quite forget these?" ot always be thinking of my- is the hasty reply; "nor will I ersonal consideration teach me to ing."

lder female commenced a tart ; but ere she had uttered half a roughful words, the old fisher- has designated himself as Dan- ack, gravely interferred.

be quiet! Esther, wench; there's done by letting the child have for the poor lad's a'most at his t'un die in peace, my soas—let peace!"

ard the girlish voice breath an- te murmur, half sigh, half sob; site of his aches and pains, he be able to relieve her of her anxiety on his account. If he shake off the numbing faintness aded every sense, how gladly reassure her!

youth!" said the elder female, ing his prostrate form, and with more pity than she had vined. "Dan is right; he will ble us much longer; he is d, I am not!" Max feebly ejacu- hollow, far-away sound of his startling him. "I have had a ble, but I'm going to get over must have been something ludi-

I should have passed ye, though, for I'd my oars and my nets on my shoulder—coming up, I was, fro' the boat—if she hadn't a said—"

"Who is she?" interrupted Max.

"If she hadn't a said," the old man repeated, "What's that a laying there, Uncle Dan?" And then—"

"And then," his impatient hearer went on, "you brought me h're, and have nursed me most kindly ever since. God bless you for it! But who was it that first saw me?"

Dan threaded his huge needle with coarse twine very deliberately before he replied.

"Well, if you ha' answered the question yoursen, why need I? Tain't my grand- nor my great aunts that calls me uncle!"

"Then it was your niece to whom I am indebted. I should like to thank her. Where is she?"

"Gone back to where she came from."

"Then she does not live with you?" said the disappointed Max.

"Nowa and thena she do," was the brief answer.

"Is it because I am here that she has left you?"

"Ain't you a-talking more nor's good for you?" queried Dan, instead of replying to the question.

"If you think so why don't you answer me more directly? Is it on my account that your niece has quitted the cottage? If I am in the way—if I am trespassing too long on your hospitality—pray tell me so at once!"

"Nay, lad," said Dan, coming to his bedside. "You're as welcome as a fair wind; and be loath to let ye go till I've cured ye out and out! The child went because Esther said it was best for her; and now ye meunt ask me no more questions about her, for I sha'n't answer them! It's time ye had something to eat, and I mun go and cook it."

"I dare say old Dan is quite right to keep his pretty niece out of my way." Max concluded; "for if she is as charming as she seemed to me when I was half delirious, I should certainly not be able to resist falling in love with her. Still I should like to see her at once again, if only to ascertain whether my eyes played me false when they pictured her so beautiful."

That she had not removed to any great distance he felt convinced, for every evening he heard the rustle of feminine garments, and the whispering of voices in the little kitchen adjoining his chamber; and dainty dishes were served up to him, as his appetite improved, which certainly surpassed old Dan's culinary skill to concoct. Yet neither the female called Esther, nor the gentle girl who had so generously compassionated his sufferings, came near him; and, having nothing else to do, he gave way more and more to the curiosity that tormented him.

(To be Continued.)

An Extraordinary Suicide.

A BROTHER'S INEFFECTUAL STRUGGLES.

As mentioned in Monday evening's edition, a joiner named Louis Lalumiere 48 years of age, jumped into the river at St. Mary's current, Montreal, and was drowned. The circumstances of this suicide are most remarkable. Deceased was a sufferer from epileptic fits, and getting into a despondent condition, went yesterday to his brother and said: "I am going to drown myself." The brother thought he was not altogether serious, but concluded to follow him. On seeing him enter St. Peter's Church, in Visitation street (where deceased went to make his last prayer on earth), the brother thought all was right, and lost sight of him for a few minutes. However, he ceased on coming out of the church walked rapidly toward the river, but being seen by the brother, he was hastily pursued. The doomed man had reached the river side, and divested himself of his coat, hat, and boots, when the brother seized him by the arm. Then ensued as singular a struggle as ever took place on terra firma. Desperately did the intending suicide twist and squirm to clear him-table the pig must be kept growing from its birth to the time it is slaughtered, which is now frequently as early as the age of ten months, and seldom later than a year and a half, instead of two or three years, as was the old practice. As swine are reared for the one purpose of producing meat, the importance of a system that will give us the most profitable returns in this product is more directly felt than in the case of cattle and sheep, that yield, in addition, milk and wool. But it is obvious that attention to the profits we make in the meat product is as important in the one case as the other. If we raise a steer, we have, as with the pig, but the one question—how much profit will the carcass yield.

With sheep, too, in all the varieties, especially on high-priced lands, the mutton is quite as important as the wool product; and it must not be forgotten that the best system for the profitable growth of wool is also the best for the production of mutton—we speak now of the feeding and management, and not of breeds.

But the great loss in the rearing of cattle results from bad management in the beginning. The calf does not get milk enough, and it is frequently put on poor grass; and by the beginning of winter it is lean, paunchy and out of shape. It is then put on straw, corn fodder or hay, and in the spring, at the age of twelve months, it weighs less than a good calf should at four months. It has besides, an unthrifty habit established, which usually continues through life. It will never be a good grower.

We wish to press the importance of this view of the case upon the attention of young farmers and breeders. Give attention to your calves. If well managed and of good blood, no farm stock will make more profitable returns; while, if of a bad sort, and badly kept, nothing can be more unprofitable.

A few years since we met a friend just returned from the East, where he had been to wind up his hog trade for the year. "Well," said he, "I am now done with the hog shipping business; for two or three years I made money—a good deal of money; now it is all gone, and I must go back to where I started." "Where is that?" we asked. "I must begin again with a calf," said my friend; "if you got a good one, and manage him right, he will never fail you. Sometimes the profit is only moderate, but it is always sure." As we have said elsewhere, many yearling steers have been sold this season at fifty dollars per head, and this has all resulted from the two important requisites of good blood and generous keep for the first twelve months of their lives.

Let us make the application. How do your calves look? Are they in good thrifty, stout condition to begin the winter? If not, we should loose no time and spare no expense to make them so. Oats and corn ground together are, perhaps, the best feed. Shelled corn is very good and young calves are very fond of it: to this may be added brans and shorts. If the calves are out of condition, or lousy, a little oil cake with bran is excellent. To kill the lice nothing is better than plenty of lard or other grease, with a little petroleum—if the weather is cold we must use more petroleum, say one-half. The great point we wish to press in these observations is, that all stock should be kept growing in winter as well as in summer; that if it is not kept growing, the food it consumes brings us no return—is a dead loss while it we add, say one-third or one-fourth to expense, we have a profit on the whole. This is more especially true, and more strikingly illustrated in the keeping of young stock the first winter, than in any subsequent period.—National Live Stock Journal.

Over-Governed Children.

A girl that is never allowed to sew, all of whose clothes are made for her and put on her, till she is 10, 12, 15, or 18 years of age, is spoiled. The mother has spoiled her by doing everything for her. The true idea of self-restraint is to let the child venture. A child's mistakes are often better than its no-mistakes; because when a child makes sized family, received a visit from Dr. —, a specially congenial member of the old seminary class. Neither his own olive plants, nor the rather early grey hairs of his visitor, seemed to have touched the spirit of former days, and, like regular old boys, as they were, the two could not wait for toilets to be completed, the next morning, but began an old time run of jokes and nonsense through the bolted door that separated them. This went on successfully, until at last it struck B's youngest, peacefully waiting his turn in the cradle, as a mysterious and disorderly proceeding, and he began to signify his disapproval by an outcry that no parental effort could subdue.

"What's the matter with that baby?" called the doctor at last, his patience under the interruption beginning to give way.

"Oh, I don't know," drawled B—; "I suppose, like Paul, he hears a voice but sees no man. No—probably more like Balaam."

"Ah," retorted the doctor, "he sees the ass, but doesn't see the angel."

The laughter inside that room left the baby free to come in on any key he pleased for some indefinite time following.

"Not Prepared."

It is customary with the students of our college to say "Not prepared," when called upon to recite a difficult and not well memorized passage. On a hot summer afternoon, in the year 18—, the class was sleepily stumbling through the introduction to Butler's Analogy. The reverend doctor was quite as familiar with the subject matter as with the numbers of chapters and sections, and had a way of his own for calling for a recitation, which sounded quite as much like a call to judgment as a call to recite. The lesson was going badly, and the doctor nestling in his chair, called out, "Mr. T., you may pass on to the 'Future Life.'"

Mr. T. was too much of a wag to let the opportunity slip, and promptly responded, "Not prepared."

The reader can easily imagine the effect on the risibles of the class.

When he was a young man he rushed in a burning building and gallantly dragged her out by the hair of the head. They were married the next winter, and now she rushes in and drags him out whenever she feels like it. Such is true love.

In a discussion in a Board of Aldermen, while they were debating a proposition to supply a new style of lamp posts, one member got up and innocently remarked that he, for one, had always found the old ones "good enough to stand by."

A fair and buxom New York widow, who had buried three husbands, recently went with a gentleman who, in his younger days, had paid her marked attentions, to inspect the graves of her dear departed. After contemplating them in mournful silence, she murmured to her companion: "Ah, James, you might have been in that row now if you had only had a little more courage."

During one of the college vacations Daniel Webster and his brother returned to their father's in Salisbury. Thinking he had a right to some return for the money he had expended on their education, the father put scythes into their hands and ordered them to mow. Daniel made a few sweeps and then resting his scythe, wiped the sweat from his brow. His father said, "What's the matter, Dan?" "My scythe don't hang right, sir," he answered. His father fixed it, and Dan went to work my errand, and I will pay you for it!"

"said the other female; "Doctor, you must not come here; you are opposed to it! Let the stranger be gone, if he must have further

"cried the girl, indignantly; miles of rough road in a cart, traps on the way; or else, the stifling hotel and rude one of the fishwives! I was of such barbarity! It was the stranger fall, as I ran to the Dan; but for this, he might be helpless and untended, till the day and having found him, it is my duty to take care of him till his, or—"

"I do not bring her self to name it; but her reasoning was nothing to her companion, who with great significance,

"in any case I shall agree with you here are your own risks to be taken. Do you quite forget these?"

"I always be thinking of myself; the hasty reply; "nor will I let any consideration teach me to neglect."

"The female commenced a tart but ere she had uttered half a word, the old fisher has designated himself as Dan, and, gravely interferred.

"be quiet! Esther, wench; there's one by letting the child have the poor lad's a most at his side in peace, my soas—let peace!"

"The girlish voice breath an e murmur, half sigh, half sob; te of his aches and pains, he was able to relieve her of her anxiety on his account. If he shake off the numbing faintness, and every sense, how gladly reassure her!

"outh!" said the elder female, with his prostrate form, and with more pity than she had vinced. "Dan is right; he will be us much longer; he is

"I am not!" Max feebly ejaculated, far-away sound of his startling him. "I have had a ble, but I'm going to get over

"must have been something ludicrous in his assertion, or else in the id upon the watchers, both of siled, startled and discomfited, of low, rippling laughter broke that followed.

"however, instantly repressed; some whispering between the cottage, and then, as Max reamly gaze around, the elder urred to the low pallet on had been laid, and firmly but seed down the lids of his aching

"night," she said. "Carry the e other room, Uncle Dan, and make your patient under- t he will grow feverish is he o talk."

"ust let him tell us where his o be found," Max heard the ose. "He may have a mother, m we ought to communi- diately. You are a stranger ou not sir?" she added, address- f to the sufferer. "Will, you address of your relatives, that send for them? Where are found?" she queried again, on to answer.

"even," said Max, confusedly. did you say? Aquas Dolces, he Sacramento!"

"delicious, my dearest child; do, I," whispered the elder female; distinctly felt a warm tear fall heek before her wishes were with, and he was left to the Daniel Calynack, whoever that diydial might be.

"and now ye meant ask me no more questions about her, for I shan't answer them! It's time ye had something to eat, and I mun go and cook it."

"I dare say old Dan is quite right to keep his pretty niece out of my way," Max concluded; "for if she is as charming as she seemed to me when I was half delirious, I should certainly not be able to resist falling in love with her. Still I should like to see her at once again, if only to ascertain whether my eyes played me false when they pictured her so beautiful."

That she had not removed to any great distance he felt convinced, for every evening he heard the rustle of feminine garments, and the whispering of voices in the little kitchen adjoining his chamber; and dainty dishes were served up to him, as his appetite improved, which certainly surpassed old Dan's culinary skill to concoct. Yet neither the female called Esther, nor the gentle girl who had so generously compassionated his sufferings, came near him; and, having nothing else to do, he gave way more and more to the curiosity that tormented him.

(To be Continued.)

An Extraordinary Suicide.

A BROTHER'S INEFFECTUAL STRUGGLES.

As mentioned in Monday evening's edition, a joiner named Louis Lalumiere 48 years of age, jumped into the river at St. Mary's current, Montreal, and was drowned. The circumstances of this suicide are most remarkable. Deceased was a sufferer from epileptic fits, and getting into a despondent condition, went yesterday to his brother and said: "I am going to drown myself." The brother thought he was not altogether serious, but concluded to follow him. On seeing him enter St. Peter's Church, in Visitation street (where deceased went to make his last prayer on earth), the brother thought all was right, and lost sight of him for a few minutes. However, deceased on coming out of the church walked rapidly toward the river, but being seen by the brother, he was hastily pursued. The doomed man had reached the river side, and divested himself of his coat, hat, and boots, when the brother seized him by the arm. Then ensued as singular a struggle as ever took place on terra firma. Desperately did the intending suicide twist and squirm to clear himself of his brother's grasp, and was gradually accomplishing his purpose. Seeing some men on a barge, the latter shouted in agony, "Help me; this man is going to throw himself into the water!" "Let me die," said the other, and before help could arrive he shook his brother off and plunged into the ice-cold waters. Mr. O. Desrosiers, who was directing the unloading of a hay barge, promptly jumped into a small boat, which was connected with the barge, and managed to get hold of the drowning man. However, he could not drag Lalumiere's body into the boat and, meantime, life had fled, for when the captain and engineer of steamer "St. Louis" came to Mr. Desrosiers' help and pulled the body out of the water it was too late.

The Coroner held an inquest subsequently, and returned a verdict of "Suicide while in a state of mental aberration."

A laborer named Edward Todd, in the employ of Mr. Whitney, near Meaford, committed suicide last week. No reason assigned.

The clerical journals in Mexico are distinguishing themselves by their violent opposition to Diaz, and their extreme animosity against the United States, one journal going so far as to denounce the citizens of the neighboring Republic as the enemies of God.

The German Government are expected to ask permission of Parliament to contract a new loan of thirty-seven millions and a half, one-third of which is represented by the loss on the resumption of the gold currency.

and of good blood, no farm stock will make more profitable returns; while, if of a bad sort, and badly kept, nothing can be more unprofitable.

A few years since we met a friend just returned from the East, where he had been to wind up his hog trade for the year. "Well," said he, "I am now done with the hog shipping business; for two or three years I made money—a good deal of money; now it is all gone, and I must go back to where I started." "Where is that?" we asked. "I must begin again with a calf," said my friend; "if you got a good one, and manage him right, he will never fail you. Sometimes the profit is only moderate, but it is always sure." As we have said elsewhere, many yearling steers have been sold this season at fifty dollars per head, and this has all resulted from the two important requisites of good blood and generous keep for the first twelve months of their lives.

Let us make the application. How do your calves look? Are they in good thrifty, stout condition to begin the winter? If not, we should lose no time and spare no expense to make them so. Oats and corn ground together are, perhaps, the best feed. Shelled corn is very good and young calves are very fond of it: to this may be added brans and shorts. If the calf is out of condition, or lousy, a little oil cake with bran is excellent. To kill the lice nothing is better than plenty of lard or other grease, with a little petroleum—if the weather is cold we must use more petroleum, say one-half. The great point we wish to press in these observations is, that all stock should be kept growing in winter as well as in summer; that if it is not kept growing, the food it consumes brings us no return—is a dead loss while if we add say one-third or one-fourth to expense, we have a profit on the whole. This is more especially true, and more strikingly illustrated in the keeping of young stock the first winter, than in any subsequent period.—National Live Stock Journal.

Over-Governed Children.

A Girl that is never allowed to sew, all of whose clothes are made for her and put on her, till she is 10, 12, 15, or 18 years of age, is spoiled. The mother has spoiled her by doing everything for her. The true idea of self-restraint is to let the child venture. A child's mistakes are often better than its no-mistakes; because when a child makes mistakes, and has to correct them, it is on the way toward knowing something. A child that is waked up, every morning and never wakes himself up; and is dressed, and never makes mistakes in dressing himself; and is washed, and never makes mistakes about being clean; and is fed, and never has anything to do with its food; and is watched, and never watches himself; and is cared for, and kept all day from doing wrong—such a child might as well be a tall, low candle, perfectly straight, and solid, and comely, and unvital, and good for nothing but to be burned up.—BEECHER.

Family Matters.

TO REMOVE GREASE FROM MARBLE.—Take French chalk, reduce it to powder, dust it over the spot, and then hold a hot flat-iron very near to it. This will soften the grease, while the chalk will absorb it.

HEADACHE.—People who suffer much from headache will do well to ascertain whether it may not arise from short-sightedness, or far-sightedness, or other defects in the eyes which cause continual irritation to the nerves. Relief from frequent and severe headaches is sometimes obtained by wearing spectacles suited to the eye of the sufferer.

Great destitution is anticipated among the Newfoundland settlers in Anticosti this winter, and applications for relief have been made to both the Dominion and Quebec Governments. The matter, however, lies entirely within the province of the latter.

A Constantinople despatch says: A doubtful rumor was current on Saturday night that Osman Pasha had forced the Russian lines.

18—The class was sleepily stumbling through the introduction to Butler's Analogy. The reverend doctor was quite as familiar with the subject matter as with the numbers of chapters and sections, and had a way of his own for calling for a recitation, which sounded quite as much like a call to judgment as a call to recite. The lesson was going badly, and the doctor nestling in his chair, called out, "Mr. T, you may pass on to the 'Future Life.'"

Mr. T. was too much of a wag to let the opportunity slip, and promptly responded, "Not prepared."

The reader can easily imagine the effect on the risibles of the class.

When he was a young man he rushed in a burning building and gallantly dragged her out by the hair of the head. They were married the next winter, and now she rushes in and drags him out whenever she feels like it. Such is true love.

In a discussion in a Board of Aldermen, while they were debating a proposition to supply a new style of lamp posts, one member got up and innocently remarked that he, for one, had always found the old ones "good enough to stand by."

A fair and buxom New York widow, who had buried three husbands, recently went with a gentleman who, in his younger days, had paid her marked attentions, to inspect the graves of her dear departed. After contemplating them in mournful silence, she murmured to her companion: "Ah, James, you might have been in that row now if you had only had a little more courage."

During one of the college vacations Daniel Webster and his brother returned to their father's in Salisbury. Thinking he had a right to some return for the money he had expended on their education, the father put scythes into their hands and ordered them to mow. Daniel made a few sweeps and then resting his scythe, wiped the sweat from his brow. His father said, "What's the matter, Dan?" "My scythe don't hang right, sir," he answered. His father fixed it, and Dan went to work again, but with no better success. Something was wrong with the scythe, and it was not long before it wanted fixing again, and the father said in a pet: "Well, hang it to suit yourself." Daniel, with great composure, hung it in the next tree and retired.

A Box Containing $6,000 Stolen.

An extensive robbery occurred about 9 miles from Carleton Place yesterday. An old man, named Samuel Ruttel, lived with his family near Ennisville, and has always borne the reputation of being a miser, and it was generally supposed that he had considerable wealth concealed somewhere about his house. This morning, at the time mentioned, three men entered Ruttel's dwelling and went straight to his bed, from underneath which they pulled a box about two feet long, containing $6,000 in cash of all denominations, including $1,500 in silver coin. The old man was scared into making no resistance by the men firing three revolver shots in the house, and having secured their booty took it to a buggy and drove off, after firing two more shots. A son of Ruttel's followed the buggy for some distance, but finally gave up the chase, as he was afraid of the pistol. The police are on the track, but at yet have discovered no clue.

The City Council, Chamber of Commerce, and Inspectors' Association of Halifax are taking steps to endeavor to secure an arrangement by which that city shall be made the winter port for the imports and exports of the west in so far as the Allan line of steamers is concerned.

P. ROWELL & Co.,
40 PARK ROW, NEW YORK,
—AND—
ROWELL & CHESMAN,
ST. LOUIS.
AGENTS for the "NAPANEE EXPRESS", Napane, Ont.

IMPROVEMENTS.

Some weeks since we stated that we had under consideration several proposed changes in connection with the EXPRESS, which would not only increase its value as a home paper, but add to our facilities for the prompt filling of orders for job work, etc. Although these improvements are not fully completed, still we have made some additions to which we wish to call the attention of our friends and the public.

STEAM.

During the present week we have had placed in the office a boiler and engine of sufficient power to run our three presses. This we have now in complete working order, and the EXPRESS is this week run off by steam for the first time, with the exception of a few weeks during Mr. Carman's time. The machinery was built for the office some years ago, by Mr. Mair, of Napane, and under his supervision it has now been placed in the office. That it does its work well, is fully attested by the clear print of our present issue. We have also secured a large lot of

NEW TYPE, A NEW HEADING, etc., for the newspaper, which will add considerable to its appearance, besides a large lot for the job office. These have been selected with great care from the best Canadian and American Foundries with a special view to introducing something new, useful and attractive, and we believe it is idle boast to say that with these additions we have facilities for turning out work as neatly and readily as any office in the Province. Our stock of

PAPER AND CARDS

has been greatly enlarged by excellent samples. We have procured several novelties which only need to be seen by advertisers and others to be appreciated. We can now with confidence solicit a call, feeling assured that we can give entire satisfaction as to style and price. Call and see our samples.

THE EXPRESS.

NAPANEE, NOV. 30th, 1877.

GRAND LODGE I. O. G. T.

T. W. CASEY, ESQ., UNANIMOUSLY ELECTED
—NEXT SESSION TO BE HELD IN NAPANE—ANEE—G. W. C. T.

A special telegram from London, announces that T. W. Casey, Esq., was yesterday unanimously re-elected

THE FISHERIES AWARD.

After months of patient and searching investigation, the Commission appointed under the Treaty of Washington, to adjudicate the amount due Great Britain, or rather Canada, by the United States, for the privilege of fishing in Canadian waters, has reached a decision. Verdict has been rendered, although not unanimous, that our American neighbors shall pay the sum of $5,500,000 into the Treasury of this Dominion for the above privilege during ten years. Nearly five years of this time has already passed since the privilege was granted. That this is a fair remuneration is pretty generally conceded throughout Canada, the press of the Maritime Provinces, with but few exceptions, accepting the decision as fair and just. Across the line, however, the verdict is accepted with an ill-concealed feeling of irritation, and the American Commissioner having dissented from the decision, hints of an attempt to evade the verdict, by taking advantage of a quibble in the article of the Treaty of Washington, are in circulation. The clause providing that the decision of a majority of the Commissioners shall be final, which was inserted in the sections referring to the settlement of other disputed points, is omitted in this case, and this, it is broadly hinted by some American journals, will be taken advantage of to upset the whole proceedings. Some of the more influential papers scoff at an action so dishonourable, but our experience in dealing with the Americans unfortunately is not such as to allay suspicion of their national trickery. We may thank our Canadian High Joint—Sir John Macdonald—that this loop-hole has been left in the Treaty, that while all other interests were looked after by the Commission, that distinguished statesman allowed Canada to be left at the mercy of American politicians. We still hope, however, that our neighbors will have more honesty and respect for their good name than to perform such a disgraceful piece of political huckstering, and refuse to take advantage of the confidence so innocently reposed in them by Canada's model statesman.

THE O'DONAHUE CASE.

Conservatives throughout the country during the past year have been grieving over the delinquency of the government in refusing to grant amnesty to O'Donahue, one of the ringleaders of the Manitoba rebellion. This act of clemency on the part of the Crown has now been performed and a review of the proclamation will be found in another column. Now that a pardon has been granted, however, Tories give another illustration of how hard they are to please by suddenly changing their tactics and charge the granting of it at this particular time as a desperate effort on the part of the Government to secure the Catholic vote in Quebec East. But it is shown that the granting of the amnesty was enacted on the 20th of September, fully two weeks before a contest in Quebec East was even thought of. Anything to hide their chagrin, however, at seeing another brick knocked from under their structure of complaints, and they affect to disbelieve that the order was passed until long after the day mentioned. Their howl of indignation, or disappointment, at the quiet

THE FINANCE MINISTER BEFORE HIS CONSTITUENTS.

Full Report of Mr. Cartwright's Speech at Napane.

[CONTINUED FROM FOURTH PAGE.]

Knowing Sir John Macdonald as I do; knowing that he has always prided himself on being able (and willing) to sell every human being, man woman, or child, with whom he ever came in contact, I cannot fail to realize the deep-seated admiration which he must entertain for me after all in his secret heart, if only this compliment was true. (Laughter.) But, Sir, I really cannot accept it. Sir John Macdonald makes a slight mistake. When he said I had "sold" him, what he meant to say was that I had "known" him all along, and that was the true sore point in his mind. (Laughter.) That is my unforgivable sin—that Sir John is beginning to comprehend that I saw through him at a very early stage of our acquaintance. Able as he is, it was not very difficult to do so. I doubt if I had spent as much as two evenings in his company before I had made up my mind that I had to do with a very clever and very agreeable rascal. (Hear, hear, and laughter.) I remember very well a very amusing discussion which once took place in my presence relative to Sir John Macdonald, shortly after he first became Premier, at which time there was some speculation as to how he would demean himself under the weight of his new dignity; one party opining that, now at least, John A. would turn over a new leaf, and "purge and live cleanly, as noblemen should do," and the other, a very shrewd old lady, as stoutly affirming that it was no use talking, because, as she put it tersely, "Don't tell me, I know better; John A. will never grow either stupid or respectable—if he lives to the age of Methusalem." (Laughter and cheers.) Sir, I am very much of the old lady's opinion; and I must say that although I sometimes admired his cleverness and sometimes was disgusted with his scampishness, I never once made the mistake of trusting Sir John one inch further than I could see him. (Laughter.) Now I don't mean to say I may not have been mistaken in him. It is quite possible that I may always have thought better of him than he deserved; but as you know, it is always desirable to err on the side of charity, and I am inclined to think that he was not altogether bad in those early days, though to tell the truth, Mr. Chairman, I did come to look upon him as a sort of human chameleon, who would take his colour from his surroundings and the ground on which he moved, being sometimes black—sometimes white—sometimes orange—and sometimes green, latterly, I fear, very muddy and miry in his hue and habits. (Loud laughter.) Speaking without metaphor, I believe that Sir John, if surrounded and restrained by strong and able men, who understood him and who did not fear him, possesses qualities which might have made him a valuable public servant, although he would always have remained a tricky and dangerous one. But I believe, also, that if his evil fortune should place him among a set of weaklings or boon companions, his downward career would be both swift and certain. (Hear, hear.) One thing more. Sir John is good enough to evince a tender anxiety for my future. This is truly benevolent on his part. For myself, I am content that my future should take care of itself; but I may tell him that on one point I had made up my mind long ago. I dare say some of you remember a rather famous article which appeared in the Globe newspaper a good many years back, wherein Mr. Brown wound up a very pungent survey of Sir John Macdonald by remarking that his political career could be very easily traced by the

God he could catch Riel," after he himself supplied Monsieur Riel with money out of the public chest to enable him to get out of the way? (Hear, hear.) What, I say, Sir, can his best friends or feel but the most profound regret that any man who has filled so high a place should stoop to shifts so small and mean as these? And now let me ask you: what has Sir John gained by all this? regards myself, his attack on me has merely drawn down upon him exposure which I would fain have spared, and further persisted in may very probably result in others of a still more unpleasant character. All through he has played my game. He played it when he came here in 1873. He played it the other day when he took part in his grand demonstration over yonder, and nothing could well have done would have suited me better in either case. One word more as to an assertion I made last year, which was rather hotly denied by the Opposition press. I intimated that Sir John dare not at present attempt to claim his English Privy-councillorship. That statement was disputed. But he has come from his own mouth pretty substantial evidence that he knows it is so for him to proceed to England on the errand until he can show in the most decisive manner that the people of Canada have condoned his offenses. Here is an answer to a question put to him the other day as to why he did not go to England and be sworn in:—"That was his own business, he might say. In the first place he was short of money, and could not afford to go for a pleasure trip to England. In the second, he proposed to wait till after the elections, and then he would present himself not only as a British subject, a member of the Washington Commission, but as a member of the Canadian Government." Now need I point out to you what a tower of strength it would be for Sir John in the coming election, if he could only first go to England and succeed in getting himself sworn and recognized as a Privy Councillor. (Hear.) No one knows it better than Sir John himself; yet he is ready to let seven years go by soon than risk being told that Her Majesty has no need of his advice in such capacity. Sir, I have grave doubts, even if I were restored to power, whether I would not find it advisable to restrain my ardour still longer. I happen to know something of the opinion entertained by him by not a few prominent Englishmen and I doubt much if either those who were with him at Washington or those who became acquainted with his doings in London in 1867, not to speak of persons who were familiarly acquainted with his grave misconduct at the time of the first visit of the Prince of Wales to this country in 1860 would have much to say for Sir John which would not bring a blush to the cheek of every true Canadian. (Hear, hear.) Should Sir John persist further on my patience, I give him the formal challenge, and it is not the first time I have exchanged with him. (Hear, hear.) But he will bear in mind that I will not reply from his followers or his parasites. My challenge is to him alone, and I have to tell him that if he so desires, I am ready to confront him anywhere here, or before his own constituents, on the floor of the House of Commons and then and there, if he likes to provoke the fray, I am ready to compare my public life with his, my private life with his, my services to the public with those which he can justly lay claim as his own, or even the genuine bona fide sacrifices which each of us may have made. (Hear, hear, and cheers.) And on this point I must say a word or two. Always as far back as I can remember, Sir John has been pleased, with what I consider very questionable taste, to make loud parade of his pecuniary sacrifices in the public service. I do not dispute the fact that politics is anything but a lucrative samples. We have procured several novelties which only need to be seen by advertisers and others to be appreciated. We can now with confidence solicit a call, feeling assured that we can give entire satisfaction as to style and price. Call and see our samples.

THE EXPRESS.

NAPANEE, NOV. 30th, 1877.

GRAND LODGE I. O. G. T.

T. W. CASEY, ESQ., UNANIMOUSLY ELECTED
—NEXT SESSION TO BE HELD IN NAP-AÑEE—G. W. C. T.

A special telegram from London, announces that T. W. Casey, Esq., was yesterday unanimously re-elected G. W. Secretary of the Grand Lodge of Canada, I. O. G. T., for the ninth time. We heartily congratulate friend Casey on the fact that his services are so highly appreciated, that after eight years trial no opposition is offered him. The next session of the Grand Lodge is to be held in Napanee. Brother Botterell of Ottawa, has been elected G. W. C. T., for the ensuing year.

VICTORY IN QUEBEC EAST.

HON. MR. LAURIER ELECTED BY A MAJORITY OF 316.

(By Special Telegram to the Express, per Montreal Line.)

NOVEMBER, 29th.

Polling in Quebec East yesterday, passed off very quietly. Battery B. was marched to Jacques Cartier Hall, where they remained under arms during the day. With the exception of a slight disturbance in the morning, no violence took place. Both parties worked hard all day, and although Mr. Laurier's friends were confident of success, they feared the unscrupulous opposition with which they had to contend, would make the majority a close one. As will be shown by the statement below, a large vote was polled, and Mr. Laurier and his friends are to be congratulated on the very handsome victory, which clearly shows that the much talked of reaction has not touched Quebec at least. When the result became known, Mr. Laurier addressed a large multitude of electors from the balcony of his Committee Rooms, and the greatest enthusiasm prevailed at his success. One of the ballot boxes was stolen by a crowd of roughs, as the returning officer was leaving the poll, and has not yet been recovered.

Poll	Laurier,	Tourangeau,
1	58	32
2	86	42
3	71	49
4	56	31
5	57	40
6	79	62
7	60	37
8	77	51
9	53	38
10	60	40

Conservatives throughout the country during the past year have been grieving over the delinquency of the government in refusing to grant amnesty to O'Donohue, one of the ringleaders of the Manitoba rebellion. This act of clemency on the part of the Crown has now been performed and a review of the proclamation will be found in another column. Now that a pardon has been granted, however, Tories give another illustration of how hard they are to please by suddenly changing their tactics and charge the granting of it at this particular time as a desperate effort on the part of the Government to secure the Catholic vote in Quebec East. But it is shown that the granting of the amnesty was enacted on the 20th of September, fully two weeks before a contest in Quebec East was even thought of. Anything to hide their chagrin, however, at seeing another brick knocked from under their structure of complaints, and they affect to disbelieve that the order was passed until long after the day mentioned. Their howl of indignation, or disappointment, at the quiet manner in which the matter has been disposed of, is echoed from one end of the Dominion to the other in every petty organ of the party. The Montreal Gazette leads off by endeavoring to show that on the 20th there was not a quorum of the Council present at Ottawa, inasmuch as all but four of the Ministers of the Crown were absent from the city. As a matter of fact, however, by Sir John's own regulations, four Ministers compose a quorum, and at no time since the Mackenzie Government assumed the reins of power has there not been a quorum of the Council present at Ottawa. It is only natural to suppose too that the whole matter had been fully discussed and decided upon long before the particular sitting at which the order was passed. Regarding the complaint of the seeming delay with which the proclamation was issued, and which Tory leaders flatly assert is proof positive that the Order was not passed at the time specified, they must know that the consent of the Imperial authorities is absolutely necessary before such an act of clemency could possibly be consummated, and that such concurrence could only be obtained after the passing of the Order in Council. Hence the delay which seems so vague and suspicious to the minds of those gentlemen, who can only be convinced against their will, is shown to be perfectly natural and unavoidable. That the whole transaction was carried out fairly and above board, cannot be disputed, but these gentry whose very existence is bound up in scenting afar deeds of corruption and malpractice, are hard to convince that any business could possibly be transacted without underhanded scheming. With the exception of those who have been wont to make capital out of it by stirring up religious feelings between the different nationalities in our land, all will be glad that this unfortunate affair has been so quietly settled. Mr. O'Donohue can now return to Canada with perfect safety and his friends will no longer feel that he is a persecuted man.

Our contemporary, the Standard, is hard to satisfy and devotes a half column this week again in its endeavor to disprove, or mystify the public into disbelieving, our charge that the Liberal Conservative Association, in blindly pledging itself to support the nominee of an Association, deliberately gave away their liberty of franchise. That they did days, though to tell the truth. Mr. Chairman, I did come to look upon him as a sort of human chameleon, who would take his colour from his surroundings and the ground on which he moved, being sometimes black—sometimes white—sometimes orange—and sometimes green, latterly, I fear, very muddy and miry in his hue and habits. (Loud laughter.) Speaking without metaphor, I believe that Sir John, if surrounded and restrained by strong and able men, who understood him and who did not fear him, possesses qualities which might have made him a valuable public servant, although he would always have remained a tricky and dangerous one. But I believe, also, that if his evil fortune should place him among a set of weaklings or boon companions, his downward career would be both swift and certain. (Hear, hear.) One thing more, Sir John is good enough to evince a tender anxiety for my future. This is truly benevolent on his part. For myself, I am content that my future should take care of itself; but I may tell him that on one point I had made up my mind long ago. I dare say some of you remember a rather famous article which appeared in the Globe newspaper a good many years back, wherein Mr. Brown wound up a very pungent survey of Sir John Macdonald by remarking that his political career could be very easily traced by the tombstones of his slaughtered friends. Now, I am quite ready to face my political doom as soon as ever you please in a worthy cause, but I was fully resolved that when my time came it should not be inscribed over my grave:—"Here repose the political remains of one Richard John Cartwright, who was once a youth of some promise, but who trusted Sir John Macdonald and perished in the general election of 187—." (as the case might have been.) (Laughter.) I observed, Sir, with some surprise, that Sir John has introduced a question as to his own veracity. All I can say is that Sir John is fearfully indiscreet in mooted such a question. But as he has chosen to make it an issue in this discussion, let us see what sort of a record he possesses. Here are a few of his "veracities." He declares in one speech "that he never indulges in personalities." Well, Sir, one lives and learns. Up to this time, in common with most of those who have ever heard or read Sir John's speeches, I was in the habit of supposing that he was nothing if not personal. I did imagine that the application to myself, for instance, of the following descriptive epithets: "Traitor," "apostate," "bungler," "fool," "rotten stick," "no gentleman," and the further describing me as a man who had "sold his constituency, sold his family honour, sold himself, sold him" (Sir John), and, "as one who had been guilty of the basest treachery, the basest ingratitude, and had acted from the most sordid motives of any man whom he had ever known;" the application to Mr. Mills of the title of "little animal;" to Mr. Casey of "whipper-snapper;" to Mr. Colin Macdougall, of parliamentary gorilla;" the stating that Mr. Scott had been "bought like a beast in the market;" the advice to Mr. Robinson "to go back to his paint pots," and divers other little pleasing allusions of the character, might have been considered as slightly personal. (Laughter.) But, as Sir John has formally declared that he never indulges in personalities, I suppose I am bound by parliamentary etiquette, not indeed exactly to believe what he says, but to believe that he believes what he states to be correct. (Laughter.) On the same hypothesis Mr. Chairman, I presume we are to account for the assertion that "he never appointed one of his own colleagues to offices of emolument," although some people have considered that the facts that Mr. Howland was made Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario, Mr. Macdougall of Manitoba, and Mr. Archibald of Manitoba and Judge and Lieutenant-Governor of Nova Scotia, Mr. Morris Judge and Lieutenant-Governor of Manitoba, Mr. Howe Lieutenant-Governor of Nova Scotia, Mr. Tilley Lieutenant-Governor of New Brunswick, and Messrs. Dunkin and Macdonald Judges in their own Provinces, slightly militate against the perfect accuracy of that assertion: as became acquainted with his doings in London in 1867, not to speak of persons who were familiarly acquainted with his grave misconduct at the time of the first visit of the Prince of Wales to this country in 1860 would have much to say of Sir John which would not bring a blush to the cheek of every true Canadian. (Hear, hear.) Should Sir John presume further on my patience, I give him this formal challenge, and it is not the first I have exchanged with him. (Hear, hear.) But he will bear in mind that I will take no reply from his followers or his parasites. My challenge is to him alone, and I have to tell him that if he so desire I am ready to confront him anywhere, here, or before his own constituents, or on the floor of the House of Commons, and then and there, if he likes to provoke the fray, I am ready to compare my public life with his, my private life with his, my services to the public with those to which he can justly lay claim as his own, aye, or even the genuine bona fide sacrifices which each of us may have made. (Hear, hear, and cheers.) And on this point I must say a word or two. Always, as far back as I can remember, Sir John has been pleased, with what I consider very questionable taste, to make loud parade of his pecuniary sacrifices in the public service. I do not dispute the fact that politics is anything but a lucrative occupation, and that for two reasons. First, because, as a rule, it completely absorbs the most vigorous and profitable years of a man's life; and, secondly, because it always breeds in a man's mind a spirit of indifference to his own individual private affairs. Still, you must remember that it is, at any rate at first, a matter of voluntary choice on the part of those who devote themselves to that pursuit, and that it has its own compensations as well as privations. Neither can I admit that it is in any case a ground for whining or complaining if men find that they cannot attend to politics and make money at one and the same time. Sir, I can tell Sir John that if, as I do not doubt, he has not found politics per se a very money-making occupation, he is far from singular in his experience, and that I can put my finger to-day on half a dozen men sitting round our Council board, of any one of whom it might be truly said that he has made, and is making, larger pecuniary sacrifices than ever Sir John made, or indeed had the power to make; and further, that the same is true of a great many others in the ranks of both his own party and of ours. Nay, more, if he will have the plain truth—and this ceaseless parade of his sacrifices deserves that it should be stated—I say for my part, and I have good grounds for my assertion, that I very strongly suspect after all said and done, that Sir John Macdonald is to-day far better provided for than he would probably have been had he never touched politics at all; and if he likes to dispute this statement, I will be prepared to give my reasons in some detail. (Hear, hear.) But, say some of you, be this as it may, Sir John Macdonald after all is the Conservative leader, and we are bound to support him. Sir, I say that Sir John Macdonald's pretence of any rightful claim to the allegiance of any true Conservative, or true Conservative party as a whole, is the merest usurpation. (Hear, hear.) Conservative is an honourable name in itself, and Conservatism of the right sort is a right good thing. No true statesman, by whatever name he may be called, will ever underrate the value of a Conservative element. No state has ever yet become great and staple without a large amount of wholesome Conservatism. Nor do I myself know any man whose whole cast of mind in many important respects is more truly and philosophically Conservative than my friend Mr. Blake's; of any whose instincts in all important points are more soundly Conservative than Mr. Alexander Mackenzie's, without the smallest detriment to any other qualities which either of them may possess; and I say, further, that you will find very little indeed in Sir John Macdonald of the cardinal qualities which should mark a true Conservative leader. (Hear, hear.) When, indeed, I should like to know, did Sir John in all his life ever lead a Con-

so highly appreciated, that after eight years trial no opposition is offered him. The next session of the Grand Lodge is to be held in Napanee. Brother Bottrell of Ottawa, has been elected G. W. C. T., for the ensuing year.

VICTORY IN QUEBEC EAST.

HON. MR. LAURIER ELECTED BY A MAJORITY OF 316.

(By Special Telegram to the Express, per Montreal Line.)

NOVEMBER, 29th.

Polling in Quebec East yesterday, passed off very quietly. Battery B. was marched to Jacques Cartier Hall, where they remained under arms during the day. With the exception of a slight disturbance in the morning, no violence took place. Both parties worked hard all day, and although Mr. Laurier's friends were confident of success, they feared the unscrupulous opposition with which they had to contend, would make the majority a close one. As will be shown by the statement below, a large vote was polled, and Mr. Laurier and his friends are to be congratulated on the very handsome victory, which clearly shows that the much talked of reaction has not touched Quebec at least. When the result became known, Mr. Laurier addressed a large multitude of electors from the balcony of his Committee Rooms, and the greatest enthusiasm prevailed at his success. One of the ballot boxes was stolen by a crowd of roughs, as the returning officer was leaving the poll, and has not yet been recovered.

Poll	Laurier	Tourangeau
1	58	32
2	86	42
3	71	49
4	56	31
5	57	40
6	79	62
7	60	37
8	77	51
9	53	38
10	83	44
11	73	65
12	82	51
13	26	49
14	64	54
15	33	39
16	64	55
17	53	59
18	49	46
19	84	100
20	100	90
21	92	119
22	19	14
23	49	48
24	48	45
25	58	44
26	151	42
27	77	62
28	129	48
29	115	62
1,764		1,388
Majority for Laurier, 316.

The assiduous efforts of our Tory friends in finding a soft spot on which to fall, on the result of the election in Quebec East becoming known, was amusing in the extreme. All sorts of excuses were hatched up and mooted in advance. Charges of corruption, jobs on government contracts, wholesale bribery, etc., were heralded through the country and every penny piper in the party is practised in his part, and now we may expect the concert to begin. Well, let 'em howl.

that on the 20th there was not a quorum of the Council present at Ottawa, inasmuch as all but four of the Ministers of the Crown were absent from the city. As a matter of fact, however, by Sir John's own regulations, four Ministers compose a quorum, and at no time since the Mackenzie Government assumed the reins of power has there not been a quorum of the Council present at Ottawa. It is only natural to suppose too that the whole matter had been fully discussed and decided upon long before the particular sitting at which the order was passed. Regarding the complaint of the seeming delay with which the proclamation was issued, and which Tory leaders flatly assert is proof positive that the Order was not passed at the time specified, they must know that the consent of the Imperial authorities is absolutely necessary before such an act of clemency could possibly be consummated, and that such concurrence could only be obtained after the passing of the Order in Council. Hence the delay which seems so vague and suspicious to the minds of those gentlemen, who can only be convinced against their will, is shown to be perfectly natural and unavoidable. That the whole transaction was carried out fairly and above board, cannot be disputed, but these gentry whose very existence is bound up in scenting afar deeds of corruption and malpractice, are hard to convince that any business could possibly be transacted without underhanded scheming. With the exception of those who have been wont to make capital out of it by stirring up religious feelings between the different nationalities in our land, all will be glad that this unfortunate affair has been so quietly settled. Mr. O'Donohue can now return to Canada with perfect safety and his friends will no longer feel that he is a persecuted man.

Our cotemporary, the Standard, is hard to satisfy and devotes a half column this week again in its endeavor to disprove, or mystify the public into disbelieving, our charge that the Liberal Conservative Association, in blindly pledging itself to support the nominee of an Association, deliberately gave away their liberty of franchise. That they did thus pledge themselves is not denied, but the Standard man wishes us to understand that it was not done at the suggestion nor in collusion with any outside parties. If that is the case it seems passing strange that its basis of organization, regulations, etc., should be so like the rule, of similar societies formed in nearly every county in Ontario under the direction of this same U. E. Club. No, no, Mr. Editor, the "grand scribe" may not have been present in person, but we dare to believe that the whole U. E. Club was there in spirit. In regard to the charge of a similar act on the part of Reformers, as we said last week, the cases are entirely different. There is no question as to who will be their candidate in the coming struggle, and therefore the charge of giving away the liberty of selecting their representative, falls as flat as the majority of vagaries which haunt the brain of Tory journalists.

A few days ago Rose and Gertrude Breckenridge, daughters of Mr. J. Breckenridge, of Belmont, while in the vicinity of Long Lake, noticed a large deer madly rush into the water, evidently pursued and slightly wounded. Without a moment's hesitation the two girls procured a boat, armed themselves with clubs, and set after the deer. They soon encountered the aggravated animal, when the girls courageously commenced the attack with their clubs, and after a short contest brought his deer ship to bay, and had him conveyed to their home—a proof of their prowess.

the political remains of one Richard John Cartwright, who was once a youth of some promise, but who trusted Sir John Macdonald and perished in the general election of 187— (as the case might have been.) (Laughter.) I observed, Sir, with some surprise, that Sir John has introduced a question as to his own veracity. All I can say is that Sir John is fearfully indiscreet in mooted such a question. But as he has chosen to make it an issue in this discussion, let us see what sort of a record he possesses. Here are a few of his "veracities." He declares in one speech "that he never indulges in personalities." Well, Sir, one lives and learns. Up to this time, in common with most of those who have ever heard or read Sir John's speeches, I was in the habit of supposing that he was nothing if not personal. I did imagine that the application to myself, for instance, of the following descriptive epithets: "Traitor," "apostate," "bungler," "fool," "rotten stick," "no gentleman," and the further describing me as a man who had "sold his constituency, sold his family honour, sold himself, sold him" (Sir John), and, "as one who had been guilty of the basest treachery, the basest ingratitude, and had acted from the most sordid motives of any man whom he had ever known;" the application to Mr. Mills of the title of "little animal;" to Mr. Casey of "whipper-snapper;" to Mr. Colin Macdougall, of parliamentary gorilla;" the stating that Mr. Scott had been "bought like a beast in the market;" the advice to Mr. Robinson "to go back to his paint pots," and divers other little pleasing allusions of the character, might have been considered as slightly personal, (Laughter.) But, as Sir John has formally declared that he never indulges in personalities, I suppose I am bound by parliamentary etiquette, not indeed exactly to believe what he says, but to believe that he believes what he states to be correct. (Laughter.) On the same hypothesis Mr. Chairman, I presume we are to account for the assertion that "he never appointed one of his own colleagues to offices of emolument," although some people have considered that the facts that Mr. Howland was made Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario, Mr. Macdougall of Manitoba, and Mr. Archibald of Manitoba and Judge and Lieutenant-Governor of Nova Scotia, Mr. Morris Judge and Lieutenant-Governor of Manitoba, Mr. Howe Lieutenant-Governor of Nova Scotia, Mr. Tilly Lieutenant-Governor of New Brunswick, and Messrs. Dunkin and Macdonald Judges in their own Provinces, slightly militate against the perfect accuracy of that assertion; as also does the circumstance that the emigration of 400,000 French Canadians from this country to the United States having occurred between the years 1861 and 1872 likewise appears to militate against the correctness of Sir John's dictum that this was the result of my own and Mr. Mackenzie's free trade errors and anti-protectionist policy. (Laughter and cheers.) Well, admitting that all these little inaccuracies ought perhaps to be set down as the result of advancing years and decaying memory, what are we to say to Sir John's deliberate and repeated assertion that he had in his possession a letter from myself wherein I stated that I objected to Sir Francis Hincks being admitted to his Cabinet because he was a Reformer, whereas the fact was that I had, and have, in my possession a letter of six pages, in which Sir John attempts at great length to convince me that Sir Francis would be gladly accepted by the Reform party as a Reform leader. What are we to say to his deliberate statement, made on the floor of the House of Commons a very few months ago, that he had only consented to accept $500,000 from the Northern Railway after a careful and elaborate report and examination of the books of that Company by Mr. Langton, the Auditor-General? What are we to say to his declaration to Lord Dufferin, on his honour and oath of office as a sworn adviser of the Crown, "that he was absolutely innocent of all the things" Mr. Huntington had laid to his charge? or to his pious aspiration that he "would to private amars. Still, you must remember that it is, at any rate at first, a matter of voluntary choice on the part of those who devote themselves to that pursuit, and that it has its own compensations as well as privations. Neither can I admit that it is in any case a ground for whining or complaining if men find that they cannot attend to politics and make money at one and the same time. Sir, I can tell Sir John that if, as I do not doubt, he has not found politics per se a very money-making occupation, he is far from singular in his experience, and that I can put my finger to-day on half a dozen men sitting round our Council board, of any one of whom it might be truly said that he has made, and is making, larger pecuniary sacrifices than ever Sir John made, or indeed had the power to make; and further, that the same is true of a great many others in the ranks of both his own party and of ours. Nay, more, if he will have the plain truth—and this ceaseless parade of his sacrifices deserves that it should be stated—I say for my part, and I have good grounds for my assertion, that I very strongly suspect after all said and done, that Sir John Macdonald is to-day far better provided for than he would probably have been had he never touched politics at all; and if he likes to dispute this statement, I will be prepared to give my reasons in some detail. (Hear, hear.) But, say some of you, be this as it may, Sir John Macdonald after all is the Conservative leader, and we are bound to support him. Sir, I say that Sir John Macdonald's pretence of any rightful claim to the allegiance of any true Conservative, or true Conservative party as a whole, is the merest usurpation. (Hear, hear.) Conservative is an honourable name in itself, and Conservatism of the right sort is a right good thing. No true statesman, by whatever name he may be called, will ever underrate the value of a Conservative element. No state has ever yet become great and stable without a large amount of wholesome Conservatism. Nor do I myself know any man whose whole cast of mind in many important respects is more truly and philosophically Conservative than my friend Mr. Blake's; of any whose instincts in all important points are more soundly Conservative than Mr. Alexander Mackenzie's, without the smallest detriment to any other qualities which either of them may possess; and I say, further, that you will find very little indeed in Sir John Macdonald of the cardinal qualities which should mark a true Conservative leader. (Hear, hear.) When, indeed, I should like to know, did Sir John in all his life ever lead a Conservative Government? Once, I believe, early in his career, he occupied for a short time a subordinate post in a Cabinet which might perhaps lay some claim to the name; but from that time to the present moment he has, during his whole political existence, owed such power as he attained to a succession of pure (or impure) coalitions, and to nothing else. (Here, hear.) What, I pray, was the Government of which he was a leading member in 1854? Who is there who knows anything of the history of those days who does not know that Sir John Macdonald and his friends held office by the grace of Sir Francis Hincks, and by that alone; that, in fact, until he left this country, Sir Francis Hincks (Mr. Hincks as he then was) was really and truly the most potent voice in that house; and all through the subsequent period, and up to his downfall in 1862, Sir John Macdonald was obliged to retain several of Sir Francis Hincks' colleagues or supporters in his Cabinet, men who, if Sir Francis Hincks had really been, as Sir John declared, steeped to the lips in corruption, were just as deeply steeped as Sir Francis Hincks himself. (Hear, hear.) Who does not know that when he formed his first Cabinet in April, 1864, he had to take in Mr. Foley, Mr. Buchanan, and Mr. McGee? men whom, by no stretch of imagination, he could pretend were anything but Reformers of the most decided type. Who does not know that from that day to this, both in 1867 and afterwards, Sir John Macdonald owed his very political existence to the coal-

THE FINANCE MINISTER BEFORE HIS CONSTITUENTS.

Full Report of Mr. Cartwright's Speech at Napanee.

[CONTINUED FROM FOURTH PAGE.]

Knowing Sir John Macdonald as I do; knowing that he has always prided himself on being able (and willing) to sell every human being, man woman, or child, with whom he ever came in contact, I cannot fail to realize the deep-seated admiration which he must entertain for me after all in his secret heart, if only this compliment was true. (Laughter.) But, Sir, I really cannot accept it. Sir John Macdonald makes a slight mistake. When he said I had "sold" him, what he meant to say was that I had "known" him all along, and that was the true sore point in his mind. (Laughter.) That is my unforgivable sin—that Sir John is beginning to comprehend that I saw through him at a very early stage of our acquaintance. Able as he is, it was not very difficult to do so. I doubt if I had spent as much as two evenings in his company before I had made up my mind that I had to do with a very clever and very agreeable rascal. (Hear, hear, and laughter.) I remember very well a very amusing discussion which once took place in my presence relative to Sir John Macdonald, shortly after he first became Premier, at which time there was some speculation as to how he would demean himself under the weight of his new dignity; one party opining that, now at least, John A. would turn over a new leaf, and "purge and live cleanly, as noblemen should do," and the other, a very shrewd old lady, as stoutly affirming that it was no use talking, because, as she put it tersely, "Don't tell me, I know better; John A. will never grow either stupid or respectable—if he lives to the age of Methuselah." (Laughter and cheers.) Sir, I am very much of the old lady's opinion; and I must say that although I sometimes admired his cleverness and sometimes was disgusted with his scampishness, I never once made the mistake of trusting Sir John one inch further than I could see him. (Laughter.) Now I don't mean to say I may not have been mistaken in him. It is quite possible that I may always have thought better of him than he deserved; but as you know, it is always desirable to err on the side of charity, and I am inclined to think that he was not altogether bad in those early days, though to tell the truth, Mr. Chairman, I did come to look upon him as a sort of human chameleon, who would take his colour from his surroundings and the ground on which he moved, being sometimes black—sometimes white—sometimes orange—and sometimes green, latterly, I fear, very muddy and mired in his hue and habits. (Loud laughter.) Speaking without metaphor, I believe that Sir John, if surrounded and restrained by strong and able men, who understood him and who did not fear him, possesses qualities which might have made him a valuable public servant, although he would always have remained a tricky and dangerous one. But I believe, also, that if his evil fortune should place him among a set of weaklings or boon companions, his downward career would be both swift and certain. (Hear, hear.) One thing more. Sir John is good enough to evince a tender anxiety for my future. This is truly benevolent on his part. For myself, I am content that my future should take care of itself; but I may tell him that on one point I had made up my mind long ago. I dare say some of you remember a rather famous article which appeared in the Globe newspaper a good many years back, wherein Mr. Brown wound up a very pungent survey of Sir John Macdonald by remarking that his political career could be very easily traced by the tombstones of his slaughtered friends. Now, I am quite ready to face my political doom as soon as ever you please in a

God he could catch Riel," after he had himself supplied Monsieur Riel with money out of the public chest to enable him to get out of the way? (Hear, hear.) What, I say, Sir, can his best friends say or feel but the most profound regret that any man who has filled so high a place should stoop to shifts so small and mean as these? And now let me ask you all what has Sir John gained by all this? As regards myself, his attack on me has merely drawn down upon him exposures which I would fain have spared, and if further persisted in may very probably result in others of a still more unpleasant character. All through he has played my game. He played it when he came here in 1873. He played it the other day when he took part in his grand demonstration over yonder, and nothing he could well have done would have suited me better in either case. One word more as to an assertion I made last year, and which was rather hotly denied by the Opposition press. I intimated that Sir John dare not at present attempt to claim his English Privy-councillorship. That statement was disputed. But here we have from his own mouth pretty substantial evidence that he knows it is idle for him to proceed to England on that errand until he can show in the most deplorable manner that the people of Canada have condoned his offenses. Here is his answer to a question put to him the other day as to why he did not go to England and be sworn in:—"That was his own business, he might say. In the first place he was short of money, and could not afford to go for a pleasure trip to England. In the second, he proposed to wait till after the elections, and then he would present himself not only as a British subject, a member of the Washington Commission, but as a member of the Canadian Government." Now [I need not point out to you what a tower of strength it would be for Sir John in the coming election, if he could only first go to England and succeed in getting himself sworn and recognized as a Privy Councillor. Hear.] No one knows this better than Sir John himself; yet he is ready to let seven years go by sooner than risk being told that Her Majesty has no need of his advice in such capacity. Sir, I have grave doubts, even if he were restored to power, whether he would not find it advisable to restrain his ardour still longer. I happen to know something of the opinion entertained of him by not a few prominent Englishmen, and I doubt much if either those who sit with him at Washington or those who became acquainted with his doings in London in 1867, not to speak of persons who were familiarly acquainted with his grave misconduct at the time of the first visit of the Prince of Wales to this country in 1860 would have much to say of Sir John which would not bring a blush to the cheek of every true Canadian. (Hear, hear.) Should Sir John presume further on my patience, I give him this formal challenge, and it is not the first I have exchanged with him. (Hear, hear.) But he will bear in mind that I will take no reply from his followers or his parasites. My challenge is to him alone, and I have to tell him that if he so desire I am ready to confront him anywhere, here, or before his own constituents, or on the floor of the House of Commons, and then there, if he likes to provoke the fray, I am ready to compare my public life with his, my private life with his, my services to the public with those to which he can justly lay claim as his own, aye, or even the genuine bona fide sacrifices which each of us may have made. (Hear, hear, and cheers.) And on this point I must say a word or two. Always, as far back as I can remember, Sir John has been pleased, with what I consider very questionable taste, to make loud parade of his pecuniary sacrifices in the public service. I do not dispute the fact that politics is anything but a lucrative occupation, and that for two reasons. First, because, as a rule, it completely absorbs the most vigorous and profitable tion he had effected with certain members of the Reform party? And this is the man who prates of his Conservatism and his devotion to Conservative principles. (Hear, hear.) Sir, I would as soon admit the right of himself and his associated adventurers to describe themselves as genuine Conservative leaders as I would admit the right of a gang of camp followers, who had pillaged the bodies of the slain on some field of battle, to call themselves by the names and titles of the dead soldiers whose arms and uniforms they had stolen. (Hear, hear.) Why, Sir, I doubt if these men know even the very elementary principles of the political creed they pretend to profess. I verily believe that if a decree were passed requiring these so-called Conservative representatives to be shut up in separate rooms, and not allowed to go forth until they had written out an intelligent definition of what Conservatism is, and wherein, if at all, it differs from true Liberalism, that it would be equivalent in the vast majority of cases to a sentence of imprisonment for life. (Laughter.) I will tell you, Mr. Chairman, what Conservatism is, at least as I have been brought up to understand it, and you can judge for yourselves what there is or ever was in my creed to sever me from any honest and true-hearted Canadian, of whatever political profession he may please to describe himself. (Hear, hear.) I say, then, that true Conservatism will insist above all things that the honour of our public men should be stainless; that they should hold themselves bound, under whatever temptation to prefer principle to place; that true Conservatism detests class legislation, although it respects existing rights; that it is a foe to the creation of huge fortunes by artificial legislation; that it will always earnestly desire frugality and prudence in the administration of public affairs knowing that corruption and extravagance are the sure forerunners of anarchy and revolution; that it will strive to ensure a healthy natural growth, and as much and as widely distributed a general prosperity as possible, holding that the Government of no country can be said to rest on a truly stable basis unless the bulk of the people have a direct stake in the welfare of the community in which they live; that it will always rely mainly on the support of an honest and intelligent yeomanry; that it will show loyalty and reverence to those, only, to whom loyalty and reverence are justly due; and lastly, that the true Conservative will never attempt, any more than the true Reformer, to defend evil or injustice per se, even if he may now and then hesitate about rooting out the wheat as well as the tares from the political cornfield. (Cheers.) These, Sir, are the doctrines of genuine Conservatism as I understand them; and it is because Sir John Macdonald utterly fails to fulfil these conditions, and because his policy is becoming ever more and more antagonistic to the principles that I have laid down, that I advise all true Conservatives not to let themselves be deluded by a false name, nor to admit that such a man as Sir John Macdonald has shown himself to be can ever again be recognized as their true leader. (Loud cheers.) And even if in former days he might once have had some faint claim to such a title, I tell them that if now, after his shameful treasuries to them and to his country, they take him back to their confidence, and again recognize him as their chief, they will be committing, only on a far larger scale, and with infinitely worse results, the very crime which the poet laureate makes King Arthur so indignantly repudiate in these noble lines:—

I hold that man the worst of public foes,
Who either for his own or children's sake
(To save his blood from scandal) sells the wife,
Whom he knows false, abide and rule his house.

Better the king's waste hearth and aching heart,
That thou resented in the place of light,
The mockery of thy people and their banes.
Sir, if they do commit this error their offence will be very grievous, and so, I

ELECTRICITY!

THOMAS' EXCELSIOR ELECTRIC OIL.

WORTH TEN TIMES ITS WEIGHT IN GOLD—
PAIN CANNOT STAY WHERE IT IS USED

IT is the cheapest medicine ever made. One dose cures common sore throat. One bottle has cured Bronchitis. Fifty cents' worth has cured an old standing cough. It positively cures catarrh, asthma, and croup. Fifty cents' worth has cured crick in the back, and the same quantity lame back of eight years' standing. It cures swelled neck, tumors, rheumatism, neuralgia, contraction of the muscles, stiff joints, spinal difficulties, and pain and soreness in any part, no matter where it may be, nor from what cause it may arise, it always does you good. Twenty-five cents' worth has cured bad cases of chronic and bloody dysentery. One teaspoonful cures colic in 15 minutes. It will cure any case of piles it is possible to cure. Six or eight applications is warranted to cure any case of excoriated nipples or inflamed breast. For bruises, if applied often and bound up, there is never the slightest discoloration of the skin. It stops the pain of a burn as soon as applied. Cures frosted feet, boils, warts, and corns, and wounds of every description on man or beast.

Beware of Imitations.—Ask for Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. See that the signature of S. N. THOMAS is on the wrapper, and the names of Northrop and Lyman are blown in the bottle, and TAKE NO OTHER. Sold by all medicine dealers. Price 25 cts. NORTHPROP & LYMAN, Toronto, Ont., Proprietors for the Dominion.

NOTE.—Electric—Selected and Electrized.

New Books
New Goods,
New Prices,

—AT—

HENDERSON'S
BOOKSTORE,

Dundas Street, - - Napanee.

Pocket Diaries, and Daily Journals,
for 1877.

All Sizes, Styles and Prices.

CHRISTMAS CARDS,
AND PERFUMED SATCHELS.

FANCY GOODS,
IN GREAT VARIETY.

"Don't tell me, I know better," John A. will never grow either stupid or respectable—if he lives to the age of Methuselah." (Laughter and cheers.) Sir, I am very much of the old lady's opinion; and I must say that although I sometimes admired his cleverness and sometimes was disgusted with his scampishness, I never once made the mistake of trusting Sir John one inch further than I could see him. (Laughter.) Now I don't mean to say I may not have been mistaken in him. It is quite possible that I may always have thought better of him than he deserved; but as you know, it is always desirable to err on the side of charity, and I am inclined to think that he was not altogether bad in those early days, though to tell the truth, Mr. Chairman, I did come to look upon him as a sort of human chameleon, who would take his colour from his surroundings and the ground on which he moved, being sometimes black—sometimes white—sometimes orange—and sometimes green, latterly, I fear, very muddy and miry in his hue and habits. (Loud laughter.) Speaking without metaphor, I believe that Sir John, if surrounded and restrained by strong and able men, who understood him and who did not fear him, possesses qualities which might have made him a valuable public servant, although he would always have remained a tricky and dangerous one. But I believe, also, that if his evil fortune should place him among a set of weaklings or boon companions, his downward career would be both swift and certain. (Hear, hear.) One thing more. Sir John is good enough to evince a tender anxiety for my future. This is truly benevolent on his part. For myself, I am content that my future should take care of itself; but I may tell him that on one point I had made up my mind long ago. I dare say some of you remember a rather famous article which appeared in the Globe newspaper a good many years back, wherein Mr. Brown wound up a very pungent survey of Sir John Macdonald by remarking that his political career could be very easily traced by the tombstones of his slaughtered friends. Now, I am quite ready to face my political doom as soon as ever you please in a worthy cause, but I was fully resolved that when my time came it should not be inscribed over my grave:—"Here reposes the political remains of one Richard John Cartwright, who was once a youth of some promise, but who trusted Sir John Macdonald and perished in the general election of 187—" (as the case might have been.) (Laughter.) I observed, Sir, with some surprise, that Sir John has introduced a question as to his own veracity. All I can say is that Sir John is fearfully indiscreet in mooted such a question. But as he has chosen to make it an issue in this discussion, let us see what sort of a record he possesses. Here are a few of his "veracities." He declares in one speech "that he never indulges in personalities." Well, Sir, one lives and learns. Up to this time, in common with most of those who have ever heard or read Sir John's speeches, I was in the habit of supposing that he was nothing if not personal. I did imagine that the application to myself, for instance, of the following descriptive epithets:—"Traitor," "apostate," "bungler," "fool," "rotten stick," "no gentleman," and the further describing me as a man who had "sold his constituency, sold his family honour, sold himself, sold him" (Sir John,) and, "as one who had been guilty of the basest treachery, the basest ingratitude, and had acted from the most sordid motives of any man whom he had ever known;" the application to Mr. Mills of the title of "little animal;" to Mr. Casey of "whipper-snapper;" to Mr. Colin Macdougall, of parliamentary gorilla;" the stating that Mr. Scott had been "bought like a beast in the market;" the advice to Mr. Robson "to go back to his paint pots," and liveries other little pleasing allusions of his character, might have been considered as slightly personal. (Laughter.) But, as Sir John has formally declared that he never indulges in personalities, I suppose am bound by parliamentary etiquette, not indeed exactly to believe what he says, but to believe that he believes what he says. I need not point out to you what a tower of strength it would be for Sir John in the coming election, if he could only first go to England and succeed in getting himself sworn and recognized as a Privy Councillor. (Hear.) No one knows this better than Sir John himself; yet he is ready to let seven years go by sooner than risk being told that Her Majesty has no need of his advice in such capacity. Sir, I have grave doubts, even if he were restored to power, whether he would not find it advisable to restrain his ardour still longer. I happen to know something of the opinion entertained of him by not a few prominent Englishmen, and I doubt much if either those who sit with him at Washington or those who became acquainted with his doings in London in 1867, not to speak of persons who were familiarly acquainted with his grave misconduct at the time of the first visit of the Prince of Wales to this country in 1860 would have much to say of Sir John which would not bring a blush to the cheek of every true Canadian. (Hear, hear.) Should Sir John presume further on my patience, I give him this formal challenge, and it is not the first I have exchanged with him. (Hear, hear.) But he will bear in mind that I will take no reply from his followers or his parasites. My challenge is to him alone, and I have to tell him that if he so desire I am ready to confront him anywhere, here, or before his own constituents, or on the floor of the House of Commons, and then and there, if he likes to provoke the fray, I am ready to compare my public life with his, my private life with his, my services to the public with those to which he can justly lay claim as his own, ay, or even the genuine bona fide sacrifices which each of us may have made. (Hear, hear, and cheers.) And on this point I must say a word or two. Always, as far back as I can remember, Sir John has been pleased, with what I consider very questionable taste, to make loud parade of his pecuniary sacrifices in the public service. I do not dispute the fact that politics is anything but a lucrative occupation, and that for two reasons. First, because, as a rule, it completely absorbs the most vigorous and profitable years of a man's life; and, secondly, because it always breeds in a man's mind a spirit of indifference to his own individual private affairs. Still, you must remember that it is, at any rate at first, a matter of voluntary choice on the part of those who devote themselves to that pursuit, and that it has its own compensations as well as privations. Neither can I admit that it is in any case a ground for whining or complaining if men find that they cannot attend to politics and make money at one and the same time. Sir, I can tell Sir John that if, as I do not doubt, he has not found politics per se a very money-making occupation, he is far from singular in his experience, and that I can put my finger to-day on half a dozen men sitting round our Council board, of any one of whom it might be truly said that he has made, and is making, larger pecuniary sacrifices than ever Sir John made, or indeed had the power to make; and further, that the same is true of a great many others in the ranks of both his own party and of ours. Nay, more, if he will have the plain truth—and this ceaseless parade of his sacrifices deserves that it should be stated—I say for my part, and I have good grounds for my assertion, that I very strongly suspect after all said and done, that Sir John Macdonald is to-day far better provided for than he would probably have been had he never touched politics at all; and if he likes to dispute this statement, I will be prepared to give my reasons in some detail. (Hear, hear.) But, say some of you, be this as it may, Sir John Macdonald after all is the Conservative leader, and we are bound to support him. Sir, I say that Sir John Macdonald's pretence of any rightful claim to the allegiance of any true Conservative, or the Conservative party as a whole, is the merest usurpation. (Hear, hear.) Conservatism is an honourable name in itself, and Conservatism of the right sort is a right good thing. No true statesman, by whatever name he may be called, will ever underrate the value of a Conservative element. No state has ever yet known ways earnestly desire its own ruin and prudence in the administration of public affairs knowing that corruption and extravagance are the sure forerunners of anarchy and revolution; that it will strive to ensure a healthy natural growth, and as much and as widely distributed a general prosperity as possible, holding that the Government of no country can be said to rest on a truly stable basis unless the bulk of the people have a direct stake in the welfare of the community in which they live; that it will always rely mainly on the support of an honest and intelligent yeomanry; that it will show loyalty and reverence to those, only, to whom loyalty and reverence are justly due; and lastly, that the true Conservative will never attempt, any more than the true Reformer, to defend evil or injustice per se, even if he may now and then hesitate about rooting out the wheat as well as the tares from the political cornfield. (Cheers.) Those, Sir, are the doctrines of genuine Conservatism as I understand them; and it is because Sir John Macdonald utterly fails to fulfil these conditions, and because his policy is becoming ever more and more antagonistic to the principles that I have laid down, that I advise all true Conservatives not to let themselves be deluded by a false name, nor to admit that such a man as Sir John Macdonald has shown himself to be can ever again be recognized as their true leader. (Loud cheers.) And even if in former days he might once have had some faint claim to such a title, I tell them that if now, after his shameful treasons to them and to his country, they take him back to their confidence, and again recognize him as their chief, they will be committing, only on a far larger scale, and with infinitely worse results, the very crime which the poet laureate makes King Arthur so indignantly repudiate in those noble lines:—

I hold that man the worst of public foes,
Who either for his own or children's sake
(To save his blood from scandal) lets the wife,
Whom he knows false, abide and rule his house.
Better the king's waste hearth and aching heart,
That thou rearest in thy place of light,
The mockery of thy people and their ban.
Sir, if they do commit this error their offence will be very grievous, and so, I fear, will be their punishment; and all the apology even their best friends can make for them will be to plead, as Lancelot later on in the same poem is made to do:—
Their honour rooted in dishonour stood,
And faith unfaithful kept them falsely true.
(Cheers.) For asked you all to consider well what Sir John Macdonald's return to power now at this time would mean for Canada. It would mean Mr. Chairman, the approval by the electors of a system of organized corruption such as few countries have ever seen. It would mean the declaration by the people of the Dominion that they desire to be robbed and plundered. It would mean that they like to see falsehood enthroned in high places, and that they deliberately and of choice prefer to have a desperate gambler to rule over them. Sir, the people of Canada need have no fear but if they do desire all this they can very easily enjoy their wish, and also that they will assuredly pay the price for it. Twice before in our history, within the last twenty-five years, we have run wild and plunged ourselves into a sea of difficulties, from which we were only extricated after slow and painful exertions. Once in the period from 1852 to 1856, under the two-fold stimulus of an enormous railway expenditure and of the extraordinary prices obtained for our produce in consequence of the Crimean war; a second time in the period from 1870 to 1873, partly under the influence of a similar outlay for railway purposes, and partly owing to the extreme inflation in the United States. Each time we have had occasion bitterly to repent our folly, and I advise you earnestly to be ware lest we commit a third and yet greater one. Heretofore in our rashness we have chiefly sacrificed our money, and committed ourselves to foolish and premature engagements. Now, something more than our money, our national honour, in the very strictest sense, is at stake in our decision. Grant if you choose that your present Government is incompetent. Say even we are as bad as our enemies declare us to be. I admit that that is an excellent reason for displacing us, but I say it none at all for restoring our predecessors, unless, indeed, you are prepared to proclaim to all the

New Books
New Goods,
New Prices,
—AT—
HENDERSON'S
BOOKSTORE,
Dundas Street, - - Napanee.

Pocket Diaries, and Daily Journals,
for 1877.

All Sizes, Styles and Prices.

CHRISTMAS CARDS,
AND PERFUMED SATCHELS.

FANCY GOODS,
IN GREAT VARIETY.

Bound Volumes of the Following Magazines for 1877.

THE CHATTERBOX,
LITTLE WIDE AWAKE,
CHILDREN'S PLEASURE BOOK,
BRITISH WORKMAN,
BRITISH JUVENILE,
COTTAGE AND ARTIZAN,
CHILD'S COMPANION,
CHILD'S OWN MAGAZINE.

THE POETS,
IN ELEGANT BINDINGS.

Shakespeare, Byron, Milton, Cowper, Wordsworth, Campbell, Longfellow, Hood, Coleridge, Pope, Shelly, Tennyson, Keats, Hemans, Moore, Burns, etc., etc.

Any of the above in elegant Cloth Binding, Gilt Edges, only
$1.00 PER VOLUME.

Vases, Lady's Companions. Jewel Cases, Gold Pens, Writing Cases, Portfolios, Opera Glasses, Card Cases, Parian Marble Ornaments, Match Stands, Cigar Cases, Ink Stands, Ink Bottles, Bread Boards, Writing Desks, Work Boxes, Pocket Books, Knives, Chess, Checkers, Dominoes, Draught Boards, Feather Dusters, Hemp Dusters.

Photograph Albums,
To contain from Two to Two Hundred Pictures, and to hold over two or four on a page, and at any price.

Autograph Albums

lection of 187- (as the case "might have been.") (Laughter.) I observed, Sir, with some surprise, that Sir John has introduced a question as to his own veracity. All I can say is that Sir John is awfully indiscreet in mooted such a question. But as he has chosen to make an issue in this discussion, let us see what sort of a record he possesses. Here are a few of his "veracities." He declares in one speech "that he never indulges in personalities." Well, Sir, one sees and learns. Up to this time, in common with most of those who have ever heard or read Sir John's speeches, I am in the habit of supposing that he was nothing if not personal. I did imagine at the application to myself, for instance, of the following descriptive epithets: "Traitor," "apostate," "bungler," "fool," "rotten stick," "no gentleman," and the further describing me as an man who had "sold his constituency, sold his family honour, sold himself, sold him" (Sir John), and, "as one who had been guilty of the basest treachery, the basest ingratitude, and had acted on the most sordid motives of any man whom he had ever known;" the application to Mr. Mills of the title of "little animal;" to Mr. Casey of the "whipper-snapper;" to Mr. Colin Macdougall, of "parliamentary gorilla;" the stating that Mr. Scott had been "bought like a beast in the market;" the advice to Mr. Robson "to go back to his paint pots," and various other little pleasing allusions of character, might have been considered as slightly personal. (Laughter.) But, Sir John has formally declared that he never indulges in personalities. I suppose am bound by parliamentary etiquette, to indeed exactly to believe what he says, but to believe that he believes what states to be correct. (Laughter.) On the same hypothesis Mr. Chairman, I assume we are to account for the assertion that "he never appointed one of his colleagues to offices of emolument," though some people have considered at the facts that Mr. Howland was made Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario, Mr. Macdougall of Manitoba, and Mr. Chibald of Manitoba and Judge and Lieutenant-Governor of Nova Scotia, Mr. Ross Judge and Lieutenant-Governor of Manitoba, Mr. Howe Lieutenant-Governor of Nova Scotia, Mr. Tilley Lieutenant-Governor of New Brunswick, and Messrs. Rankin and Macdonald Judges in their Provinces, slightly militate against the perfect accuracy of that assertion; as does the circumstance that the emigration of 400,000 French Canadians in this country to the United States having occurred between the years 1861 and 1872 likewise appears to militate against the correctness of Sir John's turn that this was the result of my own Mr. Mackenzie's free trade errors of anti-protectionist policy. (Laughter and cheers.) Well, admitting that all these little inaccuracies ought perhaps to set down as the result of advancing years and decaying memory, what are we to say to Sir John's deliberate and repeated assertion that he had in his position a letter from myself wherein I stated that I objected to Sir Francis Hincks being admitted to his Cabinet because he was a Reformer, whereas the fact was that I had, and have, in my position a letter of six pages, in which Sir John attempts at great length to convince that Sir Francis would be gladly accepted by the Reform party as a Reformer. What are we to say to his deliberate statement, made on the floor of the House of Commons a very few months ago, that he had only consented to accept $500,000 from the North-West railway after a careful and elaborate report and examination of the books of the Company by Mr. Langton, the Auditor-General? What are we to say to his declaration to Lord Dufferin, on his tour and oath of office as a sworn adviser of the Crown, "that he was absolutely innocent of all the things that Mr. Langton had laid to his charge?" or his pious aspiration that he "would to submit, and that it has its own compensations as well as privations. Neither can I admit that it is in any case a ground for whining or complaining if men find that they cannot attend to politics and make money at one and the same time. Sir, I can tell Sir John that if, as I do not doubt, he has not found politics per se a very money-making occupation, he is far from singular in his experience, and that I can put my finger to-day on half a dozen men sitting round our Council board, of any one of whom it might be truly said that he has made, and is making, larger pecuniary sacrifices than ever Sir John made, or indeed had the power to make; and further, that the same is true of a great many others in the ranks of both his own party and of ours. Nay, more, if he will have the plain truth—and this ceaseless parade of his sacrifices deserves that it should be stated—I say for my part, and I have good grounds for my assertion, that I very strongly suspect after all said and done, that Sir John Macdonald is to-day far better provided for than he would probably have been had he never touched politics at all; and if he likes to dispute this statement, I will be prepared to give my reasons in some detail. (Hear, hear.) But, say some of you, be this as it may, Sir John Macdonald after all is the Conservative leader, and we are bound to support him. Sir, I say that Sir John Macdonald's pretence of any rightful claim to the allegiance of any true Conservative, or the Conservative party as a whole, is the merest usurpation. (Hear, hear.) Conservative is an honourable name in itself, and Conservatism of the right sort is a right good thing. No true statesman, by whatever name he may be called, will ever underrate the value of a Conservative element. No state has ever yet become great and stable without a large amount of wholesome Conservatism. Nor do I myself know any man whose whole cast of mind in many important respects is more truly and philosophically Conservative than my friend Mr. Blake's; of any whose instincts in all important points are more soundly Conservative than Mr. Alexander Mackenzie's, without the smallest detriment to any other qualities which either of them may possess; and I say, further, that you will find very little indeed in Sir John Macdonald of the cardinal qualities which should mark a true Conservative leader. (Hear, hear.) When, indeed, I should like to know, did Sir John in all his life ever lead a Conservative Government? Once, I believe, early in his career, he occupied for a short time a subordinate post in a Cabinet which might perhaps lay some claim to the name; but from that time to the present moment he has, during his whole political existence, owed such power as he attained to a succession of pure (or impure) coalitions, and to nothing else. (Here, hear.) What, I pray, was the Government of which he was a leading member in 1854? Who is there who knows anything of the history of those days who does not know that Sir John Macdonald and his friends held office by the grace of Sir Francis Hincks, and by that alone; that, in fact, until he left this country, Sir Francis Hincks (Mr. Hincks as he then was) was really and truly the most potent voice in that house; and all through the subsequent period, and up to his downfall in 1862, Sir John Macdonald was obliged to retain several of Sir Francis Hincks' colleagues or supporters in his Cabinet, men who, if Sir Francis Hincks had really been, as Sir John declared, steeped to the lips in corruption, were just as deeply steeped as Sir Francis Hincks himself. (Hear, hear.) Who does not know that when he formed his first Cabinet in April, 1864, he had to take in Mr. Foley, Mr. Buchanan, and Mr. McGee? men whom, by no stretch of imagination, he could pretend were anything but Reformers of the most decided type. Who does not know that from that day to this, both in 1867 and afterwards, Sir John Macdonald owed his very political existence to the coalition

BRITISH WORKMAN,
BRITISH JUVENILE,
COTTAGE AND ARTIZAN,
CHILD'S COMPANION,
CHILD'S OWN MAGAZINE.

THE POETS, IN ELEGANT BINDINGS.

Shakespeare, Byron, Milton, Cowper, Wordsworth, Campbell, Longfellow, Hood, Coleridge, Pope, Shelly, Tennyson, Keats, Hemans, Moore, Burns, etc., etc.

Any of the above in elegant Cloth Binding, Gilt Edges, only

$1.00 PER VOLUME.

Vases, Lady's Companions, Jewel Cases, Gold Pens, Writing Cases, Portfolios, Opera Glasses, Card Cases, Parian Marble Ornaments, Match Stands, Cigar Cases, Ink Stands, Ink Bottles, Bread Boards, Writing Desks, Work Boxes, Pocket Books, Knives, Chess, Checkers, Dominoes, Draught Boards, Feather Dusters, Hemp Dusters.

Photograph Albums,

To contain from Two to Two Hundred Pictures, and to hold over two or four on a page, and at any price.

Autograph Albums

FROM 80 CTS.

Scrap Albums,

LARGE VARIETY.

The Easel Album,

FROM $1.25 TO $10.00.

China Cups, China Mugs and China Saucers. Any Price, and Any Size.

A Call is Solicited.

John Henderson,

Bookseller and Fancy Goods Dealer,
Dundas Street, Napanee.

Mitchell's Belladonna Improved India -Rubber Porous Plaster.

There never has been a time when the healing of so many different diseases has been caused by outward application as the present. It is an undisputed fact that over half of the entire population of the globe resort to the use of ordinary Plasters.

The principal ingredients used in making these Plasters are Gum Olibanum—or better known as the Frankincense of the Bible—Rubber and Burgundy Pitch, which, when scientifically compounded, is full of electricity, and when combined with the pure medicinal gums, is found to be one of the greatest healing mediums ever brought before the human race.

They are acknowledged by all who have used them to act quicker than any other Plaster they ever before tried, and that one of these Plasters will do more real good than a hundred of the ordinary kind. All other plasters are slow of action, and require to be worn continually to effect a cure; but with these it is entirely different: the instant one is applied the patient will feel its effect.

They possess all the soothing, warming, supporting and strengthening qualities of all other Plasters. Many who have been relieved of RHEUMATISM, TIGDOLOREUX, and various other pains in the KIDNEYS, BREAST or SIDE, and believe it is solely done by the electric qualities which the Porous Plasters contain, and which is imparted to the system, thus restoring them to a healthy condition.

They are very soft and pliable, stick very adhesive; and a sure cure for WEAK BACKS, PAINS IN THE SIDE AND BREAST; and are invaluable to those who have a COLD of long standing, and often prevents CONSUMPTION. Some even tell us they believe they were entirely cured by the use of them of a long-seated Consumption.

Prepared by GEO. E. MITCHELL, Lowell, Mass.
Sold by all Druggists.

THE CRADLE.

MEAGHER—Napanee, Nov. 18, h. the wife of W. H. Meagher Merchant of a son.

THE ALTAR.

EYVEL—JAMES—On Thursday the 22d inst., at the residence of the bride's father, by Rev. A. B. Chambers, B. C. L., George Eyvel, Esq., of the Union, to Miss Ella, eldest daughter of Charles James, Esq., of Napanee.

FUNIA—YOUNG—On Nov. 23rd at the residence of Mr. Geo. Stevens, by Rev. Dr. Hartley, Mr. Edward H. Funia and Miss Elizabeth Young, both of Adolphustown.

NORRIS—THOMPSON—On the 27th inst., by the Rev. A. B. Chambers, B. C. L., Mr. Thomas Norris of Richmond, to Miss Viola Thompson of the same place.

ROBERTS—THOMPSON—On the 28th inst., by Rev. A. B. Chambers, B. C. L., at the residence of the bride's father Mr. Alexander Roberts, to Hester, youngest daughter of Mr. Alexander Thompson of Richmond.

G. F. HANCOCK, BROOM

—AND—
WHISK MANUFACTURER,
MILL POINT, ONT. 31-17.

CONSUMPTION CURED.

A bold physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy, for the speedy and permanent cure of consumption, bronchitis, catarrh, asthma, and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for nervous debility and all nervous complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive, and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send, free of charge, to all who desire it, this receipt in German, French, or English, with full directions for preparation and using. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper, W. W. Sherar, 126 Powers' Block, Rochester, N. Y.

had effected with certain mem-the Reform party? And this is a who prates of his Conservatism devotion to Conservative. princ-(Hear, hear.) Sir, I would as-mit the right of himself and his adventurers to describe them-is genuine Conservative leaders as I admit the right of a gang of followers, who had pillaged the of the slain on some field of battle, hemselves by the names and titles lead soldiers whose arms and uni-they had stolen. (Hear, hear.)
Sir, I doubt if these men know very elementary principles of tical creed they pretend to proverily believe that if a decree passed requiring these so-called vative representatives to be shut apart rooms, and not allowed to until they had written out an in-definition of what Conservatism wherein, if at all, it differs from beralism, that it would be equiva-the vast majority of cases to a e of imprisonment for life.
ter.) I will tell you, Mr. Chair-that Conservatism is, at least as I en brought up to understand it,
I can judge for yourselves what or ever was in my creed to sever any honest and true-hearted in, of whatever political profession
y please to describe himself.
hear.) I say, then, that true atism will insist above all things honour of our public men should less; that they should hold them-ound, under whatever temptation
r principle to place; that true atism detests class legislation, al-it respects existing rights; that it to the creation of huge fortunes cial legislation; that it will alreadstly desire fragility and pru-
the administration of public affowing that corruption and extrava-are the sure forerunners of anarchy olunt; that it will strive to en-ealthy natural growth, and as d as widely distributed a general ity as possible, holding that the ment of no country can be said to a truly stable basis unless the the people have a direct stake in are of the community in which e; that it will always rely mainly upport of an honest and intellianuary; that it will show loyalty erence to those, only, to whom and reverence are justly due; and that the true Conservative will tempt, any more than the true ry, to defend evil or injustice per if he may now and then hesitate oting out the wheat as well as s from the political cornfield.
) Those, Sir, are the doctrines of Conservatism as I understand and it is because Sir John Mac-atterly fails to fulfil these condi-and because his policy is becoming more and more antagonistic to ciples that I have laid down, that all true Conservatives not to let ves be defiled by a false name, doubt that such a man as Sir John aid has shown himself to be can in be recognized as their true (loud cheers.) And even if in lays he might once have had nt claim to such a title, I tell at it now, after his shameful to them and to his country, they back to their confidence, and cognize him as their chief, they ommitting, only on a far larger d with infinitely worse results, crime which the poet laureate ing Arthur so indignantly rein those noble lines:—
t man the worst of public foes, or for his own or children's sake is blood from scandal-kets the wife, knows false, abide and rule his house.
e king's waste hearth and aching heart,
resented in thy place of light,
ery of thy people and their bane.

ELECTRICITY!

THOMAS' EXCELSIOR ELECTRIC OIL.

WORTH TEN TIMES ITS WEIGHT IN GOLD—
PAIN CANNOT STAY WHERE IT IS USED

IT is the cheapest medicine ever made. One dose cures common sore throat. One bottle has cured Bronchitis. Fifty cents' worth has cured an old standing cough. It positively cures catarrh, asthma, and croup. Fifty cents' worth has cured crick in the back, and the same quantity lame back of eight years' standing. It cures swelled neck, tumors, rheumatism, neuralgia, contraction of the muscles, stiff joints, spinal difficulties, and pain and soreness in any part, no matter where it may be, nor from what cause it may arise, it always does you good. Twenty-five cents' worth has cured bad cases of chronic and bloody dysentery. One teaspoonful cures colic in 15 minutes. It will cure any case of piles it is possible to cure. Six or eight applications is warranted to cure any case of excoriated nipples or inflamed breast. For bruises, if applied often and bound up, there is never the slightest discoloration of the skin. It stops the pain of a burn as soon as applied. Cures frosted feet, boils, warts, and corns, and wounds of every description on man or beast.

Beware of Imitations.—Ask for Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. See that the signature of S. N. THOMAS is on the wrapper, and the names of Northrop and Lyman are blown in the bottle, and TAKE NO OTHER. Sold by all medicine dealers. Price 25 cts. NORTHROP & LYMAN, Toronto, Ont., Proprietors for the Dominion.

NOTE.—Electric—Selected and Electrized.

New Books

New Goods,

New Prices,

—AT—

HENDERSON'S

BOOKSTORE,

Dundas Street, - - Napanee.

Pocket Diaries, and Daily Journals,
for 1877.

All Sizes, Styles and Prices.

CHRISTMAS CARDS,

AND

PERFUMED SATCHELS.

FANCY GOODS,

IN GREAT VARIETY.

CAMPAIGN OPENED

FOR 1878.
Western Advertiser
& Weekly Liberal.

Reduced Price—Premium to every Subscriber. Harvest for Agents.

The Fifteenth Annual Campaign of the Western Advertiser and Weekly Liberal is now under full headway. Hundreds of new names are pouring in from all parts of Canada. We want 5,000 new subscribers during this canvass. Plenty of room for 1,000 more agents. Our terms to agents, and inducements to subscribers will be found in anything yet offered.

BILL OF FARE.

- 1.—Best general newspaper in Canada.
- 2.—Balance of year free to new subscribers.
- 3.—Splendid Engraving to every subscriber.
- 4.—Agricultural Department by W. F. Clarke.
- 5.—Teacher's Department.—Best in Canada.
- 6.—Ladies' "Fashion and Kitchen" columns.
- 7.—Music, pictures, chess, humor, etc.
- 8.—Full base ball, cricket and sporting news.
- 9.—Complete Temperance Record.
- 10.—Reliable and copious Market Reports.

TERMS FOR 1878:—$1.60, with engraving Landseer's "Sanctuary." 3x20 inches. $1.50, without engraving. Postage prepaid.

Liberal terms to agents. For free sample copies, or full instructions to agents, address,

JOHN CAMERON & Co.,
"Advertiser" Office, London, Ont.

A BARGAIN.

A No. 9 Columbia Cooking Stove,

With Reservoir, Nearly New,

FOR SALE CHEAP,

With or without utensils. For further particulars, apply at the EXPRESS Office. 24-2in.

KNOW
THYSELF

By reading and practicing the inestimable truths contained in the best medical book ever issued, entitled SELF-PRESERVATION. Price only $1. Sent by mail on receipt of price. It treats of Exhausted Vitality, Premature Decline, Nervous and Physical Debility, and the endless concomitant ills and untold miseries that result therefrom, and contains more than 50 original prescriptions, any one of which is worth the price of the book. This book was written by the most extensive and probably the most skillful practitioner in America, to whom was awarded a gold and jeweled medal by the National Medical Association. A Pamphlet, illustrated with the very finest Steel Engravings—a marvel of art and beauty—sent FREE to all. Send for it at once. Address PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, No. 4 Bulfinch St., Boston, Mass.

CATARRH
CATHARTIC
T. J. B. HARDING, BROCKVILLE, ONT.
Five Years' Success in the Treatment of Constitutional Catarrh Remedy. See the Testimonials, Back and Large, and Droppings in Target Magazine.
St. Andrew, P. Q., Sept. 18, 1876.

MR. T. J. B. HARDING
DEAR SIR.—Being desirous that others may know something of the merits of your Catarrh Remedy, I feel it my duty to inform you what a cure you have effected. I am 57 years old, had been out of health for about five years. I had employed three or four different doctors and tried various medicines, without receiving any permanent benefit, but continued rather to grow worse until last fall when I had become so debilitated that I could hardly get up at a time. Had been suffering for some time with a

DOWNEY'S

ARE NOW SHOWING Full Lines

IN COLORED MERINOS,
COLORED MERINOS,
COLORED ATHOL CLOTHS,
COLORED PERSON CORDS,
COLORED BROCADES.

Full Lines in

BLACK LUSTRES,
BLACK MERINOS,
BLACK CASHMERES,
BLACK CRAPE CLOTHS,
BLACK PARAMATTAS,
BLACK BARATHEDS,
BLACK RUSSEL CORDS

Full Lines in

BLACK SILKS,
COLORED SILKS,
SILK VELVETS,
VELVETEENS

Full Lines in

WINCEYS,
FLANNELS, BLANKETS,
RUGS, COTTONS,
PRINTS.

Full Lines in

GLOVES,
HOSIERY,
CORSETS,
SILK FRINGES,
WOOL FRINGES, GALLOONS,
BRAIDS.

Full Lines in

SHAWLS, MANTLES, SKIRTS.

Full Lines in

er honor—indeed, if I honor myself, I shall infamously keep them falsely true, heers.) For asked you all to consider it what Sir John Macdonald's return to us now at this time would mean for Canada. It would mean Mr. Chairman, approval by the electors of a system of legalized corruption such as few nations have ever seen. It would mean a declaration by the people of the Dominion that they desire to be robbed of plunder. It would mean that you like to see falsehood enthroned in high places, and that they deliberately of choice prefer to have a desperate ruler to rule over them. Sir, the people of Canada need have no fear, but they do wish that the you very easily justify such an act also that they will surely pay the price for it. Twice before on history, within the last twenty-five years, we have run wild and plunged ourselves into a sea of difficulties from which we were only extricated after slow and painful seasons. Once in the period from 52 to 1866 and the two-fold stimulus of enormous railway expenditure and of the transitory price obtained for our produce in consequence of the Crimean war; a second time in the period from 1870 to 1873, partly under the influence of a similar outlay for railway purposes, and partly owing to a extreme inflation in the United States. At that time we have had a lesson bitterly learnt our folly, and I advise you earnestly be ware lest we commit a third and yet costlier error. Heretofore in our rashness we were chiefly sacrilegious our money, and committed ourselves to foolish and premature engagements. Now, something more than money, our national honour, in the very fact of secession, is at stake in our decision. And if you choose that your present Government is incompetent. Say even we are as bad as our enemies declare us to be. Admit that that is an excellent reason for replacing us, but I say it more at all for storing our predecessors, unless, indeed, we are prepared to proclaim to all the world that Canada has fallen so low that all public men are like untrustworthy, and at the same time no statesmen whom an honest and intelligent man can support. Now, hear, I have more faith in the future of our country. I do not hold that public men have all sunk to such a level, and I for one have no fear of the result or appeal to the verdict of my countrymen, rather our cause be tried before the people of this Dominion, or of the Province of Ontario, or of our own good county of Monmouth. (Loud and prolonged cheers.)

CARPETS.
OIL CLOTHS.
LACE CURTAINS.

in honour posted in monotonous story, faith unfaithful kept them falsely true. (eers.) For asked you all to consider what Sir John Macdonald's return to or now at this time would mean for us. It would mean Mr. Chairman, approval by the electors of a system of unbridled corruption such as few nations have ever seen. It would mean a declaration by the people of the nation that they desire to be robbed plundered. It would mean that you like to see falsehood enthroned in places, and that they deliberately of choice prefer to have a desperate ruler to rule over them. Sir, the people of Canada need have no fear, but they do desire all that they can very easily get by their wish, and also that they will really pay the price for it. Twice before in history, within the last twenty-five years, we have run wild and plunged ourselves into a sea of difficulties, from which we were only extricated after slow and painful exertions. Once in the period from 1840 to 1850, and the two-fold stimulus of enormous railway expenditure and of the extraordinary price obtained for our produce in consequence of the Crimean war; and a second time in the period from 1870 to 1873, by under the influence of a similar outlay railway purposes, and partly owing to extreme inflation in the United States. In time we have had occasion bitterly to regret our folly, and I advise you earnestly to ward best we commit a third and yet a fourth. Heretofore in our rashness we have chiefly sacrificed our money, and caused ourselves to foolish and premature engagements. Now, something more than money, our national honour, in the very best sense, is at stake in our decision. If you choose that your present Government is incompetent. Say even we as bad as our enemies declare us to be, admit that that is an excellent reason for facing us, but I say its now at all for our predecessors, unless, indeed, we are prepared to proclaim to all the world that Canada has fallen so low that all public men are disreputable, and all who possess no statesmen whom an astute and intelligent man can support. I have no more faith in the rest of our country. I do not hold that public men have all sunk to such a level, I for one have no fear of the result of an appeal to the verdict of my countrymen, their cause be tried before the people of this Dominion, or of the Province of Ontario, or of our own good county of Nottawasaga. (Loud and prolonged cheers.)

THE CRADLE.

GIBB—Napanee, Nov. 18 h, the wife of W. H. Meagher Merchant of a son.

THE ALTAR.

EL—JAMES—On Thursday the 23d inst., at the residence of the bride's father, by Rev. A. B. Chambers, B. C. L., George Eyre Esq., of the Edible, to Miss Ella, eldest daughter of Charles James, Esq. J. P.

IA—YOUNG—On Nov. 24th at the residence of Mr. Geo. Stevens, by Rev. Dr. Hartley, Mr. Edward H. Funia and Miss Elizabeth Young, both of Adolphustown.

RS—THOMPSON—On the 27th inst., by the Rev. A. B. Chambers, B. C. L., Mr. Thomas Norris of Richmond, to Miss Viola Thompson of the same place.

RTS—THOMPSON—On the 28th inst., by Rev. A. B. Chambers, B. C. L., at the residence of the bride's father Mr. Alexander Roberts, to Hester, youngest daughter of Mr. Alexander Thompson of Richmond.

F HANCOCK, BROOM

—AND—HISK MANUFACTURER,
MILL POINT, ONT. 31-17.

CONSUMPTION CURED.

N old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East Indian Missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy, for the speedy and permanent cure of consumption, bronchitis, catarrh, asthma, and all cat and lung affections, also a positive and ical cure for nervous debility and all nervous ailments, after having tested its wonderful active powers in thousands of cases, has felt it duty to make it known to his suffering ous. Actuated by this motive, and a desire relieve human suffering, I will send, free of rge, to all who desire it, this receipt in Ger- n, French, or English, with full directions for paring and using. Sent by mail by addressing h stamp, naming this paper. W. W. Sherar, Powers' Block, Rochester, N. Y.

CHILDREN'S PLEASURE BOOK,
BRITISH WORKMAN,
BRITISH JUVENILE,
COTTAGE AND ARTIZAN,
CHILD'S COMPANION,
CHILD'S OWN MAGAZINE.

THE POETS, IN ELEGANT BINDINGS.

Shakespeare, Byron, Milton, Cowper, Wordsworth, Campbell, Longfellow, Hood, Coleridge, Pope, Shelly, Tennyson, Keats, Hemans, Moore, Burns, etc., etc.

Any of the above in elegant Cloth Binding, Gilt Edges, only

$1.00 PER VOLUME.

Vases, Lady's Companions. Jewel Cases, Gold Pens, Writing Cases, Portfolios, Opera Glasses, Card Cases, Parian Marble Ornaments, Match Stands, Cigar Cases, Ink Stands, Ink Bottles, Brand Boards, Writing Desks, Work Boxes, Pocket Books, Knives, Chess, Checkers, Dominoes, Draught Boards, Feather Dusters, Hemp Dusters.

Photograph Albums,

To contain from Two to Two Hundred Pictures, and to hold over two or four on a page, and at any price.

Autograph Albums

FROM 80 CTS.

Scrap Albums,

LARGE VARIETY.

The Easel Album,

FROM $1.25 TO $10.00.

China Cups, China Mugs and China Saucers. Any Price, and Any Size.

A Call is Solicited.

John Henderson,

Bookseller and Fancy Goods Dealer,
Dundas Street, Napanee.

Mitchell's Belladonna Improved India Rubber Porous Plaster.

There never has been a time when the healing of so many different diseases has been caused by outward application as the present. It is an undisputed fact that over half of the entire population of the globe resort to the use of ordinary plasters.

The principal ingredients used in making these Plasters are Gum Olibanum—or better known as the Frankincense of the Bible—Ratther and Burgundy Pitch, which, when scientifically compounded, is full of electricity, and when combined with the pure medicinal gums, is found to be one of the greatest healing mediums ever brought before the human race.

They are acknowledged by all who have used them to act quicker than any other Plaster they ever before tried, and that one of these Plasters will do more real service than a hundred of the ordinary kind. All other plasters are slow of action, and require to be worn continually to effect a cure; but with these it is entirely different; the instant ones applied the patient will feel its effect.

They possess all the soothing, warming, supporting and strengthening qualities of all other Plasters. Many who have been relieved of RHEUMATISM, TIC DOLOREUX, and various other pains in the KID-NEYS, BREAST or SIDE, and believe it is solely done by the electric qualities which the Porous Plasters contain, and which is imparted to the system, thus restoring them to a healthy condition.

They are very soft and pliable, still very adhesive; and a sure cure for WEAK BACKS, PAINS IN THE SIDE AND BREAST; and are invaluable to those who have a COLD of long standing, and often prevents CONSUMPTION. Some even tell us they believe they were entirely cured by the use of them of a long-seated Consumption.

Prepared by GEO. E. MITCHELL, Lowell, Mass.
Sold by all Druggists.

POTTER BROS., LIVERY AND SALE STABLES

(ADJOINING THE ERISCO HOUSE,)
NAPANEE, ONT.

We keep nothing but First-Class Horses and Vehicles, and at REASONABLE PRICES

Jno. A. REID

VET. SURGEON
NAPANEE ONT.

GRADUATE OF

Ontario Veterinary College.

May be consulted on all diseases of Domesticated Animals, personally at Campbell House or by letter.

TERMS MODERATE

OFFICE—Bridge Street.

BRISCO HOUSE,
NAPANEE, ONT.

POTTER BROS., PROPRIETORS.

First-Class Sample Rooms for Commercial Travellers.

Omnibus to and from all Trains and Boats.

LIVERY ATTACHED.

Consumption Cured.

AN OLD PHYSICIAN, retired from active practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India Missionary the formula of a Vegetable Remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of CONSUMPTION ASTHMA BRONCHITIS CATARRH and all Throat and Lung Affections; also a Positive and Radical Cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Complaints, after having thoroughly tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, feels it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive, and a conscientious desire to relieve human suffering, he will send FREE OF CHARGE, to all who desire it, this recipe, with full directions for preparing and successfully using. Sent by return mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper.

DR. C. STEVENS,
Box 80, Brockville, Ont.

SAWS

SOLID AND INSERTED TOOTH
SAW GUMMER

SAW SWAGES SAW TEETH SAWS &c.

ADDRESS: TIR

terous Engine Works Co.

BRANTFORD, ONT.

See you saw this advertisement.

Full Lines in

LADIES' AND GENTS'
MERINO UNDERCLOTHING.
SCOTCH AND CANADIAN JUVENILE WOOLENS.

Full Lines in

CLOUDS, SCARFS, SQUARES, HOODS,
JACKETS.

Full Lines in

MINK SETS.
SEAL SETS.
BALISTIC SETS.
ERMINE SETS.
SEAL CAPS.
MINK CAPS.
FURS
AND ROBES.

Full Lines in

LADIES STRAW & FELT HATS.
FLOWERS.
FEATHERS.
PLUMES, &c., &c.,

MISS PHALEN, MANAGER.

CARPETS.
OIL CLOTHS.
LACE CURTAINS.
AND REPPS.

Full Lines in

READY-MADE CLOTHING.
WORSTED COATINGS.
BEAVERS.
NAPS.
ENGLISH SCOTCH AND CANADIAN TWEEDS.

James Walters, Cutter.

Full Lines in

MEN AND BOYS FELT HATS.
CLOTH CAPS.
FUR CAPS.
AND GENS'S FURNISHINGS,

AT PRICES

TO SUIT THE TIMES

JOHN DOWNF.

Napanee, Oct. 6th, 1877.

THE EXPRESS.

NAPANEE, NOV. 30th, 1877.

Wine is a mocker; strong drink is raging; whoever is deceived thereby is not wise; Therefore be not deceived by parties telling you that their Stoves are better than Boyle's. My iron, as asserted by others in the trade, and are also as good, if not better, because they are heavier, and consequently throw out more heat, and have given good satisfaction. Give me a call before purchasing elsewhere. No connection with any other establishment in Town, but manufacture and repair Tinware of all kinds, by first-class Mechanics, and do Job Work of all kinds, in my line, and keep a large assortment of Cook-Panor Cook, Box and Coal-heating, and Double Stoves, Extra castings for stoves; stoves refitted, Ploughs, and Plough-shares of all kinds. Yours truly, H. BOYLE, agent, in William Miller's old stand, opposite Webster & Boyes.

—Any parties who wish to take a local paper can have the EXPRESS free to the end of the year, on trial, with the privilege of discontinuing at that time, if unsatisfactory. Only $1 for 1878, postage free. Readers are requested to send in the names of their friends.

The Death of Summer.

[For the EXPRESS.]

Another summer, with its smiles and frowns, Hath passed away into the sea of years! Where lies engulf'd the loveliest forms That nature e'er put forth since God Spoke into being this fair earth To mirror forth his glory.

How rapidly The odorous months have fled! And now, all that remains to tell Of summer's fragrant flowers, Are dry and wither'd leaves, that sigh In mournful cadence on the autumn breeze.

The sweet-voiced birds That sang at early morn in tree and copse, And oft at set of sun, until the stars Twinkled their pleasure in the crown Of meek-brow'd eve, have gone To southern climes where warmer suns And milder airs hold sway.

A nameless sadness steals Over my spirit as the cricket sings In the dead hearth of summer blooms! Already hath the foliage of the trees Died mid autumnal glories, And now their faded leafy glory, lies A tinted robe on the dead summer's tomb.

methinks I hear Summer's last sigh, breathing still Amidst the faded bowers that the loved, And loth to leave her roseate throne To autumn's chilling blasts, While midst her faded blooms I stand And lay this little tribute on her grave.

There is a climate, Where everlasting summer reigns! No frosts there nips the buds, nor roses pale From cheeks all radiant with immortal bloom, May we, when mortal life shall close, Ascend to that best clime to dwell for aye, Mid all its splendour of love, peace, and song, Then from the pearly gem of eternal life, Quaff the pure nectar of unbounded joy.

X. Y. Z.

Napanee Nov. 1877.

- Five Saturdays next month.
- Christmas comes on Tuesday.
- How do you like our new heading.
- Rain! Rain!! Rain!!!
- The wet weather of the past week has serious affected business.
- Venor predicts quite a spell of wafin weather yet.
- Reports say the roads throughout the county are in a beautiful state, especially in the northern part.
- The oldest inhabitant remembers of this weather.
- “Shut that door” will soon be the fashionable salute.
- The liabilities of the Grange Brothers foot up nearly $200,000.
- Unusually rough weather has been experienced on the Atlantic during the past month.
- Considerable interest was manifested in Napanee on Wednesday over the result of the election in Quebec east.
- $10,000 has been subscribed during the present week by the members and

The Season's List.

Surprise parties are about being started. Bolt you doors at 8 p. m.

Ed. Table.

New Dominion Monthly for December to hand as bright and interesting as ever. Dougall & Son, Montreal, Pub.

—While other towns are astir over the municipal election not a word is heard in Napanee. Announce yourselves, gentlemen.

County Court.

The County Court and General Sessions for the county of Lennox & Addington, will be held in the court house on Tuesday, the 11th day of December next, beginning at 11 o'clock a. m.

—The lecture on Friday evening last by the Rev. A. Young was fairly attended, and all pass the highest expressions regarding the excellence of the Rev. gentleman's effort. We understand he has been solicited to deliver another at an early date. Due announcement will be made.

—Mr. Geo. Eyvil, of the Globe reporter's staff, was married to Miss Ella James, daughter of Chas. James, Esq., of Napanee on Thanksgiving Day, and left for Toronto on Friday morning. Heartly wishes from many friends hereabout followed the happy couple.

M. E. Church.

Special services will be held in the M. E. Church on Sunday next. The pastor Rev. Dr. Hartley, will deliver a special discourse, appropriately following the late successful anniversary services. In the evening, the pastor will give the eighth lecture in the course to young people, subject, “Wisdom's Choice.”

A Barley King.

The Oswego Times has the following: —“M. A. N. Diamond, of Napanee, may be called a ‘Barley King.’ His shipments of barley to this port for the season now about to close have been large, and we understand his operations have added many diamonds, or that which is equivalent, to his purse. No section of the country on this continent is so well adapted for the growth of barley as the Bay of Quinte, and from this source we get our best supplies.”

HALL DEDICATION.

The interesting and instructive ceremony of dedicating the New Hall belonging to Lodge No. 86 L. O. O. F., of this town, took place on the 22nd inst., Thanksgiving Day. J. Ham Perry Esq., P. G. M., of Whitby, officiated, assisted by Bro. J. G. Moore, D. D. G. M., of Belleville, Rev. Dr. Hartley, Napanee, Bro. W. P. Lacey, and several brethren from Kingston and Belleville. The Hall is very handsomely furnished, and is a credit to the brethren of the lodge. The ceremony took place about 6 p. m., and a large attendance of ladies and friends of the members were present. At the close of the proceedings Bro. Perry made a short speech congratulating the members upon their comfortable Hall, the prosperity of the lodge, and the progress of the order generally, followed by addresses from Bro. Moore, Lacey, and Morden, the latter concluding with moving a vote of thanks to the P. G. M., and visiting brethren for the encouragement and presence, which was carried unanimously. The assembly then separated to meet in the Town Hall at 8 p. m., to attend a concert, and addresses on Odd-fellowship. Bro. W. Hosey occupied the chair. The Hall was well filled. After some fine selections by the Band, Mr. W. Middleton gave a choice song, accompanying himself on the Guitar, and was loudly encored. Rev. Dr. Hartley then gave a very excellent address on the principles and practice of Odd-fellowship, interspersed with many witty allusions, and happy hits, which was well received and listened to throughout. Bro. Perry then made a few remarks on the great

CORRESPONDENCE.

Our columns will always be open to the discussion of matters of public interest, when we conceive such discussion will benefit or enlighten the public. By inserting such articles, however, we do not thereby endorse or approve in any way the sentiments expressed, and always reserve to ourselves the right of criticism.

MORVEN.

(Special Correspondence to the Express.)

DEAR EDITOR,—Thanksgiving day has come and gone, and notwithstanding the mistake of the Governor appointing it on a rainy day, we think none enjoyed it more than the people of Morven. The big tea came off in the M. E. Church, as advertised surpassing by far the most sanguine expectation. As the Dr.'s failed to put in an appearance, the speech making had to be done by local talent, and a jolly good time we had. The chair was first taken by M. D. Canfield, Esq., whose name has but to be mentioned as a guarantee to efficient service. He opened with a telling speech after which he called upon Rev. J. Wright. The speaker on coming forward said there was a mistake somewhere, that he (Wright) should have been chairman, and the present chairman been called upon for a speech. Whereupon Mr. Canfield, with his ready spines, said you take the chair and I will make the speech, this caused no little amusement while the change was being made, and the second speech came eclipsing if possible the former. Happy is the community who is blest with so ready and hard to be equalled a gentleman as Mr. Canfield to preside at social gatherings. The next speaker Mr. John Guess by his readiness of utterance, and happy eloquent hits won for himself the credit of being the right man in the right place. The pastor Rev. F. B. Stratton, made an appropriate address for the occasion dilating on the object of Thanksgiving services, using as motives to thankfulness in our Dominion, our temporal prosperity, civil, mental and religious advantages. The night being so unfavorable it was decided to hold a second feast on Saturday evening, in order if possible, to make way with the vast amount of viands on hand. Saturday came, and with it came the rain, and it seemed the fates were against us, we were obliged to experience what Shakespeare once said, that “What the fates ordain that man must need endure.” But the dark and the storm are small barriers, when loaded tables, bonus music and grand speeches in prospect, are drawing with the silent but powerful force of gravitation itself, so the second was superior to the first. The additional speakers were Mr. Andrew, Esq., who gave an excellent address, and the Rev. Thos. McVety, full of choice matter as an egg is of meat. The singing throughout was discoursed by the Morven choir and would have done credit to town or city choirs of greater pretensions. The best of all was the pocket thanks-offerings, amounting in all to $122.00, everybody went home pleased that had met—sorry to part, and joyous in anticipation of meeting again next Thanksgiving day, arrangements having been made to make this an annual affair.

FESTUS.

Nov. 27th, 1877

BETHANY.

An old friend called upon us one day this week, and in response to a request to give us a report of the late Tea Meeting at Morven sends us as following: Why, good morning Mr. Editor, glad to see you, I declare you are the same good-natured obliging little man I used to meet so often in the New Nation Office. Happy to find the Napanee EXPRESS has fallen into the hands of one so well qualified for the Editor's Sanctum. Well, well, don't this beat all? Sold out in Pieton and bought here, eh? Hope you will enjoy your new relations, I don't

The Week's News.

Canadian.

Manitoba grain ranks A 1 on the York Exchange.

Walkerton's building operations season foot up $150,000.

The last ocean steamer of the season left the Port of Montreal on Saturday.

The Welland Railway station at and was burned on Saturday morning.

Passenger train are expected to be running between Montreal and Hull, early in December.

The difficulty between the Ha County Council and the Grand Junction Railway has been settled.

The Provincial Assembly will be together for the despatch of business Wednesday, the 9th of January.

An official contradiction is given report that small-pox had again broken out in Keewatin.

The write for the Nicolet election issued yesterday. The nomination, take place on the 11th prox.

The sentence of death passed on the Castleton abortionist, has been muted to imprisonment for life, follow the precedents set in the cases of and Dr. Sparham. In the case of ams, the Weston murderer, it is understood that the law will be allowed to its course.

Mr. Geo. Johnson, hotel-keeper, erton, was brought up on the 19th instant charged with allowing, gamblers, in his house, and, besides mulcted in about fifty dollars, deprived of his license for a period of months.

A Barkerville, Cariboo, dispatch Nov. 6, says: —Mr. Harper has from half the amalgam twelve ounce gold, valued at $185. He has half amalgam and six flasks of quicksilver to retort. He estimates the yield forty tons of rock to be $528.

Several Wingham men who were in California in the spring have been being satisfied now that they are better in Canada.

The Port Perry Observer favours drainage of Lake Scugog, while Standard argues that the proposed will prove futile.

A member of the Quebec Provincial Police force has gone to Chicago to after Bartley, the supposed murderer Sergeant Dore in Beauce. One of erton's detectives is also said to be in the murderer in Maine.

Letters from England state that dian barley is in great request for purposes.

The Government steamer Ne sailed from Montreal yesterday for with goods for the Exhibition. Dr is preparing for the Exhibition a collection of Canadian fish, game, fruit.

Last season's Hansard is ready for distribution.

A Reform Association has been formed at Port Hope.

A Reform Association has been organized in the township of Hope, Durham.

The workmen employed on the railway bridge over the St. Maurice Three Rivers struck on Monday; subsequently assailed men sent Quebec to replace them.

American.

Another Cuban filibustering expedition is said to be in preparation, the steamer to start from New Orleans, Bristol Philadelphia.

A regiment of Mexican regulars arrived at the mouth of the Rio Grande. They are the first detachment of a force of 2,500 men ordered to the front.

Ascend to that blest clime to dwell for aye
Mid all its splendour of love, innocence and song,
Then from the pearl-embellished goblet of eternal life,
Quaff the pure nectar of unbounded joy.

Napanee Nov. 1877.

X. X. Z.

- Five Saturdays next month.
- Christmas comes on Tuesday.
- How do you like our new heading.
- Rain! Rain!! Rain!!!
- The wet weather of the past week has serious affected business.
- Venor predicts quite a spell of warm weather yet.
- Reports say the roads throughout the county are in a beautiful state, especially in the northern part.
- The oldest inhabitant remembers of this weather.
- “Shut that door” will soon be the fashionable salute.
- The liabilities of the Grange Brothers foot up nearly $200,000.

—Unusually rough weather has been experienced on the Atlantic during the past month.

Considerable interest was manifested in Napanee on Wednesday over the result of the election in Quebec cast.

—$10,000 has been subscribed during the present week by the members and friends of the M. E. Church, Napanee, to liquidate the debt on the edifice. Well done.

—A valuable overcoat was stolen from the Brisco House last week. No trace of it, though lively suspicions are entertained of a light-fingered individual, with no particular culling.

A colored preacher in Alabama put his foot on excessive bribery at elections, and crushed it. “Dis ting,” he says; “ob getting $100 for a vote is all wrong $10 is as much as it’s worth.”

—The Oswego Times says:—“No section of the country on this continent is so well adapted for the growth of barley as the Bay of Quinte district, and from this source we get our best samples.” True as print!

—The scene of the late fearful struggle between the armies of Russia and Turkey has been immortalized. Buckshot, Post office, Addington, having been changed to Plevna.

—So nearly alike are they that the Merchants, Montreal and Consolidated Banks have taken the counterfeit Dominion $4 notes. There are also spurious $5 bills on the British North American Bank, Kingston branch, still in circulation.

—Now is the time to pot hyacinths. Then place in a dark, cool cellar for six weeks, when they may be brought up for more rapid growth.

—Ladies now-a-days use a solution of white sugar to architecturally display their front hair. Most people may not be aware that this is the means by which “beautiful Circassian ladies” are manufactured for the side-shows.

—We notice that the Windsor Council have purchased a lot of stone to furnish work for tramps that frequent that place. From the large number that have lately been seeking Napanee, this place is considered a sort of bonanza by the fraternity. Wouldn’t it be a good idea to dispel the idea of our western friends.

—A correspondent informs us of an attempted burglary at Yarker, on Tuesday night of last week. John Moss was discovered attempting to enter Ewart’s Woolen Mill, and while making his escape was favored with a charge of shot in the back. This brought him to bay, and now he languishes in the County boarding house. He was elected to be tried before the judge. His position is said to be dangerous.

Grain Shipments.

To Oswego during the past week by Diamond & Sherwood.

town, took place on the 22nd inst., Thanksgiving Day. J. H. Perry Esq., P. G. M., of Whitby, officiated, assisted by Bro. J. G. Moore, D. D. G. M., of Belleville, Rev. Dr. Hartley, Napanee, Bro. W. P. Lacey, and several brethren from Kingston and Belleville. The Hall is very handsomely furnished, and is a credit to the brethren of the lodge. The ceremony took place about 6 p. m., and a large attendance of ladies and friends of the members were present. At the close of the proceedings Bro. Perry made a short speech congratulating the members upon their comfortable Hall, the prosperity of the lodge, and the progress of the order generally, followed by addresses from Brothers, Moore, Lacey, and Morden, the latter concluding with moving a vote of thanks to the P. G. M., and visiting brethren for the encouragement and presence, which was carried unanimously. The assembly then separated to meet in the Town Hall at 8 p. m., to attend a concert, and addresses on Odd-fellowship. Bro. W. Hosey occupied the chair. The Hall was well filled. After some fine selections by the Band, Mr. W. Middleton gave a choice song, accompanying himself on the Guitar, and was loudly encored. Rev. Dr. Hartley then gave a very excellent address on the principles and practice of Oddfellowship, interspersed with many witty allusions, and happy hits, which was well received and listened to throughout. Bro. Perry then made a few remarks on the great and noble mission of the order, after which the Band played some fine gems, the whole concluding with a farce entitled “Make Your Wills” by the Napanee Dramatic Club, which was well rendered. The concert concluded the members of the lodge and their friends adjourned to the Brisco House, to partake of an oyster supper, provided in the usually excellent style of “Mine Host.” At the close, the customary patriotic and complimentary toasts were proposed, and responded to by Bro. Perry, in some happy reminiscences of Napanee, also by Bros. Moore, Morden and Osborne. The brethren then separated for their homes, having experienced an exceptional happy reunion. May there be many returns.

M. E. CHURCH ANNIVERSARY.

The services of the late anniversary of the M. E. Church, which were commenced on Sabbath last were of a very interesting and highly successful character. On Sabbath morning, the pastor Rev. Dr. Hartley delivered a discourse, the theme of which was “The gain to the church from the exaltation of Christ.” We have seldom if ever heard the Rev. Dr. surpass his efforts on this occasion, the audience being very deeply impressed with eloquent utterances. This service was followed by the presentation of the financial needs of the church, and subscriptions were called for by Rev. Dr. Stone, former pastor, now Editor of the Canada Christian Advocate. The indebtedness remaining on the beautiful edifice was stated to be $4,000. Robert Denison, Esq., set the ball in motion by a grand contribution of $2,000, followed by J. Gilbard & Son, of $1,000, Messrs. D. Unger and C. Lane each $500, with several others of $250 each, until at the close of the morning exercise it was found that over one half of the amount required had been subscribed. In the evening, Rev. Dr. Stone delivered an earnest and eloquent sermon, after which the matter of raising subscriptions was again presented, and several additional sums were received. The Tea meeting on Monday evening was a grand success, notwithstanding the rain, about two hundred were present. Several large tables were elegantly laid, filled with a profusion of the choicest vivands. Indeed the ladies of this church are known far and wide for the superb character of the refreshments they provided at the entertainment of this character. Supper over, the guests repaired to the audience room, where Dr. Stone and the Pastor resumed the work in hand of soliciting additional sums toward the liquidation of the entire debt. In the aggregate nearly or quite $10,000 dollars have been secured. The contributions are all of the very best music and grand speeches in powerful, are drawing with the silent but powerful force of gravitation itself, so the second was superior to the first. The additional speakers were Mr. Andrew, Esq., who gave an excellent address, and the Rev. Thos. McVety, full of choice matter as an egg is of meat. The singing throughout was discoursed by the Morven choir and would have done credit to town or city choirs of greater pretensions. The best of all was the pocket thanks-offerings, amounting in all to $122.00, everybody went home pleased that had met—sorry to part, and joyous in anticipation of meeting again next Thanksgiving day, arrangements having been made to make this an annual affair.

Nov. 27th, 1877

FESTUS.

BETHANY.

An old friend called upon us one day this week, and in response to a request to give us a report of the late Tea Meeting at Morven sends us as follows:

Why, good morning Mr. Editor, glad to see you, I declare you are the same goodnatured obliging little man I used to meet so often in the New Nation Office Picton. Happy to find the Napanee EXPRESS has fallen into the hands of one so well qualified for the Editor’s Sanctum. Well, well, don’t this beat all? Sold out in Picton and bought here, eh? Hope you will enjoy your new relations, I don’t wish to disturb you, but I just called to pay for those Anniversary bills for the M. E. Church Bethany. Oh, by the way, I believe nothing has been said about that show, well I tell you we had a big time, you see Mr. Editor how it happened. The congregation at Bethany, I suppose for natural singing ability can’t be surpassed in a country crowd anywhere. All that was wanted was a machine to start them. So Rev. Stratton, their pastor, with his strong love for music urged them to be equal to their neighbors, and purchase an organ. Of course as he sells the cheapest and best they bought of him. Well, all went well enough until money was required. To provide for this Anniversary services were held as announced, Rev. C. S. Estman of Picton filled the pulpit on Sabbath three times. To say the sermons were good would not be a proper word to use. To give a synopsis would be to spoil them. He won golden opinions, and did great good for his Master. Monday night came, and as it was before the last rain storm began, they had a fine night and a good house Tea supper. The choir was ably filled by Irvine Parks, Esq., a rising young man of no ordinary ability. Well now, as to the speeches they were splendid. The first speaker was the Rev. Mr. Shortz of Mill Point, sharp, pithy, and went catching quails, in a very humorous manner. Rev. C. S. Eastman was next called upon, and gave a very sound and solid address. Next came the witty jocosclever P. E. Rey, I. B. Aylsworth, M. A. L. L. B., and last came Rev. Dr. Hartley of Napanee, who is ever ready for the rostrum. The last two speakers, are so well known about your town that eulogies on their efforts, would be idle, I believe your editors don’t like to be bothered with lauders, but I crave your indulgence. The solos, quartets, anthems, and full choruses were of the best selections, and rendered with such ability as to send a thrill of pleasure through the entire audience. The organist, the Misses Woodcock, Miss A. Miller and Miss Stratton led with great celat. The choir singing is being conducted by Mr. N. Woodcock a gentleman, who is doing much to elevate the science of music. The wind up beats all the rest, for the entire offerings to the organ funds, netted the handsome sum of $433.30 cash. This has been nicely supplemented since. I tell you the Bethany people are proud of their success. I ask your pardon for detaining you so long, but if course Editors ought to know all particulars about everything. Hope you will succeed well in Napanee, come and see us, and bring along your wife, don’t forget, good day.

A MARVELOUS DISCOVERY.

A member of the Quebec Provi Police force has gone to Chicago to after Bartley, the supposed murderer Sergeant Dore in Beauce. One of 1 erton’s detectives is also said to be 1 ing the murderer in Maine.

Letters from England state that C dian barley is in great request for ma purposes.

The Government steamer New sailed from Montreal yesterday for 1 with goods for the Exhibition. Dr. is preparing for the Exhibition a collection of Canadian fish, game, fruit.

Last season’s Hansard is ready fo tribution.

A Reform Association has been fo at Port Hope.

A Reform Association has been ganized in the township of Hope, Durham.

The workmen employed on the railway bridge over the St. Maurice Three Rivers struck on Monday subsequently assailed men sent Quebec to replace them.

American.

Another Cuban filibustering exped is said to be in preparation, the stea to start from New Orleans, Bristol, Philadelphia.

A regiment of Mexican regulars arrived at the mouth of the Rio Gr. They are the first detachment of a of 2,500 men ordered to the frontie Diaz to preserve order.

Six of the great Chinese physician San Francisco have appealed to Was ton for protection against violence the observance of treaty obligations.

A writer in Harper’s Monthly, has lived in Alaska for ten years, the land is worthless and the seal fish likely to be soon exhausted. There but one hundred white persons in country.

A family near Slaughter’sville, Ky. been driven from home by rattlesn which have taken up their quarters i the house. The neighbours had ra and at last reports had killed tw seven, and were still on guard.

The attention of the United S Government has been formally calle the Mexican Government to the exis on the north bank of the Rio Grand camp of supposed filibusters, and Washington authorities have been i to insist on the neutrality laws being spected.

The Chicago Tribune says that D I. Russell, a prominent physician, infidel in religious faith, of Bell co Ill., was recently taken from his b night by a company of men said t members of the Baptist church, stri and addressed thus:—“We know yo an honest man and a good physician we will tolerate no infidels in Bell co so, by the help of God, we will stop career of infidelity.” A hundred l were then laid upon his naked back was then freed, and a notice posted tree that hereafter infidelity in county will be punished by the torc halter.”

Continent.

The Pope received a deputatio French pilgrims on Tuesday, being ried into the audience room on a l He is so weak, however, that he has suspended his audiences.

WRECK OF A NAN-OF-WAR

A NUMBER OF LIVES LOST.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 24.—Th server at Kitty Hawk reports that United States man-of-war steamer H struck two miles north of No. 7 st at 1:30 a. m. Her foremast and 1 topmast are gone. The steamer total wreck, and assistance is neede mediately. The sea is breaking ove and several bodies have already washed ashore. The number on bo about 135. No cargo.

The cause of the disaster was weather, and a fresh gale blowing. assistance can be rendered from stea particular calling.

A colored preacher in Alabama put his foot on excessive bribery at elections, and crushed it. "Dis ting," he says; "ob getting $100 for a vote is all wrong $10 is as much as it's worth."

The Oswego Times says:—"No section of the country on this continent is so well adapted for the growth of barley as the Bay of Quinte district, and from this source we get our best samples." True as print!

The scene of the late fearful struggle between the armies of Russia and Turkey has been immortalized. Buckshot, Post office, Addington, having been changed to Plevna.

So nearly alike are they that the merchants, Montreal and Consolidated Bank have taken the counterfeit Dominion $4 notes. There are also spurious $5 bills on the British North American Bank, Kingston branch, still in circulation.

Now is the time to pot hyacinths. Then place in a dark, cool cellar for six weeks, when they may be brought up for more rapid growth.

Ladies now-a-days use a solution of white sugar to architecturally display their front hair. Most people may not be aware that this is the means by which "beautiful Circassian ladies" are manufactured for the side-shows.

We notice that the Windsor Council have purchased a lot of stone to furnish work for tramps that frequent that place. From the large number that have lately been seeking Napanee, this place is considered a sort of bonanza by the fraternity. Wouldn't it be a good idea to dispel the idea of our western friends.

A correspondent informs us of an attempted burglary at Yarker, on Tuesday night of last week. John Moss was discovered attempting to enter Ewart's Woollen Mill, and while making his escape was favored with a charge of shot in the back. This brought him to bay, and now he languishes in the County boarding house. He was elected to be tried before the judge. His position is said to be dangerous.

Grain Shipments.

To Oswego during the past week by Diamond & Sherwood.

5,000 bu. Barley.
6,000 " Rye
3,280 " Pease.

By Downey Bros.

2,000 bu. Barley.
4,000 " Rye.

By the Granger's.

20,000 bu. Barley.
By Milliner & Co.—Mill Point.
2,617 bu. Barley

Cheese shipments to England, 413 boxes. (2669 lbs.)

Poisoned.

On Friday last a child of Wm. Perry, Esq., of Napanee, was accidentally poisoned by its mother. A strong solution of saltpetre had been prepared to apply externally on the throat of another child suffering from quinsy, and the little unfortunate asking for a drink the mother took the cup containing the dangerous solution by mistake, and gave it to the child to drink. A physician was summoned immediately on the discovery of the error to and every exertion was made to save the child's life.

Tampering with Mails.

On Tuesday last it was reported to Mr. Barrer, Post Office Inspector, that on the 20th of October three registered letters had been stolen from the mail bag between Adolphustown and Kingston. Circumstances led to a suspicion that Charles Aylsworth, mail driver between Picton and Kingston, was the guilty party, and he was arrested last night. Aylsworth, has been sentenced to five years in the Penitentiary on his own confession, for robbing Her Majesty's Mail, just one year for each $8 stolen.

oyster supper, provided in the usually excellent style of "Mine Host." At the close, the customary patriotic and complimentary toasts were proposed, and responded to by Bro. Perry, in some happy reminiscences of Napanee, also by Bros. Moore, Morden and Osborne. The brethren then separated for their homes, having experienced an exceptional happy reunion. May there be many returns.

M. E. CHURCH ANNIVERSARY.

The services of the late anniversary of the M. E. Church, which were commenced on Sabbath last were of a very interesting and highly successful character. On Sabbath morning, the pastor Rev. Dr. Hartley delivered a discourse, the theme of which was "The gain to the church from the exaltation of Christ." We have seldom if ever heard the Rev. Dr. surpass his efforts on this occasion, the audience being very deeply impressed with eloquent utterances. This service was followed by the presentation of the financial needs of the church, and subscriptions were called for by Rev. Dr. Stone, former pastor, now Editor of the Canada Christian Advocate. The indebtedness remaining on the beautiful edifice was stated to be $8,000. Robert Denison, Esq., set the ball in motion by a grand contribution of $2,000, followed by J. Gibbard & Son, of $1,000, Messrs. D. Unger and C. Lane each $500, with several others of $250 each, until at the close of the morning exercise it was found that over one half of the amount required had been subscribed. In the evening, Rev. Dr. Stone delivered an earnest and eloquent sermon, after which the matter of raising subscriptions was again presented, and several additional sums were received. The Tea meeting on Monday evening was a grand success, notwithstanding the rain, about two hundred were present. Several large tables were elegantly laid, filled with a profusion of the choicest viands. Indeed the ladies of this church are known far and wide for the superb character of the refreshments they provided at the entertainment of this character. Supper over, the guests repaired to the audience room, where Dr. Stone and the Pastor resumed the work in hand of soliciting additional sums toward the liquidation of the entire debt. In the aggregate nearly or quite $10,000 dollars have been secured. The subscriptions are all of the very best kind, and certain to be paid. This church so prosperous in the past, has now before it opportunities of increased power and usefulness. Its debt all provided for. Its congregations constantly enlarging, its Pastor, an earnest worker, and are eloquent and divine, its future presents a bright aspect. To Dr. Hartley, a large amount of praise is due for his untiring labor in placing the church on this favorable footing, and those who have generously responded in subscriptions, must feel a peculiar satisfaction at the grand result. We understand that still further improvements in the church premises are anticipated, and we may hope soon to see the surroundings of the edifice still further enhance its appearance. We give below a list of all who subscribed to the amount of $100 and upwards.

R. Denison	$2,000
J. Gibbard & Son	1,000
J. Denison	500
D. Unger	500
W. Latimer	500
C. Lane	500
A. L. Morden, Esq.	500
W. Anderson	500
E. Stone	500
T. A. Huffman	500
Jas. M. Lake	500
Rich Huffman	500
Ernie Sills	500
Urie Sills	500
Jas. Allen	500
J. B. Blanchard	500
Ibra Sills	500
Erasmus Sills	500
M. Pringle	100
H. V. Franck	100
J. M. Smith	100
T. Symington	100
G. B. Sills	100
Jas. McCay	100
J. W. Gordon	100
Norman Scott	100

Ninety others from $75 to $20; in all, raised $10,000.

passed in a country crowd anywhere. All that was wanted was a machine to start them. So Rev. Stratton, their pastor, with his strong love for music urged them to be equal to their neighbors, and purchase an organ. Of course as he sells the cheapest and best they bought of him. Well, all went well enough until money was required. To provide for this Anniversary services were held as announced, Rev. C. S. Eastman of Picton filled the pulpit on Sabbath three times. To say the sermons were good would not be a proper word to use. To give a synopsis would be to spoil them. He won golden opinions, and did great good for his Master. Monday night came, and as it was before the last rain storm began, they had a fine night and a good house. Tea superb. The choir was ably filled by Irvine Parks, Esq., a rising young man of no ordinary ability. Well now, as to the speeches they were splendid. The first speaker was the Rev. Mr. Shorts of Mill Point, sharp, pithy, and went catching quails, in a very humorous manner. Rev. C. S. Eastman was next called upon, and gave a very sound and solid address. Next came the witty, joceous clever P. E. Rev. I. B. Aylsworth, M. A. L. L. B., and last came Rev. Dr. Hartley of Napanee, who is ever ready for the rostrum. The last two speakers, are so well known about your town that eulogies on their efforts, would be idle. I believe you editors don't like to be bothered with lauders, but I crave your indulgence. The solos, quartets, anthems, and full choruses were of the best selections, and rendered with such ability as to send a thrill of pleasure through the entire audience. The organist, the Misses Woodcock, Miss A. Miller and Miss Stratton led with great celerity. The choir singing is being conducted by Mr. N. Woodcock a gentleman, who is doing much to elevate the science of music. The wind up beats all the rest, for the entire offerings to the organ funds, netted the handsome sum of $130.30 cash. This has been nicely supplemented since. I tell you the Bethany people are proud of their success. I ask your pardon, for detaining you so long, but if course editors ought to know all particulars about everything. Hope you will succeed well in Napanee, come and see us, and bring along your wife, don't forget, good day.

A MARVELOUS DISCOVERY.

A North German newspaper gives an account of a discovery and invention, by means of which it is rendered possible wholly to overcome the force of gravitation so that a man in the last stage of consumption will, by employing it, be able to lift a body of any assignable weight; he could, for instance, easily draw up to the surface an iron-clad that had sunk to the bottom of a river, provided only the apparatus, which consists of a slender wire, could be made to griddle the ship so that its ends could be brought into contact with each other. Satisfactory experiments with the invention are said to have been made in the presence of German officers, as the price of divulging his secret method of accomplishing this unheard of results, the inventor—who is, by the way, a South German—demands the trifling sum of $3,000,000.

Many years ago the British Crown sent to its faithful subjects in the colony of South California a chime of bells, which were hung in the steeple of St. Michael's—that graceful spire which a pupil of Sir Christopher Wren designed, and which is to-day the fairest as well as the first thing which one sees after crossing the harbour bar. These bells were captured by the British during the Revolutionary War, and were sent to England, where they have remained to this day. Although St. Michael's has of its own, an English merchant has offered to send back the old bells, and Senator Gordon has introduced in the Senate a resolution providing for their admission to this country free of duty.

has lived in Alaska for ten years, the land is worthless and the seal fish likely to be soon exhausted. There but one hundred white persons in country.

A family near Slaughterville, Ky., been driven from home by rattlesnakes which have taken up their quarters in the house. The neighbours had railed and at last reports had killed two seven, and were still on guard.

The attention of the United States Government has been formally called the Mexican Government to the exist on the north bank of the Rio Grande camp of supposed filibusters, and Washington authorities have been a to insist on the neutrality laws being speeded.

The Chicago Tribune says that Dr. I. Russell, a prominent physician, infidel in religious faith, of Bell con Ill., was recently taken from his bed by a company of men said to members of the Baptist church, strip and addressed thus:—"We know you an honest man and a good physician, we will tolerate no infidels in Bell con so, by the help of God, we will stop career of infidelity." A hundred la were then laid upon his naked back, was then freed, and a notice posted o tree that hereafter infidelity in county will be punished by the torch halter."

Continued.

The Pope received a deputation French pilgrims on Tuesday, being ried into the audience room on a li He is so weak, however, that he has suspended his audiences.

WRECK OF A MAN-OF-WAR.

A NUMBER OF LIVES LOST.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 24.—The server at Kitty Hawk reports that United States man-of-war steamer H struck two miles north of No. 7 sta at 1:30 a. m. Her foremast and n topmast are gone. The steamer total wreck, and assistance is needed immediately. The sea is breaking over and several bodies have already washed ashore. The number on board about 135. No cargo.

The cause of the disaster was t weather, and a fresh gale blowing. assistance can be rendered from steam as the surf is still very heavy. Paym Saunders, reported saved yesterday day. It is believed that it will be s days yet before all the survivors can gathered up, as many may have l washed ashore lower down the be The Huron had a good complement ship's boats, and it is not impropr that other survivors may still be h from.

The Huron was an iron screw prler, carrying four guns, of 541 tons. wrecking steamer Resolute was dispie to her assistance.

The Huron left Fort Monroe yeste on a cruise to the West Indies. theory of those well acquainted with coast is that she got caught in the he of the gale and, while trying to hold head to wind, her machinery gave her sails were useless, and she dri ashore.

The life-saving station nearest to point where the Huron went ashore not been ordered on active work, i itimated, because of the meagreness of appropriations.

The secretary of the navy has ord the surviving officers of the Huron t brought here. They will probably a on Tuesday, when the particulars of disaster will be disclosed.

New York, Nov. 24.—Comma Ryan, of the Huron, was considered of the best of our naval officers. He selected for observing the transit Venus, and was recently ordered to Huron. It is stated that loss of Government by the disaster is ne $700,000.

CORRESPONDENCE.

Our columns will always be open to the discussion of matters of public interest, when we conceive such discussion will benefit or enlighten the public. By inserting such articles, however, we do not thereby endorse or approve in any way the sentiments expressed, and always reserve to ourselves the right of criticism.

MORVEN.

(Special Correspondence to the Express.)

DEAR EDITOR,—Thanksgiving day has come and gone, and notwithstanding the mistake of the Governor appointing it on a rainy day, we think none enjoyed it more than the people of Morven. The big tea came off in the M. E. Church, as advertised surpassing by far the most sanguine expectation. As the Dr.'s failed to put in an appearance, the speech making had to be done by local talent, and a jolly good time we had. The chair was first taken by M. D. Canfield, Esq., whose name has but to be mentioned as a guarantee to efficient service. He opened with a telling speech after which he called upon Rev. J. Wright. The speaker on coming forward said there was a mistake somewhere, that he (Wright) should have been chairman, and the present chairman been called upon for a speech. Whereupon Mr. Canfield, with his ready apness, said you take the chair and I will make the speech, this caused no little amusement while the change was being made, and the second speech came elipsing if possible the former. Happy is the community who is blest with so ready and hard to be equalled a gentleman as Mr. Canfield to preside at social gatherings. The next speaker Mr. John Guess by his readiness of utterance, and happy eloquent hits won for himself the credit of being the right man in the right place. The pastor Rev. F. B. Stratton, made an appropriate address for the occasion dilating on the object of Thanksgiving services, using as motives to thankfulness in our Dominion, our temporal prosperity, civil, mental and religious advantages. The night being so unfavorable it was decided to hold a second feast on Saturday evening, in order if possible, to make way with the vast amount of viands on hand. Saturday came, and with it came the rain, and it seemed the fates were against us, we were obliged to experience what Shakespeare once said, that "What the fates ordain that man must need endure." But the dark and the storm are small barriers, when loaded tables, bonus music and grand speeches in prospect, are drawing with the silent but powerful force of gravitation itself, so the second was superior to the first. The additional speakers were Mr. Andrew, Esq., who gave an excellent address, and the Rev. Thos. McVety, full of choice matter as an egg is of meat. The singing throughout was discouraged by the Morven choir and would have done credit to town or city choirs of greater pretensions. The best of all was the pocket thanks-offerings, amounting in all to $122.00, everybody went home pleased that had met—sorry to part, and joyous in anticipation of meeting again next Thanksgiving day, arrangements having been made to make this an annual affair.

FESTUS.

Nov. 27th, 1877

BETHANY.

An old friend called upon us one day this week, and in response to a request to give us a report of the late Tea Meeting at Morven sends us as following:

Why, good morning Mr. Editor, glad to see you, I declare you are the same goodnatured obliging little man I used to meet so often in the New Nation Office. Happy to find the Napanee Express has fallen into the hands of one so well qualified for the Editor's Sanctum. Well, well, don't this beat all? Sold out in Pieton and bought here, eh? Hope you

The Week's News.

Canadian.

Manitoba grain ranks A 1 on the New York Exchange.

Walkerton's building operations this season foot up $150,000.

The last ocean steamer of the season left the Port of Montreal on Saturday.

The Welland Railway station at Welland was burned on Saturday morning.

Passenger train are expected to be running between Montreal and Hull, P. Q., early in December.

The difficulty between the Hastings County Council and the Grand Junction Railway has been settled.

The Provincial Assembly will be called together for the despatch of business on Wednesday, the 9th of January.

An official contradiction is given of the report that small-pox had again broken out in Keewatin.

The write for the Nicolet election was issued yesterday. The nomination will take place on the 11th prox.

The sentence of death passed on Smith, the Castleton abortionist, has been commuted to imprisonment for life, following the precedents set in the cases of Davis and Dr. Sparham. In the case of Williams, the Weston murderer, it is understood that the law will be allowed to take its course.

Mr. Geo. Johnson, hotel-keeper, Walkerton, was brought up on the 19th instant charged with allowing, gambling etc., in his house, and, besides being mulcted in about fifty dollars, was deprived of his license for a period of two months.

A Barkerville, Cariboo, dispatch dated Nov. 6. says:—Mr. Harper has taken from half the amalgam twelve ounces of gold, valued at $185. He has half the amalgam and six flasks of quicksilver still to retort. He estimates the yield from forty tons of rock to be $528.

Several Wingham men who went to California in the spring have returned, being satisfied now that they can do better in Canada.

The Port Perry Observer favours the drainage of Lake Scugog, while the Standard argues that the proposed plan will prove futile.

A member of the Quebec Provincial Police force has gone to Chicago to look after Bartley, the supposed murderer of Sergeant Dore in Beauce. One of Pinkerton's detectives is also said to be hunting the murderer in Maine.

Letters from England state that Canadian barley is in great request for malting purposes.

The Government steamer Newfield sailed from Montreal yesterday for Paris with goods for the Exhibition. Dr. May is preparing for the Exhibition a large collection of Canadian fish, game, and fruit.

Last season's Hansard is ready for distribution.

A Reform Association has been formed at Port Hope.

A Reform Association has been organized in the township of Hope, East Durham.

The workmen employed on the iron railway bridge over the St. Maurice at Three Rivers struck on Monday and subsequently assailed men sent from Quebec to replace them.

American.

Another Cuban filibustering expedition is said to be in preparation, the steamers to start from New Orleans, Bristol, and Philadelphia.

A regiment of Mexican regulars has arrived at the mouth of the Rio Grande. They are the first detachment of a force

WAR NEWS.

Thursday.

The Russians success at Kara, while it has dispirited the Porte and disposed it in favour of peace negotiations, has proportionately emboldened the Russians, who are now beginning to talk of a dash through the Balkans upon Adrianople. They have at Tirnova some fifty-five or sixty thousand men who would be available for such a movement, which, if made at all, would be commenced simultaneously with Mehemet Ali's forward march to the relief of Plevna. There has been severe fighting both on the Danube, west of Nikopoli, and on the Lom. In the first-named district the Roumanians have captured Rahova after a three-days' engagement, and are pursuing the Turks towards Lom-Palanka and Widin. The Roumanian batteries at Kalafat have also sunk a Turkish steamer. In Eastern Bulgaria the result is more doubtful. Both sides claim the victory, but this much at least appears to be certain, that the Turks temporarily occupied and burnt Pyrgos. They also claim to have repulsed a Russian attack on Kadikoi, while the Russian account has it that the Turks were the attacking party and were driven back.

The Greek Chamber has shelved the motion for an enquiry into Turkish outrages in the frontier provinces, which amounts to a Ministerial victory.

Friday.

An attempt to relieve Plevna by a repetition of Mehemet Ali's tactics of threatening the Czarevitch and the Danube crossings, is believed to be in preparation on the Lom. This, with the announcement of the opening of the bombardment of Plevna, and of the proclamation of martial law along the Serbian frontier—Servin's declaration of war being hourly expected—constitute this morning's budget of news from the seat of war.

Saturday.

A report comes to hand this morning that negotiations have been opened for the surrender of Plevna, and that orders have been received by Russian contractors at Gurgevo to prepare 70,000 bags of biscuit for the use of Osman Pasha's army. It is but a few days ago that Plevna was reported to be well victualled the Russians themselves stating that large herds of cattle were to be seen within the lines of the besieged, so that this rumour from the Danube would appear to lack authenticity. A great battle is to be progressing at Tirnova, and a slight engagement has occurred in the direction of Orchanic which two Russian regiments were all but out to places.

There is fresh trouble in Greece, the Ministry having resigned in consequence of language used during the recent debate in the Chamber, and the King refusing to accept their resignations. The populace give vent to a general feeling in favour of war with Turkey.

From Manchester an alarmist rumour with regard to the feeling in England comes to hand. Stripped of its sensational adornments, the report may be taken to mean—at least until more authentic news is received—that the Conservative organs are clamouring for intervention. The rest of the despatch bears a marked resemblance to the alarmist reports received day after day during the earlier stages of the war.

Monday.

Sensational reports respecting both the attitude of the Powers and the movements of the belligerents appear to be the order of the day. While last week's rumours respecting Osman Pasha's intention of surrendering, and the inauguration of negotiations looking towards mediation are contradicted, a fresh batch of improbable reports are served up. It is now stated that Russia is willing to entertain peace proposals, and as a fitting pendant to this unlikely story, we are told of a

AMNESTY TO O'DONOUGHUE.

TEXT OF THE ROYAL PROCLAMATION.

OTTAWA, Nov. 24.—The following is the text of the proclamation of amnesty, published in the Canada Gazette :—

Whereas, Certain misguided persons did in the years one thousand eight hundred and sixty-nine and one thousand eight hundred and seventy, in that part of our dominions in North America then known as Rupert's Land and the North-western Territory, and now forming the Province of Manitoba in our Dominion of Canada, oppose Our authority, and contrary to their allegiance to us did assume to exercise the powers and authorities of a Government, and did incite other persons to act in conjunction with them, being thereby guilty of high treason and other treasonable acts against our Crown and dignity.

And Whereas, By our Royal Proclamation, dated the twenty-third day of April, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-five. We were pleased in compliance with an address of our House of Commons of Canada in that behalf, of the twelfth day of February, A. D. 1875, to proclaim in effect that save and except Louis Reil, Ambrose Lepine, and W. B. O'Donoghue, all persons whatsoever should be pardoned of all crimes or of fences of a political nature or against us our Crown authority, and Government committed in that part of Rupert's Land and the North-western Territory, now the Province of Manitoba, prior to the second day of September, A. D. 1870 with which they then stood charged or might be chargeable at that time as being dependent upon or connected with the part such persons, except as afore said, might have respectively taken in the year 1869 and 1870 prior to the second day of September, 1870, with regard to the matter above recited, and that the said Louis Reil and Ambrose Lepine should be pardoned in like manner upon the express condition that each of them should absent and keep himself absent from the Dominion of Canada for the period of five years from the said 23rd day of April, A. D. 1870, and abstain from the exercise and enjoyment of his political rights therein and for during the said term ;

And Whereas, being well assured of the loyalty of the inhabitants of our said Province of Manitoba, and of the firm establishment of peace, order, and good government therein, and about one-half of the said period of five years having now elapsed. We are willing to extend to the said W. B. O'Donoghue our Royal mercy, subject to the same terms and conditions upon which our Royal mercy was extended to the said Louis Reil and Ambrose Lepine.

Now Know Ye, that We do of our Royal will and pleasure ordained, direct declared, and proclaim that the said W. B. O'Donoghue is and shall be acquitted, pardoned, released, and discharged from all and all manner of treasons, treasonable acts, felonies, seditions, misdemeanours, crimes or offences of a political nature, or against us, our Crown, authority, and Government, committed as here in before mentioned, with which he now stands charged or may be chargeable at this time, as being dependent upon or connected with the part he, the said W. B. O'Donoghue, may have taken in the years one thousand eight hundred and sixty-nine and one thousand eight hundred and seventy, prior to the second day of September, in the year one thousand eight hundred and seventy, with regard to the matters herein before recited and that all proceedings in respect thereof shall cease, and determine upon this said express condition that the said W. B. O'Donoghue do and shall absent and keep himself from the Dominion of Canada for the period of five years, from the 23rd day of April, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-five, and abstain from the exercise and enjoyment of his political rights therein and for during against us, we were obliged to experience what Shakespeare once said, that "What the fates ordain that man must need endure." But the dark and the storm are small barriers, when loaded tables, bonus music and grand speeches in prospect, are drawing with the silent but powerful force of gravitation itself, so the second was superior to the first. The additional speakers were Mr. Andrew, Esq., who gave an excellent address, and the Rev. Thos. McVety, full of choice matter as an egg is of meat. The singing throughout was discoursed by the Morven choir and would have done credit to town or city choirs of greater pretensions. The best of all was the pocket thanks-offerings, amounting in all to $122.00, everybody went home pleased that had met—sorry to part, and joyous in anticipation of meeting again next Thanksgiving day, arrangements having been made to make this an annual affair.

FESTUS.

Nov. 27th, 1877

BETHANY.

An old friend called upon us one day this week, and in response to a request to give us a report of the late Tea Meeting at Morven sends us as following:

Why, good morning Mr. Editor, glad to see you, I declare you are the same goodnatured obliging little man I used to meet so often in the New Nation Office. Happy to find the Napanee Express has fallen into the hands of one so well qualified for the Editor's Sanctum. Well, well, don't this beat all? Sold out in Pictou and bought here, eh? Hope you will enjoy your new relations, I don't wish to disturb you, but I just called to pay for those Anniversary bills for the M. E. Church Bethany. Oh, by the way, I believe nothing has been said about that show, well I tell you we had a big time, you see Mr. Editor how it happened. The congregation at Bethany, I suppose for natural singing ability can't be surpassed in a country crowd anywhere. All that was wanted was a machine to start them. So Rev. Stratton, their pastor, with his strong love for music urged them to be equal to their neighbors, and purchase an organ. Of course as he sells the cheapest and best they bought of him. Well, all went well enough until money was required. To provide for this Anniversary services were held as announced, Rev. C. S. Eastman of Pictou filled the pulpit on Sabbath three times. To say the sermons were good would not be a proper word to use. To give a synopsis would be to spoil them. He won golden opinions, and did great good for his Master. Monday night came, and as it was before the last rain storm began, they had a fine night and a good house. Tea superb. The choir was ably filled by Irvine Parks, Esq., a rising young man of no ordinary ability. Well now, as to the speeches they were splendid. The first speaker was the Rev. Mr. Shorts of Mill Point, sharp, pithy, and went catching quails, in a very humorous manner. Rev. C. S. Eastman was next called upon, and gave a very sound and solid address. Next came the witty jocosclever P. E. Rev. I. B. Aylsworth, M. A. L. L. B., and last came Rev. Dr. Hartley of Napanee, who is ever ready for the rostrum. The last two speakers, are so well known about your town that eulogies on their efforts, would be idle. I believe you editors don't like to be bothered with lauders, but I crave your indulgence. The solos, quartets, anthems, and full choruses were of the best selections, and rendered with such ability as to send a thrill of pleasure through the entire audience. The organist, the Misses Woodcock, Miss A. Miller and Miss Stratton led with great celerity. The choir singing is being conducted by Mr. N. Woodcock a gentleman, who is doing much to elevate the science of music. The wind up beats all the rest, for the entire offerings to the organ funds, netted the handsome sum of $139.50 cash. This has been nicely supplemented since. I tell you the Bethany people are proud of their success. I ask your pardon, for detaining you so long, but if course Editors ought to know all particulars about everything. Hope you

The Port Perry Observer favours the drainage of Lake Seaugo, while the Standard argues that the proposed plan will prove futile.

A member of the Quebec Provincial Police force has gone to Chicago to look after Bartley, the supposed murderer of Sergeant Dore in Beauce. One of Pinkerton's detectives is also said to be hunting the murderer in Maine.

Letters from England state that Canadian barley is in great request for malting purposes.

The Government steamer Newfield sailed from Montreal yesterday for Paris with goods for the Exhibition. Dr. May is preparing for the Exhibition a large collection of Canadian fish, game, and fruit.

Last season's Hanard is ready for distribution.

A Reform Association has been formed at Port Hope.

A Reform Association has been organized in the township of Hope, East Durham.

The workmen employed on the iron railway bridge over the St. Maurice at Three Rivers struck on Monday and subsequently assailed men sent from Quebec to replace them.

American.

Another Cuban filibustering expedition is said to be in preparation, the steamers to start from New Orleans, Bristol, and Philadelphia.

A regiment of Mexican regulars has arrived at the mouth of the Rio Grande. They are the first detachment of a force of 2,500 men ordered to the frontier by Diaz to preserve order.

Six of the great Chinese companies in San Francisco have appealed to Washington for protection against violence, and the observance of treaty obligations.

A writer in Harper's Monthly, who has lived in Alaska for ten years, says the land is worthless and the seal fisheries likely to be soon exhausted. There are but one hundred white persons in the country.

A family near Slaughtersville, Ky., has been driven from home by rattlesnakes, which have taken up their quarters under the house. The neighbours had rallied, and at last reports had killed twenty-seven, and were still on guard.

The attention of the United States Government has been formally called by the Mexican Government to the existence on the north bank of the Rio Grande of a camp of supposed filibusters, and the Washington authorities have been asked to insist on the neutrality laws being respected.

The Chicago Tribune says that Dr. S. I. Russell, a prominent physician, but infidel in religious faith, of Bell county, Ill., was recently taken from his bed at night by a company of men said to be members of the Baptist church, stripped, and addressed thus:—"We know you are an honest man and a good physician, but we will tolerate no infidels in Bell county; so, by the help of God, we will stop your career of infidelity." A hundred lashes were then laid upon his naked back. He was then freed, and a notice posted on a tree that hereafter infidelity in Bell county will be punished by the torch and halter."

Continent.

The Pope received a deputation of French pilgrims on Tuesday, being carried into the audience room on a litter. He is so weak, however, that he has since suspended his audiences.

WRECK OF A NAN-OF-WAR.

A NUMBER OF LIVES LOST.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 24.—The observer at Kitty Hawk reports that the United States man-of-war steamer Huron struck two miles north of No. 7 station, at 1:30 a. m. Her foremast and main-topmast are gone. The steamer is a total wreck, and assistance is needed immediately. The sea is breaking over her, of about for the use of Osman Pasha's army. It is but a few days ago that Plevna was reported to be well victualled the Russians themselves stating that large herds of cattle were to be seen within the lines of the besieged, so that this rumour from the Danube would appear to lack authenticity. A great battle is to be progressing at Tirnova, and a slight engagement has occurred in the direction of Orchanic which two Russian regiments were all but out to places.

There is fresh trouble in Greece, the Ministry having resigned in consequence of language used during the recent debate in the Chamber, and the King refusing to accept their resignations. The populace give vent to a general feeling in favour of war with Turkey.

From Manchester an alarmist rumour with regard to the feeling in England comes to hand. Stripped of its sensational adornments, the report may be taken to mean—at least until more authentic news is received—that the Conservative organs are clamouring for intervention. The rest of the despatch bears a marked resemblance to the alarmist reports received day after day during the earlier stages of the war.

Monday.

Sensational reports respecting both the attitude of the Powers and the movements of the belligerents appear to be the order of the day. While last week's rumours respecting Osman Pasha's intention of surrendering, and the inauguration of negotiations looking towards mediation are contradicted, a fresh batch of improbable reports are served up. It is now stated that Russia is willing to entertain peace proposals, and as a fitting pendant to this unlikely story, we are told of a Parisian rumour that England has sent an ultimatum to Russia. The story is as improbable as the other, while a third improbability is given in a rumour that Osman Pasha has broken through the lines at Plevna. Even Turkish advices admit that Osman's position is hopeless unless Mehemet Ali manages to come to his rescue in time, and every effort will be made in this direction.

Servia is evidently preparing for a warlike movement, the inhabitants of the south-eastern towns having received notice to quit, and the second-class militia having been instructed to mobilize and to hold themselves in readiness to march to the border.

A hundred and fifty thousand civic guards have been called out in Constantinople and the provinces to maintain order in case the Christians should be called upon to join the general levy.

Tuesday.

The fall of Plevna now appears to be regarded as a foregone conclusion, the more so as the Roumanians have succeeded in carrying the important position of Pravetz, which Mehemet Ali will be compelled to the recapture in order to secure the success of his relief movement, unless he moves his main body further west. The Russians are reported to be so confident of the speedy reduction of Osman Pasha's stronghold that they have countermanded the preparations for wintering in Bulgaria in the expectation that the fall of Plevna will lead to negotiations for peace. St. Petersburg advice state that the Russian Government are extremely anxious to exclude England from participation in any such negotiations, and is announced from Constantinople that the Sultan has expressed his intention of treating separately with the Czar. The sensational reports given on the authority of the Manchester Guardian's London correspondent are denied, as was to have been expected as also are the rumours for the forcing of the investment lines round Plevna.

From Montenegro it is announced that the Insurgents have retired beyond the Bojana, and that a Turkish fleet of iron-clads is expected at Antivari. Servia is about to make her long delay forward movement, the order having been given for an advance to the frontier on the 29th inst.

Wednesday.

They latest rumour relating to peace proposals is to the effect that Gortschakoff is busily engaged in diplomatic inter-

And And, being assured of the loyalty of the inhabitants of our said Province of Manitoba, and of the firm establishment of peace, order, and good government therein, and about one-half of the said period of five years having now elapsed. We are willing to extend to the said W. B. O'Donoghue our Royal mercy, subject to the same terms and conditions upon which our Royal mercy was extended to the said Louis Reil and Ambrose Lepine.

Now Know Ye, that We do of our Royal will and pleasure ordained, direct declared, and proclaim that the said W. B. O'Donoghue is and shall be acquitted pardoned, released, and discharged from all and all manner of treasons, treasonable acts, felonies, seditious, misdemeanours, crimes or offences of a political nature, or against us, our Crown, authority, and Government, committed as herein before mentioned, with which he now stands charged or may be chargeable at this time, as being dependent upon or connected with the part he, the said W. B. O'Donoghue, may have taken in the years one thousand eight hundred and sixty-nine and one thousand eight hundred and seventy, prior to the second day of September, in the year one thousand eight hundred and seventy, with regard to the matters herein before recited, and that all proceedings in respect thereof shall cease, and determine upon this said express condition that the said W. B. O'Donoghue do and shall absent and keep himself from the Dominion of Canada for the period of five years, from the 23rd day of April, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-five, and abstain from the exercise and enjoyment of his political rights therein for and during the said term. And provided that upon breach of this condition by the said W. B. O'Donoghue, this our Royal proclamation and remission shall be utterly null and void.

The various schemes of the dead beats which are infesting the Province at the present time, for raising money re amusing if thing were not so successful. We hear of one who, after selecting his victim, approaches him with small offering of security, what appears to be a massive gold ring, marked 18 carats. Upon test, however, it is found to be worth a few cents only. The public can not be too cautious in dealing with suspicious strangers, as their plausibility is remarkably deceiving.

MARKETS.

(Corrected weekly.)

NAPANEE NOV. 15th.

(Report by Diamond and Sherwood, Napanee.)

Oats—30c. per bushel.
Rye—57c. per bushel.
Pease—60c. per bushel.
Barley—No 2, 55c. per bushel.
Barley—No 1, 65c. per bushel.
Wheat—$1.10 per bushel.
Flour—$2.90 per cwt.
Buckwheat Flour—$2.75 per cwt.
Bran—$1.40 per ton.
Shorts—$2.20 per ton.
Buckwheat—40c. per bushel.
Wood—$3.00 per cord.
Coal—$5.00 per ton.

(Report by the Market Clerk, Napanee.)

Hay—$10.00 to $12.00 per ton.
Hides—$7.00. to $8.00 per cwt.
Butter—20c. to 24c. per lb.
Eggs—15c. per dozen.
Beef per cwt.—$3.00 to $5.00.
Bread—14c. per loaf.
Coal—$1.50 to $2.00 per ton.
Chickens—25c. to 30c. per pair.
Ducks—40c. per pair.
Flour—$3.10 per cwt.
Deacon Skins—40c.
Lard—12c. to 15c.
Lamb and Pigs—50c. to $1.00
Oatmeal—$1.00. per cwt.
Onions—70c. to $1.00 per bushel.
Potatoes—35c. per bushel.
Pork—$5.00 to $6.00.
Straw—$3.00 to $4.00.

BELLEVILLE MARKETS.

Wheat, $1 15 to $1 25.
Barley, 45c. to 57c.
Rye, 55c to 56c
Oats, 30c to 33c
Peas 60c
Dressed Hogs, $5 to $6 per cwt.
Butter, 18c. to 20c.
Butter, 18c to 17c
Eggs, 14c to 15c
Potatoes, 50c to 60c per bag.
Flour, Wholesale, $5 50 per bbl.
Apples, 60c to $1 per bag.
Cheese, 9c to 10c.
Hay, $11 to $12 per ton

that was wanted was a machine to start them. So Rev. Stratton their pastor, with his strong love for music urged them to be equal to their neighbors, and purchase an organ. Of course as he sells the cheapest and best they bought of him. Well, all went well enough until money was required. To provide for this Anniversary services were held as announced, Rev. C. S. Eastman of Picton filled the pulpit on Sabbath three times. To say the sermons were good would not be a proper word to use. To give a synopsis would be to spoil them. He won golden opinions, and did great good for his Master. Monday night came, and as it was before the last rain storm began, they had a fine night and a good house. Tea superb. The choir was ably filled by Irvine Parks, Esq., a rising young man of no ordinary ability. Well now, as to the speeches they were splendid. The first speaker was the Rev. Mr. Shorts of Mill Point, sharp, pithy, and went catching quails, in a very humorous manner. Rev. C. S. Eastman was next called upon, and gave a very sound and solid address. Next came the witty jocosse clever P. E. Rev. I. B. Aylsworth, M. A. L. L. B., and last came Rev. Dr. Hartley of Napanee, who is ever ready for the rostrum. The last two speakers, are so well known about your town that eulogies on their efforts, would be idle. I believe your editors don't like to be bothered with lauders, but I crave your indulgence. The solos, quartets, anthems, and full choruses were of the best selections, and rendered with such ability as to send a thrill of pleasure through the entire audience. The organist, the Misses Woodcock, Miss A. Miller and Miss Stratton led with great celerity. The choir singing is being conducted by Mr. N. Woodcock a gentleman, who is doing much to elevate the science of music. The wind up beats all the rest, for the entire offerings to the organ funds, netted the handsome sum of $133.30 cash. This has been nicely supplemented since I tell you the Bethany people are proud of their success. I ask your pardon, for detaining you so long, but if excuse flatters ought to know all particulars about everything. Hope you will succeed well in Napanee, come and see us, and bring along your wife, don't forget, good day.

A MARVELOUS DISCOVERY.

A North German newspaper gives an account of a discovery and invention, by means of which it is rendered possible wholly to overcome the force of gravitation so that a man in the last stage of consumption will, by employing it, be able to lift a body of any assignable weight; he could, for instance, easily draw up to the surface an iron-clad that had sunk to the bottom of a river, provided only the apparatus, which consists of a slender wire, could be made to grapple the ship so that its ends could be brought into contact with each other. Satisfactory experiments with the invention are said to have been made in the presence of German officers, as the price of divulging his secret method of accomplishing this unheard of results, the inventor—who is, by the way, a South German—demands the trifling sum of $3,000,000.

Many years ago the British Crown sent to its faithful subjects in the colony of South California a chime of bells, which were hung in the steeple of St. Michael's—that graceful spire which a pupil of Sir Christopher Wren designed, and which is to-day the fairest as well as the first thing which one sees after crossing the harbour bar. These bells were captured by the British during the Revolutionary War, and were sent to England, where they have remained to this day. Although St. Michael's has of its own, an English merchant has offered to send back the old bells, and Senator Gordon has introduced in the Senate a resolution providing for their admission to this country free of duty.

the land is worthless and the seal fisheries likely to be soon exhausted. There are but one hundred white persons in the country.

A family near Slaughter'sville, Ky., has been driven from home by rattlesnakes, which have taken up their quarters under the house. The neighbours had rallied, and at last reports had killed twenty-seven, and were still on guard.

The attention of the United States Government has been formally called by the Mexican Government to the existence on the north bank of the Rio Grande of a camp of supposed filibusters, and the Washington authorities have been asked to insist on the neutrality laws being respected.

The Chicago Tribune says that Dr. S. I. Russell, a prominent physician, but infidel in religious faith, of Bell county, Ill., was recently taken from his bed at night by a company of men said to be members of the Baptist church, stripped, and addressed thus:—"We know you are an honest man and a good physician, but we will tolerate no infidels in Bell county; so, by the help of God, we will stop your career of infidelity." A hundred lashes were then laid upon his naked back. He was then freed, and a notice posted on a tree that hereafter infidelity in Bell county will be punished by the torch and halter."

Continent.

The Pope received a deputation of French pilgrims on Tuesday, being carried into the audience room on a litter. He is so weak, however, that he has since suspended his audiences.

WRECK OF A MAN-OF-WAR.

A NUMBER OF LIVES LOST.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 24.—The observer at Kitty Hawk reports that the United States man-of-war steamer Huron struck two miles north of No. 7 station, at 1:30 a. m. Her foremast and main-topmast are gone. The steamer is a total wreck, and assistance is needed immediately. The sea is breaking over her, and several bodies have already been washed ashore. The number on board is about 135. No cargo.

The cause of the disaster was thick weather, and a fresh gale blowing. No assistance can be rendered from steamers as the surf is still very heavy. Paymaster Saunders, reported saved yesterday was lost. It is believed that it will be some days yet before all the survivors can be gathered up, as many may have been washed ashore lower down the beach. The Huron had a good complement of ship's boats, and it is not improbable that other survivors may still be heard from.

The Huron was an iron screw propeller, carrying four guns, of 541 tons. The wrecking steamer Resolute was dispatched to her assistance.

The Huron left Fort Monroe yesterday on a cruise to the West Indies. The theory of those well acquainted with the coast is that she got caught in the height of the gale and, while trying to hold on head to wind, her machinery gave way; her sails were useless, and she drifted ashore.

The life-saving station nearest to the point where the Huron went ashore had not been ordered on active work, it is intimated, because of the meagreness of the appropriations.

The secretary of the navy has ordered the surviving officers of the Huron to be brought here. They will probably arrive on Tuesday, when the particulars of the disaster will be disclosed.

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—Commander Ryan, of the Huron, was considered one of the best of our naval officers. He was selected for observing the transit of Venus, and was recently ordered to the Huron. It is stated that loss of the Government by the disaster is nearly $700,000.

be made in this direction.

Servia is evidently preparing for a warlike movement, the inhabitants of the south-eastern towns having received notice to quit, and the second-class militia having been instructed to mobilize and to hold themselves in readiness to march to the border.

A hundred and fifty thousand civic guards have been called out in Constantinople and the provinces to maintain order in case the Christians should be called upon to join the general levy.

Tuesday.

The fall of Plevna now appears to be regarded as a foregone conclusion, the more so as the Roumanians have succeeded in carrying the important position of Pravetz, which Mehemet Ali will be compelled to the recapture in order to secure the success of his relief movement, unless he moves his main body further west. The Russians are reported to be so confident of the speedy reduction of Osman Pasha's stronghold that they have countermanded the preparations for wintering in Bulgaria in the expectation that the fall of Plevna will lead to negotiations for peace. St. Petersburg advice state that the Russian Government are extremely anxious to exclude England from participation in any such negotiations, and is announced from Constantinople that the Sultan has expressed his intention of treating separately with the Czar. The sensational reports given on the authority of the Manchester Guardian's London correspondent are denied, as was to have been expected as also are the rumours for the forcing of the investment lines round Plevna.

From Montenegro it is announced that the Insurgents have retired beyond the Bojana, and that a Turkish fleet of iron-clads is expected at Antivari. Servia is about to make her long delay forward movement, the order having been given for an advance to the frontier on the 29th inst.

Wednesday.

The latest rumour relating to peace proposals is to the effect that Gortschakoff is busily engaged in diplomatic intercourse, propositions having been made for a conference on the conditions of peace.

A Servian battalion crossed the frontier yesterday for the purpose of defending some unprotected Bulgarian women and children, but were attacked by the Turks and driven back. The Roumanians are said to have occupied Zibru Palanka and Lom Palanka, on the south shore of the Danube, between Nikopoli and Widin. In the Balkan region the Turks have abandoned Orhanie for strategic purposes, and are entrenched in a strong position at the head of the neighbouring defile. Rumours are afloat at Constantinople that Mahmoud Damad Pasha is about to be removed in consequence of the fall of Kars.

Two hundred tons of iron ore are being got out now at the Snowdon mine for shipment to Cleveland, where it will undergo a proper test. Messrs. Shortiss & Sayigny, the owners of the mine, have a further order of 20,000 tons from the Bethlehem Bessemer Steel Works, Pa., to be delivered next summer. The Railway Company are locating a line to the mine, and will construct a hundred cars for the transportation of the ore.

The days of the lamplighter are numbered, and the time is at hand when he will exist only a story. Electricity is certain to take his place because it can work more cheaply. It has been tried for the purposes of lighting and extinguishing 220 street lamps in Providence, R.I., scattered over a district nine miles long. One man attends to the whole business, and does it in fifteen seconds. The method has now been on trial for some months, and a saving of $10 per lamp per year is reported.

hear of one who, after selecting his victim, approaches him with small offering of security, what appears to be a massive gold ring, marked 18 carats. Upon test, however, it is found to be worth a few cents only. The public can not be too cautious in dealing with suspicious strangers, as their plausibility is remarkably deceiving.

MARKETS.

(Corrected weekly.)

NAPANEE Nov. 15th.

(Report by Diamond and Sherwood, Napanee.)

Oats—30c. per bushel.
Rye—57c. per bushel.
Pease—60c. per bushel.
Barley—No 2, 55c. per bushel.
Barley—No 1, 60c. per bushel.
Wheat—$1.10 per bushel.
Flour—$2.50 per cwt.
Buckwheat Flour—$2.75 per cwt.
Bran—$1.00 per ton.
Shorts—$2.00 per ton.
Buckwheat—40c. per bushel.
Wood—$3.00 per cord.
Coal—$5.00 per ton.

(Report by the Market Clerk, Napanee.)

Hay—$10.00 to $12.00 per ton.
Hides—$7.00. to $8.00 per cwt.
Butter—20c. to 24c. per lb.
Eggs—15c. per dozen.
Beef per cwt.—$3.00 to $5.00.
Bread—14c. per loaf.
Coal—$4.50 to $5.00 per ton.
Chickens—25c. to 30c. per pair.
Ducks—40c. per pair.
Flour—$3.10 per cwt.
Deacon Skins—40c.
Lard—12c. to 14c.
Lamb and Pigs—50c. to $1.00
Oatmeal—$4.00. per cwt.
Onions—70c. to $1.00 per bushel.
Potatoes—35c. per bushel.
Pork—$5.00 to $6.00.
Straw—$3.00 to $4.00.

BELLEVILLE MARKETS.

Wheat, $1.15 to $1.25.
Barley, 45c. to 57c.
Rye, 55c to 50c
Oats, 30c to 33c
Peas 60c
Dressed Hogs, $5 to $6 per cwt.
Butter, Roll, 15c to 25c
Butter, Tub, 15c to 17c
Eggs, 14c to 16c
Potatoes, 50c to 60c per bag.
Flour, Wholesale, $5.50 per bbl.
Apples, 60c to $1 per bag.
Cheese, 9c to 10c.
Hay, $11 to $12 per ton

TORONTO MARKETS.

Wheat, fall, per bu. $1.20 to $1.25
Wheat, spring, per bu. $1 to $1.09
Barley, per bu. 50c to 67c
Oats, per bu. 35c to 35c
Peas, per bu. 63c to 70c
Rye, per bu. 60c
Butter, in rolls, 20c to 22c
Butter, large rolls, 20c
Butter, tub dairy, best, 15c to 19c
Flour, wholesale, $5.50 per bbl
Flour, Retail, $6.00 per bbl
Beef, Per quarter 3; to 5c
Cheese, 9c to 10c
Lard, 15c to 15c
Tallow, Rough, 4c
Tallow, Rendered, 7c to 7c
Eggs, fresh, per doz. 17c to 18c
Eggs, in lots, 15c
Hay, $11 to $15 per ton

OSWEGO MARKETS.

OSWEGO, N. Y., Nov. 23.—1 p.m.

Wheat steady—No. 1, white Michigan $1.44; white state $1.42; No. Milwaukee club $1.34.

Corn quiet—No. 1 Toledo 60c.
Barley quiet—Sales 1,000; No. 1 Canada above grade 93c.

U. S. CHEESE AND BUTTER MARKETS.

UTICA, N. Y., Nov. 26.—8,000 boxes of cheese offered to-day, a falling off 2,500. 1,157 boxes were sold on commission, 1,462 boxes directly. The highest for September 12c. leading factory prices and extreme for October 12½. Average for all grades 11½c. Market duller and lower.

LITTLE FALLS, N. Y., Nov. 26.—The cheese market is brisk to-day; not particularly active above last week's quotations. 80,000 boxes of factory cheese sold at 11½c. to 12½c. mostly 12c. 220 boxes of dairies went at 10½c. to 12c, only 60 boxes getting the latter figure. Butter—14c packages sold at 20c to 26c. mostly 24c to 25c, being 1c to 2c less than last week.

WAR NEWS.

Thursday.
The Russians success at Kars, while it has dispirited the Porte and disposed it in favour of peace negotiations, has proportionately emboldened the Russians, who are now beginning to talk of a dash through the Balkans upon Adrianople. They have at Tirnova some fifty-five or sixty thousand men who would be available for such a movement, which, if made at all, would be commenced simultaneously with Mehemet Ali's forward march to the relief of Plevna. There has been severe fighting both on the Danube, west of Nikopoli, and on the Lom. In the first-named district the Rumanians have captured Rahova after a three-days' engagement, and are pursuing the Turks towards Lom-Palanka and Widin. The Rumanian batteries at Kalafat have also sunk a Turkish steamer. In Eastern Bulgaria the result is more doubtful. Both sides claim the victory, but this much at least appears to be certain, that the Turks temporarily occupied and burnt Pyrgos. They also claim to have repulsed a Russian attack on Kadikoi, while the Russian account has it that the Turks were the attacking party and were driven back.

The Greek Chamber has shelved the motion for an enquiry into Turkish outrages in the frontier provinces, which amounts to a ministerial victory.

Friday.
An attempt to relieve Plevna by a re-estimation of Mehemet Ali's tactics of threatening the Czarevitch and the Danube crossings, is believed to be in preparation on the Lom. This, with the announcement of the opening of the bombardment of Plevna, and of the proclamation of martial law along the Servian frontier—Serbia's declaration of war being hourly expected—constitute this morning's budget of news from the seat of war.

Saturday.
A report comes to hand this morning that negotiations have been opened for the surrender of Plevna, and that orders have been received by Russian contractors at Giurgevo to prepare 70,000 bags of biscuit for the use of Osman Pasha's army. It is but a few days ago that Plevna was reported to be well victualled by the Russians themselves stating that large herds of cattle were to be seen within the lines of the besieged, so that this rumour from the Danube would appear to lack authenticity. A great battle is to be progressing at Tirnova, and a slight engagement has occurred in the direction of Orhanic which two Russian regiments were all but out to places.

There is fresh trouble in Greece, the Ministry having resigned in consequence of language used during the recent debate in the Chamber, and the King refusing to accept their resignations. The populace give vent to a general feeling in avowal of war with Turkey.

From Manchester an alarmist rumour with regard to the feeling in England comes to hand. Stripped of its sensational adornments, the report may be taken to mean—at least until more authentic news is received—that the Conservative organs are clamouring for intervention. The rest of the despatch bears a marked resemblance to the alarmist reports received day after day during the earlier stages of the war.

Monday.
Sensational reports respecting both the attitude of the Powers and the movements of the belligerents appear to be the order of the day. While last week's rumours respecting Osman Pasha's intention of surrendering, and the inauguration of negotiations looking towards mediation were contradicted, a fresh batch of improbable reports are served up. It is now stated that Russia is willing to entertain peace proposals, and as a fitting pendant to this unlikely story, we are told of a Parisian rumour that England has sent an ultimatum to Russia. The story is as

AMNESTY TO O'DONOUGHUE.

TEXT OF THE ROYAL PROCLAMATION,

OTTAWA, Nov. 24.—The following is the text of the proclamation of amnesty, published in the Canada Gazette:—

Whereas, Certain misguided persons did in the years one thousand eight hundred and sixty-nine and one thousand eight hundred and seventy, in that part of our dominions in North America then known as Rupert's Land and the North-western Territory, and now forming the Province of Manitoba in our Dominion of Canada, oppose Our authority, and contrary to their allegiance to us did assume to exercise the powers and authorities of a Government, and did incite other persons to act in conjunction with them, being thereby guilty of high treason and other treasonable acts against our Crown and dignity.

And Whereas, By our Royal Proclamation, dated the twenty-third day of April, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-five. We were pleased in compliance with an address of our House of Commons of Canada in that behalf, of the twelfth day of February, A. D. 1875, to proclaim in effect that save and except Louis Reil, Ambroise Lepine, and W. B. O'Donoghue, all persons whatsoever should be pardoned of all crimes or offences of a political nature or against us, our Crown authority, and Government committed in that part of Rupert's Land and the North-western Territory, now the Province of Manitoba, prior to the second day of September, A. D. 1870, with which they then stood charged or might be chargeable at that time as being dependent upon or connected with the part such persons, except as aforesaid, might have respectively taken in the year 1869 and 1870 prior to the second day of September, 1870, with regard to the matter above recited, and that the said Louis Reil and Ambroise Lepine should be pardoned in like manner upon the express condition that each of them should absent and keep himself absent from the Dominion of Canada for the period of five years from the said 23rd day of April, A. D. 1870, and abstain from the exercise and enjoyment of his political rights therein and for during the said term;

And Whereas, being well assured of the loyalty of the inhabitants of our said Province of Manitoba, and of the firm establishment of peace, order, and good government therein, and about one-half of the said period of five years having now elapsed. We are willing to extend to the said W. B. O'Donoghue our Royal mercy, subject to the same terms and conditions upon which our Royal mercy was extended to the said Louis Reil and Ambroise Lepine.

Now Know Ye, that We do of our Royal will and pleasure ordained, direct declared, and proclaim that the said W. B. O'Donoghue is and shall be acquitted, pardoned, released, and discharged from all and all manner of treasons, treasonable acts, felonies, seditions, misdemeanours, crimes or offences of a political nature, or against us, our Crown, authority, and Government, committed as herein before mentioned, with which he now stands charged or may be chargeable at this time, as being dependent upon or connected with the part he, the said W. B. O'Donoghue, may have taken in the years one thousand eight hundred and sixty-nine and one thousand eight hundred and seventy, prior to the second day of September, in the year one thousand eight hundred and seventy, with regard to the matters herein before recited, and that all proceedings in respect thereof shall cease, and determine upon this said express condition that the said W. B. O'Donoghue do and shall absent and keep himself from the Dominion of Canada for the period of five years, from the 23rd day of April, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-five, and abstain from the exercise and enjoyment of his political rights therein for and during the said term. And provided that upon breach of this condition by the said W. B. O'Donoghue, this our Royal proclama-

IMPROVEMENT ON FELT ROOFS

THE Subscriber would call the attention of the people of Napanee, to an improvement on Felt Roofs, invented by Mr. Brokenshire, of the Atlantic Foundry, Kingston.

This Roofing Material is composed of Minerals which form a Cement, proof against either

Fire or Water,

It will not crack in winter, or get soft and run in summer, and when dry it is as hard as slate, and more durable than Tin or Galvanized Iron, in fact nothing else is now used in Kingston on felt roofs.

References to a few who have the roof in use:—
Mr. C. F. Gilderleeve, Kingston;
Messrs. Wagner & McMillan, Albion Hotel;
Mr. McRae's Store, Princess Street, Kingston;
Mr. Parker's Drug Store, Kingston;
Mr. Thornton's Hotel, Kingston;
Mr. Overend, Contractor, on his residence, do.;
Kingston Street Railway Buildings;
Rev. Mr. Gratey, Kingston;
Atlantic Foundry, Kingston, and many others.

Any parties wanting New Roofs or Old Roofs repaired should see

NELSON GERMAN,
Agent, Napanee.

Napanee, Nov. 18th 1877.

Business Change.

THE undersigned has sold out all his stock in trade to THOMAS SEAWARD, who will carry on the business in my old shop. All accounts due me must be paid forthwith.

ROBERT MOTT.

Bath, Nov. 2nd 1877.

FARM FOR SALE.

About 75 acres of the

BEST LAND

—IN—

PRINCE EDWARD COUNTY,

5½ miles from Picton, and 8½ miles from Demorestville.

This is a rare chance to get a Choice Farm. It is well watered and nicely situated.

A Special Price to a purchaser before the 1st December.

Apply to

R McDOWALL,
Demorestville, 29.

Or at this Office.

Insolvent Act of 1875.

CANADA: Province of Ontario. In the County Court of County of Lennox and Addington. In the Matter of EDWARD KIMERLY BOWEN, An Insolvent.

THE Undersigned has filed in the office of this Court, a Deed of Composition and Discharge, executed by his creditors, and on TUESDAY the SIXTH day of NOVEMBER next, he will apply to the Judge of the said Court for a confirmation of the discharge thereby effected.

Napanee, October 6th, 1877.

E. K. BOWEN,
By E. B. STONE,
his Attorney, ad litem.

NOTICE is hereby given, that on and after the 1st day of July next, Shippers or Exporters of goods, by Vessel, Railway, or any other conveyance to any country or place, outside of the Dominion of Canada, must make export entries verified by oath at the Custom House, with particulars of quantity and value, under a penalty not exceeding $200, and no clearance will be granted to any vessel until the said entries are made and verified.

J. BENSON, Collector, Custom House, Napanee June 25th, 1877.

1823. SEND FOR 1878

THE New York Observer

FARM FOR SALE.

A FARM of 175 Acres, the most desirable property in the County of Northumberland, for Sale. Being all that portion of lot No. 34 in Concession A, of the Village and Township of Brighton, lying North of the old Kingston Road, and only quarter of a mile from the P. O. and the centre of the village. Upon the premises are good brick and wooden buildings; a large orchard of young and bearing trees; a beautiful grove of pine and hardwood timber; spring creeks, and other advantages which rendered it desirable. Also several other good Farms and Village Properties for sale.

I. O. PROCTOR.
Brighton.

7-tfd4

Land PLASTER

Now grinding and ready for use.

Superior Fine Ground Land Plaster,

AT THE LOW RATE OF

$5 per Ton, or 25 cts. per Hundred. ALL orders left at the Mill, or at the Woollen Factory, for Williams' and Lasher's Water Lime, or Quick Lime, will be promptly attended to. Lime delivered when required. No Credit.

JAMES PERRY.

Napanee, March 5th, 1877. 46.

Important Notice.

$2,000 WORTH OF

New Bankrupt Stock,

JUST ARRIVED AT

MEAGHER'S.

Come and See. We are determined to sell cheaper than can be bought in a regular way. Our prices are far below the Wholesale Price.

GREAT BARGAINS IN

COTTON AND WINCEY SHIRTINGS.

PRINTS AT 5c. A YARD.

BARGAINS IN DRESS GOODS.

Good Black Lustres at 15c. a yard.

Boots and Shoes, Ready-made Clothing, Remarkably Cheap.

Mens' Long Boots, $1.50, Worth, $2.50.

Boys' Long Boots 70c. worth $1.50.

200 OVERCOATS,

From $5.00 to $15.00.

Every Line of Goods to be sold below Cost.

Don't fail to call and inspect before making your purchases. 25-tf MEAGHER BROS.

UNION BAKERY.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

I beg to call the attention of the public to the Union Bakery, where you will find always on hand an abundant stock of

Bread, Cake, Biscuit and Confectionery.

All orders promptly attended to. Wedding Cakes a speciality. Baking done in the neatest manner.

...-Servia's declaration of war against the Serbs hourly expected—constitute this morning's budget of news from the seat war.

Saturday.

A report comes to hand this morning at negotiations have been opened for the surrender of Plevna, and that orders have been received by Russian contractors at Giurgevo to prepare 70,000 bags biscuit for the use of Osman Pasha's army. It is but a few days ago that Plevna was reported to be well victualled by the Russians themselves stating that large herds of cattle were to be seen within the lines of the besieged, so that this rumour from the Danube would appear to lack authenticity. A great battle is to be progressing at Tirnova, and a slight engagement has occurred in the direction of Jambouk which two Russian regiments are all but out to places.

There is fresh trouble in Greece, the Ministry having resigned in consequence of language used during the recent debate in the Chamber, and the King refusing to accept their resignations. The palace gave vent to a general feeling in favour of war with Turkey.

From Manchester an alarmist rumour with regard to the feeling in England comes to hand. Stripped of its sensational adornments, the report may be taken to mean—at least until more authentic news is received—that the Conservative organs are clamouring for intervention. The rest of the despatch bears marked resemblance to the alarmist reports received day after day during the earlier stages of the war.

Monday.

Sensational reports respecting both the attitude of the Powers and the movements of the belligerents appear to be in order of the day. While last week's rumours respecting Osman Pasha's intention of surrendering, and the inauguration of negotiations looking towards mediation were contradicted, a fresh batch of improbable reports are served up. It is now stated that Russia is willing to entertain peace proposals, and as a fitting pendant to this unlikely story, we are told of a Russian rumour that England has sent an ultimatum to Russia. The story is as probable as the other, while a third probability is given in a rumour that Osman Pasha has broken through the lines at Plevna. Even Turkish advices limit that Osman's position is hopeless, unless Mehmed Ali manages to come to his rescue in time, and every effort will be made in this direction.

Servia is evidently preparing for a war movement, the inhabitants of the north-eastern towns having received notice to quit, and the second-class militia being instructed to mobilize and hold themselves in readiness to march to the border.

A hundred and fifty thousand civic guards have been called out in Constantinople and the provinces to maintain order in case the Christians should be called upon to join the general levy.

Tuesday.

The fall of Plevna now appears to be regarded as a foregone conclusion, the more so as the Roumanians have succeeded in carrying the important position of Pravetz, which Mehmed Ali was impelled to the recapture in order to secure the success of his relief movement, and as he moves his main body further east. The Russians are reported to be confident of the speedy reduction of Osman Pasha's stronghold that they have outmanned the preparations for entering in Bulgaria in the expectation that the fall of Plevna will lead to negotiations for peace. St. Petersburg advices state that the Russian Government are extremely anxious to exclude England from participation in any such negotiations, and is announced from Constantinople that the Sultan has expressed his intention of treating separately with the czar. The sensational reports given on the authority of the Manchester Guardian's London correspondent are denied, as it is to have been expected as also are the rumours for the forcing of the investment lines round Plevna.

From Montenegro it is announced that the Montenegrins have refused to accept the Russian proposals.

said Louis Reil and Ambrose Lepine should be pardoned in like manner upon the express condition that each of them should absent and keep himself absent from the Dominion of Canada for the period of five years from the said 23rd day of April, A.D. 1870, and abstain from the exercise and enjoyment of his political rights therein and for during the said term;

And Whereas, being well assured of the loyalty of the inhabitants of our said Province of Manitoba, and of the firm establishment of peace, order, and good government therein, and about one-half of the said period of five years having now elapsed. We are willing to extend to the said W. B. O'Donoghue our Royal mercy, subject to the same terms and conditions upon which our Royal mercy was extended to the said Louis Reil and Ambrose Lepine.

Now Know Ye, that We do of our Royal will and pleasure ordained, direct declared, and proclaim that the said W. B. O'Donoghue is and shall be acquitted, pardoned, released, and discharged from all and all manner of treasons, treasonable acts, felonies, seditions, misdemeanours, crimes or offences of a political nature, or against us, our Crown, authority, and Government, committed as herein before mentioned, with which he now stands charged or may be chargeable at this time, as being dependent upon or connected with the part he, the said W. B. O'Donoghue, may have taken in the years one thousand eight hundred and sixty-nine and one thousand eight hundred and seventy, prior to the second day of September, in the year one thousand eight hundred and seventy, with regard to the matters herein before recited, and that all proceedings in respect thereof shall cease, and determine upon this said express condition that the said W. B. O'Donoghue do and shall absent and keep himself from the Dominion of Canada for the period of five years, from the 23rd day of April, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-five, and abstain from the exercise and enjoyment of his political rights therein for and during the said term. And provided that upon breach of this condition by the said W. B. O'Donoghue, this our Royal proclamation and remission shall be utterly null and void.

The various schemes of the dead beats which are infesting the Province at the present time, for raising money re-arranging if thing were not so successful. We hear of one who, after selecting his victim, approaches him with small offerings of security, what appears to be a massive gold ring, marked 18 carats. Upon test, however, it is found to be worth a few cents only. The public can not be too cautious in dealing with suspicious strangers, as their plausibility is remarkably deceiving.

MARKETS.

(Corrected weekly.)

NAPANEE Nov. 15th.

(Report by Diamond and Sherwood, Napanee.)

Oats—20c. per bushel.
Rye—75c. per bushel.
Wheat—No 1—2.55c. per bushel.
Barley—No 1—1.60c. per bushel.
Wheat—No 2—1.10c. per bushel.
Flour—No 1—$3.40 per cwt.
Buckwheat—$2.75 per cwt.
Bran—$14.00 per ton.
Shorts—$24.00 per ton.
Buckwheat—40c. per bushel.
Wood—$3.00 per cord.
Coal—$5.00 per ton.

(Report by the Market Clerk, Napanee.)

Hay—$10.00 to $12.00 per ton.
Hides—$7.00 to $8.00 per cwt.
Butter—20c. to 24c. per lb.
Eggs—15c. per dozen.
Beef per cwt.—$3.00 to $5.00.
Bread—14c. per loaf.
Coal—$4.50 to $5.00 per ton.
Chicken—25c. to 30c. per pair.
Ducks—40c. per pair.
Flour—$3.10 per cwt.
Deacon Skins—40c.
Lard—10-12c.
Lamb and Pigs—50c. to $1.00
Oatmeal—$1.00 per cwt.
Onions—70c. to $1.00 per bushel.
Potatoes—35c. per bushel.
Pork—$5.00 to $6.00.
Straw—$3.00 to $4.00.

BELLEVEILLE MARKETS.

Wheat, $1 15 to $1 25.

BEST LAND

—IN—

PRINCE EDWARD COUNTY,

5½ miles from Picton, and 8½ miles from Demorestville.

This is a rare chance to get a Choice Farm. It is well watered and nicely situated.

A Special Price to a purchaser before the 1st December.

Apply to

R McDOWALL,
Demorestville, 29.

Or at this Office.

Insolvent Act of 1875.

CANADA: Province of Ontario. In the County Court of County of Lennox and Addington. In the Matter of EDWARD KIMERLY BOWEN,

An Insolvent.

THE Undersigned has filed in the office of this Court, a Deed of Composition and Discharge, executed by his creditors, and on TUESDAY, the SIXTH day of NOVEMBER next, he will apply to the Judge of the said Court for a confirmation of the discharge thereby effected.

Napanee, October 6th, 1877.

E. K. BOWEN,
By E. B. STONE,
his Attorney, ad litem.

NOTICE is hereby given, that on and after the 1st day of July next, Shippers or Exporters of goods, by Vessel, Railway, or any other conveyance to any country or place, outside of the Dominion of Canada, must make export entries verified by oath at the Custom House, with particulars of quantity and value, under a penalty not exceeding $200, and no clearance will be granted to any vessel until the said entries are made and verified.

J. BENSON, Collector.

Custom House, Napanee June 25th, 1877.

1823. SEND FOR 1878

THE New York Observer

The Best Religious and Secular Family Newspaper. $3.15 a Year, post-paid. Established 1823.

37 PARK ROW, NEW YORK.

22. SAMPLE COPIES FREE.

CUSTOMS' DEPARTMENT.

Ottawa, Oct. 12th, 1877.

Authorized Discount on American Invoices until further notice 3 per cent.

J. JOHNSON,
Commissioner.

WINE IS A MOCKER.

STRONG DRINK RAGING!

Whosoever is Deceived thereby is not Wise,

Therefore be not deceived by parties telling you that their STOVES are better than your old friend BOYLE'S. My Stoves are made of the Best Material (not of old iron, as asserted by others in the trade), and are also as good, if not better, because they are heavier and consequently throw out more heat, and have given good satisfaction.

Give Me a Call Before Purchasing Elsewhere.

No connection with any other Establishment in Town,
But Manufacture and Repair

Tinware of All Kinds,

BY FIRST-CLASS MECHANICS, AND DO

JOB WORK

Of all kinds in my line, and keep a Large Assortment of

COOKING, PARLOR, COOK, BOX & COAL HEATING & DOUBLE STOVES.

STOVES REPAIRED

NEW BAKING SLOTT,

JUST ARRIVED AT

MEAGHER'S.

Come and See. We are determined to sell Cheaper than can be bought in a regular way. Our prices are far below the Wholesale Price.

GREAT BARGAINS IN

COTTON AND WINCEY SHIRTINGS.

PRINTS AT 5c. A YARD.

BARGAINS IN DRESS GOODS.

Good Black Lustres at 15c. a yard.

Boots and Shoes, Ready-made Clothing, Remarkably Cheap.

Mens' Long Boots, $1.50, Worth, $2.50.

Boys' Long Boots 70c. worth $1.50.

200 OVERCOATS,

From $5.00 to $15.00,

Every Line of Goods to be sold below Cost.

Don't fail to call and inspect before making your purchases.
25-11 MEAGHER BROS.

UNION BAKERY.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

I beg to call the attention of the public to the Union Bakery, where you will find always on hand an abundant stock of

Bread, Cake, Biscuit and Confectionery.

All orders promptly attended to. Wedding Cakes a speciality. Icing done in the neatest manner.

In addition to my Bakery, will keep a general assortment of

Groceries on Hand,

SUCH AS

Tea, Sugar, Butter, Eggs, Syrups, Vinegar, & c.,

and the general wants of the public.

Remember the place, one door east, corner of Dundas and West streets, Napanee.
25-11 NEIL SHANNON.

mit that Osman's position is hopeless less Mehmet Ali manages to come to rescue in time, and every effort will be made in this direction.

Servia is evidently preparing for a war movement, the inhabitants of the 17th-eastern towns having received notice to quit, and the second-class militia being instructed to mobilize and hold themselves in readiness to march the border.

A hundred and fifty thousand civilians have been called out in Constantinople and the provinces to maintain order in case the Christians should be led upon to join the general levy.

Tuesday.

The fall of Plevna now appears to be regarded as a foregone conclusion, the so-called Roumanians have succeeded in carrying the important position of Pravetz, which Mehmet Ali will be impelled to the recapture in order to assure the success of his relief movement, lest he moves his main body further east. The Russians are reported to be confident of the speedy reduction of man Pasha's stronghold that they have intermanded the preparations for entering in Bulgaria in the expectation that the fall of Plevna will lead to negotiations for peace. St. Petersburg advice is that the Russian Government are extremely anxious to exclude England from participation in any such negotiations, and is announced from Constantinople that the Sultan has expressed his intention of treating separately with the Serbs. The sensational reports given on the authority of the Manchester Guardian's London correspondent are denied, as it is to have been expected as also are the reports of the forcing of the investment lines round Plevna.

From Montenegro it is announced that the insurgents have retired beyond the janna, and that a Turkish fleet of ironclads is expected at Antivari. Servia is out to make her long delay forward movement, the order having been given an advance to the frontier on the 29th inst.

Wednesday.

The latest rumour relating to peace proposals is to the effect that Gortschakoff is busily engaged in diplomatic interference, propositions having been made at a conference on the conditions of peace.

A Servian battalion crossed the frontier yesterday for the purpose of defending the unprotected Bulgarian women and children, but were attacked by the Turks and driven back. The Roumanians are said to have occupied Zibru Palanka and m Palanka, on the south shore of the Danube, between Nikopoli and Widin. The Balkan region the Turks have undoned Orhanie for strategic purposes, and are entrenched in a strong position at the head of the neighbouring lake. Rumours are afloat at Constantinople that Mahmud Damad Pasha is out to be removed in consequence of the fall of Kars.

Two hundred tons of iron ore are being sent out now at the Snowdon mine for shipment to Cleveland, where it will undergo a proper test. Messrs. Shortiss & Lavigny, the owners of the mine, have further order of 20,000 tons from the Bethlehem Bessemer Steel Works, Pa., to be delivered next summer. The Railway Company are locating a line to the mine, and will construct a hundred cars for the transportation of the ore.

The days of the lamplighter are numbered, and the time is at hand when he will exist only a story. Electricity is about to take his place because it can be obtained more cheaply. It has been tried for the purpose of lighting and extinguishing 220 street lamps in Providence, R.I., scattered over a district nine miles long. A man attends to the whole business, and it does it in fifteen seconds. The method has now been on trial for some months, and a saving of $10 per lamp per year is reported.

which are infesting the Province at the present time, for raising money re-arranging if things were not so successful. We hear of one who, after selecting his victim, approaches him with small offerings of security, what appears to be a massive gold ring, marked 18 carats. Upon test, however, it is found to be worth a few cents only. The public can not be too cautious in dealing with suspicious strangers, as their plausibility is remarkably deceiving.

MARKETS.

(Corrected weekly.)

NAPANEE NOV. 15th.
(Report by Diamond and Sherwood, Napanee.)

Oats—30c. per bushel.
Rye—57c. per bushel.
Peas—60c. per bushel.
Barley—No. 2, 63c. per bushel.
Barley—No. 1, 65c. per bushel.
Wheat—$1.10 per bushel.
Flour—$2.90 per cwt.
Buckwheat Flour—$2.75 per cwt.
Bran—$1.00 per ton.
Shorts—$2.00 per ton.
Buckwheat—40c. per bushel.
Wood—$3.00 per cord.
Coal—$5.00 per ton.

(Report by the Market Clerk, Napanee.)
Hay—$10.00 to $12.00 per ton.
Hides—$7.00 to $8.00 per cwt.
Butter—20c. to 21c. per lb.
Eggs—15c. per dozen.
Beef per cwt.—$3.00 to $5.00.
Bread—14c. per loaf.
Coal—$4.50 to $5.00 per ton.
Chickens—25c. to 30c. per pair.
Ducks—40c. per pair.
Flour—$3.10 per cwt.
Deacon Skins—40c.
Lard—15c. to 12c.
Lamb and Pelts—50c. to $1.00.
Oatmeal—$1.00 per cwt.
Onions—70c. to $1.00 per bushel.
Potatoes—35c. per bushel.
Pork—$5.00 to $6.00 per cwt.
Straw—$3.00 to $4.00.

BELLEVILLE MARKETS.

Wheat, $1.15 to $1.25.
Barley, 45c. to 50c.
Rye, 55c. to 60c.
Oats, 30c. to 35c.
Peas, 60c.
Dressed Hogs, $5 to $6 per cwt.
Butter, Roll, 18c. to 20c.
Butter, Tub, 16c. to 17c.
Eggs, 14c. to 16c.
Potatoes, 50c. to 60c. per bag.
Flour, Wholesale, $5.50 per bbl.
Apples, 60c. to $1 per bag.
Cheese, 9c. to 10c.
Hay, $11 to $12 per ton.

TORONTO MARKETS.

Wheat, fall, per bu. $1.20 to $1.25.
Wheat, spring, per bu. $1 to $1.09.
Barley, per bu. 50c. to 67c.
Oats, per bu. 33c. to 35c.
Peas, per bu. 63c. to 70c.
Rye, per bu. 60c.
Butter, 18 rolls, 20c. to 22c.
Butter, large rolls, 20c.
Butter, tub dairy, best, 18c. to 19c.
Flour, wholesale, $5.50 per bbl.
Flour, Retail, $6.00 per bbl.
Beef, per quarter, 3c. to 5c.
Cheese, 9c. to 10c.
Lard, 13c. to 15c.
Tallow, Rough, 4c.
Tallow, Refined, 7c. to 7½c.
Eggs, fresh, per doz. 17c. to 18c.
Eggs, in lots, 15c.
Hay, $11 to $15 per ton.

OSWEGO MARKETS.

Oswego, N. Y., Nov. 28.—1 p.m.
Wheat steady—No. 1, white Michigan $1.44; white state $1.42; No. Milwaukee club $1.34.
Corn quiet—No. 1 Toledo 60c.
Barley quiet—Sales 1,000; No. 1 Canada above grade 93c.

U. S. CHEESE AND BUTTER MARKETS.

UTICA, N. Y., Nov. 26.—8,000 boxes of cheese offered to-day, a falling off 2,500. 1,157 boxes were sold on commission, 1,462 boxes directly. The highest for September 12c. leading factory prices and extreme for October 12½. Average for all grades 11½c. Market duller and lower.

LITTLE FALLS, N. Y., Nov. 26.—The cheese market is brisk to-day; not particularly active above last week's quotations. 30,000 boxes of factory cheese sold at 11½c. to 12½c. mostly 12c. 220 boxes of dairies went at 10½c. to 12c. only 50 boxes getting the latter figure. Butter—14c. packages sold at 20c. to 26c. mostly 24c. to 25c, being 1c. to 2c. less than last week.

22. SAMPLE COPIES FREE.

CUSTOMS' DEPARTMENT.

Ottawa, Oct. 12th, 1877.

Authorized Discount on American Invoices until further notice 3 per cent.

J. JOHNSON,
Commissioner.

Groceries on Hand,

SUCH AS

Tea, Sugar, Butter, Eggs,
Syrups, Vinegar, & c.,

and the general wants of the public.

Remember the place, one door east, corner of Dundas and West streets, Napanee.

25 tf

NEIL SHANNON.

WINE IS A MOCKER.

STRONG DRINK RAGING!

Whosoever is Deceived thereby is not Wise,

Therefore be not deceived by parties telling you that their STOVES are better than your old friend BOYLE'S. My Stoves are made of the Best Material (not of old iron, as asserted by others in the trade), and are also as good, if not better, because they are heavier and consequently throw out more heat, and have given good satisfaction.

Give Me a Call Before Purchasing Elsewhere.

No connection with any other Establishment in Town,
But Manufacture and Repair

Tinware of All Kinds, BY FIRST-CLASS MECHANICS, AND DO JOB WORK

Of all kinds in my line, and keep a Large Assortment of

COOKING, PARLOR, COOK, BOX & COAL HEATING & DOUBLE STOVES.

EXTRA CASTINGS FOR STOVES. STOVES REFITTED.

PLOUGHS & PLOUGH-SHARES OF ALL KINDS.

Yours truly,

H. BOYL, Agt.,

In Wm. Miller's Old Stand, Opposite Webster & Boyes.

Napanee, Nov. 14th, 1877.

"The Proof of the Pudding is in the Eating."

But it is only necessary for parties wanting either

COOKING STOVES, for Coal or Wood,

PARLOR STOVES, for Coal or Wood,

BOX STOVES or HALL STOVES,

To see our Stock to be Convinced that we have the Best Stoves in the Market.

Our "ST. GEORGE" Cooking Stoves,

And "SPLENDID" Hall and Parlor Stoves,

Are not equalled by any Stoves in Canada. Come and see, and be convinced.

ALWAYS ON HAND, A LARGE STOCK OF

STOVE PIPES

TEE PIPES,

ELBOWS,

DAMPER PIPES,

DUMB PIPES,

GALLOW PIPES,

EXTRA STOVE CASTINGS, &c., &c.

Our Stock is very Large and Complete, and Prices Lower than the Lowest.

Our Stock of Hardware is the Largest in the County, and our Prices ROCK BOTTOM!

WRIGHT & Co.

Napanee, Nov. 14th, 1877.

THE FINANCE MINISTER BEFORE HIS CONSTITUENTS.

Full Report of Mr. Cartwright's Speech at Napanee.

The following is the conclusion of the speech delivered by Hon. Mr. Cartwright, in the Town Hall, Napanee, on Friday evening, 2nd instant:—

And here I pause to review one curious charge these gentlemen are very fond of making. Whenever they have exhausted their repertoire I observe they invariably fall back on our alleged "general incapacity." Now this is a valuable formula. Any blockhead can repeat this. (Hear, hear.) Nothing is easier than to condemn a Government for "general incapacity." It requires no special proof, it admits of no special refutation, and it has the further advantage of being on a level with the meanest understanding. (Hear, hear, and laughter.) When you endeavor to analyse what this may mean, however, you will sometimes find that the charge is based upon our inability to cure a widespread general distress. Well, perhaps if our advice had been taken a year or two before we entered office it might have prevented some of this distress from occurring, or at any rate have left us in a better position to alleviate it had that been found practicable. (Hear, hear.) Now, it is quite useless to show these people that they ask us to do what no free Government under a Constitution like ours has ever done—least of all the Administration of Sir John Macdonald. Still the cuckoo cry goes on, and loudest on the part of those who, if they did not absolutely cause, at any rate did all that in them lay to aggravate the mischief and to tie our hands. Sir John Macdonald boasts loudly of the so-called reaction in his favour. Certainly we do not expect to repeat 1874. Such a majority as we then had is utterly unprecedented in our Parliamentary history, and indeed is hardly to be desired under our peculiar form of Government; but never was anybody more woefully mistaken than is Sir John Macdonald in imagining, as he evidently does, that the crowds who come to see and hear him (for the most part out of pure curiosity) depart his enthusiastic partisans, or that all the carefully rehearsed stage-play in which he and his followers delight will influence the sturdy and intelligent voters of this great Province on the day of polling. (Hear, hear.) It is true, indeed, as all history shows, that honest and good governments are not necessarily popular. An honest Government has to refuse many things to its warmest supporters. Aristides, as you know, got banished for his pains. Unhappily, as all who are acquainted with the inner circle of political life can bear testimony, there are in all countries many influential men who, for their own selfish ends, would deliberately prefer to see a rogue at the head of affairs. At least I fear the great majority of men secretly prefer a man who is partial to his own friends. That, after all, is only human nature, and if any of you suppose that even all Reform contractors, for instance, prefer Mr. Mackenzie's mode of conducting public works (though it has already saved millions upon millions to the people of Canada,) all I can say is that I fear you are very much mistaken. Hear, hear, and loud cheers.) No doubt in a political sense Mr. Mackenzie does run some danger from his stubborn honesty in this and many other matters, whereas Sir John Macdonald was never in all his life in the least peril on that score. (Hear, hear, and laughter.) Sir, it was very lucky for us all that the people of Canada had at last such overwhelming proof of his dishonesty, for otherwise I verily believe we would never have got rid of him. Now you will all, I hope, understand that in criticising Sir John Macdonald, I am by no means blind to the many valuable and even brilliant qualities which he does undoubtedly in which he has always shown greatest political weakness, has been in his utter incapacity to forego even a very trifling present gain for the sake of permanent advantage. Of this error his whole policy is full to overflowing. But to-night I will only select one very prominent illustration which is familiar to you all, and which, indeed, is the more firmly fixed in my own mind, because it is on so small a measure I am indebted for my own political salvation, inasmuch as it very early taught me to entertain a profound distrust alike of the honour and of the good judgment of Sir John Macdonald. Need I say that I allude to that famous device known to all of us as the "double shuffle." (Hear, hear.) This was precisely one of those acts to which Fouché's celebrated saying, "it was worse than a crime, it was a blunder," was specially applicable. Most of you, I do not doubt, would admit the wrong-doing, but few, perhaps, adequately comprehend the extent of the folly then committed. It was at a time when there were several exceedingly important questions to be settled, questions which had to be settled before any stable Government could be established in the old Province of Canada. Sir John, for reasons of his own, was unable or unwilling to undertake the task, and Mr. Brown was sent for. Now, two things were plain of demonstration. Either Mr. Brown would succeed in settling these questions, in which great gain would accrue to the country at large, or he would fail to settle them, in which event great gain would have accrued to Sir John individually, and to the party of which he was the chief. You know how he acted. By an unworthy backstairs intrigue he choused his rival out of his well established constitutional right to an appeal to the people. By a still more unworthy piece of legal juggling, he himself evaded receiving the verdict of his own constituents upon his individual conduct in the matter. (Hear, hear.) Sir, I tell you that an honorable man could not, and a sagacious statesman would not, have so acted; and I further say that the immediate results to Sir John Macdonald himself were the withdrawal from his side of a very great part of the best and most respectable men of his own party, the placing Mr. Brown in a position which secured him the sympathy of honest men of all classes, and lastly, the infliction of great and permanent injury for many years, both upon the whole country and upon his own party in particular. (Hear, hear.) And this is only a fair illustration of Sir John's whole political career when left to his own devices, and also of what I have always felt to be his two cardinal defects as a political leader—his innate propensity to resort to expedients only worthy of a sharp pettifogging attorney, and his utter incapacity to submit to the smallest personal inconvenience, no matter how important the results to his party or the country. Like Lowell's pious editor, Sir John Macdonald's creed may be defined pretty much as follows:—

In short, I firmly do believe
In humbug generally.
For that's a thing that I perceive
To have a solid ally:
This hath my faithful shepherd been,
In pastures sweet hath led me,
And this hath kept the people green,
To feed as they have fed me.

(Laughter and cheers.) While for his motto he has long ago selected the old Epicurean one: "Let us eat, and let us drink (particularly and let us drink,) for to-morrow we may die." (Laughter.) Such a creed, and such a motto, though the worst possible for a statesman, even of a low order, are perhaps as good as can be devised for one who seems chiefly to aspire to be considered the prince of clever charlatans and past professor in the art of political lgerdmain, and this I fear is all that is now left for Sir John Macdonald. (Hear, hear.) And here, Sir, permit me to tell you a little anecdote. It is not often I trespass on you in that way. I am not much of a joker of jokes, as you very well know, and if I were, I can assure you that the post of analysis I reply that it is the key to the state in which he left the country; that, without understanding his character, you would fail to realize the extent of the mischief which he has committed, or the dangers which would ensue from his possible return to power. Now, I have always admitted that during, and indeed for a short period after, the carrying of the Confederation project, Sir John's conduct on the whole was pretty good, and that if there is any part of his career respecting which future historians may pronounce that he really deserved well of his country, it would be found in the period from 1864 to 1869. But from that time he seems to have succumbed to a miserable lust for place. He saw clearly enough that he was losing ground, more particularly in the Province of Ontario, and he was either not wise enough to brave a temporary loss of power, even with the moral certainty of regaining it at no distant day, or else—which may possibly be the case—he was so conscious of the dishonest and miserable means by which he maintained himself in office, that he dared not abandon his place until the very last gasp, for fear of the revelations which he dreaded, perhaps with too much reason, would ensue in his expulsion from it, and therefore it was that, instead of meeting his enemies fairly and manfully in the open field, he must needs load the dice in the election of 1872. This he did in two ways: partly by a practical violation of that fundamental principle of our Constitution which provided that the several Provinces should be represented in Parliament in due proportion to their population, which he outraged by granting to Manitoba and British Columbia a representation out of all possible proportion to their numerical strength, for the open and avowed purpose of thereby neutralizing the additional votes which Ontario would become entitled to under the census of 1871, and partly by the use of Sir Hugh Allan's gold. Now consider, all of you, how infinitely better it would have been, not merely for Sir John himself, but for his party and for his country, if he had only possessed honesty and self-confidence enough to trust his fate fairly to the issue at the polls. True, he might, and probably would, have been defeated in 1872, but he would have been defeated without ignominy, without injury to his country, and in such fashion that he would in all human probability long ere this have found himself again restored to power. (Loud cheers.) Well, Sir, when all these expedients failed, when the result of the very first test vote in the session of 1873 showed him by how narrow a majority he was likely to be maintained, and still more when Mr. Huntington had thundered out his terrible indictment against his corrupt dealings with Sir Hugh Allan, a spirit of utter recklessness seems to have taken possession of him. He promised everything to everybody. He bribed everybody whom it was possible to bribe. He bribed the Provinces by agreeing to assume their debts. He bribed the members by doubling their indemnity. He bribed the Civil Service by bonuses, and by increasing the salaries of 1,381 of their number. He bribed constituents and whole districts by engaging in a profusion of public works from one end of this Dominion to the other. In one word, he seems to have determined that if he were not permitted to retain office, he would so entangle the affairs of this country as to render it all but impossible for any other men to govern after him. I hope he did not do this absolutely of express purpose, but I am bound to tell you that, whether designedly or not, he very nearly succeeded in effecting that result. He knew our enormous engagements. You have only to look at the Budget Speech of his Finance Minister, Mr. Tilley, to see that they were aware that at least $60,000,000 (he should have said $80,000,000) would require to be added to the national debt within a very few years; and yet during the concluding six weeks did not retract, and I kept my in a very emphatic manner. What Sir John do? He can be bellicose on some occasions. No longer time one year before, during his own election in Kingston, in 1872, and on far provocation than I gave him. Sir had thought it not incompatible with dignity as Premier of this Dominion as Minister of Justice to perso assault my good friend Mr. Carru on the hustings, and then retreated retaliation behind a crowd of his pians. Here Sir John appeared to discretion the better part of val (Hear, hear.) Neither by look, nor gesture did he repudiate my charge. What he did was to take an early opportunity of slinking off the stand; no he reappear for several hours, alth continually called for, and then when by far the largest part of the enced had left the ground and the house advanced that it was utterly impossible for me or anyone in my behalf to word in reply to him. He met his punishment. Always and on all sions, while he was himself in office was wont to protest against the peous practice of opposing a Minister Crown when he went back to his constituents for re-election. He set the earliest example of breaking through own rule, and what was his reward? Why, this—that not merely was I ed by an enormous majority, but the result of my election, coupled that of Mr. Moss in Toronto, which lowed very shortly after, had a powerful bearing in bringing about in influencing the result of the election in 1874, the very last thing i world which Sir John Macdonald possibly have desired. (Loud cheers.) Now, Sir, it is noteworthy that alth four year have elapsed since that, and although Sir John has had a opportunity of assailing me on the of Parliament, he has abstained scrupulously, from making one single flection in that arena of my personal duct towards himself. (Hear, hear.) be sure he and his satellites indemnified themselves pretty full various piques and picnic effervescence and latterly have gone so far that i become absolutely necessary to l parties understand that though l constitutionally somewhat indifferer such attacks—that, in fact, before man can hurt my feelings, it is nee that I should hold him in some degr respect, and that I am therefore tole well casehardened to all assaults from quarters—still there are limits whi am bound to regard. (Hear, hear.) owe something to the position I hol owe more to the friends who place there and who support me in it; a would not do, as a mere matter of ta to allow the outside public to say that I did not reply to these ass either because I was afraid, or beca was incapable of responding. (I hear.) Sir John has made it his that he always knew me thoroughly Sir, once on a time he made it his he knew this constituency very thorly, (Laughter.) Sir John was com ably mistaken that respect in 187 some of us can testify; and he may come to understand that he has equally mistaken as to his knowledge its present representative; or at l inasmuch as I fully intend that he know me thoroughly before I have with him, that he was a little prem in his assertion. Anyhow there trifling contradiction in his statemen this point. Perhaps he will rise l plain how it was that, if, as he say always knew me so thoroughly well, if, as he stated the other day, he v not have blamed me if I had left him the occasion of the Pacific Scand 1873, he thought it expedient to co himself with such marked civility to me during the long interval from 18 1873. (Hear, hear.) Was he t polite fibs then, or is he telling im ones now? Now, I am in no way an for testimonials from Sir John. But

and intelligent voters of this great Province on the day of polling. (Hear, hear.) It is true, indeed, as all history shows, that honest and good governments are not necessarily popular. An honest Government has to refuse many things to its warmest supporters. Aristides, as you know, got banished for his pains. Unhappily, as all who are acquainted with the inner circle of political life can bear testimony, there are in all countries many influential men who, for their own selfish ends, would deliberately prefer to see a rogue at the head of affairs. At least I fear, the great majority of men secretly prefer a man who is partial to his own friends. That, after all, is only human nature, and if any of you suppose that even all Reform contractors, for instance, prefer Mr. Mackenzie's mode of conducting public works (though it has already saved millions upon millions to the people of Canada,) all I can say is that I fear you are very much mistaken. Hear, hear, and loud cheers.) No doubt in a political sense Mr. Mackenzie does run some danger from his stubborn honesty in this and many other matters, whereas Sir John Macdonald was never in all his life in the least peril on that score. (Hear, hear, and laughter.) Sir, it was very lucky for us all that the people of Canada had at last such overwhelming proof of his dishonesty, for otherwise I verily believe we would never have got rid of him. Now you will all, I hope, understand that in criticising Sir John Macdonald, I am by no means blind to the many valuable and even brilliant qualities which he does undoubtedly possess. It is to our own credit to admit these frankly, for otherwise we would condemn ourselves as a most miserable crew in view of the fact that for nearly twenty years Sir John Macdonald has occupied a very prominent place indeed in our public affairs. Sir, no man can have come into close contact with Sir John Macdonald without perceiving that he possesses great knowledge of human nature (especially of its weakest parts,) and great skill in trading thereon. I doubt if there ever was a party leader who understood better than he how to coax and cajole his friends or how to sow dissension in the ranks of his opponents. Then, too, he possessed great natural tact and debating power, backed by an enormous political and Parliamentary experience, and a very intimate acquaintance with the wants and passions of almost every section of our diverse and widely extended Dominion; while his wit, though of a very Rabelaisian character and too often disguised by coarseness and vulgarity, is nevertheless undeniable of its kind, and so is his excellent address and personal affability. Moreover, no one can dispute his immense vitality and versatility of character. He is what the Germans would call a "many-sided" man. Few men have better put in practice the apostolic precept of becoming all things to all men, though, I fear, for purposes and with results by no means such as the apostle either contemplated or would have approved of. (Hear, hear, and laughter.) Lastly, Sir John Macdonald has always shown himself ready to sacrifice even his warmest friends at the shortest notice on the altar of the public good. Not even Artemus Ward could show more patriotism in the disposal of his wife's relations. (Renewed laughter.) You laugh, but this is really a very valuable quality. War and politics are no schools for weak pitics, and neither a great general nor a great statesman must hesitate about sacrificing some of his troops on fitting occasions. To do him justice, Sir John Macdonald has always possessed that quality of a great leader in almost absolute perfection. (Hear, hear, and laughter.) Now all these are very valuable qualities for a successful party leader. They are, many of them, the very ones to dazzle the great mass of ordinary supporters, and perhaps it is not so very wonderful, after all, that they have buoyed Sir John Macdonald up under a load which very few could have borne. Not long ago, looking over a rather fulsome address presented to the right honourable gentleman by some ardent admirers, I saw that they wound up a very enthusiastic page-country and upon his own party in particular. (Hear, hear.) And this is only a fair illustration of Sir John's whole political career when left to his own devices, and also of what I have always felt to be his two cardinal defects as a political leader—his innate propensity to resort to expedients only worthy of a sharp pettifogging attorney, and his utter incapacity to submit to the smallest personal inconvenience, no matter how important the results to his party or the country. Like Lowell's pious editor, Sir John Macdonald's creed may be defined pretty much as follows:—

In short, I firmly do believe
In humbug generally.
For that's a thing that I perceive
I have a special gift for.
This hath my faithful shepherd been,
In pastures sweet hath led me,
And this hath kept the people green,
To feed as they have fed me.

(Laughter and cheers.) While for his motto he has long ago selected the old Epicurean one: "Let us eat, and let us drink (particularly and let us drink,) for to-morrow we may die." (Laughter.) Such a creed, and such a motto, though the worst possible for a statesman, even of a low order, are perhaps as good as can be devised for one who seems chiefly to aspire to be considered the prince of clever charlatans and past professor in the art of political legerdemain, and this I fear is all that is now left for Sir John Macdonald. (Hear, hear.) And here, Sir, permit me to tell you a little anecdote. It is not often I trespass on you in that way. I am not much of a joker of jokes, as you very well know, and if I were, I can assure you that the post of Finance Minister for some years back has been anything but a joke. My anecdote, however, is this. Some months ago Mr. Mackenzie addressed a very large meeting at Kingston. Now, you may remember, but a little time previously Sir John Macdonald had also made a speech in that city, on which occasion he had amused and edified his audience by an exhibition of his great dexterity in the use of the thimble and the pea. (Laughter.) Now, it so happened that the day after Mr. Mackenzie's meeting I came upon a couple of street boys, very busily discussing the performance. Being curious to discover how it had impressed the minds of my young fellow-citizens, I slackened my pace to hear what they had to say. I was not long in discovering that they were decidedly for John A.; but they were fair-minded little fellows for all that, and quite ready to admit that Mr. Mackenzie seemed to be a very honest man, who meant all he said, although, as one of them put it by way of summing up and final verdict, "After all he hasn't no such fun in him as John A.; he couldn't do a bit of thimble-rigging to save his life." (Laughter and cheers.) Gentlemen, that is just it. (Renewed cheers.) I accept that verdict. My hon. friend neither can nor will stoop to do a bit of thimble-rigging to save his life, and that, if you will look into it, you will find to be the reason why he need look for no such popularity as Sir John Macdonald's with street boys large or small, as well as with not a few children of larger growth. (Laughter and loud cheers.) In point of fact, Sir John's whole career has been little better—with one or two exceptions—than a kind of game of thimble-rigging. Those who were behind the scenes know right well that for many years Sir John possessed very little real power. That was in the hands of Sir George Cartier, and always in cases of emergency it was Sir George who decided the question according to his own will and pleasure. It was Sir George's behest which Sir John was forced to obey, not was he, after all, despite his wit and cleverness, very much better off than the attendant fiend in the hands of the magician. (Hear, hear.) To a great extent he was always balancing on the edge; always afraid of losing his place, or of being found out; and you will find conclusive proof of the truth of all this in just such blunders as the double shuffle, perpetrated to avoid the temporary inconvenience of facing his own constituents in the disgraceful errors which disfigured his conduct of Canadian interests throughout the treaty of Washington, committed partly. I do not found himself again restored to power. (Loud cheers.) Well, Sir, when all these expedients failed, when the result of the very first test vote in the session of 1873 showed him by how narrow a majority he was likely to be maintained, and still more when Mr. Huntington had thundered out his terrible indictment against his corrupt dealings with Sir Hugh Allan, a spirit of utter recklessness seems to have taken possession of him. He promised everything to everybody. He bribed everybody whom it was possible to bribe. He bribed the Provinces by agreeing to assume their debts. He bribed the members by doubling their indemnity. He bribed the Civil Service by bonuses, and by increasing the salaries of 1,881 of their number. He bribed constituents and whole districts by engaging in a profusion of public works from one end of this Dominion to the other. In one word, he seems to have determined that if he were not permitted to retain office, he would so entangle the affairs of this country as to render it all but impossible for any other men to govern after him. I hope he did not do this absolutely of express purpose, but I am bound to tell you that, whether designedly or not, he very nearly succeeded in effecting that result. He knew our enormous engagements. You have only to look at the Budget Speech of his Finance Minister, Mr. Tilley, to see that they were aware that at least $60,000,000 (he should have said $80,000,000) would require to be added to the national debt within a very few years; and yet during the concluding six weeks of that fatal session, after Mr. Huntington's charges had been preferred, he wantonly and needlessly, unless indeed it were in the hope of escaping his just condemnation, saw fit to add the equivalent of at least $33,000,000 more to our existing engagements. Why, Sir, six months more of Sir John Macdonald's rule would have meant hopeless national bankruptcy. Then we were called in—too late, I own, to prevent grave mischief, but fortunately not altogether too late to save you from the worst consequences of this folly. (Loud cheers.) As for ourselves, I simply say this—that in a financial point of view, at any rate, what we promised we have performed. Our position to-day is infinitely better in all essential respects than it was five years ago. A vast amount of the claims then existing have been finally disposed of. A great deal of our debt has been refunded. The International Railroad is completed, so is the Prince Edward Island Railroad; so are (with one exception) the Ottawa Canals. The bulk of our expenditure in both Welland and Lachine is well nigh over, and a great part of one of the most difficult and necessary sections of the Pacific Railway itself is approaching completion. Of our other engagements, with the exception of the Pacific Railroad (which must only be gone on with as the resources of this country fairly permit), we can truly say that the balance is within our grasp. (Cheers.) But accidents, the amount of our gross expenditure is very nearly fixed and our ordinary expenditure has been reduced from about eight and a half to a little over seven millions per annum. Very large loans have been effected in the English market on very good terms. Our calculations allowing for the unavoidable disturbance caused by a world-wide commercial depression, and by the occurrence simultaneously of an unusually bad harvest, are proving themselves accurate to a degree. There are signs in many quarters that the tide is at last turning to flood, and that you have seen, I most sincerely trust, the worst of the depression. (Hear, hear, and loud cheers.) Passing now to another branch of my subject, I have a few words to say as to my personal relations to Sir John Macdonald, and also as to his position towards the Conservative party. I admit frankly that it is a matter of regret in the public interest that men occupying our respective positions should be at bitter personal feud; but you will do me the justice to remember that this quarrel was not one of my seeking in the first instance. All through I have acted strictly in my right when I openly and publicly that I should hold him in some degree respect, and that I am therefore tolerably callous to all assaults from his quarters—still there are limits which am bound to regard. (Hear, hear.) owe something to the position I hold owe more to the friends who place me there and who support me in it; and would not do, as a mere matter of tact to allow the outside public to suppose that I did not reply to these assaults either because I was afraid, or because I was incapable of responding. (Hear, hear.) Sir John has made it his business that he always know me thoroughly. Sir, once on a time he made it his business to know this constituency very thoroughly. (Laughter.) Sir John was considerably mistaken that respect in 1871; some of us can testify; and he may come to understand that he has been equally mistaken as to his knowledge of its present representative; or at least inasmuch as I fully intend that he shall know me thoroughly before I have done with him, that he was a little premature in his assertion. Anyhow there is a trifling contradiction in his statement on this point. Perhaps he will rise to explain how it was that, if, as he says, always knew me so thoroughly well, if, as he stated the other day, he would not have blamed me if I had left him the occasion of the Pacific Scandal 1873, he thought it expedient to compromise himself with such marked civility to me during the long interval from 1867 to 1873. (Hear, hear.) Was he telling polite fibs then, or is he telling impudence now? Now, I am in no way anxious for testimonials from Sir John. But I tell you this, that during the session of these four years, from 1869 to 1873, that were very few weeks indeed during which I did not receive intimations from one more of his emissaries that it was my fault if I was not welcomed back to fold, and the fatted calf was always ready to be slaughtered for the returning prodigal. (Hear, hear, and laughter.) There is a reverse to this medal. I do not make it my boast that I know Sir John Macdonald thoroughly well. My communications corrupt good manner and it may be that such knowledge would have been far from desirable. (Hear, hear, and laughter.) But I tell you, that from early boyhood I have unusual facilities—such, indeed, as men now living have possessed—knowing all about him. Now, I always spared Sir John greatly; partly for the sake of old associations, partly cause of my own dislike to mix personal and political matters together, and partly because I have been obliged, against my will, to know many things about John which I did not think it proper to reveal, for much the same reasons as duce well conducted newspapers to short in their reports in certain cases cause they consider the "details unpublication." (Hear, hear, and laughter.) Neither is it my intention now, grave as the provocation I have received, although I am right well aware that John has privately set in circulation discreditable statements which he dares breathe in public, to retaliate in any fashion. I propose on the contrary, to confine myself very strictly to well-known acts of misconduct committed in public and in the conduct of public affairs. These, at least, are fair game, and these I propose to deal. (Hear, hear.) And mark me, my friends, I bring no slanderous charge. For each and every statement I may make I have the power in readiness. If the bare recital of facts appear to you, as well it may, form as severe an indictment as ever was preferred against a public man, bear in mind that Sir John Macdonald, by his own deliberate act and wofolly has brought down these exposures on his head. (Hear, hear.) And finally, Mr. Chairman, let us review Ottawa speech of Sir John Macdonald a little in detail, more especially as he has not hesitated to reiterate the statements it contains on several recent occasions. I will read you his first paragraph.

I shall say one or two words respecting my friend Mr. Cartwright. He is a Tory of the Family Compact and a fossil, not like myself, a Liberal Conservative, and considered twenty years Sir John Macdonald has occupied a very prominent place indeed in our public affairs. Sir, no man can have come into close contact with Sir John Macdonald without perceiving that he possesses great knowledge of human nature (especially of its weakest parts,) and great skill in trading thereon. I doubt if there ever was a party leader who understood better than he how to coax and cajole his friends or how to sow dissension in the ranks of his opponents. Then, too, he possessed great natural tact and debating power, backed by an enormous political and Parliamentary experience, and a very intimate acquaintance with the wants and passions of almost every section of our diverse and widely extended Dominion; while his wit, though of a very Rabelaisian character and too often disfigured by coarseness and vulgarity, is nevertheless undeniable of its kind, and so is his excellent address and personal affability. Moreover, no one can dispute his immense vitality and versatility of character. He is what the Germans would call a "many-sided" man. Few men have better put in practice the apostolic precept of becoming all things to all men, though, I fear, for purposes and with results by no means such as the apostle either contemplated or would have approved of. (Hear, hear, and laughter.) Lastly, Sir John Macdonald has always shown himself ready to sacrifice even his warmest friends at the shortest notice on the altar of the public good. Not even Artemus Ward could show more patriotism in the disposal of his wife's relations. (Renewed laughter.) You laugh, but this is really a very valuable quality. War and politics are no schools for weak pitics; and neither a great general nor a great statesman must hesitate about sacrificing some of his troops on fitting occasions. To do him justice, Sir John Macdonald has always possessed that quality of a great leader in almost absolute perfection. (Hear, hear, and laughter.) Now all these are very valuable qualities for a successful party leader. They are, many of them, the very cues to dazzle the great mass of ordinary supporters, and perhaps it is not so very wonderful, after all, that they have buoyed Sir John Macdonald up under a load which very few could have borne. Not long ago, looking over a rather fulsome address presented to the right honourable gentleman by some ardent admirers, I saw that they wound up a very enthusiastic panegyric by describing him as "Canada's darling son." (Laughter.) Would it surprise you very much to know that I am not altogether disposed to take exception to that statement? Always and everywhere in my experience "mamma's darling" has been the naughtiest boy of the lot, and in after life, in the great majority of cases, he turns out the black sheep of the flock. (Loud laughter.) Unhappily, Sir John Macdonald's bad points are at least equally well marked. Speaking phenologically, I would say that his perceptive faculties decidedly outweighed the reflective, and the moral ones were chiefly conspicuous by their absence. I don't wish to blame him over much for his ambition, however great, but unfortunately it is coupled with an equally pronounced unscrupulousness, and, what is almost as bad in a statesman, with a very great want of foresight. Whether it arises from a lack of natural faculty or from deliberate purpose I cannot quite say, but he has always been entirely a man of expediency, never looking ahead (unless, perhaps, in matters of a purely personal nature,) and not unfrequently displaying great ignorance of many things which a man in his position ought certainly to have known. (Hear, hear.) His extreme selfishness, though it is well hid under the guise of superficial good-fellowship, has long been notorious to all who know him intimately, and what is more, it has over and over again misled him into misjudging others, and into supposing that their sole aim in life was, like his own, to promote their own personal aggrandisement in one shape or another. But perhaps the point of all others large meeting at Kingston. Now, you may remember, but a little time previously Sir John Macdonald had also made a speech in that city, on which occasion he had amused and edified his audience by an exhibition of his great dexterity in the use of the thimble and the pea. (Laughter.) Now, it so happened that the day after Mr. Mackenzie's meeting I came upon a couple of street boys, very busily discussing the performance. Being curious to discover how it had impressed the minds of my young fellow-citizens, I slackened my pace to hear what they had to say. I was not long in discovering that they were decidedly for John A.; but they were fair-minded little fellows for all that, and quite ready to admit that Mr. Mackenzie seemed to be a very honest man, who meant all he said, although, as one of them put it by way of summing up and final verdict, "After all he hadn't no such fun in him as John A.; he couldn't do a bit of thimble-rigging to save his life." (Laughter and cheers.) Gentlemen, that is just it. (Renewed cheers.) I accept that verdict. My hon. friend neither can nor will stoop to do a bit of thimble-rigging to save his life, and that, if you will look into it, you will find to be the reason why he need look for no such popularity as Sir John Macdonald's with street boys large or small, as well as with not a few children of larger growth. (Laughter and loud cheers.) In point of fact, Sir John's whole career has been little better—with one or two exceptions—than a kind of game of thimble-rigging. Those who were behind the scenes know right well that for many years Sir John possessed very little real power. That was in the hands of Sir George Cartier, and always in cases of emergency it was Sir George who decided the question according to his own will and pleasure. It was Sir George's behest which Sir John was forced to obey, nor was he, after all, despite his wit and cleverness, very much better off than the attendant fiend in the hands of the magician. (Hear, hear.) To a great extent he was always balancing on the edge; always afraid of losing his place, or of being found out; and you will find conclusive proof of the truth of all this in just such blunders as the double shuffle, perpetrated to avoid the temporary inconvenience of facing his own constituents in the disgraceful errors which disfigured his conduct of Canadian interests throughout the treaty of Washington, committed partly, I do not doubt, from genuine ignorance, but partly also from an unworthy desire to curry favour with the Imperial authorities. You will find the proof in the ruinous and suicidal bargain entered into with British Columbia, in which, for the sake of securing half a dozen votes, and thereby outweighing the verdict of his own Province of Ontario, and saw fit to bind this country hand and foot, by one of the most outrageous stipulations which any man calling himself a statesman, ever agreed to enter into. (Hear, hear.) You will find it in his attempt to avoid the verdict of the electors in 1872, and in his refusal to avail himself of more than the honourable opportunity of retiring in 1873. For the rest, I hold him to be cold-hearted but not wantonly cruel; false, though (formerly at least) not inclined to prevaricate needlessly; and I am inclined to think quite as ready to do right as wrong, if only the former can be shown to be equally profitable. He has been called not unfrequently the Canadian Walpole. All I can say is that such a comparison is in my judgment very unjust to Sir Robert Walpole, who, whatever his errors, possessed very much more foresight and real patriotism, and who at any rate submitted with some dignity to the decisive verdict of his countrymen. (Hear, hear.) As to Sir John, if there be any distinction to which he can justly lay claim, I am afraid it is only this—that with other men of his stamp you may say that they are dangerous till they are found out, but Sir John is so far superior to the usual run that he is dangerous even after he is found out. (Hear, hear.) And now, Sir, you ask me why this lengthy condemnation, saw fit to add the equivalent of at least $33,000,000 more to our existing engagements. Why, Sir, six months more of Sir John Macdonald's rule would have meant hopeless national bankruptcy. Then we were called in—too late, I own, to prevent grave mischief, but fortunately not altogether too late to save you from the worst consequences of this folly. (Loud cheers.) As for ourselves, I simply say this—that in a financial point of view, at any rate, what we promised we have performed. Our position to-day is infinitely better in all essential respects than it was five years ago. A vast amount of the claims then existing have been finally disposed of. A great deal of our debt has been refunded. The International Railroad is completed, so is the Prince Edward Island Railroad; so are (with one exception) the Ottawa Canals. The bulk of our expenditure in both Welland and Lachine is well nigh over, and a great part of one of the most difficult and necessary sections of the Pacific Railway itself is approaching completion. Of our other engagements, with the exception of the Pacific Railroad (which must only be gone on with as the resources of this country fairly permit), we can truly say that the balance is within our grasp. (Cheers.) Bar accidents, the amount of our gross expenditure is very nearly fixed and our ordinary expenditure has been reduced from about eight and a half to a little over seven millions per annum. Very large loans have been effected in the English market on very good terms. Our calculations allowing for the unavoidable disturbance caused by a world-wide commercial depression, and by the occurrence simultaneously of an unusually bad harvest, are proving themselves accurate to a degree. There are signs in many quarters that the tide is at last turning to flood, and that you have seen, I most sincerely trust, the worst of the depression. (Hear, hear, and loud cheers.) Passing now to another branch of my subject, I have a few words to say as to my personal relations to Sir John Macdonald, and also as to his position towards the Conservative party. I admit frankly that it is a matter of regret in the public interest that men occupying our respective positions should be at bitter personal feud; but you will do me the justice to remember that this quarrel was not one of my seeking in the first instance. All through I have acted strictly in my right when I openly and publicly withdrew my support from Sir John Macdonald in 1869. I was strictly in my right, and in the discharge of my duty as your representative, when I denounced his conduct in 1873; and so far was I on that occasion from using language of unnecessary harshness, or in any way needlessly lacerating his feelings, that even the Mail newspaper surely no friendly critic—described me as having patted him with a "paw of velvet." What was Sir John's own course on the other hand? Scarcely had I been sworn into office when he deliberately took occasion, at a banquet tendered him in Ottawa, to assail me in terms of extreme violence and to impute the basest and most discreditable motives for my conduct. Now, Sir, as Sir John Macdonald had never dared to say one word in reprobation of my action openly and to my face in the House of Commons, from 1869 to 1873, I held then, and I hold now, that his behaviour in so speaking behind my back was dastardly in the extreme (hear, and I lost no time, when that speech was brought to my notice, which was during my own election in 1873, in expressing my opinion of his conduct, and in challenging him to appear on the hustings here, and there repeat his words if he dared. (Hear, hear.) Well, Sir John Macdonald did accept that challenge, though after a fashion of his own. He did appear on the hustings, but he did not dare to repeat his statements, and you all know what happened there when, after reading his words aloud to the audience, I gave him the option of retracting them on the spot, or of being branded by me as a malicious slanderer. Sir John more of his emissaries that it was my fault if I was not welcomed back to fold, and the fatted calf was always ready to be slaughtered for the returning prodigal. (Hear, hear, and laughter.) There is a reverse to this medal. I not make it my boast that I know John Macdonald thoroughly well. Communications corrupt good manners, and it may be that such knowledge would have been far from desirable (Hear, hear, and laughter.) But I think, that from early boyhood I have unusual facilities—such, indeed, as few men now living have possessed—knowing all about him. Now, I have always spared Sir John greatly; I have for the sake of old associations, partly because of my own dislike to mix personal and political matters together, and partly because I have been obliged, against my will, to know many things about John which I did not think it proper to reveal, for much the same reasons as duce well conducted newspapers to be short in their reports in certain cases because they consider the "details unfit for publication." (Hear, hear, and laughter.) Neither is it my intention now, grave as the provocation I have received, although I am right well aware that John has privately set in circulation divulgerous statements which he dare breathe in public, to retaliate in any such fashion. I propose on the contrary, to confine myself very strictly to well-known acts of misconduct committed in public and in the conduct of public affairs. These, at least, are fair game, and these I propose to deal. (Hear, hear.) And mark me, my friends, I bring no slanderous charge. For each and every statement I may make I have the proof in readiness. If the bare recital of facts appear to you, as well it may, form as severe an indictment as ever was preferred against a public man, bear in mind that Sir John Macdonald by his own deliberate act and willfully has brought down these exposures on his head. (Hear, hear.) And first, Mr. Chairman, let us review the Ottawa speech of Sir John Macdonald a little in detail, more especially as he has not hesitated to reiterate the statements it contains on several recent occasions. I will read you his first paragraph:

I shall say one or two words respecting friend Mr. Cartwright. He is a Tory of the Family Compact and a fossil, not like myself young Liberal Conservative, and considered an adventurer when I started in public life—but old fossil.

Now, there is an old saying—in veritas—which I take to mean, not any means that a man who is intoxicated always speak the truth, but rather that he is very apt under such circumstances to let his hearers get a glimpse of his feelings. In this sense, and in this sense only, there is a certain amount of involuntary truth in Sir John's implied confession that he was looked upon to a great extent by the more respectable members of his own party as a political adventurer. I have no doubt that there was a deep underlying root bitterness rankling in his mind against me, and arising from the fact that he knew well that I looked upon him very little better. Now, Sir, mark inconsistency. If, as he says, I was posed to regard him as an adventurer, how very little likely is it that he would be justified in holding me, as he alleges, immediately after he did, as "his swiftest and thickest and thinnest support." Sir, I deny the imputation. Now, and under no circumstances had Sir John Macdonald the right to speak of me in any such terms. Certainly not in 18 when I was one of those who compelled him to stand aside in favor of Mr. A. A. Campbell, on the express ground that neither we nor the great majority of the people of Ontario were satisfied with his past conduct or disposed to put implicit trust in him. It was not in 18 when I formally warned him that if he did not conduct himself with more propriety, and attend better to his public duties, I would withdraw my support

GLOBE

Life Assurance Co.

OF NEW YORK.

Assets, - - - $5,000,000
Premium Reserve, - - - $3,600,000
Income for Year 1876, - - - $857,000

This company only accepts first-class risks, and is noted for the promptness with which claims are paid.

It offers insurance on the ordinary life as well as the endowment plans, besides those also known as the ten, fifteen and twenty-year reserve dividend plan, by which the reserves as well as all other accumulations may be withdrawn at the time specified, thereby affording a system of endowment under ordinary life rates.

See prospectus in hands of local agents.

H. L. COOK,
 General Agent for Ont.
 THOS. A. HUFFMAN,
 Agt. for Napanee
 Napanee, 15th June, 1877. 8 tf.

WESTERN ASSURANCE COMPANY

Incorporated 1851.

CAPITAL, - - - - - $300,000
 With power to increase to $1,000,000.

FIRE AND MARINE.

HEAD OFFICE: Toronto, Ont.

President.
 HON. JOHN MURRICH.
Vice-President.
 CHARLES MAGRATH.
Directors.

JAS. MICHIE, Esq. NOAH BAINHART, Esq.
 JOHN FISKE, Esq. ROBT. BEATY, Esq.
 A. M. SMITH, Esq. WM. GOODERHAM, Esq.
 BARNARD HILDAN, Managing Director
 FRED'G. C. LOVELACE, Secretary.
 WM. BLIGHT, Fire Inspector.
 JAMES PRINGLE, General Agent.
 - - - - - Marine Inspector.

Insurances effected at the lowest current rates on Buildings, Merchandise, and other property against loss or damage by fire.

On Hull Cargo, and Freight against the perils of Inland Navigation.

On Cargo Risks with the Maritime Provinces by sail or steam.

On Cargo by steamers to British Ports.

W. V. DETTOR,
 Agent for Napanee

"Among American Reviews, the INTERNATIONAL is always conspicuous." - ATLANTIC, New York.

"Will not suffer by comparison with the best foreign quarterlies." - CHURCHMAN, New York.

"Not equalled by any of its contemporaries, home or foreign, in spirit, style, or ability." - INTERIOR, Chicago.

"This is the leading Magazine of America." - ELGIN COURANT, England.

1878 THE 1878
International Review.

Between the Quarterlies and the Monthlies
SIX TIMES A YEAR.

I. The chief object of this Review is to supply the demand for a non-partisan, and international literature. In politics and religion the Review will subserve the interest of no sect or party. The Review will aim to discuss, in a vigorous, interesting and impartial manner, both sides of many of the important literary, scientific, social, political and religious questions of the day.

II. It brings to its pages the best talent of Europe and America, and seeks to be a medium of communication between representative thinkers of every nation.

III. The interests and union of the many foreign elements that constitute American society are a very important part of the work assumed by the INTERNATIONAL REVIEW.

IV. Like the Quarterlies, it addresses school-

analysis. I reply that it is the key to the state in which he left the country; that, without understanding his character, you would fail to realize the extent of the mischief which he has committed, or the dangers which would ensue from his possible return to power. Now, I have always admitted that during, and indeed for a short period after, the carrying of the Confederation project, Sir John's conduct on the whole was pretty good, and that if there is any part of his career respecting which future historians may pronounce that he really deserved well of his country, it would be found in the period from 1864 to 1869. But from that time he seems to have succumbed to a miserable lust for place. He saw clearly enough that he was losing ground, more particularly in the Province of Ontario, and he was either not wise enough to brave a temporary loss of power, even with the moral certainty of regaining it at no distant day, or else—which may possibly be the case—he was so conscious of the dishonest and miserable means by which he maintained himself in office, that he dared not abandon his place until the very last gasp, for fear of the revelations which he dreaded, perhaps with too much reason, would ensue in his expulsion from it, and therefore it was that, instead of meeting his enemies fairly and manfully in the open field, he must needs load the dice in the election of 1872. This he did in two ways: partly by a practical violation of that fundamental principle of our Constitution which provided that the several Provinces should be represented in Parliament in due proportion to their population, which he outraged by granting to Manitoba and British Columbia a representation out of all possible proportion to their numerical strength, for the open and avowed purpose of thereby neutralizing the additional votes which Ontario would become entitled to under the census of 1871, and partly by the use of Sir Hugh Allan's gold. Now consider, all of you, how infinitely better it would have been, not merely for Sir John himself, but for his party and for his country, if he had only possessed honesty and self-confidence enough to trust his fate fairly to the issue of the polls. True, he might, and probably would, have been defeated in 1872, but he would have been defeated without guile, without injury to his country, and in such fashion that he would in all human probability long ere this have found himself again restored to power. (Loud cheers.) Well, Sir, when all these expedients failed, when the result of the very first test vote in the session of 1873 showed him by how narrow a majority he was likely to be maintained, and still more when Mr. Huntington had thundered out his terrible indictment against his corrupt dealings with Sir Hugh Allan, a spirit of utter recklessness seems to have taken possession of him. He promised everything to everybody. He bribed everybody whom it was possible to bribe. He bribed the Provinces by agreeing to assume their debts. He bribed the members by doubling their indemnity. He bribed the Civil Service by bonuses, and by increasing the salaries of 1,331 of their number. He bribed constituents and whole districts by engaging in a profusion of public works from one end of this Dominion to the other. In one word, he seems to have determined that if he were not permitted to retain office, he would so entangle the affairs of this country as to render it all but impossible for any other men to govern after him. I hope he did not do this absolutely of express purpose, but I am bound to tell you that, whether designedly or not, he very nearly succeeded in effecting that result. He knew our enormous engagements. You have only to look at the Budget Speech of his Finance Minister, Mr. Tilley, to see that they were aware that at least $60,000,000 (he should have said $80,000,000) would require to be added to the national debt within a very few years:

did not retract, and I kept my word in a very emphatic manner. What did Sir John do? He can be bellicose enough on some occasions. No longer time than one year before, during his own election in Kingston, in 1872, and on far less provocation than I gave him. Sir John had thought it not incompatible with his dignity as Premier of this Dominion and as Minister of Justice to personally assault my good friend Mr. Carruthers on the hustings, and then retreated from retaliation behind a crowd of his partisans. Here Sir John appeared to think discretion the better part of valour. (Hear, hear.) Neither by look, word, nor gesture did he repudiate my charge. What he did was to take an early opportunity of sinking off the stand; nor did he reappear for several hours, although continually called for, and then only when by far the largest part of the audience had left the ground and the hour was so advanced that it was utterly impossible for me or anyone in my behalf to say a word in reply to him. He met his fitting punishment. Always and on all occasions, while he was himself in office, he was wont to protest against the pernicious practice of opposing a Minister of the Crown when he went back to his constituents for re-election. He set the very earliest example of breaking through his own rule, and what was his reward? Why, this—that not merely was I elected by an enormous majority, but that the result of my election, coupled with that of Mr. Moss in Toronto, which followed very shortly after, had a most powerful bearing in bringing about and in influencing the result of the general election in 1874, the very last thing in the world which Sir John Macdonald could possibly have desired. (Loud cheers.) Now, Sir, it is noteworthy that although four years have elapsed since that time, and although Sir John has had ample opportunity of assailing me on the floor of Parliament, he has abstained most scrupulously, from making one single reflection in that arena of my personal conduct towards himself. (Hear, hear.) To be sure he and his satellites have indemnified themselves pretty fully at various picnics and picnic effervescences, and latterly have gone so far that it has become absolutely necessary to let all parties understand that though I am constitutionally somewhat indifferent to such attacks—that, in fact, before any man can hurt my feelings, it is necessary that I should hold him in some degree of respect, and that I am therefore tolerably well case-hardened to all assaults from such quarters—still there are limits which I am bound to regard. (Hear, hear.) I owe something to the position I hold. I owe more to the friends who place me there and who support me in it; and it would not do, as a mere matter of tactics, to allow the outside public to suppose that I did not reply to these assaults either because I was afraid, or because I was incapable of responding. (Hear, hear.) Sir John has made it his boast that he always knew me thoroughly. So, Sir, once on a time he made it his boast he knew this constituency very thoroughly. (Laughter.) Sir John was considerably mistaken that respect in 1873, as some of us can testify; and he may yet come to understand that he has been equally mistaken as to his knowledge of his present representative; or at least, inasmuch as I fully intend that he shall know me thoroughly before I have done with him, that he was a little premature in his assertion. Anyhow there is a trifling contradiction in his statements on this point. Perhaps he will rise to explain how it was that, if, as he says, he always knew me so thoroughly well, and if, as he stated the other day, he would not have blamed me if I had left him on the occasion of the Pacific Scandal in 1873, he thought it expedient to conduct himself with such marked civility toward me during the long interval from 1869 to 1873. (Hear, hear.) Was he telling polite fibs then, or is he telling impolite and tell the House of Commons the reason why. It was not when his Finance Minister, Sir Alexander Galt, introduced his famous measure, proposing to lay hand on one half of the gold reserve then in the banks, nor yet two years later on, when Sir John Rose introduced another and different scheme for the reorganization of our banking interest. (Hear, hear.) Sir, I repeat that it was an insolent assumption on the part of Sir John to pretend that I ever held out to him any hope of his receiving my support unless I thought that on the whole he was conducting public affairs in the general interest; and when in 1869 I informed him that I would withdraw my support from his Government in the event of his taking in Sir Francis Hincks, I say that my reasons were good and valid ones, that I had a perfect right to decline to support Sir Francis in view of the circumstances under which the Cabinet had been broken up in 1854, and in view of the fact pointed out by me in the House that he had no pretensions to be recognised as a leader of the Reform party of the present time; and I may remind you that not only did I take this view of the situation, but that Sir Alexander Galt and Mr. Mackenzie Bowell both publicly expressed themselves on the floor of the House to precisely the same purport. Coming to the close of Sir John's remarks, I perceive that Sir John declares:

I have seen many instances of base conduct, ingratitude, and base treachery, but never in my life have I seen any man who has behaved so badly, so basely, and from such sordid motives, as Mr. Cartwright.

Well, Sir, I certainly did not expect to hear Sir John lecture anybody on the sin of ingratitude. It is enough to make the very dead rise from their graves. Does Sir John Macdonald suppose that I or others have forgotten his conduct to Sir Allan Macna, that I am ignorant of the manner in which he conducted himself towards Sir Alexander Galt, towards Mr. Hillyard Cameron, towards a host of others whom I could name? (Hear, hear.) Let Sir John, if he can give particulars of his charges, let him state if he can what I ever owed him, what favors he has ever done me, what services he has ever rendered to me, what assistance I have ever received from him. He dares to talk of his influence in Lennox! He dares to insinuate that I owed my seat in this constituency to his good words. Sir, I think it would be news to the people of Lennox that I owed my introduction to this constituency of Sir John Macdonald. I don't say it as a boast, but as a simple matter of fact, that for the last hundred years there have been very few families in Lennox in which the name I bear was not a well known household word. (Loud cheers.) Why, Sir, the truth is that my supposed connection with Sir John was a millstone round my neck from first to last. It is not true that I owed my election in this constituency to either party in particular. From the first I have numbered among my friends and supporters a great many men of both sides in politics. In my very first address in 1863, I took ground as follows:

I believe the country to be in such peril that it becomes every good citizen, Conservative or Reformer, to stand together firmly and lay aside all party disputes, at least till this danger be overpast, and I may urge this the more reasonably because I believe I am justified in saying that almost all the great questions which formerly divided those parties have been peaceably adjusted.

You know well, Sir, that I adopted the same line in 1867 and also in 1873. But let us bring Sir John's boast to the test of actual figures. When, in 1863, I first came before the electors of this country, I was earnestly pressed to disown and repudiate Sir John. That I refused to do, although stating frankly that he was not a man in whom I had perfect confidence. I was elected on that occasion by a majority of 285. In 1867, when I came forward as willing to give Sir John Macdonald a reasonable measure of support though expressly declaring that my and himself again restored to power. (loud cheers.) Well, Sir, when all these expedients failed, when the result of the very first test vote in the session of 1873 showed him by how narrow a majority he was likely to be maintained, and still more when Mr. Huntington had thundered out his terrible indictment against his corrupt dealings with Sir Hugh Allan, a spirit of utter recklessness seems to have taken possession of him. He promised everything to everybody. He bribed everybody whom it was possible to bribe. He bribed the Provinces by agreeing to assume their debts. He bribed the members by doubling their indemnity. He bribed the Civil Service by bonuses, and by increasing the salaries of 1,381 of their number. He bribed constituents and whole districts by engaging in a provision of public works from one end of his Dominion to the other. In one word, he seems to have determined that if he were not permitted to retain office, he would so entangle the affairs of this country as to render it almost impossible for any other man to govern after him. I hope he did not do this absolutely of express purpose, but I am bound to tell you that, whether designedly or not, he very nearly succeeded in effecting that result. He won our enormous engagements. You are only to look at the Budget Speech of his Finance Minister, Mr. Tilley, to see that they were aware that at least 50,000,000 (he should have said $80,000,000) would require to be added to the national debt within a very few years; and yet during the concluding six weeks of that fatal session, after Mr. Huntington's charges had been preferred, he not only refused to meet the charges, but he went on in the hope of escaping his just condemnation, saw fit to add the equivalent of at least $33,000,000 more to our existing engagements. Why, Sir, six months more of Sir John Macdonald's rule would have meant hopeless national bankruptcy. Then we were called in—so late, I own, to prevent grave mischief, but fortunately not altogether too late to save you from the worst consequences of this folly. (Loud cheers.) For ourselves, I simply say this—that at a financial point of view, at any rate, what we promised we have performed. Our position to-day is infinitely better in all essential respects than it was five years ago. A vast amount of the claims then existing have been finally disposed of. A great deal of our debt has been refunded. The International Railroad is completed, so is the Prince Edward Island railroad; so are (with one exception) the Ottawa Canals. The bulk of our expenditure in both Welland and Lachine is all high over, and a great part of one of the most difficult and necessary sections of the Pacific Railway itself is approaching completion. Of our other engagements, with the exception of the Pacific Railroad (which must only be one on with as the resources of this country fairly permit), we can truly say that the balance is within our grasp. (Loud cheers.) But accidents, the amount of our gross expenditure is very nearly fixed and our ordinary expenditure has been reduced from about eight and a half to a little over seven millions per annum. Very large loans have been effected in the English market on very good terms. Our calculations allowing for the unavoidable disturbance caused by a world-wide commercial depression, and by the occurrence simultaneously of an unusually bad harvest, are proving themselves accurate to a degree. There are signs in many quarters that the tide is at last turning to good, and that you have seen, I most sincerely trust, the worst of the depression. (Hear, hear, and loud cheers.) Passing now to another branch of my subject, I have a few words to say as to my personal relations to Sir John Macdonald, and as to his position towards the Conservative party. I admit frankly that it is a matter of regret in the public interest that men occupying our respective positions should be at bitter personal feud; but you will do me the justice to remember that this quarrel was of one of my seeking in the first instance. All through I have acted strictly in accordance with my conscience, and with the

that I should hold him in some degree of respect, and that I am therefore tolerably well case-hardened to all assaults from such quarters—still there are limits which I am bound to regard. (Hear, hear.) I owe something to the position I hold. I owe more to the friends who place me there and who support me in it; and it would not do, as a mere matter of tactics, to allow the outside public to suppose that I did not reply to these assaults either because I was afraid, or because I was incapable of responding. (Hear, hear.) Sir John has made it his boast that he always knew me thoroughly. So, Sir, once on a time he made it his boast he knew this constituency very thoroughly. (Laughter.) Sir John was considerably mistaken that respect in 1873, as some of us can testify; and he may yet come to understand that he has been equally mistaken as to his knowledge of his present representative; or at least, inasmuch as I fully intend that he shall know me thoroughly before I have done with him, that he was a little premature in his assertion. Anyhow there is a trifling contradiction in his statements on this point. Perhaps he will rise to explain how it was that, if, as he says, he always knew me so thoroughly well, and if, as he stated the other day, he would not have blamed me if I had left him on the occasion of the Pacific Scandal in 1878, he thought it expedient to conduct himself with such marked civility toward me during the long interval from 1869 to 1878. (Hear, hear.) Was he telling polite fibs then, or is he telling impolite ones now? Now, I am in no way anxious for testimonials from Sir John. But I can tell you this, that during the sessions of these four years, from 1869 to 1878, there were very few weeks indeed during which I did not receive intimations from one or more of his emissaries that it was my own fault if I was not welcomed back to the fold, and the fattest calf was always ready to be slaughtered for the returning prodigal. (Hear, hear, and laughter.) Sir, there is a reverse to this medal. I do not make it my boast that I know Sir John Macdonald thoroughly well. Evil communications corrupt good manners, and it may be that such knowledge would have been far from desirable. (Hear, hear, and laughter.) But I say this, that from early boyhood I have had unusual facilities—such, indeed, as few men now living have possessed—for knowing all about him. Now, I have always spared Sir John greatly; partly for the sake of old associations, partly because of my own dislike to mix personal and political matters together, and partly also because I have been obliged, against my will, to know many things about Sir John which I did not think it proper to reveal, for much the same reasons as induce well conducted newspapers to stop short in their reports in certain cases because they consider the "details unfit for publication." (Hear, hear, and laughter.) Neither is it my intention now, grave as is the provocation I have received, and although I am right well aware that Sir John has privately set in circulation divers slanderous statements which he dare not breathe in public, to retaliate in any such fashion. I propose on the contrary, to confine myself very strictly to well-known facts of misconduct committed in public, and in the conduct of public affairs. These, at least, are fair game, and with these I propose to deal. (Hear, hear.) And mark me, my friends, I bring no slanderous charge. For each and every statement I may make I have the proof in readiness. If the bare recital of the facts appear to you, as well it may, to form as severe an indictment as ever yet was preferred against a public man, bear in mind that Sir John Macdonald by his own deliberate act and wilful folly has brought down these exposures on his head. (Hear, hear.) And first of all, Mr. Chairman, let us review this Ottawa speech of Sir John Macdonald's a little in detail, more especially as he has not hesitated to reiterate the statements it contains on several recent occasions. I will read you his first paragraph:

I shall say one or two words respecting my friend Mr. Cartwright. He is a Tory of the old family. Compact and a fossil, not like myself, a new to the people of Lennox. That I owed my introduction to this constituency of Sir John Macdonald. I don't say it as a boast, but as a simple matter of fact, that for the last hundred years there have been very few families in Lennox in which the name I bear was not a well known household word. (Loud cheers.) Why, Sir, the truth is that my supposed connection with Sir John was a millstone round my neck from first to last. It is not true that I owed my election in this constituency to either party in particular. From the first I have numbered among my friends and supporters a great many men of both sides in politics. In my very first address in 1863, I took ground as follows:

I believe the country to be in such peril that it becomes every good citizen, Conservative or Reform, to stand together firmly and lay aside all party disputes, at least till this danger be overpast, and I may urge this the more reasonably because I believe I am justified in saying that almost all the great questions which formerly divided those parties have been peaceably adjusted.

You know well, Sir, that I adopted the same line in 1867 and also in 1873. But let us bring Sir John's boast to the test of actual figures. When, in 1863, I first came before the electors of this country, I was earnestly pressed to disown and repudiate Sir John. That I refused to do, although stating frankly that he was not a man in whom I had perfect confidence. I was elected on that occasion by a majority of 285. In 1867, when I came forward as willing to give Sir John Macdonald a reasonable measure of support though expressly declaring that my support was contingent on his good behaviour, my majority was reduced to 145. In 1872, after I had had formally severed all political connection with him, and had published an address reflecting very severely on many portions of his policy, I was elected by a majority of 711. (Cheers.) In 1878, when Sir John took the field against me in person, when he used every imaginable exertion to compass my defeat, my majority rose to 833. (Loud cheers.) Sir, you can remember quite well when Sir John proceeded to this county in 1862, and virtuously assailed Mr. A. Hooper, the then candidate; you can remember, I say, Sir, that the consequence of Sir John's appearance was to elect Mr. Hooper by a majority of 465. When Mr. Senator Campbell in 1858 first contested the Cataraqui division, he being then in an attitude, to say the least, of decidedly armed neutrality as respected Sir John Macdonald, Mr. Campbell obtained a majority of some 80 in the township of Ernestown, which was the only part of Lennox incorporated in that division. But when, in 1864, Mr. Campbell returned as a member of Sir John's Government with Sir John by his side, that majority of 80 was converted in that same township into a minority of 78, and Sir John enjoyed the satisfaction of being hoisted by the men of Ernestown off the hustings at Odessa. Sir, I think I may fairly say that if any man could plead that he had the unanimous approval of his constituents to his political course, I am that man, so far at any rate as my withdrawal from all connection with Sir John Macdonald is concerned. I have appeared before you three times since 1863, and each time you have awarded me still stronger marks of your confidence than before. In 1872, as I have said, you elected me by a majority of 700, in 1877 by a majority of 800, and in 1878 you elected me without opposition at all. (Loud cheers.) You may have changed your minds since then, and I do not deny your right to do so. But surely you cannot say that your opinions then differed so widely from those of your representative. As for Sir John's recent speech, here I think we have pretty well disposed of the question of his influence in Lennox. But I perceive he must needs describe me as a "hewer of wood and a drawer of water for the benefit of Alexander Mackenzie." Now, hewing wood and drawing water may not be the pleasantest of occupations, but at least no one can say that they are not honest callings, and I have to tell Sir John Macdonald that I hold it no dishonour to serve my country, even if it be, as he says, in the capacity of a "hewer of wood and a drawer of water."

JAMES PRINGLE, General Agent.
Marine Inspector.

Insurances effected at the lowest current rates on Buildings, Merchandise, and other property against loss or damage by fire.
On Hull Cargo, and Freight against the perils of Inland Navigation.
On Cargo Risks with the Maritime Provinces by sail or steam.
On Car-goes by steamers to British Ports.

W. V. DETLOF,
Agent for Norway

"Among American Reviews the INTERNATIONAL is always conspicuous."—ACADEMY, New York.
"Will not suffer by comparison with the best foreign quarters."—CHURCHMAN, New York.
"Not equalled by any of its contemporaries, home or foreign, in spirit, style, or ability."—INTERIOR, Chicago.
"This is the leading Magazine of America."—ELGIN COURANT, England.

1878 THE 1878
International Review.

Between the Quaterlies and the Monthlies
SIX TIMES A YEAR.

I. The chief object of this Review is to supply the demand for a non-partisan and international literature. In politics and religion the Review will subscribe the interest of no sect or party. The Review will aim to discuss, in a vigorous, interesting and impartial manner, both sides of many of the important literary, scientific, social, political and religious questions of the day.

II. It brings to its pages the best talent of Europe and America, and seeks to be a medium of communication between representative thinkers of every nation.

III. The interests and union of the many foreign elements that constitute American society are a very important part of the work assumed by the INTERNATIONAL REVIEW.

IV. Like the Quaterlies, it addresses scholars, and like the Monthlies, aims to be of value to practical men in business and the professions, and of interest to the members of the family.

V. Each number contains fresh and reliable notices of important new American and European books.

VI. The Art Department will be conducted by Mr. PHILIP GILBERT HAMERTON.

VII. Editorial comments upon the course of events at home and abroad, having special reference to the interests of the United States, are given in, and add strength and timeliness to every issue.

VIII. The success of the INTERNATIONAL REVIEW is made to depend upon a comprehensive plan, solid merit, and adaption in style and subject to the age in which we live.

ALL ARTICLES ARE ORIGINAL.

SOME OF THE CONTRIBUTORS:

WM. CULLEN BRYANT, U. States of America.
Hon. C. F. ADAMS, " "
Ex-Pres. TH. D. WOOLSEY, " "
Pres. NOAH PORTER, " "
Pres. JAMES M. COHEN, " "
Prof. A. P. PEABODY, " "
Mr. JUSTICE STRONG, " "
Prof. J. E. HILGARD, " "
E. P. WHIPPLE, " "
Dr. FRANKS WHARTON, " "
THEODORE DWIGHT, " "
Hon. JOHN BIGELOW, " "
H. H. BOYSEN, " "
E. A. WASHBURN, " "
HAYARD TAYLOR, " "
DAVID A. WELLES, " "
Hon. T. M. COOLEY, " "
Hon. A. H. STEVENS, " "
Gen. F. A. WALKER, " "
Hon. JOHN JAY, " "
Hon. CARLO SCHERZA, " "
Principal J. W. DAWSON, Canada
WALTER BESANT, England.
CHAS. TENNYSON TURNER, England.
DEAN SMITH of Canterbury, England.
DEAN STANLEY of Westminster, England.
Professor WM. B. CARPENTER, England.
Professor F. H. PALMER, England.
PHILIP ALBERT HAMERTON, England.
EDWARD A. FREEMAN, England.
Prof. W. S. JEVONS, England.
THOMAS HUGHES, England.
THOMAS HASSALL, M. P., England.
WILKIE COLLINS, England.
JAMES H. RIGG, England.
Professor EDWARD LABRI LAYE, France.
M. ERNET NAVILLE, France.
M. SPILLER, Dep. France.
Professor EUGENE BELLER, France.
Professor ERNST CURTIUS, Germany.
Dr. CARL ABEL, Germany.
Baron F. VON HOLTZENDORF, Germany.
Professor AUGUST VOGEL, Germany.
Professor J. H. DEXNER, Germany.
Professor R. BONCHET, Italy.
Professor A. DEBENEDICTIS, Italy.
Princess DORA D'ISTRIA, Italy.
Madame VILLARI, Italy.

Crockery & Glassware
AT COST

OUR ENTIRE STOCK OF

redemption, saw fit to add the equivalent of at least $33,000,000 more to our existing engagements. Why, Sir, six months more of Sir John Macdonald's life would have meant hopeless national bankruptcy. Then we were called in—late, I own, to prevent grave mischief, but fortunately not altogether too late to say you from the worst consequences of this folly. (Loud cheers.) For ourselves, I simply say this—that a financial point of view, at any rate, that we promised we have performed. In position to-day is infinitely better in essential respects than it was five years ago. A vast amount of the claims then existing have been finally disposed of. A great deal of our debt has been refunded. The International Railroad is completed, so is the Prince Edward Island railroad; so are (with one exception) the Ottawa Canals. The bulk of our expenditure in both Welland and Lachine is all paid over, and a great part of one of the most difficult and necessary sections of the Pacific Railway itself is approaching completion. Of our other engagements, with the exception of the Great Northern (which must only be done on with as the resources of this country fairly permit), we can truly say at the balance is within our grasp. (Cheers.) By far accidents, the amount of our gross expenditure is very nearly fixed at our ordinary expenditure has been reduced from about eight and a half a little over seven millions per annum. Very large loans have been effected in the English market on very good terms. Our calculations allowing for the unavoidable disturbance caused by a world-wide commercial depression, and by the occurrence simultaneously of an unusually low harvest, are proving themselves accurate to a degree. There are signs in many quarters that the tide is at last turning to ebb, and that you have seen, I most sincerely trust, the worst of the depression. (Hear, hear, and loud cheers.) Passing now to another branch of my subject, I have a few words to say as to my personal relations to Sir John Macdonald, and also as to his position towards the Conservative party. I admit frankly that it is a matter of regret in a public interest that men occupying our respective positions should be at bitter personal feud; but you will do me the justice to remember that this quarrel was not one of my seeking in the first instance. All through I have acted strictly in my right when I openly and publicly withdrew my support from Sir John Macdonald in 1869. I was strictly in my right, and in the discharge of my duty as our representative, when I denounced his conduct in 1873; and so far was I on at occasion from using language of unnecessary harshness, or in any way needlessly lacerating his feelings, that even the Mail newspaper surely no friendly critic—described me as having patted me with a "paw of velvet." What was Sir John's own course on the other hand? I have been sworn into office when he deliberately took occasion, at a banquet tendered him in Ottawa, to sail me in terms of extreme violence and to impute the basest and most discreditable motives for my conduct. Now, Sir, as Sir John Macdonald had never read to say one word in reprobation of my action openly and to my face in the House of Commons, from 1869 to 1873, held then, and I hold now, that his behaviour in so speaking behind my back is dastardly in the extreme (hear), and lost no time, when that speech was caught to my notice, which was during my own election in 1873, in expressing my opinion of his conduct, and in challenging him to appear on the hustings here, and there repeat his words if he red. (Hear, hear.) Well, Sir John Macdonald did accept that challenge, and after a fashion of his own. He did appear on the hustings, but he did not dare to repeat his statements, and we all know what happened there when, reading his words aloud to the audience, I gave him the option of retracting them on the spot, or of being branded by me as a malicious slanderer. Sir John did not receive intimations that one of more of his emissaries that it was my own fault if I was not welcomed back to the fold, and the fatted calf was always ready to be slaughtered for the returning prodigal. (Hear, hear, and laughter.) Sir, there is a reverse to this medal. I do not make it my boast that I know Sir John Macdonald thoroughly well. Evil communications corrupt good manners, and it may be that such knowledge would have been far from desirable. (Hear, hear, and laughter.) But I say this, that from early boyhood I have had unusual facilities—such, indeed, as few men now living have possessed—for knowing all about him. Now, I have always spared Sir John greatly; partly for the sake of old associations, partly because of my own dislike to mix personal and political matters together, and partly also because I have been obliged, against my will, to know many things about Sir John which I did not think it proper to reveal, for much the same reasons as induce well conducted newspapers to stop short in their reports in certain cases because they consider the "details unfit for publication." (Hear, hear, and laughter.) Neither is it my intention now, grave as is the provocation I have received, and although I am right well aware that Sir John has privately set in circulation divers slanderous statements which he dare not breathe in public, to retaliate in any such fashion. I propose on the contrary, to confine myself very strictly to well-known facts of misconduct committed in public, and in the conduct of public affairs. These, at least, are fair game, and with these I propose to deal. (Hear, hear.) And mark me, my friends, I bring no slanderous charge. For each and every statement I may make I have the proof in readiness. If the bare recital of the facts appear to you, as well it may, to form as severe an indictment as ever yet was preferred against a public man, bear in mind that Sir John Macdonald by his own deliberate act and wilful folly has brought down these exposures on his head. (Hear, hear.) And first of all, Mr. Chairman, let us review this Ottawa speech of Sir John Macdonald's a little in detail, more especially as he has not hesitated to reiterate the statements it contains on several recent occasions. I will read you his first paragraph:

I shall say one or two words respecting my friend Mr. Cartwright. He is a Tory of the old Family Compact and a fossil, not like myself, a young Liberal Conservative, and considered an adventurer when I started in public life—but an old fossil.

Now, there is an old saying—in vinum veritas—which I take to mean, not by any means that a man who is intoxicated always speak the truth, but rather that he is very apt under such circumstances to let his hearers get a glimpse of his real feelings. In this sense, and in this sense only, there is a certain amount of involuntary truth in Sir John's implied confession that he was looked upon to a great extent by the more respectable members of his own party as a mere political adventurer, and I have no doubt that there was a deep underlying root of bitterness rankling in his mind against me, and arising from the fact that he knew well that I looked upon him as very little better. Now, Sir, mark his inconsistency. If, as he says, I was disposed to regard him as an adventurer, how very little likely is it that he would be justified in holding me, as he alleges, immediately after, he did, as "his sworn soldier and thick and thin supporter." Sir, I deny the imputation. Nowhere and under no circumstances had Sir John Macdonald the right to speak of me in any such terms. Certainly not in 1863, when I was one of those who compelled him to stand aside in favor of Mr. Alexander Campbell, on the express ground that neither we nor the great majority of the people of Ontario were satisfied with his past conduct or disposed to put implicit trust in him. It was not in 1866, when I formally warned him that if he did not conduct himself with more propriety, and attend better to his public duties, I would withdraw my support, very severely on many portions of his policy, I was elected by a majority of 711. (Cheers.) In 1873, when Sir John took the field against me in person, when he used every imaginable exertion to compass my defeat, my majority rose to 833. (Loud cheers.) Sir, you can remember quite well when Sir John proceeded to this county in 1862, and virtually assailed Mr. A. Hooper, the then candidate; you can remember, I say, Sir, that the consequence of Sir John's appearance was to elect Mr. Hooper by a majority of 465. When Mr. Senator Campbell in 1858 first contested the Cataraugus division, he being then in an attitude, to say the least, of decidedly armed neutrality as respected Sir John Macdonald, Mr. Campbell obtained a majority of some 80 in the township of Ernestown, which was the only part of Lennox incorporated in that division. But when, in 1861, Mr. Campbell returned as a member of Sir John's Government with Sir John by his side, that majority of 80 was converted in that same township into a minority of 78, and Sir John enjoyed the satisfaction of being hooted by the men of Ernestown off the hustings at Olesca. Sir, I think I may fairly say that if any man could plead that he had the unmistakable approval of his constituents to his political course, I am that man, so far at any rate as my withdrawal from all connection with Sir John Macdonald is concerned. I have appeared before you three times in 1869, and each time you have assailed me still stronger marks of your confidence than before. In 1872, as I have said, you elected me by a majority of 709, in 1873 by a majority of 800 odd, and in 1874 you elected me without opposition at all. (Loud cheers.) You may have changed your minds since then, and I do not deny your right to do so. But surely you cannot say that your opinions then differed one whit from those of your representatives. As for Sir John's recent speech, here I think we have pretty well disposed of the question of his influence in Lennox. But I perceive he must needs describe me as a "hewer of wood and a drawer of water for the benefit of Alexander Mackenzie." Now, hewing wood and drawing water may not be the pleasantest of occupations, but at least no one can say that they are not honest callings, and I have to tell Sir John Macdonald that I hold it no dishonour to serve my country, even if it be, as he says, in the capacity of a "hewer of wood and a drawer of water." (Cheers.) Better do that, in the Cabinet of an honest and upright man, than have been associated with Sir John Macdonald in the picking and stealing, the charter selling, and the Northern Railroad speculation, that have stamped his later career with such deep and indelible infamy. (Hear, hear.) But let that pass. Sir John next goes on, in a fine flight of rhetoric, to accuse me of "having sold my constituency, sold my family honour, sold myself, and—oh, horror!—of having sold him (Sir John Macdonald) himself." Really, Mr. Chairman, this is quite a profusion of compliments. (Hear, hear, and laughter.)

[CONTINUED TO THIRD PAGE.]

THE GREAT CAUSE OF HUMAN MISERY.

WE have recently published a new edition of Dr. Culvertwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical and permanent cure (without medicine) of Nervous Debility, Mental and Physical Incurability, Impediments to Marriage, etc., resulting from excesses.

Price, in a sealed envelope, only 6 cents, or two postage stamps.

The celebrated author, of this admirable Essay, clearly demonstrates, from thirty years' successful practice, that abundant consequence may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

This Lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land.

Address
THE CULVERTWELL MEDICAL CO.,
Office Box 4580 41 Ann St., New York, 45-ly.

54.30 PER WEEK AT HOME.
Samples and Warrant, 75c to $1.00
Address, MONTREAL, 236 St. James Street, Montreal, P.Q.

By Mr. Philip Gilbert Hamerton.

VII. Editorial comments upon the course of events at home and abroad, having special reference to the interests of the United States, are given in, and add strength and timeliness to every issue.

VIII. The success of the INTERNATIONAL REVIEW is made to depend upon a comprehensive plan, solid merit, and adaptation in style and subject to the age in which we live.

ALL ARTICLES ARE ORIGINAL.

SOME OF THE CONTRIBUTORS:

WM. CULLEN BRYANT, U. States of America	Principal J. W. DAWSON, Canada
Hon. C. F. ADAMS, Sr., "	WALTER BESANT, England
Ex-Pres. TH. D. NOOLSEY, "	CHAS. TENNYSON TURNER, England
Pres. NOAH PORTER, "	DEAN SMITH, of Canterbury, England
Pres. JAMES MCCOSH, "	DEAN STANLEY, of Westminster, England
Prof. A. P. PEARBODY, "	Professor WM. B. CARPENTER, England
Mr. H. STICE STRONG, "	Professor E. H. PALMER, England
Prof. J. E. HILLYARD, "	PHILIP GILBERT HAMERTON, England
E. P. WHIPPLE, "	EDWARD A. FREEMAN, England
Dr. FRANCIS WHARTON, "	Prof. W. S. JEVONS, England
THEODORE DWIGHT, "	THOMAS HUGHES, England
Hon. JOHN BIGELOW, "	THOMAS BRASSEY, M. P., England
H. H. BOYSEN, "	WILKIE COLLINS, England
E. A. WASHBURN, "	JAMES H. ROSS, England
BAYARD TAYLOR, "	Professor EDWARD LABOULAYE, France
DAVID A. WELLS, "	M. ERNEST NAVILLE, France
Hon. T. M. COOLEY, "	M. APULIER, Dep. France
Hon. A. H. STEVENS, "	Pastor EUGENE BERTIER, France
Gen. F. A. WALKER, "	Professor ERNST CURTIUS, Germany
Hon. JOHN JAY, "	Dr. CARL AEBEL, Germany
Hon. CARD SCHULZ, "	Baron F. VON HOLTZENDORF, Germany
Principal J. W. DAWSON, Canada	Professor AUGUST VOELTL, Germany
WALTER BESANT, England	Professor J. E. DÖRNER, Germany
CHAS. TENNYSON TURNER, England	Professor R. BONGHI, Italy
DEAN SMITH, of Canterbury, England	Professor A. DEGI BERNATIS, Italy
DEAN STANLEY, of Westminster, England	Princess DORA D'ISTRIA, Italy
Professor WM. B. CARPENTER, England	Madame VILLARI, Italy

Crockery & Glassware

AT COST

OUR ENTIRE STOCK OF

Crockery & Glassware, A

WILL BE SOLD AT

Cost and Under

FOR CASH,

As we intend going out of that line.

Call and Secure Bargains.

Cash Paid for Butter and Eggs.

SMITH & ANDERSON,

GRACE'S SALVE.

A Vegetable Preparation, invented in the 17th century by Dr. Wm. Grace, Surgeon in King James' army. Through its agency he cured thousands of the most serious sores and wounds, and was regarded by all who knew him as a public benefactor. 25c a box, by mail 30c. For sale by druggists generally.

AGENTS WANTED.

Address BETH W. FOWLE & SONS, Boston Mass.

id tell the House of Commons the reason why. It was not when his Finance Minister, Sir Alexander Galt, introduced a famous measure, proposing to lay out on one half of the gold reserve then the banks, nor yet two years later on, when Sir John Rose introduced another different scheme for the reorganization of our banking interest. (Hear, hear.) I repeat that it was an insolent assumption on the part of Sir John to pretend that I ever held out to him any hope of his receiving my support unless he thought that on the whole he was conducting public affairs in the general interest; and when in 1869 I informed him that I would withdraw my support from the Government in the event of his taking Sir Francis Hincks, I say that my reasons were good and valid ones, that I had a perfect right to decline to support Sir Francis in view of the circumstances under which the Cabinet had been broken up in 1854, and in view of the fact pointed out by me in the House that he had pretensions to be recognised as a leader of the Reform party of the present time; and I may remind you that not only did I take this view of the situation, it that Sir Alexander Galt and Mr. Mackenzie Bowell both publicly expressed themselves on the floor of the House precisely the same purport. Coming to the close of Sir John's remarks, I perceive that Sir John declares:

[I have seen many instances of base conduct, ingratitude, and base treachery, but never in my life have I seen any man who has behaved so badly, so basely and from such sordid motives, as Sir Cartwright.

Well, Sir, I certainly did not expect to hear Sir John lecture anybody on the sin of ingratitude. It is enough to make the very dead rise from their graves. Does Sir John Macdonald suppose that I or others have forgotten his conduct to Sir Allan Macnao, that I am ignorant of the manner in which he conducted himself towards Sir Alexander Galt, towards Mr. Lyall Cameron, towards a host of others whom I could name? (Hear, hear.) At Sir John, if he can give particulars of his charges, let him state if he can that I ever owed him, what favors he has ever done me, what services he has ever rendered to me, what assistance I have ever received from him. He dares to talk of his influence in Lennox! He dares to insinuate that I owed my seat in this constituency to his good words. Sir, I think it would be news to the people of Lennox that I received my introduction to this constituency from Sir John Macdonald. I don't say it a boast, but as a simple matter of fact, at for the last hundred years there have been very few families in Lennox in which the name I bear was not a well known household word. (Loud cheers.) Oh, Sir, the truth is that my supposed connection with Sir John was a millstone and my neck from first to last. It is true that I owed my election in this constituency to either party in particular. From the first I have numbered among my friends and supporters a great many of both sides in politics. In my very first address in 1863, I took ground follows:

I believe the country to be in such peril that it comes every good citizen. Conservative or reformer, to stand together firmly and lay aside party disputes, at least till this danger be past, and I may urge this the more reasonably because I believe I am justified in saying at almost all the great questions which formerly divided these parties have been peaceably adjusted.

You know well, Sir, that I adopted the same line in 1867 and also in 1873. But to bring Sir John's boast to the test of actual figures. When, in 1863, I first came before the electors of this country, I was earnestly pressed to disown and repudiate Sir John. That I refused to do, although stating frankly that he was not a man in whom I had perfect confidence. I was elected on that occasion by a majority of 285. In 1867, when I came forward as willing to give Sir John Macdonald a reasonable measure of support though expressly declaring that my support was contingent on his good be-

GLOBE Life Assurance Co. OF NEW YORK.

Assets, - - - $5,000,000
Premium Reserve, $3,600,000
Income for Year 1876, $857,000

This company only accepts first-class risks, and is noted for the promptness with which claims are paid.

It offers insurance on the ordinary life as well as the endowment plans, besides those also known as the ten, fifteen and twenty-year reserve dividend plan, by which the reserves as well as all other accumulations may be withdrawn at the time specified, thereby affording a system of endowment under ordinary life rates.

See prospectus in hands of local agents.

H. L. COOK,
General Agent for Ont.
THOS. A. HUFFMAN,
Agt. for Napanee,
Napanee, 15th June, 1877. 8 tf.

WESTERN ASSURANCE COMPANY

Incorporated 1851.

CAPITAL, - - - - - $800,000
With power to increase to $1,000,000.

FIRE AND MARINE.

HEAD OFFICE: Toronto, Ont. 21-yl.

President.
HON. JOHN McMURRICH.
Vice-President.
CHARLES MAGRATH.
Directors.

JAS. MICHIE, Esq. NOAH BARNHART, Esq.
JOHN FISKIN, Esq. ROBT. HEATY, Esq.
A. M. SMITH, Esq. WM. GOODERHAM, Esq.
BARNARD HILDAN, Managing Director
FRED'K G. C. LOVELACE, Secretary.
Wm. BLIGHT, Fire Inspector.
JAMES PRINGLE, General Agent.
— Marine Inspector.

Insurance effected at the lowest current rates on Buildings, Merchandise, and other property against loss or damage by fire.

On Hull Cargo, and Freight against the perils of Inland Navigation.

On Cargo Risks with the Maritime Provinces by sail or steam.

On Cargo by steamers to British Ports.

W. V. DETLOR,
Agent for Napanee

"Among American Reviews the INTERNATIONAL is always conspicuous."—ACADEMY, New York.

"Will not suffer by comparison with the best foreign quarterlies."—CHURCHMAN, New York.

"Not equalled by any of its contemporaries, home or foreign, in spirit, style, or ability."—INTERIOR, Chicago.

"This is the leading Magazine of America."—ELGIN COURANT, England.

1878 THE 1878
International Review.

Between the Quarterlies and the Monthlies
SIX TIMES A YEAR.

I. The chief object of this Review is to supply the demand for a non-partisan and international literature. In politics and religion the Review will subserve the interest of no sect or party. The Review will aim to discuss, in a vigorous, interesting and impartial manner, both sides of many of the important literary, scientific, social, political and religious questions of the day.

II. It brings to its pages the best talent of Europe and America, and seeks to be a medium of communication between representative thinkers of every nation.

III. The interests and union of the many foreign elements that constitute American society are a very important part of the work assumed by the INTERNATIONAL REVIEW.

IV. Like the Quarterlies, it addresses scholars, and like the Monthlies, aims to be of value to practical men in business and the professions.

JUST ARRIVED,

—AT—

ROSE & FRALICK'S,

IN THE PERRY BLOCK,

100 CASES of NEW BOOTS & SHOES,

THE BEST AND CHEAPEST IN TOWN.

Come and See Them, as We will not be Undersold.

ALSO A FULL ASSORTMENT OF

New Hat, Caps, Clothing, Gents' Furnishings, &c.

BOOTS MADE TO ORDER

ROSE & FRALICK.

A SPECULATION!

During the dull summer months, the undersigned will sell Furniture, Chairs, &c., at greatly reduced Prices, for Cash or Good Notes.

J. GIBBARD & SON.

has ever rendered to me, what instance I have ever received in him. He dares to talk of his influence in Lennox! He dares to insinuate I owed my seat in this constituency his good words. Sir, I think it would news to the people of Lennox that I had my introduction to this constituency Sir John Macdonald. I don't say it a boast, but as a simple matter of fact, for the last hundred years there have been very few families in Lennox which the name I bear was not a well own household word. (Loud cheers.) Sir, the truth is that my supposed nection with Sir John was a millstone on my neck from first to last. It is true that I owed my election in this constituency to either party in particular. In the first I have numbered among friends and supporters a great many of both sides in politics. In my first address in 1863, I took ground follows believe the country to be in such peril that it unites every good citizen. Conservative or otherwise, to stand together firmly and lay aside party disputes. At least till this danger be past, and I may urge this the more reason because I believe I am justified in saying almost all the great questions which formerly divided those parties have been peaceably ad-

as I know well, Sir, that I adopted the line in 1867 and also in 1873. But as I bring Sir John's boast to the test actual figures. When, in 1863, I first came before the electors of this country, I earnestly pressed to disown and repudiate Sir John. That I refused to, although stating frankly that he was a man in whom I had perfect confidence. I was elected on that occasion by a majority of 285. In 1867, when I went forward as willing to give Sir John Macdonald a reasonable measure of support though expressly declaring that my support was contingent on his good behavior, my majority was reduced to 10. In 1872, after I had had formally severed all political connection with him, I had published an address reflecting severely on many portions of his policy, I was elected by a majority of 100. (Cheers.) In 1873, when Sir John left the field against me in person, when used every imaginable exertion to surpass my defeat, my majority rose to 100. (Loud cheers.) Sir, you can remember quite well when Sir John proceeded to this county in 1862, and virtually assailed Mr. A Hooper, the then candidate; you can remember, I say, that the consequence of Sir John's appearance was to elect Mr. Hooper by a majority of 465. When Mr. Senator Campbell in 1858 first contested the Cataraugus division, he being then in a minority, to say the least, of decidedly less neutrality as respected Sir John Macdonald, Mr. Campbell obtained a majority of some 80 in the township of Westown, which was the only part of the county incorporated in that division. When, in 1864, Mr. Campbell returned as a member of Sir John's Government, Sir John by his side, that majority of 80 was converted in that same township into a minority of 78, and Sir John enjoyed the satisfaction of being booed by the men of Westown off the hustings at Odessa. Sir, I think I may fairly say that if any man could plead that he had the unanimous approval of his constituents to his political course, I am that man, so far at any rate as my withdrawal from all connection with Sir John Macdonald is concerned. I have appeared before you three times since 1869, and each time you have assented me still stronger marks of your confidence than before. In 1872, as I have said, you elected me by a majority of 700, in 1873 by a majority of 1000, and in 1874 you elected me with opposition in all. (Loud cheers.) You have changed your mind since then, I do not deny your right to do so, but surely you cannot say that your opinions then differed one whit from those of your representatives. As for Sir John's recent speech, here I think we are pretty well disposed of the question his influence in Lennox. But I perceive he must needs describe me as a sewer of wood and a drawer of water from the benefit of Alexander Mackenzie. Now, hewing wood and drawing water is not the pleasantest of occupations.

Directors.
JAS. MICHIE, Esq. NOAH BARNHART, Esq.
JOHN FISKIN, Esq. ROBT. BEATY, Esq.
A. M. SMITH, Esq. WM. GOODERHAM, Esq.
BARNARD HILDAN, Managing Director
FRED'G. C. LOVELLAGE, Secretary.
WM. BRIGHT, Fire Inspector.
JAMES PRINGLE, General Agent.
Marine Inspector.
Insurances effected at the lowest current rates on Buildings, Merchandise, and other property against loss or damage by fire.
On Hull Cargo, and Freight against the perils of Inland Navigation.
On Cargo Risks with the Maritime Provinces by sea or steam.
On Car goes by steamers to British Ports.
W. V. DETTOR,
Agent for Niagara

"Among American Reviews the INTERNATIONAL is always conspicuous."—ACADEMY, New York.
"Will not suffer by comparison with the best foreign quarterlies."—CHURCHMAN, New York.
"Not equalled by any of its contemporaries, home or foreign, in spirit, style, or ability."—INTERIOR, Chicago.
"This is the leading Magazine of America."—ELGIN COURANT, England.

1878 THE 1878
International Review.

Between the Quarterlies and the Monthlies
SIX TIMES A YEAR.

I. The chief object of this Review is to supply the demand for a non-partisan and International literature. In politics and religion the Review will subscribe the interest of no sect or party. The Review will aim to discuss, in a vigorous, interesting and impartial manner, both sides of many of the important literary, scientific, social, political and religious questions of the day.
II. It brings to its pages the best talent of Europe and America, and seeks to be a medium of communication between representative thinkers of every nation.
III. The interests and union of the many foreign elements that constitute American society are a very important part of the work assumed by the INTERNATIONAL REVIEW.
IV. Like the Quarterlies, it addresses scholars, and like the Monthlies, aims to be of value to practical men in business and the professions, and of interest to the members of the family.
V. Each number contains fresh and reliable notices of important new American and European books.
VI. The Art Department will be conducted by Mr. Philip Gilbert Hamerton.
VII. Editorial comments upon the course of events at home and abroad, having special reference to the interests of the United States, are given in, and add strength and timeliness to every issue.
VIII. The success of the INTERNATIONAL REVIEW is made to depend upon a comprehensive plan, solid merit, and adaption in style and subject to the age in which we live.

ALL ARTICLES ARE ORIGINAL.

- SOME OF THE CONTRIBUTORS:
- WM. CULLEN BRYANT, U. States of America
 - Hon. C. P. ADAMS, Sr., " "
 - Ex-Pres. TH. D. WOOLSEY, " "
 - Pres. NOAH PORTER, " "
 - Pres. JAMES MCCOY, " "
 - Prof. A. P. PEARSON, " "
 - Mr. JUSTICE STRONG, " "
 - Prof. J. E. HILGARD, " "
 - E. P. WHIPPLE, " "
 - Dr. FRANCIS WHARTON, " "
 - THEODORE DWIGHT, " "
 - Hon. JOHN BIGELOW, " "
 - H. H. BOYSEN, " "
 - E. A. WASHBURN, " "
 - BAYARD TAYLOR, " "
 - DAVID A. WELLS, " "
 - Hon. T. M. COOLEY, " "
 - Hon. A. H. STEVENS, " "
 - Gen. F. A. WALKER, " "
 - Hon. JOHN JAY, " "
 - Hon. CARL SCHURZ, " "
 - Principal J. W. LAWSON, Canada
 - WALTER BESANT, England
 - CHAS. TENNYSON TURNER, England
 - DEAN SMITH, of Canterbury, England
 - DEAN STANLEY of Westminster, England
 - Professor WM. L. CARPENTER, England
 - Professor W. H. PALMER, England
 - PHILIP LEBER, of London, England
 - EDWARD A. FREEMAN, England
 - Prof. W. S. JEVONS, England
 - THOMAS HUGHES, England
 - THOMAS BRASSEY, M. P., England
 - WILHELM COHEN, England
 - JAMES H. RICE, England
 - Professor EDWARD LABOULAYE, France
 - M. ERNET NAVILLE, France
 - M. SPILLER, Dep. France
 - Pastor EUGENE BELLIER, France
 - Professor ERNST CUTHNIG, Germany
 - Dr. CARL ABEL, Germany
 - Baron F. VON HOLTZENDORF, Germany
 - Professor AUGUST VOGEL, Germany
 - Professor J. F. DÖRNER, Germany
 - Professor R. D. NICHOL, Italy
 - Professor A. D'ARTE, Italy
 - Princess DORA D'ISTRIA, Italy
 - Madame VILLARI, Italy

Crockery & Glassware

AT COST

A SPECULATION!

During the dull summer months, the undersigned will sell Furniture, Chairs, &c., at greatly reduced Prices, for Cash or Good Notes.

J. GIBBARD & SON.

G. BEATTY & Co.,

BELLEVILLE, - - Ontario.

S. G. BEATTY. W. R. ROBINSON. J. W. JOHNSON.

Ontario Business College,

When has been in existence for 10 years, and, during which time
Has Trained Hundreds of Young Men

For Business life, who are now filling important positions in the community, offers advantages for obtaining a
COMMERCIAL EDUCATION,

Equal to any institution in Canada, or the United States. Its several departments are conducted by experienced and competent men who teach that which they have learned by actual business experience, and therefore practically understand.

THE PUBLICATIONS OF THE COLLEGE:

The "Canadian Accountant," "Joint Stock Company Book Keeping," "Beatty's Guide to Elegant Writing," etc., have obtained a National reputation, and are the productions of the principals of the College, who are daily engaged, together with their staff of teachers, in the Class and Lecture Rooms, College Hall, and Merchants Emporium with the Students.

THE COURSE IS SHORT,

because the teaching is thorough and practical, and no pains are spared to give to each student individually, as well as to the various classes, the personal attention of the teachers.

GOOD BOARD

can be obtained in Belleville at a lower rate than in any other place having a Business College in Canada or the United States.

For The College Journal, containing full information respecting terms, nature of course, etc., and specimens of penmanship, sent free on application.

Address, S. G. BEATTY & Co.;
BELLEVILLE, ONTARIO.

Belleville, September 1877.

19-6m.

(Cheers.) In 1873, when Sir John the field against me in person, when used every imaginable exertion to pass my defeat, my majority rose to (Loud cheers.) Sir, you can re-ember quite well when Sir John pro- to this county in 1862, and viru-ly assailed Mr. A. Hooper, the then- lity; you can remember, I say, that the consequence of Sir John's arance was to elect Mr. Hooper by a- rity of 465. When Mr. Senator- pbell in 1858 first contested the Can- ul division, he being then in an- ule, to say the least, of decidedly- ed neutrality as respected Sir John- donald, Mr. Campbell obtained a- rity of some 80 in the township of- estown, which was the only part of- nox incorporated in that division.- when, in 1864, Mr. Campbell return- s a member of Sir John's Government- Sir John by his side, that majority- 9 was converted in that same town- into a minority of 78, and Sir John- ed the satisfaction of being hooted- he men of Ernestown off the inst- at Odessa, Sir, I think I may fairly- that if any man could plead that he- the unanimous approval of his e- nents to his political course, I am that- so far at any rate as my withdrawal- all connection with Sir John Mac- ald is concerned, I have appeared- re you three since 1869, and each- you have awarded me still stronger- ks of your confidence than before. In- 2, as I have said, you elected me by a- rity of 700, in 1871 by a majority of- 61, and in 1874 you elected me with- out opposition at all. (Loud cheers.) You- have changed your minds since then. I do not deny your right to do so, and you cannot say that your- ions then did not come whit from- e of your representatives. As for Sir- n's recent speech, here I think we- e pretty well disposed of the question- is influence in Lennox. But I per- e he must needs describe me as a- wer of wood and a drawer of water- the benefit of Alexander Mackenzie, v, hewing wood and drawing water- y not be the pleasantest of occupa- ns, but at least no one can say that- are not honest callings, and I have- all Sir John Macdonald that I hold it- lishonour to serve my country, even if- e, as he says, in the capacity of a- wer of wood and a drawer of water. eers.) Better do that, in the Cabinet- n honest and upright man, than have- associated with Sir John Macdonald- re picking and stealing the charter- ng, and the Northern Railroad pecu- n, that have stamped his later career- such deep and indelible infamy. ar, hear.) But let that pass. Sir- n next goes on, in a fine flight of- ric, to accuse me of "having sold my- titutency, sold my family honour, sold- elf, and—oh, horror!—of having- him (Sir John Macdonald) self." Really, Mr. Chairman, is quite a profusion of com- ents. (Hear, hear, and laughter.)

[CONTINUED TO THIRD PAGE.]

THE GREAT CAUSE OF HUMAN MISERY.

E have recently published a new edition of Dr. Culvertwell's Celebrated Es- on the radical and permanent cure (with- out medicine) of Nervous Debility, Mental and Impotence, Impediments to Marriage, resulting from excesses. Price, in a sealed envelope, only 6 cents, or postage stamps. A celebrated author, of this admirable Es- sential practice, that alarming consequence of internal medicine or the application of cauter, pointing out a mode of cure at once safe, certain and effectual, by means of which y sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and rad- ically. This Lecture must be in the hands of y youth and every man in the land. Dress

THE CULVERTWELL MEDICAL CO.,
11 Ann St., New York.
See Box 4586 45-ly.

$4.30 PER WEEK AT HOME.
Samples and Vouchers to be ad- dressed, MONTREAL NEWELL & P. Q.
236 St. James Street, Montreal

ence to the interests of the United States, are given in, and add strength and timeliness to every issue.

VIII. The success of the INTERNATIONAL REVIEW is made to depend upon a comprehensive plan, solid merit, and adaption in style and subject to the age in which we live.

ALL ARTICLES ARE ORIGINAL.

SOME OF THE CONTRIBUTORS:

WM. CULLEN BRYANT, U. States of America	"
Hon. C. E. ADAMS, Sec. "	"
Ex-Pres. TH. D. WOOLSEY, "	"
Pres. NOAH PORTER, "	"
Pres. JAMES MCCOSH, "	"
Prof. A. P. PEABODY, "	"
Mr. JUSTICE STRONG, "	"
Prof. J. E. HICCARD, "	"
E. P. WHITTLE, "	"
Dr. FRANCIS WHARTON, "	"
THEODORE DWIGHT, "	"
Hon. JOHN BIGELOW, "	"
H. H. BOUTWELL, "	"
E. A. WESTBURY, "	"
BAYARD TAYLOR, "	"
DAVID A. WELLS, "	"
Hon. T. M. COOLEY, "	"
Hon. A. H. STEVENS, "	"
Hon. F. A. WALKER, "	"
Hon. JOHN JAY, "	"
Hon. CARL SCHURZ, "	"
Principal J. W. DAWSON, Canada	"
WALTER BESANT, England.	"
CHAS. TENNYSON TURNER, England.	"
DEAN SMITH, of Canterbury, England.	"
DEAN STANLEY, of Westminster, England.	"
Professor WM. B. CARPENTER, England.	"
Professor H. PALMER, England.	"
PHILIP GILBERT HAMERTON, England.	"
EDWARD A. FREEMAN, England.	"
Prof. W. S. JEVONS, England.	"
THOMAS HUGHES, England.	"
THOMAS BRASSEY, M. P., England.	"
WILKIE COLLINS, England.	"
JAMES H. RIGGS, England.	"
Professor EDWARD LABO LAYE, France.	"
M. EUGENE NAVILLE, France.	"
M. SPULLER, Dep. France.	"
Pastor EUGENE BERLIER, France.	"
Professor ERNST CURTIS, Germany.	"
Dr. CARL ABEL, Germany.	"
Baron F. VON HOLTZENDORF, Germany.	"
Professor AUGUST VOELL, Germany.	"
Professor R. E. DÖRNER, Germany.	"
Professor R. BONGHI, Italy.	"
Professor A. DE GUBERNATIS, Italy.	"
Princess DORA D'ISTRIA, Italy.	"
Madame VILLARI, Italy.	"

Crockery & Glassware

AT COST

OUR ENTIRE STOCK OF

Crockery & Glassware,

Cost and Under

FOR CASH,

As we intend going out of that line.

Call and Secure Bargains.

Cash Paid for Butter and Eggs.

SMITH & ANDERSON.

GRACE'S SALVE.

A Vegetable Preparation, invented in the 17th century by Dr. Wm. Grace, Surgeon in King James' army. Through its agency he cured thousands of the most serious sores and wounds, and was regarded by all who knew him as a public benefactor. 25c a box, by mail 30c. For sale by druggists generally.

AGENTS WANTED.

Address BETH W. FOWLE & SONS, Boston Mass.

G. BEATTY & Co.,

BELLEVILLE, - - Ontario.

S. G. BEATTY. W. R. ROBINSON. J. W. JOHNSON.

Ontario Business College,

Which has been in existence for 10 years, and, during which time

Has Trained Hundreds of Young Men

For Business Life, who are now filling important positions in the community, offers advantages for obtaining a

COMMERCIAL EDUCATION,

Equal to any institution in Canada, or the United States. Its several departments are conducted by competent men who teach that which they have learned by actual business experience, and therefore practically understand.

THE PUBLICATIONS OF THE COLLEGE:

The "Canadian Accountant," "Joint Stock Company Book Keeping," "Beatty's Guide to Elegant Writing," etc., have obtained a National reputation, and are the productions of the principals of the College, who are daily engaged, together with their staff of teachers, in the Class and Lecture Rooms, College Bank, and Merchants Emporium with the Students.

THE COURSE IS SHORT,

because the teaching is thorough and practical, and no pains are spared to give to each student individually, as well as to the various classes, the personal attention of the teachers.

GOOD BOARD

can be obtained in Belleville at a lower rate than in any other place having a Business College in Canada or the United States.

The College Journal, containing full information respecting terms, nature of course, etc. and specimens of penmanship, sent free on application.

Address, S. G. BEATTY & Co.;
BELLEVILLE, ONTARIO.

Belleville, September 1877. 19-6m.

MONEY TO LOAN.

We have received instructions from England, to Lend a large amount of Money,

AT LOWER RATES THAN HAS YET BEEN OFFERED.

CALL IN AND EXAMINE RATES.

NO COMMISSION CHARGED.

WILLIAMS & HOOPER.

$777

is not easily earned in these times, but it can be made in three months by any one of either sex, in any part of the country who is willing to work steadily at the employment that we furnish. $6 per week in your own town. You need not be away from home over night. You can give your whole time to the work, or only your spare moments. We have agents who are making over $20 per day. All who engage at once can make money fast. At the present time they cannot be made so easily and rapidly at any other business. It is nothing to try the business. Terms and 35 outfit free. Address at once, H. HALLITT & Co., Portland, Maine.

PHOSFOZOE,

For Stomach Complaints, General Weakness and Pulmonary Affections.

Messrs. Evans, Mercer & Co.:—DEAR SIRS,—I can confidently recommend PHOSFOZONE, and find my customers speak very highly of its merits.

J. A. HARTE, Chemist.
Notre Dame Street, Montreal.

SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

GOOD ADVERTISING

$3250.40 worth of space in various newspapers distributed through thirty states, will be sold for $700 cash. Accurate insertions guaranteed. A list of papers giving daily and weekly circulation and printed schedule of rates, sent free on application to GEO. P. ROWELL & Co., Newspaper Advertising Agents, No. 41 Park W. New York.

PULMONA

is beyond comparison the best remedy for the cure of CONSUMPTION (EVEN IN ITS ADVANCED STAGES), Asthma, Bronchitis, Catarrh, and all derangements of the BRONCHIAL SYSTEM. A circular containing PARTICULARS OF MANY CASES SUCCESSFULLY TREATED, full advice for the treatment of the diseases above mentioned, and certificates of actual cures, will be sent free by mail to all applicants. Address OSCAR G. MOSES, Sole Proprietor, 15 Cortland Street, New York.

THE "EXPRESS."

NEXT week we purpose inaugurating several needed changes in the dress and make up of the newspaper, which, together with personal supervision of the selection of the week's news and a fearless dealing with the political questions of the day, will make the "Express" a necessity in every family.

AGENTS

Will probably canvass the county during the next two months.

Business Cards.

Alex. C. Davis,

ISSUER of Marriage Licenses, Napanee (Ontario)

James Aylsworth,

ISSUER of Marriage Licenses, Tamworth

S. D. Clarke,

ISSUER of Marriage Licenses, Odessa, Ontario.

J. J. Watson,

ISSUER of Marriage Licenses and Certificates, Adolphustown.

Peter E. R. Miller,

ISSUER of Marriage Licenses, Switzer-ville Ont.

Robert Graham,

ISSUER of Marriage Licenses. Office in the Dominion Store, Enterprise.

Charles Lane,

ISSUER of Marriage Licenses and Certificates. Office—Front of Grammar School, Bridge Street, Napanee.

J. B. Randall,

ISSUER of Marriage Licenses and Certificates. Also Agent for the Beaver and Toronto Fire Insurance Company and the Mutual Life Association of Canada. Residence—Shannonville, Ont.

Murphy & Bedford,

BARRISTERS, &c., MILL POINT. Money to lend on improved Real Estate.

E. B. Stone,

BARRISTER, Attorney at Law, Solicitor in Chancery, etc. OFFICE—Grange Block, Dundas St.

Deroche & Madden,

BARRISTERS and Attorneys-at-Law, Solicitor in Chancery, Conveyancers, Notaries Public, etc. OFFICE—In Grange Block, Napanee. Money to loan on easy terms.

H. M. DEROCHE. J. H. MADDEN.

S. Gibson,

BARRISTER, Attorney-at-Law, Solicitor in Chancery and Insolvency, Notary Public, etc. OFFICE—Grange Block, John Street, Napanee.

R. Tracy, M. D., BELLEVILLE.

PHYSICIAN, Surgeon and Accoucheur. Office and Residence, two doors east from the Bank of Montreal, near the Con-stitutional Church, Hotel St.

NAPANEE

W. C. SCOTT, Editor.

"THE GREATEST"

VOL. 16.

NAPANEE, ONT

Tailoring!

HAVING commenced business in the above line on my own account, directly over
Coxall & Paisley's Store,
Where I will be ready to attend to the wants of all who may favor me with a call.
Nice Samples to Select from, and Good Fit Guaranteed.

Cutting Bo. Cloths, & Ladies Jackets
A SPECIALTY.
JAS. BLAIR.
Napanee, Aug. 29th, 1877. 18-6m

PAISLEY HOUSE.
(John St. opposite the Market.)
NAPANEE, CNT.

A First Class Hotel centrally located, with excellent yard and stabling accommodation
CHAS. PAISLEY,
PROPRIETOR.

QUEEN'S HOTEL,
BELLEVILLE

Every Accommodation for Commercial Travellers.
A. P. FARRELL,
PROPRIETOR.

NAPANEE TICKET AGENCY.

Grand Trunk Railway Tickets for sale at
Grange & Bro.'s Drug Store,
For all stations east and west. American money taken at par, from Napanee to Milwaukee, Chicago, St. Louis, Omaha, San Francisco &c., to all Lake Ports. Passengers purchasing tickets from the undersigned avoid the trouble and delay of exchanging tickets and re-checking baggage to Toronto. Cheapest route to the west. Return tickets to Kingston, Belleville, Toronto, Montreal, Portland etc. For further particulars apply at GRANGE & BRO.'S Exchange Office, Passenger agent G. T. R. Uncurrent money bought and sold.

THE PRINCE EDWARD COUNTY
MUTUAL FIRE INSURANCE CO.

HEAD OFFICE—PICTON, ONT.
(Established 30th Sept., 1854).

PRESIDENT—STEPHEN B. HUBBS,
VICE-PRESIDENT—JOHN PRINYER.
MANAGER AND INSPECTOR—L. B. STINSON.

SECRETARY—JOHN TWIGG.
TREASURER—PHILIP LUGG, Q. C.
SOLICITOR—W. H. R. ALLISON

DIRECTORS—STEPHEN B. HUBBS,
JNO. PRINYER, JOHN VANALSTINE,
LEWIS B. STINSON, W. BOULTER, ADAM H. SAYLOR, and JAMES CALNAN, Esqs.

HONORARY DIRECTORS—G. Striker, Esq. M. P. P., Picton; R. Clapp, Esq., Milford; K. Graham, Esq., Belleville; P. Allan, C. A. Lloyd, J. P. Dorland, Esqs., Adolphustown; J. C. Hurlman, Esq., J. T. Grange, Esq., M. P. F., Napanee; J. E. Proctor, Esq., Brighton; G. W. Webb, Esq., Colborne; G. Jones, Esq., Trenton; J. Redner, Esq., Rednersville; Owen Roblin, Esq., Wm. Delong, Esq., Ameliasburg; H. A. McFaul, Esq., Hillier; Wm. Delong, Esq., Ameliasburg; Jas. Johnson, Esq., Arthol.

"A Repository of Fashion, Pleasure, and Instruction."

Harper's Bazar.

ILLUSTRATED.

Notices of the Press.

The Bazar is the organ of the fashionable world, and the expounder of that world's laws; and it is the authority in all matters of manners, etiquette, costume, and social habits—Boston Traveller.

The Bazar commends itself to every member of the household—to the children by droll and pretty pictures, to the ladies by its fashion plates in endless variety, to the provident matron by its patterns for children's clothes to paterfamilias by its tasteful designs for embroidered slippers and luxurious dressing-gowns. But the reading matter of the Bazar is uniformly of great excellence. The paper has acquired a wide popularity for the fire-side enjoyment it affords, and has become an established authority with the ladies of America.—N. Y. Evening Post

TERMS:

Postage free to all subscribers in the United States.
HARPER'S BAZAR, one year.....$4.00

$4.00 includes payment of U. S. postage by the publishers.
Subscription to HARPER'S MAGAZINE, WEEKLY, and BAZAR, to one address for one year, $10.00; or, two of Harper's Periodical, to one address for one year, $10.00; postage free

An Extra Copy of the MAGAZINE, WEEKLY, or BAZAR will be supplied gratis for every Club of FIVE SUBSCRIBERS at $1.00 each, paid for by one remittance; or, six Copies one year, without extra copy, for $2.00

Back Numbers can be supplied at any time.
The Volumes of the BAZAR commence with the year. When no time is mentioned, it will be understood that the subscriber wishes to commence with the Number next after the receipt of his order.

The Annual Volumes of HARPER'S BAZAR, in neat cloth binding, will be sent by express, free of expense, provided the freight does not exceed one dollar, for $7.00 each. A complete Set, comprising Twenty-one Volumes, sent on receipt of cash at the rate of $15.25 per vol., freight at expense of purchaser.

Cloth Cases for each volume, suitable for binding, will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of $1.00 each.

Books to each volume sent gratis on receipt of stamp.

Subscriptions received for Harper's Periodicals only.

Newspapers are not to copy this advertisement without the express order of HARPER & BROTHERS.

Address HARPER & BROTHER, New York

THE
"Scientific American."

THIRTY-THIRD YEAR.
The Most Popular Scientific Paper in The World.

Only $3.20 a Year including Postage. Weekly 52 Numbers a Year 1,600 pages

THE SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN is a large First Class Weekly Newspaper of sixteen pages, printed in the most beautiful style, profusely illustrated with splendid engravings, representing the newest inventions and the most recent advances in the Arts and Sciences, including Mechanics and Engineering, Steam Engineering, Railway, Mining, Civil, Gas and Hydraulic Engineering, Mill Work, Iron, Steel and Metal Work; Chemistry and Chemical Processes; Electricity, Light, Heat, Sound; Technology, Photography, Printing, New Machines, New Processes, New Receipts, Improvements pertaining to Textile Industry, Weaving, Dyeing, Coloring, New Industrial Products, Animal, Vegetable, and Mineral; New and Interesting Facts in Agriculture, Horticulture, the Home, Health, Medical Progress, Social Science, Natural History, Geology, Astronomy etc.

The most valuable practical papers, by eminent writers in all departments of Science, will be found in the Scientific American; the whole presented in popular language, free from technical terms, illustrated with engravings, and so arranged as to interest and inform all classes of readers, old and young. The Scientific American is promotive of knowledge and progress in

Poetry.

SLEEP.

"So he giveth His beloved sleep
xxxvi. 2.
He sees when their footsteps falter, w heart grows weak and faint;
He marks when their strength is fa listens to each complaint;
He bids them rest for a season, for th
has grown too steep;
And folded in fair green pastures,
He giveth His loved ones

Like weary and worn-out children, th
the daylight's close,
He knows that they oft are longing for his sweet repose;
So he calls them in from his labors
shadows around them creep,
And silently watching o'er them,
He giveth His loved ones

He giveth it, oh, so gently! as a m hush to rest,
The babe that she softly pillows so t her breast.
Forgotten are now the trials and sor
made them sweep,
For with many a soothing promise
He giveth His loved ones

He giveth His friends the dearest, can soon bestow;
But he touches the drooping eyelids, a
the features grow;
Their foes may gather around them, a may round them sweep,
But, guarding them safe from danger,
He giveth His loved ones

All dread of the distant future, all h oppress to-day.
Like mists, that clear in the sunlight, h
lessly passed away;
No call nor clamor can rouse them from so pure and deep,
For only his voice can reach them,
Who giveth His loved ones

Weep not their toils are over, weep
their race is run;
God grant we may rest as calmly when
like theirs is done!
Till then we would yield with glad
treasures to Him to keep,
And rejoice in the sweet assurance,
He giveth His loved ones

Literature.

THE LILY OF ST. E

BY L. CROW.

CHAPTER VI.

FIRST HOUSE at PENRUAN AB
Luncheon was spread on a tab into one of the broad bay window handsome drawing-room to wh Penruan ushered his guest. Ti ture of the apartment was not on and old-fashioned, but so we the adobe with constant use as ter for the number closet than tl of a wealthy gentleman. The on ern articles visible were a pret cottage piano and an invalid's c Parisian make, fitted with ever ance for ease that the skill of the day can devise. Still, few-wor paused to note these discrep immediately on entering the r eye was entranced by the glori the windows commanded. In o tion, far and wide spread the bounded by the horizon; in th
the noble curves of Mount's B St. Michael's Mount in the for and, far away in the blue dista bold bluffs of the Lizard.

ISSUER of Marriage Licenses and Certificates. Office—Front of Grammar School, Bridge Street, Napanee.

J. B. Randall,

ISSUER of Marriage Licenses and Certificates. Also Agent for the Beaver and Toronto Fire Insurance Company and the Mutual Life Association of Canada. Residence—Shannonville, Ont.

Murphy & Bedford,

BARRISTERS, &c., MILL POINT.
Money to lend on improved Real Estate.

E. B. Stone,

BARRISTER, Attorney at Law, Solicitor in Chancery, etc. OFFICE—Grange Block, Dundas St.

Deroche & Madden,

BARRISTERS and Attorneys-at-Law, Solicitor in Chancery, Conveyancers, Notaries Public, etc. OFFICE—In Grange Block, Napanee. Money to loan on easy terms.

H. M. DEROCHE. J. H. MADDEN.

S. Gibson,

BARRISTER, Attorney-at-Law, Solicitor in Chancery and Insolvency, Notary Public, etc. OFFICE—Grange Block, John Street, Napanee.

R. Tracy, M. D., BELLEVILLE,

PHYSICIAN, Surgeon and Accoucheur Office and Residence, two doors east from the Bank of Montreal, near the Congregational Church, Hotel St.

Reeve & Morden,

BARRISTERS and Attorneys-at-Law Solicitors in Chancery, Conveyancers, etc. OFFICE—Perry's New Block Dundas Street, Napanee, Ontario.
W. A. REEVE, M. A., J. L. MORDEN,
Co. Crown Attorney.

E. A. De Roche,

OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE under New Act of 1875.
Office in H. M. Deroche's Law Office

Williams & Hooper,

BARRISTERS, Attorneys-at-Law, Solicitors in Chancery and Insolvency, Conveyancers, Notaries Public, etc., Napanee, Ontario.
W. A. WILLIAMS, E. S. HOOPER, M. A.
Official Assignees.

W. F. Hall,

OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE, under Insolvent Act of 1875. Fire Insurance Agent, &c. Office of Napanee Paper Mills, East Street.

James F. Bartles,

LAND AGENT, Fire, Life and Accident Insurance Agent OFFICE—corner of Dundas and West Streets, Napanee.

F. Bartlett,

ARCHITECT AND BUILDER, West A Street, Napanee. Plans, Specification and Detail Drawings furnished. Builder's work measured and value computed.

Mair's Machine Shop,

STEAM ENGINES and all kinds of Boilers made to order. Also all kinds of Machinery repaired on the shortest notice. Remember the place, opposite the City Hotel, corner of Adelaide and Bridge Streets.

Hartford Fire Insurance Co.

ESTABLISHED 1810.
CAPITAL, $1,000,000.

AMOUNT DEPOSITED IN CANADA in accordance with the Act of 1870.

NAPANEE TICKET AGENCY.

Grand Trunk Railway Tickets for sale at
Grange & Bro's Drug Store.

For all stations east and west. American money taken at par. From Napanee to Milwaukee, Chicago, St. Louis, Omaha, San Francisco &c., to all Lake Ports. Passengers purchasing tickets from the undersigned avoid the double and delay of exchanging tickets and re-checking baggage to Toronto. Cheapest route to the west. Return tickets to Kingston, Belleville, Toronto, Montreal, Portland &c. For further particulars apply at GRANGE & BRO'S Exchange Office, Passenger agent G. T. R. Uncurrent money bought and sold.

THE PRINCE EDWARD COUNTY MUTUAL FIRE INSURANCE CO.

HEAD OFFICE—PICTON, ONT.
(Established 30th Sept., 1854).

PRESIDENT—STEPHEN B. HUBBS,
VICE-PRESIDENT—JOHN PRINYER,
MANAGER AND INSPECTOR—L. B. STINSON.

SECRETARY—JOHN TWIGG,
TREASURER—PHILIP LOW, Q. C.
SOLICITOR—W. H. R. ALLISON

DIRECTORS—STEPHEN B. HUBBS,
J. N. PRINYER, JOHN VANALSTINE,
LEWIS B. STINSON, W. BOULTER, ADAM H. SAYLOR, and JAMES CALNAN, Esqs.

HONORARY DIRECTORS—G. Striker, Esq., M. P. P., Pictou; R. Clapp, Esq., Milford; K. Graham, Esq., Belleville; P. Allan, C. A. Lloyd, J. P. Dorland, Esqs., Adolphustown; J. C. Huffman, Esq., J. T. Grange, Esq., M. P. P., Napanee; J. E. Proctor, Esq., Brighton; G. W. Webb, Esq., Colborne; G. Jones, Esq., Trenton; J. Redner, Esq., Rednersville; Owen Roblin, Esq., Wm. Delong, Esq., Ameliasburg; H. A. McFaul, Esq., Hillier; Wm. Delong, Esq., Ameliasburg; Jas. Johnson, Esq., Athol.

This Company is established upon strictly Mutual principles, insuring farm property Townships, and property not more hazardous in Towns and Villages and offers great advantages to insure at low rates for Three or Four Years either on the Premium Note or Cash System.

March 9th, 1875. 521-y.

Benoni Briggs

W H E to return his sincere thanks to his numerous friends and the public generally for the liberal patronage they have extended to him during the past twenty-five years, and begs to announce that he has

AGAIN COMMENCED BUSINESS in the Boot and Shoe line, in the shop opposite the Campbell House, Napanee, at the sign of the "Big Boot." Having engaged Mr. Geo. Mitchell, formerly in the employ of Messrs. McRossie & Downey, he intends to manufacture all kinds of custom work of the very best material and workmanship, and solicits a continuance of public patronage. Reopening done on short notice, and on liberal terms. 8-t.
BENONI BRIGGS.

ADVERTISING!

$1,000 WORTH FOR $87.50.

The cheapest and best way to reach readers outside of the large cities is by using one of our six lists of over 1000 newspapers, divided to cover different sections of the country. Weekly Circulation of over 600,000. Advertisements received for one or more lists. For catalogues containing names of papers, and other information and for estimates, address
BEAL & FOSTER,
22 11 Park Row (Times Building), New York

1877 SEASON 1877.

PICTON & NAPANEE ROUTE.

The Steamer Shannon,

CAPT. EARLY W. JOHNSON,

will run during the season, to Napanee DAILY (Sundays excepted) as follows:

Leaves Pictou at 6 a. m., calling at intermediate ports, arriving at Napanee at about 9:30.

Returning to Pictou—Leaves Napanee at 3 o'clock, p. m., calling at intermediate ports, arriving in Pictou at about 6:30.

This is the cheapest and most expeditious route to all points East, and affords passengers three hours' time in the flourishing town of Napanee for business or pleasure, before embarking on the Pictou Day Express Train going East. When returning, connects with the Merchants'

the year. When no time is mentioned, it will be understood that the subscriber wishes to commence with the Number next after the receipt of his order.
The Annual Volumes of HARPER'S BAZAR, in neat cloth binding, will be sent by express, free of expense, provided the freight does not exceed one dollar, for 75 copies of complete Set, comprising Twenty-five Volumes, sent on receipt of cash at the rate of $15.25 per vol., freight at expense of purchaser.
Cloth Cases for each volume, suitable for binding, will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of $1.00 each.
Indexes to each volume sent gratis on receipt of stamp.
Subscriptions received for Harper's Periodicals only.
Newspapers are not to copy this advertisement without the express order of HARPER & BROTHERS.
Address HARPER & BROTHER, New York

THE "Scientific American."

THIRTY-THIRD YEAR.
The Most Popular Scientific Paper in the World.

Only 3 c. 20 a Year including Postage. Weekly 52 Numbers a Year 1,000 pages

THE SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN is a large First Class Weekly Newspaper of sixteen pages, printed in the most beautiful style, profusely illustrated with scientific engravings, representing the newest Inventions and the most recent Advances in the Arts and Sciences; including Mechanics and Engineering, Steam Engineering, Railway, Mining, Civil, Gas and Hydraulic Engineering, Mill Work, Iron, Steel and Metal Work; Chemistry and Chemical Processes; Electricity, Light, Heat, Sound; Technology, Photography, Printing, New Machines, New Processes, New Recipes Improvements pertaining to Textile Industry, Weaving, Dyeing, Coloring, New Industrial Processes, Animal, Vegetable, and Mineral; New and Improved Patents; and the largest establishment in the world. Patents are obtained on the best terms. Models of New Inventions and Sketches examined, and advice free. A special notice is made in the Scientific American of all Inventions patented through the Agency, with the name and residence of the Patentee. Public attention is thus directed to the merits of the new patent, and sales or introduction often effected.

Any person who has made a new discovery or invention, can ascertain the value of same, whether a patent can probably be obtained, by writing to the undersigned. Address for the Paper or concerning Patents.
MUNN & CO., 37 Park Row, New York
Branch Office, Cor. F & 7th St. Washington D

PATENTS, Scientific American, Messrs. MUNN & CO. are Solicitors of American and Foreign Patents, and have the largest establishment in the world. Patents are obtained on the best terms. Models of New Inventions and Sketches examined, and advice free. A special notice is made in the Scientific American of all Inventions patented through the Agency, with the name and residence of the Patentee. Public attention is thus directed to the merits of the new patent, and sales or introduction often effected.

Any person who has made a new discovery or invention, can ascertain the value of same, whether a patent can probably be obtained, by writing to the undersigned. Address for the Paper or concerning Patents.
MUNN & CO., 37 Park Row, New York
Branch Office, Cor. F & 7th St. Washington D

The Great Female Remedy. JOB MOSES' PERIODICAL PILLS.

This well known medicine is no imposition, but a sure and safe remedy for Female Difficulties and Obstructions, from any cause whatever, and although a powerful remedy, it contains nothing hurtful to the constitution.
To MARRIED LADIES it is perfectly suited. It will in a short time bring on the monthly period with regularity.

In all cases of Nervous and spinal Affections, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Heaviness, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Lowness of Spirits, Hysterics, Headaches, Whites, and all the painful diseases occasioned by a disordered system, these Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed.

These Pills have never been known to fail where the directions on 2nd page of pamphlet are well observed.

For further particulars, get a pamphlet from the agent

JOHN J. BEE, NEW YORK, SOLE PROPRIETOR.
5 Grand St., next to police station, called to No. 100 & 101, N. York, Ont. General Agents for the Dominion, with exclusive rights, and opening over 100,000, by express mail.
Sold in Canada by all Druggists, M. J. Point, by W. G. E. Tanworth, J. Agnew, and others.

WANTED.

We want reliable, energetic canvassing agents in every town in the Dominion for the new "Illustrated History of the Dominion of Canada." This work is truly magnificent, containing over 2,000 double column quarto pages, and over 300 superb full page engravings. The work is published in Paris, on a plan which insures its welcome to every English reading family. To every man and woman, who are willing to work, we will guarantee a commission for two years.

No call nor clamor can rouse them from so pure and deep,
For only his voice can reach them
Who giveth His loved sleep

Weep not their toils are over, weep
their race is run;
God grant we may rest as calmly when
like theirs is done!
Till then we would yield with glad
treasures to Him to keep.
And rejoice in the sweet assurance,
He giveth His loved ones

Literature.

THE LILY OF ST. EL

BY L. CROW.

CHAPTER VI.

FIRST HOURS AT PENRUAN ABE
Luncheon was spread on a table into one of the broad bay windows; handsome drawing-room to which Penruan ushered his guest. The ture of the apartment was not old, and old-fashioned, but so worth to adorn with constant use as to be for the number closet than the of a wealthy gentleman. The ornate articles visible were a prett cottage piano and an invalid's co Parisian make, fitted with every care for ease that the skill of the day can devise. Still, few would pause to note these discrepancies immediately on entering the room eye was entranced by the glorious windows commanded. In on tion, far and wide spread the A bounded by the horizon; in the the noble curves of Mount's Bay, St. Michael's Mount in the fore and, far away in the blue distant bold bluffs of the Lizard.

At first, that intent admiration ture, which had grown upon Max yng with his growth, made him o the fact that the room was not ed. The young lady he had seen paddock had exchanged her skirt morning dress, and was sitting table, whiling away the time with till Mr. Penruan appeared. It y she the Squire pronounced her na she looked upland then her gl comical surprise at his company amusing.

"Nelly, I have brought you a This is Mr. Haverlyng, a cousin of from America. You must help make his stay at the Abbey a j one. Mr. Haverlyng, my daughter Eleanor Penruan!"

As she was demurely acknow the stranger's bow, the Squire towards the couch, and abruptly "Where is your mother? Is she well?"

"Fan-Fair has undergone operation," was the grave reply although the dear creature bore great fortitude, mamma feels t own nerves have been so severely, that she must not attempt any for an hour or two."

"Is she hysterical?"
"I don't know, sir. I was too to stay and enquire. I have r my message word for word, at time, without any little additions own."

Mr. Penruan frowned, coughed menced cutting the pate before recommended to Max some of th sour, light wine, that was the onl rage placed on the table; and rising abruptly, excused himself plea of anxiety on his lady's acco left the room.

"I hope Mrs. Penruan is not s indisposed," said Max, to the vo who was placidly eating her lun an excellent appetite.

"Oh, no! Don't make yourself formidable. If mamma were real should be to anxious to stay her may advise you, Mr. Haverlyng, cultivate a taste for water drink Mr. Penruan's wine has but one its favour—it's extremely cheap."

"Thanks for the advice," said filling his glass from a carafe of t pura before him, and using the nity to steal a glance at his heart

NAPANEE EXPRESS

"THE GREATEST GOOD TO THE GREATEST NUMBER."

($1

NAPANEE, ONT., FRIDAY, DEC. 21, 1877.

"A Repository of Fashion, Pleasure, and Instruction."

Harper's Bazar.

ILLUSTRATED.

Notices of the Press.

The Bazar is the organ of the fashionable world, and the expounder of that world's laws; and it is the authority in all matters of manners, etiquette, costume, and social habits.—Boston Traveller.

The Bazar commends itself to every member of the household—to the children by droll and pretty pictures, to the ladies by its fashion plates in endless variety, to the provident matron by its patterns for children's clothes, to the aterfamilias by its tasteful designs for embroidered slippers and luxurious dressing-gowns. But the reading matter of the Bazar is infinitely of great excellence. The paper has acquired a wide popularity for the fire-side enjoyment it affords, and has become an established authority with the ladies of America.—N.Y. Evening Post.

TERMS:

Postage free to all subscribers in the United States.

HARPER'S BAZAR, one year $4 00

$4.00 includes payment of U.S. postage by the publishers

Subscriptions to HARPER'S MAGAZINE, WEEKLY, and HARPER'S BAZAR, to one address for one year, $10.00; or, two of HARPER'S Periodical, to one address or one year, 7 00; postage free

An Extra Copy of the MAGAZINE, WEEKLY, or HARPER'S BAZAR will be supplied gratis for every Club of FIVE SUBSCRIBERS at $4.00 each, paid for by one entrance; or SIX Copies one year, without extra copy, for $24.00

Back Numbers can be supplied at any time

The Volumes of the Bazar commence with the year. When no time is mentioned, it will be understood that the subscriber wishes to commence with the Number next after the receipt of his order

The Annual Volumes of HARPER'S BAZAR, in neat cloth binding, will be sent by express, free of expense, provided the freight does not exceed one dollar, for 75 00 each. A complete Set, comprising Twenty-one Volumes, sent on receipt of cash at the rate of 15 25 per vol., freight at expense of purchaser

Cloth cases for each volume, suitable for binding, will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of $1.00 each

Indexes to each volume sent gratis on receipt of stamp

Subscriptions received for Harper's Periodicals only

Newspapers are not to copy this advertisement without the express order of HARPER & BROTHERS

Address HARPER & BROTHER, No. 17 New York

THE

"Scientific American."

THIRTY-THIRD YEAR.

The Most Popular Scientific Paper in the World.

Only 3c 20 a Year including Postage, Weekly 2 Numbers a Year 1.00 per year

THE SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN is a large First Class Weekly Newspaper of sixteen pages, printed in the most beautiful style, profusely illustrated with splendid engravings, representing the new inventions and the most recent advances in the Arts and Sciences; including Mechanics and Engineering, Steam Engineering, Railway, Mining, Civil, Gas and Hydraulic Engineering, Iron, Steel and Metal Work, Chemistry and Chemical Processes, Electricity, Light, Heat, Sound, Technology, Photography, Printing, New Machines, New Processes, New Receipts improvements pertaining to Textile Industry, Weaving, Dyeing, Coloring, New Industrial Products, Animal, Vegetable, and Mineral, New and Interesting Facts in Agriculture, Horticulture, the Home, Health, Medical Progress, Social Science, Natural History, Geology, Astronomy, etc.

The most valuable practical papers, by eminent writers in all departments of Science, will be found in the Scientific American; the whole presented in popular language, free from technical terms, illustrated with engravings, and so arranged as to interest and inform all classes of readers, old and young. The Scientific American is a promotor of knowledge and progress in the community where it circulates. It should be a place in every Family, Reading Room,

Poetry.

SLEEP.

"So he giveth His beloved sleep."—Psalm exxvi. 2.

He sees when their footsteps falter, when their heart grows weak and faint; He marks when their strength is failing, and listens to each complaint; He bids them rest for a season, for the pathway has grown too steep; And folded in fair green pastures,

He giveth His loved ones sleep.

Like weary and worn-out children, that sigh for the daylight's close,

He knows that they oft are longing for home and its sweet repose;

So he calls them in from his labors ere the shadows around them creep,

And silently watching o'er them,

He giveth His loved ones sleep.

He giveth it, oh, so gently! as a mother will hush to rest,

The babe that she softly pillows so tenderly on her breast,

Forgotten are now the trials and sorrows that made them weep,

For with many a soothing promise

He giveth His loved ones sleep.

He giveth his friends the dearest, can never this boon bestow;

But he touches the drooping eyelids, and placid the features grow;

Their foes may gather around them, and storms may round them sweep,

But, guarding them safe from danger,

He giveth His loved ones sleep.

All dread of the distant future, all fears that oppress to-day,

Like mists, that clear in the sunlight, have noiselessly passed away;

No call nor clamor can rouse them from slumbers so pure and deep,

For only his voice can reach them

Who giveth His loved ones sleep.

Weep not their tears are over, weep not that their race is run;

God grant we may rest as calmly when our work, like theirs, is done!

Till then we would yield with gladness our treasure to Him to keep,

And rejoice in the sweet assurance,

He giveth His loved ones sleep.

Literature.

THE LILY OF ST. ERNE.

BY L. CROW.

CHAPTER VI.

FIRST HOUSES AT PENRUAN ABBEY.

Luncheon was spread on a table drawn into one of the broad bay windows of the handsome drawing-room to which Mr. Penruan ushered his guest. The furniture of the apartment was not only faded and old-fashioned, but so worn and shabby with constant use as to be fitter for the laborer's closet than the salon of a wealthy gentleman. The only modern articles visible were a pretty little cottage piano and an invalid's couch of Parisian make, fitted with every appliance for ease that the skill of the present day can devise. Still, few would have paused to note these discrepancies, for immediately on entering the room the eye was entranced by the glorious view the windows commanded. In one direction, far and wide spread the Atlantic, bounded by the horizon; in the other, the noble curves of Mount's Bay, with St. Michael's Mount in the foreground, and, far away in the blue distance, the bold bluffs of the Lizard.

At first, that intent admiration for Nature, which had so long been Max's

"Treat me so oddly?" demanded Max, finding that she hesitated for a word. "He did but follow suit. His step-daughter took me for a tramp, and he for an impostor."

"I am really very sorry you should have met with such a reception!" cried Eleanor, who detected the wounded feeling with which he spoke; "but I must ask again why you gave us the opportunity to be so unkind?"

"In the country I come from," was the proud retort, "we do not require from every stranger who craves our hospitality a full and particular account of his ancestors before we permit him to come under our roof, or eat our bread."

"My dear Mr. Haveryng, the land of which you speak must be in a very uncivilized condition!" Eleanor demurely retorted; "and though such indiscriminate hospitality sounds very romantic, you must not expect to make a convert of Mr. Penruan. He prefers sober reality, and keeping the key of his larder in his own pocket."

"I had no desire to force myself upon him," said Max, still bitter and indignant.

"Of course you had not; and I am still at a loss to understand by what spell you have tamed the dragon."

"I am Mr. Penruan's kinsman—the son of an old friend to whom, in times past, he has lain under obligations. Is not this reason sufficient why he should invite me to be his guest while I remain in the neighborhood?"

"No, no, no!" cried the young lady, vehemently. "You have named the very last motive that would influence Squire Penruan. You'll say I am very fond of offering my advice, but I cannot resist giving you a little more—keep your eyes open while you stay at the Abbey, Mr. Haveryng!"

"I don't think the warning will be of much use, unless you kindly explain why it is given."

But, flushing a little, she hastily replied, "I cannot do that! I have said too much already; but you are a stranger, and I could not resist—"

She broke off in some confusion, and rushed into another subject.

"We must contrive to mount you, Mr. Haveryng, if you will promise not to look too contemptuously on our sorry nags, and then you can be my cavalier when I ride Ursa Minor."

"I trust I shall never see you on the back of that vicious beast again!" cried Max. "Let me train some other horse for you while I am staying here. I shall be delighted with the task."

"Thanks, but there is a pretty little chestnut mare I ride when I am a good humour, or venture into those parts of the neighbourhood where one must behave decorously. For the park, and for peace of mind, commend me to Ursa Minor."

"Is not this an extraordinary caprice for a young lady to indulge in?" asked Max, very gravely. "Can Mr. or Mrs. Penruan be aware of the great risks you run?"

"Mr. Penruan wouldn't fret if I broke my neck to-morrow!" she answered, with a careless toss of her head; "and mamma is rather obtuse to things of the kind. If you were to give her—as you seem inclined to do—an agonizing de-

"Yes, I made an effort," Mrs. Penruan sighed. "It is our duty to preserve life as long as we can; is it not, Mr. Haveryng?"

"On mutton chops, mamma?" queried her daughter, undaunted by the look Mr. Penruan bent upon her; but the lady's equanimity was not disturbed.

"Don't tease me Nelly, there's a dear child; you ought to be thankful that I contrived to keep my strength up when you know what I went through this morning. Poor Fan-fan!"

"You need not look so serious, Mr. Haveryng," cried the irrepressible Eleanor. "Fan-fan is only an ugly little Skye-terrier, and a great pet of mamma's. The creature's teeth are decayed, in consequence of being crammed with sweet cakes, and two of them have been extracted. Having nothing else to do, mamma has made herself very unhappy about her darling's sufferings."

"My nerves are so weak," Mrs. Penruan explained, "that they are easily upset. Are you fond of dogs, Mr. Haveryng?"

"Of some kinds, extremely so," he replied.

"Then you shall nurse Fan-fan. Carson give her to Mr. Haveryng. Is she not a beauty?"

"I am no judge of lap-dogs," said Max, eyeing contemptuously the fat, wheezy, hairy ball that was laid on his knees.

"Give her to me, Mr. Haveryng," said Eleanor; but Mrs. Penruan started up and snatched the dog away. "No, no, Nelly, you shall not have her; you are so intolerably awkward! Fan-fan always comes to some grief when you take her."

Her daughter laughed mischievously; but ere she could make any reply Mr. Penruan interposed with an offer to show his guest over the Abbey.

"Say no, Mr. Haveryng, for I'm sure you'll not find any pleasure in beholding dust and decay," said Eleanor, in tones she scarcely took the trouble to lower. But, for once, Max did not agree with her. He felt really desirous of seeing the house, and accepted Mr. Penruan's offer with a readiness that pleased that gentleman and made the perverse step-daughter shrug her pretty shoulders.

After all, Eleanor was right. It was a depressing spectacle, for the decay that is made venerable by a reverent care to arrest it, was not visible here. Repairs had been made where absolutely necessary, but only in the roughest, cheapest manner. Mr. Penruan may have loved the dwelling of his forefathers, but he evidently loved his money still more, and grudging spending it in renovating the Abbey.

The picture gallery pleased Max best, and there his entertainer thoroughly unbent, and related legends connected with the portraits, till the clanging of the dinner bell disturbed them, and he led the young man to a tolerably comfortable bedchamber and dressing-room close by.

The evening was enlivened by the presence of a chatty little lieutenant in the navy, who had retired from the service some years previously on half-pay and a wooden leg, and was one of the few neighbors whose visits Squire Penruan tolerated. Lieutenant Hapsley sympathized with the invalid, looked pretty

THE EXPRESS.

THE

"Express" Job Rooms.

We are this week, giving extensive orders for new assortment of

PLAIN AND FANCY JOB TYPE,

from the best Canadian and American Foundries, and will before the 25th inst., be in a position to turn out all classes of work in a style not to be surpassed by any office in the Province.

WE MAKE A SPECIALTY OF

FINE & COLORED WORK

Prices Low. Give us a Ca

THE GREATEST NUMBER."

($1.00 per annum, if paid in advance.

DAY, DEC. 21, 1877.

NO. 34

"eat me so oddly?" demanded Max, that she hesitated for a word. did but follow suit. His step-ter took me for a tramp, and he impostor."

"I am really very sorry you should not met with such a reception!" cried or, who detected the wounded feeling which he spoke; "but I must gain why you gave us the opportu- be so uncivil?"

"The country I come from," was the retort, "we do not require from stranger who craves our hospitality and particular account of his ances-efore we permit him to come under of, or eat our bread."

"My dear Mr. Haveryng, the land of you speak must be in a very un- ed condition!" Eleanor demurely ed; "and though such indiscrimhospitality sounds very romantic, just not expect to make a convert. Penruan. He prefers sober reality, eeping the key of his larder in his ocket."

"I had no desire to force myself upon said Max, still bitter and indig-

"course you had not; and I am a loss to understand by what spell ave tamed the dragon."

"I am Mr. Penruan's kinsman—the an old friend to whom, in times he has lain under obligations. Is us reason sufficient why he should me to be his guest while I remain neighborhood?"

"O, no, no!" cried the young lady, gently. "You have named the very motive that would influence Equir- tan. You'll say I am very fond of ag my advice, but I cannot resist; you a little more—keep your eyes while you stay at the Abbey, Mr. ryng."

"I don't think the warning will be of use, unless you kindly explain why given."

"I, flushing a little, she hastily re- "I cannot do that! I have said too already; but you are a stranger, could not resist—"

"I broke off in some confusion, and d into another subject."

"I must contrive to mount you, Mr. ryng, if you will promise not to look temptuously on our sorry nags, hen you can be my cavalier when I rrs Minor."

"I trust I shall never see you on the of that vicious beast again!" cried "Let me train some other horse u while I am staying here. I shall lighted with the task."

"Yes, I made an effort," Mrs Penruan sighed. "It is our duty to preserve life as long as we can; is it not, Mr. Haveryng?"

"On mutton chops, mamma?" queried her daughter, undaunted by the look Mr. Penruan bent upon her; but the lady's equanimity was not disturbed.

"Don't tease me Nelly, there's a dear child; you ought to be thankful that I contrived to keep my strength up when you know what I went through this morn- ing. Poor Fan-fan!"

"You need not look so serious, Mr. Haveryng," cried the irrepressible Elea- nor. "Fan-fan is only an ugly little Skye-terrier, and a great pet of mamma's. The creature's teeth are decayed in consequence of being crammed with sweet cakes, and two of them have been ex- tracted. Having nothing else to do, mamma has made herself very unhappy about her darling's sufferings."

"My nerves are so weak," Mrs. Penruan explained, "that they are easily up- set. Are you fond of dogs, Mr. Haveryng?"

"Of some kinds, extremely so," he replied.

"Then you shall nurse Fan-fan. Car- son give her to Mr. Haveryng. Is she not a beauty?"

"I am no judge of lap-dogs," said Max, eying contemptuously the fat, wheezy, hairy ball that was laid on his knees.

"Give her to me, Mr. Haveryng," said Eleanor; but Mrs. Penruan started up and snatched the dog away. "No, no, Nelly, you shall not have her; you are so intolerably awkward! Fan-fan al- ways comes to some grief when you take her."

Her daughter laughed mischievously; but ere she could make any reply. Mr. Penruan interposed with an offer to show his guest over the Abbey.

"Say no, Mr. Haveryng, for I'm sure you'll not find any pleasure in beholding dust and decay," said Eleanor, in tones she scarcely took the trouble to lower. But, for once, Max did not agree with her. He felt really desirous of seeing the house, and accepted Mr. Penruan's offer with a readiness that pleased that gentleman and made the perverse step- daughter shrug her pretty shoulders.

After all, Eleanor was right. It was a depressing spectacle, for the decay that is made venerable by a reverent care to ar- rest it, was not visible here. Repairs had been made where absolutely necessary, but only in the roughest, cheapest man- ner. Mr. Penruan may have loved the dwelling of his forefathers, but he evi- dently loved his money still more, and grumbled spending it in renovating the Abbey.

The picture gallery pleased Max best, and there his entertainer thoroughly un- bent, and related legends connected with the portraits, till the clanging of the din- ner bell disturbed them, and he led the young man to a tolerably comfortable bedchamber and dressing-room close by.

The evening was enlivened by the pre- sence of a chatty little lieutenant in the navy, who had retired from the service some years previously on half-pay and a wooden leg, and was one of the few accounts, too much absorb in the diffi- culty of deciphering a carpenter's hiero- glyphics to do more than nod to his guest. "Did not you sleep well?"

"Not very;" and the slight hesitation in the speaker's manner was immediately detected.

"Perhaps the ghosts of the Abbey visit- ed you and kept you awake? Are there any? What a question! Of course there are! Did you ever hear of an old house that is not haunted? But I forget— there are no ancient buildings in your country. Yes, Mr. Haveryng, we are as well endowed as our neighbours, for there are more spectral legends attached to Penruan than I care to repeat, and there is not a servant in the place who does not believe them."

"Are you equally credulous?" asked her auditor.

"Not in the daylight!" was the laugh- ing reply. "As long as the sun shines, I can make merry over the wild, weird tales I hear, and marvel at the folly that has handed them down from generation; but after nightfall, I am afraid I could not muster courage enough to visit some parts of the Abbey alone!"

"Have you ever heard, or ever seen, anything to awaken your fears?" the young man inquired.

"No! It's rather mortifying to be obliged to make such an avowal, isn't it? I haven't seen the shadow of anything worse than—Mr. Penruan since I have lived here. Some of the old people aver that this is because I am not actually a member of the family. So, perhaps, you will be more favoured!"

"I suppose," said Max, speaking as carelessly as he could, "the Abbey con- tains some vestiges of a more romantic era: a secret passage, for instance—some sliding panels—and so on?"

But Eleanor answered with a very decided "No. The interior of the house was modernized and refitted about a hundred and twenty years ago; you can see that I am right in my chronology by the style of the old hangings; and I fancy all such vestiges, as you call them, were then swept away. I am sorry that it should be so," she added, with a smile, "as you seem so anxious to be introduc- ed to something of that kind."

"Then there are no mysteries no secrets connected with Penruan Abbey?" Max observed.

"I did not say that," Eleanor began, then checked herself, and looked down; nor was the conversation resumed till the Squire closed his accounts with a growl.

"B-r-d-s—one shilling! What does the fellow mean by that? Oh, brads, I suppose! He never used a shilling's worth! It's impossible! The scamps don't hammer a single nail in a board but there's a shilling clapped down for it!"

"I thought some of them were ten- penny ones!" observed Eleanor, very in- nocently.

"Have the goodness to keep your thoughts for subjects you can under- stand!" was the snappish retort. "I must go and have some of these items

you do," Max could not resist telling her.

"He does," Eleanor admitted. "He is in a fidget if she complains, in a fright if she looks pale, and in agonies every time she has hysterics, lest she should never recover."

"And do you find fault with him for being such a devoted husband?" she was asked, rather indignantly.

She smiled a queer little smile.

"Oh, no; I dare say that if I were Mr. Penruan I should do as Mr. Penruan does, but I may be permitted to wish that he had sufficient common sense to second me in convincing mamma that there is nothing the matter with her."

"Mr. Penruan gives me the impression of being a very shrewd man," said Max. Eleanor assented.

"So shrewd, that he sometimes over- reaches himself. But I wish you would not tempt me to talk to you so frankly, Mr. Haveryng. You must be a very sympathetic sort of person, or my tongue would not have run with such freedom on this short acquaintance."

"It is the first time I ever received such a doubtful compliment," he answer- ed, with a smile.

"Doubtful?" Eleanor echoed.

"Yes; to be sympathetic is not a masculine quality—is it? I thought it applied to the confidentes, in white mus- lin, or tragic heroines, or the dear female friends young ladies are so fond of telling their secrets to."

"I have no female friends—I might say, no friends at all!" she replied, quickly; "and so your sarcasm does not apply to me. But if I am to entertain you, Mr. Haveryng, I must find some better way than 'plaining my own lot.' Put on your hat, and let us go into my garden. As it is only the tiny plot, saved with difficulty from the Goths and Vandals, it will not tire you to walk round it."

"I fancied the Abbey gardens were ex- tensive when I peeped at them from my bedroom window," Max remarked, as he obeyed her.

"Why, so they are; but fruit and veg- etables sell so well that Mr. Penruan has turned the flower-borders into asparagus- beds, and grows brocoli where I used to cultivate lilies of the valley. Can you dig, Mr. Haveryng? Then you shall help me to transplant some roses, for my revered stopfather will not allow a garden- er to waste his time in attending to me."

Eleanor's garden was a charming little nook, and Max spent at hour or two very pleasantly in pruning her rose-trees, and make some alterations she had planned, but could not accomplish without the aid of stronger arms. Indeed, he worked so hard that, when the sun grew high, she insisted that he should lay down his tools.

"You shall not call me a thankless taskmistress," she sportively said, "for I will reward your services by bringing you your lunch to my own favourite retreat, if you have courage enough to accompany me to it."

"Don't think the warning will be of use, unless you kindly explain why ven."

Flushing a little, she hastily replied: "I cannot do that! I have said too already; but you are a stranger, could not resist—" broke off in some confusion, and into another subject.

"I must contrive to mount you, Mr. Max, if you will promise not to look temptuously on our sorry nags, on you can be my cavalier when I ride a Minor."

"I shall never see you on the horse that vicious beast again!" cried she. "Let me train some other horse while I am staying here. I shall be glad with the task."

"I think, but there is a pretty little mare I ride when I am a good rider, or venture into those parts of the park where one must behave properly. For the park, and for peace of mind, commend me to Ursa Minor." "Is not this an extraordinary capricious young lady to indulge in?" asked Max gravely. "Can Mr. or Mrs. Penruan be aware of the great risks you Penruan wouldn't fret if I broke my neck to-morrow!" she answered, careless of her head; "and I am rather obtuse to things of the kind. If you were to give her—as you are inclined to do—an agonizing dose of the perils I encounter, you send her in a fit of hysterics so, that, by the time she recovered, she would have forgotten what occasioned it."

"Beautiful Eleanor's manner of all to her invalid mother grated upon the nerves of Max, and his looks betrayed what he thought; for, with an impatient movement, she exclaimed, "Oh, Mr. Haveryng, it's very shocking of you! I know it is; and I am a wicked young woman, or, as Mr. Penruan frequently tells me, a most selfish and unnatural creature, to talk of an unfeeling strain of the sufferer's angel mother. You won't object to agreeing with him; I always myself; it saves one so many annoyances. And don't look as if you were for my insensibility. Heartsick troublesome possessions, that neither they are, the better for their ruinous philosophy this, isn't it?" said the puzzled Max, and she laughingly.

"Mr. Haveryng, if you stay long—a day or two at Penruan Abbey, I have to reconcile yourself to conflicting things than my queer ones. But come here, and tell me if you have seen anything in your travels more lovely than the view from these rocks?"

"The young lady to a broad shaven seat beneath the casement stepped and looked with interest at the named spots visible on that morning from Penruan Abbey."

"It was just about to avail himself of a chance in the conversation to name Captain, when a little bustle was at the door. It opened, and Mr. Penruan entered, with a lady on his arm, very becomingly dressed in an

Her robe, en Princesse, was of the pink cashmere, a colour that flattered admirably with her fair skin, her blonde hair, over which some oiled with pink, was carelessly but very arranged.

Max was plump, and would have been pretty but for the air of languor that shone in the corners of her mouth, and in expression of suffering to a pair of fine eyes, as dark and sparkling as night's.

"The maid who followed was loaded with shawls, pillows, and eider-down and some minutes elapsed before she was comfortably deposited on the prepared for her."

Penruan showed himself the most attentive of spouses, settling her cushions over her with such tender care, that Max began to feel ashamed of his feeling of repulsion which, in his civilities, this gentleman had you'll not find any pleasure in beholding dust and decay," said Eleanor, in tones she scarcely took the trouble to lower. But, for once, Max did not agree with her. He felt really desirous of seeing the house, and accepted Mr. Penruan's offer with a readiness that pleased that gentleman and made the perverse stepdaughter shrug her pretty shoulders.

After all, Eleanor was right. It was a depressing spectacle, for the decay that is made venerable by a reverent care to arrest it, was not visible here. Repairs had been made where absolutely necessary, but only in the roughest, cheapest manner. Mr. Penruan may have loved the dwelling of his forefathers, but he evidently loved his money still more, and grudged spending it in renovating the Abbey.

The picture gallery pleased Max best, and there his entertainer thoroughly unimpressed, and related legends connected with the portraits, till the clanging of the dinner bell disturbed them, and he led the young man to a tolerably comfortable bedchamber and dressing-room close by.

The evening was enlivened by the presence of a chatty little lieutenant in the navy, who had retired from the service some years previously on half-pay and a wooden leg, and was one of the few neighbors whose visits Squire Penruan tolerated. Lieutenant Hapsley sympathized with the invalid, joked pretty Eleanor on her roses and her pouting lips, recalled old scenes and adventures to amuse Max, and played backgammon with the Squire, till the clock struck ten—a signal for the breaking up of the party.

Not at all inclined to sleep, Max had no sooner locked himself in his chamber than he resolved to write another letter to Mistress Letty, entreating her to end this mysterious reserve, and give him the opportunity for personally exculpating himself that he had already vainly entreated. But somehow, to-night he could not satisfy himself with his epistolary attempts. His pleadings were not urgent enough; they did not do sufficient justice to his anxiety to behold her once more; and sheet after sheet of paper was torn up in despair.

As he sat nibbling the top of his pen, and gazing sometimes at the curiously carved ceiling, sometimes at the floor, his wandering glances fell on the great old-fashioned toilet glass close by. It reflected some of the old pictures—queer little oval miniatures of long-forgotten dames of the Penruan family; one, the largest if not the handsomest, representing a shepherdess seated on a grassy bank.

Something—was it the wind?—gave a tremulous motion to this portrait; and Max was just amusing himself with the notion that it was nodding to him in the glass, when he distinctly saw the panel on which it hung pushed forward from the wall, and some one peer through the opening.

In an instant, he was up, and striding towards the spot; but when he reached it the panel was firmly closed. Not a sound of retreating footsteps reached his ear, though he listened long and intently; not a voice made answer to his repeated inquiry, who was there? And he might have believed that some inequality in the surface of the mirror had deceived him but for one circumstance; the miniature had been shaken from its nail, and lay on the floor at his feet.

CHAPTER VII.

MAX BEGINS TO COMPREHEND THAT HIS PERPLEXITIES ARE ONLY JUST COMMENCING.

There could not be a braver man than Max Haveryng had proved himself in many a wild adventure; and he had spent more than one night with his finger on the trigger of his rifle, listening for the stealthy footfalls of the Indians, while his comrades slept around their camp fire. Yet it was with very unpleasant sensation that he now seized the lamp to make the tour of his chamber, and the adjoining dressing-room; and finally came back to the panel from whence the pic-

But Eleanor answered with a very decided "No. The interior of the house was modernized and refitted about a hundred and twenty years ago; you can see that I am right in my chronology by the style of the old hangings; and I fancy all such vestiges, as you call them, were then swept away. I am sorry that it should be so," she added, with a smile, "as you seem so anxious to be introduced to something of that kind."

"Then there are no mysteries no secrets connected with Penruan Abbey?" Max observed.

"I did not say that," Eleanor began, then checked herself, and looked down; nor was the conversation resumed till the Squire closed his accounts with a growl.

"Br-r-d-s—one shilling! What does the fellow mean by that? Oh, brads, I suppose! He never used a shilling's worth! It's impossible! The scamps don't hammer a single nail in a board but there's a shilling clapped down for it!"

"I thought some of them were ten-penny ones!" observed Eleanor, very innocently.

"Have the goodness to keep your thoughts for subjects you can understand!" was the snappish retort. "I must go and have some of these items amended; it would not do to submit to such extortions! Never invest in house property, Mr. Haveryng! It's the worst return for money imaginable."

"Do your tenants get into arrears?" the young man civilly inquired, and Mr. Penruan looked disconcerted.

"Well, no—not exactly, but—"

"How can they," interrupted Eleanor, speaking with bitter emphasis, "when they are turned out to die—to starve—who cares how, if sickness or trouble overtakes them?"

"Repairs, Mr. Haveryng—repairs mount up enormously!" said the Squire, talking very loud to silence his irreverent step-daughter; "and the tradesmen are rogues, one and all; Why, I should be swindled hourly, if I did not attend to my affairs myself! Ring the bell, Eleanor, that my horse may be saddled. I must see this carpenter fellow at once, and threaten him with a visit from my lawyer. I know you'll excuse me. Business must be attended to!"

"Why not ask Mr. Haveryng to ride with you, sir, and let him learn a lesson from your example in the noble art of defending the pocket?"

"Condemn him to a dull ride over a dusty road, that he may play third in an interview with a saucy workman?" cried the Squire in sprightly tones. "No, no, my dear; I will not tax his patience so unkindly. He will enjoy himself much better here!"

The young lady glanced around the room, made a little movement of disgust, and audibly wondered in what way Mr. Haveryng would find the predicted enjoyment.

"Do not trouble about me," said Max, hastily. "I can amuse myself in the library, or explore the grounds, or—"

"Nay, nay," interposed the smiling Squire; "we will not be so discourteous to our guest as to love him quite alone. I give my young kinsman into your charge, Nelly. You will find him an agreeable companion, I am sure; and he will be delighted to walk or drive with you to some of the beautiful spots in the vicinity."

Eleanor raised her head, and gave her step-father a look inexplicable to Max; for it conveyed inquiry, defiance, and something very much like contempt. But Mr. Penruan would not appear to see it, and, with a friendly adieu to both, went away, in order to inquire how Mrs. Penruan found herself before he started on his journey.

"Did you ever feel a longing to bite any one, Mr. Haveryng?" demanded Eleanor, when the door had closed upon him, "Because I do; and I must go and have a battle with Ursa Minor before I shall be better. I always get rid of my ill humours when I have done my best to aggravate the lesser of my bugbears!"

"Transfer your spleen to my shouldered with difficulty from the Grooms and Vandal, it will not tire you to walk round it."

"I fancied the Abbey gardens were extensive when I peeped at them from my bedroom window," Max remarked, as he obeyed her.

"Why, so they are; but fruit and vegetables sell so well that Mr. Penruan has turned the flower-borders into asparagus-beds, and grows broccoli where I used to cultivate lilies of the valley. Can you dig, Mr. Haveryng? Then you shall help me to transplant some roses, for my revered stepfather will not allow a gardener to waste his time in attending to me."

Eleanor's garden was a charming little nook, and Max spent an hour or two very pleasantly in pruning her rose-trees, and make some alterations she had planned, but could not accomplish without the aid of stronger arms. Indeed, he worked so hard that, when the sun grew high, she insisted that he should lay down his tools.

"You shall not call me a thankless taskmistress," she sportively said, "for I will reward your services by bringing your lunch to my own favourite retreat, if you have courage enough to accompany me to it."

Eleanor ran back to the house, while her companion was laving his hands at the spring that bubbled up into a rocky basin; and when her clear voice was again heard, calling him by name, he saw that she had quitted the garden by a little gate in the wall, and was standing on the edge of the cliff, awaiting his approach. As he drew near, she clambered to the top of the huge boulder, and lightly leaped down on the other side; but when Max reached the spot she had disappeared, and there was nothing to be seen but a deep chasm, dark and overgrown with ferns, like the mouth of some long disused well.

A merry laugh from the vanishing maiden answered his anxious exclamation.

"Have you the courage to dive into the recesses of the earth, Mr. Haveryng? Then, swing yourself down by both hands; the fairies of the cavern will take care that you come to no harm."

Ashamed to hesitate, Max obeyed, and dropped into the chasm, which, after all, was of no depth. Then, stooping his tall head and turning to the right, in obedience to the directions he received, he found himself into one of the most fantastic and exquisite of the caverns with which the rocky coast of the country is so liberally pierced. There was nothing rugged or repellent here; the mouth of the cavern was a lofty arch, looking seaward, and ferns in endless variety fringed the opening, and threw out their delicate fronds from every crevice on the rock walls and roof. Across the mouth of the cave, and rendering it inaccessible from that point, fell the same stream that filled the basin at Eleanor's garden. This brook went leaping from ledge to ledge, a mere thread in the heats of summer, but a torrent after the snows of winter. Just now it might have been likened to some tricky sprite, as it flung its light spray, over the fairy clusters of the maiden's hair, and the towering Osumunda Regalis, and bathed them into a fresher, brighter verdure.

Sitting here, watching the white sails of a distant vessel, and discussing the sandwiches Eleanor produced from her little basket, the young man ventured to ask a question to which his whole soul hungered for an answer.

"Of course you are well acquainted with the neighbourhood of St. Erne, Cousin Eleanor?"

"Not very. In hot weather the walk is a fatiguing one, and there is so much distress in these fishing villages whenever it is too cold and stormy for the boats to go out, that I cannot bear to confront it, unless my purse is tolerably full."

"This was discouraging, but still Max persevered."

"These poor fishers were very kind to me while I lay ill. I suppose you know most of them."

"By sight yes. They are fine, sturdy, beautiful Eleanor's manner of aloofness, and his looks betrayed the thought; for, with an impatience, she exclaimed, "Oh, r. Haverlyng, it's very shocking dutiful; I know it is: and I am a wicked young woman, or, as Mr. n frequently tells me, a most s and unnatural creature, to talk an unfeeling strain of the suffer-my angel mother. You won't of e by agreeing with him; I always myself; it saves one so many ions. And don't look as if you ne for my insensibility. Hearts h troublesome possessions, that pier they are, the better for their s."

"ious philosophy this, isn't it?" e puzzled Max, and she laugh- rly.

"Mr. Haverlyng, if you stay long- a day or two at Penruan Abbey, I have to reconcile yourself to conflicting things than my queer s. But come here, and tell me if e seen anything in your travels y than the view from these rs?"

"I followed the young lady to a broad shioned seat beneath the casement eaned and looked with interest e named the spots visible on that morning from Penruan Abbey.

was just about to avail himself of a n the conversation to name Cap- nton, when a little bustle was at the door. It opened, and Mr. n entered, with a lady on his arm, very becoming deshabille of an in-

Her robe, en Princess, was of the pink cashmere, a colour that had admirably with her fair skin, e blonde hair, over which some oped with pink, was carelessly but rely arranged was plump, and would have been retty but for the air of languor that own the corners of her mouth, and n expression of suffering to a pair fine eyes, as dark and sparkling as ughter's.

maid who followed was loaded shawls, pillows, and eider-down and some minutes elapsed before y was comfortably deposited on the prepared for her.

Penruan showed himself the most v of sponces, settling her cushions vering about her with such tender ty, that Max began to feel asham- he feeling of repulsion which, in f his civilities, this gentleman had ed to inspire.

ast, with a sigh and a smile, she nced herself tolerably comfortable, a husband signed to Max to apunor had lounged on the window nd contemplated the sea, without ing the smallest interest in what ssing in the room; but now she herself, and with a little malicious re, watched the introduction.

relation of yours, dear John," mur- Mrs. Penruan, holding out her o Max. "How pleased I am to him! Ah! if I had but my health, slighted I should be to drive him the estate, and show him the im- nents you have made!"

here are they?" asked Eleanor, one answered, though her mother er vinaigrette to her nose, and red a little, and Mr. Penruan l his throat.

is is a sad house to come to, Mr. yng," the invalid went on, in the onotonous tones that never varied. always the poor, helpless creature w see. In fact, I should not be f it were not for the devotion of the husbands."

dearest Lina, you promised to try allow a little jelly," said Mr. Pen- modestly ignoring his own praises. please you; solely to please you. s no appetite, Mr. Haverlyng."

it you ate a tolerable breakfast, na," interposed Eleanor, "and I I met Carson on the stairs with a n chop not an hour ago."

struck ten—a signal for the breaking up of the party.

Not at all inclined to sleep, Max had no sooner locked himself in his chamber than he resolved to write another letter to Mistress Letty, entreating her to end this mysterious reserve, and give him the opportunity for personally exulting himself that he had already vainly entreated. But somehow, to-night he could not satisfy himself with his epistolar attempts. His pleadings were not urgent enough; they did not do sufficient justice to his anxiety to behold her once more; and sheet after sheet of paper was torn up in despair.

As he sat nibbling the top of his pen, and gazing sometimes at the curiously carved ceiling, sometimes at the floor, his wandering glances fell on the great old-fashioned toilet glass close by. It reflected some of the old pictures—queer little oval miniatures of long-forgotten dames of the Penruan family; one, the largest if not the handsomest, representing a shepherdess seated on a grassy bank.

Something—was it the wind?—gave a tremulous motion to this portrait; and Max was just amusing himself with the notion that it was nodding to him in the glass, when he distinctly saw the panel on which it hung pushed forward from the wall, and some one peer through the opening.

In an instant, he was up, and striding towards the spot; but when he reached it the panel was firmly closed. Not a sound of retreating footsteps reached his ear, though he listened long and intently; not a voice made answer to his repeated inquiry, who was there? And he might have believed that some inequality in the surface of the mirror had deceived him but for one circumstance; the miniature had been shaken from its nail, and lay on the floor at his feet.

CHAPTER VII.

MAX BEGINS TO COMPREHEND THAT HIS PERPLEXITIES ARE ONLY JUST COMMENCING.

There could not be a braver man than Max Haverlyng had proved himself in many a wild adventure; and he had spent more than one night with his finger on the trigger of his rifle, listening for the stealthy footfalls of the Indians, while his comrades slept around their camp fire. Yet it was with very unpleasant sensation that he now seized the lamp to make the tour of his chamber, and the adjoining dressing-room; and finally came back to the panel from whence the picture had fallen. But it gave back no hollow sound when he tapped it, and was to all appearances as solid a piece of the wainscoting as the rest.

Still the conviction was not to be shaken off that some one had moved it, and looked at him through the aperture. Certainly it might be only a servant, whose curiosity led to the act, or who was not aware that the apartment was occupied; and, as this was the most matter-of-fact and probable explanation of the circumstance, Max resolved to adopt it.

However, he could not determine to go to bed. Penruan Abbey was but half-furnished and ill-secured, for some portion of the building was closed and almost in ruins. It was not at all impossible that burglars, tempted by a report of Mr. Penruan's wealth and miserly habits, had entered this part of the house, and were awaiting their opportunity to rob it. So Max, putting his watch and purse under his pillow, lowered the lamp till the room was in semi-obscurity, and laid down in his clothes, ready to leap up and render efficient assistance on the slightest alarm.

However, not a sound occurred to disturb him, and he sank at last into a profound sleep, which lasted so long, that Eleanor opened her eyes in pretended astonishment, and threatened him with cold coffee and hard-boiled eggs when he did appear at the breakfast-table.

"Did not you sleep well, Mr. Haverlyng?" she demanded; for the Squire was poring, with knitted brows, over some

"How can they," interrupted Eleanor, speaking with bitter emphasis, "when they are turned out to die—to starve—who cares how, if sickness or trouble overtakes them?"

"Repairs, Mr. Haverlyng—repairs mount up enormously!" said the Squire, talking very loud to silence his irreverent step-daughter; "and the tradesmen are rogues, one and all; Why, I should be swindled hourly, if I did not attend to my affairs myself! Ring the bell, Eleanor, that my horse may be saddled. I must see this carpenter fellow at once, and threaten him with a visit from my lawyer. I know you'll excuse me. Business must be attended to!"

"Why not ask Mr. Haverlyng to ride with you, sir, and let him learn a lesson from your example in the noble art of defending the pocket?"

"Condemn him to a dull ride over a dusty road, that he may play third in an interview with a saucy workman?" cried the Squire in sprightly tones. "No, no, my dear; I will not tax his patience so unkindly. He will enjoy himself much better here!"

The young lady glanced around the room, made a little movement of disgust, and audibly wondered in what way Mr. Haverlyng would find the predicted enjoyment.

"Do not trouble about me," said Max, hastily. "I can amuse myself in the library, or explore the grounds, or—"

"Nay, nay," interposed the smiling Squire; "we will not be so discourteous to our guest as to leave him quite alone. I give my young kinsman into your charge, Nelly. You will find him an agreeable companion, I am sure; and he will be delighted to walk or drive with you to some of the beautiful spots in the vicinity."

Eleanor raised her head, and gave her step-father a look inexplicable to Max; for it conveyed inquiry, defiance, and something very much like contempt. But Mr. Penruan would not appear to see it, and, with a friendly adieu to both, went away, in order to inquire how Mrs. Penruan found herself before he started on his journey.

"Did you ever feel a longing to bite any one, Mr. Haverlyng?" demanded Eleanor, when the door had closed upon him, "Because I do; and I must go and have a battle with Ursula Minor before I shall be better. I always get rid of my ill humours when I have done my best to aggravate the lesser of my bugbears!"

"Transfer your spleen to my shoulders," entreated Max. "I'd rather endure your sharpest speeches than be left alone, or know that you were running those frightful risks! Perhaps Mrs. Penruan is not so well, and you wish to devote the morning to her?"

"Don't play the hypocrite, Mr. Haverlyng!" cried Eleanor, so crossly that he started at her in amazement.

"Pray do not bring the charge of hypocrisy against me: for if there is anything I detest, it is that!"

"Then why did you make such a silly speech?" pouted the young lady. "Cannot you see as well as I do that mamma's ailments are only imaginary ones?"

"I thought she looked extremely plump and rosy for an invalid!" Max rather reluctantly confessed. "But them I remembered to have heard that in heart disease or consumption the looks are deceptive."

"Of course they are, but you may also have heard of people who begin by fancying that they are out of health, and, if they can find a doctor civil enough to humour them, end by believing that they are dreadful sufferers. Mamma will tell you that she is a martyr [to her nerves, but she can listen with composure to what excites me almost to madness. She eats well, drinks well, sleeps soundly, and spends more time at her toilette than I do, and yet she wastes her days on that couch, which I would set on fire if I were not afraid of being found out!"

"Mr. Penruan seems to attach more importance to his wife's ailments than

As he drew near, she clambered to the top of the huge boulder, and lightly leaped down on the other side; but when Max reached the spot she had disappeared, and there was nothing to be seen but a deep chasm, dark, and overgrown with ferns, like the mouth of some long disused well.

A merry laugh from the vanishing maiden answered his anxious exclamation.

"Have you the courage to dive into the recesses of the earth, Mr Haverlyng? Then, swing yourself down by both hands; the fairies of the cavern will take care that you come to no harm."

Ashamed to hesitate, Max obeyed, and dropped into the chasm, which, after all, was of no depth. Then, stooping his tall head and turning to the right, in obedience to the directions he received, he found himself into one of the most fantastic and exquisite of the caverns with which the rocky coast of the country is so liberally peppered. There was nothing rugged or repellent here; the mouth of the cavern was a lofty arch, looking seaward, and ferns in endless variety fringed the opening, and threw out their delicate fronds from every crevice on the rock walls and roof. Across the mouth of the cave, and rendering it inaccessible from that point, fell the same stream that filled the basin at Eleanor's garden. This brook went leaping from ledge to ledge, a mere thread in the heats of summer, but a torrent after the snows of winter. Just now it might have been likened to some tricky sprite, as it flung its light spray over the fairy clusters of the maiden's hair, and the towering Osmunda Regalis, and bathed them into a fresher, brighter verdure.

Sitting here, watching the white sails of a distant vessel, and discussing the sandwiches Eleanor produced from her little basket, the young man ventured to ask a question to which his whole soul hungered for an answer.

"Of course you are well acquainted with the neighbourhood of St. Erme, Cousin Eleanor?"

"Not very. In hot weather the walk is a fatiguing one, and there is so much distress in these fishing villages whenever it is too cold and stormy for the boats to go out, that I cannot bear to confront it, unless my purse is tolerably full."

"This was discouraging, but still Max persevered.

"These poor fishers were very kind to me while I lay ill. I suppose you know most of them."

"By sight yes. They are fine, sturdy, warm-hearted fellows! I cannot sleep when the wind is rough, for thinking of those who are toiling on the deep, and the anxiety of the wives and mothers who watch and weep for them at home."

"Are you acquainted with Daniel Calynack, and the old man who nursed me in his little cottage?"

Eleanor nodded assent.

"Dangerous quarters for you, wasn't it, Mr. Haverlyng? Old Dan is supposed to have dealings with the Piskies" (faeries), and is regarded altogether as an uncanny sort of person. He did not cast his spells over you, did he?"

"Not that I am aware of," said Max, annoyed at feeling a ruddy hue overspreading his face. "Do you know Dan's niece?"

"Has he one? Is it some twinge of conscience connected with the poor girl that has caused you to reddens so gaily? Oh, Mr. Haverlyng, it will be an ungenous return for the kindness of which you speak if you have made some simple child unhappy!"

"Daniel Calynack's niece is a widow," she was cutly told.

"I beg your pardon. I hope my blunt speeches have not offended you," Eleanor exclaimed. "What is this widow's name? Is there any way in which you wish me to serve her?"

The kindly warmth of her manner induced Max to unbecom himself a little further.

(To be Continued.)

DIRECTORY

TRAVELER'S GUIDE

G. T. RAILWAY.

GOING EAST.	GOING WEST.
Express.....12:58 A. M.	Express.....5:12 P. M.
Express.....12:58 P. M.	Express.....5:52 A. M.
Mixed.....11:50 P. M.	Mixed.....7:55 A. M.

STAGES ARRIVE AT NAPANEE.
From Newburgh and Tamworth.....	10 1/2 a. m.
From Pictou and Mill Point.....	7 p. m.
From Erinsville.....	10 a. m.

DEPART FROM NAPANEE.
To Newburgh and Tamworth.....	2 1/2 p. m.
To Mill Point and Pictou.....	3 1/2 a. m.
To Erinsville.....	2 1/2 p. m.

STEAM BOATS.

tr. Shannon, leaves Pictou daily.....	6 a. m.
Arriving at Napanee.....	9:30 a. m.
Leaves Napanee.....	3 p. m.
Arriving in Pictou.....	6 p. m.
Str. Pilgrim, (Napanee and Mill Point), Leaves Napanee 8:30 a. m., and 1:15 p. m. Leaves Mill Point 11 a. m., and 3:30 p. m.

POST OFFICE.

The Post Office Napanee is open from 8 a. m. till 6 p. m.
Day Train East Mail closes.....	12:05 p. m.
West.....	4:30 p. m.
Night Train East.....	8:00 p. m.
West.....	6:00 p. m.
Camden Route—Tamworth, Centreville, Camden East, Newburgh and Napanee Mills—Mail closes 2:15 p. m.
Mill Point and Prince Edward County Route—Mill Point, Pictou, Northport, and Demorestville—Mail closes 6:30 a. m.
Fredericksburg Route—Morven, Hamburg, Sillsville, Parma and Conway—Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays—Mail closes 1 p. m.
Witzerville—Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays—Mail closes 1:15 p. m.
Georgetown and Gretna—Saturday—Mail closes 1 p. m.
Erinsville, Roblin and Selby, daily—Mail closes 1:30 p. m.
Orverton, Forest Mills and Leinster, daily—Mail closes 1:30 p. m.

CHURCHES.

HOUSES OF SERVICES.

Episcopal Methodist—Rev. C. Hartley. Services 10:30 a. m., and 6:30 p. m. Sunday School, 2 p. m.
Canada Methodist—Rev. A. B. Chambers, L.L.B. Services 10:30 a. m., and 6:30 p. m. Sunday School, 2 p. m.
Episcopal—Rev. J. J. Bogart, Rector. Services 11 a. m., and 7 p. m. Sunday School 3 p. m.
Presbyterian—Rev. A. Young. Services 10:30 a. m. and 6:30 p. m. Sunday School 2 p. m.
Roman Catholic—Rev. Father MacDonagh. Mass 10:30 a. m., and 6:30 p. m. Sunday School 2:30 p. m.
The Brethren—Meet at 11 a. m., and 7 p. m. Sunday School at 2:30 p. m., every Sunday in Granite Block.

GEO. P. ROWELL & Co.,

40 PARK ROW, NEW YORK,

—AND—

ROWELL & CHESMAN,

ST. LOUIS.

AGENTS for the "NAPANEE EXPRESS", Napanee, Ont.

THE EXPRESS.

NAPANEE, DEC. 21st, 1877.

The Manitoba Legislature is called together for the despatch of business, on the 27th of December. The Legislature will be formally opened, and will adjourn over the holidays.

Two of the party interested in the illicit still lately discovered in the Township of Limerick in North Hastings are in custody in Belleville. They gave their names as Archibald McGregor and John O'Brien.

Dominion Parliament is expected to be expected to meet two weeks earlier than usual for the coming session. The

"THE NECESSITIES OF THE HOUR."

The Gospel Temperance Meeting on Sabbath afternoon last was very largely attended. The Town Hall was filled, and the doors had to be closed to prevent a jam. Rev. Dr. Hartley, delivered the promised lecture on "The Necessities of the Hour," making a profound impression by clear and logical reasoning, and his eloquent pleading. We give below an extract from the speech being all the space we can spare in the present issue:—

Another necessity of the hour is We greatly need honest, pure-minded, total abstinence men in all the places of influence and power in our land. We must have them, or as a nation go to destruction, and I rejoice that on every hand the sober masses are beginning to avow their feelings and convictions upon this all important matter, and the demands of public opinion on the behalf of truth, purity, and righteousness must be respected. Drunken political demagogues and wire pullers cannot silence the cry of thousands upon thousands demanding, that pure men, sober men, and such only shall occupy the places of honor and influence in this fair land of ours. And these demand of the people are not to be disregarded, nor can they be suppressed, you might as well attempt with a sheet of tissue paper, to keep down an eruption of Mount Vesuvius. Let mere party politics go to the "moles and bats," when the purity, virtue and integrity of the nation is imperiled by men who have no conscience, and no sense of moral decency or honor. In the name of humanity of virtue and of God, I demand that our laws shall not be drowned in an ocean of beer and whiskey, the requiem chanted in ribald jest and drunken song. And I demand all this in the name of industry robbed and beggared, in the name of the public peace disturbed and broken, in the name of private safety imperilled, of common justice violated and trampled, of the popular conscience debauched and prostituted, in the name of royal manhood wrecked and ruined and of helpless innocence waylaid and assassinated. How long shall the infernal rum traffic go on? "How long, O Lord, how long!" With the gold its crimes have secured, it seeks its friends in the halls of Legislation and our Municipal Boards. It aims to put Judges on the bench, its advocates at the bar, it witnesses on the stand and to make its position doubly sure it would control our Legislative Halls and public presses. It aims to fill not only our prison cells and grave yards, but our judgement seats, and our Police Commissions. By night and by day it draws out its endless catalogues of crimes, its hands are polluted with blood, and in all its aims it is pitiless and unrelenting. This is our nation's foe, your foe, and mine. It is cunning, bold, merciless, remorseless, "Fierce as ten furies and terrible as hell." To stay the advance, of such a monster is not the work of an hour, it will require the energies of a life-time, as it is one of the greatest living questions of the age. This monster has "the world" for a home, "the flesh" for a mother, and "the devil" for a father.

The rum traffic aims to destroy in man his mental, physical, moral and spiritual power. It seeks the destruction of our national power.

I call upon all lovers of pure religion, law and order, all lovers of our free institutions of what ever party, come to the rescue of our beleaguered endangered country. The demoralizing rum traffic has thrown down the gauntlet. They are approaching our Legislature, they have men and money, everything that is sacred and holy is in danger.

Shall these mercenaries continue to demoralize our sons? Shall the Sabbath of our Lord be desecrated by the opening lost, (etc.) Lost on the following division:—

Yeas—Messrs Coulter, Deller, Hornick, Lane, Madden, Miller, Price, Storr, and Wright—9

Nays—Messrs Aylsworth, W. A. Bell, Dafee, Davis, Ham, Joyner, Parrott, Paul and Wood—9.

FINANCIAL.

A statement from the Treasurer was handed in by Mr. Storr showing—
Cash on hand, $6,411
Amounts due and accruing in January, $3,000
Interest on debt, $3,000
Note in Merchants Bank, 1,000
County Council, 230
Sundries, 500
Administration of Justice, 500

Total,

$5,280
Also $8,000 required to meet notes falling due at the Merchants Bank, all of which is over and above the amount required to meet current expenses.

Moved by Mr. Storr, sec. by Mr. Dafee, that the Treasurer be requested to furnish a statement of the amounts paid in by the various municipalities on account of the County rate—Carried.

EDUCATION AND PRINTING.

Mr. Wright submitted the following report of the Committee on Education and Printing, the rule being suspended:

Your Committee beg leave to report that certain accounts have been submitted to them:

Henry & Bro, printing for 1877. $160.98
Stationery, 13.44

which we recommend be paid. Received also a petition from the Board of Education, Napanee, praying for a grant to Model School. Seeing that no grant has been contemplated for this purpose in the estimates, we recommend no action be taken until more time has been given for full consideration of the suitability of such Model School to the wants of the County.

We recommend that the usual sum of $200 for aiding weak school sections be granted, said sum to be apportioned as heretofore by the Inspector.

(Signed), G. Wright (Chairman), R. B. Price, N. P. Wood, S. Lane and P. D. Davis.

The report was amended in Committee of the Whole by inserting a grant of $100 to the Model School, and afterwards adopted as amended on the following division:

Yeas—Messrs J. W. Bell, Coulter, Deller, Herring, Lane, Madden, Miller, Price, Storr, and Wright—10.

Nays—Messrs Aylsworth, W. A. Bell, Dafee, Ham, Joyner, Parrott, Paul, and Wood—8.

ROADS AND BRIDGES.

Mr. W. A. Bell presented the following report of the Committee on Roads and Bridges.

Your Committee beg leave to report that returns have been laid before us of Expenditure on County Roads, viz.—

	APPROX.	EXPEND.
Camden,	$800	$808'58
Earnestown,	700	329.24
Richmond,	500	509.34
North Fredericksburg,	300	274.88
South "	300	351.32
Sheffield,	250	258.80
Bath,	50	50.00
Newburgh,	100	100.00
Napanee,	100	No return.

SPECIAL GRANTS.

Amherst Island,	$150	$150.00
Adolphustown,	150	No return.
Kaladar and Anglesea,	200	205.55
Denbeigh,	200	200.00

The following accounts have been laid before us, viz—Building a culvert on Napanee Road in Richmond, $16,50; repairing the covered Bridge, $75,62; building culvert in Newburgh, $8; repairing crossing in Camden, 75 cent. All of the above we recommend to be paid.

The account of E. Fretts for clearing snow last Jan'y was not allowed. We chat the thanks of the Council are and are hereby tendered to the Ward for the cordial and impartial manner which he has performed the duties of office during the year.

Mr. J. W. Bell said he had much pleasure in submitting the resolution. The motion was carried unanimously by a rising vote.

Mr. J. W. Bell presented the thanks of the Council to the Warden.

The Warden feelingly expressed gratitude for the handsome manner in which the Council had acted toward him, for the support given him during the year. He eulogized the good feeling which always existed among Councillors, hoped that, as in the past, politics would continue to be entirely eschewed.

The Council then adjourned sine die.

HIGH SCHOOL.

DECEMBER ADMISSION EXAMINATION.

We publish below the papers used in the Entrance Examinations, just passed. We doubt not they will be found of considerable interest to students and others throughout the county.

ENGLISH GRAMMAR—TWO HOURS.

1. Value 38.—Parse: "Sunday a Sunday he had the keen delight of seeing Crimean officers from Aldershot Sandhurst in his congregation.—Life Charles Kingsley.

2. v. 10.—Analysis: Having heard same preaching for fifteen years, he ceased to admire it.

3. v. 6.—Define Case, Gender, Number, Person, Verb, and Adverb.

4. v. 30.—Give the plural of month, wharf, staff, potato; the singular neekies, brethren, dairies; the feminine of negro, hero, nephew; the comparative and superlative of beautiful, pretty, the third singular present indicative of buy, fry; the past participle meet, beat, sear; the present participle of get, fire, occur, differ, die; and possessive case of who, ladies, one, he.

5. v. 12.—Quote the rule of syntax violated in each of the following sentences:—

Between you and I this must not allowed and longer. I wonder how ever came to befriend such a criminal. Neither John nor James nor M have found it. There is several boys the room.

6. v. 2.—Correct the following expressions:

Them nuts is mine.
v. 1.—I kind of thought that Tom there.

v. 1.—I understand $\frac{2}{3}$ = $1\frac{1}{3}$ to n that three twos equal one and a half.

ARITHMETIC.—TWO HOURS.

1. v. 12.—How often is 6 yds. contained in 25 furlongs?

2. v. 12.—If I buy 8 bushels, paid 5 cents for every 3 quarts, and sell profit of 10 cents per gallon, find selling price of the whole.

3. v. 12.—[Omitted, as we have no requisite marks to insert.]

4. v. 12.—Reduce 2 hrs. 20 min the decimal of $\frac{3}{4}$ weeks.

5. v. 12.—A sum of money was divided among A, B, and C. A received fifth of the sum; B, \$20 less than what was left; and the remainder was $\frac{1}{4}$ of A's share was given to C. the sum divided.

6. v. 12.—Trees are planted 12 apart around the sides of a rectangular field (40 rods long) containing two a find the number of trees.

7. v. 16.—I buy a farm containing acres, and sell $\frac{1}{3}$ of it for three-fifths the cost of the farm; I then sell the remainder at \$60 per acre, and ne gain nor lose by the whole transaction. Find the cost of the farm.

8. v. 12.—Find the amount of following bill of goods:—

18 $\frac{1}{2}$ cords of wood, at \$3.50 per 16 yards of cloth, at \$1 12 $\frac{1}{2}$ per yard. bush. 25 lbs. of wheat, at \$1.20 per

THE EXPRESS.

NAPANEE, DEC. 21st, 1877.

The Manitoba Legislature is called together for the despatch of business, on the 27th of December. The Legislature will be formally opened, and will adjourn over the holidays.

Two of the party interested in the illicit still lately discovered in the Township of Limerick in North Hastings are in custody in Belleville. They gave their names as Archibald McGregor and John O'Brien.

Dominion Parliament is expected to be expected to meet two weeks earlier than usual for the coming session. The Government propose placing their business before the House as early as possible, that the rush which usually occurs at the close of the session may be avoided.

The following which appears in the telegraphic reports sent to the daily papers in the Province, Ministrates the languishing conditions of our manufactures:—"MESSRS. FROST & WOOD are getting out 1,000 hay rakes, 1,000 reapers and mowers, and some 3,000 ploughs, horse shoes, field rollers, corn crushers and sowing machines,

—It is now pretty well known who the contestants are to be in the coming struggle for municipal honors, and the ticket will be found elsewhere in this issue. The greater part of the interest will probably centre in the fight between Messrs James and McNeill for the Mayor's chair. While both gentlemen are deservedly popular it is pretty generally conceded that the former's chances of return are better than his opponent's. He has served the town long and faithfully, is well versed in the procedure in connection with the Office, and it is but just that his services should now be rewarded by the honor he is seeking at the hands of the rate-payers.

QUEBEC WEST ELECTIONS.

The election in Quebec West, to fill a vacancy in the Legislature caused by the appointment of the member to an office under the Government, came off on Monday, and resulted in the return of Mr. Alleyn, Q. C., the Conservative Candidate, by a majority of barely 40 votes. At the last election in this constituency in 1875, Mr Hearn, was royal manhood wrecked and ruined and of helpless innocent waylaid and assassinated. How long shall the infernal rum traffic go on? "How long, O Lord, how long?" With the gold its crimes have secured, it seeks its friends in the halls of Legislation and our Municipal Bench, its advocates at the bar, it witnesses on the stand and to make its position doubly sure it would control our Legislative Halls and public presses. It aims to fill not only our prison cells and grave yards, but our judgement seats, and our Police Commissions. By night and by day it draws out its endless catalogue of crimes, its hands are polluted with blood, and in all its aims it is pitiless and unrelenting. This is our nation's foe, your foe, and mine. It is cunning, bold, merciless, remorseless, "Fierce as ten furies and terrible as hell." To stay the advance, of such a monster is not the work of an hour, it will require the energies of a life-time, as it is one of the greatest living questions of the age. This monster has "the world" for a home, "the flesh" for a mother, and "the devil" for a father.

The rum traffic aims to destroy in man his mental, physical, moral and spiritual power. It seeks the destruction of our national power.

I call upon all lovers of pure religion, law and order, all lovers of our free institutions of what ever party, come to the rescue of our beleaguered endangered country. The demoralizing rum traffic has thrown down the gauntlet. They are approaching our Legislature, they have men and money, everything that is sacred and holy is in danger.

Shall these mercenaries continue to demoralize our sons? Shall the Sabbath of our Lord be desecrated by the opening of these hot beds of corruption in the face of law to the contrary?

Cease not to labour until finally, I would say to the friends of Temperance. Be of good cheer, work on, I would say as Oliver Cornwell said. "Trust in God and keep your powder dry"

The rum traffic is lowered! Die it must, I am as certain of this, as of the existence of God, against the principles of whose moral government the rum traffic is an accused foe.

The moral conscience of the world is on our side, and says, the rum traffic must die. The christian civilization of the 19th, Century, declares it must die. The prayers of millions of earnest hearts going up to God, all declare it must die.

The sighs and groans and tears, of widowhood and orphanage, declare it must die.

Good man, good angels and a good, but sin avenging God, declare the rum traffic must die.

My heavenly help us to accelerate its death, and that ere we go hence, we may have the pleasure of aiding in the song of triumph that shall burden all the breezes of earth with its joy, over a world redeemed from the blasting curse of rum.

COUNTY COUNCIL.

Being unavoidably absent the last two days of the session of the County Council, we are indebted to the Standard for the following report:—

FOURTH DAY.

The Council met at 11 a.m. All the members present. The Warden in the chair. The minutes of yesterday were read and confirmed.

A communication from W. A. Reeve, C. P. was read, submitting the Grand Jury's report to the Council. It was referred to the Committee on Education and Printing.

THE REPEAL BY-LAW.

Moved by Mr. Paul, sec. by Mr. Aylsworth, that by-law No. 63, known as the Dunkin By-law, be now finally passed and signed by the Warden and Clerk.

Mr. Miller objected and moved that it be laid over until the January Session.

Mr. Lane thought they were bound to submit the by-law as soon as possible. A large petition asking that was presented.

PRICE, N. P. WOOD, S. LAKE and F. D. Davis.

The report was amended in Committee of the Whole by inserting a grant of $100 to the Model School, and afterwards adopted as amended on the following division:

Yeas—Messrs J. W. Bell, Coulter, Deller, Herring, Lane, Madden, Miller, Price, Storr, and Wright—10.
Nays—Messrs Aylsworth, W. A. Bell, Dajoe, Ham, Joyner, Parrott, Paul, and Wood—8.

ROADS AND BRIDGES.

Mr. W. A. Bell presented the following report of the Committee on Roads and Bridges.

Your Committee beg leave to report that returns have been laid before us of Expenditure on County Roads, viz.—

	APPROX.	EXPEND.
Camden,	$800	$808.58
Earnestown,	700	829.24
Richmond,	500	509.34
North Fredericksburg,	300	274.88
South "	300	351.32
Sheffield,	250	258.80
Bath,	50	50.00
Newburgh,	100	100.00
Napanee,	100	No return.

SPECIAL GRANTS.

Amherst Island,	$150	$150.00
Adolphustown,	150	No return.
Kaladar and Anglesen,	200	205.55
Denbeigh,	200	200.00

The following accounts have been laid before us, viz—Building a culvert on Napanee Road in Richmond, $16.50; repairing the covered Bridge, $75.62; building culvert in Newburgh, $8; repairing crossing in Camden, 75 cent. All of the above we recommend to be paid.

The account of E. Fretts for clearing snow last Jany be not allowed. We would recommend that J. Crawford be paid the sum of $20 for moving and straightening road in Camden as per survey of G. Lake, and also the sum of $5 to reimburse G. Lake for his time and labor. Said J. Crawford to receive this sum only on condition of not having been paid for road allowance previously.

(Signed), W. A. Bell (Chairman), G. Wright, P. W. Dajoe, A. Coulter, R. Midden, T. P. Hornick.

The report was adopted.

The Treasurer submitted the following statement of amounts paid in by the several municipalities:

	PAID	DUE
Adolphustown,	$1200	$
Amherst Island,	150	1140
Bath,	348
Camden,	2200	3800
Denbeigh &c.	102
Earnestown	3967	2033
N. Fredericksburgh	1200	9
Kaladar &c.	340
Napanee	354	1445
S. Fredericksburgh		2160
Newburgh	90	330
Richmond	2207.72	582
Sheffield		1740

Balance due $14131
Of the above sums paid $3357.72 was by orders on roads.—Adopted.

The Council adjourned until 6 A. M. to-morrow.

FIFTH DAY—SATURDAY.

At 10 A. M. the Council met. The Warden in the chair. All the members present except Mr Davis. The minutes of last meeting were read and approved.

GAOL LIBRARY.

Mr. Wright presented the 2nd report of the Committee on Education and Printing as follows:

Your committee beg leave to recommend that after consideration of the suggestion from the grand Jury that a library be purchased for use of prisoners in gaol no action be taken this session, as we are lead to believe that sufficient reading matter has always been supplied by parties more or less interested in the comfort and welfare of prisoners. (Signed) Geo Wright, N. P. Wood, S. Lane,

The report was adopted.

FINANCE.

Mr. J. W. Bell presented the report of the Finance Committee as follows:

Your Committee would recommend

Between you and I this must not allowed and longer. I wonder how ever came to befriend such a criminal. Neither John nor James nor I have found it. There is several boys the room.

6. v. 2.—Correct the following expressions:

Them nuts is mine.

v. 1.—I kind of thought that Tom there.

v. 1.—I understand $\frac{2}{3} = 1\frac{1}{2}$ to be that three two equal one and a half.

ARITHMETIC.—TWO HOURS.

1. v. 12.—How often is 6 yds. contained in 25 furlongs?

2. v. 12.—If I buy 8 bushels, pa 5 cents for every 3 quarts, and sell profit of 10 cents per gallon, find selling price of the whole.

3. v. 12.—[Omitted, as we have no requisite marks to insert.]

4. v. 12.—Reduce 2 hrs. 20 min the decimal of $\frac{3}{4}$ weeks.

5. v. 12.—A sum of money was d ed among A, B, and C. A received fifths of the sum; B, \$20 less than what was left; and the remainder, v was $\frac{1}{4}$ of A's share was given to C. the sum divided.

6. v. 12.—Trees are planted 12 apart around the sides of a rectangular field (40 rods long) containing two a find the number of trees.

7. v. 16.—I buy a farm containing acres, and sell $\frac{3}{4}$ of it for three-fifths the cost of the farm; I then sell th mander at \$60 per acre, and ne gain nor lose by the whole transac Find the cost of the farm.

8. v. 12.—Find the amount of following bill of goods:—

18 $\frac{1}{2}$ cords of wood, at \$3.50 per 16 yards of cloth, at \$1 12 $\frac{1}{2}$ per yard. bush. 25 lbs. of wheat, at \$1.20 per 1,400 feet of lumber, at \$12.50 per 1 san. 1. 65 tons 12 cwt. of coal, at 1 per cwt.

HISTORY.—ONE HOUR.

1. v. 12.—How did Canada come the possession of the French, and dis the British acquire it?

2. v. 12.—Name in order the 1 sovereigns of England, and tell what know about the reign of Queen Eliza

3. v. 12.—In whose reign were battles of Bannockburn, Culloden, Waterloo fought; between what nat and who were the principal comman on each side?

4. v. 12.—When did Queen Vic come to the throne? Whom did succeed, and what have been the p pal events in the history of Canada ing her reign?

5. v. 12.—Say what you know of Oliver Cromwell, Joan of Arc, John ton, Lord Nelson.

6. v. 12.—When did the United S become an independent nation; when did Canada become a Domini COMPOSITION.—1 $\frac{1}{2}$ HOURS.—MINIMUM PASSING, 18.

1. v. 18.—Make a continuous nar of the following:—

Two goats met. The goats met narrow bridge. The bridge was on narrow plank. A torrent roared be the bridge. One goat was black. other goat was white. The black spoke to the white goat. The black said, 'I am in a hurry. Make wa me.' The white goat answered the goat. The white goat said, 'Are y a hurry? So am I in a hurry. way for me.' The black goat was stronger goat of the two goats. black goat pushed his enemy ove bridge. The horns of the black goa been entangled in the white goat's l So the black goat was dragged over Both goats were drowned.

2. v. 18.—Express in some other the meaning of each of the foll sentences:—

Iron is one of the metals. One is a name of the black-cap titu This house belongs to my father. Cl taking his lyre, the lads joined han

3. v. 18.—Change the voice of al verbs in the following:—

The latch of a gate was broken boy; the gate was blown open by —The following which appears in the telegraphic reports sent to the daily papers in the Province, Ministrates the languishing conditions of our manufactures:—"MESSRS. FROST & WOOD are getting out 1,000 hay rakes, 1,000 reapers and mowers, and some 3,000 ploughs, horse shoes, field rollers, corn crushers and sowing machines,

—It is now pretty well known who the contestants are to be in the coming struggle for municipal honors, and the ticket will be found elsewhere in this issue. The greater part of the interest will probably centre in the fight between Messrs James and McNeill for the Mayor's chair. While both gentlemen are deservedly popular it is pretty generally conceded that the former's chances of return are better than his opponent's. He has served the town long and faithfully, is well versed in the procedure in connection with the Office, and it is but just that his services should now be rewarded by the honor he is seeking at the hands of the rate-payers.

QUEBEC WEST ELECTIONS.

The election in Quebec West, to fill a vacancy in the Legislature caused by the appointment of the member to an office under the Government, came off on Monday, and resulted in the return of Mr. Allyn, Q. C., the Conservative Candidate, by a majority of barely 40 votes. At the last election in this constituency in 1875, Mr. Hearn, was returned by a majority over the Reform candidate of nearly 250. Since confederation a Conservative representative has been returned in every instance, either by acclamation or a very large majority, and when we consider that Mr. Murphy, the Reform candidate in the present contest only announced himself on nomination day, and that the Liberals have succeeded in polling over 230 more votes than in the preceding election, it is not difficult to see in which direction the tide is setting. Had the election lasted a week longer, we might have confidently looked for a very different result, and the Tory party would not now be able to chronicle a victory, even if they are disposed to call this one. Next year when the general election takes place, the Conservative party of the Province will not have the opportunity of directing their whole strength towards one constituency, and we may expect to see Quebec West enrolled among the list of Liberal supporters. With all his backing the Government Candidate has been elected by a greatly reduced majority, and Mr. Murphy should feel gratified at the success of his week's canvass, and look forward with confidence to the approaching general Campaign, when by entering the field on a more equitable basis, his success is assured.

and keep your power dry.

The rum traffic is lowered! Die it must, I am as certain of this, as of the existence of God, against the principles of whose moral government the rum traffic is an accused foe.

The moral conscience of the world is on our side, and says, the rum traffic must die. The Christian civilization of the 19th Century, declares it must die. The prayers of millions of earnest hearts going up to God, all declare it must die.

The sighs and groans and tears, of widowhood and orphanage, declare it must die.

Good man, good angels and a good, but sin avenging God, declare the rum traffic must die.

My heavenly help us to accelerate its death, and that ere we go hence, we may have the pleasure of aiding in the song of triumph that shall burden all the breezes of earth with its joy, over a world redeemed from the blasting curse of rum.

COUNTY COUNCIL.

Being unavoidably absent the last two days of the session of the County Council, we are indebted to the Standard for the following report:—

FOURTH DAY.

The Council met at 11 a.m. All the members present. The Warden in the chair. The minutes of yesterday were read and confirmed.

A communication from W. A. Reeve, C. P. was read, submitting the Grand Jury's report to the Council. It was referred to the Committee on Education and Printing.

THE REPEAL BY-LAW.

Moved by Mr. Paul, sec. by Mr. Aylsworth, that by-law No. 63, known as the Dunkin By-law, be now finally passed and signed by the Warden and Clerk.

Mr. Miller objected and moved that it be laid over until the January Session.

Mr. Lane thought they were bound to submit the by-law as soon as possible. A large petition asking that was presented, and it was only through the graciousness of the Council that a deputation, who came with a dodge were heard. He knew Dunkin was a miserable failure. No doubt the Legislature would do a very wise thing next session, but the people did not want to wait.

Mr. Herring said that if the time for taking the vote were postponed until the Parliament assembled it would meet his purpose.

Mr. W. A. Bell thought that as the Dunkin by-law had been submitted when desired, a petition of the repeal by-law should be submitted when asked by a large petition.

The debate was continued at some length but no new points were brought out.

Yeas—Messrs. Aylsworth, J. W. Bell, W. A. Bell, Coulter, Dafeo, Davis, Ham, Joy, et al. Lane, Madden, Parrott, Paul, Price, Storr, Wood, Wright—16.

Nays—Messrs. Herring, Hornick, Miller—3.

The Council adjourned until 2 p.m.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

At 2 p.m. the Council resumed.

Mr. Wright submitted the report of the Special Committee on Exemptions concurring in the view of the circular, and recommending that the petition for the abolition of all exemptions from taxation, be signed by the Warden and Clerk. The report was adopted.

THE MODEL SCHOOL.

Before submitting the report to the Committee of Education, Mr. Wright read a communication from F. Burrows, I. P. S., addressed to the Chairman of the Committee.

Mov. by Wright, sec. by Mr. Price, that the sum of $103 be granted to the Model School for 1877. A. L. Morden, Esq., Chairman of the School Board was heard, and explained how and why the school had been established, and its probable cost for the year. The motion was paid for road allowance previously.

(Signed), W. A. Bell (Chairman), G. Wright, P. W. Dafeo, A. Coulter, R. Morden, T. P. Hornick.

The report was adopted.

The Treasurer submitted the following statement of amounts paid in by the several municipalities:

	PAID	DUE
Adolphustown,	$1200	$
Amherst Island,	150	1140
Bath,	348
Camden,	2200	3800
Denbeigh &c.	102
Eastmestown	3967	2033
N. Fredericksburgh	1200	9
Kaladar &c.	340
Napanee	354	1445
S. Fredericksburgh		2160
Newburg	90	330
Richmond	2207.72	582
Sheffield		1740

Balance due $14181

Of the above sums paid $3357.72 was by orders on roads.—Adopted.

The Council adjourned until 6 A. M. to-morrow.

FIFTH DAY—SATURDAY.

At 10 A. M. the Council met. The Warden in the chair. All the members present except Mr. Davis. The minutes of last meeting were read and approved.

GAOL LIBRARY.

Mr. Wright presented the 2nd report of the Committee on Education and Printing as follows:

Your committee beg leave to recommend that after consideration of the suggestion from the grand Jury that a library be purchased for use of prisoners in gaol no action be taken this session, as we are led to believe that sufficient reading matter has always been supplied by parties more or less interested in the comfort and welfare of prisoners. (Signed) Geo. Wright, N. P. Wood, S. Lane.

The report was adopted.

FINANCE.

Mr. J. W. Bell presented the report of the Finance Committee as follows:

Your Committee would recommend the payment of the following accounts:

W. V. Detlor, express charges, postage, and stationary, $5.30; E. Hooper, Treas. postage $6.50.

Your Committee would also recommend that the sum of $100 be granted to the Kingston General Hospital, and that the consideration of the Communication for the Eye Ear Infirmary, Toronto, be deferred until the next session of the Council.

All of which is respectfully submitted. (Signed) J. W. Bell (chairman), J. Herring, E. Storr, and J. M. Parrott.

The report was adopted.

LIQUOR PROSECUTIONS.

Mr. Herring presented the report of the Special Committee as follows:

The Special Committee on Statements of License Commissioners, beg leave to report. The claim of the License district of Addington, of $193.50 as per statement dated Aug. 10th, 1877, and the claim of the License Commissioners of Lennox, for $297.37 are correct, and your Committee would recommend that the sum be placed to the credit of the License fund, thereby complying with the provisions of the statute. (Signed) J. Herring, E. Storr, G. Wright, J. W. Bell.

The report was adopted.

Geo. Tyner was voted $20 for 8 cords of wood delivered on a contract. Chas. George was voted $5 for attendance at the Council.

VELEDICTORY.

Moved by Mr. Herring sec. by Mr. Madden, that the Chairman of the Committee on County Property be granted $10 for extra services.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. Madden, sec. by Mr. Dafeo, that the Warden be granted $10 for extra services.—Carried.

The Warden was then requested to leave the chair, and J. W. Bell was moved into it.

Moved by Mr. Paul sec. Mr. Aylsworth,

the possession of the French, and why did the British acquire it?

2. v. 12.—Name in order the 1 sovereigns of England, and tell what know about the reign of Queen Elizabeth.

3. v. 12.—In whose reign were battles of Bannockburn, Culoden, Waterloo fought; between what nations and who were the principal commanders on each side?

4. v. 12.—When did Queen Victoria come to the throne? Whom did she succeed, and what have been the principal events in the history of Canada during her reign?

5. v. 12.—Say what you know of Oliver Cromwell, Joan of Arc, John Nelson, Lord Nelson.

6. v. 12.—When did the United States become an independent nation; when did Canada become a Dominion?

COMPOSITION.—1½ HOURS.—MINIMUM PASSING, 18.

1. v. 18.—Make a continuous narrative of the following:—

Two goats met. The goats met on a narrow bridge. The bridge was of narrow plank. A torrent roared beneath the bridge. One goat was black, the other goat was white. The black spoke to the white goat. The black said, 'I am in a hurry. Make way for me.' The white goat answered the goat. The white goat said, 'Are you in a hurry? So am I in a hurry. way for me.' The black goat was stronger goat of the two goats. black goat pushed his enemy over the bridge. The horns of the black goat became entangled in the white goat's legs. So the black goat was dragged over. Both goats were drowned.

2. v. 18.—Express in some other meaning of each of the following sentences:—

Iron is one of the metals. This is a name of the black-cap tit. This house belongs to my father. Cl taking his lyre, the lads joined hands.

3. v. 18.—Change the voice of all verbs in the following:—

The latch of a gate was broken by the boy; the gate was blown open by wind; the field was left by a cow; the cow was run over by a train; the was overturned by the cow; a little was killed by the accident; so a child was killed by that mischievous boy.

4. v. 18.—Change the arrangement of the following sentences so as to arrange prepositions before the pronouns govern:—

What place come ye from? town are you going to? It is hard without a single person to talk to. year Napoleon was born in, was the year of Wellington's birth.

FOURTH BOOK AND SPELLING.—1½ HOURS.

1. "Ruin seize thee, ruthless king! Confusion on thy banners bring! Though fanned by conquest's crimson wing, They mock thee with the idle state, Helium nor hauberk's trusted mail."

Nor e'en thy virtues, tyrant, shall save thee from a cruel fate, To save thy secret soul from night, From Cambria's curse, from Caesar's hate."

(i.) v. 8.—Explain the meaning of 'ruthless,' 'helium,' 'hauberk,' and 'Cambria.'

(ii.) v. 2.—By whom is the poem supposed to be spoken.

(iii.) v. 4.—Who is its author about what time did he live?

(iv.) v. 6.—Name the 'king,' and why he is called 'ruthless.' About what time did he live?

(v.) v. 2.—Give the other name of Cambria, and tell where it is.

(vi.) v. 2.—What is the antecedent of 'they' in line four.

(vii.) v. 2.—What letter is left in 'e'en'?

(viii.) v. 6.—In what sense is each of the following words used in this poem? 'Idle,' 'state,' 'mail'?

2. "As the Great Geyser exploded once in forty hours or more, it was course, necessary that we should have pleasure; in fact, our movements were entirely depended on his. For the next or three days, therefore, like pilgrims around an ancient shrine, we patiently kept watch; but he scarcely deigned favour us with the slightest manifestations of his latent energies."—Dufferin.

This company only accepts first-class

(Signed), W. A. Dufour, A. Coulter, R. Wright, P. W. Dufour, A. Coulter, R. Menden, T. P. Hornick.

The report was adopted.

The Treasurer submitted the following statement of amounts paid in by the several municipalities:

	PAID	DUE
Adolphustown,	$1200	$
Amherst Island,	150	1140
Bath,	348
Camden,	2200	3800
Denbigh &c.	102
Earnestown	3967	2033
N. Fredricktsburgh	1200	9
Kaladar &c.	340
Napanee	354	1445
S. Fredericksburgh		2160
Newburg	90	330
Richmond	2207.72	582
Sheffield		1740

Balance due $14131
Of the above sums paid $3357.72 was by orders on roads.—Adopted.

The Council adjourned until 6 A. M. to-morrow.

SIXTH DAY—SATURDAY.

At 10 A. M. the Council met. The Warden in the chair. All the members present except Mr. Davis. The minutes of last meeting were read and approved.

GAOL LIBRARY.

Mr. Wright presented the 2nd report of the Committee on Education and Printing as follows:

Your committee beg leave to recommend that after consideration of the suggestion from the grand Jury that a library be purchased for use of prisoners in gaol no action be taken this session, as we are lead to believe that sufficient reading matter has always been supplied by parties more or less interested in the comfort and welfare of prisoners. (Signed) Geo Wright, N. P. Wood, S. Lane.

The report was adopted.

FINANCE.

Mr. J. W. Bell presented the report of the Finance Committee as follows:

Your Committee would recommend the payment of the following accounts:

W. V. Detlor, express charges, postage, and stationary, $5 30; E. Hooper, Treas. postage $5.50.

Your Committee would also recommend that the sum of $100 be granted to the Kingston General Hospital, and that the consideration of the Communication for the Eye Ear Infirmary, Toronto, be deferred until the next session of the Council.

All of which is respectfully submitted. (Signed) J. W. Bell (chairman), J. Herring, E. Storr, and J. M. Parrott.

The report was adopted.

LIQUOR PROSECUTIONS.

Mr. Herring presented the report of the Special Committee as follows:

The Special Committee on Statements of License Commissioners, beg leave to report. The claim of the License district of Addington, of $193 50 as per statement dated Aug. 10th, 1877, and the claim of the License Commissioners of Lennox, for $297 37 are correct, and your Committee would recommend that the sum be placed to the credit of the License fund, thereby complying with the provisions of the statute. (Signed) J. Herring, E. Storr, G. Wright, J. W. Bell.

The report was adopted.

Geo Tyner was voted $20 for 8 cords of wood delivered on a contract. Chas. George was voted $5 for attendance at the Council.

VELEDITORY.

Moved by Mr. Herring see by Mr. Madden, that the Chairman of the Committee on County Property be granted $10 for extra services.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. Madden, sec by Mr. Dufour, that the Warden be granted $10 for extra services.—Carried.

The Warden was then requested to leave the chair, and J. W. Bell was moved in.

Moved by Mr. Paul sec. Mr. Aylsworth,

2. v. 12.—Name in order the Tudor sovereigns of England, and tell what you know about the reign of Queen Elizabeth.

3. v. 12.—In whose reign were the battles of Bannockburn, Culloden, and Waterloo fought; between what nations; and who were the principal commanders on each side?

4. v. 12.—When did Queen Victoria come to the throne? Whom did she succeed, and what have been the principal events in the history of Canada during her reign?

5. v. 12.—Say what you know about Oliver Cromwell, Joan of Arc, John Milton, Lord Nelson.

6. v. 12.—When did the United States become an independent nation; and when did Canada become a Dominion.

COMPOSITION.—1½ HOURS.—MINIMUM FOR PASSING, 18.

1. v. 18.—Make a continuous narrative of the following:—

Two goats met. The goats met on a narrow bridge. The bridge was only a narrow plank. A torrent roared beneath the bridge. One goat was black. The other goat was white. The black goat spoke to the white goat. The black goat said, 'I am in a hurry. Make way for me.' The white goat answered the black goat. The white goat said, 'Are you in a hurry? So am I in a hurry. Make way for me.' The black goat was the stronger goat of the two goats. The black goat pushed his enemy over the bridge. The horns of the black goat had been entangled in the white goat's horns. So the black goat was dragged over also. Both goats were drowned.

2. v. 18.—Express in some other way the meaning of each of the following sentences:—

Iron is one of the metals. Chickadee is a name of the black-cap titmouse. This house belongs to my father. Cheiron taking his lyre, the lads joined hands.

3. v. 18.—Change the voice of all the verbs in the following:—

The latch of a gate was broken by a boy; the gate was blown open by the wind; the field was left by a cow; the cow was run over by a train; the train was overturned by the cow; a little child was killed by the accident; so a little child was killed by that mischievous boy.

4. v. 18.—Change the arrangement of the following sentences so as to bring the prepositions before the pronouns they govern:—

What place come ye from? What town are you going to? It is hard to be without a single person to talk to. The year Napoleon was born in, was also the year of Wellington's birth.

FOURTH BOOK AND SPELLING.—1½ HOURS.

1. "Ruin seize thee, ruthless king! Confusion on thy banners wait! Though fanned by conquest's crimson wing, They mock thee air with idle state, Helm nor hauberk's twisted mail, Nor on thy virtues, tyrant, shall avail To save thy secret soul from nightly fears. From Cambria's curse, from Cambria's tears."

(i.) v. 8.—Explain the meaning of 'ruthless,' 'helm,' 'hauberk,' and 'avail.'

(ii.) v. 2.—By whom is the passage supposed to be spoken.

(iii.) v. 4.—Who is its author, and about what time did he live?

(iv.) v. 6.—Name the 'king,' and tell why he is called 'ruthless.' About what time did he live?

(v.) v. 2.—Give the other name of Cambria, and tell where it is.

(vi.) v. 2.—What is the antecedent of 'they' in line four.

(vii.) v. 2.—What letter is left out in 'e'en'?

(viii.) v. 6.—In what sense is each of the following words used in this passage: 'Idle,' 'state,' 'mail'?

2. "As the Great Geysir explodes only once in forty hours or more, it was, of course, necessary that we should wait his pleasure; in fact, our movements entirely depended on his. For the next two or three days, therefore, like pilgrims round an ancient shrine, we patiently kept watch; but he scarcely deigned to favour us with the slightest manifestation of his latent energies."—Dufferin.

premises, even in winter, and all they need in the line of paints, varnishes, &c., at Huffman's. Mirrors, lamps, brushes, sponges, and fancy goods, besides a variety of articles suitable for the holiday season.

Groceries, Fruit, Provisions Spices, etc. Wm. Rankins.

Although Mr. Rankins has, during the past season, removed his lucrative business from Main to Centre St., yet his customers have persistently followed him, and the idea that a merchant cannot succeed off Dundas St. would be effectually dispelled by dropping in on the Captain and seeing how effectually he supplies the wants of a host of customers by selling them the choicest grades of teas, sugars, spices, and other indispensable necessities. Parties in search of Christmas luxuries should give the Captain a call.

Pruyn & Son.

This firm deals in groceries, fruit, fish, canned goods, spices, &c., which are all selected with a due regard to the excellence of quality. Messrs. Pruy's coffees cannot be surpassed, while their teas and sugars are of a corresponding grade. An extensive wholesale liquor business is carried on by this firm, but for family and sacramental purposes they have a superior quality of native grape wine, non-intoxicating, and well suited for table use. Crockery, pottery, wooden ware, and household goods in great variety.

Coxall & Patsley.

Above Grange Bros, north side. Teas, sugars, coffees, spices, fish, fruit, canned goods, crockery, wooden ware &c. Messrs Coxall & Patsley have a rapidly extending custom, their stock is always full, and gives excellent satisfaction.

Smith & Anderson.

One door below the Briscoe House. Dealers in butter, eggs, sugar-cured hams, fish, fruit, and a general stock of groceries, wooden ware, brooms, &c. Prices low, stock unexcelled, and satisfaction invariably given.

Clocks, Watches, Jewellery, Silverware &c., &c.

Fred Smith.

In Grange Block. Mr. Smith's stock of gold and silver watches, finger rings, jewellery &c., is well worth inspection. Parties purchasing jewellery for themselves or friends can have the same nicely engraved with appropriate mottoes, or the jewellery can be manufactured on the premises from any design, as Mr. Smith has every facility for doing the work in an artistic and satisfactory manner.

Fred Chinneck.

In Rennie's building, Silver and plated ware, clocks, jewelry and genuine Waltham, Am. Elgin and Russell watches of all grades. Finger rings plain, or with diamond settings, watch repairing &c. Mr. Chinneck has just received an extra addition to his stock comprising some very suitable and tasteful goods for Christmas presents all to be sold at panic prices.

Books, Toys, Fancy Goods &c.

J. S. Henderson

Dundas st. north side, Books, prints, toys and fancy goods. This is the place to take the little ones who wish to see for themselves and feast their eyes upon the novelties exposed for their special benefit. Besides the youngsters department, Mr. H. has without exception the best collection of books, periodicals, albums, portofolios, leather goods, fancy boxes, bibles &c. &c., ever offered for sale in the city. Children's sleighs, a large lot just received, games, puzzles of all kinds for evening amusement etc., etc., etc.

In addition to the above, a notice of other firms, who also make a holiday display, has been unavoidably crowded out, but will appear in our next issue.

FARM FOR SALE

About 75 acres of the

BEST LAND

—IN—

PRINCE EDWARD COUNTY,

5½ miles from Picton, and 3½ miles from Demorestville.

This is a rare chance to get a Choice Farm. It is well watered and nicely situated.

A Special Price to a purchaser before the 1st December.

Apply to

R. McDOWALL,
Demorestville,

Or at this Office.

GLOBE

Life Assurance Co.

OF NEW YORK.

Assets, - - - $5,000,000

Premium Reserve, $3,600,000

Income for Year 1876, $857,000

This company only accepts first-class risks, and is noted for the promptness with which claims are paid.

It offers insurance on the ordinary life as well as the endowment plans, besides those also known as the ten, fifteen and twenty year reserve dividend plan, by which the insured as well as all other accumulation may be withdrawn at the time specified thereby alluding a system of endowment under ordinary life rates.

See prospectus in hands of local agents

H. L. COOK,
General Agent for Ontario,
T. HOS. A. HUFFMAN,
Agent for Napanee

Napanee, 15th June, 1877. 8th

WESTERN ASSURANCE COMPANY

Incorporated 1851.

CAPITAL, - - - - - $800,000

With power to increase to $1,000,000.

FIRE AND MARINE.

HEAD OFFICE: Toronto, Ont.

President,
HON. JOHN MCLELLICH.

Vice-President,
HARLES MAGRATH.

Directors.

JAS. MICHIE, Esq. NOAH BARNHART, Esq.
JOHN FISKIN, Esq. ROBT. BEATY, Esq.
A. M. SMITH, Esq. W. A. GOODERHAM, Esq.

BARNARD HILDAN, Managing Director
FRED'K G. C. LOVELACE, Secretary,
Wm. BRIGHT, Fire Inspector,
JAMES PRINGLE, General Agent,
Marine Inspector.

Insurance: Taken at the lowest current rates on Buildings, Merchandise, and other property, against loss or damage by fire.

On Hull Cargo, and Freight against the perils of Inland Navigation.

On all Risks with the Maritime Province by sail or steam.

On goods by steamers to British Ports.

W. V. DETLOR,
Agent for Napanee

[illegible]

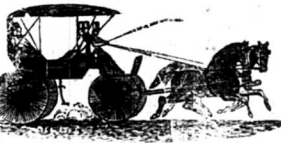

W. A. REEVE, Clerk

Perry block near East street,
 Patent medicines, dye stuffs,
 Brushes, pertumery, fancy Candles, stationery, glass and porce-
 &c. Mr. Perry's stock of lamps

[illegible]

Corall & Paisley.
Grange Bros, north side. Teas offees, spices, fish, fruit, canned ockery, wooden ware &c. Messrs

!County of Lennox and Addington.

POTTER BROS., LIVERY AND SALE STABLES
(ADJOINING THE ERISCH HOUSE.)
NAPANEE, ONT.
We keep nothing but First-Class
Horses and Vehicles, and at REASONABLE Prices

even in winter, will find all in the line of paints, varnishes, Hufman's. Mirrors, lamps, sponges, and fancy goods, variety of articles suitable for the season.

Fruit, Provisions Spices, etc.
Wm. Rankins.

Mr. Rankins has, during the season, removed his lucrative business to Centre St., yet his customers have persistently followed him, so that a merchant cannot succeed on Dundas St. would be effectively by dropping in on the Captain, who how effectively he supplies a host of customers by selling the choicest grades of teas, spices, and other indispensable. Parties in search of Christmas should give the Captain a ru deals in groceries, fruit, fish, goods, spices, &c., which are all with a due regard to the excellence. Messrs. Pruyn's coffees surpassed, while their teas and of a corresponding grade. A wholesale liquor business is on by this firm, but for family necessaries they have a quality of native grape wine, deating, and well suited for table ockery, pottery, wooden ware, and hold goods in great variety.

Pruyn & Son.

Cornall & Patsley.

Grange Bros, north side. Teas, coffee, spices, fish, fruit, canned ockery, wooden ware &c. Messrs. Patsley have a rapidly extending, their stock is always full and excellent satisfaction.

Smith & Anderson.

four below the Brisco House, in butter, eggs, sugar-cured hams, t, and a general stock of groceries, ware, brooms, &c. Prices low, excellent, and satisfaction invari-

Watches, Jewellery, Silverware, &c., &c.,

Fred Smith,

large Block. Mr. Smith's stock and silver watches, finger rings, y &c., is well worth inspection. Purchasing Jewellery for themselves and friends can have the same nicely fitted with appropriate mottoes, or they can be manufactured on the spot from any design, as Mr. Smith's facility for doing the work in the most satisfactory manner.

Fred Chinneck.

andie's building, Silver and plated ocks, jewelry and genuine Walth. in and Russell watches of all Finger rings plain, or with settings, watch repairing &c. much has just received an extra to his stock comprising some utiable and tasteful goods for is presents all to be sold at panic oks, Toys, Fancy Goods, etc.

J. S. Henderson

as st. north side, Books, prints, l fancy goods. This is the place the little ones who wish to see for ves and feast their eyes upon the s exposed for their especial bened- the youngsters department, has without exception the best n of books, periodicals, alburns, aies, leather goods, fancy boxes c. &c., ever offered for sale in r. Children's sleighs, a large lct sired, games, puzzles of all kinds ing amusement etc., etc., etc.

dition to the above, a notice of ms, who also make a holiday has been unavoidably crowded will appear in our next issue.

100, Ladings.

FARM FOR SALE CAMPAIGN OPENED FOR 1878.

BEST LAND Western Advertiser & Weekly Liberal.

Reduced Price Premium to every Sub- scribe. Harvest for Agents.

The Fifteenth Annual Campaign of the Western Advertiser and Weekly Liberal is now under full headway. Hundreds of new names are pouring in from all parts of Canada. We want 5000 new subscribers during this season. Plenty of room for 1000 more agents. Our terms to agents, and inducements to subscribers will be found in anything yet offered.

BILL OF FARE.

- 1.—Best general newspaper in Canada.
- 2.—Balance of your fee to new subscribers.
- 3.—Splendid Engraving to every subscriber.
- 4.—Agricultural Department by W. F. Clarke.
- 5.—Teacher's Department—Best in Canada.
- 6.—Ladies' "Fashion and Kitchen" column.
- 7.—Music, pictures, chess, humor, etc.
- 8.—Full base ball, cricket and sporting news.
- 9.—Complete Farm and Garden Record.
- 10.—Reliable and copious Market Reports.

TERMS FOR 1878.—$1.00, with engraving Landowner's "Sanctuary," 2 1/2 inches. $1.50, without engraving. Postage prepaid.

Liberal terms to agents. For free sample copies, or full instructions to agents, address:

JOHN CAMERON & Co.,
"Advertiser" Office, London, Ont.

GLOBE Life Assurance Co.

OF NEW YORK.

Assets, - - - $5,000,000
Premium Reserve, $3,600,000
Income for Year 1876, $857,000

This company only accepts first-class risks, and is noted for the promptness with which claims are paid.

It offers insurance on the ordinary life as well as the endowment plans, besides those also known as the ten, fifteen and twenty-year reserve dividend plan, by which the reserves as well as all other accumulations may be withdrawn at the time specified, thereby affording a system of endowment under ordinary life rates.

See prospectus in hands of local agents.

H. L. COOK,
General Agent for Ont.
T. HOS. A. HUFFMAN,
Ag't. f. r Napanee
Napanee, 15th June, 1877. 8 tf.

WESTERN ASSURANCE COMPANY

Incorporated 1851.

CAPITAL, - - - - - $800,000
With power to increase to $1,000,000.

FIRE AND MARINE.

HEAD OFFICE: Toronto, Ont.

President.
HON. JOHN MCMEURICH.
Vice-President.
HARLEY MAGRATH.
Directors.

JAS. MICHIE, Esq. NOAH BARNHART, Esq.
JOHN FISKIN, Esq. ROBT. BEATY, Esq.
A. M. SMITH, Esq. Wm. GOODERHAM, Esq.
BARNARD HILDAN, Managing Director
FRED'K G. C. LOVELAKE, Secretary.
Wm. BRIGHT, Fire Inspector.
JAMES PRINGLE, General Agent.
Marine Inspector.

Insurance.—To be at the lowest current rates on Buildings, Merchandise, and other property, against loss or damage by fire.

On Hull Cargo, and Freight against the perils of Inland Navigation.

On all Risks with the Maritime Provinces by sail or steam.

On Voyages by steamers to British Ports.

W. V. DETLOR,
Agent for Napanee

Reduced Price Premium to every Sub- scribe. Harvest for Agents.

BILL OF FARE.

- 1.—Best general newspaper in Canada.
- 2.—Balance of your fee to new subscribers.
- 3.—Splendid Engraving to every subscriber.
- 4.—Agricultural Department by W. F. Clarke.
- 5.—Teacher's Department—Best in Canada.
- 6.—Ladies' "Fashion and Kitchen" column.
- 7.—Music, pictures, chess, humor, etc.
- 8.—Full base ball, cricket and sporting news.
- 9.—Complete Farm and Garden Record.
- 10.—Reliable and copious Market Reports.

TERMS FOR 1878.—$1.00, with engraving Landowner's "Sanctuary," 2 1/2 inches. $1.50, without engraving. Postage prepaid.

Liberal terms to agents. For free sample copies, or full instructions to agents, address:

JOHN CAMERON & Co.,
"Advertiser" Office, London, Ont.

MANHOOD: HOW LOST, HOW RESTORED!!

WE have recently published a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the causes and permanent cure (without mediocrity) of Nervous Debility, Mental and Physical incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc., resulting from excesses.

Price, in a sealed envelope, only 6 cents, or two postage stamps.

The celebrated author, of this admirable Essay clearly demonstrates, from thirty years' successful practice, that alarming consequences may be radically cured without the aid of numerous and often injurious medicines, or the application of the knife, and without the aid of a single drop of opium, and in a few days, the system is restored to its original state, and the patient is enabled to pursue his usual avocations with perfect ease and confidence.

This Essay should be in the hands of every young man, and every old man, who has been guilty of excess.

DR. CULVERWELL'S MEDICAL OFFICE,
Office No. 1, East 1st Ave. St., New York, U.S.A.

Mitchell's Belladonna Improved India Rubber Porous Plaster.

There never has been a time when the healing of so many different diseases has been caused by outward application as the present. It is an undisputed fact that over half of the entire population of the globe resort to the use of ordinary plasters.

The principal ingredients used in making these Plasters are Gum Olibanum—or better known as the Frankincense of the Bible—Rubber and Burgundy Pitch, which, when scientifically compounded with the pure medicinal gums, is found to be one of the greatest healing mediums ever brought before the human race.

They are acknowledged by all who have used them to act quicker than any other Plaster they ever before tried, and that one of these Plasters will do more real service than a hundred of the ordinary kind. All other plasters are slow of action, and require to be worn continually to effect a cure; but with these it is entirely different; the instant once applied the patient will feel its effect.

They possess all the soothing, warming, supporting and strengthening qualities of all other Plasters. Many who have been relieved of RHEUMATISM, TIC DOLOREUX, and various other pains in the KIDNEYS, BREAST or SIDE, and believe it is solely done by the electrical qualities which the Porous Plasters contain, and which is imparted to the system, thus restoring them to a healthy condition.

They are very soft and pliable, still very adhesive; and a sure cure for WEAK BACKS, PAINS IN THE SIDE AND BREAST; and are invaluable to those who have a COLD of long standing and often prevents CONSUMPTION. Some even tell us they believe they were entirely cured by the use of them of a long-extended Consumption.

Prepared by GEO. E. MITCHELL, Lowell, Mass.

Sold by all Druggists.

POTTER BROS., LIVERY AND SALE STABLES
(ADJOINING THE BRISCO HOUSE.)
NAPANEE, ONT.
We keep nothing but First-Class Horses and Vehicles, and at REASONABLE PRICES

CATARRH
CANNOT be cured by any Washes, or Local Applications. The only successful cases of Catarrh of the Bladder, have been entirely cured by CONSTITUTIONAL CATARRH REMEDY. For sale at $1.00 per bottle. Send for Circular. Write to Catarrh to T. J. B. HARDING, Napanee, Ont.

Five Years' Success. Cures of Four Bottles. Constitutional Catarrh Remedy. Is in Chondria, Bone and Lung, and Drooping in Throat Disappear.

Dr. T. J. B. HARDING.
Dear Sir.—Being desirous that others may know something of the merits of your Constitutional Catarrh Remedy, I wish to inform you that it has done for me, I am 31 years old, had been out of health for about five years. I had employed three or four different doctors, and tried various medicines, without receiving any permanent benefit, but continued rather to grow worse, until last fall, when I had become so bad as to be unable to do an hour's work at a time. Had severe soreness and pain under the shoulder blades and through the shoulders, with very lame back, and a feeling in my right lung as though there was a weight bearing it down, with continual dropping in the throat and down upon the lungs. Such was my condition when I commenced to take your Catarrh Remedy, one bottle of which eased my pains and gave me an improved appetite, and after taking four bottles I was restored to health, so as to be able to resume hard and continuous work, such as chopping and clearing land at which I have been engaged the past season. My recovery I attribute solely with God's blessing, to the use of your Catarrh Remedy. Yours truly,
T. J. B. HARDING.
AGE FOR REMEDY: EIGHT DOLLARS PER BOTTLE. REMEDY AND TAKE AT ONCE.

Price $1 per bottle. Send for Circular. Write to Catarrh to T. J. B. HARDING, Napanee, Ont.

KNOW THYSELF

By reading and practicing the inestimable truths contained in the best medical book ever issued, entitled SELF-PRESERVATION Price only $1. Sent by mail on receipt of price. It treats of Exhausted Vitality, Premature Decline, Nervous and Physical Debility, and the endless concomitant ills and untold miseries that result therefrom, and contains more than 50 original prescriptions, any one of which is worth the price of the book. This book was written by the most extensive and probably the most skillful practitioner in America, to whom was awarded a gold and jeweled medal by the National Medical Association. A Pamphlet, illustrated with the very finest Steel Engravings—a marvel of art and beauty—sent FREE to all. Send for it at once. Address FEARNEY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, No. 4 Bulfinch St., Boston, Mass.

HEAL THYSELF

A BARGAIN.

A No. 9 Columbia Cooking Stove

With Reservoir, Nearly New,

FOR SALE CHEAP.

With or without utensils. For further particulars, apply at the EXPRESS Office, 24-2in.

To Let!

BRICK Dwelling House in Napanee, next to W. A. Reeves, for one or two years, with a good Garden. For further particulars, apply to E. S. LAPUM, Life Ins. Agt., Napanee, or SIDNEY WARNER.

Wilton, Dec. 31, 1877.

THE EXPRESS.

NAPANEE, DEC. 21st, 1877.

Wine is a mocker; strong drink is raging; whosoever is deceived thereby is not wise. Therefore be not deceived by parties telling you that their Stoves are better than Boyle's. My stoves are made of the best material (not of old iron, as is asserted by others in the trade), and are also as good, if not better, because they are heavier, and consequently throw out more heat, and have given good satisfaction. Give me a call before purchasing elsewhere. No connection with any other establishment in town, but manufacture and repair fireware of all kinds, by first-class Mechanics, and do Job Work of all kinds, in my line, and keep a large assortment of Cooking, Parlor Cook, Box and Coal-heating, and Double Stoves, Extra castings for stoves; stoves refitted. Picton, and Plough-shares of all kinds. Yours truly, H. BOYLE, agent, in William Miller's old stand, opposite Webster & Boyes.

—The Hon. B. J. Cartwright, was in town on Monday.

—The roads are in a fearful state which have a depressing effect on trade.

—Hang up your stocking, but see that the hole in the toe is darned.

—The Whig gives an excellent report of Dr. Hartley's lecture on Oddfellowship in Kingston last week.

—The present open weather is rather discouraging to carriage makers, who have a large lot of cutters in stock.

—The creditors of the Grange Estate have had another meeting, but no definite steps towards a settlement have yet been taken.

—Mrs. Hickson, Supt. of the Grand Trunk passed through by "special" on Sunday about 10 a. m., en route from Toronto to Montreal.

—The total grain shipments from Belleville for the past season were 586,417 bushels, an increase of 190,000 bushels over last year. All but 60,000 bushels went to foreign ports.

—The Intelligencer says that, Mr. Davis Hagerman, of the 3rd concession of Sidney, brought into this office, a small cake of Maple Sugar made on the 17th of December of this year. When was this feat accomplished before?

—The Eastern Ontario Educational Association will hold its next meeting at Brockville, on the 26th, 27th, 28th, inst., at which Dr. Hodgins, and others will deliver a lecture. We understand several of our local educationists will be present.

—We are sorry to have to announce the death of Joseph W. Morden, Esq., of Napanee, at the advanced age of 88 years. He was an old landmark of these parts, and was highly respected by his large circle of acquaintances and friends, who will regret to learn of his death.

—Fifty-one candidates were present at the recent High School Entrance Examinations in Napanee. Twelve candidates have been writing at the Intermediate Examination this week, and four for second class teachers certificates.

—Sheriff Gillespie, of Picton, accompanied by constable Cardwell, passed through Napanee on Thursday en route for Kingston in charge of the prisoner Lalone, who has been sentenced to 10 years in the Penitentiary for burglary etc., in Picton. They arrived at the Campbell House about 11 A. M.

The lecture in the Town Hall, on Tuesday evening last under the auspices of the 'Prentice Boys and other Orange associations of the town, by the Rev. A. Young, attracted a large and intelligent audience. The lecture is pronounced by those who were present, one of the ablest effort of the Rev. gentleman. About $20 profits were realized.

—A remarkable instance of a horse being frightened to death, occurred in town on Tuesday last. The animal was left tied on the street near Craig's mill, when

...Venison is already arriving in town from the backwoods.

—Voting on the Repeal Bill in Lennox and Addington will take place during the first week in February: probably on the 6th.

The Ticket.

The ticket for the Municipal Election is nearly complete. It now stands as follows:—

Mayor—Chas. James and A. McNeill.
Reeve—John Herring, and probably J. C. Huffman.

Deputy Reeve—C. R. Miller, R. Denison, A. H. Roe.

East Ward—W. Joy, H. L. Geddis, Thos. Gibbard, S. McL. Dator, W. A. Rose, R. J. Wales.

Centre Ward—Geo. Cliff, E. M. Fralick, W. S. Williams spoken of.

West Ward—Chas. Lane, Thos. Carscallen, Samuel Huff, D. H. Preston spoken of.

True Blues.

At a regular meeting of True Blues, No 18, the following officers were elected and duly installed:

W. M., Bro. Wm. Spencer.
D. M., Bro. Fred Lafferty.
Secretary, Bro. Wm. Fralick.
Treasurer, Bro. Wm. Ferguson,
Chaplain, W. C. Bruton.
D. of C. Bro. Thomas Bowen
Outside Tyler, Bro. Robt. Lowery.
Inside Tyler, Bro. Chas. Paisley.
1st Com., Bro. M. S. Plumley
2nd " Bro. Geo. Burley.
3rd " Bro. Edwin Daly.
4th " Bro. Robert Grange.
5th " Bro. Sam. Legate.

Oyster Supper.

After the adjournment of the Council on Monday evening last, the members of the board, together with the representatives of the press, and one or two others at the invitation of C. James, Esq., adjourned to Mr. Jamison's to partake of an oyster supper. The most delicious bivalves were furnished in abundance, and partaken of, after which a series of toasts were proposed by Mayor Williams, and responded to in the most genial manner by the several candidates for municipal honors. The evening passed off so very pleasantly, that the wee sma' hours came stealing upon the party before they were aware of it. All had to thank Squire James and "mine host" for a very enjoyable evenings experience.

M. E. Church.

The eleventh lecture in the course to young people will be delivered on next Sunday evening by the pastor. Subject, "SMALL THINGS."

Mr. W. Anderson, the efficient superintendent of the Sabbath School of the M. E. Church, is preparing the scholars under his care for public concert to take place about Christmas time. We are certain that what Mr. A., undertakes will be well and efficiently done.

The time is drawing near when the M. E. Church Society has promised to give a free Oyster Supper, to the families composing the congregation, and to those friends and contributors who so efficiently aided in freeing the church from its indebtedness.

We doubt not that the ladies of this church will furnish a magnificent spread on that occasion. They have deserved the wide spread reputation they have attained for the elegant entertainments they are wont to give. We have never known them to be surpassed in the taste evinced, or in the abundance of the toothsome supply provided. We anticipate the occasion will be one long to be remembered.

—LA TOUR DE NESLE.—As was announced, the Napanee Dramatic Club

Miss Frank Stratton of Morven, has been engaged as teacher in our school at a liberal salary. She comes well recommended, and is to commence duties after New Years. We understand, she has proffered to teach a limited number instrumental music.

MORVEN.

[To the Editor of the Napanee Express.]

Mr. Frank Vanslyck, has changed farms with Fred Kaylor Esq., retaining the old homestead. His children will not now be obliged to sing. "Mother is the old home lonely."

The Express comes to hand in its improved style regularly, and is becoming more appreciated than ever.

The people hereabouts are beginning to make preparations for the on-laught at the coming tea-meeting. Economy says, don't go with too full stomachs.

The popcorn festival in the M. E. Church here, seems to be all the talk since the appearance of those extraordinarily gotten up, bills of yours announcing the same. Suppose you tell your readers, if they want a first class entertainment, to come down and enjoy this for 20 cents.

You should just see how the large flocks of Turkeys hang their heads and weep, as Christmas approaches. They seem to be holding consultation, as to which one of the many is to be left to endure the hardships of another winter.

HAMBURG.

[From our special correspondent.]

It is now fully announced that Rev. Joseph Young, of Picton, is to deliver his far famed lecture on "True Manhood," here in the M. E. Church on New Year's Eve, in connection with the juvenile concert. This lecture is very highly spoken of by the Ottawa and Picton papers, where the Rev. Gentleman has delivered it to crowded audiences. The entire entertainment, only 20 cents. No doubt we shall have a crowd.

—The Grand Trunk will issue return tickets at special rates, during the holidays.

TCWN COUNCIL.

The Council met on Monday evening, present, John Herring, Reeve, C. Mill r, Deputy Reeve, and Councillors, McNeill, Fralick, Carscallen, Cliff, Lane, Roe, and Joy.

In the absence of the Mayor the Reeve occupied the chair.

The minutes of the last session were read and approved.

PETITIONS.

From Edward Root asking time to pay taxes. Granted by his giving a note for the amount payable May 1st.

S. M. Bartels asking remission of taxes on a lot formerly owned by him but which he disposed of before the assessment was made. The collector was directed to collect the taxes by sale of some lumber on the premises.

Napanee Fire Brigade asking that their salaries be voted and it would be done before the next session.—Granted.

J. Evans asking for time to pay his taxes. The collector was directed to take from him a joint note signed by himself and brother.

Wm. Allan asking remission of dog taxes as he lived outside the town.—Granted.

Arozeab Pringle asking remission of taxes.—Granted.

The collector presented a statement of those parties who were assessed as owners of dogs, and who had removed from the town.

FINANCE COMMITTEE.

Coun. James presented the report of the Finance Committee, A. F. Macpherson in behalf of the owners of the land

Illegal Liquor Selling.

Mrs. Johnston of Bath, Mayor Williams, charged with liquor. Fined $40 or 60 days.

Mr. C. Ferrin of Bath, for a fence, was fined $20, which he

Mr. Chas. E. Perry, a pump-Napanee, was summonsed before James last Friday, for unlawful liquor. He disobeyed the summons proceeded to Belleville, where he rested through a telegram from Allan to the Belleville Chief of Jerry brought him down on night, and on Wednesday he was by Mr. James to pay $35 or He chose the latter alternative, forth with escorted to Castle where he was welcomed with op by Messrs. Walker, White and three experienced retailers of st beverages, who are at present s in that redoubtable stronghold.

At least one offender is arre punished every week, for pe and practically f-stering his Ant proclivities.

"She calls herself Mrs. Letitia and is so superior in manners th ance to the old fisherman, that some curiosity to tell. I tho might have been able to gratify if the name is familiar.—"

He paused, and look inquiringl fair companion, who mused aw relying.

Very Natural.

When a person has proved a and found it good, and anse purpose for which it is intended, not readily abandon it for one of reputation, or concerning which nothing. We are led to make remarks owing to the course al sued by those who have used t brated and valuable horse known as "Darley's Condition," and Arabian Heave Remedy," so well pleased with it that they use any other; many have wait weeks until the agent could obta supply. There is nothing equa a condition medicine, or for a plairt affecting the wind of

Remember the name, and see signature of Hurd & Co. is on ea age. Northrop & Lyman, Toron proprietors for Canada. Sole

Medicine Dealers.

BE WISE—Too often a cold

cough is considered a very c triding affair, just as well left came, and hence systematically until a simple curable affection

verted into a serious pulmonary The more prudent, aware that a cold should never be trifled with ly use "Bryan's Pulmonic," which have sustained their r for over twenty years. They ar efficacious, and exert a most influence on all the bronchial, monary organs. Sold by all and country merchants at 25 box.

Owing to the representations treal merchants, the Grand Tr returned to the old summer rates of three years ago, and the to be a prospect of an amended, through freights from Liverpool.

THE ALTAR.

SHORTS--GARRISON—On the 12 ember 1877, by the Rev. Danic at his residence, Napanee Alexander Shorts, of Bay Conference, to Miss Deborah Jane Garrison, both of Mill P.

(From a Correspondent.)

and was highly respected by his large circle of acquaintances and friends, who will regret to learn of his death.

—Fifty-one candidates were present at the recent High School Entrance Examinations in Napanee. Twelve candidates have been writing at the Intermediate Examination this week, and four for second class teachers certificates.

—Sheriff Gillespie, of Picton, accompanied by constable Cardwell, passed through Napanee on Thursday en route for Kingston in charge of the prisoner Lalone, who has been sentenced to 10 years in the Penitentiary for burglary etc., in Picton. They arrived at the Campbell House about 11 A. M.

The lecture in the Town Hall, on Tuesday evening last under the auspices of the 'Prentice Boys and other Orange associations of the town, by the Rev. A. Young, attracted a large and intelligent audience. The lecture is pronounced by those who were present, one of the ablest efforts of the Rev. gentleman. About $20 profits were realized.

—A remarkable instance of a horse being frightened to death, occurred in town on Tuesday last. The animal was left tied on the street near Craig's mill, when a train going west rushed out of the cut, and the horse was so terribly frightened that it died on the spot almost instantly. We were unable to learn the name of the owner.

—There being a large number of subscribers in arrears for the EXPRESS, duly authorized agent will undertake the collection of those accounts, and we trust our friends will meet the demands promptly to enable us to carry out certain improvements anticipated, and to successfully carry on the work of publishing a first-class newspaper.

—To-morrow ev'n'g a grand musical and literary entertainment will be given in the Town Hall, the whole of the proceeds to be devoted to getting up a Christmas Dinner for the poor of the Town. Beyond the nature of the enterprize there will be the inducements of a good programme. Turn out and fill the Hall to overflowing.

—The members of the Methodist Church Murvale, on the Wilton circuit have arranged to hold their annual Tea Meeting on Tuesday, Jan'y 1st, at six o'clock. They promise a rich treat in music and addresses in addition to the good things provided by the ladies. You will be heartily welcomed to spend the first evening of the year with them. Let there be a large attendance.

—The present season is unprecedented in the recollection of the oldest inhabitant. The Bay yet remains open, and although most of the steamers are laid up, still some vessels continue navigation. On the 13th the schooner Kate was being loaded with grain at Ferry Point, and the Nellie Teresa was expected to arrive at Belleville on the 18th December. Napanee river is yet open, and all are wondering if we are to have any winter this year.

—Notwithstanding the fact that the weather is not very encouraging to the parties who purpose running the skating rink, they are making every preparation and as soon as the ice takes we may expect to see a rink erected. Oliver Culley and Jasper Scider are to have the management under the direction of an efficient committee. T. A. Huffman, Esq., will act as Treasurer, and the public may rely on the affair being conducted to their entire satisfaction. We hope our townspeople will liberally assist the enterprise, that recreation may be provided for the long winter months.

—We have to announce that Mr. E. W. Scott, has opened a new grocery and provision store, in the shop lately occupied by F. Chimneck's jewelry store. Having called on him on Monday we were pleased to see that he has a large lot of everything usually kept in such an establishment, everything about is neat, clean and fresh. We would recommend our readers to give him a call, and be the eleven lecture in the course to young people will be delivered on next Sunday evening by the pastor. Subject. "SMALL THINGS."

Mr. W. Anderson, the efficient superintendent of the Sabbath School of the M. E. Church, is preparing the scholars under his care for public concert to take place about Christmas time. We are certain that what Mr. A., undertakes will be well and efficiently done.

The time is drawing near when the M. E. Church Society has promised to give a free Oyster Supper, to the families composing the congregation, and to those friends and contributors who so efficiently aided in freeing the church from its indebtedness.

We doubt not that the ladies of this church will furnish a magnificent spread on that occasion. They have deserved the wide spread reputation they have attained for the elegant entertainments they are wont to give. We have never known them to be surpassed in the taste evinced, or in the abundance of the toothsome supply provided. We anticipate the occasion will be one long to be remembered.

—LA TOUR DE NESLE.—As was announced, the Napanee Dramatic Club presented the above drama at the Music Hall, on Thursday evening last. There was a large turn-out, the Hall being comfortably filled, and the proceeds fully repaid the Club for the money expended in getting up this elaborate presentation. We can safely say that throughout the play each and every one surpassed any of their previous efforts. The play is a very heavy one for amateurs to undertake, but in the distribution the cast of characters was well arranged, and consequently, the entertainment passed off to the entire satisfaction of those on the boards, and to the gratification of the audience. The dresses of the Company were magnificent, seldom surpassed on more pretentious stages, while the scenery, specially prepared for this drama, was very appropriate, and did honor to the scenic artist of the Club. W. D. Madden, as 'Buridan', dressed as a young nobleman of by-gone days, self-possessed in his manner, easy and impressive in his address, was the hero of the hour, while Mrs. J. S. Robinson, as 'Queen Marguerite,' ably seconded his efforts. Both surpassed any of their previous efforts especially in the prison scene. The audience was held spell-bound with interest as the plot was revealed—the expression of triumph on the countenance of the Queen as she entered the cell to taunts the prisoner, followed by her anguish and despair, and the fatal compact of 'We, his Queen and Prime Ministers,' was pictured to the life. J. S. Robinson and Geo. Mc'oy sustained the characters of the two unfortunate twin brothers, with force and animation. A. Richardson, however, more than surprised his audience as the ruffianly keeper of 'La Tour de Nesle,' and the nefarious agent of the Queen's misdeeds. His companion, J. McAllister, as 'Landri,' was a fitting representative of a human fiend seeking for nought but blood. F. Mills was very happy in his character of 'Count Svisoy,' and called forth an occasional smile during the revealing of the heavier portion of the plot. The remainder of the characters were well sustained throughout. We have heard the hope expressed that the Club might reproduce the play on another occasion, and we have only to add that should they conclude to do so, even a larger audience than was present on Thursday evening last, awaits them. The farce of 'Hunting a Turtle,' was first-class. J. S. Robinson, as 'Timothy Dandylin,' kept up an almost continual roar of laughter, while Mrs. J. S. Robinson performed the very difficult part of Mrs. Turtle, admirably.

Hay Bay.

(From our Special Correspondent.)

DEAR EDITOR.—Thinking that some of the many readers of your valuable paper might be interested with a few items from Hay Bay, we venture to write them.

The minutes of the last session were read and approved.

PETITIONS.

From Edward Root asking time to pay taxes. Granted by his giving a note for the amount payable May 1st.

S. M. Bartels asking remission of taxes on a lot formerly owned by him but which he disposed of before the assessment was made. The collector was directed to collect the taxes by sale of some lumber on the premises.

Napanee Fire Brigade asking that their salaries be voted and it would be done before the next session.—Granted.

J. Evans asking for time to pay his taxes. The collector was directed to take from him a joint note signed by himself and brother.

Wm. Allan asking remission of dog taxes as he lived outside the town.—Granted.

Arozabab Pringle asking remission of taxes.—Granted.

The collector presented a statement of those parties who were assessed as owners of dogs, and who had removed from the town.

FINANCE COMMITTEE.

Coun. James presented the report of the Finance Committee, A. F. Macpherson in behalf of the owners of the land signified their willingness to accept $50 in time of all demands for land occupied in the widening of Newburgh Road. On motion of Mr. Roe, sec. by Mr. McNeill the Chairman of the Finance Committee was directed to pay $50 to A. Macpherson for the land, and take a receipt from all parties interested.

On the petition of James Wilson, referred to them they recommended that an approved note be taken for the amount of taxes payable in six months.

James C. Culhane asking for reduction in taxes, they recommended a reduction of $1000 in the assessment.

They also reported having procured five or six loads of stone for the employment of traps.

The following accounts were recommended to be paid.

J. C. Huffman, $16.89.

H. W. Perry, $46.13.

The report was adopted.

TOWN PROPERTY.

The report of the Committee on Town Property was presented stating that the necessary alterations and repairs on engine house and Town Hall had been made, and presented the accounts in detail recommending payment.—Adopted.

The report also recommended the enlargement of the Town Hall by taking away the partition from the ante-room, and constructing raised seats in its place. Also recommending the building of a small shed in the rear of the engine house for storing articles in connection with the fire apparatus. The two items were not adopted.

In reply to Mr. Miller, the Reeve stated a room was nearly completed, and that at an early date a Hook and Ladder Company would be formed.

Mr. McNeill stated that the Gas Company had informed the Committee that next year they would furnish gas to the town for $20 per foot, as this was considerably in advance of last years charges, it was moved by Mr. Roe that the Committee be instructed to get all the information possible as to what sum was paid in other towns and report at the next meeting.—Carried.

Mr. Roe stated that the oil-cloth suits for the firemen had arrived, and the Company were well pleased with them.

Mayor Williams came in at this time and took the chair.

Mr. Roe introduced a By-law appointing Philip Embury to preside at the nomination for Mayor, Reeve, and Deputy Reeve on the 31st inst. The By-law was passed through its second stage and finally engrossed.

Mr. James introduced a By-law appointing the places for holding the Municipal Elections, and naming the Returning Officers, as follows:—

East Ward—John A. Hawley's Shop; A. Hecce, Ret. Off.

Centre Ward, South Division—Town Hall; P. Embury Ret. Off.

North Division—Andrew Fraser's Shop.

ough is considered a very trifling affair, just as well left to come, and hence systematically until a simple curable affection verted into a serious pulmonary. The more prudent, aware that a cold should never be trifled with ly use "Bryan's Pulmonic" which have sustained their r for over twenty years. They are efficacious, and exert a most influence on all the bronchial muary organs. Sold by all and country merchants at 25 box.

Owing to the representations treat merchants, the Grand Tr returned to the old summer rates of three years ago, and the to be a prospect of an amended, through freights from Liverpool

THE ALTAR.

SHORTS.—GARRISON—On the 12 ember 1877, by the Rev. Dani at his residence, Napanee Alexander Shorts, of Bay Conference, to Miss Debor Jane Garrison, both of Mill P

(From a Correspondent.)

SIMMONS.—DETROIT—On Wednesday Not at the Beaver Lake Parsonage, by Thompson, M. B. Simmons, and Miss Elizabeth Dettlor, Newburgh. STORRINGS.—SWEET—On Saturday Dec at Robin, by the Rev. Mr. Shih Mr. Marcus Storings, Beaver I field, to Miss Eleanor Sweet, Cam

Friend Storings, having been at Seeking, for one to be met. Gladly I feel that he found her, And she was Miss Eleanor Sweet May him an her while life abide Possess the heaven descended an And all their care in him confid Who died to save from sin. May sin and sorrow far be driven May they be cheered by the erf Of a blissful home above in heav Risen, to dwell therein.

Dec. 13 1877.

THE TOMB.

MORDEN.—Died on the 20th D 1877, at his residence, Napanee Joseph W. Morden, aged 80 18 days.

The funeral will take place residence at 2 p. m. to-day.

DERBY.—In Tyndinaby, on 1 inst., Michael Derby, aged 75

AT REST.

ASHTON.—At his residence, Ba on Tuesday, December 4th, 18 Thomas Ashton, M. D., aged

The deceased was well and fa known throughout the county of and Addington, having lived the the period of half a century, duri time he had observed the growth velpement of the county, and r a warm affection for it and its He never sought notoriety, but c in kindness and what was so bright in life. He was one of th Free-Masons in this country, and dard authority in all that pertain Mystic Art. In sickness, he was gentle, and very skilful physici his loss to the community is irr. He was the friend of the poor an and many a time he has driven fierce storms to alleviate their su when he well knew there was n pecuniary reward. He trusted f ter and more lasting reward at th of the Great Architect of the U and his peaceful end was indicat he did not trust in vain. The of Maple Leaf Lodge No. 119 A. M., while called upon to drop a t the grave of their departed brot it their duty to sympathize wit whose grief is infinitely great theirs possibly can be, and thei is that the Grand Geometrician Universe will be a husband to th and a father to the fatherless, u Gavel of Death summons them t union in that land where separ unknown. He was interred with honou at St. John's Church, I the members of Maple Leaf Lodge ed by the brethren of 'Prince of 'Prince Arthur,' and 'Filius ments anticipated, and to successfully carry on the work of publishing a first-class newspaper.

—To-morrow ev'n'g a grand musical and literary entertainment will be given in the Town Hall, the whole of the proceeds to be devoted to getting up a Christmas Dinner for the poor of the Town. Beyond the nature of the enterprise there will be the inducements of a good programme. Turn out and fill the Hall to overflowing.

—The members of the Methodist Church Murvale, on the Wilton circuit have arranged to hold their annual Tea Meeting on Tuesday, Jan'y 1st, at six o'clock. They promise a rich treat in music and addresses in addition to the good things provided by the ladies. You will be heartily welcomed to spend the first evening of the year with them. Let there be a large attendance.

—The present season is unprecedented in the recollection of the oldest inhabitant. The Bay yet remains open, and although most of the steamers are laid up, still some vessels continue navigation. On the 13th the schooner Kate was being loaded with grain at Ferry Point, and the Nellie Teresa was expected to arrive at Belleville on the 18th December. Napanee river is yet open, and all are wondering if we are to have any winter this year.

—Notwithstanding the fact that the weather is not very encouraging to the parties who purpose running the skating rink, they are making every preparation and as soon as the ice takes we may expect to see a rink erected. Oliver Culley and Jasper Snider are to have the management under the direction of an efficient committee. T. A. Huffman, Esq., will act as Treasurer, and the public may rely on the affair being conducted to their entire satisfaction. We hope our townspeople will liberally assist the enterprise, that recreation may be provided for the long winter months.

—We have to announce that Mr. E. W. Scott, has opened a new grocery and provision store, in the shop lately occupied by F. Chimneck's jewelry store. Having called on him on Monday we were pleased to see that he has a large lot of everything usually kept in such an establishment, everything about is neat, clean and fresh. We would recommend our readers to give him a call, and be convinced that Mr. Scott, is prepared to offer first-class groceries, etc., at very low rates. He will be found in the brick shop opposite Perry's Drug Store.

—At the regular meeting of 'Prentice Boy's' Lodge No. 3, on Monday night last, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:—

N. F. Paisley, W. M.
I. W. Clark, D. M.
G. E. Challes, Secretary.
A. Richardson, Treas.
M. Richardson, Chap.
E. Ming, I. T.
S. McLaughlin F. C.
W. Mellow, R. Anderson, C. G. Ham, and J. Greer, committee.

—A new process for burning lime with crude petroleum, has been successfully tested at Galt Bros. kiln. The process is a patent, taken out by Mr. A. F. Holmes, for smelting iron ore, but the patentee feeling assured that it could be applied with equal advantage where any great heat is required, and at a greatly reduced cost, proposes to use it in burning lime, etc. The oil is fed from a tank in a small tube, and as it flows therefrom is blown into the fire by a small steam blast. The heat can be easily regulated by using more or less oil, as is required. By this process 100 bushels of lime was burned in 6 hours, at a saving of $\frac{1}{2}$ to $\frac{3}{4}$ in fuel, and a great saving of labor. The invention is a most valuable one, and we doubt not will revolutionize the process now in vogue for raising intense fires.

was well arranged and consequently the entertainment passed off to the entire satisfaction of those on the boards, and to the gratification of the audience. The dresses of the Company were magnificent, seldom surpassed on more pretentious stages, while the scenery, specially prepared for this drama, was very appropriate, and did honor to the scenic artist of the Club. W. D. Madden, as 'Buridan', dressed as a young nobleman of by-gone days, self-possessed in his manner, easy and impressive in his address, was the hero of the hour, while Mrs. J. S. Robinson, as 'Queen Marguerite', ably seconded his efforts. Both surpassed any of their previous efforts especially in the prison scene. The audience was held spell-bound with interest as the plot was revealed—the expression of triumph on the countenance of the Queen as she entered the cell to taunts the prisoner, followed by her anguish and despair, and the fatal compact of 'We, his Queen and Prime Ministers,' was pictured to the life. J. S. Robinson and Geo. McCoy sustained the characters of the two unfortunate twin brothers, with force and animation. A. Richardson, however, more than surprised his audience as the rufianly keeper of 'La Tour de Nesle,' and the nefarious agent of the Queen's misdeeds. His companion, J. McAllister, as 'Landri,' was a fitting representative of a human fiend seeking for nought but blood. F. Mills was very happy in his character of 'Count Svisoy,' and called forth an occasional smile during the revealing of the heavier portion of the plot. The remainder of the characters were well sustained throughout. We have heard the hope expressed that the Club might reproduce the play on another occasion, and we have only to add that should they conclude to do so, even a larger audience than was present on Thursday evening last, awaits them. The farce of 'Hunting a Turtle,' was first-class. J. S. Robinson, as 'Timothy Dandyion,' kept up an almost continual roar of laughter, while Mrs. J. S. Robinson performed the very difficult part of Mrs. Turtle, admirably.

Hay Bay.

(From our Special Correspondent.)

DEAR EDITOR,—Thinking that some of the many readers of your valuable paper might be interested with a few items from Hay Bay, we venture to write them.

The Cheese Factory in this vicinity under the management of Mr. Insley, closed about the 20th October. We learn from the Secretary's report that the number of pounds of cheese manufactured during the season was 46,488. The average number of pounds of milk per pound of cheese, ten pounds. The Officers for 1878 are as follows: M. Bogart, Salesman; A. C. Parks, re-elected Secretary and Treasurer; Wm. Joyce, and W. J. Mellow, Auditors.

The Grange in this locality is in a very prosperous state. Mr. A. C. Parks, the Grange Agent, sold the barley realizing sixty two and a quarter cents, F. O. B. Our Temple is in a very unhealthy condition at present.

The Ferry boat under the able management of Captain Woodcock, is still running. We understand he intends adding twenty feet to the length of his store house, to meet the increased demand for storage.

It is now definitely understood that Irvin Parks, Esq., is to oppose the present Warden, Mr. Dollar in the contest for Reeveship. A warm contest may be looked for.

LITTLE CREEK.

(From our Special Correspondent.)

Ten-meeting's all the go. We don't have to lay in a stock of luxuries at home. The preparations for one here in Andersons Church are ahead of former years entirely. Don't forget New Year's night.

James C. Culhane asking for redaction in taxes, they recommended a reduction of $1000 in the assessment.

They also reported having procured five or six loads of stone for the employment of tramps.

The following accounts were recommended to be paid.

J. C. Huffman, $16.39.

H. W. Perry, $46.13.

The report was adopted.

TOWN PROPERTY.

The report of the Committee on Town Property was presented stating that the necessary alterations and repairs on engine house and Town Hall had been made, and presented the accounts in detail recommending payment.—Adopted.

The report also recommended the enlargement of the Town Hall by taking away the partition from the ante-room, and constructing raised seats in its place. Also recommending the building of a small shed in the rear of the engine house for storing articles in connection with the fire apparatus. The two items were not adopted.

In reply to Mr. Miller, the Reeve stated a room was nearly completed, and that at an early date a Hook and Ladder Company would be formed.

Mr. McNeill stated that the Gas Company had informed the Committee that next year they would furnish gas to the town for $20 per foot, as this was considerably in advance of last years charges, it was moved by Mr. Roe that the Committee be instructed to get all the information possible as to what sum was paid in other towns and report at the next meeting.—Carried.

Mr. Roe stated that the oil-cloth suits for the Firemen had arrived, and the Company were well pleased with them. Mayor Williams came in at this time and took the chair.

Mr. Roe introduced a By-law appointing Philip Embury to preside at the nomination for Mayor, Reeve, and Deputy Reeve on the 31st inst. The By-law was passed through its second stage and finally engrossed.

Mr. James introduced a By-Law appointing the places for holding the Municipal Elections, and naming the Returning Officers, as follows:—

East Ward.—John A. Hawley's Shop; A. Hesse, Ret. Off.

Centre Ward, South Division.—Town Hall; P. Embury Ret. Off.

North Division.—Andrew Fraser's residence; A. Fraser, Ret. Off.

West Ward, South Division.—Anderson's Bakery; James McCoy, Ret. Off.

North Division.—Brisco House; S. R. Miller, Ret. Off.

The By-Law was finally passed. The collectors was allowed to Feb. 1st '78 to return his roll.

Mr. Roe moved sec. by Coun. Herring that the Chief Police be required to produce fourthwith before this Council, the 'proceedings book' provided for him, in which he was directed to keep a list of all complaints tried before these magistrates in town.

A heated debate ensued when an amendment that the Chief be instructed to place the book before the Council at the next meeting, prevailed on the following division: Yeas.—Carscallen, Cliff, Fralick, James, Joy, Lane, Miller, McNeill and the Mayor. Nays.—Herring and Roe.

A number of accounts were presented, and ordered to be paid.

The Council adjourned.

There seems to be ground for believing that many citizens of Texas desire, and are doing their best to provoke, hostilities with Mexico.

In the Court of Queen's Bench yesterday Mr. Hector Cameron obtained a rule nisi to quash the Dunkin by-law in Northumberland and Durham.

Bartley, the alleged Beauce murder, will be tried about six weeks hence at a special session of the Court of Queen's Bench at St. Joseph de Beauce.

And all their care in him came. Who died to save from sin. May sin and sorrow far be driven. May they be cheered by the cry. Of a blissful home above in heav'n. Risen, to dwell therein.

Dec. 18 1877.

THE TOMB.

MORDEN.—Died on the 20th Dec 1877, at his residence, Napa Joseph W. Morden, aged 80; 18 days.

The funeral will take place residence at 2 p. m. to-day.

DERBY.—In Tyndinaga, on inst., Michael Derby, aged 75

AT REST

ASHTON.—At his residence, Ba on Tuesday, December 4th, 18 Thomas Ashton, M. D., aged

The deceased was well and known throughout the county of and Addington, having lived the period of half a century, during time he had observed the growth and development of the county, and a warm affection for it and its people. He never sought notoriety, but in kindness and what was so bright in life. He was one of the Free-Masons in this country, and dard authority in all that pertained to Mystic Art. In sickness, he was gentle, and very skilful physician. His loss to the community is irreparable. He was the friend of the poor and many a time he has driven his horse and carriage to the doors of the poor to alleviate their distress when he well knew there was no pecuniary reward. He trusted in God and more lasting reward at the hands of the Great Architect of the Universe. His peaceful end was indicated he did not trust in vain. The of Maple Leaf Lodge No. 119 A. M., while called upon to drop a tear at the grave of their departed brother, it their duty to sympathize with whose grief is infinitely greater than theirs possibly can be, and that is that the Grand Geometrician of the Universe will be a husband to the and a father to the fatherless, and a Gavel of Death summons them to union in that land where separation is unknown. He was interred with honors at St. John's Church, by the members of Maple Leaf Lodge, and the brethren of 'Prince of 'Prince Arthur,' and 'Filius of Lodges.

To the Electors of Napanee.

GENTLEMEN,—Having been by a number of my friends to nomination for the office of Reeve, I beg to announce myself Candidate for that position at the coming Municipal Election.

I have the honour to be, Gentlemen, Your Obedt. Serv't, ROBERT DE Napanee, Ont., Dec. 21st, 1877.

To the Electors of the of Napanee:

GENTLEMEN,—I am a candidate for the office of Deputy Reeve for the year and respectfully solicit your vote. I will endeavor before time to address you publicly on Municipal affairs of the town.

Yours &c., A. H.

Scholarship for

A SCHOLARSHIP for Beatty & Co's. al College Belleville, can be bought bargain. Apply to A. W. BENS Nat Grant this Office.

Miss Frank Stratton of Morven, has been engaged as teacher in our school at a liberal salary. She comes well recommended, and is to commence duties after New Year. We understand, she has proffered to teach a limited number instrumental music.

MORVEN.

(To the Editor of the Napanee Express.)

Mr. Frank Vanslyce, has changed farms with Fred Kaylor Esq., retaining the old homestead. His children will not now be obliged to sing. "Mother is the old home lonely."

The Express comes to hand in its improved style regularly, and is becoming more appreciated than ever.

The people hereabouts are beginning to make preparations for the onslaught at the coming tea-meeting. Economy says, don't go with too full stomachs.

The pop corn festival in the M. E. Church here, seems to be all the talk since the appearance of those extraordinarily gotten up, bills of yours announcing the same. Suppose you tell your readers, if they want a first class entertainment, to come down and enjoy this for 20 cents.

You should just see how the large flocks of Turkeys hang their heads and weep, as Christmas approaches. They seem to be holding consultation, as to which one of the many is to be left to endure the hardships of another winter.

HAMBURG.

(From our special correspondent.)

It is now fully announced that Rev., Joseph Young of Picton, is to deliver his far famed lecture on "True Manhood," here in the M. E. Church on New Year's Eve, in connection with the juvenile concert. This lecture is very highly spoken of by the Ottawa and Picton papers, where the Rev. Gentleman has delivered it to crowded audiences. The entire entertainment, only 20 cents. No doubt we shall have a crowd.

—The Grand Trunk will issue return tickets at special rates, during the holidays.

TCWN COUNCIL.

The Council met on Monday evening, present, John Herring, Reeve, C. Mill r, Deputy Reeve, and Councillors, McNeill, Fralick, Carscallen, Cliff, Lane, Roe, and Joy.

In the absence of the Mayor the Reeve occupied the chair.

The minutes of the last session were read and approved.

PETITIONS

From Edward Root asking time to pay taxes. Granted by his giving a note for the amount payable May 1st.

S. M. Bartels asking remission of taxes on a lot formerly owned by him but which he disposed of before the assessment was made. The collector was directed to collect the taxes by sale of some lumber on the premises.

Napanee Fire Brigade asking that their salaries be voted and it would be done before the next session.—Granted.

J. Evans asking for time to pay his taxes. The collector was directed to take from him a joint note signed by himself and brother.

Wm. Allan asking remission of dog taxes as he lived outside the town.—Granted.

Arozabab Pringle asking remission of taxes.—Granted.

The collector presented a statement of those parties who were assessed as owners of dogs, and who had removed from the town.

FINANCE COMMITTEE.

Coun. James presented the report of the Finance Committee. A. F. Macpherson.

Illegal Liquor Selling.

Mrs. Johnston of Bath, was before Mayor Williams, charged with selling liquor. Fined $40 or 60 days.

Mr. C. Ferrin of Bath, for a similar offence, was fined $20, which he paid.

Mr. Chas. E. Perry, a pump-maker of Napanee, was summoned before Justice James last Friday, for unlawfully selling liquor. He disobeyed the summons and proceeded to Belleville, where he was arrested through a telegram from Chief Allan to the Belleville Chief of Police. Jerry brought him down on Tuesday night, and on Wednesday he was sentenced by Mr. James to pay $35 or 30 days. He chose the latter alternative, and was forthwith escorted to Castle Aishton, where he was welcomed with open arms, by Messrs. Walker, White and Wagar—three experienced retailers of stimulating beverages, who are at present sojourning in that redoubtable stronghold.

At least one offender is arrested and punished every week, for persistently and practically fostering his Anti-Dunkin proclivities.

"She calls herself Mrs. Letitia Rayne, and is so superior in manners and appearance to the old fisherman, that I have some curiosity to tell. I thought you might have been able to gratify me, but if the name is familiar—"

He paused, and look inquiringly at his fair companion, who mused awhile before replying.

Very Natural.

When a person has proved an article and found it good, and answering the purpose for which it is intended, he will not readily abandon it for one of doubtful reputation, or concerning which he knows nothing. We are led to make these remarks owing to the course always pursued by those who have used that celebrated and valuable horse-medicine known as "Darley's Condition Powders and Arabian Heave Remedy." All are so well pleased with it that they will not use any other; many have waited several weeks until the agent could obtain a new supply. There is nothing equal to it as a condition medicine, or for any complaint affecting the wind of horses. Remember the name, and see that the signature of Hurd & Co. is on each package. Northrop & Lyman, Toronto, Ont., proprietors for Canada. Sold by all Medicine Dealers.

BE WISE—Too often a cold or slight cough is considered a very ordinary, trifling affair, just as well left to go, as it came, and hence systematically neglected until a simple curable affection is converted into a serious pulmonary disease. The more prudent, aware that a cough or cold should never be trifled with, promptly use "Bryan's Pulmonic Wafers," which have sustained their reputation for over twenty years. They are always efficacious, and exert a most beneficial influence on all the bronchial and pulmonary organs. Sold by all druggists and country merchants at 25 cents a box.

Owing to the representations of Montreal merchants, the Grand Trunk has returned to the old summer carrying rates of three years ago, and there is said to be a prospect of an amended tariff for through freights from Liverpool.

THE ALTAR.

SHORTS.—GARRISON—On the 12th, December 1877, by the Rev. Daniel Unger, at his residence, Napanee, Rev. Alexander Shorts, of Bay Quinte Conference, to Miss Deborah Alice Jane Garrison, both of Mill Point.

MARKETS

(Corrected weekly.)

NAPANEE Dec. 21st.

(Report by Diamond and Sherwood, Napanee.)

Oats—30c. per bushel.
Rye—65c. per bushel.
Peas—60c. per bushel.
Barley—60c. 55c. per bushel.
Wheat—110 per bushel.
Flour—$2.80 to $3.00 per cwt.
Bran—$15.00 per ton.
Shorts—$21.00 per ton.
Buckwheat—50c. per bushel.
Wood—$2.00 to $2.50 per cord.
Coal—$4.00 per ton per cord.
Meal, $1.25 to $1.35 per cwt.
Oat Meal, 85 per bbl.
Timothy Seed, $2.25 per bush.

(Report by the Market Clerk, Napanee.)

Hay—$10.00 to $12.00 per ton.
Hides—$6.50 to $8.00 per cwt.
Butter—25c. to 30c. per lb.
Eggs—15c. to 20c. per pair.
Beef per cwt.—$3.00 to $4.00.
Bread—14c. per loaf.
Coal—$4.50 to $5.00 per ton.
Chickens—25c. to 30c. per pair.
Ducks—40c. to 50c. per pair.
Turkeys each, 50c. to $1.00.
Geese each, 25c. to 40c.
Partridges per pair, 25c. to 30c.
Flour—$3.10 per cwt.
Lard—12c.
Lamb and Pork—50c. to $1.00.
Oatmeal—$4.00 per cwt.
Onions—70c. to $1.00 per bushel.
Potatoes—35c. per bushel.
Pork—$4.00 to $5.00.
Tallow—$3.00 to $4.00.
Tallow, 7c. per lb.

BELLEVILLE MARKETS

Wheat, $1.15 to $1.25.
Barley, 50c. to 55c.
Rye, 55c. to 60c.
Oats, 35c. to 38c.
Peas 60c.
Dressed Hogs, $5 to $6 per cwt.
Beef, per quarter $4 to $5.
Butter, Roll, 15c. to 20c.
Butter, Tub, 15c. to 17c.
Eggs, 14c. to 16c.
Potatoes, 50c. to 60c. per bag.
Flour, Wholesale, $5.50 per bbl.
Flour, retail, $6.00 per bbl.
Apples, 80c. to $1.50 per bag.
Cheese, 10c. to 12c. per lb.
Hay, $11 to $15 per ton.
Hams, 9c. to 10c.
Lard, 13c. to 15c.
Potatoes, 50c. to 60c. per bag.

TORONTO MARKETS.

The demand for barley is light; sellers generally asked 70c. for No. 1, and 60c. to 60c. for No. 2, without effecting sales. Sales on the street comprised 4,000 bushels of barley at 56c. to 68c.; 1,500 bushels of wheat at $1.20 to $1.23 for fall and $1.08 to $1.00 for spring; 200 bush. of peas at 66c. to 68c.; 5 loads of oats at 35c. to 37c.; 55 loads of hay at $18 to $17.50; 5 loads of straw at $12 to $13; and dressed hogs at $5 to $5.25.

HAMILTON MARKETS

WEDNESDAY, Dec. 19th.

Owing to the badness of the roads, the delivery of grain very small. Prices remain unchanged.

White Wheat.....$1.23 to 1.25
Red Wheat.....1.13 to 1.15
Spring Wheat.....1.07 to 1.13
Barley.....54 to 56
Peas.....59 to 60
Oats.....32 to 34
Buckwheat.....48 to 50
Rye.....54 to 56
Corn.....53 to 55

MONTREAL MARKETS.

Dec. 19th.

Flour—Market quiet and prices unchanged. Transactions are limited to pressing wants. Sales reported: 500 barrels fancy at $5.35, 400 city bags at $2.80. Spring extra difficult to move. Some sales reported an private terms are said to be about $5.05.

VIGOR CATTLE MARKET.

The Vigor market was dull to-day. The

CHICAGO MARKETS.

Dec. 19

WHEAT.—$1.08½ to $1.08½ for January $1.00½ to $1.09½ for February. CORN.—44½ bid for December, 42½ to 43½ for January. CARS.—Wheat 205, corn 50, oats 1, rye 6, barley 67.

NEW YORK MARKETS.

Dec. 19

FLOUR.—Market dull and unchanged. Receipts 16,000 bbls; sales, 9,000 bbls. RYE FLOUR.—Market steady at $3 to $4.30. WHEAT.—Market a shade better. Receipts, 5,500 bushels; sales 24,000 bushels at $1.30 for ungraded spring. RYE.—Market steady at 75c to 77c. CORN.—Market ½ to 1c better. Receipts 38,000 bushels; sales, 60,000 d at 54½c to 65c.

OSWEGO MARKETS.

Dec. 18.

WHEAT.—Unchanged. No 1 Milwaukee club, $1.35; No 1 white Michigan, $1.30; red State, $1.40. CORN.—Steady; No 2 Toledo, 60c. RAILRY.—Quiet. No 2 Canada held 85c to 87c.

ELECTRICITY

THOMAS' EXCELSIOR ELECTRIC OIL

WORTH TEN TIMES ITS WEIGHT IN GOLD. PAIN CANNOT STAY WHERE IT IS USED.

IT is the cheapest medicine ever made. One dose cures common sore throat. One bottle has cured Bronchitis. Fifty cents' worth has cured an old stand cough. It positively cures catarrh, as ma, and croup. Fifty cents' worth cures crick in the back, and the same quantity lame back of eight years' standing. It cures swollen neck, tumors, rheumatic neuralgia, contraction of the muscles, joints spinal difficulties, and pain and sores in any part, no matter where it is, be, nor from what cause it may arise, it ways does you good. Twenty-five cents' worth has cured bad cases of chronic bloody dysentery. One teaspoonful cures colic in 15 minutes. It will cure any c of piles it is possible to cure. Six or eight applications is warranted to cure any c of excoriated nipples or inflamed breasts. For bruises, if applied often and bound up there is never the slightest discoloration the skin. It stops the pain of a burn, soon as applied. Cures frost-bitten feet, boils, warts, and corns, and wounds of every description on man or beast.

Beware of Imitations.—Ask for Thomas' Electric Oil. See that the signature of S. N. THOMAS is on the wrapper and the names of Northrop and Lyman blown in the bottle, and TAKE NO OTHER Sold by all medicine dealers. Price 25c. NORTHROP & LYMAN, Toronto, Ont. Proprietors for the Dominion.

NOTE.—Electric—Selected and Electrized.

The Great Shoshonees Remedy

Is an Indian vegetable compound, composed of the juices of a variety of remarkable medicinal plants and herbs; the various properties of these different ingredients, when combined, is of constituting as to act simultaneously upon the Blood, Lungs, Liver, Kidneys, Digestive Organs, Nervous system, &c., restoring their functions to healthy action, as being purely vegetable, is as harmless as nature's own beverage. This medicine a decided benefit in all, and as permanent cure in a large majority of diseases of the blood, such as Scrofula, Erysipelas, Rheum, Canker, Pimples, &c. In prescribing this medicine we do not claim that it always performs cures; but we do say, that it purifies and enriches

TOWN COUNCIL.

The Council met on Monday evening, present, John Herring, Reeve, C. Mill r, Deputy Reeve, and Councillors, McNeill, Fralick, Carscallen, Chiff, Lane, Roe, and Joy.

In the absence of the Mayor the Reeve occupied the chair.

The minutes of the last session were read and approved.

PETITIONS

From Edward Root asking time to pay taxes. Granted by his giving a note for the amount payable May 1st.

S. M. Bartels asking remission of taxes on a lot formerly owned by him but which he disposed of before the assessment was made. The collector was directed to collect the taxes by sale of some lumber on the premises.

Napanee Fire Brigade asking that their salaries be voted and it would be done before the next session.—Granted.

J. Evans asking for time to pay his taxes. The collector was directed to take from him a joint note signed by himself and brother.

Wm. Allan asking remission of dog taxes as he lived outside the town.—Granted.

Arozabab Pringle asking remission of taxes.—Granted.

The collector presented a statement of those parties who were assessed as owners of dogs, and who had removed from the town.

FINANCE COMMITTEE.

Coun. James presented the report of the Finance Committee. A. F. Macpherson in behalf of the owners of the land signified their willingness to accept $50 in time of all demands for land occupied in the widening of Newburgh Road. On motion of Mr. Roe, sec. by Mr. McNeill the Chairman of the Finance Committee was directed to pay $50 to A. Macpherson for the land, and take a receipt from all parties interested.

On the petition of James Wilson, referred to them they recommended that an approved note be taken for the amount of taxes payable in six months.

James C. Culhane asking for reduction in taxes, they recommended a reduction of $1000 in the assessment.

They also reported having procured five or six loads of stone for the employment of tramps.

The following accounts were recommended to be paid.

J. C. Huffman, $16.89.

H. W. Perry, $46.13.

The report was adopted.

TOWN PROPERTY.

The report of the Committee on Town Property was presented stating that the necessary alterations and repairs on engine house and Town Hall had been made, and presented the accounts in detail recommending payment.—Adopted.

The report also recommended the enlargement of the Town Hall by taking away the partition from the ante-room, and constructing raised seats in its place. Also recommending the building of a small shed in the rear of the engine house for storing articles in connection with the fire apparatus. The two items were not adopted.

In reply to Mr. Miller, the Reeve stated a room was nearly completed, and that at an early date a Hook and Ladder Company would be formed.

Mr. McNeill stated that the Gas Company had informed the Committee that next year they would furnish gas to the town for $20 per foot, as this was considerably in advance of last years charges, it was moved by Mr. Roe that the Committee be instructed to get all the information possible as to what sum was paid in other towns and report at the next meeting.—Carried.

Mr. Roe stated that the oil-cloth suits for the Firemen had arrived, and the Company were well pleased with them.

Mayor Williams came in at this time and took the chair.

Mr. Roe introduced a By-law appointing Philip Embury to preside at the nomination for Mayor, Reeve, and wards until the agent could obtain a new supply. There is nothing equal to it as a condition medicine, or for any complaint affecting the wind of horses. Remember the name, and see that the signature of Hurd & Co. is on each package. Northrop & Lyman, Toronto, Ont., proprietors for Canada. Sold by all Medicine Dealers.

BE WISE—Too often a cold or slight cough is considered a very ordinary, trifling affair, just as well left to go as it came, and hence systematically neglected until a simple curable affection is converted into a serious pulmonary disease. The more prudent, aware that a cough or cold should never be trifled with, promptly use "Bryan's Pulmonic Wafers," which have sustained their reputation for over twenty years. They are always efficacious, and exert a most beneficial influence on all the bronchial and pulmonary organs. Sold by all druggists and country merchants at 25 cents a box.

Owing to the representations of Montreal merchants, the Grand Trunk has returned to the old summer carrying rates of three years ago, and there is said to be a prospect of an amended tariff for through freights from Liverpool.

THE ALTAR.

SHORTS--GARRISON—On the 12th, December 1877, by the Rev. Daniel Unger, at his residence, Napanee, Rev. Alexander Shorts, of Bay Quinte Conference, to Miss Deborah Alice Jane Garrison, both of Mill Point.

(From a Correspondent.)

SIMMONS--DETLOR—On Wednesday Nov. 8th inst. at the Beaver Lake Parsonage, by the Rev. C. Thompson, M. Peter Simmons, Sheffield, to Miss Elizabeth Detlor, Newburgh.

STORRINGS--SWEET—On Saturday Dec. 8th inst. at Roblin, by the Rev. Mr. Shibley, C. M. Mr. Maronius Storings, Beaver Lake Sheffield, to Miss Eleanor Sweet, Camden.

Friend Storings, having been stirring Seeking, for one to be meet, Gladly I feel that he found her, And she was Miss Eleanor Sweet.

May him an her while life abide Possesses the heaven descended guide, At all their care in him confide Who died to save from sin, May sin and sorrow far be driven, May they be cheered by the earnest given, Of a blissful home above in heaven, Risen, to dwell therein.

LOAN

Dec. 13 1877.

THE TOMB.

MORDEN—Died on the 20th December, 1877, at his residence, Napanee, Mr. Joseph W. Morden, aged 80 yrs. 2 m. 18 days.

The funeral will take place from the residence at 2 p. m. to-day.

DERBY—In Tyendinaga, on the 20th inst., Michael Derby, aged 75 years.

AT REST

ASHTON—At his residence, Bath, Ont., on Tuesday, December 4th, 1877, Bro. Thomas Ashton, M. D., aged 77 years.

The deceased was well and favourably known throughout the county of Lennox and Addington, having lived therein for the period of half a century, during which time he had observed the growth and development of the county, and possessed a warm affection for it and its people: He never sought notoriety, but delighted in kindness and what was social and bright in life. He was one of the oldest Free-Masons in this country, and a standard authority in all that pertained to the Mystic Art. In sickness, he was a kind, gentle, and very skilful physician, and his loss to the community is irreparable. He was the friend of the poor and needy, and many a time he has driven through fierce storms to alleviate their sufferings, when he well knew there was no hope of pecuniary reward. He trusted for a better and more lasting reward at the hands of the Great Architect of the Universe, and his peaceful end was indicative that he did not trust in vain. The members of Maple Leaf Lodge No. 119 A. F. & A. M., while called upon to drop a tear over the grave of their departed brother, feel it their duty to sympathize with those whose grief is infinitely greater than

The demand for barley is light; sellers generally asked 70c. for No. 1, and 50c to 60c for No. 2, without effecting sales.

Sales on the street comprised 4,000 bushels of barley at 56c to 68c; 1,500 bushels of wheat at $1 20 to $1 23 for fall and $1 08 to $1 00 for spring; 200 bush. of peas at 66c to 68c; 5 loads of oats at 35c to 37c; 55 loads of hay at $18 to $17 50; 5 loads of straw at $12 to $13; and dressed hogs at $5 to $5 25.

HAMILTON MARKETS

WEDNESDAY, Dec. 19th.

Owing to the badness of the roads, the delivery of grain very small. Prices remain unchanged.

White Wheat.....	$1.28 to 1.25
Red Wheat.....	1.13 to 1.15
Spring Wheat.....	1.07 to 1.13
Barley.....	54 to 56
Peas.....	58 to 60
Oats.....	82 to 84
Buckwheat.....	48 to 50
Rye.....	54 to 56
Corn.....	53 to 55

MONTREAL MARKETS.

Dec. 19th.

Flour—Market quiet and prices unchanged. Transactions are limited to pressing wants. Sales reported: 500 barrels fancy at $5.35, 400 city bags at $2.80. Spring extra difficult to move. Some sales reported on private terms are said to be about $5.05.

VIGOR CATTLE MARKET.

The Vigor market was dull to-day. The few milk cows offered were not very good quality, the best selling for $38. Another was sold at $36, and a few others at from $25 to $35 each. Michael McShane bought a very fine Springer from R. Tooley, M.P.P., of East Middlesex, for $60. There were no extra calves on the market, but but few good ones. The prices were from $3 to $8 each. There were not a dozen head of beef cattle sold at this market. Wm. Roberts sold 4 sheep to R. Nicholson at $4 62½ each. H. Corbet sold 160 lambs to S. Price at $3 80 each. B. Burton sold to P. Versimes 61 lambs and sheep at $3 15 each. Wm. Medley, of Kingston, sold 4 sheep at $4 50 each.

ways does you good Twenty-five years has cured had cases of chronic bloody dysentery. One teaspoonful of colic in 15 minutes. It will cure any of piles it is possible to cure. Six or eight applications is warranted to cure any of excoriated nipples or inflamed breasts. For bruises, if applied often and bound there is never the slightest discoloration the skin. It stops the pain of a burn soon as applied. Cures frost-bitten feet, warts, and corns, and wounds of every description on man or beast.

Beware of Imitations.—Ask for Thomas' Electric Oil. See that the signature of S. N. Thomas is on the wrapper and the names of Northrop and Lyman, blown in the bottle, and TAKE NO OTHER Sold by all medicine dealers. Price 25¢. NORTHROP & LYMAN, Toronto, O. Proprietors for the Dominion.

NOTE.—Electric—Selected and Electrified.

The Great Shoshonees Remedy

Is an Indian vegetable compound, composed of the juices of a variety of remarkable medicinal plants and herbs; various properties of these different ingredients, when combined, is of constituted as to act simultaneously upon Blood, Lungs, Liver, Kidneys, Digestive Organs, Nervous system, &c., restore their functions to healthy actions, a being purely vegetable, is as harmless nature's own beverage. This medicine a decided benefit in all, and as permanent cure in a large majority of diseases of blood, such as Scrofula, Erysipelas, Rheum, Canker, Pimples, &c. In prescribing this medicine we do not claim that it always performs cures; but we do say, that it purifies and enriches the blood, permanently curing a large majority of diseases arising from its impurities. It stands far ahead and unequalled among the hundreds of competing medicines of the day. It has stood the test of ten years, and is today in popular than ever. As a summer restorative it stands unrivalled; it enables the system to bear up against the constant drain to which it is subjected by a high temperature. Persons who are subject to bilious Colic, Dysentery, Indigestion, should take the Shoshonees Remedy. Price of the Remedy in pint bottles, 25¢; Pills, 25¢ a box. Sold by all medicine dealers.

FOR THE HOLIDAYS

We are now offering a splendid assortment of

Electro-Plated Ware,

CONSISTING OF

SOUP TUREENS,
PICKLE STANDS,
BUTTER COOLERS,
SPOON HOLDS,
GOBLETS,
SYRUP PITCHERS,
BERRY DISHES,
CAKE BASKETS,
SALT DISHES,
NAPKIN RINGS,
CALL BELLS, &c.,

All of the above goods will be

Offered during the Holidays at Cost

All parties in want of these goods should see our Stock and prices. Such an opportunity has never before been offered in Napanee.

Our Stock in every other department is very complete, and our Prices are never beaten.

CALL AND SEE.

red to them they recommended that an approved note be taken for the amount of taxes payable in six months.
James C. Culhane asking for reduction in taxes, they recommended a reduction of $1000 in the assessment.
They also reported having procured five or six loads of stone for the employment of tramps.
The following accounts were recommended to be paid.
J. C. Hufman, $16.89.
H. W. Perry, $46.18.
The report was adopted.

TOWN PROPERTY.

The report of the Committee on Town Property was presented stating that the necessary alterations and repairs on engine house and Town Hall had been made, and presented the accounts in detail recommending payment.—Adopted.
The report also recommended the enlargement of the Town Hall by taking away the partition from the ante-room, and constructing raised seats in its place. Also recommending the building of a small shed in the rear of the engine house for storing articles in connection with the fire apparatus. The two items were not adopted.

In reply to Mr. Miller, the Reeve stated a room was nearly completed, and that at an early date a Hook and Ladder Company would be formed.

Mr. McNeill stated that the Gas Company had informed the Committee that next year they would furnish gas to the town for $20 per foot, as this was considerably in advance of last years charges, it was moved by Mr. Roe that the Committee be instructed to get all the information possible as to what sum was paid in other towns and report at the next meeting.—Carried.

Mr. Roe stated that the oil-cloth suits for the Firemen had arrived, and the Company were well pleased with them.
Mayor Williams came in at this time and took the chair.

Mr. Roe introduced a By-law appointing Philip Embury to preside at the nomination for Mayor, Reeve, and Deputy Reeve on the 31st inst. The By-law was passed through its second stage and finally engrossed.

Mr. James introduced a By-Law appointing the places for holding the Municipal Elections, and naming the Returning Officers, as follows:—

East Ward—John A. Hawley's Shop; A. Hecce, Ret. Off.

Centre Ward, South Division—Town Hall; P. Embury Ret. Off.

North Division—Andrew Fraser's residence; A. Fraser, Ret. Off.

West Ward, South Division—Anderson's Bakery; James McCoy, Ret. Off.

North Division—Brisco House; S. R. Miller, Ret. Off.

The By-Law was finally passed. The collectors was allowed to Feb. 1st '78 to return his roll.

Mr. Roe moved sec. by Coun. Herring that the Chief Police be required to produce fourthwith before this Council, the 'proceedings book' provided for him, in which he was directed to keep a list of all complaints tried before these magistrates in town.

A heated debate ensued when an amendment that the Chief be instructed to place the book before the Council at the next meeting, prevailed on the following Division: Yeas,—Carscallen, Cliff, Fralick, James, Joy, Lane, Miller, McNeill and the Mayor. Nays,—Herring and Roe.

A number of accounts were presented, and ordered to be paid.

The Council adjourned.

There seems to be ground for believing that many citizens of Texas desire, and are doing their best to provoke, hostilities with Mexico.

In the Court of Queen's Bench yesterday Mr. Hector Cameron obtained a rule nisi to quash the Dunkin by-law in Northumberland and Durham.

Bartley, the alleged Beauce murder, will be tried about six weeks hence at a special session of the Court of Queen's Bench at St. Joseph de Beauce.

May him an her while life abide Possess the heaven descended guide,
And all their care in Him confide
Who died to save from sin,
May sin and sorrow far be driven,
May they be cheered by the earnest given,
Of a blissful home above in heaven,
Risen, to dwell therein.

LOAN

Dec. 18 1877.

THE TOMB.

MORDEN.—Died on the 20th December, 1877, at his residence, Napanee, Mr. Joseph W. Morden, aged 80 yrs. 2 m. 18 days.

The funeral will take place from the residence at 2 p. m. to-day.

DERBY.—In Tyendinaga, on the 20th inst., Michael Derby, aged 75 years.

AT REST

AISHTON.—At his residence, Bath, Ont., on Tuesday, December 4th, 1877, Bro. Thomas Aishton, M. D., aged 77 years.

The deceased was well and favourably known throughout the county of Lennox and Addington, having lived therein for the period of half a century, during which time he had observed the growth and development of the county, and possessed a warm affection for it and its people. He never sought notoriety, but delighted in kindness and what was social and bright in life. He was one of the oldest Free-Masons in this country, and a standard authority in all that pertained to the Mystic Art. In sickness, he was a kind, gentle, and very skilful physician, and his loss to the community is irreparable. He was the friend of the poor and needy, and many a time he has driven through fierce storms to alleviate their sufferings, when he well knew there was no hope of pecuniary reward. He trusted for a better and more lasting reward at the hands of the Great Architect of the Universe, and his peaceful end was indicative that he did not trust in vain. The members of Maple Leaf Lodge No. 119 A. F. & A. M., while called upon to drop a tear over the grave of their departed brother, feel it their duty to sympathize with those whose grief is infinitely greater than theirs possibly can be, and their prayer is that the Grand Geometrical of the Universe will be a husband to the widow and a father to the fatherless, until the Gavel of Death summons them to a reunion in that land where separation is unknown. He was interred with Masonic honors at St. John's Church, Bath, by the members of Maple Leaf Lodge, assisted by the brethren of 'Prince of Wales,' 'Prince Arthur,' and 'Filius Viduae' Lodges.

To the Electors of Napanee:

GENTLEMEN,—Having been solicited by a number of my friends to accept a nomination for the office of Deputy Reeve, I beg to announce myself as a Candidate for that position at the approaching Municipal Election.

I have the honour

to be, Gentlemen,

Your Obt. Serv't.

ROBERT DENISON.

Napanee, Ont., Dec. 21st, 1877.

To the Electors of the Town of Napanee:

GENTLEMEN,—I am a candidate for the office of Deputy Reeve for the year 1878 and respectfully solicit your votes and influence. I will endeavor before the election to address you publicly on the Municipal affairs of the town.

Yours &c.,

A. H. ROE.

Scholarship for Sale.

A SCHOLARSHIP for Beatty & Co's. Commercial College Belleville can be bought at a bargain. Apply to

A. W. BENSON,

Napanee.

Orat this Office.

32-4f.

sheep to R. Nicholson at $4 62½ each. H. Corbet sold 160 lambs to S. Price at $3 80 each. B. Burton sold to P. Versimes 61 lambs and sheep at $3 15 each. Wm. Medley, of Kingston, sold 4 sheep at $4 50 each.

temperature. Persons who are subject to bilious Colic, Dysentery, Indigestion, should take the Shoshonees Remedy. Price of the Remedy in pint bottles, 1 Pills, 25 cts. a box. Sold by all medicine dealers.

FOR THE HOLIDAYS

We are now offering a splendid assortment of

Electro-Plated Ware,

CONSISTING OF

SOUP TUREENS,

PICKLE STANDS,

BUTTER COOLERS,

SPOON HOLDS,

GOBLETs,

SYRUP PITCHERS,

BERRY DISHES,

CAKE BASKETS,

SALT DISHES,

NAPKIN RINGS,

CALL BELLS, &c.,

All of the above goods will be

Offered during the Holidays at Cost

All parties in want of these goods should see our Stock and prices. Such an opportunity has never before been offered in Napanee.

Our Stock in every other department is very complete, and our Prices are unbeaten.

CALL AND SEE

WRIGHT & Co.

Napanee, Dec. 19th, 1877.

WINE IS A MOCKER

STRONG DRINK RAGING!

Whosoever is Deceived thereby is not Wise,

Therefore be not deceived by parties telling you that their STOVES are better than your old friend BOYLE'S. My Stoves are made of the Best Material (not old iron, as asserted by others in the trade), and are also as good, if not better, because they are heavier and consequently throw out more heat, and have given good satisfaction.

Give Me a Call Before Purchasing Elsewhere

No connection with any other Establishment in Town,
But Manufacture and Repair

Tinware of All Kinds

BY FIRST-CLASS MECHANICS, AND DO

JOB WORK

Of all kinds in my line, and keep a Large Assortment of

COOKING, PARLOR, COOK, BOX & COAL HEATING & DOUBLE STOVE

EXTRA CASTINGS FOR STOVES. STOVES REFITTED.

PLOUGHS & PLOUGH-SHARES OF ALL KINDS.

Yours truly,

H BOYLE, Agt.,

In Wm. Miller's Old Stand, Opposite Webster & Boyle

Napanee, Nov. 14th, 1877.

MARKETS

(Corrected weekly.)
NAPANEE Dec. 21st.
Report by Diamond and Sherwood, Napanee.)
Oats—30c. per bushel.
Rye—55c. per bushel.
Pease—60c. per bushel.
Barley—50c to 55c. per bushel.
Wheat—1.10 per bushel.
Flour—$2.50 to $3.50 per cwt.
Bran—$15.00 per ton.
Shorts—$21.00 per ton.
Buckwheat—50c. per bushel.
Wheat—$2.00 to $3.00 per cord.
Coal—$5.00 per ton.
Meal—$1.25 to $1.35 per cwt.
Oat Meal—$5 per bbl.
Timothy Seed—$2.25 per bush.

(Report by the Market Clerk, Napanee.)
Hay—$10.00 to $12.00 per ton.
Hides—$6.50 to $8.00 per cwt.
Butter—30c. per lb.
Eggs—15c. per dozen.
Beef per cwt.—$3.00 to $4.00.
Bread—14c. per loaf.
Coal—$4.50 to $5.00 per ton.
Chickens—25c. to 30c. per pair.
Ducks—40c. to 50c. per pair.
Turkeys each—50c to $1.00.
Geese each—25c to 40c.
Partridge per pair—25c to 40c.
Flour—$3.10 per cwt.
Peanut Skins—30c.
Lard—12c.
Lamb and Pelts—50c to $1.00.
Oatmeal—$4.00 per cwt.
Unions—70c. to $1.00 per bushel.
Potatoes—35c. per bushel.
Corn—$4.50 to $5.50.
Straw—$3.00 to $1.00.
Fallow, 7c per lb.

BELLEVILLE MARKETS

Wheat, $1.15 to $1.25.
Barley, 50c. to 55c.
Rye, 55c. to 60c.
Oats, 35c. to 38c.
Peas 60c.
Dressed Hogs, $3 to $6 per cwt.
Beef, per quarter 4c to 5c.
Butter, Roll, 15c to 20c.
Butter, Tub, 15c to 17c.
Eggs, 14c to 16c.
Potatoes, 50c to 60c per bag.
Flour, Wholesale, $5.50 per bbl.
Flour, retail, $6.00 per bbl.
Apples, 60c to $1.50 per bag.
Pears, 3c to 12c.
Hay, $11 to $15 per ton.
Hams, 9c to 19c.
Lard, 13c to 15c.
Potatoes, 50c to 60c per bag.

TORONTO MARKETS.

The demand for barley is light; sellers generally asked 70c. for No. 1, and 50c 60c for No. 2, without effecting sales. Sales on the street comprised 4,000 bushels of barley at 56c to 68c; 1,500 bushels of wheat at $1.20 to $1.23 for fall and $1.08 to $1.00 for spring; 200 bush. peas at 66c to 68c; 5 loads of oats at 37c to 37c; 55 loads of hay at $13 to $13.75; 5 loads of straw at $12 to $13; 1 dressed hogs at $5 to $5.25.

HAMILTON MARKETS

WEDNESDAY, Dec. 19th.
Owing to the badness of the roads, the livery of grain very small. Prices remain unchanged.
White Wheat.....$1.28 to 1.25
Red Wheat.....1.13 to 1.15
Spring Wheat.....1.07 to 1.13
Rye.....54 to 56
Oats.....58 to 60
Peas.....32 to 34
Buckwheat.....48 to 50
Corn.....54 to 56
Flour.....53 to 55

MONTREAL MARKETS.

Dec. 19th.
Flour—Market quiet and prices unchanged. Transactions are limited to existing wants. Sales reported: 500 barrels fancy at $5.35, 400 city bags at .80. Spring extra difficult to move. No sales reported on private terms are said to be about $5.05.

VIGOR CATTLE MARKET.

The Vigor market was dull to-day. The milk cows offered were not very good quality, the best selling for $38. Another was sold at $36, and a few others

CHICAGO MARKETS.

Dec. 19.
WHEAT.—$1.08½ to $1.08¾ for January; $1.00½ to $1.09½ for February.
CORN.—44½ bid for December; 42½ to 42¾ for January.
CARS.—Wheat 205, corn 50, oats 21, rye 6, barley 67.

NEW YORK MARKETS.

Dec. 19.
FLOUR.—Market dull and unchanged. Receipts 16,000 brls; sales, 9,000 brls.
RYE FLOUR.—Market steady at $3.75 to $4.30.
WHEAT.—Market a shade better. Receipts, 5,500 bushels; sales 24,000 bushels at $1.80 for ungraded spring.
RYE.—Market steady at 75c to 77c.
CORN.—Market ½c to 1c better. Receipts 38,000 bushels; sales, 60,000 do., at 54½ to 65c.

OSWEGO MARKETS.

Dec. 18.
WHEAT.—Unchanged. No 1 Milwaukee club, $1.85; No 1 white Mich., $1.45; red State, $1.40.
CORN.—Steady; No 2 Toledo, 60c.
BARLEY.—Quiet. No 2 Canada held at 85c to 87c.

ELECTRICITY!

THOMAS' EXCELSIOR ELECTRIC OIL.

WORTH TEN TIMES ITS WEIGHT IN GOLD—PAIN CANNOT STAY WHERE IT IS USED

IT is the cheapest medicine ever made. One dose cures common sore throat. One bottle has cured Bronchitis. Fifty cents' worth has cured an old standing cough. It positively cures catarrh, asthma, and croup. Fifty cents' worth has cured crick in the back, and the same quantity lame back of eight years' standing. It cures swelled neck, tumors, rheumatism, neuralgia, contraction of the muscles, stiff joints, spinal difficulties, and pain and soreness in any part, no matter where it may be, nor from what cause it may arise, it always does you good. Twenty-five cents' worth has cured bad cases of chronic and bloody dysentery. One teaspoonful cures colic in 15 minutes. It will cure any case of piles it is possible to cure. Six or eight applications is warranted to cure any case of excoriated nipples or inflamed breast. For bruises, if applied often and bound up, there is never the slightest discoloration of the skin. It stops the pain of a burn as soon as applied. Cures frosted feet, boils, warts, and corns, and wounds of every description on man or beast.

Beware of Imitations.—Ask for Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. See that the signature of S. N. THOMAS is on the wrapper, and the names of Northrop and Lyman are blown in the bottle, and TAKE NO OTHER. Sold by all medicine dealers. Price 25 cts. NORTHROP & LYMAN, Toronto, Ont., Proprietors for the Dominion.
NOTE.—Electric—Selected and Electrized.

The Great Shoshonee Remedy

Is an Indian vegetable compound, composed of the juices of a variety of remarkable medicinal plants and herbs; the various properties of these different ingredients, when combined, is of constituted as to act simultaneously upon the Blood, Lungs, Liver, Kidneys, Digestive Organs, Nervous system, &c., restoring their functions to healthy actions, and, being purely vegetable, is as harmless as nature's own beverage. This medicine is a decided benefit in all, and as permanent cure in a large majority of diseases of the blood, such as Scrofula, Erysipelas, Salt Rheum, Canker, Pimples, &c. In prescribing this medicine we do not claim that it always performs cures; but this we do say, that it purifies and enriches the blood, permanently curing a large majority of diseases arising from its impurities.

CHRISTMAS DOWNEY'S

GOODS,

ARE NOW SHOWING

Full Lines

IN

IN GREAT ABUNDANCE,

—AT—

HENDERSON'S

BOOKSTORE,

Dundas Street, - - Napanee.

COLORER MERINOS,
COLORER MERINOS,
COLORER ATHOL CLOTHS, COLORER PERSION CORDS, COLORER BROCADES.

Full Lines in

BLACK LUSTRES,
BLACK MERINOS,
BLACK CASHMERES,
BLACK CRAPE CLOTHS,
BLACK PARAMATTAS,
BLACK BABATHEDS,
BLACK RUSSEL CORDS

All the Annual Volumes for 1877.

Full Lines in

SUNDAY AT HOME,
LEISURE HOUR,
SUNDAY MAGAZINE,
GOOD WORDS,
BRITISH WORKMAN,
BRITISH WORKWOMAN,
BRITISH JUVENILE,
LITTLE FOLKS,
KIND WORDS,
CHATTERBOX,
CHILDREN'S FRIEND,
INFANT'S MAGAZINE,
FAMILY FRIEND,
FRIENDLY VISITOR,
THE ADVISER,
THE PRIZE,
THE PEEP-SHOW,
CHILD'S COMPANION,
LITTLE WIDE AWAKE,

BLACK SILKS,
COLORED SILKS,
SILK VELVETS,
VELVETEENS

Full Lines in

MERRY LUNHEAMS,
CHILD'S OWN MAGAZINE,
CHILDREN'S PLEASURE BOOK.

WINCEYS,
FLANNELS, BLANKETS,
RUGS, COTTONS,
PRINTS.

Full Lines in

Photographic Albums,

SCRAP ALBUMS,
AUTOGRAPH ALBUMS,
BEAUTIFULLY BOUND VOLUMES OF THE POETS,
At various prices.

GLOVES,
HOSIERY,
CORSETS,
SILK FRINGES,
WOOL FRINGES, GALLOONS,
BRAIDS.

Full Lines in

Splendid stock of Elegantly Bound Story Books for Boys and Girls.
TOY BOOKS FOR THE MILLION,
at any price.

SHAWLS, MANTLES,
SKIRTS.

Full Lines in

Price of wheat at $1.20 to $1.25 for 100 bushels; 200 bushels at $1.08 to $1.00 for spring; 200 bushels of peas at 66c to 68c; 5 loads of oats at 37c; 55 loads of hay at $18 to 750; 5 loads of straw at $12 to $18; 10 dressed hogs at $5 to $5.25.

HAMILTON MARKETS

WEDNESDAY, Dec. 10th.

Owing to the badness of the roads, the delivery of grain very small. Prices remain unchanged.

White Wheat.....	$1.23 to 1.25
Red Wheat.....	1.13 to 1.15
Spring Wheat.....	1.07 to 1.13
Barley.....	54 to 56
Oats.....	53 to 60
Peas.....	32 to 34
Beans.....	48 to 50
Yellow.....	54 to 56
Green.....	53 to 55

MONTREAL MARKETS.

Dec. 10th.

Flour—Market quiet and prices unchanged. Transactions are limited to pressing wants. Sales reported: 500 barrels fancy at $5.35, 400 city bags at $5.80. Spring extra difficult to move. Some sales reported on private terms are said to be about $5.05.

VIGOR CATTLE MARKET.

The Vigor market was dull to-day. The few milk cows offered were not very good quality, the best selling for $38. Another was sold at $36, and a few others from $25 to $35 each. Michael McNamee bought a very fine Springer from Tooley, M.P.P., of East Midlexsex, for $60. There were no extra calves on the market, and but few good ones. The calves were from $3 to $8 each. There were not a dozen head of beef cattle sold this market. Wm. Roberts sold 46 sheep to H. Nicholson at $4.62½ each. Herbert sold 160 lambs to S. Price at $3.30 each. B. Burton sold to P. Versimes 61 hogs and sheep at $3.15 each. Wm. Odley, of Kingston, sold 4 sheep at $5.00 each.

Applications for the of excoriated nipples or inflamed breast. For bruises, if applied often and bound up, there is never the slightest discoloration of the skin. It stops the pain of a burn as soon as applied. Cures frost-bitten feet, boils, warts, and corns, and wounds of every description on man or beast.

Beware of Imitations.—Ask for Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. See that the signature of S. N. THOMAS is on the wrapper, and the names of Northrop and Lyman are blown in the bottle, and TAKE NO OTHER. Sold by all medicine dealers. Price 25 cts. NORTHROP & LYMAN, Toronto, Ont., Proprietors for the Dominion.
NOTE.—Electric—Selected and Electrized.

The Great Shoshonees Remedy

Is an Indian vegetable compound, composed of the juices of a variety of remarkable medicinal plants and herbs; the various properties of these different ingredients, when combined, is of constituted as to act simultaneously upon the Blood, Lungs, Liver, Kidneys, Digestive Organs, Nervous system, &c., restoring their functions to healthy actions, and, being purely vegetable, is as harmless as nature's own beverage. This medicine is a decided benefit in all, and as permanent cure in a large majority of diseases of the blood, such as Scrofula, Erysipelas, Salt Rheum, Canker, Pimples, &c. In prescribing this medicine we do not claim that it always performs cures; but this we do say, that it purifies and enriches the blood, permanently curing a large majority of diseases arising from its impurities. It stands far ahead and unequalled among the hundreds of competing medicines of the day. It has stood the test of ten years, and is to-day more popular than ever. As a summer restorative it stands unrivalled; it enables the system to bear up against the constant drain to which it is subjected by a high temperature. Persons who are subject to bilious Colic, Dysentery, Indigestion, &c. should take the Shoshonees Remedy. Price of the Remedy in pint bottles, $1; Pills, 25 cts. a box. Sold by all medicine dealers.

FOR THE HOLIDAYS!

We are now offering a splendid assortment of

Electro-Plated Ware,

CONSISTING OF

- UP TUREENS,
- PICKLE STANDS,
- BUTTER COOLERS,
- SPOON HOLDESS,
- GOBLETS,
- SYRUP PITCHERS,
- BERRY DISHES,
- CAKE BASKETS,
- SALT DISHES,
- NAPKIN RINGS,
- CALL BELLS, &c., &c.

All of the above goods will be ffered during the Holidays at Cost.

parties in want of these goods should see our Stock and prices. Such an opportunity has never before been offered in Napanea.

Stock in every other department is very complete, and our Prices are never beaten.

CALL AND SEE. WRIGHT & Co.

Napanea, Dec. 19th, 1877.

FRIENDLY VISITOR, THE ADVISER, THE PRIZE, THE PEEP-SHOW, CHILD'S COMPANION, LITTLE WIDE AWAKE, MERRY LUNHEAMS, CHILD'S OWN MAGAZINE, CHILDREN'S PLEASURE BOOK.

Photographic Albums,

SCRAP ALBUMS, AUTOGRAPH ALBUMS,

BEAUTIFULLY BOUND VOLUMES OF THE POETS,

At various prices.

Splendid stock of Elegantly Bound Story Books for Boys and Girls.

TOY BOOKS FOR THE MILLION, at any price.

THE BEST ASSORTMENT OF

POCKET BIBLES,

We ever had, and Marked Down to Hard Times Prices.

Wesleyan Methodist Hymn Books.

Episcopal Methodist Hymn Books.

Presbyterian Hymn Books:

Church Services, Church Services with Hymns, Common Prayers, Common Prayers with Hymns, Hymns Ancient and Modern.

Work Boxes and Writing Desks in Wood. Paper Machie and Leather. Artificial Flowers, very pretty. Velvet and Ivory Photograph Frames. China Cups and Saneers, Mugs, etc.

Games of all Kinds.

CHESS, CHECKERS, DOMINEOS, CARD GAMES, AUTHORS, FORTUNE TELLERS, OLD MAID.

Toys for the Children.

Sets of China Dishes, from 20c. to $2.50. Sets of Pewter Dishes, from 15c. to $2.50. Toy Cradles, Bedsteads, &c.

BLANKETS, RUGS, COTTONS, PRINTS.

Full Lines in

GLOVES, HOSIERY, CORSETS, SILK FRINGES, WOOL FRINGES, GALOONS, BRAIDS.

Full Lines in

SHAWLS, MANTLES, SKIRTS.

Full Lines in

MANTALASSE, BEAVERS, NAPS, VICTORIA TWEELS, WATER-PROOFS, AND PLAID FOR ULSTERS.

Full Lines in

LADIES' AND GENTS' MERINO UNDERCLOTHING. SCOTCH AND CANADIAN VENIT WOOLENS.

Full Lines in

CLOUDS, SCARFS, SQUARES, HOODS, JACKETS.

Full Lines in

MINK SETS. SEAL SETS. BALTIC SETS. ERMINE SETS. SEAL CAPS. MINK CAPS. FURS AND ROBES.

Full Lines in

LADIES STRAW & FELT HATS. FLOWERS. FATHERS. PLUMES, &c., &c., MISS PHAEN MANAGER

B. Burton sold to P. Versimes 61
 mbs and sheep at $8 15 each. Wm.
 edley, of Kingston, sold 4 sheep at 150 each.

FOR THE HOLIDAYS!

We are now offering a splendid assortment of Electro-Plated Ware,

- CONSISTING OF
- COFFIN TUREENS,
 - PICKLE STANDS,
 - BUTTER COOLERS,
 - SPOON HOLDESS,
 - GOBLETS,
 - SYRUP PITCHERS,
 - BERRY DISHES,
 - CAKE BASKETS,
 - SALT DISHES,
 - NAPKIN RINGS,
 - CALL BELLS, &c., &c.

All of the above goods will be offered during the Holidays at Cost.
 Parties in want of these goods should see our Stock and prices. Such an opportunity has never before been offered in Napanee.
 Our Stock in every other department is very complete, and our Prices are never beaten,

CALL AND SEE
WRIGHT & Co.
 Napanee, Dec. 19th, 1877.

VINE IS A MOCKER.

STRONG DRINK RAGING!

Whosoever is Deceived thereby is not Wise,
 therefore be not deceived by parties telling you that their STOVES are better than your old friend BOYLE'S. My Stoves are made of the Best Material (not of old iron, as asserted by others in the trade), and are also as good, if not better, because they are heavier and consequently throw out more heat,
 and have given good satisfaction.

Give Me a Call Before Purchasing Elsewhere.

No connection with any other Establishment in Town,
 But Manufacture and Repair
Cinware of All Kinds,
 BY FIRST-CLASS MECHANICS, AND DO
JOB WORK

Of all kinds in my line, and keep a Large Assortment of BAKING, PARLOR, COOK, BOX & COAL HEATING & DOUBLE STOVES.
 EXTRA CASTINGS FOR STOVES. STOVES REFITTED.
 PLOUGHS & PLOUGH-SHARES OF ALL KINDS.

Yours truly,
H BOYLE, Agt.,
 In Wm. Miller's Old Stand, Opposite Webster & Boyes.
 Napanee, Nov. 14th, 1877.

Wesleyan Methodist Hymn Books.
 Episcopal Methodist Hymn Books.
 Presbyterian Hymn Books:

Church Services,
 Church Services with Hymns,
 Common Prayers,
 Common Prayers with Hymns,
 Hymns Ancient and Modern.

Work Boxes and Writing Desks in Wood.
 Paper Machie and Leather.
 Artificial Flowers, very pretty.
 Velvet and Ivory Photograph Frames.
 China Cups and Saucers, Mugs, etc.

Games of all Kinds.
 CHESS, CHECKERS,
 DOMINOES,
 CARD GAMES,
 AUTHORS,
 FORTUNE TELLERS,
 OLD MAID.

Toys for the Children.
 Sets of China Dishes, from 20c. to $2.50.
 Sets of Pewter Dishes, from 15c. to $2.50.
 Toy Cradles,
 Bedsteads,
 Tubs,
 Pails,
 Clothes Wringers,
 Saw Horses,
 Clothes Horses,
 Wash Boards,
 Cruet Stands,
 Sets of Furniture,
 Jack in the Box,
 Tin Dishes,
 Stoves,
 Kitchen Ranges,
 Noah's Arks,
 Bugles,
 Mouth Organs,
 Rubber Toys,
 China Dolls,
 Wax Dolls,
 Wooden Dolls,
 etc., etc.
 And a great many other Toys too numerous to mention.

BOYS' & GIRLS' SLEIGHS
 CHEAP.

An Inspection of Stock and Prices is Solicited.
John Henderson,
 Bookseller and Fancy Goods Dealer,
 Dundas Street, Napanee.

Full Lines in
 LADIES' AND GENTS'
 MERINO UNDERCLOTHING.
 SCOTCH AND CANADIAN
 VENIT WOOLENS.

Full Lines in CLOUDS, SCARFS, SQUARES, HOODS,
 JACKETS.

Full Lines in MINK SETS.
 SEAL SETS.
 BAITIC SETS.
 ERMINE SETS.
 SEAL CAPS.
 MINK CAPS.
 FURS
 AND ROBES.

Full Lines in LADIES STRAW & FELT HATS.
 FLOWERS.
 FEATHERS.
 PLUMES, &c., &c.,
MISS PHALEN, MANAGER.

CARPETS.
 OIL CLOTHS.
 LACE CURTAINS.
 AND REPPS.

Full Lines in
 READY-MADE CLOTHING.
 WORSTED COATINGS.
 BEAVERS.
 NAPS.
 ENGLISH SCOTCH AND CANA-DIAN TWEEDS.

James Walters, Cutter.

Full Lines in
 MEN AND BOYS FELT HATS.
 CLOTH CAPS.
 FUR CAPS.
 AND GENTS'S FURNISHINGS.
 AT PRICES
 TO SUIT THE TIME
JOHN DOWNFY.
 Napanee, Oct. 6th, 1877.

Agricultural.

Potash for Grapes and Potatoes.

A French journal—the Ravue Horti- cole—records the results of the experiments conducted by M. Vile at Vincennes, which will interest all grape growers, and which show conclusively that the use on vines of wood ashes—which contain much potash—is justified by both theory and practice. A number of vines were planted under like conditions, each in a separate plot, divided from its fellows by a pathway rather more than three feet in width. The whole area covered was a hundred square yards, being planted with one variety of vine only, each plant thus being at a distance of one metre (three feet) from its fellows. Each square plot received every year the same treatment, except as to manure.

One plot was treated with the complete manure, while from each of the others was successfully eliminated one of the constituent elements of the manure in question. Thus, while the one plot received the complete manure, nitrogen was taken from the second, phosphate from the third, potash from the fourth, lime from the fifth, and one of the plots left without manure of any kind. This treatment was continued from 1860 to 1875 with results as follows: The vines which received the complete manure with the exception of potash, made very moderate growth, had a few poor leaves, and no fruit whatever, while those not manured at all were stunted, almost wholly leafless—like more than mere stubs.

The result is sufficiently striking, but the experiments also show that where potash was applied and the other elements successfully eliminated the growth of the vine and the yield of the crop presented no sensible difference—a circumstance showing that potash is indispensable to the vine. Other substances may be omitted, the vine may flourish, but if the potash be omitted, the vine simply exists without producing a crop, so that after thirteen years the vines not only produce no grapes, but scarcely any leaves, and those leaves so weak as not to be able to resist the action of the wind or exposure to the sun, and in consequence become a ready prey to mildew. Similar experiments have been made with reference to potatoes, and with like results.

TURNIPS FOR HORSES.

George B. Loring, in his address at the farmer's meeting at Portland, Me., recommended the turnip as better food for the horses than the carrot. The statement was considered a debatable one, but a firm in Salem, name Welch Teel & Palmer, has written the following:

We noticed that, in the farmers' meeting at Portland, your statement about Swedish turnips, as food for horses, was questioned once more, and that Mr.
Ware declared you were all wrong in your estimate of carrots. Now we have had a good deal of experience in this thing, as well as yourself. Some years ago we noticed the condition of your horses, and on inquiry of your groom how much grain they got, we were told that they had little or none, but were fed on Swedish turnips. We found out ourselves that carrots were not good food for continual use—that they made our horses very soft and unfit for work, and affected their kidneys badly—and we were glad to lay them aside and take turnips as a substitute. Since we did this, our horses have improved in every way. They look healthier, work better, and keep in good condition.

Training Versus Breaking Horses.

A very interesting instance in the training of a horse has again reminded me

Varieties.

When a young lady lends a handkerchief for a rich bachelor, she probably sees that she may reap.

A tinker named Todd publishes a temperance, and has sued a contemporary for calling him Todd-y.

What is the difference between a hill and a pill? One is hard to get up, and the other is hard to get down.

"A kind word spoken to a husband will go farther than a broomstick or a flirtation," says a woman of experience.

"No, ma'am," said a grocer to an applicant for credit, "I wouldn't even trust my own feelings."

It has been remarked of a Chicago couple, "Two souls with but a single thought—how to get rid of each other."

Emerson says: "An eye can threaten like a loaded and levelled gun." We suppose that is when it is coked.

An editor, referring to air-tight coffins, says: "No person having once tried one of these coffins will ever use any other."

A Chicago man wants the thief who stole his well-bucket and rope to come back and take the well, as it is of no use now.

An editor published a long leader on hogs. A rival paper in the same village upbraids him for obtruding his family matters upon the public.

A country doctor has had his portrait painted, and a local art-critic declares that you can feel saws and things rasping over your bones, and taste calomel, blue pill, and quinine, as you look at it.

Baron Alderson, the late judge, on being asked to give his opinion as to the proper length of a sermon, replied:
"Twenty minutes, with a leaning to the side of mercy."

A population clergyman recently gave a lecture on "Fools." The tickets of admission were inscribed, "Lecture on Fools. Admit one." There was a large audience.

"That clock, stranger," said a Michigan farmer, "was the best kind of a clock up to six months ago, when my daughter began to have beaux, and now the blamed thing is always two hours to slow."

A Virginia sheriff asked a murderer if he wanted to make a speech on the gallows, and he replied: "Guess not, it looks like rain, and I don't want to get wet. Go on with the hanging."

A teacher, who, in a fit of vexation, called her pupils a set of young adders,
on being reproved for language, apologized by saying that she was speaking to those just commencing their arithmetic.

I clasped her tiny hand in mine; I vowed to shield her from the wind, and from the world's cold storms. She set her beautiful eye on me, and with her little lips said she, "An umbrella will do as well."

An old lady with a large family, living near a river, was asked if she did not live in constant fear that some of her children would be drowned. "Oh, no," she replied, "we have only lost three or four in that way."

Daniel Webster once affirmed in company that no woman ever wrote a letter without a postscript. "My next letter shall refute you," said a lady of his acquaintance. The "Great Expounder" soon after received a letter from his fair disputant, where, after her signature stood: "P. S.—Who is right now, you or I?"

There is a precocious six-year old in Auburn who is wonderful on spelling and definition. The other day his teacher asked him to spell matrimony. "Matrimony," said the youngster promptly.
"Now define it," said the teacher.
"Well," replied the boy, "I don't exactly know what it means, but I know my mother's got enough of it."

"Say, mister," said a small boy to one of the assistants at the Public Library,

WESTERN ASSURANCE COMPANY

Incorporated 1851.

CAPITAL, $800,000
With power to increase to $1,000,000.

FIRE AND MARINE.

HEAD OFFICE: Toronto, Ont.

President.
HON. JOHN McMURRICH.
Vice-President.
CHARLES MAGRATH.
Directors.

JAS. MICHIE, Esq. NOAH BARNHART, Esq.
JOHN FISKIN, Esq. ROBT. HEATY, Esq.
A. M. SMITH, Esq. WM. GOODERHAM, Esq.
BARNARD HILDAN, Managing Director
FRED'G. C. LOVELACE, Secretary.
WM. BLIGHT, Fire Inspector.
JAMES PRINGLE, General Agent.

Insurances effected at the lowest current
rates on Buildings, Merchandise, and other property, against loss or damage by fire.

On Hull Cargo, and Freight against the perils
of Inland Navigation.

On Cargo Risks with the Maritime Provinces
by sail or steam.

On Car-goes by steamers to British Ports.

W. V. DETLOR,
Agent for Napanee

SAWS
SOLID AND INSERTED TOOTH
SAW GUMMER
SAW SWAGES SAW TEETH SAW S T'S
ADDRESS THE
Waterous-Engine Works Co.
BRANTFORD, ONT.
Where you can see this advertisement.

GREEN'S New Hearse,

The Finest in the Counties,

Will Attend at the Old Price.

Thanking you for past favors,

I remain yours truly,

EDWIN GREEN.

Money to Loan!

I Have received a Large Amount of Money to Lend. Good Mortgages
Purchased.

W. S. WILLIAMS.

Land PLASTER

Now grinding and ready for use.

Superior Fine Ground
Land Plaster,

AT THE LOW RATE OF

$5 per Ton, or 25 cts. per Hundred.

ALL orders left at the Mill, or at the Woolen Factory, for Williams' and Lusher's Water Lime, or Quick Lime, will be promptly attended to. Lime delivered when required. No Credit.

JAMES PERRY.

Napanee, March 5th, 1877. 46.

Important Notice

Dr. Pierce's Standard Remedy

Are not advertised as "cure-alls," specifics in the diseases for which recommended.

NATURAL SELECTION

Investigators of natural science demonstrated beyond controversy
throughout the animal kingdom the "survival of the fittest" is the only la-vouchsafes thrift and perpetuity. Is the same principal govern the com-prosperity of man? An interior superior merit, Dr. Pierce's Standards have outwitted the others.
sale in the United States alone ex-million dollars per annum, while the exported flocks up to several hundred and more. No business could grow gigantic proportions and rest upon a basis than that of merit.

GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCO

Is Alternative, or Blood-cleansing

GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCO

Is Pectoral.

GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCO

Is a Cholagogue, or Liver Stimul

GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCO

Is Tonic.

GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCO

By reason of its Alternative processes Diseases of the Blood and S

Scrofula, or King's Evil; Tumors;
or Old Sores; Blisters Pimples Eruptions. By virtue of its Pector perties, it cures Bronchial, Thro Lung Affections; Incipient Consum
Lingering Coughs; and Chronic Lar
Its Cholagogue properties render it equalled remedy for Biliousness; Liver, or "Liver Complaint," and i properties make it equally effici curing Indigestion, Loss of Appet Dyspepsia.

Where the skin is sallow and cover blotches and pimples, or where th
scrofulous swellings and affections, bottles of Golden Medical Discove effect an entire cure. If you fel drowsy, debilitated, have sallow co skin, or yellowish-brown spots on body, frequent headache or dissin
in mouth, internal heat or chills al ed with hot flushes, low spirits and forebodings, irregular appetite, and coated, you are suffering from Liver, or "Biliousness." In man of "Liver Complaint," only part o symptoms are experienced. As a for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Medical Discovery has no equal, as it perfect cures, leaving the liver stre ed and healthy.

P. P. P.
Dr. Pierce's Pleasant
Purgative
Pellets

Purely Vegetable. No care requ
while using them.

The "Little Giant" Cathart
Mulum in Parvo Physic, s larger than mustard seeds, and are coated. They remove the necessity of the great, crude, drastic, sicknin heretofore so much in use.

As a remedy for Headache, Diz
Rush of Blood to the Head, Tightnes
the Chest, Bad Taste in Mouth, Eru from the Stomach, Bilious Attacks, dies, Pain in the Kidneys, Highl rine, and Internal Fever, Dr. P Pleasant Purgative Pellets are unsur
Furthermore, I would say that there is universal, not a gland escapin sanative impress. Age does not the properties of these Pellets. Th

The result is sufficiently striking, but the experiments also show that where potash was applied and the other elements successfully eliminated the growth of the vine and the yield of the crop presented no sensible difference—a circumstance showing that potash is indispensable to the vine. Other substances may be omitted, the vine may flourish, but if the potash be omitted, the vine simply exists without producing a crop, so that after thirteen years the vines not only produce no grapes, but scarcely any leaves, and those leaves so weak as not to be able to resist the action of the wind or exposure to the sun, and in consequence become a ready prey to mildew. Similar experiments have been made with reference to potatoes, and with like results.

TURNIPS FOR HORSES.

George B. Loring, in his address at the farmer's meeting at Portland, Me., recommended the turnip as better food for the horses than the carrot. The statement was considered a debatable one, but a firm in Salem, name Welch Teel & Palmer, has written the following:

We noticed that, in the farmers' meeting at Portland, your statement about Swedish turnips, as food for horses, was questioned once more, and that Mr. Ware declared you were all wrong in your estimate of carrots. Now we have had a good deal of experience in this thing, as well as yourself. Some years ago we noticed the condition of your horses, and on inquiry of your groom how much grain they got, we were told that they had little or none, but were fed on Swedish turnips. We found out ourselves that carrots were not good food for continual use—that they made our horses very soft and unfit for work, and affected their kidneys badly—and we were glad to lay them aside and take turnips as a substitute. Since we did this, our horses have improved in every way. They look healthier, work better, and keep in good condition.

Training Versus Breaking Horses.

A very interesting instance in the training of a horse has again reminded me of a suggestion I have desired to make to the friends of dumb animals, through your columns. It is, that we never use the word "break" to denote the little force that is acquired by our enlightened trainers. We have seen children's eyes beaming with curiosity when they hear a man say he is going to "break a colt," and to me, as a child, it was a sorrow second to that of drowning my kittens. It should be generally known that no trainers, after the Rarey method, use whips; so that the word "break" is the last that should be used. We all know the sublime efficacy of gently words, as well as the power of all words, perpetuation ideas. Let all the friends of this cause, then, carefully adopt the word "train" as one of the essential oils to heal the long-inflicted as one of this almost humanly intelligent animal. "Break" is as appropriately applied to the training of our children as to the training of the horse.—Our Dumb Animals.

THE END OF IT.

From the sample trunks in the hallways of the hotels, we should judge the drummers from New York houses have arrived in town, was the innocent paragraph a Western editor wrote for his paper.

When he returned from dinner the grinning office boy announced to him that four gentlemen were waiting to see him.

"Where are they?" asked the quill driver.

"Well," said the imp, "they've been smoking in the composing room till the compositors have sneezed all the type out of their sticks, 'n they've sent me out six times for beer, 'n now they're playin' drawer poker with the foreman on the imposing stone."

"Very well," said the editor, bringing a large club in the corner more into view, ing asked to give his opinion as to the proper length of a sermon, replied: "Twenty minutes, with a leaning to the side of mercy."

A population clergyman recently gave a lecture on "Fools." The tickets of admission were inscribed, "Lecture on Fools. Admit one." There was a large audience.

"That clock, stranger," said a Michigan farmer, "was the best kind of a clock up to six months ago, when my daughter began to have beaux, and now the blamed thing is always two hours to slow."

A Virginia sheriff asked a murderer if he wanted to make a speech on the gallows, and he replied: "Guess not. It looks like rain, and I don't want to get wet. Go on with the hanging."

A teacher, who, in a fit of vexation, called her pupils a set of young adders, on being reproved for language, apologized by saying that she was speaking to those just commencing their arithmetic.

I clasped her tiny hand in mine; I vowed to shield her from the wind, and from the world's cold storms. She set her beautiful eye on me, and with her little lips said she, "An umbrella will do as well."

An old lady with a large family, living near a river, was asked if she did not live in constant fear that some of her children would be drowned. "Oh, no," she replied, "we have only lost three or four in that way."

Daniel Webster once affirmed in company that no woman ever wrote a letter without a postscript. "My next letter shall refute you!" said a lady of his acquaintance. The "Great Expounder" soon after received a letter from his fair disputant, where, after her signature stood: "P. S.—Who is right now, you or I?"

There is a precocious six-year old in Auburn who is wonderful on spelling and definition. The other day his teacher asked him to spell matrimony. "Matrimony," said the youngster promptly. "Now define it," said the teacher. "Well," replied the boy, "I don't exactly know what it means, but I know my mother's got enough of it."

"Say, mister," said a small boy to one of the assistants at the Public Library, "I can't find the books I want to get into these here catalogs. I wish yer'd find 'im for me."

"What work do you wish to draw," paternally inquired the official.

"Well, hev you got 'Mulligan the Masher, of the Gory Galoot of the Galtees?"

The man shook his head.

"Well, I'd like 'Red Headed Ralph, the Ranger of the Roaring Rialto."

"We don't keep any of that kind of trash my boy."

"Wot sort of a libery is this, any way?" retorted the gamin; "wy, it's just like everything' else in this country—run for the rich, an' the poor working gits no show at all."

HERE AND THERE.

The beauties of universal suffrage are well pictured in the following sarcastic 'hints to voters' published by a Chicago paper on the morning of Tuesday last, the day of the Cook county election:

"Don't fail to vote at least once.
"Vote oftenest for the man who pays the most."

"In voting often, always be careful to vote the same way."

"Never trust a candidate. Get your money before you vote."

"Vote conscientiously. Cast your vote for the man who bought it."

"Keep ballots enough on hand to stuff the boxes at the close of the poll."

"Two men of opposite political views should never attempt to stuff the same box. It leads to a stand off and does no good."

"They are in a bad way over the line, but there are some 'tall beams' in Canada's eye too."

THE "CITY OF BERLIN."

SAW GUMMER.
SAW SWAGES SAW TEETH SAW S'S
ADDRESS THE
Waterous-Engine Works Co.
BRANTFORD, ONT.
where you saw this advertisement.

GREEN'S New Hearse,

The Finest in the Counties,

Will Attend at the Old Price.

Thanking you for past favors,

I remain yours truly,

EDWIN GREEN.

Money to Loan!

I Have received a Large Amount of Money to Lend. Good Mortgages Purchased.

W. S. WILLIAMS.

Land PLASTER

Now grinding and ready for use.

Superior Fine Ground

Land Plaster,

AT THE LOW RATE OF

$5 per Ton, or 25 cts. per Hundred.

All orders left at the Mill, or at the Woollen Factory, for Williams' and Lusher's Water Lime, or Quick Lime, will be promptly attended to. Lime delivered when required. No Credit.

JAMES PERRY.

Napanee, March 5th, 1877. 46.

Important Notice

$2,000 WORTH OF

New Bankrupt Stock,

JUST ARRIVED AT

MEAGHER'S.

Come and See. We are determined to sell Cheaper than can be bought in a regular way. Our prices are far below the Wholesale Price.

GREAT BARGAINS IN

COTTON AND WINCEY SHIRTINGS.

PRINTS AT 5c. A YARD.

BARGAINS IN DRESS GOODS.

Good Black Lustres at 15c. a yard.

Boots and Shoes, Ready-made Clothing, Remarkably Cheap.

Mens' Long Boots, $1.50, Worth, $2.50.

Boys' Long Boots 70c. with $1.50.

200 OVERCOATS,

From $5.00 to $15.00.

Every Line of Goods to be sold below Cost.

Don't fail to call and inspect before making your purchases.
25-11 MEAGHER BROS.

G. F HANCOCK,

perities, it cures Bronchial, Throat Lung Affections; Incipient Consuming Coughs; and Chronic Laryngitis. Its Cholagogue properties render it a equal remedy for Biliousness; T Liver, or "Liver Complaint;" and it properties make it equally efficacious in curing Indigestion, Loss of Appetite, Dyspepsia.

Where the skin is sallow and covered blotches and pimples, or where the scrofulous swellings and affections, bottles of Golden Medical Discovery effect an entire cure. If you feel drowsy, debilitated, have sallow skin, or yellowish-brown spots on body, frequent headache or dizziness in month, internal heat or chills all with hot flushes, low spirits and forebodings, irregular appetite, and coated, you are suffering from "Liver," or "Biliousness." In many of "Liver Complaint," only part of symptoms are experienced. As a for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's (Medical Discovery) has no equal, as it perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy.

P. P. P. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets

Purely Vegetable. No care required while using them.

The "Little Giant" Cathartic Multum in Parvo Physic, is larger than mustard seeds, and are coated. They remove the necessity of the great, crude, drastic, sickening heretofore so much in use.

As a remedy for Headache, Dizziness, Rush of Blood to the Head, Tightness the Chest, Bad Taste in Mouth, Ercut from the Stomach, Bilious Attacks, dizziness, Pain in the Kidneys, Highly-c, rine, and Internal Fever, Dr. P. Pleasant Purgative Pellets are unsurpassed. Furthermore, I would say that there is universal, not a gland escaping sanative impress. Age does not i the properties of these Pellets. The sugar-coated and inclosed in glass be their virtues being thereby pre-er impaired for any length of time, so they are always fresh and reliable is not the case with those pills which put-up in cheap wooden or paste boxes. The daily use of two Pellet cured the most obstinate cases of Sci Tetter, Salt-rheum, Erysipelas, Blotches, Pimples, Sore Eyes, and tions. They are, however, recomm to be taken in connection with the C Medical Discovery, in order to secure best results.

DR. PIERCE'S
FAVORITE

PRESCRIPTION
DR. PIERCE'S

FAVORITE

PRESCRIPTION
DR. PIERCE'S

FAVORITE

PRESCRIPTION

The remedial management of those cases peculiar to woman has afforded larger experience at the World's Dispensary, which Dr. Pierce is the chief consulting physician, in adapting remedies for cure. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription the result of this extended experience has become justly celebrated for its and remarkable cures of all those diseases and.

WEAKNESSES

Peculiar to

FEMALE

Favorite Prescription is a powerful Restorative Tonic to the entire system. It nerve of unsurpassed efficacy, and it quiets nervous irritation, strengthens trainers. We have seen children's eyes beaming with curiosity when they hear a man say he is going to "break a colt," and to me, as a child, it was a sorrow second to that of drowning my kittens. It should be generally known that no trainers, after the Rarey method, use whips; so that the word "break" is the last that should be used. We all know the sublime efficacy of gently words, as well as the power of all words, perpetuation ideas. Let all the friends of this cause, then, carefully adopt the word "train" as one of the essential oils to heal the long-inflicted as one of this almost humanly intelligent animal. "Break" is as appropriately applied to the training of our children as to the training of the horse.—Our Dumb Animals.

THE END OF IT.

From the sample trunks in the hallways of the hotels, we should judge the drummers from New York houses have arrived in town, was the innocent paragraph a Western editor wrote for his paper.

When he returned from dinner the grinning office boy announced to him that four gentlemen were waiting to see him.

"Where are they?" asked the quill driver.

"Well," said the imp, "they've been smoking in the composing room till the compositors have sneezed all the type out of their sticks, 'n they've sent me out six times for beer, 'n now they're playin' drawer poker with the foreman on the imposing stone."

"Very well," said the editor, bringing a large club in the corner more into view, replacing the paper cutter with a bowie knife, and half opening a drawer in which reposed a revolver, "show 'em in."

Four gentlemen in very plain suits, with very large diamond pins and very loud watch chains with lockets at the ends as big as dollars, entered; the fore most laying a card on the desk inscribed

"SHARP, CHISEL & CO.,

No. 1001 Beckman Street, New York,

Hardware and Cutlery," in small letters, and

"Presented by Geo. Gouge,"

in very large ones, asked—

"Are you the editor?"

The journalist looked at the party quietly, as if calculating the cost of their grave clothes, and answered, "I am."

"Here is a little paragraph about commercial travellers," said Mr. Gouge, pulling out a paper from his pocket, "which me and my friends, who are members of the Temple of Honor, and belong to the Young Men's Christian Association of New York, would like explained."

The miserable man took the paper mechanically, and gazed at his paragraph which the printer had set as follows:

"From the simple drunks in the hallways of hotels, we should judge the drunkards from New York houses have arrived in town."

Quietly taking up his revolver, the editor strode upstairs—two sharp reports and heavy fall were heard, and the journalist returned and pleasantly remarked to his visitors:

"Gentlemen, there are not many entertainments in this town now, but a proof reader and compositor are to be buried to-morrow, and if you care for that sort of thing I should be pleased to see you at the funerals."

And he sat down to write an obituary notice, while that night "through the cold and heavy mist" four gentlemen bought railway tickets for Chicago.

The Marquis of Bute has contributed £170,000 for the endowment of a memorial hall at Glasgow University.

A young Englishman named Thomas Pritchard, working on the extension of the Victoria Railway, came into a fortune of £30,000 the other day by the death of a relative in London. He went to Lindsey, spruced up, got a new suit of clothes bought a ticket for England, started for home in excellent spirits.

"Well, hev you got 'Mulligan the Masher, of the Gory Galoot of the Galtees?"

The man shook his head.

"Well, I'd like 'Red Heated Ralph, the Ranger of the Roaring Rialto.'"

"We don't keep any of that kind of trash my boy."

"Wot sort of a libery is this, any way?" retorted the gamin; "wy, it's just like everything' else in this country—run for the rich, an' the poor working gits no show at all."

HERE AND THERE.

The beauties of universal suffrage are well pictured in the following sarcastic 'hints to voters' published by a Chicago paper, on the morning of Tuesday last, the day of the Cook county election:

'Don't fail to vote at least once.

'Vote oftener for the man who pays the most.

'In voting often, always be careful to vote the same way.

'Never trust a candidate. Get your money before you vote,

'Vote conscientiously. Cast your vote for the man who bought it.

'Keep ballots enough on hand, to stuff the boxes at the close of the poll.

'Two men of opposite political views should never attempt to stuff the same box. It leads to a stand off and does no good.'

They are in a bad way over the line, but there are some 'tall beams' in Canada's eye too.

THE "CITY OF BERLIN."

A BROKEN SHAFT THE CAUSE OF DELAY.

LONDON, Dec. 10.—The Inman Steamship Company have just informed the agent of the New York Associated Press that their steamer "City of New York," from New York, November 28th, for Liverpool, passed Crookhaven at 2:30 this morning, towing the "City of Berlin."

The breaking of the "City of Berlin's" shaft caused a momentary panic. For two days little progress was made. On December the 6th she made 160 miles. The sea was so rough off Daunstrock light-ship that passengers wishing to land were lowered by ropes from the yard-arm.

QUEENSTOWN, Dec. 10. The "City of Berlin" passed on her way to Liverpool. On the 30th of November, when three days distant from Queenstown, her shaft broke. The steamer made little way under sail, owing to easterly gales. On Saturday night she spoke the steamer "City of New York," and was by her taken in tow yesterday morning.

Mount Stuart House, the seat of the Marquis of Bute, near Rothsay, has been considerably damaged by fire.

The Government of Cape Colony is granting lands in the Guleka country to Europeans.

An Italian vessel, the Utile was run down on Sunday seven hundred miles from the Irish coast by the Bremen transatlantic steamer America, and the master, mate, and three of the crew of the former were drowned.

The sentence of death passed on De Tourville, the wife-murderer, has been commuted to imprisonment for eighteen years, not for life, as previously stated.

The alarming symptoms of the Pope's illness are increasing, and no hopes of his recovery are entertained. There appears to be danger of asphyxiation.

The Austrian ordinary army estimates have been increased two million florins, and the extraordinary estimate four millions.

The revolution in the northern portion of Ecuador is assuming alarming proportions.

The Pacific Steam Navigation Company's steamship Atacama is reported lost off the coast of Chili, and some seventy persons are supposed to have perished.

NEW BANKRUPT STOCK,

JUST ARRIVED AT

MEAGHER'S.

Come and See. We are determined to sell cheaper than can be bought in a regular way. Our prices are far below the Wholesale Price.

GREAT BARGAINS IN

COTTON AND WINGEY SHIRTINGS.

PRINTS AT 5¢ A YARD.

BARGAINS IN DRESS GOODS.

Good Black Lustres at 15¢ a yard.

Boots and Shoes, Ready-made Clothing, Remarkably Cheap.

Mens' Long Boots, $1.50, Worth, $2.50.

Boys' Long Boots 70¢ with $1.50.

200 OVERCOATS,

From $5.00 to $15.00.

Every Line of Goods to be sold below Cost.

Don't fail to call and inspect before making your purchases.

25-21 MEAGHER BROS.

G. F. HANCOCK, JR. OM

WHISK MANUFACTURER, MILL POINT, ONT. 31-17

CONSUMPTION CURED.

A N old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of consumption, bronchitis, catarrh, asthma, and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for nervous debility and all nervous complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellow-men. Actuated by this motive, and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send, free of charge, to all who desire it, this receipt in German, French, or English, with full directions for preparing and using. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper, W. W. Sherman, 125 Powers' Block Rochester, N. Y.

IMPROVE ME MY FELT ROOF'S

THE Subscriber would call the attention of the people of Napanee, to an improvement on Felt Roofs, invented by

Mr. Brokenshire, of the Atlantic Foundry, Kingston.

This Roofing Material is composed of Minerals which form a Cement, proof against either

Fire or Water,

It will not crack in winter, or get soft and run in summer, and when dry it is as hard as slate and more durable than Tin or Galvanized Iron. In fact nothing else is now used in Kingston on felt roofs.

References to a few who have the roof in use:—
Mr. C. F. Gildersleeve, Kingston;
Messrs. Wagner & McMillan, Albion Hotel;
Mr. McTear's Store, Princess Street, Kingston;
Mr. Barker's Drug Store, Kingston;
Mr. Thornton's Hotel, Kingston;
Mr. Overend, Contractor, on his residence, do.;
Kingston Street Railway Buildings;
Rev. Mr. Grafty, Kingston;
Atlantic Foundry, Kingston, and many others.

Any parties wanting New Roofs or Old Roofs repaired should see

NELSON GERMAN,

Agent, Napanee.

Napanee, Nov. 15th 1877.

NOTICE is hereby given, that on and after the 1st day of July next, Shippers or Exporters of goods, by Vessel, Railway, or any other conveyance to any country or place, outside of the Dominion of Canada, must make export entries verified by oath at the Custom House, with particulars of quantity and value, under a penalty not exceeding $200, and no clearance will be granted to any vessel until the said entries are made and verified.

J. BENSON, Collector.

Custom House, Napanee June 25th, 1877.

boxes. The daily use of two Pellets cured the most obstinate cases of Scrof Tetter, Salt-rheum, Erysipelas, B Blisthes, Pimples, Sore Eyes, and E tions. They are, however, recomen to be taken in connection with the Gol Medical Discovery, in order to secure best results.

DR. PIERCE'S FAVORITE

PREScription DR. PIERCE'S

FAVORITE

PREScription DR. PIERCE'S

FAVORITE

PREScription DR. PIERCE'S

The remarkable management of those cases peculiar to woman has afforded larger experience at the World's Dispensary of which Dr. Pierce is the chief consulting physician, in adapting remedies for the cure Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription the result of this extended experience, has become justly celebrated for its n and remarkable cures of all those chronic diseases and.

WEAKNESSES

Peculiar to

FEMALES

Favorite Prescription is a powerful Restorative Tonic to the entire system. It cures the most obstinate cases of Scrof Tetter, Salt-rheum, Erysipelas, B Blisthes, Pimples, Sore Eyes, and E tions. They are, however, recomen to be taken in connection with the Gol Medical Discovery, in order to secure best results.

The following Ladies are a few of many thousands who can testify to the efficacy of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, from experience and observation.

Mrs. Cornelia Allison, Peosta, Ia
Mrs. Thos. J. Methvin, Hatcher's Sta
Ga.; Mrs. T. A. Seymour, Rome, N
Mrs. Erancis Huswick, Versailles, O
Mrs. Leroy Putnam, North Wharton, I
Mrs. Mary A. Hurd, Edina, Mo.;
Mary A. Frisbie, Lehman, Pa.; Mrs. I
Gill, Chillicothe, Ohio; Mrs. Harrie
Malane, West Springfield, Pa.; Mrs.
Hunt, Emporia, Kan.; Louise P
Dodgeville, Mass.; Mrs. L. A. Dash
Norfolk, Va.; Mrs. G. Allison, Pro
Iowa; Mrs. J. N. Vernon, St. Tho
Ont.; Mrs. S. C. Moran, 253 North ward Street, Baltimore Md.; Mrs. I Calman, Barnesville, Ohio; Mrs. N
McNaught, Jefferson, Iowa; Mrs. L
Stemrod, Friendship, N. Y.; Miss I
Cady, Westfield, N. Y.; Mrs. Ant
Amann, Verona, N. Y.; Mrs. F. N. R
Grand Rapids, Mich.; Mrs. F. H. W
Watertown, N. Y. Thousands of refere can be given at the World's Dispensary

THE PEOPLE'S.

MEDICAL SERVANT

Dr. R. V. PIERCE is the sole propri and manufacturer of the foregoing reme all of which are sold by druggists. He also the Author of the People's Com Sense Medical Adviser, a work of nearly thousand pages, with two hundred eighty-two wood engravings and col plates. He has already sold this pop work

Over 100,000 Copies

PRICE (post-paid) $1.50.

Address: R. V. PIERCE, M. D. World's Dispensary Buffalo, N.

WESTERN ASSURANCE COMPANY
Incorporated 1851.

CAPITAL $800,000
With power to increase to $1,000,000.

FIRE AND MARINE.

HEAD OFFICE: Toronto, Ont.

President.
HON. JOHN McMURRICH.
Vice-President.
CHARLES MAGRATH.
Directors.

JAS. MICHIE, Esq. NOAH BARNHART, Esq.
JOHN FISKIN, Esq. ROBT. HEATY, Esq.
A. M. SMITH, Esq. WM. GOODERHAM, Esq.
BARNARD HILDAN, Managing Director
FREDK. G. LOVELAKE, Secretary.
WM. BLIGHT, Fire Inspector.
JAMES PRINGLE, General Agent.
Marine Inspector.

Insurances effected at the lowest current rates on Buildings, Merchandise, and other property, against loss or damage by fire.

On Hull Cargo, and Freight against the perils of Inland Navigation.

On Cargo Risks with the Maritime Provinces by sail or steam.

On Cargo by steamers to British Ports.

W. V. DETLOR,
Agent for Napanee

SAWS
SOLID AND INSERTED TOOTH
SAW GUMMERS
SAW SWAGES SAW TEETH SAW'S TS
ADDRESS THE
Waterous-Engine Works Co.
BRANTFORD, ONT.
where you may find information.

GREEN'S New Hearse,

The Finest in the Counties,

Will Attend at the Old Price.

Thanking you for past favors,

I remain yours truly,

EDWIN GREEN.

Money to Loan!

I Have received a Large Amount of Money to Lend. Good Mortgages Purchased.

W. S. WILLIAMS.

Land PLASTER

Now grinding and ready for use.

Superior Fine Ground Land Plaster,

AT THE LOW RATE OF

$5 per Ton, or 25 cts. per Hundred.

ALL orders left at the Mill, or at the Wooden Factory, for Williams' and Lusher's Water Lime, or Quick Lime, will be promptly attended to. Lime delivered when required. No Credit.

JAMES PERRY.

Napanee, March 5th, 1877.

46.

Dr. Pierce's Standard Remedies

Are not advertised as "cure-alls," but are specifics in the diseases for which they are recommended.

NATURAL SELECTIONS.

Investigators of natural science have demonstrated beyond controversy, that throughout the animal kingdom the "survival of the fittest" is the only law that vouchsafes thrust and perpetuity. Does not the same principal govern the commercial prosperity of man? An interior cannot supersede a superior article. By reason of superior merit, Dr. Pierce's Standard Medicines have outvalued the others. There sale in the United States alone exceeds one million dollars per annum, while the amount exported fools up to several hundred thousand more. No business could grow to such gigantic proportions and rest upon any other basis than that of merit.

GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY

Is Alterative, or Blood-cleansing.

GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY

Is Pectoral.

GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY

Is a Cholagogue, or Liver Stimulant.

GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY

Is Tonic.

GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY

By reason of its Alternative properties, cures Diseases of the Blood and Skin, as Scrofula, or King's Evil; Tumors; Ulcers, or Old Sores; Blisters Pimples; and Eruptions. By virtue of its Pectoral properties, it cures Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Affections; Incipient Consumption; Lingering Coughs; and Chronic Laryngitis. Its Cholagogue properties render it an unequalled remedy for Biliousness; Torpid Liver, or "Liver Complaint;" and its Tonic properties make it equally efficacious in curing Indigestion, Loss of Appetite, and Dyspepsia.

Where the skin is sallow and covered with blotches and pimples, or where there are scrofulous swellings and affections, a few bottles of Golden Medical Discovery will effect an entire cure. If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow colour of skin, or yellowish-brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flushes, low spirits and gloomy forebodings, irregular appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from "Torpid Liver," or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint," only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy.

P. P. P. P.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets.

Purely Vegetable. No care required while using them.

The "Little Giant" Cathartic, of Multum in Parvo Physic, scarcely larger than mustard seeds, and are sugar-coated. They remove the necessity of taking the great, crude, drastic, sickening pills, heretofore so much in use.

As a remedy for Headache, Dizziness, Rush of Blood to the Head, Tightness about the Chest, Bad Taste in Mouth, Eruptions from the Stomach, Bilious Attacks, Jaundice, Pain in the Kidneys, Highly-colored urine, and Internal Fever, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets are unsurpassed. Furthermore, I would say that their action is universal, not a gland escaping their sensitive impress. Age does not impart

BRISCO HOUSE,
NAPANEE, ONT.

POTTER BROS., PROPRIETORS.

First-Class Sample Rooms for Commercial Travellers.

Omnibus to and from all Trains and Boats.

LIVERY ATTACHED.

GRADUATE OF

Ontario Veterinary College.

May be consulted on all diseases of Domesticated Animals, personally at Campbell House or by letter.

TERMS MODERATE
Office—Bridge Street.

Consumption Cured.

AN OLD PHYSICIAN, retired from active practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India Missionary the formula of a Vegetable Remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of CONSUMPTION ASTHMA BRONCHITIS CATARRH and all Throat and Lung Affections; also a Positive and Radical Cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Complaints, after having thoroughly tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases feels it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellow-men. Actuated by this motive, and a conscientious desire to relieve human suffering, he will send FREE OF CHARGE, to all who desire it, this recipe, with full directions for preparing and successfully using. Sent by return mail by enclosing with stamp, enclosing this paper.

DR. C. STEVENS.
Box 56, Brockville, Ont.

"Among American Reviews, the INTERNATIONAL is always conspicuous."—ACADEMY, New York.

"Will not suffer by comparison with the best foreign quarterlies."—CHURCHMAN, New York.

"Not equalled by any of its contemporaries, home or foreign, in spirit, style, or ability."—INDEPENDENT, Chicago.

"This is the leading Magazine of America."—ELGIN COURANT, England.

1878 THE 1878
International Review.

Between the Quarterlies and the Monthlies
SIX TIMES A YEAR.

I. The chief object of this Review is to supply the demand for a non-partisan and International literature. In politics and religion the Review will subscribe the interest of no sect or party. The Review will aim to discuss, in a vigorous, interesting and impartial manner, both sides of many of the important literary, scientific, social, political and religious questions of the day.

II. It brings to its pages the best talent of Europe and America, and seeks to be a medium of communication between representative thinkers of every nation.

III. The interests and union of the many foreign elements that constitute American society are a very important part of the work assumed by the INTERNATIONAL REVIEW.

IV. Like the Quarterlies, it addresses school-

JUST A

ROSE & F

IN THE PER

100 CASES of NEW

THE BSST AND CH

Come and See Them, as

ALSO A FULL A

New Hat, Caps, Clothing

BOOTS MADE

ROSI

21-yl.

A SPECU

During the months, the will sell Furr &c., at great Prices, for C Notes.

J. GIBBA

I remain yours truly,
EDWIN GREEN.

Money to Loan!

Have received a Large Amount of Money to Lend. Good Mortgages
Purchased.
W. S. WILLIAMS.

Land PLASTER

Now grinding and ready for use.

Superior Fine Ground
Land Plaster,

AT THE LOW RATE OF
per Ton, or 25 cts. per Hundred.
All orders left at the Mill, or at the Woolen Factory, for Williams' and Sher's Water Lime, or Quick Lime, will promptly be attended to. Lime delivered when required. No Credit.
JAMES PERRY.
Spencer, March 5th, 1877. 46.

Important Notice

$2,000 WORTH OF
New Bankrupt Stock,
JUST ARRIVED AT
MEAGHER'S.

Come and See. We are determined to sell
cheaper than can be bought in a regular way.
Our prices are far below the Wholesale Price.

GREAT BARGAINS IN

OTTON AND WINCEY SHIRTINGS.

PRINTS AT 5c A YARD.

BARGAINS IN DRESS GOODS.

Good Black Lustres at 15c. a yard.

Coats and Shoes, Ready-made Clothing,
Remarkably Cheap.

Mens' Long Boots, $1.50,
Worth, $2.50.

Boys' Long Boots 70c. worth $1.50.

200 OVERCOATS,

from $5.00 to $15.00.

Every Line of Goods to be sold below
Cost.

Don't fail to call and inspect before making
your purchases.
5-11 MEAGHER BROS.

G. F. HANCOCK,
BROM

—AND—
WHISK MANUFACTURER,
MILL POINT, ONT. 31-1y

CONSUMPTION CURED.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East Indian missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy, for the speedy and permanent cure of consumption, bronchitis, catarrh, asthma, and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and ideal cure for nervous debility and all nervous affections, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt his duty to make it known to his suffering fellow-men. Actuated by this motive, and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send, free of charge, to all who desire it, this receipt in German, French, or English, with full directions for preparation and use. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper, W. W. Sheran, 6 Powers' Block, Rochester, N. Y.

symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy.

P. P. P. P. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets.

Purely Vegetable. No care required
while using them.

The "Little Giant" Cathartic, of Miltum in Parvo Physic, scarcely larger than mustard seeds, and are sugar-coated. They remove the necessity of taking the great, crude, drastic, sickening pills,
heretofore so much in use.

As a remedy for Headache, Dizziness, Rush of Blood to the Head, Tightness about the Chest, Bad Taste in Mouth, Eruptions from the Stomach, Bilious Attacks, Jaundice, Pain in the Kidneys, Highly-colored urine, and Internal Fever, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets are unsurpassed.
Furthermore, I would say that there action is universal, not a gland escaping their sanative impress. Age does not impart the properties of these Pellets. They are sugar-coated and inclosed in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved unimpaired for any length of time, so that they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the case with those pills which are put up in cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes. The daily use of two Pellets has cured the most obstinate cases of Scrofula, Tetter, Salt-rheum, Erysipelas, Boils,
Blotches, Pimples, Sore Eyes, and Eruptions. They are, however, recommended to be taken in connection with the Golden Medical Discovery, in order to secure the best results.

DR. PIERCE'S
FAVORITE

PRESCRIPTIONS
DR. PIERCE'S

FAVORITE

PRESCRIPTIONS
DR. PIERCE'S
FAVORITE

PRESCRIPTIONS

The remedial management of those diseases peculiar to woman has afforded a larger experience at the World's Dispensary
of which Dr. Pierce is the chief consulting physician, in adapting remedies for their cure. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the result of this extended experience, and has become justly celebrated for its many
and remarkable cures of all those chronic diseases and.

WEAKNESSES

Peculiar to

FEMALES.

Favorite Prescription is a powerful Restorative Tonic to the entire system. It is a nervine of unsurpassed efficacy, and, while it quiets nervous irritation, strengthens the enfeebled nervous system, thereby resorting to it healthful vigor. The following diseases are among those in which the Favorite Prescription has worked magic cures, viz:
Leucorrhoea, or "Whites," Excessive Flow,
Painful Menstruation, Unnatural Suppres-
sions, Weak Back, Prolapsus, or falling of the Uterus, Anteversion, Retroversion,
Bearing-down Sensation, Chronic Congestion,
Inflammation and Ulceration of the Uterus,
Internal Heat, Nervous Depression, Debility, Dependancy, and very many other chronic diseases peculiar to women, but not mentioned here.

The following Ladies are a few of the many thousands who can testify to the efficacy of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, from experience and observation.

Mrs. Cornelia Allison, Peosta, Iowa;
Mrs. Thos. J. Methvin, Hatcher's Station,
Ga.; Mrs. T. A. Seymour, Rome, N. Y.;
Mrs. Francis Huswick, Versailles, Ohio;
Mrs. Leroy Putman, North Wharton, Pa.;

and a consultation desire to receive human suffering, will send FREE OF CHARGE, to all who desire it, this remedy, with full directions for preparing and successfully using. Sent by return mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper.

DR. C. STEVENS,
Box 86, Brockville, Ont.

"Among American Reviews the INTER-NATIONAL is always conspicuous."—ACADEMY, New York.

"Will not suffer by comparison with the best origin quarters."—CHURCHMAN, New York.

"Not equalled by any of its contemporaries, home or foreign, in spirit, style, or ability."—INTERIOR, Chicago.

"This is the leading Magazine of America."—ELGIN COURANT, England.

1878 THE 1878
International Review.

Between the Quarterlies and the Monthlies
SIX TIMES A YEAR.

I. The chief object of this Review is to supply the demand for a non-partisan and International literature. In politics and religion the Review will subscribe the interest of no sect or party. The Review will aim to discuss, in a vigorous, interesting and impartial manner, both sides of many of the important literary, scientific, social, political and religious questions of the day.

II. It brings to its pages the best talent of Europe and America, and seeks to be a medium of communication between representative thinkers of every nation.

III. The interests and union of the many foreign elements that constitute American society are a very important part of the work assumed by the INTERNATIONAL REVIEW.

IV. Like the Quarterlies, it addresses scholars, and like the Monthlies, aims to be of value to practical men in business and the professions, and of interest to the members of the family.

V. Each number contains fresh and reliable notices of important new American and European books.

VI. The Art Department will be conducted by Mr. Phillip Gilbert Hamerton.

VII. Editorial comments upon the course of events at home and abroad, having special reference to the interests of the United States, are given in, and add strength and timeliness to every issue.

VIII. The success of the INTERNATIONAL RE-VIEW is made to depend upon a comprehensive plan, solid merit, and adaptation in style and subject to the age in which we live.

ALL ARTICLES ARE ORIGINAL.

MSOE OF THE CONTRIBUTORS:

WM. CULLEN BRYANT, U. States of America.
Hon. C. F. ADAMS, Sr. " "
Dr. Pres. TH. D. WOOLSEY, " "
Pres. NOAH PORTER, " "
Pres. JAMES MCCOSH, " "
Prof. A. P. PEABODY, " "
Mr. JUSTICE STRONG, " "
Prof. J. E. HILGARD, " "
E. P. WHITTE, " "
Dr. FRANCIS WHARTON, " "
THEODORE DWIGHT, " "
Hon. JOHN BIGELOW, " "
H. H. BOYSEN, " "
E. A. WASHBURN, " "
RAYARD TAYLOR, " "
DAVID A. WELLS, " "
Hon. T. M. COOLEY, " "
Hon. A. H. STEVENS, " "
Gen. F. A. WALKER, " "
Hon. JOHN JAY, " "
Hon. CARL SCHERER, " "

Principal J. W. DAWSON, Canada.
WALTER BESANT, England.
CHAS. TENNYSON TURNER, England.
DEAN SMITH, of Canterbury, England.
DEAN STANLEY, of Westminster, England.
Professor W. E. CARPENTER, England.
Professor E. H. PALMER, England.
PHILIP GIBBERT HAMERTON, England.
EDWARD A. FREEMAN, England.
Prof. W. S. JEVONS, England.
THOMAS HUGHES, England.
THOMAS BRASSEY, M. P., England.
WILKIE COLLINS, England.
JAMES H. RIGG, England.
Professor EDWARD LABOULAYE, France.
M. ERNET NAVILLE, France.
M. SPULLER, Dep. France.
Pasteur EUGENE BELLIER, France.
Professor ERNST CURTIUS, Germany.
Dr. CARL ABEL, Germany.
Baron F. VON HOLTZENDORF, Germany.
Professor AUG. ST. VOIGEL, Germany.
Professor J. E. DOKNER, Germany.
Professor R. BONCHI, Italy.
Professor A. DE GIBERTINATIS, Italy.
Princess DORA D'ASTRA, Italy.
Madame VILLARI, Italy.

Crockery & Glassware.

AT COST

OUR ENTIRE STOCK OF

A SPECUL

During the months, the will sell Furni
&c., at great
Prices, for Ca
Notes.

J. GIBBAL

S. G. BEATTY
BELLEVILLE,
S. G. BEATTY. W. R. ROBI

Ontario Busin

Which has been in existence for 10 years, and, dur

Has Trained Hundre

For Business Life, who are now filling important p
for obtaining a

COMMERCIAL

Equal to any Institution in Canada, or the United by thoroughly competent men who teach that whic
ence, and therefore practically understand,

THE PUBLICATIONS

The "Canadian Accountant," "Joint Stock Comp
Writing, etc., have obtained a National reputation.
College, who are daily engaged, together with their Rooms, College Bank, and Merchants Emporium w

THE COURSE

because the teaching is thorough and practical, and individually, as well as to the various classes, the

GOOD BOA

can be obtained in Belleville at a lower rate than i
Canada or the United States.

1- The College Journal, containing full inform and specimens of penmanship, sent free on applica

Ad

Belleville, September 1877.

MONEY 1

We have received instructions from Eng

MEAGHER'S.

me and See. We are determined to sell paper than can be bought in a regular way. prices are far below the Wholesale Price.

GREAT BARGAINS IN
TIES AND WINGEY SHIRTINGS.
PRINTS AT 5c. A YARD.

BARGAINS IN DRESS GOODS.

Good Black Lustres at 15c. a yard.

Hats and Shoes, Ready-made Clothing,
Remarkably Cheap.

Men's Long Boots, $1.50,
Worth, $2.50.

Men's Long Boots 70c. with $1.50.

200 OVERCOATS,

from $5.00 to $15.00.

Every Line of Goods to be sold below
Cost.

Don't fail to call and inspect before making purchases.

MEAGHER BROS.

G. F. HANCOCK,
BROM

HISK MANUFACTURER,
MILL POINT, ONT. 31-1y

CONSUMPTION CURED.

Old physician, retired from practice, having placed in his hands by an East In-missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy, for the speedy and permanent cure of consumption, bronchitis, catarrh, asthma, and all other lung affections also a positive and ideal cure for nervous debility and all nervous plaints, after having tested its wonderful active powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering
ows. Actuated by this motive, and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send, free of charge, to all who desire it, this receipt in German, French, or English, with full directions for preparation and use. Sent by mail by addressing stamp, naming this paper, W. W. Sheran, Powers' Block, Rochester, N. Y.

IMPROVE ME
BELT ROOFS

Every Subscriber would call the attention of the people of Napanee, to an improvement on Roofs, invented by

Brokenshire, of the Atlantic Foundry, Kingston.

His Roofing Material is composed of Miners'- which form a Cement, proof against either

Fire or Water,

will not crack in winter, or get soft and in summer, and when dry it is as hard as iron and more durable than Tin or Galvanized iron, in fact nothing else is now used in Kingston on belt roofs.

References to a few who have the roof in use:—
C. F. Gildersleeve, Kingston;
Messrs. Wagner & McMillan, Albion Hotel;
Mr. McLean's Store, Princess Street, Kingston;
Mr. Barker's Drug Store, Kingston;
Mr. Thornton's Hotel, Kingston;
Mr. Overend, Contractor on his residence, do.;
Kingston Street Railway Buildings;
Mr. W. Grafty, Kingston;
Atlantic Foundry, Kingston, and many others.

For Any parties wanting New Roofs or Old is repaired should see

NELSON GERMAN,
Agent, Napanee.
Napanee, Nov. 15th 1877.

NOTICE is hereby given, that on and after the 1st day of July next, Shippers or Exporters
of goods, by Vessel, Railway, or any other conveyance to any country or place, outside of the Province of Canada, must make export entries for each article at the Customs House, with particulars of quantity and value, under a penalty exceeding $200, and no clearance will be granted to any vessel until the said entries are
made and verified.

J. BENSON, Collector,
Customs House, Napanee June 25th, 1877.

Blotches, Pimples, Sore Eyes, and Eruptions. They are, however, recommended to be taken in connection with the Golden Medical Discovery, in order to secure the
best results.

DR. PIERCE'S
FAVORITE
PRESCRIPTIONS
DR. PIERCE'S
FAVORITE
PRESCRIPTIONS
DR. PIERCE'S
FAVORITE
PRESCRIPTIONS

The remedial management of those diseases peculiar to woman has afforded a larger experience at the World's Dispensary
of which Dr. Pierce is the chief consulting physician, in adapting remedies for their cure. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the result of this extended experience, and has become justly celebrated for its many
and remarkable cures of all those chronic diseases and.

WEAKNESSES
Peculiar To FEMALES.

Favorite Prescription is a powerful Restorative Tonic to the entire system. It is a nervine of unsurpassed efficacy, and, while it quiets nervous irritation, strengthens the enfeebled nervous system, thereby resorting it to healthful vigor. The following diseases are among those in which the Favorite Prescription has worked magic cures, viz:—
Leucorrhoea, or "Whites," Excessive Flow,
Painful Menstruation, Unnatural Suppres-
sions, Weak Back, Protrusion, or falling of
the Uterus, Anteversion, Retroversion,
Bearing-down Sensation Chronic Congestion,
Inflammation and Ulceration of the Uterus,
Internal Heat, Nervous Depression, De-
bility, Dependancy, and very many other chronic diseases peculiar to women, but not
mentioned here.

The following Ladies are a few of the many thousands who can testify to the efficacy of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, from experience and observation.

Mrs. Cornelia Allison, Peosta, Iowa;
Mrs. Thos. J. Methvin, Hatcher's Station,
Ga.; Mrs. T. A. Seymour, Rome, N. Y.;
Mrs. Francis Huswick, Versailles, Ohio;
Mrs. Leroy Putman, North Wharton, Pa.;
Mrs. Mary A. Hupolt, Edina, Mo.; Mrs.
Mary A. Frisbie, Lehman, Pa.; Mrs. D. L.
Gill, Chillicothe, Ohio; Mrs. Harriet E.
Malane, West Springfield, Pa.; Mrs. R.
Hiatt, Emporia, Kan.; Louise Pratt, Dodgeville, Mass.; Mrs. L. A. Dashiell,
Norfolk, Va.; Mrs. C. Allison, Proctor,
Iowa; Mrs. J. N. Vernon, St. Thomas, Ga.; Mrs. S. C. Moran, 253 North Howard Street, Baltimore Md.; Mrs. Lucy Calman, Barnesville, Ohio; Mrs. Nancy McNaught, Jefferson, Iowa; Mrs. L. G.
Stemrod, Friendship, N. Y.; Miss Ellen Cady, Westfield, N. Y.; Mrs. Anthony
Amann, Verona, N. Y.; Mrs. B. N. Rooks,
Grand Rapids, Mich.; Mrs. F. H. Webb, Watertown, N. Y. Thousands of references
can be given at the World's Dispensary.

THE PEOPLE'S
MEDICAL SERVANT!

Dr. R. V. PIERCE is the sole proprietor and manufacturer of the foregoing remedies, all of which are sold by druggists. He is also the Author of the People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, a work of nearly one thousand pages, with two hundred and eighty-two wood engravings and colored plates. He has already sold this popular work

Over 100,000 Copies!!

PRICE (post-paid) $1.50.
Address:

R. V. PIERCE, M. D.,
World's Dispensary Buffalo, N. Y.

VIEW. The success of the INTERNATIONAL RE-VIEW is made to depend upon a comprehensive plan, solid merit, and adaptation in style and subject to the age in which we live.

ALL ARTICLES ARE ORIGINAL.

MOSE OF THE CONTRIBUTORS:
WM. CULLEN BRYANT, U. States of America.
Hon. C. F. ADAMS, Sec.
Ex-Pres. TH. D. W. WILSON, " "
Pres. NOAH PORTER, " "
Pres. JAMES MCCOSH, " "
Prof. A. P. PEABODY, " "
Mr. JUSTICE STRONG, " "
Prof. J. E. HILGARD, " "
E. P. WHIPPLE, " "
Dr. FRANCIS WHARTON, " "
THEODORE DAVID, " "
Hon. JOHN BIGELOW, " "
HE. H. BOYSEN, " "
E. A. WASHBURN, " "
RAYARD TAYLOR, " "
DAVID A. WELLS, " "
Hon. T. M. COOLEY, " "
Hon. A. H. STEVENS, " "
Gen. F. A. WALKER, " "
Hon. JOHN JAY, " "
Hon. CARL S. HURZ, " "
Principal J. W. DAWSON, Canada.
WALTER BESANT, England.
CHAS. TENNYSON TURNER, England.
DEAN SMITH, of Canterbury, England.
DEAN STANLEY, of Westminster, England.
Professor WM. B. CARPENTER, England.
Professor E. H. PALMER, England.
PHILIP GILBERT HAMERTON, England.
EDWARD A. FREEMAN, England.
Prof. W. S. JEVONS, England.
THOMAS BRASSEY, M.P., England.
WILKIE COLLINS, England.
JAMES H. RIGG, England.
Professor EDWARD LAUREL LAYE, France.
M. ERNET NAVILLE, France.
M. SPILLER, Dep. France.
Pasteur EUGENE BERLIER, France.
Professor ERNST CURTUS, Germany.
Dr. CARL ABEL, Germany.
Baron F. VON HOLTZENDORF, Germany.
Professor AUGUST VOGEL, Germany.
Professor J. E. DORNER, Germany.
Professor R. BOENIGL, Italy.
Professor A. DEGIUBERNATIS, Italy.
Princess DORA D'ASTORIA, Italy.
Madame VILLARI, Italy.

Crockery & Glassware.

AT COST

OUR ENTIRE STOCK OF

Crockery & Glassware,

WILL BE SOLD AT

Cost and Under

FOR CASH,

As we intend going out of that line.

Call and Secure Bargains.

Cash Paid for Butter and Eggs.

SMITH & ANDERSON,

GRACE'S SALVE.

A Vegetable Preparation, invented in the 17th century by Dr. Wm. Grace, Surgeon in King
James' army. Through its agency he cured
thousands of the most serious sores and wounds,
and was regarded by all who knew him as a public benefactor. 25c. a box, by mail 30c. For sale by druggists generally.

AGENTS WANTED.

Address: SETH W. BOWLER & SON, Boston,
Mass.

S. G. BEAT

BELLEVILLE, -

S. G. BEATTY. W. R. ROBIN

Ontario Busin

Which has been in existence for 10 years, and, durin

Has Trained Hundred

For Business Life, who are now filling important pos

for obtaining a

COMMERCIAL I

Equal to any Institution in Canada, or the United St

by thoroughly competent men who teach that which

ence, and therefore practically understand,

THE PUBLICATIONS C

The "Canadian Accountant," "Joint Stock Compan

Writing, etc., have obtained a National reputation, a College, who are daily engaged, together with their s

Rooms, College Bank, and Merchants Emporium wit

THE COURSE

because the teaching is thorough and practical, and,

individually, as well as to the various classes, the pe

GOOD BOAR

can be obtained in Belleville at a lower rate than in Canada or the United States.

The College Journal, containing full informat and specimens of penmanship, sent free on applicati

Add:

Belleville, September 1877.

MONEY T

We have received instructions from Englar

AT LOWERS RATE THAN H

CALL IN AND EXA

NO COMMISSIO

$777

is not easily earned in these times, but it can be made
in three months by any one of either sex, in any part of the country who is willing to work steadily at the employment that we furnish. $66 per week in your own town. You need not be away from home over night. You can give your whole time to the work, or only your spare moments. We have agents who are making over $20 per day.
All who engage at once can make money fast.
At the present time money cannot be made so easily and rapidly at any other business. It costs nothing to try the business. Terms and $5 outfit free. Address at once, H. HALLETT &
Co., Portland, Maine.

PULMONA

is beyond comparison the best remedy for the
of CONSUMPTION (EVEN IN ITS ADVANCED
STAGES, Asthma, Bronchitis, Catarrh, and all derangements of the NERVOUS SYSTEM. A
circular containing PARTICULARS OF MANY CASES SUCCESSFULLY TREATED, full advice for the treatment of the diseases above mentioned, and certificates of actual cures, will be sent free by mail to all applicants. Address OSCAR G.
MOSES, Sole Proprietor, 15 Cortlandt Street,
New York

ESS, DEC. 21, 1877

BRISCO HOUSE,
NAPANEE, ONT.

POTTER BROS., PROPRIETORS.
First-Class Sample Rooms for Commercial Travellers.
Omnibus to and from all Trains and Boats.
LIVERY ATTACHED.

GRADUATE OF
Ontario Veterinary College.
May be consulted on all diseases of Domesticated Animals, personally at Campbell House or by letter.
TERMS MODERATE
OFFICE—Bridge Street.

Consumption Cured.

AN OLD PHYSICIAN, retired from active practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India Missionary the formula of a Vegetable Remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of
CONSUMPTION ASTHMA BRONCHITIS CATARRH
and all Throat and Lung Affections; also a Positive and Radical Cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Complaints, after having thoroughly tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, feels it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellow-men. Actuated by this motive, and a conscientious desire to relieve human suffering, he will send FREE OF CHARGE to all who desire it, this recipe, with full directions for preparing and successfully using. Sent by return mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper,
DR. C. STEVENS,
Box 88, Brockville, Ont.

"Among American Reviews the INTERNATIONAL is always conspicuous."—ACADEMY, New York.
"Will not suffer by comparison with the best foreign quarterlies."—CHURCHMAN, New York.
"Not equalled by any of its contemporaries, home or foreign, in spirit, style, or ability."—INTERIOR, Chicago.
"This is the leading Magazine of America."—ELGIN COURANT, England.

1878 THE 1878
International Review.

Between the Quarterlies and the Monthlies
SIX TIMES A YEAR.

- I. The chief object of this Review is to supply the demand for a non-partisan and International literature. In politics and religion the Review will subserve the interest of no sect or party. The Review will aim to discuss, in a vigorous, interesting and impartial manner, both sides of many of the important literary, scientific, social, political and religious questions of the day.
- II. It brings to its pages the best talent of Europe and America, and seeks to be a medium of communication between representative thinkers of every nation.
- III. The interests and union of the many foreign elements that constitute American society are a very important part of the work assumed by the INTERNATIONAL REVIEW.
- IV. Like the Quarterlies, it addresses scholars and like the Monthlies aims to be of value

JUST ARRIVED,

—AT—

ROSE & FRALICK'S,

IN THE PERRY BLOCK,

100 CASES of NEW BOOTS & SHOES,

THE BEST AND CHEAPEST IN TOWN.

Come and See Them, as We will not be Undersold.

—O—

ALSO A FULL ASSORTMENT OF

New Hat, Caps, Clothing, Gents' Furnishings, &c

—O—

BOOTS MADE TO ORDER

ROSE & FRALICK.

21-yl.

JOB

Printing!

—O—

THE JOBBING DEPARTMENT

—OF THE—

NAPANEE EXPRESS

AS EXCELLED BY

No Office In the Dominion

—O—

ITS OUTFIT INCLUDES A

A SPECULATION!

LARGE STOCK

OF THE

During the dull summer months, the undersigned will sell Furniture, Chairs, &c., at greatly reduced Prices, for Cash or Good Notes.

J. GIBBARD & SON.

Very Latest Styles Of New Type

And every Facility exists for turning out

JOB PRINTING

OLD PHYSICIAN, retired from active practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India Missionary a formula of a Vegetable Remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of
CONSUMPTION ASTHMA BRONCHITIS CATARRH
 of all Throat and Lung Affections; also a Positive and ideal cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Complaints, after having thoroughly tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases feels it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellow-men. Actuated by this motive, and a conscientious desire to relieve human suffering, he sends FREE OF CHARGE, to all who desire it, this Remedy, with full directions for preparing and successfully using. Sent by return mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper,
DR. C. STEVENS,
 Box 86, Brockville, Ont.

Among American Reviews, the INTERNATIONAL is always conspicuous. — ACADEMY, New York.
 Will not suffer by comparison with the best literary quarterly. — CHURCHMAN, New York.
 Not equalled by any of its contemporaries, no or foreign, in spirit, style, or ability. — TERIOR, Chicago.
 This is the leading Magazine of America. — GIN COURANT, England.

378 THE 1878
ite rnational Review.
 between the Quarterlies and the Monthlies
SIX TIMES A YEAR.

- I. The chief object of this Review is to supply the demand for a non-partisan and International literature. In politics and religion the view will subserve the interest of no sect or party. The Review will aim to discuss, in a serious, interesting and impartial manner, both of many of the important literary, scientific, social, political and religious questions of the day.
- II. It brings to its pages the best talent of Europe and America, and seeks to be a medium of communication between representative thinkers of every nation.
- III. The interests and union of the many foreign elements that constitute American society are a very important part of the work assumed by the INTERNATIONAL REVIEW.
- IV. Like the Quarterlies, it addresses scholars, and like the Monthlies, aims to be of value to practical men in business and the professions, and of interest to the members of the family.
- V. Each number contains fresh and reliable notices of important new American and European books.
- VI. The Art Department will be conducted by Mr. Phillip Gilbert Hamerton.
- VII. Editorial comments upon the course of events at home and abroad, having special reference to the interests of the United States, are given, and add strength and timeliness to the issue.
- VIII. The success of the INTERNATIONAL REVIEW is made to depend upon a comprehensive view, in solid merit, and adaptation in style and substance to the age in which we live.

ALL ARTICLES ARE ORIGINAL.

- MOSE OF THE CONTRIBUTORS:
 M. CULLEN BRYANT, U. States of America.
 M. C. F. ADAMS, Sr. " "
 Pres. TH. D. A. O'NEIL, " "
 es. NOAH PORTER, " "
 es. JAMES MCCOSH, " " of A. P. PEABODY, " " J. JUSTICE STRONG, " "
 of E. J. E. HILGARD, " "
 P. WHIPPLE, " "
 FRANCES WATSON, " "
 LEOPOLD DOWD, " "
 M. JOHN BIGELOW, " "
 E. H. BOYSEN, " "
 A. WASHBURN, " "
 ARD TAYLOR, " "
 W. A. WELLS, " "
 M. T. M. COOLEY, " "
 M. A. H. STEVENS, " "
 M. F. A. WALKER, " "
 M. JOHN JAY, " "
 M. CARL S. HUBB, " "
 Principal J. W. DAWSON, Canada.
 ALGER BESANT, England.
 IAS. TENNYSON TURNER, England.
 E. AN SMITH, of Canterbury, England.
 E. AN STANLEY, of Westminster, England.
 Professor W. M. B. CHAMBERLAIN, England.
 Professor E. H. PALMER, England.
 HILIP GIBBERT HAMERTON, England.
 DAVID A. FREEMAN, England. of W. S. JEVONS, England.
 THOMAS HUGHES, England.
 THOMAS BRASSET, M. P., England.
 H. K. COLLINS, England.
 MES H. RIGG, England.
 Professor EDWARD LABOULAYE, France.
 ERNET NAVILLE, France.
 SPILLER, Dep. France.
 Monsieur EUGENE BERLEGER, France.
 Professor ERNST CURTH, Germany.
 r. CARL ABEL, Germany.
 Iron F. VON HOLTZENDORF, Germany.
 Professor AUGUST VOGEL, Germany.
 Professor J. E. DORNHEIM, Germany.
 Professor R. BONGHIL, Italy.
 Professor A. DEGUERNATIS, Italy.
 Princess DORA D'ISTRIA, Italy.
 Madame VILLARI, Italy.

rockey & Glassware.
AT COST

A SPECULATION! LARGE STOCK

During the dull summer months, the undersigned will sell Furniture, Chairs, &c., at greatly reduced Prices, for Cash or Good Notes.

J. GIBBARD & SON.

ITS OUTFIT INCLUDES A

LARGE STOCK

OF THE

Very Latest Styles Of New Type

And every Facility exists for turning out

JOB PRINTING

IN THE

BEST STYLE

OF THE ART.

LAW WORK 'A' SPECIALITY

S. G. BEATTY & Co.,
BELLEVILLE, - - Ontario.
S. G. BEATTY. W. R. ROBINSON. J. W. JOHNSON.
Ontario Business College,

Which has been in existence for 10 years, and, during which time
Has Trained Hundreds of Young Men
 For Business Life, who are now filling important positions in the community, offers advantages for obtaining a
COMMERCIAL EDUCATION,
 Equal to any Institution in Canada, or the United States. Its several departments are conducted by thoroughly competent men who teach that which they have learned by actual business experience, and therefore practically understand.

THE PUBLICATIONS OF THE COLLEGE:
 The "Canadian Accountant," "Joint Stock Company Book Keeping," "Beatty's Guide to Elegant Writing, etc., have obtained a National reputation, and are the productions of the principals of the College, who are daily engaged, together with their staff of teachers, in the Class and Lecture Rooms, College Bank, and Merchants Emporium with the Students.

THE COURSE IS SHORT,
 because the teaching is thorough and practical, and no pains are spared to give to each student individually, as well as to the various classes, the personal attention of the teachers.

GOOD BOARD
 can be obtained in Belleville at a lower rate than in any other place having a Business College in Canada or the United States.

The College Journal, containing full information respecting terms, nature of course, etc. and specimens of penmanship, sent free on application.
Address, S. G. BEATTY & Co.,
BELLEVILLE, ONTARIO.
 Belleville, September 1877. 19-6m.

MONEY TO LOAN.

- Assessment Blanks,
- Auction Bills,
- Articles of Agreement,
- Briefs,
- Bill Heads,
- Ball Programmes,
- Bills of Fare,
- Circulars,
- Chancery Bills,
- Cards,
- Catalogues,
- De-benture

- Dodgers,
- Date Lines,
- Envelopes,
- Exhibition Bills,
- Funeral Circulars,
- Financial Reports,
- Headings,
- Horse Bills,
- Indentures,
- Invitations

- Letter Headings,
- Law Forms,
- Lawyers' Briefs,
- Labels,
- Monthly Statements,
- Mourning Cards,
- Municipal Forms,
- Note Headings,
- Notarial Circulars

solid merit, and adaptation in style and sub-to the age in which we live.

L ARTICLES ARE ORIGINAL.

USE OF THE CONTRIBUTORS:
CULLEN BRYANT, U. States of America.
C. F. ADAMS, Sr. " "
Pres. TH. D. WOOLSEY, " "
NOAH PORTER, " "
JAMES MCNEIL, " "
A. P. PEABODY, " "
JUSTICE STRONG, " "
J. E. HILGARD, " "
WHIPPLE, " "
FRANCIS WHARTON, " " DODORE DAWGHT, " "
JOHN BIGELOW, " "
H. BOYSEN, " "
WASHBURN, " "
ARD TAYLOR, " "
ED A. WELLS, " "
T. M. COOLEY, " "
A. B. STEVENS, " "
F. A. WALKER, " "
JOHN JAY, " "
CARL S. HUBB, " "
J. W. DAWSON, Canada.
ETER BESANT, England.
AS. TENNYSON TURNER, England.
AN SMITH, of Canterbury, England.
AN STANLEY of Westminster, England.
essor W. B. CARPENTER, England.
essor E. H. PALMER, England.
LIP GIBBERT HAMERTON, England.
VARD A. FREEMAN, England.
W. S. JEVONS, England.
MAS HUGHES, England.
MAS BRASSEY, M. P., England.
KIE COLLINS, England.
IES H. RIGG, England.
essor EDWARD LABO LAYE, France.
ERNET NAVILLE, France.
PU LER, Dep. France.
teur EUGENE BERLLER, France.
essor ERNST CURTIS, Germany.
CARL ABEL, Germany.
on F. VON HOLTZENDORF, Germany.
essor AUGUST VOGEL, Germany.
essor J. E. DOEKNER, Germany.
essor R. BONOLI, Italy.
essor A. DIGUBERNATIS, Italy.
ress DORA DISTRIA, Italy.
lame VILLARI, Italy.

ockey & Glassware.

AT COST

OUR ENTIRE STOCK OF

ockey & Glassware.

WILL BE SOLD AT

Cost and Under

FOR CASH,

As we intend going out of that line.

all and Secure Bargains.

ish Paid for Butter and Eggs.

SMITH & ANDERSON.

RACE'S SALVE.

Vegetable Preparation, invented in the century by Dr. Wm. Grace, Surgeon in King es' army. Through its agency he cured lands of the most serious sores and wounds, was regarded by all who knew him as a public benefactor. 25c. a box, by mail 30c. For sale ruggists generally.

AGENTS WANTED.

dress SETH W. BOWLER & SON, Boston.

S. G. BEATTY & Co.,

BELLEVILLE, - - Ontario.

S. G. BEATTY. W. R. ROBINSON. J. W. JOHNSON.

Ontario Business College,

Which has been in existence for 10 years, and, during which time

Has Trained Hundreds of Young Men

For Business Life, who are now filling important positions in the community, offers advantages

for obtaining a

COMMERCIAL EDUCATION,

Equal to any Institution in Canada, or the United States. Its several departments are conducted by thoroughly competent men who teach that which they have learned by actual business experience, and therefore practically understand,

THE PUBLICATIONS OF THE COLLEGE:

The "Canadian Accountant," "Joint Stock Company Book Keeping," "Beatty's Guide to Elegant
Writing, etc., have obtained a National reputation. And are the productions of the principals of the College, who are daily engaged, together with their staff of teachers, in the Class and Lecture
Rooms, College Bank, and Merchants Emporium with the Students.

THE COURSE IS SHORT,

because the teaching is thorough and practical, and no pains are spared to give to each student individually, as well as to the various classes, the personal attention of the teachers.

GOOD BOARD

can be obtained in Belleville at a lower rate than in any other place having a Business College in Canada or the United States.

1.- The College Journal, containing full information respecting terms, nature of course, etc.
and specimens of penmanship, sent free on application.

Address, S. G. BEATTY & Co.,
BELLEVILLE, ONTARIO.

Belleville, September 1877. 19-6m.

MONEY TO LOAN.

We have received instructions from England, to lend a large amount of Money,

AT LOWERS RATE THAN HAS YET BEEN OFFERED.

CALL IN AND EXAMINE RATES.

NO COMMISSION CHARGED.

WILLIAMS & HOOPER.

GOOD ADVERTISING

$3250.40 worth of space in various newspapers distributed through thirty states, will be sold for $700 cash. Accurate insertions guaranteed. A past of papers giving daily and weekly circulation
and printed schedule of rates, sent free on application to GEO. P. ROWELL & Co., New York. Paper Advertising Agents, No. 41 Par wNew York. 34-y.s.

54.30 PER WEEK AT HOME.
Samples and Watch free to al
Address, MONTREAL NOVELTY CO. P.Q.
F 236 St. James Street, Montreal

PULMONA

is beyond comparison the best remedy for the
of CONSUMPTION (EVEN IN ITS ADVANCED STAGES), Asthma, Bronchitis, Catarrh, and all derangements of the NERVOUS SYSTEM. A circular containing PARTICULARS OF MANY CASES
successfully TREATED, full advice for the treatment of the diseases above mentioned, and certificates of actual cures, will be sent free by
mail to all applicants. Address OSCAR G.
MOSES, Sole Proprietor, 18 Cortlandt Street,
New York 22

LAW WORK 'A' SPECIALITY

Assessment Blanks,
Auction Bills,
Articles of Agreement,
Briefs,
Bill Heads,
Ball Programmes,
Bills of Fare,
Circulars,
Chancery Bills,
Cards,
Catalogues,
Debenture

Dodgers,
Date Lines,
Envelopes,
Exhibition Bills,
Funeral Circulars,
Financial Reports,
Headings,
Horse Bills,
Indentures,
Invitations

Letter Headings,
Law Forms,
Lawyers' Briefs,
Labels,
Monthly Statements,
Mourning Cards,
Municipal Forms,
Note Headings,
Notarial Circulars

Obituary Notices,
Oamphlets,
Posters,
Programmes,
Promissory Notes,
Receipt Books,
Shipping Tags,
Statements,
Sale Bills,
Tickets,

Tax Collectors Rolls,
Tax Receipts,
Visiting Cards,
Voters' Lists,
Wheat Receipts,
Wedding Cards.

ALL THE ABOVE

PRINTED WITH DESPATCH

AT THE

'EXPRESS' OFFICE.

1823. SEND FOR 1878

New York Observer

The Best Religious and Secular Family Newspaper. $3.15 a Year, post-paid.
Established 1824.

37 PARK ROW, NEW YORK.

22. SAMPLE COPIES FREE.

THE "EXPRESS."

NEXT week we purpose inaugurating several needed changes in the dress and make up of the newspaper, which, together with personal supervision of the selection of the week's news and a fearless dealing with the political questions of the day, will make the "Express" a necessity in every family.

AGENTS

Will probably canvass the county during the next two months.

Business Cards.

Alex. C. Davis,

ISSUER of Marriage Licenses, Napanee Ontario.

James Aylsworth,

ISSUER of Marriage Licenses, Tamworth.

S. D. Clarke,

ISSUER of Marriage Licenses, Odessa, Ontario.

J. J. Watson,

ISSUER of Marriage Licenses and Certificates, Adolphustown.

Peter E. R. Miller,

ISSUER of Marriage Licenses, Switzer-ville Ont.

Robert Graham,

ISSUER of Marriage Licenses, Office in the Dominion Store, Enterprise.

Charles Lane,

ISSUER of Marriage Licenses and Certificates, Office—Front of Grammar School, Bridge Street, Napanee.

J. B. Randall,

ISSUER of Marriage Licenses and Certificates. Also Agent for the Beaver and Toronto Fire Insurance Company and the Mutual Life Association of Canada. Residence—Shannonville, Ont.

Murphy & Bedford,

BARRISTERS, &c., MILL POINT. Money to lend on improved Real Estate.

E. B. Stone,

BARRISTER, Attorney at Law, Solicitor in Chancery, etc. OFFICE—Grange Block, Dundas St.

Deroche & Madden,

BARRISTERS and Attorneys-at-Law, Solicitor in Chancery, Conveyancers, Notaries Public, etc. OFFICE—In Grange Block, Napanee. Money to loan on easy terms.

H. M. DEROCHE.

J. H. MADDEN.

S. Gibson,

BARRISTER, Attorney-at-Law, Solicitor in Chancery and Insolvency, Notary Public, etc. OFFICE—Grange Block—John Street, Napanee.

R. Tracy, M. D.,

BELLEVILLE.

PHYSICIAN, Surgeon and Accoucher Office and Residence, two doors east from the Bank of Montreal, near the Congregational Church, Hotel St.

NAPANEE

W. C. SCOTT, Editor.)

"THE GREATEST G

VOL. 16.

NAPANEE, ONT.,

Tailoring!

HAVING commenced business in the above line on my own account, directly over
Coxall & Paisley's Store,
Where I will be ready to attend to the wants of all who may favor me with a call.

Nice Samples to Select from, and Good Fit Guaranteed.

Cutting Boys' Cloths, & Ladies Jackets
A SPECIALTY.

JAS. BLAIR.

Napanee, Aug. 29th, 1877. 18-6m

PAISLEY HOUSE.

(John St. opposite the Market.)

NAPANEE, CNT.

A First Class Hotel centrally located, with excellent yard and stabling accomodation

CHAS. PAISLEY,

PROPRIETOR.

QUEEN'S HOTEL,
BELLEVILLE.

Every Accomodation for Commercial Travellers.

A. P. FARRELL,

PROPRIETOR.

NAPANEE TICKET AGENCY.

Grand Trunk Railway Tickets for sale at
Grange & Bro's Drug Store.

For all stations east and west. American money taken at par, from Napanee to Milwaukee, Chicago, St. Louis, Omaha, San Francisco &c., to all Lake Ports. Passengers purchasing tickets from the undersigned avoid the double and delay of exchanging tickets and re-checking baggage to Toronto. Cheapest route to the west. Return tickets to Kingston, Belleville, Toronto, Montreal, Portland etc. For further particulars apply at GRANGE & BRO'S Exchange Office, Passenger agent G. T. R. Uncurrent money bought and sold

THE PRINCE EDWARD COUNTY MUTUAL FIRE INSURANCE CO.

HEAD OFFICE—PICTON, ONT.
(Established 30th Sept., 1854).

PRESIDENT—STEPHEN B. HUBBS,
VICE-PRESIDENT—JOHN PRINYER.
MANAGER AND INSPECTOR—L. B. STINSON.

SECRETARY—JOHN TWIGG.
TREASURER—PHILIP LOW, Q. C.
SOLICITOR—W. H. R. ALLISON

DIRECTORS—STEPHEN B. HUBBS,
JNO. PRINYER, JOHN VANALSTINE,
LEWIS B. STINSON, W. BOULTER, ADAM S. SAYLOR, and JAMES CALNAN, Esqs.

HONORARY DIRECTORS.—G. Striker, Esq. M. P. P., Picton; R. Clapp, Esq., Milford; K. Graham, Esq., Belleville; P. Allan, C. A. Lloyd, J. P. Dorland, Esqs., Adolphustown; J. C. Hoffman, Esq., J. T. Grange, Esq., M. P. P., Napanee; J. E. Proctor, Esq., Brighton; G. W. Webb, Esq., Colborne; G. Jones, Esq., Trenton; J. Redner, Esq., Rednersville; Owen Roblin, Esq., Wm. Delong, Esq., Ameliasburg; H. A. McFaul, Esq., Hillier; Wm. Delong, Esq., Ameliasburg; Jas. Johnson, Esq., Athol.

This Company is established upon strictly

"A Repository of Fashion, Pleasure, and Instruction."

Harper's Bazar.

ILLUSTRATED.

Notices of the Press.

The Bazar is the organ of the fashionable world, and the expounder of that world's laws; and it is the authority in all matters of manners, etiquette, costume, and social habits.—Boston Traveller.

The Bazar commends itself to every member of the household—to the children by droll and pretty pictures, to the ladies by its fashion plates in endless variety, to the provident matron by its patterns for children's clothes to paterfamilias by its tasteful designs for embroidered slippers and luxurious dressing-gowns. But the reading matter of the Bazar is uniformly of great excellence. The paper has acquired a wide popularity for the fire-side enjoyment it affords, and has become an established authority with the ladies of America.—N Y Evening Post

TERMS:

Postage free to all Subscribers in the United States.

HARPER'S BAZAR, one year.....$4.00

$4.00 includes payment of U. S. postage by the publishers

Subscriptions to HARPER'S MAGAZINE, WEEKLY, and BAZAR, to one address for one year, $10.00; or, two of Harper's Periodical, to one address for one year, $10.00; postage free

An Extra Copy of the MAGAZINE, WEEKLY, or BAZAR will be supplied gratis for every Club of FIVE SUBSCRIBERS at $4.00 each, paid for by one remittance; or, SIX Copies one year, without extra copy, for $20.00

Back Numbers can be supplied at any time The Volumes of the BAZAR commence with the year. When no time is mentioned, it will be understood that the subscriber wishes to commence with the Number next after the receipt of his order

The Annual Volumes of HARPER'S BAZAR, in neat cloth binding, will be sent by express, free of expense, provided the freight does not exceed one dollar, for $7.00 each A complete Set, comprising Twenty-one Volumes, sent on receipt of cash at the rate of $5.25 per vol, freight at expense of purchaser

Cloth Cases for each volume, suitable for binding, will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of $1.00 each

Indexes to each volume sent gratis on receipt of stamp

Subscriptions received for Harper's Periodicals only

Newspapers are not to copy this advertisement without the express order of HARPER & BROTHERS

Address HARPER & BROTHER, New York.

THE

"Scientific American."

THIRTY-THIRD YEAR.

The Most Popular Scientific Paper in the World.

Only $3.20 a Year including Postage. Weekly 52 Numbers a Year $4.000 pages

THE SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN is a large First Class Weekly Newspaper of sixteen pages, printed in the most beautiful style, profusely illustrated with splendid engravings, representing the newest Inventions and the most recent Advances in the Arts and Sciences; including Mechanics, Engineering, Steam Engineering, Railway, Mining, Civil, Gas and Hydraulic Engineering, Mill Work, Iron, Steel and Metal Work; Chemistry and Chemical Processes; Electricity, Light, Heat, Sound; Technology, Photography, Printing, New Machines, New Processes, New Recipes in Improvements pertaining to Textile Industry, Weaving, Dyeing, coloring, New Industrial Products, Animal, Vegetable, and Mineral; New and Interesting Facts in Agricultural, Horticultural, the Home, Health, Medical Progress, Social Science, Natural History, Geology, Astronomy etc

The most valuable practical papers, by eminent writers in all departments of Science, will be found in the Scientific American, the whole presented in popular language free from technical terms, illustrated with engravings, and so arranged as to interest and inform all classes of readers, old and young. The Scientific American is promotive of knowledge and progress in every community where it circulates. Send for it at once.

Poetry.

The Coming Man.

A pair of very chubby legs,
Encoased in scarlet hose;
A pair of little stubby boots,
With rather doubtful toes;
A little kilt, a little coat,
Cut as a mother can—
And lo! before us strides, in state,
The Future's "coming man."

His eyes, perchance will read the stars,
And search their unknown ways;
Perchance the human heart and soul
Will open at their gaze;
Perchance their keen and flashing glance
Will be a nation's light—
Those eyes that now are wistful bent
On some "big fellow's" kite.

That brow, where mighty thoughts do dw
In solemn, secret state;
Where fierce Ambition's restless strength
Shall war with future fate;
Where Science from now hidden caves
New treasures shall outpour—
'Tis knit now, with a troubled doubt,
Are two or three cents more.

Those lips that in the coming years,
Will plead, or pray, or teach;
Whose whispered words, on lightning flar
From world to world may reach;
That, sternly grave, may speak command
Or, smiling, win control—
Are coaxing now for ginger-bread
With all a baby's soul!

Those hands—those little busy hands—
So stocky, small and brown,
Those hands, whose only mission seems
To tear all order down
Who knows what hidden strength may lie
Within thy future grasp,
Though how 'tis but a taffy-stick
In sturdy hold they clasp

Ah, blessings on those little hands."
Whose work is yet undone!
And blessings on those little feet,
Whose race is yet unrun!
And blessings on the little brain
That has not learned to plan!
Whate'er the Future hold in store,
God bless the "coming man!"

Literature.

THE LILY OF ST. ERNE

BY L. CROW.

(Continued from last week.)

"If I remember rightly, I have mentioned made of a reckless, diss fellow called Tom Rayne, who came St. Erne occasionally, and was a trouble to old Dan. He must have been the spouse of your widow, for are no families of that name resident in this neighborhood."

"Yes, it is the same, I suppose," replied; but even as he did so he was winking himself if it could be possible his pure, white lily, so delicate, so refined, was ever the wedded wife of a drunken, reckless fisherman?"

"It is impossible! I will never do it!" he exclaimed, unconsciously rising aloud. Then, seeing Eleanor's prize, he stammered, confusedly, "you know how long he has been dead."

"Who? Rayne? Let me think, yes, I recollect now hearing some say that Dan Claynack's cousin, or nephew—whichever it might be—was in a brawl at a low public-house at mouth."

"How long since?"
"I believe it must be three years."

CHARLES LEONARD
ISSUER of Marriage Licenses and Certificates. Office—Front of Grammar School, Bridge Street, Nananee.

J. B. Randall,

ISSUER of Marriage Licenses and Certificates. Also Agent for the Beaver and Toronto Fire Insurance Company and the Mutual Life Association of Canada. Residence—Shannonville, Ont.

Murphy & Bedford,

BARRISTERS, &c., MILL POINT.
Money to lend on improved Real Estate.

E. B. Stone,

BARRISTER, Attorney at Law, Solicitor in Chancery, etc. OFFICE—Grange Block, Dundas St.

Deroche & Madden,

BARRISTERS and Attorneys-at-Law, Solicitor in Chancery, Conveyancers, Notaries Public, etc. OFFICE—In Grange Block, Nananee; Money to loan on easy terms.

H. M. DEROCHE.

J. H. MADDEN.

S. Gibson,

BARRISTER, Attorney-at-Law, Solicitor in Chancery and Insolvency, Notary Public, etc. OFFICE—Grange Block—John Street, Nananee.

R. Tracy, M. D.,

BELLEVEILLE,

PHYSICIAN, Surgeon and Accoucheur Office and Residence, two doors east from the Bank of Montreal, near the Congregational Church, Hotel St. 39

Reeve & Morden,

BARRISTERS and Attorneys-at-Law Solicitors in Chancery, Conveyancers, etc. OFFICE—Perry's New Block Dundas Street, Nananee, Ontario.
W. A. REEVE, M. A., J. L. MORDEN.
Cp. Crown Attorney.

E. A. Deroche,

OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE, under New Act of 1875. Office in H. M. Deroche's Law Office

Williams & Hooper,

BARRISTERS, Attorneys-at-Law, Solicitors in Chancery and Insolvency, Conveyancers, Notaries Public, etc., Nananee, Ontario.
W. S. WILLIAMS, E. J. HOOPER, M. A.
Official Assignee

W. F. Hall,

OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE, under Insolvent Act of 1875. Fire Insurance Agent, &c. Office of Nananee Paper Mills. East Street.

James F. Bartles,

LAND AGENT, Fire, Life and Accident Insurance Agent OFFICE—corner of Dundas and West Streets, Nananee.

F. Bartlett,

ARCHITECT AND BUILDER, West A Street, Nananee Plans, Specification and Detail Drawings furnished. Builder's work measured, and value computed

Mair's Machine Shop,

STEAM ENGINES and all kinds of Boilers made to order. Also all kinds of Machinery repaired on the shortest notice. Remember the place, opposite the old City Hotel, corner of Adelaide and Bridge Streets.

Hartford Fire Insurance Co.

ESTABLISHED 1810.

CAPITAL, $1,000,000.

A MOUNT DEPOSITED IN CANADA

NANANEE TICKET AGENCY.

Grand Trunk Railway Tickets for sale at

Grange & Bro.'s Drug Store,

For all stations east and west. American money taken at par, from Nananee to Milwaukee, Chicago, St. Louis, Omaha, San Francisco &c., to all Lake Ports. Passengers purchasing tickets from the undersigned avoid the double and delay of exchanging tickets and re-checking baggage to Toronto. Cheap route to the west. Return tickets to Kingston Belleville, Toronto, Montreal, Portland etc. For further particulars apply at GRANGE & BRO.'s Exchange Office, Passenger agent G. T. R. Uncurrent money bought and sold

THE PRINCE EDWARD COUNTY

MUTUAL FIRE INSURANCE CO.

HEAD OFFICE—PICKTON, ONT.
(Established 30th Sept., 1854).

PRESIDENT—STEPHEN B. HUBBS,
VICE-PRESIDENT—JOHN PRINYER.
MANAGER AND INSPECTOR—L. B. STINSON.

SECRETARY—JOHN TWIGG.

TREASURER—PHILIP LOW, Q. C.

SOLICITOR—W. H. R. ALLISON

DIRECTORS—STEPHEN B. HUBBS, JNO. PRINYER, JOHN VANALSTINE, LEWIS B. STINSON, W. BOULTER, ADAM H. SAYLOR, and JAMES CALNAN, Esqs.

HONORARY DIRECTORS—G. Striker, Esq. M. P. P., Pickton; R. Clapp, Esq., Milford; K. Graham, Esq., Belleville; P. Allan, C. A. Lloyd, J. P., Dorland, Esqs., Adolphustown; J. C. Huffman, Esq., J. T. Grange, Esq., M. P. P., Nananee; J. E. Proctor, Esq., Brighton; G. W. Webb, Esq., Colborne; G. Jones, Esq., Trenton; J. Redner, Esq., Rednersville; Owen Roblin, Esq., Wm. Delong, Esq., Ameliasburg; H. A. McPaul, Esq., Hillier; Wm. Delong, Esq., Ameliasburg; Jas. Johnson, Esq., Athol.

This Company is established upon strictly Mutual principles, insuring farm property Townships, and property not more hazardous in Towns and Villages and offers great advantages to insure at low rates for Three or Four Years either, on the Premium Note or Cash System.

March 9th, 1875.

521-y.

Benoni Briggs

WHEN to return his sincere thanks to his numerous friends and the public generally for the liberal patronage they have extended to him during the past twenty-five years, and begs to announce that he has in the Boot and Shoe line, in the shop, opposite the Campbell House, Nananee, at the sign of the "Big Boot." Having engaged Mr. Geo. Mitchell, formerly in the employ of Messrs. McRossie & Downie, he intends to manufacture all kinds of custom work of the very best material and workmanship, and solicits a continuance of public patronage.

AGAIN COMMENCED BUSINESS

Repairing done on short notice, and on liberal terms.

8-11

BENONI BRIGGS.

ADVERTISING!

$1,000 WORTH FOR $87.50.

The cheapest and best way to reach readers outside of the large cities is by using one or more of our six lists of over 1000 newspapers, divided to cover different sections of the country. Weekly Circulation of over 600,000. Advertisements received for one or more lists. For catalogues containing names of papers, and other information and for estimates, address

PAUL & FOSTER,

22, 41 Park Row (Times Building), New York

1877 SEASON 1877.

PICKTON & NANANEE ROUTE.

The Steamer Shannon,

CAPT. EARLY W. JOHNSON,

will run during the season, to Nananee DAILY (Sundays excepted) as follows:
Leaving Pickton at 8 a. m., calling at intermediate ports, arriving at Nananee at about 9:30.

Returning to Pickton—Leaves Nananee at 3 o'clock, p. m., calling at intermediate ports, arriving in Pickton at about 6:30.

This is the cheapest and most expeditious route to all points EAST, and affords passengers three hours time in the flourishing town of Nananee for business or pleasure, before embarking

Back Numbers can be supplied at any time.
The Volumes of the BAZAR commence with the year. When no time is mentioned, it will be understood that the subscriber wishes to commence with the Number next after the receipt of his order.
The Annual Volumes of HARPER'S BAZAR, in neat cloth binding, will be sent by express, free of expense, provided the freight does not exceed one dollar, for $7.00 each. A complete set, comprising Twenty-one Volumes, sent on receipt of each at the rate of $5.25 per vol, freight at expense of purchaser.
Cloth Cases for each volume, suitable for binding, will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of $1.00 each.
Indexes to each volume sent gratis on receipt of stamp.
Subscriptions received for Harper's Periodicals only.
Newspapers are not to copy this advertisement without the express order of HARPER & BROTHERS.
Address HARPER & BROTHER, New York.

THE
"Scientific American."

THIRTY-THIRD YEAR.
The Most Popular Scientific Paper in the World.

Only $3.20 a Year including Postage. Weekly 52 Numbers a Year $4,000 pages

THE GREAT EPIC AMERICAN is a large First Class Weekly Newspaper of sixteen pages, printed in the most beautiful style, profusely illustrated with splendid engravings, representing the newest inventions and the most recent advances in the Arts and Sciences, including Mechanics and Engineering, Steam Engineering, Railway, Mining, Civil, Gas and Hydraulic Engineering, Mill Work, Iron, Steel and Metal Work; Chemistry and Chemical Processes; Electricity, Light, Heat, Sound; Technology, Photography, Printing, New Machines, New Processes, New Recipes Improvements pertaining to Textile Industry, Weaving, Dyeing, Coloring, New Industrial Products, Animal, Vegetable, and Mineral; New and Interesting Facts in Agriculture, Horticulture, the Home Health, Medical Progress, Social Science, Natural History, Geology, Astronomy etc.

The most valuable practical papers, by eminent writers in all departments of Science, will be found in the Scientific American; the whole presented in popular language, free from technical terms, illustrated with engravings, and so arranged as to interest and inform all classes of readers, old and young. The Scientific American is a promotor of knowledge and progress in every community where it circulates. It should be the Art and Science in every Family, Reading Room, Library, College or School. Terms $3.20 per year, $1.00 half year, which includes prepayment of postage. Discount to Clubs and Agents. Remit by postal order to MUNN & CO., Publishers, 37 Park Row, New York.

PATENTS, Scientific American. In connection with the Messrs. MUNN & CO., are Solicitors of American and Foreign Patents, and have the largest establishment in the world. Patents are obtained on the best terms. Models of New Inventions and Sketches examined, and advice free. A special notice is made in the Scientific American of all Inventions Patented through this Agency, and the name and residence of the Patentee. Public attention is thus directed to the merits of the new patent, and sales or introduction often effected.

Any person who has made a new discovery or invention, can ascertain, in a few days, whether his patent can probably be obtained, by writing to the undersigned. Address for the Paper or concerning Patents.

MUNN & CO., 37 Park Row, New York
Branch Office, Cor F & 7th Sts Washington D. C.

The Great Female Remedy.

JOB MOSES' PERIODICAL PILLS.

This well known medicine is no imposition, but a sure and safe remedy for Female Disorders and Obstructions from any cause whatever, and although a powerful remedy, it contains nothing hurtful to the constitution.

TO MARRIED LADIES it is perfectly suited. It will, in a short time bring on the monthly period with regularity.

In all cases of Nervous and spinal Affections, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Heaviness, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Lowness of Spirits, Hysterics, Sick Headaches, Whites, and all the painful diseases occurring by a disordered system, these Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed.

These Pills have never been known to fail where the directions on 2nd page of pamphlet are well observed.

For further particulars, get a pamphlet from the agent.

JOB MOSES, NEW YORK, SOLE PROPRIETOR.
$1.00 and 12 1/2 cents for postage, enclosed to Northport & Lyman, Toronto, Ont. General agents for the Dominion, will insure a bottle containing over 50 pills, by return mail.

Sold in Nananee by all Druggists, Mill Point, by W. G. Edgar, Tamworth J. Aylsworth, and all medicine dealers.

WANTED.

We want reliable, energetic canvassing agents in every town in the Dominion for the new "Illustrated History of the Dominion of Canada." This work is truly magnificent, containing over 2,000 double column quarto pages, and over 800 superb full page engravings. The work is published in Parts, on a plan which insures its welcome to every English reading family. To energetic young men and ladies,

Who know what hidden strength may lie Within thy future grasp, Though how 'tis but a lady-stick In sturdy hold they clasp!
Ah, blessings on those little hands, Whose work is yet undone! And blessings on those little feet, Whose race is yet unrun! And blessings on the little brain That has not learned to plan! Whatever the future hold in store, God bless the "coming man!"

Literature.

THE LILY OF ST. ERNE

BY L. CROW.

(Continued from last week.)

"If I remember rightly, I have heard mention made of a reckless, dissolute fellow called Tom Rayne, who came St. Erne occasionally, and was a great trouble to old Dan. He must have been the spouse of your widow, for there are no families of that name resident in this neighborhood."

"Yes, it is the same, I suppose," I replied; but even as he did so he was looking himself if it could be possible, his pure, white lily, so delicate, so refined, was ever the wedded wife of a drunken, reckless fisherman?

"It is impossible! I will never admit it!" he exclaimed, unconsciously springing along. Then, seeing Eleanor's surprise, he stammered, confusedly, "You know how long he has been dead."

"Who? Rayne? Let me think. Yes, I recollect now hearing some say that Dan Claynack's cousin, or nephew—whichever it might be—was killed in a brawl at a low public-house at mouth."

"How long since?"
"I believe it must be three years, least since he was at St. Erne, his death happened soon after his visit."

Why, then, here was confirmation strong that Max had concluded right for Mistress Letty must have been more than a child at that time; and weeds of widowhood she wore were a disguise, or donned for some one different to the Tom Rayne of Ele Haydon's story.

"Are you very much interested in bereaved matron, Mr. Havering?" the inquiry with which his fair companion presently aroused him from the reverie into which he had fallen.

His answering "I am, indeed!" spoken so emphatically as to silence teasing speeches hovering on Eleanor's lips. She looked as if her feminine sympathy would be on the qui vive till learned more, but Max was evidently no humour to be questioned. With head on his hand, he was gazing at sea, mentally recalling every look, tone of the mysterious Letty; and more vividly arose before him the station she had betrayed when he acknowledged himself to be a relative of Penruan.

In what way she was connected the Squire remained to be learned, it appeared as if the information was to be had from that gentleman, his Miss Haydon, from whom Max had hoping to glean so much, could tell nothing; she was either in ignorance, Mistress Letty's very existence, or fled by her assumption of the name character she had chosen to adopt, it seemed useless questioning her further.

"When you are sufficiently re Eleanor observed at last, "it may well to return to the upper room. Once there, you may regain your senses, and the faculty of saying a thing or two. I can put up with a hour of utter silence, but more than tries my patience dreadfully."

"Pray forgive my rudeness," Max, "and do not go till you have some information about a friend whom I hoped to have in Penruan. I mean Captain Renton Eleanor, who had been careless clinging on a rude bench, arranging ferns she had plucked, started up

E. A. Deroche,

OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE, under New Act
of 1875. Office in H. M. Deroche's Law Office

Williams & Hooper,

BANKERS, Attorneys-at-Law, So-
licitors in Chancery and Insolvency,
Conveyancers, Notaries Public, etc.,
Napanee, Ontario.
W. S. WILLIAMS, E. J. COOPER, M. A.
Official Assignee

W. F. Hall,

OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE, under Insol-
vent Act of 1875. Fire Insurance
Agent, &c. Office of Napanee Paper Mills.
East Street.

James F. Bartles,

LAND AGENT, Fire, Life and Accident Insurance Agent Office—
corner of Dundas and West Streets, Nap-
anee.

F. Bartlett,

ARCHITECT AND BUILDER, West
Street, Napanee. Plans, Specification
and Detail Drawings furnished. Builder's work measured, and value computed

Mair's Machine Shop,

STEAM ENGINES and all kinds of Boilers made to order. Also all kinds of Machinery repaired on the shortest notice. Remember the place, opposite the old City Hotel, corner of Adelaide and Bridge Streets.

Hartford Fire Insurance Co.

ESTABLISHED 1810.

CAPITAL, $1,000,000.

AMOUNT DEPOSITED IN CAN-ADA in accordance with the Act 130,000.

Insures property against fire as low as any other reliable company. All losses equitably adjusted and promptly paid in Canada funds of Gold. Isolated dwellings insured at exceedingly
low rates.

H. L. GEDDES, Agent.
for Napanee and vicinity.

Harris & Empey,

(Successors to J. C. Bogart.)

Livery & Sale Stables,

JOHN STREET,

South of Dundas Street, Napanee Ont.

The best Matched Teams and Single Rigs
always on hand.
Carriages, Cutters, Sleigh Robes, &c., the best in the country. No-4 ft.

TO RENT,

The dwelling known as Dr. Oronhytekha's.

Apply to

W. S. WILLIAMS.

MARBLE ! MARBLE

Monuments,
Headstones, etc.,

Carved in newest style in American and Foreign Marble and carefully put up in any part of the country at reasonable rates.

ALL KINDS OF CEMETERY WORK DONE
WITH CARE AND PROMPTNESS.

Call before you engage elsewhere. Dundas st.,
nearly opposite Beaman's corner.
10-6m. V. KOUBER.

Important to Butter Workers.

ONE GOOD ACTIVE AGENT WANTED in every
township to introduce the Victor Butter
Worker. Sample Machine Free to Agents.
Price, $6.00, $7.00 and $8.00 each. One Million to be sold in the Dominion. Apply early with stamp, for agents circular, to the VICTOR WRINGER
Brockville Ont.

Benoni Briggs

WILLIE to return his sincere thanks to his numerous friends and the public generally
for the liberal patronage they have extended to him during the past twenty-five years, and begs
to announce that he has

AGAIN COMMENCED BUSINESS

in the Boot and Shoe line, in the shop, opposite
the Campbell House, Napanee, at the sign of the
"Big Boot." Having engaged Mr. Geo. Mitchell,
formerly in the employ of Messrs. McRossie & Downey, he intends to manufacture all kinds of
custom work of the very best material and workmanship, and solicits a continuance of public patronage.

Repairing done on short notice, and on liberal terms. 8-ft. BENONI BRIGGS.

ADVERTISING !

$1,000 WORTH FOR $87.50.

The cheapest and best way to reach readers
outside of the large cities is by using one or more of our six lists of over 1000 newspapers,
divided to cover different sections of the country. Weekly circulation of over 600-
000. Advertisements received for one or more lists. For catalogues containing names of papers, and other information and for estimates,
address
BEALS & FOSTER,
22 41 Park Row (Times Building), New York

1877 SEASON 1877.

PICTON & NAPANEE ROUTE.

The Steamer Shannon,

CAPT. EARLY W. JOHNSON,

will run during the season, to Napanee DAILY
(Sundays excepted) as follows:

LEAVING PICTON at 6 a.m., calling at intermediate ports, arriving at Napanee at about 9:30.
RETURNING to PICTON—Leaves Napanee at 3 o'clock, p.m., calling at intermediate ports, arriving in Picton at about 6:30.

This is the cheapest and most expeditious
route to all points East, and affords passengers
three hours time in the flourishing town of Napanee for business or pleasure before embarking
on the 1 o'clock Day Express Train going East.

When returning, connects with the Merchants'
Express Train from Montreal, thereby making the quickest dispatch for Eastern traffic to Picton. Bonded Merchandise or other freight will be promptly looked after, carefully handled and
attended to.

P. F. McQUAIG, Wharfinger, Picton.
JOHN BOWEY, do Napanee,
Napanee, 15th June, 1877.

Will Cure Consumption.

TO all suffering from the following diseases a ray of hope is offered through the kindness
of a missionary friend who has sent me the formula of a pure vegetable medicine which has long been used by the native medicine men of Hindustan:—for the positive and radical cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma, Catarrh, Dyspepsia, Throat and Lung difficulty, General Debility, Loss of Manhood and all Nervous Affections, its power has been tested in hundreds of cases without a failure. I now feel it my sacred duty as far as possible to relieve human misery
and will send the recipe—FREE OF CHARGE—to any person who may desire it with directions for using. Sent by return mail by addressing with 2 stamps naming this paper, Dr. G. F. Grigham, Drawer 28, Utica, N. Y. 19-13.

STRENGTH for the DEBILITATED.

PHOSFOZONE,

The Great Remedy for

Indigestion, Weakness of the Limbs,
Torpor of the Liver.

The history of this preparation is simply a record of uninterrupted success, and probably no proprietary article was ever recommended to the public by any country by such a large number of Physicians who have endorsed, in the most unreserved and unqualified manner, this celebrated medicine. Sold by all Druggists, and prepared in the Laboratory of the Proprietors, Nos. 41 and 43 St. Jean Baptiste street, Montreal. 24.

LIVERY at MILL POINT.

MR. JOHN FINLAYSON is prepared to furnish the best of rigs, either
single or double.

At the Old Commercial Hotel
MAIN STREET.

Mill Point, Jan. 30th, 1877.

PATENTS, Solicitors for American,
Messrs. MUNN & CO. are Solicitors of American
and Foreign Patents, and have the largest establishment in the world. Patents are obtained on the best terms. Models of New Inventions and Sketches examined, and advice given. A special notice is made in the Scientific American of all Inventions Patented through this Agency,
with the name and residence of the Patentee.
Public attention is thus directed to the merits of the new patent, and sales or introduction often effected.

Any person who has made a new discovery or invention, can ascertain, free of charge, whether
a patent can probably be obtained, by writing to the undersigned. Address for the Paper or concerning Patents.

MUNN & CO. 37 Park Row, New York
Branch Office, Cor F & 7th Sts Washington D. C.

The Great Female Remedy.
JOB MOSES' PERIODICAL PILLS.

This well known medicine is no imposition,
but a sure and safe remedy for Female Difficulties and Obstructions, from any cause whatever,
and although a powerful remedy, it contains
nothing hurtful to the constitution.

To MARKED LADIES it is perfectly suited. It will in a short time bring on the monthly period
with regularity.

In all cases of Nervous and spinal Affections,
Pain in the Back and Limbs, Heaviness, Fatigue
on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Low-
ness of Spirits, Hysterics, Sick Headaches,
Whites, and all the painful diseases occasioned
by a disordered system, these Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed.

These Pills have never been known to fail
where the directions on 2nd page of pamphlet
are well observed.

For further particulars, get a pamphlet from
the agent.

JOB MOSES, NEW YORK, SOLE PROPRIETOR.

$1.00 and 12 cents for postage, enclosed to Northrop & Lyman, Toronto, Ont., general agents
for the Dominion, will insure a bottle containing over 30 pills, by return mail.

Sold in Napanee by all Druggists, Mill Point,
by W. G. Eggar, Tamworth J. Aylsworth, and all medicine dealers. 30

WANTED.

We want reliable, energetic canvassing agents in every town in the Dominion for the new "Illustrated History of the Dominion of Canada." This work is truly magnificent, containing over 2,000 double column quarto pages, and over 300 superb
full page engravings. The work is published in Parts, on a plan which insures
its welcome to every English reading
family. To energetic young men and ladies,
who are willing to work, we will guarantee a permanent position for two years,
and GOOD PAY. Don't fail write to for our private terms, sample pages, etc. This is a grand opportunity for school teachers
to make more than double their salaries
without interfering with their professional duties. The works being manufactured at a cost of over $20,000 for the literary, artistic and mechanical work of producing the plates by the old well
known, reliable Lovell Printing and Publishing Co., of Montreal. All letters from agents must be addressed to the Publishers
General agents as follows:

HAZEN B. BIGNEY & Co.,

28 and 30 St. Francis Xavier Street,
MONTREAL, QUE.

Dr. William Gray's Specific Medicine.

Before Taking, Diseases that After Taking follow as a sequence of Self Abuse, as Loss of Memory, Universal Lassitude, Pain in the Back, Dimness of Vision, Premature Old Age, and many other diseases that lead to Insanity or Consumption and a Premature Grave, all of which as a rule are first caused by deviating from the path
of nature and over-indulgence.

The Specific Medicine is the result of a life
study and many years of experience in treating these special diseases. Pamphlet free by mail.

The Special Medicine is sold by all Druggists
at $1 per package, or six packages for $5, or will be sent by mail on receipt of the money by addressing—

WILLIAM GRAY & Co.,
Windsor, Ont.

F. BEZO'S
RESTAURANT,
(Opposite the Tichborne House.)
Meals or lunch can be obtained on most reasonable terms. Board by the day or week.

FRUIT OR GROCERIES
Toys and Fancy Goods, and
D. D. MAILLOTT'S CELEBRATED OYSTERS,
Best in the Market.

F. BEZO.

25-ft.

for Mistress Letty must have been more than a child at that time; and weeds of widowhood she wore were ca disguise, or donned for some one different to the Tom Rayne of El-Haydon's story.

"Are you very much interested in bereaved matron, Mr. Havering?" the inquiry with which his fair comp-presently aroused him from the reinto which he had fallen.

His answering "I am, indeed!"
spoken so emphatically as to silence teasing speeches hovering on Elealips. She looked as if her feminine osity would be on the qui vive till learned more, but Max was evident-no humour to be questioned. With head on his hand, he was gazing at sea, mentally recalling every look tone of the mysterious Letty; and more vividly arose before him the tation she had betrayed when he acledged himself to be a relative of Penruan.

In what way she was connected the Squire remained to be learned, it appeared as if the information was to be had from that gentleman him-Miss Haydon, from whom Max had hoping to glean so much, could tell nothing; she was either in ignorance Mistress Letty's very existence, or fled by her assumption of the name character she had chosen to adopt;
it seemed useless questioning her further.

"When you are sufficiently re-Eleanor observed at last, "it may b-well to return to the upper reg-Once there, you may regain your genes, and the faculty of saying a thing or two. I can put up with ha-hour of utter silence, but more than tries my patience dreadfully."

"Pray forgive my rudeness," Max, "and do not go till you have me some information about a m-friend whom I hoped to have in Penruan. I mean Captain Renton."

Eleanor, who had been carelessly clinging on a rude bench, arranging fers she had plucked, started up, glowing cheeks and dilated eyes, an-gan to look at and question Havering thoughtfully.

"Do you know him? What ha-told you? What has he said about Why have you concealed this from till now?"

"Don't begin to bring accu-against me till I have some concept-to what I have done amiss," ret-Max, not at all sorry to have turntables upon her "I'll answer your tations, if you please, in the order you them."

She resealed herself, and bent ove-self, and bent over her ferns, so conceal her crimson face, but did speak, and Max proceeded:—

"Do I know Captain Renton?"
I met with him in London, and him so well, that when he spoke of ing Cornwall, I insisted on having the dress of the friends with whom he of staying, that I might renew ouquintance. Singularly enough, I that his destination was Pen-Secondly, what has Captain Renton about Miss Eleanor Haydon? I a-nothing."

"That will do; you need not go further; I am quite satisfied—pleasanter sometimes to know one forgotten than remembered."

"I should not think it was easy t-get you, Cousin Eleanor," said softly.

"Why? because I have a hot t-and a sharp tongue? No, don't a-with a compliment to my pretty fa-cause I shall not thank you for it.
tell me what you want to know
Captain Renton?"

"Only whether I am likely to se-while I am here."

"I hope not. I mean he will not if he has sense enough to take th-vice I gave him when he followed Penruan a few weeks since."

"Has Captain Renton been so ver-nat—as to offend you?" Max ver-

NAPANEE EXPRESS

"THE GREATEST GOOD TO THE GREATEST NUMBER."

NAPANEE, ONT., FRIDAY, DEC. 28, 1877.

"A Repository of Fashion, Pleasure, and Instruction."

Harper's Bazar.

ILLUSTRATED.

Notices of the Press.

The Bazar is the organ of the fashionable world, and the expounder of that world's laws; and it is the authority in all matters of manners, etiquette, costume, and social habits.—Boston Traveller.

The BAZAR commends itself to every member of the household—to the children by droll and pretty pictures, to the ladies by its fashion plates in endless variety, to the provident matron by its patterns for children's clothes to pattern-makers by its tasteful designs for embroidered slippers and luxurious dressing gowns. But the reading matter of the BAZAR is uniformly of great excellence. The paper has acquired a wide popularity for the fire-side enjoyment it affords, and has become an established authority with the ladies of America.—N Y Evening Post.

TERMS:

Postage free to all Subscribers in the United States.

HARPER'S BAZAR, one year, $4.00

$4.00 includes payment of U. S. postage by the publishers

Subscriptions to HARPER'S MAGAZINE, WEEKLY, and BAZAR, to one address for one year, $10.00; or, two of HARPER'S Periodicals to one address for one year, $7.00; postage free

An Extra Copy of the MAGAZINE, WEEKLY, or BAZAR will be supplied gratis for every Club of Five Subscribers at $4.00 each, paid for by one remittance; or, Six Copies one year, without extra copy, for $20.00

Back Numbers can be supplied at any time

The Volumes of the BAZAR commence with the year. When no time is mentioned, it will be understood that the subscriber wishes to commence with the Number next after the receipt of his order

The Annual Volumes of HARPER'S BAZAR, in neat cloth binding, will be sent by express, free of expense, provided the freight does not exceed one dollar, for $7.00 each. A complete Set, comprising Twenty-one Volumes, sent on receipt of cash at the rate of $5 25 per vol, freight at expense of purchaser

Cloth Cases for each volume, suitable for binding, will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of $1.00 each. Indexes to each volume sent gratis on receipt of stamp

Subscriptions received for Harper's Periodicals only

Newspapers are not to copy this advertisement without the express order of HARPER & BROTHERS

Address HARPER & BROTHER, New York.

THE

"Scientific American."

THIRTY-THIRD YEAR.

The Most Popular Scientific Paper in The World.

Only $3.25 a Year including Postage. Weekly 22 Numbers a Year $4.000 pages

THE SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN is a large First Class Weekly Newspaper of sixteen pages, printed in the most beautiful style, profusely illustrated with splendid engravings, representing the latest inventions and the most recent advances in the Arts and Sciences; including Mechanics and Engineering, Steam Engineering, Railway, Mining, Civil, Gas and Hydraulic Engineering, Mill Work, Iron, Steel and Metal Work; Chemistry and Chemical Processes; Electricity, Light, Heat, Sound; Technology, Photography, Printing, New Machines, New Processes, New Recipes Improvements pertaining to Textile Industry, Weaving, Dyeing, Coloring, New Industrial Products, Animal, Vegetable, and Mineral; New and Interesting Facts in Agriculture, Horticulture, the Home, Health, Medical Progress, Social Science, Natural History, Geology, Astronomy etc

The most valuable practical papers, by eminent writers in all departments of Science, will be found in the Scientific American; the whole presented in popular language, free from technical terms, illustrated with engravings, and so arranged as to interest and inform all classes of readers, old and young. The Scientific American is promotive of knowledge and progress in

Poetry.

The Coming Man.

A pair of very chubby legs,
Encased in scarlet hose;
A pair of little stubby boots,
With rather doubtful toes;
A little kilt, a little coat,
Cut as a mother can—
And lo! before us strides, in state,
The Future's "coming man."

His eyes, perchance will read the stars,
And search their unknown ways;
Perchance the human heart and soul
Will open at their gaze;
Perchance their keen and flashing glance
Will be a nation a light—
Those eyes that now are wistful bent
On some "big fellow's" kite.

That brow, where mighty thoughts do dwell
In solemn, secret state;
Where fierce Ambition's restless strength
Shall war with future fate;
Where Science from now hidden caves
New treasures shall outpour—
'Tis knit now, with a troubled doubt,
Are two or three cents more.

Those lips that in the coming years,
Will lead, or pray, or teach;
Whose whispered words, on lightning flash
From world to world may reach;
That, sternly grave, may speak command,
Or, smiling, win control—
Are coaxing now for ginger-bread
With all a baby's soul!

Those hands—those little busy hands—
So sticky, small and brown;
Those hands, whose only mission seems
To tear all order down—
Who knows what hidden strength may lie
Within thy future grasp,
Though how 'tis but a taffy-stick
In sturdy hold they clasp!

Ah, blessings on those little hands—
Whose work is yet undone!
And blessings on those little feet,
Whose race is yet unrun!
And blessings on the little brain
That has not learned to plan!
What'er the future hold in store,
God bless the "coming man!"

Literature.

THE LILY OF ST. ERNE.

BY L. CROW.

(Continued from last week.)

"If I remember rightly, I have heard mention made of a reckless, dissolute fellow called Tom Rayne, who came to St. Erne occasionally, and was a great trouble to old Dan. He must have been the spouse of your widow, for there are no families of that name resident in this neighborhood."

"Yes, it is the same, I suppose," Max replied; but even as he did so he was asking himself if it could be possible that his pure, white lily, so delicate, so refined, was ever the wedded wife of a drunken, reckless fisherman?

"It is impossible! I will never believe it!" he exclaimed, unconsciously speaking aloud. Then, seeing Eleanor's surprise, he stammered, confusedly. "Do you know how long he has been dead?"

"Who? Rayne? Let me think. Ah, yes, I recollect now hearing some one say that Dan Claynack's cousin, or nephew—whichever it might be—was killed in a brawl at a low public-house at Plymouth."

"How long since?"

"I believe it must be three years at

to ask; and her countenance softened to a pensive gravity, while something very much like a tear glistened in her dark eyes.

"Offended me? No, no. I would be the most faithful of his friends if he would let me! Poor Charlie! He is one of the best fellows in the world, Mr. Hayeryng. wish you could persuade him to accompany you when you go back to California. He could get leave of absence, and the thorough change of scene would make a stronger, wiser man of him."

"Before I ask him to do this, I ought to ascertain how far it would be palatable. He may have cogent reasons for preferring to stay in England."

But Eleanor was leading the way back to the entrance of the cave, and not choose to continue the conversation Max assisted her to climb some rough steps in the side of the chasm, that made the ascent easier, and then walked beside her to the house, where she led the way to the library.

"Here I shall leave you, Mr. Hayeryng, if you think you can amuse yourself with such a poor collection of books as as these shelves contain."

"Thanks; I can make myself very comfortable in that fine criel, with the daily paper and my pipe, if smoking here is not forbidden. I saw Mr. Penruan's pouch and meerschaum lying on yonder table, or should not have ventured to propose it."

Eleanor smilingly gave her permission, and was tripping away when Max observed, "I must not forget my way back to the other rooms. At present I am not quite up to the latitude and longitude of the Abbey. Where would yonder door lead me?"

There was a little hesitation perceptible in her manner as she replied, "That one is locked. It leads to a part of the house we do not use. If you should lose yourself, you must cry out for help, and I'll be good natured enough to come to your assistance."

She left him, and Max, lying full length on a curious carved settee, placed beneath the oriel window, smoked at his ease, and thought the while of Letty, or laid wild schemes for watching the cottage of Dan Calynack, and tracking the old fisherman to her abode. No one broke in upon his meditations for the first hour or so; but just as he was debating whether he should re-fill his meerschaum, or go and finish his work in Eleanor's garden, one of the female servants entered the library. She did not perceive the recumbent figure on the settee, but crossed the room to the locked door, at which she tapped three times. At the third tap it was opened. The girl interchanged a few words in whispers with some one on the other side; the door was reclosed, a key grating in the lock, and the servant quitted the library, still unconscious of the presence of Max.

A trivial circumstance this to record, but he could not banish it from his memory, for had not Eleanor Haydon—the proud and apparently truth-loving Eleanor—assured him, not two hours earlier that this door communicated with a portion of the Abbey that was not used? How was he to reconcile her statement with what he hath first seen?—and if Eleanor knew that it was a false one, why mat at her door at night. To this day Mr. Penruan had frequently testified a dislike, and it was therefore kept as much as possible out of his way; but Rufe catching a glimpse of his young mistress had crept after her into the dining-room and night have lain there undiscovered if he had not emerged from his hiding place to follow her when she quitted her seat.

"Rufe has not done any harm, Mr. Penruan," she said, interposing herself between her frowning step-father and the dog. "I will take him away with me."

Vouchsafing no notice of her interference, the Squire still moved towards the animal, "on vicious purposes intent," and again Eleanor would have shielded her favourite; but grasping her by the arm, Mr. Penruan held her back, while he bestowed on Rufe a savage kick, that sent the poor creature howling from the room.

The yelps of the dog were supplemented by the shrill screams of Mrs. Penruan who sinking from the supporting arms of Max, lay back in her chair, beating the air with her hands, in violent hysterics.

The confusion was now extreme; the Squire certainly hurried to his lady's assistance, but at the same time so loudly abused the servants whom his shouts and peal at the bell brought into the room that the restoratives for which they were despatched proved ineffectual; and the scene would have been ludicrous if it had not verged on the disgusting.

"Come away," said Eleanor, touching Max on the arm. "We can be of no use to her, and do but expose ourselves to insult by remaining."

"But your mother?" asked Max, with a glance at the distorted features of the struggling lady.

Eleanor's look followed the direction of his, as she sighed, but answered, "Mamma will do well enough. She will scream till she is exhausted, and by that time Mr. Penruan will be alarmed and penitent. Cold water and a stern remonstrance are the only remedies that are really effectual in these attacks, and it is no use suggesting them; so let us go into the garden."

But though Mr. Penruan's step-daughter talked with such calm and bitter significance, Max found that the hand resting on his sleeve was trembling; and there were hot tears glistening on her eyelashes, as they strolled along the grass-grown terrace.

"Penruan Abbey isn't the pleasantest of houses to visit at," she said, presently. "You must not go back to America imagining that what you see and hear here are fair specimens of the manners and customs of the English gentry. We are an exceptional family, Mr. Hayeryng; you will not care to stay long with us."

"I shall be sorry to go away," Max answered, frankly; "and I suppose storms will ruffle the calmest seas sometimes."

"Ay, but such gales as we have had to-day ruffle our domestic atmosphere too often! If Mr. Penruan would but control himself in the presence of strangers, I could better bear," she added, passionately. "I am ashamed that you should have witnessed such conduct!"

"Pooh!" said Max, anxious to make light of what had occurred. "You forget

Subscriptions received for Harper's Periodicals only
Newspapers are not to copy this advertisement without the express order of HARPER & BROTHERS
Address HARPER & BROTHER, New York.

THE "Scientific American."

THIRTY-THIRD YEAR.
The Most Popular Scientific Paper in The World.

Only $3.20 a Year including Postage. Weekly 52 Numbers a Year $4.00 a year

THE SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN is a large First Class Weekly Newspaper of sixteen pages, printed in the most beautiful style, profusely illustrated with splendid engravings, representing the newest inventions and the most recent advances in the Arts and Sciences; including Mechanics and Engineering, Steam Engineering, Railway, Mining, Civil, Gas and Hydraulic Engineering, Mill Work, Iron Steel and Metal Work, Chemistry and Chemical Processes, Electricity, Light, Heat, Sound, Technology, Photography, Printing, New Machines, New Processes, New Recipes, Improvements pertaining to Textile Industry, Weaving, Dyeing, Coloring, New Industrial Products, Animal, Vegetable, and Mineral, New and Interesting Facts in Agriculture, Horticulture, the Home, Health, Medical Progress, Social Science, Natural History, Geology, Astronomy etc.

The most valuable practical papers, by eminent writers in all departments of Science, will be found in the Scientific American; the whole presented in popular language, free from technical terms, illustrated with engravings, and so arranged as to interest and inform all classes of readers, old and young. The Scientific American is promotive of knowledge and progress in every community where it circulates. It should have a place in every Family, Reading Room, Library, College or School. Terms $3.20 per year, $1.00 half year, which includes prepayment of postage. Discount to Clubs and Agents. Single copies ten cents. Sold by all Newsdealers. Remit by postal order to MUNN & CO., Publishers, 37 Park Row, New York.

PATENTS.

In connection with the Scientific American, Messrs. MUNN & CO. are Solicitors of American and Foreign Patents, and have the largest establishment in the world. Patents are obtained on the best terms. Models of New Inventions and Sketches examined, and advice free. A special notice is made in the Scientific American of all Inventions Patented through this Agency, with the name and residence of the Patentee. Public attention is thus directed to the merits of the new patent, and sales or introduction often effected.

Any person who has made a new discovery or invention, can ascertain, free of charge, whether a patent can probably be obtained, by writing to the undersigned. Address for the Paper or concerning Patents, MUNN & CO., 37 Park Row, New York Branch Office, Cor F & 7th Sts Washington D. C.

The Great Female Remedy. JOB MOSES' PERIODICAL PILLS.

This well known medicine is no imposition, but a sure and safe remedy for Female Difficulties and Obstructions, from any cause, whatever, and although a powerful remedy, it contains nothing hurtful to the constitution.

To MARRIED LADIES it is perfectly suited. It will in a short time bring on the monthly period with regularity.

In all cases of Nervous and spinal Affections, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Heaviness, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Lowness of Spirit, Hysterical Sickness, Headaches, Whites, and all the painful diseases occasioned by a disordered system, these Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed.

These Pills have never been known to fall where the directions on 2nd page of pamphlet are well observed.

For further particulars, get a pamphlet from the agent.

JOB MOSES, NEW YORK, SOLE PROPRIETOR.

$1.00 and 12 1/2 cents for postage, enclosed to Northrop & Lyman, Toronto, Ont., general agents for the Dominion, will insure a bottle containing over 50 pills, by return mail.

Sold in Napanee by all Druggists, Mill Point, by W. G. Egar, Ramworth J. Aylesworth, and 30 medicine dealers.

WANTED.

We want reliable, energetic canvassing agents in every town in the Dominion for the new "Illustrated History of the Dominion of Canada." This work is truly magnificent, containing over 2,000 double column quarto pages, and over 800 superb full page engravings. The work is published in Parts, on a plan which insures its welcome to every English reading family. To energetic young men and ladies, who are willing to work, we will guarantee a permanent position for two years, and GOOD PAY. Don't fail write to for our private terms, sample pages, etc. This is a grand opportunity for school teachers to make more than double their salaries without interfering with their professional duties. The works being manufactured at a cost of over $20,000 for the literary, artistic and mechanical work of producing the plates by the old well known, reliable Lovell Printing and Publishing Co., of Montreal. All letters from

THE LILY OF ST. ERNE.

BY L. CROW.

(Continued from last week.)

"If I remember rightly, I have heard mention made of a reckless, dissolute fellow called Tom Rayne, who came to St. Erne occasionally, and was a great trouble to old Dan. He must have been the spouse of your widow, for there are no families of that name resident in this neighborhood."

"Yes, it is the same, I suppose," Max replied; but even as he did so he was asking himself if it could be possible that his pure, white lily, so delicate, so refined, was ever the wedded wife of a drunken, reckless fisherman?

"It is impossible! I will never believe it!" he exclaimed, unconsciously speaking aloud. Then, seeing Eleanor's surprise, he stammered, confusedly, "Do you know how long he has been dead?"

"Who? Rayne? Let me think. Ah, yes, I recollect now hearing some one say that Dan Claynack's cousin, or nephew—whichever it might be—was killed in a brawl at a low public-house at Plymouth."

"How long since?"

"I believe it must be three years at least since he was at St. Erne, and his death happened soon after his last visit."

Why, then, here was confirmation strong that Max had concluded rightly. For Mistress Letty must have been little more than a child at that time; and the weeds of widowhood she wore were either a disguise, or donned for some one very different to the Tom Rayne of Eleanor Haydon's story.

"Are you very much interested in this bereaved matron, Mr. Havering?" was the inquiry with which his fair companion presently aroused him from the reverie into which he had fallen.

His answering "I am, indeed," was spoken so emphatically as to silence the teasing speeches hovering on Eleanor's lips. She looked as if her feminine curiosity would be on the qui vive till she learned more, but Max was evidently in no humour to be questioned. With his head on his hand, he was gazing out at sea, mentally recalling every look and tone of the mysterious Letty; and still more vividly arose before him the agitation she had betrayed when he acknowledged himself to be a relative of Mr. Penruan.

In what way she was connected with the Squire remained to be learned, and it appeared as if the information was only to be had from that gentleman himself. Miss Haydon, from whom Max had been hoping to glean so much, could tell him nothing; she was either in ignorance of Mistress Letty's very existence, or baffled by her assumption of the name and character she had chosen to adopt; and it seemed useless questioning her any further.

"When you are sufficiently rested," Eleanor observed at last, "it may be as well to return to the upper regions. Once there, you may regain your lost senses, and the faculty of saying a civil thing or two. I can put up with half an hour of utter silence, but more than that tries my patience dreadfully."

"Pray forgive my rudeness," said Max, "and do not go till you have given me some information about a mutual friend whom I hoped to have met at Penruan. I mean Captain Renton."

Eleanor, who had been carelessly reclining on a rude bench, arranging the ferns she had plucked, started up with glowing cheeks and dilated eyes, and began to look at and question Havering disbelievingly.

"Do you know him? What has he told you? What has he said about me? Why have you concealed this from me till now?"

"Don't begin to bring accusation against me till I have some conception as to what I have done amiss," retorted Max, not at all sorry to have turned the tables upon her. "I'll answer your ques-house we do not use. If you should lose yourself, you must cry out for help, and I'll be good natured enough to come to your assistance."

She left him, and Max, lying full length on a curious carved settee, placed beneath the oriel window, smoked at his ease, and thought the while of Letty, or laid wild schemes for watching the cottage of Dan Calynack, and tracking the old fisherman to her abode. No one broke in upon his meditations for the first hour or so; but just as he was debating whether he should re-fill his meerschaum, or go and finish his work in Eleanor's garden, one of the female servants entered the library. She did not perceive the recumbent figure on the settee, but crossed the room to the locked door, at which she tapped three times. At the third tap it was opened. The girl interchanged a few words in whispers with some one on the other side; the door was reclosed, a key grating in the lock, and the servant quitted the library, still unconscious of the presence of Max.

A trivial circumstance this to record, but he could not banish it from his memory, for had not Eleanor Haydon—the proud and apparently truth-loving Eleanor—assured him, not two hours earlier that this door communicated with a portion of the Abbey that was not used? How was he to reconcile her statement with what he had first seen?—and if Eleanor knew that it was a false one why did she palm it upon him?

CHAPTER VIII.

A CHASE, AND HOW IT BEGAN.

MR. PENRUAN did not return home till after his lady and Eleanor had joined Max in the drawing-room, and the cook had grown uneasy about his dishes. When he did make his appearance, a chill fell upon the trio awaiting him, for the first glance revealed that his humour had changed since the morning.

The carpenter had manfully defended himself against the charge of extortion, and by his bold bearing so incensed his accuser, that Mr. Penruan had ridden off to his lawyer. Here another vexation awaited him. The only person on his estate in whom he placed any confidence had taken advantage of that confidence to outwit him in some bargain, and the discovery rendered the avaricious Squire more furious than before.

Mr. Penruan's was not the wrath that expends itself in oaths and angry exclamations. It smouldered like some undetected fire, and was, therefore, all the more dangerous, for it fed upon itself, and none knew when nor where it would burst forth.

At its present stage, it was evinced by an ominous sullenness, which not even the presence of a guest induced him to throw off; and certainly Mr. Penruan in the sulks was one of the ugliest specimens of an ill-tempered man that could be witnessed.

To Max, the Squire's lowering looks and gruff monosyllables mattered little, for the Californian was too good-humoured to take offence at the peevishness of a man so many years his senior; and his half-civilized life had taught him to bear and forbear, except when his hot blood was fairly aroused by insult or ill-usage.

He chatted, therefore, and laughed as freely as before the Squire returned; but he was the only one present who could behave with such careless unconcern. The servants were nervous, and evidently afraid to move; and Mrs. Penruan, at other times the petted invalid, now shrank into herself, cast scared looks at her tyrant, and did not venture to draw his attention upon her by the utterance of any of the plaintive little murmurs in which she generally indulged.

Eleanor, on the contrary, sat erect and defiant; the rich crimson on her cheeks deepening, and her nostrils dilating with indignation, every time the Squire's rudeness became offensive. To her it was marked; he did not condescend to pay her the commonest courtesies due to a lady at the dinner table; and had she not chosen to partake of a side dish near at hand, her plate would have remained empty.

"Mamma will do well enough. She will scream till she is exhausted, and by the time Mr. Penruan will be alarmed and repentant. Cold water and a stern reprimand are the only remedies that are really effectual in these attacks, and is no use suggesting them; so let us go into the garden."

But though Mr. Penruan's step-daughter talked with such calm and bitter significance, Max found that the hand resting on his sleeve was trembling; and there were hot tears glistening on her eyelashes, as they strolled along the grassy terrace.

"Penruan Abbey isn't the pleasantest of houses to visit at," she said, presently. "You must not go back to America imagining that what you see and hear here are fair specimens of the manner and customs of the English gentry. We are an exceptional family. Mr. Havering; you will not care to stay long with us."

"I shall be sorry to go away," Max answered, frankly; "and I suppose storm will ruffle the calmest seas sometimes."

"Ay, but such gales as we have had to-day ruffle our domestic atmosphere to often! If Mr. Penruan would but control himself in the presence of strangers I could better bear," she added, passionately. "I am ashamed that you should have witnessed such conduct!"

"Pooh!" said Max, anxious to make light of what had occurred. "You forget that I am a relative, and ought to feel flattered that Mr. Penruan refuses to treat me as a stranger."

"You must be very proud of such kinship," cried Eleanor, scornfully. "You knew—if I could bring myself to tell you—"

Here the young man gently interrupted her.

"My dear cousin, why dwell on such unpleasant topics?—they do but excite you, and make us both uncomfortable. If you could but resolve to turn a deaf ear to the snappish speeches of an ill-tempered old man—"

But now, Eleanor could be silent no longer.

"What! bend my neck to his yoke—suffer myself to be wronged and trampled on in every way? Can you bid me do this after what you saw just now? Can you expect me to be forbearing to the unfeeling man who ill-treated the poor dog that loves me, and uses me thus when I interfere in its behalf?"

As she spoke, she held up her round white arm, and Max saw that Squire Penruan, in grasping it, had dug his nails into the soft flesh with a force that had left the purple and bleeding imprints of his violence.

An indignant exclamation burst from the lips of the young man, and he turned sharply around to return to the dining room.

But Eleanor detained him.

"What are you going to do?"

"What should I do, but seek Mr. Penruan, and tell him what I think of such dastardly conduct?"

"And bring down his wrath upon your own head?"

Max drew himself up. "Caramba! what signifies that? Who is John Penruan, that I should hesitate to speak my mind in his hearing? He can but bid me leave his house when I have done!"

But still Eleanor, half-laughing, half-tearful, clung to his arm.

"And you would be content to leave the Abbey, and see me no more? For shame sir! how inglorious! No, no, Mr. Havering; I positively forbid you to remonstrate with my step-father. I am grateful for your sympathy, but I cannot accept your championship. In fact—and now I appeal to your sober sense—it would do more harm than good, and possibly might compel me to quit the Abbey."

"The very step I should advise you to take. Surely you have friends, who would give you a happier home than you can enjoy under the roof of Mr. Penruan?"

Eleanor shook her head.

"I cannot leave the Abbey; it is not to be thought of. If you really wish to be satisfied, Mr. Havering, you will help me

SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN, Messrs. MUNN & CO., are Solicitors of American and Foreign Patents, and have the largest establishment in the world. Patents are obtained on the best terms. Models of New Inventions and Sketches examined, and advice free. A special notice is made in the Scientific American of all Inventions Patented through this Agency, with the name and residence of the Patentee. Public attention is thus directed to the merits of the new patent, and sales or introduction often effected.

Any person who has made a new discovery or invention, can ascertain, free of charge, whether a patent can probably be obtained, by writing to the undersigned. Address for the Paper or concerning Patents.

MUNN & CO., 37 Park Row, New York

Branch Office, Cor F & 7th Sts Washington D. C.

The Great Female Remedy. JOB MOSES' PERIODICAL PILLS.

This well known medicine is no imposition, but a sure and safe remedy for Female Difficulties and Obstructions, from any cause, whatever, and although a powerful remedy, it contains nothing hurtful to the constitution.

To MARRIED LADIES it is perfectly suited. It will, in a short time bring on the monthly period with regularity.

In all cases of Nervous and spinal Affections, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Heaviness, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Lowness of Spirits, Hysterics, Sick Headaches, Whites, and all the painful diseases occasioned by a disordered system, these Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed.

These Pills have never been known to fail where the directions on 2nd page of pamphlet are well observed.

For further particulars, get a pamphlet from the agent.

JOB MOSES, NEW YORK, SOLE PROPRIETOR.

$1.00 and 12 cents for postage, enclosed to North & Lyman, Toronto, Ont., general agents for the Dominion, will insure a bottle containing over 30 Pills, by registered mail.

Sold in Vancouver by all Druggists, Mill Point, by W. G. Egar, Tamworth J. Ayleworth, and all medicine dealers.

WANTED.

We want reliable, energetic canvassing agents in every town in the Dominion for the new "Illustrated History of the Dominion of Canada." This work is truly magnificent, containing over 2,000 double column quarto pages, and over 300 superb full page engravings. The work is published in Parts, on a plan which insures its welcome to every English reading family. To energetic young men and ladies, who are willing to work, we will guarantee a permanent position for two years, and GOOD PAY. Don't fail write! to for our private terms, sample pages, etc. This is a grand opportunity for school teachers to make more than double their salaries without interfering with their professional duties. The works being manufactured at a cost of over $20,000 for the literary, artistic and mechanical work of producing the plates by the old well known, reliable Lovell Printing and Publishing Co., of Montreal. All letters from agents must be addressed to the Publishers General agents as follows:

HAZEN B. BIGNEY & Co.,
28 and 30 St. Francis Xavier Street,
MONTREAL, QUE.

Dr. William Gray's Specific Medicine.

Before Taking diseases that After Taking follow as a sequence of Felf Abuse, as Loss of Memory, Universal Lassitude, Pain in the Back, Dimness of Vision, Premature Old Age, and many other diseases that lead to Insanity or Consumption and a Premature Grave, all of which as a rule are first caused by deviating from the path of nature and overindulgence.

The Specific Medicine is the result of a life study and many years of experience in treating these special diseases. Pamphlet free by mail. The Specific Medicine is sold by all Druggists at $1 per package, or six packages for $5, or will be sent by mail on receipt of the money by addressing.

WILLIAM GRAY & Co., Windsor, Ont.

F. BEZO'S RESTAURANT,
(Opposite the Tichborne House.)
Meals or lunch can be obtained on most reasonable terms. Board by the day or week.

FRUIT OR GROCERIES
Toys and Fancy Goods, and
D. D. MALLORY'S CELEBRATED OYSTERS,
Best in the Market.

F. BEZO.

25-44.

for distress Letty must have been little more than a child at that time; and the weeds of widowhood she wore were either a disguise, or donated for some one very different to the Tom Rayne of Eleanor Haydon's story.

"Are you very much interested in this bereaved matron, Mr. Havering?" was the inquiry with which his fair companion presently aroused him from the reverie into which he had fallen.

His answering "I am, indeed!" was spoken so emphatically as to silence the teasing speeches hovering on Eleanor's lips. She looked as if her feminine curiosity would be on the quiver till she learned more, but Max was evidently in no humour to be questioned. With his head on his hand, he was gazing out at sea, mentally recalling every look and tone of the mysterious Letty; and still more vividly arose before him the agitation she had betrayed when he acknowledged himself to be a relative of Mr. Penruan.

In what way she was connected with the Squire remained to be learned, and it appeared as if the information was only to be had from that gentleman himself. Miss Haydon, from whom Max had been hoping to glean so much, could tell him nothing; she was either in ignorance of Mistress Letty's very existence, or baffled by her assumption of the name and character she had chosen to adopt; and it seemed useless questioning her any further.

"When you are sufficiently rested," Eleanor observed at last, "it may be as well to return to the upper regions. Once there, you may regain your lost senses, and the faculty of saying a civil thing or two. I can put up with half an hour of utter silence, but more than that tries my patience dreadfully."

"Pray forgive my rudeness," said Max, "and do not go till you have given me some information about a mutual friend whom I hoped to have met at Penruan. I mean Captain Renton."

Eleanor, who had been carelessly reclining on a rude bench, arranging the ferns she had plucked, started up with glowing cheeks and dilated eyes, and began to look at and question Havering dispassionately.

"Do you know him? What has he told you? What has he said about me? Why have you concealed this from me till now?"

"Don't begin to bring accusation against me till I have some conception as to what I have done amiss," retorted Max, not at all sorry to have turned the tables upon her. "I'll answer your questions, if you please, in the order you put them."

She resealed herself, and bent over herself, and bent over her ferns, so as to conceal her crimson face, but did not speak, and Max proceeded:-

"Do I know Captain Renton? Yes. I met with him in London, and liked him so well, that when he spoke of visiting Cornwall, I insisted on having the address of the friends with whom he talked of staying, that I might renew our acquaintance. Singularly enough, I found that his destination was Penruan. Secondly, what has Captain Renton said about Miss Eleanor Haydon? I answer nothing."

"That will do; you need not go any further; I am quite satisfied. It is pleasant sometimes to know one's self forgotten than remembered."

"I should not think it was easy to forget you, Cousin Eleanor," said Max, softly.

"Why? because I have a hot temper and a sharp tongue? No, don't answer with a compliment to my pretty face, because I shall not thank you for it. But tell me what you want to know about Captain Renton?"

"Only whether I am likely to see him while I am here."

"I hope not. I mean he will not come if he has sense enough to take the advice I gave him when he followed us to Penruan a few weeks since."

"Has Captain Renton been so unfortunate as to offend you?" Max ventured

Mr. PENRUAN did not return home till after his lady and Eleanor had joined Max in the drawing-room, and the cook had grown uneasy about his dishes. When he did make his appearance, a chill fell upon the trio awaiting him, for the first glance revealed that his humour had changed since the morning.

The carpenter had manfully defended himself against the charge of extortion, and by his bold bearing so incensed his accuser, that Mr. Penruan had ridden off to his lawyer. Here another vexation awaited him. The only person on his estate in whom he placed any confidence had taken advantage of that confidence to outwit him in some bargain, and the discovery rendered the avaricious Squire more furious than before.

Mr. Penruan's was not the wrath that expends itself in oaths and angry exclamations. It smouldered like some undetected fire, and was, therefore, all the more dangerous, for it fed upon itself, and none knew when nor where it would burst forth.

At its present stage, it was evinced by an ominous sullenness, which not even the presence of a guest induced him to throw off; and certainly Mr. Penruan in the sulks was one of the ugliest specimens of an ill-tempered man that could be witnessed.

To Max, the Squire's lowering looks and gruff monosyllables mattered little, for the Californian was too good-humoured to take offence at the peevishness of a man so many years his senior; and his half-civilized life had taught him to bear and forbear, except when his hot blood was fairly roused by insult or ill-usage.

He chatted, therefore, and laughed as freely as before the Squire returned; but he was the only one present who could behave with such careless unconcern. The servants were nervous, and evidently afraid to move; and Mrs. Penruan, at other times the petted invalid, now shrank into herself, cast scared looks at her tyrant, and did not venture to draw his attention upon her by the utterance of any of the plaintive little murmurs in which she generally indulged.

Eleanor, on the contrary, sat erect and defiant; the rich crimson on her cheeks deepening, and her nostrils dilating with indignation, every time the Squire's rudeness became offensive. To her it was marked; he did not condescend to pay her the commonest courtesies due to a lady at the dinner table; and had she not chosen to partake of a side dish near at hand, her plate would have remained empty.

At last, some trifling mistake, made by the footman in waiting, resulted in the plate he had nearly dropped being flung at his head with such savage violence, that the man staggered and turned pale.

Involuntarily, Max rose, and Eleanor did the same, and drew near to her mother, who had stifled a faint shriek in her pocket handkerchief, and closed her eyes.

"Will you give your arm to mamma, Mr. Havering?" asked the young lady, her clear, inclusive tones ringing with the scorn she did not care to conceal. "She cannot accustom herself to Mr. Penruan's gentlemanly treatment of his servants."

"Yes, I had better go to my room," gasped the poor lady, with an entreating glance at her daughter. "I'm not very well; the draughts from the door affect me. Dear Eleanor," she added, in a whisper, "pray say no more!"

The young girl bit her lip, and signed to Max to lead her mother away; but before Mrs. Penruan's shawl could be arranged to her liking, or her other wraps and cushions collected, there was a little stir under the table, and Mr. Penruan started up, exclaiming, "Here is a dog in the room! Whose dog is it?"

Eleanor sprang forward. There was only one creature of the canine species tolerated at the Abbey besides the fierce yard dog and her mother's spotted favourite; an old retriever that had attached itself to her, and always lay on the you knew—If I could bring myself to let you—"

Here the young man gently interrupted her.

"My dear cousin, why dwell on so unpleasant topics?—they do but excite you, and make us both uncomfortable. If you could but resolve to turn a deaf ear to the snappish speeches of an ill-tempered old man—"

But now, Eleanor could be silent no longer.

"What! bend my neck to his yoke—suffer myself to be wronged and trampled on in every way? Can you bid me do this after what you saw just now? Can you expect me to be forbearing to the unfeeling man who ill-treated the poor dog that loves me, and uses me thus when I interfere in its behalf?"

As she spoke, she held up her round white arm, and Max saw that Squire Penruan, in grasping it, had dug his nails in the soft flesh with a force that had left the purple and bleeding imprints of his violence.

An indignant exclamation burst from the lips of the young man, and he turned sharply around to return to the dining room.

But Eleanor detained him.

"What are you going to do?"

"What should I do, but seek Mr. Penruan, and tell him what I think of such dastardly conduct?"

"And bring down his wrath upon your own head?"

Max drew himself up.

"Caramba! what signifies that?" With John Penruan, that I should hesitate to speak my mind in his hearing? He can but bid me leave his house when I have done!"

But still Eleanor, half-laughing, half-tearful, clung to his arm.

"And you would be content to leave the Abbey, and see me no more? For shame sir! how ungallant! No, no Mr. Havering; I positively forbid you to remonstrate with my step-father. I am grateful for your sympathy, but cannot accept your championship. I fact—and now I appeal to your sobriety—sense—it would do more harm than good, and possibly might compel me to quit the Abbey."

"The very step I should advise you to take. Surely you have friends, who would give you a happier home than you can enjoy under the roof of Mr. Penruan?"

Eleanor shook her head.

"I cannot leave the Abbey; it is not to be thought of. If you really wish to help my friend, Mr. Havering, you will help me to forget what has happened this evening, and to practise some—that forbearance you advocate. Do you know that your friend, Captain Renton is threatening to pay us a flying visit?"

She was evidently desirous of changing the subject, and Max could but follow her lead, so the evil moods of the Squire were not alluded to again during the stroll, which was prolonged till the moon rose; and when they re-entered the house Eleanor pleaded fatigue, and went to her own rooms, an example Max thought would be prudent to follow. There he secured himself from another nocturnal visit by dragging an old-fashioned wardrobe across the panel from which he still believed that some one had peered at him on the previous night.

On the morrow, Mr. Penruan no sooner entered the breakfast-parlor than he made a confused apology to his guest for the unpleasantness of the preceding day.

"I am afraid we made you uncomfortable amongst us, Mr. Havering, perhaps I was, in some measure, the cause; but my wife's delicate health prey upon my spirits, and when to that I added the anxieties that always attend property, the stupidity of the servants and the obstinate— But come, kin man, we'll not wait for the ladies. I want you to taste there mackerel, caught on our coast not more than two hours ago, and boiled directly; it is the only way of eating the fish at its prime."

Max looked bewildered at the sudden

THE EXPRESS.

THE GREATEST NUMBER."

($1.00 per annum, if paid in advance.)

DAY, DEC. 28, 1877.

NO. 35.

; and her countenance softened to eye gravity, while something very like a tear glistened in her dark fended me? No, no. I would be ost faithful of his friends if he let me! Poor Charlie! He is one best fellows in the world, Mr. rying. wish you could persuad him company you when you go back to rnja. He could get leave of absence, ie thorough change of scene would a stronger, wiser man of him."

fore I ask him to do this, I ought ertain how far it would be palatable. ay have cogent reasons for prefero stay in England."

Eleanor was leading the way back entrance of the cave, and not e to continue the conversation ssisted her to climb some rough in the side of the chasm, that made cent easier, and then walked ber to the house, where she led the o the library.

ere I shall leave you, Mr. Haveryng. you think you can amuse yourself with a poor collection of books as se shelves contain."

anks; I can make myself very rtable in that fine criel, with the paper and my pipe, if smoking snot forbidden. I saw Mr. Penpouch and meerschbaum lying on r table, or should not have venturpropose it."

nor smilingly gave her permission, as tripping away when Max ob-, "I must not forget my way back other rooms. At present I am not up to the latitude and longitude of bbeey. Where would yonder door be?"

ie was a little hesitation percep her manner as she replied, "That locked. It leads to a part of the we do not use. If you should lose lf, you must cry out for help, and good natured enough to come to assistance."

left him, and Max, lying full on a curious carved settee, placed th the oriel window, smoked at his and thought the while of Letty, or id schemes for watching the cotf Dan Calynack, and tracking the herman to her abode. No one in upon his meditations for the our or so; but just as he was de- whether he should re-fill his chaum, or go and finish his work in or's garden, one of the female ser- entered the library. She did not ve the recumbent figure on the but crossed the room to the locked at which she tapped three times. third tap it was opened. The girl nged a few words in whispers ome one on the other side; the was reclosed, a key grating in the and the servant quitted the library, neonscious of the presence of Max. ival circumstance this to record, could not banish it from his ry, for had not Eleanor Haydon -oud and apparently truth-loving or—assured him, not two hours that this door communicated with ion of the Abbey that was not used? as he to reconcile her statement hat he hath first seen?—and if mat at her door at night. To this dog Mr. Penruan had frequently testified a dislike, and it was therefore kept as much as possible out of his way; but Rufe, catching a glimpse of his young mistress, had crept after her into the dining-room, and night have lain there undiscovered if he had not emerged from his hiding place to follow her when she quitted her seat.

"Rufe has not done any harm, Mr. Penruan," she said, interposing herself between her frowning step-father and the dog. "I will take him away with me."

Vouchsafing no notice of her interference, the Squire still moved towards the animal, "on vicious purposes intent," and again Eleanor would have shielded her favourite; but grasping her by the arm, Mr. Penruan held her back, while he bestowed on Rufe a savage kick, that sent the poor creature howling from the room.

The yelps of the dog were supplemented by the shrill screams of Mrs. Penruan, who sinking from the supporting arms of Max, lay back in her chair, beating the air with her hands, in violent hysterics.

The confusion was now extreme; the Squire certainly hurried to his lady's assistance, but at the same time so loudly abused the servants whom his shouts and peal at the bell brought into the room, that the restoratives for which they were despatched proved ineffectual; and the scene would have been ludicrous if it had not verged on the disgusting.

"Come away," said Eleanor, touching Max on the arm. "We can be of no use to her, and do but expose ourselves to insult by remaining."

"But your mother?" asked Max, with a glance at the distorted features of the struggling lady.

Eleanor's look followed the direction of his as she sighed, but answered, "Mamma will do well enough. She will scream till she is exhausted, and by that time Mr. Penruan will be alarmed and penitent. Cold water and a stern remonstrance are the only remedies that be really effectual in these attacks, and it is no use suggesting them; so let us go into the garden."

But though Mr. Penruan's step-daughter talked with such calm and bitter significance, Max found that the hand resting on his sleeve was trembling; and there were hot tears glistening on her eyelashes, as they strolled along the grass-grown terrace.

"Penruan Abbey isn't the pleasantst of houses to visit at," she said, presently. "You must not go back to America imagining that what you see and hear here are fair specimens of the manners and customs of the English gentry. We are an exceptional family, Mr. Haveryng; you will not care to stay long with us."

"I shall be sorry to go away," Max answered, frankly; "and I suppose storms will ruffle the calmest seas sometimes."

"Ay, but such gales as we have had to-day ruffle our domestic atmosphere too often! If Mr. Penruan would but control himself in the presence of strangers, I could better bear," she added, passionately. "I am ashamed that you should have witnessed such conduct!"

"Pooh!" said Max, anxious to make change in his host's manner, till he perceived that Eleanor had entered the room while Mr. Penruan was speaking. To her that gentleman did not seem to think any apology necessary; but as soon as the meal was over, he carried Max away to show him, and have his opinion on some improvements on the farm attached to the Abbey.

As Eleanor was invisible when Max made his escape, and Mrs. Penruan was not well enough to leave her chamber, he resolved to avail himself of the opportunity for strolling as far as the cottage of Dan Calynack. But the old fisherman was out, and the cottage, where he had spent so many happy hours beside Mistress Letty, was closely shut up. Disappointed in the hope of receiving that message, or a reply to his letter, which he still believed that she would entrust to Dan for him, Max re-climbed the cliffs, and strolled across the fields on the summit towards the primitive little town, that lay some five miles on the other side of the Abbey. As he neared it, he remembered to have heard Eleanor express a wish that she had some fine wire for mounting some feather flowers she was making, and he turned into the High Street, and sought for a shop where the article could be procured.

CHAPTER IX.

HOW THE CHASE IN WHICH MAX ENGAGED PROGRESSED AND ENDED.

When Max entered the low-ceilinged, badly lighted emporium, a woman was already at the counter, purchasing some stationery. She started, and moved aside, drawing down her veil as he approached, and bending over the goods she was selecting in such a manner as to wholly conceal her face from his view.

If it had not been for these movements he might not have noticed her at all; but he came from a country where the eye and ear are tutored as to be constantly on the alert, and her desire to avoid him was quickly detected.

Max took a close survey of her. She was neatly and simply clothed; a dark stuff dress, a black shawl, and an old-fashioned bonnet—the attire, in every respect, of a decent, homely farmer's wife. That she was not young the aquat, set figure revealed, as well as the hand she had ungloved while inspecting some envelopes; and, rather amused at her evident desire to avoid observation, he turned from her and began inquiring for the article he wished to procure.

Finishing her purchases in haste, the woman paid for them, and still with her face carefully averted, took up her parcel and left the shop. The proprietor was at the door arranging some packages, and civilly bade her good morning as she passed him.

The words were hurriedly responded to in full, deep, and rather harsh tones, which no sooner reached the ears of Max, than he forgot what he was saying to the shopman.

Where had he heard those strange familiar tones? Ah! now he knew, now he remembered well enough, and guessed why she had striven to avoid him. The voice to which he had been listening was the voice of Esther, that mysterious

"Express" Job Rooms.

We are this week, giving extensive orders for new assortment of

PLAIN AND FANCY JOB TYPE,

from the best Canadian and American Foundries, and will before the 25th inst., be in a position to turn out all classes of work in a style not to be surpassed by any office in the Province.

WE MAKE A SPECIALTY OF

FINE & COLORED WORK

Prices Low. Give us a Ca

"She has had your letter," he was curtly informed.

"But the answer? I have received no answer to it. Why cannot I hear it from her own lips? Why does she obstinately refuse me an interview? While she continues to do this, how can I hope that I am forgiven?"

"Letty has granted you too many interviews, Mr. Haveryng," the woman retorted. "I was opposed to it from the beginning. It was a foolish piece of business altogether; and if you have a spark of generosity or good feeling in you why you will neither torment her nor me any longer."

"It is as I told you," said Max, brusquely. "You prejudiced yourself against me, even when I lay before you helpless, and apparently dying. What offence have I given that you treat me with such galling distrust, and strive to imbue others with your unjust notions?"

"Well, sir, and if we come to that," she answered, looking intently at him, "what reason have I to think well of you? You meet with an accident, and are kindly taken care of by a poor old man; and you repay him by talking nonsense to his niece, and striving to pry into her affairs. At the same time, you take care to keep your own secret. It isn't till you are on the point of leaving the cottage that the truth leaks out, and you confess that you are a relative of Squire Penruan!"

"Is it a crime to be related to him?"

"No, sir; but it's very certain that one who can call himself cousin to such a rich gentleman as the Squire, wouldn't look for a wife in a fisherman's cottage; and it would do Letty no good to be seen talking too often to visitors at the Abbey."

"Is Letty your daughter?"

"Not by birth. I wish she were. I am her aunt Esther; and now, sir, I'll trouble you to let me go my way. I've answered quite questions enough that mean nothing!"

But Max did not move even when she emphatically repeated her request. There was so much justice in what she said, that it was difficult, indeed, to press his desire to see Mistress Letty. And yet, to forego that pleasure—to quit England without beholding her—ah! the thought made him grasp the woman's hand impetuously.

"It is no use. I must and will see her even if it be but to hear her say one word of farewell. I never intentionally vexed her. So far from prying into her secrets, I strove to subdue my curiosity, and obey her slightest injunctions. Remind her of this. Assure her from me that I had no hidden motive for my silence respecting Mr. Penruan; in fact, that I scarcely thought of him while I was at Dan Calynack's cottage."

"Well, sir; and when I have told her all this, what then?" asked the woman drily.

"Then entreat her to see me. If you consent to the interview, I cannot think that she will refuse it."

"It would do no good. It would only make her more—"

But here she paused, and mused a while, Max waiting almost breathlessly for her decision. It was as he feared it would be an advance

ne was a little hesitation perceptible in her manner as she replied, "That locked. It leads to a part of the we do not use. If you should lose self, you must cry out for help, and good natured enough to come to assistance."

He left him, and Max, lying full on a curious carved settee, placed in the oriel window, smoked at his and thought the while of Letty, or old schemes for watching the cottage of Dan Calynack, and tracking the herman to her abode. No one in upon his meditations for the our or so; but just as he was deciding whether he should re-fill his chaum, or go and finish his work in or's garden, one of the female servants entered the library. She did not ve the recumbent figure on the sofa, but crossed the room to the locked at which she tapped three times. A third tap it was opened. The girl hanged a few words in whispers some one on the other side; the was reclosed, a key grating in the and the servant quitted the library, unconscious of the presence of Max. A rival circumstance this to record, could not banish it from his ry, for had not Eleanor Haydon—oud and apparently truth-loving or—assured him, not two hours—that this door communicated with ion of the Abbey that was not used? was he to reconcile her statement what he hath first seen?—and if knew that it was a false one why e palm it upon him?

CHAPTER VIII.

A CHASE, AND HOW IT BEGAN.

PENRUAN did not return home till his lady and Eleanor had joined in the drawing-room, and the cook grown uneasy about his dishes. He did make his appearance, a ell upon the trio awaiting him, for st glance revealed that his humour lauged since the morning.

The carpenter had manfully defended if against the charge of extortion, y his bold bearing so incensed his r, that Mr. Penruan had ridden off a lawyer. Here another vexation d him. The only person estate in whom he placed any con- e had taken advantage of that con- e to outwit him in some bargain, e discovery rendered the avaricious e more furious than before.

Penruan's was not the wrath that ds itself in oaths and angry exclam- . It smouldered like some unde- fire, and was, therefore, all the dangerous, for it fed upon itself, one knew when nor where it would forth.

In its present stage, it was evinced by inous sullenness, which not even essence of a guest induced him to off; and certainly Mr. Penruan sulks was one of the ugliest speci- of an ill-tempered man that could nessed.

Max, the Squire's lowering looks uff monosyllables mattered little, e Californian was too good-humour- take offence at the peevishness of a o many years his senior; and his vilized life had taught him to bear rbear, except when his hot blood ilyrrounsed by insult or ill-usage. e chatted, therefore, and laughed as as before the Squire returned; but s the only one present who could e with such careless unconcern. ervants were nervous, and evidently e move; and Mrs Penruan, at times the petted invalid, now k into herself, cast scared looks at rant, and did not venture to draw tention upon her by the utterance ; of the plaintive little murmurs in she generally indulged.

anor, on the contrary, sat erect and it; the rich crimson on her cheeks ning, and her nostrils dilating with ation, every time the Squire's ess became offensive. To her it was ed; he did not condescend to pay her umoniest courtesies due to a lady a glance at the distorted features of the struggling lady.

Eleanor's look followed the direction of his, as she sighed, but answered, "Mamma will do well enough. She will scream till she is exhausted, and by that time Mr. Penruan will be alarmed and penitent. Cold water and a stern remonstrance are the only remedies that be really effectual in these attacks, and it is no use suggesting them; so let us go into the garden."

But though Mr. Penruan's step-daughter talked with such calm and bitter significance, Max found that the hand resting on his sleeve was trembling; and there were hot tears glistening on her eyelashes, as they strolled along the grass-wood terrace.

"Penruan Abbey isn't the pleasantest of houses to visit at," she said, presently. "You must not go back to America imagining that what you see and hear here are fair specimens of the manners and customs of the English gentry. We are an exceptional family. Mr. Haver- yng; you will not care to stay long with us."

"I shall be sorry to go away," Max answered, frankly; "and I suppose storms will ruffle the calmest seas sometimes."

"Ay, but such gales as we have had to-day ruffle our domestic atmosphere too often! If Mr. Penruan would but control himself in the presence of strangers, I could better bear," she added, passionately. "I am ashamed that you should have witnessed such conduct!"

"Pooh!" said Max, anxious to make light of what had occurred. "You forget that I am a relative, and ought to feel flattered that Mr. Penruan refuses to treat me as a stranger."

"You must be very proud of such kin- ship," cried Eleanor, scornfully. "If you knew—if I could bring myself to tell you—"

Here the young man gently interrupted her.

"My dear cousin, why dwell on such unpleasant topics?—they do but excite you, and make us both uncomfortable. If you could but resolve to turn a deaf ear to the snappish speeches of an ill-tempered old man—"

But now, Eleanor could be silent no longer.

"What! bend my neck to his yoke—suffer myself to be wronged and trampled on in every way? Can you bid me do this after what you saw just now? Can you expect me to be forbearing to the unfeeling man who ill-treated the poor dog that loves me, and uses me thus, when I interfere in its behalf?"

As she spoke, she held up her round white arm, and Max saw that Squire Penruan, in grasping it, had dug his nails into the soft flesh with a force that had left the purple and bleeding imprints of his violence.

An indignant exclamation burst from the lips of the young man, and he turned sharply around to return to the dining room.

But Eleanor detained him.

"What are you going to do?"

"What should I do, but seek Mr. Penruan, and tell him what I think of such dastardly conduct?"

"And bring down his wrath upon your own head?"

Max drew himself up.

"Caramba! what signifies that? Who is John Penruan, that I should hesitate to speak my mind in his hearing? He can but bid me leave his house when I have done!"

But still Eleanor, half-laughing, half-tearful, clung to his arm.

"And you would be content to leave the Abbey, and see me no more? For shame sir! how ungallant! No, no, Mr. Haver- yng! I positively forbid you to remonstrate with my step-father. I am grateful for your sympathy, but I cannot accept your championship. In fact—and now I appeal to your sober sense—it would do more harm than good, and possibly might compel me to quit the Abbey."

"The very best I should advise you to take. Surely you have friends, who would give you a happier home than you can enjoy under the roof of Mr. Penruan?"

proached, and bending over the goods she was selecting in such a manner as to wholly conceal her face from his view.

If it had not been for these movements, he might not have noticed her at all; but he came from a country where the eye and ear are tutored as to be constantly on the alert, and her desire to avoid him was quickly detected.

Max took a close survey of her. She was neatly and simply clothed; a dark stuff dress, a black shawl, and an old-fashioned bonnet—the attire, in every respect, of a decent, homely farmer's wife. That she was not young the squat, set figure revealed, as well as the hand she had ungloved while inspecting some envelopes; and, rather amused at her evident desire to avoid observation, he turned from her and began inquiring for the article he wished to procure.

Finishing her purchases in haste, the woman paid for them, and still with her face carefully averted, took up her parcel and left the shop. The proprietor was at the door arranging some packages, and civilly bade her good morning as she passed him.

The words were hurriedly responded to in full, deep, and rather harsh tones, which no sooner reached the ears of Max, than he forgot what he was saying to the shopman.

Where had he heard those strange familiar tones? Ah! now he knew, now he remembered well enough, and guessed why she had striven to avoid him. The voice to which he had been listening was the voice of Esther, that mysterious friend and companion of Mistress Letty, to whose influence he attributed the young widow's refusal to see him. From her everything was to be learned, if he could but convince her that no dishonourable motives dictated his curiosity. From her might be gleaned a clue to Letty's present abode, her reasons for hiding hers if and for assuming the name and disguise which she wore; and telling himself this, Max hurried from the shop, determined to follow her.

One glance up and then down the street. Had she already evaded him? nay, surely that was her chocolate skirt disappearing round the corner of a house some fifty yards off. Yes, it was she; and with reckless haste he dashed across the road, and up the village street in hot pursuit.

The impetuous Max had not gone many steps before the curious looks cast at him by the women standing at their doors, as well as the few persons he met, reminded him that it would be wise to moderate his pace, and act with more circumspection. He resolved, therefore, to content himself with keeping the woman in sight, and this was easily done when she quitted the narrow alley into which she had turned, for a path across the fields, leading towards the coast.

But as she climbed the heap of stones that take the place of a stile in some parts of the county, she glanced over her shoulder, and discovered that she was pursued. That this discovery was a very unpleasant one her actions speedily evinced, for after pausing for a few seconds in evident incertitude and distress, she changed her course, and began to make for some tangled coppices that formed the boundaries of an estate lying between the town and Penruan Abbey. Once there, she doubtless thought that by plunging into the depths of the woodland, it would be easy enough to evade a person so thoroughly unacquainted with the locality as Max must be; and sometimes walking, but more frequently running, she pursued her way, not venturing to look back, lest it should delay her.

But nearly a mile of rough road lay between the flying woman and the copse in which she thought to hide; and the long, steady strides of the Californian still brought him nearer and nearer, in spite of her exertions.

At last the bank surrounding the trees was reached, but, as she climbed it, Max ascended also, and was by her side.

Still, after one sharp glance at him, she walked on, more leisurely, perhaps, than before, and waited for him to accost her; but he contented himself with keeping pace with her, turning when she turned, or when the path was too narrow to walk too often to visitors at the Abbey."

"Is Letty your daughter?"

"Not by birth. I wish she were. I am her aunt Esther; and now, sir, I'll trouble you to let me go my way. I've answered quite questions enough that mean nothing!"

But Max did not move even when she emphatically repeated her request. There was so much justice in what she said, that it was difficult, indeed, to press his desire to see Mistress Letty. And yet, to forego that pleasure—to quit England without beholding her—ah! the thought made him grasp the woman's hand impetuously.

"It is no use. I must and will see her even if it be but to hear her say one word of farewell. I never intentionally vexed her. So far from prying into her secrets, I strove to subdue my curiosity, and obey her slightest injunctions. Remind her of this. Assure her from me that I had no hidden motive for my silence respecting Mr. Penruan; in fact, that I scarcely thought of him while I was at Dan Calynack's cottage."

"Well, sir; and when I have told her all this, what then?" asked the woman drily.

"Then entreat her to see me. If you consent to the interview, I cannot think that she will refuse it."

"It would do no good. It would only make her more—"

But here she paused, and mused a while, Max waiting almost breathlessly for her decision. It was as he feared it would be—an adverse one.

"No, sir; I can't consent to any more meetings, for I fail to see the use of them. My poor Letty's very awkwardly situated—I don't mind telling you that much; and there's danger in—in her coming here, that she ought not to incur without a better reason for it than an idle young gentleman's wishes."

"What are her own?" asked Max.

"Are not they to be consulted? Is it solely by her own desire that she cannot put any trust in the honour or good feeling of a Penruan?"

"What has Mr. Penruan done to make her speak and think so bitterly of every one connected with him? For goodness sake, tell me; for I am sick of this tormenting mystery!"

"Nay, sir," she answered, retreating from him; "it's not my place to find fault with the Squire; and even if I do think my Letty has cause for what she says, it would not be wise to make a confidant of one of his nearest relations, would it?"

"I have no desire to learn anything to Mr. Penruan's prejudice," said Max, haughtily; "though I protest against evil motives or doings being imputed to me, because his father and mine claimed kinship. Once again, I ask you if you will permit Mistress Letty to see me? You can be present at our meeting; I care not who hears what I have to say. But I am so fully convinced by what you have admitted that it is your influence keeps us apart, that I'll not rest till I have found her. If you will not assist me to do so, I must try what my own efforts will effect."

"And you don't care what mischief you do, so that you carry out your own wilful intentions?" said Esther, bitterly.

"Sir this poor child has suffered enough without your bringing more trouble upon her head!"

"I will do nothing to injure her—I swear it!" he answered, with all the fervour of truth. "Make what conditions you please, and I will abide by them; I will await your time for the interview; and it shall be as brief as you please. Only give me the opportunity of explaining myself—of hearing her say that she will not distrust me. I ask no more!"

"And for the selfish pleasure of hearing a simple girl say that she believes you to be a man of honour, you persist in seeming her, in spite of my warning that it may do her harm. Oh, sir, your own wilful wishes must be dearer to you than Letty's comfort or safety, or you would not keep urging me to do what I feel to be so unwise."

"If you can say, with truth, that Mistress Letty will run any risk by granting me this interview," said the perplexed Max.

in the drawing-room, and the cook grown uneasy about his dishes. He did make his appearance, a tall man in the trio awaiting him, for a glance revealed that his humour hanged since the morning.

The carpenter had manfully defended himself against the charge of extortion, and his bold bearing so incensed his brother, that Mr. Penruan had ridden off to his lawyer. Here another vexation awaited him. The only person in the estate in whom he placed any confidence had taken advantage of that confidence to outwit him in some bargain, and his discovery rendered the avaricious man more furious than before.

Penruan's was not the wrath that finds itself in oaths and angry exclamations. It smouldered like some underground fire, and was, therefore, all the more dangerous, for it fed upon itself, and one knew when near where it would forth.

In its present stage, it was evinced by morose sullenness, which not even the presence of a guest induced him to relax; and certainly Mr. Penruan's sulk was one of the ugliest specimens of an ill-tempered man that could be dressed.

Max, the Squire's lowering looks ruff monosyllables mattered little, the Californian was too good-humoured to take offence at the peevishness of a so many years his senior; and his civilized life had taught him to bear rebuff, except when his hot blood was aroused by insult or ill-usage.

He chatted, therefore, and laughed as before the Squire returned; but as the only one present who could deal with such careless unconcern, servants were nervous, and evidently loath to move; and Mrs. Penruan, at times the petted invalid, now took to herself, cast scared looks at her husband, and did not venture to draw attention upon her by the utterance of the plaintive little murmurs in which she generally indulged.

Max, on the contrary, sat erect and alert; the rich crimson on her cheeks, and her nostrils dilating with animation, every time the Squire's less became offensive. To her it was odd; he did not condescend to pay her commonest courtesies due to a lady at a dinner table; and had she not been to partake of a side dish near at hand, her plate would have remained empty.

At last, some trifling mistake, made by the woman in waiting, resulted in the fact that he had nearly dropped being flung at her head with such savage violence, the man staggered and turned voluntarily, Max rose, and Eleanor the same, and drew near to her brother, who had stifled a faint shriek in his pocket handkerchief, and closed her

"Will you give your arm to mamma, Haveryng?" asked the young lady, in clear, inclusive tones ringing with scorn she did not care to conceal, and cannot accustom herself to Mr. Penruan's gentlemanly treatment of his intimates.

"Yes, I had better go to my room," said the poor lady, with an entreating look at her daughter. "I'm not very well; the draughts from the door bother me. Dear Eleanor," she added, in a low voice, "pray say no more."

The young girl bit her lip, and signed Max to lead her mother away; but Mrs. Penruan's shawl could be fastened to her liking, or her other wraps and cushions collected, there was a little stir at the table, and Mr. Penruan started exclaiming, "Here is a dog in the hall! Whose dog is it?"

Eleanor sprang forward. There was one creature of the canine species seated at the Abbey besides the fierce dog and her mother's spotted retriever; an old retriever that had attached itself to her, and always lay on the edge of her.

"My dear cousin, why dwell on such unpleasant topics?—they do but excite you, and make us both uncomfortable. If you could but resolve to turn a deaf ear to the snappish speeches of an ill-tempered old man—"

But now, Eleanor could be silent no longer.

"What! bend my neck to his yoke—suffer myself to be wronged and trampled on in every way? Can you bid me do this after what you saw just now? Can you expect me to be forbearing to the unfeeling man who ill-treated the poor dog that loves me, and uses me thus, when I interfere in its behalf?"

As she spoke, she held up her round white arm, and Max saw that Squire Penruan, in grasping it, had dug his nails into the soft flesh with a force that had left the purple and bleeding imprints of his violence.

An indignant exclamation burst from the lips of the young man, and he turned sharply around to return to the dining room.

But Eleanor detained him.

"What are you going to do?"

"What should I do, but seek Mr. Penruan, and tell him what I think of such dastardly conduct?"

"And bring down his wrath upon your own head?"

Max drew himself up.

"Caramba! what signifies that? Who is John Penruan, that I should hesitate to speak my mind in his hearing? He can but bid me leave his house when I have done!"

But still Eleanor, half-laughing, half-tearful, clung to his arm.

"And you would be content to leave the Abbey, and see me no more?"

"For shame sir! how ungallant! No, no, Mr. Haveryng; I positively forbid you to remonstrate with my stepfather. I am grateful for your sympathy, but I cannot accept your championship. In fact—and now I appeal to your sober sense—it would do more harm than good, and possibly might compel me to quit the Abbey."

"The very step I should advise you to take. Surely you have friends, who would give you a happier home than you can enjoy under the roof of Mr. Penruan?"

Eleanor shook her head.

"I cannot leave the Abbey; it is not to be thought of. If you really wish to be my friend, Mr. Haveryng, you will help me to forget what has happened this evening, and to practise some of that forbearance you advocate. Do you know that your friend, Captain Renton, is threatening to pay us a flying visit?"

She was evidently desirous of changing the subject, and Max could but follow her lead, so the evil moods of the Squire were not alluded to again during their stroll, which was prolonged till the moon rose; and when they re-entered the house Eleanor pleaded fatigue, and went to her own rooms, an example Max thought it would be prudent to follow. There he secured himself from another nocturnal visit by dragging an old-fashioned wardrobe across the panel from which he still believed that some one had peered at him on the previous night.

On the morrow, Mr. Penruan no sooner entered the breakfast-parlour than he made a confused apology to his guest for the unpleasantness of the preceding day.

"I am afraid we made you uncomfortable amongst us. Mr. Haveryng, and perhaps I was, in some measure, the cause; but my wife's delicate health preys upon my spirits, and when to that is added the anxieties that always attend property, the stupidity of the servants, and the obstinate—but come, kinsman, we'll not wait for the ladies. I want you to taste the mackerel, caught on our coast not more than two hours ago, and boiled directly; it is the only way of eating the fish at its prime."

Max looked bewildered at the sudden

disguise which she wore; and telling himself this. Max hurried from the shop, determined to follow her.

One glance up and then down the street. Had she already evaded him? Nay, surely that was her chocolate skirt disappearing round the corner of a house some fifty yards off. Yes, it was she; and with reckless haste he dashed across the road, and up the village street in hot pursuit.

The impetuous Max had not gone many steps before the curious looks cast at him by the women standing at their doors, as well as the few persons he met, reminded him that it would be wise to moderate his pace, and act with more circumspection. He resolved, therefore, to content himself with keeping the woman in sight, and this was easily done when she quitted the narrow alley into which she had turned, for a path across the fields, leading towards the coast.

But as she climbed the heap of stones that take the place of a stile in some parts of the county, she glanced over her shoulder, and discovered that she was pursued. That this discovery was a very unpleasant one her actions speedily evinced, for after pausing for a few seconds in evident uncertainty and distress, she changed her course, and began to make for some tangled coppices that formed the boundaries of an estate lying between the town and Penruan Abbey. Once there, she doubtless thought that by plunging into the depths of the woodland, it would be easy enough to evade a person so thoroughly unacquainted with the locality as Max must be; and sometimes walking, but more frequently running, she pursued her way, not venturing to look back, lest it should delay her.

But nearly a mile of rough road lay between the flying woman and the copse in which she thought to hide; and the long, steady strides of the Californian still brought him nearer and nearer, in spite of her exertions.

At last the bank surrounding the trees was reached, but, as she climbed it, Max ascended also, and was by her side.

Still, after one sharp glance at him, she walked on, more leisurely, perhaps, than before, and waited for him to accost her; but he contented himself with keeping pace with her, turning when she turned, or when the path was too narrow for them to walk abreast, following in her footsteps.

Again she turned her eyes upon him, as if longing to penetrate his motives for this silent pertinacity; and Max met her gaze without flinching. But still he remained mute; and, muttering something to herself, she began to wander at random, up one path and then down another, frequently returning to the spot from where she started, as if thus hoping to weary him into quitting her; a vain hope, as she presently discovered.

At last tired, hot, and angry, she sat her back against a tree, threw up her veil, and sharply expostulated.

"What do you mean by this strange behaviour, sir? Why do you follow me?"

"Because I am anxious to know where you reside, and have no other way of discovering your abode."

"And so you are going to force me into showing you? Would it not be more gentlemanly to put the question to me, and let me have the option of telling or refusing, as I think proper?"

"It would," was frankly admitted: "and if I had seen any reason to believe that you would tell me the truth, I would have done so. But you are not my friend—you never have been. Your anxiety to avoid me is a sufficient proof that you will show me no favour; and as I am determined to see Miss Letty, I am obliged to have recourse to the measures of which you complain."

"Why do you wish to see her?" The woman demanded, suspiciously.

"Because I value her good opinion too highly to be satisfied till I have convinced her that I am not the dishonourable fellow she seems inclined to think me."

"What are her own?" asked Max. "Are not they to be consulted? Is it solely by her own desire that she cannot put any trust in the honour or good feeling of a Penruan?"

"What has Mr. Penruan done to make her speak and think so bitterly of every one connected with him? For goodness sake, tell me; for I am sick of this tormenting mystery!"

"Nay, sir," she answered, retreating from him; "it's not my place to find fault with the Squire; and even if I do, think my Letty has cause for what she says, it would not be wise to make a confidant of one of his nearest relations, would it?"

"I have no desire to learn anything to Mr. Penruan's prejudice," said Max, laughingly; "though I protest against evil motives or doings being imputed to me, because his father and mine claimed kinship. Once again, I ask you if you will permit Mistress Letty to see me? You can be present at our meeting; I care not who hears what I have to say. But I am so fully convinced by what you have admitted that it is your influence keeps us apart, that I'll not rest till I have found her. If you will not assist me to do so, I must try what my own efforts will effect."

"And you don't care what mischief you do, so that you carry out your own wilful intentions?" said Esther, bitterly. "Sir this poor child has suffered enough without your bringing more trouble upon her head!"

"I will do nothing to injure her—I swear it!" he answered, with all the fervour of truth. "Make what conditions you please, and I will abide by them; I will await your time for the interview; and it shall be as brief as you please. Only give me the opportunity of expatiating myself—of hearing her say that she will not distrust me. I ask no more!"

"And for the selfish pleasure of hearing a simple girl say that she believes you to be a man of honour, you persist in seeming her, in spite of my warning that it may do her harm. Oh, sir, your own wilful wishes must be dearer to you than Letty's comfort or safety, or you would not keep urging me to do what I feel to be so unwise."

"If you can say, with truth, that Mistress Letty will run any risk by granting me this interview," said the perplexed Max, looking terribly disappointed, "I must renounce my wish. But it is indeed hard to do so—very hard!"

"Nay, sir; you'll not regret it, by-and-by," said Esther, her face brightening as he grew sad. "And Letty's prayers will be for you wherever you go!"

"Stay," said Max. "You hint at troubles that menace her. She herself has spoken in a similar manner; and it is plain that you think so meanly of me as to imagine that I shall go away from Cornwall, leaving her to overcome her difficulties unaided. But in this you are mistaken. I will not press her to see me while you forbid it; but, on the other hand, I refuse to quit the neighbourhood till Mistress Letty can herself convince me that she has nothing to fear."

"You are playing false with me, Mr. Haveryng!" cried the vexed woman. "At one moment, you profess to give up your own inclinations; at the next, you insist upon haunting the poor child! I suppose you will end in making her more miserable than she is already!"

"Be just to me, if you can!" was the reply. "I have promised to wait Mistress Letty's own time for the renewal of our acquaintance, and also that I will do nothing that she forbids, nor seek to discover her secrets; but I should be dishonored in my own opinion, if I went away knowing that I leave her, to use your own words, in difficulty and danger. By staying quietly here, I cannot harm her; by going, I rob myself of the chance of serving her hereafter!"

"I suppose, sir, you'll please yourself, let me say what I will?" the woman tartly remarked. "So I'll bid you good day!"

(To be Continued.)

THE EXPRESS.

NAPANEE, DEC. 28th, 1877.

—THE LATEST news to hand goes to show that the reception of the Porte's note has had the effect of strengthening the war feeling in Turkey, while Russia now signifies her intention of resisting interference even by force. Another campaign may therefore be looked upon as inevitable.

The London Daily News of the 13th of December hears that the British Government intend to introduce a bill into Parliament during the ensuing session which will impose great restrictions upon the importation of foreign cattle. It will be remembered that a Select Committee of the House of Commons, largely composed of agricultural and Conservative members, made a report towards the close of the last session recommending legislation of this kind. Canadian interests should be carefully watched.

—THE BONUS BY-LAW, for the Toronto and Ottawa Railway, was defeated in Toronto on Thursday last, by a majority of nearly two thousand. The result clearly indicates a strong and growing feeling against aiding railway schemes of doubtful benefit, and which are likely to have a tendency to lessen the returns from the large corporations already in working order. It is now announced that the scheme has been abandoned for the present, and municipalities having in contemplation the submission of by-laws in aid of the undertaking, have been requested to withdraw them.

—THE COUNCIL of the County of Kent have set at rest the legal proceedings which have lately been going on over the Dunkin Act in that Municipality, and effectually vetoed the possibility of further litigation, by passing the By-law without submitting it to the people for ratification. A few months ago a By-law under the provisions of the Dunkin Act, was carried by the electors with an overwhelming majority, but through some quibble it was upset in the Courts, when the Council came to the rescue by the above mentioned step, making the By-law good without entailing the expense of a second polling. The vote stood twenty-three to four, and general satisfaction seems to prevail over this decisive action.

A London Times special of December 12th says:—"The Allan Royal mail steamer Moravian, which arrived in the Mersey early yesterday morning, brought 281 barrels and five cases of Canadian poultry, containing 3,500 turkeys, 1,210 geese, 600 couples of ducks, portance to gain by carrying on the campaign, and that her treasury has already been drained very low to provide the sinews of war is for them a humiliating fact. While the people of Russia are rejoicing over the fall of Plevna and the Czar is being feted and crowned with laurels over the success of his army, there is a feeling prevalent that peace would not be at all unwelcome. Although the Turks could not be expected to hold out long against the swarming hosts of the Czar, still an empty victory may be achieved at too dear a cost. All eyes are directed however, with painful interest to the attitude of the neutral powers.—Great Britain is felt to be in position where the least step is fraught with important consequences. Germany has given unmistakable evidence of her inclination to sympathize with Russia. France cannot be counted upon as an ally for some time to come, and has expressed her intentions of entirely avoiding interference in the dispute. Austria will not take any steps not approved by Germany. What England will do single handed and unsupported to check Russian aggression, is the question which is being eagerly asked and which remains unanswered. The British Cabinet has given no hint of its intentions, but that the situation is claiming their deepest consideration is known. It evidently remains with her whether the interference by other powers will take place at the present time. Interference means a wide spread conflict, a long and dreadful struggle, fearful loss of life and property, and almost endless carnage. The memories of the Crimea are too well remembered for a step involving such fearful consequences to be lightly taken. Whether she will be forced in defense of her interest and her honor to take this step yet remains to be seen. That she may not, and that the fearful visitation of a prolonged war may be averted is the sincere prayer of all Christian subjects.

WAR NEWS.

Thursday.

A feeling of great uncertainty prevails in Europe with regard to the present position of the Eastern Question, and England's attitude continues to occupy the largest share of attention. All sorts of rumours are abroad, the latest being that Germany was invited to join Great Britain in mediation, but that she returned a refusal in terms that were almost contemptuous and insolent. A Berlin despatch further asserts that Germany will adhere to whatever conditions Russia may be disposed to make, and will abstain from advancing any obstacle to the extinction of Turkey as a European Power, and oppose any attempt in such a direction by any other Power. Austria, according to Count Andrassy's statement, will remain neutral but will prevent any endeavour by Serbia to extend operations to Bosnia and the Herzegovina. The Porte will lay the whole question of peace negotiations before the Turkish Parliament. Of actual movements in the field there is little to announce. The Servians have occupied Fort Marmor, near Nisch, and the Montenegrins have been driven back into their own territory by a body of Turks from Podgoritz, who are now marching to the relief of Scutari and Antivari.

Friday.

Every attempt to strike out a new policy is said to revive the dissensions in the British Cabinet and Lord Derby's retirement is again mentioned as being and calling out the reserves of the regular army. A despatch to the Edinburgh Scotsman prognosticates the purchase by England of the Porte's suzerainty over Egypt.

Tuesday.

The sensational reports relative to the probable attitude of Great Britain, which sprung from the unusually early date of the convocation of Parliament are gradually dying out, and it is now stated that so far from unusual activity existing in the dockyards and arsenals the number of hands employed at Woolwich is one third of the war force. There is some talk of the Porte being about to express its willingness to cede the free passage of the Dardanelles—to which opposition is expected from England—but the general impression conveyed by the tenor of the despatches is that the war will be continued until one or the other of the combatants cries "enough." Turkey is receiving fresh troops from Egypt. Russia is making extensive preparations, and new battalions are pouring over the Danube. So far as can be gathered at present, the plan of action on the part of the invader is to make a double descent upon Roumelia, while a third and fourth armies mask the Quadrilateral. In the meantime the Grand Duke Nicholas will operate against Sofia and thence take the circuitous but easy route through the western Balkans to Philippopolis and Adrianople, while the Czarevitch effects a passage through a more easterly defile—possibly Trajan's Pass. The Russian commanders have received orders, however, to act strictly upon the defensive until the arrival of reinforcements, a sign that the attack is meant to be sure, if it should fail to prove swift.

The success obtained by the Servians at the outset of the campaign have been checked by a reverse on the frontier near Nisch.

Wednesday.

Fresh Russian and Servian success are reported; the latter having taken the town of Ak Palanka, on the Danube, a few miles east of Widin, and the former, under Skobelev, having occupied Trajan, near the Trajan pass. The Servians have also commenced the bombardment of Nish. In Asia Minor, the weather having become more favourable, the Russians are preparing for the bombardment of Erzeroum, which is now completely invested.

The attitude of Greece gives fresh causes for apprehension. A war demonstration was made on Monday by the soldiers and civilians at Lamia, a frontier town, and a battery of Krupp guns is said to have been despatched to the front. The Cabinet, however, appears to be desirous, before committing itself to a warlike policy, of awaiting the result of the meeting of the British Parliament in January.

It is stated in reference to the report that active intercourse relative to Eastern affairs has been going on of late between Paris and London, that France will not depart from her attitude of reserve to mix herself up in the Eastern question.

STANLEY AT ADEN.

HIS EFFORTS TO REPRESS THE SLAVE TRADE.

Henry H. Stanley sends a cable despatch from Aden, Arabia to the Herald and Daily Telegraph announcing his arrival at that place on board the steamship Pachumba, from Zanzibar. Mr. Stanley reports that he saw Sultan Syed Burghash, and spoke to him about his officers and subjects who were engaged in the slave trade in Central Africa, Syed Burghash seemed to be much moved by Mr. Stanley's expostulations in regard to the infamous traffic and his assurance of the determination of the civilized world to put it down. He promised to do his utmost to suppress it.

Mr. Stanley, in the course of the conversation with the Sultan, accused Said Ben Salim, the Governor of Unyanvembe or participation in the traffic, and encouraging his subordinates and others to do a copper kang, which broke the kerr lamps, and by this means the flames rapidly spread.

Negotiations have been opened between the United States and Italy for the ratification of the Treaty of 1868 respecting the rights and privileges of the consuls in the two countries.

Great Britain.

The gable of a large hotel in Edinburg fell Thursday, burying a number of sons in the ruins.

It is stated that the Queen will Parliament in person on the 17th ofuary.

The London World mentions the Earl of Manchester as likely to succeed Earl of Dufferin as Governor-General of Canada.

A Captain Wiggins, an English who has just returned from a cruise the north coast of Siberia, report open sea route towards the North Pole, that quarter, but his news is doubt received in England.

Canada.

The gold excitement continue British Columbia. Fresh discoveries continually being made.

The by-law granting a bonus in Toronto and Ottawa railway was defeated Thursday by a majority of 1,948.

His Excellency the Governor General will open the Art Exhibition in Montreal on the 15th prox. The principal feature of the Exhibition will be paintings left by the late Beniah Gilman.

The third session of the Third Parliament of Quebec was opened Wednesday with the usual ceremonies.

A charge of improperly retaining funds have been brought against an artiller officer and an investigator ordered.

Several of the leading wholesale goods firms in Montreal have within past two weeks discharged a large portion of their employees on account of the stagnation in that trade. Many of them will, no doubt, be taken back the opening of the spring trade.

The Ashburnham Dunkin by-law carried yesterday by a majority of 1,948. The vote in the whole county was taken on the 9th prox.

A car-load of convicts were yesterday transferred to Kingston from the Vincent de Paul Penitentiary, which has been overcrowded for some time.

The first excursion on the Canadian Pacific Railway took place on Wednesday last, when a party rode from Boniface to a point two miles beyond Selkirk on the main line.

Troubled has been caused in Pembina Mountain district by the tide of Canadian squatters towards the Menonites, in consequence of which former have received notice to quit the Dominion Land Office.

The difficulties between the La Canal contractors and the strikers are referred to the arbitration of Messrs. Devlin, M. P., and Jette, M. P., a part of the strikers, two arbitrators pointed by the contractors and an arbitrator fixed upon by both parties. The men on Section 3 returned to work Monday the remainder are anxious to come to an agreement and resume by Wednesday.

Hon. Henry Martell, a member of the Legislative Council of Nova Scotia, arrived at Acharat on Friday.

The Lachine Canal strikers were expected to resume work Monday. A strike has occurred on Section 9, the demanding a dollar a day, and three dollars a team. Paquet, who shot by the Davis' fireman, is reported little better.

The sentence of Glass, the Montreal Bank defaulter, has been confirmed by the Court of Appeal at Montreal. The case will now be taken to the Supreme Court.

The English Press on Canadian

The Birmingham Post says: In January, 1873, there was bred near town of Guelph, district of Ontario, Canada West, from imported European port towards the close of the last session recommending legislation of this kind. Canadian interests should be carefully watched.

—THE BONUS BY-LAW, for the Toronto and Ottawa Railway, was defeated in Toronto on Thursday last, by a majority of nearly two thousand. The result clearly indicates a strong and growing feeling against aiding railway schemes of doubtful benefit, and which are likely to have a tendency to lessen the returns from the large corporations already in working order. It is now announced that the scheme has been abandoned for the present, and municipalities having in contemplation the submission of by-laws in aid of the undertaking, have been requested to withdraw them.

—THE COUNCIL of the County of Kent have set at rest the legal proceedings which have lately been going on over the Dunkin Act in that Municipality, and effectually vetoed the possibility of farther litigation, by passing the By-law without submitting it to the people for ratification. A few months ago a By-law under the provisions of the Dunkin Act, was carried by the electors with an overwhelming majority, but through some quibble it was upset in the Courts, when the Council came to the rescue by the above mentioned step, making the By-law good without entailing the expense of a second polling. The vote stood twenty-three to four, and general satisfaction seems to prevail over this decisive action.

A London Times special of December 12th says:—"The Allan Royal mail steamer Moravian, which arrived in the Mersey early yesterday morning, brought 281 barrels and five cases of Canadian poultry, containing 3,500 turkeys, 1,310 geese, 950 couples of ducks, and 1,321 couples of fowls, shipped by Chas. Dawson, Brampton, Ont., who is now in Liverpool awaiting still larger consignments during the next few weeks. Considerable preparations have been made in Canada to keep up a weekly supply of poultry from that country to England during the winter months, and the trade bids fair to prove highly remunerative. The same steamer also brought 1,100 quarters of beef and a large quantity of mutton."

—THE PROPOSED draining of Lake Seugog continues to be a fruitful subject of local agitation. It appears that the removal of the Lindsay dam would only lower the water of the lake something like four feet, and that in order to drain it dry the dam at Bobcaygeon would have to be removed, and the channel of the Seugog River deepened. Two smaller projects are talked of as more feasible. One is to erect solid causeways between Seugog Island and the shore, on opposite sides, and then drain that portion of the lake lying south and west of the embankment, and keep it pumped dry by means of windmill or steam power. The other is to drain the swamps of the Township of Rench, now flooded by the waters of a tributary of the lake.

known. It evidently remains with her whether the interference by other powers will take place at the present time. Interference means a wide spread conflict, a long and dreadful struggle, fearful loss of life and property, and almost endless carnage. The memories of the Crimea are too well remembered for a step involving such fearful consequences to be lightly taken. Whether she will be forced in defense of her interest and her honor to take this step yet remains to be seen. That she may not, and that the fearful visitation of a prolonged war may be averted is the sincere prayer of all Christian subjects.

WAR NEWS.

Thursday.

A feeling of great uncertainty prevails in Europe with regard to the present position of the Eastern Question, and England's attitude continues to occupy the largest share of attention. All sorts of rumours are abroad, the latest being that Germany was invited to join Great Britain in mediation, but that she returned a refusal in terms that were almost contemptuous and insolent. A Berlin despatch further asserts that Germany will adhere to whatever conditions Russia may be disposed to make, and will abstain from advancing any obstacle to the extinction of Turkey as a European Power, and oppose any attempt in such a direction by any other Power. Austria, according to Count Andrassy's statement, will remain neutral but will prevent any encroachment by Serbia to extend operations to Bosnia and the Herzegovina. The Porte will lay the whole question of peace negotiations before the Turkish Parliament. Of actual movements in the field there is little to announce. The Servians have occupied Fort Marmor, near Nisch, and the Montenegrins have been driven back into their own territory by a body of Turks from Podgoritz, who are now marching to the relief of Scutari and Antivari.

Friday.

Every attempt to strike out a new policy is said to revive the dissensions in the British Cabinet and Lord Derby's retirement is again mentioned as being probable. A French journal states emphatically that England has sounded the Powers concerning the possible organization of common diplomatic action. The Porte is said to be concentrating its energies on the defence of Roumelia and as having little inclination to enter on direct negotiations with Russia, which course it is also supposed would be opposed by the Ottoman Parliament. The Czarevitch will probably shortly return to Russia, and Gen. Todleben succeed him as commander-in-chief of the army of the Don. Suleiman Pasha has arrived at Constantinople en route, in a very circuitous manner, for Roumelia, and as a portion of the Turkish troops from the Quadrilateral have also left for that Province, color is given to the report that a vigorous stand is intended in that direction. A steamer is ready to leave New Haven, Conn., with munitions of war for Turkey.

Saturday.

Matters in the East are once more assuming a warlike aspect, so far as the belligerents are concerned—and the resumption of active operations in Bulgaria may be looked for as soon as the weather permits of an advance into Roumelia, and the Russian commissariat has been satisfactorily reorganized. At present, now in the Balkans precludes the possibility of the passage of the defiles into the plan of Adrianople, and both parties are availing themselves of the delay to repair their strength for another struggle. While the Russians are bringing forward fresh troops and preparing for the regular transport of supplies and munitions, the Porte has ordered a new levy of 800,000 at the outset of the campaign have been checked by a reverse on the frontier near Nisch.

Wednesday.

Fresh Russian and Servian success are reported; the latter having taken the town of Ak Palanka, on the Danube, a few miles east of Widin, and the former, under Skobelev, having occupied Trajan, near the Trajan pass. The Servians have also commenced the bombardment of Nish. In Asia Minor, the weather having become more favourable, the Russians are preparing for the bombardment of Erzeroum, which is now completely invested.

The attitude of Greece gives fresh causes for apprehension. A war demonstration was made on Monday by the soldiers and civilians at Lamia, a frontier town, and a battery of Krupp guns is said to have been despatched to the front. The Cabinet, however, appears to be desirous, before committing itself to a warlike policy, of awaiting the result of the meeting of the British Parliament in January.

It is stated in reference to the report that active intercourse relative to Eastern affairs has been going on of late between Paris and London, that France will not depart from her attitude of reserve to mix herself up in the Eastern question.

STANLEY AT ADEN.

HIS EFFORTS TO REPRESS THE SLAVE TRADE.

Henry H. Stanley sends a cable despatch from Aden, Arabia to the Herald and Daily Telegraph announcing his arrival at that place on board the steamship Pachumbi, from Zanzibar. Mr. Stanley reports that he saw Sultan Syed Burghash, and spoke to him about his officers and subjects who were engaged in the slave trade in Central Africa, Syed Burghash seemed to be much moved by Mr. Stanley's expostulations in regard to the infamous traffic and his assurance of the determination of the civilized world to put it down. He promised to do his utmost to suppress it.

Mr. Stanley, in the course of the conversation with the Sultan, accused Said Ben Salim, the Governor of Unyanyembe or participation in the traffic, and encouraging his subordinates and others to do the same. Finally the Sultan proposed to recall Said Ben Salim from Unyanyembe, where his position enabled him to carry on the slave trade with impunity, and to substitute for him a Governor who could be trusted to refrain from such practices, and to lend his co-operation in the suppression of the trade in human beings.

Before leaving Zanzibar Mr. Stanley paid off and discharged the native members of the Anglo-American exploring expedition, who are now at their homes, and reposing after their long and arduous labours. They parted from Mr. Stanley with every demonstration of affection, and they, as well as the relatives and friends of those who had died during the expedition, expressed themselves as entirely satisfied.

Mr Stanley concludes his despatch as follows:—"The Belgian exploration party arrived at Zanzibar the day I sailed for Aden. I leave for Suez to-morrow."

The Tennessee Senate has passed the Bill commencing the State debt at fifty cents on the dollar.

There died the other day in New York, Max Von Groliman, employed as a pressman in a small job office. He was a young German baron, who served with great distinction in the Franco-German war. At the close of the war he sailed for New York, where he spent a fortune in riotous extravagance. He then married an American lady of good position, but after a year of wedded life she obtained a divorce from him. His course was then rapidly downward, and he died in the press-room while under the influence of opium and whiskey.

Several of the leading wholesale goods firms in Montreal have within the past two weeks discharged a large portion of their employees on account of the stagnation in that trade. Many of them will, no doubt, be taken back up on the opening of the spring trade.

The Ashburnham Dunkin by-law carried yesterday by a majority of eight. The vote in the whole county will be taken on the 9th prox.

A car-load of convicts were yesterday transferred to Kingston from the Vincent de Paul Penitentiary, which has been overcrowded for some time past.

The first excursion on the Canada Pacific Railway took place on Wednesday last, when a party rode from Boniface to a point two miles beyond Selkirk on the main line.

Troubled has been caused in the Pembina Mountain district by the attitude of Canadian squatters towards Menonites, in consequence of which former have received notice to quit from the Dominion Land Office.

The difficulties between the Lachine Canal contractors and the strikers are referred to the arbitration of Messrs. Devlin, M. P., and Jette, M. P., on part of the strikers, two arbitrators pointed by the contractors and an umpire fixed upon by both parties. The men of Section 3 returned to work Monday and the remainder are anxious to come to agreement and resume by Wednesday.

Hon. Henry Martell, a member of the Legislative Council of Nova Scotia, died at Arichat on Friday.

The Lachine Canal strikers were expected to resume work Monday. Another strike has occurred on Section 9, the men demanding a dollar a day, and cart three dollars a team. Paquet, who was shot by the Davis' foreman, is reported a little better.

The sentence of Glass, the Molson Bank defaulter, has been confirmed by the Court of Appeal at Montreal, and the case will now be taken to the Supreme Court.

The English Press on Canadian Bred.

The Birmingham Post says: In February, 1873, there was bred near town of Guelph, district of Ontario, Canada West, from imported English stock, a short horned bull calf, who was in due time made a steer, showing extraordinary precocity, the encouragement of a little extra bruised maize his frame and flesh was so developed that at three and a half years old he had reached the weight of 2,500 lbs., when he was taken up to tour in the States, being exhibited, company with others, at Toronto, Ohio, St. Louis, and finally at Philadelphia Centennial Exhibition. He next of his arrival per steamer Dominion at Liverpool, in July 1, and being on view during the last 10 days of the Royal Agricultural Show a building contiguous to the show-yard. He was purchased for Mr. Booth, enterprising gentleman from the Isle of Man, for, it is reported, close on £200. The Manx people had an opportunity of seeing this specimen of successful breeding and feeding for a week or after which he was kept in strict privacy until he started for his Christmas tour, making his debut at Norwich last Thursday; but unfortunately, owing to want of sufficient rest, after a rough passage, he was unable to compete the show. Having, however, somewhat recovered, he has now gone on to the Crystal Palace show, and is due at Bingley on Friday next. He is a beautiful roan, fed as firm as a board, very active, docile, and a short time ago was high enough to compete successfully for gold medal.

The Week's News.

Continued.

It is now stated that Bismark will not return to Berlin this year.

The Russian Government has ordered forty large freight locomotives from a Philadelphia firm.

Prince Leopold's health is again causing anxiety.

Philip Veit, the celebrated German fresco painter, is dead.

Prince Gortschakoff has assumed the direction of the Russian Ministry of Foreign Affairs, and Gen. Ignatieff has been appointed a member of the Council of the Empire.

The Provincial Committee of Alsace-Lorraine have adopted a resolution in favour of the Province of a constitution as a Federal State, with representatives in the Federal Council of the German Empire.

Other Countries

The revolution in Ecuador is at an end the Government having triumphed.

A number of Cuban insurgents, including the wife and family of Maxim Gomez, have surrendered in the central district of the island.

The San Domingo revolution continues and murders and outrages are of frequent occurrence. One hundred political prisoners have been banished without any warning.

United States.

At the meeting of dairymen at Chicago a resolution was yesterday adopted in favour of placing salt on the free list.

The July railroad riots cost Pennsylvania $500,000.

A convention to devise means of clearing the State of tramps is being held at Baltimore, Md.

A boiler explosion, attended with the most terrible results, occurred Thursday in a large New York candy manufactory. The building was entirely demolished by the explosion and by a fire which it caused, ten of the hands, at the lowest estimate, employed in the establishment, perishing. A large number were also seriously injured. The scene after the occurrence was one of the wildest excitement and confusion. The disaster has been found to be due to the explosion of a copper tank, which broke the kerosene lamps, and by this means the flames were rapidly spread.

Negotiations have been opened between the United States and Italy for the modification of the Treaty of 1868 respecting the rights and privileges of the consuls of the two countries.

Great Britain.

The gable of a large hotel in Edinburgh fell Thursday, burying a number of persons in the ruins.

It is stated that the Queen will open Parliament in person on the 17th of January.

The London World mentions the Duke of Manchester as likely to succeed the Earl of Dufferin as Governor-General of Canada.

A Captain Wiggins, an Englishman who has just returned from a cruise on the north coast of Siberia, reports an open sea route towards the North Pole in that quarter, but his news is doubtfully received in England.

Canada.

The gold excitement continues in British Columbia. Fresh discoveries are continually being made.

The by-law granting a bonus to the Toronto and Ottawa railway was defeated Thursday by a majority of 1,943.

His Excellency the Governor General will open the Art Exhibition in Montreal on the 15th prox. The principal feature of the Exhibition will be the paintings left by the late Russian Ghib.

A MILE OF DANCING FIRE.

THE TOWN OF PATERSON COURSED THROUGH BY A RIVER OF BURNING PETROLEUM.

(From the N. Y. World.)

One of the most remarkable conflagrations on record was that which, as noticed in a despatch in yesterday's World, occurred in Paterson Monday evening.

Between 7 and 8 o'clock an oil train eastward bound on the Erie track broke a coupling and lost four cars, including the "caboose," which always goes along in the rear of freight. When the coupling broke the detached cars rolled backward down an incline, the caboose, reversing its position suddenly, taking the lead, with three cars, supporting iron tanks full of petroleum oil, following. As the oil cars, preceded by the caboose rolled downward with constantly accelerated motion on one side, a heavy freight locomotive, which had been following the oil train, came thundering along the other. The man who was in the caboose leaped for his life, and in another instant came the collision. The caboose was lifted clean over the top of the smoke-stack of the locomotive, and left standing on end on top of the boiler, while the locomotive, still retaining its momentum dashed into the car following, overturned it and ripped an immense hole in the iron tank, through which the oil poured forth in streams. Immediately a sheet of flame leaped high in the air. How it was set is not known; probably it caught from a blazing journal; The engineer fortunately was able to back his locomotive away from the wreck and run the train of coal cars which he was drawing to a safe distance from the flames.

The track where the collision occurred was wrenched out of shape, and one or two rails were torn up. One of the tanks was thrown down the embankment on the side towards the town. A little house standing just under the track was deluged with the blazing oil, and broke into flames in an instant. The good wife was about stepping into bed, having just drawn up the shades on the windows to admit the moonlight. The house was wood, and the family had barely time to run out and no time to save any of their household goods, so quick was its destruction. The tank continued to vomit forth oil, which ran and collected in a blazing pool in a hollow right in front of the culvert running under the track at the point where the cars had toppled over. This hollow was a partially opened sewer, which led into a brook running underground to the Passaic. The fire companies came running promptly, and people seemed to rise out of the ground, so rapidly did the crowd gather. Within a few minutes there were 5,000 people collected about the blazing tank. All at once there was a cry of wonder. From a point 50 feet away, across the road towards the town, a sudden flame leaped up as it seemed out of the bowels of the earth. It did not stop in one place, but ran on through the lots in the direction of the houses. As it approached the first house it took hold greedily, setting it ablaze in an instant, and then ran on in the direction of the River-street bridge. It passed straight through a number of back yards, wrapping itself around trees and outhouses, until there was a continuous line of fire, in some places, where it caught dry material, leaping a hundred feet into the air, one hundred feet away to River-street. There it suddenly ceased, seemingly thwarted in any further progress by an embankment along which the street was laid. But in a moment out it started again from the other side of River-street. It ran along through the bare lots lying between River-street and the river, catching a house and barn on its way until it met the Passaic about one hundred feet above the bridge. It did not stop there, but hugging the right bank of the river, it continued its course, and

Not Quite So.

"It is among the most savage and debased tribes only that the condition and comfort of the horse have been neglected," but we believe there are many in civilized countries who are guilty of the same neglect, and without the excuse of the former; here all may avail themselves of the use of an article which has done more than anything else heretofore known to improve the condition and relieve the suffering of the horse. Those who will not use it will be the losers, their horses the sufferers; to avoid both use "Darley's Condition Powders and Arabian Heave Remedy," and you will be satisfied with the result. Remember the name, and see that the signature of Ford & Co. is on each package. Northrop & Lyman, Toronto, Ont., proprietors for Canada. Sold by Medicine Dealers.

TWO QUESTIONS EASILY ANSWERED.—Why should men wear beards? Because they are a great protection to the throat and lungs, and add much to their personal appearance. Why should we use "Bryan's Pulmonic Wafers?" Because when used for coughs, colds, tickling in the throat, hoarseness, &c., they act like a charm. Ministers and lawyers use them, physicians recommend them, and singers and public speakers say they are the very best medicine in existence for the cure of such complaints. Sold by all medicine dealers at 25cts. a box.

However quickly a patient may recover and approach towards robust health by the use of Fellow's Hypophosphites he must abolish the habits of life which induced the disease; the effect of the greatest triumph in medicine can only be transitory, whilst man persists in the gratification of vicious or pernicious habits.

BRONCHITIS.—Unless arrested, will terminate in consumption. An almost never failing cure for this complaint is found in Allen's Lung Balsam, which can be had of any Druggist, price one dollar per bottle.

"Frost Bites" are ugly things; a nose ear swollen to twice its usual size is no more beautiful than it is comfortable. After trying many "cures" we come back and award the palm to Perry Davis' PAIN KILLER, "the old reliable," which affords relief quicker than any other thing we know of.

THE ALTAR.

CAMPBELL—Parks—On Christmas, by the Rev. A. C. Chambers, at the residence of the brides father, Mr. Thomas Campbell of Storrington, to Miss Mary A. Parks, daughter of David Parks, Esq., North Fredericksburg.

VINE—McCOMBER—In Napanee, at the residence of William Saul Esq., Dec. 25th. By Rev. Dr. Hartley, Mr. Jas. S. Vine, and Miss Angeline McComber, all of Napanee.

SPIKE—GOLDSMITH—On the 26th Dec., by the Rev. Dr. Hartley, at the residence of the bride's mother, Mr. George Spike, of St. Vincent, County of Gray, and Miss Phoebe Callista Goldsmith of Napanee.

VALANSTINE—THOMPSON—On the 24th inst., by the Rev. A. B. Chambers, B. C. L., Mr. Harvey Valanstine, to Miss Amanda Jane Thompson, all of Richmond.

CHALLICE—SHOMES—On the 25th inst., by Rev. A. B. Chambers, B. C. L., Mr. John James Challice of Portland, County of Frontenac, to Miss Mary Margaret Shomes, of Fredericksburg.

FRASER—MILLER—On Christmas day, at the residence of Dr. Day, Trenton, by the Rev. A. B. Chambers, B. C. L., Mr. John A. Fraser, of Napanee, to Miss Harriet Elizabeth Miller, of Tamworth.

RANDELL—HOWELL—On the 26th inst., by Rev. A. B. Chambers, B. C. L., Mr. Charles Randall to Miss Hannah Maria Howell, all of North Fredericksburg.

THE TOMB.

EMERY—In Richmond on the 23rd inst., infant child of Geo. Emery, aged 7 months.

SIXTY-SIX

Specimen Copies of Our Beautiful Oil Chromes.

We will send sixty-six copies of our oil chromes to responsible agents. They are in 11 to 18

The affairs of Crete are once more attracting attention. The Porte has sent a commissioner to the island to offer guarantees for the execution of the promised reforms, but the insurgents will be satisfied with nothing less than annexation with Greece, and are at present electing assemblies which will appoint military leaders. Some of the leaders of the movement favor independence under a British protectorate, owing to the supineness of Greece. In connection with the attitude of the Hellenic kingdom, it is stated that the military estimates for 1878 show an increase of ten million drachmas. The war feeling among the populace is very intense, and the Athenian clubs threatens a demonstration on Sunday, which the authorities will do their best to prevent.

At St. Petersburg despatch says Great Britain has enquired of Russia what her intentions are when her troops shall have crossed the Balkans.

Monday.

Rumour now has it that active negotiations are going on between Paris and London with a view to a present settlement of the Eastern Question, and that with every prospect of success. The Porte still favours resistance, and the arrival of Suleiman Pasha at Constantinople is said to have greatly strengthened the hands of the war party. Mr. Layard, the British Ambassador at Constantinople, has not received Lord Derby's reply to the Turkish Note, and it is hinted that the real meaning of the summoning of the Imperial Parliament in January is to encourage the Turks to prolong their resistance, under a hope—doomed to prove delusive—of assistance from Great Britain. The Porte has replied to Serbia's declaration of war by announcing the deposition of Prince Milan. By pronouncing in favour of the claims of Prince Karageorgevitch to the throne of the Principality, Turkey might possibly create a division in the Serbian ranks, as a large proportion of the people are known to favour the pretensions of the son of their favourite hero Kara George. Operations still continue virtually at a standstill, but the Russians are reported within six hours' march of Sofia, and the Asiatic corps are concentrated round Erzeroum. Greece has given an indication of its possible attitude in the near future, the Premier having submitted to the Chamber Bills providing for the nomination of officers of the National Guard and calling out the reserves of the regular army. A despatch to the Edinburgh Scotsman prognosticates the purchase by England of the Porte's suzerainty over Egypt.

Tuesday.

The sensational reports relative to the probable attitude of Great Britain which sprung from the unusually early date of the convocation of Parliament are gradually dying out, and it is now stated that so far from unusual activity existing in the dockyards and arsenals the number of hands employed at Woolwich is one third of the war force. There is some talk of the Porte being about to express its willingness to cede the free passage of the Dardanelles—to which opposition is expected from England—but the general impression conveyed by the tenor of the despatches is that the war will be continued until one or the other of the other of the combatants cries "enough." Turkey is receiving fresh troops from Egypt. Russia is making extensive preparations, and new battalions are pouring over the Danube. So far as can be gathered at present, the plan of action on the part of the invader is to make a double descent upon Roumelia, while a third and fourth armies mask the Quadrilateral. In the meantime the Grand Duke Nicholas will operate against Sofia and thence take the circuitous but easy route through the western Balkans to Philippopolis and Adrianople, while the Czarevitch effects a passage through a lar army. A despatch to the Edinburgh Scotsman prognosticates the purchase by England of the Porte's suzerainty over Egypt.

Tuesday.

The sensational reports relative to the probable attitude of Great Britain which sprung from the unusually early date of the convocation of Parliament are gradually dying out, and it is now stated that so far from unusual activity existing in the dockyards and arsenals the number of hands employed at Woolwich is one third of the war force. There is some talk of the Porte being about to express its willingness to cede the free passage of the Dardanelles—to which opposition is expected from England—but the general impression conveyed by the tenor of the despatches is that the war will be continued until one or the other of the other of the combatants cries "enough." Turkey is receiving fresh troops from Egypt. Russia is making extensive preparations, and new battalions are pouring over the Danube. So far as can be gathered at present, the plan of action on the part of the invader is to make a double descent upon Roumelia, while a third and fourth armies mask the Quadrilateral. In the meantime the Grand Duke Nicholas will operate against Sofia and thence take the circuitous but easy route through the western Balkans to Philippopolis and Adrianople, while the Czarevitch effects a passage through a more easterly defile—possibly Trajan's Pass. The Russian commanders have received orders, however, to act strictly upon the defensive until the arrival of reinforcements, a sign that the attack is meant to be sure, if it should fail to prove swift.

The success obtained by the Servians at the outset of the campaign have been checked by a reverse on the frontier near Nisch.

Wednesday.

Fresh Russian and Servian success are reported; the latter having taken the town of Ak Palanka, on the Danube, a few miles east of Widin, and the former, under Skobelev, having occupied Trajan, near the Trajan pass. The Servians have also commenced the bombardment of Nish. In Asia Minor, the weather having become more favourable, the Russians are preparing for the bombardment of Erzeroum, which is now completely invested.

The attitude of Greece gives fresh causes for apprehension. A war demonstration was made on Monday by the soldiers and civilians at Lamia, a frontier town, and a battery of Krupp guns is said to have been despatched to the front. The Cabinet, however, appears to be desirous, before committing itself to a warlike policy, of awaiting the result of the meeting of the British Parliament in January.

It is stated in reference to the report that active intercourse relative to Eastern affairs has been going on of late between Paris and London, that France will not depart from her attitude of reserve to mix herself up in the Eastern question.

STANLEY AT ADEN.

HIS EFFORTS TO REPRESS THE SLAVE TRADE.

Henry H. Stanley sends a cable despatch from Aden, Arabia to the Herald and Daily Telegraph announcing his arrival at that place on board the steamship Pachumba, from Zanzibar. Mr. Stanley reports that he saw Sultan Syed Burghash, and spoke to him about his officers and subjects who were engaged in the slave trade in Central Africa, Syed Burghash seemed to be much moved by Mr. Stanley's expostulations in regard to the infamous traffic and his assurance of the determination of the civilized world to put it down. He promised to do his utmost to suppress it.

Mr. Stanley, in the course of the conversation with the Sultan, accused Said Ben Salim, the Governor of Unyanembe or participation in the traffic, and encouraging his subordinates and others to do the same. Finally the Sultan proposed slamps, and by this means the flames were rapidly spread.

Negotiations have been opened between the United States and Italy for the modification of the Treaty of 1868 respecting the rights and privileges of the consuls of the two countries.

Great Britain.

The gable of a large hotel in Edinburgh fell Thursday, burying a number of persons in the ruins.

It is stated that the Queen will open Parliament in person on the 17th of January.

The London World mentions the Duke of Manchester as likely to succeed the Earl of Dufferin as Governor-General of Canada.

A Captain Wiggins, an Englishman who has just returned from a cruise on the north coast of Siberia, reports an open sea route towards the North Pole in that quarter, but his news is doubtfully received in England.

Canada.

The gold excitement continues in British Columbia. Fresh discoveries are continually being made.

The by-law granting a bonus to the Toronto and Ottawa railway was defeated Thursday by a majority of 1,948.

His Excellency the Governor General will open the Art Exhibition in Montreal on the 15th prox. The principal feature of the Exhibition will be the paintings left by the late Beniah Gibb.

The third session of the Third Parliament of Quebec was opened Wednesday with the usual ceremonies.

A charge of improperly retaining militia funds have been brought against an Ottawa artillery officer and an investigation ordered.

Several of the leading wholesale dry-goods firms in Montreal have within the past two weeks discharged a large proportion of their employees on account of the stagnation in that trade. Many of them will, no doubt, be taken back upon the opening of the spring trade.

The Ashburnham Dunkin by-law was carried yesterday by a majority of eight. The vote in the whole county will be taken on the 9th prox.

A car-load of convicts were yesterday transferred to Kingston from the St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary, which has been overcrowded for some time past.

The first excursion on the Canada Pacific Railway took place on Wednesday last, when a party rode from St. Boniface to a point two miles beyond Selkirk on the main line.

Troubled has been caused in the Pembina Mountain district by the attitude of Canadian squatters towards the Menonites, in consequence of which the former have received notice to quit from the Dominion Land Office.

The difficulties between the Lachine Canal contractors and the strikers are to be referred to the arbitration of Messrs. B. Devlin, M. P., and Jette, M. P., on the part of the strikers, two arbitrators appointed by the contractors and an umpire fixed upon by both parties. The men on Section 3 returned to work Monday and the remainder are anxious to come to an agreement and resume by Wednesday.

Hon. Henry Martell, a member of the Legislative Council of Nova Scotia, died at Arichat on Friday.

The Lachine Canal strikers were expected to resume work Monday. Another strike has occurred on Section 9, the men demanding a dollar a day, and carters three dollars a team. Paquet, who was shot by the Davis' fireman, is reported a little better.

The sentence of Glass, the Molson's Bank defaulter, has been confirmed by the Court of Appeal at Montreal, and the case will now be taken to the Supreme Court.

The English Press on Canadian Bee.

The Birmingham Post says: In February, 1873, there was bred near the town of Guelph, district of Ontario, Canada West, from imported English stock, a short horned bull calf, which the point where the cars had topped over. This hollow was a partially opened sewer, which led into a brook running underground to the Passaic. The fire companies came running promptly, and people seemed to rise out of the ground, so rapidly did the crowd gather. Within a few minutes there were 5,000 people collected about the blazing tank. All at once there was a cry of wonder. From a point 50 feet away, across the road towards the town, a sudden flame leaped up as if seemed out of the bowels of the earth. It did not stop in one place, but ran on through the lots in the direction of the houses. As it approached the first house it took hold greedily, setting it ablaze in an instant, and then ran on in the direction of the River-street bridge. It passed straight through a number of back yards, wrapping itself around trees and out-houses, until there was a continuous line of fire, in some places, where it caught dry material, leaping a hundred feet into the air, one hundred feet away to River-street. There it suddenly ceased, seemingly thwarted in any further progress by an embankment along which the street was laid. But in a moment out it started again from the other side of River-street. It ran along through the bare lots lying between River-street and the river, catching a house and barn on its way until it met the Passaic about one hundred feet above the bridge. It did not stop there, but hugging the right bank of the river passed under the bridge and ran along the water, leaping high up to catch the trees and the long, dry grass which overhung the stream, in the direction of the gas-works.

Never was a stranger sight. At 8 o'clock a broad ribbon of the Passaic, which an hour before was flowing on properly in its shadows, was on fire for a mile along through the town. Night was changed into day. People could be seen plainly more than a mile away, and those who were there say they could read the finest print with ease by the light of the burning oil.

When it was discovered that the oil was running through the sewer into the brook and so on far down the bosom of the river, attempts were made to dam up the stream where it escaped under the first road.

It is fortunate probably that these attempts were not successful. If the oil had collected where it first escaped, or if it had spread out in the vicinity there must have been great damage. As it was, it took the most harmless course possible.

At 8:30 came the climax of the fire. A second oil tank had lain exposed to the intense heat, and had some time previously given signs of exploding. According to an eye-witness who was standing near it, the thick iron coating the tank was so affected by the heat that it rose and fell in bubbles like the skin on the top of the baking pudding. The people, singularly enough, seemed to have no thought or fear of the consequences of an explosion, and were crowded about the spot where the tanks lay in startling proximity. At length it came with a detonation like that of near thunder. The tank vanished, and in its place appeared a vast ball of liquid fire, which to the imaginations of those who saw it appeared to pulsate for the part of an instant and then burst forth in sublime wrath. A globe of solid fire, ever increasing, roll upwards to an incredible height, consuming the thick clouds of smoke and sending forth a fierce heat that blasting the paint on houses hundreds of yards away. Then came a rush. The whole mass of people blinded by the intense light, and feeling their lungs scorched with the air they breathed, broke into flight. There were many women in the crowd who fell and were trampled under foot. It is a marvel that none were killed. Their protection, undoubtedly, was the extent of the open space about the scene of the explosion, and which admitted of the quick separation of the crowd. As it was, there were bruises and broken bones, but nothing worse.

The Horrors Of Plevna.

NEW YORK, Dec. 26.—The details of

THE ALARMS.

CAMPBELL-PARKS—On Christmas, by the Rev. A. C. Chambers, at the residence of the brides father, Mr. Thomas Campbell of Storington, to Miss Mary A. Parks, daughter of David Parks, Esq., North Fredericksburgh.

VINE-McCOMBER—In Napanee, at the residence of William Saul, Esq., Dec. 25th. By Rev. Dr. Hartley, Mr. A. S. Vine, and Miss Angelina McComber, all of Napanee.

SPIKE-GOLDSMITH—On the 26th Dec., by the Rev. Dr. Hartley, at the residence of the brides' mother Mr. George Spike, of St. Vincent, Country of Gray, and Miss Phoebe Callista Goldsmith of Napanee.

VALANSTINE-THOMPSON—On the 24th inst., by the Rev. A. B. Chambers, B. C. L., Mr. Harvey Vanalstine, and Miss Amanda Jane Thompson, all of Richmond.

CHALLICE-SHIMONS—On the 25th inst., by Rev. A. B. Chambers, B. C. L., Mr. John James Challice of Portland, County of Frontenac, to Miss Mary Margaret Shimons, of Fredericksburgh.

FRASER-MILLER—On Christmas day, at the residence of Dr. Day, Trenton, by the Rev. A. B. Chambers, B. C. L., Mr. John A. Fraser, of Napanee, to Miss Harriet Elizabeth Miller, of Tamworth.

RANDELL-HOWELL—On the 26th inst., by Rev. A. B. Chambers, B. C. L., Mr. Charles Randall to Miss Hannah Maria Howell, all of North Fredericksburgh.

THE TOMB.

EMBURY—In Richmond on the 23rd inst., infant child of Geo. Embury, aged 7 months.

SIXTY-SIX

Specimen Copies of Our Beautiful Oil Chromes.

We will send sixty-six copies of our oil chromes to responsible agents. They are in 14 to 18 different oil colors, bringing forth in bold relief all the thoughts and shades in nature with pleasing effect. Any live young man or woman can make from $50 to $100 in their own town. The following are among our specimens: "Esperance," "Aking a Blessing," "Blind Man's Buff," "Christ Blesses Little Children," "Nature's Lessons," "Speak the Truth," "Search the Scriptures," "God Bless Our Home," "Praise the Lord," "The Lord is My Shepherd," "Blessing Attend Thee," "Joy be With Thee," "Peace be With You," "Be Just and Fear Not," "Landscapes," "Scenes," "Faith, Hope and Charity," "Country Scenes," &c., &c. Enclose 25 cents to pay charges.

STEIGELMAN & Co.,

124 W. 6th St., Cincinnati, O.

Insolvent Act of 1875 and Amendments Thereto.

IN THE MATTER OF
ALEX. C. DAVIS, & THOS. G. DAVIS,
INSOLVENTS.

I, EDWARD ANDREW DEROCHE, of the Town of Napanee, in the County of Lennox & Addington, have been appointed Assignee in this matter. Creditors who have not already done so, are requested to file their claims before me within one month.

E. A. DEROCHE,

Assignee.
Dated at Napanee, this 26th day of Dec. A.D., 77.

BOYS AND GIRLS,
Do You Want a Pair of Skates?

IF YOU DO, SEND TO THE

WITNESS OFFICE, MONTREAL,

for sample copies of their papers, lists, &c.; then go to work and get $10 worth of subscribers to the largest and most popular of the "WITNESS" OFFICE, Montreal, and you will receive a pair of Eureka Skates worth $2.50 by return mail. If you send in fifteen dollars worth of subscriptions you will receive a pair of Eureka Skates worth four dollars by return mail.

If you send us $9 for subscriptions to any of the WITNESS publications, you will receive a pair of Canadian Club Skates worth $2.75.

Last year Over 4,000 Pairs of Skates were given away in this manner and in every case gave satisfaction.

Now more than a thousand Boys and Girls in Canada are working for them.

Hear what those who get Pairs last year say:

"Your prize 'Eureka' Skatee came promptly to hand per express (charges paid, which was not expected), neatly packed in a very suitable box. The Skates are complete in every respect and are pronounced by all who have seen them the best they ever saw."—W. P. J. Spenceville, O.

"They exceed my expectations."—C. S. Rockwood.

"I was surprised when I opened the box to find such a pair of Skates. They are (therefore) ones I ever saw."—J. O. W. London.

We have over four hundred such letters at these.

One day alone this year twelve pairs were sent away.

PRIZES.

A Lady's or Gentleman's Gold Watch $85 dollars, will be given to the person sending in the largest amount in subscriptions to the WITNESS Publications before January 7th, 1878. A fifty dollar Wheeler & Wilson Sewing machine will be given to the person sending in the second largest amount in subscriptions to the WITNESS Publications before January 7th, 1878. A Silver Watch, worth thirty dollars, will be given to the person sending in the third largest the success obtained by the Servians in the outset of the campaign have been checked by a reverse on the frontier near the Danube.

Wednesday.
Fresh Russian and Servian success are reported; the latter having taken the fort of Ak Palanka, on the Danube, a mile east of Widin, and the form under Skobelev, having occupied an, near the Trajan pass. The Servians have also commenced the bombardment of Nish. In Asia Minor, the Serbs having become more favourable, the Russians are preparing for the bombardment of Erzeroum, which is now completely invested.
The attitude of Greece gives fresh cause for apprehension. A war demonstration was made on Monday by the Greek army and civilians at Lamia, a frontier town, and a battery of Krupp guns is to have been despatched to the frontier. The Cabinet, however, appears to be desirous of committing itself to a policy of awaiting the result of the meeting of the British Parliament in January.
It is stated in reference to the report of active intercourse relative to East Africa has been going on of late between Paris and London, that France does not depart from her attitude of reserve to mix herself up in the Eastern situation.

STANLEY AT ADEN.
EFFORTS TO REPRESS THE SLAVE TRADE.

Henry H. Stanley sends a cable despatch from Aden, Arabia to the Herald and Daily Telegraph announcing his arrival at that place on board the steamship Albatross, from Zanzibar. Mr. Stanley reports that he saw Sultan Syed Burghani and spoke to him about his officers and subjects who were engaged in the slave trade in Central Africa. Syed Burghani seemed to be much moved by Stanley's expostulations in regard to the slave trade and his assurance of the determination of the civilized world to put it down. He promised to use his utmost to suppress it.
Mr. Stanley, in the course of the conversation with the Sultan, accused Said Salim, the Governor of Unyanyembe, of participation in the traffic, and encouraging his subordinates and others to do the same. Finally the Sultan proposed to call Said Ben Salim from Unyanyembe, where his position enabled him to keep the slave trade with impunity, to substitute for him a Governor who could be trusted to refrain from such practices, and to lend his co-operation in the suppression of the trade in human beings.
Before leaving Zanzibar Mr. Stanley took and discharged the native members of the Anglo-American exploring expedition, who are now at their homes, reposing after their long and arduous labours. They parted from Mr. Stanley with every demonstration of affection, and they, as well as the relatives and friends of those who had died during the expedition, expressed themselves as deeply satisfied.
Mr. Stanley concludes his despatch as follows:—"The Belgian exploration party left from Zanzibar the day I sailed for me. I leave for Suez to-morrow."
The Tennessee Senate has passed the bill compromising the State debt at fifty per cent on the dollar.
There died the other day in New York, Max Von Grolman, employed as a pressman in a small job office. He was a young German baron, who served with distinction in the Franco-German war. At the close of the war he sailed for New York, where he spent a fortune in dissipated extravagance. He then married an American lady of good position, but after a year of wedded life he obtained a divorce from her. His course was then idly downward, and he died in the almshouse while under the influence of rum and whiskey.

tawa artillery officer and an investigation ordered.
Several of the leading wholesale dry-goods firms in Montreal have within the past two weeks discharged a large proportion of their employees on account of the stagnation in that trade. Many of them will, no doubt, be taken back upon the opening of the spring trade.
The Ashburnham Dunkin by-law was carried yesterday by a majority of eight. The vote in the whole county will be taken on the 9th prox.
A car-load of convicts were yesterday transferred to Kingston from the St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary, which has been overcrowded for some time past.
The first excursion on the Canada Pacific Railway took place on Wednesday last, when a party rode from St. Boniface to a point two miles beyond Selkirk on the main line.
Troubled has been caused in the Pembina Mountain district by the attitude of Canadian squatters towards the Menonites, in consequence of which the former have received notice to quit from the Dominion Land Office.
The difficulties between the Lachine Canal contractors and the strikers are to be referred to the arbitration of Messrs. B. Devlin, M. P., and Jette, M. P., on the part of the strikers, two arbitrators appointed by the contractors and an umpire fixed upon by both parties. The men on Section 3 returned to work Monday and the remainder are anxious to come to an agreement and resume by Wednesday.
Hon. Henry Martell, a member of the Legislative Council of Nova Scotia, died at Arichat on Friday.
The Lachine Canal strikers were expected to resume work Monday. Another strike has occurred on Section 9, the men demanding a dollar a day, and carters three dollars a team. Paquet, who was shot by the Davis' foreman, is reported a little better.
The sentence of Glass, the Molson's Bank defaulter, has been confirmed by the Court of Appeal at Montreal, and the case will now be taken to the Supreme Court.
The English Press on Canadian Beef.
The Birmingham Post says: In February, 1873, there was bred near the town of Guelph, district of Ontario, Canada West, from imported English stock, a short horned bull calf, which was in due time made a steer, and, showing extraordinary precocity, by the encouragement of a little extra bruised maize his frame and flesh were so developed that at three and a half years old he had reached the weight of 2,500 lbs., when he was taken upon a tour in the States, being exhibited, in company with others, at Toronto, Ohio, St. Louis, and finally at Philadelphia Centennial Exhibition. We hear next of his arrival per steamship Dominion at Liverpool, in July last, and being on view during the last two days of the Royal Agricultural Show in a building contiguous to the show-yard. He was purchased for Mr. Booth, an enterprising gentleman from the Isle of Man, for, it is reported, close on £200. The Manx people had an opportunity of seeing this specimen of successful breeding and feeding for a week or so, after which he was kept in strict privacy until he started for his Christmas tour, making his debut at Norwich last Thursday; but unfortunately, owing to the want of sufficient rest, after a rough passage, he was unable to compete at the show. Having, however, somewhat recovered, he has now gone on to Oakham show, and is due at Bingley Hall on Friday next. He is a beautiful rich roan, fed as firm as a board, very active, docile, and a short time ago was level enough to compete successfully for our gold medal.

clock a broad ribbon of the Russian, which an hour before was flowing on properly in its shadows, was on fire for a mile along through the town. Night was changed into day. People could be seen plainly more than a mile away, and those who were there say they could read the finest print with ease by the light of the burning oil.
When it was discovered that the oil was running through the sewer into the brook and so on far down the bosom of the river, attempts were made to dam up the stream where it escaped under the first road.
It is fortunate probably that these attempts were not successful. If the oil had collected where it first escaped, or if it had spread out in the vicinity there must have been great damage. As it was, it took the most harmless course possible.
At 8:30 came the climax of the fire. A second oil tank had lain exposed to the intense heat, and had some time previously given signs of exploding. According to an eye-witness who was standing near it, the thick iron composing the tank was so affected by the heat that it rose and fell in bubbles like the skin on the top of the baking pudding. The people, singularly enough, seemed to have no thought or fear of the consequences of an explosion, and were crowded about the spot where the tanks lay in startling proximity. At length it came with a detonation like that of near thunder. The tank vanished, and in its place appeared a vast ball of liquid fire, which to the imaginations of those who saw it appeared to pulsate for the part of an instant and then burst forth in sublime wrath. A globe of solid fire, ever increasing, rolled upwards to an incredible height, consuming the thick clouds of smoke and sending forth a fierce heat that blasting the paint on houses hundreds of yards away. Then came a rush. The whole mass of people blinded by the intense light, and feeling their lungs scorched with the air they breathed, broke into flight. There were many women in the crowd who fell and were trampled under foot. It is a marvel that none were killed. Their protection, undoubtedly, was the extent of the open space about the scene of the explosion, and which admitted of the quick separation of the crowd. As it was, there were bruises and broken bones, but nothing worse.
The Horrors Of Plevna.
NEW YORK, Dec. 26.—The details of horrors at Plevna when captured, were unparalleled. Famished dogs were feeding on the corpses of dead and the bodies of the still living wounded. Birds were pecking at the skulls, hopping from body to body with beaks and plumage besmeared with human blood, and screaming with fiendish delight. The dogs fought themselves and birds struggled with birds for possession of a morsel of human flesh and the most indescribable horror prevailed. In one house alone 37 dead and 23 wounded Turks were found, and some of the former decomposed and putrid. Some of the wounded were able to crawl about and clatched at odd morsels of food found in the hands of dead, dying, or with feverish avidity, but thousands were utterly helpless, and waited death or succor with a listless fatalism. Eighteen hundred prisoners huddled together on the bank of the Vial, and the horrors of their position equalled those of the plague. The living and dead were piled together promiscuously in heaps like wood and cut away. There were only three carts available for this work, and the confusion was indescribable. Osman's bravery is stained and blackened by his treatment of the Russian wounded that fell into his hands. His gallant defense of Plevna for a moment blinded the victors and Europe to the fact that all the prisoners were butchered by troops under Osman's command.
It is expected that the track-lying on the Hamilton and North-Western Railway from Jarvis to Port Dover will be completed before the end of the year.

"God Bless Our Home," "Praise the Lord," "The Lord is My Shepherd," "Blessing Attend Thee," "Joy be With Thee," "Peace be With You," "Be Hope and Charity," "Country Scenes, &c. &c. Enclose 25 cents to pay charges, STEIGELMAN & Co., 104 W. 6th St., Cincinnati, O.

Insolvent Act of 1875 and Amendments Thereto.
IN THE MATTER OF
ALEX. C. DAVIS, & THOS. G. DAVIS,
INSOLVENTS.
T. EDWARD ANDREW DEROCHE, of the Town of Napanee, in the County of Lennox & Addington, have been appointed Assignee in this matter. Creditors who have not already done so, are requested to file their claims before me within one month.
E. A. DEROCHE, Assignee.
Dated at Napanee, this 25th day of Dec. A.D., 77.

BOYS AND GIRLS,
Do You Want a Pair of Skates?
IF YOU DO, SEND TO THE
WITNESS OFFICE, MONTREAL,
for sample copies of their papers, lists, &c.; then go to work and get $10 worth of subscribers to the "WITNESS" OFFICE, Montreal, and you will receive a pair of Eureka Skates worth $2.50 by return mail. If you send in fifteen dollars worth of subscriptions you will receive a pair of Eureka Skates worth four dollars by return mail.
If you send us $5 for subscriptions to any of the Witness publications, you will receive a pair of Canadian Club Skates worth $2.75.
Last year Over 4,000 Pairs of these Skates were given away in this manner, and in every case gave satisfaction.
Now more than a thousand Boys and Girls in Canada are working for them.
Hear what those who get Pairs last year say:
"Your prize 'Eureka' Skates came promptly to hand per express (charges paid, which was not expected), neatly packed in a very suitable box. The Skates are complete in every respect and are pronounced by all who have seen them the best they ever saw."—W. P. J. Spenceville, O.
"They exceed my expectations."—C. S. Rockwood.
"I was surprised when I opened the box to find such fine pair of Skates. They are the nicest ones I ever saw."—J. O. W. London.
We have over four hundred such letters as these.
One day alone this year twelve pairs were sent away.
PRIZES.
A Lady's or Gentleman's Gold Watch $50 dollars, will be given to the person sending in the largest amount in subscriptions to the Witness Publications before January 7th, 1878.
A fifty dollar Wheeler & Wilson Sewing machine will be given to the person sending in the second largest amount in subscriptions to the Witness Publications before January 7th, 1878.
A Silver Watch, worth thirty dollars, will be given to the person sending in the third largest amount in subscriptions to the Witness Publications before January 7th, 1878.
Renewals are counted in this prize competition. All letters for the prizes must be marked "In Competition."

The Witness Publications are as Follows:
Per year post-paid. Circulation.
Daily Witness, $3.00 14,500
Weekly Witness, 1.10 25,000
New Dominion Monthly, 2.00 4,000
Northern Messenger, .75 3,500
L'Aurore (French), 1.00 1,000

SUNDAY-SCHOOL TEACHERS.
The Northern Messenger sent to Sunday-schools at the following Club Rates:
10 copies per year to one address, $2.50
20 copies per year to one address, 6.00
50 copies per year to one address, 11.50
100 copies per year to one address, 22.00
Address, for Instructions, Sample Copies, &c.
JOHN DOUGALL & SON, Montreal.

A BARGAIN.
A No. 9 Columbia Cooking Stove,
With Reservoir, Nearly New.
FOR SALE CHEAP.
With or without utensils. For further particulars, apply at the EXPRESS Office. 24-2in.

A MILE OF DANCING FIRE.

TOWN OF PATERSON COURSED THROUGH Y A RIVER OF BURNING PETROLEUM.

(From the N. Y. World.)

One of the most remarkable conflagrations on record was that which, as noticed despatch in yesterday's World, occurred in Paterson Monday evening.
Between 7 and 8 o'clock an oil train ward bound on the Erie track broke up and lost four cars, including "caboose," which always goes along the rear of freight. When the coup-ple broke the detached cars rolled backward down an incline, the caboose, reversing its position suddenly, taking the lead, with three cars, supporting iron tanks full of petroleum oil, following.
The oil cars, preceded by the caboose ed downward with constantly accelerated motion on one side, a heavy freight motive, which had been following the train, came thundering along the
er. The man who was in the caboose ed for his life, and in another instant ed the collision. The caboose was ed clean over the top of the smokestack of the locomotive, and left standing ed on top of the boiler, while the motive, still retaining its momentum hed into the car following, overturned ed ripped an immense hole in the tank, through which the oil poured h in streams. Immediately a sheet ame leaped high in the air. How as set is not known; probably it ght from a blazing journal; The inner fortunately was able to back his motive away from the wreck and the train of coal cars which he was wing to a safe distance from the flames.
he track where the collision occurred wrenched out of shape, and one or rails were torn up. One of the tanks thrown down the embankment on side towards the town. A little se standing just under the track was ged with the blazing oil, and broke flames in an instant. The good wife about stepping into bed, having just wn up the shades on the windows to it the moonlight. The house was ed, and the family had barely time to out and no time to save any of their sehold goods, so quick was its destruction. The tank continued to vomit h oil, which ran and collected in a ing pool in a hollow right in front of culvert running under the track at point where the cars had toppled over.
s hollow was a partially opened sewer, ch led into a brook running under-und to the Passaic. The fire com-ies came running promptly, and ple seemed to rise out of the und, so rapidly did the crowd gather.
thin a few minutes there were 5,090
ple collected about the blazing tank.
at once there was a cry of wonder.
n a point 50 feet away, across the d towards the town, a sudden flame ed up as it seemed out of the bowels he earth. It did not stop in one ce, but ran on through the lots in the ction of the houses. As it approached the first house it took hold greedily, ing it ablaze in an instant, and then on in the direction of the River-street
lge. It passed straight through a nber of back yards, wrapping itself und trees and outhouses, until there as a continuous line of fire, in some ces, where it caught dry material, leaped a hundred feet into the air, one hund feet away to River-street. There it denly ceased, seemingly thwarted in g further progress by an embankment g which the street was laid. But in ment out it started again from the er side of River-street. It ran along ver the bare lots lying between er-street and the river, catching a se and barn on its way until it met Passaic about one hundred feet
ye the bridge. It did not stop re, but hugging the right bank of the er passed under the bridge and ran on the other bank, jumping high up to catch

Not Quite So.

"It is among the most savage and de-based tribes only that the condition and comfort of the horse have been neglected," but we believe there are many in civilized countries who are guilty of the same neglect, and without the excuse of the former; here all may avail themselves of the use of an article which has done more than anything else heretofore known to improve the condition and relieve the suffering of the horse. Those who will not use it will be the losers, their horses the sufferers: to avoid both use
"Darley's Condition Powders and Arabian Heave Remedy," and you will be satisfied with the result. Remember the name, and see that the signature of Hurd & Co. is on each package. Northrop & Lyman, Toronto, Ont., proprietors for Canada. Sold by Medicine Dealers.

TWO QUESTIONS EASILY ANSWERED.— Why should men wear beards? Because they are a great protection to the throat and lungs, and add much to their personal appearance. Why should we use "Bryan's Pulmonic Wafers?" Because when used for coughs, colds, tickling in the throat, hoarseness, &c., they act like a charm. Ministers and lawyers use them, physicians recommend them, and singers and public speakers say they are the very best medicine in existence for the cure of such complaints. Sold by all medicine dealers at 25cts. a box.

However quickly a patient may recover and approach towards robust health by the use of Fellow's Hypophosphites he must abolish the habits of life which induced the disease; the effect of the greatest triumph in medicine can only be transitory, whilst man persists in the gratification of vicious or pernicious habits.

BRONCHITIS.—Unless arrested, will terminate in consumption. An almost never failing cure for this complaint is found in Allen's Lung Balsam, which can be had of any Druggist, price one dollar per bottle.

"Frost Bites" are ugly things; a nose ear swollen to twice its usual size is no more beautiful than it is comfortable.
After trying many "cures" we come back and award the palm to Perry Davis' PAIN KILLER, "the old reliable," which affords relief quicker than any other thing we know of.

THE ALTAR.

CAMPBELL-PARKS—On Christmas, by the Rev.
A. C. Chambers, at the residence of the brides father, Mr. Thomas Campbell of Storrington, to Miss Mary A. Parks, daughter of David Parks, Esq., North Fredericksburg.

VINE-McCOMBER—In Napanee, at the residence of William Saul Esq., Dec. 25th. By Rev.
Dr. Hartley, Mr. Jas. S. Vine, and Miss Angeline McComber, all of Napanee.

SPIKE-GOLDSMITH—On the 26th Dec., by the Rev. Dr. Hartley, at the residence of the brides' mother, Mr. George Spike, of St.
Vincent, County of Gray, and Miss Phoebe Callista Goldsmith of Napanee.

VANALSTINE-THOMPSON—On the 24th inst., by the Rev. A. B. Chambers, B. C. L., Mr. Harvey Vanalstine, to Miss Amanda Jane Thompson, all of Richmond.

CHALLICE-SHOMES—On the 25th inst., by Rev. A.
B. Chambers, B. C. L., Mr. John James Challice of Portland, County of Frontenac, to Miss Mary Margaret Shomes, of Fredericksburg.

FRASER-MILLER—On Christmas day, at the residence of Dr. Day, Trenton, by the Rev. A. B.
Chambers, B. C. L., Mr. John A. Fraser, of Napanee, to Miss Harriet Elizabeth Miller, of Ramworth.

RANDALL-HOWELL—On the 26th inst., by Rev.
A. B. Chambers, B. C. L., Mr. Charles Randell to Miss Hannah Maria Howell, all of North Fredericksburg.

THE TOMB.

EMBURY—In Richmond on the 23rd inst., infant child of Geo. Embury, aged 7 months.

SIXTY-SIX

Specimen Copies of Our Beautiful Oil
Chromos.

We will send sixty-six copies of our oil chromos to responsible agents. They are in 14 to 18 different oil colors, bringing forth in bold relief

The Promoter and Perfector of Assimilation.
The Reformer and Vitalizer of the Blood.
The Producer and Invigorator of Nerve and Muscle.
The Builder and Supporter of Brain
Power.

Fellows' Compound Syrup is composed of Ingredients identical with those which constitute Healthy Blood, Muscle and Nerve and Brain Substance, whilst Life itself is directly dependant upon some of them.

By its union with the blood and its effect upon the muscles, reestablishing the one and toning the other, it is capable of effecting the following results.

It will displace or wash out tuberculous matter, and thus cure Consumption.

By increasing Nervous and Muscular Vigor, it will cure Dyspepsia, feeble or interrupted action of the Heart and Palpitation, Weakness of Intellect caused by grief, weary, overtax or irregular habits, Bronchitis, Acute or Chronic, Congestion of the lungs, even in the most alarming stages.

It cures Asthma, Loss of Voice, Neuralgia, St. Vitus Dance, Epileptic Fits, Whooping Cough, Nervousness, and is a most wonderful adjunct to other remedies in sustaining life during the process of Diphtheria.

Do not be deceived by remedies bearing a similar name, no other preparation is a substitute for this under any circumstances.

Look out for the name and address J.
I. FELLOWS, St. John, N. B., on the yellow wrapper in watermark which is seen by holding the paper before the light.

Price $1.50 per Bottle, six for $7.50.
Sold by all Druggists.

Important Notice.

$2,000 WORTH OF
New Bankrupt Stock,
JUST ARRIVED AT
MEAGHER'S.

Come and See. We are determined to sell
Cheaper than can be bought in a regular way.
Our prices are far below the Wholesale Price.

GREAT BARGAINS IN
COTTON AND WINCEY SHIRTINGS.
PRINTS AT 5c A YARD.

BARGAINS IN DRESS GOODS.

Good Black Lustres at 15c. a yard.

Boots and Shoes, Ready-made Clothing,
Remarkably Cheap.

Mens' Long Boots, $1.50,
Worth, $2.50.

Boys' Long Boots 70c. worth $1.50.

DOWNEY'S

ARE NOW SHOWING

Full Lines

IN

COLORS MERINOS,
COLORED MERINOS,
COLORED ATHOL CLOTHS,
COLORED PERSI ON CORDS,
COLORED BROCADES.

Full Lines in

BLACK LUSTRES,
BLACK MERINOS,
BLACK CASHMERES,
BLACK CRAPE CLOTHS,
BLACK PARAMATTAS,
BLACK BARATHEDS,
BLACK RUSSEL CORDS

Full Lines in

BLACK SILKS,
COLORED SILKS,
SILK VELVETS,
VELVETEENS

Full Lines in

WINCEYS,
FLANNELS, BLANKETS,
RUGS, COTTONS,
PRINTS.

Full Lines in

GLOVES,
HOSIERY,
CORSETS,
SILK FRINGES,
WOOL FRINGES, GALLOONS
BRAIDS.

Full Lines in

SHAWLS, MANTLES,
SKIRTS.

Full Lines in pool in a hollow right in front of vert running under the track at ut where the cars had toppled over.

ollow was a partially opened sewer, led into a brook running under-to the Passaic. The fire com-came running promptly, and seemed to rise out of the l, so rapidly did the crowd gather.
a few minutes there were 5,000 collected about the blazing tank.
once there was a cry of wonder.
point 50 feet away, across the wards the town, a sudden flame up as it seemed out of the bowels earth. It did not stop in one but ran on through the lots in the on of the houses. As it approach-first house it took hold greedily, it ablaze in an instant, and then in the direction of the River-street
It passed straight through a r of back yards, wrapping itself
l trees and outhouses, until there continuous line of fire, in some where it caught dry material, leap-hundred feet into the air, one hunet away to River-street. There it ily ceased, seemingly thwarted in rther progress by an embankment which the street was laid. But in ent out it started again from the side of River-street. It ran along h the bare lots lying between street and the river, catching a and barn on its way until it met Passaic about one hundred feet
the bridge. It did not stop but hugging the right bank of the assed under the bridge and ran the water, leaping high up to catch es and the long, dry grass which ing the stream, in the direction of s-works.

er was a stranger sight. At 8
a broad ribbon of the Passaic, an hour before was flowing on pro-nits shadows was on fire for a long through the town. Night was ed into day. People could be seen y more than a mile away, and those ere there say they could read the print with ease by the light of the g oil.

en it was discovered that the oil inning through the sewer into the and so on far down the bosom of er, attempts were made to dam up eam where it escaped under the
ad.

fortunate probably that these ats were not successful. If the oil lected where it first escaped, or if spread out in the vicinity there have been great damage. As it was, the most harmless course possi-

$30 came the climax of the fire. A l tank had lain exposed to the e heat, and had some time previous-n signs of exploding. According eye-witness who was standing near thick iron composing the tank was ected by the heat that it rose and bubbles like the skin on the top of king pudding. The people, singlarough, seemed to have no thought or
f the consequences of an explosion, ere crowded about the spot where nks lay in startling proximity. At it came with a detonation like that r thunder. The tank vanished, its place appeared a vast ball of fire, which to the imaginations of who saw it appeared to pulsate for rt of an instant and then burst forth lime wrath. A globe of solid fire, ncreasing, roll upwards to an in-le height, consuming the thick
s of smoke and sending forth a fierce hat blasting the paint on houses eds of yards away. Then came a
The whole mass of people blinded ntense light, and feeling their scorched with the air they breathed, into flight. There were many won the crowd who fell and were led under foot. It is a marvel that were killed. Their protection, unedly, was the extent of the open about the scene of the explosion, high admitted of the quick separaf the crowd. As it was, there were s and broken bones, but nothing

know of.

THE ALTAR.

CAMPBELL-PARKS-On Christmas, by the Rev. A. C. Chambers, at the residence of the brides father, Mr. Thomas Campbell of Storrington, to Miss Mary A. Parks, daughter of David Parks, Esq., North Fredericksburgh.

VINE-McCOMBER-In Napanee, at the residence of William Saul Esq., Dec. 25th. By Rev. Dr. Hartley, Mr. Jas. S. Vine, and Miss Angelina McComber, all of Napanee.

SPIKE-GOLDSMITH-On the 25th Dec., by the Rev. Dr. Hartley, at the residence of the bride's mother, Mr. George Spike, of St. Vincent, Country of Gray, and Miss Phoebe Calista Goldsmith of Napanee.

VANALSTINE-THOMPSON-On the 24th inst., by the Rev. A. B. Chambers, B. C. L., Mr. Harvey Vanalstine, to Miss Amanda Jane Thompson, all of Richmond.

CHALLICE-SHIMES-On the 25th inst., by Rev. A. B. Chambers, B. C. L., Mr. John James Challice, of Portland, County of Frontenac, to Miss Mary Margaret Shihomes, of Fredericksburgh.

FRASER-MILLER-On Christmas day, at the residence of Dr. Day, Trenton, by the Rev. A. B. Chambers, B. C. L., Mr. John A. Fraser, of Napanee, to Miss Harriet Elizabeth Miller, of Tamworth.

RANDELL-HOWELL-On the 26th inst., by Rev. A. B. Chambers, B. C. L., Mr. Charles Randell, to Miss Hannah Maria Howell, all of North Fredericksburgh.

THE TOMB.

EMBURY-In Richmond on the 23rd inst., infant child of Geo. Embury, aged 7 months.

SIXTY-SIX

Specimen Copies of Our Beautiful Oil Chromes.

We will send sixty-six copies of our oil chromes to responsible agents. They are in 14 to 18 different oil colors, bringing forth in bold relief all lights and shades in nature with pleasing effect. Any live young man or woman can make from $50 to $100 in their own town. The following are among our specimens: "Esperance," "Asking a Blessing," "Blind Man's Bull," "Christ Blessing Little Children," "Nature's Lessons," "Speak the Truth," "Search the Scriptures," "God Bless Our Home," "Praise the Lord," "The Lord is My Shepherd," "Blessing Attend Thee," "Joy be With Thee," "Peace be With You," "The Just and Fear Not," "Landscape Scenes," "Faith, Hope and Charity," "Country Scenes, &c., &c. Enclose 25 cents to pay charges, STEIGELMAN & Co., 35-in. 124 W. 6th St., Cincinnati, O.

Insolvent Act of 1875 and Amendments Thereto.

IN THE MATTER OF ALEX. C. DAVIS, & THOS. G. DAVIS, INSOLVENTS.

I, EDWARD ANDREW DEROCHE, of the Town of Napanee, in the County of Lennox & Addington, have been appointed Assignee in this matter. Creditors who have not already done so, are requested to file their claims before me within one month.

E. A. DEROCHE, Assignee.

Dated at Napanee, this 26th day of Dec. A.D., 77.

BOYS AND GIRLS, Do You Want a Pair of Skates?

IF YOU DO, SEND TO THE WITNESS OFFICE, MONTREAL,

for sample copies of their papers, lists, &c.; then go to work and get $10 worth of subscribers to them. Send the names and money to the "WITNESS OFFICE," Montreal, and you will receive a pair of Eureka Skates worth $2.50 by return mail. If you send in fifteen dollars worth of subscriptions you will receive a pair of Eureka Skates worth four dollars by return mail.

If you send $5 for subscriptions to any of the WITNESS publications, you will receive a pair of Canadian Club Skates worth $2.75.

Last year Over 400 Pairs of these Skates were given away in this manner, and in every case gave satisfaction.

Now more than a thousand Boys and Girls in Canada are working for them.

Hear what those who get Pairs last year say:

"Your prize 'Eureka' Skatee came promptly to hand per express (charges paid, which was not expected), neatly packed in a very suitable box. The Skates are complete in every respect and are pronounced by all who have seen them the best they ever saw."-W. B. J. Spencer, O. C.

"They exceeded my expectations."-C. S. Rockwood.

"I was surprised when I opened the box to find such a fine pair of Skates. They are the nicest ones I ever saw."-J. O. W., London.

We have over four hundred such letters as these.

One day alone this year twelve pairs were sent away.

PRIZES.

A Lady's or Gentleman's Gold Watch $80 dollars, will be given to the person sending in the largest amount in subscriptions to the WITNESS Publications before January 7th, 1878.

A fifty dollar Wheeler & Wilson Sewing machine will be given to the person sending in the

At 100 per Dozen, or $10.00 per Dozen.
Sold by all Druggists.

Important Notice.

$2,000 WORTH OF New Bankrupt Stock, JUST ARRIVED AT MEAGHER'S.

Come and See. We are determined to sell Cheaper than can be bought in a regular way. Our prices are far below the Wholesale Price.

GREAT BARGAINS IN COATS AND MINGEY SHIRTINGS. PRINTS AT 5c A YARD.

BARGAINS IN DRESS GOODS.

Good Black Lustres at 15c. a yard.

Boots and Shoes, Ready-made Clothing, Remarkably Cheap.

Mens' Long Boots, $1.50, Worth, $2.50.

Boys' Long Boots 70c. worth $1.50.

200 OVERCOATS, From $5.00 to $15.00.

Every Line of Goods to be sold below Cost.

Don't fail to call and inspect before making your purchases.

MEAGHER BROS.

CAMPAIGN OPENED FOR 1878.

Western Advertiser & Weekly Liberal.

Reduced Price - Premium to every Subscriber. Harvest for Agents.

The Fifteenth Annual Campaign of the Western Advertiser and Weekly Liberal is now under full head way. Hundreds of new names are pouring in from all parts of Canada. We want 5,000 new subscribers during this canvass. Plenty of room for 1,000 more agents. Our terms to agents, and inducements to subscribers will be found in anything yet offered.

BILL OF FARE.

- 1-Best general newspaper in Canada.
- 2-Balance of year free to new subscribers.
- 3-Splendid Engraving to every subscriber.
- 4-Agricultural Department by W. F. Clarke.
- 5-Teacher's Department-Best in Canada.
- 6-Ladies' "Fashion and Kitchen" column.
- 7-Music, pictures, chess, humor, etc.
- 8-Full base ball, cricket and sporting news.
- 9-Complete Temperance Record.
- 10-Reliable and copious Market Reports.

TERMS FOR 1878-$1.60, with engraving Landseer's "Saucery," 3x2 1/2 inches. $150, without engraving. Postage prepaid.

Liberal terms to agents. For free sample copies, or full instructions to agents, address:

JOHN CAMERON & Co.,

25. "Advertiser" Office, London, Ont.

FARM FOR SALE.

About 75 acres of the

BEST LAND

—IN—

PRINCE EDWARD COUNTY,

5 1/2 miles from Pictou, and 3 1/2 miles from Demorestville.

This is a rare chance to get a Choice Farm. It is well watered and nicely situated. A Special Price to a purchaser before the

BLANKETS, RUGS, COTTONS, PRINTS.

Full Lines in

GLOVES, HOSIERY, CORSETS, SILK FRINGES, WOOL FRINGES, GALOONS, BRAIDS.

Full Lines in

SHAWLS, MANTLES, SKIRTS.

Full Lines in

MANTALASSE, BEAVERS, NAPS, VICTORIA TWEILLS, WATER-PROOFS, AND PLAID FOR ULSTERS.

Full Lines in

LADIES' AND GENTS' MERINO UNDERCLOTHING. SCOTCH AND CANADIAN VENIT WOOLENS.

Full Lines in

LOUDS, SCARFS, SQUARES, HOODS, JACKETS.

Full Lines in

MINK SETS. SEAL SETS. BALTIC SETS. ERMINE SETS. SEAL CAPS. MINK CAPS. FURS AND ROBES.

Full Lines in

LADIES STRAW & FELT HATS. FLOWERS. FEATHERS. PLUMES, &c., &c.,

MISS PHALEN, MANAGER.

ich an hour before was flowing on pro-ly in its shadows, was on fire for a le along through the town. Night was inged into day. People could be seen only more than a mile away, and those o were there say they could read the st print with ease by the light of the ning oil.
When it was discovered that the oil s running through the sewer into the ok and so on far down the bosom of river, attempts were made to dam up stream where it escaped under the t road.
It is fortunate probably that these at-pts were not successful. If the oil l collected where it first escaped, or if ad spread out in the vicinity there st have been great damage. As it was, ook the most harmless course possi-

At 8:30 came the climax of the fire. A nd oil tank had lain exposed to the ense heat, and had some time previous-riven signs of exploding. According an eye-witness who was standing near the thick iron composing the tank was affected by the heat that it rose and in bubbles like the skin on the top of baking pudding. The people, singlar-enough, seemed to have no thought or
f the consequences of an explosion,
I were crowded about the spot where e tanks lay in startling proximity. At 8th it came with a detonation like that near thunder. The tank vanished, l in its place appeared a vast ball of nd fire, which to the imaginations of se who saw it appeared to pulsate for part of an instant and then burst forth sublime wrath. A globe of solid fire, r increasing, roll upwards to an indible height, consuming the thick uds of smoke and sending forth a fierce at that blasting the paint on houses ndreds of yards away. Then came a
h. The whole mass of people blinded the intense light, and feeling their gs seared with the air they breathed, ke into flight. There were many won in the crowd who fell and were mpled under foot. It is a marvel that ne were killed. Their protection, unbtedly, was the extent of the open ce about the scene of the explosion, e which admitted of the quick separan of the crowd. As it was, there were ises and broken bones, but nothing rse.

The Horrors Of Plevna.

NEW YORK, Dec. 26.—The details of rors at Plevna when captured, were paralleled. Famine dogs were feeding the corpses of dead and the bodies of e still living wounded. Birds were eking at the skulls, leaping from body body with beaks and plumage besmeared with human blood, and screaming th fiendish delight. The dogs fought enemies and birds struggled with birds
e possession of a morsel of human flesh d the most indescribable horror preiled. In one house alone 37 dead and wounded Turks were found, and some the former decomposed and putrid.
me of the wounded were able to crawl out and clutched at odd morsels of food nd in the hands of a dead, dying man with feverish avidity, but thousands re utterly helpless, and waited death or cor with a listless fatalism. Eighteen ndred prisoners huddled together on e bank of the Vél, and the horrors of eir position equalled those of the plague
e living and dead were piled together omiscuously in heaps like wood and ted away. There were only three carts ailable for this work, and the confusion s indescribable. Osman's bravery is ined and blackened by his treatment the Russian wounded that fell into s hands. His gallant defense of Plevna a moment blinded the victors and drope to the fact that all the prisoners re butchered by troops under Osman's mand.

It is expected that the track lying on e Hamilton and North-Western Rail-ay from Jarvis to Port Dover will be mpleted before the end of the year.

Lord, "The Lord is My Strength," "Blessing be Attend Thee," "Joy be With Thee," "Peace be With You," "Be Just and Fear Not," "Landscape
Scenes," Faith, Hope and Charity," Country Scenes, &c., &c. Enclose 25 cents to pay charges, STIEGELMAN & Co.,
104 W. 6th St., Cincinnati, O.

Insolvent Act of 1875 and Amendments Thereto.

IN THE MATTER OF
ALEX. C. DAVIS, & THOS. G. DAVIS,
INSOLVENTS.

I, EDWARD ANDREW DEROCHE, of the Town of Napanee, in the County of Lennox & Addington, have been appointed Assignee in this matter. Creditors who have not already done so are requested to file their claims before me within one month.

E. A. DEROCHE,
Assigner.
Dated at Napanee, this 29th day of Dec. A.D., 77.

BOYS AND GIRLS, Do You Want a Pair of Skates ?

IF YOU DO, SEND TO THE WITNESS OFFICE, MONTREAL,
for sample copies of their papers, lists, &c.; then go to work and get $10 worth of subscribers to them. Send the names and money to the "WIT-NESS" OFFICE, Montreal, and you will receive a pair of Eureka Skates worth $2.50 by return mail. If you send in fifteen dollars worth of subscriptions you will receive a pair of Eureka Skates worth four dollars by return mail.

If you send us $9 for subscriptions to any of the Witness publications, you will receive a pair of Canadian Club Skates worth $2.75.

Last year Over 400 Pairs of these Skates were given away in this manner, and in every case gave satisfaction.

Now more than a thousand Boys and Girls in Canada are working for them.

Hear what those who get Pairs last year say:

"Your prize 'Eureka' Skates came promptly to hand per express charges paid, which was not expected, neatly packed in a very suitable box.
The Skates are complete in every respect and are pronounced by all who have seen them the best they ever saw."—W. P. J. Spenceville, O.
"They exceed my expectations."—C. S. Rock-
wood.

"I was surprised when I opened the box to find such a fine pair of Skates. They are the ones
I ever saw."—J. O. W., London.

We have over four hundred such letters as these.
One day alone this year twelve pairs were sent away.

PRIZES.

A Lady's or Gentleman's Gold Watch $80 dollars, will be given to the person sending in the largest amount in subscriptions to the Witness Publications before January 7th, 1878.

A fifty dollar Wheeler & Wilson Sewing machine will be given to the person sending in the second largest amount in subscriptions to the Witness Publications before January 7th, 1878.

A Silver Watch, worth thirty dollars, will be given to the person sending in the third largest amount in subscriptions to the Witness Publications before January 7th, 1878.

Renewals are counted in this prize competition. All letters for the prizes must be marked
"In Competition."

The Witness Publications are as Follows:

	Per year post-paid.	Circu- lation.
Daily Witness.....	$2.00	14,500
Weekly Witness.....	1.10	25,000
New Dominion Monthly.....	2.00	4,000
Northern Messenger.....	3.00	5,000
L'Aurore (French).....	1.00	1,000

SUNDAY-SCHOOL TEACHERS.

The Northern Messenger sent to Sunday-schools at the following Club Rates:

10 copies per year to one address.....	$ 2.50
25 copies per year to one address.....	6.00
50 copies per year to one address.....	11.54
100 copies per year to one address.....	22.00

Address, for Instructions, Sample Copies, &c., JOHN DOUGALL & SON,
35 Montreal.

A BARGAIN.

A No. 9 Columbia Cooking Stove,

With Reservoir, Nearly New.

FOR SALE CHEAP,

With or without utensils. For further particulars, apply at the EXPRESS Office.
24-2in.

Cost.
Don't fail to call and inspect before making
your purchases.
MEAGHER BROS.

CAMPAIGN OPENED

FOR 1878.

Western Advertiser & Weekly Liberal.

Reduced Price Premium to every Subscribe. Harvest for Agents.

The Fifteenth Annual Campaign of the Western Advertiser and Weekly Liberal is now under full headway. Hundreds of new names are pouring in from all parts of Canada. We want 5,000 new subscribers during this canvass. Plenty of room for 1,000 more agents. Our terms to agents, and inducements to subscribers will be found in anything yet offered.

BILL OF FARE.

- 1.—Best general newspaper in Canada.
- 2.—Balance of year free to new subscribers.
- 3.—Splendid Engraving to every subscriber.
- 4.—Agricultural Department by W. F. Clarke.
- 5.—Teacher's Department—Best in Canada.
- 6.—Ladies' Fashion and Kitchen column.
- 7.—Music, pictures, chess, humor, etc.
- 8.—Full list of ball, cricket and sporting news.
- 9.—Complete Temperance Record.
- 10.—Reliable and copious Market Reports.

TERMS FOR 1878—$1.60, with engraving
Landscape "Satanstoe," 4x3 1/2 inches. $1.50, without engraving. Postage prepaid.

Liberal terms to agents. For free sample copies, or full instructions to agents, address.

JOHN CAMERON & Co.,

25. "Advertiser" Office, London, Ont

FARM FOR SALE.

About 75 acres of the

BEST LAND

—IN—

PRINCE EDWARD COUNTY,

5 1/2 miles from Picton, and 3 1/2 miles from
Demorestville.

This is a rare chance to get a Choice Farm.
It is well watered and nicely situated.

A Special Price to a purchaser before the 1st December.

Apply to

R. McDOWALL,
Demorestville.

Or at this Office.

BRISCO HOUSE, NAPANEE, ONT.

POTTER BROS., PROPRIETORS.

First-Class Sample Rooms for Commercial Travellers.

Omnibus to and from all Trains and Boats.

LIVERY ATTACHED.

Money to Loan!

I Have received a Large Amount of Money to Lend. Good Mortgages
Purchased.

W. S. WILLIAMS.

AND PLAID FOR ULSTERS.

Full Lines in

LADIES' AND GENTS'
MERINO UNDERCLOTHING.
SCOTCH AND CANADIAN
VENIT WOOLENS.

Full Lines in

LOUDS, SCARFS, SQUARES, HOODS,
JACKETS.

Full Lines in

MINK SETS.
SEAL SETS.
BALISTIC SETS.
ERMINE SETS.
SEAL CAPS.

MINK CAPS.
FURS
AND ROBES.

Full Lines in

LADIES STRAW & FELT HATS.
FLOWERS.
FEATHERS.
PLUMES, &c., &c.

MISS PHALEN, MANAGER.

CARPETS.
OIL CLOTHS.
LACE CURTAINS.
AND REPPS.

Full Lines in

READY-MADE CLOTHING.
WORSTED COATINGS.
BEAVERS.
NAPS.
ENGLISH SCOTCH AND CANA-DIAN TWEEDS.

James Walters, Cutter.

Full Lines in

MEN AND BOYS FELT HATS.
CLOTH CAPS.
FUR CAPS.
AND GENTS' FURNISHINGS.

AT PRICES

TO SUIT THE TIME

JOHN DOWNEY.

Napanee, Oct. 6th, 1877.

THE EXPRESS.

NAPANEE, DEC. 28th, 1877.

Wine is a mocker; strong drink is raging; whosoever is deceived thereby is not wise. Therefore be not deceived by parties telling you that their Stoves are better than Boyle's. My son, as a sterted by others in the trade, and are heavier, and consequently throw out more heat and have given good satisfaction. Give me a call before purchasing elsewhere. No connection with any other establishment in Town, but man- class Mechanics, and do Job Work of all kinds, Parlor Cook, Box and Coal-heating, Double Stoves, Extra castings for stoves; stoves refitted, Ploughs and Plough-shares of all kinds. Yours truly, H. BOYLE, agent, in William Miller's old stand, opposite Webster & Boyes.

—A trifle over nine hours of daylight is all we enjoy these days.

—How about the ice crop, if this weather continues?

—A couple of young horse thieves have been arrested in Belleville.

—Rumor says lively times may be expected at the Dunkin Mill for a few days.

—Gentle Autumn has lingered so long in the lap of Winter that the old fellow's feet are asleep.

—Eighteen hundred and seventy-seven is pegging out slowly. Get ready to swear off and turn over that new leaf.

—Remember our faithful Carrier Boy on New Year's Day. He will make his usual call, and present his claims for your favours.

—We were pleased to receive a visit from an old friend, and brother quill, Mr. J. B. Ashley, of the Ontario, on Monday. He is looking as if work agreed with him.

—The C. M. Sabbath School contemplates giving an entertainment in the basement of the Church on New Years night. A good programme is being prepared.

—Lennox and Addington Division Grange held a regular meeting in the County Council Chambers, yesterday. Considerable business of importance, we understand.

—The election of officers for the ensuing quarter for the W. T. A., will come off at the regular meeting in the Town Hall on Wednesday evening next, a good turn out is earnestly desired.

—Doctors are reminders that there is an old proverb to the effect that a green Christmas makes a fat church-yard. This is about as cheering as Vennor's prophecy of the approaching Asiatic Cholera.

—There are few new developments in the municipal outlook. It is rumoured that Alex. Henry, Esq., of the Standard, is on the ticket for Mayor, but we are not able to vouch for its correctness.

—Crowds visited the stores on Saturday and Monday, and judging from the bundles that were being carried away, we came to the conclusion that Santa Claus was as busy as ever before.

—Last Sabbath evening's lecture on "Small Things," in the M. E. Church, was on of the Rev. Dr's ablest efforts. We should like to present a synopsis of the address, but space limits us to a passing notice. The next one will be "Settling up Accounts."

—The Mayor announces a public meeting for to-night in the Town Hall, for the purpose of giving prospective candidates for municipal honors an opportunity of

Christmas

Passed off very quietly in Napanee. There being no sleighing, the merry jingle of bells was missed from our streets, the recreation of skating was denied us, and nothing was left but to stay at home and enjoy a quiet day by our own firesides.

Dreadful Accident.

The Kingston Whig says:—"Mr Thomas Hamilton, jr., of the Gore of Pittsburg, fainted while harnessing one of the horses of the farm on Thursday last, and while he laid on the floor of the stall the horse tramped on his head. For two days he lay in an unconscious state, but is now rallying fast under Dr. Sullivan's care. His face is dreadfully smashed."

Shooting Accident.

The Whig has the following:—"Yesterday (Christmas) two young men named E. Robb and T. Potter were out shooting for amusement at Kingston Mills. Potter had fired at a given mark, and had gone to ascertain his success in scoring, when Robb raised his gun and aimed at the same spot. Accidentally the piece went off, and Potter received the full charge of small shot in the back. Dr. Telgmanst was called, and succeeded in recovering 110 shot, all but two of which the charge was composed.

Note It.

The Mercury cries out:—"Forty prisoners in the gaol at Guelph at the present date—six of the unfortunates are females. If this sort of thing continues, an enlargement of the county buildings will have to be made." Wellington is the county that rejected the Dunkin Bill by so large a majority. May there not be a subtle connection between the two facts, and would not the electors of Lennox and Addington do well to observe this fact in giving their vote on the Repeal By-law.

Hay Bay Grange.

The annual meeting for the election of officers of this Grange, came off on the 20th inst., when the following officers were elected:

Master—A. C. Parks.
Overseer—J. Perry.
Lecturer—J. D. Galt.
Steward—J. Hamblly.
Ass't Steward—G. Brown.
Lidy Steward—Miss I. Parks.
Chaplain—G. Smith.
Secretary—I. Parks.
Treasurer—E. McCabe.
Gatekeeper—P. McCabe.
Delegates to Division Grange—A. C. Parks, I. Parks, and J. F. Parks.

For the Poor.

The Napanee Dramatic Club have generously tendered their services to the officers of the town to give one of their unequalled entertainments for the benefit of our poor. The offer having been accepted, they will reproduce "Never too Late to Mend," in the Music Hall on Thursday evening next. Our readers will remember that the Club presented this drama with splendid success last winter, and its repetition for the above laudable object will, without doubt, call forth a large audience. We understand that the Club have in preparation, and will present on this occasion, as a farce, a burlesque on the Dunkin By-law, and other town eccentricities. It's said to be "a roarer." Admission same as usual.

A New Prophet.

Dr. Wild, once of Belleville, Canada, now of Brooklyn, has entered into competition with Dr. Cumming, of London, in the prophetic business, says the Hamilton Times. From a careful reading of

C. M. Church.

Rev. W. W. Sparling, a student from Victoria College, Cobourg, preached two excellent sermons in the above church in this place, last Sunday.

For the Poor.

About 80 bushels of potatoes, a large quantity of bread, vegetables, &c., and two fine hogs, weighing over three hundred each, were distributed amongst the poor on Christmas.

Encouraging.

Christmas has been taken advantage of by more than the usual number of happy couples to join their fortunes for weal or woe. Rev. A. B. Chambers was so pressed with applications for his services that he was obliged to employ a colleague to assist him, having no less than six in three days.

Personal.

Rev. A. C. Chambers, of Portsmouth, has been spending the Christmas vacation with his brother, the Pastor of the C. M. Church, in this town. The Rev. Gentle man delivered an eloquent address at the Selby tea-meeting, and rendered good service in the matrimonial department of ministerial labor.

The "Pioneer."

Capt. Dickens, of the yacht "Pioneer," is getting out timber, plank, &c., with which to make important alterations in his craft. He intends to lengthen her twelve feet, also to make the necessary improvements in her hold and deck room, in order to fit her for the carrying trade. With Mr. Dickens' well-known thoroughness and mechanical skill, the improvements in progress will doubtless rank the "Pioneer," second to no craft of her tonnage on the lakes.

Incendiarism

The following was received too late for insertion in our last issue. A dwelling house belonging to J. M. Parrott and Nelson Venton, at Storms' Corners, five miles from Bath, was consumed by fire on the 19th inst.; between four and five o'clock in the morning. The tenant George Lane, had not resided in the house for about two week, but had some of furniture left in the house which was also consumed, no person was known to have been in the house for two days previous to the fire, and it is supposed to have been the act of incendiarism.

Social Reunion.

Messrs. Gibbard & Son, the extensive furniture dealers of this town, gave an old-time oyster supper to their employees on Christmas night, at Wilson's restaurant. About thirty partook of the delicious repast, accompanied with the usual speeches, toasts, &c. Nothing begets a better falling between masters and men than these pleasant little gatherings, and the Messrs. Gibbard are as popular with their employees as they are with their patrons.

Police Items.

William Milo Parks was before Justice James on Thursday, charged with abusing his mother-in-law, Rebecca McKitt-rick, also with threatening to fire his dwelling, and other acts of violence. He is said to be slightly insane, and in default of two sureties of $100 each, was committed to gaol.

Teddy White, of Roblin, was before Justices James, & Gibbard, charged with violation of the Dunkin Act—Nathaniel Kemmett, complainant. The accused admitted the charge and paid the fine—$20, and $7.70 costs. A similar charge was laid by Inspector Hogle, which was laid over till 2nd of January, on his own recognizance.

Fire.

At 2:40 Thursday Morning a fire

Gospel Temperance

The third Gospel Temperance was held last Sunday afternoon in Town Hall, and elicited a large attendance. In the absence of the Rev. Dr. Hartley, the Chair was occupied by Mr. Neville made a short but excellent address. He was followed by Casey, editor of the Canadian, after which the Chairman delivered a concise address. We have no synopsis of Rev. Dr. Hartley's well-timed and can give only the following synopsis:

Truth and Temperance are identical.

1. Temperance is a physical harmony with the laws of nature.
2. Temperance is an intellect it commends itself to the understanding of men, &c.

3. Temperance is a moral truth. I mean it has reference to conduct and behaviour of men.

4. Temperance is a religious in harmony with the principles of religion.

5. Temperance is a scientific and what is science?

It is knowledge duly and properly arranged and referred to general principles on which it is founded from which it is derived.

We have not time to-day to go on obstacles in the way of this truth, or the fearful magnitude with which this truth is now before us. But to come plainly and irrequ the main point before us. What that the temperance cause is an insoluble with truth. We claim it is not a local, but a general one maintain that it is above sect party. The good to be obtained common good, and the cause of being the cause of humanit demands the sacrifices, labors and of all who wish well to our country. So believing, we feel we in laying down the following as so many axioms:

1. It is in the power of the state to rest the evils of intemperance on exists.

2. The power to arrest it, is obligation to do so.

3: This obligation rests first, electors who make the legislation second, on the legislators who make laws.

4. Nothing but law can arrest it in its present form.

5. And no law but this, namely sale of alcohol for useful purposes that it is prohibited.

6. The single ground on which would ask for such a law, is its necessity.

The license system and moral in whatever form, having been vain. What we want and must a prohibitory law, and that law and vigorously enforced.

Key Mr. Young and others will the next meeting on Sunday next at 3:30 p. m. Every friend of sobriety and good order, every temperance, should take an in these meetings.

CLARKS MILLS.

(From our Special Correspondent)
At a regular meeting of the Lodge Clarke Mills, the following were elected for the ensuing Year.

W. M. Charles Babcock.
D. M. Robert Saul.
Chap. Robert Glovers.
R. S. George Sherlock.
Trea. James Saul.
1st Com. Richard Glover.

Considerable business of importance, we understand.

The election of officers for the ensuing quarter for the W. T. A., will come off at the regular meeting in the Town Hall on Wednesday evening next, a good turn out is earnestly desired.

Doctors are reminders that there is an old proverb to the effect that a green Christmas makes a fat church-yard. This is about as cheering as Vennor's prophecy of the approaching Asiatic Cholera.

There are few new developments in the municipal outlook. It is rumoured that Alex. Henry, Esq., of the Standard, is on the ticket for Mayor, but we are not able to vouch for its correctness.

Crowds visited the stores on Saturday and Monday, and judging from the bundles that were being carried away, we came to the conclusion that Santa Claus was as busy as ever before.

Last Sabbath evening's lecture on "Small Things," in the M. E. Church, was on of the Rev. Dr's ablest efforts. We should like to present a synopsis of the address, but space limits us to a passing notice. The next one will be "Settling up Accounts."

The Mayor announces a public meeting for to-night in the Town Hall, for the purpose of giving prospective candidates for municipal honors, an opportunity of airing their views on matters and things in connection with town affairs. A lively time may be expected.

The contest in the municipal arena goes bravely forward, and judging from the reports from each of the candidates, with a good chance of all being elected. One says, "prospect never better," another, "haven't been refused in a single instance," another "sure of a handsome majority," and so it goes.

The Young People's Musical and Literary Society, in connection with the C. M. Church, are preparing for the promised concert on New Year's Eve, to commence at 9:30 o'clock. Every endeavour is being made to get up an excellent programme, and we are assured it will be a l'oeuf. We hope they may be encouraged with a good turn out.

The ticket for North Fredericksburg seems to be about settled upon. Messrs Dollar and Parks, for Reeve; Charles Lloyd and Elias Smith, for Deputy Reeve, and Councillors, Messrs J. C. Carscadden, R. Baker, A. C. Parks, R. Priuk and D. Dennison. Rumor says another gentleman is about to enter the field for councillorship, but we have not learned his name.

On Christmas day, church services were well attended. The uncommon mildness of the weather, with a total absence of snow, made appearances duller than usual, yet the day passed off quietly and pleasantly, with no signs of intoxication. The beneficial effects of the Dunkin By-law are becoming evident day after day.

The annual meeting for the election of officers of Mount Pleasant Grange came off last Saturday, when the following officers were elected:

Master—James Leverton.
Lecturer—Henry Evans.
Steward—Hugh Henderson.
Ass't Steward—Charles Evans.
Chaplain—Daniel Stratton.
Secretary—Ira E. Grooms.
Treasurer—H. J. Allison.
Gatekeeper—John Grooms.
Ceres—Sister L. A. Woodcock.
Delegates to Division Grange—J. Leverton, H. C. Allison, and A. Provins.

On no previous occasion during the year has there been such an immense gathering as was witnessed on our Market last Saturday. The Market Square and the adjoining portions of Centre and John Streets were so crowded with teams as to be almost impassable. The display of Christmas cheer by both

Overseer—J. Perry.
Lecturer—J. D. Galt.
Steward—J. Hamblay.
Ass't Steward—G. Brown.
Ludy Steward—Miss I. Parks.
Chaplain—G. Smith.
Secretary—I. Parks.
Treasurer—E. McCabe.
Gatekeeper—P. McCabe.
Delegates to Division Grange—A. C. Parks, I. Parks, and J. F. Parks.

For the Poor.

The Napanee Dramatic Club have generously tendered their services to the officers of the town to give one of their unequalled entertainments for the benefit of our poor. The offer having been accepted, they will reproduce "Never too Late to Mend," in the Music Hall on Thursday evening next. Our readers will remember that the Club presented this drama with splendid success last winter, and its repetition for the above laudable object will, without doubt, call forth a large audience. We understand that the Club have in preparation, and will present on this occasion, as a farce, a burlesque on the Dunkin By-law, and other town eccentricities. It's said to be "a roarer." Admission same as usual.

A New Prophet.

Dr. Wild, once of Belleville, Canada, now of Brooklyn, has entered into competition with Dr. Cumming, of London, in the prophetic business, says the Hamilton Times. From a careful reading of the Old Testament prophets and the New York Herald, Dr. Wild has come to the conclusion that in 1882 a war will be declared that will last just fifty-three years, and usher in the dawn of the millennium. This war, he announces, will be one of all true Christians against Anti-Christ (supposed by Dr. Wild to be a Russian Czar,) and Gen. Grant, he imagines, has been specially trained to lead the Christian forces. In some of its details this programme is unsatisfactory. In the first place, Gen. Grant's career as President does not suggest him as quite fitted to lead true Christians in any affair. Next, if we are to have a general war of fifty-three years before the dawn of the millennium, it may be doubted if there will be many people left on this earth to enjoy the millennium.

W. T. A.

An open meeting of the Workingman's Temperance Association, was held in the Town Hall, on Wednesday evening. This society, we are sorry to say, has been in rather a languishing condition for several months, and the officers have had rather a discouraging time. Its need, however, is greatly felt, and those who have been sustaining the organization through sore trial, feeling the necessity of making a grand effort to resuscitate it, took the above plan. About two hundred and fifty persons responded to the call, and the President—Mr. Moss—laid the claims and needs of the Association before the audience, faithfully and impressively. Mr. Herring, Dr. Hartley, Mr. Roe, and Mr. Neville, followed with stirring addresses, interspersed with music from the Napanee Orchestra, and a very pleasant evening was spent. At the close a number of members remained at the private meeting of the Association, when the officers were nominated, and there seems to be every prospect of the interest in the work being again revived. We sincerely hope it may, and that the good which has been done heretofore by this organization, we may see again enacted. Let there be a good turn out at the meeting on Wednesday evening next.

Presentation.

A largely attended meeting of the Presbyterian congregation in this town, was held in the basement of their church on the evening of Monday last, the 24th inst. As some of the congregation had assembled, a message was sent to the Manse requesting the attendance of the Rev. Mr. Young and Mrs. Young. On their arrival, the Hon. John Stevenson was called to the Chair, who, in a few previous to the fire, and it is supposed to have been the act of incendiarism.

Social Reunion.

Messrs. Gibbard & Son, the extensive furniture dealers of this town, gave an old-time oyster supper to their employees on Christmas night, at Wilson's restaurant. About thirty partook of the luscious repast, accompanied with the usual speeches, toasts, &c. Nothing begets a better feeling between masters and men than these pleasant little gatherings, and the Messrs. Gibbard are as popular with their employees as they are with their patrons.

Police Items.

William Milo Parks was before Justice James on Thursday, charged with abusing his mother-in-law, Rebecca McKittick, also with threatening to fire his dwelling, and other acts of violence. He is said to be slightly insane, and in default of two sureties of $100 each, was committed to gaol.

Teddy White, of Roblin, was before Justices James & Gibbard, charged with violation of the Dunkin Act—Nathaniel Kemmett, complainant. The accused admitted the charge and paid the fine—$20, and $7.70 costs. A similar charge was laid by Inspector Hogle, which was laid over till 2nd of January, on his own recognizance.

Fire.

At 2:40 Thursday Morning a fire broke out in an unoccupied two storey wooden dwelling, located on south side of Centre street, a short distance east of Thomas street. No wind was stirring at the time, otherwise the wooden dwellings with which the place is completely surrounded would certainly have been consumed. The occupants of the nearest dwellings, and several volunteers, worked with a will, and undoubtedly did good service towards preventing the spread of the flames, especially in the rear where a quantity of cord-wood and several outhouses, formed a connection with the adjacent dwellings. The engine got to work in good time, and the fire was extinguished in half an hour from the commencement. The property was owned, and occupied until within the last ten days by Mr. Abraham Sills, it was completely destroyed. The fire is said to have originated in the roof, and supposed to have been caused by lawless boys or tramps, who have been lately making the place a rendezvous. Insured in some American company for $650, which covers the loss.

Jubilee Singers.

We are pleased to announce that the famed Sheppard Jubilee Singers are about to visit Napanee. They will give two entertainments in the M. E. Church, on Saturday and Monday evening next. They are genuine coloured people, ex-slaves, and will present a programme composed of negro sacred melodies, making a regular old fashioned camp meeting concert. We can assure our citizens that it will be a rare musical treat, and hope they will turn out and enjoy it. They will also take part in the services in the M. E. Church on Sabbath next, both morning and evening. We give the following letter from the Rev. Wm. Blair, pastor at Lynn, Ont., regarding their appearance in that town:—"Last night the Sheppard Jubilee Singers attended the M. E. Church in this place and sang instead of the usual choir. The church was crowded to suffocation, both pews and isles and lobby, and many went away unable to obtain even standing room. It was quite a contrast to their first reception a few evenings ago, before their true character as magnificent singers and Christian ladies and gentlemen become fully known. To say that everybody was delighted last night with the pieces they obligation to do so.

3. This obligation rests first, electors who make the legislature second, on the legislators who in laws.

4. Nothing but law can arrest in its present form.

5. And no law but this, namely, sale of alcohol for useful purposes beyond that it is prohibited.

6. The single ground on which would ask for such a law, is its necessity.

The license system and moral in whatever form, having been vain. What we want and must a prohibitory law, and that law I and vigorously enforced.

Rev Mr. Young and others will the next meeting on Sunday a next at 3:30 p. m. Every friend briety and good order, every temperance, should take an int these meetings.

CLARKS MILLS.

(From our Special Correspondent)
At a regular meeting of the Lodge Clarks Mills, the following were elected for the ensuing Year:

W. M. Charles Babcock.
D. M. Robert Saul.
Chap. Robert Glover.
R. S. George Shierlock.
Trea. James Saul.
1st Com. Richard Glover.
2nd " William Bicknell.
3rd " William McKinnon.
4th " Albert Lewis.
5th " John Saul.
I. T. David Galbreth.
O. T. Irey Babcock.
D. of C., William Paul.

During last week several have been committed in this country, the premises of Edward was entered and a set of harness Mr. Hamilton house was cut an overcoat and some other thing Charles Wilson also had his buffalo stolen.

The peaceable inhabitants of Mills are aroused again by the who gather from East, West, South, to raise a hullabaloo at the in the wall, drinking, threats of sl etc. are indulged in. Gr

MORVEN.

(From our Special Correspondent)
Merry Christmas to you Mr. Well the "Pop Corn Festival," where last night, as announced. Considerable was said of it in paper but the half was not dreamed of. full programme was on hand to ter, just as the Rev. Stratton does business. There was mu class, dialogues, suberb, recitation. It must require an enormous patience, and adaptation to the w the part of Miss Frank Stratton, many children and do it so well certainly deserves great credit, the management this year, being un control, and though these entertain have been held hereabouts since Rev. Mr. Stratton's advent amo this one outstrips them all. speak for her a successful career er in music, or public school. thought Mr. Editor, to give your the names of the pieces rendered a parties rendering them, but as the over thirty of the former, and five of the latter it would require much of your valuable space. I tempted to speak of the little gi sang so sweetly together, and t especially those by the small c but invidious distinctions would li out of place when everybody did s Over 300 persons were present evinced their entire satisfaction bursts of applause and hearty e repeatedly given. It was amou the close that the exercises would repeated at Hamburg New Year with the addition of new and p pieces, as also a lecture from Young on "True Manhood." I d how it can be made any better. I d other, "haven't been refused in a single instance," another "sure of a handsome majority," and so it goes.

—The Young People's Musical and Literary Society, in connection with the C. M. Church, are preparing for the promised concert on New Year's Eve, to commence at 9:30 o'clock. Every endeavour is being made to get up an excellent programme, and we are assured it will be A I. We hope they may be encouraged with a good turn out.

—The ticket for North Fredericksburg seems to be about settled upon. Messrs. Dollar and Parks, for Reeve; Charles Lloyd and Elias Smith, for Deputy Reeve, and Councillors, Messrs J. C. Carscallen, R. Baker, A. C. Parks, R. Prink and D. Dennison. Rumor says another gentleman is about to enter the field for councilship, but we have not learned his name.

—On Christmas day, church services were well attended. The uncommon mildness of the weather, with a total absence of snow, made appearances duller than usual, yet the day passed off quietly and pleasantly, with no signs of intoxication. The beneficial effects of the Dunkin By-law are becoming evident day after day.

—The annual meeting for the election of officers of Mount Pleasant Grange came off last Saturday, when the following officers were elected:

Master—James Leverton.
Lecturer—Henry Evans.
Steward—Hugh Henderson.
Asst Steward—Charles Evans.
Chaplain—Daniel Stratton.
Secretary—Ira E. Grooms.
Treasurer—H. J. Allison.
Gatekeeper—John Grooms.
Ceres—Sister L. A. Woodcock.
Delegates to Division Grange—J. Leverton, H. C. Allison, and A. Provins.

—On no previous occasion during the year has there been such an immense gathering as was witnessed on our Market last Saturday. The Market Square and the adjoining portions of Centre and John Streets were so crowded with teams as to be almost impassable. The display of Christmas cheer by both farmers and butchers, was the best seen for many years, and sales were correspondingly good, the one item of turkeys alone rating exceedingly high, at least five hundred changed hands. Poultry, game, vegetables, fruit, &c., sold rapidly and at excellent prices. In the evening the stores were crowded with purchasers in search of presents useful and ornamental.

—The experiences of the present season are truly remarkable. Nothing like it has been known since 1837, the year of the rebellion, and then considerable snow fell before Christmas. Untimely sports and amusements, such as yacht races, steamboat excursions, etc., were indulged in on Christmas, in different parts of the Province; ploughing has been done in several parts, and still the weather has more the appearance of spring than winter, and no telling when a change may occur. We present a few notes of unprecedented occurrences:—

The steam yacht Crusoe has been running on the lower bay route since the retirement of the Hastings and Armenia. The steamer Pierrepoint left Kingston on Saturday night for the Stone Mills where she was to take on a load of sheep.

The Prince Edward took a free excursion from Belleville to Massasauga Point on Christmas Day. The expected yacht race did not come off, though at least one of the said boats proceeded to the ground. No ice of consequence in the Bay.

The Utica made her usual trip from Trenton to Pictou, carrying a number of parties who wished to enjoy the novel trip.

The Whig says the Ferry Boats are running as regularly as ever.

been specially trained to lead the Christian forces. In some of its details this programme is unsatisfactory. In the first place, Gen. Grant's career as President does not suggest him as quite fitted to lead true Christians in any affair. Next, if we are to have a general war of fifty-three years before the dawn of the millennium, it may be doubted if there will be many people left on this earth to enjoy the millennium.

W. T. A.

An open meeting of the Workingman's Temperance Association, was held in the Town Hall, on Wednesday evening. This society, we are sorry to say, has been in rather a languishing condition for several months, and the officers have had rather a discouraging time. Its need, however, is greatly felt, and those who have been sustaining the organization through sore trial, feeling the necessity of making a grand effort to resuscitate it, took the above plan. About two hundred and fifty persons responded to the call, and the President—Mr. Moss—laid the claims and needs of the Association before the audience, faithfully and impressively. Mr. Herring, Dr. Hartley, Mr. Roe, and Mr. Neville, followed with stirring addresses, interspersed with music from the Napanee Orchestra, and a very pleasant evening was spent. At the close a number of members remained at the private meeting of the Association, when the officers were nominated, and there seems to be every prospect of the interest in the work being again revived. We sincerely hope it may, and that the good which has been done heretofore by this organization, we may see again enacted. Let there be a good turn out at the meeting on Wednesday evening next.

Presentation.

A largely attended meeting of the Presbyterian congregation in this town, was held in the basement of their church on the evening of Monday last, the 24th inst. As some of the congregation had assembled, a message was sent to the Manse requesting the attendance of the Rev. Mr. Young and Mrs. Young. On their arrival, the Hon. John Stevenson was called to the Chair, who, in a few well-chosen sentences, stated the object of the meeting. Thereafter J. Russell and W. S. Detlor, Esqs., came forward and, in the name of the congregation, presented Mr. Young with an address, and a purse containing a sum of money besides other substantial tokens of their regard. The address is as follows:—

To the Rev. Mr. Young,

DEAR SIR,—We, the members and adherents of your congregation, desire to express to you the esteem in which you are held by us, and we ask you to accept these gifts, and this purse and contents, as small practical tokens of the high appreciation we have for you as a Christian Minister, a true gentleman, and a worthy citizen. Our prayer is that you may long be spared to fill the place you now hold in the Church and in our hearts, and we take this opportunity, in view of the approaching festive season, to sincerely wish you, Sir, Mrs. Young, and your family, a very Happy Christmas and a prosperous New Year.

To this address Mr. Young briefly responded, thanking the congregation for this expression of their good will towards himself, Mrs. Young and family, and assuring them of his unabated interest in their prosperity and success. At the close of Mr. Young's remarks, L. McGowan, Esq., stepped forward, and in name of the Loyal Orange Associations in this town, handed the Rev. Gentleman a sum of money in token of their appreciation of the services he had rendered to their Order. Mr. Young thanked Mr. McGowan, and requested him to convey to the respective bodies he represented, his high appreciation of their kindness, and cordial thanks for this substantial token of their regard.

of the nearest dwellings, and several volunteers, worked with a will, and undoubtedly did good service towards preventing the spread of the flames, especially in the rear where a quantity of cord-wood and several outhouses, formed a connection with the adjacent dwellings. The engine got to work in good time, and the fire was extinguished in half an hour from the commencement. The property was owned, and occupied until within the last ten days by Mr. Abraham Sills, it was completely destroyed. The fire is said to have originated in the roof, and supposed to have been caused by lawless boys or tramps, who have been lately making the place a rendezvous. Insured in some American company for $650, which covers the loss.

Jubilee Singers.

We are pleased to announce that the famed Sheppard Jubilee Singers are about to visit Napanee. They will give two entertainments in the M. E. Church, on Saturday and Monday evening next. They are genuine coloured people, ex-slaves, and will present a programme composed of negro sacred melodies, making a regular old fashioned camp meeting concert. We can assure our citizens that it will be a rare musical treat, and hope they will turn out and enjoy it. They will also take part in the services in the M. E. Church on Sabbath next, both morning and evening. We give the following letter from the Rev. Wm. Blair, pastor at Lynn, Ont., regarding their appearance in that town:—"Last night the Sheppard Jubilee Singers attended the M. E. Church in this place and sang instead of the usual choir. The church was crowded to suffocation, both pews and isles and lobby, and many went away unable to obtain even standing room. It was quite a contrast to their first reception a few evenings ago, before their true character as magnificent singers and Christian ladies and gentlemen become fully known. To say that everybody was delighted last night with the pieces they rendered during the regular service is but simple justice, but when the pastor changed the exercises and proceeded with the prayer and fellowship meeting their touching experiences and soul-stirring songs went straight to every heart. In fellowship meeting with what fervent utterance and pathetic tones did Mr. Basey speak of the judgement day, and the capacity of the ship Zion to land her thousands on "fair Canaans shore." Mr. Sheppard's thrilling story of slave life and the wonderful deliverance of body and soul wrought out for him by the common Father brought tears to many eyes. But when Miss Cassie Robinson, true to her Methodist conviction, arose to confess Christ before that large congregation, the story of her conversion five years ago and the sustaining grace that had brought her so far on the story of her conversion five years ago and the sustaining grace that had brought her so far on her journey drew from her Christian hearers many a hearty "God bless you." The gentlemanly and affable advance agent, Mr. S. Ober, was also present and took part in the meeting. Of the remaining members of the Company the merry Miss Carrie Wesley sings a fine soprano, the quiet, dignified and reserved Miss Pugh with the above-mentioned Miss Robinson sings a splendid alto, while Mr. Clark is perfectly at home in the highest ranges of a magnificent tenor. At the close of the services—which could scarcely be closed—many were so loath to leave the delightful spot that a large number of the congregation filed past the singers standing within the altar rail and bade them an affectionate farewell. Altogether another such memorable meeting I do not expect soon to enjoy."

WM. BLAIR, PASTOR.

country, the premises of Edward was entered and a set of harness Mr. Hamilton house was entered an overcoat and some other things Charles Wilson also had his buffalo stolen.

The peaceable inhabitants of Mills are aroused again by the who gather from East, West, South, to raise a hullabuloo at the in the wall, drinking, threats of sh etc., are indulged in. GIM

MORVEN.

(From our Special Correspondent)

Merry Christmas to you Mr. I Well the 'Pop Corn Festival,' we here last night, as announced. Considerable was said of it in print but the half was not dreamed of. The full programme was on hand to start, just as the Rev. Stratton does business. There was music, class, dialogues, recitations. It must require an enormous amount of patience, and adaptation to the work of Miss Frank Stratton, to the many children and do it so well. certainly deserves great credit, the management this year, being under control, and though these entertain have been held heretofore since Rev. Mr. Stratton's advent among this one outstrips them all. I speak for her a successful career as a singer in music, or public school. thought Mr. Editor, to give you the names of the pieces rendered at parties rendering them, but as there over thirty of the former, and since five of the latter it would require much of your valuable space. I attempted to speak of the little girl sang so sweetly together, and especially those by the small children but invidious distinctions would hold out of place when everybody did so. Over 300 persons were present evinced their entire satisfaction with the addition of new and pieces, as also a lecture from Mr. Young on "True Manhood." I do not know it can be made any better. I intend to go again, M. D. Canfield and F. W. McVeity, B. A., made some appropriate remarks at the conclusion. This terminates what was advertised the best entertainment of the season.

ONE WHO WAS PRESENT

The Holiday Season

The following was crowded out last week, yet it is not too late for the holiday season.

Stoves, Tinware, Hardware &c.

T. H. Waller.

In the old Parish stand, Dundas south side. Coal and wood, parlor stoves, coal grates, tinware and fixtures in great variety. Wire sign painting and manufacturing as usual.

A. McLeod.

Dundas st., north side next door to Fred Smiths. Tin ware, coal and stoves and grates. Gas fixtures and stoves, and erected in a superior manner. Repairing and manufacturing done on the premises. Pumps, tubing and other house fixtures inserted at notice.

Ferguson & Bros.

Dundas st., south side. Hardware, machinery fittings, patent article builders materials, plate glass of all grades in stock, and imported. Ship and mill supplies. Mr. Ferguson have an extensive town country patronage. Householders seeking domestic economy should try their stock.

C. M. Church.

Rev. W. W. Sparling, a student from Victoria College, Cobourg, preached two excellent sermons in the above church in this place, last Sunday.

For the Poor.

About 80 bushels of potatoes, a large quantity of bread, vegetables, &c., and two fine hogs, weighing over three hundred each, were distributed amongst the poor on Christmas.

Encouraging.

Christmas has been taken advantage of by more than the usual number of happy couples to join their fortunes for weal or woe. Rev. A. B. Chambers was so pressed with applications for his services that he was obliged to employ a colleague to assist him, having no less than six in three days.

Personal.

Rev. A. C. Chambers, of Portsmouth, has been spending the Christmas vacation with his brother, the Pastor of the C. M. Church, in this town. The Rev. Gentleman delivered an eloquent address at the Selby tea-meeting, and rendered good service in the matrimonial department of ministerial labor.

The "Pioneer."

Capt. Dickens, of the yacht "Pioneer," is getting out timber, plank, &c., with which to make important alterations in his craft. He intends to lengthen her twelve feet, also to make the necessary improvements in her hold and deck room, in order to fit her for the carrying trade. With Mr. Dickens' well-known thoroughness and mechanical skill, the improvements in progress will doubtless rank the "Pioneer," second to no craft of her tonnage on the lakes.

Incendiarism

The following was received too late for insertion in our last issue. A dwelling house belonging to J. M. Parrott and Nelson Venton, at Storms' Corners, five miles from Bath, was consumed by fire on the 19th inst.; between four and five o'clock in the morning. The tenant George Lane, had not resided in the house for about two weeks, but had some of furniture left in the house which was also consumed, no person was known to have been in the house for two days previous to the fire, and it is supposed to have been the act of incendiarism.

Social Reunion.

Messrs. Gibbard & Son, the extensive furniture dealers of this town, gave an old-time oyster supper to their employees on Christmas night, at Wilson's restaurant. About thirty partook of the delicious repast, accompanied with the usual speeches, toasts, &c. Nothing begets a better feeling between masters and men than these pleasant little gatherings, and the Messrs. Gibbard are as popular with their employees as they are with their patrons.

Police Items.

William Milo Park was before Justice James on Thursday, charged with abusing his mother-in-law, Rebecca McKittick, also with threatening to fire his dwelling, and other acts of violence. He is said to be slightly insane, and in default of two sureties of $100 each, was committed to gaol.

Teddy White, of Roblin, was before Justices James, & Gibbard, charged with violation of the Dunkin Act—Nathaniel Kemmett, complainant. The accused admitted the charge and paid the fine—$20, and $7.70 costs. A similar charge was laid by Inspector Hogle, which was laid over till 2nd of January, on his own recognizance.

Fire.

At 2:40 Thursday Morning a fire broke out in an unoccupied two storey Gospel Temperance.

The third Gospel Temperance Service was held last Sunday afternoon in the Town Hall, and elicited a large attendance. In the absence of the Rev. Mr. Chambers the Chair was occupied by Rev. Dr. Hartley. The exercises were interspersed with appropriate music. Rev. Mr. Neville made a short but very excellent address. He was followed by Mr. Casey, editor of the Canada Casket, after which the Chairman delivered a concise address. We have not room for Rev. Dr. Hartley's well-timed remarks, and can give only the following brief synopsis:

Truth and Temperance are one and identical.

1. Temperance is a physical truth, in harmony with the laws of nature.
2. Temperance is an intellectual truth, it commends itself to the understandings of men, &c.
3. Temperance is a moral truth. By this I mean it has reference to the conduct and behaviour of men.
4. Temperance is a religious truth, it is in harmony with the principles of true religion.
5. Temperance is a scientific truth. And what is science?

It is knowledge duly and properly arranged and referred to general truths and principles on which it is founded, and from which it is derived.

We have not time to-day to consider the obstacles in the way of this array of truth, or the fearful magnitude of the evil with which this truth is now contending. But to come plainly and unequivocally to the main point before us. We believe that the temperance cause is one and indissoluble with truth. We claim, also, it is not a local, but a general cause. We maintain that it is above sect, above party, The good to be obtained is a common good, and the cause of temperance being the cause of humanity, it demands the sacrifices, labors and prayers, of all who wish well to our country and race. So believing, we feel we are safe in laying down the following principles, as so many axioms:

1. It is in the power of the state to arrest the evils of intemperance as it now exists.
2. The power to arrest it, implies the obligation to do so.
3. This obligation rests first, on the electors who make the legislators, and second, on the legislators who make the laws.
4. Nothing but law can arrest the evil in its present form.
5. And no law but this, namely: The sale of alcohol for useful purposes is beyond that it is prohibited.
6. The single ground on which we would ask for such a law, is its absolute necessity.

The license system and moral suasion, in whatever form, having been tried in vain. What we want and must have, is a prohibitory law, and that law promptly and vigorously enforced.

Key Mr. Young and others will address the next meeting on Sunday afternoon next at 3:30 p. m. Every friend of sobriety and good order, every lover of temperance, should take an interest in these meetings.

CLARKS MILLS.

(From our Special Correspondent.)

At a regular meeting of True Blue Lodge Clarks Mills, the following officers were elected for the ensuing Year:—

- W. M. Charles Babcock.
- D. M. Robert Saul.
- Chap. Robert Glovers.
- R. S. George Sherlock.
- Trea. James Saul.
- 1st Com. Richard Glovers.
- 2nd " William Bicknell.
- 3rd " William McFurson.

Henry Boyle.

In Millers old stand—East End, Friend Boyle is doing a rushing trade, he seems determined to secure every customer in search of stoves, and tinware, of which he has now some fine samples on exhibition. Mr. B. makes a specialty of stove fixtures, and his copper ware is unique in design and workmanship. It should be remembered that Mr. B., received special mention for his superior exhibit at our Agricultural show, in October, in fact every article he sells is well gotten up and of the best material. Manufacturing and repairing done by competent and obliging workmen and in an efficient manner.

Wright & Co.

Opposite Brick House. Coal and cooking stoves and fixtures, cheese vats, and boilers, refrigerators, tin and copper ware, agricultural implement, Paints, oils, varnishes, brushes &c. A full and varied stock of hardware patent novelties &c. Repairing done on the premises by first class workmen.

Henry W. Perry.

Mr. Perry, (formerly with Boyle & Wright), commenced business only nine months ago, yet he has already secured a steady run of customers. Having had a long experience in the hardware business, his stock will be found complete and his prices exceedingly low. Don't forget him.

Cakes, Confectionery, Fruit, &c.

A. Jamieson.

There is nothing like getting well filled inside, and our friend Jamieson will show some delicious edibles in the shape of pastry, cakes, nuts, fruit confectionary, &c. His Christmas cake is most tastefully iced and decorated, his confectionery enticing, and his oyster stews beyond description.

T. Dickens.

It being an established fact that more sweetmeats are consumed at Christmas time than in the remaining fifty-one weeks combined, Dickens, as usual, has received a car load of the choicest delicacies of the season, don't forget him when searching for one of those old-fashioned five-story Christmas cakes or a collection of bon bons for the little ones.

Boots, Shoes, and Gaiters.

Fraser & Rennie.

Our streets at present are covered with three inches of mud, and the roads are almost impassable, Messrs. Fraser & Rennie, aware of this undeniable fact, have been displaying an enormous stock of boots, shoes, and gaiters, from the most delicate French kid to the most sturdy brogan, and have determined to furnish ladies, gents and children with that indispensable article of dress—a well fitting boot. Ready made clothing, mits, fur goods, &c., at prices to suit the times.

Millinery, Dry Goods, Ready-made Clothing, &c.

Downey Bros.

This old established firm still continues to merit its full share of public patronage. The preparations for the holiday season have been extensive, and the selections are such as will invite attention from intending purchasers. The carpet department is complete, and the arrangements for exhibition are far ahead of any similar establishment outside the cities. The millinery dept. is replete with all the latest novelties in dress goods and trimmings. The ready-made clothing and order department is unusually active, and it is plainly evident that the Messrs. Downey expect a rush of custom and have made excellent preparations to meet it.

W. A. Ross.

In the Perry block (formerly Rose & Fralick). Mr. Ross keeps a large

CONSUMPTION CURED.

A n old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy, for the speedy and permanent cure of consumption, bronchitis, catarrh, asthma, and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for nervous debility and all nervous complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive, and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send, free of charge, to all who desire it, this receipt in German, French, or English, with full directions for preparing and using. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper, W. W. Sherar, 136 Powers' Block, Rochester, N. Y.

BELLEVILLE MARKETS

BELLEVILLE, Dec. 26th, 1877.

Provisions have been in plentiful supply during the week, but changes in prices are few and slight.

Grain deliveries have been moderate, and prices are rather lower.

Wheat, $1.15 to $1.18.
Barley, 50c. to 55c.
Rye, 50c. to 55c.
Oats, 35c. to 36c.
Peas 60c. to 62c.
Beef, per quarter 4 1/2 to 5 1/2
Hams, 9c. to 10c.
Dressed Hogs, $5 to $6 per cwt.
Butter, Roll, 15c. to 25c.
Butter, Tub, 15c. to 17c.
Cheese, 8c. to 10c.
Lard, 11c. to 15c.
Eggs, 14c. to 15c.
Potatoes, 50c. to 60c. per bag
Cabbage, 5c. per doz.
Hay, $1.10 to $1.20 per ton
Flour, Wholesale, $5.30 per bbl.
Flour, retail, 5.30 to 5.60 per bbl.
Apples, 60c. to $1.50 per bag.
Chickens, 25c. to 40c. per pair.
Ducks, wild, 50c. per pair.
Turkeys, 75c. to 1.25 each.
Geese, 30c. to 50c. each.

MONTREAL MARKETS.

MONTREAL, Dec. 26.—Flour—Receipts 1,200 bbls.; sales reported 200 bbls; market quiet but firmer; strengthened by speculative demand. There were large sales of spring extra on Monday at $5.10; holders now firm at $5.15; sales 200 spring extra at $5.25.

OSWEGO MARKETS.

OSWEGO, N. Y., Dec. 26.—Wheat unchanged—No 1 Milwaukee club $1.34; No 1 white Michigan, $1.45; red state $1.39.
Corn unchanged—No 2 Toledo 60c.
Barley nominal—No 1 Canada held at 92c; No 2 do 87c.

NEW YORK MARKETS.

NEW YORK, Dec. 26.—Rye flour steady at $3.70 to $4.25.
Wheat 4c better; receipts 158,000; sales 8,000 at call; $1.33 1/2 No 2 spring Jan.
Rye quiet 75 to 77 1/2c.
Corn old firm, new dull declining; receipts 9,000; sales 22,000 at 54 to 66c.
Barley quiet.
Oats steady; receipts 23,000; sales 21,000 at 35 to 40 western 36 to 42 1/2 white.
Pork firm at $13.25.
Lard firmer at $8.15.
Butter 12 to 13.
Cheese 7 to 12 1/2

TORONTO MARKETS.

TORONTO, Dec. 26.—Flour dull; no enquiry; holders Spring Extra, $4.90; Fancy, $6.10; Extra, $5.40; Wheat dull; No 1 Spring held at $1.12; No 2 at $1.09 No 2 Fall at $1.24. Barley, No 1 66c to 85c; No 2, 58c to 60c. Peas 64c to 66c. Oats, 35c to 36c. Corn, 50c. Dressed Hogs, $4.75 to $5.

BRITISH AND FOREIGN GRAIN TRADE

LONDON, Dec 18.—The Mark Lane Express, in its weekly review of the British corn trade, says the supply of the English wheat in Mark Lane is again small, and for dry lots ready sale if experienced, especially for red, at fully later rates.

The imports of foreign wheat into London last week were liberal. In spite of "Pioneer," second to no craft of her tonnage on the lakes.

Incendiarism

The following was received too late for insertion in our last issue. A dwelling house belonging to J. M. Parrott and Nelson Venton, at Storms' Corners, five miles from Bath, was consumed by fire on the 19th inst.; between four and five o'clock in the morning. The tenant George Lane, had not resided in the house for about two week, but had some of furniture left in the house which was also consumed, no person was known to have been in the house for two days previous to the fire, and it is supposed to have been the act of incendiarism.

Social Reunion.

Messrs. Gibbard & Son, the extensive furniture dealers of this town, gave an old-time oyster supper to their employees on Christmas night, at Wilson's restaurant. About thirty partook of the luscious repast, accompanied with the usual speeches, toasts, &c. Nothing begets a better feeling between masters and men than these pleasant little gatherings, and the Messrs. Gibbard are as popular with their employees as they are with their patrons.

Police Items.

William Milo Parks was before Justice James on Thursday, charged with abusing his mother-in-law, Rebecca McKittick, also with threatening to fire his dwelling, and other acts of violence. He is said to be slightly insane, and in default of two sureties of $100 each, was committed to gaol.

Teddy White, of Roblin, was before Justices James, & Gibbard, charged with violation of the Dunkin Act—Nathaniel Kemmett, complainant. The accused admitted the charge and paid the fine—$20, and $7.70 costs. A similar charge was laid by Inspector Hogle, which was aid over till 2nd of January, on his own recognizance.

Fire.

At 2:40 Thursday Morning a fire broke out in an unoccupied two storey wooden dwelling, located on south side of Centre street, a short distance east of Thomas street. No wind was stirring at the time, otherwise the wooden wellings with which the place is completely surrounded would certainly have been consumed. The occupants of the nearest dwellings, and several volunteers, worked with a will, and undoubtedly did good service towards reventing the spread of the flames, especially in the rear where a quantity of ord-wood and several outhouses, formed a connection with the adjacent wellings. The engine got to work in good time, and the fire was extinguished in half an hour from the commencement. The property was owned, and occupied until within the last ten days by Mr. Abraham Sills, it was completely destroyed. The fire is said to have originated in the roof, and supposed to have been caused by lawless boys or rams, who have been lately making it place a rendezvous. Insured in the American company for $650, which covers the loss.

Jubilee Singers.

We are pleased to announce that the famed Sheppard Jubilee Singers are out to visit Napanee. They will give entertainments in the M. E. Church, Saturday and Monday evening next. They are genuine coloured people, ex-aves, and will present a program composed of negro sacred melodies, making a gular old fashioned camp meeting concert. We can assure our citizens that will be a rare musical treat, and hope they will turn out and enjoy it. They ill also take part in the services in the M. E. Church on Sabbath next both that the temperance cause is one and dissoluble with truth. We claim, also, it is not a local, but a general cause. We maintain that it is above sect, above party. The good to be obtained is a common good, and the cause of temperance being the cause of humanity, it demands the sacrifices, labors and prayers, of all who wish well to our country and race. So believing, we feel we are safe in laying down the following principles, as so many axioms:

1. It is in the power of the state to arrest the evils of intemperance as it now exists.
2. The power to arrest it, implies the obligation to do so.
3. This obligation rests first, on the electors who make the legislators, and second, on the legislators who make the laws.
4. Nothing but law can arrest the evil in its present form.
5. And no law but this, namely: The sale of alcohol for useful purposes; beyond that it is prohibited.
6. The single ground on which we would ask for such a law, is its absolute necessity.

The license system and moral suasion, in whatever form, having been tried in vain. What we want and must have, is a prohibitory law, and that law promptly and vigorously enforced.

Rev Mr. Young and others will address the next meeting on Sunday afternoon next at 3:30 p. m. Every friend of sobriety and good order, every lover of temperance, should take an interest in these meetings.

CLARKS MILLS.

(From our Special Correspondent.)

At a regular meeting of True Blue Lodge Clarks Mills, the following officers were elected for the ensuing Year:—

- W. M. Charles Babcock.
- D. M. Robert Saul.
- Chap. Robert Glovers.
- R. S. George Sherlock.
- Trea. James Saul.
- 1st Com. Richard Glover.
- 2nd " William Bicknell.
- 3rd " William McFurson.
- 4th " Albert Lewis.
- 5th " John Saul.
- I. T. David Galbreath.
- O. T. Irey Babcock.
- D. of C., William Paul.

During last week several robberies have been committed in this section of country, the premises of Edward Bell was entered and a set of harness taken. Mr. Hamilton house was entered and an overcoat and some other things taken. Charles Wilson also had his buffalo robe stolen.

The peaceable inhabitants of Clarks Mills are aroused again by the people who gather from East, West, North, South, to raise a hullabaloo at the whole in the wall, drinking, threats of shooting, etc. are indulged in. GIMLET.

MORVEN.

(From our Special Correspondent.)

Merry Christmas to you Mr. Editor, Well the 'Pop Corn Festival,' went off here last night, as announced. Considerable was said of it in prospect, but the half was not dreamed of. The full programme was on hand to the letter, just as the Rev. Stratton always does business. There was music first class, dialogues superb, recitations good. It must require an enormous amount of patience, and adaptation to the work, on the part of Miss Frank Stratton, to train so many children and do it so well. She certainly deserves great credit, the entire management this year, being under her control, and though these entertainments have been held hereabouts since the Rev. Mr. Stratton's advent among us, this one outstrips them all. We bespeak for her a successful career as teacher in music, or public school. I had thought Mr. Editor, to give your readers the names of the pieces rendered and the parties rendering them, but as there were over thirty of the former, and seventy five of the latter it would require too some delicious edibles in the shape of pastry, cakes, nuts, fruit confectionary, &c. His Christmas cake is most tastefully iced and decorated, his confectionery enticing, and his oyster stews beyond description.

T. Dickens.

It being an established fact that more sweetmeats are consumed at Christmas time than in the remaining fifty-one weeks combined, Dickens, as usual, has received a car load of the choicest delicacies of the season, don't forget him when searching for one of those old-fashioned five-story Christmas cakes or a collection of bon bons for the little ones.

Boots, Shoes, and Gaiters.

Fraser & Rennie.

Our streets at present are covered with three inches of mud, and the roads are almost impassable, Messrs. Fraser & Rennie, aware of this undeniable fact, have been displaying an enormous stock of boots, shoes, and gaiters, from the most delicate French kid to the most sturdy brogan, and have determined to furnish ladies, gents and children with that indispensable article of dress—a well fitting boot. Ready made clothing, mits, fur goods, &c., at prices to suit the times.

Millinery, Dry Goods, Ready-made Clothing, &c.

Downey Bros.

This old established firm still continues to merit its full share of public patronage. The preparations for the holiday season have been extensive, and the selections are such as will invite attention from intending purchasers. The carpet department is complete, and the arrangements for exhibition are far ahead of any similar establishment outside the cities. The millinery dept. is replete with all the latest novelties in dress goods and trimmings. The ready-made clothing and order department is unusually active, and it is plainly evident that the Messrs. Downey expect a rush of custom and have made excellent preparations to meet it.

W. A. Rose.

In the Perry block (formerly Rose & Fralick). Mr. Rose keeps a large assortment of gents, underwear, hats, caps, neck-ties, gloves, dress-goods, boots and shoes, buffalo robes &c. Mr. Rose has made extra additions for the present season, and hopes to sustain the reputation of the firm for fairness of dealing and moderation in prices.

Meagher Bros.

Opposite Tichborne House, have an established reputation for cheap goods, yet withal, of a quality so superior as to be afforded only through the rapid sales and throng of customers with which this firm seem to be favoured. The Messrs. Meagher keep a general stock of dry goods, including ready-made clothing, boots and shoes, buffalo robes, &c., &c. Every article marked down to prices exceedingly low.

Slaven & Ironside

J. Rennie's building—East End, This firm is a great favorite with the public, and since adopting the cash basis their sales have rapidly increased. Additions have been made in every department, and at present they defy competition in stylish and seasonable goods, their stock of which is never allowed to diminish, so that the most fastidious can always be suited. Their millinery rooms are attractively fitted up, and our lady readers are well aware of the elegant outfits that issue therefrom. Messrs. Slaven & Ironside expects a call from both old and new customers during the holiday season.

Sweeney Bros.

A few doors below Downey's. The Messrs. Sweeney are showing an attractive assortment of mantles, dress goods, gents' clothing, millinery, underwear, dry goods, shawls, &c., &c. The millinery department gives their lady customers excellent satisfaction.

market quiet but brisk; strengthened by speculative demand. There were large sales of spring extra on Monday at $5 10; holders now firm at $5.15; sales 200 spring extra at $5.25.

OSWEGO MARKETS.

OSWEGO, N. Y., Dec. 26.—Wheat unchanged—No 1 Milwaukee club $1 34; No 1 white Michigan, $1.45; red state $1.39.

Corn unchanged—No 2 Toledo 60c. Barley nominal—No 1 Canada held at 92c; No 2 do 87c.

NEW YORK MARKETS.

NEW YORK, Dec. 26.—Rye flour steady at $3.70 to $4.25.

Wheat ½c better; receipts 158,000; sales 8,000 at call; $1.33½ No 2 spring Jan.

Rye quiet 75 to 77½c. Corn old firm, new dull declining; receipts 9,000; sales 22,000 at 54 to 66c.

Barley quiet. Oats steady; receipts 23,000; sales 21,000 at 35 to 40 western 36 to 42½ white.

Pork firm at $13.25. Lard firmer at $8.15. Butter 12 to 13. Cheese 7 to 12½.

TORONTO MARKETS.

TORONTO, Dec. 26.—Flour dull; no enquiry; holders Spring Extra, $4.90; Fancy, $6.10; Extra, $5.40; Wheat dull; No 1 Spring held at $1.12; No 2 at $1.09 No 2 Fall at $1.24. Barley, No. 1 66c to 85c; No 2, 58c to 60c. Peas 64c to 66c. Oats, 35c to 36c. Corn. 50c. Dressed Hogs, $4.75 to $5.

BRITISH AND FOREIGN GRAIN TRADE

LONDON, Dec. 18.—The Mark Lane Express, in its weekly review of the British corn trade, says the supply of the English wheat in Mark Lane is again small, and for dry lots ready sale if experienced, especially for red, at fully later rates.

The imports of foreign wheat into London last week were liberal. In spite of the heavy supplies, which consisted mainly of Russian and East Indian descriptions, a steady feeling was apparent in trade.

Millers have evinced an increased desire to operate, and it is probable, that as soon as the Russian supplies cease prices may rally a shilling.

The requirements of France and desire to have the tariff temporarily remitted on foreign grain imported from this country are also strong points in trade, which is, besides, upheld to some extent by a very fair outward movement, the exports last week exceeding 11,500 quarters.

The decrease in shipments from America, which will now be experienced should also help trade. It is certain that our own increased winter consumption cannot be relied on sufficiently as a power to enhance the value of wheat, and should price rise the improvement will be due, as far as can be seen at present, to the deficiency of crops requiring to be supplemented by importation in neighboring European countries. Fortified by these considerations, holders still refrain from pressing sales, and in the uncertain state of political affairs the future course of the grain market is more difficult to foresee than it has been for a long time past.

FOR HOLIDAY
We are now offering a
Electro-Plate
CONSISTING OF SOUP TURENS,
PICKLE STANDS,
BUTTER COOLERS,
SPOON HOLDESS,
CORKETS

the nearest dwellings, and several lunteers, worked with a will, and undoubtedly did good service towards eventing the spread of the flames, especially in the rear where a quantity of rd-wood and several outhouses, med a connection with the adjacent cellings. The engine got to work in od time, and the fire was extinguish- in half an hour from the commence- ent. The property was owned, and cupied until within the last ten days Mr. Abraham Silis, it was completely stroyed. The fire is said to have ginated in the roof, and supposed to ve been caused by lawless boys or mps, who have been lately making : place a rendezvous. Insured in ne American company for $650, ich covers the loss.

Sheppard Singers.

We are pleased to announce that the eed Sheppard Jubilee Singers are out to visit Napanee. They will give :entertainments in the M. E. Church, Saturday and Monday evening next. ey are genuine coloured people, ex- ves, and will present a programme com- ed of negro sacred melodies, making a ular old fashioned camp meeting ert. We can assure our citizens that ill be a rare musical treat, and hope y will turn out and enjoy it. They l also take part in the services in the E. Church on Sabbath next, both rning and evening. We give the owing letter from the Rev. Wm. Blair, ster at Lynn, Ont., regarding their pearance in that town:—"Last night Sheppard Jubilee Singers attended M. E. Church in this place and sang ead of the usual choir. The church s crowded to suffocation, both pews l isles and lobby, and many went away ble to obtain even standing room. It s quite a contrast to their first recep- d a few evenings ago, before their true racter as magnificent singers and ristian ladies and gentlemen become y known. To say that everybody was ighted last night with the pieces they dered during the regular service is simple justice, but when the pastor nged the exercises and proceeded with rayer and fellowship meeting their ching experiences and soul-stirring gs went straight to every heart. In owship meeting with what fervent rance and pathetic tones did Mr. sey speak of the judgement day, and capacity of the ship Zion to land her usapds on "fair Canaans shore." Mr. pparde's thrilling story of slave life and wonderful deliverance of body and l wrought out for him by the common her brought tears to many eyes. But an Miss Cassie Robinson, true to her thodist convictions, arose to confess ist before that large congregation, story of her conversion five years ago l the sustaining grace that had brought so far on the story of her conversion years ago and the sustaining grace t had brought her so far on her iney drew from her Christian hearers y a hearty "God bless you." The tlemanly and affable advance agent, S. Ober, was also present and took t in the meeting. Of the remaining nbers of the Company the merry s Carrie Wesley sings a fine soprano, quiet, dignified and reserved Miss gh with the above-mentioned Miss nson sings a splendid alto, while Mr. rk is perfectly at home in the highest ges of a magnificent tenor. At the e of the services—which could scarcely dlosed—many were so loath to leave delightful spot that a large number he congregation filed past the singers ding within the altar rail and bade n an affectionate farewell. Altogether ther such memorable meeting I do expect soon to enjoy."

WM. BLAIR, PASTOR.

country, the premises of Edward Bell was entered and a set of harness taken. Mr. Hamilton house was entered and an overcoat and some other things taken. Charles Wilson also had his buffalo robe stolen.

The peaceable inhabitants of Clarks Mills are aroused again by the people who gather from East, West, North, South, to raise a hullabaloo at the whole in the wall, drinking, threats of shooting, etc. are indulged in. GIMLET.

MORVEN.

(From our Special Correspondent.)

Merry Christmas to you Mr. Editor, Well the 'Pop Corn Festival,' went off here last night, as announced. Considerable was said of it in prospect, but the half was not dreamed of. The full programme was on hand to the letter, just as the Rev. Stratton always does business. There was music first class, dialogues superb, recitations good. It must require an enormous amount of patience, and adaptation to the work, on the part of Miss Frank Stratton, to train so many children and do it so well. She certainly deserves great credit, the entire management this year, being under her control, and though these entertainments have been held hereabouts since the Rev. Mr. Stratton's advent among us, this one outstrips them all. We bespeak for her a successful career as teacher in music, or public school. I had thought Mr. Editor, to give your readers the names of the pieces rendered and the parties rendering them, but as there were over thirty of the former, and seventy five of the latter it would require too much of your valuable space. I am half tempted to speak of the little girls who sang so sweetly together, and the solo, especially those by the small children but invidious distinctions would likely be out of place when everybody did so well. Over 300 persons were present and evinced their entire satisfaction with bursts of applause and hearty encore's repeatedly given. It was announced at the close that the exercises would be repeated at Hamburg New Year's eve with the addition of new and popular pieces, as also a lecture from Rev J. Young on "True Manhood." I don't see how it can be made any better. I intend to go again, M. D. Canfield and Rev. F. W. McVeity, B. A., made some appropriate remarks at the conclusion. Thus terminates what was advertised, the best entertainment of the season.

ONE WHO WAS PRESENT.

The Holiday Season.

The following was crowded out last week, yet it is not too late for the holiday season.

Stoves Tinware, Hardware &c

T. H. Waller.

In the old Parish stand 1, Dundas st. south side. Coal and wood, parlor cooking stoves, coal grates, tinware and gas fixtures in great variety. Wire signs, repairing and manufacturing as usual.

A. McLeod.

Dundas st., north side next door to Fred Smiths. Tin ware, coal and wood stoves and grates. Gas fixtures a specialty, and erected in a superior manner. Repairing and manufacturing done on the premises. Pumps, tubing, and other house fixtures inserted at short notice.

Ferguson & Bros.

Dundas st., south side. Hardware and machinery fittings, patent articles and builders materials, plate glass of all sizes and grades in stock, and imported to order. Ship and mill supplies. Messrs. Ferguson have an extensive town and country patronage. Householders consulting domestic economy should inspect their stock.

Meagher Bros.

Opposite Tichborne House, have an established reputation for cheap goods, yet withal, of a quality so superior as to be afforded only through the rapid sales and throng of customers with which this firm seem to be favoured. The Messrs. Meagher keep a general stock of dry goods, including ready-made clothing, boots and shoes, buffalo robes, &c., &c. Every article marked down to prices exceedingly low.

Slaven & Ironside

J. Rennie's building—East End, This firm is a great favorite with the public, and since adopting the cash basis their sales have rapidly increased. Additions have been made in every department, and at present they defy competition in stylish and seasonable goods, their stock of which is never allowed to diminish, so that the most fastidious can always be suited. Their millinery rooms are attractively fitted up, and our lady readers are well aware of the elegant outfits that issue therefrom. Messrs. Slaven & Ironside expects a call from both old and new customers during the holiday season.

Sweeney Bros.

A few doors below Downey's. The Messrs. Sweeney are showing an attractive assortment of mantles, dress goods, gents' clothing, millinery, underwear, dry goods, shawls, &c., &c. The millinery department gives their lady customers excellent satisfaction.

Hooper & Son.

In the Perry Block, is one of the oldest established dry goods firms in town. Every department seen in a first-class dry goods house, is in full operation. Millinery, carpets, dress goods, furs, robes woollens, prints, &c. The millinery dept., is under the management of an experienced lady, under whose supervision the making of most fashionable and becoming outfits are every day facts, any article in the dry goods line can be had of Messrs. Hooper & Son, and of unexceptionable quality.

The Halifax wharf-owners are about to petition the Dominion Government to extend the track of the Intercol. Railway into the business part of the city, and to make an immediate survey along the line of wharves. Several wharf-owners have expressed their willingness to give a right of way for such a purpose.

MARKETS

(Corrected weekly.)

NAPANEE Dec. 28th.

(Report by Diamond and Sherwood, Napanee.)

Oats—30c. per bushel.
Rye—50c. per bushel.
Pease—60c. per bushel.
Barley—50c to 60c. per bushel.
Wheat—1.10 per bushel.
Flour—$2.80 to $3 per cwt.
Bran—$15.00 per ton.
Shorts—$22.00 per ton.
Buckwheat—50c. per bushel.
Wood—$3.00 to $3.50 per cord.
Coal—$5.00 per ton.
Meal 81 25 to $1 35 per cwt.
Oat Meal. $5 per bbl.
Timothy Seed. $2 25 per bush.

(Report by the Market Clerk, Napanee.)

Hay—$10.00 to $12.00 per ton.
Hides—40.50 to $7.00 per cwt.
Butter—15c. to 22c. per lb.
Eggs—15c. per dozen.
Beef per cwt.—$3.00 to $4.00.
Bread—14c. per loaf.
Coal—$4.50 to $5.00 per ton.
Chickens—25c. to 30c. per pair.
Ducks—40c. to 50c. per pair.
Turkeys each. 50c to $1.00
Geese each, 25c to 40c
Partridge per pair. 20c to 25
Flour—$3.10 per cwt.
Deacon Ship—$3c.
Lard " "—12c.
Lamb and Pelts—50c. to $1.00.
Oatmeal—$4.00. per cwt.
Onions—70c. to $1.00 per bushel.
Potatoes—35c. per bushel.
Pork—$4.50 to $5.50.
Straw—$3.00 to $4.00
Tallow 7c per lb

may rally a shilling.

The requirements of France and desire to have the tariff temporarily remitted on foreign grain imported from this country are also strong points in trade, which is, besides, upheld to some extent by a very fair outward movement, the exports last week exceeding 11,500 quarters.

The decrease in shipments from America, which will now be experienced should also help trade. It is certain that our own increased winter consumption can not be relied on sufficiently as a power to enhance the value of wheat and should price rise the improvement will be due, as far as can be seen at present, to the deficiency of crops requiring to be supplemented by importation in neighboring European countries. Fortified by these considerations, holders still refrain from pressing sales, and in the uncertain state of political affairs the future course of the grain market is more difficult to foresee than it has been for a long time past.

FOUR HOLIDAYS

We are now offering a

Electro-Pla

CONSISTING

SOUP TURENS,
PICKLE STANDS,
BUTTER COOLERS,
SPOON HOLDS,
GOBELTS, SYRUP PIT
BERRY
C

All of the above

Offered during the

All parties in want of these goods should see o has never before been
Our Stock in every other department is very beate

CALL AT W

Napanee, Dec. 19th, 1877.

WINE IS A

STRONG DRIN

Whosoever is Deceived

Therefore be not deceived by parties telling your old friend BOYLE'S. My Stoves ar old iron, as asserted by others in the tra ter, because they are heavier and con and have given go

Give Me a Call Before

No connection with any other But Manufactur

Tinware of

BY FIRST CLASS ME

JOB V

Of all kinds in my line, and k
COOKING, PARLOR, COOK, BOX & CO.
EXTRA CASTINGS FOR STOV
PLOUGHS & PLOUGH-SE

Yours truly

H

In Wm. Miller's

Napanee, Nov. 14th, 1877.

Henry Boyle.

In Millers old stand—East End, friend Boyle is doing a rushing trade, seems determined to secure every stomer in search of stoves, and tinware, which he has now some fine samples exhibition. Mr. B. makes a speciality stove fixtures, and his copper ware is aique in design and workmanship. It could be remembered that Mr. B., received special mention for his superior habit at our Agricultural show, in stober, in fact every article he sells is ill gotten up and of the best material. anufacturing and repairing done by mpetent and obliging workmen and in efficient manner.

Wright & Co.

Opposite Brice House. Coal and skinng stoves and fixtures, cheese vats, d boilers, refrigerators, tin and copper re, agricultural implement, Paints, s, varnishes, brushes &c. A full and ried stock of hardware patent novelties . Repairing done on the premises first class workmen.

Henry W. Perry.

Mr. Perry, (formerly with Boyle & right), commenced business only nine nths ago, yet he has already secured a ady run of customers. Having had a g experience in the hardware business, stock will be found complete and his ces exceedingly low. Don't forget n.

Cakes, Confectionery, Fruit, &c.

A. Jamieson.

There is nothing like getting well filled ide, and our friend Jamieson will show ne delicious edibles in the shape of try, cakes, nuts, fruit confectionary, . His Christmas cake is most taste- ly iced and decorated, his confectionery icing, and his oyster stews beyond cription.

T. Dickens.

It being an established fact that more etments are consumed at Christmas e than in the remaining fifty-one eks combined, Dickens, as usual, has eived a car load of the choicest delic- as of the season, don't forget him when rching for one of those old-fashioned -story Christmas cakes or a collection on bonns for the little ones.

Boots, Shoes, and Gaiters.

Fraser & Rennie.

Our streets at present are covered with ee inches of mud, and the roads are ost impassable, Messrs. Fraser & nnie, aware of this undeniable fact, e been displaying an enormous stock boots, shoes, and gaiters, from the st delicate French kid to the most rdy brogan, and have determined to ish ladies, gents and children with t indispensable article of dress—a well ing boot. Ready made clothing, mits, goods, &c., at prices to suit the times.

Millinery, Dry Goods, Ready-made Clothing, &c.

Downey Bros.

This old established firm still continues erit its full share of public patronage. e preparations for the holiday season e been extensive, and the selections such as will invite attention from in- ding purchasers. The carpet depart- nt is complete, and the arrangements exhibition are far ahead of any similar blishment outside the cities. The linery dep't. is replete with all the st novelties in dress goods and trim- gs. The ready-made clothing and er department is unusually active, it is plainly evident that the Messrs. wney expect a rush of custom and have le excellent preparations to meet it.

W. A. Rose.

n the Perry block (formerly Rose & lick). Mr. Rose keeps a large rtment of gents, underwear, hats, s, neck-ties, gloves, dress-goods, boots

CONSUMPTION CURED.

A N old physician, retired from practice, hav- ing had placed in his hands by an East In- dia missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy, for the speedy and permanent cure of consumption, bronchitis, catarrh, asthma, and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for nervous debility and all nervous complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive, and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send, free of charge, to all who desire it, this receipt in Ger- man, French, or English, with full directions for preparing and using. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper, W. W. Sherar, 126 Powers' Block, Rochester, N. Y.

BELLEVILLE MARKETS

BELLEVILLE, Dec. 26th, 1877.

Provisions have been in plentiful supply during the week, but changes in prices are few and slight.

Grain deliveries have been moderate, and prices are rather lower.

Wheat, $1 15 to $1 18.
Barley, 60c. to 65c.
Rye, 55c to 57c
Oats, 35c to 36c
Peas 60c to 62c.
Beef, per quarter 4 1/2 to 5 1/2
Hams, 9c to 10c.
Dressed Hogs, $5 to $6 per cwt.
Butter, Roll, 15c to 25c
Butter, Tub, 16c to 17c
Cheese, 9c to 10c
Lard, 11c to 15c.
Eggs, 14c to 16c
Potatoes, 50c to 60c per bag
cabbage, 50c per doz.
Hay, $11 to $15 per ton
Flour, Wholesale, $5 30 per bbl.
Flour, retail, 5.30 to $6.00 per bbl
Apples, 60c to $1.50 per bag.
chickens, 25c to 40c per pair.
Ducks, wild, 50c per pair.
Turkeys, 70c to 1.25 each.
Geese, 30c to 50c each.

MONTREAL MARKETS.

MONTREAL, Dec. 26.—Flour—Receipts 1,200 brls.; sales reported 200 bbls; market quiet but firmer; strengthened by speculative demand. There were large sales of spring extra on Monday at $5 10; holders now firm at $5.15; sales 200 spring extra at $5.25.

OSWEGO MARKETS.

OSWEGO, N. Y., Dec. 26.—Wheat un- changed—No 1 Milwaukee club $1.34; No 1 white Michigan, $1.45; red state $1.39.
Corn unchanged—No 2 Toledo 60c.
Barley nominal—No 1 Canada held at 92; No 2 do 87c.

NEW YORK MARKETS.

NEW YORK, Dec. 26.—Rye flour steady at $3.70 to $4.25.
Wheat 1/4c better; receipts 158,000; sales 8,000 at call; $1.33 1/2 No 2 spring Jan.
Rye quiet 75 to 77 1/2c.
Corn old firm, new dull declining; re- cepts 9,000; sales 22,000 at 54 to 66c.
Barley quiet.
Oats steady; receipts 23,000; sales 21,000 at 35 to 40 western 36 to 42 1/2 white.
Pork firm at $13.25.
Lard firmer at $8.15.
Butter 12 to 13.
Cheese 7 to 12 1/2

TORONTO MARKETS.

TORONTO, Dec. 26.—Flour dull; no enquiry; holders Spring Extra, $4.90; Fancy, $6.10; Extra, $5.40; Wheat dull; No 1 Spring held at $1.12; No 2 at $1.09 No 2 Fall at $1.24. Barley, No. 1 66c to 85c; No 2, 58c to 60c. Peas 64c to 66c. Oats, 35c to 36c. Corn, 50c. Dressed Hogs, $4.75 to $5.

BRITISH AND FOREIGN GRAIN TRADE

LONDON, Dec 18.—The Mark Lane Express, in its weekly review of the British corn trade, says the supply of the English wheat in Mark Lane is again small, and for dry lots ready sale if experienced, especially for red, at fully later rates.

The imports of foreign wheat into London last week were liberal. In spite of the heavy supplies, which consisted mainly of Russian and East Indian de-

LITTLE FALLS CHEESE MARKET.

Dec 17.—2,186 boxes of factory cheese November make, sold at 10 to 11 1/2 chiefly 11 to 11 1/2; the sales of farm cheese num- bered 223 boxes, bulk going at 10 to 11. Butter, 64 packages sold at 18 to 25; most common price being 22

Scholarship for Sale.

C I OL ARSHIP for Beatty & Co's. Commer- cial College Belleville, can be bought at a bargain—Apply to

A. W. BENSON,
Napanea,
32-1/2.

Orat this Office.

To the Electors of Napanea:

GENTLEMAN,—Having been solicited by a number of my friends to accept a nomination for the office of Deputy Reeve, I beg to announce myself as a Candidate for that position at the approach- ing Municipal Election.

I have the honour

to be, Gentlemen,

Your Obt. Serv't,

ROBERT DENISON.

Napanea, Ont., Dec. 21st, 1877.

To the Electors of the Town of Napanea:

GENTLEMEN,—I am a candidate for the office of Deputy Reeve for the year 1878 and respectfully solicit your votes and in- fluence. I will endeavor before the elec- tion to address you publicly on the Municipal affairs of the town.

Yours &c.

A. H. ROE.

ELECTRICITY !

THOMAS' EXCELSIOR ELECTRIC OIL.

WORTH TEN TIMES ITS WEIGHT IN GOLD— PAIN CANNOT STAY WHERE IT IS USED.

IT is the cheapest medicine ever made. One dose cures common sore throat. One bottle has cured Bronchitis. Fifty cents' worth has cured an old standing cough. It positively cures catarrh, asth- ma, and croup. Fifty cents' worth has cured crick in the back, and the same quan- tity lame back of eight years' standing. It cures swelled neck, tumors, rheumatism, neuralgia, contraction of the muscles, stiff joints spinal difficulties, and pain and sore- ness in any part, no matter where it may be, nor from what cause it may arise, it al- ways does you good. Twenty-five cents- worth has cured bad cases of chronic and bloody dysentery. One teaspoonful cures colic in 15 minutes. It will cure any case of piles it is possible to cure. Six or eight applications is warranted to cure any case of excoriated nipples or inflamed breast. For bruises, if applied often and bound up, there is never the slightest discoloration of the skin. It stops the pain of a burn as soon as applied. Cures frosted feet, boils, warts, and corns, and wounds of every description on man or beast.

Beware of Imitations.—Ask for Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. See that the signa- ture of S. N. THOMAS is on the wrapper, and the names of Northrop and Lyman are blown in the bottle, and TAKE NO OTHER. Sold by all medicine dealers. Price 25 cts. NORTHPROP & LYMAN, Toronto, Ont., Proprietors for the Dominion.

NOTE.—Electric—Selected and Electrized.

The Great Shoshonees Remedy

Is an Indian vegetable compound, com- posed of the juices of a variety of remark- able medicinal plants and herbs; the various properties of these different in- gredients, when combined, is of constitu-

CHRISTMAS GOODS,

IN GREAT ABUNDANCE,

—AT—

HENDERSON'S

BOOKSTORE,

Dundas Street, - - Napanea.

All the Annual Volumes for 1877.

SUNDAY AT HOME,
LEISURE HOUR,
SUNDAY MAGAZINE,
GOOD WORDS,
BRITISH WORKMAN,
BRITISH WORKWOMAN,

BRITISH JUVENILE,
LITTLE FOLKS,
KIND WORDS,
CHATTERBOX,
CHILDREN'S FRIEND,
INFANT'S MAGAZINE,

FAMILY FRIEND,
FRIENDLY VISITOR,
THE ADVISER,
THE PRIZE,
THE PEEP-SHOW,
CHILD'S COMPANION,
LITTLE WIDE AWAKE,

MERRY LUNHEAMS,
CHILD'S OWN MAGAZINE,
CHILDREN'S PLEASURE BOOK.

Photographic Albums,

SCRAP ALBUMS,
AUTOCGRAPH ALBUMS,

BEAUTIFULLY BOUND VOLUMES
OF THE POETS,

At various prices.

Splendid stock of Elegantly Bound Story
Books for Boys and Girls.

TOY BOOKS FOR THE MILLION,
at any price.

THE BEST ASSORTMENT OF

of the season, don't forget him when ching for one of those old-fashioned story Christmas cakes or a collection on bonds for the little ones.

Boots, Shoes, and Gaiters.

Fraser & Rennie.

Our streets at present are covered with inches of mud, and the roads are impassable. Messrs. Fraser & Rennie, aware of this undeniable fact, have been displaying an enormous stock of boots, shoes, and gaiters, from the delicate French kid to the most durable brogan, and have determined to sell them at a low price. Ready made clothing, mits, gloves, &c., at prices to suit the times.

Millinery, Dry Goods, Ready-made Clothing, &c.

Downey Bros.

Our old established firm still continues to merit its full share of public patronage. Preparations for the holiday season have been extensive, and the selections such as will invite attention from inquiring purchasers. The carpet department is complete, and the arrangements for the exhibition are far ahead of any similar display outside the city. The millinery department is replete with all the latest novelties in dress goods and trims. The ready-made clothing and carpet department is unusually active, and it is plainly evident that the Messrs. Downey expect a rush of custom and have excellent preparations to meet it.

W. A. Rose.

The Perry Block (formerly Rose & Co.) Mr. Rose keeps a large assortment of gents, underwear, hats, neck-ties, gloves, dress-goods, boots, shoes, buffalo robes &c. Mr. Rose has made extra additions for the present season, and hopes to sustain the reputation of the firm for fairness of dealing and moderation in prices.

Meagher Bros.

Opposite Tichborne House, have an established reputation for cheap goods, of a quality so superior as to be sold only through the rapid sales of a large number of customers with which this firm is favoured. The Messrs. Meagher keep a general stock of dry goods, including ready-made clothing, and shoes, buffalo robes, &c., &c. Every article marked down to prices singularly low.

Slaven & Ironside

Rennie's building—East End. This is a great favorite with the public, since adopting the cash basis their prices have rapidly increased. Additions have been made in every department, and they defy competition in cheap and sensible goods, their stock which is never allowed to diminish, at the most fastidious can always be supplied. Their millinery rooms are attractively fitted up, and our lady readers will be aware of the elegant outfits that they can obtain therefrom. Messrs. Slaven & Ironside expect a call from both old and new customers during the holiday season.

Sweeney Bros.

A few doors below Downey's. The Messrs. Sweeney are showing an attractive assortment of mantles, dress goods, gents' clothing, millinery, underwear, dry goods, shawls, &c., &c. The millinery department gives their lady customers excellent satisfaction.

Hooper & Son.

The Perry Block, is one of the old established dry goods firms in town. The department seen in a first-class goods house, is in full operation. Carpets, carpets, dress goods, furs, woollens, prints, &c. The millinery is under the management of an experienced lady, under whose supervision the making of most fashionable and elegant outfits are every day made, and in the dry goods line can be had

Barley nominal.—No 1 Canada held at 92c; No 2 do 87c.

NEW YORK MARKETS.

NEW YORK, Dec. 26.—Rye flour steady at $3.70 to $4.25.
Wheat 4c better; receipts 158,000; sales 8,000 at call; $1.33 1/2 No 2 spring Jan.
Rye quiet 75 to 77 1/2.
Corn old firm, new dull declining; receipts 9,000; sales 22,000 at 54 to 66c.
Barley quiet.
Oats steady; receipts 23,000; sales 21,000 at 35 to 40 western 36 to 42 1/2 white.
Pork firm at $13.25.
Lard firmer at $8.15.
Butter 12 to 13.
Cheese 7 to 12 1/2.

TORONTO MARKETS.

TORONTO, Dec. 26.—Flour dull; no enquiry; holders Spring Extra, $4.90; Fancy, $6.10; Extra, $5.40; Wheat dull; No 1 Spring held at $1.12; No 2 at $1.09; No 2 Fall at $1.24. Barley, No. 1 66c to 85c; No 2, 58c to 60c. Peas 64c to 66c. Oats, 35c to 36c. Corn, 50c. Dressed Hogs, $4.75 to $5.

BRITISH AND FOREIGN GRAIN TRADE.

LONDON, Dec. 18.—The Mark Lane Express, in its weekly review of the British corn trade, says the supply of the English wheat in Mark Lane is again small, and for dry lots ready sale if experienced, especially for red, at fully later rates.

The imports of foreign wheat into London last week were liberal. In spite of the heavy supplies, which consisted mainly of Russian and East Indian descriptions, a steady feeling was apparent in trade.

Millers have evinced an increased desire to operate, and it is probable, that as soon as the Russian supplies cease prices may rally a shilling.

The requirements of France and desire to have the tariff temporarily remitted on foreign grain imported from this country are also strong points in trade, which is, besides, upheld to some extent by a very fair outward movement, the exports last week exceeding 11,500 quarters.

The decrease in shipments from America, which will now be experienced should also help trade. It is certain that our own increased winter consumption can not be relied on sufficiently as a power to enhance the value of wheat and should price rise the improvement will be due, as far as can be seen at present, to the deficiency of crops requiring to be supplemented by importation in neighboring European countries. Fortified by these considerations, holders still refrain from pressing sales, and in the uncertain state of political affairs the future course of the grain market is more difficult to foresee than it has been for a long time past.

WORTH TEN TIMES ITS WEIGHT IN GOLD—PAIN CANNOT STAY WHERE IT IS USED

IT is the cheapest medicine ever made. One dose cures common sore throat. One bottle has cured Bronchitis. Fifty cents' worth has cured an old standing cough. It positively cures catarrh, asthma, and croup. Fifty cents' worth has cured crick in the back, and the same quantity lame back of eight years' standing. It cures swelled neck, tumors, rheumatism, neuralgia, contraction of the muscles, stiff joints, spinal difficulties, and pain and soreness in any part, no matter where it may be, nor from what cause it may arise, it always does you good. Twenty-five cents' worth has cured bad cases of chronic and bloody dysentery. One teaspoonful cures colic in 15 minutes. It will cure any case of piles it is possible to cure. Six or eight applications is warranted to cure any case of excoriated nipples or inflamed breast. For bruises, if applied often and bound up, there is never the slightest discoloration of the skin. It stops the pain of a burn as soon as applied. Cures frosted feet, boils, warts, and corns, and wounds of every description on man or beast.

Beware of Imitations.—Ask for Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. See that the signature of S. N. THOMAS is on the wrapper, and the names of Northrop and Lyman are blown in the bottle, and TAKE NO OTHER. Sold by all medicine dealers. Price 25 cts. NORTHROP & LYMAN, Toronto, Ont., Proprietors for the Dominion.

NOTE.—Electric—Selected and Electrized.

The Great Shoshonees Remedy

Is an Indian vegetable compound, composed of the juices of a variety of remarkable medicinal plants and herbs; the various properties of these different ingredients, when combined, is of constituted as to act simultaneously upon the Blood, Lungs, Liver, Kidneys, Digestive Organs, Nervous system, &c., restoring their functions to healthy actions, and, being purely vegetable, is as harmless as nature's own beverage. This medicine is a decided benefit in all, and as permanent cure in a large majority of diseases of the blood, such as Scrofula, Erysipelas, Salt Rheum, Canker, Pimples, &c. In prescribing this medicine we do not claim that it always performs cures; but this we do say, that it purifies and enriches the blood, permanently curing a large majority of diseases arising from its impurities. It stands far ahead and unequalled among the hundreds of competing medicines of the day. It has stood the test of ten years, and is to-day more popular than ever. As a summer restorative it stands unrivalled; it enables the system to bear up against the constant drain to which it is subjected by a high temperature. Persons who are subject to bilious Colic, Dysentery, Indigestion, &c. should take the Shoshonees Remedy. Price of the Remedy in pint bottles, $1; Pills, 25 cts. a box. Sold by all medicine dealers.

FOR THE HOLIDAYS!

We are now offering a splendid assortment of

Electro-Plated Ware,

CONSISTING OF

SOUP TUREENS,
PICKLE STANDS,
BUTTER COOLERS,
SPOON HOLDESS,
GOBLETS,
SYRUP PITCHERS,
BERRY DISHES,
CAKE BASKETS,
SALT DISHES,
NAPKIN RINGS,
CALL BELLS, &c., &c.

All of the above goods will be

Offered during the Holidays at Cost.

All parties in want of these goods should see our Stock and prices. Such an opportunity has never before been offered in Nanana.

CHILDREN'S FRIEND,
INFANT'S MAGAZINE.

FAMILY FRIEND,
FRIENDLY VISITOR,
THE ADVISER,
THE PRIZE,
THE PEEP-SHOW,
CHILD'S COMPANION,
LITTLE WIDE AWAKE.

MERRY LUNHEAMS,
CHILD'S OWN MAGAZINE,
CHILDREN'S PLEASURE BOOK.

Photographic Albums,

SCRAP ALBUMS,
AUTOCGRAPH ALBUMS,

BEAUTIFULLY BOUND VOLUMES OF THE POETS,

At various prices.

Splendid stock of Elegantly Bound Story
Books for Boys and Girls.

TOY BOOKS FOR THE MILLION,
at any price.

THE BEST ASSORTMENT OF

POCKET BIBLES,

We ever had, and Marked Down to Hard Times Prices.

Wesleyan Methodist Hymn Books.

Episcopal Methodist Hymn Books.

Presbyterian Hymn Books:

Church Services,
Church Services with Hymns,
Common Prayers,
Common Prayers with Hymns,
Hymns Ancient and Modern.

Work Boxes and Writing Desks in Wood,
Paper Machie and Leather.
Artificial Flowers, very pretty.
Velvet and Ivory Photograph Frames,
China Cups and Saucers, Mugs, etc.

Games of all Kinds.

CHESS, CHECKERS,
DOMINOES,
CARD GAMES,
AUTHORS,
FORTUNE TELLERS,
OLD MAID.

Toys for the Children.

Sets of China Dishes, from 20c to $2.50

Meagher Bros.
posite Tichborne House, have an ished reputation for cheap goods, ithal, of a quality so superior as to orded only through the rapid sales rong of customers with which this em to be favoured. The Messrs.
ner keep a general stock of dry including ready-made clothing, and shoes, buffalo robes, &c., &c.
article marked down to prices
lingly low.

Slaven & Ironside

Rennie's building—East End. This s a great favorite with the public, nce adopting the cash basis their ave rapidly increased. Additions ave made in every department, and esent they defy competition in d and seasonable goods, their stock ch is never allowed to diminish, t the most fastidious can always be
ed. Their millinery rooms are attrfitted up, and our lady readers ill aware of the elegant outfits that herefrom. Messrs. Slaven & Ironspects a call from both old and customers during the holiday

Sweeney Bros.

ew doors below Downey's. The
s. Sweeney are showing an attracassortment of mantles, dress gents' clothing, millinery, under-dry goods, shawls, &c., &c. The ry department gives their lady ers excellent satisfaction.

Hooper & Son.

he Perry Block, is one of the oldablished dry goods firms in town.
department seen in a first-class
ods house, is in full operation.
ry, carpets, dress goods, furs, woolens, prints, &c. The millinery is under the management of an anced lady, under whose supervie making of most fashionable and ing outfits are every day facts, any in the dry goods line can be had
rs. Hooper & Son, and of unexceple quality.

Halifax wharf-owners are about tion the Dominion Government to the track of the Intercol. Railway e business part of the city, and e an immediate survey along the wharves. Several wharf-owners xpressed their willingness to give a of way for such a purpose.

MARKETS

(Corrected weekly.)

NAPANEE Dec. 28th.

by Diamond and Sherwood, Napanee.)
-30c. per bushel.
-50c. per bushel.
-60c. per bushel.
-30c to 40c. per bushel.
-1.10 per bushel.
-82.80 to 83 per cwt.
-81.50 per ton.
-82.20 per ton.
wheat—50c. per bushel.
-84.00 to 83.00 per cord.
-85.00 per ton.
$1.25 to $1.35 per cwt.
eal. 85 per bbl.
by Seed, $2.25 per bush.

port by the Market Clerk, Napanee.)

-10.00 to 12.00 per ton.
-8.50 to 7.00 per cwt.
-15c. to 22c. per lb.
-15c. per dozen
per cwt.—$3.00 to $4.00.
-14c. per loaf.
-84.50 to 85.00 per ton.
ons—25c. to 30c. per pair.
-40c. to 30c. per pair.
ys each. 50c to $1.00
each, 25c to 40c.
dec per pair, 20c to 25
-83.10 per cwt.
n Skins—30c.
-10c.
s and Pelts—50c. to $1.00.
al—$1.00. per cwt.
s—70c. to $1.00 per bushel.
es—55c. per bushel.
-84.50 to 85.50.
-83.00 to $1.00
r to per lb

The requirements of France and desire to have the tariff temporarily remitted on foreign grain imported from this country are also strong points in trade, which is, besides, upheld to some extent by a very fair outward movement, the exports last week exceeding 11,500 quarters.

The decrease in shipments from America, which will now be experienced should also help trade. It is certain that our own increased winter consumption can not be relied on sufficiently as a power to enhance the value of wheat and should price rise the improvement will be due, as far as can be seen at present, to the deficiency of crops requiring to be supplemented by importation in neighboring European countries. Fortified by these considerations, holders still refrain from pressing sales, and in the uncertain state of political affairs the future course of the grain market is more difficult to foresee than it has been for a long time past.

a decided benefit in all, and as permanent cure in a large majority of diseases, of the blood, such as Scrofula, Erysipelas, Salt
Rheum, Canker, Pimples, &c. In prescribing this medicine we do not claim that it always performs cures; but this
we do say, that it purifies and enriches
the blood, permanently curing a large majority of diseases arising from its impurities. It stands far ahead and unequalled among the hundreds of competing medicines of the day. It has stood the test of ten years, and is to-day more popular than ever. As a summer restorative it stands unrivalled; it enables the system to bear up against the constant strain to which it is subjected by a high temperature. Persons who are subject to bilious Colic, Dysentery, Indigestion, &c.
should take the Shoshonees Remedy.
Price of the Remedy in pint bottles, $1;
Pills, 25 cts. a box. Sold by all medicine dealers.

FOR THE HOLIDAYS!

We are now offering a splendid assortment of

Electro-Plated Ware,

CONSISTING OF

SOUP TUREENS,
PICKLE STANDS,
BUTTER COOLERS,
SPOON HOLDESS,
GOBLETS,
SYRUP PITCHERS,
BERRY DISHES,
CAKE BASKETS,
SALT DISHES,
NAPKIN RINGS,
CALL BELLS, &c., &c.

All of the above goods will be

Offered during the Holidays at Cost.

All parties in want of these goods should see our Stock and prices. Such an opportunity has never before been offered in Napanee.
Our Stock in every other department is very complete, and our Prices are never beaten.

CALL AND SEE. WRIGHT & Co.

Napanee, Dec. 19th, 1877.

WINE IS A MOCKER.

STRONG DRINK RAGING!

Whosoever is Deceived thereby is not Wise,

Therefore be not deceived by parties telling you that their STOVES are better than your old friend BOYLE'S. My Stoves are made of the Best Material (not of old iron, as asserted by others in the trade), and are also as good, if not better, because they are heavier and consequently throw out more heat,
and have given good satisfaction.

Give Me a Call Before Purchasing Elsewhere.

No connection with any other Establishment in Town,
But Manufacture and Repair

Tinware of All Kinds,

BY FIRST CLASS MECHANICS, AND DO

JOB WORK

Of all kinds in my line, and keep a Large Assortment of
COOKING, PARLOR, COOK, BOX & COAL HEATING & DOUBLE STOVES.

EXTRA CASTINGS FOR STOVES. STOVES REFITTED.

PLOUGHS & PLOUGH-SHARES OF ALL KINDS.

Yours truly,

H BOYLE, Agt.,

In Wm. Miller's Old Stand, Opposite Webster & Boyes.

Napanee, Nov. 14th, 1877.

Wesleyan Methodist Hymn Books.

Episcopal Methodist Hymn Books.

Presbyterian Hymn Books:

Church Services,
Church Services with Hymns,
Common Prayers,
Common Prayers with Hymns,
Hymns Ancient and Modern.

Work Boxes and Writing Desks in Wood.
Paper Machie and Leather.
Artificial Flowers, very pretty.
Velvet and Ivory Photograph Frames.
China Cups and Saucers, Mugs, etc.

Games of all Kinds.

CHESS, CHECKERS,
DOMINOES,
CARD GAMES,
AUTHORS,
FORTUNE TELLERS,
OLD MAID.

Toys for the Children.

Sets of China Dishes, from 20c. to $2.50.
Sets of Pewter Dishes, from 15c. to $2.50.
Toy Cradles,
Bedsteads,
Tubs,
Pails,
Clothes Wringers,
Saw Horses,
Clothes Horses,
Wash Boards,
Cruet Stands,
Sets of Furniture,

Jack in the Box,
Tin Dishes,
Stoves,
Kitchen Ranges,
Noah's Arks,
Buggies,
Mouth Organs,
Rubber Toys,
Rubber Dolls,
China Dolls,
Wax Dolls,
Wooden Dolls,
etc., etc.

And a great many other Toys too numerous to mention.

BOYS' & GIRLS' SLEIGHS

CHEAP.

An Inspection of Stock and Prices is Solicitated.

John Henderson,
Bookseller and Fancy Goods Dealer,
Dundas Street, Napanee.

Varieties.

THE STUTTERING VOTER.

He leaned against a bright brick wall,
And bowed his head and ruminated;
"I've got a vote," he murmured low,
And smiles his face illuminated.
He took a carrot from his pouch;
A carrot long and strong, and ate it.
And said: "I'll have a hand in the next cow-cow or-wo, kick-ow-cow-cow!"

He pressed his hand upon his head,
And looked quite wise and very solemn.
And said: "The bi-big election will be for
The hum—the hab!—the wat—you call—um.
Dear me, I've quite forgot the name,
I mean the place in the City Hall—um;
Ah! yes, the Mayor's chick, kick-care. The Mayor's chair."

He thought a while, and then a smile
O'er his classic features flickered:
He gazed around to see that none
Were looking on, and then he snickered,
"To make a living in this world
The bub-bone of life I've got to pick hard;
So I'll plunk blow-I'll vote for Crook-cook-cook-cook-k-ker-cook-er!"

He realised once, but soon again
Expansive smiles and snickers tickled;
But dark remorse swept o'er his soul,
His eyes resembled onions pickled;
"I've forgotten friends of yore," he cried,
And the tears adown him trickled.
He gasped: "I'll loyal be to old Mag-mag-mag-gag-gag-gag-gill, ahem!"

He rubbed his red, expansive nose,
And gently cleared his swelling thorax.
As he grinned a pleasing grin
He took a little bit of box.
And said: "Perhaps it will be wise
To shout with others in the choir,
Hoora for Alderman O'O'-ri-ri-ri, ahem.
O'Rie-ley!"

He scratched his chin and wiped it off;
His nose assumed a smooth infection.
He spat upon his hand and said:
"If the wife at home has no objection
I'll vote with Roach and all the rest.
And carry Kewer next election.
If I don't may I be d-did-did-id-drowned."

Honor tells you not to hit a man when he's down, and Discretion warns you against hitting him when he isn't down.
"What is honor?" asks a correspondent.
That's easy. Any woman who sits behind another woman in church can tell what's on her in two minutes.

A jolly son of the ocean was about being put on board an outward bound ship, when he asked leave to have another run "up town." Being informed that he could not be permitted to go, as the ship was about to sail, he sang out to a man on the wharf, an entire stranger to him,
"Here, my friend," throwing him a fiveshilling piece, "spend that for me—I'll do as much for you another time."

What's the use of making such a fuss about a little water?" said a judge before whom motion after motion had come in case where a small spring was the object of contention, "The parties are both milkmen," quietly said one of the lawyers. "Oh, I see!" said the judge.

At the end of the discourse the professor, addressing with a triumphant air his audience, exclaimed: "It seems to me that a demonstration like that is worth something." "Let's get out," said an economical backwoodsman to his son. "They air gwine to take up a collection."

A Dutchman, in describing a pair of horses he had lost said: "Dey was fery much alike, specially the one, Von lookt so much like both I could not tell together from which: when I went after one I always catch the oder, and I whiped the one most dead because the other kicked me."

It was half-past ten as a Ninth street girl yawned and asked him if he liked poetry. He said, "Yes, dear," then she murmured,

"Now I lay me down to sleep," and it so disturbed his judgment that he took the old man's hat instead of his own.
An English soldier at Brentford recently took an organ-grinder's organ away from him and threw it off a bridge.
The soldier was fined $20. In this country he would have been voted a medal and a pension.

TIM: An' is it me health ye'd be asking after? Sure, an' it's half dead
I am, coming down to work in all that rain this mornin'." Mike: Divl a bit

Agricultural.

Windmills for Farmers.

I see by an article on windmills in a late issue of your paper, that the writer speaks of their being started or thrown into gear to pump water for the stock in the morning, and says they are liable to be blown down by a high wind. Now, I have not any special interest at stake, and so may be allowed to say that Yankee ingenuity is equal to any emergency, and has a remedy for these two difficulties. There is a windmill now made that is perfectly self-regulating, and does not break with the highest wind, but turns the edges of its vanes to the blast, and does not run faster than with a moderate breeze. I have seen one of these mills attached to another governor so that it would keep a tank always full,
and stop when no more water was needed, thus producing no overflow to make a mudhole, and there was not so much danger of draining the well to no purpose. Drawing one pint of water from the tank would start the mill. This wheel stood the storms of the fall of 1876, on the top of a building, and this mill,
on the centennial grounds, was unharmed when others were demolished. Another kind that had been erected to pump water for the borough of Oxford, Pa., was demolished by the same storm.

There is a large section of the country on the eastern shore of Maryland and Delaware where there is no supply of running water for cattle, and principally for this reason fow are kept. There is plenty of good well water everywhere.
Some large and small rainwater pools, with the large streams, furnish water for cattle without the labor of pumping, but all of those do not take the place of the perennial springs of pure cold water of Cecil county, Md., part of Newcastle county, Del., and the adjoining counties of Pennsylvania. Here it is a common thing to have running water in every field, and cattle need never be stinted for a supply. Anything that will supply this deficiency in the regions where springs are scarce will increase the number of cattle kept; this will increase home-made fertilizers, and tend to improve fertility of soil, as well as by adding another source of profit from beef or butter, and thus benefit the whole community. To this end a perfect self-regulating windmill seems to be the thing wanted. A much smaller and cheaper one will do the work, if it stops or starts automatically. With a reservoir holding a supply for several days, cattle need never suffer. There are always days when when the wind does not blow, and then a supply ahead is essential.

These self-regulators may require a little more care and oil, but there is no sort of a pump that can be kept in order without a little care and mechanical ingenuity. a. Colora, Md.

To Clean Black Cloth.

Black cloth clothes which are in constant wear should be brushed every day thoroughly but tightly, as harsh brushing will soon give them a threadbare appearance. If they are wet and spotted with dirt, they should be dried before being brushed, and the spots should be rubbed off with the hand. Tallow dropped on the cloth should be allowed to stiffen, then scratch off with the finger nail.
Grease may be removed by being rubbed with benzine, or with spirits of turpentine or spirits of hartshorn, on a little bit of woollen cloth. If, after the grease has disappeared, the mark is gently rubbed with the palm of the hand in the direction of the grain, it will regain its glossy appearance. Benzine and benzoline, as it is sometimes called, is the best solvent or cleanser. The collars of coats, which are liable to get greasy when the hair is worn long, should be examined and cleansed with benzine frequently. When black

CAMPAIGN OPENED FOR 1878. Western Advertiser & Weekly Liberal.

Reduced Price—Premium to every Subscriber. Harvest for Agents.

The Fifteenth Annual Campaign of the Western Advertiser and Weekly Liberal is now under full headway. Hundreds of new names are pouring in from all parts of Canada. We want 5,000 new subscribers during this canvass. Plenty of room for 1,000 more agents. Our terms to agents, and inducements to subscribers will be found in anything yet offered.

BILL OF FARE.

- 1—Best general newspaper in Canada.
- 2—Balance of year free to new subscribers.
- 3—Splendid Engraving to every subscriber.
- 4—Agricultural Department by W. F. Clarke.
- 5—Teacher's Department—Best in Canada.
- 6—Ladies' "Fashion and Kitchen" column.
- 7—Music, pictures, chess, humor, etc.
- 8—Full base ball, cricket and sporting news.
- 9—Complete Temperance Record.
- 10—Reliable and copious Market Reports.

TERMS FOR 1878:—$1.50, with engraving
Landseer's "Sanctuary," 30x20 inches. $1.50,
without engraving. Postage prepaid.

Liberal terms to agents. For free sample copies, or full instructions to agents, address

JOHN CAMERON & Co.,

"Advertiser" Office, London, Ont

Money to Loan!

I Have received a Large Amount of Money to Lend. Good Mortgages
Purchased.

W. S. WILLIAMS.

Land PLASTER

Now grinding and ready for use.

Superior Fine Ground
Land Plaster,

AT THE LOW RATE OF
$5 per Ton, or 25 cts. per Hundred.
ALL orders left at the Mill, or at the Woolen Factory, for Williams' and Lasher's Water Lime, or Quick Lime, will be promptly attended to. Lime delivered when required. No Credit.

JAMES PERRY.

Napanee, March 5th, 1877.

Important Notice.

$2,000 WORTH OF
New Bankrupt Stock,

JUST ARRIVED AT

MEAGHER'S.

Come and See. We are determined to sell
Cheaper than can be bought in a regular way.
Our prices are far below the Wholesale Price.

GREAT BARGAINS IN

COTTON AND WINCEY SHIRTINGS.

PRINTS AT 5c. A YARD.

BARGAINS IN DRESS GOODS.

Good Black Lustres at 15c. a yard.

Boots and Shoes, Ready-made Clothing,
Remarkably Cheap.

Mens' Long Boots, $1.50,
Worth, $2.50.

Boys' Long Boots 70c. worth $1.50.

Dr. Pierce's Standard Remo

Are not advertised as "cure-alls," specifics in the diseases for which recommended.

NATURAL SELECTION

Investigators of natural science
demonstrated beyond controversy
throughout the animal kingdom the vital of the fittest" is the only in-vouchsafes thrift and perpetuity.
The same principle governs the con-prosperity of man? An interior superior merit, Dr. Pierce's Stand-cines have outwitted the others.
sale in the United States alone ex-
million dollars per annum, while the exported fools up to several hundre
and more. No business could grow gigantic proportions and rest upon a basis than that of merit.

GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCO

Is Alternative, or Blood-cleansing

GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCO

Is Pectoral.

GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCO

Is a Cholagogue, or Liver Stimu

GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCO

Is Tonic.

GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCO

By reason of its Alternative procures Diseases of the Blood and Scrofula, or King's Evil; Tumors, or Old Sores; Blotches Pimple Eruptions, by virtue of its Pectorals, it cures Bronchial, Thru-Lung Affections; Incipient Consu-Lingering Coughs; and Chronic La-
Its Cholagogue properties render it equaled remedy for Biliousness; Liver, or "Liver Complaint;" and properties make it equally effica-curing Indigestion, Loss of Appe-
Dyspepsia.

Where the skin is sallow and cove blotches and pimples, or where the scrofulous swellings and affections
hotless of Golden Medical Discov effect an entire cure. If you fidrowsy, debilitated, have sallow c-skin, or yellowish-brown spots o-
body, frequent headache or dissin-in mouth, internal heat or chills ed with hot flushes, low spirits and forebodings, irregular appetite, an coated, you are suffering from Liver," or "Biliousness." In ma-of "Liver Complaint," only part symptoms are experienced. As a
for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Medical Discovery has no equal, as perfect cures, leaving the liver strand healthy.

P. P. P. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets

Purely Vegetable. No care req-
while using them.

The "Little Giant" Cathar-Mulum in Parvo Physic, larger than mustard seeds, and ar-coated. They remove the necessity the great, crude, drastic, sickeni-
heretofore so much in use.

As a remedy for Headache, Di-Rush of Blood to the Head, Tight-the Chest, Bad Taste in Mouth, Erc from the Stomach, Bilious Attack dice, Pain in the Kidneys, Highly Urino, and Internal Fever, Dr.
Pleasant Purgative Pellets are unsu-Furthermore, I would say that the is universal, not a gland escap-sanative impress. Age does not the properties of these Pellets. T sugar-coated and inclosed in glass their virtues being thereby preseimpaired for any length of time, they are always fresh and reliable on the wharf, an entire stranger to him, "Here, my friend," throwing him a five-shilling piece, "spend that for me—I'll do as much for you another time."

What's the use of making such a fuss about a little water?" said a judge before whom motion after motion had come in case where a small spring was the object of contention, "The parties are both milkmen," quietly said one of the lawyers. "Oh, I see!" said the judge.

At the end of the discourse the professor, addressing with a triumphant air his audience, exclaimed; "It seems to me that a demonstration like that is worth something." "Let's get out," said an economical backwoodsman to his son. "They air gwine to take up a collection."

A Dutchman, in describing a pair of horses he had lost said: "Dey was fery much alike, specially the one, Von lookt so much like both I could not tell together from which: when I went after one I always catch the oder, and I whipped the one most dead because the other kicked me."

It was half-past ten as a Ninth street girl yawned and asked him if he liked poetry. He said, "Yes, dear;" then she murmured,

"Now I lay me down to sleep," and it so disturbed his judgment that he took the old man's hat instead of his own.

An English soldier at Brentford recently took an organ-grinder's organ away from him and threw it off a bridge. The soldier was fined $20. In this country he would have been voted a medal and a pension.

Tim: "An' is it me health ye'd be askin' afther? Sure, an' it's half dead I am, coming down to work in all that rain this mornin'." Mike: "Divl a bit did ye, Tim. By the hokey, I come down n part of it myself!"

"Do you think your father is going to move out soon?" inquired the owner of a rented house of the son of his tenant. "Reckon so," was the reply, "we've begun using window frames for firewood."

"If there is anybody under the canister of heaven that I have in utter exorcism," says Mrs. Partington, "it is the slander going about like a bo-a-bon-structor, circulating his calumny upon honest folks."

"HAVE you any boned turkey?" asked a hungry customer in a Nevada restaurant. The proprietor laid his hand on his revolver and cried, "No insinuations here, young man! We're honest here and don't bone nothin'!"

A boarder the other day, after vainly endeavoring to masticate a piece of fowl, laid down his knife and fork, saying: "All the trainings, traditions and teachings of my youth, my sense of propriety, and the commands of holy writ, compel me to respect old age; but I'll be blowed if I can bring myself to stomach it when roasted or broiled."

While considerable anxiety was left by politicians to hear later returns from Indiana, a young man, having a newspaper in hand, boarded a horse-car. "Anything fresh from Indiana?" inquired a portly man. "Yes sir; a mule fell over a precipice and killed himself," replied the smart young man. "Did, eh? Well, that is awful. Hadn't I better go ahead and break the sad news to your family?" bluntly asked the fat man.

D— wanted to get rid of his nephew, who cost him a lot of money every year. All the offers he had made him about getting married had been declined, under the pretext that the girls were either too young, or too old, or too bad tempered, &c. In despair D— went to a matrimonial agent in order to have a large choice. He was, of course, quite welcomed by the agent, who showed him his register, and photographs of some of his clients. The surprise of the dear uncle is impossible to describe when he discovered his own wife's likeness. Nearly out of his mind, he goes home and sternly demands an explanation. "I can't deny the fact," the wife said, gently; "but it was last year, my dear, when you had been given up by all the doctors. Hem?"

FIXEDNESS OF PURPOSE.—Something may be learned from an exhibition kept, and thus increase home comforts, and tend to improve fertility of soil, as well as by adding another source of profit from beef or butter, and thus benefit the whole community. To this end a perfect self-regulating windmill seems to be the thing wanted. A much smaller and cheaper one will do the work, if it stops or starts automatically. With a reservoir holding a supply for several days, cattle need never suffer. There are always days when the wind does not blow, and then a supply ahead is essential.

These self-regulators may require a little more care and oil, but there is no sort of a pump that can be kept in order without a little care and mechanical ingenuity. a. Colera, Md.

To Clean Black Cloth.

Black cloth clothes which are in constant wear should be brushed every day thoroughly but tightly, as harsh brushing will soon give them a threadbare appearance. If they are wet and spotted with dirt, they should be dried before being brushed, and the spots should be rubbed off with the hand. Tallow dropped on the cloth should be allowed to stiffen, then scratch off with the finger nail. Grease may be removed by being rubbed with benzine, or with spirits of turpentine or spirits of hartshorn, on a little bit of woollen cloth. If, after the grease has disappeared, the mark is gently rubbed with the palm of the hand in the direction of the grain, it will regain its glossy appearance. Benzine and benzoline, as it is sometimes called, is the best solvent or cleanser. The collars of coats, which are liable to get greasy when the hair is worn long, should be examined and cleansed with benzine frequently. When black cloth is very dirty and has a shabby look, it may be cleaned as follows: Take a quarter of a pound of logwood, put it into a copper with three gallons of water, and boil it for half an hour. Brush the loose dust from the cloth, dip it in warm water, squeeze it dry, and boil it in the logwood decoction for half an hour. Lift it out, and to the liquor three drachms of sulphate of iron, and boil the clothes half an hour longer. Hang them up for a couple of hours; at the end of that time rinse them in cold water, dry them and brush them with a soft brush, which has had three or four drops of pure oil rubbed on its surface. A very good reviver for black cloth may be made by boiling for two hours a pound of logwood with half a pound of bruised galls, a quarter of a pound of green vitriol, and five pints of water. Scouring balls of various kinds are sold for freeing cloth from grease, dirt and paint. When these are used the spot needs to be first moistened with hot water and rubbed with the ball. The place is then allowed to soak for a few minutes, after which it is rubbed with a piece of red flannel dipped in warm water, rinsed in cold water, rubbed dry, and brushed with a soft brush.—From Cassell's Domestic Dictionary for September.

Another reviver is made as follows:—Shake up together in 1 oz. phial equal parts of liquor ammoniac and benzine. They will not mix, but may be kept together by shaking. Spread your cloth on a flat table and with a new hard nail brush, add with a few drops of the above, remove all grease, &c. Then bring up the pile, by scratching the cloth, in the direction of the pile, with a few heads of fuller's twine; or, if you cannot get this, with a very fine wire card.—English Mechanic.

Wintering Bees.

HAVING had over a quarter of a century of experience in the care of bees, and not having been out of honey for thirty years, I will give to the readers of your paper my manner for Wintering bees. Place the hives on a covered platform, near together, about two feet from the ground, in a dry place; then bore five holes in the top of the hives, for ventilation (five-eighths of an inch is about the size). Then place boxes two-thirds filled dry straw to absorb the moisture from the bees and prevent freezing. Pack dry straw around the hives, to keep as even a temperature as possible. Give plenty of

A Woolen Factory, for Williams' and Lasher's Water Lime, or Quick Lime, will be promptly attended to. Lime delivered when required. No Credit.

JAMES PERRY.
Napance, March 5th, 1877. 46.

Important Notice.

$2,000 WORTH OF
New Bankrupt Stock,
JUST ARRIVED AT
MEAGHER'S.

"Come and See. We are determined to sell Cheaper than can be bought in a regular way. Our prices are far below the Wholesale Price."

GREAT BARGAINS IN
COTTON AND WINCEY SHIRTINGS.
PRINTS AT 5c. A YARD.

BARGAINS IN DRESS GOODS.
Good Black Lustres at 15c. a yard.

Boots and Shoes, Ready-made Clothing,
Remarkably Cheap.

Mens' Long Boots, $1.50,
Worth, $2.50.

Boys' Long Boots 70c. worth $1.50.

200 OVERCOATS,
From $5.00 to $15.00.

Every Line of Goods to be sold below
Cost.

Don't fail to call and inspect before making
your purchases.

25-11 MEAGHER BROS.

G. F HANCOCK,
BROOM

—AND—
WHISK MANUFACTURER,
MILL POINT, ONT. 31-17

CONSUMPTION CURED.

A Old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy, for the speedy and permanent cure of consumption, bronchitis, catarrh, asthma, and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and arduous cure for nervous debility and all nervous complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive, and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send, free of charge, to all who desire it, this receipt in German, French, or English, with full directions for preparation and using. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper, W. W. Shegar, 120 Powers' Block, Rochester, N. Y.

IMPROVEMENT —ON— FELT ROOFS

THE Subscriber would call the attention of the people of Napance, to an improvement on Felt Roofs, invented by

Mr. Brokenshire, of the Atlantic Foundry, Kingston.

This Roofing Material is composed of Minerals which form a Cement, proof against either

Fire or Water,

It will not crack in winter, or get soft and run in summer, and when dry it is as hard as Slate, and more durable than Tin or Galvanized Iron, in fact nothing else is now used in Kingston on felt roofs.

References to a few who have the roof in use:—
Mr. C. F. Gildersleeve, Kingston;
Messrs. Wagner & McMillan, Albion Hotel;
Mr. McKee's Store, Princess Street, Kingston;
Mr. Parker's Drug Store, Kingston;
Mr. Thornton's Hotel, Kingston;
Mr. Overend, Contractor, on his residence, do.;
Kingston Street Railway Buildings;
Rev. Mr. Grafty, Kingston;
Atlantic Foundry, Kingston, and many others.

body, frequent headache or dizziness, in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flashes, low spirits and gloom forebodings, irregular appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from "Tor Liver," or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint," only part of the symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy.

P. P. P. P. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets

Purely Vegetable. No care required while using them.

The "Little Giant" Cathartic, Miltum in Parvo Physic, scarce larger than mustard seeds, and are sugar coated. They remove the necessity of taking the great, crude, drastic, sickening pills heretofore so much in use.

As a remedy for Headache, Dizziness, Rush of Blood to the Head, Tightness at the Chest, Bad Taste in Mouth, Eruptions from the Stomach, Bilious Attacks, Jaundice, Pain in the Kidneys, Highly-colored Urine, and Internal Fever, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets are unsurpassed. Furthermore, I would say that there act is universal, not a gland escaping its sanative impress. Age does not impair the properties of these Pellets. They sugar-coated and inclosed in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved impaired for any length of time, so they are always fresh and reliable. It is not the case with those pills which put up in cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes. The daily use of two Pellets cured the most obstinate cases of Scrofula, Tetters, Salt-rheum, Erysipelas, Boils, Blotches, Pimples, Sore Eyes, and Eruptions. They are, however, recommended to be taken in connection with the Golden Medical Discovery, in order to secure best results.

DR. PIERCE'S FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION DR. PIERCE'S FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION DR. PIERCE'S FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION

The remedial management of those cases peculiar to woman has afforded larger experience at the World's Dispensary of which Dr. Pierce is the chief consultant physician, in adapting remedies for the cure. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription the result of this extended experience, has become justly celebrated for its merits and remarkable cures of all those chronic diseases and.

WEAKNESSES Peculiar To FEMALES

Favorite Prescription is a powerful Restorative Tonic to the entire system. It is of nervous unsurpassed efficacy, and, what it quiets nervous irritation, strengthens enfeebled nervous system, thereby resort to it healthful vigor. The following diseases are among those in which the Favorite Prescription has worked magic cures, viz: Leucorrhoea, or "Whites," Excessive Flow, Painful Menstruation, Unnatural Suppressions, Weak Back, Protrusion, or falling of the Uterus, Anteversion, Retroversion, Bearing-down Sensation, Chronic Congestion, Inflammation and Ulceration of the Uterus, Internal Heat, Nervous Depression, Debility, Despondency, and very many other chronic diseases peculiar to women, but mentioned here.

The following Ladies are a few of the many thousands who can testify to the efficacy of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescrip-

"Do you think your father is going to move out soon?" inquired the owner of a rented house of the son of his tenant. "Reckon so," was the reply, "we've begun using window frames for firewood."

"If there is anybody under the canister of heaven that I have in utter excessiveness," says Mrs. Partington, "it is the slanderer going about like a boaster, circulating his calumny upon honest folks."

"Have you any boned turkey?" asked a hungry customer in a Nevada restaurant. The proprietor laid his hand on his revolver and cried, "No insinuations here, young man! We're honest here and don't bone nothing!"

A boarder the other day, after vainly endeavoring to masticate a piece of fowl, laid down his knife and fork, saying: "All the trainings, traditions and teachings of my youth, my sense of propriety, and the commands of holy writ, compel me to respect old age; but I'll be blowed if I can bring myself to stomach it when roasted or broiled."

While considerable anxiety was left by politicians to hear later returns from Indiana, a young man, having a newspaper in hand, boarded a horse-car. "Anything fresh from Indiana?" inquired a portly man. "Yes sir; a mule fell over a precipice and killed himself," replied the smart young man. "Did, eh? Well, that is awful. Hadn't I better go ahead and break the sad news to your family?" bluntly asked the fat man.

D— wanted to get rid of his nephew, who cost him a lot of money every year. All the offers he had made him about getting married had been declined, under the pretext that the girls were either too young, or too old, or too bad tempered, &c. In despair D— went to a matrimonial agent in order to have a large choice. He was, of course, quite welcomed by the agent, who showed him his register, and photographs of some of his clients. The surprise of the dear uncle is impossible to describe when he discovered his own wife's likeness. Nearly out of his mind, he goes home and sternly demands an explanation. "I can't deny the fact," the wife said, gently; "but it was last year, my dear, when you had been given up by all the doctors. Hem!"

FIXEDNESS OF PURPOSE.—Something may be learned even from an exhibition of tight-rope dancers. The performer keeps his eye fixed on one point, he never swerves for an instant—that would be fatal. So in life; if your eye is fixed on some great guiding principle you can tread the narrowest and most dangerous path without fear of falling.

A good story is told of a doctor who was somewhat of a wag. He met, one day in the street, a sexton with whom he was acquainted. As the usual salutations were passed, the doctor happened to cough. "Why, doctor," said the sexton, "you have got a cold; how long have you had that?" "Look here, Mr. Sexton," said the doctor, with a show of indignation; "what is your charge for interments?" "Ten shillings," was the reply. "Well," continued he, "just come into my surgery, and I will pay it. I don't want to have you calling round, and so anxious about my health." The sexton was soon even with him, however. Turning round to the doctor, he replied, "Ah, doctor, I cannot afford to bury you yet. Business has never been so good as it has since you began to practice." Since the above conversation, neither party has ventured to joke at the expense of the other.

The Snowden iron mines are being connected by a track with the Victoria Railway at Lindsay.

An Englishman is said to have been arrested at Metz with plans of that and other German fortresses upon him.

The immense crib for the dyking of Cobe Harbour, five miles from Dartmouth, N. S., and the reclamation of many acres of valuable land, completed yesterday, but broke over in immense weight. A large quantity of money has been spent upon an English company.

quarter of a pound of logwood, put it into a copper with three gallons of water, and boil it for half an hour. Brush the loose dust from the cloth, dip it in warm water, squeeze it dry, and boil it in the logwood decoction for half an hour. Lift it out, add to the liquor three drachms of sulphate of iron, and boil the clothes half an hour longer. Hang them up for a couple of hours; at the end of that time rinse them in cold water, dry them and brush them with a soft brush, which has had three or four drops of pure oil rubbed on its surface. A very good reviver for black cloth may be made by boiling for two hours a pound of logwood with half a pound of bruised galls, a quarter of a pound of green vitriol, and five pints of water. Scouring balls of various kinds are sold for freeing cloth from grease, dirt and paint. When these are used the spot needs to be first moistened with hot water and rubbed with the ball. The place is then allowed to soak for a few minutes, after which it is rubbed with a piece of red flannel dipped in warm water, rinsed in cold water, rubbed dry, and brushed with a soft brush.—From Cassell's Domestic Dictionary for September.

Another reviver is made as follows:—Shake up together in 1 oz. phial equal parts of liquor ammoniac and benzene. They will not mix, but may be kept together by shaking. Spread your cloth on a flat table and with a new hard nail brush, add with a few drops of the above, remove all grease, etc. Then bring up the pile, by scratching the cloth, in the direction of the pile, with a few heads of fuller's teazel; or, if you cannot get this, with a very fine wire card.—English Mechanic.

Wintering Bees.

Hives had over a quarter of a century of experience in the care of bees, and not having been out of honey for thirty years, I will give to the readers of your paper my manner for Wintering bees. Place the hives on a covered platform, near together, about two feet from the ground, in a dry place; then bore five holes in the top of the hives, for ventilation (five-eighths of an inch is about the size). Then place boxes two-thirds filled dry straw to absorb the moisture from the bees and prevent freezing. Pack dry straw around the hives, to keep as even a temperature as possible. Give plenty of air at the entrance of the hives, but guard against mice. Place a board, edge raised, in front of the entrance, to prevent the snow from drifting in; examine often, and keep the passage clear from snow, ice, and dead bees, to prevent smothering. Mild days in Winter, if the bees incline to move, raise the hive a little, and remove all dead bees and dirt from the bottom board, and if it is dry your bees are all right if plenty of honey.

It is not extreme cold weather that causes bees to perish, but sudden change and a continuation of cold, as in 1874-5. For example, the cold Winter 1872-3 I carried my bees through nicely, without loss in 1873-4 my bees were all right in Spring. In 1874-5, the extreme long Winter, I lost five colonies; the balance did well. If you recollect, there were about 120 days that it was too cold for bees to move in the least. It is said by experienced bee managers that bees cannot endure much over 100 days of confinement. That is why my bees perished, I have no doubt.

In 1875-6 my bees came through all right, and have troubled their population and given us two sets of boxes and filled their hives full for Winter.

When your bees come out in warm days, and there is snow on the ground, it is a protection to feeble bees to have straw spread on the snow in front of the hives.—Michigan Farmer.

The track on the Pembina Branch Railway is now laid nearly as far as Kirk.

Much sickness prevails among children at Winnipeg owing to the unreasonable weather.

Preparations are going on at the Vatican for the the coming Conclave.

From $5.00 to $15.00.

Every Line of Goods to be sold below Cost.

Don't fail to call and inspect before making your purchases.

25-11 MEAGHER BROS.

G. F. HANCOCK,
BROOM

—AND—
WHISK MANUFACTURER,
MILL POINT, ONT. 31-17

CONSUMPTION CURED.

A bold physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy, for the speedy and permanent cure of consumption, bronchitis, catarrh, asthma, and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for nervous debility and all nervous complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive, and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send, free of charge, to all who desire it, this receipt in German, French, or English, with full directions for preparation and use. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper, W. W. Sherar, 126 Powers' Block, Rochester, N. Y.

IMPROVEMENT
—ON—
FELT ROOFS

THE Subscriber would call the attention of the people of Napanee, to an improvement on Felt Roofs, invented by

Mr. Brokenshire, of the Atlantic Foundry, Kingston.

This Roofing Material is composed of Minerals which form a Cement, proof against either

Fire or Water,

It will not crack in winter, or get soft and run in summer, and when dry it is as hard as Slate; and more durable than Tin or Galvanized Iron, in fact nothing else is now used in Kingston on Felt Roofs.

References to a few who have the roof in use:—
Mr. C. P. Giltersleeve, Kingston;
Messrs. Wagner & McMillan, Albion Hotel;
Mr. McRae's Store, Princess Street, Kingston;
Mr. Parker's Drug Store, Kingston;
Mr. Thornton's Hotel, Kingston;
Mr. Overend, Contractor on his residence, do.;
Kingston Street Railway Buildings;
Rev. Mr. Grafty, Kingston;
Atlantic Foundry, Kingston; and many others.

Any parties wanting New Roofs or Old Roofs repaired should see

NELSON GERMAN,
Agent, Napanee.
29

Napanee, Nov. 15th 1877.

NOTICE is hereby given, that on and after the 1st day of July next, Shippers or Exporters of goods, by Vessel, Railway, or any other conveyance to any country or place, outside of the Dominion of Canada, must make export entries verified by oath at the Custom House, with particulars of quantity and value, under a penalty not exceeding $200, and no clearance will be granted to any vessel until the said entries are made and verified.

J. BENSON, Collector.
Custom House, Napanee June 25th, 1877.

POTTER BROS., LIVERY AND SALE STABLES

(ADJOINING THE ERISCO HOUSE,)
NAPANEE, ONT.

We keep nothing but First-Class Horses and Vehicles, and at REASONABLE PRICES

SAW

SOLID AND INSERTED TO SAW GUMMING SANDWICH SAW TEETH SAW SETS

Waterous Engine Works Co.
BRANTFORD, ONT.

Where you can see the advertisement.

boxes. The daily use of two Pellets cured the most obstinate cases of Scrofula, Salt-rheum, Erysipelas, Blotches, Pimples, Sore Eyes, and other skin diseases. They are, however, recommended to be taken in connection with the Medical Discovery, in order to secure best results.

DR. PIERCE'S
FAVORITE

PRESCRIPTION
DR. PIERCE'S

FAVORITE

PRESCRIPTION
DR. PIERCE'S

FAVORITE

PRESCRIPTION

The remedial management of those cases peculiar to woman has afforded larger experience at the World's Dispensary of which Dr. Pierce is the chief consulting physician, in adapting remedies for cure. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription the result of this extended experience has become justly celebrated for its safe and remarkable cures of all those diseases and.

WEAKNESSES

Peculiar To

FEMALE

Favorite Prescription is a powerful Restorative Tonic to the entire system. It nerve of unsurpassed efficacy, and, it quiets nervous irritation, strengthens the enfeebled nervous system, thereby resists it to healthful vigor. The following diseases are among those in which the Favorite Prescription has worked magic cures: Leucorrhoea, or "Whites," Excessive Menstruation, Unnatural Discharges, Weak Back, Protrusion, or fall of the Uterus, Anteversion, Retroversion, Bearing-down Sensation, Chronic Congestion, Inflammation and Ulceration of the Uterus, Internal Heat, Nervous Depression, Bility, Despondency, and very many chronic diseases peculiar to women, mentioned here.

The following Ladies are a few of many thousands who can testify to the efficacy of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, from experience and observation:
Mrs. Cornelia Allison, Peosta, Ia.
Mrs. Thos. J. Methvin, Hatcher's St. Ga.
Mrs. T. A. Seymour, Rome, N. Y.
Mrs. Francis Huswick, Versailles, Ky.
Mrs. Leroy Putnam, North Wharton, Mo.
Mrs. Mary A. Hunolt, Edina, Mo.
Mrs. Mary A. Frisbie, Lehman, Pa.
Mrs. Gill, Chillicothe, Ohio; Mrs. Harri Malane, West Springfield, Pa.; Mrs. Hiatt, Emporia, Kan.; Louise Dodgeville, Mass.; Mrs. L. A. Danforth, Va.; Mrs. C. Allison, P. Iowa; Mrs. J. N. Vernon, St. Th. Ont.; Mrs. S. C. Moran, 253 Northward Street, Baltimore Md.; Mrs. Calman, Barnesville, Ohio; Mrs. McNaught, Jefferson, Iowa; Mrs. Stemrod, Friendship, N. Y.; Miss Cady, Westfield, N. Y.; Mrs. Amann, Verona, N. Y.; Mrs. B. N. Grand Rapids, Mich.; Mrs. F. H. Watertown, N. Y. Thousands of references can be given at the World's Dispensary.

THE PEOPLE'S.

MEDICAL SERVANT

Dr. R. V. PIERCE is the sole proprietor and manufacturer of the foregoing ren all of which are sold by druggists. Also the Author of the People's Co-Sense Medical Adviser, a work of near thousand pages, with two hundred eighty-two wood-engravings and plates. He has already sold this work

Over 100,000 Copies
PRICE (post-paid) $1.50.

Address:

R. V. PIERCE, M. D.
World's Dispensary Buffalo, N. Y.

ORDER'S WATER LINE, or QUICK LIME, will promptly attended to. Lime delivered on required. No Credit.
JAMES PERRY.
Napanee, March 5th, 1877. 46.

Important Notice.

$2,000 WORTH OF
Low Bankrupt Stock,

JUST ARRIVED AT
MEAGHER'S.

John and Sec. We are determined to sell cheaper than can be bought in a regular way. Our prices are far below the Wholesale Price.

GREAT BARGAINS IN STATION AND WINCEY SHIRTINGS.

PRINTS AT 5c. A YARD.

BARGAINS IN DRESS GOODS.

Good Black Lustres at 15c. a yard.

Boots and Shoes, Ready-made Clothing, Remarkably Cheap.

Men's Long Boots, $1.50, Worth, $2.50.

Boys' Long Boots 70c. worth $1.50.

200 OVERCOATS,

from $5.00 to $15.00.

Every Line of Goods to be sold below Cost.

Don't fail to call and inspect before making purchases.
J. MEAGHER BROS.

G. F. HANCOCK,
BROOM
—AND—
WHISK MANUFACTURER,
MILL POINT, ONT. 31-1y

CONSUMPTION CURED.

Old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East Indian missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy, for the speedy and permanent cure of consumption, bronchitis, catarrh, asthma, and all lung and lung affections, also a positive and head cure for nervous debility and all nervous complaints, after having tested its wonderful restorative powers in thousands of cases, has felt its duty to make it known to his suffering fellow-men. Actuated by this motive, and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send, free of charge, to all who desire it, this receipt in German, French, or English, with full directions for preparing and using. Sent by mail by addressing the stamp, naming this paper, W. W. Sherar, "Powers' Block, Rochester, N. Y."

IMPROVEMENT
—ON—
FELT ROOFS

The Subscriber would call the attention of the people of Napanee, to an improvement on the Felt Roof, invented by
r. Brokenshire, of the Atlantic Foundry, Kingston.

This Roofing Material is composed of Mineral which form a Cement, proof against either

Fire or Water,

will not crack in winter, or get soft and in summer, and when dry it is as hard as iron, and more durable than Tin or Galvanized iron, in fact nothing else is now used in Kingston felt roofs.

References to a few who have the roof in use:—
Fr. C. F. Giffersleeve, Kingston;
Messrs. Wagner & McMillan, Albion Hotel;
Fr. McRae's Store, Princess Street, Kingston;
Fr. Parker's Drug Store, Kingston;
Fr. The Kingston Hotel, Kingston;
Fr. Overend, Contractor, on his residence, do.;
Kingston Street Railway Buildings;
Rev. Mr. Gaffney, Kingston;
Atlantic Foundry, Kingston; and many others.

To Any parties wanting New Roofs or Old ones repaired should see

OF CHILLS alternating with hot flashes, low spirits and gloomy forebodings, irregular appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from "Torpid Liver," or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint," only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy.

P. P. P. P.
Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets.

Purely Vegetable. No care required while using them.

The "Little Giant" Cathartic, of Mulum in Parvo Physic, scarcely larger than mustard seeds, and are sugar-coated. They remove the necessity of taking the great, crude, drastic, sickening pills, heretofore so much in use.

As a remedy for Headache, Dizziness, Rush of Blood to the Head, Tightness about the Chest, Bad Taste in Mouth, Eruptions from the Stomach, Bilious Attacks, Jaundice, Pain in the Kidneys, Highly-colored Urine, and Internal Fever, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets are unsurpassed. Furthermore, I would say that their action is universal, not a gland escaping their sanative impress. Age does not impart the properties of these Pellets. They are sugar-coated and inclosed in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved unimpaired for any length of time, so that they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the case with those pills which are put up in cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes. The daily use of two Pellets has cured the most obstinate cases of Scrofula, Tetter, Salt-rheum, Erysipelas, Boils, Blotches, Pimples, Sore Eyes, and Eruptions. They are, however, recommended to be taken in connection with the Golden Medical Discovery, in order to secure the best results.

DR. PIERCE'S FAVORITE PRESCRIPTIONS
DR. PIERCE'S FAVORITE PRESCRIPTIONS
DR. PIERCE'S FAVORITE PRESCRIPTIONS

The remedial management of those diseases peculiar to woman has afforded a larger experience at the World's Dispensary of which Dr. Pierce is the chief consulting physician, in adapting remedies for their cure. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the result of this extended experience, and has become justly celebrated for its many and remarkable cures of all those chronic diseases and.

WEAKNESSES
Peculiar To FEMALES.

Favorite Prescription is a powerful Restorative Tonic to the entire system. It is a nerve of unsurpassed efficacy, and, while it quiets nervous irritation, strengthens the enfeebled nervous system, thereby resorting it to healthful vigor. The following diseases are among those in which the Favorite Prescription has worked magic cures, viz: Leucorrhoea, or "Whites," Excessive Flow, Painful Menstruation, Unnatural Suppressions, Weak Back, Prolapsus, or falling of the Uterus, Anteversion, Retroversion, Bearing-down Sensation, Chronic Congestion, Inflammation and Ulceration of the Uterus, Internal Heat, Nervous Depression, Debility, Despondency, and very many other chronic diseases peculiar to women, but not mentioned here.

The following Ladies are a few of the many thousands who can testify to the efficacy of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, from experience and observation.
Mrs. Cornelia Allison, Poesten, Iowa.

ing had placed in his hands by an East Indian missionary the formula of a Vegetable Remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of CONSUMPTION ASTHMA BRONCHITIS CATARRH
and all Throat and Lung Affections; also a Positive and Radical Cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Complaints, after having thoroughly tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, feels it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellow-men. Actuated by this motive, and a conscientious desire to relieve human suffering, he will send FREE OF CHARGE, to all who desire it, this recipe, with full directions for preparing and successfully using. Sent by return mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper,
DR. C. STEVENS,
Box 66, Brockville, Ont.

Crockery & Glassware.

AT COST

OUR ENTIRE STOCK OF
Crockery & Glassware,

WILL BE SOLD AT

Cost and Under

FOR CASH,

As we intend going out of that line.

Call and Secure Bargains.

Cash Paid for Butter and Eggs.

SMITH & ANDERSON.

GLOBE
Life Assurance Co.
OF NEW YORK.

Assets, - - - $5,000,000
Premium Reserve, $3,600,000
Income for Year 1876, $857,000

This company only accepts first-class risks, and is noted for the promptness with which claims are paid.

It offers insurance on the ordinary life as well as the endowment plans, besides those also known as the ten, fifteen and twenty-year reserve dividend plan, by which the reserves as well as all other accumulations may be withdrawn at the time specified, thereby affording a system of endowment under ordinary life rates.

See prospectus in hands of local agents.

H. L. COOK,
General Agent for Ont.
THOS. A. HUFFMAN,
Ag't for Napanee
Napanee, 15th June, 1877. 8 tf.

WESTERN ASSURANCE COMPANY
Incorporated 1851.
CAPITAL, - - - - - $800,000

A SPECUL

During the months, the will sell Furni &c., at great Prices, for Cash Notes.

J. GIBBAI

S. G. BEATTY
BELLEVILLE,
S. G. BEATTY. W. R. ROBIN
Ontario Business College
Which has been in existence for 10 years, and, during this time, has trained hundreds of young men for business life, who are now filling important positions in the various branches of commerce.

COMMERCIAL COURSE
Equal to any Institution in Canada, or the United States, by thoroughly competent men who teach that which is practical, and therefore practically understood.

THE PUBLICATIONS COURSE
The "Canadian Accountant," "Joint Stock Company Writing, etc., have obtained a National reputation, a College, who are daily engaged, together with their Rooms, College Bank, and Merchants Emporium with because the teaching is thorough and practical, and individually, as well as to the various classes, the practical.

THE COURSE

GOOD BOARD
can be obtained in Belleville at a lower rate than in Canada or the United States.

The College Journal, containing full information and specimens of penmanship, sent free on application.
Add:
Belleville, September 1877.

MONEY T

Line of Goods to be sold below Cost.

fail to call and inspect before making purchases.

MEAGHER BROS.
F. HANCOCK, BROOM
—AND—ISK MANUFACTURER,
MILL POINT, ONT. 31-1y

INSUMPTION CURED.

dd physician, retired from practice, having placed in his hands by an East-Indian the formula of a simple vegetable cure for the speedy and permanent cure of consumption, bronchitis, catarrh, asthma, and all lung affections, also a positive and cure for nervous debility and all nervous ailments, after having tested its wonderful powers in thousands of cases, has felt duty to make it known to his suffering. Actuated by this motive, and a desire to human suffering, I will send, free of cost, to all who desire it, this receipt in French, or English, with full directions for its use. Sent by mail by addressing my name, naming this paper, W. W. Sherar, 1000's Block, Rochester, N. Y.

IMPROVEMENT
—ON—ELT ROOFS

Subscriber would call the attention of the public of Napanee, to an improvement on the roof, invented by rokershire, of the Atlantic Foundry, Kingston.

Roofing Material is composed of Mineral form a Cement, proof against either

Fire or Water,

not crack in winter, or get soft and summer, and when dry it is as hard as the most durable than Tin or Galvanized sheet nothing else is now used in Kingston.

comes to a few who have the roof in use:—
F. G. Gillespie, Kingston;
S. Wagner & McMillan, Albion Hotel;
Lodge's Store, Princess Street, Kingston; Miller's Drug Store, Kingston;
Horatio's Hotel, Kingston;
Verand, Contractor, on his residence, do.;
Kington Street, Kingston;
Mr. Grafton, Kingston;
tic Foundry, Kingston, and many others.

any parties wanting New Roofs or Old repaired should see

NELSON GREENMAN,
Agent, Napanee.
s. Nov. 15th 1877. 29

CE is hereby given, that on and after the day of July next, Shippers or Exporters by Vessel, Railway, or any other mode, to any country or place, outside of the on of Canada, must make export entries by oath at the Custom House, with par of quantity and value, under a penalty of $200, and no clearance will be to any vessel until the said entries are verified.

J. BENSON, Collector,
House, Napanee June 25th, 1877.

POTTER BROS.,
RY AND SALE STABLES

JOINING THE ERISCO HOUSE,
NAPANEE, ONT.
We keep nothing but First-Class
and Vehicles, and at REASONABLE

SAW
SOLID AND INSERTED TO SAW GUARANTEE SAW GUARANTEES SAW TEETH SAW LOTS

Waterous Engine Works Co.
BRANTFORD, ONT.
re you can take advertisement.

ured the most efficacious cases of Scrofula, Tetter, Salt-rheum, Erysipelas, Boils, Blotches, Pimples, Sore Eyes, and Eruptions. They are, however, recommended to be taken in connection with the Golden Medical Discovery, in order to secure the best results.

DR. PIERCE'S FAVORITE PRESCRIPTIONS
DR. PIERCE'S FAVORITE PRESCRIPTIONS
DR. PIERCE'S FAVORITE PRESCRIPTIONS

The remedial management of those diseases peculiar to woman has afforded a larger experience at the World's Dispensary of which Dr. Pierce is the chief consulting physician, in adapting remedies for their cure. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the result of this extended experience, and has become justly celebrated for its many and remarkable cures of all those chronic diseases and.

WEAKNESSES
Peculiar To FEMALES.

Favorite Prescription is a powerful Restorative Tonic to the entire system. It is a nerve of unsurpassed efficacy, and, while it quiets nervous irritation, strengthens the enfeebled nervous system, thereby resorting to it to healthful vigor. The following diseases are among those in which the Favorite Prescription has worked magic cures, viz: Leucorrhoea, or 'Whites,' Excessive Flow-painful Menstruation, Unnatural Suppressions, Weak Back, Prolapsus, or falling of the Uterus, Anteversion, Retroversion, Bearing-down Senation Chronic Congestion, Inflammation and Ulceration of the Uterus, Internal Heat, Nervous Depression, Debility, Despondency, and very many other chronic diseases peculiar to women, but not mentioned here.

The following Ladies are a few of the many thousands who can testify to the efficacy of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, from experience and observation.

Mrs. Cornelia Allison, Peosta, Iowa;
Mrs. Thos. J. Methvin, Hatcher's Station, Ga.;
Mrs. T. A. Seymour, Rome, N. Y.;
Mrs. Francis Huswick, Versailles, Ohio;
Mrs. Leroy Putnam, North Wharton, Pa.;
Mrs. Mary A. Hunolt, Edina, Mo.;
Mrs. Mary A. Frisbie, Lehman, Pa.;
Mrs. D. L. Gill, Chillicothe, Ohio;
Mrs. Harriet E. Malane, West Springfield, Pa.;
Mrs. R. Hiatt, Emporia, Kan.;
Louise Pratt, Dodgeville, Mass.;
Mrs. L. A. Dashiell, Norfolk, Va.;
Mrs. C. Allison, Proctor, Iowa;
Mrs. J. N. Vernon, St. Thomas, Ont.;
Mrs. S. C. Moran, 253 North Howard Street, Baltimore Md.;
Mrs. Lucy Calman, Barnesville, Ohio;
Mrs. Nancy McNaught, Jefferson, Iowa;
Mrs. L. G. Stemrod, Friendship, N. Y.;
Miss Ellen Cady, Westfield, N. Y.;
Mrs. Anthony Amann, Verona, N. Y.;
Mrs. B. N. Rooks, Grand Rapids, Mich.;
Mrs. F. H. Webb, Watertown, N. Y. Thousands of references can be given at the World's Dispensary.

THE PEOPLE'S MEDICAL SERVANT!

Dr. R. V. PIERCE is the sole proprietor and manufacturer of the foregoing remedies, all of which are sold by druggists. He is also the Author of the People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, a work of nearly one thousand pages, with two hundred and eighty-two wood-engravings and colored plates. He has already sold this popular work

Over 100,000 Copies!
PRICE (post-paid) $1.50.
Address:

R. V. PIERCE, M. D.,
World's Dispensary Buffalo, N. Y.

Call and Secure Bargains.

Cash Paid for Butter and Eggs.

SMITH & ANDERSON.

GLOBE
Life Assurance Co.

OF NEW YORK.

Assets, - - - $5,000,000

Premium Reserve, $3,600,000

Income for Year 1876, $857,000

This company only accepts first-class risks, and is noted for the promptness with which claims are paid.

It offers insurance on the ordinary life as well as the endowment plans, besides those also known as the ten, fifteen and twenty-year reserve dividend plan, by which the reserves as well as all other accumulations may be withdrawn at the time specified, thereby affording a system of endowment under ordinary life rates.

See prospectus in hands of local agents.

H. L. COOK,
General Agent for Ont.
THOS. A. HUFFMAN,
Agt. for Napanee
Napanee, 15th June, 1877. 8 tf.

WESTERN ASSURANCE COMPANY

Incorporated 1851.

CAPITAL, - - - - - $800,000
With power to increase to $1,000,000.

FIRE AND MARINE.

HEAD OFFICE: Toronto, Ont.

President,
HON. JOHN MCMURRICH.
Vice-President,
HARLES MAGRATH.
Directors.

JAS. MICHIE, Esq. NOAH BARNHART, Esq.
JOHN FISKE, Esq. ROBT. PEATY, Esq.
A. M. SMITH, Esq. WM. GOODERHAM, Esq.
BARNARD HILDAN, Managing Director
FRED'K G. C. LOVELESS, Secretary.
WM. BLIGHT, Fire Inspector.
JAMES PRINGLE, General Agent.
Marine Inspector.

Insurances of every kind at the lowest current rates on Buildings, Merchandise, and other property, against loss or damage by fire.

On Hull Cargo, and Freight against the perils of Inland Navigation.

On cargo boats with the Maritime Provinces by rail or steam.

On cargo by steamers to British Ports.

W. V. DETTOR,
Agent for Napanee

GRACE'S SALVE.

A Vegetable Preparation, invented in the 17th century by Dr. Wm. Grace, Surgeon in King James' army. Through his agency he cured thousands of the most serious sores and wounds, and was regarded by all who knew him as a public benefactor. 25c. a box, by mail 30c. For sale by druggists generally.

AGENTS WANTED.
Address SETH W. BOWLER & SON, Boston, Mass.

To Let!

ERICK Dwelling House in Napanee, next to W. A. Reeves, for no or two years, with a good Garden. For further particulars, apply to E. S. LAPUM, Life Ins. Agt., Napanee, SIDNEY WARNER.
Wilton, Dec. 3d, 1877. 32-4in

S. G. BEATTY
BELLEVILLE, -

S. G. BEATTY. W. R. ROBINSON

Ontario Business

Which has been in existence for 10 years, and, during which

Has Trained Hundreds

For Business Life, who are now filling important positions for obtaining a

COMMERCIAL EDUCATION

Equal to any Institution in Canada, or the United States, by thoroughly competent men who teach that which they know, and therefore practically understand.

THE PUBLICATIONS OF

The "Canadian Accountant," "Joint Stock Company Book Writing," etc., have obtained a National reputation, and a College, who are daily engaged, together with their staff Rooms, College Bank, and Merchants Emporium with the

THE COURSE IS

because the teaching is thorough and practical, and no person individually, as well as to the various classes, the person

GOOD BOARD

can be obtained in Belleville at a lower rate than in any Canada or the United States.

The College Journal, containing full information and specimens of penmanship, sent free on application.

Address

Belleville, September 1877.

MONEY TO

We have received instructions from England, to

AT LOWERS RATE THAN HAS

CALL IN AND EXAMINE

NO COMMISSION

WIL

$777

is not easily earned in these times, but it can be made in three months by any one of either sex, in any part of the country who is willing to work steadily at the employment that we furnish. $50 per week in your own town. You need not be away from home over night. You can give your whole time to the work, or only your spare moments. We have agents who are making over $20 per day. All who engage at once can make money fast. At the present time money cannot be made so easily and rapidly at any other business. It costs nothing to try the business. Terms and $5 Outfit free. Address at once, H. HALLETT & Co., Portland, Maine. 22

PULMONA

is beyond comparison the best remedy for the cure of CONSUMPTION (EVEN IN ITS ADVANCED STAGES), Asthma, Bronchitis, Catarrh, and all derangements of the NERVOUS SYSTEM. A circular containing PARTICULARS of MANY CASES SUCCESSFULLY TREATED, full advice for the treatment of the diseases above mentioned, and certificates of actual cures, will be sent free by mail to all applicants. Address OSCAR G. MOSES, Sole Proprietor, 18 Cortlandt Street, New York.

APANEE-ONT.

GRADUATE OF
O Veterinary College.
consulted on all diseases of Domesticals, personally at ampbell House
TERMS MODERATE
—Bridge Street.

Consumption Cured.

LYSICIAN, retired from active practice, having used in his hands by an East India Missionary a Vegetable Remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of
ASTHMA BRONCHITIS CATARRH of the Lungs and Affections; also a Positive and for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Complaints, having thoroughly tested its wonderful curative powers of cases, feels it his duty to make it suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive, and a desire to relieve human suffering, he is now OF CHARGE, to all who desire it, this all directions for preparing and successfully return mail by address with stamp, name—
DR. C. STEVENS,
Box 56, Brockville, Ont.

Crystal & Glassware.

AT COST

OUR ENTIRE STOCK OF

Crystal & Glassware,

WILL BE SOLD AT

Crystal and Under Glassware.

Intend going out of that line.

and Secure Bargains.

Paid for Butter and Eggs.

SMITH & ANDERSON,

GLOBE
Assurance Co.

OF NEW YORK.

— $5,000,000
— Reserve, $3,600,000
— for Year 1876, $857,000

Company only accepts first-class as noted for the promptness with which claims are paid.

insurance on the ordinary life as endowment plans, besides those as the ten, fifteen and twenty-year dividend plan, by which the result as all other accumulations withdrawn at the time specified, yielding a system of endowment with life rates.

BOOTS MADE TO ORDER
ROSE & FRALICK.

21-yl.

A SPECULATION!

During the dull summer months, the undersigned will sell Furniture, Chairs, &c., at greatly reduced Prices, for Cash or Good Notes.

J. GIBBARD & SON.

S. G. BEATTY & Co.,

BELLEVILLE, - - Ontario.

S. G. BEATTY. W. R. ROBINSON. J. W. JOHNSON.

Ontario Business College,

Which has been in existence for 10 years, and, during which time

Has Trained Hundreds of Young Men

For Business Life, who are now filling important positions in the community, offers advantages for obtaining a

COMMERCIAL EDUCATION.

Equal to any Institution in Canada, or the United States. Its several departments are conducted by thoroughly competent men who teach that which they have learned by actual business experience, and therefore practically understand.

THE PUBLICATIONS OF THE COLLEGE:

The "Canadian Accountant," "Joint Stock Company Book Keeping," "Beatty's Guide to Elegant Writing, etc., have obtained a National reputation, and are the productions of the principals of the College, who are daily engaged, together with their staff of teachers, in the Class and Lecture Rooms, College Bank, and Merchants Emporium with the Students.

THE COURSE IS SHORT,

because the teaching is thorough and practical, and no pains are spared to give to each student individually, as well as to the various classes, the personal attention of the teachers.

GOOD BOARD

AS EXCELLED BY

No Office In The Dominion

ITS OUTFIT INCLUDES A

LARGE STOCK

OF THE

Very Latest Styles Of New Type

And every Facility exists for turning out

JOB PRINTING

IN THE

BEST STYLE

OF THE ART.

LAW WORK A SPECIALITY

- Assessment Blanks,
- Auction Bills,
- Articles of Agreement,
- Briefs,
- Bill Heads,
- Ball Programmes,
- Bills of Fare,
- Circulars,
- Chancery Bills,
- Cards,
- Catalogues,
- Debiture

- Dodgers,
- Date Lines,
- Envelopes,
- Exhibition Bills,
- Funeral Circulars,
- Financial Reports,
- Headings,
- Horse Bills,
- Indentures,
- Invitations

all and Secure Bargains.

ish Paid for Butter and Eggs.

SMITH & ANDERSON.

GLOBE
Life Assurance Co.
OF NEW YORK.

Assets, - - - $5,000,000
Premium Reserve, $3,600,000
Income for Year 1876, $857,000

This company only accepts first-class, and is noted for the promptness with which claims are paid.

It offers insurance on the ordinary life as well as the endowment plans, besides those known as the ten, fifteen and twenty-year reserve dividend plan, by which the reserves as well as all other accumulations are withdrawn at the time specified, thereby affording a system of endowment or ordinary life rates.

See prospectus in hands of local agents.

H. L. COOK,
General Agent for Ont.
THOS. A. HUFFMAN,
Agent for Napanee
Napanee, 15th June, 1877. 8 ft.

WESTERN INSURANCE COMPANY

Incorporated 1851.

CAPITAL, - - - $800,000
With power to increase to $1,000,000.

FIRE AND MARINE.

HEAD OFFICE: Toronto, Ont.

President,
HON. JOHN McMURRICH.
Vice-President,
HARLES MAGRATH.
Directors.

MICHELIE, Esq. NOAH BARNHART, Esq.
N. FISKEIN, Esq. ROBT. BEATTY, Esq.
L. SMITH, Esq. WM. GOODERHAM, Esq.
EDWARD HILDAN, Managing Director
EDK G. C. LOVELL, Esq., Secretary.
WELIGHT, Fire Inspector.
ES PRINGLE, General Agent.
Marine Inspector.

Subsides of cost at the lowest current rates on Buildings, Merchandise, and other property, against loss or damage by fire, Hull Cargo, and Freight against the perils of Land Navigation.

Marine Risks with the Maritime Provinces and all steam.

W. V. DETLOR,
Agent for Napanee

GRACE'S SALVE.

Vegetable Preparation, invented in the century by Dr. Wm. Grace, Surgeon in King's army. Through its agency he cured sores of the most serious sores and wounds, was regarded by all who knew him as a benefactor. 25c. a box, by mail 30c. For sale by all druggists generally.

AGENTS WANTED.
Press SETH W. BOWLER & SON, Boston.

To Let!

100 Dwelling House in Napanee, next to V. A. Reeves for one or two years, with a garden. For further particulars, apply to LAFUM, Life Ins. Agt., Napanee.
SIDNEY WARNER.
N. Dec. 34, 1877. 32-411

Ontario Business College
S. G. BEATTY & Co.,
BELLEVILLE, - - - Ontario.
S. G. BEATTY. W. R. ROBINSON. J. W. JOHNSON.

Ontario Business College,
Which has been in existence for 10 years, and, during which time
Has Trained Hundreds of Young Men
For Business Life, who are now filling important positions in the community, offers advantages for obtaining a

COMMERCIAL EDUCATION.
Equal to any Institution in Canada, or the United States. Its several departments are conducted by thoroughly competent men who teach that which they have learned by actual business experience, and therefore practically understand.

THE PUBLICATIONS OF THE COLLEGE:
The "Canadian Accountant," "Joint Stock Company Book Keeping," "Beatty's Guide to Elegant Writing, etc., have obtained a National reputation, and are the productions of the principals of the College, who are daily engaged, together with their staff of teachers, in the Class and Lecture Rooms, College Bank, and Merchants Emporium with the Students.

THE COURSE IS SHORT,
because the teaching is thorough and practical, and no pains are spared to give to each student individually, as well as to the various classes, the personal attention of the teachers.

GOOD BOARD
can be obtained in Belleville at a lower rate than in any other place having a Business College in Canada or the United States.

The College Journal, containing full information respecting terms, nature of course, etc., and specimens of penmanship, sent free on application.

Address, S. G. BEATTY & Co.,
BELLEVILLE, ONTARIO.
Belleville, September 1877. 19-611.

MONEY TO LOAN.

We have received instructions from England, to lend a large amount of Money,
AT LOWERS RATE THAN HAS YET BEEN OFFERED.

CALL IN AND EXAMINE RATES.
NO COMMISSION CHARGED.

WILLIAMS & HOOPER.

$777 is not easily earned in these times, but it can be made in three months by anyone of either sex, in any part of the country who is willing to work steadily at the employment that we furnish. $65 per week in your own town. You need not be away from home over night. You can give your whole time to the work, or only your spare moments. We have agents who are making over $20 per day. All who engage at once can make money fast. At the present time money cannot be made so easily and rapidly at any other business. It costs nothing to try the business. Terms and 25 Cents free. Address at once, H. HALETT & Co., Portland, Maine. 22

PULMONA

is beyond comparison the best remedy for the cure of CONSUMPTION (EVEN IN ITS ADVANCED STAGES), Asthma, Bronchitis, Catarrh, and all derangements of the RESPIRATORY SYSTEM. A circular containing PARTICULARS OF MANY CASES SUCCESSFULLY TREATED, full advice for the treatment of the diseases above mentioned, and certificates of actual cures, will be sent free by mail to all applicants. Address OSCAR G. MOSES, Sole Proprietor, 15 Cortlandt Street, New York. 22

GOOD ADVERTISING

$3,250.40 worth of space in various newspapers distributed through thirty states, will be sold for $700 cash. Accurate insertions guaranteed. A paper of papers giving daily and weekly circulation and printed schedule of rates, sent free on application to GEO. P. ROWELL & Co., New York. Advertising Agents, No. 41 Park Row, N.Y. 34-y.s

54.30 PER WEEK AT HOME.
Samples and Watch free to all
Address, MONTREAL NOVELTY CO. P.Q.
F 236 St. James Street, Montreal

1873. SEND FOR 1878

New York Observer
The Best Religious and Secular Family Newspaper. $3.15 a Year, post-paid.
Established 1823.
37 PARK ROW, NEW YORK.
22. SAMPLE COPIES FREE.

OF THE ART.

LAW WORK A SPECIALITY

Assessment Blanks,
Auction Bills,
Articles of Agreement,
Briefs,
Bill Heads,
Ball Programmes,
Bills of Fare,
Circulars,
Chancery Bills,
Cards,
Catalogues,
Deedenture

Dodgers,
Date Lines,
Envelopes,
Exhibition Bills,
Funeral Circulars,
Financial Reports,
Headings,
Horse Bills,
Indentures,
Invitations

Letter Headings,
Law Forms,
Lawyers' Briefs,
Labels,
Monthly Statements,
Mourning Cards,
Municipal Forms,
Note Headings,
Notarial Circulars

Obituary Notices,
Oamphlets,
Posters,
Programmes,
Promissory Notes,
Receipt Books,
Shipping Tags,
Statements,
Sale Bills,
Tickets,

Tax Collectors Rolls,
Tax Receipts,
Visiting Cards,
Voters' Lists,
Wheat Receipts,
Wedding Cards.

ALL THE ABOVE

PRINTED WITH DESPATCH

AT THE

'EXPRESS' OFFICE.

THE "EXPRESS," NAPANEE, ONT.

$1 PER ANNUM,
IN ADVANCE; OTHERWISE, $1.50.

The best Local Paper in this section. Best Market Reports, Local News, and Foreign Intelligence.

GOOD ADVERTISING MEDIUM

Business Cards.

Alex. C. Davis,

ISSUER of Marriage Licenses, Napanee
(Ontario)

James Aylsworth,

ISSUER of Marriage Licenses, Tam-
worth.

S. D. Clarke,

ISSUER of Marriage Licenses, Odessa,
(Ontario).

J. J. Watson,

ISSUER of Marriage Licenses and Certificates, Adolphustown.

Peter E. R. Miller,

ISSUER of Marriage Licenses, Switzerville Ont

Robert Graham,

ISSUER of Marriage Licenses, Office
In the Dominion Store, Enterprise.

Charles Lane,

ISSUER of Marriage Licenses and Certificates. Office—Front of Grammar School, Bridge Street, Napanee.

J. B. Randall,

ISSUER of Marriage Licenses and Certificates. Also Agent for the Beaver and Toronto Fire Insurance Company and the Mutual Life Association of Canada. Residence—Shannonsville, Ont

Murphy & Bedford,

BARRISTERS, &c., MILL POINT.
Money to lend on improved Real Estate.

E. B. Stone,

BARRISTER, Attorney at Law, Solicitor in Chancery, Conveyancer, etc.
Office over Henry & Bros. Bookstore, Dundas Street Napanee. Entrance next door to Dominion Telegraph Office.

Deroche & Madden,

BARRISTERS and Attorneys-at-Law,
Solicitor in Chancery, Conveyancers,
Notaries Public, etc. Office—In Grange
Block, Napanee. Money to loan on easy
terms.

H. M. DEROCHE.

J. H. MADDEN.

S. Gibson,

BARRISTER, Attorney-at-Law, Solicitor in Chancery and Insolvency, Notary Public, etc. Office—Grange Block-John Street, Napanee.

NAPANEE

W. G. SCOTT, Editor.

VOL. 16

"THE GREAT"

NAPANEE, ONT.

Tailoring!

HAVING commenced business in the above
line on my own account, directly over

Coxall & Paisley's Store,

Where I will be ready to attend to the wants of
all who may favor me with a call.

Nice Samples to Select from, and Good
Fit Guaranteed.

Cutting Boys' Cloths & Ladies Jackets
A SPECIALTY.

JAS. BLAIR.

Napanee, Aug. 29th, 1877.

18-6m

PAISLEY HOUSE.

(John St. opposite the Market.)

NAPANEE, CNT.

A First Class Hotel centrally located, with excellent yard and stabling accommodation

CHAS. PAISLEY,

Proprietor.

QUEEN'S HOTEL,
BELLEVILLE.

Every Accommodation for Commercial Travellers.

35.

A. P. FARRELL,

PROPRIETOR.

NAPANEE TICKET AGENCY.

Grand Trunk Railway Tickets for sale at
Grange & Bro's Drug Store.

For all stations east and west. American money taken at par, from Napanee to Milwaukee, Chicago, St. Louis, Omaha, San Francisco &c., to all Lake Ports. Passengers purchasing tickets from the undersigned avoid the double and delay of exchanging tickets and re-checking baggage to Toronto. Cheapest route to the west. Return tickets to Kingston, Belleville, Toronto, Montreal, Portland etc. For further particulars apply at GRANGE & BRO'S Exchange Office, Passenger agent
G. T. R. Uncurrent money bought and sold

THE PRINCE EDWARD COUNTY

MUTUAL FIRE INSURANCE CO.

HEAD OFFICE—PICTON, ONT.
(Established 30th Sept., 1854).

PRESIDENT—STEPHEN B. HUBBS,
VICE-PRESIDENT—JOHN PRINRYER.

MANAGER AND INSPECTOR—L. B. STIN-SON.

SECRETARY—JOHN TWIGG.

TREASURER—PHILIP LOW, Q. C.

SOLICITOR—W. H. R. ALLISON

DIRECTORS—STEPHEN B. HUBBS,
JNO. PRINRYER, JOHN VANAL-STINE, LEWIS B. STINSON, W.
BOULTER, ADAM H. SAYLOR, and JAMES CALNAN, Esqs.

HONORARY DIRECTORS.—G. Striker, Esq.
M. P. F., Picton; R. Clapp, Esq., Milford; K. Graham, Esq., Belleville; P.
Allan, C. A. Lloyd, J. P. Dorland, Esqs.,

IMPROVEMENT

—ON—

FELT ROOFS.

THE Subscriber would call the attention of the people of Napanee, to an improvement on Felt Roofs, invented by

Mr. Brokenshire, of the Atlantic Foundry, Kingston.

This Roofing Material is composed of Minerals which form a Cement, proof against either

Fire or Water,

It will not crack in winter, or get soft and run in summer, and when dry it is as hard as Steel, and more durable than Tin or Galvanized Iron, in fact nothing else is now used in Kingston on felt roofs.

References to a few who have the roof in use:—
Mr. C. F. Gildersleeve, Kingston;
Messrs. Wagner & McMillan, Albion Hotel;
Mr. McRae's Store, Princess Street, Kingston;
Mr. Parker's Drug Store, Kingston;
Mr. Thornton's Hotel, Kingston;
Mr. Overend, Contractor, on his residence do.;
Kingston Street Railway Buildings;
Rev. Mr. Grafton, Kingston;
Atlantic Foundry, Kingston, and many others.

Any parties wanting New Roofs or Old Roofs repaired should see

NELSON GERMAN,

Agent, Napanee.

Napanee, Nov. 15th 1877.

29

WESTERN ASSURANCE COMPANY

Incorporated 1851.

CAPITAL, $800,000
With power to increase to $1,000,000.

FIRE AND MARINE.

HEAD OFFICE: Toronto, Ont.

President.

HON. JOHN MCMEURICH.

Vice-President.

HARLE, MAGRATH.

Directors.

JAS. MICHIE, Esq., NOAH BARNHART, Esq., JOHN FISKE, Esq., ROBT. B. BATH, Esq.,
A. M. SMITH, Esq., Wm. GOODERHAM, Esq.

BARNARD HILDAN, Managing Director
FREDK G. C. LOVELACE, Secretary.

WM. BLIGHT, Fire Inspector.

JAMES PRINGLE, General Agent.

Wm. BLIGHT, Marine Inspector.

Insurances effected at the lowest current
rates on Buildings, Merchandise, and other property, against loss or damage by fire.

On Hull Cargo, and Freight against the perils
of Inland Navigation.

On cargo Risks with the Maritime Provinces
by sail or steam.

On cargo Risks with the Maritime Provinces
by sail or steam.

On cargo Risks with the Maritime Provinces
by sail or steam.

On cargo Risks with the Maritime Provinces
by sail or steam.

On cargo Risks with the Maritime Provinces
by sail or steam.

On cargo Risks with the Maritime Provinces
by sail or steam.

On cargo Risks with the Maritime Provinces
by sail or steam.

On cargo Risks with the Maritime Provinces
by sail or steam.

On cargo Risks with the Maritime Provinces
by sail or steam.

On cargo Risks with the Maritime Provinces
by sail or steam.

On cargo Risks with the Maritime Provinces
by sail or steam.

On cargo Risks with the Maritime Provinces
by sail or steam.

On cargo Risks with the Maritime Provinces
by sail or steam.

On cargo Risks with the Maritime Provinces
by sail or steam.

Poetry

Alice Cary's Sweetest

Among the beautiful pict
That hang on Memory's
Is one of a dim old forest
That seemeth best of all
Not for its gnarled oaks of Dark with the mistletoe,
Nor for the violets golden
That sprinkle the vale by Nor for the milk-white lili
That lean from the fragr
Coquetting all day with th
And stealing their go de
Not for the vines on the up
Where the bright red bee
Not the pink nor the pale
It seemeth to be the bes

I once had a little brother
With eyes that were darl
On the lap of he old n for
He lieth in peace asleep
Light as the down on the t
Free as the winds that bl
We roved there the beauti
The summers of long ago
But his feet on the hills gr
And one of the autumn
I made for my little br the
A bed in the yellow leav

Sweetly his pale arms fold
My neck in sweet emb
As the light of immortal be Silently covered his face
And when the arrows of su
Looked in the treetops b
He fell in the saint like be Asleep by the gates of li Thereof re, of all the pictu
That hang on Memory's
That one of the dim old fo
Seemeth the best of all.

Literature

THE LILY OF ST

BY L. CROW.

(Continued from las

"Nonsense!" cried sturd are no Englishman if you r to the truth; and you are n
Captain Renton, if you den portunity for exonerating m charges you made against night."

"Was this speech conne last evening?" he was sarca
"Has your exculpation bee
you?"

Max smiled.
"On the contrary; if troubled with an excess of v terview of which you we would have terribly mortifi learned before it was half by-the-by, I have long sa you are a luckier fellow tha to be."

"Explain yourself, Mr. F is this intended as a fr demanded the indignant Re
"I mean that if you had r yourself to be too easily de pearances, you would have ed all along that Miss Hayd merely friends—cousins—n

GLOBE

Life Assurance Co.

OF NEW YORK

Murphy & Bedford,
BARRISTERS, &c., MILL POINT.
Money to lend on improved Real Estate.

E. B. Stone,
BARRISTER, Attorney at Law, Solicitor in Chancery, Conveyancer, etc. Office over Henry & Bros. Bookstore, Dundas Street Napanee. Entrance next door to Dominion Telegraph Office.

Deroche & Madden,
BARRISTERS and Attorneys-at-Law, Solicitors in Chancery, Conveyancers, Notaries Public, etc. OFFICE—In Grange Block, Napanee. Money to loan on easy terms.
H. M. DEROCHE. J. H. MADDEN.

S. Gibson,
BARRISTER, Attorney-at-Law, Solicitor in Chancery, Conveyancers, Notary Public, etc. OFFICE—Grange Block, John Street, Napanee.

R. Tracy, M. D.,
BELLEVILLE.
PHYSICIAN, Surgeon and Accoucher. Office and Residence, two doors east from the Bank of Montreal near the Congregational Church, Hotel St. J. 39

Reeve & Morden,
BARRISTERS and Attorneys-at-Law, Solicitors in Chancery, Conveyancers, etc. OFFICE—Perry's New Block Dundas Street, Napanee, Ontario.
W. A. REEVE, M. A., L. MORDEN, Co. Crown Attorney.

E. A. Deroche,
OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE under Insolvency Act of 1875. Office in H. M. Deroche's Law Office

Williams & Hooper,
BARRISTERS, Attorneys-at-Law, Solicitors in Chancery and Insolvency, Conveyancers, Notaries Public, etc., Napanee, Ontario.
W. S. WILLIAMS, E. A. HOOPER, M. A. Official Assignee

W. F. Hall,
OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE under Insolvency Act of 1875. Fire Insurance Agent, &c. Office of Napanee Paper Mills, East Street.

James F. Bartles,
LAND AGENT, Fire, Life and Accident Insurance Agent OFFICE—corner of Dundas and West Streets, Napanee.

F. Bartlett,
ARCHITECT AND BUILDER, West A Street, Napanee. Plans, Specifications and Detail Drawings furnished. Builder's work measured, and value computed.

Mai's Machine Shop,
STEAM ENGINES and all kinds of Boilers made to order. Also all kinds of Machinery repaired on the shortest notice. Remember the place, opposite the Old City Hotel, corner of Adelaide and Bridge Streets.

Hartford Fire Insurance Co.
ESTABLISHED 1810.
CAPITAL, $1,000,000.

A MOUNT DEPOSITED IN CANADA in accordance with the Act of 1875, $130,000.
Insures property against fire as low as any other reliable company. All losses equitably adjusted and promptly paid in Canada funds or Gold. Isolated dwellings insured at exceedingly low rates.

the double and treble of examining vessels and re-checking baggage to Toronto. Cheap route to the west. Return tickets to Kingston, Belleville, Toronto, Montreal, Portland etc. For further particulars apply at GRANGE & BRO'S Exchange Office, Passenger agent, G. T. R. Uncurrent money bought and sold

THE PRINCE EDWARD COUNTY MUTUAL FIRE INSURANCE CO.
HEAD OFFICE—PICTON, ONT.
(Established 30th Sept., 1854).

PRESIDENT—STEPHEN B. HUBBS, VICE-PRESIDENT—JOHN PRINYER, MANAGER AND INSPECTOR—L. B. STINSON, SECRETARY—JOHN TWIGG, TREASURER—PHILIP LOW, Q. C. SOLICITOR—W. H. R. ALLISON, DIRECTORS—STEPHEN B. HUBBS, JNO. PRINYER, JOHN VANALSTINE, LEWIS B. STINSON, W. BOULTER, ADAM H. SAYLOR, and JAMES CALNAN, Esqs.
HONORARY DIRECTORS.—G. Striker, Esq. M. P. P., Picton; R. Clapp, Esq., Milford; K. Graham, Esq., Belleville; P. Allan, C. A. Lloyd, J. P. Dorland, Esq., Adolphstown; J. C. Huffman, Esq., J. T. Grange, Esq., M. P. P., Napanee; J. E. Proctor, Esq., Brighton; G. W. Webb, Esq., Colborne; G. Jones, Esq., Trenton; J. Redner, Esq., Rednersville; Owen Roblin, Esq., Wm. Delong, Esq., Ameliaburg; H. A. McFaul, Esq., Hillier; Wm. Delong, Esq., Ameliaburg; Jas. Johnson, Esq., Athol.
This Company is established upon strictly Mutual principles, insuring farm property Townships, and property not more hazardous in Towns and Villages and offers great advantages to insure at low rates for Three or Four Years either, on the Premium Note or Cash System.
March 9th. 1875. 521-y.

Benoni Briggs
WILL return his sincere thanks to his numerous friends and the public generally for the liberal patronage they have extended to him during the past twenty-five years, and begs to announce that he has
AGAIN COMMENCED BUSINESS in the Boot and Shoe line, in the shop opposite the Campbell House, Napanee, at the sign of the "Big Boot." Having engaged Mr. Geo. Mitchell, formerly in the employ of Messrs. McKossie & Downey, he intends to manufacture all kinds of custom work of the very best material and workmanship, and solicits a continuance of public patronage.
Repairing done on short notice, and on liberal terms. 8-11. BENONI BRIGGS.

ADVERTISING!
$1,000 WORTH FOR $87.50.
The cheapest and best way to reach readers outside of the large cities is by using one or more of our six lists of over 1000 newspapers, divided to cover different sections of the country. Weekly circulation of over 600,000. Advertisements received for one or more lists. For catalogues containing names of papers, and other information and for estimates, address
BEALS & FOSTER, 22-41 Park Row (Times Building), New York 10-11.

Will Cure Consumption.

TO all suffering from the following diseases a ray of hope is offered through the kindness of a missionary friend who has sent me the formula of a pure vegetable medicine which has long been used by the native medicine men of Hindostan:—for the positive and radical cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma, Catarrh, Dyspepsia, Throat and Lung difficulty, General Debility, Loss of Manhood and all Nervous Affections. Its power has been tested in hundreds of cases without a failure. I now feel it my sacred duty as far as possible to relieve human misery and will send the recipe FREE OF CHARGE to any person who may desire it with directions for using. Sent by return mail by addressing with 2 stamps naming this paper, Dr. O. B. Brigham, Drawer 28, Utica, N. Y. 10-11.

STRENGTH for the DEBILITATED.

PHOSFOZONE,
The Great Remedy for Indigestion, Weakness of the Limbs, Topo of the Liver.

The history of this preparation is simply a record of uninterrupted success, and probably no proprietary article was ever recommended to the public of any country by such a large number of Physicians who have endorsed, in the most unreserved and unqualified manner, this celebrated medicine. Sold by all Druggists, and prepared in the Laboratory of the Proprietors, Nos. 41 and 34 St. Jean Baptiste street, Montreal. 24.

President.
HON. JOHN MCMURRICH.
Vice-President.
HARLES MAGRATH.
Directors.
JAS. MICHIE, Esq. NOAH BARNHART, Esq. JOHN FISKIN, Esq. ROBT. JEATY, Esq. A. M. SMITH, Esq. WM. GODDREHAM, Esq.
BARNARD STILMAN, Managing Director
FREDK. C. LOVEACE, Secretary.
WM. BLIGHT, Fire Inspector.
JAMES PRINGLE, General Agent.
Marine Inspector.
Insurances effected at the lowest current rates on Buildings, Merchandise, and other property, against loss or damage by fire.
On Hull Cargo, and Freight against the perils of Inland Navigation.
On cargo Risks with the Maritime Provinces by sail or steam.
On wages by steamers to British Ports.
W. V. DETLOR, Agent for Napanee

GLOBE
Life Assurance Co.
OF NEW YORK.
Assets, - - - $5,000,000
Premium Reserve, $3,600,000
Income for Year 1876, $857,000

This company only accepts first-class risks, and is noted for the promptness with which claims are paid.

It offers insurance on the ordinary life as well as the endowment plans, besides those also known as the ten, fifteen and twenty-year reserve dividend plan, by which the reserves as well as all other accumulations may be withdrawn at the time specified, thereby affording a system of endowment under ordinary life rates.

See prospectus in hands of local agents.

H. L. COOK,
General Agent for Ont.
THOS. A. HUFFMAN,
Agt. for Napanee
Napanee, 15th June. 1877. 8 tf.

WANTED.

We want reliable, energetic canvassing agents in every town in the Dominion for the new "Illustrated History of the Dominion of Canada." This work is truly magnificent, containing over 2,000 double column quarto pages, and over 300 superb full page engravings. The work is published in Parts, on a plan which insures its welcome to every English reading family. To energetic young men and ladies, who are willing to work, we will guarantee a permanent position for two years, and GOOD PAY. Don't fail write! to for our private terms, sample pages, etc. This is a grand opportunity for school teachers to make more than double their salaries without interfering with their professional duties. The works being manufactured at a cost of over $20,000 for the literary, artistic and mechanical work of producing the plates by the old well known, reliable Lovell Printing and Publishing Co., of Montreal. All letters from agents must be addressed to the Publishers general agents as follows:
HAZEN E. BIGNEY & Co., 28 and 30 St. Francis Xavier Street, MONTREAL, QUE.

Dr. William Gray's Specific Medicine.

The Great English Remedy is especially recommended as an unfailing cure for Seminal Weakness, Spermatorrhoea, Impotency, and all Before Taking diseases that After follow as a sequence of Self Abuse, as Loss of Memory, Universal Lassitude, Pain in the Back, Dimness of Vision, Premature Old Age, and many other diseases that lead to Infertility or Consumption and Premature Death, all of which are

(Continued from last week)
"Nonsense!" cried sturdy Max, "are no Englishman if you refuse to the truth; and you are no Captain Renton, if you deny me opportunity for exonerating myself from charges you made against me night."
"Was this speech coined in the last evening?" he was sarcastic.
"Has your exculpation been at you?"
Max smiled.
"On the contrary; if I troubled with an excess of vanity interview of which you were, would have terribly mortified learned before it was half of by-the-by, I have long suspected you are a luckier fellow than you to be."
"Explain yourself, Mr. Hay is this intended as a fresh demanded the indignant Renton."
"I mean that if you had not yourself to be too easily deceived, veranances, you would have come all along that Miss Haydon merely friends—cousins—nothing."
Captain Renton dashed his the cliffs and laughed bitterly.
"Friends, who whisper together hold secret meetings, who have no ears, no thoughts for anyone other? Thanks for the information, Miss Haydon bid you bring Am I to congratulate her on the ship of such an honourable marriage?"
"I hope that you will do so, know me better," said Max, co "Until I am conscious of having ed myself by some mean or has not think that Eleanor will willingly regard for me."
"If you do not wish me to str the earth," exclaimed his auditor, "do not breathe that in my hearing!"
"Pshaw!" retorted Max, "ouredly; 'what is the use of all talk? I neither intended to quarrel with you. In fact, after this I am quite ready to promise to not intrude myself upon you, St. Erne, and remain there a you choose to stay at the Abbey."
"Was this arrangement plain he was asked, with a distrust.
"No; it is my own idea entirely sit down, and let me tell my own way, and then, if you still find fault with me, why, so be it do my best to undeceive you you persist in being obstinate a headed, I cannot help it!"
Ashamed of the violence the little effect on the impetuous Renton, Captain Renton resumed and lit another cigar. If he what his successful rival had to better get it over and have done.
Much to his surprise, Max to narrative from the moment at parted at the West End Hotel, how the name of Penruan Abbey mentioned by Renton him awakened some vague reminiscence he produced the old pocket-book father, which he had searched found the entries in which John was mentioned.
Passing rapidly over his early in Cornwall, and endeavors to friends of his father's boyhood, ceeded to relate his first visit to ley, his fall from the cliffs, and as he lay at the foot insensible, and Dan Calynack.
Then his tale was no longer over. With all a lover's tend dwelt upon the beauty and go the Lily of St Erne; and though nothing of the mystery surmised but left his hearer to infer that actually the young widow she ed herself, he did not hesitate that he had given his heart away fair flower, before he beheld E Penruan.
"But such a match would be you!" exclaimed Charles Ren had become intensely interested.
"Why?—because she calls fisherman's niece? Let me tel

Street, Nananee, Ontario.
W. A. REEVE, M. A.,
Co. Crown Attorney.

Note or Cash System.
March 9th. 1875.

521-y.

E. A. Deroche,

OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE under New Act of 1875.
Office in H. M. Deroche's Law Office

Williams & Hooper,

BARRISTERS, Attorneys-at-Law, Solicitors in Chancery and Insolvency, Conveyancers, Notaries Public, etc., Nananee, Ontario.
W. S. WILLIAMS, E. A. HOOPER, M. A.
Official Assignee

W. F. Hall,

OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE under Insolvent Act of 1875. Fire Insurance Agent, &c. Office of Nananee Paper Mills, East Street.

James F. Bartles,

LAND AGENT, Fire, Life and Accident Insurance Agent OFFICE—corner of Dundas and West Streets, Nananee.

F. Bartlett,

ARCHITECT AND BUILDER, West Street, Nananee. Plans, Specification and Detail Drawings furnished. Builder's work measured, and value computed.

Mai's Machine Shop,

STEAM ENGINES and all kinds of Boilers made to order. Also all kinds of Machinery repaired on the shortest notice. Rammer the place, opposite the City Hotel, corner of Adelaide and Bridge Streets.

Hartford Fire Insurance Co.

ESTABLISHED 1810.
CAPITAL, $1,000,000.

AMOUNT DEPOSITED IN CANADA in accordance with the Act 130,000.

Insures property against fire as low as any other reliable company. All losses equitably adjusted and promptly paid in Canada funds or Gold. Isolated dwellings insured at exceedingly low rates.

H. L. GEDDES, Agent.
for Nananee and vicinity.

Harris & Empey,

(Successors to J. C. Bogart.)

Livery & Sale Stables,

JOHN STREET,

South of Dundas Street, Nananee Ont.
The best Matched Teams and Single Rigs always on hand.
Carriages, Cutters, Sleigh Robes, &c., the best in the country.

MARBLE ! MARBLE

Monuments, Headstones etc.,

Carved in newest style in American and Foreign Marble and carefully put up in any part of the country at reasonable rates.

ALL KINDS OF CEMENT WORK DONE WITH CARE AND PROMPTNESS.

Call before you engage elsewhere. - Dundas st., nearly opposite Beaman's corner.

10-6m. V. KOUBER.

Important

ONE Good Active Agent wanted in every township to introduce the Victor Burton Worker. Sample Machine Free to Agents. Price, $20.00, $7.00 and $3.00 each. One Million to be sold in the Dominion. Apply early with stamp, for agents circular to

VICTOR WRINGER
Brockville Ont.

Benoni Briggs

WILL return his sincere thanks to his numerous friends and the public generally for the liberal patronage they have extended to him during the past twenty-five years, and begs to announce that he has

AGAIN COMMENCED BUSINESS in the Boot and Shoe line, in the shop opposite the Campbell House, Nananee, at the sign of the "Big Boot." Having engaged Mr. Geo. Mitchell, formerly in the employ of Messrs. McRossie & Downey, he intends to manufacture all kinds of custom work of the very best material and workmanship, and solicits a continuance of public patronage.
Repairing done on short notice, and on liberal terms.
S-4f. BENONI BRIGGS.

ADVERTISING !

$1,000 WORTH FOR $37.50.

The cheapest and best way to reach readers outside of the large cities is by using one or more of our sixties of over 1000 newspapers, divided to cover different sections of the country. Weekly Circulation of over 600,000. Advertisements received for one or more lists. For catalogue containing names of papers, and other information and for estimates, address BEALS & FOSTER, 22-41 Park Row (Times Building), New York

Will Cure Consumption.

TO all suffering from the following diseases a ray of hope is offered through the kindness of a missionary friend who has sent me the formula of a pure vegetable medicine which has long been used by the native medicine men of Hindostan:—for the positive and radical cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma, Catarrh, Dyspepsia, Throat and Lung difficulty, General Debility, Loss of Manhood and all Nervous Affections, its power has been tested in hundreds of cases without a failure. I now feel it my sacred duty as far as possible to relieve human misery and will send the recipe—FREE OF CHARGE—to any person who may desire it with directions for using. Sent by return mail by addressing with 2 stamps naming this paper, Dr. O. R. Brigham, Drawer 28, Utica, N. Y. 19-1v.

STRENGTH for the DEBILITATED.

PHOSFOZONE,

The Great Remedy for Indigestion, Weakness of the Limbs, Topo of the Liver.

The history of this preparation is simply a record of uninterrupted success, and probably no proprietary article was ever recommended to the public of any country by such a large number of Physicians who have endorsed, in the most unreserved and unqualified manner, this celebrated medicine. Sold by all Druggists, and prepared in the Laboratory of the Proprietors, Nos. 41 and 34 St. Jean Baptiste street, Montreal. 24.

LIVERY at MILL POINT.

MR. JOHN FINLAYSON is prepared to furnish the best of rigs, either single or double.

At the Old Commercial Hotel

MAIN STREET.

Mill Point, Jan. 30th, 1877. 45

BRISCO HOUSE,
NANANEE, ONT.

POTTER BROS., PROPRIETORS.

First-Class Sample Rooms for Commercial Travellers.

Omnibus to and from all Trains and Boats.

LIVERY ATTACHED.

It offers insurance on the ordinary life as well as the endowment plans, besides those also known as the ten, fifteen and twenty-year reserve dividend plan, by which the reserves as well as all other accumulations may be withdrawn at the time specified, thereby affording a system of endowment under ordinary life rates.

See prospectus in hands of local agents.

H. L. COOK,
General Agent for Ont.
THOS. A. HUFFMAN,
Agt. for Nananee

Nananee, 15th June, 1877. 8 tf.

WANTED.

We want reliable, energetic canvassing agents in every town in the Dominion for the new "Illustrated History of the Dominion of Canada." This work is truly magnificent, containing over 2,000 double column quarto pages, and over 300 superb full page engravings. The work is published in Parts, on a plan which insures its welcome to every English reading family. To energetic young men and ladies, who are willing to work, we will guarantee a permanent position for two years, and GOOD PAY. Don't fail write! to for our private terms, sample pages, etc. This is a grand opportunity for school teachers to make more than double their salaries without interfering with their professional duties. The works being manufactured at a cost of over $20,000 for the literary, artistic and mechanical work of producing the plates by the old well known, reliable Lovell Printing and Publishing Co., of Montreal. All letters from agents must be addressed to the Publishers General agents as follows:

HAZEN B. BIGNÉY & Co.,
28 and 30 St. Francis Xavier Street,
MONTREAL, QUE.

Dr. William Gray's Specific Medicine.

Before Taking diseases that After
The Great English Remedy is especially recommended as an unfailing cure for Seminal Weakness, Spermatocoe, Impotency, and all follow as a sequence of Felf Abuse, as Loss of Memory, Universal Lassitude, Pain in the Back, Dimness of Vision, Premature Old Age, and many other diseases that lead to Insanity or Consumption and a Premature Grave, all of which as a rule are first caused by deviating from the path of nature and overindulgence.
The Specific Medicine is the result of a life study and many years of experience in treating these special diseases. Pamphlet free by mail.
The Specific Medicine is sold by all Druggists at $1 per package, or six packages for $5, or will be sent by mail on receipt of the money by addressing.

WILLIAM GRAY & Co.,
Windsor, Ont.

F. BEZO'S
RESTAURANT

(Opposite the Tichborne House.)
Meals or lunch can be obtained on most reasonable terms. Board by the day or week.

FRUIT OR GROCERIES

Toys and Fancy Goods, and D. D. MALLORY'S CELEBRATED OYSTER Best in the Market.

F. BEZO.

Money to Loan!

I Have received a Large Amount of Money to Lend. Good Mortgages Purchased.

W. S. WILLIAMS.

Scholarship for Sale

At this Office.

not think that Eleanor will withhold kindly regard for me."

"If you do not wish me to strike the earth," exclaimed his exa auditor, "do not breathe that nar in my hearing!"

"Pshaw!" retorted Max, goudredly; "what is the use of all talk? I neither intended to quarrel nor fight you. In fact, after this I am quite ready to promise that not intrude myself upon you, by St. Erne, and remain there as you choose to stay at the Abbey."

"Was this arrangement plain he was asked, with a distrustful

"No; it is my own idea entire sit down, and let me tell my stor own way, and then, if you still c find fault with me, why, so be it. do my best to undeceive you; you persist in being obstinate and headed, I cannot help it."

Ashamed of the violence that little effect on the impeturbable nian, Captain Renton resumed l and lit another cigar. If he m what his successful rival had to s better get it over and have done

Much to his surprise, Max too narrative from the moment at wh parted at the West End Hotel. how the name of Penruin Abbey mentioned by Renton himse awakened some vague reminiscer he produced the old pocket-book father, which he had searched found the entries in which John was mentioned.

Passing rapidly over his early in Cornwall, and endeavors to friends of his father's boyhood, ceeded to relate his first visit to ley, his fall from the cliffs, and d as he lay at the foot insensible, l and Dan Calynack.

Then his tale was no longer over. With all a lover's tender dwelt upon the beauty and good the Lily of St Erne; and though nothing of the mystery surround but left his hearer to infer that actually the young widow she red herself, he did not hesitate t that he had given his heart away fair frow, before he beheld Ele Penruan.

"But such a match would be you!" exclaimed Charles. Rent had become intensely interestel.

"Why?—because she calls h fisherman's niece? Let me tell there is a rugged honesty and about Dan Calynack. Letty is a nature; what care I if she came of a long pedigree? And once Aquas Dolces, who would know my pretty English bride were pe peasant?"

"It seems, however, that sh transferred yourself from the col Penruan Abbey, you have wav your alliance," said Renton, re in his jealous suspicions.

"On my soul, I have not; no Miss Haydon have accepted my had been so hypocritical as to pr Bah, man! where are your eyes a woman who loves admit a m such familiar intimacy as she per me? never blushing when he her hand, nor hesitating to talk precisely as she would to her fa her brother? When she confess last evening that she had been in all day lest we were disputing, fears for me! No, no! If y knocked all the breath out body, as you threatened she would have been too than your escape, and too proud of you ess, to have much pity to spare brines."

"But she met you in the liby heard the whisper that carried y retorted Charlie, but half convin "Yes; that she might lay h commands on me not to offend h What is there amiss betwixt y Eleanor? Don't take offence question, there's a good fellow, n that I wish to interfere with wh 8781 J. 1878 [1876] 878.

NAPANEE EX

"THE GREATEST GOOD TO THE GREATEST NUMBER."

NAPANEE, ONT., FRIDAY, FEB. 1, 187

JUST AT ROSE & F

IN THE PERI

IMPROVEMENT —ON— FELT ROOFS.

THE Subscriber would call the attention of the people of Napanee, to an improvement on felt roofs, invented by

Mr. Brokenshire, of the Atlantic Foundry, Kingston.

This Roofing Material is composed of Mineral, which form a Cement, proof against either

Fire or Water,

it will not crack in winter, or get soft and un in summer, and when dry it is as hard as slate, and more durable than Tin or Galvanized iron, in fact nothing else is now used in Kingston on felt roofs.

References to a few who have the roof in use:—

- Mr. C. F. Gildersleeve, Kingston;
- Messrs. Wagner & McMillan, Albion Hotel;
- Mr. MacRae's Store, Princess Street, Kingston;
- Mr. Parker's Drug Store, Kingston;
- Mr. Thornton's Hotel, Kingston;
- Mr. Overend, Contractor, on his residence do.;
- Kingston Street Railway Buildings;
- Rev. Mr. Graftey, Kingston;
- Atlantic Foundry, Kingston, and many others.

Any parties wanting New Roofs or Old roofs repaired should see

NELSON GERMAN,
Agent, Napanee.
29

WESTERN ASSURANCE COMPANY

Incorporated 1851.

CAPITAL, $800,000
With power to increase to $1,000,000.

FIRE AND MARINE.

HEAD OFFICE: Toronto, Ont.

President.
HON. JOHN McMURRICH.
Vice-President.
HARLES MAGRATH.
Directors.
AS. MICHIE, Esq. NOAH BARNHART, Esq.
OHN FISKIN, Esq. ROBT. HEATY, Esq.
M. SMITH, Esq. WM. GOODERHAM, Esq.
BARNARD HILDAN, Managing Director
RED'G. C. LOVELACE, Secretary.
M. BLIGHT, Fire Inspector.
AMES PRINGLE, General Agent.
Marine Inspector.

Insurances effected at the lowest current rates on Buildings, Merchandise, and other property, against loss or damage by fire.

On Hull Cargo, and Freight against the perils of Inland Navigation.

On cargo Risks with the Maritime Provinces by sailer steam.

On goes by steamers to British Ports.

W. V. DETLOR,
Agent for Napanee

GLOBE Life Assurance Co.

OF NEW YORK.

Poetry.

Alice Cary's Sweetest Poem.

Among the beautiful pictures
That hang on Memory's wall
Is one of a dim old forest
That seemeth best of all;
Not for its gnarled oaks olden,
Dark with the mistletoe,
Nor for the violets golden,
That sprinkle the vale below;
Nor for the milk-white lilies
That lean from the fragrant hedge,
Coquetting all day with the sunbeams
And stealing their golden edge;
Not for the vines on the upland,
Where the bright red berries rest;
Not the pink nor the pale sweet cowslips,
It seemeth to be the best.

I once had a little brother
Whose eyes that were dark and deep,
On the lap of his old forest
He lieth in peace asleep.
Light as the down on the thistle,
Free as the winds that blow,
We roved there the beautiful summers,
The summers of long ago;
But his feet on the hills grew weary,
And one of the autumn eves
I made for my little brother
A bed in the yellow leaves.

Sweetly his pale arms folded
My neck in a sweet embrace,
As the light of immortal beauty
Silently covered his face;
And when the arrows of sunset
Looked in the treetops bright,
He fell in the saint like beauty
Asleep by the gates of light.
Thereof, of all the pictures
That hang on Memory's wall,
That one of the dim old forest
Seemeth the best of all.

Literature.

THE LILY OF ST. ERNE.

BY L. CROW.

(Continued from last week.)

"Nonsense!" cried sturdy Max. "You are no Englishman if you refuse to listen to the truth; and you are no gentleman, Captain Renton, if you deny me any opportunity for exonerating myself from the charges you made against me the other night."

"Was this speech conned in the library last evening?" he was sarcastically asked. "Has your exculpation been arranged for you?"

Max smiled. "On the contrary; if I had been troubled with an excess of vanity, the interview of which you were a witness would have terribly mortified me, for I learned before it was half over, what by-the-by, I have long suspected, that you are a luckier fellow than you deserve to be."

"Explain yourself, Mr. Haverlyng; or is this intended as a fresh insult?" demanded the indignant Renton.

"I mean that if you had not permitted yourself to be too easily deceived by appearances, you would have comprehended all along that Miss Haydon and I are merely friends—cousins—nothing more." Captain Renton dashed his answer over not concern me; but, if you love each other as I believe you do, what keeps you apart?"

"What, indeed?" sighed the Captain, now wholly unbending. "I cannot tell. In my boyhood, her father encouraged us to like each other; and, though I lost sight of the family for some years after they left India, and Mr. Haydon died, yet, when I returned to England with my regiment, Eleanor gave me the warmest of welcomes. Neither does Mr. Penruan look coldly on me, though I am free to confess that I have nothing to live on but my pay, and, therefore, am no match for an heiress."

"Mr. Penruan does not seem to care who takes his stepdaughter off his hands," muttered Max. "He is a most incomprehensible sort of an old gentleman."

"You are not doing him justice," he was venemously assured. "Mr. Penruan may love money; I do not deny that; but under his harsh exterior he hides kind and generous emotions."

"Very glad to hear you say so," Max commented. "I began to have some doubts about it myself."

"Then let me give you an instance of his good feeling," cried Renton, eagerly. "When I first came down to the Abbey, I did not consider myself justified in acknowledging my affection for Eleanor until I had frankly acquainted her stepfather with the state of my heart. Instead of sneering at my presumption and forbidding me to see her again, he not only heard me with patience, but confessed that if he were in my place, he should not let her fortune frighten me away. He said that in my wandering life, it would of course be quite a blessing to have such a creature as Eleanor beside me, and plainly intimated that if she chose to become my wife, I need not fear any opposition from him."

"Very good of my excellent kinsman, really!" said Max, sarcastically. "The only thing that detracts from my admiration of his generosity is the fact that he has said much the same to me!"

"Then it must be as I suspected," the Captain moodily replied, "She has transferred her affections to you, and has won him over to her way of thinking."

"I do not believe it. Nay, I am positive that you are wrong. Eleanor Haydon warned me in the frankest manner that I must not be persuaded into making love to her, and I never have. Mr. Penruan's motives for what he does and says are mysteries to me; but I am willing to stake my life on the good faith and honest dealing of the young lady."

"But you saw how she received me. Can you assure me that her manner was only assumed to conceal some pique, and that she may be persuaded to become mine?"

The eager face of Max began to cloud. No; he could not give the required assurance, for had not Eleanor herself tearfully declared that she could never, never give her hand to Charlie Renton?

OCASES of NEW him torte

ply.
THE BEST AND CHE

and See Them, as V

Ursula Min
the cliffs t
when I ur shudders a

"For go lated Capt with dread very edge o

"There is and bending ward, and ill-condition

manageable f thoroughly f
"And me! Ha
you are infli

so tenderly,
herself to her turned her he

"Cor sin mi
pud me was
Will you repea have dropped

Max went and as he cam him, whisper
ness, as soon
"Well, you an good Max, I p ly! And he ha have quite dis notions?"

"Certainly.
tion that Miss H
away before she holding me?"

"How absurd this!" cried the yo smiling. "Did you Did you invite him
you?"

"I did; but were should not do so, until my affections were so with with by the lady of my love

"Played with—wantonly repeated, her eyes flashing ment. But the next minute streaming with tears, and ere Max apologize for the offence he had be she had smartly whipped her horse, was dashing along the road at a pace left both the young men in terror for her safety.

CHAPTER XVI.

DOWN THE CHIMNEY OR THROUGH THE KEY-HOLE.

She met them at dinner, radiant with smiles, and looking so charming in her demi-toilette, that Max was not surprised at the infatuation Charlie Renton evinced for the lovely but inscrutable girl; a girl far more difficult to understand than

WESTERN INSURANCE COMPANY

Incorporated 1851.

CAPITAL, - - - - - $800,000
With power to increase to $1,000,000.

FIRE AND MARINE.

HEAD OFFICE: Toronto, Ont.

President.
HON. JOHN MC MURRICH.
Vice-President.
HARLES MAGRATH.
Directors.

MICHELIE, Esq. NOAH BARNHART, Esq.
N. FISKIN, Esq. ROBT. HEATY, Esq.
J. SMITH, Esq. Wm. GOODERHAM, Esq.
ARWARD HILDAN, Managing Director
EDW. G. C. LOVELACE, Secretary.
JES PRINGLE, Fire Inspector.
BLIGHT, Fire Inspector.

Insurance effected at the lowest current
rates on Buildings, Merchandise, and other property, against loss or damage by fire.

Hull Cargo, and Freight against the perils of Land Navigation.

Marine Risks with the Maritime Provinces and all steam.

W. V. DETTOR,
Agent for Nanphee

GLOBE Life Assurance Co.

OF NEW YORK.

Assets, - - - - - $5,000,000

Reserve, - - - - - $3,600,000

Income for Year 1876, - - - - - $857,000

This company only accepts first-class
risks, and is noted for the promptness with
which claims are paid.

Offers insurance on the ordinary life as well as the endowment plans, besides those known as the ten, fifteen and twenty-
year reserve dividend plan, by which the reserves as well as all other accumulations are withdrawn at the time specified, effecting a system of endowment or ordinary life rates.

Respectable in hands of local agents.

H. L. COOK,
General Agent for Ont.
THOS. A. HUFFMAN,
Agt. for Nanphee
Nanphee, 15th June, 1877. 8 ff.

WANTED.

We want reliable, energetic canvassing men in every town in the Dominion for new "Illustrated History of the Dominion of Canada." This work is truly valuable, containing over 2,000 double page engravings. The work is published in parts, on a plan which insures welcome to every English reading
man. To energetic young men and ladies, are willing to work, we will guarantee a permanent position for two years,
good pay. Don't fail write to for our terms, sample pages, etc. This grand opportunity for school teachers make more than double their salaries
without interfering with their professional duties. The works being manufactured at a cost of over $20,000 for the year, artistic and mechanical work of the highest quality. All letters from its must be addressed to the Publishers as follows:
HAZEN B. BIGNEY & Co.,
and 30 St. Francis Xavier Street,

Silently covered his face;
And when the arrows of sunset
looked in the treetops bright
He fell in the saint like beauty
Asleep by the gates of light.
Thereof re. of all the pictures
That hang on Memory's wall,
That one of the dim old forest
beemeth the best of all.

Literature.

THE LILY OF ST. ERNE.

BY L. CROW.

(Continued from last week.)

"Nonsense!" cried sturdy Max. "You are no Englishman if you refuse to listen to the truth; and you are no gentleman, Captain Renton, if you deny me any opportunity for exonerating myself from the charges you made against me the other night."

"Was this speech couched in the library last evening?" he was sarcastically asked. "Has your exculpation been arranged for you?"

Max smiled. "On the contrary; if I had been troubled with an excess of vanity, the interview of which you were a witness would have terribly mortified me, for I learned before it was half over, what, by-the-by, I have long suspected, that you are a luckier fellow than you deserve to be."

"Explain yourself, Mr. Havering; or is this intended as a fresh insult?" demanded the indignant Renton.

"I mean that if you had not permitted yourself to be too easily deceived by appearances, you would have comprehended all along that Miss Haydon and I are merely friends—cousins—nothing more."

Captain Renton dashed his cigar over the cliffs and laughed bitterly.

"Friends, who whisper together, who hold secret meetings, who have no eyes, no ears, no thoughts for anyone but each other? Thanks for the information. Did Miss Haydon bid you bring it to me? Am I to congratulate her on the friendship of such an honourable man as yourself?"

"I hope that you will do so when you know me better," said Max, composedly.

"Until I am conscious of having degraded myself by some mean or base act, I do not think that Eleanor will withdraw her kindly regard for me."

"If you do not wish me to strike you to the earth," exclaimed his exasperated auditor, "do not breathe that name again in my hearing!"

"Pshaw!" retorted Max, good-humouredly; "what is the use of all this talk? I neither intended to quarrel with nor fight you. In fact, after this morning, I am quite ready to promise that I will not intrude myself upon you, but go to St. Erne, and remain there as long as you choose to stay at the Abbey."

"Was this arrangement planned also?" he was asked, with a distrustful glance.

"No; it is my own idea entirely. Only sit down, and let me tell my story in my own way, and then, if you still choose to find fault with me, why, so be it. I shall do my best to undeceive you; and if you persist in being obstinate and wrong-headed, I cannot help it."

Ashamed of the violence that had so little effect on the impetuous Californian, Captain Renton resumed his seat, and lit another cigar. If he must hear what his successful rival had to say, why better get it over and have done with it.

Much to his surprise, Max took up his narrative from the moment at which they parted at the West End Hotel. He told how the name of Penruan Abbey, when mentioned by Renton himself, had awakened some vague reminiscences, and he produced the old pocket-book of his father, which he had searched till he found the entries in which John Penruan was mentioned.

Passing rapidly over his early ramblings in Cornwall, and endeavors to find the friends of his father's boyhood, he proceeded to relate his first visit to the Abbey, his fall from the cliffs, and discovery, as he lay at the foot insensible, by Letty and Dan Calvack.

his good feeling," cried Renton, eagerly. "With I first came down to the Abbey, I did not consider myself justified in acknowledging my affection for Eleanor until I had frankly acquainted her step-father with the state of my heart. Instead of sneering at my presumption and forbidding me to see her again, he not only heard me with patience, but confessed that if he were in my place, he should not let her fortune frighten me away. He said that in my wandering life, it would of course be quite a blessing to have such a creature as Eleanor beside me, and plainly intimated that if she chose to become my wife, I need not fear any opposition from him."

"Very good of my excellent kinsman, really!" said Max, sarcastically. "The only thing that detracts from my admiration of his generosity is the fact that he has said much the same to me."

"Then it must be as I suspected," the Captain moodily replied, "She has transferred her affections to you, and has won him over to her way of thinking."

"I do not believe it. Nay, I am positive that you are wrong. Eleanor Haydon warned me in the frankest manner that I must not be persuaded into making love to her, and I never have. Mr. Penruan's motives for what he does and says are mysteries to me; but I'm willing to stake my life on the good faith and honest dealing of the young lady."

"But you saw how she received me. Can you assure me that her manner was only assumed to conceal some pique, and that she may be persuaded to become mine?"

The eager face of Max began to cloud. No; he could not give the required assurance, for had not Eleanor herself tearfully declared that she could never, never give her hand to Charlie Renton?

"By San Jago?" he explained, vexedly; "it is ill meddling with what does not concern me in this country, for every affair that I have been mixed up with has proved a tangled coil that defied me to unravel. When I have said that I am certain Eleanor loves you I must pause, for I am as much in the dark as to the cause of her coldness as you can be. Go to her boldly, man, and learn it from her own lips."

But Renton did not rise from his despairing attitude.

"It is useless. I have done so more than once, but to no purpose. I came here to seek to win the old kind looks from her eyes—to hear her speak my name as she used to do, but in vain. Always the same chilling reception, always the same regrets that I persist in wasting my time in these visits; till at last, in obtained and despairing, I resolved to depart, and vow that I will do my best to forget her. But some relenting whisper when we are parting, some mournful yet tender glance, always revives the belief that she still loves me, and this belief strong hews instead of fading with distance. And so I come here again, and try again, to endure the same alternation of hopes and fears; to think her at one moment the most heartless of coquette, and at the next to ask myself if there is not some reason for her conduct, when I cannot learn before I condemn her."

"It must be a very miserable way of going on," said Max sympathetically; "and were I in your place, I should not rest till I had searched to the bottom of the matter."

"You speak as if that were easy to do; as if I had not to remonstrate with a capricious girl, and prevail upon her to tell me her secret thoughts. But it is not so. When I press Eleanor on the subject, she either bursts into tears, and flies my presence, or else laughingly reminds me that she has already declared we can never be united, and insists that I shall cease to persecute her."

"And you throw yourself into a jealous rage, there is a taleaux, and the curtain falls! Ay, to me, and I know not how to advise you, except that, were I in your place, I would persevere."

"How can you say any reason for saying this?" asked Charlie, catching like a drowning man at a straw. Has Eleanor said anything to me was Will you repeat have dropped?

Max went and as he came him, whispering, as soon as possible. "Well, you are good Max, I say! And he—have quite dis- notions?"

"Certainly. tion that Miss H. away before she holding me?"

"How absurd—this!" cried the young smiling. "Did you Did you invite him you?"

"I did; but were should not do so, until my affections were so with by the lady of my love

"Played with—wantonly repeated, her eyes flashing ment. But the next minute streaming with tears, and ere Max apologize for the offence he had she had smartly whipped her horse, was dashing along the road at a pace left both the young men in terror for his safety.

CHAPTER XVI.

DOWN THE CHIMNEY OR THROUGH THE KEY-HOLE.

She met them at dinner, radiant with smiles, and looking so 'charming' in her demi-toilette, that Max was not surprised at the infatuation Charlie Renton evinced for the lovely but insupportable girl; a girl far more difficult to understand than even Letty. For, unlike the latter, she appeared to be endowed with all that should have made her life a happy one.

She had had a delightful ride, she told them, and brought Ursula Minor back to his stable so tired, and in consequence so tractable, that the grooms scarcely knew him.

"He will break your neck some day, and then there will be an end to your wild freaks!" the Squire observed coarsely, as he helped his lady to some fish.

"I hope not, sir, for your sake!" Eleanor sarcastically replied. "I know how deeply you would mourn my loss, and what an expense it would be to you to put the servants in black!"

Mrs. Penruan dropped her fork, and convulsed hysterical symptoms.

"If you two will persevere in saying such horrid things to each other," she sobbed, "I know I shall be seized with spasms or convulsions! It's very cruel of you, Eleanor, when you know how fond I am of turbot, and that I shall not be able to touch a bit, and all through your dreadful speeches!"

"Pray go on with your dinner, mamma," said the young lady; "I would not spoil your enjoyment of the turbot on my account. I forgot that you were here when I spoke."

"You are very considerate all at once!" muttered Mr. Penruan, spitefully. "It isn't often that you profess to care who is annoyed by your ill-bred attempts to be witty at my expense!"

"Yes," was the reply; "I must admit that I am not an apt scholar, or you, sir, would have taught me long since not to say what I think so readily!"

After this little sparring match, there was an awkward silence, till a melon was placed on the table with the desert, which drew from Max some remark relative to the fruits of his native soil.

"Splendid country, America!" said the Squire, sentimentally. "Plenty of money to be made there! That's the place for young men of enterprise and energy!"

"I hope you are right, sir, though I have heard the remark contested," Charlie Renton exclaimed; "for I have serious thoughts of accepting a friend's invitation, and trying my own fortune there."

"Dear me, Charlie! do you mean this?" cried Mrs. Penruan, with dilated eyes.

enters insurance on the ordinary life as as the endowment plans, besides those known as the ten, fifteen and twenty-reserve dividend plan, by which the resas well as all other accumulations be withdrawn at the time specified, by adding a system of endowment ordinary life rates.

in respectus in hands of local agents.

H. L. COOK,
General Agent for Ont.
THOS. A. HUFFMAN,
Agt. for Napanee
Nee, 15th June, 1877. 8 ft.

WANTED.

want reliable, energetic canvassing in every town in the Dominion for my "Illustrated History of the Dom-of Canada." This work is truly little, containing over 2,000 double in quarto pages, and over 300 superb engravings. The work is published in Paris, on a plan which insures welcome to every English reading
y. To energetic young men and ladies,
are willing to work, we will guaran-
teem a permanent position for two years, 1000 P. A. Don't fail write! to for our terms, sample pages, etc. This is a rare opportunity for school teachers ake more than double their salaries not interfering with their professional duties. The works being manufactured at a cost of over $20,000 for the ry, artistic and mechanical work of icous, the plates by the old well n, reliable Lovell Printing and Pub-g Co., of Montreal. All letters from s must be addressed to the Publishers at follows:
HAZEN B. BIGNEY & Co., at 30 St. Francis Xavier Street,
MONTREAL, QUE.

William Gray's Specific Medicine.

The Great English Remedy is especially recommended as an unfailing cure for Seminal Weakness, Spermatorrhea, Impotency, and all re Taking diseases that After

as a sequence of Felt Abuse, as Loss of ry, Universal Lassitude, Pain in the Back, ses of Vision, Premature Old Age, and many diseases that lead to Insanity or Consumption. Premature Grave, all of which as a re first caused by deviating from the path and overindulgence.

Specific Medicine is the result of a life and many years of experience in treating special diseases. Pamphlet free by mail.
Special Medicine is sold by all Druggists per package, or six packages for $5, or will be by mail on receipt of the money by adding.

WILLIAM GRAY & Co.,
Windsor, Ont.

BEZO'S

RESTAURANT,

(Opposite the Tichborne House.)
or lunch can be obtained on most reasonable terms. Board by the day or week.

FRUIT OR GROCERIES

Fruit and Fancy Goods, and MAYLOR'S CELEBRATED OYSTER
Best in the Market.

F. BEZO.

Money to Loan!

ave received a Large Amount of Money to Lend. Good Mortgages
based.

W. S. WILLIAMS.

Scholarship for Sale.

HO... can be bought at a
A. W. BENSON,
Napanee.
this Office.

kindly regard for me.

"If you do not wish me to strike you to the earth," exclaimed his exasperated auditor, "do not breathe that name again in my hearing!"

"Pshaw!" retorted Max, good-humouredly; "what is the use of all this talk? I neither intended to quarrel with nor fight you. In fact, after this morning, I am quite ready to promise that I will not intrude myself upon you, but go to St. Erne, and remain there as long as you choose to stay at the Abbey."

"Was this arrangement planned also?" he was asked, with a distrustful glance.

"No; it is my own idea entirely. Only sit down, and let me tell my story in my own way, and then, if you still choose to find fault with me, why, so be it. I shall do my best to undeceive you; and if you persist in being obstinate and wrong-headed, I cannot help it."

As ashamed of the violence that had so little effect on the impetuous Californian, Captain Renton resumed his seat, and lit another cigar. If he must hear what his successful rival had to say, why, better get it over and have done with it.

Much to his surprise, Max took up his narrative from the moment at which they parted at the West End Hotel. He told how the name of Penruan Abbey, when mentioned by Renton himself, had awakened some vague reminiscences, and he produced the old pocket-book of his father, which he had searched till he found the entries in which John Penruan was mentioned.

Passing rapidly over his early rambles in Cornwall, and endeavors to find the friends of his father's boyhood, he proceeded to relate his first visit to the Abbey, his fall from the cliffs, and discovery, as he lay at the foot insensible, by Letty and Dan Calynack.

Then his tale was no longer hurried over. With all a lover's tenderness he dwelt upon the beauty and goodness of the Lily of St Erne; and though he said nothing of the mystery surrounding her, but left his hearer to infer that she was actually the young widow she represented herself, he did not hesitate to avow that he had given his heart away to this fair flower, before he beheld Eleanor of Penruan.

"But such a match would be beneath you!" exclaimed Charles Renton, who had become intensely interested.

"Why?—because she calls herself a fisherman's niece? Let me tell you that there is a rugged honesty and nobility about Dan Calynack. Letty is a lady by nature; what care I if she cannot boast of a long pedigree? And once back at Aquas Dolces, who would know whether my pretty English bride were peeress or peasant?"

"It seems, however, that since you transferred yourself from the cottage to Penruan Abbey, you have wavered in your alliance," said Renton, remembering his jealous suspicions.

"On my soul, I have not; nor would Miss Haydon have accepted my suit if I had been so hypocritical as to proffer it. Bah, man! who are you eyes? Does a woman who loves admit a man into such familiar intimacy as she permits to me? never blushing when he touches her hand, nor hesitating to talk to him precisely as she would to her father or her brother? When she confessed to me last evening that she had been in agonies all day long we were disputing, were her tears for me! No, no! If you had knocked all the breath out of my body, as you threatened to do, she would have been too thankful for your escape, and too proud of your prowess, to have much pity to spare for my bruises."

"But she met you in the library. I heard the whisper that carried you there," retorted Charlie, but half convinced.

"Yes; that she might lay her royal command on me not to offend her hero. What is there amiss betwixt you and Eleanor? Don't take offence at the question, there's a good fellow, nor fancy that I wish to interfere with what does here to seek to win the old kind looks from her eyes—to hear her speak my name as she used to do, but in vain. Always the same chilling reception, always the same regrets that I persist in wasting my time in these visits, till at last, saddened and despairing, I resolve to depart, and vow that I will do my best to forget her. But some relenting whisper when we are parting, some incoherent tender glance, always revives the belief that she still loves me, and this belief stings me instead of fading with distance. And so I come here again, and yet again, to endure the same alternation of hopes and fears; to think her at one moment the most heartless of coquettes, and at the next to ask myself if there is not some reason for her conduct, when I ought to learn before I condemn her."

"It must be a very miserable way of going on," said Max sympathetically; "and were I in your place, I should not rest till I had searched to the bottom of the matter."

You speak as if that were easy to do; as if I had but to remonstrate with a capricious girl, and prevail upon her to tell me her secret thoughts. But it is not so. When I press Eleanor on the subject, she either bursts into tears, and flies my presence, or she haughtily reminds me that she has already declared we can never be united, and insists that I shall cease to persecute her."

"And you throw yourself into a jealous rage, there is a tableau, and the curtain falls! Ay, de mi, and I know not how to advise you, except that, were I in your place, I would persevere."

"How can you any reason for saying this?" asked Charlie, catching like a drowning man at a straw. Has Eleanor said any thing that induces you to give me this encouragement?"

Max shook his head.

"This is a house of secrets, and I am in no one's; neither am I the wisest of counsellors for a lover hot-headed enough already to run a tilt with every one who gets in his way."

"Captain Renton held out his hand.

"I have not used you well by my suspicions, Mr. Haverlyng, but you must forgive me; for such anxiety as I have been enduring during the last few months makes a fellow ill-natured and distrustful against his will."

Max took the hand extended to him, and gripped it cordially.

"Eleanor bade me persuade you to accompany me to California when I return. What say you to appeasing as if you acquiesced in the plan? Perhaps the thought that you are leaving her for ever, may throw her off her guard, and give you the advantage you seek."

The advice was considered good. Captain Renton had suffered so much through Eleanor Haydon's inexplicable conduct, that he would not be sorry to turn the tables upon her, if it were possible.

"Nay," he exclaimed, firmly, "I will not only say that I intend leaving England, but I will positively be the companion of your voyage, if you will put up with me. It is degrading myself to come here, urging a suit to which I obtain nought but denials. Eleanor shall either consent to be mine, or I will try whether, in change of scene, I cannot forget her."

Max applauded the resolution; and Renton was striding away to carry it into effect, when the sound was heard of horse's hoofs, and Eleanor came cantering along the cliffs on the back of the restive brute she denominated Ursula Minor.

With much difficulty, she reined him in as she drew near the gentleman; and Captain Renton, seeing how troublesome the horse appeared, would have gone to it head, but she sharply bade him keep back.

"Thanks for your good intentions, sir; but my steed is like his mistress—he will not brook any interference," she cried, saucily.

and what an expense it would be to you to put the servants in black!"

Mrs. Penruan dropped her fork, and evinced hysterical symptoms.

"If you two will persist in saying such horrid things to each other," she sobbed, "I know I shall be seized with spasms or convulsions! It's very cruel of you, Eleanor, when you know how fond I am of turbot, and that I shall not be able to touch a bit, and all through your dreadful speeches!"

"Pray go on with your dinner, mamma," said the young lady; "I would not spoil your enjoyment of the turbot on any account. I forgot that you were here when I spoke."

"You are very considerate all at once!" muttered Mr. Penruan, spitefully. "It isn't often that you profess to care who is annoyed by your ill-bred attempts to be witty at my expense!"

"Yes," was the reply; "I must admit that I am not an apt scholar, or you, sir, would have taught me long since not to say what I think so readily!"

After this little sparring match, there was an awkward silence, till a melon was placed on the table with the desert, which drew from Max some remark relative to the fruits of his native soil.

"Splendid country, America!" said the Squire, sentimentally. "Plenty of money to be made there! That's the pledge for young men of enterprise and energy!"

"I hope you are right, sir, though I have heard the remark contested," Charlie, Renton exclaimed; "for I have serious thoughts of accepting a friend's invitation, and trying my own fortune there."

"Dear me, Charlie! do you mean this?" cried Mrs. Penruan, with dilated eyes. "Going to America! Do you hear what he says, Eleanor? Why, I always thought—"

"You are spilling your wine, mamma! Shall I peel an apricot for you?" her daughter hastily interposed, with a glance which, though the obtuse lady could not understand, told her that she had made a mistake, and must be silent. She, therefore, said no more, but relieved her mind by sighing and groaning every time there was a break in the conversation.

Mr. Penruan seemed greatly interested in the plans of his guest, questioning him upon them till the young man, who had not formed any, grew quite confused, in spite of the prompting of Max, who sat opposite.

At last the Squire turned suddenly to his step-daughter. "Eleanor, we have not heard your opinion on this new scheme! What do you say about it?"

For a moment her voice failed her, but she quickly regained composure. "What can I say, except that it appears an excellent one? I have always thought that Captain Renton was capable of better things than snuffering about the streets of a garrison town, or drilling raw recruits, or playing at the mimic war as I have seen our soldiers doing at Aldershot."

"Would you prefer to see me engaged in real warfare?—doing my best to get rid of an arm or a leg?" asked Charlie, with affected jocularity.

"No, indeed; but I always fancy that a soldier's life in times of peace must be monotonous and unsatisfactory. The new States of America will surely afford better opportunities for employing your abilities."

"Yes," said the young officer, stung into bitterness by the indifference with which she spoke, "I may renounce every hope I once cherished, and bid my native country an eternal farewell, to become in another land a scoured, moody, discontented man. But what matter that if I amass money, keep out of the way of everyone who considers me a bore, and don't trouble my acquaintances in England with too many letters?"

"Your friends at Penruan will always rejoice to hear of your welfare," Eleanor

EX

THE GREATEST NUMBER.

AY, FEB. 1, 187

bern me; but, if you love each I believe you do, what keeps it?"

"Indeed?" sighed the Captain, slyly unbending. "I cannot tell. In boyhood, her father encouraged me each other; and, though I lost the family for some years after India, and Mr. Haydon died, when I returned to England with my regiment, Eleanor gave me the warm welcome. Neither does Mr. Penruan collude with me, though I am free to say that I have nothing to live on my pay, and, therefore, am no match for him."

Penruan does not seem to care for his stepdaughter off his hands," said Max. "He is a most incombustible sort of an old gentleman, and are not doing him justice," he earnestly assured. "Mr. Penruan has money; I do not deny that; but for his harsh exterior he hides generous emotions."

"I glad to hear you say so," Max retorted. "I began to have some doubts about it myself."

"Let me give you an instance of his feeling," cried Renton, eagerly. "I first came down to the Abey. I consider myself justified in regarding my affection for Eleanor as frankly acquainted her stepfather with the state of my heart. Insinuating at my presumption and urging me to see her again, he met me with patience, but confessed if he were in my place, he should not have fortune frighten me away. That in my wandering life, it is a curse be quite a blessing to have a creature as Eleanor beside me plainly intimated that if she became my wife, I need not fear competition from him."

"Good of my excellent kinsman," said Max, sarcastically. "The thing that detracts from my admiration of his generosity is the fact that he is much the same to me!"

"It must be as I suspected," the young man moodily replied. "She has never had her affections to you, and she has turned her back on you."

"I do not believe it. Nay, I am positive you are wrong. Eleanor Haydon met me in the frankest manner and was not persuaded into making a mistake, and I never have. Mr. Penruan's motives for what he does and his mysteries to me; but I'm willing to let his life on the good faith and ending of the young lady."

"You saw how she received me," said Max, "and she assured me that her manner was intended to conceal some pique, and may be persuaded to become more friendly. Her face of Max began to cloud and could not give the required answer for had not Eleanor herself tearfully declared that she could never give her hand to Charlie Renton?"

"An Jago?" he exclaimed, vexed.

JUST ARRIVED,

—AT—

ROSE & FRALICK'S,

IN THE PERRY BLOCK,

DOZENS of NEW BOOTS & SHOES,

THE BEST AND CHEAPEST IN TOWN.

and See Them, as We will not be Undersold.

ALSO A FULL ASSORTMENT OF

St, Caps, Clothing, Gents' Furnishings, &c

ITS MADE TO ORDER

ROSE & FRALICK.

PECULATION!

CHAPTER XVI.

DOWN THE CHIMNEY OR THROUGH THE KEY-HOLE.

She met them at dinner, radiant with smiles, and looking so charming in her demi-toilette, that Max was not surprised at the infatuation Charlie Renton evinced for the lovely but insatiable girl; a girl far more difficult to understand than even Letty. for, unlike the latter, she

the dull summer undersigned furniture, Chairs, ly reduced h or Good

SON.

JOB

Printing!

THE JOBBING DEPARTMENT

—OF THE

NAPANEE EXPRESS

AS EXCELLED BY

No Office In The Dominion

ITS OUTFIT INCLUDES A

LARGE STOCK

OF THE

Very Latest Styles Of New Type

And every Facility exists for turning out

JOB PRINTING

— 0 —

ITS OUTFIT INCLUDES A

LARGE STOCK

LARGE STOCK

The dull summer undersigned Furniture, Chairs,
ly reduced h or Good

SON.

Very Latest Styles Of New Type

JOB PRINTING

BEST STYLE

BEST STYLE

of the head, asking him, "by being out of his grave an hour?"

At the Queen's drawing room receptions three white feathers must adorn the hair of the married lady, and two that of unmarried lady. Poetesses and their daughters are kissed on the cheek by the Queen, but other ladies of less "high degree" kiss her Majesty's hand. The Princess of Wales sometimes takes the Queen's place at these "drawing-rooms," in which case the kisses are dispensed with.

Mr. Lucy Poma says that the 177,000,000 pounds are expended mainly in the purchase of the other half of the estate for long term to rent. These 170 powers are, first,

Learned professors have occasionally been unwitting by the sayings of the simple. Dr. Hill, an Edinburgh professor of the last century, met in the suburbs of the city an inoffensive creature who was generally regarded as an imbecile. Somewhat irritated by the creature's intrusion on the privacy of his walk, the professor said to him, "How long, Tom, may one live without brains?" "I dinna ken," said Tom; "how lang hae ye lived yerseel?"

A lady who had been visiting friends in Rome crossed the Channel, and courteously invited the custom officers to examine her baggage. "There is nothing but wearing apparel in the trunks," she remarked with a pretty smile. The officer unlocked the largest trunk, and pushing aside a heap of stockings, and overturning a layer of dress materials, pounced upon a dozen bottles of French brandy. "Do you call this wearing apparel?" he asked, sternly. "Why yes," replied the lady; "they are my husband's night-caps."

The Bishop of Hereford was examining a school class the other day, and on your good intentions, sir ;

it is like his mistress—he will
y interference," she cried,

"Your friends at Penruan will always rejoice to hear of your welfare," Eleanor

Said the great Napoleon— "A journalist is a grumbler; a conjurer; a giver of advice; a regent of sovereigns; a tutor of nations; for hostile newspapers are more to be dreaded than a hundred thousand bayonets!" Depending, maybe, on the calibre of the newspapers.

An editor, going away, left his paper in charge of a minister. During the minister's stay in the sanctum the following letter came from a mountain subscriber: "You know very well I paid my subscription to your paper the last time I was in Lexington. If I get any more such letters as I received from you last week, I will come down to Lexington and break it—! out of you!" The minister answered: "I have been trying to make that thing out of the editor for 10 years past, and if you will really come down and maul it out of him, then, my dear sir, I have 20 members of my church will also get you to operate on."

APANEED

GO

PE

Boots

Mr. pecting far as it Amperst
of Feb.

port of the
the distri-
the Ontario
ed that the ued by the warded at ment.

sec. ly Dr.
three be an-quire why it
and Deputy nce stem to their council ole and east onesty of this abers of said
e, J. C. Huffstructions to gest a remedy

ait would be of the Come conclusion
e years ago
and probably ad brought it
he had placed ittee to take a
an, who was a compound the

rawn.

UNT.

er, sec. by Mr.
ail do now adjourn
y in March, and that
e messenger, Chas.
the following division:
Allison, Aylsworth,
r. Oliver, Parrott, and

rs. J. W. Bell, Deller,
ack, Lane, Lloyd, Madden,
mon, Storr, and Wright.—11.

COUNTY ASSESSMENT.

ed by Mr. Wright, sec. by Dr.
that a special Committee of eight ubers, viz.: Messrs. Allison, Deller, Allison, Aylsworth, J. W. Bell, Joyner, and the mover, be appointed to investigate and if possible devise means whereby a more equitable assessment of the landed property of this county may be attained, more especially in the townships lying contiguous to each other, and enjoying like natural advantages or privileges, the said committee to report as soon as possible to this Council.

Gov.
Dr. re can and we negotiations.

...returns, which are with a correct and impartial in every...
The Grail. It must be...
...good citizen to know from...
...able facts that Dunkin has...
...so much, and if it is capable...
...grand a work during the first nine months...
...of its existence against so much opposition...
...from the whole liquor interest of the...
...Province with its organized head centre...
...in Toronto, what any we not confidently...
...hope from its operation in the course of...
...years, especially when amended...
...sure to be speedily.

TRUMP IN HALIFAX.

Public interest throughout the Dominion has, for the past week or two, been centered in the political contest going on in Halifax. Mr. Jones, the new Minister of Militia, was opposed in seeking re-election, by the united Tory forces of the Province, led by Dr. Tupper in person. His opponent, Mr. Richey, while a very popular man, was almost entirely dropped out of sight by the anxiety of the greater lights of the party to secure another victory over the Government. Elated by their success in Digby, every means was used to gain another triumph, and under the circumstances it is a matter of great congratulation that Mr. Jones was able to secure his return by the handsome majority of 223. The contest has been a severe one, and that the result indicates the state of public feeling in the lower Provinces is altogether likely. Mr. Jones is a man of ability, and while he brings considerable strength to the Government, the people of Halifax will have no reason to regret their choice, as he will be able, by carefully guarding, to further their interests.

IN THE EAST.

News from Europe still reports situation as critical. Russia's terms of peace have been accepted by Turkey without hesitation, she evidently having had more than enough of fighting. England and Austria, however, are hesitating about confining the argument. The British Government have asked for a war vote of six millions as a precautionary measure, and is fully prepared to meet any engagement. The fighting operation in the field still continues, though every endeavor is being put forth to arrange an armistice, but the prospect of a satisfactory arrangement is very doubtful.

—In the House at Toronto the other evening, a lively set-to took place between the partnership leaders of the opposition. During the debate on the Upper Canada College Endowment, Mr. Macdougall took occasion to have a fling at Family Compact proceedings, when Mr. Cameron replied by indirectly styling his friend and colleague a "spoiler." The little episode caused considerable merriment on the other side of the House.

...$100,000 for damages, and distribute among the municipalities at the rate of 52 per head, the balance of the surplus. Referred to a special Committee composed of Messrs. Ham, Deller, Aylsworth, Store, J. W. Bell, and Madden.

FINANCE.

Mr. Store presented the report of the Special Committee appointed to enquire into the solvency of the Treasurer's surpluses, stating that the surpluses were Messrs. S. Wright of South Fredericksburgh, J. D. Ham, and D. Hooper, of Newburgh, and that upon careful enquiry they were found to be perfectly good and sufficient.

Mr. Barrett said that he had signed the report as that of the Committee, and not as his individual opinion. He suggested that the amount of the security should be doubled. He had every confidence in the Treasurer, but thought they should proceed in this as in their own business.

Mr. Madden asked the amount of security.

Mr. Barrett said it was $1,000 and the Treasurer had $1,000.

Mr. Store said there had never been more than $84,000 in the Treasury at one time, except in 1863, and no debentures falling due for six years.

Mr. Deller considered the security sufficient. Last year the difficulty had been to get any money on hand.

The report was adopted.

NEWBURGH DEBENTURES.

Moved by Mr. Deller, sec. by Mr. Lloyd, that the Treasurer furnish a statement showing the number and amount of debentures due by Newburgh with interest thereon.

Mr. Deller said the County had advanced $500 to Newburgh to purchase seed grain, and taken debentures therefor. Two of these were due and had not been paid, and another would soon fall due, he would like to understand the matter.

The motion was withdrawn on the Finance Committee undertaking to report.

COUNTY PROPERTY.

Mr. Aylsworth presented the first report of the Committee on County Property, which recommended payment of the accounts of Michael Gleason, jail repairs, $1.50; Thomas Jamison, jail supplies, $29; E. Hooper & Son, $10.55; M. W. Pray & Son, $14.27; J. S. Sager, $11.94; and that a cheap clock be procured for the jail. The report was adopted.

ROADS AND BRIDGES.

Mr. Joyner presented the first report of the Committee on Roads and Bridges, which recommended that the petition of A. Walker, Camden, be laid over till the June session, that the communication of the Iron Bridge Company be filed, and that the amount of $1,000 be put down as a culvert, be paid by the Corporation of Newburgh, and be charged to the appropriation of this year to Newburgh. The report was adopted.

HOSPITAL OF RELIEF.

Mr. Deller presented the report of the special Committee appointed to consider the communication from Huron in reference to a House of Refuge for incurables, in favor of the project, and recommending that a memorial be forwarded to the Lieut. Governor. The report was adopted.

NEWBURGH HIGH SCHOOL.

Moved by Mr. Lane, sec. by Mr. Shannon, that Allen Caton be appointed trustee of the Newburgh High School.

Moved in amendment by Mr. Madden, sec. by Mr. Store, that D. Hooper be re-appointed trustee.

The amendment was lost and the original motion carried.

PRINTING.

Moved by Mr. Denison, sec. by Mr. Lloyd, that the County printing for 1878 be let by tender.—Carried.

...Slee, Shannon, and Wright.—10.

SAYS.—Aylsworth, J. W. Bell, Deller, Deller, Joyner, Lane, Lloyd, Oliver, Store, W. A. Bell, and Wood.—11.

The Council then adjourned until 10 a.m. to-morrow.

FIFTH DAY—MORNING SESSION.

At 10 a.m. Friday, the Council resumed. All the members present. The minutes of yesterday were read and confirmed.

FINANCE REPORT.

Mr. Store presented the report of the Finance Committee, recommending no action on the communication from the Minister of Education, that the Clerk be paid $50, expenses in connection with the Revised by-law, and that the Treas. be instructed to collect the Newburgh debentures now due.

After some discussion the report was adopted.

PRINTING.

Mr. Wright presented the report of the Committee on Education and Printing, recommending payment of the following accounts: EXPENSES, $63; Beaver, $30.38.—Report accepted.

DOG TAX.

Mr. Wright brought in a by-law to repeal the by-law suspending the statute in relation to the dog tax, so far as it affected the municipalities of Denbeigh, &c., Amherst Island, and Bath. The by-law was read and passed, and ordered to be signed and sealed.

ASSESSMENT.

On motion of Mr. Deller, sec. by Mr. Lloyd, Rule 35 was suspended, and a by-law to extend the time for the return of the Assessment Rolls to the 1st July was introduced and read a first time.

Mr. Deller explained that the object of the by-law was to permit the assessors to do their work in May and June, instead of during the winter, if any of the municipalities desired it.

The second reading was fixed for the March session.

The sum of $4 was ordered to be paid to Chas. George, messenger, and the Council adjourned until the second Tuesday in March next.

Happy thought.

In one of the encounters in Halifax between Mr. Jones and Dr. Tupper, the former brought down the house. We give the incident the Halifax Chronicle's reports.—Mr. Jones then paid some attention to the Northern Railway Scandal and the Pacific Scandal, &c. Referring to the Pacific Scandal, he said an old farmer whom he met lately said to him: "Mr. Jones, I believe in the Mackenzie Government and am a strong supporter of it, but I must tell you that I do not entirely believe in the story about the late Government's Pacific Scandal." On being asked if the evidence was not clear that the late Government had done what they were accused of, the farmer replied: "Yes; that looks straight enough, but there is one thing that I cannot understand: it appears that there were hundreds of thousands of dollars of corruption money, and I have not seen any evidence of Tupper getting any of it; from what I know of Tupper I am sure that if there was anything like that around he would be sure to get a share. That's why I do not altogether believe in the story." (Rears of laughter.)

NOTICE.

NOTICE is hereby given that an application will be made to the Judge of the Surrogate Court of the County of Lennox & Addington, on Friday, the Twenty-second day of February next at Eleven o'clock in the forenoon, (or as soon thereafter as such application can be heard) at the said Judge's Chambers, in the Court House, in the Town of Napanee by the undersigned for Letters of Guardianship to Prudence Ann Spencer, Eunice Deane Spencer, and Geo. Spencer, the infant children of William Miller Spencer, late of the town of Trowbridge, in the State of Michigan, Farmer, deceased.

Dated 30th January, 1878.
ELIZABETH SPENCER.
REEVE & MORDEN,
Solicitors for Applicant.

A N D

You v

GOOD STO

PRICES T

NEW HAT

All

Don't forget the Block, Napanee.

Napanee, Jan. 30th, 1878.

APANE EXPRESS, FEB. 1, 1878.

BE SURE AND

GO TO ROSE'

IN THE EAST END OF THE

PERRY BLOCK

FOR YOUR

Boots & Shoes,

Hats & Ca

Mr. fecting
far as it Amperst
of Feb.

port of the
the distri-
the Ontario
ed that the ned by the warded at ment.

STY.

see, by Dr.
three, be an-quire why it
and Deputy since seem to their council ile and cast
onesty of this ubers of said
A. J. C. Huff-instructions to test a remedy

nt would be ed the Come conclusion
e years ago
and probably al brought it
he had placed ntee to take a
an, who was a compound the
)
rawn.

ONE.

er, see, by Mr.
ail do now adjourn
y in March, and that messenger, Chas.
the following division:
Allison, Aylsworth,
R. Oliver, Parrott, and

Mr. J. W. Bell, Deller,
K. Lane, Lloyd, Madden,
mon, Storr, and Wright.—11.

COUNTY ASSESSMENT.

by Mr. Wright, see, by Dr.
that a special Committee of eight Messrs. Allison, Deller, Aylsworth, J. W. Bell, Joyner,
and the mover, be appointed to
and if possible devise means a more equitable assessment of the landed property of this county may be obtained, more especially in the townships which are contiguous to each other, and which possess like natural advantages or privileges, the said committee to report as soon as possible to this Council during the present session, so that action (if proper) may be taken before the local assessors have begun their work for the

...J. C. Huff-
instructions to get a remedy

...it would be of the Come conclusion
e years ago
and probably ad brought it
he had placed
ittee to take a
an, who was a compound the

PAWN.

SENT.

...er, sec. by Mr.
will do now adjourn
y in March, and that
messenger, Chas.
the following division:
Allison, Aylsworth,
r. Oliver, Parrott, and

...rs. J. W. Bell, Deller,
sk, Lane, Lloyd, Madden, nson, Storr, and Wright.—11.

COUNTY ASSESSMENT.

...ed by Mr. Wright, sec. by Dr.
that a special Committee of eight members, viz.: Messrs. Allison, Deller, L. M. Aylsworth, J. W. Bell, Joyner, Storr, and the mover, be appointed to investigate and if possible devise means whereby a more equitable assessment of the landed property of this county may be attained, more especially in the townships lying contiguous to each other, and
enjoying like natural advantages or privileges, the said committee to report as soon as possible to this Council during
the present session, so that action (if any) may be taken before the local assessors have begun their work for the present year.

Mr. Wright said that at the outset he claimed any intention of interfering with the local assessors, but there was need for an equalization on a well established basis, and that he hoped to accomplish through the committee.

The motion was lost on the following division.

YEAS—Messrs. Allison, Denison, Ham,
Hornick, Huffman, Madden, Parrott,
Price, Shannon, and Wright.—10.

NAYS—Aylsworth, J. W. Bell, Deller, Deller, Joyner, Lane, Lloyd, Oliver,
Storr, W. A. Bell, and Wood.—11.

The Council then adjourned until 10
a. m. to-morrow.

FIFTH DAY—MORNING SESSION.

At 10 a. m. Friday, the Council reassembled. All the members present. The minutes of yesterday were read and confirmed.

FINANCE REPORT.

Mr. Storr presented the report of the Finance Committee, recommending no action on the communication from the Minister of Education, that the Clerk be paid $50, expenses in connection with the Report by-law, and that the Treas. be instructed to collect the Newburgh debentures now due.

After some discussion the report was adopted.

PRINTING.

Mr. Wright presented the report of the Committee on Education and Printing, recommending payment of the following accounts: Express, $33; Beaver, $30.33.
—Report accepted.

DOG TAX.

Mr. Wright brought in a by-law to repeal the by-law suspending the statute in relation to the dog tax, so far as it affected the municipalities of Denbeigh, &c., Amherst Island, and Bath. The by-law was read and passed, and ordered to be signed and sealed.

ASSESSMENT.

On motion of Mr. Deller, sec. by Mr.
Lloyd, Rule 35 was suspended, and a by-law to extend the time for the return of the Assessment Rolls to the 1st July was introduced and read a first time.

Mr. Deller explained that the object of the by-law was to permit the assessors to do their work in May and June, instead of during the winter, if any of the municipalities declined to

FOR YOUR

Boots & Shoes,

Hats & Cap

Gents' Furnishing Goods,

AND CLOTHING

You will always find a

GOOD STOCK TO CHOOSE FROM

AND AT

PRICES TO SUIT THE TIME

FIFTH DAY—MORNING SESSION.
At 10 a.m. Friday, the Council resumed. All the members present. The minutes of yesterday were read and confirmed.

FINANCE REPORT.

Mr. Starr presented the report of the Finance Committee, recommending no action on the communication from the Minister of Education, that the Clerk be paid $50, expenses in connection with the Report by-law, and that the Treas. be instructed to collect the Newburgh debentures now due.

After some discussion the report was adopted.

PRINTING.

Mr. Wright presented the report of the Committee on Education and Printing, recommending payment of the following amounts: Envelopes, $33; Paper, $30.38. Resolved accepted.

DOG TAX.

Mr. Wright brought in a by-law to amend the by-law suspending the statute in relation to the dog tax, so far as it applied to the municipalities of Denbeigh, As. Amherst Island, and Bath. The by-law was read and passed, and ordered to be signed and sealed.

ASSESSMENT.

On motion of Mr. Doller, sec. by Mr. Lloyd, Rule 35 was suspended, and a by-law to extend the time for the return of the Assessment Rolls to the 1st July was introduced and read a first time.

Mr. Doller explained that the object of the by-law was to permit the assessors to complete a roll in May and June, instead of waiting the winter, if any of the municipalities desired it.

The second reading was fixed for the March session.

The sum of $1 was ordered to be paid to Mrs. George, messenger, and the Council adjourned until the second Tuesday in March next.

Happy thought

It is one of the encounters in Halifax between Mr. Jones and Dr. Tupper, the former brought down the house. We give the incident the Halifax Chronicle's report:—Mr. Jones then paid some attention to the Northern Railway Scandal the Pacific Scandal, &c. Referring to the Pacific Scandal, he said an old farmer whom he met lately said to him: "Mr. Jones, I believe in the Mackenzie Government and am a strong supporter of it, but I must tell you that I do not entirely believe in the story about the late Government's Pacific Scandal." On being asked if the evidence was not clear that the late Government had done what they were accused of, the farmer replied: "Yes; that looks straight enough, but there is one thing that I cannot understand: it appears that there were hundreds of thousands of dollars of corruption money, and I have not seen any evidence of Tupper getting any of it; from what I know of Tupper I am sure that if there was anything like that around he would be sure to get a share. That's why I do not altogether believe in the story." (Roars of laughter.)

NOTICE.

NOTICE is hereby given that an application will be made to the Judge of the Surrogate Court of the County of Lennox & Addington, on Friday, the Twenty-second day of February next at Eleven o'clock in the forenoon, (or so soon thereafter as such application can be heard) to the said Judge's Chambers, in the Court House, in the Town of Napanee by the undersigned, for Letters of Guardianship to Prudence and Spencer, Eunice Deane Spencer, and Geo. Spencer, the infant children of William Miller Spencer, late of the town of Trowbridge, in the State of Michigan, Farmer deceased.

Dated 29th January, 1878.
ELIZABETH SPENCER.
REEVE & MORDEN,
Solicitors for Applicant.

49-3

Napanee, Jan. 30th, 1878.

You will always find a

GOOD STOCK TO CHOOSE FROM

AND AT

PRICES TO SUIT THE TIMES

A FEW CASES OF

NEW HATS JUST ARRIVED

All New Styles.

Don't forget the place, the East End of the Perry Block, Napanee.

W. A. ROSE,

Late Rose & Fratic

X X
closed until Friday & March

FEB. 1, 1878.

URE AND

ROSE'S, Slaven & Ironside's,

Commencing on WEDNESDAY, JAN. 2nd, 1878.

AST END OF THE

We purchased over $4000 worth of Winter Dry Goods at THE GREAT AUCTION SALE !

of Thomas Walls & Son's Bankrupt Stock, in Toronto, on the 4th and 5th December last, but they did not arrive in time for the December trade, and we must now Sacrifice the Goods !

In order to clear them out before the Winter Trade is over. We quote the prices of a few lines to give an idea of the

Reductions We shall Make, FOR INSTANCE :

Winceys at 7c, Factory Cotton at 5c, Canton Flannels at 10, 12, and 15c, per yard. Splendid White Cotton, yard wide, at 10c, or 9½c by the piece. This Cotton is equal to the celebrated Horrockse's Cotton, and well adapted for general family use.

Very large White Counterpanes, with fringe all around, at $2.25. Hundreds of these have been sold through the country at $4.25 each.

Fringed Huckaback Towels at 5c each, or 50c a dozen. Fine Cotton Batting at 5c a bunch. Tapestry Carpets at 60c a yard.

Rich Black Gro de Rhine Silk at 60c a yard. This is a good dress silk, and is sold in other houses at 80 to 90c a yard.

Y BLOCK,

OR YOUR

Shoes,

Hats & Caps,

10es,

[ats & Caps,

ishing Goods,

OTHING!

lways find a

CHOOSE FROM,

D AT

IT THE TIMES!

CASES OF

UST ARRIVED!

general family use.

Very large White Counterpanes, with fringe all around, at $2.25. Hundreds of these have been sold through the country at $4.25 each.

Fringed Huckaback Towels at 5c each, or 50c a dozen. Fine Cotton Batting at 5c a bunch. Tapestry Carpets at 60c a yard.

Rich Black Gro de Rhine Silk at 60c a yard. This is a good dress silk, and is sold in other houses at 80 to 90c a yard.

Rich Black Gros Grain Silks at $1.40. We challenge any house in the trade to beat this silk at $1.75. Beautiful Fancy Silks at 65 to to 75c a yard.

Fine Black Lustres at 17c a yard. Our 30 cent Black Lustre is the best in Canada at the price.

All-wool French Delaines at 15c a yard. Good all-wool Scotch Tweeds at 40c a yard. Very heavy

CANADIAN TWEEDS,

at 80c. Sold last year at $1.10. Fine suits of Silk Mixed Tweeds at $10. Men's Heavy Beaver Overcoats, at $6.00 each.

Heavy Trimmed Horse Coats

WITH STRAPS AND BUCKLES, ONLY $1.25

Setts of Fine Mink Furs—South Sea Seal, Astracan, Persian, Lamb, Fitch, Coney, and other Furs all at cost price.

Ladies' all-wool double shawls at $2.00 each. We will offer our whole stock of shawls at cost price, and we have the finest shawls ever brought to Napanee for sale.

plendid two-button Kid Gloves at 50c per pair, in Black, and all the new shades, both for street and evening wear. We will reduce our finest Josephine Kid Gloves to 75c a pair.

Gentlemens' Fine Dress SHIRTS at 75c each. And nearly all other goods will be reduced in the same proportion.

REMEMBER THAT WE POSITIVELY GIVE

CANADIAN TWEEDS,

at 80c. Sold last year at $1.10. Fine suits of Silk Mixed Tweeds at $10. Men's Heavy Beaver Overcoats, at $6.00 each.

CHOOSE FROM,

Heavy Trimmed Horse Coats

WITH STRAPS AND BUCKLES, ONLY $1.25

Sets of Fine Mink Furs—South Sea Seal, Astracan, Persian, Lamb, Fitch, Coney, and other Furs all at cost price.

Ladies' all-wool double shawls at $2.00 each. We will offer our whole stock of shawls at cost price, and we have the finest shawls ever brought to Napanee for sale.

pl endid two-button Kid Gloves at 50c per pair, in Black, and all the new shades, both for street and evening wear. We will reduce our finest Josephine Kid Gloves to 75c a pair.

Gentlemens' Fine Dress SHIRTS at 75c each. And nearly all other goods will be reduced in the same proportion.

REMEMBER THAT WE POSITIVELY GIVE

No Credit to Any One.

OUR TERMS ARE

CASH DOWN

BEFORE THE GOODS LEAVE THE STORE.

SLAVEN & IRONSIDE.

W. A. ROSE,

Late Rose & Fralick.

Napanee, Jan., 1878

Agricultural.

Cold Barns.

There are exceptions, undoubtedly, but most of our farm barns are too cold. It is well to provide for ventilation, but we have too many panes of glass broken, and excuse our shiftlessness on the plea of ventilation. When building a barn for cattle, we should make the walls tight and then if there is danger of too little air inside on these cold, windy nights, a window may be left open an inch or two at the top. We have seen a few stables that needed small openings for ventilation, even in the coldest weather, but the number of such is very small, for where there is one that is too close, there are fifty that are too open. Newly built stables are now usually boarded and clapboarded, or the boards are jointed and matched, but many old barns are seen in all parts of the country with the covering boards nailed on with cracks between them from an eighth to a half inch in width. Perhaps they were laid closer when they were put on, but either on account of the boards being unseasoned, or wet, when laid, the joints are extremely open now. In such stables, we have seen the animals covered by white frost, or snow, one cold morning when the mercury was perhaps below zero. Now there can be no profit in keeping animals, unless they are well fed and well protected from the inclemencies of the weather.

It requires a certain amount of food to maintain the present condition, to repair the wastes of the body, and to keep up the animal heat. If an animal is kept in a barn so cold that a large proportion of its food is used up in maintaining animal heat, there can be little or no profit realized on the food consumed. Every warm-blooded animal converts a portion of its food into heat, and the more we can save this animal heat by the use of boards, the less food will be required, and as boards are cheaper than hay for keeping animals warm, it will pay to use them pretty freely.

A great deal of cold may be kept out of old stables by sheathing up on the inside, from the floor to the scaffolds, with matched boards. Cheap, sappy, unplanned boards will answer a good purpose, for such inside work, if the edges are jointed and matched. Such work may be done by almost any common laborer who can use a saw, hammer, and plane, and if taken under cover, one can keep warm at such work almost any day in winter. So we say again, our barns are too cold, and it will pay to make them warmer.—New England Farmer.

Cellars.

There ought to be no cellars under any human habitation. The dampness and mould, and foul air inseparable from ordinary cellars, will find their way into the upper parts of the building, and taint the air of every apartment, coming as these noisome cases will, through the seams of the floors and other openings. If cellars must be had, the following points should be taken in consideration: 1st. The bottom of the cellar should be at least six feet under ground, and the bottom stone of the foundation should be a foot deeper than the cellar floor, for as the earth has frozen in these latitudes, in 1876, as low down as five feet, it is necessary that the bottom should be below the point of frost. 2nd. The cellar may be a foot or two above the level of the ground, to afford the convenience of light and ventilation through windows better than grating. 3rd. A gravel sill is better for a cellar and foundation than clay, which is often treacherous and uncertain. The front stone of the foundation should, in all cases, be flat a broad, and the seams and

Tar Water For Insects.

For the last five years I have not lost a cucumber or melon, vine or cabbage plant. Get a barrel, with a few gallons of gas tar in it; pour water on the tar; always have it ready when needed, and when the bugs appear give them a liberal drink of the tar-water from a garden sprinkler, or otherwise, and if the rain washes it off and they return, repeat the dose. It will also destroy the Colorado potato beetle, and frighten the old long potato bug worse than a threshing with a brush. Five years ago this summer, both kinds appeared on my late potatoes, and I watered with the tar-water. The next day all Colorado beetles that had not been well protected sprinkling were dead, and the others, though their name was legion were all gone, and I have never seen one of them on the farm since. I am aware that many will look upon this with indifference, because it is so cheap and simple a remedy. Such should always feed both their own and their neighbors' bugs, as they frequently do.—Chicago Tribune.

Hunting a Wild Horse.

For several months a band of wild horses have been roaming over the plains in the vicinity of Pine Bluffs, forty miles east of here, drinking daily of the waters of Lodge Pole creek, a fine large stream near that place. The leader of the band is a large, elegantly proportioned, jet black stallion with sweeping raven mane and tail, fiery eye and majestic mien.

Five days ago a party of cattle herders decided to give chase to this wild monarch of the boundless plain, and mounting fresh and fleet steeds, set out upon his trail. They had arranged for frequent changes of animals, with the view of keeping him in that immediate vicinity, and wearing him out by giving him no rest.

The band of flyers was found, and then began the long and arduous struggle between men used to the ways of wild horses and cattle, skilled in every device of "cutting out," "rounding up," &c., and an untamed rover of the plains, full of subtle equine strategy, of wonderful speed and incalculable nerve, bottom and powers of endurance.

For five days and nights has the chase continued. Several of the herders' horses have been killed by riding, but when our informant left Pine Bluffs yesterday morning the noble stallion was prancing around at the head of a band of tame horses, seemingly as fresh and vigorous as though he had never known fatigue. On the second day he separated from his wild companions, and has since been kept away from them.

Mr. Cole, the leader of the pursuers, is confident that he will yet capture the magnificent steed, and proposes to follow him to the end. Several wild horses have been captured in the vicinity during the past year.

Englishmen! Arise!

The following document has been posted all over London: "Englishmen! Arise! Your country is in danger! The despots of Europe are conspiring against you! Russia, aided by Mr. Gladstone, is seeking her revenge for the Crimean war! With France divided, Italy in Prince Bismark's pocket, Austria under his thumb and Mr. Gladstone out of office, the son of Nicholas thought the time had come when he could redeem the blunders and avenge the memories of 1854-5. But he will find that he had reckoned without his host. The Alma, Inkerman, Balaklava and Sebastopol were not fought and won for nothing. The present Russian invasion of Eastern Europe and Asia Minor must be immediately stopped. Already we have permitted Russia to go too far. To-morrow we may be unable to resist her. Stern resolution and deliberate action on the

The Promoter and Perfector of Assimilation.
The Reformer and Vitalizer of the Blood.
The Producer and Invigorator of Nerve and Muscle.
The Builder and Supporter of Brain Power.

Fellows Compound Syrup is composed of Ingredients identical with those which constitute Healthy Blood, Muscle and Nerve and Brain Substance, whilst Life itself is directly dependant upon some of them.

By its union with the blood and its effect upon the muscles, reestablishing the one and toning the other, it is capable of effecting the following results.

It will displace or wash out tuberculous matter, and thus cure Consumption. By increasing Nervous and Muscular Vigor, it will cure Dyspepsia, feeble or interrupted action of the Heart and Palpitation, Weakness of Intellect caused by grief, weary, overtax or irregular habits, Bronchitis, Acute or Chronic, Congestion of the lungs, even in the most alarming stages.

It cures Asthma, Loss of Voice, Neuralgia, St. Vitus Dance, Epileptic Fits, Whooping Cough, Nervousness, and is a most wonderful adjunct to other remedies in sustaining life during the process of Diphtheria.

Do not be deceived by remedies bearing a similar name, no other preparation is a substitute for this under any circumstances.

Look out for the name and address. I. FELLOWS, St. John, N. B., on the yellow wrapper in watermark which is seen by holding the paper before the light.

Price $1.50 per Bottle six for $7.50.
Sold by all Druggists.

SIXTY-SIX

Specimen Copies of Our Beautiful Oil Chromes.

We will send sixty-six copies of our oil chromes to responsible agents. They are in 14 to 18 different oil colors, bringing forth in bold relief all the lights and shades in nature with pleasing effect. Any live young man or woman can make from $50 to $100 in their own town. The following are among our specimens: "Experience," "Asking a Blessing," "Blind Man's Buff," "Christ Blessing Little Children," "Nature's Lessons," "Speak the Truth," "Search the Scriptures," "God Bless Our Home," "Praise the Lord," "The Lord is My Shepherd," "Blessing Attend Thee," "Joy be With Thee," "Peace be With You," "Be Just and Fear Not," "Landscape Scenes," "Faith Hope and Charity," "Country Scenes, &c., &c. Enclose 25 cents to pay charges, STEIGELMAN & Co., 104 W. 6th St., Cincinnati, O. 35-41u.

FARM FOR SALE.

About 75 acres of the

BEST LAND

—IN—

PRINCE EDWARD COUNTY,

5 1/2 miles from Picton, and 8 1/2 miles from Demarestville

Dr. Pierce's Standard Remedy

Are not advertised as "cure-all" specifics in the diseases for which recommended.

NATURAL SELECTION

Investigators of natural selection demonstrated beyond controvert throughout the animal kingdom the "fittest" is the one who survives and perpetuates the same principal governs the prosperity of man? An intrepid superior article. I supercede a superior article. I superior merit, Dr. Pierce's Standard Remedy has outlived the other sale in the United States alone million dollars per annum, while exported fools up to several hundred and more. No business could gigantic proportions and rest upon basis than that of merit.

GOLDEN MEDICAL DIET

Is Alternative, or Blood-cleansing

GOLDEN MEDICAL DIET

Is Pectoral.

GOLDEN MEDICAL DIET

Is a Cholagogue, or Liver S

GOLDEN MEDICAL DIET

Is Tonic.

GOLDEN MEDICAL DIET

By reason of its Alternative cures Diseases of the Blood, a Scrofula, or King's Evil; Tumors or Old Sores; Blotches, Pimples, Eruptions, by virtue of its properties, it cures Bronchial, Lung Affections; Incipient Consumption; Lingular Coughs; and Chronic Its Cholagogue properties render it equally remedial for Biliousness, Liver, or "Liver Complaint;" properties make it equally curing Indigestion, Loss of Appetite, Dyspepsia.

Where the skin is sallow and blotches and pimples, or when scrofulous swellings and affect blotches of Golden Medical Diet effect an entire cure. If dry, drowsy, debilitated, have sallid skin, or yellowish-brown splotchy, frequent headache or dizziness in mouth, internal heat or chills with hot flushes, low spirit, forebodings, irregular appetite coated, you are suffering from "Liver," or "Biliousness." In of "Liver Complaint," only 1 symptoms are experienced. For all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Medical Discovery has no equal perfect cures, leaving the liver healthy and healthy.

P. P. P. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pe

Purely Vegetable. No cathartics while using them.

The "Little Giant" Compound Maltum in Parvo Phys larger than mustard seeds, and coated. They remove the excess of the great, crude, drastic, sic heretofore so much in use.

As a remedy for Headache, Rush of Blood to the Head, Tight Chest, Bad Taste in Mouth from the Stomach, Bilious Attacks, Pain in the Kidneys, H. Urine, and Internal Fever, food into heat, and the more we can save this animal heat by the use of boards, the less food will be required, and as boards are cheaper than hay for keeping animals warm, it will pay to use them pretty freely.

A great deal of cold may be kept out of old stables by sheathing up on the inside, from the floor to the scaffolds, with matched boards. Cheap, sappy, unplanned boards will answer a good purpose, for such inside work, if the edges are joined and matched. Such work may be done by almost any common laborer who can use a saw, hammer, and plane, and if taken under cover, one can keep warm at such work almost any day in winter. So we say again, our barns are too cold, and it will pay to make them warmer.—New England Farmer.

Cellars.

There ought to be no cellars under any human habitation. The dampness and mould, and foul air inseparable from ordinary cellars, will find their way into the upper parts of the building, and taint the air of every apartment, coming as these noisome cases will, through the seams of the floors and other openings. If cellars must be had, the following points should be taken in consideration: 1st. The bottom of the cellar should be at least six feet under ground, and the bottom stone of the foundation should be a foot deeper than the cellar floor, for as the earth has frozen in these latitudes, in 1876, as low down as five feet, it is necessary that the bottom should be below the point of frost. 2nd. The cellar may be a foot or two above the level of the ground, to afford the convenience of light and ventilation through windows better than grating. 3rd. A gravel sill is better for a cellar and foundation than clay, which is often treacherous and uncertain. The front stone of the foundation should, in all cases, be flat a broad, and the seams and joining should be close and well-titting and a good many of the stones should go clear through the wall, and better still, if they were laid in mortar, half cement and half sand. 4th. To insure the dryness of a cellar, a trench, a foot deep and more should be around the cellar next the wall, and filled up with broken rock, leading the water outside of the building at one corner under and through the wall. 5th. The ceiling of the cellar should be covered with two good coats of plaster, and the space between it and the floor above should be filled in with the same suitable material to avert or decompose any odors which might make their way through cellar floors. 6th. The walls and ceiling should be well whitewash at least once a year.—W. W. Hall.

A Wealthy Country.

All intelligent travellers who have visited Brazil speak in the most glowing terms of the country. Prof. Agassiz regarded it as the most productive and interesting country on the globe, and the one in which it is easiest to obtain a livelihood. Some who have sailed up the Amazon declare that a vessel can be loaded with Brazil nuts at the expense of only a few pence per bushel. These constitute a valuable article of commerce, while the oil extracted from them is very desirable. All the tropical fruits are produced in Brazil almost without cultivation. The soil in many parts of the country will produce twenty successive crops of cotton, tobacco, or sugar cane without application of manure. No country in the world approaches the land of Don Pedro in the variety of its forest productions. Prof. Agassiz states that he saw one hundred and seventeen different kinds of valuable wood that were cut from a piece of land not half a mile square. They represented almost every variety of color, and many of them are capable of receiving a high polish. One tree furnishes wax that is used for candles; another a pitch that is used for food, and still another yields a juice which is used in the place of intoxicating liquor. There is a single variety of palm from which the natives begin the long and arduous struggle between them used to the ways of wild horses and cattle, skilled in every device of "cutting out," "rounding up," &c., and an untamed rover of the plains, full of subtle equine strategy, of wonderful speed and incalculable nerve, bottom and powers of endurance.

For five days and nights has the chase continued. Several of the herders' horses have been killed by riding, but when our informant left Pine Bluffs yesterday morning the noble stallion was prancing around at the head of a band of tame horses, seemingly as fresh and vigorous as though he had never known fatigue. On the second day he separated from his wild companions, and has since been kept away from them.

Mr. Cole, the leader of the pursuers, is confident that he will yet capture the magnificent steed, and proposes to follow him to the end. Several wild horses have been captured in the vicinity during the past year.

Englishmen! Arise!

The following document has been posted all over London: "Englishmen! Arise! Your country is in danger! The despots of Europe are conspiring against you! Russia, aided by—Mr. Gladstone, is seeking her revenge for the Crimean war! With France divided, Italy in Prince Bismark's pocket, Austria under his thumb and Mr. Gladstone out of office, the son of Nicholas thought the time had come when he could redeem the blunders and avenge the memories of 1854-5. But he will find that he had reckoned without his host. The Alma, Inkerman, Balaklava and Sebastopol were not fought and won for nothing. The present Russian invasion of Eastern Europe and Asia Minor must be immediately stopped. Already we have permitted Russia to go too far. To-morrow we may be unable to resist her. Stern resolution and deliberate action on the part of England to-day will break up the triple alliance, bring France into her proper place in the councils of Europe, and drive the barbarous Muscovite home again. Arise, then, Englishmen, and assert your glorious traditions! The danger that now menaces you is great, but the righteousness of your cause will, as in times past, bear you through. The interests of Europe and the interests of humanity, justice, freedom are one, and it is your proud privilege and sacred duty to defend them."

The Early Rising Delusion.

For farmers and those who live in localities where people can retire at eight or nine o'clock in the evening, the old notion about early rising is still appropriate. But he who is kept up till ten or eleven, or twelve o'clock, and then rises at five or six, because of the teaching of some old ditty about "early to rise," is committing a sin against his own soul. There is not one man in 10,000 who can afford to do without seven or eight hours sleep. All the stuff written about great men who slept only three or four hours a night is apocryphal. They have been put on such small allowances occasionally, and prospered; but no man ever kept health in the body and mind for a number of years with less than seven hours' sleep. If you can get to bed early, then rise early. If you cannot get to bed till late then rise late. It may be as proper for one man to rise at eight as another to rise at five. Let the ringing bell be rung at least thirty minutes before your public appearance. Physicians say a sudden jump out of bed gives irregular motion to the pulses. It takes hours to get over too sudden rising. It is barbarous to except children to instantly land on the floor at the call of their nurses, the thermometer below zero. Give us time after you call us to roll over, gaze at the world full in the face and look before we leap.

Leave the Neck Bare.

An exchange gives the following excellent advice:—"Every one must remark most wonderful adjunct to other remedies in sustaining life during the process of Diphtheria.

Do not be deceived by remedies bearing a similar name, no other preparation is a substitute for this under any circumstances.

Look out for the name and address. I. FELLOWS, St. John, N. B., on the yellow wrapper in watermark which is seen by holding the paper before the light.

Price $1.50 per Bottle six for $7.50. Sold by all Druggists.

SIXTY-SIX

Specimen Copies of Our Beautiful Oil Chromes.

We will send sixty-six copies of our oil chromes to responsible agents. They are in 14 to 18 different oil colors, bringing forth in bold relief all the lights and shades in nature with pleasing effect. Any live young man or woman can make from $50 to $100 in their own town. The following are among our specimens: "Experience," "Asking a Blessing," "Blind Man's Buff," "Christ, Blessing Little Children," "Nature's Lessons," "Speak the Truth," "Search the Scriptures," "God Bless Our Home," "Praise the Lord," "The Lord is My Shepherd," "Blessing Attend Thee," "Joy be With Thee," "Peace be With You," "Be Just and Fear Not," "Landscape Scenes," Faith, Hope and Charity," Country Scenes, &c., &c. Enclose 25 cents to pay charges, STEIGELMAN & Co., 104 W. 6th St., Cincinnati, O.

FARM FOR SALE.

About 75 acres of the

BEST LAND

—IN—

PRINCE EDWARD COUNTY,

5½ miles from Picton, and 8½ miles from Demorestville.

This is a rare chance to get a Choice Farm. It is well watered and nicely situated.

A Special Price to a purchaser before the 1st December.

Apply to

R McDOWALL,
Demorestville, 29.

Or at this Office.

CAMPAIGN OPENED FOR 1878

Western Advertiser & Weekly Liberal.

Reduced Price—Premium to every Subscriber. Harvest for Agents.

The Fifteenth Annual Campaign of the Western Advertiser and Weekly Liberal is now under full headway. Hundreds of new names are pouring in from all parts of Canada. We want 5,000 new subscribers during this canvass. Plenty of room for 1,000 more agents. Our terms to agents, and inducements to subscribers will be found in anything yet offered.

BILL OF FARE.

- 1.—Best general newspaper in Canada.
- 2.—Balance of year free to new subscribers.
- 3.—Splendid Engraving to every subscriber.
- 4.—Agricultural Department by W. F. Clarke.
- 5.—Teacher's Department.—Best in Canada.
- 6.—Ladies' "Fashion and Kitchen" column.
- 7.—Music, pictures, chess, humor, etc.
- 8.—Full base ball, cricket and sporting news.
- 9.—Complete Temperance Record.
- 10.—Reliable and copious Market Reports.

TERMS FOR 1878:—$1.60, with engraving "Landseer's Sanctuary," 30x20 inches. $5 00, without Engraving. Postage prepaid.

Liberal terms to agents. For free sample copies, or full instructions to agents, address.

JOHN CAMERON & Co.,

"Advertiser" Office, London, Ont.

A BARGAIN.

A No. 9 Columbia Cooking Stove,

languishing coughs; and Chronic Liver, or "Liver Complaint," as properties make it equally efficacious in curing Indigestion, Loss of Appetite, Dyspepsia.

Where the skin is sallow and covered with blotches and pimples, or where scrofulous swellings and affection of the bowels of Golden Medical Discovery effect an entire cure. If you are drowsy, debilitated, have sallow skin, or yellowish-brown spots on the face, frequent headache or dizziness in the mouth, internal heat or chilliness with hot flushes, low spirits, a forced bowels, irregular appetite, coated, or you are suffering from Liver, or "Biliousness." In none of "Liver Complaint," only the symptoms are experienced. As for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Medical Discovery has no equal, perfect cures, leaving the liver sound and healthy.

P. P. P. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets

Purely Vegetable. No care while using them.

The "Little Giant" Cat Maltum in Parvo Physic larger than mustard seeds, and coated. They remove the necessity of the great, crude, drastic, sickening cathartics so much in use.

As a remedy for Headache, Rush of Blood to the Head, Tight Chest, Bad Taste in Mouth, Pain in the Stomach, Bilious Attacks, Pain in the Kidneys, Hiccup, Crises, and Internal Fever, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets are universal, not a gland escape its sanative impress. Age does not alter the properties of these Pellets. sugar-coated and enclosed in glass their virtues being thereby preserved for any length of time they are always fresh and reliable is not the case with those pills put up in cheap wooden boxes. The daily use of two cured the most obstinate cases of Cetter, Salt-rheum, Erysipelas, Blotches, Pimples, Sore Eyes, tions. They are, however, to be taken in connection with Medical Discovery, in order to best results.

DR. PIERCE'S

FAVORITE

PRESCRIPTI

DR. PIERCE'S

FAVORITE

PRESCRIPTI

DR. PIERCE'S

FAVORITE

PRESCRIPTI

The remedial management of cases peculiar to woman has larger experience at the World's of which Dr. Pierce is the chief physician, in adapting remedial cure. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription the result of this extended experience has become justly celebrated and remarkable cures of all the diseases and.

WEAKNESS!

Peculiar To

FEMALE

Favorite Prescription is a powerful Tonic to the entire system, it quiets nervous irritation, strengthens enfeebled nervous system, thereby it to healthful vigor. The following are among those in which the Pa at one corner under and through the ceiling. The ceiling of the cellar should be covered with two good coats of plaster, and the space between it and the floor above should be filled in with the same suitable material to avert or decompose any odors which might make their way through cellar floors. 6th. The walls and ceiling should be well whitewash at least once a year.—W. W. Hall.

A Wealthy Country.

All intelligent travellers who have visited Brazil speak in the most glowing terms of the country. Prof. Agassiz regarded it as the most productive and interesting country on the globe, and the one in which it is easiest to obtain a livelihood. Some who have sailed up the Amazon declare that a vessel can be loaded with Brazil nuts at the expense of only a few pence per bushel. These constitute a valuable article of commerce, while the oil extracted from them is very desirable. All the tropical fruits are produced in Brazil almost without cultivation. The soil in many parts of the country will produce twenty successive crops of cotton, tobacco, or sugar cane without application of manure. No country in the world approaches the land of Don Pedro in the variety of its forest productions. Prof. Agassiz states that he saw one hundred and seventeen different kinds of valuable wood that were cut from a piece of land not half a mile square. They represented almost every variety of color, and many of them are capable of receiving a high polish. One tree furnishes wax that is used for candles; another a pitch that is used for food, and still another yields a juice which is used in the place of intoxicating liquor. There is a single variety of palm from which the natives obtain food, drink, clothing, bedding, ing, cordage, fishing tackle, medicine and the material they manufacture into dwelling, weapons, harpoons, and musical instruments. Doubtless the day is not far distant when the valuable woods of Brazil will be used for various useful and ornamental purposes.

Winter care of Poultry.

No one who does not take an interest in poultry can expect many eggs in cold weather, or when the ground is covered with snow, and the fowls can find little but what is given them. I believe with proper attention to keeping the roosting-clean, good shelter and a varied diet, disease would be unknown. To promote laying, feed alternately wheat, buckwheat, boiled oats, scalded bran, sometimes seasoned with pepper, and a little corn occasionally. Onions chopped fine, and mixed with their food, are an excellent stimulant, and promote health; and if on hand, thick, sour milk, placed where they can drink it, is also relished. I find that twenty-five hens take a bucket three-quarters full daily, and they seem to thrive on it. When milk is not on hand, keep clean water always within their reach. Crushed oyster shells and gravel, and a place to dust themselves are also necessary. These directions are for cold weather, and when the ground is covered with snow. I have been getting forty cents a dozen in market for eggs, from my Light Brahma hens, for a month or more. Our market man says they bring 5 cents a dozen more than eggs of the Leghorns or smaller breeds; being much larger, they are taken first. No fowls can stand the cold weather, or lay better with the above care, than the Light Brahmas. They are suited to thickly-settled neighborhoods and easily kept from your neighbors' flower-bed in summer.

FANCIER

MILD WINTERS.—It is a remarkable coincidence that the decades of 1798, 1808, 1818, 1828, 1838, 1848, 1858, 1868 and 1878 should be productive of mild winters, which fact renders it possible that some system exists which astronomers have not studied up, interests of Europe and the interests of humanity. Justice, freedom are one, and it is your proud privilege and sacred duty to defend them."

The Early Rising Delusion.

For farmers and those who live in localities where people can retire at eight or nine o'clock in the evening, the old notion about early rising is still appropriate. But he who is kept up till ten or eleven, or twelve o'clock, and then rises at five or six, because of the teaching of some old ditty about "early to rise," is committing a sin against his own soul. There is not one man in 10,000 who can afford to do without seven or eight hours sleep. All the stuff written about great men who slept only three or four hours a night is apocryphal. They have been put on such small allowance occasionally, and prospered; but no man ever kept health in the body and mind for a number of years with less than seven hours' sleep. If you can get to bed early, then rise early. If you cannot get to bed till late then rise late. It may be as proper for one man to rise at eight as another to rise at five. Let the ringing bell be rung at least thirty minutes before your public appearance. Physicians say a sudden jump out of bed gives irregular motion to the pulses. It takes hours to get over too sudden rising. It is barbarous to expect children to instantly land on the floor at the call of their nurses, the thermometer below zero. Give us time after you call us to rollover, gaze at the world full in the face and look before we leap.

Leave the Neck Bare.

An exchange gives the following excellent advice:—"Every one must remark that a favourite article of winter clothing for children is a comforter swathed around the neck. This is a great error; the feet and the wrists are the proper members to keep warm; the face and throat will harden into healthy indifference to cold; but that muffler, exchanged for an extra pair of thick socks and knitted gloves, would preserve a boy or girl really well and warm. Bronchitis and sore throat have declined fifty per cent. since the absurd use of high collars and twice round handkerchiefs went out of fashion; and if the poor would take better care of their children's feet, half the infantile mortality would disappear. It only costs a trifle to put a piece of thick felt or cork into the bottom of a boot or shoe, but the difference is often considerable between that and a doctor's bill, with perhaps the undertaker's beside."

The report of the President of Michigan University says:—"The proportion of women to men scarcely changes from year to year. The women form a little less than nine per cent. of the whole number of students. It is gratifying to see how readily the more gifted young women who have graduated here, especially those who have taken the full classical course, have secured conspicuous positions as teachers in the high schools, seminaries of advanced grade and colleges for women. In those positions they are justifying the wisdom of the regents who opened to them the opportunities for a thorough collegiate training, and are doing their full best in earning a reputation for the University."

The doctrine of eternal punishment was taken for a subject by no less than fifteen preachers in New York on Sunday last. Some wholly repudiated the orthodox teaching, others insisted on or suggested various modifications, while others, again, strongly defended the old belief. The most pronounced among these last was Dr. Talmage, who said that there could be no compromise, and that men must throw their unbelief overboard, or else throw the Bible overboard and cease all pretence of believing in Divine revelation.

CAMPAIGN OPENED FOR 1878 Western Advertiser & Weekly Liberal.

Reduced Price—Premium to every Subscriber. Harvest for Agents.

The Fifteenth Annual Campaign of the Western Advertiser and Weekly Liberal is now under full headway. Hundreds of new names are pouring in from all parts of Canada. We want 5,000 new subscribers during this canvass. Plenty of room for 1,000 more agents. Our terms to agents, and inducements to subscribers will be found in anything yet offered.

BILL OF FARE.

- 1.—Best general newspaper in Canada.
- 2.—Balance of year free to new subscribers.
- 3.—Splendid Engraving to every subscriber.
- 4.—Agricultural Department by W. F. Clarke.
- 5.—Teacher's Department.—Best in Canada.
- 6.—Ladies' "Fashion and Kitchen" column.
- 7.—Music, pictures, chess, humor, etc.
- 8.—Full base ball, cricket and sporting news.
- 9.—Complete Temperance Record.
- 10.—Reliable and copious Market Reports.

TERMS FOR 1878:—1.60, with engraving Landseer's "Sanctuary." 30x20 inches. 1.5 0, without engraving. Postage prepaid.

Liberal terms to agents. For free sample copies, or full instructions to agents, address,

JOHN CAMERON & Co.,
"Advertiser" Office, London, Ont.

A BARGAIN.

A No. 9 Columbia Cooking Stove,

With Reservoir, Nealy New.

FOR SALE CHEAP.

With or without utensils. For further particulars, apply at the EXPRESS Office. 24-2in.

GRADUATE OF

Ontario Veterinary College.

May be consulted on all diseases of Domesticated Animals, personally at Campbell House or by letter.

TERMS MODERATE

OFFICE—Bridge Street.

G. F. HANCOCK,
BROOM

—AND—

WHISK MANUFACTURER,
MILL POINT, ONT. 31-1y

To Let!

BRICK Dwelling House in Napanee, next to W. A. Reeves, for one or two years, with a good Garden. For further particulars, apply to E. S. LAPUM, Life Ins. Agt., Napanee.
SIDNEY WARNER.
Wilton Dec 32-4in

boxes. The daily use of two Pe cured the most obstinate cases of Tetter, Salt-rheum, Erysipelas, Blotches, Pimples, Sore Eyes, an tions. They are, however, recort to be taken in connection with the Medical Discovery, in order to se best results.

DR. PIERCE'S
FAVORITE

PRESCRIPTIO

DR. PIERCE'S

FAVORITE

PRESCRIPTIO

DR. PIERCE'S

FAVORITE

PRESCRIPTIO

The remedical management of t eases peculiar to woman has al larger experience at the World's D of which Dr. Pierce is the chief c physician, in adapting remedies f cure. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Presc the result of this extended experie has become justly celebrated for and remarkable cures of all thos diseases and.

WEAKNESSE

Peculiar To

FEMALE

Favorite Prescription is a powerful tiye Tonic to the entire system. nerve of unsurpassed efficacy, ar it quiets nervous irritation, streng enfeebled nervous system, thereby it to healthful vigor. The followi are among those in which the Favo scription has worked magic cu Leucorrhoea, or "Whites." Excess Painful Menstruation, Unnatural sions, Weak Black, Prolapsus, or the Uterus, Anteversion, Reti Bearing-down Senation Chronic Cc Inflammation and Ulceration of th Internal Heat, Nervous Depress bility, Despondency, and very ma chronic diseases peculiar to wome mentioned here.

The following Ladies are a fev many thousands who can testifi efficacy of Dr. Pierce's Favorite tion, from experience and observai Mrs. Cornelia Allison, Peosta. Mrs. Thos. J. Methvin, Hatcher's Ga.; Mrs. T. A. Seymour, Rome. Mrs. Erancis Huswick, Versaille Mrs. Leroy Putman, North Whart Mrs. Mary A. Hunolt, Edina, M Mary A. Frisbie, Lehman, Pa. M Gill, Chillicothe, Ohio; Mrs. H. Malane, West Springfield, Pa.; Hiatt, Emporia, Kan.; Louise Dodgeville, Mass.; Mrs. L. A. Norfolk, Va.; Mrs. C. Allison, Iowa; Mrs. J. N. Vernon, St. Ont.; Mrs. S. C. Moran, 253 N ward Street, Baltimore Md.; M Caliman, Barnesville, Ohio; Mr McNaught, Jefferson, Iowa; Mrs Stemrod, Friendship, N. Y.; M Cady, Westfield, N. Y.; Mrs. Amann, Verona, N. Y.; Mrs. B. Grand Rapids, Mich.; Mrs. F. Watertown, N. Y. Thousands of can be given at the World's Disp

THE PEOPLE'S

MEDICAL SERVA

Dr. R. V. PIERCE is the sole and manufacturer of the foregoing all of which are sold by druggists also the Author of the People's Sense Medical Adviser, a work of a thousand pages, with two hun eighty-two wood-engravings and plates. He has already sold this work

Over 100,000 Co

PRICE (post-paid) $1.50

Address:

R. V. PIERCE, M.

World's Dispensary Buffalo

FELLOWS' COMPOUND SYRUP OF HYPO-PHOS-PHITES

The Promoter and Perfector of Assimilation.
The Reformer and Vitalizer of the blood.
The Producer and Invigorator of nerve and Muscle.
The Builder and Supporter of Brain power.

Fellows Compound Syrup is composed of Ingredients identical with those which constitute Healthy Blood, Muscle and nerve and Brain Substance, whilst Life self is directly dependant upon some of them.

By its union with the blood and its effect upon the muscles, reestablishing the tone and toning the other, it is capable of effecting the following results.

It will displace or wash out tubercular matter, and thus cure Consumption. By increasing Nervous and Muscular vigor, it will cure Dyspepsia, feeble or interrupted action of the Heart and Palpitation, Weakness of Intellect caused by grief, weary, overtax or irregular habits, rheumatism, Acute or Chronic, Congestion of the lungs, even in the most alarming stages.

It cures Asthma, Loss of Voice, Neuralgia, St. Vitus Dance, Epileptic Fits, Whooping Cough, Nervousness, and is a most wonderful adjunct to other remedies in sustaining life during the process of Diphtheria.

Do not be deceived by remedies bearing a similar name, no other preparation a substitute for this under any circumstances.

Look out for the name and address. FELLOWS, St. John, N. B., on the yellow wrapper in watermark which is seen by holding the paper before the light.

Price $1.50 per Bottle six for $7.50. Sold by all Druggists.

SIXTY-SIX

Specimen Copies of Our Beautiful Oil Chromes.

We will send sixty-six copies of our oil chromes to responsible agents. They are in 14 to 18 brilliant oil colors, bringing forth in bold relief the lights and shades in nature with pleasing effect. Any live young man or woman can make from $50 to $100 in their own town. The following are among our specimens: "Esperance," "Blessing a Blessing," "Blind Man's Buff," "Christ Blessing Little Children," "Nature's Lessons," "Speak the Truth," "Search the Scriptures," "God Bless Our Home," "Praise the Lord," "The Lord is My Shepherd," "Blessing attend Thee," "Joy be With Thee," "Peace be With You," "Be Just and Fear Not," "Landscape scenes," "Faith, Hope and Charity," "Country scenes, &c., &c." Enclose 25 cents to pay charges.

STEIGELMAN & Co., 104 W. 6th St., Cincinnati, O.

FARM FOR SALE.

about 75 acres of the

BEST LAND

—IN—

PRINCE EDWARD COUNTY,

1/2 miles from Picton, and 8 1/2 miles from Demorestville.

This is a rare chance to get a Choice Farm.

Dr. Pierce's Standard Remedies

Are not advertised as "cure-alls," but are specifics in the diseases for which they are recommended.

NATURAL SELECTIONS.

Investigators of natural science have demonstrated beyond controversy, that throughout the animal kingdom the "survival of the fittest" is the only law that vouchsafes thrift and perpetuity. Does not the same principle govern the commercial prosperity of man? An interior cannot supersede a superior article. By reason of superior merit, Dr. Pierce's Standard Medicines have outlived the others. There sale in the United States alone exceeds one million dollars per annum, while the amount exported foals up to several hundred thousand more. No business could grow to such gigantic proportions and rest upon any other basis than that of merit.

GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY

Is Alternative, or Blood-cleansing.

GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY

Is Pectoral.

GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY

Is a Cholagogue, or Liver Stimulant.

GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY

Is Tonic.

GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY

By reason of its Alternative properties, cures Diseases of the Blood and Skin, as Scrofula, or King's Evil; Tumors; Ulcers, or Old Sores; Blotches Pimples; and Eruptions. By virtue of its Pectoral properties, it cures Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Affections; Incipient Consumption; Lingering Coughs; and Chronic Laryngitis. Its Cholagogue properties render it an unequalled remedy for Biliousness; Torpid Liver, or "Liver Complaint," and its Tonic properties make it equally efficient, in curing Indigestion, Loss of Appetite and Dyspepsia.

Where the skin is sallow and covered with blotches and pimples, or where there are scrofulous swellings and affections, a few bottles of Golden Medical Discovery will effect an entire cure. If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow colour of skin, or yellowish-brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flashes, low spirits and gloomy forebodings, irregular appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from "Torpid Liver," or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint," only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy.

P. P. P. P.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets.

Purely Vegetable. No care required while using them.

The "Little Giant" Cathartic, of Multum in Parvo Physic, scarcely larger than mustard seeds, and are sugar-coated. They remove the necessity of taking the great, crude, drastic, sickening pills, heretofore so much in use.

As a remedy for Headache, Dizziness, Rush of Blood to the Head, Tightness about the Chest, Bad Taste in Mouth, Eruptions from the Stomach, Bilious Attacks, Jaundice, Pain in the Kidneys, Highly-colored Urine, and Internal Fever, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets are unsurpassed. Furthermore, I would say that there action

Mitchell's Belladonna Improved India Rubber Porous Plaster.

There never has been a time when the healing of so many different diseases has been caused by outward application as the present. It is an undisputed fact that over half of the entire population of the globe resort to the use of ordinary plasters.

The principal ingredients used in making these Plasters are Gum Olibanum—or better known as the Frankincense of the Bible—Rubber, and Burgundy Pitch, which, when scientifically compounded, is full of electricity, and when combined with the pure medicinal gums, is found to be one of the greatest healing mediums ever brought before the human race.

They are acknowledged by all who have used them to act quicker than any other Plaster they ever before tried, and that one of these Plasters will do more real service than a hundred of the ordinary kind. All other plasters are slow of action, and require to be worn continually to effect a cure; but with these it is entirely different; the instant ones applied the patient will feel its effect.

They possess all the soothing, warming, supporting and strengthening qualities of all other Plasters. Many who have been relieved of RHEUMATISM, TIC DOLOREUX, and various other pains in the KIDNEYS, BREAST or SIDE, and believe it is solely done by the electrical qualities which the Porous Plasters contain, and which is imparted to the system, thus restoring them to a healthy condition.

They are very soft and pliable, still very adhesive; and a sure cure for WEAK BACKS, PAINS IN THE SIDE AND BREAST; and are invaluable to those who have a COLD of long standing, and often prevents CONSUMPTION. Some even tell us they believe they were entirely cured by the use of them of a long-continued Consumption.

Prepared by GEO. E. MITCHELL, Lowell, Mass. Sold by all Druggists. 19-yl

MANHOOD: HOW LOST, HOW RESTORED!

WE have recently published a new edition of Dr. Culvertwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical and permanent cure (without medicine) of Nervous Debility, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc., resulting from excesses.

Price, in a sealed envelope, only 6 cents, or two postage stamps.

The celebrated author, of this admirable Essay clearly demonstrates, from thirty years' successful practice, that alarming consequences may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, can cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

This Lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land.

Address

THE CULVERTWELL MEDICAL CO., 41 Ann St., New York. 45-ly.

Consumption Cured.

AN OLD PHYSICIAN, retired from active practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India Missionary the formula of a Vegetable Remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of

CONSUMPTION ASTHMA BRONCHITIS CATARRH and all Throat and Lung Affections; also a Positive and Radical Cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Complaints, after having thoroughly tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases feels it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellow-men. Actuated by this motive, and a conscientious desire to relieve human suffering, he will send FREE OF CHARGE, to all who desire it, this recipe, with full directions for preparing and successfully using it. Sent by return mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper.

DR. C. STEVENS, Box 26, Brockville, Ont.

Crockery & Glassware.

AT COST

OUR ENTIRE STOCK OF

Crockery & Glassware,

WILL BE SOLD AT

JUST A

ROSE & F

IN THE PERI

100 CASES of NEW

THE BSST AND CHE

Come and See Them, as V

ALSO A FULL AS

New Hat, Caps, Clothing,

BOOTS MADE

21-yl.

ROSE

A SPECU

During the months, the will sell Furn &c., at great Prices, for C Notes.

J. GIBBA

MONEY T

10

sell's Belladonna Improved India Rubber Porous Plaster.

There never has been a time when the healing of many different diseases has been caused by the application of the present. It is an undoubted fact that over half of the entire population of the globe resort to the use of ordinary plaster.

The principal ingredients used in making these are Gum Olibanum—or better known as Incense of the Bible—Rubber, and Burdock Root, which, when scientifically combined, is full of electricity, and when combined with the pure medicinal gums, is found to be the greatest healing medium ever brought to the human race.

It is acknowledged by all who have used it, that it acts quicker than any other Plaster they have tried, and that one of these Plasters does more real service than a hundred of the ordinary kind. All other plasters are slow of action, and require to be worn continually to effect; but with these it is entirely different; the moment applied the patient will feel its effect.

It possesses all the soothing, warming, suppurating and strengthening qualities of all others. Many who have been relieved of RHEUMATISM, GOUT, TIC DOLOREUX, and various pains in the KIDNEYS, BREAST or SIDE, have it solely done by the electrical action which the Porous Plaster contains, and is imparted to the system, thus restoring it to a healthy condition.

It is very soft and pliable, still very adhesive; and a sure cure for WEAK BACKS, IN THE SIDE AND BREAST; and are able to those who have a COLD of long standing, and often prevents CONSUMPTION. It even tells us they believe they were entirely cured by the use of them of a long Consumption.

Prepared by GEO. E. MITCHELL, Lowell, Mass. by all Druggists. 19-yl

MANHOOD: LOST, NOW RESTORED!

have recently published a new edition of Dr. Culvertwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical and permanent cure (with Medicine) of Nervous Debility, Mental and Physical Impairment, Impediments to Marriage, resulting from excesses.

Price, in a sealed envelope, only 6 cents, or stage stamps. The celebrated author, of this admirable Essay, demonstrates, from thirty years' successful practice, that alarming consequences may be radically cured without the dangerous internal medicine or the application of force; pointing out a mode of cure at once certain and effectual, by means of which sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may himself cheaply, privately and radically cure himself.

This Lecture should be in the hands of youth and every man in the land.

E. CULVERTWELL MEDICAL CO.,
41 Ann St., New York.
e Box 4586 45-IV.

Consumption Cured.

OLD PHYSICIAN, retired from active practice, has had placed in his hands by an East India Missionary a formula of a Vegetable Remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of CONSUMPTION ASTHMA BRONCHITIS CATARRH of the Throat and Lung Affections; also a Positive and Permanent Cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Complaints. After having thoroughly tested its wonderful curative power in thousands of cases, he feels it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellow-men. Actuated by this motive, and a conscientious desire to relieve human suffering, he has prepared a full and complete course of treatment, and with full directions for preparing and successfully using the same. Sent by return mail by addressing with stamp, name and paper, to

DR. C. STEVENS,
Box 88, Brockville, Ont.

Stoneware & Glassware.

AT COST

OUR ENTIRE STOCK OF

Stoneware & Glassware,

WILL BE SOLD AT

Cost and Under

JUST ARRIVED,

—AT—

ROSE & FRALICK'S,

IN THE PERRY BLOCK,

100 CASES of NEW BOOTS & SHOES,

THE BEST AND CHEAPEST IN TOWN.

Come and See Them, as We will not be Undersold.

ALSO A FULL ASSORTMENT OF

New Hat, Caps, Clothing, Gents' Furnishings, &c

BOOTS MADE TO ORDER

ROSE & FRALICK.

21-yl.

A SPECULATION!

During the dull summer months, the undersigned will sell Furniture, Chairs, &c., at greatly reduced Prices, for Cash or Good Notes.

J. GIBBARD & SON.

JOB

Printing!

THE JOBBING DEPARTMENT

—OF THE

NAPANEE EXPRESS

AS EXCELLED BY

No Office in the Dominion

ITS OUTFIT INCLUDES A

LARGE STOCK

OF THE

Very Latest Styles Of New Type

And every Facility exists for turning out

JOB PRINTING

IN THE

Poituary Notices,
 Oamphlets,
 Postors,
 Programmes,
 Promissory Notes,
 Receipt Books,
 Shipping Tags,
 Statements,
 Sale Bills,
 Tickets

Paid for Butter and Eggs.

SMITH & ANDERSON.

POTTER BROS.
AND SALE STABLES

DINING THE ERISCOUSE,
NAPANEE, ONT.
keep nothing but First-Class
and Vehicles, and at REASONABLE

SAW
SOLID AND INSERTED TO AW GUMMI SAW SHAGS SAW BETT SAW ADDRESS SEE
Gross Engine Works Co.
BRANTFORD, ONT.

CATARH
Catarh is a disease of the eye which is caused by a virus which enters the eye through the nose. It is a very dangerous disease and if not treated promptly it will lead to blindness. The only cure for Catarh is the use of the CATARH Ointment. This ointment is made from the most powerful and purest of medicines and it will cure Catarh in a very short time. It is sold by all druggists and is very cheap. Address: J. B. HARDING, Brockville, Ont.

OW By reading and practicing the inestimable truths contained in the best medical book ever issued, entitled SELF-PRESERVATION. Price only $1. Sent by mail on receipt of price. It exhausted Vitality, Premature Decline, and Physical Debility, and the endless untold miseries that result, and contains more than 60 original prescriptions, any one of which is worth the price of the book. This book was written by the most experienced and able medical practitioner, to whom was awarded a gold and silver medal by the National Medical Association. Illustrated with the very finest engravings. A marvellous and beautiful book. Send once. Address: Y. MEDICAL THYSELF, No. 4 Bul. Boston, Mass.

ICE'S SALVE. table of operation, invented in the city by Dr. Wm. Grace, Surgeon in King. Through its agency he cured of the most serious sores and wounds, guarded by all who knew him as a publisher. 25c. a box, by mail 30c. For sale is generally.
ENTS WANTED. BETH W. DOWLER & SON, Boston.

Intarn Business College

S. G. BEATTY & Co.,

BELLEVILLE, - - Ontario.

S. G. BEATTY. W. R. ROBINSON. J. W. JOHNSON.

Ontario Business College,

Which has been in existence for 10 years, and, during which time

Has Trained Hundreds of Young Men
for obtaining a

COMMERCIAL EDUCATION.
Equal to any Institution in Canada, or the United States. Its several departments are conducted by thoroughly competent men who teach that which they have learned by actual business experience, and therefore practically understand,

THE PUBLICATIONS OF THE COLLEGE:

The "Canadian Accountant," "Joint Stock Company Book Keeping," "Beatty's Guide to Elegant Writing, etc., have obtained a National reputation, and are the productions of the principals of the College, who are daily engaged, together with their staff of teachers, in the Class and Lecture Rooms, College Bank, and Merchants Emporium with the Students.

THE COURSE IS SHORT,
because the teaching is thorough and practical, and no pains are spared to give to each student individually, as well as to the various classes, the personal attention of the teachers.

GOOD BOARD
can be obtained in Belleville at a lower rate than in any other place having a Business College in Canada or the United States.

The College Journal, containing full information respecting terms, nature of course, etc. and specimens of penmanship, sent free on application.

Address, S. G. BEATTY & Co.;
BELLEVILLE, ONTARIO.

Belleville, September 1877. 19-Gm.

MONEY TO LOAN

We have received instructions from England, to Lend a large amount of Money,

AT LOWERS RATE THAN HAS YET BEEN OFFERED.

CALL IN AND EXAMINE RATES,

NO COMMISSION CHARGED.

WILLIAMS & HOOPER.

$777 is not easily earned in these times, but it can be made in three months by any one of either sex, in any part of the country who is willing to work steadily at the employment that we furnish. $300 per week in your own town. You need not be away from home over night. You can give your whole time to the work, or only your spare moments. We have agents who are making over $20 per day. All who engage at once can make money fast. At the present time money cannot be made so easily and rapidly at any other business. It costs nothing to try the business. Terms and $5 outfit free. Address at once, H. HALLETT & Co., Portland, Maine.

GOOD ADVERTISING
$3,350.40 worth of space in various newspapers distributed through thirty states, will be sold for $700 each. Accurate insertions guaranteed. A list of papers giving daily and weekly circulation and printed schedule of rates, sent free on application to E. P. ROWELL & Co., New York. Advertising Agents, No. 11 New York.

PULMONA

is beyond comparison the best remedy for the cure of CONSUMPTION (EVEN IN ITS ADVANCED STAGES), Asthma, Bronchitis, Catarrh, and all derangements of the NERVOUS SYSTEM. A circular containing PARTICULARS OF MANY CASES SUCCESSFULLY TREATED, full advice for the treatment of the disease above mentioned, and certificates of actual cures, will be sent free by mail to all applicants. Address OSCAR C. MOSES, Sole Proprietor, 18 Cortlandt Street, 65

1823. SEND FOR 1878

New York Observer

The Best Religious and Secular Family Newspaper. $3.15 a Year, post-paid. Established 1823.
$7 PARK ROW, NEW YORK.
SAMPLE COPIES FREE.

LAW WORK A SPECIALITY

Assessment Blanks,
Auction Bills,
Articles of Agreement,
Briefs,
Bill Heads,
Ball Programmes,
Bills of Fare,
Circulars,
Chancery Bills,
Cards,
Catalogues,
Debiture

Dodgers,
Date Labels,
Envelopes,
Exhibition Bills,
Funeral Circulars,
Financial Reports,
Headings,
Horse Bills,
Indentures,
Invitations

Letter Headings,
Law Forms,
Lawyers' Briefs,
Labels,
Monthly Statements,
Mourning Cards,
Municipal Forms,
Note Headings,
Notarial Circulars

Poitary Notices,
Oamphlets,
Posters,
Programmes,
Promissory Notes,
Receipt Books,
Shipping Tags,
Statements,
Sale Bills,
Tickets,

Tax Collectors Rolls,
Tax Receipts,
Visiting Cards,
Veter's Lists,
Wheat Receipts,
Wedding Cards.

ALL THE ABOVE

PRINTED WITH DESPATCH

AT THE
'EXPRESS' OFFICE.

THE EXPRESS.

NAPANEE, FEB. 1, 1878.

Lost.

A pocket-book, containing a note of Hand and Commercial Traveller's Certificate. Also a few dollars in American currency. The finder will be rewarded by leaving the same at the office of J. Gibbard & son.

W. T. GIBBARD.

—Valentines are making their appearance.

—W. S. Williams, Esq., has been appointed solicitor for the Napanee agency of the Dominion Bank.

—Several poems on the Dunkin Bill, well worthy of a place in the EXPRESS, are unavoidably crowded out.

—The Georgia Minstrels drew a full house on Wednesday evening. Their programme was well received, and equal to that of any similar troupe on the road.

—Mr. H. W. Grasse, late day operator and ticket agent at Napanee station, has been appointed agent at Ernestown station.

—The Young People's Literary Society, in connection with the C. M. Church, will give another of their popular entertainments on Monday evening, Feb. 11th.

Markets

Owing to a press of other matters we have been obliged to withhold our usual foreign market report. We will be able to resume next week.

Meetings

In support of the Dunkin Bill, will be addressed by C. I. J. Hickman at the following places: Friday, February 1st, at Odessa; Monday, February 4th, M. E. Church, Napanee.

Skating.

No lack of Rinks at present. Morgan's Napanee Rink is in full blast, and R. Richardson, Esq., has opened a Rink a short distance below the Big Mill. Morgan intends holding a Carnival soon, should the weather prove favorable enough to make it a paying speculation.

E. King Dodds.

This great head-centre of the Anti-Dunkinites, will speak at Napanee in the Music Hall, on Saturday the 2nd inst., at 2 p.m. On Monday the 4th February, at Odessa Drill Shed at 2 p.m. A lively debate may be expected, as Joseph Gibbons, Esq., of Ingersoll, is expected to meet him.

Mrs. Youmans.

Meetings in behalf of the Dunkin bill will be addressed by Mrs. Youmans at the following places: Amherst Island, Friday Feb. 1st; Amherst Island, Saturday, Feb. 2nd. The temperance pledge will be presented at every meeting for signatures. A collection will be taken in behalf of the funds of the County Dunkin Association.

The Market Tolls

The market tolls for the present year were sold by auction on Monday to Philip Embury (who was lessee in '77) for $800, $100 less than last year. The stalls sold as follows:—No. 1, Thos. Trimble, $20; No. 2, J. S. Sagar, $20; No. 6, R. Collins, $20; No. 7, Jas. Chafferson, $20. These figures are the same as last year.

Postponement.

We are sorry to have to announce that the proposed performance by the Napanee Dramatic Club, "Fifteen Years of a Drunkard's Life," announced for this (Friday) evening, has to be indefinitely postponed, owing to other meetings on

M. E. Church.

Quarterly Services in the M. E. Church, Napanee, next Sabbath morning.

—Remember the Concert by the M. E. Sabbath School, to be held in the basement of the Church to-night. An excellent programme.

—The man who attempts to keep a thermometer record this winter needs a thorough knowledge of double-entry book-keeping.

—On Thursday morning when Andrew Wycott, of Odessa, was fined $20 and costs for selling liquor without a license. H. T. Forward, J. P., had charge of the case, which was preferred by the License Inspector.

—The schools were closed on Wednesday after noon out of respect for the memory of Mrs. Magee, a former teacher, who died at Uxbridge on Monday, and was interred here in the family burial place. Much sympathy is felt for friends in their bereavement.

—The 17th lecture in the course to young people, by Rev. Dr. Hartley will be delivered next Sunday evening. SUBJECT—"Immortality of the Soul." The lecture last Sunday entitled the "Convenient Season," was an eloquent powerful appeal to the congregation.

Bogus.

Counterfeit fifty-cent pieces, dated 1871, are in circulation, and merchants and others should be on the lookout for them. The coin is made of inferior metal, very thinly silver-plated. The maple leaf on the reverse side is a little indistinct near the edges, and the milling around the edge is not so clear cut as in the genuine coin.

Bogus $10 notes of the Ontario Bank are in circulation in London.

Dominion Bank Agency.

The Bank of British North America having withdrawn their agency, the business has been transferred to the Dominion Bank, with Mr. R. A. Helliwell as Agent, who has had a large banking experience. A Savings Department has been established in connection with the Branch, and deposits as low as one dollar will be received at four per cent. per annum.

Illicit Whiskey--Addington.

The following cases were tried at Tamworth, on the 26th inst., before Justices Neely and Cousins: Patrick McLaughlin, Tamworth, $20—costs, $9.55; Richard Douglass, Tamworth, $20—costs, $11.97; Sampson Shields, Tamworth, $20—costs, $9.55; R. B. Hope, Newburgh, $20—costs, $9.70; Catharine Trayner, Colebrook, $20—costs, $10. All the above fines and costs to be paid on the first day of February, or in default, 30 days. They all pleaded not guilty, as usual.

Honor to Whom Honor is Due.

The Temperance people of the County purpose getting up a grand demonstration in honor of Col. Hickman, in special recognition of the valuable and important services rendered by him during the present campaign. None have labored as hard throughout the conflict as he. His efforts are solely disinterested, financially speaking, and the success which has attended him in every section, is good evidence of his popularity. The demonstration will probably be held on Thursday next, in Napanee. Full announcements will be made.

Juvenile Precocity.

Mr. J. E. Knight, a clerk five years in the employ of Mr. James Aylsworth, issuer of marriage licenses, Tamworth, became deeply enamored of a susceptible young lady in that village. He filled out a blank license, forged Mr. Aylsworth's name and deposited $2 in the till as payment. The couple were married in Selby, the turn-out good. I do not know of any that had been taking prophylaxis in order to prepare themselves to do out the infectious provisions, yet I presume all partook freely of the same, and were well satisfied. After gathering together the fragments, Wm. C. Scott, Esq., Editor of the EXPRESS, was introduced to the Chair. The speaker of the evening, Rev. Dr. Hartley, then took the stand, and delivered his lecture on "Matrimony," one of the most interesting and amusing ever delivered in this village. It was so extravagant to offer eulogies to Dr. Hartley as a lecturer, being that he is so well-known in that capacity. On the same evening Tamworth was supplied with other talented speakers. At Shields' Hall, Mr. Brooks, the favorite anti-Dunkin advocate, spoke in favor of the liquor traffic. Mr. Roe, here as elsewhere, ably refuted his arguments and set him in the eyes so tight that he could hardly breathe. Even Brooks' own supporters acknowledge this. It would be a case if Mr. Roe was to squeeze the breath out of him.

—Conundrum—When a business man finds half-a-dozen customers or so sitting about his counter, what proportion do the assets bear to the liabilities of his concern.

Oh! for the Dunkin Bill, it is a bankum Bill calling up men and boys to fight. Men who own acres, whiskey partakers. Against the law breakers to testify.

Fully a score of them, perhaps a few more of them.

All brought before a man—James, of the Peace; he who arranges them thus, still remains strange to us.

That would make such a fuss just for his fees.

Pa', Dick, and Sampson owned the corn, that they'd sold many a horn.

Will again, shure as your born, watch them and see;

Twenty and costs for each, and quite within their reach;

This should a lesson teach—ninety for three. Sampson objected strong, he was fined—right or wrong.

Friends could not shield him from Justices decree; Now he must pay the bill, the coffers of state to fill.

Borely against his will—twenty the fee.

Next fined was Pat and Dick, Noses as red as a brick, all the year through;

Are there (can any tell?) amongst those who drinkards fed.

How much these three men sell; drinkars, can you?

—It grieves me to have to chronicle the death of an old resident of this place, Mr. Bernard Lucy, Sr., aged 65 years, who died Jan 23rd, of apoplexy, produced by a hurt which he got some four years ago, which rendered him helpless. He was well known and highly respected. His remains were followed to the grave by a train of carriages reaching over a mile. Mr. Lucy was one of the early pioneers of Sheffield; having settled here when it was a howling wilderness. He carved out a home for himself and reared a large family. He will long be remembered as a good citizen, good neighbor and a steadfast friend, and the universal expressions of sympathy was, that a good man had gone to his repose.

Col. Hickman delivered a speech in the M. E. Church, to a crowded audience on Thursday evening last, and was listened to with profound attention, each one feeling a satisfaction seldom enjoyed; Every available space was crammed with suffocation. The Colonel arose to the necessities of the occasion, his voice clear and distinct penetrated to the most distant part of the room. The arguments he advanced were self evident, and were certainly never surpassed: "And those who came to laugh remained to pray." This was no idle vaporing, but facts illustrated with pictures drawn from real life. "So old and yet so new." I saw men in the audience whose lives labor had gone out from them and their families and homes; bow down their heads whilst tears ran down their faces when the picture of their own lives was brought back vividly before them, cherished hopes and mispent earnings which had all gone to enrich the dealer in liquor. For NAPANEE E.

WAR NEWS.

Thursday.

There are no new operations in field. The Grand Duke Nicholas is Kezanlik to-day for Adrianople, where will arrive on Sunday. In East Bulgaria the Turks are evacuating, and Osman Bazar, and the Russians have succeeded in destroying communications between the former and Shumla.

A new Greek Ministry has been formed, with Comourdours, who belong to the war party, as President of the Council and Minister of the Interior.

Friday.

At the seat of war affairs are in an exceedingly mixed condition. There rumors of the failure of the armistice negotiations—counterbalanced by statement that the peace conditions have been received and are surprising, one by their unexpected moderation. Russia, however, insists upon the cession of a portion of Constantinople making no objection, however, to the presence of the British fleet in the C. Horn during her tenancy of the Bat to this the Porte is unwilling to accede, and the news of last night's meetings in the British Parliament, undoubtedly strengthen it in its preparations for the defence of the and of the lines of Gallipoli are actively prosecuted, and the Otto fleet has been ordered to Balaia.

Monday.

It is now announced that the preliminaries of peace have been signed, that the Grand Duke Nicholas and Turkish plenipotentiaries were to have arrived at Adrianople on Saturday, given by the London Post, the conditions of peace include the autonomy of Serbia, Bosnia, and Herzegovina, the dependence of Servia and Roumania, an accession of territory to each—latter ceding to Russia the region at mouth of the Danube; the agrument of Montenegro, the session of Batoum and the payment of a war indemnity, and an arrangement with the Porte by which the latter will undertake to protect Russian interests in the mouth of the passage of the Dardanelles.

A despatch from Constantinople in consequence of not receiving countermanding order in time, the British fleet sailed from Besika Bay and passed through the Dardanelles. The batteries saluted the English flag as vessels passed. The fleet is now proceeding to Constantinople. The above despatch has created a decided sensation in official circles in London.

A later despatch from Constantinople says the fleet stopped at the mouth of Dardanelles, and orders being received it will return to Besika Bay.

Intense excitement prevail in Greece over the news of the conclusion of peace. Riotous demonstrations in favour of have been held at Athens, where a crowd of over ten thousand persons broke windows of the Ministers' residence. The Chamber in secret session, has solved to support the insurrection in Thessaly and Crete.

Groundless Objections.

Some having tried "put up" medicine without obtaining the relief promised, indiscriminately condemn them. Is it fair? Suppose a judge should argue because the last three prisoners had been found guilty, he should condemn the fourth without trial. Is not reasoning absurd? And yet are those who condemn all medicines, cause they have been deceived in one two, equally as unjust? The fact medicines manufactured by R. V. P.

WAR NEWS.

Thursday.

There are no new operations in the field. The Grand Duke Nicholas leaves Kezanlik to-day for Adrianople, where he will arrive on Sunday. In Eastern Bulgaria the Turks are evacuating Rasgrad, and Osman Bazar, and the Russians have succeeded in destroying communications between the former place and Shumla.

A new Greek Ministry has been formed, with Comourdouros, who belongs to the war party, as President of the Council and Minister of the Interior.

Friday.

At the seat of war affairs are in an exceedingly mixed condition. There are rumors of the failure of the armistice negotiations—counterbalanced by the statement that the peace conditions have been received and are surprising everyone by their unexpected moderation. Russia, however, insists upon the occupation of a portion of Constantinople—making no objection, however, to the presence of the British fleet in the Golden Horn during her tenancy of the city. But to this the Porte is unwilling to accede, and the news of last night's proceedings in the British Parliament will undoubtedly strengthen it in its resolve. Preparations for the defence of the city and of the lines of Gallipoli are being actively prosecuted, and the Ottoman fleet has been ordered to Balaia.

Monday.

It is now announced that the preliminaries of peace have been signed, and that the Grand Duke Nicholas and the Turkish plenipotentiaries were to have arrived at Adrianople on Saturday. As given by the London Post, the conditions of peace include the autonomy of Bulgaria, Bosnia, and Herzegovina, the independence of Servia and Roumania, with an accession of territory to each—the latter ceding to Russia the region at the mouth of the Danube; the aggrandisement of Montenegro; the session of Batoum and the payment of a war indemnity, and an arrangement with the Porte by which the latter will undertake to protect Russian interests in the matter of the passage of the Dardanelles.

A despatch from Constantinople says in consequence of not receiving the countermarching order in time, the British fleet sailed from Besika Bay and passed through the Dardanelles. The shore batteries saluted the English flag as the vessels passed. The fleet is now proceeding to Constantinople. The above despatch has created a decided sensation in official circles in London.

A later despatch from Constantinople says the fleet stopped at the mouth of the Dardanelles, and orders being received, it will return to Besika Bay.

Intense excitement prevails in Greece over the news of the conclusion of peace. Riotous demonstrations in favour of war have been held at Athens, where a crowd of over ten thousand persons broke the windows of the Ministers' residence. The Chamber in secret session has resolved to support the insurrection in Thessaly and Crete.

Groundless Objections.

Some having tried "put up" medicine without obtaining the relief promised, indiscriminately condemn them. Is this fair? Suppose a judge should argue that because the last three prisoners had been found guilty, he should condemn the fourth without trial. Is not such reasoning absurd? And yet are not those who condemn all medicine, because they have been deceived in one or two cases, condemning the good medicine?

AS YEARS ROLL

CUTTING FREE

ALL TWEEDS AND

DOWNEY'S CHEAP

are cut Free of Charge by J
In addition to above, the reason that the Downey's Cheap Cash Store for Clothing combine Durability

Warranting a

They are showing a large and varied Give them a CALL and

English and American Fashions

J. WALTERS

Downey

Napanee, January 17th, 1877.

MARKET.

The roads are destitute of snow, the weather cold and business accordingly dull.

(Corrected weekly.)

NAPANEE Feb. 1st. 78.

(Report by Diamond and Sherwood, Napanee.)

Oats—20c. per bushel.
Rye—37c. per bushel.
Pease—63c. per bushel.
Barley—50c. to 63c. per bushel.
Wheat—1.00 to 1.05 per bushel.
Flour—$2.75 to $2.80 per cwt.
Bran—$15.00 per ton.
Shorts—$22.00 per ton.
Buckwheat—45c. per bushel.
Wood—$2.00 to $3.00 per cord.
Coal—$5.25 per ton.
Meal—$1.25 to $1.35 per cwt.
Oat Meal—$3.50 per cwt.
Timothy Seed—$2.25 per bush.

Report by the Market Clerk, Napanee.)

Hay—$10.00 to $12.00 per ton.
Hides—$6.50 to $7.00 per cwt.
Butter—18c. to 20c. per lb.
Eggs—13c. per dozen.
Beef per cwt.—$3.00 to $3.50.
Bread—1c. per loaf.
Coal—$4.50 to $5.00 per ton.
Chickens—25c. to 30c. per pair.
Ducks—40c. to 50c. per pair.
Turkeys each, 50c. to $1.00.
Geese each, 25c. to 40c.
Flour—$2.50 per cwt.
Deacon Skins—20c.
Lard—10c. to 12c.
Lumber and Felt—50c. to $1.00.
Oat meal—$1.00 per cwt.
Onions—7c. to $1.00 per bushel.
Potatoes—25c. per bushel.
Pork—$4.50 to $5.00.
Straw—$1.00 to $1.50.
Tallow—6c. per lb.

STOCK TAKE

We are now preparing to take stock at

SPECIAL IN

TO PARTIES

Cooking Stoves, Par

PARLOR STOVES,

Our Stock was never more complete, and our prices will

Our "S"

Coal-Heat

Has exceeded our highest expectations, and take a b

The improvements it contains need only to be capable of t

25 Per Cent. More Heat

BURNING THE

THE SUN.

Is an Indian vegetable compound, composed of the juices of a variety of remarkable medicinal plants and herbs; the various properties of these different ingredients, when combined, is of constituted as to act simultaneously upon the Blood, Lungs, Liver, Kidneys, Digestive Organs, Nervous system, &c., restoring their functions to healthy actions, and, being purely vegetable, is as harmless as nature's own beverage. This medicine is a decided benefit in all, and as permanent cure in a large majority of diseases of the blood, such as Scrofula, Erysipelas, Salt Rheum, Canker, Pimples, &c. In prescribing this medicine we do not claim that it always performs cures; but this we do say, that it purifies and enriches the blood, permanently curing a large majority of diseases arising from its impurities. It stands far ahead and unequalled among the hundreds of competing medicines of the day. It has stood the test of ten years, and is today more popular than ever. As a summer restorative it stands unrivalled; it enables the system to bear up against the constant drain to which it is subjected by a high

...the appearance of the...
...the his vicinity...
...question...
...will have a large majority.

ADAR AND ANGLESEA

THE MEETING OF THE COUNCIL HELD JAN. 21ST, 1878.

...the law.
...Thos. Horne, Reeve; John
...Moses Lessard, Secy.; Daniel
...Oris Cole, Councilor.
...above named gentlemen made
...the necessary declaration
...of office, and took
...as members of the Council of
...of Kaladar and Anglesea
...in 1878.
...of the last meeting read and
...with the exception of resolution
...and the...
...declared to be illegal by J. A.
...and resolution No. 5, grant
...of $2 to E. J. Matthews.
...by Mr. Lessard, seconded by
...that this Council stand ad
...after dinner. - Carried.
...ner Council met and resumed
...it being present.
...ve appointed Mr. Lessard, Jr.,
...and it was moved by Carse
...by Mr. Sedwick, that Mr.
...ham be second Auditor, at a
...3 each. - Carried.
...y Mr. Carse, seconded by
...that Wm. Campbell, Esq., be
...Treasurer for the year 1878,
...at $20 per annum, and that th
...e the present Treasurer an
...give up all books, papers, c
...to his successor, on his t
...to bonds. - Carried.
...y Mr. Lessard, seconded by
...then, that H. Hasler, Esq.,
...ed Assessor for the Township
...for the year 1878 at a salary
...Carried.
...y Mr. Carse, seconded by
...by that Denis Craigen, Esq.,
...ed Assessor for the year 1878,
...wship of Anglesea, at a salary
...Carried.
...y Mr. Carse, seconded by
...vick, that Leonard Clark be an
...lector for the Township of
...the year 1878, at a salary of
...Carried.
...y Mr. Sedwick, seconded by
...then, that Samuel Cole, Esq.,
...ed Collector for the year 1878,
...wship of Anglesea, at a salary
...Carried.
...y Mr. Carse, seconded by
...that Pat. Quinn, Esq., be
...y for the Kaladar and Anglesea
...in 1878. - Carried.
...y Mr. Carse, seconded by
...that George Britherton,
...ointed Township Clerk. Car
...sure of the Council. - Carried.
...y Mr. Carse, seconded by
...that Pat. Quinn, Esq., be
...um of $1 for respecting the
...and Glenbury Road, in ac
...with resolution No. 2, carried
...1871. - Carried.
...y Mr. Carse, seconded by
...that Pat. Quinn, Esq., be
...H. B. Lessard for the year 1878,
...of $6. - Carried.
...y Mr. Carse, seconded by
...that E. J. Matthews, Esq.,
...ed to refund the sum of $2,
...t the Dec. meeting of the
...1877. - Carried.
...y Mr. Lessard, seconded by
...that the sum of $16.75 be paid
...George Britherton, for election
...the election, Jan. 7th, 1878.
...y Mr. Lessard, seconded by
...that this Council stand
...on Saturday the second
...quary. - Carried.
...Geo. BRITHERTON,
...T.P. Clerk.

...of a child...
...Mrs. Francis...
...Ohio...
...Whitcomb...
...Edna...
...Mrs. Mary...
...hman...
...Ohio...
...Springfield...
...Knox...
...Dodgeville...
...Norfolk...
...Iowa...
...Ont...
...Hawaii...
...Lucy...
...McNaught...
...Steu...
...Cady...
...Amund...
...Baptist...
...Watson...
...Call on your druggist for...
...Dr. Planché's...
...Pamphlet...
...Bottle...

THE HORSE.

"Of the great number of animals under the control of man, the horse is unquestionably the most serviceable, but is it not strange that so many of our own horses, and who are dependent on their labor for a living, should be given to them that care and attention which their own interest no less than the safety and comfort of the horse de mands.
The best remedy for horses is Dr. J. C. Parley's Condition Powder and Arabian Horse Remedy, of this there can be no doubt
- it is safe and easily given. Remember the name, and see that the signature of Hurd & Co. is on each package. N. A. throp & Lyman, Toronto, Ont., pro prietors for Canada. Sold by all medicine dealers.

"The first approach of consump tion are so insidious that thousands re main unconscious of its presence until it has brought them to the verge of the grave. The immediate use of 'Parley's Pulmonic Wafers' upon the first ap pearance of the cough, pain or sore of the throat or chest, would generally pre clude a fatal result; therefore, when you take a cold, use 'Parley's Pulmonic Wafers,' and thus prevent the necessity for taking them in more dangerous complaints. To be obtained of druggists and country dealers at 25 cents a box.

S. F. BURNELL, of Barrell Ont., writes: Last autumn I was suffering from a severe cold which settled on my lungs and produced a distressing cough, for which I gave out a number of Cough Medicines, but without any benefit.
I at last tried one bottle of Allen's Lung Balm, which I now happily find able to state gave almost immediate re lief, and performed a perfect cure in a short time.

THE ALTAR.

PERCY - MADDEN - On Wednesday evening Jan.
30th, 1878, by the Rev. A. B. Channing, B. C.
Berry, to Miss Clara Madden,
all of Napanee.
BURD - CRUTCH - At Napanee on the 1st of Jan.
W. M. Baird Esq., to Mrs. J. C. Baird, both of North Fredericksburgh.
THE TOMB.
BOTTING - At Napanee, on the 3th inst. Thomas Botting, aged 37 years, 10 months and 17 days.
The funeral will leave his late residence at 2 p.m. on Friday, February 1st, and proceed to the
M. E. Church, and from thence to the cemetery.
Friends and acquaintances are respectfully in vited to attend.
McBRIDE - At Uzbridge, on the 28th inst. con
sanguineous Isabella, wife of Mr. J. J. Mc Bride, master of the Uzbridge High School, and youngest daughter of Mr. C. G. Mc Bride, Napanee.
SARIS - In Fredericksburgh on the 27th
Sharp aged 23 yrs, 9 mos.

...of the day, it also contains a large amount of li terary and miscellaneous matter, and is specially prepa red for it. THE SUNDAY SUN has met with great success. Post-paid $1 20 a year.
The Weekly Sun
Who does not know THE WEEKLY SUN? It circulates throughout the United States, the Canada, and beyond. Ninety thousand families read its welcome pages weekly, and regard it in the light of guide, counselor, and friend.
For one Dollar a year post-paid. This price, quality considered makes it the cheapest new paper published. For clubs of ten, with $10 each, we will send an extra copy free. Address, PUBLISHER OF THE SUN, New York City.

Scribner's Monthly,

An Illustrated Magazine for the People.
Conducted by J. G. Holland.

WE invite the attention of the Canadian pub lic to SCRIBNER'S MONTHLY, the most dis tinctively American magazine published, which has a large circulation in England, and now, at the beginning of its eighth year, it is deservedly ranked among the best illustrated periodicals in the world. During the past year several papers have appeared in SCRIBNER'S MONTHLY devoted wholly or in part to Canadian subjects; among them a paper on

"CANADIAN SPORTS,"

In the issue for August, 1877, by Dr. W. G. Boers, of Montreal, with twenty-five illustrations by Henry Sandham of the same city. In the same city. In the same number appeared an illustrat ed description of a trip through the Main wor ld to Canada, entitled, "Babel in the Woods;" and in the October, 1876, number, a paper on "Salm-in-Fishing" in the region lying near the mouth of the St. Lawrence.

SCRIBNER'S MONTHLY for '78.

During the year 1878, there will appear beauti fully illustrated and carefully edited, "Lund Moose-Hunting," "Seal-Fishing," "The Thousand Islands," etc., besides a charming paper by John Burroughs, entitled, "Following the Hal cyon to Canada."

Among other features of general interest for the year, we announce the following:
"THE HOUSEHOLD SIDE OF AMERICAN FARM LIFE." - This subject will be treated in a series of separate papers engaged from writers who stand in the front rank among Americans, both in qualities of style and in keen insight of nature. Mr. R. E. Robinson, author of a delightful paper on Fox-Hunting in New England, in the January number, will re present the same section in this series. John Burroughs, whose papers on similar topics have been a highly prized and popular feature of Scriven's Monthly, will write of Farm Life in New England. Miss Thompson, the poet-naturalist, will de scribe the characteristics of Western farming, of which but little has been written.

"ROXY." - By EDWARD EGLESTON author of "The Hoosier Schoolmaster," &c.) This new novel will doubtless be the most important American serial of the year. The first number was published in November, and these have read it in manuscript declare Roxy to be much the most striking and remarkable story this author has ever written. It is illustrated by one of the ablest of young American painters - Mr.
Walter Stebbins, President of "The American Art Association."

"SAKE HOLM." - New stories by this popu lar writer will be given in early numbers of Scrib ner's Monthly, with "John Red Stockings," to appear in January. This "novelle," chroni cles an episode of the late war in the Union.

LITERARY PORTRAITS. - Richard
Henry Stoddard not only one of the most emi nent of our poets, but also distinguished for his knowledge of English literature and English li terary history, will contribute a number of liter ary portraits, including those of Keats, Shelley, Mrs. Browning, &c.

MORE OLD LETTERS. - By Dr. R.
Shepton Mackenzie, of the Philadelphia Press.
This series is a very promising one, as Dr. Mac kenzie is perhaps, of Americans, the best infor med and most widely acquainted in all matters of literary history, and his letters, written in an authoritative and present notes on, and letters from Miss Barrett (Mrs. Browning), Sir Wil liam Hamilton Disraeli, Wordsworth, Southey,
&c.

SOME OLD MASTERS. - By Clarence
C. Brown, author of "The House Beautiful," will consist of a series of papers superbly illustrated, on Leonardo da Vinci, Raphael, Michael Angelo, etc. These papers will have an interest and value different from any ordinary magazine article as they will give the results of the studies of a lifetime by an expert writer, who is now the most prominent art critic in this country.

The Editorial Departments will continue to employ the ablest pens in America, and will in clude the present admirable summary of Eng lish literature. Besides the special articles above enumerated, the magazine will contain Poems, Sketches, Essays, Reviews, and shorter Stories of the highest character.

The Illustrations of the MAGAZINE, in variety and excellence of design and in typographical execution, will continue to be in advance of those of any other popular magazine at home or abroad.

Subscription price, $4 a year, payable in ad vance. Subscriptions received by all book sellers and publishers of periodicals.

SCRIBNER & Co.
No. 743 Broadway, New York.

...having had placed in his hands by an East India...
...a simple vegetable remedy, for the speedy
and permanent cure of consumption,
bronchitis, catarrh, asthma, and all throat
and lung affections, also a positive and ardid cure for nervous debility and all nervous complaints, after having tested
its wonderful curative powers in thou sands of cases, he felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actu ated by this motive and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send, free of charge, to all who desire it, this receipt in German, French, or English, with full directions for preparing and using.
Sent by mail by addressing with stamp,
naming this paper, W. W. Shearar, 126 Towers' Block, Rochester, N. Y.

The Great Shoshonees Remedy

Is an Indian vegetable compound, com posed of the juices of a variety of remark able medicinal plants and herbs; the various properties of these different in gredients, when combined, is of constitu ed as to act simultaneously upon the Blood, Lungs, Liver, Kidneys, Digestive Organs, Nervous system, &c., restoring their functions to healthy actions, and,
being purely vegetable, is as harmless as nature's own beverage. This medicine is a decided benefit in all, and as permanent cure in a large majority of diseases of the blood, such as Scrofula, Erysipelas, Salt
Rheum, Canker, Pimples, &c. In pre
scribing this medicine we do not claim
that it always performs cures; but this
we do say, that it purifies and enriches
the blood, permanently curing a large majority of diseases arising from its im
purities. It stands far ahead and un equalled among the hundreds of compet ing medicines of the day. It has stood
the test of ten years, and is today more popular than ever. As a summer restora
tive it stands unrivalled; it enables the system to bear up against the constant drain to which it is subjected by a high temperature. Persons who are subject to bilious Colic, Dysentery, Indigestion, &c.
should take the Shoshonees Remedy.
Price of the Remedy in pint bottles, $1;
Pills, 25 cts. a box. Sold by all medi cine dealers.

The Great Female Remedy.
JOB MOSES' PILLS.

This invaluable medicine is unfailing in the cure of all those painful and dangerous disor ders to which the female constitution is sub ject. It invigorates the debilitated and delicate and by regulating and strengthening the system, fortifies the youthful constitution for the de ties of life, and when taken in middle or old age, proves a real blessing, and on the approach of child-birth, these Pills should be used for two or three weeks previous to confinement, the benefits to be derived are incalculable; they fortify the constitution, lessen the suffering dur ing labor, prevent weakness of the organs, and enable the mother to perform her duties with comfort to herself and child.
In all cases of Nervous and spinal Affections,
Pain in the Back and Limbs, Heaviness, Fatigue
on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Low
ness of spirits, Hysterics, Sick Headaches,
Whites, and all the painful diseases occasioned
by a disordered system, these Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed; and, al though a powerful remedy, do not contain iron, calomel, antimony, or anything hurtful to the constitution.

Full directions in the pamphlet around each package.
JOB MOSES, NEW YORK, SOLE PROPRIETOR.
100 and 121 cents for postage, enclosed to Northrop & Lyman, Toronto, Ont. general agents
for the Dominion, will insure a bottle containing over 50 pills by return mail.
Sold in Napanee by all Druggists, Mill Point,
by W. G. Egar, Tamworth J. Aylsworth, and all
medicine dealers.

HORSE for SALE

AN ENTIRE HORSE, "TIPPO SAGAR,"
A six years old, fine black and a first-class stock animal. Would sell on time, until he pays for himself, by partly furnishing approved secur ity. For further particulars, apply to
H. W. PURDY, Bath

THOMAS
WORTH T
PAIN CI
IT is th
One
One bott cents wo cough, I ma, and cured cr
ity lame
It cures neuralgia, joints ap ness in a be, nor f ways doe worth has bloody di colic in l of piles application of exco
For bru
there is n
the skin.
soon as a warts, an scription
Beware
Thomas
ture of S and the n blown in Sold by a NORTH Proprieto
NOTE.-E
Imp
82,
New
M Come an Cheaper t
Our prices
G
COTTON
PR
BARGAI
Good Bi Boots and Mens'
Boys' L 200
From $5.
Every Li
Don't fail your purch
25-1 54-1
Address

LESS FEB. 1, 1878.

AS YEARS ROLL ON, PROGRESS.

CUTTING FREE OF CHARGE.

ALL TWEEDS AND CLOTHS BOUGHT AT DOWNEY'S CHEAP CASH STORE!

are cut Free of Charge by JAMES WALTERS, Cutter.

In addition to above, the reason that the large number of Customers patronize Downey's Cheap Cash Store for Clothing is that with Cheapness they combine Durability and Style,

Warranting a Perfect Fit!

They are showing a large and varied assortment of Cloths and Tweeds.

Give them a CALL and GET SATISFACTION.

English and American Fashion Plates received Monthly.

J. WALTERS, Cutter at

Downey's Cheap Cash Store.

Napane, January 17th, 1877.

MARKET.

Our roads are destitute of snow, the weather and business accordingly dull.
(Corrected weekly.)

NAPANEE Feb. 1st. '78.
Report by Diamond and Sherwood, Napanees.

Wheat—20c. per bushel.
Oats—57c. per bushel.
Corn—60c. per bushel.
Rye—50c. to 60c. per bushel.
Clover—1.00 to 1.25 per bushel.
Hay—$2.50 to $2.80 per cwt.
Lard—$15.00 per ton.
Butter—$22.00 per ton.
Cattle—45c. per bushel.
Hog—$2.00 to $3.00 per cord.
Alfalfa—$5.25 per ton.
Meal—$1.25 to $1.75 per cwt.
T. Meal—$5 per bbl.
Nothy Seed—$2.25 per bush.

Report by the Market Clerk, Napanees.

Wheat—$10.00 to $12.00 per ton.
Oats—$6.50 to $7.00 per cwt.
Corn—18c. to 20c. per lb.
Rye—13c. per dozen.
Clover—$3.00 to $5.00.
Lard—14c. per loaf.
Alfalfa—$4.50 to $5.00 per ton.
Hens—25c. to 30c. per pair.
Eggs—10c. to 50c. per pair.
Pork—each, 50c. to $1.00.
Lard—each, 25c. to 40c.
Butter—$2.50 per cwt.
Hog Skins—30c.
Hides—10c. to 100c.
Hides and Pelts—50c. to $1.00.
Lard—$1.00 per cwt.
Hens—20c. to $1.00 per bushel.
Pork—25c. per bushel.
Lard—$4.50 to $6.00.
Hog—$1.00 to $1.50.
Hog 6c per lb.

STOCK TAKING SALE.

We are now preparing to take stock and offer during the month of January

SPECIAL INDUCEMENTS

TO PARTIES WANTING

Cooking Stoves, Parlor Cooking Stoves,

PARLOR STOVES, AND BOX STOVES.

Our Stock was never more complete, and parties who examine our Stoves and get our prices will be sure to buy.

Our "Splendid"
Coal-Heating Stove

Has exceeded our highest expectations, and compelled all other Base-Burners to take a back seat.

The improvements it contains need only to be seen to be appreciated, making it
capable of throwing out

25 Per Cent. More Heat than any Other Stove

BURNING THE SAME COAL.

VENOR'S ALMANAC

—FOR—

1878,

Price, - 20 Cents

Canadian Almanac

FOR 1878,

PRICE, - 15 CENTS

Josh Billings'

MARKET.

are destitute of snow, the weather business accordingly dull.

(Corrected weekly.)

NAPANE Feb. 1st '78.
Diamond and Sherwood, Napanee.

per bushel.
per bushel.
3c. per bushel.
30c to 60c. per bushel.
1.00 to 1.05 per bushel.
2.70 to 2.80 per cwt.
5.00 per ton.
22.70 per ton.
14c. per bushel.
2.00 to 3.00 per cord.
2c. per ton.
25 to 30 per cwt.
1.85 per bbl.
Seed, 25 per bush.

by the Market Clerk, Napanee.

1.00 to 1.10 per ton.
6.50 to 7.00 per cwt.
18c. to 20c. per lb.
c. per dozen.
cwt.—$3.00 to $5.00.
4c. per loaf.
50 to 55.00 per ton.
—25c. to 30c. per pair.
60c. to 50c. per pair.
each, 50c to $1.00
ch, 25c to 40c
2.50 per cwt.
Hams—30c.
H—10c.
nd Pelt—50c to $1.00
—$1.00. per cwt.
70c. to $1.00 per bushel.
—35c. per bushel.
50 to 60.00.
1.00 to $1.00
c per lb.

THE SUN.

NEW YORK.

1878.

has come for the renewal of sub-
THE SUN would remind its friends ishers everywhere that it is again a for their consideration and support.
cord for the past ten years it relies nuance of the hearty sympathy and operation which have hitherto ext from every quarter of the Union.
ly Sun is a four-page sheet of 25 pages by mail, post-paid, 55 cents a year, 50 per year.
day edition of the SUN is an eight-of 36 columns. While giving the news it also contains a large amount of lit-miscellaneous matter specially prepar-
The SUNDAY SUN has met with great post-paid $1.20 a year.

The Weekly Sun

do not know THE WEEKLY SUN? It throughout the United States, the nd beyond. Ninety thousand families domestic pages weekly, and regard it it of guide, counselor, and friend.
10 Dollar a year post-paid. This ity, considered makes it the cheapest published. For clubs of ten, with $10 it send an extra copy free. Address, HER OF THE SUN, New York City.

bnor's Monthly,

Illustrated Magazine for the People.

Edited by J. G. Holland.

the attention of the Canadian publishers THE MONTHLY, the most dis-American magazine published, which circulation in England, and now, at ing of its eighth year, deservedly the best illustrated periodicals in During the past year several papers and in various MONTHLY devoted a part to Canadian subjects; among them

NADIAN SPORTS,"

for August, 1877, by Dr. W. G. Boers, with twenty-five illustrations by him of the same city. In the same he same number appeared an illustration of a trip through the Main woods entitled "The Babet in the Woods"; October, 1876, number, a paper on ishing" in the region lying near the St. Lawrence.

ER'S MONTHLY for '78.

he year 1878, there will appear beautified articles, Caribou-Hunting, fishing, Seal-Fishing, The Thousand
, etc., besides a charming paper by Lough, entitled, "Following the Hal-made."
The features of general interest for to announce the following PICTURESQUE SIDE OF SAN FARM LIFE.—This sub-treated in a series of separate papers by writers who stand in the front rank of the press, both in qualities of style and light of nature. Mr. R. E. Robinson, delightful paper on Fox-Hunting in

STOCK TAKING SALE.

We are now preparing to take stock and offer during the month of January

SPECIAL INDUCEMENTS

TO PARTIES WANTING

Cooking Stoves, Parlor Cooking Stoves,

PARLOR STOVES, AND BOX STOVES.

Our Stock was never more complete, and parties who examine our Stoves and get
our prices will be sure to buy.

Our "Splendid" Coal-Heating Stove

Has exceeded our highest expectations, and compelled all other Base-Burners to take a back seat.

The improvements it contains need only to be seen to be appreciated, making it
capable of throwing out

25 Per Cent. More Heat than any Other Stove BURNING THE SAME COAL.

We can supply them with a large Double Oven, enabling medium-sized families to do their entire cooking on it without the use of a Cooking Stove. Our Hardware Stock is complete in all departments.

WRIGHT & Co.

CONSUMPTION CURED.

An old physician, retired from practice,
having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy, for the speedy
and permanent cure of consumption,
bronchitis, catarrh, asthma, and all throat
and lung affections, also a positive and ardid cure for nervous debility and all nervous complaints, after having tested
its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive, and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send, free of charge, to all who desire it, this receipt
in German, French, or English, with full directions for preparing and using.
Sent by mail by addressing with stamp,
naming this paper, W. W. Shearer, 126
Powers' Block, Rochester, N. Y.

The Great Shoshonees Remedy

Is an Indian vegetable compound, composed of the juices of a variety of remarkable medicinal plants and herbs: the
various properties of these different ingredients, when combined, is of constituted as to act simultaneously upon the Blood, Lungs, Liver, Kidneys, Digestive Organs, Nervous system, &c., restoring their functions to healthy actions, and,
being purely vegetable, is as harmless as nature's own beverage. This medicine is a decided benefit in all, and as permanent cure in a large majority of diseases of the blood, such as Scrofula, Erysipelas, Salt
Rheum, Canker, Pimples, &c. In prescribing this medicine we do not claim
that it always performs cures; but this
we do say, that it purifies and enriches
the blood, permanently curing a large majority of diseases arising from its impurities. It stands far ahead and unequalled among the hundreds of competing medicines of the day. It has stood
the test of ten years, and is to-day more popular than ever. As a summer restorative it stands unrivalled; it enables the system to bear up against the constant

ELECTRICITY!

THOMAS' EXCELSIOR ELECTRIC OIL.

WORTH TEN TIMES ITS WEIGHT IN GOLD—
PAIN CANNOT STAY WHERE IT IS USED.

It is the cheapest medicine ever made.
One dose cures common sore throat.
One bottle has cured Bronchitis. Fifty cents worth has cured an old standing cough. It positively cures catarrh, asthma, and croup. Fifty cents worth has cured crick in the back, and the same quantity lame back of eight years' standing.
It cures swelled neck, tumors, rheumatism, neuralgia, contraction of the muscles, stiff joints, spinal difficulties, and pain and sore-ness in any part, no matter where it may be, nor from what cause it may arise, it always does you good. Twenty-five cents worth has cured bad cases of chronic and bloody dysentery. One teaspoonful cures colic in 15 minutes. It will cure any case of piles it is possible to cure. Six or eight applications is warranted to cure any case of excoriated nipples or inflamed breast.
For bruises, if applied often and bound up, there is never the slightest discoloration of the skin. It stops the pain of a burn as soon as applied. Cures frosted feet, boils, warts, and corns, and wounds of every description on man or beast.

Beware of Imitations.—Ask for Dr.
Thomas' Electric Oil. See that the signature of S. N. Thomas is on the wrapper, and the names of Northrop and Lyman are blown in the bottle, and TAKE NO OTHER.
Sold by all medicine dealers. Price 25 cts.
NORTHROP & LYMAN, Toronto, Ont.,
Proprietors for the Dominion.

NOTE.—Electric—Selected and Electrified.

Important Notice.

$2,000 WORTH OF

VENOR'S ALMANAC

—FOR—

1878,

Price, - 20 Cents

Canadian Almanac

FOR 1878,

PRICE, - 15 CENTS

Josh Billings'

ALMANAC

FOR 1878,

PRICE, - 5 CENTS.

DIARIES

—AND—

Daily Journals

FOR 1878,

VARIOUS STYLES AND SIZES.

—AT—

HENDERSON'S
BOOKSTORE,

Dundas Street, Napanee.

ALL THE SCHOOL BOOKS IN USE, Constantly on Hand.
The Readers, Grammars, Spelling Books
Arithmetics, Histories, Geographies, Dictionaries, Copy Books, &c. &c.

SANKEY'S GOSPEL HYMNS AND SACRED SONGS,

No. 1 and No. 2. Prices, Words only 5c.
Words and Music Bound in Paper
Covers, 30 cts.
Words and Music, Bound Card Board
Covers, 35 cts.

Any of the Following Books,
Only 15 cents each.

THEY ALL DO IT,
MY MOTHER-IN-LAW,
THAT HUSBAND OF MINE.
THE NEW SCHOOL MA'AM.
THAT HORRID GIRL

HIS GRANDMOTHER'S,
THAT LASS O' LOURIE'S,
TOM'S WIFE,
SURLY TIM, DOLLY,
THEO'.

FOR S. S. No. 3, Amherst Island, an experienced Male Teacher, holding a Second Class Certificate. Apply to either

ROBERT GLEN,
JAMES HOWARD, Trustees,
JOHN WILSON.

THE "EXPRESS," NAPANEE, ONT.

$1 PER ANNUM

IN ADVANCE; OTHERWISE, $1.50.

The best Local Paper in this section. Best Market Report, Local News, and Foreign Intelligence.

GOOD ADVERTISING MEDIUM

Business Cards.

Alex. C. Davis,
ISSUER of Marriage Licenses, Napanee
Ontario

James Aylsworth,
ISSUER of Marriage Licenses, Tam-
worth.

S. D. Clarke,
ISSUER of Marriage Licenses, Odessa,
Ontario.

J. J. Watson,
ISSUER of Marriage Licenses and Certificates, Adolphustown.

Robert Graham,
ISSUER of Marriage Licenses, Office
In the Dominion Store, Enterprise.

Charles Lane,
ISSUER of Marriage Licenses and Certificates, Office—Front of Grammar School, Bridge Street, Napanee.

J. B. Randall,
ISSUER of Marriage Licenses and Certificates. Also Agent for the Beaver and
Toronto Fire Insurance Company and the Mutual Life Association of Canada. Residence—Shannonville, Ont.

Murphy & Bedford,
BARRISTERS, &c., MILL POINT.
Money to lend on improved Real Estate.

E. B. Stone,
BARRISTER, Attorney at Law, Solicitor in Chancery, Conveyancer, etc.
Office over Henry & Bros. Bookstore, Dundus Street, Napanee. Entrance next door to Dominion Telegraph Office.

Deroche & Madden,
BARRISTERS and Attorneys-at-Law,
Solicitor in Chancery, Conveyancers,
Notaries Public, etc. OFFICE—In Grange
Block, Napanee. Money to loan on easy
terms.

H. M. DEROCHE. J. H. MADDEN.

S. Gibson,
BARRISTER, Attorney-at-Law, Solicitor in Chancery and Insolvency, No-
tary Public, etc. OFFICE—Grange Block,
John Street, Napanee.

Wilson F. Lewis, M.D., M.C.P.S., PHYSICIAN, Surgeon. Office—Room formerly occupied by Dr. Cowan, in the Grange Block, Napanee.

R. Tracy, M.D.

NAPANEE

W. C. SCOTT, Editor.

VOL. 17.

NAPANEE, ONT.,

"THE GREATEST

LIME! LIME!

GALT BROS., Napanee, Ont.

THE ATTENTION of Builders, contractors,
and others is called to the superior quality of Best Lime now being manufactured in unlimited quantities and sold at the lowest living Price. Delivered by rail to all parts of the Province. The Messrs. Galt use every care in housing and shipping, and builders at a distance who order by mail can rely upon having their orders filled as carefully and promptly as if personally present. Hundreds of testimonials to the uniformity of quality and fairness of dealing.
All orders left at Wright & Co's. Hardware store will receive prompt attention.
GALT BROS.,
Napanee, March 21st, 1878. Lime Works.

Money to Loan!

I have received a Large Amount of Money to Lend. Good Mortgages
purchased.
W. S. WILLIAMS.

Tailoring!

HAVING commenced business in the above
line on my own account, directly over

Coxall & Paisley's Store,
Where I will be ready to attend to the wants of
all who may favor me with a call.

Nice Samplers to Select from, and Good
Fit Guaranteed.

Cutting Boys' Cloths, & Ladies Jackets
A SPECIALITY.

JAS. BLAIR.
Napanee, Aug. 20th, 1877. 18-5v.

SEASON

1877 AND 1878

FRESH ARRIVAL.

New Crop Extra Finest Spring Leaf

Japan Teas,

NOW IN STOCK.

VEGETINE.

SHE RESTS WELL.

SOUTH POLAND, Me., Oct. 11, 1876.

DEAR SIR:—I have been sick two years with the liver complaint, and during that time have taken a great many different medicines, but none of them did me any good. I was restless nights, had no appetite. Since taking the VEGETINE I rest well and relish my food. Can recommend the VEGETINE for what it has done for me.
Yours respectfully,
MRS ALBERT RICKER.

Witness of the above,
Mr Geo M Vanehan, Medford, Mass.

VEGETINE.

Thousands will bear testimony (and do it voluntarily) that VEGETINE is the best medical compound yet placed before the public for renovating and purifying the blood, eradicating all humors, impurities or poisonous secretions from the system, invigorating and strengthening the system, debilitated by disease: in fact, it is, as many have called it, "The Great Health Restorer."

SAFE AND SURE.

MR H R STEVENS,
In 1874 your VEGETINE was recommended to me, and yielding to the persuasion of a friend,
I consented to try it. At the time I was suffering from general debility and nervous prostration, superinduced by over-work and irregular habits. Its wonderful strengthening and curative properties seemed to affect my debilitated system from the first dose, and under its persistent use I rapidly recovered, gaining more than usual health and good feeling. Since then I have not hesitated to give VEGETINE my most unqualified endorsement as being a safe, sure and powerful agent in promoting health and restoring the wasted system to new life and energy. VEGETINE is the only medicine I use, and as long as I live I never expect to find a better.

Yours truly,
W H OLARK,
140 Monterey street, Alleghany, Pa.

VEGETINE.

The following letter from Rev G W Mansfield, formerly pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church, Hyde Park, and at present settled in Lowell, must convince every one who reads his letter of the wonderful curative qualities of VEGETINE as a thorough cleanser and purifier of the blood:

HYDE PARK, Mass., Feb. 15, 1876.

DEAR SIR:—About ten years ago my health failed through the depleting effects of dyspepsia;
nearly a year later I was attacked by typhoid fever in its worst form, it settled in my back and took the form of a large deep-seated abscess, which was fifteen months in gathering. I had two surgical operations by the best skill in the state, but received no permanent cure. I suffered great pain at times, and was constantly weakened by a profuse discharge. I also lost small pieces of bone at different times.

Matters ran on thus about seven years—till May, 1876, when a friend recommended me to go to your office and talk with you of the virtue of
VEGETINE.

By what I saw and heard I gained some confidence in VEGETINE.
I commenced taking it soon after, but felt worse from its effects; still I persevered and soon felt it was benefiting me in other respects.
Yet I did not see the results I desired, till I had taken it faithfully for little more than a year, when the difficulty in the back was cured, and for nine months I have enjoyed the best of health.

I have in that time gained twenty-five pounds of flesh, being heavier than ever before in my life, and I was never more able to perform labor than now. During the past few weeks I had a serious swelling as large as my fist over another part of my body. I took VEGETINE faithfully, and it removed it level with the surface in a month. I think I should have been cured of my main trouble sooner if I had taken larger doses, after having become accustomed to its effects.

Poetry.

THE OLD MAN'S FUNERAL

BY THE LATE WILLIAM CULLINAN REYNOLDS

I saw an aged man upon his bier,
His hair was thin and white, and on his
A record of the cares of many a year—
Cares that were ended and forgotten now
And there was sadness round, and faces
And woman's tears fell fast, and children aloud.

Then rose another hoary man and said,
In faltering accents, to that weeping
"Why mourn ye that our aged friend is
Ye are not sad to see the gathered grain
Nor when the mellow fruit the orchards Nor when the yellow woods let fall the mast."

"Why weep ye then for him who, having
The bound of man's appointed years, at Life's blessings all enjoyed, life's labors
Serenely to his final rest he's passed?
While the soft memory of his virtues yet
Lingers like twilight hues when the bri-is set."

"And I am glad he has lived thus long,
And glad that he has come to his reward
Nor can I deem that nature did him wrong
Softly to disengage the vital cord
For when his voice grew palsied, and his Dark with the mists of age, it was his tin-

Our Story

THE

Curse of Clifton

BY MRS. E. D. E. N. SOUTHWORTH

(Continued from last week.)

Mr. Clifton led his daughter in centre of the saloon, and with h hanging on his arm, turned an the company, waiting until they be silent before he would speak.
father and daughter, as they stood presented a fine, imposing appe
Both were arrayed with the g splendor that prevailed at that da
The old gentleman had his sho hair turned back off his forehead carried all down to the nape of hi where it was plaited into a que adorned with a large white sati both snowy plait and bow in plea lied against the back of the dark velvet coat—his vest and small were of white satin, and his long white silk were fastened to the clothes below the knee with whi bows and gold buckles—his slippers of crimson morocco, with high hee bows, and gold buckles. His d rather antiquated even for that da he stood there waiting for silen the suave and stately courtesy of school gentlemen.

Very much like a queen look

School, Bridge Street, Napanee.

J. B. Randall,

ISSUER of Marriage Licenses and Certificates. Also Agent for the Beaver and Toronto Fire Insurance Company and the Mutual Life Association of Canada. Residence—Shannonville, Ont.

Murphy & Bedford,

BARRISTERS, &c., MILL POINT.
Money to lend on improved Real Estate.

E. B. Stone,

BARRISTER, Attorney at Law, Solicitor in Chancery, Conveyancer, etc. Office over Henry & Bros. Bookstore, Dundas Street, Napanee. Entrance next door to Dominion Telegraph Office.

Deroche & Madden,

BARRISTERS and Attorneys-at-Law, Solicitor in Chancery, Conveyancers, Notaries Public, etc. OFFICE—In Grange Block, Napanee. Money to loan on easy terms.

H. M. DEROCHE.

J. H. MADDEN.

S. Gibson,

BARRISTER, Attorney-at-Law, Solicitor in Chancery and Insolvency, Notary Public, etc. OFFICE—Grange Block, John Street, Napanee.

Wilson F. Lewis, M.D., M.C.P.S.,

PHYSICIAN, Surgeon. Office—Room formerly occupied by Dr. Cowan, in the Grange Block, Napanee.

R. Tracy, M. D.,

BELLEVEILLE,

PHYSICIAN, Surgeon and Accoucheur. Office and Residence, two doors east from the Bank of Montreal, near the Congregational Church, Hotel St. 39

Reeve & Morden,

BARRISTERS and Attorneys-at-Law, Solicitors in Chancery, Conveyancers, etc. OFFICE—Perry's New Block Dundas Street, Napanee, Ontario.

W. A. REEVE, M. A.,
Co. Crown Attorney.

A. L. MORDEN.

E. A. Deroche,

OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE, under New Act of 1875. Office in H. M. Deroche's Law Office

Williams & Hooper,

BARRISTERS, Attorneys-at-Law, Solicitors in Chancery and Insolvency, Conveyancers, Notaries Public, etc., Napanee, Ontario.

W. S. WILLIAMS, E. J. HOOPER, M. A.
Official Assignee

W. F. Hall,

OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE, under Insolvent Act of 1875. Fire Insurance Agent, &c. Office of Napanee Paper Mills, Centre Street.

F. Bartlett,

ARCHITECT AND BUILDER, West A Street, Napanee. Plans, Specification and Detail Drawings furnished. Builder's work measured, and value computed.

Kair's Machine Shop,

STEAM ENGINES and all kinds of Boilers made to order. Also all kinds of Machinery repaired on the shortest notice. Remember the place, opposite the old City Hotel, corner of Adelaide and Bridge Streets.

AUCTIONEER, Valuator, Estate Agent, Insurance, Money Broker, Money to Loan, Mortgages Bought and Sold, General Agent.

THOMAS FLYNN,

Office over Perry's Drug Store, Napanee, Ont.

Thomas Flynn informs his friends and public.

HAVING commenced business in the above line on my own account, directly over

Coxall & Paisley's Store,

Where I will be ready to attend to the wants of all who may favor me with a call.

Nice Samples to Select from, and Good Fit Guaranteed.

Cutting Boys' Cloths, & Ladies Jackets

A SPECIALITY.

JAS. BLAIR.

Napanee, Aug. 20th, 1877. 18-6v.

SEASON

1877 AND 1878

FRESH ARRIVAL.

New Crop Extra Finest Spring Leaf

Japan Teas,

NOW IN STOCK.

5 Cans 3lb. Pie Peaches,

$1.00.

Also a quantity of

DRIED GEORGIA PEACHES,

On hand and to arrive, at

SMITH & ANDERSON.

FARM FOR SALE.

About 75 acres of the

BEST LAND

—IN—

PRINCE EDWARD COUNTY,

3½ miles from Picton, and 3½ miles from Demorestville.

This is a rare chance to get a Choice Farm. It is well watered and nicely situated.

A Special Price to a purchaser before the 1st December.

Apply to

R. McDOWALL,

Demorestville, 20.

Or at this Office.

LIVERY at MILL POINT.

MR. JOHN FINLAYSON is prepared to furnish the best of rigs, either single or double.

At the Old Commercial Hotel

MAIN STREET.

Mill Point, Jan. 30th, 1877. 45

tion, superinduced by over-work and irregular habits. Its wonderful strengthening and curative properties seemed to affect my debilitated system from the first dose, and under its persistent use I rapidly recovered, gaining more than usual health and good feeling. Since then I have not hesitated to give VEGETINE my most unqualified endorsement, as being a safe, sure and powerful agent in promoting health and restoring the wasted system to new life and energy. VEGETINE is the only medicine I use, and as long as I live I never expect to find a better.

Yours truly,

H. BLAIR,

130 Monterey street, Allegheny, Pa.

VEGETINE.

The following letter from Rev G W Mansfield, formerly pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church, Hyde Park, and at present settled in Lowell, must convince every one who reads his letter of the wonderful curative qualities of VEGETINE as a thorough cleanser and purifier of the blood:

HYDE PARK, MASS., Feb. 15, 1876.

Mr H R Stevens,

DEAR SIR:—About ten years ago my health failed through the depleting effects of dyspepsia; nearly a year later I was attacked by typhoid fever in its worst form. It settled in my back and took the form of a large deep-seated abscess, which was fifteen months in gathering. I had two surgical operations by the best skill in the state, but received no permanent cure. I suffered great pain at times, and was constantly weakened by a profuse discharge. I also lost small pieces of bone at different times.

Matters ran on thus about seven years—till May, 1874, when a friend recommended me to go to your office and talk with you of the virtue of VEGETINE.

By what I saw and heard I gained some confidence in VEGETINE. I commenced taking it soon after, but felt worse from its effects; still I persevered and soon felt it was benefiting me in other respects. Yet I did not see the results I desired, till I had taken it faithfully for little more than a year, when the difficulty in the back was cured, and for nine months I have enjoyed the best of health.

I have in that time gained twenty-five pounds of flesh, being heavier than ever before in my life, and I was never unable to perform labor than now. During the past few weeks I had a serofulous swelling as large as my fist gather on another part of my body. I took Vegetine faithfully, and it removed it level with the surface in a month. I think I should have been cured of my mal-troble sooner if I had taken larger doses, after having become accustomed to its effects.

Let your patrons troubled with serofula or kidney disease, understand that it takes time to cure chronic diseases, and if they will patiently take VEGETINE, it will, in my judgment, cure them.

With great obligations I am,

Yours very truly,

G. W. MANSFIELD,

Pastor of the M. E. Church.

VEGETINE.

Prepared by

H. R. STEVENS, Boston, Mass.

Vegetine is Sold by All Druggists

AT THE NAPANEE

SHIRT FACTORY!

You will find the best assortment of

White Shirts,
All Sizes and Prices.

The best assortment of

Regatta Shirts!
All Sizes and Prices.

The best assortment of

OXFORD SHIRTS.

THE BEST ASSORTMENT OF

Windsor Scarfs, Duke Scarfs, Bow Ties, Print Ties, Tom Thumb Ties.

THE BEST ASSORTMENT OF

Collars, Cuffs, Braces, Socks, Under Clothing in Cotton and Merino, plain and striped. Silk Handkerchiefs, Linen Handkerchiefs, Colored Cotton Handkerchiefs.

White Kid Gloves, Gents Kids in Black and Colored, and a fine stock of Regatta Prints and White Cottons for Shirts.

Give us a call for orders for shirts at the

Napanee Shirt Factory
And get the Best Goods, the best Fit, and the best made Shirt for the least money.

LADIES and GENTLEMEN

Our Story.

THE

Curse of Clifton

BY MRS. E. D. E. N. SOUTHWORTH.

(Continued from last week.)

Mr. Clifton led his daughter into centre of the saloon, and with her hanging on his arm, turned and left the company, waiting until they should be silent before he would speak. father and daughter, as they stood there presented a fine, imposing appearance. Both were arrayed with the gorgeous splendor that prevailed on that day.

The old gentleman had his snow-white hair turned back off his forehead, carried all down to the nape of his neck where it was plaited into a queue, adorned with a large white satin l both snowy plait and bow in pleasant lie against the back of the dark crim velvet coat—his vest and small clo were of white satin, and his long hose white silk were fastened to the sn clothes below the knee with white bows and gold buckles—his slippers of crimson morocco, with high heels, l bows, and gold buckles. His dress rather antiquated even for that day. he stood there waiting for silence the suave and stately courtesy of the school gentlemen.

Very much like a queen looked beautiful Carolyn, but very little like a bride, either in her dignified self-position, or in her magnificent array. fair hair was carried up above her head, and dressed high, in the r style of that day. Its rich waves bands were wreathed with pearls, adorned with a plume of white ostr feathers, powdered with minute si spangles. Her neck and arms w bare, but adorned with pearls, and shaded with the finest lace at the edge the bodice and sleeves. Her dress w rich blue satin brocade, made with waist, sharp pointed stomacher, and ing sleeves and flowing skirt—the edge the skirt finished with a very deep bo of silver embroidery; a lighter borde the same running around the sleec the stomacher was embroidered with ver and pearls. Over her skirt she w a train of splendid lace, lightly embri bered with a running vine of silver.

toyed with an elegant fan of ca mother-of-pearl and marabout feath She stood there, as I said, not at all a bride, either in her gorgeous app or her self-asserting manner. She s there with a gay, proud air, ben which none could have discerned deeply humiliated spirit of the arro woman, or suspected the wounded breaking heart of the forsaken brid When the murmur of voices which greeted their entrance had subsided, silence was restored, Mr. Clifton bc deeply, and—in the somewhat high-l grandiloquence of style he had once exhibited by a manager of a city the when apologizing for the non-appear of the evening's star—spoke as follo "Ladies and gentlemen, the distinc of your presence here this evening, been prayed that you might give honor of your countenance to the est als of my nephew and daughter. have graciously accorded us the digni your society here for that purpose. embarrassed pause, while the asse listened in breathless curiosity an pectation, and he continued, "La and gentlemen, 'man proposes, but disposes.' The great Arbitrator of des has ordained the issue of events, of wise than as we had hoped, planned, expected. Even last night sudd came a peremptory order from quarters, to Captain Clifton, to join

W. A. REEVE, M.A.,
Co. Crown Attorney

E. A. Derocke,
OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE, under Insolvent Act of 1875.
Office in H. M. Derocke's Law Office

Williams & Hooper,
BARRISTERS, Attorneys-at-Law, Solicitors in Chancery and Insolvency, Conveyancers, Notaries Public, etc., Napanee, Ontario.
W. S. WILLIAMS, E. J. HOOPER, M.A.,
Official Assignee

W. F. Hall,
OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE, under Insolvent Act of 1875. Fire Insurance Agent, &c. Office of Napanee Paper Mills, Centre Street.

F. Bartlett,
ARCHITECT AND BUILDER, West A Street, Napanee. Plans, Specification and Detail Drawings furnished. Builder's work measured, and value computed.

Kair's Machine Shop,
STEAM ENGINES and all kinds of Machinery made to order. Also all kinds of Machinery repaired on the shortest notice. Remember the place, opposite the old City Hotel, corner of Adelaide and Bridge Streets.

THOMAS FLYNN,
AUCTIONEER, Valuator, Estate Agent, Insurance, Money Broker, Money to Loan, Mortgages Bought and Sold, General Agent.
Office: Perry's Drug Store, Napanee, Ont.
Thomas Flynn informs his friends and public that he has resumed his former avocation over Mr. Perry's Drug Store, Napanee. All property placed in his hands for actual sale in business like manner, shall be attended to.

QUEEN'S HOTEL
BELLEVILLE.
Every Accommodation for Commercial Travellers.
A. P. FARRELL, PROPRIETOR.

PAISLEY HOUSE.
(John St. opposite the Market.)
NAPANEE, ONT.
A First Class Hotel centrally located, with excellent and stabling accommodation.
CHAS. PAISLEY, PROPRIETOR.

GRIEVE'S HOTEL,
West side Market Square,
NAPANEE, ONTARIO.
ARTHUR RUSH, - - Proprietor.
Best accommodation for Travellers and Farmers attending Market. House newly refitted and furnished. Good yards and stables and attentive Hostlers. Bar supplied with choicest liquors.

CITY HOTEL,
Corner Bridge and Adelaide Streets Napanee.
JOHN McMULLEN, - Proprietor.
Good accommodations for travellers. Bar always well stocked with good cigars and liquors. Ample yards and stabling. 8-6m

LENNOX HOTEL,
NAPANEE, ONTARIO.
HAVING fitted up my large brick building, 11 South side Main Street, as a first class Hotel, I beg to solicit a share of patronage from new friends as well as old ones. The table will always be supplied with the best the market affords, and the bar with the choicest liquors and Cigars. Good Yards and Stabling.
JAMES CULHANE, Proprietor.
27 1/2 y.

DRIED GEORGIA PEACHES,
Also a quantity of
On hand and to arrive, at
SMITH & ANDERSON.

FARM FOR SALE.
About 75 acres of the
BEST LAND
— IN —
PRINCE EDWARD COUNTY,
5 1/2 miles from Picton, and 3 1/2 miles from Demorestville.
This is a rare chance to get a Choice Farm. It is well watered and nicely situated.
A Special Price to a purchaser before the 1st December.
Apply to
R. McDOWALL, Demorestville, 29.
Or at this Office.

LIVERY at MILL POINT.
MR. JOHN FINLAYSON is prepared to furnish the best of rigs, either single or double.
At the Old Commercial Hotel, MAIN STREET.
Mill Point, Jan. 30th, 1877.

GLOBE
Life Assurance Co.
OF NEW YORK.
Assets, - - - $5,000,000
Premium Reserve, - - - $3,600,000
Income for Year 1876, - - - $857,000

This company only accepts first-class risks, and is noted for the promptness with which claims are paid.
It offers insurance on the ordinary life as well as the endowment plan, besides those also known as the ten, fifteen and twenty-year reserve dividend plan, by which the insured as well as all other accumulations may be withdrawn at the time specified, thereby obtaining a system of endowment under ordinary life rates.
See prospectus in hands of local agents.
H. L. COOK, General Agent for Ont.
THOS. A. HUFFMAN, Agt. for Napanee
Napanee, 25th June, 1877. 8-11.

Hartford Fire Insurance Co.
ESTABLISHED - - 1810.
CAPITAL, $1,000,000.
AMOUNT DEPOSITED IN CANADA in accordance with the Act 130,000.
Insures property against fire as low as any other reliable company. All losses equitably adjusted and promptly paid in Canada funds or Gold. Isolated dwellings insured at exceedingly low rates.
H. L. GEDDES, Agent, for Napanee and vicinity.

Vegetine is Sold by All Druggists

AT THE NAPANEE SHIRT FACTORY!
You will find the best assortment of
White Shirts,
All Sizes and Prices.
The best assortment of
Regatta Shirts!
All Sizes and Prices.
The best assortment of
OXFORD SHIRTS.
THE BEST ASSORTMENT OF Windsor Scarfs, Duke Scarfs, Bow Ties, Print Ties, Tom Thumb Ties.
THE BEST ASSORTMENT OF Collars, Cuffs, Braces, Socks, Under Clothing in Cotton and Merino, plain and striped. Silk Handkerchiefs, Linen Handkerchiefs, Colored Cotton Handkerchiefs, White Kid Gloves, Gents Kids in Black and Colored, and a fine stock of Regatta Prints and White Cottons for Shirts.
Gents leave your orders for shirts at the
Napanee Shirt Factory
And get the Best Goods, the best fit, and the best made shirt for the least money.
ADIES and GENTE MEN
Leave your Orders at our Store, and we will call for your washing any day in the week (Sundays excepted) and deliver the Goods neatly laundered, and at the lowest living prices.
Encourage home enterprise by giving us a fair trial and we guarantee satisfaction.
Remember the address, First door west of Hollings' Barber Shop, south side Dundas Street.
ROBLIN & PERRY,
Napanee, June 2nd, 1878.

CHEAP KANSAS LANDS
We own and control the Railway Lands of TREGO COUNTY, KANSAS, about equally divided by the Kansas Pacific Railway, which we are selling at from $2.50 to $5.00 per acre, on easy terms of payment. These lands are of the very best quality, and are located in the best winter wheat and stock growing district of the United States. Alternate sections of government land are taken as homesteads by actual settlers. Members of our firm reside at WA-KENE, and will show lands at all times. A pamphlet giving full information of soil, climate, water supply, rainfall, etc., will be sent free on request. Address
WARREN, KENNEY & CO., 106 Dearborn St., Chicago, Or Wa-Kene, Trego Co., Kansas.
50-2m

Sawed Lumber.
NOW on hand and for sale at low rates, any quantity of SCANTLING, JOYCE,
TWO-INCH PLANK,
& ONE-INCH BOARDS.
BILL STUFF CUT WHEN REQUIRED,
PERRY & JOY.
Napanee, May 2nd, 1878. 1-4in.

rich blue satin brocade, made with a waist, sharp pointed stomacher, and flaring sleeves and flowing skirt—the edges the skirt finished with a very deep border of silver embroidery; a lighter border the same running around the sleeve the stomacher was embroidered with—ver and pearls. Over her skirt she wore a train of splendid lace, lightly embroidered with a running vine of silver. She toyed with an elegant fan of carved mother-of-pearl and marabout feathers. She stood there, as I said, not at all a bride, either in her gorgeous apparel or her self-asserting manner. She stood there with a gay, proud air, beneath which none could have discerned deeply humiliated spirit of the arrogant woman, or suspected the wounded, a breaking heart of the forsaken bride. When the murmur of voices which I greeted their entrance had subsided, a silence was restored, Mr. Clifton bowed deeply, and—in the somewhat high-flown grandiloquence of style he had once exhibited by a manager of a city theatre when apologizing for the non-appearance of the evening's star—spoke as follows: "Ladies and gentlemen, the distinct of your presence here this evening, been prayed that you might give honor of your countenance to the espousals of my nephew and daughter. I have graciously accorded us the dignity of your society here for that purpose." (an embarrassed pause, while the assembled listened in breathless curiosity and expectation, and he continued), "Ladies and gentlemen, man proposes, but (disposes)." The great Arbitrator of destiny has ordained the issue of events, otherwise than as we had hoped, planned, or expected. Even last night, suddenly came a peremptory order from headquarters, to Captain Clifton, to join his regiment instantly for the purpose of fighting the command of a detachment of cavalry, to march immediately to the Indian frontier to put down an insurrection of the Shoshonaws! Ladies and gentlemen!" (continued the old gentleman, warming up with his subject), "I know the stern, uncompromising duty of the soldier at such a crisis. One syllable—one single syllable comprehends his supportable obligation—'Go.' The man the lover, the bridegroom must give place to the soldier. At our greatest poet, Walter Scott, has it,—the soldier at sound of the trumpet, must "Leave untended the herd,

The flock without shelter,
The dead uninterred,
The bride at the altar."
"Ladies and gentlemen, our gall Captain Clifton has literally left 'bride at the altar.' But soldier's loss may not mourn bridegroom's loss. I may deny ourselves the distinct and joy of your presence for the while—no, (the old man was unconsciously sliding from his lofty magnificence down to the plain vernacular) 'nor must I disappoint these young ladies and maidens of their dance to-night. I music here! I shall up the new quadrille air upon your list. Let the dance to the briskest music while t are fresh. Charley Cabell, my boy, or here and lead out your cousin Carolyn! Major Cabell advanced, and with m grace and dignity led Miss Clifton to head of the quadrille, as the music per forth.
"Young gentlemen, select your partners!" exclaimed the old man, add example to precept, by choosing youngest and prettiest girl in the room and leading her to the place right of site his nephew and daughter. Soothe the surprise and disappointment forgotten in enjoyment. The evening was spent in the gayest hilarity—Captain Clifton, the forsaken bride, appeared the gayest of the gay. So gay, and was Miss Clifton, that she drew upon herself the severe animadversions of several ladies present, who affirmed that conduct was heartless in the extreme laugh and sing and dance and jest such thorough abandonment to pleasure

NAPANEE EXPRESS

"THE GREATEST GOOD TO THE GREATEST NUMBER."

NAPANEE, ONT., FRIDAY, JULY 12 1878.

VEGETINE.

SHE RESTS WELL.

SOUTH POLAND, Me., Oct. 11, 1876.
H. R. STEVENS.—I have been sick two years with liver complaint, and during that time have on a great many different medicines, but none of them did me any good. I was restless nights, I no appetite. Since taking the VEGETINE I feel well and relish my food. Can recommend VEGETINE for what it has done for me.
Yours respectfully,
MRS ALBERT RICKER.

Witness of the above,
MR GEO M VANORAN, Medford, Mass.

VEGETINE.

Thousands will bear testimony (and do it voluntarily) that VEGETINE is the best medical compound yet placed before the public for renovating and purifying the blood, eradicating all human impurities or poisonous secretions from system, invigorating and strengthening the debilitated by disease; in fact, it is, as any have said, "The Great Health Re-
-er."

SAFE AND SURE.

H. R. STEVENS.—
I 1873 your VEGETINE was recommended to and yielding to the persuasions of a friend,
I consented to try it. At the time I was suffering from general debility and nervous prostration, superinduced by over-work and irregular
its. Its wonderful strengthening and cura-
-properties seemed to affect my debilitated tem from the first dose, and under its persis-t use I rapidly recovered, gaining more than health and good feeling. Since then I have hesitated to give VEGETINE my most unquali-
-fied endorsement as being a safe, sure and power-
-ful agent in promoting health and restoring the
-ted system to new life and energy. VEGETINE
-is the only medicine I use, and as long as I
-I never expect to find a better.
Yours truly,
W. H. CLARK.

10 Monterey street. Alleghany, Pa.

VEGETINE.

The following letter from Rev G W Mansfield, early pastor of the Methodist Episcopal ch. Hyde Park, and at present in
-rell, must convince every one who reads it
-of the wonderful curative qualities of
-of VEGETINE as a thorough cleanser and purifier of
-blood.

HYDE PARK, MASS., Feb. 15, 1870.

H. R. STEVENS.—
EARL SIR.—About ten years ago my health
-dropped through the depleting effects of dyspepsia;
-a year later I was attacked by typhoid
-fever in its worst form, it settled in my back and
-the form of a large deep-seated abscess,
-ch was fifteen months in gathering. I had -surgical operations by the best skill in the -e, but received no permanent cure. I suf-fered great pain at times, and was constantly
-koned by a profuse discharge. I also lost
-12 pieces of bone at different times.
-atters ran on thus about seven years—till
-1874, when a friend recommended me to go
-to your office and talk with you of the virtue of
-VEGETINE.

Y what I saw and heard I gained some con-
-fidence in VEGETINE.
-I commenced taking it soon after, but felt
-so from its effects; still I persevered, and -I felt it was benefiting me in other respects.
-I did not see the results I desired, till I had -used it faithfully for little more than a year,
-in the difficulty in the back was cured, and
-in nine months I have enjoyed the best of
-health.
-I have in that time gained twenty-five pounds
-weight, being heavier than ever before in my -life, and I was now able to perform labor
-as usual. During the past few weeks I had a -fulous swelling as large as my fist gather on -the part of my body. I took VEGETINE faith-
-fully, and it removed it level with the surface in
-a month. I think I should have been cured of -this trouble sooner if I had taken larger
-doses, after having become accustomed to its
-effects.

It your patrons troubled, with scrofula or -any disease, understand that it takes time to -cure chronic diseases, and if they will patiently
-use VEGETINE, it will, in my judgment, cure
-them.
-With great obligations I am,

Poetry.

THE OLD MAN'S FUNERAL.

BY THE LATE WILLIAM CULLEN BRYANT.

I saw an aged man upon his bier,
His hair was thin and white, and on his brow
A record of the cares of many a year—
Cares that were ended and forgotten now.
And there was sadness round, and faces bowed
And woman's tears fell fast, and children wailed Around.

Then rose another hoary man and said,
In faltering accents, to that weeping train:
"Why mourn ye that our aged friend is dead?
Ye are not sad to see the gathered grain.
Nor when the mellow fruit the orchards cast,
Nor when the yellow woods let fall the ripened
mast."

"Why rose ye then for him who, having won
The bound of man's appointed years, at last,
Life's blessing, all enjoyed, life's labors done,
Serenely to his final rest has passed;
While the soft memory of his virtues yet
Lingers like twilight hues when the bright sun
is set."

"And I am glad he has lived thus long,
And glad that he has gone to his reward.
Nor can I deem that nature did him wrong,
Softly to disengage the vital cord.
For when his voice grew palsied, and his eye
Dark with the mists of age, it was his time to die."

Our Story.

THE

Curse of Clifton.

BY MRS. E. D. E. N. SOUTHWORTH.

(Continued from last week.)

Mr. Clifton led his daughter into the centre of the saloon, and with her still hanging on his arm, turned and faced the company, waiting until they should be silent before he would speak. The father and daughter, as they stood there, presented a fine, imposing appearance.
Both were arrayed with the gorgeous splendor that prevailed at that day.

The old gentleman had his snow white hair turned back off his forehead, and carried all down to the nape of his neck, where it was plaited into a queue, and adorned with a large white satin bow, both snowy plait and bow in pleasant relief against the back of the dark crimson velvet coat—his vest and small clothes were of white satin, and his long hose of white silk were fastened to the small-clothes below the knee with white satin bows and gold buckles—his slippers were of crimson morocco, with high heels, large bows, and gold buckles. His dress was rather antiquated even for that day. And he stood there waiting for silence with the suave and stately courtesy of the old school gentlemen.

Very much like a queen looked the beautiful Carolyn, but very little like a bride, either in her dignified self-possession, or in her magnificent array. Her fair hair was carried up above her fore-just after the departure of her lover to brave the ghastly horrors of Indian warfare. Much more did they approve of the pensive manners of Zuleime. Poor Zuleime was all unskilled in self-control —her heart was "exceeding sorrowful," and so she let it appear. The company separated at a very late hour that night, or rather a very early hour of the next morning. Those in the neighbourhood departing, those from a distance retiring to the chambers to take some sleep before breakfast, after which they were to set out for their homes.

CHAPTER X.

THE SISTERS.

Sister I since I met thee last,
O'er thy brow change hath past;
In the softness of thine eyes,
Deep and still a shadow lies:
From thy voice there thrills a tone,
Never to thy childhood known;
Through thy soul a storm hath moved,
—Gentle sister, thou hast loved.

OVERTASKED, weary and exhausted by her long efforts, Carolyn Clifton sought her own chamber, and threw herself all splendidly arrayed as she was, upon her bed. She had no fear of interruption, for it was not yet daybreak, and her woman would not be up for several hours.
So she was surprised, and not at all pleased when a gentle rap came to the door. She would not answer or move to let the rapper know that she was awake.
She was weary, weary with acting for one night, and needed rest. But after the unknown had rapped two or three times, the door was gently opened, and the sweet voice of Zuleime was heard to say—

"Sister, I know you are not asleep—will you let me come in?" And without waiting for an answer, she entered, and softly closed the door, and came to the bedside, saying—"I heard you when you came up and threw yourself down on the bed, and I knew you were not asleep—let me stay with you, dear sister, won't you?"

"No, no, Zuleime, I wish to sleep," said Carolyn, still pressing both hands to her throbbing temples.

"Well, then, dear Carolyn, let me undress you, you can never compose yourself in that dress;" and the affectionate girl began to take off her slippers and stockings, saying—"I can take off all the small articles, and unlace your stomacher without disturbing you, sister, and then you need not stand up more than a minute to disrobe."

In indifference or abstraction, Miss Clifton permitted the gentle girl to unclasp all her jewels, and loosen her dress, without ever removing her hands, clasped tightly upon her temples, till Zuleime, wishing to take down the elaborate coiffure, gently withdrew them, and un-wound the strings of pearls, and unfastened the plume of feathers. When the affectionate girl had laid aside all these glittering gewgaws, and freed her long, fair hair, and relieved her oppressed and fevered head, the proud and scornful Carolyn, subdued by the gentleness of her sweet, only sister, looked in her face, read there a strange sympathy, delicate as it was deep, and suddenly put her yourself by remembering that he would have had to go, any way, and that he is gone reconciled!"

Miss Clifton shuddered.
"No, Zuleime! I cannot! I should not know how to write such a letter!
What could I say to him?"

"Say! I should know what to say!
If you have banished him, revoke your sentence of exile. If you have ascertained that you have done him injustice, tell him so. If you are sorry that you parted in anger, let him know it. If you wish to hear from him before he goes, ask him to write to you."

"I could not!—I could not! I never could write such a letter! My heart-strings would crack in the attempt!"

"And are you so proud? And will you let him go forth to that ghastly Indian war—oh, God! my flesh creeps only to think of it!" said Zuleime, shuddering.

"And will you not retract your false accusation, and revoke your cruel sentence of banishment, and express kind feelings and kind wishes for him about to be exposed to such horrors?"

"I can't! I can't! I cannot! My heart-strings would snap with the effort!
I can bear sorrow, but not humiliation!
I can die, but I cannot be humbled!"

"You cannot be humbled by an act of justice. And, oh! it would give him such happiness, and bring you such sweet peace, in place of all this heart-burning.
Think of it, dear Carolyn!"

While Zuleime spoke, a rap was heard at the door, and a servant appeared, and said that "Marster wished to see Miss Zuleime in the parlor."

"Think of it, dear Carolyn," said Zuleime, in a cheerful voice, kissing her sister's forehead, and then hastening out of the room.

Carolyn did think of it! The idea once presented, she could not banish it again;—the hope of a reconciliation once raised, could not be suppressed! She could think of nothing else. "It was but an act of common justice—it was a duty," she repeated to herself, many times, to answer the objections of her pride, which argued, "It is undignified, unwomanly, to make this overture." Then her love, her benevolence, her fears for him, pleaded.

"It will make him so happy—it will fill his heart with courage, and his arm with strength for the battle! And suppose he should be killed? what intolerable remorse will be added to your sorrow for him when you reflect that he died without a relenting word from you, who have been so cruelly unjust to him! That he died under your sentence of exile! Besides, if none of these things happen, can you bear these weary, weary days, that slowly, slowly drag themselves through weeks,
and months, and years of time?" Oh, no!
she cannot bear that project! She will be just—she will do her duty, and satisfy her affection at the same time. Down pride! for she will write that letter. She did write it.
She did not read it over again, lest scorn should rise and compel her to hurl it down and set her heel upon it. She set her teeth almost grimly in her determination to protect that gentle, loving missive of sorrow and affection from an assault of her besetting sin, as in the only medicine I use, and as long as I never expect to find a better.

Yours truly,
W. H. CLARK,
130 Monterey street, Alleghany, Pa.

VEGETINE.

The following letter from Rev. G. W. Mansfield, early pastor of the Methodist Episcopal ch. Hyde Park, and at present settled in Ill., must convince every one who reads his of the wonderful curative qualities of VEGETINE as a thorough cleanser and purifier of food.

HYDE PARK, Mass., Feb. 15, 1876.

Dr. Stevens—
About ten years ago my health suffered through the debilitating effects of dyspepsia. A year later I was attacked by typhoid in its worst form. It settled in my back and the form of a large deep-seated abscess, it was fifteen months in gathering. I had surgical operations by the best skill in the city, but received no permanent cure. I suffered great pain at times, and was constantly enervated by a profuse discharge. I also lost pieces of bone at different times.

Years ran on thus about seven years—till 1874, when a friend recommended me to go to your office and talk with you of the virtue of VEGETINE.

What I saw and heard I gained some courage in VEGETINE. I commenced taking it soon after, but felt from its effects, still I persevered and felt it was benefiting me in other respects. I did not see the results I desired, till I had used it faithfully for little more than a year. The difficulty in the back was cured, and in six months I have enjoyed the best of health.

I am in that time gained twenty-five pounds, being heavier than ever before in my life. I was never more able to perform labor now. During the past few weeks I had a ulous swelling as large as my fist gather on the right side of my body. I took Vegetine faithfully and it removed it level with the surface in six days. I think I should have been cured of this trouble sooner if I had taken larger quantities, after having become accustomed to its use.

Your patrons troubled with scrofula or syphilitic disease, understand that it takes time to cure chronic diseases, and if they will patiently use VEGETINE, it will, in my judgment, cure them.

With great obligations I am,
Yours truly,
G. W. MANSFIELD,
Pastor of the M. E. Church.

VEGETINE.

Prepared by
R. STEVENS, Boston, Mass.
Vegetine is Sold by All Druggists

AT THE NAPANEE HIRT FACTORY!

You will find the best assortment of

White Shirts,
All Sizes and Prices.

The best assortment of
Regatta Shirts!
All Sizes and Prices.

The best assortment of
X-FORD SHIRTS.

THE BEST ASSORTMENT OF Scarves, Duke Scarves, Bow Ties, Print
Ties, Tom Thumb Ties.

THE BEST ASSORTMENT OF
Hosiery, Cuffs, Braces, Socks, Under Clothing in
Cotton and Merino, plain and striped.

Handkerchiefs, Linen Handkerchiefs,
Colored Cotton Handkerchiefs,
Kid Gloves, Gents Kids in Black and Colored, and a fine stock of Regatta Prints
and White Cottons for Shirts.

Give us your orders for shirts at the
Napanee Shirt Factory

Get the Best Goods, the best fit, and the best made shirt for the least money.

ADIES and GENTE MEN

Save your Orders at our Store, and we will get your clothing any day in the week ready excepted and deliver the Goods advised, and at the lowest price.
We encourage home enterprise by giving us a fair and a guarantee satisfaction.
Give us the address, First door west of King's Barber Shop, south side Dundas

Curse of Clifton.

BY MRS. E. D. E. N. SOUTHWORTH.

(Continued from last week.)

Mr. Clifton led his daughter into the centre of the saloon, and with her still hanging on his arm, turned and faced the company, waiting until they should be silent before he would speak. The father and daughter, as they stood there, presented a fine, imposing appearance. Both were arrayed with the gorgeous splendor that prevailed at that day.

The old gentleman had his snow-white hair turned back off his forehead, and carried all down to the nape of his neck, where it was plaited into a queue, and adorned with a large white satin bow, both snowy plait and bow in pleasant relief against the back of the dark crimson velvet coat—his vest and small clothes were of white satin, and his long hose of white silk were fastened to the small-clothes below the knee with white satin bows and gold buckles—his slippers were of crimson morocco, with high heels, large bows, and gold buckles. His dress was rather antiquated even for that day. And he stood there waiting for silence with the suave and stately courtesy of the old school gentlemen.

Very much like a queen looked the beautiful Carolyn, but very little like a bride, either in her dignified self-possession, or in her magnificent array. Her fair hair was carried up above her forehead, and dressed high, in the regal style of that day. Its rich waves and bands were wreathed with pearls, and adorned with a plume of white ostrich feathers, powdered with minute silver spangles. Her neck and arms were bare, but adorned with pearls, and softly shaded with the finest lace at the edge of the bodice and sleeves. Her dress was of rich blue satin brocade, made with long waist, sharp pointed stomacher, and flowing sleeves and flowing skirt—the edges of the skirt finished with a very deep border of silver embroidery; a lighter border of the same running around the sleeves; the stomacher was embroidered with silver and pearls. Over her skirt she wore a train of splendid lace, lightly embroidered with a running vine of silver. She toyed with an elegant fan of carved mother-of-pearl and marabout feathers. She stood there, as I said, not at all like a bride, either in her gorgeous apparel, or her self-asserting manner. She stood there with a gay, proud air, beneath which none could have discerned the deeply humiliated spirit of the arrogant woman, or suspected the wounded and breaking heart of the forsaken bride.

When the murmur of voices which had greeted their entrance had subsided, and silence was restored, Mr. Clifton bowed deeply, and—in the somewhat high-flown grandiloquence of style he had once seen exhibited by a manager of a city theatre, when apologizing for the non-appearance of the evening's star—spoke as follows: "Ladies and Gentlemen, the distinction of your presence here this evening, has been prayed that you might give the honor of your countenance to the espousals of my nephew and daughter. You have graciously accorded us the dignity of your society here for that purpose." (An embarrassed pause, while the assembly listened in breathless curiosity and expectation, and he continued), "Ladies and gentlemen, man proposes, but God disposes." The great Arbitrer of destiny has ordained the issue of events, otherwise than as we had hoped, planned, and expected. Even last night, suddenly came a peremptory order from headquarters, to Captain Clifton, to join his regiment instantly for the purpose of taking the command of a detachment of cavalry, to march immediately to the Indian frontier to put down an insurrection of the Shoshonians.

"Ladies and gentlemen!" (continued the old gentleman, warming up with his subject), "you night, and needed rest. But after the unknown had rapped two or three times, the door was gently opened, and the sweet voice of Zuleime was heard to say—

"Sister, I know you are not asleep—will you let me come in?" And without waiting for an answer, she entered, and softly closed the door, and came to the bedside, saying—"I heard you when you came up and threw yourself down on the bed, and I knew you were not asleep—let me stay with you, dear sister, won't you?"

"No, no, Zuleime, I wish to sleep," said Carolyn, still pressing both hands to her throbbing temples.

"Well, then, dear Carolyn, let me undress you, you can never compose yourself in that dress;" and the affectionate girl began to take off her slippers and stockings, saying—"I can take off all the small articles, and unlace your stomacher without disturbing you, sister, and then you need not stand up more than a minute to disrobe."

In indifference or abstraction, Miss Clifton permitted the gentle girl to unclasp all her jewels, and loosen her dress, without ever removing her hands, clasped tightly upon her temples, till Zuleime, wishing to take down the elaborate coiffure, gently withdrew them, and unwound the strings of pearls, and unfasted the plume of feathers. When the affectionate girl had laid aside all these glittering gewgaws, and freed her long, fair hair, and relieved her oppressed and fevered head, the proud and scornful Carolyn, subdued by the gentleness of her sweet, only sister, looked in her face, read there a strange sympathy, delicate as it was deep, and suddenly put her arms around her neck, drew her head down, and kissed her fondly, murmuring—

"Oh, Zuleime! my child, my child! if you knew—"

"I do know dearest Carolyn! Dearest sister, I do know it all! I feel it—feel it from the bottom of my heart! That is the reason I came in, Carolyn! But I did not come in to disturb you, even by my sympathy. I came in to put you to sleep. Stand up, dearest Carolyn, and drop these heavy robes, and I will throw this light wrapper around you, and then you can lie down again—there!"

"Oh! sleep!—when shall I sleep again?" bitterly asked Carolyn, as Zuleime laid her head tenderly back upon the freshened pillow.

"Well, don't talk, dear Carolyn, and you will see that God will send sleep." And Zuleime cooled her brow by passing over it several times a lump of ice in a napkin, and laid down by her side, and fanned her, in that measured, monotonous time, so conducive to slumber. So slowly she fanned her, resisting all her attempts to enter into conversation, until wearied nature yielded, and Carolyn was asleep. Then, as it was morning, Zuleime hoisted the windows, to admit a fresh current of air, but left the blinds closed, to exclude the light. Next, she put all Carolyn's things carefully away, and silently restored the room to order. Then she laid a folded napkin, dipped in ice-water, over the still burning brow, and cautiously left the room, to go and order tea and toast to be ready for Carolyn as soon as she should awake. She found the house below stairs in a great but comparatively silent bustle. The servants, who had scarcely retired the night previous, were engaged in clearing away the disorder of the saloon, parlor and dining-room, and in laying the cloth for breakfast for the numerous visitors who had remained over night. Zuleime passed on to the kitchen, and gave her orders, and then silently stole up stairs again to her sister's room.

Carolyn slept long and heavily. Several hours passed before she awoke. When she opened her eyes, and fixed them gratefully upon Zuleime, she raised her arms, again embraced her saying—

"You have comforted me, dear Zuleime."

"And I will comfort you more, dear sister, I know how to do it. How do you feel, Carolyn?"

"Better—my head clearer—my nerves

at the door, and a servant appeared, and said that "Marster wished to see Miss Zuleime in the parlor."

"Think of it, dear Carolyn," said Zuleime, in a cheerful voice, kissing her sister's forehead, and then hastening out of the room.

Carolyn did think of it! The idea once presented, she could not banish it again;—the hope of a reconciliation once raised, could not be suppressed! She could think of nothing else. "It was but an act of common justice—it was a duty," she repeated to herself, many times, to answer the objections of her pride, which argued, "It is undignified, unwomanly, to make this overture." Then her love, her benevolence, her fears for him, pleaded, "It will make him so happy—it will fill his heart with courage, and his arms with strength for the battle! And suppose he should killed? What intolerable remorse will be added to your sorrow for him when you reflect that he died without a relenting word from you, who have been so cruelly unjust to him! That he died under your sentence of exile! Besides, if none of these things happen, can you bear these weary, weary days, that slowly, slowly drag themselves through weeks, and months, and years of time?" Oh, no! she cannot bear that project! She will be just—she will do her duty, and satisfy her affection at the same time. Down pride! for she will write that letter. She did write it. She did not read it over again, lest scorn should rise and compel her to hurl it down and set her heel upon it. She set her teeth almost grimly in her determination to protect that gentle, loving missive of sorrow and affection from an assault of her besetting sin, as she sealed and directed it. She then slipped on her dressing gown, and stole down the back stairs, where she found a boy lounging. She ordered him to saddle a horse immediately, and take that letter to the post-office. Nay, she waited till she saw the boy off, and was sure that none had seen him or the letter he carried. Then she returned to her own room, determined that no soul—not her father—nor even Zuleime, should share her confidence and know her condescension.

CHAPTER XI.

MRS. FAIRFAX AND MAJOR CABELL.

A father suffering, and a step-dame false,
A foolish suitor to a wedded lady.
Shakespeare—Zuleime.

Zuleime went in the parlor and found her father alone. He was sitting in an easy chair, doing nothing, but apparently waiting for her.

"Come hither, Zuleime," he said.

And when she went up to him, he drew her upon his knee, and passed his left arm around her waist, while, with his right hand, he smoothed her black hair.

And he gazed fondly in her face. He noticed that her cheek was pale, and her countenance pensive, but hoped that it was from the excitement of the night before. He could not bear to think of it being regret for Frank. He feared to ask her the cause of her seriousness. He disliked to recall Frank in any manner to her recollection. He wished her to forget him, if possible. At least, he would do so.

"Zuleime," he said, after he had stroked her hair some time, "you know, my love, that your aunt Cabell, and your cousins, are going back to Richmond to-day."

"Are they, sir? I did not know it," said Zuleime, turning paler, with apprehension of something that might be coming.

"Yes, my dear, they are. And Zuleime—here he paused—then he went on, "you have been thinking, I suppose, that you should have to return with them, to enter upon your school duties again, as the first of September is so near."

"I had not thought of it, sir. So many things happening, put it out of my head. But I am quite willing to go, and can be ready in half an hour."

"Thank you, my dear child. I am

Prepared by
R. STEVENS, Boston, Mass.
Netine is Sold by All Druggists

AT THE NAPANEE HIRT FACTORY!

You will find the best assortment of
White Shirts,
All Sizes and Prices.

The best assortment of
Regatta Shirts!
All Sizes and Prices.

The best assortment of
OXFORD SHIRTS.

THE BEST ASSORTMENT OF Scarfs, Duke Scarfs, Bow Ties, Print
Ties, Tom Thumb Ties.

THE BEST ASSORTMENT OF Ars, Cuffs, Braces, Socks, Bow Ties, in
Cotton and Merino, plain and striped.
Handkerchiefs, Linen Handkerchiefs.

Colored Cotton Handkerchiefs,
Kid Gloves, Gents Kids in Black and Colored, and a fine stock of Regatta Prints
and White Cottons for Shirts.

Gents leave your orders for shirts at the

Napanee Shirt Factory
Get the Best Goods, the best Fit, and the best made Shirt for the least money.

LADIES and GENTS MEN

Have your Orders at our Store, and we will for your washing any day in the week (Sundays excepted) and deliver the Goods neatly dressed, and at the lowest living prices.
We guarantee satisfaction.
Our Store is at the First door west of the Barber Shop, 222 1/2 Dundas St.

ROBLIN & PERRY,

Napanee, June 6th, 1878.

CHEAP KANSAS LANDS

We own and control the Railway Lands TREGO COUNTY, KANSAS, about ally divided by the Kansas Pacific Railroad, which we are selling at from $2.50 to $5 per acre, on easy terms of payment.
These lands are of the very best quality, are located in the best winter wheat stock growing district of the United States. Alternate sections of government land have been taken as homesteads by actual settlers. Members of our firm reside at A-K-E-N-E, and will show lands at all times. A pamphlet giving full information regarding climate, water supply, rainfall, etc., will be sent free on request. Address

WARREN, KENNEY & CO.,
106 Dearborn St., Chicago,
Or Warren & Kenney, Trego Co., Kansas.

Sawed Lumber.

Now on hand and for sale at low rates, any quantity of BANTLING, JOYCE,
TWO-INCH PLANK,
& ONE-INCH BOARDS.
ALL STUFF CUT WHEN REQUIRED,
PERRY & JOY.
Napanee, May 2nd, 1878. 1-4in.

bare, but adorned with pearls, and softly aladed with the finest lace at the edge of the bodice and sleeves. Her dress was of rich blue satin brocade, made with long waist, sharp pointed stomacher, and flowing sleeves and flowing skirt—the edges of the skirt finished with a very deep border of silver embroidery; a lighter border of the same running around the sleeves;
the stomacher was embroidered with silver and pearls. Over her skirt she wore a train of splendid lace, lightly embroidered with a running vein of silver. She toyed with an elegant fan of carved mother-of-pearl and marabout feathers.
She stood there, as I said, not at all like a bride, either in her gorgeous apparel, or her self-asserting manner. She stood there with a gay, proud air, beneath which none could have discerned the deeply humiliated spirit of the arrogant woman, or suspected the wounded and breaking heart of the forsaken bride.—
When the murmur of voices which had greeted their entrance had subsided, and silence was restored, Mr. Clifton bowed deeply, and—in the somewhat high-flown grandiloquence of style he had once seen exhibited by a manager of a city theatre, when apologizing for the non-appearance of the evening's star—spoke as follows:
“Ladies and gentlemen, the distinction of your presence here this evening, has been prayed that you might give the honor of your countenance to the espous-als of my nephew and daughter. You have graciously accorded us the dignity of your society here for that purpose.” (An embarrassed pause, while the assembly listened in breathless curiosity and expectation, and he continued), “Ladies and gentlemen, man proposes, but God disposes.” The great Arbiter of destiny has ordained the issue of events, otherwise than as we had hoped, planned, and expected. Even last night suddenly came a peremptory order from headquarters, to Captain Clifton, to join his regiment instantly for the purpose of taking the command of a detachment of cavalry, to march immediately to the Indian frontier to put down an irruption of the Shoshonaws! Ladies and gentlemen!” (continued the old gentleman, warming up with his subject), “You know the stern, uncompromising duty of the soldier at such a crisis. One syllable —one single syllable comprehends his insuperable obligation—“Go.” The man, the lover, the bridegroom must give place to the soldier. At our greatest poet, Walter Scott, has it,—the soldier at the sound of the trumpet, must “Leave untended the bed,

The sick without shelter,
The dead uninterred.
The bride at the altar.”

“Ladies and gentlemen, our gallant Captain Clifton has literally left his ‘bride at the altar.’ But soldier’s love may not mourn bridegroom’s loss. Nor may we deny ourselves the distinction and joy of your presence for the whole night—nor,” (the old man was unconsciously sliding from his lofty magniloquence down to the plain vernacular), “nor may I disappoint these young men and maidens of their dance to-night. Ho!
music here! Sound up the strains quadrille air upon your list. Let them dance to the briskest music while they are fresh. Charley Cabell, my boy, come here and lead out your cousin Carolyn!” Major Cabell advanced, and with much grace and dignity led Miss Clifton to the head of the quadrille, as the music pealed forth.

“Young gentlemen, select your partners!” exclaimed the old man, adding example to precept, by choosing the youngest and prettiest girl in the room, and leading her to the place right opposite his nephew and daughter. Soon all the surprise and disappointment were forgotten in enjoyment. The evening was spent in the gayest hilarity—Carolyn Clifton, the forsaken bride, apparently the gayest of the gay. So gay, indeed, was Miss Clifton, that she drew upon her self the severe animadversions of several ladies present, who affirmed that her conduct was heartless in the extreme; to laugh and sing and dance and jest with such thorough abandonment to pleasure, feel it from the bottom of my heart! That is the reason I came in, Carolyn! But I did not come in to disturb you, even by sympathy. I came in to put you to sleep. Stand up, dearest Carolyn, and drop these heavy robes, and I will throw this light wrapper around you, and then you can lie down again—there!”

“Oh! sleep!—when shall I sleep again?” bitterly asked Carolyn, as Zuleime laid her head tenderly back upon the freshened pillow.

“Well, don’t talk, dear Carolyn, and you will see that God will send sleep.”
And Zuleime cooled her brow by passing over it several times a lump of ice in a napkin, and laid down by her side, and fanned her, in that measured, monotonous time, so conducive to slumber. So slowly she fanned her, resisting all her attempts to enter into conversation, until wearied nature yielded, and Carolyn was asleep. Then, as it was morning, Zuleime hoisted the windows, to admit a fresh current of air, but left the blinds closed, to exclude the light. Next, she put all Carolyn’s things carefully away, and silently restored the room to order. Then she laid a folded napkin, dipped in ice-water, over the still burning brow, and cautiously left the room, to go and order tea and toast to be ready for Carolyn as soon as she should awake. She found the house below stairs in a great but comparatively silent bustle. The servants, who had scarcely retired the night previous, were engaged in clearing away the disorder of the saloon, parlor and dining-room, and in laying the cloth for breakfast for the numerous visitors who had remained over night. Zuleime passed on to the kitchen, and gave her orders, and then silently stole up stairs again to her sister’s room.

Carolyn slept long and heavily. Several hours passed before she awoke. When she opened her eyes, and fixed them gratefully upon Zuleime, she raised her arms, again embraced her saying—“You have comforted me, dear Zuleime.”

“And I will comfort you more, dear sister. I know how to do it. How do you feel, Carolyn?”

“Better—my head clearer—my nerves steadier—but a weary weight at my heart.”

“It shall go away, Carolyn. I know how to drive it away. But first you must take something.”

And Zuleime rang the bell and told the servant who appeared, to bring Miss Carolyn some fresh tea and toast.

While he was gone after it, Zuleime bathed her sister’s face and hands, and combed out her hair, and by the time she was made comfortable, the servant reappeared with the refreshments.

After Carolyn had breakfasted lightly, (and this was the first food she had taken for thirty six hours), she felt exhausted back upon her pillow, and said—
“I cannot appear this morning, Zuleime!
I am tired of acting a part!”

“You need not do it, dear Carolyn.
The people have breakfasted, and are almost all gone—and the others are going.”
Carolyn, dear, I saw Archer when he went away—”

Miss Clifton was still too proud to make a comment.

“Carolyn, he looked broken-hearted, despairing—indeed he did! Oh, Carolyn!
I think if he could have hoped that you would have made up with him, he would have let his regiment go to perdition rather than not have hastened to your feet!”

“Why did he not try, then?”
“Oh, sister, you banished him, and men have some pride. He waited for your relenting, I feel sure!”

Carolyn remembered with bitter regret, her refusal to let her father go to recall him.

“Carolyn, write to him. The detachment under his command does not march from Winchester for nine days yet.
Write, Carolyn—there is an abundant time for him to get your letter and answer it before he goes. Then you will be reconciled and happy. Everything will be restored, and you will comfort will saw the boy off, and was sure that none had seen him or the letter he carried. Then she returned to her own room, determined that no soul—not her father—not even Zuleime, should share her confidence and know her condescension

CHAPTER XI.

MES. FAIRFAX AND MAJOR CABELL.

A father suffering, and a step-dame false,
A foolish suitor to a wedded lady.
Shakespeare—Othello.

Zuleime went in the parlor and found her father alone. He was sitting in an easy chair, doing nothing, but apparently waiting for her.

“Come hither, Zuleime,” he said.
And when she went up to him, he drew her upon his knee, and passed his left arm around her waist, while, with his right hand, he smoothed her black hair.

And he gazed fondly in her face. He noticed that her cheek was pale, and her countenance pensive, but hoped that it was from the excitement of the night before. He could not bear to think of it being regret for Frank. He feared to ask her the cause of her seriousness. He disliked to recall Frank in any manner to her recollection. He wished her to forget him, if possible. At least, he would do so.

“Zuleime,” he said, after he had stroked her hair some time, “you know, my love, that your aunt Cabell, and your cousins, are going back to Richmond today.”

“Are they, sir? I did not know it,” said Zuleime, turning paler, with apprehension of something that might be coming.

“Yes, my dear, they are. And Zu-leime—” here he paused—then he went on, “you have been thinking, I suppose, that you should have to return with them, to enter upon your school duties again, as the first of September is so near.”

“I had not thought of it, sir. So many things happening, put it out of my head. But I am quite willing to go, and can be ready in half an hour.”

“Thank you, my dear child. I am very glad to see you so prompt to oblige me; but, my Zuleime, I have good news for you.”

“Good news, sir?”

“Yes, girl, the best news; the very best news—news that young ladies always rejoice to hear.”

“What news, sir?” she asked, fearfully.

“Don’t whine, girl, it is not your sentence of death. It is your deed of emancipation. Your ‘free papers,’ as the niggers would say. You are not to return to school any more. Are you not surprised? Are you not rejoiced now?”

Zuleime was not. She was anxious, foreboding.

“Why don’t you speak, my dear?
Ain’t you glad you’re not going back to school, to leather shoulder braces and back boards, and square and compass rules and regulations, that mean nothing unless they mean persecution and torture. Say, ain’t you glad?”

“I think I had rather go back to school for the present, sir.”

“Nonsense, now, my dear. Ah, I see how it is. You want to return with your dear aunt Cabell, and the dear city cousins—especially cousin Charley. Well, you monkey, you grow tired of the country and your old father, as soon as ever your aunt and cousins talk about returning to the city. Ah, you rogue,” said the old man, chucking her under the chin, and devoutly praying that he might be right in his conjecture—for, oh!
that child’s happiness. It lay nearer his heart than anything else on earth or in heaven.

“Dear father!” she said embracing him, “I do not wish to leave you, indeed I do not, I prefer the country. And I had rather never leave you or my home.”
“Dear little rogue, now don’t tell me that. I know better you know. And it is quite natural, and nobody blames you.
The young bird must leave its nest, and

EXPRESS.

THE GREATEST NUMBER.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 12 1878.

($1.00 per annum, if paid in advance)

NO. 11

EXPRESS

STEAM

Job Printing House!

The very Latest Styles in Type and the best facilities for turning out work

NEATLY AND PROMPTLY.

Rates very Low

A Call Solicited

after the departure of her lover to the ghastly horrors of Indian war. Much more did they approve of ensive manners of Zuleime. Poor me was all unskilled in self-control; she let it appear. The company at a very late hour that night, ther a very early hour of the next day. Those in the neighbourhood ring, those from a distance retiring he chambers to take some sleep e breakfast, after which they were to ut for their homes.

CHAPTER X.

THE SISTERS.

Sister! since I met thee last,
O'er thy brow a change hath past;
In the softness of thine eyes,
Deep and still a shadow lies:
From thy voice there thrills a tone,
Never to thy childhood known;
Through thy soul a storm hath moved,
Gentle sister, thou hast loved.

THASTED, weary and exhausted by ong efforts, Carolyn Clifton sought own chamber, and threw herself all idly arrayed as she was, upon her She had no fear of interruption, was not yet daybreak, and her wo- would not be up for several hours. she was surprised, and not at all ed when a gentle rap came to the . She would not answer or move to e rapper knew that she was awake, was weary, weary with acting for one t, and needed rest. But after the un- n had rapped two or three times, door was gently opened, and the t voice of Zuleime was heard to

Sister, I know you are not asleep—you let me come in!" And without y for an answer, she entered, and y closed the door, and came to the ide, saying—"I heard you when you p up and threw yourself down on the and I knew you were not asleep—e stay with you, dear sister, won't

No, no, Zuleime, I wish to sleep," Carolyn, still pressing both hands to throbbing temples.

Nell, then, dear Carolyn, let me un- you, you can never compose your- n that dress;" and the affectionate began to take off her slippers and ings, saying—"I can take off all the l articles, and unlace your stomacher out disturbing you, sister, and then need not stand up more than a te to disrobe."

indifference or abstraction, Miss on permitted the gentle girl to un- all her jewels, and loosen her dress, out ever removing her hands, clasped ly upon her temples, till Zuleime, ing to take down the elaborate ure, gently withdrew them, and und the strings of pearls, and unfast- the plume of feathers. When the tionate girl had laid aside all these ering gewgaws, and freed her long, hair, and relieved her oppressed and red head, the proud and scornful lvn. subdued by the gentleness of yourself by remembering that he would have had to go, any way, and that he is gone reconciled!"

Miss Clifton shooed head. "No, Zuleime! I cannot! I should not know how to write such a letter! What could I say to him?"

"Say! I should know what to say! If you have banished him, revoke your sentence of exile. If you have ascertained that you have done him injustice, tell him so. If you are sorry that you parted in anger, let him know it. If you wish to hear from him before he goes, ask him to write to you."

"I could not!—I could not! I never could write such a letter! My heart-strings would crack in the attempt!"

"And are you so proud? And will you let him go forth to that ghastly Indian war—oh, God! my flesh creeps only to think of it!" said Zuleime, shuddering. "And will you not retract your false accusation, and revoke your cruel sentence of banishment, and express kind feelings and kind wishes for him about to be exposed to such horrors?"

"I can't! I can't! I cannot! My heart-strings would snap with the effort! I can bear sorrow, but not humiliation! I can die, but I cannot be humbled!"

"You cannot be humbled by an act of justice. And, oh! it would give him such happiness, and bring you such sweet peace, in place of all this heart-burning. Think of it, dear Carolyn!"

While Zuleime spoke, a rap was heard at the door, and a servant appeared, and said that "Marster wished to see Miss Zuleime in the parlor."

"Think of it, dear Carolyn," said Zuleime, in a cheerful voice, kissing her sister's forehead, and then hastening out of the room.

Carolyn did think of it! The idea once presented, she could not banish it again;—the hope of a reconciliation once raised, could not be suppressed! She could think of nothing else. "It was but an act of common justice—it was a duty," she repeated to herself, many times, to answer the objections of her pride, which argued, "It is undignified, unwomanly, to make this overture." Then her love, her benevolence, her fears for him, pleaded,

"It will make him so happy—it will fill his heart with courage, and his arms with strength for the battle! And suppose he should be killed! what intolerable remorse will be added to your sorrow for him when you reflect that he died without a relenting word from you, who have been so cruelly unjust to him! That he died under your sentence of exile! Besides, if none of these things happen, can you bear these weary, weary days, that slowly, slowly drag themselves through weeks, and months, and years of time?" Oh, no! she cannot bear that project! She will be just—she will do her duty, and satisfy her affection at the same time. Down pride! for she will write that letter. She did write it. She did not read it over again, lest scorn should rise and compel her to hurl it down and set her heel upon it. She set her teeth almost grimly in the young girl her home, when she becomes a wife. Your mother left her parents and came home here with her husband. So do not think, my love, that your old father will charge you with selfishness for wishing to leave him—no, not wishing to leave him, but wishing to go with one who is to be your husband."

Zuleime dropped her head, to conceal the deadly pallor that crept over her face.

"Yes, dear Zuleime, you will soon return to Richmond, though it will not be as a school girl—but as a happy bride—as Mrs. Major Cabell. What a sonorous name and title for my little, romping Zuleime. Here, Charley Cabell! I have broken the ice, now come and speak for yourself," exclaimed Mr. Clifton to Major Cabell, who was going by the door. Major Cabell came in, passing by the old gentlemen, who had seized his hat, and not trusting himself to look at his daughter, rushed out of the room. Zuleime remained standing where he had placed her when he put her off his knee—panic-struck—stupid—until Major Cabell took her hand, and attempted to lead her to a seat, then snatching her hand away with a shudder, she asked almost wildly—

"Cousin Charles, when does father want this marriage to come off?"

"As soon as my dearest Zuleime will consent to make me the happiest of men," replied the common-place wooer, attempting to recapture her hand, but she retreated, shuddering, and asking in a frantic tone and manner, in great contrast to her calm words—

"Cousin Charles, do me a favor. Do not press this matter for a week or so."

"Heaven forbid that I should hurry a lady, though that lady be my own little cousin and betrothed—only fix the day and I will rest content—so that it be not a far distant day," he said, re-capturing her hand, throwing his arm around her waist, and drawing her towards him.

"Please don't. Let me go, cousin Charles," exclaimed the girl, in great distress, struggling to free herself.

"Please don't let me go, cousin Charles. I don't intend to, pretty cousin, until you tell me when you will give yourself to me," replied Major Cabell, kissing her all the more heartily because she strove to escape.

"You know what I meant. Let me alone. It is unmanly to behave so. Don't make me hate you," was on her quivering lips and in her flashing eyes, as by a sudden effort she threw his arms off and sat down; but then she recollected her father, and the cruel power Major Cabell seemed to possess over him, and she choked down the indignant words, and said instead—

"Please don't hurry and worry me, cousin Charles,—this is so very sudden. I am sure I never dreamed you would ask for poor me for years to come yet. I am so young."

"So young." Ah, Zuleime, that is a piece of pretty little womanish hypocrisy—a little finessence that belongs to your character, and is inherited from your French mother. 'So young.' Now, my pretty childish cousin, you know you

ing as the "packing-house." Near by was a small rough-built shop, called the "carriage-house," and across, on the opposite side of the little sheet of water was the hotel. A big ice-house, nearly full, stood at the other end of the pond, and on the very top of the hill was a long shed used as a supply store-house. Together the group of unsightly and cheap buildings constituted the "Band-Rock Powder works" of J. R. Rand & Co., whose business office is at No. 21 Park Row, New York City. There were and have been for several years employed in the works a small gang of men under the charge of Superintendent George A. Koehler. Romantic and picturesque as is the immediate country, no one has had the hardihood to build in the vicinity of so dangerous an institution, and all the workmen—with the exception of Koehler, who lives with his wife about five hundred feet from where the factory this morning stood—have occupied hanks and made shift for their living in a single shanty, known among them as "the hotel."

In this lodging-house—portions of which might to-night be gathered from the meadow grass and in the forest of a mile of outlying country—the workmen were assembled at noon to-day, when there entered a man, breathless with running and white with terror. Every man in the room was on his feet in an instant, and had recognized Ferdinand Marks, the nitro-glycerine mixer. "The glycerine house is on fire," cried Marks, but before the words were out of his mouth the room was deserted. Looking now across the pond, around the border of which Marks had run to warn his comrades, the workmen saw a mass of flames where against the summit of the hill, had been the tarred roof of the glycerine factory. Built as it was in three terraces, each containing a vat of water through which the compound passed in its manufacture. Some time, each workman knew, must elapse before the fire could burn down and explode the nitro-glycerine, of which there were about 200 pounds in the lower vat, and to make the most of their time was their one thought. On the east side of the valley a steep bank is covered with a growth of walnut timber; into the woods and through them fled some of the workmen; others following the line of the valley ran like a deer over the low land.

Superintendent Koehler, with Mr. S. S. Fowler, the chemist of the company, were approaching the works from the former's house when they discovered the fire. Comprehending the danger in an instant, they ran back to the house, caught up Miss Koehler and the baby, and hastening over a knoll near by lay upon the ground with faces down. Knowing that they were dangerously near the works, but not daring to get upon their feet, the moments seemed like hours, and it is now impossible for them or indeed for any of the workmen to agree upon the length of time that elapsed before the explosion occurred. The report, they say, when finally it did come, was short and sharp and loud, and and, and unlaces your stomacher disturbing you, sister, and then do not stand up more than a to disrobe." difference or abstraction, Miss permitted the gentle girl to un- her jewels, and loosen her dress, ever removing her hands, clasped upon her temples, till Zuleime, to take down the elaborate, gently withdrew them, and un- the strings of pearls, and unfas- the plume of feathers. When the late girl had laid aside all these g gewgaws, and freed her long, and relieved her oppressed and head, the proud and scornful, subdued by the gentleness of et, only sister, looked in her face, re a strange sympathy, delicate was deep, and suddenly put her round her neck, drew her head and kissed her fondly, murmur-

Zuleime! my child, my child! if ew—know dearest Carolyn! Dearest do know it all! I feel it from the bottom of my heart! That asou I came in, Carolyn! But come in to disturb you, even sympathy. I came in to put you Stand up, dearest Carolyn, and see heavy robes, and I will throw a wrapper around you, and then lie down again—there!"

! sleep!—when shall I sleep? bitterly asked Carolyn, as she laid her head tenderly back upon the pillow.

ll, don't talk, dear Carolyn, and I see that God will send sleep." Zuleime cooled her brow by passing several times a lump of ice in a glass, and laid down by her side, and her, in that measured, monotonous, so inductive to slumber. So she fanned her, resisting all her attempts to enter into conversation, until nature yielded, and Carolyn was then, as it was morning, Zuleime the windows, to admit a fresh breeze of air, but left the blinds closed, to hide the light. Next, she put all her things carefully away, and silenced the room to order. Then she

the old napkin, dipped in ice-water, to still burning brow, and cautioned the room, to go and order tea to be ready for Carolyn as soon as she should awake. She found use below stairs in a great but comely silent bustle. The servants, and scarcely retired the night previous engaged in clearing away the debris of the saloon, parlor and dining-room, and in laying the cloth for breakfast the numerous visitors who had led over night. Zuleime passed on to the kitchen, and gave her orders, and then stole up stairs again to her sister's room. Zuleime passed on to the kitchen, and gave her orders, and then stole up stairs again to her sister's room. Zuleime passed on to the kitchen, and gave her orders, and then stole up stairs again to her sister's room. Zuleime passed on to the kitchen, and gave her orders, and then stole up stairs again to her sister's room. Zuleime passed on to the kitchen, and gave her orders, and then stole up stairs again to her sister's room. Zuleime passed on to the kitchen, and gave her orders, and then stole up stairs again to her sister's room. Zuleime passed on to the kitchen, and gave her orders, and then stole up stairs again to her sister's room. Zuleime passed on to the kitchen, and gave her orders, and then stole up stairs again to her sister's

room. Zuleime passed on to the kitchen, and gave her orders, and then stole up stairs again to her sister's remorse will be added to your sorrow for him when you reflect that he died without a relenting word from you, who have been so cruelly unjust to him! That he died under your sentence of exile! Besides, if none of these things happen, can you bear these weary, weary days, that slowly, slowly drag themselves through weeks, and months, and years of time?" Oh, no! she cannot bear that project! She will be just—she will do her duty, and satisfy her affection at the same time. Down pride! for she will write that letter. She did write it. She did not read it over again, lest scorn should rise and compel her to hurl it down and set her heel upon it. She set her teeth almost grimly in her determination to protect that gentle, loving missive of sorrow and affection from an assault of her besetting sin, as she sealed and directed it. She then slipped on her dressing gown, and stole down the back stairs, where she found a boy lounging. She ordered him to saddle a horse immediately, and take that letter to the post-office. Nay, she waited till she saw the boy off, and was sure that none had seen him or the letter he carried. Then she returned to her own room, determined that no soul—not her father—not even Zuleime, should share her confidence and know her condescension

CHAPTER XI.

MRS. FAIRFAX AND MAJOR CABELL.

A father suffering, and a step-dame false,
A foolish suitor to a wedded lady—
Shakespeare—Lynbetime.

Zuleime went in to the parlor and found her father alone. He was sitting in an easy chair, doing nothing, but apparently waiting for her.

"Come hither, Zuleime," he said.

And when she went up to him, he drew her upon his knee, and passed his left arm around her waist, while, with his right hand, he smoothed her black hair.

And he gazed fondly in her face. He noticed that her cheek was pale, and her countenance pensive, but hoped that it was from the excitement of the night before. He could not bear to think of it being regret for Frank. He feared to ask her the cause of her seriousness. He disliked to recall Frank in any manner to her recollection. He wished her to forget him, if possible. At least, he would do so.

"Zuleime," he said, after he had stroked her hair some time, "you know, my love, that your aunt Cabell, and your cousins, are going back to Richmond to-day."

"Are they, sir? I did not know it," said Zuleime, turning paler, with apprehension of something that might be coming.

"Yes, my dear, they are. And Zuleime—" here he paused—then he went on, "you have been thinking, I suppose, that you should have to return with them, to enter upon your school duties again, as the first of September is so near."

"I had not thought of it, sir. So many things happening, put it out of my head. But I am quite willing to go, and can be ready in half an hour."

"Thank you, my dear child. I am very glad to see you so prompt to oblige me; but, my Zuleime, I have good news for you."

"Good news, sir?"

"Yes, girl, the best news; the very best news—news that young ladies all ways rejoice to hear."

"What news, sir?" she asked, fearfully.

"Don't whine, girl, it is not your sentence of death. It is your deed of emancipation. Your 'free papers,' as the niggers would say. You are not to return to school any more. Are you not surprised? Are you not rejoiced now?"

Zuleime was not. She was anxious, foreboding.

"Why don't you speak, my dear? Ain't you glad you're not going back to school, to leather shoulder braces and back boards, and square and compass lips and in her flashing eyes, as by a sudden effort she threw his arms off and sat down; but then she recollected her father, and the cruel power Major Cabell seemed to possess over him, and she choked down the indignant words, and said instead—

"Please don't hurry and worry me, cousin Charles,—this is so very sudden. I am sure I never dreamed you would ask for poor me for years to come yet. I am so young."

"So young." Ah, Zuleime, that is a piece of pretty little womanish hypocrisy—a little finesse that belongs to your character, and is inherited from your French mother. "So young." Now, my pretty childish cousin, you know you have received an offer of marriage this very week. And that, indeed, has accelerated my proposal. Fair Zuleime, a man does not care to see his young betrothed bride courted by another."

"I know that," replied Zuleime, in a peculiarly sad voice, moving to the other end of the room.

The slightest gesture of avoidance of him by the girl, seemed to act as a provocative on him, so he followed her, and clasped her in his arms, and laughing, almost rudely kissed her, begging her between the kisses not to set his heart on fire by her charming prudery and petulance, but to fix the day, like a good, sensible girl as she was. Almost frantic with rage and shame at being so freely handled, the Clifton blood rushed to her brain, and forgetting her father's interest and everything else, she dashed her hand violently into his face, and before he recovered from his astonishment, broke from him and escaped—her heart beating with one thought—one sudden, joyous thought—that come what might, she never could be either forced or persuaded into marriage with Major Cabell, because she was already a wedded wife—no set of circumstances, whatever, could make it her duty, or make it even possible for her to marry Major Cabell.

In all her sorrows, that was one blessed truth to sit down and rest upon. All her duty was now due to her husband. And with a youthful wife's enthusiasm firing and strengthening her heart, she thought she could stand as upon a rock, secure against a sea of trouble. Poor child, she had yet to learn that no position founded on a fault is for a moment safe. Several things soon forced themselves upon her memory and grieved her heart—her father's unknown but certain danger, her own promise of secrecy in regard to her marriage, the necessity of giving some definite answer to Major Cabell, and the obligation pressing upon her to prevent, by all and any means, the highly improper and extremely offensive denigrations of passion from her suitor. She determined to write to Frank, tell him all that had occurred, and ask his advice and direction; and to do this it was necessary to gain time, and give no false promise in the interim. Already was Zuleime beginning to taste the bitter fruits of her stolen marriage, and might have exclaimed, in the perplexity of her distracted heart and brain—

Oh, what a tangled web we weave
When first we venture to deceive.

While Zuleime's heart was beating so fast with many emotions, her father sauntered into the parlor, where he found Major Cabell caressing and soothing his afflicted face.

"Well, Charley, say, how is it with you, eh? Could you win a hearing from my little girl, eh? Give her time, you know, eh?" said the old gentleman, affecting a lightness of heart which he was far from feeling.

To his surprise, Major Cabell laughed heartily, still coaxing his ill-used phiz.

"What's the matter, Charley? What amuses you, eh?"

"Your girl. By my soul, Governor, I shall end by falling in love with that girl. A didn't fancy her much at first, to tell you the truth. She was entirely too good humoured—always laughing. And I had a fancy for marrying a shrew, just for the spicy fun of taming one! The same instinct, Governor, that makes me Superintendent Koehler, with Mr. S. Fowler, the chemist of the company, were approaching the works from the former's house when they discovered the fire. Comprehending the danger in an instant, they ran back to the house, caught up Miss Koehler and the baby, and hastening over a knoll near by lay upon the ground with faces down. Knowing that they were dangerously near the works, but not daring to get upon their feet, the moments seemed like hours, and it is now impossible for them of indeed for any of the workmen to agree upon the length of time that elapsed before the explosion occurred. The report, they say, when finally it did come, was short and sharp and loud, and was distinctly heard in Paterson, six miles distant. A moment later great clouds of light brown paper, used in the manufacture of the cartridges, passed over the heads of some of the workmen as they crouched on the ground; but singularly enough none of the heavier material, such as the rafters or boards of the buildings, were seen or even to be found trace of in any direction. Immediately after the explosion Mr. Koehler, Mr. Fowler, and a workman named Jas. Briscoe went cautiously around under the brow of the hill and approached the works. The big glycerine house was gone as if it had been swallowed by an earthquake, but the packing house, in which was nearly a ton of rend rock powder, was still standing. The ice house was in flames; the cartridge house was also burning like a tinder box as was the tall grass between the spot where the glycerine factory had stood and an adjacent storehouse in which was a quantity of raw material used in the manufacture of the powder. In order to save this last mentioned building from destruction Mr. Koehler and his companions started to put out the fire in the grass, when a second explosion threw them violently to the ground. They were not injured, but this blast removed the last remnant of the settlement. A corn-field was stripped as bare as it had been torn down, and a thousand trees were left in midwinter gear.

The effect was indescribable. At Barney Sisco's hotel, a mile away, the plaster was knocked from the walls and some of the windows broken. The chickens in the barnyards were raised a yard from the ground and the cows staggered as if drunk. The men near the works were some knocked over, and others were lifted up and carried several feet, as if from a great blast of wind. There is nothing left of the buildings, not a piece that would go into a small cooking stove. The stable containing a number of horses and standing at the distance of a quarter of a mile still stands, but is terribly shattered. The trees in the woods a mile distant are twisted off at the roots, and in some places paths were swept clean through by flying missiles. The whole concern covered two or three acres of ground, and all of it now looks as if it had been newly ploughed. In some places places great holes were blown into the ground almost deep enough for cellars. Yesterday morning all the buildings were surrounded by tall grass and weeds a yard high, but not a trace of them remained. They are all swept off or buried under in the soil. The devastation is complete. Those who have been in a hot battle field, where the shells and cannon balls have been ploughing all day, will have some idea of the general and complete wreck and devastation. The roof of the foreman's residence, a mile distant, was blown off and the chimneys knocked down. There is scarcely a barn or building within a radius of a half mile that is not partially demolished. That no one was killed appears to be almost a miracle. It was lucky for the men that they had a late dinner and were where they could see the fire when it began. Had they been inside the buildings at the time where they could not have noticed the flames when they started, not one of them would now be alive or anything recognizable also for that matter.

The most exaggerated reports of the disaster reached Paterson, to the effect that father—not even Zuleime, should share her confidence and know her condescension

CHAPTER XI.

MRS. FAIRFAX AND MAJOR CABELL.

A father suffering, and a step-dame false.
A foolish suitor to a wedded lady.
Shakespeare—Cymbeline.

Zuleime went in the parlor and found her father alone. He was sitting in an easy chair, doing nothing, but apparently waiting for her.

"Come hither, Zuleime," he said.

And when she went up to him, he drew her upon his knee, and passed his left arm around her waist, while, with his right hand, he smoothed her black hair.

And he gazed fondly in her face. He noticed that her cheek was pale, and her countenance pensive, but hoped that it was from the excitement of the night before. He could not bear to think of it being regret for Frank. He feared to ask her the cause of her seriousness. He disliked to recall Frank in any manner to her recollection. He wished her to forget him, if possible. At least, he would do so.

"Zuleime," he said, after he had stroked her hair some time, "you know, my love, that your aunt Cabell, and your cousins, are going back to Richmond to-day."

"Are they, sir? I did not know it," said Zuleime, turning paler, with apprehension of something that might be coming.

"Yes, my dear, they are. And Zuleime—" here he paused—then he went on, "you have been thinking, I suppose, that you should have to return with them, to enter upon your school duties again, as the first of September is so near."

"I had not thought of it, sir. So many things happening, put it out of my head. But I am quite willing to go, and can be ready in half an hour."

"Thank you, my dear child. I am very glad to see you so prompt to oblige me; but my Zuleime, I have good news for you."

"Good news, sir?"

"Yes, girl, the best news; the very best news—news that young ladies always rejoice to hear."

"What news, sir?" she asked, fearfully.

"Don't whine, girl, it is not your sentence of death. It is your deed of emancipation. Your free papers, as the niggers would say. You are not to return to school any more. Are you not surprised? Are you not rejoiced now?"

Zuleime was not. She was anxious, foreboding.

"Why don't you speak, my dear? Ain't you glad you're not going back to school, to leather shoulder braces and back boards, and square and compass rules and regulations, that mean nothing unless they mean persecution and torture. Say, ain't you glad?"

"I think I had rather go back to school for the present, sir."

"Nonsense, now, my dear. Ah, I see how it is. You want to return with your dear aunt Cabell, and the dear city cousins—especially cousin Charley. Yes, you monkey. You grow tired of the country and your old father, as soon as ever your aunt and cousins talk about returning to the city. Ah, you rogue!" said the old man, chucking her under the chin, and devoutly praying that he might be right in his conjecture—for, oh! that child's happiness. It lay nearer his heart than anything else on earth or in heaven.

"Dear father!" she said embracing him, "I do not wish to leave you, indeed I do not. I prefer the country. And I had rather never leave you or my home."

"Dear little rogue, now don't tell me that. I know better you know. And it is quite natural, and nobody blames you. The young bird must leave its nest, and between the kisses not to set his heart on fire by her charming prudery and petulance, but to fix the day, like a good, sensible girl as she was. Almost frantic with rage and shame at being so freely handled, the Clifton blood rushed to her brain, and forgetting her father's interest and everything else, she dashed her hand violently into his face, and before he recovered from his astonishment, broke from him and escaped—her heart beating with one thought—one sudden, joyous thought—that come what might, she never could be either forced or persuaded into marriage with Major Cabell, because she was already a wedded wife—no set of circumstances, whatever, could make it her duty, or make it even possible for her to marry Major Cabell. In all her sorrows, that was one blessed truth to sit down and rest upon. All her duty was now due to her husband. And with a youthful wife's enthusiasm firing and strengthening her heart, she thought she could stand as upon a rock, secure against a sea of trouble. Poor child, she had yet to learn that no position founded on a fault is for a moment safe. Several things soon forced themselves upon her memory and grieved her heart:—her father's unknown but certain danger, her own promise of secrecy in regard to her marriage, the necessity of giving some definite answer to Major Cabell, and the obligation pressing upon her to prevent, by all and any means, the highly improper and extremely offensive denunciations of passion from her suitor. She determined to write to Frank, tell him all that had occurred, and ask his advice and direction; and to do this it was necessary to gain time, and to give no false promise in the interim. Already was Zuleime beginning to taste the bitter fruits of her stolen marriage, and might have exclaimed, in the perplexity of her distracted heart and brain—

Oh, what a tangled web we weave
When first we venture to deceive.

While Zuleime's heart was beating so fast with many emotions, her father sauntered into the parlor, where he found Major Cabell caressing and soothing his afflicted face.

"Well, Charley, boy, how is it with you, eh? Could you win a hearing from my little girl, eh? Give her time, you know, eh?" said the old gentleman, affecting a lightness of heart which he was far from feeling.

To his surprise, Major Cabell laughed heartily, still coaxing his ill-used phiz.

"What's the matter, Charley? What amuses you, eh?"

"Your girl. By my soul, Governor, I shall end by falling in love with that girl. I didn't fancy her much at first, to tell you the truth. She was entirely too good humoured—always laughing. And I had a fancy for marrying a shrew, just for the spicy fun of taming one! The same instinct, Governor, that makes me like to spring upon the back of the most vicious horse I can find, and ride and lash and spur and fatigue the soul out of his body, until I break his back or his temper, one—eh, Governor!"

[TO BE CONTINUED.]

A TREMENDOUS EXPLOSION.

ACRES OF LAND PLOUGHED, TREES Felled AND HOUSES SHATTERED BY NITRO-GLYCERINE.

Piquanac, N. J., July 2.—At noon to-day there was standing in a valley about two miles distant from here a little village of hemlock buildings, in which a small colony of German workmen lived and labored. Largest among the buildings was one 50 by 20 feet, which stood on the side of a hill, and was built in the shape of a terrace. It was known as the "glycerine house." A few feet distant, squat upon the edge of a big pond, was another twenty-five feet square, known this morning the brow of the hill and approached the works. The big glycerine house was gone as if it had been swallowed by an earthquake, but the packing house, in which was nearly a ton of rend rock powder, was still standing. The ice house was in flames; the earthen house was also burning like a tinder box as was the tall grass between the spot where the glycerine factory had stood and an adjacent storehouse in which was a quantity of raw material used in the manufacture of the powder. In order to save this last mentioned building from destruction Mr. Koehler and his companions started to put out the fire in the grass, when a second explosion threw them violently to the ground. They were not injured, but this blast removed the last remnant of the settlement. A corn-field was stripped as bare as it had been torn down, and a thousand trees were left in mid-winter gear.

The effect was indescribable. At Barney Sisco's hotel, a mile away, the plaster was knocked from the walls and some of the windows broken. The chickens in the barnyards were raised a yard from the ground and the cows staggered as if drunk. The men near the works were some knocked over, and others were lifted up and carried several feet, as if from a great blast of wind. There is nothing left of the buildings, not a piece that would go into a small cooking stove. The stable containing a number of horses and standing at the distance of a quarter of a mile still stands, but is terribly shattered. The trees in the woods a mile distant are twisted off at the roots, and in some places paths were swept clear through by flying missiles. The whole concern covered two or three acres of ground, and all of it now looks as if it had been newly ploughed. In some places places great holes were blown into the ground almost deep enough for cellars. Yesterday morning all the buildings were surrounded by tall grass and weeds a yard high, but not a trace of them remained. They are all swept off or buried under in the soil. The devastation is complete. Those who have been in a hot battle field, where the shells and cannon balls have been ploughing all day, will have some idea of the general and complete wreck and devastation. The roof of the foreman's residence, a mile distant, was blown off and the chimneys knocked down. There is scarcely a barn or building within a radius of a half mile that is not partially demolished. That no one was killed appears to be almost a miracle. It was lucky for the men that they had a late dinner and were where they could see the fire when it began. Had they been inside the buildings at the time where they could not have noticed the flames when they started, not one of them would now be alive or anything recognizable also for that matter.

The most exaggerated reports of the affair reached Paterson, to the effect that a large number of men had been killed, and a great many people went up in carriages to visit the scene. When the reporters got there they found themselves already preceded by two coroners and three Paterson undertakers.

There are different reports as to the origin of the fire. The story about the sun setting fire to the tin roof, is not generally credited. It is thought by some to have been the result of carelessness on the part of the employees, but nothing definite can be ascertained. The loss could not be learned from anyone on the grounds. The buildings were all common frame structures, built apparently with the expectation that they would be blown up sometime. It is expected that they will be rebuilt at once.

These works have been destroyed by explosions twice before—in February, 1875, and January, 1876—at both of which times, as was the case to-day, nobody received any injury. The loss by to-day's explosion is estimated at $4,000.

I came to put you to bed, dear Carolyn, and I will throw my wrapper around you, and then I will come down again—there!"

"I sleep!—when shall I sleep?" bitterly asked Carolyn, as she laid her head tenderly back upon shaven pillow.

"I don't talk, dear Carolyn, and I see that God will send sleep," Zuleime cooled her brow by passing several times a lump of ice in a glass, and laid down by her side, and her, in that measured, monotonous, so inducive to slumber. So she fanned her, resisting all her attempts to enter into conversation, until nature yielded, and Carolyn was then, as it was morning, Zuleime opened the windows, to admit a fresh breeze of air, but left the blinds closed, under the light. Next, she put all her things carefully away, and silenced the room to order. Then she folded the napkin, dipped in ice-water, and still burning brow, and called the room, to go and order tea to be ready for Carolyn as soon as she should awake. She found the old maid below stairs in a great but comely silent bustle. The servants, who had scarcely retired the night before, were engaged in clearing away the debris of the saloon, parlor and dining-room, in laying the cloth for breakfast; the numerous visitors who had passed over night, Zuleime passed on to her, and gave her orders, and then she stole up stairs again to her sister's room.

Carolyn slept long and heavily. Several hours passed before she awoke. When she opened her eyes, and fixed them listlessly upon Zuleime, she raised her head and again embraced her saying—

"I have comforted me, dear Zuleime, I will comfort you more, dear Zuleime. I know how to do it. How do you feel, Carolyn?"

"Better—my head clearer—my nerves stronger—but a weary weight at my heart."

"I shall go away, Carolyn. I know I drive it away. But first you must do something."

Zuleime rang the bell and told the servant who appeared, to bring Miss Carolyn some fresh tea and toast.

When she was gone after it, Zuleime opened her sister's face and hands, and combed her hair, and by the time she had made comfortable, the servant reappeared with the refreshments.

Carolyn had breakfasted lightly, as was the first food she had taken for several hours, she felt exhausted upon her pillow, and said—

"I don't appear this morning, Zuleime, I am tired of acting a part."

"I need not do it, dear Carolyn. I am sure you have breakfasted, and are all right—and the others are going away—dear, I saw Archer when he was here. Clifton was still too proud to make an attempt. Carolyn, he looked broken-hearted, ring—indeed he did! Oh, Carolyn, if he could have hoped that you have made up with him, he would let his regiment go to perdition rather than not have hastened to your aid."

"Why did he not try, then?"

"I, sister, you banished him, and men come pride. He waited for your forgiveness, I feel sure."

Carolyn remembered with bitter regret, refusal to let her father go to recall her.

Carolyn wrote to him. The detachment under his command does not march Winchester for nine days yet. Carolyn—there is an abundance of time for him to get your letter and answer it before he goes. Then you will be reconciled and happy. Everything is restored, and you will comfort

POST OFFICE TIME TABLE

NAPANEE POST OFFICE.— Arrival and Departure of Mails.

MAILS.	Close.				Arrive.
	A. M.	P. M.	P. M.	P. M.	A. M.	P. M.	P. M.	P. M.
Eastern, per G. T. R.	12:05	9:00	1:10	1:00
Western, per G. T. R.	4:30	9:00	5:50	5:10
Mill Point.....	6:30	1:10			11:30	8:00
Green Point, Picton, Northport and Dem- orestville.....	6:30					8:00
Tamworth, Centre- ville, Camden East, Newburgh and Na- pance Mills.....		2:10			11:30
Morren, Hawley, Silla- ville, Parma and Conway—Tuesdays Thursdays and Sat- days.....		1:20			11:00
Switerville—Tues- days, Thursdays and Saturdays.....		1:20			11:30
Esport, Gretna and Hay Day—Saturdays		1:20			11:00
Erinsville, Roblin and Selby.....		2:00			11:00
Orleton and Forest Mills.....		2:00			11:00

THE EXPRESS.

NAPANEE, JULY 12, 1878.

—The farmers of this county are at present, giving one bushel out of every six or seven of the grain which they produce as protection to manufacturers, and it is a piece of unmitigated presumption to ask them to give still further in this direction, and that too under the plea that the farmer is to be benefitted thereby. Truly it would seem like casting bread upon very uncertain waters.

—The laboring man who earns $1.00 per day is obliged to give from 10 to 20 per cent of his small income that others may be protected. There is no way of protecting him in return, and he must submit to the tax as an unavoidable hardship. And yet Protectionists have the hardihood to ask the laborer to benefit himself by taking from his little store not 10 or 20 per cent, but 40 or 50 per cent. The laboring and professional classes at least should have no sympathy with the protectionist; but will find their interest in securing the lowest possible tariff.

—Sensible people are getting disgusted with the silence which Mr. Hooper persists in maintaining. They are not content that the nominee of the party, and the champion of a Policy, should remain a mere figure-head of brass or bass-wood, while the real work of the contest and defense of the principles of the party is performed by imported advocates who have no interest in the contest beyond the mere fee for the occasion. And who can blame them?

—There is not a single article, with the exception of corn, which the farmers produce, the price of which could possibly be raised by the adoption of the

Who is Who.—It may interest the Ontario public to know that Mayor Beaudry, who is now doing his utmost to bring about riot and perhaps bloodshed in the streets of Montreal, is a most ardent supporter of Sir John A. Macdonald, and was among the most prominent figures in the demonstration to that Hon. Gentleman during his visit to Montreal two years ago!

—On Wednesday evening, at Storr's School House, the Hon. Mr. Stevenson took the platform for the first time during the present contest, and quite demolished all Mr. Larke's protection theories. His address was a very able one and, will probably convince Mr. Hooper and his friends that the Hon. Mr. Stevenson is not such a staunch supporter of "Muddonnellism" as they have been attempting to make the people believe.

—The examination in the now somewhat notorious forgery case was continued on Wednesday last, and we give a full resume of the evidence up till the adjournment. There are several features of the case which are well worthy of criticism, but we refrain from any expression until the conclusion of the present examination. The case will be again called at 2 p. m. Saturday.

—The Standard announces that next week it will blow Mr. Wm. Patterson into smithereens in revenge for the little "innocent deaversion" which that gentleman took out of its particular friend, Hon. Mr. McDougall, during his recent visit to this county. Stand aside gents; hold you breath and give the man a chance. During a month training he must have worked up quite a muscle, and we expect he will "show up" prodigiously.

—Here is a conundrum for Mr. Hooper and his taxationists friends:—"Our manufacturers have now a protective (revenue) duty equal to 20 per cent. Their taxes—direct and indirect—are 50 per cent. less than those of the United States."—Will they explain by facts and figures, how it is with all this advantage, manufacturers require still greater assistance to enable them to compete with the United States. Until this is clearly explained we may be allowed to doubt the wisdom of any farmer taxing himself still further in the interests of any industry which needs such excessive "bolstering."

—The Standard goes twenty-five miles to get an excuse for telling his readers just how much has been established by evidence in the examination of the editor of this journal for issuing a forged election address. He might as well have gone a little further however, and stated that it has not been shown that the editor of this paper ever had one of the addresses in question in his possession, or that he was aware of its being printed, or that he ever saw one either in his own office or elsewhere, nor in fact that he had any knowledge whatever of the transaction until the day following its general circulation.

—Admitting for the sake of argument that Canadian producers pay the duty land. Instead of wasting his substance in seeking his own pleasure and ease as he might be doing, we find him labouring as but few men in this broad Dominion labor; working not to obtain greater wealth for himself, but more successfully direct his attention in other directions, but solely in the interests of his country. We ask is it fair, manly or honest for men who have but little success to exhibit in their own record, to point with a slur to Mr. Cartwright, for being born a rich man. It is fortunate that in a young country like this we have men of wealth and ability, who are willing to sacrifice their time and money in sustaining the expensive if honorable duties of a Minister of the Crown. Instead of encouraging the detractions of jealous demagogues, all good men should honor the gentleman for his noble and philanthropic example, and frown upon the sickly whining of those men who have not soul or manhood enough to appreciate any good trait in the character of a political opponent.

MR. HOOPER'S QUALIFICATIONS.

We have as yet refrained from entering into criticism of the qualifications which the Opposition Candidate may possess, recommending him to an intelligent electorate as their representative in the council of the nation, to take part in framing those laws which are calculated to assist in the advancement and the building up of our young Dominion. But as others have attempted to draw invidious distinctions between Mr. Hooper and the present representative, we think it high time that we too should have a word to say as to the fitness of Mr. Hooper for the office for which he presents himself a candidate.

We are free to admit that Mr. Hooper, personally, is a man whom everyone can respect, but while this is a great essential in a candidate, still we believe there is something beyond this required in a man who aspires to become a member of Parliament. Respectable mediocrity does not go far in the legislative halls of the nation, and the people who are unfortunate enough to choose a representative who has nothing to show up beyond an untarnished record, are likely to be very poorly represented indeed.

In the first instance Mr. Hooper's knowledge of politics and political economy is of the most limited kind. He has never directed himself to the study of the affairs of the country, and the merest school-boy would compare favorably with him in knowledge pertaining to Parliamentary practice. If returned he must depend entirely upon others for guidance, and must of necessity remain a mere voting machine in the hands of his political leaders. The little he does know about these matters, he is unable to present intelligently before a public meeting of his own constituents, and it can be easily imagined what a sorry figure he would present in a like position on the floor of the House. The employment of professional advocates, and place-hunting politicians is not allowable there, and it would only remain for Lennox and her

Edmund Hooper called and I am complainant in this examined a printed document in him purporting to be his own candidate for Dominion Parliament. The document purports to be in the name of Lennox. The was not signed by me or my son. The question "Did you sign document?" was objected to by ant's counsel, as the original produced; the printed document put in as the original document numbered accordingly. First document Friday evening about Found large numbers in the scattered over the country; the copies of this. Found a large believed it to be genuine. This is a copy of the printed "address" as the "original forgery," and "document No. 1." and was to be given to the electors.

ADDRESSES

TO THE ELECTORS OF L
GENTLEMEN.—As it is allowed that the approaching will be one of the most important held in Canada, and as the to be considered by the future. I am unusually complicated and and it is therefore especially that the people's representative be men of experience and ability naturally induced to present a Candidate for the grave and position of your Member for the of Commons for the Dominion informed that it is usual circumstances, when the person to represent you has never been liament before, that he should length, both his qualification reasons for his Candidature, I that, as to

"MY QUALIFICATIONS."
I am now over sixty years old, ing never had any political, ex really know very little about parties and public men general what I have been told. Th always busied myself about my vate affairs, and have never l the time or inclination to post such intricate subjects as the re advantages of free trade or prote revenue tariff, or the balance between different countries, not believe I would have much about them even if I had do not pretend to be a spea thinker either) but that I ca have some one to do the talkin during my canvass, and I am will not expect me to open my the House, if you elect me, but enough to hold my tongue and Sir John Macdonald does. Tl if you elect me once, you will a second time, and that theref object for me to give myself a trouble about these matters.

Apart from my quali above stated,

"MY REASONS"

for coming forward are chiefly In the first place I have long Minister of Finance a graduate of my brother, and so deep family of the chance of di County Offices up amongst the In the next place Sir John l has promised on his solemn wor to give me and my son Harry Roe, good fat officer, ever y one, again, in case we can defeat wright, whom he hates like p perhaps if Sir John does ge power, and his majority is not I may be able to make him kee may be protected. There is no way of protecting him in return, and he must submit to the tax as an unavoidable hardship. And yet Protectionists have the hardihood to ask the laborer to benefit himself by taking from his little store not 10 or 20 per cent, but 40 or 50 per cent. The laboring and professional classes at least should have no sympathy with the protectionist; but will find their interest in securing the lowest possible tariff.

Sensible people are getting disgusted with the silence which Mr. Hooper persists in maintaining. They are not content that the nominee of the party, and the champion of a Policy, should remain a mere figure-head of brass or bass-wood, while the real work of the contest and defense of the principles of the party is performed by imported advocates who have no interest in the contest beyond the mere fee for the occasion. And who can blame them?

There is not a single article, with the exception of corn, which the farmers produce, the price of which could possibly be raised by the adoption of the National Policy. And yet the farmers of the Dominion are asked to increase their taxes from 10 to 20 per cent. on every article which they buy, on everything which they consume whether produced at home or abroad, for the small boon of 10 cents extra on the corn which the farmers of Lennox cannot profitably produce even at the increased figure.

The meeting at Storr's School House on Wednesday evening, was a great success for Mr. Cartwright. Mr. Larke, the latest importation of the Conservative Association, was a signal failure, and only served as a background to bring out with greater brilliancy the speeches of the Finance Minister and his friends. Mr. Rathbun and Hon. John Stevenson delivered telling replies to the Protection nonsense advanced by the Opposition speaker, and it was evident that a very large majority of the meeting were in favor of the Government Policy.

From present appearances it would appear that trouble in Montreal to-day is unavoidable. The Mayor of the city appears to be willfully adopting the very course which will tend to stir up the hatred of the contending parties, and has issued a proclamation which if concocted on purpose could not have served the purposes of a fire brand more successfully. A requisition has been made by a number of magistrates for the protection of the city by the military, and it is expected that from 2,000 to 3,000 troops will be under arms during the day, which may have a tendency to preserve the peace of the city.

The farmers of Lennox must certainly long ere this have discovered the jug-handled proposition advanced through the medium of the so-called National Policy. On the one hand they are offered 10 cents per bushel on corn which they do not and will not raise, and the other are asked to allow themselves to be taxed hundreds and hundreds of thousands of dollars annually to pay—where? Into the Government treasury? No! To build works of public interests and utility? No! But to line the pockets of a few individuals who care not a straw for any interests save their own pockets, and who when they have once gained the ascendancy, will set their heel on

—are so per cent. less than those of the United States.—Will they explain by facts and figures, how it is with all this advantage, manufacturers require still greater assistance to enable them to compete with the United States. Until this is clearly explained we may be allowed to doubt the wisdom of any farmer taxing himself still further in the interests of any industry which needs such excessive "bolstering."

The Standard goes twenty-five miles to get an excuse for telling his readers just how much has been established by evidence in the examination of the editor of this journal for issuing a forged election address. He might as well have gone a little further however, and stated that it has not been shown that the editor of this paper ever had one of the addresses in question in his possession, or that he was aware of its being printed, or that he ever saw one either in his own office or elsewhere, nor in fact that he had any knowledge whatever of the transaction until the day following its general circulation.

Admitting for the sake of argument that Canadian producers pay the duty on barley entering the States, does the Standard wish the electors to infer that Sir John or any Conservative Government can remove that duty? If you can by an reasoning substantiate this, we claim that farmers are justified in demanding a demonstration of how you propose to accomplish it before they give credence to your assertion. Sir John during the years he held power failed to do so, and we are not informed that he can do anything more than he did before. If the farmer loses this duty, show him how you will recompense him for the loss or abandon the issue.

During a public speech on Dominion Day, Sir John Macdonald in speaking of Canada said:—"Thanks to Providence, they were now in the tenth year of Confederation a prosperous, happy, and contented people, with hope in the future of the country."—What can these opposition organs and orators say of this wonderful admission of the chieftain's. After all these months spent in decrying Canada and Canadian institutions, the chieftain himself in a moment of exuberancy is led to exclaim that the Canadians are prosperous, happy and contented. Truly the faithful may well ask, "was he mad or drunk?" Why the whole stock and trade of the party is sacrificed if an explanation be not offered, and that speedily.

It is surprising with what pertinacity the opposition stick to it that the present issue is one of the Protection vs. Free Trade, when no one knows better than these same mealy-mouthed advocates that the latter alternative has never entered into the controversy. The question is whether all shall share alike in bearing the burden of administering the affairs of the country, or whether the farmers as the great mass of consumers shall allow the minority to force upon them the whole burden in the shape of increased taxation, simply that these few hundred scheming individuals may swell their pockets with the spoils. The farmers of this Dominion are to-day more prosperous than the same class in any other country, and we very much mistake their intelligence if they allow themselves to be hood-winked into forcing upon themselves increased taxation with the delusive hope that it will tend to increase their present prosperity.

member of Parliament. Respectable mediocrity does not go far in the legislative halls of the nation, and the people who are unfortunate enough to choose a representative who has nothing to show up beyond an untarnished record, are likely to be very poorly represented indeed.

In the first instance Mr. Hooper's knowledge of politics and political economy is of the most limited kind. He has never directed himself to the study of the affairs of the country, and the merest school-boy would compare favorably with him in knowledge pertaining to Parliamentary practice. If returned he must depend entirely upon others for guidance, and must of necessity remain a mere voting machine in the hands of his political leaders. The little he does know about these matters, he is unable to present intelligently before a public meeting of his own constituents, and it can be easily imagined what a sorry figure he would present in a like position on the floor of the House. The employment of professional advocates, and place-hunting politicians is not allowable there, and it would only remain for Lennox and her interests to remain unrepresented or rely upon the generosity of Mr. Hooper's political allies at so much per vote.

As Mr. Hooper has neither experience nor ability to recommend him to the position of representative, we fail to see on what ground he can possibly appeal to the intelligent electors of Lennox to place their interests in his keeping. True he may have succeeded after long years of toil and saving in establishing a successful business, but that is nothing more than every man who is sober and industrious is bound to do in this country, and he is not more deserving of credit than thousands of others, who have been equally successful.

To compare Mr. Hooper with a gentleman who has by close personal application, and the thorough study of the politics of the country, placed himself in one of the most responsible positions in the Government of the day, is the height of absurdity. Mr. Cartwright is acknowledged to be an able politician, he is a finished speaker, and on any and every occasion can command the respect of his associates in the House of Commons, or the attention of the people on the hustings. He is bound so long as he remains in Parliament, to be a leader in conducting the affairs of the nation, and we consider it far more to the credit and interest of this constituency, that such a man should be their representative, than we should send a man to Parliament, who has at best but very limited experience or knowledge of the politics of the day. To witness the appearance of the two men on a public platform, and compare the clear concise and statesman-like utterances of the one, with the brief, disjointed sentences of the other, is all that is required to convince anyone of the relative fitness of the two gentlemen for the office. At the best, the Opposition candidate, if returned, would remain but an influential unit in Sir John's following, while the other as the Finance Minister of the day, commands the respect and attention of the whole people, and stands before the assembled wisdom of the Dominion an honor to the constituency which he represents. The contrast is too striking not to bear weight with the people of Lennox.

THAT FORGERY.

Evidence Produced at the Examination.

We give below the evidence...

revenue tariff, or the balances of between different countries, and not believe I would have under much about them even if I had. I do not pretend to be a speaker, (thinker either) but that I calculate have some one to do the talking for during my canvass, and I am sure will not expect me to open my mouth in the House, if you elect me, but I enough to hold my tongue and let Sir John Macdonald do. That I if you elect me once, you will never a second time, and that therefore I object for me to give myself any trouble about these matters.

Apart from my qualifications above stated,

"MY REASONS"

for coming forward are chiefly these. In the first place I have long owned Minister of Finance a grudge for being my brother, and so depriving family of the chance of dividing County Offices up amongst themselves.

In the next place Sir John Macdonald has promised on his solemn word of honor to give me and my son Harry and Roe, good fat offices, every one, if he again, in case we can defeat Mr. Wright, whom he hates like poison perhaps if Sir John does get the power, and his majority is not very large. I may be able to make him keep his word.

In the third place, I have nothing particular to do, and the Election has arranged so as to cost me nothing, as long as you are willing to pay my salary as County Treasurer, and do object to me spending my time in canvassing, instead of looking after my there is nothing to keep me from running the country.

Besides, even if Sir John don't keep word, (and I confess I don't feel quite believing what he says) it will be advertisement for me and come and if I should happen to get into Parliament, I could pay all my travelling expenses, and the indemnity which would be a big lot for me; and that you see, I have no to lose and everything to gain by Election, and I can't be beaten any more than I was the last time.

As to my plans for the Campaign the very simple. I know better than Mr. Cartwright at public meetings, a brother and Mr. Grange did. Of course if I tried to explain my views on politics, or on financial questions, I do not expect that even the stupidest of supporters, could help seeing that I do not know what I was talking about beside I would not be able to purchase a man that I was a Free Trader another that I was an out and out Protectionist, and another that I only for a revenue tariff, and a readjust of the taxation (whatever that may be) I have therefore arranged that Mr. H. Roe should go about and spend for me.

It is true, Roe says, he don't much than half understand these questions then, I don't understand them at all, besides if he says anything that will quite go down with the people, no can expect that I am to be bound by such a fellow as Roe says, so that I feel my way, and find out exactly what will take best, and alter my principles accordingly.

Meantime I can go about from house to house, and tell each man I see, every story I think is most likely to catch him, and if any of them compare afterwards, and find out that I have been telling different stories in different places, it is very easy to say they misunderstood my meaning, more particularly as I mean nothing, except catch their votes anyhow I can.

For all these reasons, Gentlemen, I beg most respectfully to solicit your support for the representation of County.

You may be quite sure I will do all I can to attain my ends, and if I do, you will have the proud satisfaction of knowing that your member for Dominion, will be as insignificant as your member of the Local Legislature.

—The meeting at Storrs' School House on Wednesday evening, was a great success for Mr. Cartwright. Mr. Larke, the latest importation of the Conservative Association, was a signal failure, and only served as a background to bring out with greater brilliancy the speeches of the Finance Minister and his friends. Mr. Rathbun and Hon. John Stevenson delivered telling replies to the Protection nonsense advanced by the Opposition speaker, and it was evident that a very large majority of the meeting were in favor of the Government Policy.

—From present appearances it would appear that trouble in Montreal to-day is unavoidable. The Mayor of the city appears to be willfully adopting the very course which will tend to stir up the hatred of the contending parties, and has issued a proclamation which if concocted on purpose could not have served the purposes of a fire brand more successfully. A requisition has been made by a number of magistrates for the protection of the city by the military, and it is expected that from 2,000 to 3,000 troops will be under arms during the day, which may have a tendency to preserve the peace of the city.

—The farmers of Lennox must certainly long ere this have discovered the jug-handled proposition advanced through the medium of the so-called National Policy. On the one hand they are offered 10 cents per bushel on corn which they do not and will not raise, and the other are asked to allow themselves to be taxed hundreds and hundreds of thousands of dollars annually to put—where? Into the Government treasury? No! To build works of public interests and utility? No! But to line the pockets of a few individuals who care not a straw for any interests save their own pockets, and who when they have once gained the ascendancy, will set their heel on the farming community and grind them down as agriculturists are being ground down in every country which is crushed by the National Policy system. Such a policy can only induce communistic societies and terrorism, from which Canada so far been free, and the farmers as the wealth producing people of the land must suffer accordingly.

—The gentleman who has assumed the responsibility of selecting blowhards to advocate Mr. Hooper's cause, has been so continuously unfortunate as to almost suggest a collusion. Messrs. Roe, Elliott, Grange, and Macdougall have in turn all failed in the service, and now another peculiar political monstrosity is imported into the Riding to do duty in the Opposition candidate's interest. Up in Oshawa they witness the peculiarity of two party Newspapers, the Reformer and Vindicator, both owned and controlled by members of the one firm. This week the Editor appears in Lennox as the Editor of the latter journal—Conservative—to advocate Mr. Hooper's cause, while his 'pard' may be in some other constituency doing duty in the Reform interest. Indeed, in case of a pressure of business, it would not be at all inconsistent for this same gentleman to appear some fine morning, a gay lark (or chameleon) subbing for his enterprising partner in the interests of a Liberal candidate. Business is business!

years he held power failed to do so, and we are not informed that he can do anything more than he did before. If the farmer loses this duty, show him how you will recompense him for the loss or abandon the issue.

—During a public speech on Dominion Day, Sir John Macdonald, in speaking of Canada said:—"Thanks to Providence, they were now in the tenth year of Confederation a prosperous, happy, and contented people, with hope in the future of the country."—What can these opposition organs and orators say of this wonderful admission of the chieftains. After all these months spent in decrying Canada and Canadian institutions, the chieftain himself in a moment of exuberancy is led to exclaim that the Canadians are prosperous, happy and contented. Truly the faithful may well ask, "was he mad or drunk?" Why the whole stock and trade of the party is sacrificed if an explanation be not offered, and that speedily.

—It is surprising with what pertinacity the opposition stick to it that the present issue is one of the Protection vs. Free Trade, when no one knows better than these same mealy-mouthed advocates that the latter alternative has never entered into the controversy. The question is whether all shall share alike in bearing the burden of administering the affairs of the country, or whether the farmers as the great mass of consumers shall allow the minority to force upon them the whole burden in the shape of increased taxation, simply that these few hundred scheming individuals may swell their pockets with the spoils. The farmers of this Dominion are to-day more prosperous than the same class in any other country, and we very much mistake their intelligence if they allow themselves to be hood-winked into forcing upon themselves increased taxation with the delusive hope that it will tend to increase their present prosperity.

WEALTH AND POLITICS.

During the present campaign it has been again and again thrown in the face of the Hon. Mr. Cartwright, through the press and on the platform, that he was born a rich man, and being educated in England, the conclusion is drawn as a consequence that his sympathies and interests were somehow alienated from his home and country, and that he was undeserving the confidence of the people. It is a strange argument indeed for one man to twit another of being rich; the best of frail humanity would rather consider it a convenience than otherwise to be born with the traditional silver spoon, and such a fortunate individual might be honored so long as he made a proper use of the "goods the gods had given him." We are aware that it is no uncommon thing, (in fact it is the rule rather than the exception) for a youth who suddenly finds himself heir to a large estate to plunge headlong into every excess, and prove a disgrace to the good name he inherited from honest parents. If Mr. Cartwright had followed this course, there might be some grounds for their ill-gotten plea; but instead, we hear of him as a youth industrious in securing a superior education and fitting himself for a useful member of society; and as a man we see him devoting his time, his energies, his talents and his wealth entirely in the interests and welfare of his native country, in believing what he says) it is advertisement for me and e and if I should happen to get ment, I should pay all Session out of my travelling allowance the indemnity which would be for me; and that you see, I h to lose and everything to g flection, and I can't be hea than I was the last time.

To compare Mr. Hooper with a gentleman who has by close personal application, and the thorough study of the politics of the country, placed himself in one of the most responsible positions in the Government of the day, is the height of absurdity. Mr. Cartwright acknowledged to be an able politician, he is a finished speaker, and on any and every occasion can command the respect of his associates in the House of Commons, or the attention of the people on the hustings. He is bound so long as he remains in Parliament, to be a leader in conducting the affairs of the nation, and we consider it far more to the credit and interest of this constituency, that such a man should be their representative, than we should send a man to Parliament, who has at best but very limited experience or knowledge of the politics of the day. To witness the appearance of the two men on a public platform, and compare the clear concise and statesman-like utterances of the one, with the brief, disjointed sentences of the other, is all that is required to convince anyone of the relative fitness of the two gentlemen for the office. At the best, the Opposition candidate, if returned, would remain but an influential unit in Sir John's following, while the other as the Finance Minister of the day, commands the respect and attention of the whole people, and stands before the assembled wisdom of the Dominion an honor to the constituency which he represents. The contrast is too striking not to bear weight with the people of Lennox.

THAT FORGERY.

Evidence Produced at the Examination.

We give below the evidence as taken at the examination of the editor of this journal for uttering a forged document purporting to be Mr. Hooper's address to the electors of Lennox.

The following information was duly sworn to before Luke C. Spafford, one of Her Majesty's Justice of the Peace for Lennox and Addington.

INFORMATION.

CANADA
Province of Ontario
The information and complaint of Co. of Lennox & Addington J. Edmund Hooper of the Town of Napanee, in the said County of Lennox and Addington, taken and made on oath before the undersigned, one of Her Majesty's Justice of the Peace, in and for the said County of Lennox & Addington this twenty-ninth day of June, in the year of our Lord, One Thousand Eight Hundred and Seventy-eight, and before me, in the said County who saith that W. C. Scott, of the Town of Napanee, in the said County, who did unlawfully and wilfully at the said Town of Napanee, on Friday, the Twenty-eighth day of June, instant, utter a forged document, knowing the same to be forged to wit: an address to the electors of Lennox, purporting to be signed by me, the said Edmund Hooper, being contrary to the form of the character in such case made and provided.

Taken and sworn before me, this day and year above mentioned
L. C. SPAFFORD, J. P.

EDMUND HOOPER.
At 8 p. m. the case was called at the Town Hall, Napanee, a large number of spectators being present, Mr. Spafford had associated with him Charles Dollars, Esq., of North Fredericksburgh, and other magistrates were asked by the presiding justice to take a seat on the bench but declined. At the request of the defendant's counsel Andrew Fraser, Esq., came forward, and others signified their willingness to take part in the examination but it was decided by the justice in charge of the case to limit the number to three.

Mr. E. J. Hooper, acted as counsel for the complainant and Mr. J. H. Macdonald, of Derwent and Madden, for the defence.

in believing what he says) it is advertisement for me and e and if I should happen to get ment, I should pay all Session out of my travelling allowance the indemnity which would be for me; and that you see, I h to lose and everything to g flection, and I can't be hea than I was the last time.

As to my plans for the Campaign very simple. I know better Mr. Cartwright at public meetings brother and Mr. Grange did. If I tried to explain my views politics, or on financial questions, I should expect that even the stout supporters, could help seeing not know what I was talking beside I would not be able one man that I was a free nation that I was an out actionist, and another that for a revenue tariff, and a re of the taxation (whatever I have therefore arranged H. Roe should go about at me.

It is true, Roe says, he don't than half understand these g then, I don't understand the besides if he says anything I quite go down with the pe can expect that I am to be such a follow as Roe says, I feel my way, and find out e will take best, and alter my cordingly.

Meantime I can go about to house, and tell each man I ever story I think is most li him, and if any of them co afterwards, and find out t been telling different stories places, it is very easy to say misunderstood my meaning, ticularly as I mean nothing catch their votes anyhow I

For all these reasons, G now beg most respectfully to support for the represent County.

You may be quite sure I can to attain my ends, and in, you will have the prom of knowing that your mem Dominion, will be as ins as your member of the Loc ure, and that in all probab not a voter amongst you al keep quiet and vote for Si would not make every bi member as

Your devoted humble
EDMUND

Cross-examination of M That is not my signature this printed document. whether that is a copy or forgery. I never wrote it. Swear no one ever wrote it half. There is no tr I am not sixty yea is partially true that I have any political experience. T word of truth in the address ing to end. Got the first Market Place on Saturday. might before at my place. I brought it there and asked divulge his name. Refused to answer who brought the place but on being pressed said it was Mr. Easton, To er. Don't know who distrib dresses. A number believed address. Numbers came and asked me if it was Could not remember anyone particular. Hundreds friends told me they it was my address. Under any one to print for distribute or give any of the my knowledge. Know M Did not give him one. My gave him one which he had session, to read in my shop. there must have been an printed address. Not a sing the address true.

James Osborne, Sworn—Liv

some-cone give up till everal
e well from ion of case Satur-

that . Pat-ge for which partic-ougall,
ounty.
th and ring a ked up e will ty-five ng his estab-

nation uing a ght as wever, shown r had in his of its w one re, nor vledge til the
ON.

ument
date:

A D D R E S S .

(CONFIDENTIAL.)

"GENTLEMEN,—As it is generally allowed that the approaching Election will be one of the most important ever held in Canada, and as the questions to be considered by the future Parliament are unusually complicated and difficult, and it is therefore especially desirable that the people's representatives should be men of experience and ability, I am naturally induced to present myself as a candidate for the grave and responsible position of your Member for the House of Commons for the Dominion. Being informed that it is usual under such circumstances, when the person aspiring to represent you has never been in Parliament before, that he should state at length, both his qualifications and his reasons for his Candidature, I beg to say that as to

I am now over sixty years old, and having never had any political experience, I really know very little about political parties and public men generally, except what I have been told. That I have always busied myself about my own private affairs, and have never had either the time or inclination to post myself on such intricate subjects as the relative advantages of free trade or protection, or a revenue tariff, or the balance of trade between different countries, and I do not believe I would have understood much about them even if I had. That I do not pretend to be a speaker, (or a thinker either) but that I calculate to have some one to do the talking for me during my canvass, and I am sure you will not expect me to open my mouth in the House, if you elect me, but I know enough to hold my tongue and vote as Sir John Macdonald does. That I know if you elect me once, you will never do it a second time, and that therefore it is no object for me to give myself any further trouble about these matters.

"MY REASONS"

In the next place Sir John Macdonald has promised on his solemn word of honour to give me and my son Harry and A. H. R. e, good fat officer, every one, if he get in again, in case we can defeat Mr. Cartwright, whom he hates like poison, and perhaps if Sir John does get back to power, and his majority is not very large, I may be able to make him keep his promise.

Cross-examination went down at the Express office on Thursday; went for papers; asked Mr. Scott for papers; he was in his private office; Armstrong was in press room; can't say I saw that exact document; saw one like; didn't read it; know it by heading and display lines; saw a number on feed board of big gorden press; press was not running; a number were on feed board worked off; took up top one and looked at it and saw next one was same; only saw two; couldn't swear all the rest were the same; don't think steam was up; a person coming in with address to read would probably lay it on feed board; Mr. Scott was not in the room were the addresses were.

Cross-examined.—On cross-examination, he could not say distinctly that he printed that very document but felt satisfied that he printed the "address."
 Foster then, saying, "I am Foreman of the Express office," saw addresses like the document shown in the Express office; when questioned whether he knew where they were printed and whether he saw the original manuscript, he refused to answer, saying the evidence would tend to convict him.
 Don't know who examined the proof; didn't see any one at the Express office to examine the proof; don't know who brought original copy to the office; don't know who got the addresses; don't know where they were delivered; have had some conversation with Mr. Scott about the trial, really say what was said; can't say whether an affidavit would criminate Mr. Scott; believe to answer questions as a lawyer would tend to criminate himself.

Day & Night, say is - I saw one of those fellows who I told you I was thrown over my head for, and I was sitting at my desk thinking that I ought to see what he was doing, but he was Isidore Abrams; never saw any of them in the Express office and I know how many Abrams had; I saw an article like this in writing; I never saw anyone with any particular name.

David Kohler, 38, said, "I was employed last Saturday by the [redacted] documents, didn't do it for me, but for the [redacted] Magallanes."

Charles Ham—work in the office. I believe Mr. Scott is pro Mr. Scott presides over the office as compositor on newspaper, and he thought to do with job work. He works in job department. He is brother. This address might be by either compositor or job hand. I do not see that class of work in department. I never saw any of addresses in the Express office. I set up any such job. Did not set up. Can't say I saw it in type. A person showed me one on the street employees in the Express office at Williams, W. Spafford, F. H. York, C. Ham, D. Armstrong, and Sionary R. Hingley and T. S. Can't say whether this address was up in and printed in the Express. Can't swear to the type. Asked for the address with Express paper and swear that the type was same, but could not. Newspaper marked "document No. 3."

Nelson Dollar told me that he knew Mr. S. at the Express office. Got 200 tea-n cards printed there last January which he showed sample, and it was endorsed "document No. 2." They were printed at the Express office. At the time he told me there was no other of that kind in Napanee.

Richard Higley—Am printer. Mr. Scott. I suppose he is proper. Express. I worked in Express for last Saturday. I worked three Saturday, Wednesday and Thursday an address something like the blacksmith shop. Don't know who was printed. Didn't set any type. I am not familiar with the type Express office. Had no conversation with Mr. Scott about the address.

Cross-examined—The foreman placed me to work in Express, no bargain with Mr. Scott.

Isaiah Abrams, sworn-- Live in
nec. Know Mr. Scott. Frequent the EXPRESS office on business.
seen documents like the one shown first one a week ago last Saturday.
one brought it into Mr. Geddes'.
It was very near noon, as I was up to dinner on same day saw so the market. After that saw Some came into the office some after. I never gave one to Mr. M.
my knowledge, but they might have wrapped into a parcel and sent I without my seeing them. Never address of that kind in manuscript type. Never took any such doc-to any office to be printed. Never a supply to my knowledge.

H. L. Geddes, sworn—Live in
See. Have seen copies of the a Saw them first a week ago Friday my office. There was a small bun them, perhaps 100. They were ad ed to me. Don't know who brough to my office. Was not present presentative, we think it high time that we too should have a word to say as to the fitness of Mr. Hooper for the office for which he presents himself a candidate.

We are free to admit that Mr. Hooper, personally, is a man whom everyone can respect, but while this is a great essential in a candidate, still we believe there is something beyond this required in a man who aspires to become a member of Parliament. Respectable mediocrity does not go far in the legislative halls of the nation, and the people who are unfortunate enough to choose a representative who has nothing to show up beyond an untarnished record, are likely to be very poorly represented indeed.

In the first instance Mr. Hooper's knowledge of politics and political economy is of the most limited kind. He has never directed himself to the study of the affairs of the country, and the merest school-boy would compare favorably with him in knowledge pertaining to Parliamentary practice. If returned he must depend entirely upon others for guidance, and must of necessity remain a mere voting machine in the hands of his political leaders. The little he does know about these matters, he is unable to present intelligently before a public meeting of his own constituents, and it can be easily imagined what a sorry figure he would present in a like position on the floor of the House. The employment of professional advocates, and place-hunting politicians is not allowable there, and it would only remain for Lennox and her interests to remain unrepresented or rely upon the generosity of Mr. Hooper's political allies at so much per vote.

As Mr. Hooper has neither experience nor ability to recommend him to the position of representative, we fail to see on what ground he can possibly appeal to the intelligent electors of Lennox to place their interests in his keeping. True he may have succeeded after long years of toil and saving in establishing a successful business, but that is nothing more than every man who is sober and industrious is bound to do in this country, and he is not more deserving of credit than thousands of others, who have been equally successful.

To compare Mr. Hooper with a gentleman who has by close personal application, and the thorough study of the politics of the country, placed himself in one of the most responsible positions in the Government of the day, is the height of absurdity. Mr. Cartwright, acknowledged to be an able politician, he is a finished speaker, and on any and every occasion can command the respect of his associates in the House of Commons, or the attention of the people on the hustings. He is bound so long as he remains in Parliament, to be a leader in conducting the affairs of the nation, and we consider it far more to the credit and interest of this constituency, that such a man should be their representative, than we should send a man to Parliament, who has at best but very limited experience or knowledge of the politics of the day. To witness the appearance of the two men on a public platform, and compare the clear concise and statesman-like utterances of the one, with the brief, disjointed sentences of the other, is all that is required to convince anyone of the relative fitness of the two gentlemen for the office. At the best, the Opposition candidate, if returned, would remain but an influential unit in Sir John's following, while the other as the Finance Minister of the

that as to "MY QUALIFICATIONS," I am now over sixty years old, and having never had any political experience, I really know very little about political parties and public men generally, except what I have been told. That I have always biased myself about my own private affairs, and have never had either the time or inclination to post myself on such intricate subjects as the relative advantages of free trade or protection, or a revenue tariff, or the balance of trade between different countries, and I do not believe I would have understood much about them even if I had. That I do not pretend to be a speaker, (or a thinker either) but that I calculate to have some one to do the talking for me during my canvass, and I am sure you will not expect me to open my mouth in the House, if you elect me, but I know enough to hold my tongue and vote as Sir John Macdonald does. That I know if you elect me once, you will never do it a second time, and that therefore it is no object for me to give myself any further trouble about these matters.

Apart from my qualifications as above stated,

"MY REASONS" for coming forward are chiefly these:—

In the first place I have long owed the Minister of Finance a grudge for defeating my brother, and so depriving the family of the chance of dividing the County Offices up amongst themselves.

In the next place Sir John Macdonald has promised on his solemn word of honor, to give me and my son Harry and A. H. Roe, good fat offices, every one, if he get in again, in case we can defeat Mr. Cartwright, whom he hates like poison, and perhaps if Sir John does get back to power, and his majority is not very large, I may be able to make him keep his promise.

In the third place, I have nothing particular to do, and the Election has been arranged, so as to cost me nothing, so that as long as you are willing to pay me my salary as County Treasurer, and do not object to me spending my time in canvassing, instead of looking after my office, there is nothing to keep me from running round the country.

Besides, even if Sir John don't keep his word, (and I confess I don't feel quite safe in believing what he says) it will be a big advertisement for me and come cheap, and if I should happen to get into Parliament, I could pay all Sessional expenses out of my travelling allowance, and save the indemnity which would be a big thing for me; and that you see, I have nothing to lose and everything to gain by this Election, and I can't be beaten any worse than I was the last time.

As to my plans for the Campaign they are very simple. I know better than to face Mr. Cartwright at public meetings, as my brother and Mr. Grange did. Of course, if I tried to explain my views on general politics, or on financial questions, I could not expect that even the stupidest of my supporters, could help seeing that I did not know what I was talking about, and beside I would not be able to put aside one man that I was a Free Trader, and another that I was an out and out Protectionist, and another that I only went for a revenue tariff, and a re-adjustment of the taxation (whatever that means.) I have therefore arranged that Mr. A. H. Roe should go about and speak for me.

It is true, Roe says, he don't much more than half understand these questions, but then, I don't understand them at all, and besides if he says anything that will not quite go down with the people, nobody can expect that I am to be bound by what such a fellow as Roe says, so that I can feel my way, and find out exactly what will take best, and alter my principles accordingly.

Meantime I can go about from house to house, and tell each man I see, whatever story I think is most likely to catch him, and if any of them compare notes afterwards, and find out that I have been telling different stories in different places, it is very easy to say they have misunderstood my meaning, more than

brought the copy to office; don't know who got the addresses after they were printed; Foster Ham set up the type; don't know where he got the manuscript; it was set up from writing; don't know where writing came from.

Cross-examined.—On cross-examination, he could not say distinctly that he printed that very document but felt satisfied that he printed the "address."

Foster Ham, sworn.—I am Foreman of the Express office; I saw addresses like the document shown in the Express office; when questioned whether he knew where they were printed and whether he saw the original manuscript, he refused to answer, saying the evidence would tend to convict himself. Don't know who examined the proof; didn't see any one at the Express office to examine the proof; don't know who brought original copy to the office; don't know who got the addresses; don't know where they were delivered; have had some conversation with Mr. Scott about the trial; can't say what was said; can't say whether my evidence would criminate Mr. Scott; believe to answer questions asked would tend to criminate myself.

W. S. Williams, sworn.—Had one of those addresses, got it from a boy; don't know his name.

Davis Miller, sworn.—I saw one of those addresses that I read; it was thrown over my shoulder as I was sitting at my desk; didn't turn round to see who threw it but think it was Isaiah Abrams; never saw any of them in the Express office; don't know how many Abrams had; never saw an article like this in writing; never saw anyone with any particular number.

David Kelly, sworn.—I was employed last Saturday to distribute documents; didn't read them; Neil McCullough employed me and paid me.

The case was then adjourned until the Wednesday following at 10 a. m.

Second Day,

Wednesday, July 10th.

D. H. Preston, Esq., acting as counsel for prosecution.

Neil McCullough, sworn.—Live in N. Fredericksburgh, near Napanee; know David Kelly; I recollect employing Kelly to circulate addresses; the heading was like this one; I suppose they were addresses purporting to be issued by Mr. Hooper. Never read them.

Where did you get these addresses? I did not get these addresses from Scott, or any of his employees. Madden, I object to that question, it is not relevant to issues of this charge.

David Kelly to distribute addresses on Market. I think it was Friday or Saturday week. I am not positive as to the day. Nobody paid me to employ this man. I got them in a private unoccupied office. I instructed Kelly to give to any respectable looking man he met. I paid him cash, 25 cents of Majesty's coin. I circulated about a half a dozen within a circle of 10 miles. Nobody engaged me. Nobody asked me to circulate these addresses, or employ anyone to do so. When I went into the office and got these papers, I supposed they were Mr. Hooper's addresses. They were printed. Don't know how many I got—an handful. Got half-a-dozen at same place before this. No one delivered these to me. The office was vacant. Don't know who owns it. Don't know the name of street, but I am one of you and I'll show you. I believe there was a chair and a table in the office. There was no one in it. I know where the Brisco House. The unoccupied office was near it. It was not on Dundas St. I know where the big mill is. I know the street running northerly from river towards the railway track. Can't say office is on that street. Don't know the name of the street. I know where the Express office is. It was not in the same block as Express Office. It was near that block. It was about 8 or 9 a.m. The office is not in any of the streets from Selden's grocery to Brisco House yard. It was not in any of the buildings between Hufnagel's corner and the canal. It was men there. Can't give date that I the order. Left order in the morning and got cards in the afternoon. I believe this address was Mr. Hooper. This is one of the 200 cards I got print to the best of my knowledge.

Richard Higley—Am printer. Ki Mr. Scott. I suppose he is proprietor Express. I worked in Express a week last Saturday. I worked three days Saturday, Wednesday and Thursday. I saw an address something like that in blacksmith shop. Don't know where was printed. Didn't set any type for I am not familiar with the type in Express office. Had no conversation with Mr. Scott about the address.

Cross-examined.—The foreman employed me to work in Express. I no bargain with Mr. Scott.

Isaiah Abrams, sworn.—Live in Napanee. Know Mr. Scott. Frequently the Express office on business. I seen documents like the one shown. First one a week ago last Saturday. So one brought it into Mr. Geddes' office. It was very near noon, as I was going up to dinner on same day saw some the market. After that saw other. Some came into the office some days after. I never gave one to Mr. Miller my knowledge, but they might have been wrapped into a parcel and sent by without my seeing them. Never saw address of that kind in manuscript type. Never took any such document to any office to be printed. Never a supply to my knowledge.

Davis Miller, recalled, and met repeated his former evidence.

H. L. Geddes, sworn.—Live in Napanee. Have seen copies of the address. Saw them first a week ago Friday last my office. There was a small bundle them, perhaps 100. They were addressed to me. Don't know who brought them to my office. Was not present when they were brought there. This was 2 p. m. Don't know where they came from. I couldn't say whether I expected a parcel of that ture, but didn't know what it was to contain. A person told me it would come to my office. Didn't tell me what it was. Don't know whether it came from printing office or not. I only received one parcel of this kind. I don't know whether any one was there when it came. Had some conversation with Mr. Scott about this, about that time. Had conversation before it was issued. I ferred it was printed at Express office but did not know. Mr. Scott never told me it was printed there. Never saw manuscript or type. Happened to see Mr. Scott and had conversation with him on Saturday. Think that was the conversation I had with Mr. Scott. Didn't say what became of the bundle. Don't know who ordered these to be printed. I don't know whether it was paid for. Decline to answer what I furnished any to Neil McCullough distribute. Think he got some of them to distribute when they were at my office. He was not paid for distributing the Young Kelly did not get any out of my office. I know Scott did not give directions as to the distribution.

Cross-examined.—Had conversation with Mr. Scott on Saturday. He didn't tell me he printed them, nor told me where they were printed. I only infer it as others have probably done.

To Mr. Preston—Mr. Mord told me a parcel would come to the office. Didn't say where it was coming from. Don't know whether the parcel referred to came at all. I think I expected it to come from Express office, but had no reason therefore beyond mere suspicion.

Charles Williams—Am printer. Work in the Express office. Been in Express since November. Saw some of the documents. Saw one a week ago last Friday. Think it was in the afternoon. Only saw one copy which was lying on the table in composing room. Saw the form in type on the imposing stone. Express office on Saturday morning. Couldn't be positive who set it up. Didn't see it when it was being set. I didn't distribute it. I don't know who worked it off. I saw the manuscript on a sober and industrious is bound to do in this country, and he is not more deserving of credit than thousands of others, who have been equally successful.

To compare Mr. Hooper with a gentleman who has by close personal application, and the thorough study of the politics of the country, placed himself in one of the most responsible positions in the Government of the day, is the height of absurdity. Mr. Cartwright is acknowledged to be an able politician, he is a finished speaker, and on any and every occasion can command the respect of his associates in the House of Commons, or the attention of the people on the hustings. He is bound so long as he remains in Parliament, to be a leader in conducting the affairs of the nation, and we consider it far more to the credit and interest of this constituency, that such a man should be their representative, than we should send a man to Parliament, who has at best but very limited experience or knowledge of the politics of the day. To witness the appearance of the two men on a public platform, and compare the clear concise and statesman-like utterances of the one, with the brief, disjointed sentences of the other, is all that is required to convince anyone of the relative fitness of the two gentlemen for the office. At the best, the Opposition candidate, if returned, would remain but an influential unit in Sir John's following, while the other as the Finance Minister of the day, commands the respect and attention of the whole people, and stands before the assembled wisdom of the Dominion an honor to the constituency which he represents. The contrast is too striking not to bear weight with the people of Lennox.

THAT FORGERY.

Evidence Produced at the Examination.

We give below the evidence as taken at the examination of the editor of this journal for uttering a forged document purporting to be Mr Hooper's address to the electors of Lennox.

The following information was duly sworn to before Luke C. Spafford, one of Her Majesty's Justice of the Peace for Lennox and Addington.

INFORMATION.

CANADA. The information Province of Ontario (and complaint of of, of Lennox & Addington) Edmund Hooper of the Town of Napanee, in the said County of Lennox and Addington, taken and made on oath before the undersigned, one of Her Majesty's Justice of the Peace, in and for the said County of Lennox & Addington, this twenty-ninth day of May, in the year of our Lord, One Thousand Eight Hundred and Seventy-eight, at Napanee, in the said County, do saith that W. C. Scott, of the Town of Napanee, in the said County, who is unlawfully and wilfully at the said Town of Napanee, on Friday, the Twenty-eighth day of May, instant, uttered a forged document, knowing the same to be forged, to wit: an address to the electors of the Riding of Lennox, purporting to be signed by me, the said Edmund Hooper, being contrary to the form of the character in such case made and provided.

Taken and sworn before me, is day and year above mentioned.

L. C. SPAFFORD, J. P.

EDMUND HOOPER.

At 5 p. m. the case was called at the own Hall, Napanee, a large number of spectators being present. Mr. Spafford is associated with him Charles Dols, Esq., of North Fredericksburgh, and other magistrates were asked by the presiding justice to take a seat on the bench but declined. At the request of the defendant's counsel Andrew Asker, Esq., came forward, and others notified their willingness to take part in the examination but it was decided by the justice in charge of the case to limit the number to three.

Mr. E. J. Hooper, acted as counsel for the complainant and Mr. J. H. Madden, of Deroche and Madden, for the case.

and if I should happen to get into Parliament, I could pay all Sessional expenses out of my travelling allowance, and save the indemnity which would be a big thing for me; and that you see, I have nothing to lose and everything to gain by this Election, and I can't be beaten any worse than I was the last time.

As to my plans for the Campaign they are very simple. I know better than to face Mr. Cartwright at public meetings, as my brother and Mr. Grange did. Of course, if I tried to explain my views on general politics, or on financial questions, I could not expect that even the stupidest of my supporters, could help seeing that I did not know what I was talking about, and beside I would not be able to put aside one man that I was a Free Trader, and another that I was an out and out Protectionist, and another that I only went for a revenue tariff, and a re-adjustment of the taxation (whatever that means.) I have therefore arranged that Mr. A. H. Roe should go about and speak for me.

It is true, Roe says, he don't much more than half understand these questions, but then, I don't understand them at all, and besides if he says anything that will not quite go down with the people, nobody can expect that I am to be bound by what such a fellow as Roe says, so that I can feel my way, and find out exactly what will take best, and alter my principles accordingly.

Meantime I can go about from house to house, and tell each man I see, whatever story I think is most likely to catch him, and if any of them compare notes afterwards, and find out that I have been telling different stories in different places, it is very easy to say they have misunderstood my meaning, more particularly as I mean nothing, except to catch their votes anyhow I can.

For all these reasons, Gentlemen, I now beg most respectfully to solicit your support for the representation of this County.

You may be quite sure I will do all I can to attain my ends, and if I do get in, you will have the proud satisfaction of knowing that your member for the Dominion, will be as insignificant as as your member of the Local Legislature, and that in all probability there is not a voter amongst you all (if he will keep quiet and vote for Sir John) who would not make every bit as good a member as

Your devoted humble servant,
EDMUND HOOPER."

Cross-examination of Mr. Hooper—That is not my signature appended to this printed document. Don't know whether that is a copy or the original forgery. I never wrote the address. Swear no one ever wrote it on my behalf. There is no truth in it. I am not sixty years old. It is partially true that I have never had any political experience. There is not a word of truth in the address from beginning to end. Got the first copy on the Market Place on Saturday. Saw a copy night before at my place. A gentleman brought it there and asked me not to divulge his name. Refused for a time to answer who brought the copy to his place but on being pressed for a reply said it was Mr. Easton, Town Treasurer. Don't know who distributed the addresses. A number believed it to be my address. Numbers came to my store and asked me if it was my address. Could not remember anyone person in particular. Hundreds of my friends told me they believed it was my address. I didn't order any one to print for me. Didn't distribute or give any of them away to my knowledge. Know Mr. Cousins. Did not give him one. My errand boy gave him one which he had in his possession, to read in my shop. Don't know there must have been an original to this printed address. Not a single thing in

James Osborne, Sworn—Live in Nap.

Where did you get these addresses? I did not get these addresses from Scott, or any of his employees. Madden—I object to that question, it is not relevant to the case of this charge.

Kelly to distribute addresses on Market. I think it was Friday or Saturday week. I am not positive as to the day. Nobody paid me to employ this man. I got them in a private unoccupied office. I instructed Kelly to give to any respectable looking man he met. I paid him cash, 25 cents of Majesty's coin. I circulated about a half a dozen within a circle of 10 miles. Nobody engaged me. Nobody asked me to circulate these addresses, or employ anyone to do so. When I went into the office and got these papers, I supposed they were Mr. Hooper's addresses. They were printed. Don't know how many I got—an handful. Got half a dozen at same place before this. No one delivered these to me. The office was vacant. Don't know who owns it. Don't know the name of the street, but I am sure of you and I'll show you. I believe there was a chair and a table in the office. There was no one in it. I know where the Brisco House. The unoccupied office was near it. It was not on Dundas St. I know where the big mill is. I know the street running northerly from river towards the railway track. Can't say office is on that street. Don't know the name of the street. I know where the Express office is. It was not in the same block as Express Office. It was near that block. It was about 8 or 9 a.m. The office is not in any of the offices from Selden's grocery to Brisco House yard. It was not in any of the buildings between Hoffman's corner and the canal. It was not in Mr. Scott's office, nor in any place in connection with his office. When pressed to answer where he got addresses, he refused to answer, as he believed it would implicate himself, and the question was not relevant to Mr. Scott's case. I delivered documents to David Kelly. Don't know who else. I gave one to Mr. Post, of N. Fredericksburgh. Don't remember giving to anyone else. I was riding behind Mr. Blawie's team in the country when I went to Post. There were three of us—Mr. Lewis and Charles Lane, were of the party. We were going to a political meeting at Woodloch's School House. I am not positive as to the day of the week. There were several teams. It was in the evening. I had some half-a-dozen addresses with me. I distributed some at the meeting. I got no instructions from anyone to distribute these documents. I think Mr. Scott was at this meeting. He didn't ride in the carriage with me. I never had any talk with Mr. Scott respecting this. Mr. Scott was not aware that I distributed these documents. I know him to talk to him. I handed them to my friends only. Just distributed them for the fun of the thing. I only attended this one meeting. I take a lively interest in politics.

Cross Examination.—Didn't get any of the documents of Mr. Scott, or from any of his employees, nor in the buildings in which his office is situated. Don't know where they were printed. Took upon myself to get the documents distributed, and paid for it out of my own pockets. Never saw one in Mr. Scott's possession, nor did I see him distribute any. I know Mr. Scott by sight. I never had any talk with Scott concerning this document, either before or since they were issued. Did not get one in any part of the Express Office.

Re-examined.—Know where Express Office is. I know Mr. Scott, Armstrong, and all the others that work in the Express, by sight.

Adjourned for dinner.

Neal McCullough, re-called.—I do not know in what part of the street the office is situated. I don't know whether it is on the same side of the street as Express office. I don't know for certain that it is on same street. It was not in the Brisco ferred it was printed at Express office, but did not know. Mr. Scott never told me it was printed there. Never saw the manuscript or type. Happened to meet Mr. Scott and had conversation with him on Saturday. Think that was the first conversation I had with Mr. Scott. Declined to say what became of the printed. Don't know who ordered these to be printed. I don't know whether it has been paid for. Decline to answer whether I furnished any to Neil McCullough to distribute. Think he got some of them to distribute when they were at my office. He was not paid for distributing them. Young Kelly did not get any out of my office. I know Scott did not give any directions as to the distribution.

Cross examined.—Had conversation with Mr. Scott on Saturday. He did not tell me he printed them, nor told me where they were printed. I only inferred it as others have probably done.

To Mr. Preston—Mr. Morden told me a parcel would come to the office. Didn't say where it was coming from. Don't know whether that parcel referred to came at all. I think I expected it to come from Express office, but had no reason therefor beyond mere suspicion.

Charles Williams—Am printer. Work in the Express office. Been in Express since November. Saw some of these documents. Saw one a week ago last Friday. Think it was in the afternoon. Only saw one copy which was lying on the table in composing room. Saw the form in type on the imposing stone in Express office on Saturday morning. Couldn't be positive who set it up. Didn't see it when it was being set. I did not distribute it. I don't know who worked it off. I saw the manuscript on a case where usually put for setting up the type. I did not set up any of the type. Don't know who worked at the case. Didn't see the copy brought into the office, nor see it given out to be set up. Did not see the manuscript after Friday. That was the only time I saw it. Don't know what has become of it. Don't know that Mr. Scott was in the office when it was set up. Copy is frequently brought directly into composing room without being taken into Mr. Scott's private office. Don't know that Mr. Scott knew of this job being in the office. Don't know whose writing it was. Don't know who brought the copy to the office or composing room. Mr. Scott gave no directions about it to my knowledge.

Cross examined.—Work very frequently comes into the office without Mr. Scott's knowledge. Did not hear Scott give any instructions as to the printing of this document. He was not in the room where it was set up to my knowledge. The document was not in Mr. Scott's handwriting. Don't know whether Mr. Scott ever saw this document. There was no secrecy or other difference in the printing of this document, from any ordinary job work. Person that brings the job in, very often reads the proof. I read proof ordinarily. I read the proof of this document. The manuscript is usually put on file. Left the copy where it was found on the table. I don't know who read the proof besides myself. I read the printed copy and compared it with the manuscript. No one assisted me. No one instructed me to read this proof. I did it as part of my duty. Armstrong usually works jobs of this kind. Have not looked for the copy since it was set up. Don't know how many were printed. Don't know who sent them out of the office. The manuscript is not always retained in the office, but is sometimes sent back if so instructed by persons who orders job. It is not my duty to put it on file. It is the duty of the person who sets the job.

Hugh Ralston, sworn.—I saw one of those addresses on the table at Mr. Goddes' office last Saturday. Don't know who brought it there.

Examination adjourned till Saturday, at 2:30 p.m.

TABLE 1

Never read them.
Did these addresses? These addresses from Scott, employees, Madden, I question, it is not relevant charge.
to distribute addresses on it. It was Friday or Saturday not positive as to the paid up to employ this in a private unoccupied Kelly to give to any king may be met. I paid out of Majesty's coin. I it had a dozen within a of. Nobody engaged me, me to distribute these ad- apply may be do so, to the office and got these and they were Mr. Hooper. They were printed, many I got—an hand- dozen at same place to be delivered the to e was vacant. Don't know. Don't know the name of ne age of you and I'll believe there was a chair the office. There was no know where the Brisco employed office was near on Dundas St. I know mill is. I know the street only from river towards the.
Can't say office is on Don't know the name of the where the Express office in the same block as. It was near that block, on 2nd and. The office is the office from Seiden's see House yard. It was f the buildings between ner and the canal. It was it's office, not in any place with his office. When eigh where he got addresses, nswer, as he believed it to himself, and the ques- levant to Mr. Scott's case, e came to David Kelly, he don't. I gave one to Mr. e, he don't. Don't re- ce anyone else. I was f Mr. Hooper's team in on I don't know. There e Mr. Lewis and Charles the party. We were go- al meeting at Woodcock's.
I am not positive as to work. There were several in the evening. I had zen addresses with me. I me at the meeting. I got s from any one to distribute its. I think Mr. Scott was g. He didn't ride in the me. I never had any talk ott respecting this. Mr. aware that I distributed nter. I know him to I handed them to my Just distributed them for thing. I only attended ng. I take a lively interest nation.—Didn't get any of of Mr. Scott, or from any es, nor in the buildings in e is situated. Don't know ere printed. Took upon the documents distributed, out of my own pockets. e in Mr. Scott's possession, im distribute any. I know ght. I never had any t concerning this document, or e they were issued, e in any part of the Ex-d.—Know where Express now Mr. Scott, Armstrong, others that work in the ght.
ough, he called.—I do not part of the street the office don't know whether it is do of the street as Express know for certain that it is. It was not in the Brisco

ferred it was printed at Express office, but did not know. Mr. Scott never told me it was printed there. Never saw the manuscript or type. Happened to meet Mr. Scott and had conversation with him on Saturday. Think that was the first conversation I had with Mr. Scott. Declined to say what became of the bundle. Don't know who ordered these to be printed. I don't know whether it has been paid for. Decline to answer whether I furnished any to Neil McCullough to distribute. Think he got some of them to distribute when they were at my office. He was not paid for distributing them. Young Kelly did not get any out of my office. I know Scott did not give any directions as to the distribution.
Cross examined.—Had conversation with Mr. Scott on Saturday. He did not tell me he printed them, nor tell me where they were printed. I only inferred it as others have probably done.
To Mr. Preston.—Mr. Morden told me a parcel would come to the office. Didn't say where it was coming from. Don't know whether that parcel referred to came at all. I think I expected it to come from Express office, but had no reason therefor beyond mere suspicion.
Charles Williams.—Am printer. Work in the Express office. Been in Express since November. Saw some of these documents. Saw one a week ago last Friday. Think it was in the afternoon. Only saw one copy which was lying on the table in composing room. Saw the form in type on the imposing stone in Express office on Saturday morning. Couldn't be positive who set it up. Didn't see it when it was being set. I did not distribute it. I don't know who worked it off. I saw the manuscript on a case where usually put for setting up the type. I did not set up any of the type. Don't know who worked at the case. Didn't see the copy brought into the office, nor see it given out to be set up. Did not see the manuscript after Friday. That was the only time I saw it. Don't know what has become of it. Don't know that Mr. Scott was in the office when it was set up. Copy is frequently brought directly into composing room without being taken into Mr. Scott's private office. Don't know that Mr. Scott knew of this job being in the office. Don't know whose writing it was. Don't know who brought the copy to the office or composing room. Mr. Scott gave no directions about it to my knowledge.
Cross examined.—Work very frequently comes into the office without Mr. Scott's knowledge. Did not hear Scott give any instructions as to the printing of this document. He was not in the room where it was set up to my knowledge. The document was not in Mr. Scott's handwriting. Don't know whether Mr. Scott ever saw this document. There was no secrecy or other difference in the printing of this document, from any ordinary job work. Person that brings the job in, very often reads the proof. I read proof ordinarily. I read the proof of this document. The manuscript is usually put on file. Left the copy where it was found on the table. I don't know who read the proof besides myself. I read the printed copy and compared it with the manuscript. No one assisted me. No one instructed me to read this proof. I did it as part of my duty. Armstrong usually works jobs of this kind. Have not looked for the copy since it was set up. Don't know how many were printed. Don't know who sent them out of the office. The manuscript is not always retained in the office, but is sometimes sent back if so instructed by persons who orders job. It is not my duty to put it on file. It is the duty of the person who sets the job.
Hugh Ralston, sworn.—I saw one of these addresses on the table at Mr. Geddes' office last Saturday. Don't know who brought it there.
Examination adjourned till Saturday, at 2:30 p.m.

"cept any kind of labor suitable to their sex by means of which they can earn their bread. In behalf of the families of sober, industrious, and honest men suffering for want of employment, the rich should be cheerful givers."
These are but a sample of the evidences of hand to prove that while the National Policy secures enormous taxes in the States it secures neither high wages nor steady employment. Yet in defiance of established facts of this kind Mr. Hooper and his organ persist in holding up the N. P. as certain to secure for Canada what it has utterly failed to secure for either France or the United States.—Hamilton Times.

INSOLVENT ACT of 1875, And amending Acts thereto.

In the Matter of THE Napanee Gas Company, Insolvents. Gas Works FOR SALE.

BY VIRTUE of the powers vested in me as Assignee of the Estate of the above named Insolvent, I hereby give notice, that the Real Estate hereinafter described, will be sold at the time and a place mentioned below, viz:—
The property in the Town of Napanee, in the County of Lennox and Addington, and Province of Ontario, known as the Napanee Gas Company's Works, consisting of a lot of Land, known as Water Lot, Number Nineteen, on the South side of Water Street, in the said Town of Napanee, extending to the River, with an excellent Wharf, with the Gas Works thereon, erected with all the required appliances for the Manufacture and supply of Gas, with the Mains, Services, Meters, and all appurtenances belonging to said Works.
These Works are complete throughout, and first-class in every respect, with a holder capacity of 15,000 cubic feet, over 3 miles of Mains and about 100 services, supplying a superior quality of Gas to said town.
The buildings are built substantially of Brick, with a solid stone foundation.
The sale will take place on the premises in said Town of Napanee, on TUESDAY, the Sixth day of August next, at the hour of 10 o'clock in the forenoon.
A. B. STEWART,
Assignee.

BEFORE AND AFTER

ANTI-FAT

The GREAT REMEDY for COOPLENCE.

ALLAN'S ANTI-FAT

is purely vegetable and perfectly harmless. It acts upon the food in the stomach, preventing its being converted into fat. Taken in accordance with directions, it will reduce a fat person from two to five pounds per week.

"Coopulence is not only a disease itself, but the harbinger of others." So wrote Hippocrates two thousand years ago, and what was true then is none the less so today.

Sold by druggists, or sent, by express, upon receipt of $1.50. Quarter-dozen $4.00. Address,
BOTANIC MEDICINE CO.,
Proprietors, Buffalo, N. Y.

(Vert by Day Train, and to Montreal, Adolphustown in five hours after arrival.)
Printed notices containing full information as to conditions of travel, may be seen, and blank forms, which may be obtained at the Post Office at Adolphustown, Panna and Napanee.
R. W. BARTER,
Post Office Inspector
Kingston, 28th June 1875.

HAIR JEWELRY!

NAPANEE.

MRS. VONKOE.

(formerly Mrs. Jackson) has opened to the public, that she is prepared to make and execute in the latest and most fashionable style for by which the hair of ladies and gentlemen is fully woven and mounted in gold, silver, and the most precious stones, and in the form of gentlemen's watches, fobs, rings and pins, lockets, necklaces, brooches, earrings, etc. A large stock of all the above and all party or national orders. All mountings solid gold, silver or platinum.
HAIR JEWELRY,
LADIES HAIR WORK
in all its branches as usual. Customers may over with the roots of hair in any desired direction, something that cannot be done elsewhere in Napanee. Several hundred sets on hand.
Room No. 4, (opposite public harbor.)
PAISLEY HOUSE.

INVALIDS' HOTEL.

The very large number of Invalids who daily visit Buffalo, from every quarter of the United States and Canada, that they may consult the J.V. PRITCHARD, and the widely celebrated Faculty of Specialists in Medicine and Surgery, is such a well known fact, and necessary that the founder of this institution should provide a place on a grand and commodious scale for their entertainment and comfort.

ADVANTAGES OFFERED.—The Invalids' Hotel is more complete in its appointments than any similar institution in the world. It is situated in the heart of the most beautiful city in the world, the City of Buffalo, and is within a few minutes' ride of the Erie, Niagara, River, and the Great Lakes.

Being situated in the city, it is a great advantage to patients, as they can be attended to by a large staff of medical and surgical specialists, and a patent safety passenger elevator to carry patients to and from the different floors, is provided with all kinds of approved bath, and as a well appointed kitchen, it is a well-appointed restaurant and bowling alley, afford proper means of recreation.

CHRONIC DISEASES.—All persons, whether requiring medical, surgical, or mechanical treatment, come within the province of our special facilities.

DISEASES OF WOMEN.—In particular, the facilities of this institution, as a special hospital, regards the remedial means and application for the cure of all these chronic diseases peculiar to females. The employment, in moderation, of hydro-electricity, electro-therm, and other apparatus, is in many cases an inviolable rule, and the remedial means to which we resort in such cases, is in proportion to the surface, general shampooing, with movements and night calisthenic exercises, to purify and equalize the circulation of the blood in the system, relieve congested parts, improve digestion, and strengthen the muscles, produce important beneficial results in all cases to which these means are applicable. No experimenting is resorted to in the treatment. The most approved medicines are carefully employed, and the judicious regulation of the diet, to suit the condition of the patient, the thorough ventilation of the sleeping apartment, the cheering influence of music, social intercourse, innocent games for amusement, and all these agencies which tend to arouse the mind of the patient from dependency, and thus promote recovery, are not neglected.

VERY OLD DISEASES.—Paralysis, Palsy, Epilepsy, Chorea (St. Vitus's Dance), and other nervous affections, receive the attention of our Faculty in this specialty, by which the greatest relief is attained and the most happy results obtained.

LUNG DISEASES.—This division of the practice in the Invalids' Hotel is very ably managed by a physician of mature judgment and skill. Bronchitis, Throat, and Lung Diseases are very largely treated in this department, and with results which have been highly gratifying to both physicians and patients.

EXERCISE AND RAIL.—Special attention is given to the delicate operations on the eye and ear, a distinguished oculist and aurist being under engagement to conduct this branch of the practice.

Invalids arriving in the city and desiring to consult us, should come directly to the Hotel. It is easily accessible by carriage, omnibus, or street cars. Mr. L. V. PRITCHARD, our Agent, is on duty during the day, and is ready to deliver passengers and baggage with security and dispatch.

Address R. V. PRITCHARD, M. D., World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

THE EXPRESS.

NAPANEE, JULY 12, 1878.

—The report of the Public School Examination for June have been crowded out of this issue.

Lacrosse.

A lacrosse match between all comers, is announced to come off this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, on the lacrosse ground. Plenty of sport is expected.

Above Zero.

The thermometer registered 92 deg. in the shade on Tuesday afternoon last. Some signs of a thaw if the present temperature continues.

Refreshing.

The fire brigade were out on Thursday evening last to test their apparatus and very thoughtfully chose Warner street in front of our office as a base for operations. All worked to a charm.

Appointments.

At a special meeting of the Lennox and Addington Agricultural Society on Saturday last, C. B. Huffman, Esq., was appointed as a judge of sheep, and Mr. B. Briscoe Jr., judge of swine, for the Provincial Exhibition.

P. E. County Railway.

A number of the directors of the Prince Edward County Railway Company, met the contractor, Mr. Manning, on Monday week, at the Daboe House Belleville, to consider matters in connection with the above road. We understand it is Mr. Manning's intention to commence business at once, and he purposes to have the line in running order by July first 1879.

Examinations.

During the past week the second class teachers', Intermediate, and Entrance Examinations have been in progress, and ended on Thursday afternoon last. Twenty-three Intermediate candidates were in attendance, and about sixty for entrance. The result of the examination is not yet known. On Monday next at two o'clock the examinations for third class teachers certificates will commence.

Gips-eyes.

Our town has again been the rendezvous of the nomadic tribe during the past week, and the usual number were galled by their shrewdness. We learn of a man who was not satisfied with his "swap" and wanted to exchange again. The questioner was willing with a cool V to boot. But such is human nature and as long as a person can be found willing to trade "hawes" just so long will they be hood-winked.

New Steamer.

A new steamer the City of Belleville has been placed on the Picton and Belleville route. The boat was built at St. Catharines during the past winter and is owned by Messrs Bogart and Leavens, of Belleville. She is a credit to her proprietors, and as being intended to run at a speed of twelve miles an hour or more, will probably secure a fair share of the public patronage. It is evident the steam boat men are determined that there shall be no monopoly of that business on the bay route.

For Montreal.

A party of about twenty including Mr. W. D. Madden, Grand master of the Prentice Boys Lodge of British Columbia started for Montreal yesterday from this town and the adjoining county, to be present at the Orange walk which is to take place to-day at that city. They go in response to a telegram received by the county Master that the Mayor of Montreal

Improved.

The grand entrance to the Fishbourne House has been improved during the past week by the addition of a new door and casings. A new floor has also been added to the list of improvements.

Orange Excursion.

The new excursion steamer City of Belleville is expected to leave Bowsey's wharf this (Friday) morning with a large crowd for Picton where the annual orange walk is to take place. Trenton, Belleville and Napanee are to be well represented. The Orangemen, Young Britons and True Blues, from this place expect to take part, and as the Napanee Brass Band has been engaged for the occasion, a pleasant time is anticipated. Tickets for the round trip, 50 cents. The Flight will also leave the dock at her usual time for Picton, and will carry passengers, for the same rates as the above.

The Justice Mill.

On Saturday last James McGahany and William Means were brought before Justice Foran on a charge of being drunk and disorderly. A fine of $1 and $3.40 costs was administered, and ground out of their possession by the jurat.

Robert Bailey, of the schooner Donation, was arrested on Saturday afternoon last by our efficient "Jerry," for being drunk and disorderly, and confined to the precincts of the lunch-house until Monday morning, when he appeared before Justice Foran to answer the above charge. He had become over-loaded with the contents of the flowing bowl, on Saturday, and as a consequence his exuberant spirits overflowed, and on being cautioned to keep quiet, declared he would do as he liked. This roused the ire of the official, who promptly informed him that he must keep still or go to limbo. This was unbearable to the man of spirits, and he immediately struck out for freedom, attempting to draw a revolver on the official, hoping thereby to gain his liberty. (The revolver was afterwards found out of his possession.) "Jerry" was more than a match for him, however, and promptly arrested the over-wrought hibernian, but not until he had relieved that officer of two prominent masticators. Bailey was ordered to pay the sum of $5.00 and $3.50 costs, or twenty days in jail. He was obliged to take the latter alternative, hopeful, however, of a speedy release through the agency of his friends.

Personals.

Mr. Marshall Bogart and lady returned home from their Western bridal tour on Saturday. They visited Toronto, Niagara Falls, Chicago, and other places of interest, and were well pleased with their trip.

Rev. Mr. Osborne, of Genesee Conference, will occupy the pulpit of the C. M. Church on Sunday evening next.

Miss Nellie Cook has returned from boarding school, and is spending vacation at her father's. Miss Cook was awarded first prize for proficiency in music, at the close of the examinations.

Mr. Wm. Jamieson and family, of Mill Point, started for the old country on Thursday week, for a visit to friends and relatives.

Mr. Thos. F. Wilson and family, of Washington, D. C., have arrived in Napanee and are stopping at the Campbell House. Mr. Wilson has been appointed consular agent of the Napanee district cicco G. W. Amey, Esq.

Captain Campbell of the steamer Hastings gave us a call on Tuesday last.

Mr. W. H. Lynch, of Danville, Quebec, the temperance advocate is the guest of T. W. Casey Esq.

Miss Sarah and Almyra Boyle have gone to stay the summer on a visit to her Brother in Law, H. H. Otten, MUD HILL FARM.

July the 8. 78.

MISTUR EDITOR,—

"Klee the track Muddonnell's comin,
Wish him ball an bat;
His line well crossed with fusel oil
An a big brick in his hat."

—Wottee's Hymns, Whooper's Edition, Page 74, p. m.

At last Sur Muddonnell haz determined to look aftar his karacter.

Now hide your heds oll ye Reform Party Editurs, kraw in yoer holes oll ye, truth-tellin perlitikal noospapur skippblers, Muddonnell iz after yoo with a big iron foot. This last quarter uv the 19th century, begins tu blaze with the fortitlenins uv his rath an vengeance.

Take tu deep wotter oll ye Bath kat fish an suckers, fur the day of blood an thunder am a comin.

Hide your heds oll ye suspekktid awthors uv the Mud Hill korrespondense, take the fast train fur Sundown and put out. Let thet chap at Morven, an thet tuther feller tu Olessey, pack ther socks an "go West," ef thay woud save ther bacon.

An let them skollarly fellers in yoer town Mr. XPRESS, wat hav bin looked onto az Mr. "Wood-Syde," yoose ther vakashun az a good tyme tu maik a tyme retreet tu the shades uv sum big woods, till the storm uv Sur Muddonnell's indignashun haz petered out, an perhaps Mr. Wood-Syde hisself hed better remove from Mud Hill, an taik his bobby and boots over to the Sentinel in Paris fur a few weeks, fur the perlitikal sky iz a beginnin tu blaze with Muddonnell bum shells, an ther iz a smell uv powder and Torey whiskee into the atmosphere.

Muddonnell now purposes to go tu the depths uv the pokits uv Reform Party Editurs, and stuff hiz own "Veezel Skin" from the funds he hopes tu find in thairn! an so press the prezrent perlitikal kontest tu the bitter end.

Do not forgit gentleman, that in 1872 Sir Hugh Allan Vally'd Muddonnell's karacter at $50,000 Dollars, (thet wuz a good tyme fur Sur John tu sell out but he didn't no it.)—$350,000 iz a purty big pile fur a man az devoid uv a preposessin fase az Muddonnell iz, tu sa nuthin uv thet orful tatur hole into hiz kountenance jest below his nasal proboscis.

"Stand frum under" oll ye first-rait quill drivers! The Toronto Globe iz beneath Sur John's notis now, fur it iz only small fry, he iz now fishin fur little mud kats az it wer. Dad Whoopper, Umbilikum Ro, and them Specks must attend tu the suckers nearer home. It seems thet Muddonnell's spotless Pacific Rule Rode karacter hez been damaged by the Brantford Expositor 10,000 Dollars worth, an wat wuz left uv, hiz fars fame wuz robb'd anuther 10,000 dollars worth by the Guelph Mercury, with quite a number uv utker nayerhoods tu heep frum. Ever sance we got this news in Bath, Joe B— has been a singin those joyfil lines, rit by the rollicken old poick Watts.

"High ding diddle,
Sur John's in the fiddle;
"Them Specks" has flew over the moon,
Dad Whoopper an Ro—
An Jontee you know—
All fine in singin the tune."

Mistur Editor, I perdiet that the tun will run 22 feet wide, an 10 feet deep, wen Muddonnell taiks the witness stand and begins tu aware tu the hevenly highness and bloo sky poorty uv hiz own moral karacter, while at the saim tyme he tries tu cuss strate throo the moral karacter uv Billy Mack Doodle an utthers wot at wop tyme shined az Tory stars uv the fast magnitidue in the hevings uv Muddonnell's government. I notis thet the editurs wot are sood, dont skare wuth a cent at these perceedins, perhaps it may be because thay havvant the saim kommand of munney thet Sir Hugh Allan hed, wen Muddonnell wuz in power. Not bein mutch uv a pollyticker myself I kant say wot may be the reason.

facks, an the whole thing looks an I like a sharp game uv the isoo them pleacare uv the callin the address a forejerry i pose too git up a little toery tu the people see that the Musika uv Wottees Hymns wuz not, thats all. Now gentlemen th wont win votes. The elektor to be blinded by this kind uv a tise—not mutch. Mr. Who better own up, an in future sti Wottees hymns, an sitch help i git from umbilikum Ro, Pean an "them Specks."

Buy the Bay, Mr. Editor, Jethar "th'm Specks" deklares th Kartrite iz re-eklektid, he will kounty—in witch we all sa, A ZELUZURUM! Joe B. an I will Deepe tu see him off shure, bu afore he puts out, send a loe hare tu thet pin-back wot hoofs Mill Heaven tu Bath.

Temperance Lectures.

Mr. W. H. Lynch, of Dan bec, addressed a public meetin Town Hall last evening. Quite number were present, and all w pleased with the address. A was also held at Hamburg on evening last, under the auspice O. G. T., a large number atte were highly edified by th delivered.

Silver Mine.

Cloyne, July 7th

Editor of Express.

DEAR SIR,—It has offer beer of wonder, whether the mot broken country in the rear was of any use? True, it is no use for agriculture purposes, for ber ct acres of arable tracts are timber is fast disappearing l woodsman's axe, nothing is b some places but rocks and hi money which has been expende the political labors of H. M. De P. P.), has often been consider yet it seems that this part of is turning out the most valuab our Dominion. The huge roc bed of precious metals as you w the samples accompanying t Some specimens of stones an taken from the Clark mines, sit the farm of Bebbins Clark, i Master at Cloyne, Addington This is supposed to be one of th mines in the country. The sha are, Alphus Wickwire, and A. J The yield of silver taken from is estimated by essayists to be $ ton of ore. Some experienced r at work in the mine, and have g about 20 feet, and find the lea as they descend, showing an a limited store of rich silver ore. is to be introduced as soon as so that the work may be carried successfully, all that is necessa capital to developa here a rich t the fine metals.

ADOPHUSTOWN

(From an occasional Correspondent)

R. Barker, Post Office Insp again made an appearance, bu in the form of his signature on not as the Daily News of the 4 suggested, that "he ought to photograph to Adolphustown to at by the crowds."

Is Mr. Barker a gentleman? crowds of Adolphustown don't gaze at his picture.

At the Post Office here, is an ment for tenders for carrying between Adolphustown and Na which in describing the route a ping places for changing the reads, via Dorland, (Devils Ell so on. Devil's Elbow, indeed, v ed language for a Government c

Twenty-three were in attendance, and about sixty at entrance. The result of the examination is not yet known. On Monday next at two o'clock the examinations for third class teachers certificates will commence.

Gipseys.

Our town has again been the rendezvous of the nomadic tribe during the past week, and the usual number were gulled by their shrewdness. We learn of a man who was not satisfied with his "awap" and wanted to exchange again. The equestrian was willing with a cool V to boot. But such is human nature and as long as a person can be found willing to trade "hawkes" just so long will they be hood-winked.

New Steamer.

A new steamer the City of Belleville has been placed on the Pictou and Belleville route. The boat was built at St. Catharines during the past winter and is owned by Messrs Bogart and Leavens, of Belleville. She is a credit to her proprietors, and as being intended to run at a speed of twelve miles an hour or more, will probably secure a fair share of the public patronage. It is evident the steam boat men are determined that there shall be no monopoly of that business on the bay route.

For Montreal.

A party of about twenty including Mr. W. D. Madden, Grand master of the Prentice Boys Lodge of British Columbia started for Montreal yesterday from this town and the adjoining county, to be present at the Orange week which is to take place to-day at that city. They go in response to a telegram received by the county Master to the effect that the Mayor of Montreal has refused to protect the Orangemen, and asking them to come prepared to assert their rights.

Silver.

We are in formal that a very paying level of silver has been discovered in one of our back townships, and that preparations are being made for an active working of the mine. Specimens sent to the United States for examination have been found to yield $500 to the ton. An excavation has been made about twenty feet deep, and the lead seems to be widening. Gold has also been found, but not in paying quantities as yet. Considerable excitement prevails in the neighborhood.

Select Excursion.

An excursion is announced to take place on Sunday Afternoon next per steamer Flight, to Pictou and return. The boat will leave the dock at 1 p. m., and arrive in Pictou about half past 3 o'clock, giving excursionists the benefit of a visit of about three hours and a half, returning after church, by moonlight. This promises to be one of the pleasantest excursions of the season. Only a limited number of tickets will be sold.

N. D. C. Band.

A brass band has been successfully organized in connection with the Napanee Dramatic Club, and the beautiful strains of harmony from their practice rooms, demonstrates that they are rapidly growing proficient in the musical repertoire. The band has secured the services of Prof. McNulty, a well-known bandmaster, and we are sure that under his able direction they will, when they make their appearance, compete favorably with any similar organization in this section.

Accident.

Mr. W. Asseltine met with quite a serious accident on Dominion Day while working on a barn a couple of miles north-east of Napanee. The scaffolding on which he was working gave way and precipitated him to the ground, a distance of about twenty feet, inflicting a severe scalp wound in the back part of his head. We are pleased to see that Mr. A. has so far recovered as to be able to walk, hoping thereby to gain liberty. (The revolver was afterwards taken out of his possession.) "Jerry" was more than a match for him, however, and promptly arrested the over-wrought hibernian, but not until he had relieved that officer of two prominent masticators. Bailey was ordered to pay the sum of $5.00 and $8.50 costs, or twenty days in jail. He was obliged to take the latter alternative, hopeful, however, of a speedy release through the agency of his friends.

Personals.

Mr. Marshall Bogart and lady returned home from their Western bridal tour on Saturday. They visited Toronto, Niagara Falls, Chicago, and other places of interest, and were well pleased with their trip.

Rev. Mr. Osborne, of Genesee Conference, will occupy the pulpit of the C. M. Church on Sunday evening next.

Miss Nellie Cook has returned from boarding school, and is spending vacation at her father's. Miss Cook was awarded first prize for proficiency in music, at the close of the examinations.

Mr. Wm. Jamieson and family, of Mill Point, started for the old country on Thursday week, for a visit to friends and relatives.

Mr. Thos. F. Wilson and family, of Washington, D. C., have arrived in Napanee and are stopping at the Campbell House. Mr. Wilson has been appointed consular agent of the Napanee district vice G. W. Amey, Esq.

Captain Campbell of the steamer Hastings gave us a call on Tuesday last.

Mr. W. H. Lynch, of Danville, Quebec, the temperance advocate is the guest of T. W. Casey Esq.

Miss Sarah and Almira Boyle have gone to stay the summer on a visit to her Brother in Law, H. H. Otten, Barrie, above Toronto.

SCHOOL BOARD.

Napanee, July 3rd, 1878.

The Napanee School Board held a regular monthly meeting on Wednesday week in the Council Chamber, the proceedings of which were crowded out of our last issue.

Members present - The Chairman, Dr. Rutten, and Messrs Hodge, Henry, Molloy, Lane, Davis, Jas. Perry, G. H. Perry, McCoy and Webster.

Minutes of previous meeting read and approved.

COMMUNICATIONS.

The following communications were received and read.

From Agnes B Phalen, requesting permission to place her sister as teacher in the public school in her stead while she was absent preparing for a provincial certificate. Filed.

From Miss Lewis, requesting to be appointed as teacher in the public school as there was no vacancy at present, the communication was placed on the file.

From the town clerk asking for a statement of the estimates for school purposes.

The following is the town inspectors summary, which was presented and read:

Name of Teacher	No. at Post.	Average attendance.	No. absent 3 or more days.	No. of tardy days.	No. of cases of sickness.	No. of days lost by scholars.
A. C. Osborne	37	44	47	175	215	115
Miss Galloway	41	39	27	48	115	115
Miss Walsh	41	39	31	21	115	115
Miss Fraser	69	16	47	40	280	280
Miss Anderson	69	14	47	39	237	237
Miss Ballantyne	15	33	25	23	224	224
Miss McCroig	15	09	28	23	385	385
Miss Van Dyck	48	27	27	173	173	173
Miss Aylesworth	23	27	27	27	385	385
Miss Eaton	23	37	41	?	290	290
Miss Phelan	39	37	41	?	290	290
Grand total	350	411	449	443	2,562	2,562

Mr. Rutten reported the steps leading to the west door of the Model School Building to be in a dangerous condition, but on Mr. Lane explaining that the entrance was not used, no action was taken.

The committee on School Property was instructed to examine the school buildings, and report to the Council if any re-he didn't no it.) - $350,000 is a purty big pile for a man as devoid uv a prepossession faze as Muddonnel iz, tu as nuthin uv that orful tarful hole into hiz kountenance jest below hiz nasal proboscis.

"Stand frum under" oil ye furst-rat quill drivers! The Toronto Globe iz beneath Sor John's notis now, far it iz only a small fry, he iz now fishin fur little mud kats az it wer. Dad Whooper, Umbilikum Ro, and them Specks must attend tu the suckers nearer home. It seems tu Muddonnel's spotless Pacific Rale Rode karakter hez been damaged by the Brantford Expositor 10,000 Dollars worth, an wat wuz left av hiz fare fame wuz robbid anuther 10,000 dollars worth by the Guelph Mercury, with quite a number uv other nayberhoods tu heer frum. Ever some we got this news tu Bath, Joe B - haz been a singin those joyful lines, rit by the rollicken old poick Wattle.

"High ding diddle,
Sur John's in the saddle;
"Them Specks" has flew over the moon,
Dad Whooper an Ro -
An Jontee you know -
All line in singin the tune."

Mistur Editur, I predict that the tun will run 22 feet wide, an 10 feet deep, wen Muddonnel talks the witness stand and begins tu aware tu the Levenly highness and bloo sky poverty uv hiz own moral karakter, while at the same tyme he tries tu cuss strate throo the moral karakter uv Billy Mack Doodle an others wot at wop tyme shined as Tory stars uv the fast magnitude in the hevings uv Muddonnel's government. I notis that the editors wot are sood, dont skare worth a cent at these preceedins, perhaps it may be because thay havvant the same kommand of munney that Sir Hugh Allan hed, when Muddonnel wuz in power. Not bein mutch uv a pollyticker myself I kant say wot may be the reason. But we all remember wot a leedin English Journal sed, commentin on Muddonnel's participashun in the Pacific Skandal, it sed: - "The Canadian people owed it tu ther self respect, and the safety uv ther instiitoshuns tu vigilantly guard against Muddonnel ever again being entrusted with the reins uv power" &c., &c. And Canadians hav not forgot that advise and will not forget it. Wy we all know that he haz never expressed any kontrishun fur hiz perlickal sins, on the kontrary, ther is tu day, brass enuff into hiz face to make a 24 gallon kittle, an munny uv hiz settlin in the Eastern townships wood like tu hav won uv ther rise tu boll ther sap into in the spring seashon uv enear boilin.

Mr. Editur, - The days uv korrupsishun an perlickal steelins hav all gone by into Kanada. The people are now too intelligent an moral tu phase men in power who will not be too to the prinserples uv honesty and vertoo. No rum drinkin pollytikal sneak neel soo fur favors at the hand uv our enlightened people. Torcye, izm an the evils that klusterd round it, are no longer, an can never becom a power in this land agin. A higher an better style uv publick morality hez been reechid, an torryism an its spotted an doom'd cheastan, ar e goin sepp tu the deepest grave eyer dug in any kuntry fur the recephun uv perlickal bummers and besotted pollytishuns. So mote it be.

Then let Muddonnel go on, with hiz libel soots - this effort to establish his karakter, reminds me uv the dyin agonies uv an old hoss onto my farm, the last kick wuz the wussap, but he died wen he giv that. In the mean tyme the tories ar livin in hopes uv better tymes tu kum, but ther hopes hav hed but little nurishment into em. A feller kan stand it a short wile onto hopes, but ef he dont hev sumthin more substatnall his mudsane spissal system will kollaps all its flook az Ro's did that nite comin frum the Sibly meetin. Ro hopes - haz been livin entirely onto hopes for a good wile past, with the excepshun of a quart uv dried apples fur breakfast - 2 pint uv warm watter fur dinner, an then lettin the apples swell fur supper, it iz in this wa he manages tu keep up hiz fissikal bread-basketivness. But "them snecks" kant eat

P. P.) has often been considered yet it seems that this part of the is turning out the most valuable our Dominion. The huge rocks bed of precious metals as you will the samples accompanying the Some specimens of stones and taken from the Clark mines, situs the farm of Bobbins Clark, Esq Master at Cloyne, Addington (This is supposed to be one of the mines in the country. The share are, Alpha, Wickwire, and A. L. The yield of silver taken from it is estimated by essayists to be $50 ton of ore. Some experienced min at work in the mine, and have got about 20 feet, and find the lead as they descend, showing an alm limited store of rich silver ore. A is to be introduced as soon as p so that the work may be carried o successfully, all that is necessary capital to develop here a rich tre the fine metals.

ADOLPHUSTOWN

(From an occasional Correspondent)

R. Barker, Post Office Inspector again made an appearance, but in the form of his signature on du not as the Daily News of the 4th suggested, that "he ought to se photograph to Adolphustown to be at by the crowds."

Is Mr. Barker a gentleman? if crowds of Adolphustown don't gaze at his picture.

At the Post Office here, is an advertisement for tenders for carrying the between Adolphustown and Napa which in describing the route among places for changing the sa reads, via Dorland, (Devils Elbow soon. Devil's Elbow, indeed, ver ed language for a Government office use. The place is commonly kuc the "Corners" except by people d of using low language. If the In keeps as far away from that mon the new Post Office if from his el will be well for him.

A School Exhibition of School S No. 1, of this place came off at the Hall, on Friday evening last, Miss I of Napanee, the teacher, was the prising person to get it up, it was lect success, and great credit is du Phelan for the trouble she has be and for the purpose it is to be a Something over $24 was realized, to be applied for procuring a libr the School. Mr. Burrows, School for, was present.

Crops in Adolphustown were known to be as good. The town one mass of hay and grain, the hay half off yet, and the barley and now fit to harvest, and there is n men enough here to take it off with crops suffering. The harvest herp two weeks earlier than in other i the country. Men that are out ployment would do well to come l once, and it would secure for f good long harvest at big wages. are the men that was bewylg Mackenzie for employment? their time. Let them observe the "Make hay while the sun shines."

AN EYE WIT:

Read Carefully.

Samuel Osborne, Sophiasburg, say affected with Dyspepsia for near years, my lungs becoming affected t the last. I was induced to try the onces Remedy. After using three bottles I felt much better and strength rapidly, my health in steadily and rapidly, and when I had three or four bottles more, I was g stored to better health than fo years before. I had been under the ment of a number of physicians befo never received any material aid anti your remedy.

A. McKay, Truro, N. S., says: I very bad with Liver Complaint, b the Shoshones Remedy, and in a mo as well as he had ever been in my am now in business and wish you t me three dozen by steamer.

A. Wood, Consec, says: That tried the Remedy for Liver Complai

The New York "Examiner" says: mother and house keeper must often be a family physician in the many ill and accidents that occur among children and servants. For many of these cases have used Davis' Painkiller, and found it an indispensable article in the medicine box. In diarrhoea, it has been used with perfect cures. For cuts and bruises, it is invaluable.

MUD HILL FARM.

July the 8. 78.

STUR EDITOR,—

"Kleer the track Muddonnell's comin, With his ball an bat : His line wot crossed with fusel oil An a big brick in his hat."

Fottess Hymns, Whooper's Edition, Page 74, p. m.

At last Sur Muddonnell haz 'determind tu look aftar his karaktur. Now hide yoor heds oll ye Reform rty Editurs, krawl into yoor holes oll truth-tellin perlitikal noospapur ibblers, Muddonnell iz aftar yoo with his 'nuptoon'. This last quarter uv the 18thennuv, begins tu blaze with the klittenins uv his rath an vengense. Take tu deep wotter oll ye Bath kat an suckers, fur the day of blood an nder an a comin.

Hide yoor heds oll ye suspekktid thors uv the Mud Hill korrespondense, e the fast train fur Sundown and put . Let the chap at Morven, an thet her feller tu Olessey, pack ther socks "Go West," ef thay woud save ther on.

Let them skollarily fellers into yoor n Mr. Xpress, wad hav bin looked o az Mr. "Wood-Syde," yoose ther tashun az a good tyme tu maik a nely retreat tu the shades uv sum big ds, till the storm uv Sur Muddonn's indignation haz petered out, an haps Mr. Wood-Syde hisself hed bet remove from Mud Hill, an taik his ldy and boots over to the Sentenel Paris fur a few weeks, fur the perkt sky iz a beginnin tu blaze with adonnell bum shells, an ther iz a ill uv powder and Torey whiskee into atmosphere.

Muddonnell now purposes to go tu the this uv the poketts uv Reform Party turs, and stuff biz own "Wcezel Skin" in the funds he hopes tu find in thairn! so press the prezrent perlitikal kon-tu the bitter end.

Do not forget gentleman, that in 1872 Hugh Allan Vally'd Muddonnul s actur at 350,000 Dollars, (thet wuz a d tyme fur Sur John tu sell out but didn't no.)—$350,000 iz a purty big fur a man az devoid uv a preposin fase az Muddonnell iz, tu sa nuthin thet orful tatur hole into hiz kounten-e jest below his nasal proboscis.

"Stand fur under" oll ye furs-rait drivers! The Toronto Globe iz eath Sur John's notis now, fur it iz a small fry, he iz now gshin fur little d kets az it wer. Dad Whooper, blukum Ro, and them Specks must and tu the suckers nearer home. It is thet Muddonnell's spotless Pacific Rode karakter hez been damaged by Brautford Expositor 10,000 Dollars th, az wat wuz left uv, hiz fare fame : robin'd another 10,000 dollars th by the Gueph Murcury, with e a number uv uther nayerhoods tu rump. Ever sence we got this news Bath, Joe B— haz been a singin those ful lines, rit by the rollicken old ck Watts.

"High ding diddle, Sur John's in the diddle: "Them Specks" has flew over the moon, Dad Whooper an Ro— An Jontee you know— All fine in singin the tune."

fistur Editor, I perdict thet the tun run 22 feet deep, an 10 feet deep, Muddonnell taiks the witness stand begins tu sware tu the heavenly high- and bloo sky poorty uv hiz own al karaktur, while at the saim tyme tries in cuss strate throo the moral aster uv Billy Mack Doodle an uthers at wor tyme shined az Tory stars the fast magnitude in the hevings uv adonnell's government. I notis thet editors wot are sood, dont skare th a cent at these preceedins, perhaps may be because thay havvant the saim maund of munney thet Sir Hugh in bed, when Muddonnell wuz in facks, an the whole thing looks to Joe B. an I like a shary game uv the tories, to issout them placards over the Kounty, callin the address a forejerry jest on purpose to git up a little toery fuss, an let the people see that the Musikal Korister uv Wotfess Hymns wuz not ded yet— that's all. Now gentlemen this kourse wot win votes. The elektors are not to be blinded by this kind uv sharp practise—not mutch. Mr. Whooper hed better own up, an in future stick to Mr. Wotfess hymns, an sitch help az he can git from umbilikum Ro, Peanut Grange an "them Specks."

Buy the Buy, Mr. Editor, Joe B. sez, thet "th'm Specks" declares thet ef Mr. Kartrite iz re-eklektid, he will leave the kounty—tu witch we all sa, AMEN, HAL-LELUJURUM! Joe B. an I will be at the Deepe tu see him off shure, but he shoed afore he puts out, send a lock uv hiz bare tu thet pin-back wot hoofed it from Mill Heaven tu Bath.

W. S.

Temperance Lectures.

Mr. W. H. Lynch, of Danville, Quebec, addressed a public meeting in the Town Hall last evening. Quite a large number were present, and all were well-pleased with the address. A meeting was also held at Hamburg on Tuesday evening last, under the auspices of the I. O. G. T., a large number attended and were highly edified by the address delivered.

Silver Mine.

Cloyne, July 7th, 1878.

Editor of Express.

DEAR SIR,—It has often been a matter of wonder, whether the mountainous broken country in the rear townships was of any use? True, it is not of much use for agriculture purposes, for the number of acres of arable tracts are few. The timber is fast disappearing before the woodsman's axe, nothing is being left in some places but rocks and hills. The money which has been expended (though the political labors of H. M. Deroche M. P. P.) has often been considered a lost, yet it seems that this part of the country is turning out the most valuable part of our Dominion. The huge rocks are the bed of precious metals as you will see by the samples accompanying this note. Some specimens of stones and quartz taken from the Clark mines, situated on the farm of Bobbins Clark, Esq., Post Master at Cloyne, Addington County. This is supposed to be one of the richest mines in the country. The share-holders are, Alphus Wickwire, and A. Lawrence. The yield of silver taken from this bed is estimated by essayists to be $500 to the ton of ore. Some experienced miners are at work in the mine, and have gone down about 20 feet, and find the lead widens as they descend, showing an almost unlimited store of rich silver ore. A crusher is to be introduced as soon as practicable so that the work may be carried on more successfully, all that is necessary now is capital to develop here a rich treasure of the fine metals.

ADOPHUSTOWN

(From an occasional Correspondence.)

R. Barker, Post Office Inspector, has again made an appearance, but this time in the form of his signature on duty, and not as the Daily News of the 4th April suggested, that "he ought to send his photograph to Adolphustown to be gazed at by the crowds."

Is Mr. Barker a gentleman? if not the crowds of Adolphustown don't care to gaze at his picture.

At the Post Office here, is an advertisement for tenders for carrying the mail between Adolphustown and Napanee, in which in describing the route and stopping places for changing the same; it reads, via Dorland, (Devils Elbow) and

Two Scenes.

Scene 1st.—Two lovers by moonlight alone. He: "You ought to know I love you, darling." She looks down, blushes and—snuffs. He: "Don't you love me just the least little bit?" She: "Yes (snuff), I love you ever so much (snuff); I could die for you." (Snuff and kisses ad infinitum.)

Scene 2d. One year after marriage. He: "O my found it! I wish you would break yourself of that disgusting habit of snuffing." She (deprecatingly): "I can't help it, Charlie, I've had the catarrh four or five years." He: "Porgive me, dear, I didn't mean to be cross, but in the name Cupid, get some of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. They say it is a sure cure. You know Ed. Brown, they said he was incurable, and it cured him completely." She: "I'll do any thing to please you, Charlie." (Interesting tableau.)

KEEP IT IN THE STABLE.

Restive horses often injure themselves in their stalls or, getting loose, injure another. All horseowners, surgeons, and cattle doctors admit that ARNICA AND OIL LINIMENT is the best external application for the wounds, swelling of the fetlocks, straight, and all contractions of the ligaments and tendons which cause lameness in a horse. Applied early to cases of Blood Spavin, it never fails to relieve the soreness and swelling, and if thoroughly applied often brings about a positive cure. PRICE—25 and 50 CENTS PER BOTTLE.

TRUTH IS STRANGER THAN FICTION. But it is an established TRUTH that BAXTER'S MANDRAKE BITTERS are the best purgative and Liver Regulator ever placed before the Canadian people. They are purely vegetable, contain no mineral nor mercury, but are composed of Nature's purest and best remedies. Are you suffering from any disease that follows a torpid liver, such as Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Bilious Disense, Foul Stomach, Constiveness, or Weakness? These Bitters will do you good.

PRICE, 25 CENTS.

HALF A CENTURY OLD—AND STILL LIVES.

Among the many COUGH REMEDIES offered to the public during the past half-century, none has stood the test so well, and commanded such a large sale as the N. H. DOWNS' Balsamic Elixir. It is now over 45 years since it was first introduced, and it has always maintained a large and steady sale. In all diseases of the Lungs, Chest and Bronchial Tubes, DOWNS' ELIXIR can always be relied upon.

THE CRADLE.

At Richmond, on the 10th inst., the wife of Gilbert McGreer, Esq., of a son.
At Kingston, on the 4th inst., the wife of Percy Clark, Esq., of a son.

THE ALTAR.

At the residence of the brides' father, on the 1st of July, 1878, by Rev. J. H. Chant, Mr. Jonathan F. Yerex, of the township of Hallowell, County of Prince Edward, to Miss Mahala Lochhead, of Camden, County of Addington, daughter of Robert A. Lochhead Esq.
At the residence of the bride's father, on the 3d inst., by the Rev. A. B. Chambers, B. C. L., assisted by the Rev. A. C. Chambers, brothers of the bride, and the Rev. George Washington, M. A., J. M. Hart, Esq., M. D., to Dera, third daughter of Mr. John Chambers, Merchant, Wilfred, Ont.
At St. Mary Magdalens Church, by Rev. J. J. Bogart, Mr. John Shepard, of Violet to Miss Polly Vosche of Napanee.

By Rev. S. Myght at parsonage, July 1st, Wm Wrightman of Castleton to Miss E. Moore of N. Fredericksburg.

THE TOMB

At Napanee, on the 5th inst., Barbara Ann, wife of Mr. Benjamin Treadway, aged 54 years.
At Napanee, on the 25th of June, 1878, Mr. Michael Bezo, aged 83 years, 7 mos. Deceased was interred at Wolfe Island.

To Consumptives.

The advertiser, a retired physician, having providentially discovered while a Medical Missionary in Southern Asia, a very simple vegetable remedy for the speedy cure of consumption, Asthma, Bronchitis

CROQUET

AT REDUCED RATES, AT

Henderson's Bookstore.

RUBBER BALLS, BASE BALLS, LACROSSE BALLS,

AT HENDERSONS,

Dundas St.

Willow Baskets, Satchels & Valises,

In great variety and very cheap, at Hendersons.

Lacrosse Sticks!

Just arrived, at Henderson's Bookstore.

LADIES' BELTS,

New Styles and Cheap, at

Henderson's Bookstore.

Fans at 3 cents, Fans at 7 cents, Fans at 10 cts., Fans at 15 cts., Fans at 20 cts., Fans at 25c., 40s., 50c., 60c., 70c., 90c., $1, $1.50,

Fans at any price, and lots of them at

HENDERSON'S BOOKSTORE.

My Opinion and Betsey Bobbet's, 15c.
Josiah Allen's Wife, or Samantha at the Centennial, 20c.
A Mad Marriage, by May Agnes Fleming, 25c.
Silent and True, by May Agnes Fleming, 25c.
A Terrible Secret, by May Agnes Fleming, 30c.
Macarid, or Altars of Sacrifice, by Augusta J. Evans, 30c.
Beulah, by Augusta J. Evans, 30c.

The Franklin Square Library.

No 1. Is he Popenjoy, by Anthony Trollope, 15c.
No 2. A History of a crime, by Victor Hugo, 10c.
No 3. The Russians of To-day, 10c.
No 4. Paul Knox-Pitman, by John Berwick Harwood, 10c.
No 5. My Hearts in the Highlands, 10c.
No 6. Henriette, 10c.
Other numbers will follow.

Full Stock of that popular 10 cent music still on hand, at

Henderson's Bookstore

donnell bunn shells, an ther is a uv powder and Torey whiskee into a stupor.

adonnell now purposes to go to the is uv the peckits uv Reform Party rs, and stuff his own "Weczel Firm" the funds he hopes to find in thairn!
 press the prezrent perlickal kona the bitter end.

not forgit gentleman, that in 1872
 Hugh Allan Vally'd Muddonnell's stur at 350,000 Dollars, (thet wuz a tyme fur Sor John to sell out but dn't no it.)—$350,000 is a purty big ur a man az devoid uv a prepositase az Muddonnell iz, tu sa nuthin et orful tatur hole into hiz kountenjest below his nasal proboscis.

tand frum under" oil ye furst-rair drivers! The Toronto Globe iz ith Sor John's notis now, fur it iz small fry, he iz nowishin fur little katz az it wer. Dad Whoopper, ikum Ro, and them Specks must d to the suckers nearer home. It s thet Muddonnell's spotless Pacific Rode karakter hez been damaged by rantford Expositor 10,000 Dollars
 , az wat wuz left ov hiz fare fame robbin' anuther 10,000 dollars by the Guelph Mercury, with a number uv uther nayerhoods tu
 wum. Ever sarns we got this news th, Joe B— haz been a singin those l lines, rit by the rollicken old Watts.

"High ding diddle,
 Sur John's in the fiddle;
 Them Specks' has flew over the moon,
 Dad Whoopper an Ro—
 An Jontee you know—
 All jine in singin the tune."

stur Editor, I perdict that the fun un 22 feet wide, an 10 feet deep, Muddonnell taiks the witness stand egins tu aware tu the Levenly highand blue sky poverty uv hiz own l karakter, while at the sain tyme ies in cuss strate throo the moral tur uv Billy Mack Doodle an uthers e wop tyme shined az Tory stars
 e fast magnitude in the hevings uv lonel's government. I notis that editors wot are sood, dont skare a cent at these preceedings, perhaps y be because thay havant the sain aud of munney that Sir Hugh hed, when Muddonnell wuz in
 . Not been mutch uv a pollyticker if I kant say wot may be the reason.
 re all remember wot a leedin English al sed, commentin on Muddonnell's ipatshun in the Pacific Skandal, it —"The Canadian people owed it to elf respect, and the safety uv ther ooshuns tu vigilently guard against lonnet ever again being entricted
 the reins uv power" &c., &c.
 Canadians hav not forgot thet ad-and will not forgit it. Wy we oll thet he haz never expressed any ishun fur hiz perlickal sins, on the ary, ther is tu da, brass enuff into e to make a 24 gallon kittle, an y uv his gethins in the Eastern ships wold like tu hav won uv thet y boll ther sap into in the spring
 n uv sugar bollin.

Editor,—The days uv korruptshun ritikal steelins hav oll gone by into
 da. The people are now too intelli-an moral tu please men in power who ot be troo to the prinserples uv hon-and vertoo. No rum drinking persenek need so fur favors at the uv our enlightened people. Torey n the evils that kluster round it, o longer, an can never becom a r in this land agin. A higher an e style uv publik morality hez been ed, an korruption an its spotted an d cheetan, ar e goin sopp tu the sgrave eyer dug in any kuntry he recephun uv perlickal bum-and besotted pollytishuns. So it be.

en let Muddonnell go on, with hiz soots—this effort to establish his ter, reminds me uv the dyin agin an old hoas onto my farm, the rick wuz the wycasse, but he died he giv that. In the meen tyme the s ar livin in hopes uv better tymes in, but ther hopes hav hed but nurrishment into em. A feller

Cloyne, July 7th, 1878.
 Editor of EXPRESS.

DEAR SIR,—It has often been a matter of wonder, whether the mountainous broken country in the rear townships was of any use? True, it is not of much use for agriculture purposes, for the number of acres of arable tracts are few. The timber is fast disappearing before the woodsman's axe, nothing is being left in some places but rocks and hills. The money which has been expended (though the political labors of H. M. Deroche M.
 P. T.) has often been considered a lost, yet it seems that this part of the country is turning out the most valuable part of our Dominion. The huge rocks are the bed of precious metals as you will see by the samples accompanying this note.
 Some specimens of stones and quartz taken from the Clark mines, situated on the farm of Bebbins Clark, Esq., Post Master at Cloyne, Addington County.
 This is supposed to be one of the richest mines in the country. The share-holders are, Alpha Wickwire, and A. Lawrence.
 The yield of silver taken from this bed is estimated by essayists to be $500 to the ton of ore. Some experienced miners are at work in the mine, and have gone down about 20 feet, and find the lead widens as they descend, showing an almost unlimited store of rich silver ore. A crusher is to be introduced as soon as practicable so that the work may be carried on more successfully, all that is necessary now is capital to develop here a rich treasure of the fine metals.

ADOLPHUSTOWN

(From an occasional Correspondence.)

R. Barker, Post Office Inspector, has again made an appearance, but this time in the form of his signature on duty, and not as the Daily News of the 4th April suggested, that "he ought to send his photograph to Adolphustown to be gazed at by the crowds."

Is Mr. Barker a gentleman? if not the crowds of Adolphustown don't care to gaze at his picture.

At the Post Office here, is an advertisement for tenders for carrying the mail between Adolphustown and Napanee, in which in describing the route and stopping places for changing the same; it reads, via Dorland, (Devils Elbow) and soon. Devil's Elbow, indeed, very refined language for a Government official to use. The place is commonly known as the "Corners" except by people desirous of using low language. If the Inspector keeps as far away from that monster as the new Post Office if from his elbow, it will be well for him.

A School Exhibition of School Section,
 No. 1, of this place came off at the Town Hall, on Friday evening last, Miss Phelan, of Napanee, the teacher, was the enterprising person to get it up, it was a perfect success, and great credit is due Miss Phelan for the trouble she has been to,
 and for the purpose it is to be applied.
 Something over $24 was realized, and is to be applied for procuring a library for the School. Mr. Burrows, School Inspector, was present.

Crops in Adolphustown were never known to be as good. The township is one maze of hay and grain, the hay is not half off yet, and the barley and rye are now fit to harvest, and there is not half men enough here to take it off without the crops suffering. The harvest here is fully two weeks earlier than in other parts of the country. Men that are out of employment would do well to come here at once, and it would secure for them a good long harvest at big wages. Where are the men that was beggling to Mr.
 Mackenzie for employment? Now is their time. Let them observe the adage,
 "Make hay while the sun shines."

AN EYE WITNESS.

Read Carefully.

Samuel Osborne, Sophiasburg, says: I was affected with Dyspepsia for nearly four years, my lungs becoming affected towards the last. I was induced to try the Shos-onces Remedy. After using three or four bottles I felt much better and gained strength rapidly, my health improved steadily and rapidly, and when I had taken or Weakness? These Bitters will do you good.

 PRICE, 25 CENTS.

HALF A CENTURY OLD—AND STILL LIVES.

Among the many COUGH REMEDIES offered to the public during the past half-century, none has stood the test so well, and commanded such a large sale as the N. H. DOWNS' Balsamic ELIXIR. It is now over 45 years since it was first introduced, and it has always maintained a large and steady sale. In all diseases of the Lungs, Chest and Bronchial Tubes, DOWNS' ELIXIR can always be relied upon.

THE CRADLE.

At Richmond, on the 10th inst., the wife of Gilbert McGreer, Esq., of a son.

At Kingston, on the 4th inst., the wife of Percy Clark, Esq., of a son.

THE ALTAR.

At the residence of the brides' father, on the 1st of July, 1878, by Rev. J.
 H. Chant, Mr. Jonathan F. Yerex, of the township of Hallowell, County of Prince Edward, to Miss Mahala Lockhead, of Camden, County of Addington, daughter of Robert A. Lock-head Esq.

At the residence of the bride's father, on the 3d inst., by the Rev. A. B. Chambers, B. C. L., assisted by the Rev. A.
 C. Chambers, brothers of the bride, and the Rev. George Washington, M. A., J.
 M. Hart, Esq., M. D., to Dora, third daughter of Mr. John Chambers, Merchant, Wilfrid, Ont.

At St. Mary Magdalens Church, by Rev.
 J. J. Bogart, Mr. John Shepard, of Violet to Miss Polly Vosche of Nap-
 anee.

By Rev. S. Myght at parsonage, July 1st,
 Wm Wrightman of Castleton to Miss E.
 Moore of N. Fredericksburg.

THE TOMB

At Napanee, on the 5th inst., Barbara Ann, wife of Mr. Benjamin Treadway, aged 64 years.

At Napanee, on the 25th of June, 1878, Mr.
 Michael Bezo, aged 83 years, 7 mos.
 Deceased was interred at Wolfe Island.

To Consumptives.

The advertiser, a retired physician, having providentially discovered while a Medical Missionary in Southern Asia, a very simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of Consumption, Asthma, Bronchitis, Catarrh, and all throat and lung affections—
 also a positive and radical specific for Nervous Debility, Premature Decay, and all Nervous Complaints, feels it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellow-men. Actuated by this motive he will cheerfully send (free of charge) to all who desire it, recipe for preparing and full directions for successfully using this providentially discovered remedy. Those who wish to avail themselves of the benefits of this di-covery, without cost, can do so by return mail, by addressing, with stamp,
 Dr. CHARLES P. MARSHALL,
 No. 33 Niagara Street,
 Buffalo, N. Y.

EPHRA'S COCOA.—GREATFUL AND COMFORTING.—
 "By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected cocoa, Mr. E. B. S. provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctor bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of faint and feeble are floating around us ready to attack and over there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well for-mated with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette.—Sold only in Packs labelled—"James Epps & Co. Homeopathic Chemist, 45, Threadneedle Street, and 89, Piccadilly, London, 42-ly."

Surrogate Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given, that an application will be made to the Judge of the Surrogate Court of the County of Len-
 nox and Addington,

ON TUESDAY,
 The Sixth Day of August, 1878, at Ten
 o'clock in the forenoon,
 or so soon thereafter as such application
 can be heard at the said Judge's Chambers,
 in the Court House, at the Town of Napanee,
 by the undersigned, for Letters of Guardianship, to be granted to the undersigned of Effie Alice Adams, Bertha Adelia
 Adams, Arthur Edward Adams, Carrie
 Annetie Adams, the infant children of Abraham Adams, late of the Township of Addington in the County of Prince

LADIES' BELTS,
 New Styles and Cheap, at
 Henderson's Bookstore.

Fans at 3 cents, Fans at 7 cents,
 Fans at 10 cts., Fans at 15 cts.,
 Fans at 20 cts., Fans at 25c., 40c., 50c., 60c., 70c., 90c., $1, $1.50,

Fans at any price, and lots of them at
 HENDERSON'S
 BOOKSTORE.

My Opinion and Betsey Bobbet's, 15c.
 Josiah Allen's Wife, or Samantha
 at the Centennial, 20c.
 A Mad Marriage, by May Agnes
 Fleming, 25c.
 Silent and True, by May Agnes
 Fleming, 25c.
 A Terrible Secret, by May Agnes
 Fleming, 30c.
 Macarid, or Altars of Sacrifice, by Augusta J. Evans, 30c.
 Beulah, by Augusta J. Evans, 30c.

The Franklin Square Library.

No 1. Is he Popenjoy, by Anthony Trollope, 15c.
 No 2. A History of a crime, by Victor Hugo, 10c.
 No 3. The Russians of To-day, 10c.
 No 4. Paul Knox-Pitman, by John Berwick Harwood, 10c.
 No 5. My Hearts in the Highlands, 10c.
 No 6. Henriette, 10c.
 Other numbers will follow.

Full Stock of that popular 10 cent music
 still on hand, at
 Henderson's Bookstore
 Dundas Street, Napanee.

FOR SALE.
 SEVERAL Valuable Building Lots, pleasantly situated in Upper Napanee.
 Apply to
 J. BENSON.
 Napanee, July 8th, 1878. 11-1in

NOTICE.

ALL PERSONS INDEBTED TO THE LATE
 Estate of Campbell & Burley will call at once, settle their accounts, and save cost.
 E. B. RILEY,
 Next door to Hudson Rogers's Store, Bath.
 Bath, July 3rd, 1878. 11-11f

Will Cure Consumption.

TO all suffering from the following diseases a ray of hope is offered through the kindness
 of a missionary friend who has sent me the formula of a pure vegetable medicine which has long been used by the native medicine men of Hindostan:—for the positive and radical cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma, Catarrh, Dys-
 pnoea, Throat and Lung difficulty, General Dependency, Loss of Manhood and all Nervous Affections, its power has been tested in hundreds of cases without a failure. I now feel it my sacred duty as far as possible to relieve human misery
 and will send the recipe—FREE OF CHARGE—to any person who may desire it with directions for using. Sent by return mail by addressing with 2
 stamps naming this paper, Dr. O. R. Brigham
 Drawer 25 Utica, N. Y. 10-1y

BIGGEST chance to make money ever offered. Honest, pleasant, profitable. Costs nothing to try it. For particulars address MONTREAL NOV-ELTY CO., 513 St. James Street, Montreal.

he nax never expressed any rishun fur hiz perlickal sins, on the tray, ther is to day, brass enuff into age, to make a 24 gallon kittle, an ny uv his gettles in the Eastern ships wud like to hav won uv thet to boll ther sap into in the spring on ny wear boilin.

r. Editor,—The days uv korrupsun kritikal steels hav oll gone by into
 ada. The people are now too intelliau moral to please men in power who not be too to the prinseples uv hony and vertoo. No rum drinking pord speak need soo fur favors at the luv our enlightened people. Torcy, an the evils that klusterd round it, no longer, an can never becom a cr in this land agin. A higher an or style uv publik morality hez been hog, an torryism an its spotted an n'd cheafan, are a gollu soun to the rest, gray eyer dug in any kuntry the recephun uv perlickal bums and besotted pollytishuns. So
 it be.

hen let Muddonul go on, with hiz
 soots—this effort to establish his ictor, reminds me uv the dyn agny an oll hoss onto my farm, the kick wuz the wassup, but he died
 he giv that. In the meen tyme the s ar livin in hopes uv better tynes um, but ther hopes hav hed but e nurrishment into em. A feller stand it a short wile onto hopes, but dont hev sumthin more substanl his muckane spikil system will aps all its doos az Ro's did that comin from the Sibly medtin. Ro elf—haz been livin entirely onto es for a good wile past, with the exhuia of a mart ov dried apples fur fast—2 pints uv warm watter fur ur, an then lettin the apples swell suppr, it iz in this wa he maneges ceep up hiz fissikal bread-basketiv-
 s. But "them specks" kant eat le apples, an the konsekense iz, the r little teller iz a pinin himself to th, a tryin to liv onto hopes, an he thet Paul (Harry) may plant, and oles (Ro.) may wotter, hiz apples, it iz sumthin substanshel thet hevants yctane his weakin and shrivelin e umbilikum. Joe B. saiz thet won az week he wuz into yoor town and saw "them specks" a passin by the apbell House about dinner tyme, the aroma uv won or John Soby's nd dinners came streamin up throo windoos of the sellar kichen, and ek the little feller strate up into hiz tier. He cept fur several minnits enjoy the rich odors, then rememberiz penniless kondishun, he opened mouth and his probosiss an took in e good uv the dinner, and then e was fine ov wottses celebrated
 an.

"Thou art so neer and yit so far," hen scooted into the post ofus fur malle. Joe B. sed he pitties the r little feller ater oll, fur he hed a hungry look into his wits face, Respekful &c
 Wood Syde.

OTA BENE.—Joe B.—has jest cum in brot a kopyy uv Dad Whooper's ress to the Electors uv Lennox, an says thet the old giptleman depies the nership uv it, and swares he never to it, &c. Now that made me laff, the whole thing is jest like the old n, thats jest the wa we have heard t talk in a privit we aronn Bath to the ners.

he pints he make into hiz printed ress, iz jest the same he haz been putting in private talk over the Kounty.
 haz long had a grudge agin Mr. Kartthat we all no, an wot he, sez about a from house to house an "felling" any thet will ketch votes, iz so very tish like Dad Whooper, thet it iz an rage to try an fix it onto yoo, Mr. arss. An wot he saiz about Ro not fterstandin them perlickal perlickal stions, wy we all know that them ar prising person to get up, it was a perfect success, and great credit is due Miss Phelan for the trouble she has been to,

 and for the purpose it is to be applied.
 Something over $24 was realized, and is to be applied for procuring a library for the School. Mr. Burrows, School Inspector, was present.

Crops in Adolphustown were never known to be as good. The township is one maze of hay and grain, the hay is not half off yet, and the barley and rye are
 now fit to harvest, and there is not half men enough here to take it off without the crops suffering. The harvest here is fully two weeks earlier than in other parts of the country. Men that are out of employment would do well to come here at once, and it would secure for them a good long harvest at big wages. Where are the men that was bawling to Mr.
 Mackenzie for employment? Now is their time. Let them observe the adage,
 "Make hay while the sun shines."
 AN EYE WITNESS.

Read Carefully.

Samuel Osborne, Sophiasburg, says: I was affected with Dyspepsia for nearly four years, my lungs becoming affected towards the last. I was induced to try the Shoshones Remedy. After using three or four bottles I felt much better and gained strength rapidly, my health improved
 steadily and rapidly, and when I had taken three or four bottles more, I was quite restored to better health than for forty years before. I had been under the treatment of a number of physicians before; but never received any material aid until I used your remedy.

A. McKay, Truro, N. S., says: He was very bad with Liver Complaint, but used the Shoshoenes Remedy, and in a month was as well as he had ever been in my life. I am now in business and wish you to send me three dozen by steamer.

A. Wood, Consequo, says: That he has tried the Remedy for Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia with great success. I have also used the Shoshoenes Pills and find that they are as good as any I ever tried.

Henry King, Geneva, N. Y., says My wife was intensely afflicted with dyspepsia for a long time. We consulted physicians of three different schools, and received no benefit. She has taken three bottles of the Great Shoshoenes Remedy, and is now hearty and well.

Rev. John Scott says: Mr. McKenzie
 Botting suffered from an attack of Rheumatism, and was unable to move without help; but after taking a few bottles of the Shoshoenes, was able to walk as well as ever. Price of the Remedy in pin pint bottles, $1; Pills, 25 cents a box. Sold by all medicine dealers.

POLITICAL NOTES.

St John "Freeman." The opposition employ two means of persuading those who can be persuaded to support them, and help them to turn the Mackenzie Government out. The one is to argue that a protectionist tariff is necessary and that if it was adopted business would at once revive and everybody willing to work could get plenty of employment at good wages. The other is to prove that the present Government are as incompetent, as extravagant, and as unprincipled as their predecessors were, and for this purpose they are repeating for the fiftieth time the old stories about steel rails, and the Goderich harbor contract, and the Fort Francis Lock, and the Reeling hotel. These cearges have been successfully met in the press and in both Houses of Parliament times without number, until men have grown tired of those subjects. Still the Opposition, in absolute want of anything else even to talk about, repeat those stories with a sickening iteration and reiteration.

The New York "Examiner" says: Every mother and house keeper must often act as a family physician in the many illnesses and accidents that occur among children and servants. For many of these cases I have used Davis' Painkiller, and consider it an indispensable article in the medicine
 box. In diarrhoea, it has been used and effected cures. For cuts and bruises, it is invaluable.

By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws
 which govern the operations of digestion and
 nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected cocoa Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctor bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle poisons are floating around in our blood—ready to attack
 over there is a weak point. We may escape
 many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame.—Civil Service Gazette.—Sold only in packets labelled—JAMES EPPS & CO., Homeopathic Chemist, 45, Threadneedle Street, and 33, Piccadilly, London, 42-ly.

Surrogate Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given, that an application will be made to the Judge of the Surrogate Court of the County of Len-
 nox and Addington,

ON TUESDAY,
 The Sixth Day of August, 1878, at Ten
 o'clock in the forenoon,

or so soon thereafter as such application
 can be heard at the said Judge's Chambers,
 in the Court House, at the Town of Napane,
 by the undersigned, for Letters of Guardianship, to be granted to the undersigned of Effie Alice Adams, Bertha Adelia
 Adams, Arthur Edward Adams, Carrie
 Annie Adams, the infant children of Abraham Adams, late of the Township of Ameliasburgh, in the County of Prince Edward, and Mary Matilda Adams, his wife, both deceased.

Dated 4th July, 1878.
 WILLIAM ARTHUR JOHNSTON,
 per REEVE & MORDEN,
 10 4in. Solicitors for Applicant

Canadian Pacific Railway.

TO CAPITALISTS & CONTRACTORS.

The Government of Canada will receive proposals for constructing and working a line of Railway extending from the Province of Ontario to the waters of the Pacific Ocean, the distance being about 2000 miles.

Memorandum of information for parties proposing to Tender will be forwarded on application as underneath. Engineers' Reports, maps of the country to be traversed, profiles of the surveyed line, specifications of preliminary works, copies of the Act of the Parliament of Canada under which it is proposed the Railway is to be constructed, descriptions of the natural features of the country and its agricultural and mineral resources, and other information, may be seen on application at this Department, or to the Engineer-in-Chief at the Canadian Government Offices, 31 Queen Victoria street,
 E. C. London.

Sealed Tenders, marked, "Tenders for Pacific Railway," will be received, address-to the undersigned, until the 1st day of December next.

F. BRAUN, Secretary
 Public Works Dept., Ottawa.
 Ottawa, May 20, 1878. 11 4-in

FLY BRICK KILLS all the FLIES in the room in TWO HOURS.
 It will kill more flies than $10 worth of Fly Paper.
 No dirt,
 no trouble.
 Sold by DRUGGISTS
 EVERY-WHERE.

Botanic Medicine Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

NOTICE.

ALL PERSONS INDEBTED TO THE LATE
 Estate of Campbell & Burley will call at once, settle their accounts, and save cost.
 E. B. RILEY,
 Next door to Hudson Rogers Store, Bath.
 Bath, July 3rd, 1878. 11-tf.

Will Cure Consumption.

TO all suffering from the following diseases a ray of hope is offered through the kindness
 of a missionary friend who has sent me the formula of a pure vegetable medicine which has long been used by the native medicine men of Hindostan:—for the positive and radical cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma, Catarrh, Dys-
 pnoea, Throat and Lung difficulty, General Debility, Loss of Manhood and all Nervous Affections.
 Its power has been tested in hundreds of cases without a failure. I now feel it my sacred duty as far as possible to relieve human misery
 and will send the recipe—FREE OF CHARGE—to any person who may desire it with directions for using. Sent by return mail by addressing with 2
 stamps naming this paper, Dr. O. R. Brigham
 Drawer 28 Utica, N. Y. 10-ly

BIGGEST chance to make money ever
 offered. Honest, pleasant, profitable. Costs nothing to try it. For particulars address MONTREAL NO-BILITY CO., 513 St. James Street, Montreal.

This Cut Illustrates the Manner of Using

DR. PIERCE'S
Fountain Nasal Injector, OR DOUCHE.

This instrument is especially designed for the perfect application of

DR. SAGE'S CATARRH REMEDY.

It is the only form of instrument yet invented with which fluid medicine can be carried high up and perfectly applied to all parts of the affected nasal passages, and the chambers or cavities communicating therewith, in which sores and ulcers frequently exist, and from which the catarrhal discharge generally proceeds. The want of success in treating Catarrh heretofore has arisen largely from the impossibility of applying remedies to these cavities and chambers by any of the ordinary methods. This obstacle in the way of effecting cures is entirely overcome by the invention of the Douche. Its use is pleasant and so simple that a child can understand it.
Full and explicit directions accompany each instrument. When used with this instrument, Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy cures recent attacks of "Cold in the Head" by a few applications.

SYMPTOMS—Frequent
 head-ache, discharges falling into throat, sometimes profuse, watery, thick mucus, purulent, offensive, etc. In others, a dryness, dry watery, weak, or inflamed eyes, stopping up, or obstruction of nasal passages, ringing in ears, deafness, hawking and coughing to clear throat, nasal twang, offensive breath, impaired or total deprivation of sense of smell and taste, dizziness, mental depression, loss of appetite, indigestion, enlarged tonsils, tickling cough, etc.
 Only a few of these symptoms are likely to be present in any case at one time.

Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, when used with Dr. Pierce's Nasal Douche, and accompanied with the constitutional treatment which is recommended in the pamphlet that wraps each bottle of the Remedy, is a perfect specific for this loathsome disease. It is mild and pleasant to use, containing no strong or caustic drugs or poisons. The Catarrh Remedy is sold at 50 cents, Douche at 50 cents, by all Druggists.

R. V. PIERCE, M. D., Prop'r,
 BUFFALO, N. Y.

Two Scenes.

1st.—Two lovers by moonlight.
He: "You ought to know I love ring." She looks down, blushes uffs. He: "Don't you love me just little bit?" She: "Yes (snuff). I ever so much (snuff); I could die (Snuff and kisses ad infinitum).
2d. One year after marriage. He;
and it! I wish you would break of that disgusting habit of snuff.
She (depreciatingly): "I can't Charlie, I've had the catarrh four years." He: "Forgive me, dear, mean to be cross, but in the name get some of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Re-
They say it is a sure cure. You
d. Brown, they said he was incurd it cured him completely." She:
any thing to please you, Charlie."
ting tableau.)

IT IN THE STABLE.

horses often injure themselves in their getting loose, injure another. All vers, surgeons, and cattle doctors admit VIGOR AND OIL LIMENT is the best application for the wounds, swelling of kicks, stringhalt, and all contractions of lets and tendons which cause lameness.
Applied early to cases of Blood never fails to relieve the soreness and and if thoroughly applied often brings positive cure. PRICE—25 and 50 PER BOTTLE.

I IS STRANGER THAN FICTION.
It is an established TRUTH that BAX-LANDRAKE BITTERS are the best and Liver Regulator ever placed be-Canadian people. They are purely contain no mineral nor mercury, but osed of Nature's purest and best reme-you suffering from any disease that torpid fever, such as Jaundice, Dyspep-is Diseases, Foul Stomach, Costiveness, less? These Bitters will do you good.

PRICE, 25 CENTS.

A CENTURY OLD—AND STILL VES.

the many COUGH REMEDIES offered die during the past half-century, none the test so well, and commanded such as the N. J. DOWNS' Balsamic
It is now over 46 years since it was first d, and it has always maintained a large y sale. In all diseases of the Lungs, Bronchial Tubes, DOWNS' ELIXIR
's be relied upon.

THE CRADLE.

nond, on the 10th inst., the wife
ilbert McGreer, Esq., of a son.
ston, on the 4th inst., the wife of y Clark, Esq., of a son.

THE ALTAR.

residence of the brides' father, on 1st of July, 1878, by Rev. J.
Shant, Mr. Jonathan F. Yerex, of ownership of Hallowell, County of ce Edward, to Miss Mahala head, of Camden, County of Adton, daughter of Robert A. Loch-Esq.
sidence of the bride's father, on 1d inst., by the Rev. A. B. Cham-
B. C. L., assisted by the Rev. A. ambers, brothers of the bride, and
rev. George Washington. M. A., J. art, Esq., M. D., to Debra, third lter of Mr. John Chambers, Mert, Wilfard, Ont.
ary Magdalens Church, by Rev.
Bogart, Mr John Shepard, of t to Miss Polly Vosche of Nap-

THE TOMB

nees, on the 5th inst., Barbara wife of Mr. Benjamin Treadway, 54 years.
ee, on the 25th of June, 1878, Mr.
ad Bezo, aged 83 years, 7 mos.
ased was interred at Wolfe Island.

o Consumptives.

rtician, a retired physician, having ally discovered while a Medical Mis-Southern Asia, a very simple vege-
-ly for the speedy and permanent Consumption, Asthma, Bronchitis, nd all throat and lung affections—

CROQUET

AT REDUBED RATES, AT

Henderson's Bookstore.

RUBBER BALLS, BASE BALLS,
LACROSSE BALLS,

AT HENDERSONS,

Dundas St.

Willow Baskets,
Satchels & Valises,

In great variety and very cheap, at Hendersons'.

Lacrosse Sticks!

Just arrived, at Henderson's Bookstore.

LADIES' BELTS,

New Styles and Cheap, at

Henderson's Bookstore.

Fans at 3 cents, Fans at 7 cents,
Fans at 10 cts., Fans at 15 cts.,
Fans at 20 cts., Fans at 25c., 40c., 50c., 60c., 70c., 90c., $1, $1.50,

Fans at any price, and lo's of them at

HENDERSON'S
BOOKSTORE.

My Opinion and Betsey Bobbet's, 15c.
Josiah Allen's Wife, or Samantha 20c.
at the Centennial,
A Mad Marriage, by May Agnes 25c.
Fleming,
Silent and True, by May Agnes 25c.
Fleming,
A Terrible Secret, by May Agnes 30c.
Fleming,
Macarid, or Altars of Sacrifice, by 30c.
Agusta J. Evans,
Beulah, by Agusta J. Evans, 30c.

The Franklin Square Library.

No 1. Is he Pepenjoy, by Anthony 15c.
Trollope,
No 2. A History of a crime, by Vic- 10c.
tor Hugo,
No 3. The Russians of To-day, 10c.
No 4. Paul Knox-Pitman, by John 10c.
Berwick Harwood,
No 5. My Hearts in the Highlands, 10c.
No 6. Henriette, 10c.

Other numbers will follow.

Full Stock of that popular 10 cent music
still on hand, at

Henderson's Bookstore

NEW BLACK PRINTS

JUST OPENED AT

Slaven & Ironside's,

—ALSO,—

Brown, Myrtle & Navy Blue.

We are now marking off about $3,000 worth of New Goods, brought at the great auction sale of Messrs. N. & F.
Rooney's wholesale stock last week in Toronto, at Prices to Suit the Dull Times.

This firm has always had the reputation of keeping only first-class goods, and as we bought them at about Half the Regular Prices, Customers may depend on

GETTING GREAT BARGAINS.

We beg leave to say, in reply to a late advertisement, that we have never tried to monopolise the cash business nor any other branch of trade, and if they refer to us they are mistaken. We have always been opposed to such a course, even when wholesale houses have offered to confine the sale of their goods to us, we have refused. We are always pleased to hear of our neighbors' welfare, that they are reaping the benefit of a wise and liberal government policy, and that do not require any more protection.

All we Ask is Fair Competition,

— AND THAT —

Customers will pay us for our goods before taking them away.

SLAVEN & IRONSIDE.

$6,000 WORTH

— OF —

BOOTS AND SHOES,
AT COST.

Having determined to go out of the Boot trade, I now offer my whole stock at

COST PRICE

test so well, and commanded such sale the N. H. DOWNS' Balm is now over 45 years since it was first and it has always maintained a large sale. In all diseases of the Lungs, Bronchial Tubes, DOWNS' ELIXIR is relied upon.

THE CRADLE.

1. on the 10th inst., the wife of Mr. McGreer, Esq., of a son.
2. on the 4th inst., the wife of Mr. Esq., of a son.

THE ALTAR.

1. on the 10th inst., the wife of Mr. McGreer, Esq., of a son.
2. on the 4th inst., the wife of Mr. Esq., of a son.

1. on the 10th inst., the wife of Mr. McGreer, Esq., of a son.
2. on the 4th inst., the wife of Mr. Esq., of a son.

1. on the 10th inst., the wife of Mr. McGreer, Esq., of a son.
2. on the 4th inst., the wife of Mr. Esq., of a son.

1. on the 10th inst., the wife of Mr. McGreer, Esq., of a son.
2. on the 4th inst., the wife of Mr. Esq., of a son.

THE TOMB

1. on the 10th inst., the wife of Mr. McGreer, Esq., of a son.
2. on the 4th inst., the wife of Mr. Esq., of a son.

1. on the 10th inst., the wife of Mr. McGreer, Esq., of a son.
2. on the 4th inst., the wife of Mr. Esq., of a son.

Consumptives.

1. on the 10th inst., the wife of Mr. McGreer, Esq., of a son.
2. on the 4th inst., the wife of Mr. Esq., of a son.

1. on the 10th inst., the wife of Mr. McGreer, Esq., of a son.
2. on the 4th inst., the wife of Mr. Esq., of a son.

1. on the 10th inst., the wife of Mr. McGreer, Esq., of a son.
2. on the 4th inst., the wife of Mr. Esq., of a son.

Progate Notice.

1. on the 10th inst., the wife of Mr. McGreer, Esq., of a son.
2. on the 4th inst., the wife of Mr. Esq., of a son.

TUESDAY,

1. on the 10th inst., the wife of Mr. McGreer, Esq., of a son.
2. on the 4th inst., the wife of Mr. Esq., of a son.

1. on the 10th inst., the wife of Mr. McGreer, Esq., of a son.
2. on the 4th inst., the wife of Mr. Esq., of a son.

1. on the 10th inst., the wife of Mr. McGreer, Esq., of a son.
2. on the 4th inst., the wife of Mr. Esq., of a son.

Henderson's Bookstore.

1. on the 10th inst., the wife of Mr. McGreer, Esq., of a son.
2. on the 4th inst., the wife of Mr. Esq., of a son.

1. on the 10th inst., the wife of Mr. McGreer, Esq., of a son.
2. on the 4th inst., the wife of Mr. Esq., of a son.

HENDERSON'S BOOKSTORE.

1. on the 10th inst., the wife of Mr. McGreer, Esq., of a son.
2. on the 4th inst., the wife of Mr. Esq., of a son.

The Franklin Square Library.

1. on the 10th inst., the wife of Mr. McGreer, Esq., of a son.
2. on the 4th inst., the wife of Mr. Esq., of a son.

Henderson's Bookstore

1. on the 10th inst., the wife of Mr. McGreer, Esq., of a son.
2. on the 4th inst., the wife of Mr. Esq., of a son.

FOR SALE.

1. on the 10th inst., the wife of Mr. McGreer, Esq., of a son.
2. on the 4th inst., the wife of Mr. Esq., of a son.

NOTICE.

1. on the 10th inst., the wife of Mr. McGreer, Esq., of a son.
2. on the 4th inst., the wife of Mr. Esq., of a son.

Will Cure Consumption.

1. on the 10th inst., the wife of Mr. McGreer, Esq., of a son.
2. on the 4th inst., the wife of Mr. Esq., of a son.

1. on the 10th inst., the wife of Mr. McGreer, Esq., of a son.
2. on the 4th inst., the wife of Mr. Esq., of a son.

1. on the 10th inst., the wife of Mr. McGreer, Esq., of a son.
2. on the 4th inst., the wife of Mr. Esq., of a son.

1. on the 10th inst., the wife of Mr. McGreer, Esq., of a son.
2. on the 4th inst., the wife of Mr. Esq., of a son.

1. on the 10th inst., the wife of Mr. McGreer, Esq., of a son.
2. on the 4th inst., the wife of Mr. Esq., of a son.

1. on the 10th inst., the wife of Mr. McGreer, Esq., of a son.
2. on the 4th inst., the wife of Mr. Esq., of a son.

All we Ask is Fair Competition,

1. on the 10th inst., the wife of Mr. McGreer, Esq., of a son.
2. on the 4th inst., the wife of Mr. Esq., of a son.

1. on the 10th inst., the wife of Mr. McGreer, Esq., of a son.
2. on the 4th inst., the wife of Mr. Esq., of a son.

SLAVEN & IRONSIDE.

$6,000 WORTH

1. on the 10th inst., the wife of Mr. McGreer, Esq., of a son.
2. on the 4th inst., the wife of Mr. Esq., of a son.

BOOTS AND SHOES,

AT COST.

1. on the 10th inst., the wife of Mr. McGreer, Esq., of a son.
2. on the 4th inst., the wife of Mr. Esq., of a son.

COST PRICE,

1. on the 10th inst., the wife of Mr. McGreer, Esq., of a son.
2. on the 4th inst., the wife of Mr. Esq., of a son.

GREAT BARGAINS

1. on the 10th inst., the wife of Mr. McGreer, Esq., of a son.
2. on the 4th inst., the wife of Mr. Esq., of a son.

Cheap Boots,

1. on the 10th inst., the wife of Mr. McGreer, Esq., of a son.
2. on the 4th inst., the wife of Mr. Esq., of a son.

Call at Once.

1. on the 10th inst., the wife of Mr. McGreer, Esq., of a son.
2. on the 4th inst., the wife of Mr. Esq., of a son.

HAT AND CAP

1. on the 10th inst., the wife of Mr. McGreer, Esq., of a son.
2. on the 4th inst., the wife of Mr. Esq., of a son.

CLOTHING TRADE !

1. on the 10th inst., the wife of Mr. McGreer, Esq., of a son.
2. on the 4th inst., the wife of Mr. Esq., of a son.

Terms Cash.

and a careful application of the fine selected cocoa Mr. Epps has selected tables with a delicately which may save us many heavy by the judicious use of such at a constitution may be greatly from cocoa. It is sold every round us ready to attack a weak point. We may escape by keeping ourselves well fortified and a properly nourished service. Gazette, sold only in JAMES EPPS & Co., Home-Threadneedle Street, and 42-ly.

NOTICE.

ALL PERSONS INDEBTED TO THE LATE Estate of Campbell & Burley will call at once, settle their accounts, and save cost. E. BURLEY, Next door to Hudson Rogers Store, Bath. Bath, July 3rd, 1878. 11-1f.

Will Cure Consumption.

TO all suffering from the following diseases a ray of hope is offered through the kindness of a missionary friend who has sent me the formula of a pure vegetable medicine which has long been used by the native medicine men of Hindostan:—for the positive and radical cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma, Catarrh, Dyspepsia, Throat and Lung difficulty, General Debility, Loss of Manhood and all Nervous Affections, its power has been tested in hundreds of cases without a failure. I now feel it my sacred duty as far as possible to relieve human misery and will send the recipe—FREE OF CHARGE—to any person who may desire it with directions for using. Sent by return mail by addressing with 2 stamps naming this paper, Dr. O. R. Brigham Drawer 28 Utica, N. Y. 19-ly

BIGGEST chance to make money ever offered. Honest, pleasant, profitable. Costs nothing to try it. For particulars, address, MONTREAL NOVELTY CO., 513 St. James Street, Montreal.

gate Notice.

whereby given, that an application made to the Judge of the County of Lenington,

TUESDAY, 19th of August, 1878, at Ten o'clock in the forenoon, thereafter as such application at the said Judge's Chambers, at the Town of Napan, underigned, for Letters of to be granted to the under- Alice Adams, Bertha Adelia or Edward Adams, Carri- as, the infant children of ms, late of the Township of in the County of Prince Mary Matilda Adams, his ended. July, 1878. ARTHUR JOHNSTON, or REEVE & MORDEN, Solicitors for Applicant an Pacific Railway.

LISTS & CONTRACTORS.

ment of Canada will receive constructing and working a ay extending from the Pro-rio to the waters of the Pacific distance being about 2000 am of information for parties Tender will be forwarded on underneath. Engineers' Re- of the country to be traversed, surveyed line, specifications y works, copies of the Act of nt of Canada under which it is highway is to be constructed. of the natural features of the its agricultural and mineral re-ther information, may be seen n at this Department, or to -in-Chief at the Canadian Gov-ices, 31 Queen Victoria street, in, marked, "Tenders for ay," will be received, address-igned, until the 1st day of De-

F. BRAUN, Secretary
Public Works Dept., Ottawa.
20, 1878. 114-1b

RICK ALLANS KEY RICK

Medicine Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

may be expected, and parties wishing

Cheap Boots,

WOULD DO WELL TO

Call at Once.

I will still continue the

HAT AND CAP

— AND —

CLOTHING TRADE !

Always keeping a full stock of those goods.

Terms Cash.

W. A. ROSE.

I will sell the whole stock in bulk, at 75c. on the $, with time for payment.

W. A. ROSE.

DOWNEY & Co.,

Are showing Splendid Value in

Black and Colored Silks, Plain and Fancy Grenadines,
Snow-flake Linens,
White Muslin Piques, etc.

50 Cheese Makers Wanted !

to buy 20 bags each of choice Factory filled LIVERPOOL SALT.

ALSO FOR SALE

Ground Oil Cake !

at $3 per cwt., by

THOMAS SYMINGTON,

Dealer in

FLOUR AND FEED, FEED AND PROVISIONS.

Grass Seeds of all kinds a specialty.

DUNDAS STREET, NAPANEE,

Napanee, April 4th, 1878.

Valuable Farm FOR SALE

Ketchum Homestead.

SITUATED one mile west of Brighton Village, on the main gravelled road, leading to Cobourg, containing 100 acres, more or less, good Brick Dwelling House, with conveniences; large Barns, Cow and Horse Stables, Drive House, etc.; good Orchard, with choice selections of Fruit; a never failing Spring Creek, which waters the farm nearly its entire length; good soil, not stoney or rough, about 20 acres wooded, and altogether a very desirable property. A beautiful view from the door of the dwelling house over the whole farm, of Lake Ontario, and all G.T.R. trains to and from Brighton Station.

Apply personally or by letter, to M. F. KETCHUM, Brighton, Ont.

This Cut Illustrates the Manner of Using

DR. PIERCE'S Fountain Nasal Injector,

OR DOUCHE.

DR. SAGE'S CATARRH REMEDY.

It is the only form of instrument yet invented with which fluid medicine can be carried high up and perfectly applied to all parts of the affected nasal passages, and the chambers or cavities communicating therewith, in which sores and ulcers frequently exist, and from which the catarrhal discharge generally proceeds. The want of success in treating Catarrh heretofore has arisen largely from the impossibility of applying remedies to these cavities and chambers by any of the ordinary methods. This obstacle in the way of effecting cures is entirely overcome by the invention of the Douche. Its use is pleasant and so simple that a child can understand it. Full and explicit directions accompany each instrument. When used with this instrument, Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy cures recent attacks of "Cold in the Head," by a few applications.

CATARRH

SYMPTOMS—Frequent headache, discharge falling into throat, sometimes profuse, watery, thick, mucous, purulent, offensive, etc. In others, a dryness, dry, watery, weak, or inflamed eyes, drooping up, or obstruction of nasal passages, ringing in ears, deafness, hawking and coughing to clear throat, ulcerations, scabs from ulcers, voice altered, nasal twang, offensive breath, impaired or total deprivation of sense of smell and taste, dizziness, mental depression, loss of appetite, indigestion, enlarged tonsils, tickling cough, etc. Only a few of these symptoms are likely to be present in any case at one time.

Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, when used with Dr. Pierce's Nasal Douche, and accompanied with the constitutional treatment which is recommended in the pamphlet that wraps each bottle of the Remedy, is a perfect specific for this loathsome disease. It is mild and pleasant to use, containing no strong or caustic drugs or poisons. The Catarrh Remedy is sold at 50 cents, Douche at 50 cents, by all Druggists.

R. V. PIERCE, M. D., Prop'r, BUFFALO, N. Y.

ON A FALSE SCENT.

The agricultural population of Canada would be incredulous indeed did they suffer themselves to be deluded by the appeal on behalf of the latest Tory device of "building up a home market." The people who essay to mislead them are not even skillful. The appeal always has a party ring about it, an election flavour, and there is some assertion or presumption that any reasonably well-informed person known to be fallacious. In a recent article in St. John's chief organ, for instance, it is asserted that certain members of the present Dominion Government regard a home market for agricultural produce as "a positive calamity." This is on a par with the assertion that a Government which levies a higher duty on imported manufactures than any Colonial Administration save one in the British Dominions, and a higher tariff than Great Britain herself possessed before she inaugurated her present fiscal policy, is bent on the establishment of absolute free trade in Canada.

Apocryphal of the silly assertion that somebody or other is opposed to "a home market" in Canada, the Mail has been exulting over the discovery that there are really some prosperous manufactures in the Western States, and quotes the Scientific American as follows:—

"The manufacturing interests of the West are remarkable in many respects, not the least remarkable being their rapid development, and their dependence on patented inventions. A few years ago it was thought that the fertile States north of the Ohio and the Missouri were a paradise for farmers, but never could be other than agricultural in character. Even yet there are few persons who do not receive with surprise and incredulity any reference to that region as one pre-eminent for its manufacturing industries, notwithstanding the fact discovered by the census of 1870, that at that time the manufactured products of Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Missouri, Iowa, Minnesota, and Wisconsin exceeded the agricultural products of those States by $76,000,000 a year. Since then the manufacturing interest of the West have increased with a rapidity positively amazing; and unlike the great factories of the East, very few Western establishments are engaged on standard products made by time worn processes. In almost every case they are based on recent patents.

"As an illustration of Western growth, take the city of Springfield, Ohio, to which the Graphic of June 10th gives a double page of illustrations. Fifteen years ago it was simply a pleasant inland town without any specially promising aspect. To-day it is one of the handsomest cities in the State, with a multitude of manufacturing establishments turning out products to the amount of $10,000,000 a year. These varied interests the Graphic reporter finds in a highly prosperous condition. 'Neither the business men nor the manufacturers wear long faces. Their wares find sale in every part of the United States, and the "Champion City" is well known as one of the leading manufacturing points in the West, and as having played an important part in securing for Ohio her enviable reputation throughout the world as the home of inventive genius and skilled mechanical labor.'

"The leading industry of Springfield is grouped around the champion reaper and mower, the production of which a capital of $7,000,000 is devoted, giving employment to thousands of men, requiring five mammoth manufacturing plants to do the work and all taxed to the utmost to meet the demands of their customers. In addition, the Graphic enumerates nearly a hundred manufacturing establishments, some twenty or more of which employ capitals ranging from $100,000 to $1,200,000. A wide range of products are turned out, including agricultural machinery and implements, steam boilers and engines, machine tools, building materials, and people might be able to rub along with a protection of 17 1/2 per cent. The way to make them thrive is to leave the farmer the power to purchase. The protectionists are rapidly retreating from the position they once assumed. They have been beaten squarely in their attempt to show that the farmer would himself gain anything by being protected. So now it is all "the home market" cry, and the changes are run in on this idea day in and day out. What does it all mean? Why, that if we manufactured everything we could manufacture in Canada, it would add some 150,000 souls to our present population, at a cost to the consumers of the goods they produced of $12,500,000 per annum. And who would pay this $12,500,000, or over three dollars per head annually for every man, woman and child in the country? Why, the lumberman, who cannot be protected; the farmer, who cannot be protected; the shipowner, who cannot be protected; all the professional men, all the recipients of fixed incomes, all the laboring men and artisans, who cannot be protected, but whose wages may be affected very injuriously by an artificial stimulus to a flow of operatives into Canada. There is a great deal of delusion about the influence of a few manufacturers more or less on the interests of the country. In the census of 1870-71 it was claimed that 213,000 persons were employed in Canada in "industrial pursuits," as they were called, but, after eliminating those who would be beyond the influence of fiscal arrangements for the "encouragement of home industry," there would be left not more than 20,000 at the outside employed in manufactures which might be served in a protectionist sense by a high tariff. What would be the possible addition at the very outside to this class we have seen already. If we leave the ordinary laws of supply and demand to take their course, the number of operatives engaged in such manufactures will increase or the reverse as their business is profitable or their products are in demand. But if we persist in creating "a home market" by purely artificial means, we shall either be merely transferring a certain number of our own people at the expense of the country from one form of industry to another, or importing—at a vast expense—to this side of the Atlantic those who are our customers already, elsewhere, and that, too, without any tax upon us at all.—Globe.

PARALLEL CASE.

Both the Czar and his uncle, the Emperor of Germany, have twice narrowly escaped being shot; but the deadliest and most nearly successful attempt upon the life of the former was of a more insidious kind, and is still known to only a very few persons, even in Russia. There is in the Winter Palace at St. Petersburg a small elevator, consisting of an easy-chair fixed upon a stand, originally constructed for the Czar Nicholas, who was wont to mount in this fashion to his cabinet on the third floor of the palace. On one occasion, after a state dinner, the present Czar, instead of taking his seat in the chair as usual, offered the place to a lady of rank, who had been a friend of his mother. The Countess, flattered by the compliment, took the seat at once; but she had not risen many feet when the chain snapped, and down came the chair with a terrific crash, flinging out its occupant upon the floor with a broken limb and other serious injuries. The dismay of the company was extreme, and all were loud in expressing their thankfulness that the Czar himself had so narrowly escaped a catastrophe which, however, no one looked upon in any other light than that of a very unfortunate accident, but one of the Imperial pages, a shrewd young fellow, who had himself witnessed the catastrophe, had his own thoughts about this "accident," and took

Seeds, Fresh Seeds.

Diamond & Sherwoods.

Flour and Feed Store,

Paisley House, John Street

Garden Seeds and Flower Seeds,
Clover, Timothy and Hungarian Seeds.
Seed Grains of all Kinds—New Stock,

Groceries & Provisions

Diamond & Sherwoods.

Call and Examine our Stock just opened, and you will find

MR. CHAS. BARTLETT,

In charge, and ready to show and to sell you goods at

PRICES SO LOW,

that your astonishment will be unfeigned.

Cumberland Cut Bacon,

5c.; Mess Pork, 7c. — $13.70 per bbl.

The Flour & Feed Stock

Is unsurpassed, as all have admitted who have paid our store a visit. To others we merely say come, and we feel assured we will ever afterwards have your patronage.

Important Notice.

$2,000 WORTH OF New Bankrupt Stock,

JUST ARRIVED AT

MEAGHER'S.

Come and See. We are determined to sell Cheaper than can be bought in a regular way. Our prices are far below the Wholesale Price.

GREAT BARGAINS IN

COTTON AND WINCEY SHIRTINGS.

PRINTS AT 5c. A YARD.

BARGAINS IN DRESS GOODS.

Good Black Lustres at 15c. a yard.

Boots and Shoes, Ready-made Clothing, Remarkably Cheap.

Mens' Long Boots, $1.50, Worth, $2.50.

Boys' Long Boots 70c. worth $1.50.

200 OVERCOATS

POTTER BROS.,

LIVERY AND SALE STAB

(ADJOINING THE CRISCO HOUSE)

NAPANEE, ONT.

We keep nothing but First-Horses and Vehicles, and at Reasonable Prices

Benoni Brigg

WISHES to return his sincere thanks to numerous friends and the public for the liberal patronage they have extended him during the past twenty-five years, and to announce that he has

AGAIN COMMENCED BUSIN.

in the Boot and Shoe line, in the shop of the Campbell House, Napanee, at the sign "Big Boot." Having engaged Mr. Geo. McRae formerly in the employ of Messrs. McRae Downey, he intends to manufacture all kinds of custom work of the very best material andmanship, and solicits a continuance of patronage. Repairing done on short notice, and on terms. 8-11. BENONI BRIGG

Dr. William Gray's Specific Medi

Before Taking—diseases that After T follow as a sequence of Felt Abuse, as 1 Memory, Universal Lassitude, Pain in the Dimness of Vision, Premature Old Age, and other diseases that lead to Insanity or Cotition and a Premature Grave, all of which rule are first caused by deviating from the of nature and overindulgence. The Specific Medicine is the result of study and many years of experience in these special diseases. Pamphlet free by The Specific Medicine is sold by all Dr at $1 per package, or six packages for $5, be sent by mail on receipt of the money dressing. WILLIAM GRAY & Winder.

ELECTRICITY

THOMAS' EXCELSIOR ELECTRIC

WORTH TEN TIMES ITS WEIGHT IN GOLD PAIN CANNOT STAY WHERE IT IS

IT is the cheapest medicine ever One dose cures common sore throat. One bottle has cured Bronchitis. cents worth has cured an old cold. It positively cures catarrh, ma, and croup. Fifty cents worth cured crick in the back, and the same city lame back of eight years' standing. It cures swelled neck, tumors, rheum neuralgia, contraction of the muscles joints, spinal difficulties, and pain anywhere in any part, no matter where it be, nor from what cause it may arise, ways does you good. Twenty-five worth has cured bad cases of chronic bloody dysentery. One teaspoonful colic in 15 minutes. It will cure any of piles it is possible to cure. Six applications is warranted to cure any of excoriated nipples or inflamed For bruises, if applied often and soon there is never the slightest discoloration of the skin. It stops the pain of a burn soon as applied. Cures frosted feet, warts, and corns, and wounds of every description on man or beast.

Beware of Imitations.—Ask for Thomas' Electric Oil. See that the processes. In almost every case they are based on recent patents.

"As an illustration of Western growth, take the city of Springfield, Ohio, to which the Graphic of June 10th gives a double page of illustrations. Fifteen years ago it was simply a pleasant inland town without any specially promising aspect. To-day it is one of the handsomest cities in the State, with a multitude of manufacturing establishments turning out products to the amount of $10,000,000 a year. These varied interests the Graphic reporter finds in a highly prosperous condition. 'Neither the business men nor the manufacturers wear long faces. Their wares find sale in every part of the United States, and the 'Champion City' is well known as one of the leading manufacturing points in the West, and as having played an important part in securing for Ohio her enviable reputation throughout the world as the home of inventive genius and skilled mechanical labor.'

"The leading industry of Springfield is grouped around the champion reaper and mower, the production of which a capital of $7,000,000 is devoted, giving employment to thousands of men, requiring five mammoth manufacturing plants to do the work and all taxed to the utmost to meet the demands of their customers. In addition, the Graphic enumerates nearly a hundred manufacturing establishments, some twenty or more of which employ capitals ranging from $100,000 to $1,200,000. A wide range of products are turned out, including agricultural machinery and implements, steam boilers and engines, turbine wheels, burial-cases, household and other furniture, carriages, malt liquors, iron railings, breadstuffs, cut stone, oils, soap, brick, sewing machines, grey iron castings, wind engines, tin, copper, and sheet iron wares, galvanized iron, pumps, grinders, churns, etc."

What does this amount to? Simply that the agricultural interest, which the Mail affects, in its eagerness to curry favour with the manufacturers, to ignore, has certain wants which local enterprise in the West is supplying. Somebody or other has been writing up Springfield, Ohio, and at once we are asked to believe that, turning their backs upon all the rest of the world, the people of the great West have all found a home market in Springfield, Ohio. The owners of the vast herds of cattle that roam the plains of Texas, the great wheat growers of Minnesota, the agriculturists of Kansas, are all happy, rich, and prosperous because Springfield, Ohio, is thriving.

But what does Springfield's progress show? The statement quoted by the Mail is to the effect that the manufactures in question chiefly consist of patented articles used by the agriculturists. If protection were out of the question altogether as a fiscal policy, it would simply follow that a body of ingenious and enterprising persons who have patented certain articles have set themselves down in a very fertile agricultural State and secure a monopoly for their inventions. We should like very much to hear what an Ohio agriculturist—not a Canadian political schemer and dodger—has to say to this. Would he prefer to see a little healthy competition or not? Would he despair of enjoying just as good "a home market" if he could get all he wanted by an open trade carried on under a duty, say, of 17 1/2 per cent.? It is notorious that the strength of the movement against high tariffs comes from the Western States, and while everyone recognizes the justice of a patent law within certain limits, there is no farmer who, if the question is brought home to him, prefers having no choice in making a bargain. As matters stand, it would be well to know what price the farmers of Ohio have paid to build up Springfield industries, and how much they have lost between the price paid for this little "home market" and the advantage to themselves of buying all they might have wanted elsewhere. It is certain that, for agricultural implements—whether owing to patent monopolies or to protection—the American farmer pays some 25 to 30 per cent. more than his Canadian neighbour. The latter, on the bulk of his purchases of these necessities, has to pay less than the American farmer.

already, elsewhere, and that, too, without any tax upon us at all.—Globe.

PARALLEL CASE.

Both the Czar and his uncle, the Emperor of Germany, have twice narrowly escaped being shot; but the deadliest and most nearly successful attempt upon the life of the former was of a more insidious kind, and is still known to only a very few persons, even in Russia. There is in the Winter Palace at St. Petersburg a small elevator, consisting of an easy-chair fixed upon a stand, originally constructed for the Czar Nicholas, who was wont to mount in this fashion to his cabinet on the third floor of the palace. On one occasion, after a state dinner, the present Czar, instead of taking his seat in the chair as usual, offered the place to a lady of rank, who had been a friend of his mother. The Countess, flattered by the compliment, took the seat at once; but she had not risen many feet when the chain snapped, and down came the chair with a terrific crash, flinging out its occupant upon the floor with a broken limb and other serious injuries. The misfortune of the company was extreme, and all were loud in expressing their thankfulness that the Czar himself had so narrowly escaped a catastrophe which, however, no one looked upon in any other light than that of a very unfortunate accident, but one of the Imperial pages, a shrewd young fellow, who had himself witnessed the catastrophe, had his own thoughts about this "accident," and took the earliest opportunity of inspecting the broken chain, when he at once perceived that it had been sawn half through, close to the staple. The announcement of this discovery fell like a thunderbolt upon the assembled grandees, and not a moment was lost in calling up the palace servants for examination, when it was found that a foreign lacky, who had entered the service some months before, and had up to that time borne an excellent character, had unaccountably disappeared. The affair, however, was hushed up, and to this day many persons who are acquainted with the story, consider the whole occurrence either imaginary or purely accidental.—New York Times.

Marriage of a Woman to a Woman.

The Tuscarora, Ney, Times Review says: Marancy Hughes was married in September last to a person who was known as Samuel M. Pollard. Her relatives opposed the marriage, and she eloped and was married without their knowledge, and a short time after their marriage Pollard confessed to her that she was a woman; that she had trouble with her relatives in the East; had lost her property, and assumed the disguise of a man for the reason that avenues for making money would be open to her in that character which would be closed to her as a woman. Pollard has never given her any particular reason for doing her this great wrong, but it is believed to have been actuated by a foolish pride in appearing in the character of a married man. The victim was ashamed to acknowledge that she had been imposed upon, and shrunk from admitting the truth. Pollard, without actually threatening her life, repeatedly intimated that it would be bad for her if she exposed her, and so she kept silent until a fortnight ago, when her aunt got an intimation of the fact and questioned her closely, and she related to her the whole story. The victim says that the woman's real name is Sarah M. Pollard, and her trunk is filled with feminine apparel. A complaint was filed by J. O. Howerton, accusing Pollard of perjury in swearing when she took out the marriage license that she was a male.

There is a French prophecy which says the end of the world will come when Easter Sunday falls on St. Mark's day. This will be the case in 1836.

Ex-Empress Eugenie's income is $250,000 a year, and the strangest thing of all is that she has no children.

Important Notice.

$2,000 WORTH OF
New Bankrupt Stock,
JUST ARRIVED AT
MEAGHER'S.

"Come and See. We are determined to sell Cheaper than can be bought in a regular way. Our prices are far below the Wholesale Price."

GREAT BARGAINS IN
COTTON AND WINCEY SHIRTINGS.
PRINTS AT 5c. A YARD.

BARGAINS IN DRESS GOODS.
Good Black Lustres at 15c. a yard.

Boots and Shoes, Ready-made Clothing,
Remarkably Cheap.

Mens' Long Boots, $1.50,
Worth, $2.50.

Boys' Long Boots 70c. worth $1.50.

200 OVERCOATS

From $5.00 to $15.00.

Every Line of Goods to be sold below
Cost.

Don't fail to call and inspect before making
your purchases.
25-11

MEAGHER BROS.

THE PRINCE EDWARD COUNTY
MUTUAL FIRE INSURANCE CO
HEAD OFFICE—PICTON, ONT.
(Established 30th Sept., 1854).

PRESIDENT—LEWIS B. STINSON.
VICE-PRESIDENT—JOHN PRINYER.
MANAGER AND INSPECTOR—L. B. STINSON.

SECRETARY—C. D. MORDEN.
TREASURER—PHILIP LOW, Q. C.
SOLICITOR—W. H. R. ALLISON

DIRECTORS—STEPHEN B. HUBBS,
JNO. PRINYER, JOHN VANALSTINE,
LEWIS B. STINSON, ADAM H. SAYLOR,
CARLETON MCCARTNEY, and GEORGE MARTIN.

HONORARY DIRECTORS—G. Striker, Esq.,
M. P. P., Picton; R. Clapp, Esq., Milford;
K. Graham, Esq., Belleville; P. Allan, C. A. Lloyd, J. P. Dorland, Esqs., Adolphustown; J. C. Hoffman, Esq., J. E. Grange, Esq., M. P. P., Napane;
J. T. Proctor, Esq., Brighton; G. W. Webb, Esq., Colborne; G. Jones, Esq., Trenton;
J. Redner, Esq., Rednersville; Owen Roblin, Esq., Wm. Delong, Esq., Ameliasburg;
H. A. McFaul, Esq., Hillier; Jas. Johnson, Esq., thol. W. Boulter, Sophiasburgh, Jas. Calnan, Esq., Hillier, and Charles B. Kemp, Esq., Brighton.

This Company is established upon strictly Mutual principles, insuring farm property Townships, and property not more hazardous in Towns and Villages and offers great advantages to insure at low rates for Three or Five Years either, on the Premium Note or Cash System.

Feb 26th, 1878. 521-y.

WESTERN ASSURANCE COMPANY

Incorporated 1851;

CAPITAL $500,000

by dressing. WILLIAM GRAY & Co., Windsor, Ont.

ELECTRICITY

THOMAS' EXCELSIOR ELECTRIC OIL

WORTH TEN TIMES ITS WEIGHT IN GOLD
PAIN CANNOT STAY WHERE IT IS USED

IT is the cheapest medicine ever made. One dose cures common sore throat. One bottle has cured Bronchitis. Fifty cents worth has cured an old stand cough. It positively cures catarrh, asthma, and croup. Fifty cents worth cured crick in the back, and the same quantity lame back of eight years' standing. It cures swelled neck, tumors, rheumatism, neuralgia, contraction of the muscles, joints, spinal difficulties, and pain and stiffness in any part, no matter where it is, nor from what cause it may arise, it cures you good. Twenty-five cents worth has cured bad cases of chronic bloody dysentery. One teaspoonful of oil cures in 15 minutes. It will cure any piles it is possible to cure. Six or eight applications is warranted to cure any of excoriated nipples or inflamed breasts. For bruises, if applied often and bound there is never the slightest discoloration of the skin. It stops the pain of a burn soon as applied. Cures frost-bitten feet, warts, and corns, and wounds of every description on man or beast.

Beware of Imitations.—Ask for Thomas Electric Oil. See that the signature of S. N. THOMAS is on the wrapper and the names of Northrop and Lyman blown in the bottle, and TAKE NO OTHER Sold by all medicine dealers. Price 25c. NORTHROP & LYMAN, Toronto, Ont. Proprietors for the Dominion.

NOTE.—Electric—Selected and Electroized.

Awarded the Highest Medal at Vienna.

E. & H. T. Anthony & Co

591 Broadway, New York.

(Opp. Metropolitan Hotel.)

Manufacturers, Importers & Dealers in

Engravings, Chromos and Fram

Stereoscopes and Views,

Albums, Graphoscopes, Photograph

And kindred goods—Celebrities, Actresses, et

Photographic Material

We are Headquarters for everything in way of

Stereopticons and Magic Lantern

Being Manufacturers of the

Micro-Scientific Lantern,

Stereo-Panopticon,

University Stereopticon,

Artistic Stereopticon,

School Lantern,

Family Lantern,

People's Lantern

Each style being the best of its class in the market.

Beautiful Photographic Transparencies of Slu tuary and Engravings for the window.

Convex Glass. Manufacturers of Val Frames for Miniatures and Convex Glass Pi
tures.

Catalogues of Lanterns and Slides, with directions for using, sent on application.

Any enterprising man can make money with pumps, fringers, churns, etc." What does this amount to? Simply that the agricultural interest, which the Mail affects, in its eagerness to curry favour with the manufacturers, to ignore, has certain wants which local enterprise in the West is supplying. Somebody or other has been writing up Springfield, Ohio, and at once we are asked to believe that, turning their backs upon all the rest of the world, the people of the great West have all found a home market in Springfield, Ohio. The owners of the vast herds of cattle that roam the plains of Texas, the great wheat growers of Minnesota, the agriculturist of Kansas, are all happy, rich, and prosperous because Springfield, Ohio, is thriving.

But what does Springfield's progress show? The statement quoted by the Mail is to the effect that the manufactures in question chiefly consist of patented articles used by the agriculturists. If protection were out of the question altogether, as a fiscal policy, it would simply follow that a body of ingenious and enterprising persons who have patented certain articles have set themselves down in a very fertile agricultural State and secure a monopoly for their inventions. We should like very much to hear what an Ohio agriculturist—not a Canadian political schemer and dodger—has to say to this. Would he prefer to see a little healthy competition or not? Would he despair of enjoying just as good a "home market" if he could get all he wanted by an open trade carried on under a duty, say, of 17 per cent.? It is notorious that the strength of the movement against high tariffs comes from the Western States, and while everyone recognizes the justice of a patent law within certain limits, there is no farmer who, if the question is brought home to him, prefers having no choice in making a bargain. As matters stand, it would be well to know what price the farmers of Ohio have paid to build up Springfield industries, and how much they have lost between the price paid for this little "home market" and the advantage to themselves of buying all they might have wanted elsewhere. It is certain that, for agricultural implements—whether owing to patent monopolies or to protection—the American farmer pays some 25 to 30 per cent. more than his Canadian neighbour. The latter, out of the bulk of his purchases of these necessities to his vocation, has to pay, say, $75 where the Ohio farmer pays $100. He has consequently another $25 to spend in education or additional comforts, or to add to his savings. Yet, with all this, no one has the hardihood to pretend that the agricultural implement maker in Canada is not thriving. He has had the most ample opportunities of making his wants and grievances known, but he has, before Parliamentary Committees and elsewhere, repudiated all need for more protection. His prosperity is undeniable. To tell the farmers the agriculturist implement business wants any further bolstering up or protecting is a piece of hardihood that nobody but a reckless gamester would indulge in.

The agricultural implement makers of Canada are to be seen everywhere, and all prosperous. In 1870-71 the value of the agricultural implements manufactured annually amounted to $2,635,393. Considering the great increase since that time in such establishments it would be only reasonable to put the value now of the yearly production at $4,000,000. And against this the whole importation of agricultural implements into the Dominion in 1876-7 amounted to $137,914, or 3½ per cent. on the total value so that, in this very industry, the Canadian farmer gets all he wants at home, and the agricultural implement maker sells all the home purchaser requires, besides exporting a good amount to foreign countries.

Let anybody look at the list of manufacturers in which Springfield, Ohio, is supposed to rejoice, and say if there is one that is not finding "a home market" in Canada, even to burial cases, which it is repeatedly observed are being turned out most plentifully at Springfield, Ohio. Or let anybody ask an Ontario farmer whether he does not believe all these was lost in calling up the palace servants for examination, when it was found that a foreign lacky, who had entered the service some months before, and had up to that time borne an excellent character, had unaccountably disappeared. The affair, however, was hushed up, and to this day many persons who are acquainted with the story, consider the whole occurrence either imaginary or purely accidental.—New York Times.

Marriage of a Woman to a Woman.

The Tuscarora, Ney., Times Review says: Marancy Hughes was married in September last to a person who was known as Samuel M. Pollard. Her relatives opposed the marriage, and she eloped and was married without their knowledge, and a short time after their marriage Pollard confessed to her that she was a woman; that she had trouble with her relatives in the East; had lost her property, and assumed the disguise of a man for the reason that avenues for making money would be open to her in that character which would be closed to her as a woman. Pollard has never given her any particular reason for doing her this great wrong, but it is believed to have been actuated by a foolish pride in appearing in the character of a married man. The victim was ashamed to acknowledge that she had been imposed upon, and shrunk from admitting the truth. Pollard, without actually threatening her life, repeatedly intimated that it would be bad for her if she exposed her, and so she kept silent until a fortnight ago, when her aunt got an intimation of the fact and questioned her closely, and she related to her the whole story. The victim says that the woman's real name is Sarah M. Pollard, and her trunk is filled with feminine apparel. A complaint was filed by J. O. Howerton, accusing Pollard of perjury in swearing when she took out the marriage license that she was a male.

There is a French prophecy which says the end of the world will come when Easter Sunday falls on St. Mark's day. This will be the case in 1886.

Ex-Empress Eugenie's income is $250,000 a year, and the strangest thing of all is that she, surrounded by fascinating Frenchmen, is yet a widow.

A Connecticut woman was appointed constable the other day, and the first thing she said was: "Now I shall catch a man."

A Virginia woman refuses to marry a bald-headed man, though he is a millionaire. She explains: "We'd have a family fight sometime, and he has no hair to catch hold of."

Clarkville, Allegany county, boasts of "a fat girl sixteen years of age that brings down the hay scales at 452 pounds, long metric avoirdupois."

Among the exquisite articles on exhibition at Paris, is a set of silverware made for Mrs. Mackey, an American lady living in Paris, at a cost of $150,000, consisting of nearly a thousand pieces.

The fact that King William has been married fifty years speaks more for his wonderful powers of endurance than the fact that he carries fifty bullets around under his cuticle.

Two beautiful young ladies are about to open a barber shop in Milford, Maryland, and even the married men there are beginning to experience a nervousness that make it impossible for them any longer to shave themselves.

The Sultan's follies are coming home to roost, one after the other. There is not money enough in the imperial exchequer to pay the baker's bills, and the palace grocers have refused to give further credit. The Sultan, so it is reported, relieves his feelings by smashing the furniture in his harem. This last is a Daily News story, and therefore probably false.

Don't fail to call and inspect before making your purchases.
25-11 MEAGHER BROS.

THE PRINCE EDWARD COUNTY MUTUAL FIRE INSURANCE CO

HEAD OFFICE—PICTON, ONT.
(Established 30th Sept., 1854).

PRESIDENT—LEWIS B. STINSON.
VICE-PRESIDENT—JOHN PRINYER.
MANAGER AND INSPECTOR—L. B. STINSON.
SECRETARY—C. D. MORDEN.
TREASURER—PHILIP LOW, Q. C.
SOLICITOR—W. H. R. ALLISON.
DIRECTORS—STEPHEN B. HUBBS, J. NO. PRINYER, JOHN VANALSTINE, LEWIS B. STINSON, ADAM H. SAYLOR, CARLETON MCCARTNEY, and GEORGE MARTIN.

HONORARY DIRECTORS.—G. Striker, Esq., M. P. P., Picton; R. Clapp, Esq., Milford; K. Graham, Esq., Belleville; P. Allan, C. A. Lloyd, J. P., Dorland, Esqs., Adolphustown; J. C. Huttman, Esq., J. T. Grange, Esq., M. P. P., Napanee; J. E. Proctor, Esq., Brighton; G. W. Webb, Esq., Colborne; G. Jones, Esq., Trenton; J. Redner, Esq., Rednersville; Owen Roblin, Esq., Wm. Delong, Esq., Ameliasburg; H. A. McPaul, Esq., Hillier; Jas. Johnson, Esq., thol W. Boulter, Sophiasburgh, Jas. Calnan, Esq., Hillier, and Charles B. Kemp, Esq., Brighton.

This Company is established upon strictly Mutual principles, insuring farm property Townships, and property not more hazardous in Towns and Villages and offers great advantages to insure at low rates for Three or Five Years either, on the Premium Note or Cash System.

Feb 26th, 1878.

321-y.

WESTERN ASSURANCE COMPANY

Incorporated 1851:

CAPITAL, - - - - - $500,000
With power to increase to $1,000,000.

FIRE AND MARINE, HEAD OFFICE: Toronto, Ont.

President.
HON. JOHN McMURICH.
Vice-President.
HARLES MAGRATH.
Directors.
JAS. MICHIE, Esq., NOAH BARNHART, Esq., JOHN FISKIN, Esq., ROBT. BEATY, Esq., A. SMITH, Esq., WM. GOODERHAM, Esq., BARNARD HILDAN, Managing Director, FRED'G. C. LOVEACE, Secretary, W. BRIGHT, Fire Inspector, JAMES PRINGLE, General Agent, Agency Inspector.

Insurances effected at the lowest current rates on Buildings, Merchandise, and other property, against loss or damage by fire.

On High Cargo, and Freight against the perils of Inland Navigation.

On Cargo Risks with the Maritime Provinces by sail or steam.

On Voyages by steamers to British Ports.

W. V. DETLOF,
Agent for Napanee

EMPLOYMENT.

IN EVERY VILLAGE and Township of Ontario, not yet occupied, one active, intelligent Lady or Gentleman can obtain a most respectable and very profitable engagement. Address, with full particulars as to age and experience,

D. DOWNIE & CO.,
4 King St. East St. Toronto

April 1878

$66 a week in your own town, $5 outfit free. No risk. Reader, if you want a business at which persons of either sex can make great pay all the time they work, write for particulars to H. HULLYER & Co., Portland, Maine.

NOTE.—Electric—Selected and Ede

Awarded the Highest Medal at V

E. & H. T. Anthony

591 Broadway, New York

(Opp. Metropolitan Hotel.

Manufacturers, Importers & Dea

Engravings, Chromos and Stereoscopes and

Albums, Graphoscopes, Pho

And kindred goods—Celebrities, Act

Photographic Mat

We are Headquarters for everyth way of

Stereopticons and Magic

Being Manufacturers of th

Micro-Scientific Lantern, Stereo-Panopticon,

University Stereopticon, Advertiser's Stereopticon

Artopticon, School Lantern,

Family Lant People's

Each style being the best of its c market.

Beautiful Photographic Transpare

Convex Glass. Manufacturers Frames for Miniatures and Convex

Catalogues of Lanterns and Slides, tions for using, sent on application.

Any enterprising man can make m Magic Lantern.

22—Cutout this advertisement for ref

SIXTY-SI

Specimen Copies of Our Bes Chromes.

We will send sixty-six copies of our nos to responsible agents. They are different oil colors, bringing forth in all the lights and shades in nature w effect. Any live young man or woman from $50 to $100 in their own town, ing are among our specimens: "Asking a Blessing," "Blind M," "Christ Blessing Little children," "Lessons," "Speak the Truth," "Sarcotures," "God Bless Our Home," "Lord," "The Lord is My Shepherd," "Attend Thee," "Joy be With Thee," "With You," "Be Just and Fear Not," "Scenes," Faith, Hope and Charity, Scenes, &c., &c. Enclose 25 cents to 5-pin

S. HIGELMAN
104 W. 4th St.

V. E. T. SURGEON
NAPANEE ONT

GRADUATE OF

Ontario Veterinary College
May be consulted on all diseases o cated Animals, personally at Camp by better.

TERMS MODERATE
OFFICE—Bridge Street.

JULY 12, 1878.

Wells' Belladonna Improved India
Rubber Porous Plaster.

There has never been a time when the healing of any different disease has been caused by the application of the plaster. It is an understood fact that over half of the entire population of the globe resort to the use of ordinary plasters.

The principal ingredients used in making these are Gum Olibanum—or better known as Frankincense of the Bible—Rubber and Bur-Pitch, which, when scientifically combined, is full of electricity, and when combined with the pure medicinal gums, is found to be the greatest healing medium ever brought to the human race.

They are acknowledged by all who have used to act quicker than any other Plaster. They more tried, and that one of these Plasters can restore a person to a hundred of the world. All other plasters are slow of effect, and require to be worn continually to effect;
but with these it is entirely different; the tincture applied, the patient will feel its effect.

They possess all the soothing, warming, supporting and strengthening qualities of all other plasters. Many who have been relieved of "RHEUMATISM, SCIOLLOREUX, and various pains in the KIDNEYS, BREAST or SIDE, know it is solely done by the electrical force which the Porous Plasters contain, and is imparted to the system, thus restoring to a healthy condition.

They are very soft and pliable, still very ad-
hesive, and a sure cure for WEAK BACKS,
PAINS IN THE SIDE AND BREAST, and are able to those who have a COLD of long standing, and often prevents CONSUMPTION.
Even tell us they believe they were cured by the use of them of a long Consumption.

Sold by GEO. E. MITCHELL, Lowell, by all Druggists. 19-yl

MANHOOD:
LOST, NOW RESTORED!!

We have recently published a new edition of "Dr. Culvertwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical and permanent cure (with medicine) of Nervous Debility, Mental and physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, resulting from excesses.
Price, in a sealed envelope, only 6 cents, or postage stamps.
The celebrated author, of this admirable Essay, demonstrates, from thirty years' successful practice, that alarming consequences are radically cured without the dangerous internal medicine or the application of surgery; pointing out a mode of cure at once certain and effectual, by means of which sufferers, no matter what this condition may be, may be cured cheaply, privately and radi-

This Lecture should be in the hands of youth and every man in the land.

HE CULVERTWELL MEDICAL CO.,
41 Ann St., New York.
Box 4586 45-ly.

Consumption Cured.

OLD PHYSICIAN, retired from a long practice, has just published a new and complete treatise on the radical and permanent cure of Consumption, in a sealed envelope, only 6 cents, or
postage stamps.
INSURANCE ASTHMA BRONCHITIS CATARRH of the Throat and Lungs, also a Positive and cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Disorders, after having thoroughly tested a number of the most celebrated of these remedies it is only to make it to his suffering fellow-men. Actuated by this motive, he has written this treatise, and he trusts it will be of great service to all who desire it, this with full directions for preparing and successfully sent by return mail by addressing with stamp, name and paper.
DR. C. STEVENS.
202 S. Brockville, Ont.

Great Female Remedy.
MOSES' PILLS.

This invaluable medicine is unfailing in the case of all those painful and dangerous disorders which the female constitution is subject to. It invigorates a languid and delicate system, regulates the functions of the system, restores the vitality of the constitution, for the life, and when taken in middle or old years a real blessing, and for the approaching old age, these Pills should be used for three weeks previous to confinement;
they will be derived from medicinal herbs; they are the constitution, less on the suffering during, prevent weakness of the organs, and the mother to perform her duties with ease to herself and child.
In cases of Nervous and spinal Affections, in the Back and Limbs, Headaches, Fatigue after exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Low spirits, Hysterics, Sick Headaches, and all the painful diseases occasioned
by a disordered system, these Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed; and, although a powerful remedy, do not contain iron.

HARVEST TOOLS!

Largest Stock,

AND

Lowest Prices

IN THE COUNTY, AT

WRIGHT & Co's.,

Napanee.

S. G. BEATTY & Co.,

BELLEVILLE, - - Ontario.

S. G. BEATTY. W. R. ROBINSON. J. W. JOHNSON

Ontario Business College,

Which has been in existence for 10 years, and, during which time
Has Trained Hundreds of Young Men
For Business Life, who are now filling important positions in the community, offers advantages
for obtaining a

COMMERCIAL EDUCATION,

Equal to any Institution in Canada, or the United States. Its several departments are conducted by thoroughly competent men who teach that which they have learned by actual business experience, and therefore practically under stand.

THE PUBLICATIONS OF THE COLLEGE:

The "Canadian Accountant," "Joint Stock Company Book Keeping," "Beatty's Guide to Elegant
Writing, etc., have obtained a National reputation, and are the productions of the principals of the College, who are daily engaged, together with their staff of teachers, in the Class and Lecture
Rooms, College Bank, and Merchants Emporium with the Students.

THE COURSE IS SHORT,

because the teaching is thorough and practical, and no pains are spared to give to each student individually, as well as to the various classes, the personal attention of the teachers.

GOOD BOARD

can be obtained in Belleville at a lower rate than in any other place having a Business College in Canada or the United States.

The College Journal, containing full information respecting terms, nature of course, etc.

JOB

Printing!

THE JOBBING DEPARTMENT

—OF THE

NAPANEE EXPRESS

IS EXCELLED BY

No Office In The Dominion

ITS OUTFIT INCLUDES A

LARGE STOCK

OF THE

Very Latest Styles of New Type

And every Facility exists for turning out

JOB PRINTING

MONEY TO LOAN

HAZEN B. BRUNY & Co.,
28 and 30 St. Francis Xavier Street,
MONTREAL, QUE.

J. GIBBARD & SON is always ahead in Style, Ware and Finish of their Furniture. Our War-rooms were never better Stocked, our Prices were never Lower. We are constantly making improvements in our goods, and as they are all Manufactured on our own premises, and under our own supervision, we can guarantee them as good as the best.

SOLID AND INSERTED TOOTH
SAW GUINDELLS, SAW SWAGES SAW TEETH SAW SETS

L Waterous Engine Works Co.,
BRANTFORD, ONT.

*State where you saw this person to report.

trates of Exhausted Vitality, Premature Decline, Nervous and Physical Debility, and the endless concomitant ills and untold miseries that result therefrom, and which have more than an original price of the book. This book was written by the most extensive and probably the most skillful practitioner in America, to whom was awarded a gold and jeweled medal by the American Medical Association. The book is illustrated with the very finest Steel Engravings—a marvel of art and beauty—sent FREE to all. Send for it at once. Address
THE AMERICAN MEDICAL ASSOCIATION
 536 N. Dearborn St., Chicago, Ill.
INSTITUTE, No. 4 Bul-ding St., Boston, Mass.

17.1 y

CANNOT be cured by Enuffs, Washes, or Local Applications. Thousands of cases, some of forty years standing, have been entirely cured by CONSTITUTIONAL CATHARTIC REMEDY. For sale by all druggists. Send stamp for Treatise on Catarrh to

T. J. B. HAPPING, D. C., KEVILLE, ONT.
Five Years' Sufferer Cured by Four Bottles of Constitution
Catarrh Remedy. Pain in Shoulders, Back and Lungs and Droppings in Throat Disappear.
St. ARMAND, P. Q., Sept. 12, 1876.
MR. T. J. B. HAPPING

[illegible]

A Vegetable Preparation, invented in the 17th century by Dr. Wm. Grace, Surgeon in King James's army. Through his agency he cured thousands of the most serious sores and wounds and was regarded by all who knew him as a public benefactor. 25c. a box, by mail 30c. For sale by druggists generally.

Address SETH W. BOWLER & SON, Boston,
Mass.

We have received instructions from England, to lend a large amount of Money.

AT LOWEST RATE THAN HAS YET BEEN OFFERED.

CALL IN AND EXAMINE RATES.

NO COMMISSION CHARGED.

WILLIAMS & HOOPER.

$777

to work steadily at the employment that we furnish. $66 per week in your own town. You need not be away from home over night. You can give your whole time to the work, or only your spare moments. We have agents who are making over $20 per day. All who engage at once can make money fast. At the present time money cannot be made so easily and rapidly at any other business. It costs nothing to try the business. Terms and $5 Quitt free. Address at once, H. HALLETT & Co., Portland, Maine.

is not easily earned in these times, but it can be made in three months by any one of either sex, in any part of the country who is willing to work steadily at the emurnish. $66 per week in you need not be away from you can give your whole time your spare moments. We making over $20 per day. nee can make money fast. money cannot be made so at any other business. It the business. Terms and dress at once, H HALETT & Co.

F B E Z O ' S

RESTAURANT.

(Opposite the Tichborne House.)
Meals or lunch can be obtained on most reasonable terms. Board by the day or week.

 FRUIT OR GROCERIES

Toys and Fancy Goods, and
 D. D. MALLORY'S CELEBRATED OYSTERS
 Best in the Market.

25-11.

F. BEZO.

is beyond comparison the best remedy for the cure of CONSUMPTION (EVEN IN ITS ADVANCED STAGES), Asthma, Bronchitis, Catarrh, and all derangements of the NERVOUS SYSTEM. A circular containing PARTICULARS of MANY CASES SUCCESSFULLY TREATED, full advice for the treatment of the diseases above mentioned, and certificates of actual cures, will be sent free by mail to all applicants. Address OSCAR G. MOSES, Sole Proprietor 15 Cortland Street, 23

To Let!

Brick Dwelling House in Napanee, next to W. A. Reeves, for one or two years, with good Garden. For further particulars, apply to E. S. LAPUM Life Ins. Agt., Napanee.
IDNEY WARNE R.
Wilton, Dec. 34-41

OF THE ART.

LAW WORK A SPECIALTY

Assessment Blanks,
Auction Bills,
Articles of Agreement,
Briefs,
Bill Heads,
Ball Programmes,
Bills of Fare,
Circulars,
Chancery Bills,
Cards,
Catalogues,
Debentures

Dodgers,
Date Lines,
Envelopes,
Exhibition Bills,
Funerals,
Circulars,
Financial Reports,
Headings,
Horse Bills,
Indentures,
Invitations

Letter Headings,
Law Forms,
Lawyers' Briefs,
Labels,
Monthly Statements,
Mourning Cards,
Municipal Forms,
Note Headings,
Notarial Circulares

Primary Notices,
 Pamphlets,
 Posters,
 Programmes,
 Promissory Notes,
 Receipt Books,
 Shipping Tags,
 Statements,
 Sale Bills,
 Tickets,

Tax Collectors Rolls,
Tax Receipts,
Visiting Cards,
Veterans' Lists,
Wheat Receipts,
Wedding Cards.

ALL THE ABOVE

PRINTED WITH DESPATCH

AT THE

EXPRESS" OFFICE

Smith
1971

LENNOX and ADDINGTON
Historical Society
NAPANEE - ONTARIO

of Insertions

Guide Advertisers for Sale
Dorsey & Robertson

THE "EXPRESS,"

NAPANEE, ONT.

$1 PER ANNUM
IN ADVANCE OTHERWISE, $1.50.

The best Local Paper in this section. Best Market Report, Local News, and Foreign Intelligence.

GOOD ADVERTISING MEDIUM

Business Cards.

Alex. C. Davis,

ISSUER of Marriage Licenses, Napanee
Ontario

James Aylsworth,

ISSUER of Marriage Licenses, Tam-
worth.

J. D. Clarke,

ISSUER of Marriage Licenses, Odessa,
Ontario.

J. J. Watson,

ISSUER of Marriage Licenses and Certificates, Adamstown.

Robert Graham,

ISSUER of Marriage Licenses. Office
In the Dominion Store, Enterprise.

Charles Lane,

ISSUER of Marriage Licenses and Certificates. Office—Front of Grammar School, Bridge Street, Napanee.

J. B. Randall,

ISSUER of Marriage Licenses and Certificates. Also agent for the Beaver and Toronto Fire Insurance Company and the Mutual Life Association of Canada. Residence—Shannonville, Ont.

Murphy & Bedford,

BARRISTERS, &c., MILL POINT.
Money to lend on improved Real Estate.

Williams & Smith,

BARRISTERS, &c., Attorneys, &c., Nap-
anee.
W. S. WILLIAMS, J. BRUCE SMITH, B.A.
Official Assessor.

Deroche & Madden,

BARRISTERS and Attorneys-at-Law,
Solicitor in Chancery, Conveyancers,
Notaries Public, &c. Office—In Grange
Block, Napanee. Money to loan on easy
terms.

H. M. DEROCHE.

J. H. MADDEN.

S. Gibson,

BARRISTER, Attorney-at-Law, & Solicitor in Chancery and Insolvency, Notary Public, &c. Office—Grange Block,
John Street, Napanee.

W. C. SCOTT, Editor.)

VOL. 17.

"THE GREATE

NAPANEE, ONT.

TWO POPULAR MAGAZINES.

Brilliant Novelties for 1879.

ELLA FARMAN, Editor.
D. LOTHROP & Co., Publishers.

WIDE AWAKE.

The Illustrated Magazine for Young Folks.

$2 00 A YEAR.

It is conceded on all sides that Messrs.
D. Lothrop & Co. have splendidly accomplished what they set their hearts upon a few years ago, viz: to make a magazine absolutely pure in its moral influence, unrivalled in literary merit, beautiful artistically, and then to furnish it at so low a price that the people could afford to take it.

BABYLAND.

ONLY FIFTY CENTS A YEAR.

The Only Magazine in the World for Babies!

Dainty stories and pictures, and rhymes of baby life! Eight pages, thick amber paper, large print, words divided into syllables.

Just what your baby wants.

LIME! LIME!

GALT BROS., - - - Napanee, Ont.

THE ATTENTION of Builders, contractors,
and others is called to the superior quality
of Rough Lime now being manufactured in unlimited quantities and sold at the Lowest Living Price. Delivered by rail to all parts of the Province. The Messrs. Galt use every care in housing and shipping, and builders at a distance
who order by mail can rely upon having their orders filled as carefully and promptly as if personally present. Hundreds of testimonials as to uniformity of quality and fairness of dealing.

All orders left at Wright & Co's. Hardware store will receive prompt attention.

GALT BROS.,
Napanee March 21st. 1878. Lime Works.

Tailoring!

HAVING commenced business in the above
line on my own account, directly over

Coxall & Paisley's Store;

Where I will be ready to attend to the wants of
all who may favor me with a call.

Nice Samplers to Select from, and Good
Fit Guaranteed.

Cutting Boys' Cloths & Ladies Jackets

A SPECIALITY.

JAS. BLAIR.

Napanee, Aug. 29th, 1877.

18-6v.

FIRST ARRIVAL

VEGETINE

Purifies the Blood. Renovates and Invigorates the Whole System.

ITS MEDICINAL PROPERTIES ARE

Alternate, Tonic, Solvent, and Diuretic.

VEGETINE is made exclusively from the juices of carefully selected barks, roots, and herbs, and so strongly concentrated that it will effectually eradicate from the system every taint of SCROFULA, SCROFULOUS HUMOR, TUMORS, CANCER, CANCEROUS HUMOR,
Erysipelas, Salt-Rheum, Canker, Faintness at the Stomach, and all diseases arising from impure food. SCIATICA, INFLAMMATORY, and CHRONIC RHEUMA-TISM, NEURALGIA, GOUT, and SPINAL COMPLAINTS, can only be effectually cured through the blood.

For Ulcers, and Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, Pustules, Pimples, Blisters, Bolls, Tetter, Scaldhead, and Ringworm, Vegetine has never failed to effect a permanent cure.

For pains in the Back, Kidney Complaints,
Dropsy, Female Weakness, Leucorrhoea, arising
from internal ulceration and uterine diseases,
and general Debility, Vegetine acts directly upon the causes of these complaints. It invigorates and strengthens the whole system, acts upon the secretory organs, allays inflammation, cures ulceration, and regulates the bowels.

For Catarrh, Dyspepsia, Habitual Costiveness,
Palpitation of the heart, Headache, Piles, Nervousness, and General Prostration of the Nervous System, no medicine has ever given such general satisfaction as the Vegetine. It purifies the blood, cleanses all the organs, and possesses a controlling power over the nervous system.

The remarkable cures effected by Vegetine,
have induced many physicians and apothecaries whom we know to prescribe and use it in their own families.

In fact Vegetine is the best remedy yet discovered for the above diseases, and is the only reliable BLOOD PURIFIER yet placed before the public.

VEGETINE.

SHACKAMON SQUARE PHARMACY,
124 Beach St., above Laurel,
Philadelphia, Penn., June 12, 1877.

Mr H R Stevens,

Dear Sir,—Having during the past five years
sold your Vegetine, which has been praised by my customers highly for the various diseases requiring a blood purifier, and as I have heard
very favorable reports of its use, I cordially endorse it as a good remedy, and believe it to be what you claim it is; viz. "The great blood pu-rifier" of the day.

Respectfully yours,
J. W. ABEL M. D., Druggist.

PHYSICIANS SAY IT.—Vegetine gives an equal circulation of the blood. All physicians will agree that there is scarcely a disease but that could a most instantly be disposed of if pure blood could be circulated through the parts affected. Now this is the way in which Vegetine performs its wonderful cures. Vegetine is exclusively a vegetable compound, made from roots, herbs, and barks.

VEGETINE.

NEWPORT, KY.

Mr H R Stevens,—

DEAR SIR.—I sold your Vegetine for a number of years, and find it give perfect satisfaction to

Poetry.

Shall We Find Them at the

BY J. E. BANKIN, D. D., IN "SUN-TIMES."

Will they meet us, cheer and greet
Those we've loved, who've gone
Shall we find them at the portals,
Find our beautiful immortals,
When we reach the radiant shore

Hearts are broken for some token
That they live, and love us yet.
And we ask, Can those who've left
Of love's look and tone bereft us,
Though in heaven, can they fo

And we often, as days soften,
And comes out the evening star,
Looking westward, sit and wonder,
Whether, when so far assunder,
They still think how dear they at

Past yon portal our immortals,
Those who walk with Him in whi
Do they, mid their bliss, recall us?
Know they what event's befall us?
Will our coming wake delight?

They will meet us, cheer and greet
Those we've loved, who've gone
We shall find them at the portals,
Find our beautiful immortals,
When we reach that radiant shore

Our Story

THE

Curse of Clifton

BY MRS. E. D. E. N. SOUTHWICK

(Continued from last week)

The next day Major Clifton to White Cliffs to pay his re-Georgia.

The beauty received him with strained joy; but in the cor-that ensued, reverted to what "The intrigues of that low be-couver-r, Miss Kavanagh," as if he had observed a great chan-Clifton, ascribable entirely to
fluence?

It gave Major Clifton great hear Catherine traduced in this but he believed Mrs. Georg perfectly sincere in her opin-
only the victim of a mistake.
the lady so, adding—

"I am about to give Miss
the highest proof of confidence
being can give another, I am take her for my life's bosom
We shall be married in five day
Had a bullet sped through ti
she could not have given a mor-
ed bound. Then she struck bo-to her temples, started has across the floor, mangled again a

ISSUER of Marriage Licenses and Certificates. Office—Front of Grammar School, Bridge Street, Napanee.

J. B. Randall,

ISSUER of Marriage Licenses and Certificates. Also agent for the Beaver and Toronto Life Insurance Company and the Mutual Life Association of Canada. Residence—Shamondyde, Ont.

Murphy & Bedford,

BARRISTERS, &c., MILL POINT.
Solely to lend on improved Real Estate.

Williams & Smith,

BARRISTERS, &c., Attorneys, &c., Nap-
anee.
W. S. WILLIAMS, J. BRUCE SMITH, B.A.
Of Counsel.

Deroche & Madden,

BARRISTERS and Attorneys-at-Law,
Solicitors in Chancery, Conveyancers,
Notaries Public, &c. Office—In Grange
Block, Napanee. Money to loan on easy
terms.

H. M. DEROCHE, J. H. MADDEN.

S. Gibson,

BARRISTER, Attorney-at-Law, Solicitor in Chancery and Insolvency, No-
tary Public, &c. Office—Grange Block,
John Street, Napanee.

R. Tracy, M. D.,
M.D.,

PHYSICIAN, Surgeon and Accoucheur
Office and Residence, two doors east from the Park of Montreal, near the Congregational Church, Hotel St. 39

Reeve & Morden,

BARRISTERS and Attorneys-at-Law
Solicitors in Chancery, Conveyancers,
&c. Office—Perry's New Block Dundas Street, Napanee, Ontario.

W. A. REEVE, M. A., J. L. MORDEN.
Co. Crown Attorney.

E. A. Deroche,

OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE, under New Act of 1875.
Office in H. B. Deroche's Law Office

W. F. Ball,

OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE, under Insol-
vent Act of 1875. Fire Insurance Agent, &c. Office—Napanee Paper Mills, Centre Street.

F. Bartlett,

ARCHITECT AND BUILDER, West
Street, Napanee. Plans, Specification
and Detail Drawings furnished. Builder's work measured, and value computed.

DENTAL.

D. H. PLATT, L.D.S., of Picton.
HAVING opened an office in Napanee, wishes to call special notice to his new mode of preserving natural teeth for twelve years a specialty. Intricate cases solicited. Mr Platt will be pleased to see his old patients from Picton and elsewhere.
Office in Centre Block, over Ferguson's Hardware store, nearly opposite Henry & B. S. Book Store Napanee.

Maize Machine Shop,

STEAM ENGINES and all kinds of Boilers made, repaired. Also all kinds of Machinery repaired on the shortest notice. Remember the place, opposite the old City Hotel, corner of Adelaide and Bridge Streets.

RUSH INN,

West side Market Square,

NAPANEE, ONTARIO.

ARTHUR RUSH, - - Proprietor.
Best accommodation for Travellers and Farmers

LIME ! LIME !

GALT BROS., - - - Napanee, Ont.

THE ATTENTION of Builders, contractors,
and others is called to the superior quality of Roach Lime now being manufactured in unlimited quantities and sold at the Lowest Living Price. Delivered by rail to all parts of the Province. The Messrs. Galt use every care in housing and shipping, and builders at a distance
who order by mail can rely upon having their orders filled as carefully and promptly as if personally present. Hundreds of testimonials as to uniformity of quality and fairness of dealing.
All orders left at Wright & Co's. Hardware store will receive prompt attention!

GALT BROS.,
Napanee March 21st. 1875. Lime Works.

Tailoring !

HAVING commenced business in the above
line on my own account, directly over
Coxall & Paisley's Store;

Where I will be ready to attend to the wants of
all who may favor me with a call.

Nice Samplers to Select from, and Good
Fit Guaranteed.

Cutting Boys' Cloths & Ladies Jackets
A SPECIALITY.

JAS. BLAIR.

Napanee, Aug. 29th. 1877. 18-6v.

FIRST ARRIVAL

-OF-

New Teas !

Choicest New Crop, Spring
Leaf. Season 1878-9.

Japan Tea now in Store.

Also a large assortment of all other kinds.

In selecting our TEAS we aim not only to secure the best, but the Freshest !

A full and complete stock of choice

Family Groceries !

-PROVISIONS-

Flour, Pork, etc,

Always on hand.

W. Anderson,

(Late Smith & Anderson.)

GLOBE
Life Assurance Co.

OF NEW YORK.

Assets, - - - $5,000,000

Premium Reserve, $3,600,000

Income for Year 1876, $857,000

This company only accepts first-class
risks, and is noted for the promptness with
which claims are paid.

For Catarrh, Dyspepsia, Habitual Constiveness,
Palpitation of the heart, Headache, Piles, Nervousness, and General Irritation of the Nervous System, no medicine has ever given such general satisfaction as the Vegetine. It purifies the blood, cleanses all the organs, and possesses a controlling power over the nervous system.

The remarkable cures effected by Vegetine,
have induced many physicians and apothecaries
whom we know to prescribe and use it in their own families.

In fact Vegetine is the best remedy yet discovered for the above diseases, and is the only reliable BLOOD PURIFIER yet placed before the public.

VEGETINE.

SHACKAMANON SQUARE PHARMACY.

124 Broad St., above Laurel,

Philadelphia, Penn., June 12. 1877.

Mr H. R. Stevens.

Dear Sir,—Having during the past five years
sold your Vegetine, which has been praised by
my customers highly for the various diseases
requiring a blood purifier, and as I have heard
very favorable reports of its use, I cordially endorse it as a good remedy, and believe it to be what you claim it is; viz: "The great blood pu-rifier" of the day.

Respectfully yours,

J. W. ABEL M. D., Druggist.

PHYSICIANS SAY IT.—Vegetine gives an equal circulation of the blood. All physicians will agree that there is scarcely a disease but that could almost instantly be disposed of if pure blood could be circulated through the parts affected. Now this is the way in which Vegetine performs its wonderful cures. Vegetine is exclusively a vegetable compound, made from
roots, herbs, and barks,

VEGETINE.

NEWPORT, KY.

Mr H. R. Stevens,—

DEAR SIR,—I sold your Vegetine for a number of years and find it give perfect satisfaction to my customers.

HENRY WERTHIMER,

Druggist and Apothecary, Newport, Ky.

Vegetine is now acknowledged by our best physicians to be the only sure and safe remedy for all diseases arising from impure blood, such as Scrofula and Scrofulous Humors.

VEGETINE,

Prepared by

H. R. STEVENS, Boston, Mass.

Vegetine is Sold by All Druggists

ROBLIN & BRO.

-AT THE-

Napanee Shirt Factory

South Side Dundas Street, are still showing the best assortment of

CENTS' FURNISHINGS !

IN TOWN.

SHIRTS !

Men's Working Shirts, 50c.
Heavy Union Shirts, 75c.
All Wool Navy Blue Shirts with Collar, $1.
Flannel Shirts from $1.
Wing's Shirts, 7c. 9c., and $1.
Our White Dress Shirts, for 75c. cannot be equalled for the money in town.
Regatta Shirts, with collars attached or detached, from 50c.
Ours is the store for all kinds of SHIRTS.

UNDERCLOTHING !

in endless variety and very cheap, at ROBLIN

& BRO'S.

FOR THE FINEST ASSORTMENT OF

Collars, Cuffs, Scarfs !

Ties, Braces, Gloves, Hosiery, Umbrellas, Muf-
fers, Silk Handkerchiefs, Linen Handkerchiefs, Colored Cotton Handkerchiefs. Wool Cuffs, &c., always call at the

NAPANEE SHIRT FACTORY !

Ours is the Store for Regatta, shirtings, Oxford
shirtings, White shirtings, Union shirtings, all-wool shirtings, in fact all kinds of shirtings, from 10c. to 50c. per yard.

Shirts made to Order, and Guaranteed
to Fit.

ROBLIN & BRO.

Napanee, Oct. 10. 1878.

450 PAG'S FREE

Our Story

THE

Curse of Clif

BY MRS. E. D. E. N. SOUTHW.

(Continued from last we

The next day Major Clifton to White Cliffs to pay his r
Georgia.

The beauty received him w strained joy ; but in the co that ensued, reverted to wha
"The intrigues of that low b couvener, Miss Kavanagh," as if he had observed a great chan Clifton, ascribable entirely to
fluence ?

It gave Major Clifton great hear Catherine traduced in thi
but he believed Mrs. Georg
perfectly sincere in her opin
only the victim of a mistake.
the lady so, adding—

"I am about to give Miss
the highest proof of confidence
being can give another. I am take her for my life's boon
We shall be married in five da
Had a bullet sped through t
she could not have given a mor
ed bound. Then she struck bo
to her temples, started has across the floor, paused again
tracted, and suddenly cried out

"You shall not do it ! By you shall not do it ! You ne shall become the dupe of that I have entered the lists with mean, that to save you, I have and before I leave them, I w her false and treacherous. C
the right ?

Major Clifton gazed upon he der. The strong emotion that exhibited, imposed upon him, was no doubting its reality ;
from suspecting its cause, an ed passion for himself, he a solely to her strong conviction sine's unworthiness, and to her sted regard for his own welf when she came and threw the sofa beside him, and besot
all the eloquence that passion cannon could lend her, that pause and not hurry on to his confidence in Catherine's inte shaken to the foundation. An the end of an hour he rode reached Hardbargain as misers doubt of one beloved can mal
If love is the Divine power figuring its objects until faults cellencies, suspicion possesses monic faculty of deforming i until virtues seem vices, and influence the highest and best the maiden, her intellect, vikt graces were turned against
talent seemed intriguing art ;
ness and humility became me symphony, her piety, by and her girlish shyness the si
serve of conscious guilt.

It was well that on his retu Clifton only in his mother's where deep regard for the strained him into something bearance ; though even then h manner excited some uneasie bosoms of the two ladies. Wh rime left the room to order di conversation that ensue
strengthen his newly revived
Mrs Clifton told him, that wit
sent she would like to leave t Hardbargain to Catherine, as mony of her esteem and affecti

"And for a more practical re she said, "for you know, my de that the estate of White Cliffs tailed—if you should die befor
without male childer.—Cath her daughters, if she should l would be left homeless. But her this farm of Hardbargain

W. F. Ball,
OFFICIAL ASSURER, under Insolvent Act of 1875. Fire Insurance Agent, 100 Queen's Napanee Paper Mills.
Centre Street.

F. Battlett,
ARCHITECT AND BUILDER, West
A Street, Napanee. Plans, Specification
and Detail Drawings furnished. Builder's work measured and value computed.

DENTAL.
D. H. PLATT, L.D.S., of Picton
HAVING been a resident in Napanee, wishes to call public notice to his new mode of preserving natural teeth for twelve years a specialty. Treatments solicited. Mr. Platt will be pleased to receive old patients from Picton and elsewhere.
Children's Teeth. Dr. J. C. Ferguson's Hardware Store, next to Henry & B's. Book Store Napanee.

Yarn and Wine Shop,
STEAM Engines and all kinds of Boilers made and repaired. Also all kinds of Machinery repaired on the shortest notice. Rentable place, opposite the old City Hotel, corner of Adelaide and Bridge Streets.

RUSH INN,
West side Market Square.
NAPANEE, ONTARIO.
ARTHUR RUSH, - - Proprietor.

Best accommodation for Travellers and Farmers attending Market. House newly refitted and furnished. Good bar and attentive Hostess. Bar supplied with choice liquors.

CITY HOTEL,
John McMullen, - Proprietor.
Good accommodation for travellers. Bar always well stocked with choice liquors. Ample yards and stabling.

LENNOX HOTEL,
NAPANEE, ONTARIO.

HAVING lately built a large brick building,
112 South side Main Street, as a first-class Hotel.
I desire to solicit a share of patronage from new friends as well as old ones. The table will always be supplied with the best the market affords, and the bar with the choicest liquors and cigars. Good yards and stabling.
JAMES C. HANE, Proprietor.
June 26th, 1878. S. Hy.

THE STANDARD FIRE INSURANCE CO.
HEAD OFFICE—HAMILTON.
GOVERNMENT DEPOSIT,
25,000.00.

THIS Company has the largest Government deposit of any purely Provincial Company. It confines its business exclusively to this Province, and limits its liabilities on any first-class risk
to $3,000.

PRESIDENT,
D. B. Chisholm, Esq., ex-M. P. P.
SEC. AND TREAS.,—H. T. Crawford.
Application Solicited, and the Lowest Rates Guaranteed.
T. G. DAVIS, Agent
23-1y.

Freshest OF Des, Napanee Shirt Factory

A full and complete stock of choice
Family Groceries !

—PROVISIONS—
Flour, Pork, etc.,
Always on hand.

W. Anderson,
(Late Smith & Anderson.)

GLOBE
Life Assurance Co.
OF NEW YORK.

Assets, - - - $5,000,000
Premium Reserve, $3,600,000
Income for Year 1876, $857,000

This company only accepts first-class
risks, and is noted for the promptness with
which claims are paid.

It offers insurance on the ordinary life as well as the endowment plans, besides those
also known as the ten, fifteen and twenty-
year reserve dividend plan, by which the reserves as well as all other accumulations
may be withdrawn at the time specified,
thereby affording a system of endowment
under ordinary life rates.

See prospectus in hands of local agents.

H. L. COOK,
General Agent for Ont.
THOS. A. HUFFMAN,
Act. f.r Napanee
Napanee, 15th June, 1877. S. Hy.

HAIR JEWELRY !
NAPANEE.

MRS. YOKOME
(formerly Mrs. Jackson) hereby informs the public, that she is prepared to accept, and execute in the newest, best and latest style all orders for

HAIR JEWELRY,
by which the hair of relatives and friends, beautifully woven and mounted in gold, may serve as mementoes of affection and friendship, in the form of gentlemen's watch guards, charms, scarf rings and pins, lockets, necklaces, bracelets, brooches, earrings, etc. Also Masonic, Odd fellows and all party or national emblems. All mountings solid gold, plain or ornamental.

LADIES HAIR WORK
in all its branches as usual. Combing made over with the roots of hair all turned the one direction, something that can't be done elsewhere in Napanee. Several switches for sale cheap.

Room No. 4, (opposite public parlor.)
PAISLEY HOUSE.
Farm for Sale.

A GOOD FARM containing one hundred acres, seventy of which is cleared, free from stumps and stones; a large frame Barn and Dwelling House on the premises, Lot No. 18, situate on the York Road, eight miles from Napanee. For further particulars enquire of owner,
SAMUEL SHIELDS.

South Side Dundas Street, are still showing the
best assortment of

CENTS' FURNISHINGS !
IN TOWN.

SHIRTS !
Men's Working Shirts, 50c.
Heavy Union Shirts, 75c.
All Wool Navy Blue Shirts with Collar, $1.
Flannel Shirts from $1.
Wings, Shirts, 75c, 90c, and $1.
Our White Dress Shirts, for 75c. cannot be equalled for the money in town.
Regatta Shirts, with collars attached or detached, from 50c.
Ours is the store for all kinds of SHIRTS.

UNDERCLOTHING !
in endless variety and very cheap, at ROBLIN
& BRO'S.

FOR THE FINEST ASSORTMENT OF
Collars, Cuffs, Scarfs !

Ties, Braces, Gloves, Hosiery, Umbrellas, Mus-
tlers, Silk Handkerchiefs, Linen Handkerchiefs, Colored Cotton Handkerchiefs, Wool Cuffs, &c.,
always call at the

NAPANEE SHIRT FACTORY !

Ours is the Store for Regatta-shirts, Oxford shirts, White shirts, Union shirts, all wool shirts, in fact all kinds of shirts,
from 10c. to 50c. per yard.

Shirts made to Order, and Guaranteed
to Fit.

ROBLIN & BRO.
Napanee, Oct. 10, 1878.

450 PAG'S FREE

A volume of over 450 pages—1,000 Practica
Recipes, or Information for Everybody, given to every subscriber to the

Western Advertiser
& Weekly Liberal
FOR 1879.

Balance of 1878 FREE to new Subscribers.

RICH PRIZES TO AGENTS !
LIBERAL TERMS—
BEST EVER OFFERED !

LIST OF ATTRACTIONS:
1—Latest News from all over the World.
2—Eight pages 61 cols., good paper, clear type.
3—Farmers' Page, edited by W. F. Clarke, Esq.
4—Teachers' Department, specially edited.
5—Balance of 1878 gratis.
6—Dr. Chase's Recipes, enlarged and improved.
7—Ladies' Department—Music, Pictures, etc.
8—Special West. on Ontario News.
9—Complete Temp. range Record.
10—Reliable and complete Market Reports.
TERMS FOR 1879 $1.50 per year, with Recipe
Book, or if preferred, choice of engravings,
"Wellington and Blucher," or "The Sanctuary."
$1.50 without premium balance of 1878 gratis.
Parties wishing to canvass for the ADVER-TISER should send a postal card, asking for free
"Agents' Package" and sample copies.
Address all communications
JOHN CAMERON & CO.,
ADVERTISER OFFICE,
London Ont.

FOR SALE
—OR—
TO RENT.

THE Stone Dwelling House, situate next to the Residence of Deputy Sheriff Pruyn, West Napanee, lately occupied by Mr. Mathieson, High School Teacher.
Terms of Rental,

$100 per Year & Taxes.
Apply to
E. B. STONE.
Napanee, ug. 5th, 78. 14-2m.

all the eloquence that passion demon could lend her, that pause and not hurry on to his confidence in Catherine's inteshaken to the foundation. At the end of an hour he rode reached Hardbargain as miser-doubt of one beloved can ma-
If love is the Divine power figuring its objects until fault
cellencies, suspicion possesses moniac faculty of deforming
until virtues seem vices, and
influence the highest and best the maiden, her intellect, vir-
graces were turned against
talent seemed intriguing art ;
ness and humility became mes-sympathy, her piety, b;
and her girlish shyness the s-
serve of conscious guilt.

It was well that on his retu-Catherine only in his mother's where deep regard for the strained him into something
bearance ; though even then hmanner excited some uneasiness
bosoms of the two ladies. Wh-rine left the room to order di-conversation that ensued
strengthen his newly revived
Mrs Clifton told him, that wit-
sent she would like to leave t-Hardbargain to Catherine, a mony of her esteem and affect

"And for a more practical r-she said, "for you know, my d-
that the estate of White Cliffs
tailed—if you should die befor-without male childer.—Call her daughters, if she should would be left homeless. But her this farm of Hardbargai-make no difference to you du-life, and if Catherine happen-you, it will secure her a hordo you think of this plan, Arol look grave and troubled. If the slightest objection, I will it out, of course."

"Surely I have not the lea-object, my dear mother ; you you have made by your own improved by your own admi-agement."

"You have the right of n-dear Archer ; and I see by y-that you dislike the arrangemfore it shall not be made."

"You mistake my thou-
dear madam. If I am somew-it is upon another subject. I I have not the slightest fault t-this plan ; neither does it ta-surprise, I have been prepar-months since. Mrs. Georgia formed me that such was y-
tion."

"Is it possible ? How cou-have known anything about suppose she has heard me drothat effect. May I hope then purpose meets your approbat-
er ?"

"Certainly, madam, it can material difference, if Kate is wile. And, if she were not I should be quite as well please

Unconscious of the double his words, the lady then inq-
the cause of his gloom.

"Merely a fit of mood mother ; the reaction, perhaps day's joy ; a mere depression which a brisk gallop over the throw off."

"If you are inclined for a ti-you can do me a service at time, if you will go to L-bringing out Mr. White, the draw up my will."

A spasm pain passed over some countenance of Major C he said—

"I will do anything you pest mother ; but surely there cessity for haste in this matt-insertion

Land's Apocryphal for Sale
Dorsey & Robertson

NAPANEE PRESS

NAPANEE EXPRESS

"THE GREATEST GOOD TO THE GREATEST NUMBER."

NAPANEE, ONT., FRIDAY, NOV. 15, 1878.

VEGETINE

Purifies the Blood. Renovates and Invigorates the Whole System.

ITS MEDICINAL PROPERTIES ARE

Alternate, Tonic, Solvent, and Diuretic.

VEGETINE is made exclusively from the juices of carefully selected barks, roots, and herbs, and so strongly concentrated that it will effectually eradicate from the system every taint of SCROFULA, SYPHILITIC HUMOR, TUMORS, CANCER, CANCEROUS HUMOR, ERYSIPELAS, SALT-RHEUM, CANKER, FAINTNESS AT THE STOMACH, and all diseases arising from impure food. SCIATICA, INFLAMMATORY, and CHRONIC RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, GOUT, and SPINAL COMPLAINTS, can only be effectually cured through the blood.

For Ulcers, and Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, Pustules, Pimples, Blotches, Boils, Tetters, Scaldhead, and Ringworm, Vegetine has never failed to effect a permanent cure.

For pains in the Back, Kidney Complaints, Dropsy, Female Weakness, Leucorrhoea, arising from internal ulceration, and uterine diseases, and general Debility, Vegetine acts directly upon the causes of these complaints. It invigorates and strengthens the whole system, acts upon the secretory organs, allays inflammation, cures ulceration, and regulates the bowels.

For Catarrh, Dyspepsia, Habitual Costiveness, Palpitation of the heart, Headache, Piles, Nervousness, and General Irritation of the Nervous System, no medicine has ever given such general satisfaction as the Vegetine. It purifies the blood, cleanses all the organs, and possesses a controlling power over the nervous system.

The remarkable cures effected by Vegetine, have induced many physicians and apothecaries whom we know to prescribe and use it in their own families.

In fact Vegetine is the best remedy yet discovered for the above diseases, and is the only reliable BLOOD PURIFIER yet placed before the public.

VEGETINE.

SHACKANANON SQUARE PHARMACY,
124 Bench St. above Laurel,
Philadelphia Penn. (June 12, 1877.)
Mr H R Stearns.

Dear Sir,—Having during the past five years sold your Vegetine which has been praised by my customers highly for the various diseases requiring a blood purifier, and as I have heard very favorable reports of its use, I cordially endorse it as a good remedy, and believe it to be what you claim it is, viz: "The great blood purifier" of the day.

Respectfully yours,
J. W. ABEL M. D., Druggist.

PHYSICIANS SAY IT.—Vegetine gives an equal circulation of the blood. All physicians will agree that there is scarcely a disease but that could a most instantly be disposed of if pure blood could be circulated through the parts affected. Now this is the way in which Vegetine performs its wonderful cures. Vegetine is exclusively a vegetable compound, made from roots, herbs, and barks.

VEGETINE.

NEWPORT, KY.

Mr H R Stearns.—
DEAR SIR.—I sold your Vegetine for a number of years, and find it give perfect satisfaction to my customers.

Poetry.

Shall We Find Them at the Portals?

BY J. E. BANKIN, D. D., IN "SUNDAY-SCHOOL TIMES."

Will they meet us, cheer and greet us,
Those we've loved, who've gone before?
Shall we find them at the portals,
Find our beautiful immortals,
When we reach the radiant shore?

Hearts are broken for some token
That they live, and love us yet,
And we ask, Can those who've left us,
Of love's look and tone bereft us,
Though in heaven, can they forget?

And we often, as days soften,
And comes out the evening star,
Looking westward, sit and wonder,
Whether, when so far assunder,
They still think how dear they are!

Past you portal our immortals,
Those who walk with Him in white,
Do they, mid their bliss, recall us,
Know they what events befall us?
Will our coming wake delight?

They will meet us, cheer and greet us,
Those we've loved, who've gone before;
We shall find them at the portals,
Find our beautiful immortals,
When we reach that radiant shore.

Our Story.

THE

Curse of Clifton.

BY MRS. E. D. E. N. SOUTHWORTH.

(Continued from last week.)

The next day Major Clifton rode over to White Cliffs to pay his respects to Georgia.

The beauty received him with unrestrained joy; but in the conversation that ensued, reverted to what she called "The intrigues of that low born man-cruver, Miss Kavanagh," asking him if he had observed a great change in Mrs. Clifton, ascribable entirely to her influence?

It gave Major Clifton great pain to hear Catherine traduced in this manner, but he believed Mrs. Georgia to be perfectly sincere in her opinion, and only the victim of a mistake. He told the lady so, adding—

"I am about to give Miss Kavanagh the highest proof of confidence that one being can give another. I am about to take her for my life's bosom friend. We shall be married in five days."

Had a bullet sped through the heart, she could not have given a more agonized bound. Then she struck both hands to her temples, started hastily half across the floor, paused again as if dis-

"Archer, there is. Besides, my mind will be easier when it is done. And Archer, lastly—bring with you a clergyman. I wish to receive the Holy Communion."

Major Clifton made no farther objection, but left the room to order his horse; and in less than half an hour he found himself on his way to L—. Mrs. Clifton summoned Kate. When the girl entered, she found the lady on the verge of fainting from over-exertion and extreme weakness. Catherine grew pale with sudden fear, and her hands trembled as she poured out and administered a restorative. Somewhat revived by the cordial, Mrs. Clifton said—

"Kate, write two notes, one to Mrs. Georgia Clifton, and one to your brother Carl, asking each of them to come here this evening to witness a deed—or rather two of them, my dear Kate—the signing of the last will and testament, and the solemnization of your marriage—for both must be hastened, Kate. My dear child, take your pen and write at once."

Deeply troubled, extremely agitated, yet struggling to govern her feelings, Catherine found the writing materials and penned the two notes; but when she had finished them, in the abstraction of her great grief, she misdirected them—and sent the note intended for Mrs. Georgia to Carl Kavanagh, and that intended for Carl to Mrs. Georgia. When she had despatched these notes by different messengers and returned to the parlor, Mrs. Clifton said—

"Call Henry, my dear Kate, and let her assist you in getting me up stairs. It has come at last, Kate."

Almost dismayed by sorrow, Catherine rung the bell that brought the servants into the room. And between them they raised the lady to her feet. Mrs. Clifton took a long look around the room, as though she were taking a last leave of every dear familiar object in it; and then suffered herself to be supported up to her chamber.

Mrs. Georgia Clifton was pacing her chamber-floor, in all the distraction of excited evil passions, racking her brain for an expedient to ruin her rival and break off the impending marriage, when the "spirits that tend on mortal thoughts," furnished her with one. A messenger entered and handed her a sealed envelope, directed in the handwriting of Catherine Kavanagh. She opened it in surprise, curiosity, and even in some degree of vague, guilty fear, and found within the misdirected note of Kate to Carl. It read simply as follows:

"DEAR CARL:—
"Mrs. Clifton is almost dying. She says you must come to the house this afternoon, at four o'clock, to meet a lawyer and a clergyman, and with Mrs. Georgia Clifton, to witness the signing of her last will, and also my marriage. Do not keep her waiting. "CATHERINE."

Georgia to come to see me this afternoon, they have not yet arrived. Please go and send again for them."

Archer Clifton bent and kissed his mother's forehead, and went down stairs. In the hall he saw Carl Kavanagh, hat in hand, waiting.

Carl immediately advanced and said—

"Ah! Major Clifton, I am waiting here to see my sister, to return to her this note, that she has sent me by mistake. I think—perhaps you can explain it." And he handed to Archer Clifton the mis-sent note of Catherine to Georgia.

Major Clifton understood the mistake at once, and retaining the note replied—

"Catherine wrote two notes, summoning yourself and Mrs. Georgia Clifton to Hardbaryain, this afternoon, to witness the signature of a certain document. She placed them in envelopes, and in her haste misdirected them—that is all. Pray remain here, while I ride over home, and bring Mrs. Georgia."

Carl Kavanagh sat down in the hall, and Major Clifton mounted a fresh horse, and galloped over to White Cliffs. Dismounting at the gate, he threw the reins to a servant and entering the house, sent a message to Mrs. Georgia.

The servant returned, and requesting Major Clifton to follow, led the way up to Mrs. Georgia's own room, opened the door, announced the visitor, and retired.

Archer entered the room, and found the lady seated at her work-table, but looking pale and anxious. By her work-box lay the envelope of Kate's true note with the forged note in it.

"Ah!" said Major Clifton, after greeting her, "I see that you have received Kate's note."

"Yes—one that was never intended for my eyes, but those of a fellow conspirator."

"Conspirator, madam!"
"Yes, sir. Do you surmise all the consequence of those mis-sent letters? Look at this!" she said, throwing it to him, "written by Miss Kavanagh, but directed by mistake to me. Yes, look at it! Examine the envelope! and then read the contents of the note?"

Major Clifton glanced at the superscription, opened the note, and read it through with a cheek growing pale and paler—until he finished it—then tossed it from him, and burying his face in his hands groaned aloud. He had not the slightest suspicion that the infamous letter was a forgery—no!—he had not a single merciful doubt that it was the work of Catherine—nay, he would have sworn to the handwriting, if called upon to do so in a court of justice—he would have sworn to it though Kate's life hung upon his oath! Any one else who had ever seen her peculiar chirography would have felt constrained to do so, if through the blood. It is only by the use of

For Ulcers, and Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, Eczema, Pimples, Blisters, Boils, Tetter, Scaldhead, and Ringworm, Vegetine has never failed to effect a permanent cure.

For pains in the Back, Kidney Complaints,
Dropsy, Female Weakness, Leucorrhoea, arising
from internal ulceration and uterine diseases,
and general Debility, Vegetine acts directly upon the causes of these complaints. It invigorates
and strengthens the whole system, acts upon the secretory organs, allays inflammation, cures ulceration, and regulates the bowels.

For Catarrh, Dyspepsia, Habitual Constiveness,
Palpitation of the heart, Headache, Piles, Nervousness, and General Frostration of the Nervous System, no medicine has ever given such general satisfaction as the Vegetine. It purifies the blood, cleanses all the organs, and possesses a controlling power over the nervous system.

The remarkable cures effected by Vegetine,
have induced many physicians and apothecaries
whom we know to prescribe and use it in their own families.

In fact Vegetine is the best remedy yet discovered for the above diseases, and is the only reliable BLOOD PURIFIER yet placed before the public.

VEGETINE.

SHACKAMON SQUARE PHARMACY,
124 Beach St., above Laurel,
Philadelphia, Penn., June 12, 1877.
Mr H. R. Stevens.

Dear Sir,—Having during the past five years
sold your Vegetine which has been praised by
my customers highly for the various diseases
requiring a blood purifier, and as I have heard
very favorable reports of its use, I cordially endorse it as a good remedy, and believe it to be what you claim it is; viz: "The great blood purifier" of the day.

Respectfully yours,
J. W. ABEL M. D., Druggist.

PHYSICIANS SAY IT.—Vegetine gives an equal circulation of the blood. All physicians will agree that there is no disease but that could a most instantly be disposed of if pure
blood could be circulated through the parts affected. Now this is the way in which Vege-tine performs its wonderful cures. Vegetine is exclusively a vegetable compound, made from roots, herbs, and barks.

VEGETINE.

NEWPORT, KY.

Mr H. R. Stevens—

DEAR SIR,—I sold your Vegetine for a number of years, and find it give perfect satisfaction to
my customers.

HENRY WERTHIMER,
Druggist and Apothecary, Newport, Ky.

VEGETINE is now acknowledged by our best
physicians to be the only sure and safe remedy
for all diseases arising from impure blood, such as Scrofula and Scrofulous humors.

VEGETINE,

Prepared by

H. R. STEVENS, Boston, Mass.

Vegetine is Sold by All Druggists

ROBLIN & BRO.

—AT THE—

Napane Shirt Factory

South Side Dundas Street, are still showing the
best assortment of

CENTS' FURNISHINGS!
IN TOWN.

SHIRTS!

Men's Working Shirts, 50c.
Heavy Union Shirts, 75c.
All Wool Navy Blue Shirts with Collar, $1.
Flannel Shirts from 91c.
Wincey Shirts, 75c., 91c., and $1.
Our White Dress Shirts, 75c. cannot be equalled for the money in town.
Regatta Shirts, with collars attached or detached, from 75c.
Ours is the store for all kinds of SHIRTS.

UNDERCLOTHING!

in endless variety and very cheap, at ROBLIN
& BRO'S.

FOR THE FINEST ASSORTMENT OF

Collars, Cuffs, Scarfs!

Ties, Braces, Gloves, Hosiery, Umbrellas, Muf-
fers, Silk Handkerchiefs, Linen Handkerchiefs, Colored Cotton Handkerchiefs, Wool Cuffs, &c.,
always call at the

NAPANE SHIRT FACTORY!

Ours is the Store for Regatta, shirtings, Oxford
shirtings, White shirtings, Union shirtings, all

Past you portal our immortal.
Those who walk with Him in white.
Do they, mid their bliss, recall us?
Know they what event's befall us?
Will our coming wake delight?

They will meet us, cheer and greet us.
Those we've loved, who've gone before;
We shall find them at the portals.
Find our beautified immortal.
When we reach that radiant shore.

Our Story.

THE

Curse of Clifton.

BY MRS. E. D. E. N. SOUTHWORTH.

(Continued from last week.)

The next day Major Clifton rode over to White Cliffs to pay his respects to Georgia.

The beauty received him with unrestrained joy; but in the conversation that ensued, reverted to what she called
"The intrigues of that low born maneuverer, Miss Kavanagh," asking him if he had observed a great change in Mrs.
Clifton, ascribable entirely to her influence?

It gave Major Clifton great pain to hear Catherine traduced in this manner, but he believed Mrs. Georgia to be perfectly sincere in her opinion, and only the victim of a mistake. He told the lady so, adding—

"I am about to give Miss Kavanagh the highest proof of confidence that one being can give another. I am about to take her for my life's bosom friend.
We shall be married in five days."

Had a bullet sped through the heart, she could not have given a more agonizing bound. Then she struck both hands to her temples, started hastily half across the floor, paused again as if di-tracted, and suddenly cried out—

"You shall not do it! By my soul, you shall not do it! You never, never shall become the dupe of that woman!
I have entered the lists with her. I mean, that to save you, I have done so, and before I leave them, I will prove her false and treacherous. God show
the right!"

Major Clifton gazed upon her in wonder. The strong emotion that she had exhibited, imposed upon him, for there was no doubting its reality; and far from suspecting its cause, an unhallowed passion for himself, he ascribed it solely to her strong conviction of Catherine's unworthiness, and to her disinterested regard for his own welfare. And when she came and threw herself on the sofa beside him, and besought, with all the eloquence that passion and the demon could lend her, that he would pause and not hurry on to his ruin, his confidence in Catherine's integrity was shaken to the foundation. And when at the end of an hour he rode home, he reached Hardbargain as miserable as the doubt of one beloved can make a man.
If love is the Divine power of trans-figuring its objects until faults are excellencies, suspicion possesses the demoniac faculty of deforming its victim until virtues seem vices, and under its influence the highest and best gifts of the maiden, her intellect, virtues, and graces were turned against her; her meekness and humility became meanness and sympathy, her piety, hypocrisy; and her girlish shyness the sinister reserve of conscious guilt.

It was well that on his return he met Catherine only in his mother's presence, where deep regard for the lady constrained him into something like forbearance; though even then his moody manner excited some uneasiness in the bosoms of the two ladies. When Catherine left the room to order dinner, the conversation that ensued tended to strengthen his newly revived suspicions.
Mrs. Clifton told him, that with his consent she would like to leave the farm of this evening to witness a deed—or rather two of them, my dear Kate—the signing of the last will and testament, and the solemnization of your marriage—for both must be hastened, Kate. My dear child, take your pen and write at once."

Deeply troubled, extremely agitated,
yet struggling to govern her feelings,
Catherine found the writing materials and penned the two notes; but when she had finished them, in the abstraction of her great grief, she misdirected them
—and sent the note intended for Mrs.
Georgia to Carl Kavanagh, and that intended for Carl to Mrs. Georgia. When she had despatched these notes by different messengers and returned to the parlor, Mrs. Clifton said—

"Call Henny, my dear Kate, and let her assist you in getting me up stairs.
It has come at last, Kate."

Almost dismayed by sorrow, Catherine rung the bell that brought the servants into the room. And between them they raised the lady to her feet. Mrs. Clifton took a long look around the room, as though she were taking a last leave of every dear familiar object in it; and then suffered herself to be supported up to her chamber.

Mrs. Georgia Clifton was pacing her chamber-floor, in all the distraction of excited evil passions, racking her brain for an expedient to ruin her rival and break off the impending marriage, when the "spirits that tend on mortal thoughts," furnished her with one. A messenger entered and handed her a sealed envelope, directed in the handwriting of Catherine Kavanagh. She opened it in surprise, curiosity, and even in some degree of vague, guilty fear, and found within the misdirected note of Kate to Carl. It read simply as follows:

"DEAR CARL:—

"Mrs. Clifton is almost dying. She says you must come to the house this afternoon, at four o'clock, to meet a lawyer and a clergyman, and with Mrs.
Georgia Clifton, to witness the signing of her last will, and also my marriage. Do not keep her waiting. "CATHERINE."

This note contained no expression of esteem or affection for the invalid, or regret at her approaching death. No!
for Catherine's veneration and sorrow were too earnest, too real, to be a matter of wordy formula. But in the evil heart of Georgia this simplicity was turned against the girl. And her first idea, revealed in her smile of satisfaction, was to show this mis-sent note to Archer Clifton, and bid him look and see with what perfect coolness and indifference the writer could announce the approaching demise of her benefactress. But while this thought was revolving in her mind, Satan suggested a surer plan—a deadly stratagem. And at this inspiration of the fiend, the dark face of the baleful woman lighted up with domestic joy. She seized the note again, and rushed to the window, and scanned the hand-writing, Georgia inherited all the imitative talent of her father, the portrait-painter. Catherine's hand-writing was unique: small, square letters, with heavy strokes, chirography peculiar to herself, yet easily imitated. Mrs.
Georgia copied a few selected words—compared them with the originals, and was satisfied with her work. Next she wished to procure note paper, exactly like it. Catherine's note was written upon neutral-tinted paper, that had been given her by Major Clifton. Mrs.
Georgia recognized it as some that had belonged to him. She thought there might possibly be a few stray sheets in the writing-table of the library. She went thither, and after a diligent search, found a single sheet. This she took with her, and returned to her chamber, locked herself in, and set down to finish her task. Perfectly imitating the handwriting of Catherine, she forged the following letter:

"DEAREST CARL:—

"My long slavery is almost over.
The old woman is at her last gasp, and wants you to come over this afternoon at four o'clock, to witness her will and my marriage. You see I have succeeded in catching the aristocrat, and in wheeding yourself and Mrs. Georgia Clifton to Hardbargain, this afternoon, to witness the signature of a certain document.

She placed them in envelopes, and in her haste misdirected them—that is all.
Pray remain here, while I ride over home, and bring Mrs. Georgia."

Carl Kavanagh sat down in the hall and Major Clifton mounted a fresh horse and galloped over to White Cliffs. Dis-mounting at the gate, he threw the reins to a servant and entering the house sent a message to Mrs. Georgia.

The servant returned, and requesting Major Clifton to follow, led the way up to Mrs. Georgia's own room, opened the door, announced the visitor, and retired.

Archer entered the room, and found the lady seated at her work-table, but looking pale and anxious. By her work-box lay the envelope of Kate's true note with the forged note in it.

"Ah!" said Major Clifton, after greeting her, "I see that you have received Kate's note."

"Yes—one, that was never intended for my eyes, but those of a fellow con-spirator."

"Conspirator, madam!"

"Yes, sir. Do you surmise all the consequence of those mis-sent letters.
Look at this!" she said, throwing it to him, "written by Miss Kavanagh, but directed by mistake to me. Yes, look at it! Examine the envelope! and then read the contents of the note!"

Major Clifton glanced at the super-scription, opened the note, and read it through with a cheek growing pale and paler—until he finished it—then tossed it from him, and burying his face in his hands groaned aloud. He had not the slightest suspicion that the infamous letter was a forgery—no!—he had not a single merciful doubt that it was the work of Catherine—nay, he would have sworn to the hand writing, if called upon to do so in a court of justice—he would have sworn to it though Kate's life hung upon his oath! Any one else who had ever seen her peculiar chirography would have felt constrained to do so, I requested—save two—she who lay dying at Hardbargain—and she who knew nothing about it—and he, the rejected lover, now far away, who would have cast that note aside in high disdain, and staked his honour on the truth. Clifton groaned aloud, in the bitterness of disappointed esteem. Resentment itself was swallowed up in sorrow, and she exclaimed—

"Oh! would to God she had died, O
I had, before I knew this!"

"Rejoice, rather, that you are saved!"

"Saved, madam!"

"Yes—saved. You will never marry her, now. You are perfectly justifiably breaking with the unmasked trait-ress!"

"And in shaking the last few sand in my mother's glass of life. The discovery of that girl's treachery has driven me to despair—it will kill my mother.
No, lady! I must marry her, that my beloved mother may depart in peace."

"Marry her!" screamed Georgia with the cry of a wounded hyena—marry her, and sacrifice all your hope of happiness, for the sake of keeping quiet the last few hours of a dying woman! You will not do such a thing!

"My hopes of happiness, did you say Mrs. Clifton? Ah, lady, can you not comprehend, then, that when one at my age has discovered—beyond all possibility of doubt—the total unworthiness of one of the most beloved on earth—the heart's most cherished darling—the life's dearest hope—" down broke his voice, and down dropped his head upon his hands—then rising, impatiently, he exclaimed—"I say, can you not comprehend that I have no hopes of happiness left? I loved her so! I trusted her so I sacrificed such strong prejudices for her! And I was as happy as a converted sinner, when the struggle was over and the sacrifice made. I could have shaken hands with her freckled-handed brother, and claimed kindred with all his ragged race! And now—I am unmanned! I am a fool!"

"No, you are not, unless you mar-

ROBLIN & BRO.

—AT THE—

Napanee Shirt Factory

South Side Dundas Street, are still showing the best assortment of

CENTS' FURNISHINGS!
IN TOWN.

SHIRTS!

Mens' Working Shirts, 50c.
Heavy Union Shirts, 75c.
All Wool Navy Blue Shirts with Collar, $1.
Flannel Shirts from $1.
Winey Shirts, 75c. 90c. and $1.
Our White Dress Shirts, for 75c. cannot be equalled for the money in town.
Regatta Shirts, with collars attached or detached, from 75c.
Ours is the store for all kinds of SHIRTS.

UNDERCLOTHING!

in endless variety and very cheap, at ROBLIN & BRO'S.

FOR THE FINEST ASSORTMENT OF
Collars, Cuffs, Scarfs!

Ties, Braces, Gloves, Hosiery, Umbrellas, Mufflers, Silk Handkerchiefs, Linen Handkerchiefs, Colored Cotton Handkerchiefs, Wool Cuffs, &c., always call at the

NAPANEE SHIRT FACTORY!

Ours is the Store for Regatta shirts, Oxford shirts, White shirts, Union shirts, all-wool shirts, in fact all kinds of shirts, from 10c. to 50c. per yard.

Shirts made to Order, and Guaranteed to Fit.

ROBLIN & BRO.

Napanee, Oct. 10, 1878.

450 PAG'S FREE

A volume of over 450 pages—"1,000 Practical Recipes, or Information for Everybody," given to every subscriber to the

Western Advertiser
& Weekly Liberal
FOR 1879.

Balance of 1878 FREE to new Subscribers.

RICH PRIZES TO AGENTS!
LIBERAL TERMS—
BEST EVER OFFERED!

LIST OF ATTRACTIONS:

- 1—Latest News from all over the World.
- 2—Eight pages of col., good paper, clear type.
- 3—Farmers' Page, edited by W. F. Clarke, Esq.
- 4—Tenors' Department, specially edited.
- 5—Balance of 1878 gratis.
- 6—Dr. Chase's Recipes, enlarged and improved, to every subscriber.
- 7—Ladies' Department—Music, Pictures, etc.
- 8—Special West'n Ontario News.
- 9—Complete Temp. range Record.
- 10—Reliable and complete Market Reports.

TERMS FOR 1879: $1.00 per year, with Recipe Book, or if preferred, choice of engravings, "Wellington and Blucher," or "The Sanctuary." $1.50 without Premium balance of 1878 gratis.
Parties wishing to canvass for the ADVERTISER should send a postal card, asking for free "Agents' Package" and sample copies.
Address all communications to
JOHN CAMERON & CO.,
ADVERTISER'S OFFICE,
London, Ont.

FOR SALE

—OR—

TO RENT.

THE Stone Dwelling House, situate next to the Residence of Deputy Sheriff Prayn, West Napanee, lately occupied by Mr. Mathieson, High School Teacher.
Terms of Rental,

$100 per Year & Taxes.

Apply to

E. B. STONE.

Napanee, ug. 5th, 78. 14-2m.

solely to her strong conviction of Catherine's unworthiness, and to her disinterested regard for his own welfare. And when she came and threw herself on the sofa beside him, and besought, with all the eloquence that passion and the demon could lend her, that he would pause and not hurry on to his ruin, his confidence in Catherine's integrity was shaken to the foundation. And when at the end of an hour he rode home, he reached Hardbargain as miserable as the doubt of one beloved can make a man. If love is the Divine power of transfiguring its objects until faults are excellencies, suspicion possesses the demoniac faculty of deforming its victim until virtues seem vices, and under its influence the highest and best gifts of the maiden, her intellect, virtues, and graces were turned against her; her talent seemed intriguing art; her meekness and humility became meanness and sycophancy, her piety, hypocrisy; and her girlish shyness the sinister reserve of conscious guilt.

It was well that on his return he met Catherine only in his mother's presence, where deep regard for the lady constrained him into something like forbearance; though even then his moody manner excited some uneasiness in the bosoms of the two ladies. When Catherine left the room to order dinner, the conversation that ensued tended to strengthen his newly revived suspicions. Mrs. Clifton told him, that with his consent she would like to leave the farm of Hardbargain to Catherine, as a testimony of her esteem and affections.

"And for a more practical reason, too," she said, "for you know, my dear Archer, that the estate of White Cliffs being entailed—if you should die before her, and without male childer—Catherine and her daughters, if she should have any, would be left homeless. But if I leave her this farm of Hardbargain, it can make no difference to you during your life, and if Catherine happen to survive you, it will secure her a home. What do you think of this plan, Archer? You look grave and troubled. If you have the slightest objection, I will not carry it out, of course."

"Surely I have not the least right to object, my dear mother; your property you have made by your own labor, and improved by your own admirable management."

"You have the right of nature, my dear Archer; and I see by your gravity, that you dislike the arrangement; therefore it shall not be made."

"You mistake my thoughtfulness, dear madam. If I am somewhat grave, it is upon another subject. Believe me, I have not the slightest fault to find with this plan; neither does it take me by surprise, I have been prepared for it months since. Mrs. Georgia Clifton informed me that such was your intention."

"Is it possible? How could Georgia have known anything about it? But I suppose she has heard me drop words to that effect. May I hope then, that this purpose meets your approbation, Archer?"

"Certainly, madam, it can make no material difference, if Kate is to be my wife. And, if she were not to be so, I should be quite as well pleased."

Unconscious of the double meaning of his words, the lady then inquired into the cause of his gloom.

"Merely a fit of moodiness, dear mother; the reaction, perhaps, of yesterday's joy; a mere depression of spirits, which a brisk gallop over the hills will throw off."

"If you are inclined for a ride, Archer, you can do me a service at the same time, if you will go to L— and bring out Mr. White, the lawyer, to draw up my will."

A spasm pain passed over the handsome countenance of Major Clifton, and he said—

"I will do anything you please, dear mother; but surely there is no necessity for haste in this matter."

while this thought was revolving in her mind, Satan suggested a surer plan—a deadly stratagem. And at this inspiration of the fiend, the dark face of the ballet woman lighted up with domestic joy. She seized the note again, and rushed to the window, and scanned the hand-writing, Georgia inherited all the imitative talent of her father, the portrait-painter. Catherine's hand-writing was unique: small, square letters, with heavy strokes, chirography peculiar to herself, yet easily imitated. Mrs. Georgia copied a few selected words—compared them with the originals, and was satisfied with her work. Next she wished to procure note paper, exactly like it. Catherine's note was written upon neutral-tinted paper, that had been given her by Major Clifton. Mrs. Georgia recognized it as some that had belonged to him. She thought there might possibly be a few stray sheets in the writing-table of the library. She went thither, and after a diligent search, found a single sheet. This she took with her, and returned to her chamber, locked herself in, and set down to finish her task. Perfectly imitating the hand-writing of Catherine, she forged the following letter;

"DEAREST CARL:—

"My long slavery is almost over. The old woman is at her last gasp, and wants you to come over this afternoon at four o'clock, to witness her will and my marriage. You see I have succeeded in catching the aristocrat, and in wheeling his mother into giving me Hardbargain, in my sole right. Am I not a triumphant diplomatist? When she is dead, and I am married, and mistress of White Cliffs and of Hardbargain, as I shall probably reside at the principal seat, I intend to let you this farm, on the easiest terms. Never fear Major Clifton's interference. You know I know how to manage him."

"CATHERINE."

When she had completed her demon-work, Georgia carefully examined it. It satisfied her. She smiled, and muttered—"Any one who ever saw Catherine's queer hand-writing, would feel safe in swearing this to be hers." Then she folded it in the form of the other note and placed it in the original envelope—and threw it, broken-sealed as it was, upon the table, exclaiming—"There I—

"I have set my life upon a cast.
And will abide the hazard of the die."

In the meanwhile, Catherine watched by the bedside of Mrs. Clifton, awaiting the return of Major Clifton, with the clergyman and the attorney.

About three o'clock in the afternoon the party arrived. The professional gentlemen remained in the parlor, while Major Clifton went up into the chamber of his mother. As he approached her bed, and perceived the fearful change a few hours had wrought in her appearance, and recognized the sure approach of the, he was so shocked, so overwhelmed with sorrow, that it was with the utmost difficulty he could sustain his self-command.

She held out to him her wasted hand, saying, quietly—

"My dear Archer, I wish to have the marriage ceremony between you and Kate performed this afternoon, if you please."

"Certainly, my dear mother, it shall be as you desire," he replied, repressing a great groan—but desirous, above all things, to gratify that dying parent. "Shall it be now, mother?"

"No, dear Archer, not just yet—I want the holiest things left for the last. I want the will drawn up, witnessed, signed and sealed first; then the marriage ceremony performed; and last, I wish to receive the Holy Communion—after which, I shall be ready to depart."

"Mother—the minister and the lawyer are below stairs, awaiting your leisure—they will remain over to-night. Do not disturb yourself."

"My good Archer, I made Catherine write to Carl Kavanagh and to Mrs.

"Saved, madam."

"Yes—saved. You will never marry her, now. You are perfectly justifiable in breaking with the unmasked traitress!"

"And in shaking the last few sand in my mother's glass of life. The discovery of that girl's treachery has driven me to despair—it will kill my mother No, lady! I must marry her, that my beloved mother may depart in peace."

"Marry her!" screamed Georgia with the cry of a wounded hyena—marry her, and sacrifice all your hope of happiness, for the sake of keeping quiet the last few hours of a dying woman! You will not do such a thing!"

"My hopes of happiness, did you say? Mrs. Clifton? Ah, lady, can you not comprehend, then, that when one at my age has discovered—beyond all possibility of doubt—the total unworthiness of one of the most beloved on earth—the heart's most cherished darling—the life's dearest hope—down broke her voice, and down dropped his head upon his hands—than rising, impatiently, I exclaimed—"I say, can you not comprehend that I have no hopes of happiness left? I loved her so! I trusted her so! I sacrificed such strong prejudices for her! And I was as happy as a converted sinner, when the struggle was over and the sacrifice made. I could have shaken hands with her freckled-hand brother, and claimed kindred with all his ragged race! And now—I am unmined! I am a fool!"

"No, you are not, unless you marry her. You are not the first noble-minded man that has been duped by a woman! You feel it as every generous hearted man would. But it will pass. Life has many chances, and you will be happy yet. My friendship is not much, perhaps, but is it not something?"

"Yes—yes—yes—yes—sweet friend it is much," said Archer Clifton, slowly half gollorquizing, as he took and held her hand. Then suddenly starting, out of a reverie, he exclaimed—"Mr. Clifton, you know my errand here—it is to bring you over to Hardbargain, for the purpose of which you have already been advised by the note."

"To be present at your mad marriage among other things?"

"Yes."

"I will not go! I cannot! I cannot witness such a sacrifice."

"Ah, you please, dear Georgia, suppose there is no imperative necessity of your doing so good-bye!" and he arose, and lifted his hat from the table.

"Yes! good-bye, indeed!" replied Georgia, bitterly—"good-bye, indeed if you persist in your mad purpose—I shall remain here, and hope to the last. But when I hear that this marriage is really taken place, I leave White Cliffs within the hour!"

"You will think differently, dear lady, and I shall see you again, shortly."

"Never!—as the husband of the traitress."

He did not reply. He raised his hand to his lips, and left her.

Left to herself, mad impulses seized the disappointed woman. At once she was impelled to seize the forged letter, and rush to the death-bed of Mrs. Clifton, and there denounce her favor as a hypocrite and a traitress. But moment's reflection convinced her that no act of hers could induce the dying woman to think evil of the excellent she herself had educated. That on the contrary, such a step might possibly result in her own signal defeat and posture, and the everlasting anger and contempt of Archer Clifton. Her brow was beginning to reel, and her self-confidence to wane. In sudden fear, she looked around for the forged letter, tending to burn it. It was nowhere to be seen. Then she recollected that Major Clifton had, on departing, picked it up, and put it in his pocket. And with disappointed love, jealousy, hatred, she tethered towards a lounge, where she reached it all upon the floor. In the meanwhile, Major Clifton, still

EXPRESS.

EXPRESS

STEAM

Job Printing House!

The very Latest Styles in Type and the best facilities for turning out work

NEATLY AND PROMPTLY

Rates very Low,
A Call is Solicited

Strange Death-Bed Scene.

When the Rev. Dr. E. G. Brooks, the late distinguished Universalist clergyman of Philadelphia, was lying near death, his doctor, J. W. White, obtained a telephone to divert him in his constant agony. On taking the telephone to his house, Dr. Brooks was found so weak and so distressed in his breathing that the physician was reluctant to try it, but the sick man insisted on the attempt.

The wires were arranged between the sick man and the dining-room down stairs. Dr. White proceeds: "When all was arranged, however, to the best of my ability, I placed one of the mouth-pieces in his hand and told him I would go down and test it, and if all necessary conditions had been met he could hear my voice, but that he would have to get some one else to reply, as he was too weak to attempt it. Taking the mouth-pieces at the other end I repeated: 'The Lord reigneth; let the earth rejoice; let the multitude of the isles be glad thereof.'

To my utter astonishment, instantly came the response:

"Clouds and darkness are around about him; righteousness and judgment are the habitation of his throne!"

It was the voice of Dr. Brooks, the tones clear and distinct, the intonation and emphasis perfect. I was amazed. But a moment before I had left him apparently to weak and too much oppressed to speak above a whisper. I was fairly startled. I could not be mistaken, but I could hardly believe the testimony of my ears. I repeated:

"Come, let us worship and bow down; let us kneel before the Lord our Maker."

Once more, and as promptly as in a church service, the Doctor responded: "For He is our God, and we are the people of his pasture, and the sheep of his hand."

I then repeated a verse from that grand old hymn of Pierpont:

Not now on Zion's height alone,
Thy favored worshiper may dwell;
Not where at noon Thy Son
Sat weary, by the patriarchs' well."

And, just as though it had been arranged before hand, as promptly as though a set form were being followed, the voice from that bed of sickness took up the strain:

"From every place below the skies
The grateful song the fervent prayer,
The increase of the heart may come,
To Heaven, and find acceptance there."

I next quoted the verse of the familiar hymn:

Oh! for a faith that will not shrink,
Though pressed by every foe;
That will not tremble on the brink
Of any earthly woe!"

And the Doctor responded, quoting the last verses of the same hymn:

"Lord, give us such a faith as this,
And then, whatever may come,
We'll taste even here the hallowed bliss
Of an eternal home!"

I was anxious that the Doctor's strength, which was but weakness should

($1.00 per annum, if paid in advance)

TO THE GREATEST NUMBER."

FRIDAY, NOV. 15, 1878.

NO. 28

"Archer, there is. Besides, my mind will be easier when it is done. And Archer, lastly—bring with you a clergyman. I wish to receive the Holy Communion."

Major Clifton made no farther objection, but left the room to order his horse; and in less than half an hour he found himself on his way to L—.

Mrs. Clifton summoned Kate. When the girl entered, she found the lady on the verge of fainting from over-exertion and extreme weakness. Catherine grew pale with sudden fear, and her hands trembled as she poured out and administered a restorative. Somewhat revived by the cordial, Mrs. Clifton said—

"Kate, write two notes, one to Mrs. Georgia Clifton, and one to your brother Carl, asking each of them to come here this evening to witness a deed—or rather two of them, my dear Kate—the signing of the last will and testament, and the solemnization of your marriage—for both must be hastened, Kate. My dear child, take your pen and write at once."

Deeply troubled, extremely agitated, struggling to govern her feelings, Catherine found the writing materials and penned the two notes; but when he had finished them, in the abstraction of her great grief, she misdirected them—and sent the note intended for Mrs. Georgia to Carl Kavanagh, and that intended for Carl to Mrs. Georgia. When he had despatched these notes by different messengers and returned to the parlor, Mrs. Clifton said—

"Call Henny, my dear Kate, and let her assist you in getting me up stairs. It is come at last, Kate."

Almost dismayed by sorrow, Catherine rung the bell that brought the servants into the room. And between them they raised the lady to her feet. Mrs. Clifton took a long look around the room, as though she were taking a last leave of very dear familiar object in it; and then offered herself to be supported up to her chamber.

Mrs. Georgia Clifton was pacing her hamper-floor, in all the distraction of excited evil passions, racking her brain for an expedient to ruin her rival and wreak off the impending marriage, when she "spirited that tend on mortal thoughts," vanished her with one. A messenger entered and handed her a sealed envelope directed in the handwriting of Catherine Kavanagh. She opened it in surprise, curiosity, and even in some degree of awe, guilty fear, and found within the misdirected note of Kate to Carl. It said simply as follows:

DEAR CARL:—

"Mrs. Clifton is almost dying. She says you must come to the house this afternoon, at four o'clock, to meet a lawyer and a clergyman, and with Mrs. Georgia Clifton, to witness the signing of her last will, and also my marriage. Do not keep her waiting." CATHERINE.

This note contained no expression of esteem or affection for the invalid, or

Georgia to come to see me this afternoon, they have not yet arrived. Please go and send again for them."

Archer Clifton bent and kissed his mother's forehead, and went down stairs. In the hall he saw Carl Kavanagh, hat in hand, waiting.

Carl immediately advanced and said—

"Ah! Major Clifton, I am waiting here to see my sister, to return to her this note, that she has sent me by mistake. I think—perhaps you can explain it." And he handed to Archer Clifton the mis-sent note of Catherine to Georgia.

Major Clifton understood the mistake at once, and retaining the note replied—

"Catherine wrote two notes, summoning yourself and Mrs. Georgia Clifton to Hardbargain, this afternoon, to witness the signature of a certain document. She placed them in envelopes, and in her haste misdirected them—that is all. Pray remain here, while I ride over home, and bring Mrs. Georgia."

Carl Kavanagh sat down in the hall, and Major Clifton mounted a fresh horse, and galloped over to White Cliffs. Dismounting at the gate, he threw the reins to a servant and entering the house, sent a message to Mrs. Georgia.

The servant returned, and requesting Major Clifton to follow, led the way up to Mrs. Georgia's own room, opened the door, announced the visitor, and retired.

Archer entered the room, and found the lady seated at her work-table, but looking pale and anxious. By her work-box lay the envelope of Kate's true note with the forged note in it.

"Ah!" said Major Clifton, after greeting her, "I see that you have received Kate's note."

"Yes—one that was never intended for my eyes, but those of a fellow conspirator."

"Conspirator, madam!"

"Yes, sir. Do you surmise all the consequence of those mis-sent letters? Look at this!" she said, throwing it to him, "written by Miss Kavanagh, but directed by mistake to me. Yes, look at it! Examine the envelope! and then read the contents of the note?"

Major Clifton glanced at the superscription, opened the note, and read it through with a cheek growing pale and paler—until he finished it—then tossed it from him, and burying his face in his hands groaned aloud. He had not the slightest suspicion that the infamous letter was a forgery—no!—he had not a single merciful doubt that it was the work of Catherine—nay, he would have sworn to the hand writing, if called upon to do so in a court of justice—he would have sworn to it though Kate's life hung upon his oath! Any one else who had ever seen her peculiar chirography would have felt constrained to do so, if requested—save two—she who lay dying at Hardbargain—and she who was to know nothing about it—and he, the re-at full speed, reached the farm-house.

On reaching Hardbargain, Major Clifton went immediately to Mrs. Clifton's chamber. He found her still sinking. She inquired, in a faint voice, whether he had brought Mrs. Georgia. He replied, with perhaps a pardonable ambiguity of speech, that Mrs. Georgia was too much indisposed to attend.

Then she said that she supposed Mr. White (the clergyman) would consent to act in her stead. She informed him the attorney had been with her, and had drawn up her will according to her instruction, and she requested that the parties might be assembled in her room to witness the signing. Major Clifton left the chamber to summon them, and soon returned, accompanied by the lawyer, the minister, Carl Kavanagh and Catherine. The will was then read, after which the lady was raised up in bed and supported in the arms of her son; the document was placed upon a portfolio and laid before her, and a pen dipped in ink and presented to her. She signed her name, and immediately sank back exhausted.

The two witnesses affixed their signatures, and the will was delivered into the custody of the attorney. A restorative was administered to the invalid, and she was arranged comfortably upon her pillow.

Then she took the hand of her son, and whispered—

"Let the marriage ceremony be performed at once, dearest Archer."

He pressed that wan hand, laid it tenderly down upon the coverslet, and spoke apart with the clergyman, who occupied the chair beside the head of the bed. The minister solemnly arose, drew a prayer-book from his pocket and opened it. Major Clifton went quietly and spoke a few words in explanation to the lawyer and Carl Kavanagh, who then approached the bed-side.

Lastly, he took the hand of Catherine, and led her up before the minister. The marriage ceremony commenced. It was performed according to the ritual of the Protestant Episcopal Church. But when the great question was put to the bridegroom—"Archer, wilt thou have this woman to be thy wedded wife, to live together after God's ordinance, in the holy estate of matrimony? Wilt thou love her, comfort her honor her," etc.,— instead of answering, according to the ritual, "I will," he replied by a grave and formal bow, with silent lips, "that scarce their scorn forbore." When the corresponding question was put to the bride, Kate too replied by a gentle inclination of the head, but her true heart responded sincerely, and truthfully. When the last benediction was given, and when, according to the old formula, the bridegroom was to salute his bride, he merely touched her cheek with a little lip, and passed her on to his mother, who held out her arms to embrace her daughter.

The singularity of Major Clifton's manner was scarcely noticed, or it was ascribed to the solemnity of the attending circumstances. Mrs. Clifton desired that all, with the exception of Alfred Henny, my dear Kate, and let her assist you in getting me up stairs. It has come at last, Kate."

Almost dismayed by sorrow, Catherine rung the bell that brought the servants into the room. And between them they raised the lady to her feet. Mrs. Clifton took a long look around the room, as though she were taking a last leave of every dear familiar object in it; and then suffered herself to be supported up to her chamber.

Mrs. Georgia Clifton was pacing her chamber-floor, in all the distraction of excited emotions, racking her brain for an expedient to ruin her rival and break off the impending marriage, when he "spirits that tend on mortal thoughts," unfinished her with one. A messenger entered and handed her a sealed envelope. Directed in the handwriting of Catherine Kavanagh. She opened it in surprise, curiosity, and even in some degree of agony, guilty fear, and found within the misdirected note of Kate to Carl. It read simply as follows:

DEAR CARL:—

"Mrs. Clifton is almost dying. She says you must come to the house this afternoon, at four o'clock, to meet a lawyer and a clergyman, and with Mrs. Georgia Clifton, to witness the signing of her last will, and also my marriage. Do not keep her waiting. "CATHERINE."

This note contained no expression of esteem or affection for the invalid, or regret at her approaching death. No! or Catherine's veneration and sorrow were too earnest, too real, to be a matter of wordy formula. But in the evil heart of Georgia this simplicity was turned against the girl. And her first idea, revealed in her smile of satisfaction, was to show this misdirected note to Archer Clifton, and bid him look and see with what perfect coolness and indifference the writer could announce the approaching demise of her benefactress. But while this thought was revolving in her mind, Satan suggested a surer plan—a leadly stratagem. And at this inspiration of the fiend, the dark face of the wretched woman lighted up with domestic joy. She seized the note again, and rushed to the window, and scanned the hand-writing, Georgia inherited all the imitative talent of her father, the portrait-painter. Catherine's hand-writing was unique: small, square letters, with heavy strokes, chirography peculiar to herself, yet easily imitated. Mrs. Georgia copied a few selected words—compared them with the originals, and was satisfied with her work. Next she wished to procure note paper, exactly like it. Catherine's note was written upon neutral-tinted paper, that had been given her by Major Clifton. Mrs. Georgia recognized it as some that had belonged to him. She thought there might possibly be a few stray sheets in the writing-table of the library. She went thither, and after a diligent search, found a single sheet. This she took with her, and returned to her chamber, locked herself in, and set down to finish her task. Perfectly imitating the hand-writing of Catherine, she forged the following letter:

"DEAREST CARL:—

"My long slavery is almost over. The old woman is at her last gasp, and wants you to come over this afternoon at four o'clock, to witness her will and my marriage. You see I have succeeded in catching the aristocrat, and in wheedling his mother into giving me Hardbargain, in my sole right. Am I not a triumphant diplomatist? When she is dead, and I am married, and mistress of White Cliffs and of Hardbargain, as I shall probably reside at the principal seat, I intend to let you this farm, on the easiest terms. Never fear Major Clifton's interference. You know I know how to manage him."

"CATHERINE."

When she had completed her diabolical work, Georgia carefully examined it. It satisfied her. She smiled, and muttered—"Any one who ever saw Catherine's queer hand-writing, would feel safe in swearing this to be hers." Then she folded it in the form of the other note

Archer entered the room, and found the lady seated at her work-table, but looking pale and anxious. By her work-book lay the envelope of Kate's true note with the forged note in it.

"Ah!" said Major Clifton, after greeting her, "I see that you have received Kate's note."

"Yes—one that was never intended for my eyes, but those of a fellow conspirator."

"Conspirator, madam?"

"Yes, sir. Do you surmise all the consequence of those misdirected letters? Look at this!" she said, throwing it to him, "written by Miss Kavanagh, but directed by mistake to me. Yes, look at it! Examine the envelope! and then read the contents of the note?"

Major Clifton glanced at the superscription, opened the note, and read it through with a cheek growing pale and paler—until he finished it—then tossed it from him, and burying his face in his hands groaned aloud. He had not the slightest suspicion that the infamous letter was a forgery—no!—he had not a single merciful doubt that it was the work of Catherine—may, he would have sworn to the hand-writing, if called upon to do so in a court of justice—he would have sworn to it though Kate's life hung upon his oath! Any one else who had ever seen her peculiar chirography would have felt constrained to do so, if requested—save two—she who lay dying at Hardbargain—and she who was to know nothing about it—and he, the rejected lover, now far away, who would have cast that note aside in high disdain, and staked his honour on the truth. Clifton groaned aloud, in the bitterness of disappointed esteem. Regretment itself was swallowed up in sorrow, and she exclaimed—

"Oh! I would to God she had died, or I had, before I knew this!"

"Rejoice, rather, that you are saved!"

"Saved, madam?"

"Yes—saved. You will never marry her, now. You are perfectly justifiable in breaking with the unmasked traitress!"

"And in shaking the last few sands in my mother's glass of life. The discovery of that girl's treachery has driven me to despair—it will kill my mother! No, lady! I must marry her, that my beloved mother may depart in peace."

"Marry her!" screamed Georgia, with the cry of a wounded hyena—marry her, and sacrifice all your hopes of happiness, for the sake of keeping quiet the last few hours of a dying woman! You will not do such a thing!"

"My hopes of happiness, did you say, Mrs. Clifton? Ah, lady, can you not comprehend, then, that when one at my age has discovered—beyond all possibility of doubt—the total unworthiness of one of the most beloved on earth—the heart's most cherished darling—the life's dearest hope—" down broke his voice, and down dropped his head upon his hands—then rising, impatiently, he exclaimed—"I say, can you not comprehend that I have no hopes of happiness left? I loved her so! I trusted her so! I sacrificed such strong prejudices for her! And I was as happy as a converted sinner, when this struggle was over and the sacrifice made. I could have shaken hands with her feeble-handed brother, and claimed kindred with all his ragged race! And now—I am unnumbered! I am a fool!"

"No, you are not, unless you marry her. You are not the first noble-minded man that has been duped by a bad woman! You feel it as every generous-hearted man would. But it will pass. Life has many chances, and you will be happy yet. My friendship is not much, perhaps, but is it not something?"

"Yes—yes—yes—yes—sweet friend, it is much," said Archer Clifton, slowly—half colloquizing, as he took and held her hand. Then suddenly starting, as out of a reverie, he exclaimed—"Mrs. Clifton, you know my errand here—it is to bring you over to Hardbargain, for the purpose of which you have already been advised by the note."

"To be present at your mad marriage,

spoke apart with the clergyman, who occupied the chair beside the head of the bed. The minister solemnly arose, drew a prayer-book from his pocket and opened it. Major Clifton went quietly and spoke a few words in explanation to the lawyer and Carl Kavanagh, who then approached the bed-side. Lastly, he took the hand of Catherine, and led her up before the minister. The marriage ceremony commenced. It was performed according to the ritual of the Protestant Episcopal Church. But when the great question was put to the bridegroom—"Archer, wilt thou have this woman to be thy wedded wife, to live together after God's ordinance, in the holy estate of matrimony? Wilt thou love her, comfort her honour her," etc.—instead of answering, according to the ritual, "I will," he replied by a grave and formal bow, with silent lips, "that scarce their scorn forbore." When the corresponding question was put to the bride, Kate too replied by a gentle inclination of the head, but her true heart responded sincerely, earnestly. When the last benediction was given, and when, according to the old formula, the bridegroom was to salute his bride, he merely touched her cheek with a cold lip, and passed her on to his mother, who held out her arms to embrace her daughter. The singularity of Major Clifton's manner was scarcely noticed, or it was ascribed to the solemnity of the attending circumstances. Mrs. Clifton now desired that all, with the exception of her son and daughter and the clergyman, should bid her adieu and leave the room. Her request was complied with, and when they had retired, she signified her wish to partake of the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper with her children. Major Clifton was constrained to decline, upon conscientious scruples; for how could he partake of the Sacrament of peace and brotherly love, with his heart consumed with indignation against his newly-married bride? Catherine, however, participated in the Holy Communion, while he looked on with surprise, mixed with a degree of horror. When the sacred rite was over, the minister of God took an affectionate leave, and departed. When the minister was gone, and they were left alone together, the dying mother beckoned her son and daughter to come and sit near her. They obeyed her, and she addressed them in a few words of earnest, affectionate counsel, blessed them, and resigned herself to rest. Her eyelids closed calmly, and her breathing was gentle and regular; they had to mark attentively before they knew that it grew fainter and fainter. Once she opened her eyes, and, smiling her reflecting smile, said—

"Dear Archer, I have often tried to detect the exact moment of falling asleep. I watch now, to see if I can seize the precise instant of passing from mortal to immortal life."

And she closed her eyes again. After a few minutes, she said—

"Sing to me, dear Kate! You know—Heber's death hymn."

Catherine bent and kissed the pallid lips of the dying woman, and then her voice arose, sweet, clear and spiritual as angel's songs, in that immortal requiem—

"Vital spark of heavenly flame,
Quit, oh! quit this mortal frame;
I'm burning, hoping, lingering, flying,
Oh! the pain, the bliss of dying—
Hark! they whisper, angels say—
Hither spirit, come away—"

At the end of the first stanza, she murmured, faintly—

"Your voice, too, dear Archer."

His voice arose now in unison with Catherine's and they sang the remainder—

"The world recedes—it disappears;
Heavy griefs on my eyes; my ears
With sounds seraphic ring,
Lend, lend your wings; I mount, I fly!
Oh, grave, where is thy victory?
Oh, death, where is thy sting?"

They ceased, and looked upon the marble face before them. It was still in death, but there remained upon the countenance the impress of the ecstatic smile with which the spirit had taken its flight—

"Her death."

But I could hardly believe the testimony of my ears. I repeated:

"O come, let us worship and bow down; let us kneel before the Lord our Maker."

Once more, and as promptly as in a church service, the Doctor responded:

"For He is our God, and we are the people of his pasture, and the sheep of his hand."

I then repeated a verse from that grand old hymn of Pierpont:

Not now on Zion's height alone,
Thy favored worshiper may dwell;
Not where at noon Thy Son
Sat weary, by the patriarchs' well."

And, just as though it had been arranged before hand, as promptly as though a set form were being followed, the voice from that bed of sickness took up the strain:

"From every place below the skies
The grateful song, the fervent prayer,
The incense of the heart may rise
To Heaven, and find acceptance there."

I next quoted the verse of the familiar hymn:

Oh! for a faith that will not shrink,
Though pressed by every foe—
That will not tremble on the brink
Of any earthly woe!"

And the Doctor responded, quoting the last verses of the same hymn:

"Lord, give us such a faith as this,
And then, whatever may come,
We'll taste and cheer the hallowed bliss
Of an eternal home!"

I was anxious that the Doctor's strength, which was but weakness should not be too far taxed, and I suggested that he had better allow some one else to speak for him, but he responded, "One thing more," and then, in slow, measured, distinct utterance—the tone of triumph unmistakable—he repeated the jubilant testimony of Paul:

"The sting of death is sin; and the strength of sin is the law. But thanks be to God, who giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ."

A strange and solemn sensation stole me. A few minutes before I had felt Dr. Brooks "kick unto death"—so weak, oppressed, distressed; laboring for breath; talking in disjointed utterances; but recently aroused, as I had been told, from a sinking spell, which it was feared would have been his last. And now, in tones as clear, as distinct, as well-enunciated as I ever heard from him in the pulpit when in health, and yet minimized by that strange, weird, thrilling, telephonic modification—preserving all that is characteristic in the speech of an individual, and at the same time giving the impression of almost infinite distance—came the triumphant exclamation:

"Thanks be to God, who giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ!"

I could not fancy that, during my absence, the silver cord had been loosened, the golden bowl broken, and that exultant "Thanks be to God!" was the outburst of the freed spirit. And when I returned to his room and found him lying on the floor, I felt like one who was looking into the face of him whom he had called "Christ in leader."

Remains of A. T. Stewart's Remains.

George Hamill, sexton of St. Mark's Church, was Stewart's undertaker. Early this week, Francis Parker, assistant sexton, discovered that the vault slabs had been tampered with; the stone at the head of the vault had been removed and set away from its position, and the entrance several feet under the slab. As the stone was not over the opening of the vault, however, the thieves had been disappointed. Hamill reported the occurrence to Judge Hilton. A consultation was held as to the best means of guarding the vault. At Hamill's suggestion, the entrance to the vault was removed, and a shaft to the south of its true position was cut to deceive persons who might wish to steal the body. A watchman was engaged and he patrolled the vault every night until a few days ago. Hamill was in the churchyard at 5 p.m. on Wednesday and noticed nothing. When the sexton came to the churchyard on Thursday morning he saw that the vault had been disturbed. The his thought was revolting in her Satan suggested a surer plan—a stratagem. And at this inspiring fiend, the dark face of the woman lighted up with domestic She seized the note again, and to the window, and scanned the writing, Georgia inherited all the ve talent of her father, the port-inter. Catherine's hand-writing lique: small, square letters, with strokes, chirography peculiar to yet easily imitated. Mrs. a copied a few selected words— red them with the originals, and atished with her work. Next shed to procure note paper, exact- it. Catherine's note was written neutral-tinted paper, that had been her by Major Clifton. Mrs. a recognized it as some that had ed to him. She thought there possible be a few straw sheets in riting-table of the library. She hither, and after a diligent search, a single sheet. This she took er, and returned to her chamber, herself in, and set down to finish sk. Perfectly imitating the hand- g of Catherine, she forged the ing letter;

REST CARL:— y long slavery is almost over. d woman is at her last gasp, and you to come over this afternoon o'clock, to witness her will and arriage. You see I have succeeded hing the aristocrat, and in wheel- s mother into giving me Hard- n, in my sole right. Am I not a phant diplomatist? When she is and I am married, and mistress of Cliffs and of Hardbargain, as I roably reside at the principal intend to let you this farm, on asiest terms. Never fear Major s interference. You know I know a manago him.

"CATHERINE." en she had completed her demon- Georgia carefully examined it. It ed her. She smiled, and muttered ny one who ever saw Catherine's hand-writing, would feel safe in ing this to be hers." Then she it in the form of the other note laced it in the original envelope— rew it, broken-sealed as it was, the table, exclaiming—"There!

"I have set my life upon a cast. and will abide the hazard of the die."

he meanwhile, Catherine watched a bedside of Mrs. Clifton, awaiting turn of Major Clifton, with the man and the attorney. ut three o'clock in the afternoon arty arrived. The professional men remained in the parlor, while r Clifton went up into the chamber mother. As he approached her d, and perceived the fearful change hours had wrought in her appear- and recognized the sure approach e, he was so shocked, so over- ned with sorrow, that it was with most difficulty he could sustain his mand.

held out to him her wasted hand, g, quietly— ly dear Archer, I wish to have the age ceremony between you and Kate med this afternoon, if you certainly, my dear mother, it shall you desire," he replied, repressing it grasp—but desirous, above all s, to gratify that dying parent. if it be now, mother?"

o, dear Archer, not just yet—I the holiest things left for the last. it the will drawn up, witnessed, l and sealed first; then the marri- ceremony performed; and last, I to receive the Holy Communion— which, I shall be ready to depart." father—the minister and the lawyer slow stairs, awaiting your leisure— will remain over to-night. Do not rh yourself." ly good Archer, I made Catherine to Carl Kavanagh and to Mrs.

"Sayed, madam: " "Yes—sayed. You will never marry her, now. You are perfectly justifiable in breaking with the unmasked traitress!"

"And in shaking the last few sands in my mother's glass of life. The discovery of that girl's treachery has driven me to despair—it will kill my mother! No, lady! I must marry her, that my beloved mother may depart in peace."

"Marry her!" screamed Georgia, with the cry of a wounded hyena—marry her, and sacrifice all your hopes of happiness, for the sake of keeping quiet the last few hours of a dying woman! You will not do such a thing!"

"My hopes of happiness, did you say, Mrs. Clifton? Ah, lady, can you not comprehend, then, that when one at my age has discovered—beyond all possibility of doubt—the total unworthiness of one of the most beloved on earth—the heart's most cherished darling—the life's dearest hope—" down broke his voice, and down dropped his head upon his hands—then rising, impatiently, he exclaimed—"I say, can you not comprehend that I have no hopes of happiness left? I loved her so! I trusted her so! I sacrificed such strong prejudices for her! And I was as happy as a converted sinner, when the struggle was over and the sacrifice made. I could have shaken hands with her freckled-handed brother, and claimed kindred with all his ragged race! And now—I am unruined! I am a fool!"

"No, you are not, unless you marry her. You are not the first noble-minded man that has been duped by a bad woman! You feel it as every generous-hearted man would. But it will pass. Life has many chances, and you will be happy yet. My friendship is not much, perhaps, but it is not something."

"Yes—yes—yes—yes—sweet friend, it is much," said Archer Clifton, slowly—half gollorquizing, as he took and held her hand. Then suddenly starting, as out of a reverie, he exclaimed—"Mrs. Clifton, you know my errand here—it is to bring you over to Hardbargain, for the purpose of which you have already been advised by the note."

"To be present at your mad marriage, among other things?"

"Yes." "I will not go! I cannot! I cannot witness such a sacrifice."

"As you please, dear Georgia. I suppose there is no imperative necessity of your doing so—good-bye!" and he arose, and lifted his hat from the table.

"Yes! good-bye, indeed!" replied Georgia, bitterly—"good-bye, indeed! if you persist in your mad purpose!—I shall remain here, and hope to the last. But when I hear that this marriage has really taken place, I leave White Cliffs within the hour!"

"You will think differently, dear lady, and I shall see you again, shortly."

"Never!—as the husband of that traitress!"

He did not reply. He raised her hand to his lips, and left her.

Left to herself, mad impulses seized the disappointed woman. At one instant she was impelled to seize the forged letter, and rush to the death-bed of Mrs. Clifton, and there denounce her favorite as a hypocrite and a traitress. But a moment's reflection convinced her that no art of hers could induce the dying woman to think evil of the excellent girl she herself had educated. That on the contrary, such a step might possibly result in her own signal defeat and exposure, and the everlasting anger and contempt of Archer Clifton. Her brain was beginning to reel, and her self-confidence to wane. In sudden fear she looked around for the forged letter, intending to burn it. It was nowhere to be seen. Then she recollected that Major Clifton had, on departing, picked it up, and put it in his pocket. And sick with disappointed love, jealousy, hatred, fear, she tethered towards a lounge, but ere she reached it, fell upon the floor: In the meanwhile, Major Clifton, rising in the Holy Communion, while he looked on with surprise, mixed with a degree of horror. When the sacrilegious rite was over, the minister of God took an affectionate leave, and departed. When the minister was gone, and they were left alone together, the dying mother beckoned her son and daughter to come and sit near her. They obeyed her, and she addressed them in a few words of earnest, affectionate counsel, blessed them, and resigned herself to rest. Her eyelids closed calmly, and her breathing was gentle and regular; they had to mark attentively before they knew that it grew fainter and fainter. Once she opened her eyes, and, smiling her self-reassuring smile, said—

"Dear Archer, I have often tried to detect the exact moment of falling asleep. I watch now, to see if I can seize the precise instant of passing from mortal to immortal life."

And she closed her eyes again. After a few minutes, she said—

"Sing to me, dear Kate! You know—Heber's death hymn."

Catherine bent and kissed the palid lips of the dying woman, and then her voice arose, sweet, clear and spiritual as angel's songs, in that immortal requiem—

"Vital spark of heavenly flame: Quit, oh! quit this mortal frame; Trembling, hoping, ling'ring, flying, Oh! the pain, the bliss of dying!—Hark! they whisper, angels say—Faster! faster, come away—"

At the end of the first stanza, she murmured, faintly—

"Your voice, too, dear Archer."

His voice arose now in unison with Catherine's and they sang the remainder—

"The world recedes—it disappears; Heaven opens on my eyes; my ears With sounds seraphic ring. Lend, lend your wings; I mount, I fly! Oh, grave, where is thy victory?—Oh, death, where is thy sting?"

They ceased, and looked upon the marbled face before them. It was still in death, but there remained upon the countenance the impress of the ecstatic smile with which the spirit had taken its flight—

"Her death. Was like the setting of a planet mild." (To be continued.)

A clever Irishman has done a good stroke of business in Chicago. He advertised his preparedness to renovate old and rancid butter by a secret process, but would only handle large quantities. Some dealers, to test him, sent him a lot which, according to promise, was made the equal of fresh creamery butter, and stood the test of keeping. They then sent agents all over the State, purchased heavily, and sent the stuff to him. To their horror he declined to operate on it, but as a special favour offered to buy it at considerably less than they had paid for it. Being of no use to them they had to let him have it at a loss, and then he converted it, to his own double profit and immense saving of trouble.

OUTWITTED.—Among the hill tribes of the Anglo-Indian frontier cunning is quite as highly esteemed as personal prowess, but even these masters of stratagem are occasionally out-witted. A Hindoo trader, who had occasion to pass through their country recently, laid out all his money in several large diamonds, which he bound round his head with a soiled rag, made to look like the bandage of a wound. He then put on his raggedest clothes, and loaded a donkey with loaves of spiced bread, such as the mountaineers like, putting a good dose of opium in each. He soon fell in with half a dozen brigands, who paid no attention to the ragged traveller, but pounced upon the bread and ate the whole of it. The opium soon put them to sleep, whereupon the traveller took what money they had, their arms and the best of their clothes, and went his way in peace. But he took good care not to travel that road again.

A strong religious sensation story me. A few minutes before I had left Dr. Brooks "tick unto death"—so weak, oppressed, as distressed; laboring for breath; talking in disjointed utterances; but recently aroused, as I had been told, from a sinking spell, which it was feared would have been his last. And now, in tones as clear, as distinct, as well-enunciated as I ever heard from him in the pulpit when in health, and yet minimized by that strange, weird, thrilling, telephonic modification—preserving all that is characteristic in the speech of an individual, and at the same time giving the impression of almost infinite distance—came the triumphant exclamation:

"Thanks be to God, who giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ!"

I could but fancy that, during my absence, he had, beside the silver cord that had been his, the golden bowl broken, and that exultant "Thanks be to God!" was the outburst of the freed spirit. And when I returned to his room and found him in the flesh, I felt like one who was meeting him whom he had the last seen—Christ in leader.

Recovery of A. T. Stewart's Remains.

George Hamill, sexton of St. Mark's Church, was Stewart's undertaker. Early this week, Francis Parker, assistant sexton, discovered that the vault slab had been tampered with; the stone at the head of the vault had been removed and taken away from its position, and the earth had several feet under the slab. As the slab was not over the opening of the vault, however, the thieves had been disappointed. Hamill reported the occurrence to Judge Hilton. A consultation was held as to the best means of guarding the vault. At Hamill's suggestion, the mounting the vault was removed, and a watchman was stationed to the south of its true position, so that to deceive persons who might wish to steal the body. A watchman was also engaged and he patrolled the vault every night until a few days ago. Hamill was in the churchyard at 5 p. m. of Wednesday and noticed nothing. When the sexton came to the churchyard on Thursday morning he saw that the vault had been disturbed. The thieves had been deceived by the position of the slab, but had begun directly over the opening to the vault. He went after Hamill, who discovered that Stewart's body had been stolen. The thieves had pried open the strong outer box, and had taken the top on one side; they had then entered the lead box with a knife, wrenched out the silver plate of the inner coffin, and taken off the top. The body had been removed with all the clothing. The chances of the robbery is surprising. The thieves must have watched the movements of the police closely to avoid being seen. They must have known that the watchman had been deceived by the same mistake as the sexton, and that the thieves may yet be discovered. The family says the thieves will be offered a reward for the return of the body. Judge Hilton does not think professional thieves or burglars are willing to do with the dead. He is willing to implicate the sexton and his assistant, but says they are the only persons who take himself who come accurately locate the opening of the vault and dig directly over it. Mr. Hamill, of the firm of A. T. Stewart & Co., states that $100,000 will be given, if need be, for the detection and punishment of the persons who stole Mr. Stewart's body, and a thousand will be paid to the sexton for the return of the body. The sexton of St. Mark's Church is of opinion that the body retained much of its old form, though certainly decomposed. The night the time of death was embalmed, it was intended to place it in a crypt in the newly erected cathedral at Garden City. The police appear utterly baffled as to how the robbery was perpetrated. The detectives are scouring every precinct in the city since the alarm has been sent out, and all approaches to the city are carefully guarded, but so far without result.

POST OFFICE TIME TABLE.

NAPANEE POST OFFICE.— Arrival and Departure of Mails.

MAILS.	Close.				Arrive.
	A.	M.	P.	M.	A.	M.	P.	M.
Eastern, per G. T. R.	12:05	9:00	1:10	1:00
Western, per G. T. R.	4:30	9:00	5:50	5:10
Mill Point.....	6:30	1:10	11:30	8:00
Green Point, Pictou, Northport and Dem- orestville.....	6:30			8:00
Tamworth, Centre- ville, Camden East, Newburgh and Nap- anee Mills.....	2:10		11:30
Morven, Hawley, Sills- ville, Parua, Dol- and and Adolphus- town—Daily.....	1:50		12:00
Witzerville—Tues- days, Thursdays and Saturdays.....	1:30		11:30
Gosport, Greta and Hay Bay—Saturdays.....	1:30		11:00
Erinsville, Roblin and Selby—Daily.....	2:00		11:00
Overton and Forest Mills—Tuesdays and Fridays.....	2:00		11:00

THE EXPRESS.

NAPANEE, NOV. 15, 1878.

—Lord Dufferin met with a most cordial reception from the citizens of Belfast, on his return home.

—Hawdon, a noted English oarsman, has been matched to row with Hanlan over the Tyne course, next May, for $1,000 a side.

—Lord Beaconsfield has stated in a public speech that the peace of Europe was assured, and that the Treaty of Berlin would be observed by all the signatory powers. This has had the effect of quieting the fears of an open rupture between Russia and England.

—A protest has been filed against Mr. Tilley's return, and it is not at all improbable that the Finance Minister may yet get a notice to quit St. John as Sir John did in Kingston. Marquette and a few other pocket boroughs are always at the disposal of the chieftain, so no hitch may be feared.

—The Prince Edward Election has been protested, on the ground of bribery and other unlawful acts, and the Liberals feel confident that the seat will be declared vacant, and a check placed on the "old war horse," which will put a quietus on his aspirations for political honors.

—Dr. Hartley has been dealing out some of his hard knocks against the liquor traffic in Ottawa. He denounces drinking in high places, and the example set by drunken politicians, and declared they must be "swept off the boards" by a healthy public sentiment, and by Christians voting as they pray.

—$25,000 reward has been offered for the discovery of the parties who stole the remains of the late A. T. Stewart. The executors state that not one cent will be paid for the recovery of the remains without the

—The Bay of Quinte Conference of the M. E. Church have long felt the necessity of erecting a new church in the central part of the capital, in order to keep pace with rival societies. It is announced that a desirable location has been secured on the corner of Metcalfe and Gloucester street, and that next spring a new edifice will be erected thereon at a cost of $30,000.

—The following is a sample of the promises which Sir John scattered throughout the Dominion to bribe the electors into his National Policy trap: "If the Conservatives gained the election there would be a return of confidence at once, and even before a new tariff could be introduced the manufacturers would have such hopes for the future that they would be employing more men, circulating money, and increasing their business, all of which would reflect beneficially on the farming community." How has this promise been verified. Stagnation in business reigns throughout the Dominion; the price of farmers produce has been on a steady decline almost from the very day the Conservative victory is announced; and the prospect for the laboring classes during a long and severe winter, is gloomier than ever.

THE CONSERVATIVE CANDIDATE FOR THE LOCAL.

After several ineffectual attempts to drum up a satisfactory crowd, the Conservatives succeeded in getting together a Convention on Saturday last, to name a local candidate. Although the meeting was numerically a success many prominent members of the party who would like to see the farming community fairly represented in the Legislature of the Province, were dissatisfied at the apparent desire of interested parties to manipulate the convention in interests of some Napanee aspirants.

At an early stage of the meeting an attempt was made to have the business of the meeting postponed, and a selection made of representatives from each polling division, based on the number of voters in each township, with power to name the party candidate. This very fair proposition was however over-ruled, after a very stormy debate, and the selection of the candidate was proceeded with.

Even before the convention it was pretty generally understood, that the choice lay between A. H. Roe and John T. Grange, Esq., the present member. While the former is acknowledged to have the most ability, the majority of the convention were not prepared to shoulder the burden of his past history, so the latter has been honored with the choice.

Of Mr. Grange, it is unnecessary for us to say much at the present time. Every elector in Lennox who knows the gentleman, and who has had half an eye to the proceedings in the Legislature, is aware that as a representative he don't amount to much either way; and those who do not know him, will have ample opportunity to arrive at the same conclusion before the end of the campaign. So far as representation is concerned, Lennox has been practically unrepresented.

A Temperance Lecturer in Trouble.

Rev. Mr. Haskell has for some time been engaged in talking temperance, and to make the old story attractive has been in the habit of indulging in pointed illustrations, of a local character. But he has run against a snag up at Chatham. The hotel keepers up there are evidently not as civilized as they are in some parts of the world, and when Mr. Haskell declared that the "Royal Exchange Hotel, of that place stank of whiskey from cellar to garret," the proprietor, a Mr. Samuel Perrin, got on his muscle, and resolved to give Mr. Haskell a lesson in bar-room ethics. Accordingly he laid for his man the next morning until he came from the Rutley House, which he did about ten o'clock, in company with Mr. Warren Martin. When they met, Perrin asked Mr. Haskell if he had used any expression defamatory to his house, and more especially one similar to that quoted above. Mr. Haskell replied that he had. The words were scarcely out of his mouth before Perrin struck him a blow in the face, knocking him down, and while in that position he struck him three or four blows on the face and head, besides kicking him. Perrin has been fined $15 and costs, and now asserts that he will sue Haskell for defaming his house. The end does not seem to be yet.

Items of Presbyterian History.

We clip the following letter from the column of the Canada Presbyterian. It will doubtless interest many of our older readers, who will remember the subject of the letter, and his unremitting labors in this and adjoining counties. "MR. EDITOR,—I have noticed, with great interest, the recent communications in your esteemed paper on "Early Presbyterian History in Canada," and herewith contribute some items that may prove interesting with reference to my grandfather, the late Rev. Robert McDowall, the pioneer of our church in this country. There seems to be now very insufficiently data to draw from. The old homestead in Fredericksburgh was unfortunately burned about two years ago, and with it nearly all his posthumous writings and books. The two sons, John and Ebenezer, who were both in the ministry, the former in New York City, the latter in Michigan, have long since been called to their rest. The only daughter, Mrs. Carpenter, is now living in the State of New Hampshire.

I have as a legacy from my father the late James A. McDowall, a good sized volume entitled, "A registry of marriages in the Province of Upper Canada celebrated by the Rev. Robert McDowall, minister of the united congregations of the Ernestown, Fredericksburgh and Adolphustown." Reversed, it is inscribed, "A registry of Baptisms," etc., as above. The former contains 752 entries of marriages from 1800 to 1824; an omission then occurs from Feb., 1822, to April, 1831, a loss of over nine years' record. Presuming that the last year preceding the omission, with the first following would indicate the average during the intervening years, we would have 240 to add to the above. From 1831 to 1833 I find recorded 118 marriages, which would make the number to that date 1110. I find no record for the remaining five years of his ministry, which was active to within a few days of his death. He preached his last sermon in Kingston only two weeks previous to that event. If we had his registry completed, it is scarcely probable that any other minister of the Church could show so many marriage celebrations. The record of baptisms seems also to be incomplete. It contains, however, 1538 entries.

The Registry is classified as follows:

Mill Haven.

On Thursday evening, 7th 1878, the following officers met at the Mill Haven, No. 105, I. C. were duly elected and installed. McLaughlin, W. C. T., Bro. H. A. W. V., Bro. Benjamin G. Bro. John Fleming, W. F. W. Chaplain, Sir H. Rodger, Bro. Otis Guage, W. M., Mott, J. G., Bro. George Arm G., Bro. John Fleming, Lodg. This Lodge intends sending gates to Grand Lodge to be Napanee on 20th Nov., 1878.

The Consumptive's Pain.

"Go to Colorado! It is a paradise for Consumptives! Consumption cannot exist in that climate who go there even in the last stage of the disease, after a residence of a few months, come away perfectly cured. I tell you a dose of Colorado best remedy for consumption covered." Such are some of the lavish upon Colorado as a consumptives, and only prove grossly ignorant these special writers are of the real nature of the disease. If we were not personally acquainted with some of their pre-knowledge, we should suspect that they had been "roped" into an advertisement to augment the price and salarado lands, or were working in the interests of some Colorado hot Persons suffering from a mere inflammation of the lung tissue are often completely restored by residence in Colorado or Florida when scrofulous matter has accumulated in the lungs, no climate ever healthful, can alone effect a thorough course of medical treatment is required, aided by such hygienic measures as the condition of the patient permits. The scrofulous matter absorbed and expelled from the body by the use of efficient alterative, Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, powerful alterative, and, aided Pleasant Purgative Pellets, is a valuable agent for expelling scrofula from the lungs and system. Dr. Invalid's Hotel, at Buffalo, offers special advantages to his patients. The best methods of and hygienic treatment are used, besides the locality is one few which enjoys special immunity from this disease.

A Good Horse.

"There is much pleasure and the service of a good horse, and little of either in a bad one; from choice will retain a bad many, however, are in possession who need not be. We think a few horses so bad but that their can be improved and rendered valuable and useful for their effect which, there is nothing." "Darley's Condition Powder Arabian Heave Remedy; it has astonishing results in thousands. Remember the name and see signature of Hurd & Co. is package. Northrop & Lyman, Ont., proprietors for Canada. All medicine dealers.

HEALTH IS STRENGTH.—To conquer disease is one of the attainments ever aimed at by a "Bryan's Pulmonic Wafers" will cure coughs, colds, tickling in the and pulmonary complaints, as pestilence will destroy. Severe not attended to, sooner or later incurable consumption, and the of the strongest soon fails if the readiest and best means for the cure of these complaints is "Pulmonic Wafers," which has thoroughly tried for the last oarsman, has been matched to John Hanlan over the Tyne course, next May, for $1,000 a side.

—Lord Beaconsfield has stated in a public speech that the peace of Europe was assured, and that the Treaty of Berlin would be observed by all the signatory powers. This has had the effect of quieting the fears of an open rupture between Russia and England.

—A protest has been filed against Mr. Tilley's return, and it is not at all improbable that the Finance Minister may yet get a notice to quit St. John as Sir John did in Kingston. Marquette and a few other pocket boroughs are always at the disposal of the chieftain, so no hitch may be feared.

—The Prince Edward Election has been protested, on the ground of bribery and other unlawful acts, and the Liberals feel confident that the seat will be declared vacant, and a check placed on the "old war horse," which will put a quietus on his aspirations for political honors.

—Dr. Hartley has been dealing out some of his hard knocks against the liquor traffic in Ottawa. He denounces drinking in high places, and the example set by drunken politicians, and declared they must be "swept off the boards" by a healthy public sentiment, and by Christians voting as they pary.

—$25,000 reward, has been offered for the discovery of the parties who stole the remains of the late A. T. Stewart. The executors state that not one cent will be paid for the recovery of the remains without the disclosure of the villains who committed the desecration.

—Among the incidents of the contest in Centre Huron, we find the following going the rounds of our exchanges:—"One of Mr. Cartwright's 'noisiest opponents was Mr. A.H. Roe, 'of Napanee, but he met his match in 'a Mr. McGillicuddy, of the Brussels Post, who dressed him down at a 'meeting as he had never been dressed 'before.' Our readers, who know the gentleman, can readily fancy of what material that 'dress' was composed, and will conclude that he 'didn't get a clip amiss.'"

—Hon. Ed. Blake returned home from Europe last week, and it is said that his health has been greatly improved. It is to be sincerely hoped that he will be prevailed upon to again enter parliament, and that provisions will at once be made to give him a seat, for with Mackenzie, Blake, and Cartwright in opposition, the government, no matter how strong in numbers, dare not swerve far from the path of rectitude nor deviate from the principles of good government. It is all important that Mr. Blake should have a seat in the next Parliament.

—Mr. Tilley is off to England to borrow money, and it is said that no less than $20,000,000 is the object of his mission. The leading financiers of Sir John's party were always harping on Mr. Cartwright's loans as instances of unparalleled bungling—it remains to be seen how much better Mr. Tilley will do. The government press are already making all sorts of excuses as a soft bed for their Finance Minister's failure to fall upon, so it seems they have not the same confidence they had in Sir John's mission. Time will solve name a local candidate. Although the meeting was numerically, a success many prominent members of the party who would like to see the farming community fairly represented in the Legislature of the Province, were dissatisfied at the apparent desire of interested parties to manipulate the convention in interests of some Napanee aspirants.

At an early stage of the meeting an attempt was made to have the business of the meeting postponed, and a selection made of representatives from each polling division, based on the number of voters in each township, with power to name the party candidate. This very fair proposition was however over-ruled, after a very stormy debate, and the selection of the candidate was proceeded with.

Even before the convention it was pretty generally understood, that the choice lay between A. H. Roe and John T. Grange, Esq., the present member. While the former is acknowledged to have the most ability, the majority of the convention were not prepared to shoulder the burden of his past history, so the latter has been honored with the choice.

Of Mr. Grange, it is unnecessary for us to say much at the present time. Every elector in Lennox who knows the gentleman, and who has had half an eye to the proceedings in the Legislature, is aware that as a representative he don't amount to much either way; and those who do not know him, will have ample opportunity to arrive at the same conclusion before the end of the campaign. So far as representation is concerned, Lennox has been practically unrepresented in the Legislature of the Province for the past few years. If Mr. Grange has done no good, however, he has certainly done little harm, beyond the mere voting against every progressive measure of the Government. We can only say that as a politician, John T. Grange, Esq., is a complete nonentity, and will never turn the world over for good or evil. We believe the electors of Lennox are ripe for a change, and they will make the change when polling day arrives.

There is only one official act of the gentleman which we will at present refer to—the part he played in the notorious "salary grant." Like most men who do very little actual work, he evidently places a very high price upon his services. He was one of those M.P.'s who considered $600 too small pay for three month's work, so he circulated a "round robin" among the members, asking the government to increase the "indemnity" to $800. Of course it is all right for Mr. Grange and his organ now to turn round and condemn Mr. Mowatt for having (much against his inclination, we may say) complied with the almost unanimous request of the House. But such conduct might be considered by some people to be gross ingratitude, or hypocrisy. There will be plenty of time for the people to investigate the matter before the contest comes on, and we doubt not, when the cry of "increase in the cost of government" is brought up, the conspicuous part played by Mr. Grange in the "salary grab," will receive a just scrutiny.

As to the date the contest is likely to take place, there is nothing definitely known. The last annual session will not be opened till after the holidays, and it will be well along towards spring before the business can be completed.

communications in your esteemed paper on "Early Presbyterian History in Canada," and herewith contribute some items that may prove interesting with reference to my grandfather, the late Rev. Robert McDowall, the pioneer of our church in this country. There seems to be now very insufficiently data to draw from. The old homestead in Fredericksburgh was unfortunately burned about two years ago, and with it nearly all his posthumous writings and books. The two sons, John and Ebenezer, who were both in the ministry, the former in New York City, the latter in Michigan, have long since been called to their rest. The only daughter, Mrs. Carpenter, is now living in the State of New Hampshire.

I have as a legacy from my father the late James A. McDowall, a good sized volume entitled, "A registry of marriages in the Province of Upper Canada celebrated by the Rev. Robert McDowall, minister of the united congregations of the Ernestown, Fredericksburgh and Adolphustown." Reversed, it is inscribed, "A registry of Baptisms," etc., as above. The former contains 752 entries of marriages from 1800 to 1829; an omission then occurs from Feb., 1822, to April, 1831, a loss of over nine years' record. Presuming that the last year preceding the omission, with the first following would indicate the average during the intervening years, we would have 240 to add to the above. From 1831 to 1835 I find recorded 118 marriages, which would make the number to that date 1110. I find no record for the remaining five years of his ministry, which was active to within a few days of his death. He preached his last sermon in Kingston only two weeks previous to that event. If we had his registry completed, it is scarcely probable that any other minister of the Church could show so many marriage celebrations. The record of baptisms seems also to be incomplete. It contains, however, 1538 entries.

The Registry is classified as follows: Ernestown, Fredericksburgh, Sophiasburgh, Adolphustown, Camden, Marysburgh, Hallowell, Richmond, Pittsburg, Cramale, Anclaburgh, Sidney, Thurlow, Hamilton, Rawdon, Amherst Island, Tyendinaga, Loughboro, Murray, Kingston, Sheffield, Portland, Plainsfield, Belleville. He made long journeys on on horseback and on foot, often preferring the latter mode—traversing the Bay of Quinte by canoe. The oldest surviving inhabitants relate many interesting incidents of his ministry in this district. In many places he travelled through an unbroken wilderness, relying on friendly Indians as guides. Mrs. Carpenter, writing of him, says: "I remember hearing him say that he let his horse drink from the River Thames in London," indicating that his missionary labors extended at least that far west.

He was born 25th July, 1768, at Ballstown, N. Y., ordained in the Reformed Dutch Church at Albany, came to Canada 1796, married December, 1800, at Pictou, to Hannah, daughter of Ebenezer Washburn (a U. E. Loyalist), and Sister of the Hon. Simeon Washburn. Died 3rd August, 1841. His remains are interred in the old church, in South Fredericksburgh.

ROBERT J. McDOWALL.
Demorestville, 30th Sept. 1878.

A Sensation, Truly.

Mollie Francher in Brooklyn's latest sensation. For thirteen years she has been an invalid, and during all that time no solid food has passed her lips, and liquids she had taken at infrequent intervals are insufficient to maintain life. The most baffling fact about her case is that she exists, and with enough vitality of mind and body to make her an interesting and even beautiful person, without the ordinary processes of digestion and assimilation of food. She never sleeps, but has occasional trances that seem to refresh her. So much for her physiologically; now for the psychologically phenomena she presents. Though blind in the natural sense, she possesses a second-sight or some faculty of vision: She makes wax flowers of delicate beauty permit. The scrofulous matter absorbed and expelled from the body by the use of efficient alterative Pierre's Golden Medical Discovery powerful alternative, and aided Pleasant Purgative Pellets, is an able agent for expelling scrofulous from the lungs and system. Dr. Invalid's Hotel, at Buffalo, offers special advantages to his patients. The best methods of and hygienic treatment are used, besides the locality is one few which enjoys special immun this disease.

A Good Horse.

"There is much pleasure and the service of a good horse, and little of either in a bad one;" no from choice will retain a bad many, however, are in possession who need not be. We think a few horses so bad but that their can be improved and render valuable and useful for their effect which, there is nothing. "Darley's Condition Powder Arabian Heave Remedy; it has astonishing results in thousands. Remember the name and see signature of Hurd & Co. is package. Northrop & Lyman, Ont., proprietors for Canada. all medicine dealers.

HEALTH IS STRENGTH.—To conquer disease is one of the attainments ever aimed at by in "Bryan's Pulmonic Wafers" will cure coughs, colds, tickling in the and pulmonary complaints, as pestilence will destroy. Severe not attended to, sooner or later incurable consumption, and the of the strongest soon fails if n The readiest and best means kn the cure of these complaints is 'Pulmonic Wafers,' which has thoroughly tried for the last years, and have never been k fail. Singers and public speak also derive great benefit from th them. Sold by all medicine d 25 cents per box.

I strongly recommend the Fellows' Compound Syrup of H plites to all who suffer in any disease or weakness of the Bronchial Tubes, or general deb J. H. W. Scott, M. D., Gagetou

FINANCIAL.

Invested in Stocks make every month free explain thing.
Address: BAXTER & CO., Bank 17 Wall

NEW

Harness Shop

THE Subscriber begs to announce the public that he has opened business in the McMullen Block, No.

opposite the Campbell House, can be found ready at all times to the wants of those in need of ices. A good assortment of

Harness, Collars, Whips, Halters, Sweat-Collars

will be kept constantly on hand attention given to orders and j Collars a specialty. Orders so

Trimming and Robe-Lining with Neatness and Desp

Come early so that you can jobbing done to take home the An experience of sixteen years e to deal with every variety of w will be furnished at reasonable

CHEAP FOR CASH

An invitation is extended to a faction g

"a Mr. McGillicuddy, of the Post, who dressed him down at a "meeting as he had never been dressed "before." Our readers, who know the gentleman, can readily fancy of what material that "dress" was composed, and will conclude that he "didn't get a clip amiss."

—Hon. Ed. Blake returned home from Europe last week, and it is said that his health has been greatly improved. It is to be sincerely hoped that he will be prevailed upon to again enter parliament, and that provisions will at once be made to give him a seat, for with Mackenzie, Blake, and Cartwright in opposition, the government, no matter how strong in numbers, dare not swerve far from the path of rectitude nor deviate from the principles of good government. It is all important that Mr. Blake should have a seat in the next Parliament.

—Mr. Tilley is off to England to borrow money, and it is said that no less than $20,000,000 is the object of his mission. The leading financiers of Sir John's party were always harping on Mr. Cartwright's loans as instances of unparalleled bungling—it remains to be seen how much better Mr. Tilley will do. The government press are already making all sorts of excuses as a soft bed for their Finance Minister's failure to fall upon, so it seems they have not the same confidence they had while in opposition. Time will solve the problem.

—The first fruits of the National Policy are appearing. The Monetary Times makes the following announcement:—"It is reported that the cotton 'manufacturers of the Cornwall, Hochelaga and Dundas mills have recently 'advanced the price of grey cottons 'about 17 1/2 per cent and white cottons about 10 per cent, while the same 'class of goods are said to have been 'reduced fifteen per cent. in the United States. We are also advised, that 'Canadian woollen manufacturers are 'shading prices on orders from wool-sale dealers for spring goods." The goods which the farmers have to buy are rising in price almost from the very day the National Policy was adopted, while from that very same date the price of agricultural produce commenced to rapidly decline. That is "Canada for Canadians."

—The importance to the country of having an able financier in the Opposition ranks during the next Parliament is generally admitted, and from one end of the Dominion to the other, the Hon. R. J. Cartwright is the man who is acknowledged to be most fitted to assume the duty of criticizing the new measures which the government announce they are about to bring forward. From the North West comes the latest tribute to the ex-Finance Minister's ability. The Manitoba Free Press of the 2nd inst., says:—"It is extremely desirable that that Mr. Cartwright should be in his place in the House during the coming session, 'as there is probably no man in Canada more thoroughly acquainted with 'the financial status and requirements 'of the country, and he will prove a 'competent critic on the new Finance Minister."

good or evil. We believe the electors of Lennox are ripe for a change, and they will make the change when polling day arrives.

There is only one official act of the gentleman which we will at present refer to—the part he played in the notorious "salary grant." Like most men who do very little actual work, he evidently places a very high price upon his services. He was one of those M.P.'s who considered $600 too small pay for three month's work, so he circulated a "round robin" among the members, asking the government to increase the "indemnity" to $800. Of course it is all right for Mr. Grange and his organ now to turn round and condemn Mr. McGowatt for having (much against his inclination, we may say) complied with the almost unanimous request of the House. But such conduct might be considered by some people to be gross ingratitude, or hypocrisy. There will be plenty of time for the people to investigate the matter before the contest comes on, and we doubt not, when the cry of "increase in the cost of government" is brought up, the conspicuous part played by Mr. Grange in the "salary grab," will receive a just scrutiny.

As to the date the contest is likely to take place, there is nothing definitely known. The last annual session will not be opened till after the holidays, and it will be well along towards spring before the business can be completed. This will defer the election till May at least, and the Ministry are at liberty to bring on the contest at any time during the summer, to suit the convenience of themselves and the country. We may just say they would be foolish indeed, to allow themselves to be "bull-dozed" by the opposition press into bringing on the elections one day sooner than will suit the convenience of themselves and the people.

THE NEW GOVERNOR-GENERAL.

The Marquis of Lorne, and Princess Louise were expected to sail from Liverpool per Allan Steamer Sarmatian yesterday. Extensive preparations are being made for the reception of the Vice-Royal pair on their arrival at Halifax, and the programme which will include a naval spectacle rarely witnessed in Canada, has been fully arranged. The fleet under the command of Vice-Admiral Inglefield will go out to meet the Sarmatian at sea and escort her up the harbor. The Sarmatian will fly the royal standard, and on the fleet coming up with her a royal salute will be fired. The fleet will then form into two lines, led by the Bellerophon flagship and Black Prince, and accompany the Sarmatian up the harbor, the forts saluting as she passes. She will anchor off the dockyard, the ships of the fleet anchoring in double line, and when the time for landing (which will probably be about half-past one) arrives, the Marquis of Lorne and Princess Louise will embark under a royal salute on board the Admiral's barge. A procession will then be formed by the ships' boats, and will pass down between the double line of men-of-war to the landing stage at the dockyard, where the various authorities will be in waiting to receive the illustrious personages.

incidents of his ministry in this district. In many places he travelled through an unbroken wilderness, relying on friendly Indians as guides. Mrs. Carpenter, writing of him, says, "I remember hearing him say that he let his horse drink from the River Thames in London," indicating that his missionary labors extended at least that far west.

He was born 25th July, 1768, at Ballstown, N. Y., ordained in the Reformed Dutch Church at Albany, came to Canada 1796, married December, 1800, at Pictou, to Hannah, daughter of Ebenezer Washburn (a U. E. Loyalist), and Sister of the Hon. Simeon Washburn. Died 3rd August, 1841. His remains are interred in the old church, in South Fredericksburgh.

ROBERT J. McDOWALL.

Demorestville, 30th Sept. 1878.

A Sensation, Truly.

Mollie Francher in Brooklyn's latest sensation. For thirteen years she has been an invalid, and during all that time no solid food has passed her lips, and liquids she had taken at infrequent intervals are insufficient to maintain life. The most baffling fact about her case is that she exists, and with enough vitality of mind and body to make her an interesting and even beautiful person, without the ordinary processes of digestion and assimilation of food. She never sleeps, but has occasional trances that seem to refresh her. So much for her physiologically; now for the psychological phenomena she presents. Though blind in the natural sense, she possesses a second-sight or some faculty of vision. She makes wax flowers of delicate beauty of form and color. She seems possessed also of the faculty which is termed, "mind reading," and this faculty appears sometimes to transcend the usual limitations of the term, in her consciousness of persons or animals not immediately present. Impressions of coming events are sometimes strangely vivid. A scientific commission is about to undertake an investigation of her case.

Catarrh.

A writer for the Tribune says that this disease is curable, if the sufferer will persist in using the following:—"The remedy is crushed cubeb berries smoked in a pipe, emitting the smoke through the nose; after a few trials this will be easy to do. If the nose is stopped up so that it is impossible to breathe, one pipeful will make the head as clear as a bell. For sore throat, asthma, bronchitis, swallowing the smoke effects immediate relief. It is the best remedy in the world for offensive breath, and will make the foulest of breath pure and sweet. Sufferers from the most horrible disease, ulcerated catarrh, will find this remedy to be unequalled, and a month's use will cure the most obstinate case. A single trial will convince any one. Eating the uncrushed berries is also good for sore-throat and all bronchial complaints. After smoking do not expose yourself to cold air for at least fifteen minutes. The berries are perfectly harmless, and there is no use going to catarrh doctors while you can procure this remedy. They can be procured at any drug store, and you can crush them yourself."

THE PAIN-KILLER.—We have known the high character of this medicine, and that it is used with great success and satisfaction in our very best families. It is the favorite medicine of our missionaries in heathen lands, where they use it more than all else together for the diseases that abound in those warm climates. It should be kept in every house, and be in readiness for sudden attacks of sickness. — Christian Press.

FINANCIAL.

Invested in W Stocks makes every month
three explaini thing.

$10 to $1000

Address: BAXTER & CO., Bankers
17 Wall St.

NEW

Harness Sho

THE Subscriber begs to announce to the public that he has opened a business in the

McMullen Block, Na
posite the Campbell House, w can be found ready at all times to the wants of those in need of l ices. A good assortment of

Harness, Collars, Whips, E
Halters, Sweat-Collars,

will be kept constantly on hand.
attention given to orders and jo Collars a specialty. Orders soli

Trimming and Robe-Lining with Neatness and Despa

Come early so that you can g
jobbing done to take home the s
An experience of sixteen years en to deal with every variety of wor will be furnished at reasonable

CHEAP FOR CASH

An inv...tion is extended to all faction guaranteed.

G. W. G.D.

Napanea, N. V., 15, 1878.

Sheriff Sale of L

County of Lennox } UNDER and Arington, } virtue of
to the } writs of Fi to me } to be sold and delivered, I by PUBLIC AUCTION, at 1 in the Court House, in the Town ance, on

Saturday, the Eighth day of
A. D. 1879,

at the hour of 12 o'clock, r
undermentioned lands and t with the appurtenances, which David Robertson, deceased, sei
in the following suits, viz.:
Court of Common Pleas: 1
Lawrence Bank vs. David Rob al.; In the County Court of th of Prince Edward: The Stand of Canada vs. David Robertson.
In the Court of Queen's Bench
Downey, Arthur Downey, G
Downey, and John Downey v
Robertson, et. al.; and the 1
Bank of Canada vs. David son et. al. all the rig and interest which the said Davi son, deceased, had at the time of in the West half of Lot No. 12 in Concession of the Township of I burgh, in the County of Lennox dington, in the Province of Onta

O. T. PRUY

per T. D. PRUY

Deputy

Sheriff's Office,
Napanea, 12th Nov., '78.

MONEY TO LOAN

We are prepared to Loan any term of years, at 1 Commission Charged. Good Mort Ages Purchased.

WILLIAMS &

Napanea, Sept 21st, '78.

A Temperance Lecturer in Trouble.

Rev. Mr. Haskell has for some time been engaged in talking temperance, and to make the old story attractive has been in the habit of indulging in pointed illustrations, of a local character. But he has run against a snag up at Chatham. The hotel keepers up there are evidently not as civilized as they are "in some parts of the world, and when Mr. Haskell declared that the "Royal Exchange Hotel, of that place stank of whiskey from cellar to garret," the proprietor, a Mr. Samuel Perrin, got on his muscle, and resolved to give Mr. Haskell a lesson in bar-room ethics. Accordingly he laid for his man the next morning until he came from the Rutley House, which he did about ten o'clock, in company with Mr. Warren Martin. When they met, Perrin asked Mr. Haskell if he had used any expression defamatory to his house, and more especially one similar to that quoted above. Mr. Haskell replied that he had. The words were scarcely out of his mouth before Perrin struck him a blow in the face, knocking him down, and while in that position he struck him three or four blows on the face and head, besides kicking him. Perrin has been fined $15 and costs, and now asserts that he will sue Haskell for defaming his house. The end does not seem to be yet.

Item of Presbyterian History.

We clip the following letter from the column of the Canada Presbyterian. It will doubtless interest many of our older readers, who will remember the subject of the letter, and his unremitting labors in this and adjoining counties. "MR. ELLIOT,— I have noticed, with great interest, the recent communications in your esteemed paper on "Early Presbyterian History in Canada," and herewith contribute some items that may prove interesting with reference to my grandfather, the late Rev. Robert McDowall, the pioneer of our church in this country. There seems to be now very insufficiently data to draw from. The old homestead in Fredericksburgh was unfortunately burned about two years ago, and with it nearly all his posthumous writings and books. The two sons, John and Ebenezer, who were both in the ministry, the former in New York City, the latter in Michigan, have long since been called to their rest. The only daughter, Mrs. Carpenter, is now living in the State of New Hampshire.

I have as a legacy from my father the late James A. McDowall, a good sized volume entitled, "A registry of marriages in the Province of Upper Canada celebrated by the Rev. Robert McDowall, minister of the united congregations of the Ernestown, Fredericksburgh and Adolphustown." Reversed, it is inscribed, "A registry of Baptisms," etc., as above. The former contains 752 entries of marriages from 1800 to 1824; an omission then occurs from Feb., 1822, to April, 1831, a loss of over nine years' record. Presuming that the last year preceding the omission, with the first following would indicate the average during the intervening years, we would have 240 to add to the above. From 1831 to 1835 I find recorded 118 marriages, which would make the number to that date 1110. I find no record for the remaining five years of his ministry, which was active to within a few days of his death. He preached his last sermon in Kingston only two weeks previous to that event. If we had his registry completed, it is scarcely probable that any other minister of the Church could show so many marriage celebrations. The record of baptisms seems also to be incomplete. It contains, however, 1538 entries.

The Registry is classified as follows:

Mill Haven.

On Thursday evening, November 7th 1878, the following officers of Palmarston Lodge, No. 105, I. O. G. T. were duly elected and installed. Bro. J. McLain, W. C. T., Bro. H. Armstrong, W. V. T., Bro. Benjamin Guage, W. S., Bro. John Fleming, W. F. T., Sis. Ham, W. Chaplain, Sis. H. Rodgers, W. T., Bro. Otis Guage, W. M., Bro. Fred Mott, J. G., Bro. George Armstrong, O. G., Bro. John Fleming, Lodge Deputy. This Lodge intends sending two delegates to Grand Lodge to be held in Napanee on 26th Nov., 1878.

The Consumptive's Paradise.

"Go to Colorado! It is a perfect Arcadia for Consumptives! Consumption cannot exist in that climate. People who go there even in the last stages of the disease, after a residence of only a few months, come away perfectly restored. I tell you a dose of Colorado is the best remedy for consumption ever discovered." Such are some of the praises lavished upon Colorado as a resort for consumptives, and only prove how egregiously ignorant these speakers and writers are of the real nature of the disease. If we were not personally acquainted with some of their praisers and know them to be honest, well-meaning people, we should suspect that they had been "roped" into an advertising scheme, to augment the price and sale of Colorado lands, or were working in the interests of some Colorado hotel-keeper. Persons suffering from a mere inflammation of the lung tissue are doubtless often completely restored by a brief residence in Colorado or Florida. But when scrofulous matter has begun to accumulate in the lungs, no climate, however healthful, can alone effect a cure. A thorough course of medical treatment is required, aided by such hygienic measures as the condition of the patient will permit. The scrofulous matter must be absorbed and expelled from the system by the use of efficient alteratives. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a powerful alterative, and, aided by the Pleasant Purgative Pellets, is an invaluable agent for expelling scrofulous matter from the lungs and system. Dr. Pierce's Invalid's Hotel, at Buffalo, N. Y., offers special advantages to his class of patients. The best methods of medical and hygienic treatment are there pursued, besides the locality is one of the few which enjoys special immunity from this disease.

A Good Horse.

"There is much pleasure and profit in the service of a good horse, and but very little of either in a bad one;" no person from choice will retain a bad horse; many, however, are in possession of such who need not be. We think there are few horses so bad but that their condition can be improved and rendered more valuable and useful for their owners, to effect which, there is nothing equal to "Darley's Condition Powders and Arabian Heave Remedy; it has effected astonishing results in thousands of cases. Remember the name and see that the signature of Hurd & Co. is on each package. Northrop & Lyman, Toronto, Ont., proprietors for Canada. Sold by all medicine dealers.

HEALTH IS STRENGTH.—To prevent or conquer disease is one of the grandest attainments ever aimed at by men, and "Bryan's Pulmonic Wafers" will as sure cure coughs, colds, tickling in the throat and pulmonary complaints, as war and pestilence will destroy. Severe colds, if not attended to, sooner or later lead to incurable consumption, and the strength of the strongest soon fails if neglected. The readiest and best means known for the cure of these complaints is "Bryan's Pulmonic Wafers," which have been thoroughly tried for the last twenty

PARTIAL LIST

Christmas Good!

Now arriving in Large Quantities,
Henderson's Bookstore

TOYS.

Rocking Horses,
Wheelbarrows,
Wooden Horses and Carts,
Sleighs,
Sets of Furniture,
Wash Tubs,
Wash Boards,
Baking Boards,
Churns,
Pails,
Clothes Horse
Clothes Wringers

Noah's Arks,
Tool Chests,
Alphabet Blocks,
Magic Lanterns,
Wooden Dolls,
Rubber Dolls,
China Dolls,
Wax Dolls,
Tin Horns,
Tin Kitchen

Sets of Dishes in China,
Wood, Pewter and Porcelain
Kindergarten Blocks, [ing Blk
Dolls Cradles,
Whips,
Toy Stoves,
&c., &c., &c.

FANCY GOODS.

Ladies' Companions,
Vases,
Boquets of Flowers,
Writing Desks and Work Boxes in Wood,
Paper Maché and Cloth,
Stereoscopes,
Velvet Picture Frames,
Plate Glass Ink Stands,
Plate Glass Paper Weights,
Dominoes,
Chess,
Draught Boards and Draught Games of Cards,
accordions,
Concertinas,
Flutes,
Fifes,
Mouth Organs,
China Cups and Saucers,
China Milk
Back Co

Hair Brushes,
Mirrors,
Purses and Pocket Books,
Microscopes from $5 and upward
Pen Knives,
&c., &c., &c.

BOOKS.

Family and Pocket Bibles, Autograph, Photograph and Mental bums,
Bound Volumes of the Children's Magazine for 1878.
Church Services,
Hymn Books for the Canada Methodist Episcopal, English Presbyterian Churches.

New and Elegant Designs in Canadian Christmas Cards

New Departure!

IMPORTANT

To the PUBLIC!

CANADA has a brand new government, or rather the "old skirt" turned till it looks as good as new; the Dominion is about to be honored with a sprig of royalty for a Governor and "Governess;" Lennox has a new representative in the Parliament of Canada, and we are entering upon a contest in which a strong attempt will be made to put in a new man as our representative in the Ontario Legislature; and, as a person might as well be "out of the world as out of the fashion," I have decided to make a new departure in the management of my business. Therefore

READ AND LEARN!

I have for the past few years been a close observer of the different styles of doing business, and the success or failures which have attended each system, and I have become convinced that there is one, and only one, method which will ensure satisfaction to the large class of consumers, and at the same time give a fair remuneration for the labor of the merchant.

The Old Credit System

has been in vogue in this country ever since Canada was discovered, and during that period the mercantile business has been attended with more than a fair share of troubles and losses, and it is patent to all who have been engaged in business, that the instances of success are rare indeed. Especially is this so in these latter days of keen competition. Merchants have long since discovered that the credit system was the ruin of traders, but the custom was apparently so deeply rooted in our community that a strictly cash business has been considered to be an impossibility. A few bold spirits, or perhaps individuals who were forced by circumstances to adopt the

CASH SYSTEM,

have here and there broken the ice, and contrary to the prediction of many, the instances of failure among those dealers are much smaller in proportion than under the old plan. It was asserted that people would buy only where they could get credit, that the great body of consumers were not able or willing to pay cash for their supplies, but the experience of those who have ventured on the new system have already shown that the people themselves were

RIPE FOR A CHANGE

THE Best Cough Medicine ever patented. Gives immediate Belleville, He made long journeys as on horseback and on foot, often preferring the latter mode—traversing the Bay of Quinte by canoe. The oldest surviving incidents of his ministry in this district. In many places he travelled through an unbroken wilderness, relying on friendly Indians as guides. Mrs. Carpenter, writing of him, says; "I remember hearing him say that he let his horse drink from the River Thames in London," indicating that his missionary labors extended at least that far west. He was born 25th July, 1768, at Ballstown, N. Y., ordained in the Reformed Dutch Church at Albany, came to Canada 1796, married December, 1800, at Pictou, to Hannah, daughter of Ebenezer Washburn (a U. E. Loyalist,) and Sister of the Hon. Simeon Washburn. Died 3rd August, 1841. His remains are interred in the old church, in South Fredericksburgh.

ROBERT J. McDOWALL.
Demorestville, 30th Sept. 1878.

A Sensation, Truly.

Mollie Francher in Brooklyn's latest sensation. For thirteen years she has been an invalid, and during all that time no solid food has passed her lips, and liquids she had taken at infrequent intervals are insufficient to maintain life. The most baffling fact about her case is that she exists, and with enough vitality of mind and body to make her an interesting and even beautiful person, without the ordinary processes of digestion and assimilation of food. She never sleeps, but has occasional trances that seem to refresh her. So much for her physiologically; now for the psychologically phenomena she presents. Though blind in the natural sense, she possesses a second sight or some faculty of vision. She makes wax flowers of delicate beauty of form and color. She seems possessed also of the faculty which is termed, "mind reading," and this faculty appears sometimes to transcend the usual limitations of the term, in her consciousness of persons or animals not immediately present. Impressions of coming events are sometimes strangely vivid. A scientific commission is about to undertake an investigation of her case.

Catarrh.

A writer to the Tribune says that this disease is curable, if the sufferer will persist in using the following: "The remedy is crushed cubeb berries smoked in a pipe, emitting the smoke through the nose; after a few trials this will be easy to do. If the nose is stopped up so that it is impossible to breathe, one pipeful will make the head as clear as a bell. For sore throat, asthma, bronchitis, swallowing the smoke effects immediate relief. It is the best remedy in the world for offensive breath, and will make the foulest of breath pure and sweet. Sufferers from the most horrible disease, ulcerated catarrh, will find this remedy to be unequalled, and a month's use will cure the most obstinate case. A single trial will convince any one. Eating the uncrushed berries is also good for sore-throat and all bronchial complaints. After smoking do not expose yourself to cold air for at least fifteen minutes. The berries are perfectly harmless; and there is no use going to catarrh doctors while you can procure this remedy. They can be procured at any drug store, and you can crush them yourself."

THE PAIN-KILLER.—We have known the high character of this medicine, and that it is used with great success and satisfaction in our very best families. It is the favorite medicine of our missionaries in heathen lands, where they use it more than all else together for the diseases that abound in those warm climates. It should be kept in every house, and be in readiness for sudden attacks of sickness.—Christian Press.

Fellows' Compound Symp of Hypophosphites to all who suffer in any way from disease or weakness of the Lungs, Bronchial Tubes, or general debility.
J. H. W. SCOTT, M. D., Gagetown, N. B.

FINANCIAL.

$10 to $10000 Invested in Wall Street Stocks make fortunes every month. Book sent free explaining everything.
Address: BAXTER & CO., Bankers, 17 Wall St., N. Y.

NEW Harness Shop!

THE Subscriber begs to announce to the public that he has opened up business in the McMullen Block, Napanee, opposite the Campbell House, where he can be found ready at all times to attend to the wants of those in need of his services. A good assortment of

Harness, Collars, Whips, Brushes, Halters, Sweat-Collars, &c.,

will be kept constantly on hand. Prompt attention given to orders and job work. Collars a specialty. Orders solicited.

Trimming and Robe-Lining Done with Neatness and Despatch.

Come early so that you can get your jobbing done to take home the same day. An experience of sixteen years enables me to deal with every variety of work, which will be furnished at reasonable rates.

CHEAP FOR CASH.

An invitation is extended to all. Satisfaction guaranteed.

G. W. GODWIN.

Napanee, Nov. 15, 1878.

Sheriff Sale of Lands.

County of Lennox } UNDER and by and Addington, } virtue of several To W. L. } writs of Fieri Facias to me directed and delivered, I shall sell by PUBLIC AUCTION, at my office in the Court House, in the Town of Napanee, on Saturday, the Eighth day of March, A. D. 1879, at the hour of 12 o'clock, noon, the undermentioned lands and tenements, with the appurtenances, which were, of David Robertson, deceased, seized by me in the following suits, viz.: In the Court of Common Pleas: The Saint Lawrence Bank vs. David Robertson, et. al.; In the County Court of the County of Prince Edward: The Standard Bank of Canada vs. David Robertson, et. al.; In the Court of Queen's Bench: Robert Downey, Arthur Downey, George H. Downey, and John Downey vs. David Robertson, et. al.; and the Merchants Bank of Canada vs. David Robertson, et. al. all the right, title and interest which the said David Robertson, deceased, had at the time of his death in the West half of Lot No. 12 in the second Concession of the Township of Fredericksburgh, in the County of Lennox and Addington, in the Province of Ontario.

O. T. PRUYN,

Sheriff,
per T. D. PRUYN,
Deputy Sheriff.

Sheriff's Office,
Napanee, 12th Nov., '78. 28 13in

MONEY TO LOAN.

WE are prepared to Loan Money for any term of years, at Low Rates. Commission Charged. Good Notes and Mortgages Purchased.

WILLIAMS & SMITH.
Napanee, Sept 24th, '78.

the cash in his pocket, he is able to buy when, where, and in what quantity he chooses. He is able to get his goods at the lowest prices, thus effecting a saving of from 5 to 10 per cent. on the very start. But in order to do this he must get the cash for his goods when he again turns them over to the retail customer.

And again—when the retail merchant does a credit business, let him be as careful as he may, he will almost of necessity have accounts which he can not collect. These losses must be made up in some way, and it only remains for the merchant to charge an extra per centage on the goods he retails to his PAYING customers.

Under the cash system there is also a large saving to the retail merchant in cost of book keeping and collecting, and also in the matter of discounts which he is obliged to make in order to meet accruing liabilities. And these small charges, we may remark, are a large item in a merchant's yearly expenses.

Under the Cash system these expenses are saved, and the merchant is able to retail his goods

15 or 20 per cent Cheaper than he can possibly do under the credit system.

The above considerations have decided me to adopt the Cash System, under all circumstances, and after this announcement I hope and trust none of my old customers will not ask me for credit. I will guarantee to sell you goods 15 or 20 per cent. cheaper than I have ever been able to do before, and I am assured that all who give me a trial will soon see the advantage of the change, and will heartily endorse my decision and continue their patronage.

Under this new Departure I feel certain that I can offer goods at prices far below any establishment in town for the same quality of Stock. In Boots & Shoes, I keep a large assortment, purchased from the best manufacturers in the Dominion, warranted no shoddy. I do not try to get the cheapest goods made, but the best value for the money, and I state with confidence and fully believe that I am offering more real value for the money than any other house in the trade. No price is so low giving an idea of the inducements I am offering under the Cash System. My

Hat and Cap Department

you will always find complete in all the leading styles of the season. At present I have the largest stock of Hats and Caps in town, varying in price from 25 cents to $10. My stock of

Cents' Furnishings

you will find well assorted and remarkably cheap. About sixty still on hand, which I will sell less than wholesale prices to clear them out.

OVERCOATS

A great many parties, intending to purchase from me, have been by mistake led into other stores. Always inquire for the East end of the Perry Block, where you will get more real value for your money than at any other place in town. Be sure and give me a call before purchasing.

W. A. ROSE.
Napanee, Nov. 14, 1878.

NOTICE

NOTICE is hereby given that a public sale will be made to the Legislative Council of the Province of Ontario, at the next session thereof, for an Act to legalize and establish the several dams and improvements on the undersigned on Beaver Creek, in Townships of Limerick and Lake, respectively, in the County of Hastings. The dams are situated on Lot 9 in 2nd Concession of Limerick and on East half of Lot 10th Concession of Lake respectively, and also the several dams and improvements situate on the Moira R. on Lots 10 in 6th Concession, 9 in 10th Concession, and 10 in 14th Concession of Township of Anglesea, in the County of Lennox and Addington, and for liberty flood the lands above and below the respective dams for the purposes of said dams upon such terms as to consideration may seem just to the Legislature and for other purposes.

(Signed.)

GILMOUR & CO.

Dated, this 7th day of Nov., 1878.

THE BICKFORD AUTOMATIC FAMILY KNITTING MACHINE

It will knit a pair of socks in 10 minutes. Perfect and to do just what is represented. A complete instruction book accompanies each machine.

Knits all sizes of work, narrow and wide; it shapes all sizes complete. Knits every different garments, Socks, Stockings, Mittens, Wristlets, Gloves, etc. It knits every variety of plain or fancy stitch. Great profit in manufacturing knit goods. No one can trouble the value of their wool by venting it into knit goods.

Agents wanted in every State, County and Town, to whom very low prices are made.

For full particulars and lowest prices, send for FAMILY MACHINE send to.

Bickford Knitting Machine MFG Co. Brattle

Sioux Cough Remedy

THE Best Cough Medicine ever covered. Gives immediate relief in case of Hoarseness, Tickling Throat, Sore Throat, Catarrh of Throat, and all Bronchial Affections.

CUR'S CONSUMPTIVE

in its first stages, and has proved reliable to those farther advanced in disease, as it gives instantaneous relief.

Persons suffering from sleepless caused by coughing, can procure great blessing, sleep, by purchasing a bottle of the SIoux Cough Remedy.

FOR SALE AT HUFFMAN'S, DU

STREET, NAPANEE.
PRICE ONLY 25 cts. PER BOTTLE.

Farm for Sale

SITUATED in the 2d Concession South Fredericksburgh, East of Lot No. 5, containing 125 acres. The building are nearly new, and in excellent condition. Frame dwelling, large conveniently arranged, drive house, smith shop, and dwelling house to servant. The place is well watered, fenced, and land under excellent cultivation. 18 acres of hard wood.

TERMS will be made to suit the purchaser. For further particulars apply to ALLAN WAGAR
On the pr
South Fredericksburgh, Nov. 14, '78.

[illegible]

in his pocket, he is able to buy where, and in what quantity he wishes. He is able to get his goods at the best prices, thus effecting a saving of 5 to 10 per cent. on the very best. But in order to do this he must have cash for his goods when he again turns over to the retail customer. Again—when the retail merchant credits business, let him be as he may, he will almost always have accounts which he cannot pay. These losses must be made, up the way, and it only remains for the merchant to charge an extra percentage goods he retails to his paying customers. Under the cash system there is also saving to the retail merchant of book keeping and collecting, so in the matter of discounts which are obliged to make in order to meet obligations. And these small savings, we may remark, are a large part of a merchant's yearly expenses. Under the cash system these expenses are reduced, and the merchant is able to his goods

20 per cent Cheaper

can possibly do under the credit system. Above considerations have decided to adopt the Cash System, under all instances, and after this announcement I hope and trust none of my old customers will ask me for credit. I guarantee to sell you goods 15 or 20 per cent cheaper than I have ever been before, and I am assured that you will give me a trial will soon see the value of the change, and will heartily lose my decision and continue patronage.

Under this new Departure I feel in that I can offer goods at as far below any establishment in the town for the same quality of goods.

HATS & SHOES,

a large assortment, purchased of the best manufacturers in the Dominion, warranted no shoddy. I do not get the cheapest goods made, but at value for the money, and I state confidence and fully believe that I offer more real value for the dollar than any other house in the trade. I could give an idea of the improvements I am offering under the new system. My

and Cap Department will always find complete in all the styles of the season. At present the largest stock of Hats and in town, varying in price from 25 to $10.

nts' Furnishings

will find well assorted and remarkable. About sixty hand, which I will sell less than sale prices to clear them out.

OVERCOATS

great many parties, intending to use from me, have been by mistake at other stores. Always inquire for the store of the Perry Block, where I will get more real value for your money than at any other place in town, and give me a call before purchasing.

W. A. ROSE.

Nov. 14, 1878.

NOTICE

NOTICE is hereby given that a petition will be made to the Legislature of the Province of Ontario, at the next session thereof, for an Act to legalize and establish the several dams and improvements owned by the undersigned on Beaver Creek, in the Townships of Limerick and Lake, respectively, in the County of Hastings which dams are situated on Lot 9 in 2nd Concession of Limerick and on East half of Lot 15 in 10th Concession of Lake respectively, and also the several dams and improvements situated on the Moira River, on Lots 10 in 6th Concession, 9 in 16th Concession, and 10 in 14th Concession of the Township of Angelsea, in the County of Lennox and Addington, and for liberty to flood the lands above and below the said respective dams for the purposes of the said dams upon such terms as to compensation as may seem just to the said Legislature and for other purposes.

(Signed,)

GILMOUR & CO.

Dated, this 7th day of Nov., 1878. 28th

THE BICKFORD AUTOMATIC FAMILY KNITTER

Knits all sizes of work narrow and wide, it shapes all sizes complete. Knits 50 different garments, Socks, Stockings, Mittens, Leggings, Wrists, Gloves, etc. It knits every possible variety of plain or fancy stitch, 75 per cent profit in manufacturing knit goods. Farmers can treble the value of their wool by converting it into knit goods. Agents wanted in every State, County, City and Town to whom very low prices will be made.

For full particulars and lowest price for the Best Family Machine send to: Bickford Knitting Machine MFG. CO., Brattleboro, Vt.

Sioux Cough Remedy.

THE Best Cough Medicine ever discovered. Gives immediate relief in case of Hoarseness, Tickling in the Throat, Sore Throat, Catarrh in the Throat, and all Bronchial Affections. It in its first stages, and has proved invaluable to those farther advanced in the disease, as it gives instantaneous relief.

CUR'S CONSUMPTION

Persons suffering from sleepless nights caused by coughing, can procure that great blessing, sleep, by purchasing a bottle of the SIoux COUGH REMEDY.

FOR SALE AT HUFFMAN'S, DUNDAS STREET, NAPANEE.

PRICE ONLY 25 cts. PER BOTTLE. 25-1f.

Farm for Sale.

SITUATED in the 21 Concession of South Fredericksburgh, East half of Lot No. 5, containing 125 acres. The building are nearly new, and in excellent condition. Frame dwelling, large barn conveniently arranged, drive house, blacksmith shop, and dwelling house for farm servant. The place is well watered, good fence, and land under excellent state of cultivation. 18 acres of hard wood timber. TERMS will be made to suit the purchaser. For further particulars apply to ALLAN WAGAR, On the premises. South Fredericksburgh, Nov. 14, 78. 28 5m

- 1 Fair Milk
- 1 Cream Milk
- 1 Butter
- 1 Lard
- 1 Soap
- 1 Oil
- 1 Flour
- 1 Sugar
- 1 Tea
- 1 Coffee
- 1 Spice
- 1 Fruit
- 1 Vegetable
- 1 Meat
- 1 Fish
- 1 Poultry
- 1 Game
- 1 Fowl
- 1 Pig
- 1 Horse
- 1 Cart
- 1 Plow
- 1 Harrow
- 1 Mower
- 1 Reaper
- 1 Threshing Machine
- 1 Saw
- 1 Mill
- 1 Windmill
- 1 Pump
- 1 Well
- 1 Fence
- 1 Gate
- 1 Post
- 1 Rail
- 1 Board
- 1 Lumber
- 1 Brick
- 1 Tile
- 1 Stone
- 1 Cement
- 1 Lime
- 1 Sand
- 1 Gravel
- 1 Clay
- 1 Earth
- 1 Water
- 1 Gas
- 1 Electricity
- 1 Heat
- 1 Light
- 1 Sound
- 1 Smell
- 1 Taste
- 1 Touch
- 1 Sight
- 1 Hearing
- 1 Feeling
- 1 Thinking
- 1 Understanding
- 1 Reasoning
- 1 Judgment
- 1 Will
- 1 Power
- 1 Force
- 1 Energy
- 1 Motion
- 1 Action
- 1 Reaction
- 1 Effect
- 1 Cause
- 1 Result
- 1 End
- 1 Beginning
- 1 Middle
- 1 End
- 1 Conclusion
- 1 Summary
- 1 Appendix
- 1 Index
- 1 Table
- 1 Diagram
- 1 Map
- 1 Picture
- 1 Drawing
- 1 Engraving
- 1 Photograph
- 1 Stereotype
- 1 Lithograph
- 1 Etching
- 1 Woodcut
- 1 Copperplate
- 1 Steelplate
- 1 Zincplate
- 1 Galvanoplate
- 1 Electroplate
- 1 Enamel
- 1 Glass
- 1 Metal
- 1 Wood
- 1 Stone
- 1 Earth
- 1 Water
- 1 Air
- 1 Fire
- 1 Light
- 1 Heat
- 1 Sound
- 1 Smell
- 1 Taste
- 1 Touch
- 1 Sight
- 1 Hearing
- 1 Feeling
- 1 Thinking
- 1 Understanding
- 1 Reasoning
- 1 Judgment
- 1 Will
- 1 Power
- 1 Force
- 1 Energy
- 1 Motion
- 1 Action
- 1 Reaction
- 1 Effect
- 1 Cause
- 1 Result
- 1 End
- 1 Beginning
- 1 Middle
- 1 End
- 1 Conclusion
- 1 Summary
- 1 Appendix
- 1 Index
- 1 Table
- 1 Diagram
- 1 Map
- 1 Picture
- 1 Drawing
- 1 Engraving
- 1 Photograph
- 1 Stereotype
- 1 Lithograph
- 1 Etching
- 1 Woodcut
- 1 Copperplate
- 1 Steelplate
- 1 Zincplate
- 1 Galvanoplate
- 1 Electroplate
- 1 Enamel
- 1 Glass
- 1 Metal
- 1 Wood
- 1 Stone
- 1 Earth
- 1 Water
- 1 Air
- 1 Fire
- 1 Light
- 1 Heat
- 1 Sound
- 1 Smell
- 1 Taste
- 1 Touch
- 1 Sight
- 1 Hearing
- 1 Feeling
- 1 Thinking
- 1 Understanding
- 1 Reasoning
- 1 Judgment
- 1 Will
- 1 Power
- 1 Force
- 1 Energy
- 1 Motion
- 1 Action
- 1 Reaction
- 1 Effect
- 1 Cause
- 1 Result
- 1 End
- 1 Beginning
- 1 Middle
- 1 End
- 1 Conclusion
- 1 Summary
- 1 Appendix
- 1 Index
- 1 Table
- 1 Diagram
- 1 Map
- 1 Picture
- 1 Drawing
- 1 Engraving
- 1 Photograph
- 1 Stereotype
- 1 Lithograph
- 1 Etching
- 1 Woodcut
- 1 Copperplate
- 1 Steelplate
- 1 Zincplate
- 1 Galvanoplate
- 1 Electroplate
- 1 Enamel
- 1 Glass
- 1 Metal
- 1 Wood
- 1 Stone
- 1 Earth
- 1 Water
- 1 Air
- 1 Fire
- 1 Light
- 1 Heat
- 1 Sound
- 1 Smell
- 1 Taste
- 1 Touch
- 1 Sight
- 1 Hearing
- 1 Feeling
- 1 Thinking
- 1 Understanding
- 1 Reasoning
- 1 Judgment
- 1 Will
- 1 Power
- 1 Force
- 1 Energy
- 1 Motion
- 1 Action
- 1 Reaction
- 1 Effect
- 1 Cause
- 1 Result
- 1 End
- 1 Beginning
- 1 Middle
- 1 End
- 1 Conclusion
- 1 Summary
- 1 Appendix
- 1 Index
- 1 Table
- 1 Diagram
- 1 Map
- 1 Picture
- 1 Drawing
- 1 Engraving
- 1 Photograph
- 1 Stereotype
- 1 Lithograph
- 1 Etching
- 1 Woodcut
- 1 Copperplate
- 1 Steelplate
- 1 Zincplate
- 1 Galvanoplate
- 1 Electroplate
- 1 Enamel
- 1 Glass
- 1 Metal
- 1 Wood
- 1 Stone
- 1 Earth
- 1 Water
- 1 Air
- 1 Fire
- 1 Light
- 1 Heat
- 1 Sound
- 1 Smell
- 1 Taste
- 1 Touch
- 1 Sight
- 1 Hearing
- 1 Feeling
- 1 Thinking
- 1 Understanding
- 1 Reasoning
- 1 Judgment
- 1 Will
- 1 Power
- 1 Force
- 1 Energy
- 1 Motion
- 1 Action
- 1 Reaction
- 1 Effect
- 1 Cause
- 1 Result
- 1 End
- 1 Beginning
- 1 Middle
- 1 End
- 1 Conclusion
- 1 Summary
- 1 Appendix
- 1 Index
- 1 Table
- 1 Diagram
- 1 Map
- 1 Picture
- 1 Drawing
- 1 Engraving
- 1 Photograph
- 1 Stereotype
- 1 Lithograph
- 1 Etching
- 1 Woodcut
- 1 Copperplate
- 1 Steelplate
- 1 Zincplate
- 1 Galvanoplate
- 1 Electroplate
- 1 Enamel
- 1 Glass
- 1 Metal
- 1 Wood
- 1 Stone
- 1 Earth
- 1 Water
- 1 Air
- 1 Fire
- 1 Light
- 1 Heat
- 1 Sound
- 1 Smell
- 1 Taste
- 1 Touch
- 1 Sight
- 1 Hearing
- 1 Feeling
- 1 Thinking
- 1 Understanding
- 1 Reasoning
- 1 Judgment
- 1 Will
- 1 Power
- 1 Force
- 1 Energy
- 1 Motion
- 1 Action
- 1 Reaction
- 1 Effect
- 1 Cause
- 1 Result
- 1 End
- 1 Beginning
- 1 Middle
- 1 End
- 1 Conclusion
- 1 Summary
- 1 Appendix
- 1 Index
- 1 Table
- 1 Diagram
- 1 Map
- 1 Picture
- 1 Drawing
- 1 Engraving
- 1 Photograph
- 1 Stereotype
- 1 Lithograph
- 1 Etching
- 1 Woodcut
- 1 Copperplate
- 1 Steelplate
- 1 Zincplate
- 1 Galvanoplate
- 1 Electroplate
- 1 Enamel
- 1 Glass
- 1 Metal
- 1 Wood
- 1 Stone
- 1 Earth
- 1 Water
- 1 Air
- 1 Fire
- 1 Light
- 1 Heat
- 1 Sound
- 1 Smell
- 1 Taste
- 1 Touch
- 1 Sight
- 1 Hearing
- 1 Feeling
- 1 Thinking
- 1 Understanding
- 1 Reasoning
- 1 Judgment
- 1 Will
- 1 Power
- 1 Force
- 1 Energy
- 1 Motion
- 1 Action
- 1 Reaction
- 1 Effect
- 1 Cause
- 1 Result
- 1 End
- 1 Beginning
- 1 Middle
- 1 End
- 1 Conclusion
- 1 Summary
- 1 Appendix
- 1 Index
- 1 Table
- 1 Diagram
- 1 Map
- 1 Picture
- 1 Drawing
- 1 Engraving
- 1 Photograph
- 1 Stereotype
- 1 Lithograph
- 1 Etching
- 1 Woodcut
- 1 Copperplate
- 1 Steelplate
- 1 Zincplate
- 1 Galvanoplate
- 1 Electroplate
- 1 Enamel
- 1 Glass
- 1 Metal
- 1 Wood
- 1 Stone
- 1 Earth
- 1 Water
- 1 Air
- 1 Fire
- 1 Light
- 1 Heat
- 1 Sound
- 1 Smell
- 1 Taste
- 1 Touch
- 1 Sight
- 1 Hearing
- 1 Feeling
- 1 Thinking
- 1 Understanding
- 1 Reasoning
- 1 Judgment
- 1 Will
- 1 Power
- 1 Force
- 1 Energy
- 1 Motion
- 1 Action
- 1 Reaction
- 1 Effect
- 1 Cause
- 1 Result
- 1 End
- 1 Beginning
- 1 Middle
- 1 End
- 1 Conclusion
- 1 Summary
- 1 Appendix
- 1 Index
- 1 Table
- 1 Diagram
- 1 Map
- 1 Picture
- 1 Drawing
- 1 Engraving
- 1 Photograph
- 1 Stereotype
- 1 Lithograph
- 1 Etching
- 1 Woodcut
- 1 Copperplate
- 1 Steelplate
- 1 Zincplate
- 1 Galvanoplate
- 1 Electroplate
- 1 Enamel
- 1 Glass
- 1 Metal
- 1 Wood
- 1 Stone
- 1 Earth
- 1 Water
- 1 Air
- 1 Fire
- 1 Light
- 1 Heat
- 1 Sound
- 1 Smell
- 1 Taste
- 1 Touch
- 1 Sight
- 1 Hearing
- 1 Feeling
- 1 Thinking
- 1 Understanding
- 1 Reasoning
- 1 Judgment
- 1 Will
- 1 Power
- 1 Force
- 1 Energy
- 1 Motion
- 1 Action
- 1 Reaction
- 1 Effect
- 1 Cause
- 1 Result
- 1 End
- 1 Beginning
- 1 Middle
- 1 End
- 1 Conclusion
- 1 Summary
- 1 Appendix
- 1 Index
- 1 Table
- 1 Diagram
- 1 Map
- 1 Picture
- 1 Drawing
- 1 Engraving
- 1 Photograph
- 1 Stereotype
- 1 Lithograph
- 1 Etching
- 1 Woodcut
- 1 Copperplate
- 1 Steelplate
- 1 Zincplate
- 1 Galvanoplate
- 1 Electroplate
- 1 Enamel
- 1 Glass
- 1 Metal
- 1 Wood
- 1 Stone
- 1 Earth
- 1 Water
- 1 Air
- 1 Fire
- 1 Light
- 1 Heat
- 1 Sound
- 1 Smell
- 1 Taste
- 1 Touch
- 1 Sight
- 1 Hearing
- 1 Feeling
- 1 Thinking
- 1 Understanding
- 1 Reasoning
- 1 Judgment
- 1 Will
- 1 Power
- 1 Force
- 1 Energy
- 1 Motion
- 1 Action
- 1 Reaction
- 1 Effect
- 1 Cause
- 1 Result
- 1 End
- 1 Beginning
- 1 Middle
- 1 End
- 1 Conclusion
- 1 Summary
- 1 Appendix
- 1 Index
- 1 Table
- 1 Diagram
- 1 Map
- 1 Picture
- 1 Drawing
- 1 Engraving
- 1 Photograph
- 1 Stereotype
- 1 Lithograph
- 1 Etching
- 1 Woodcut
- 1 Copperplate
- 1 Steelplate
- 1 Zincplate
- 1 Galvanoplate
- 1 Electroplate
- 1 Enamel
- 1 Glass
- 1 Metal
- 1 Wood
- 1 Stone
- 1 Earth
- 1 Water
- 1 Air
- 1 Fire
- 1 Light
- 1 Heat
- 1 Sound
- 1 Smell
- 1 Taste
- 1 Touch
- 1 Sight
- 1 Hearing
- 1 Feeling
- 1 Thinking
- 1 Understanding
- 1 Reasoning
- 1 Judgment
- 1 Will
- 1 Power
- 1 Force
- 1 Energy
- 1 Motion
- 1 Action
- 1 Reaction
- 1 Effect
- 1 Cause
- 1 Result
- 1 End
- 1 Beginning
- 1 Middle
- 1 End
- 1 Conclusion
- 1 Summary
- 1 Appendix
- 1 Index
- 1 Table
- 1 Diagram
- 1 Map
- 1 Picture
- 1 Drawing
- 1 Engraving
- 1 Photograph
- 1 Stereotype
- 1 Lithograph
- 1 Etching
- 1 Woodcut
- 1 Copperplate
- 1 Steelplate
- 1 Zincplate
- 1 Galvanoplate
- 1 Electroplate
- 1 Enamel
- 1 Glass
- 1 Metal
- 1 Wood
- 1 Stone
- 1 Earth
- 1 Water
- 1 Air
- 1 Fire
- 1 Light
- 1 Heat
- 1 Sound
- 1 Smell
- 1 Taste
- 1 Touch
- 1 Sight
- 1 Hearing
- 1 Feeling
- 1 Thinking
- 1 Understanding
- 1 Reasoning
- 1 Judgment
- 1 Will
- 1 Power
- 1 Force
- 1 Energy
- 1 Motion
- 1 Action
- 1 Reaction
- 1 Effect
- 1 Cause
- 1 Result
- 1 End
- 1 Beginning
- 1 Middle
- 1 End
- 1 Conclusion
- 1 Summary
- 1 Appendix
- 1 Index
- 1 Table
- 1 Diagram
- 1 Map
- 1 Picture
- 1 Drawing
- 1 Engraving
- 1 Photograph
- 1 Stereotype
- 1 Lithograph
- 1 Etching
- 1 Woodcut
- 1 Copperplate
- 1 Steelplate
- 1 Zincplate
- 1 Galvanoplate
- 1 Electroplate
- 1 Enamel
- 1 Glass
- 1 Metal
- 1 Wood
- 1 Stone
- 1 Earth
- 1 Water
- 1 Air
- 1 Fire
- 1 Light
- 1 Heat
- 1 Sound
- 1 Smell
- 1 Taste
- 1 Touch
- 1 Sight
- 1 Hearing
- 1 Feeling
- 1 Thinking
- 1 Understanding
- 1 Reasoning
- 1 Judgment
- 1 Will
- 1 Power
- 1 Force
- 1 Energy
- 1 Motion
- 1 Action
- 1 Reaction
- 1 Effect
- 1 Cause
- 1 Result
- 1 End
- 1 Beginning
- 1 Middle
- 1 End
- 1 Conclusion
- 1 Summary
- 1 Appendix
- 1 Index
- 1 Table
- 1 Diagram
- 1 Map
- 1 Picture
- 1 Drawing
- 1 Engraving
- 1 Photograph
- 1 Stereotype
- 1 Lithograph
- 1 Etching
- 1 Woodcut
- 1 Copperplate
- 1 Steelplate
- 1 Zincplate
- 1 Galvanoplate
- 1 Electroplate
- 1 Enamel
- 1 Glass
- 1 Metal
- 1 Wood
- 1 Stone
- 1 Earth
- 1 Water
- 1 Air
- 1 Fire
- 1 Light
- 1 Heat
- 1 Sound
- 1 Smell
- 1 Taste
- 1 Touch
- 1 Sight
- 1 Hearing
- 1 Feeling
- 1 Thinking
- 1 Understanding
- 1 Reasoning
- 1 Judgment
- 1 Will
- 1 Power
- 1 Force
- 1 Energy
- 1 Motion
- 1 Action
- 1 Reaction
- 1 Effect
- 1 Cause
- 1 Result
- 1 End
- 1 Beginning
- 1 Middle
- 1 End
- 1 Conclusion
- 1 Summary
- 1 Appendix
- 1 Index
- 1 Table
- 1 Diagram
- 1 Map
- 1 Picture
- 1 Drawing
- 1 Engraving
- 1 Photograph
- 1 Stereotype
- 1 Lithograph
- 1 Etching
- 1 Woodcut
- 1 Copperplate
- 1 Steelplate
- 1 Zincplate
- 1 Galvanoplate
- 1 Electroplate
- 1 Enamel
- 1 Glass
- 1 Metal
- 1 Wood
- 1 Stone
- 1 Earth
- 1 Water
- 1 Air
- 1 Fire
- 1 Light
- 1 Heat
- 1 Sound
- 1 Smell
- 1 Taste
- 1 Touch
- 1 Sight
- 1 Hearing
- 1 Feeling
- 1 Thinking
- 1 Understanding
- 1 Reasoning
- 1 Judgment
- 1 Will
- 1 Power
- 1 Force
- 1 Energy
- 1 Motion
- 1 Action
- 1 Reaction
- 1 Effect
- 1 Cause
- 1 Result
- 1 End
- 1 Beginning
- 1 Middle
- 1 End
- 1 Conclusion
- 1 Summary
- 1 Appendix
- 1 Index
- 1 Table
- 1 Diagram
- 1 Map
- 1 Picture
- 1 Drawing
- 1 Engraving
- 1 Photograph
- 1 Stereotype
- 1 Lithograph
- 1 Etching
- 1 Woodcut
- 1 Copperplate
- 1 Steelplate
- 1 Zincplate
- 1 Galvanoplate
- 1 Electroplate
- 1 Enamel
- 1 Glass
- 1 Metal
- 1 Wood
- 1 Stone
- 1 Earth
- 1 Water
- 1 Air
- 1 Fire
- 1 Light
- 1 Heat
- 1 Sound
- 1 Smell
- 1 Taste
- 1 Touch
- 1 Sight
- 1 Hearing
- 1 Feeling
- 1 Thinking
- 1 Understanding
- 1 Reasoning
- 1 Judgment
- 1 Will
- 1 Power
- 1 Force
- 1 Energy
- 1 Motion
- 1 Action
- 1 Reaction
- 1 Effect
- 1 Cause
- 1 Result
- 1 End
- 1 Beginning
- 1 Middle
- 1 End
- 1 Conclusion
- 1 Summary
- 1 Appendix
- 1 Index
- 1 Table
- 1 Diagram
- 1 Map
- 1 Picture
- 1 Drawing
- 1 Engraving
- 1 Photograph
- 1 Stereotype
- 1 Lithograph
- 1 Etching
- 1 Woodcut
- 1 Copperplate
- 1 Steelplate
- 1 Zincplate
- 1 Galvanoplate
- 1 Electroplate
- 1 Enamel
- 1 Glass
- 1 Metal
- 1 Wood
- 1 Stone
- 1 Earth
- 1 Water
- 1 Air
- 1 Fire
- 1 Light
- 1 Heat
- 1 Sound
- 1 Smell
- 1 Taste
- 1 Touch
- 1 Sight
- 1 Hearing
- 1 Feeling
- 1 Thinking
- 1 Understanding
- 1 Reasoning
- 1 Judgment
- 1 Will
- 1 Power
- 1 Force
- 1 Energy
- 1 Motion
- 1 Action
- 1 Reaction
- 1 Effect
- 1 Cause
- 1 Result
- 1 End
- 1 Beginning
- 1 Middle
- 1 End
- 1 Conclusion
- 1 Summary
- 1 Appendix
- 1 Index
- 1 Table
- 1 Diagram
- 1 Map
- 1 Picture
- 1 Drawing
- 1 Engraving
- 1 Photograph
- 1 Stereotype
- 1 Lithograph
- 1 Etching
- 1 Woodcut
- 1 Copperplate
- 1 Steelplate
- 1 Zincplate
- 1 Galvanoplate
- 1 Electroplate
- 1 Enamel
- 1 Glass
- 1 Metal
- 1 Wood
- 1 Stone
- 1 Earth
- 1 Water
- 1 Air
- 1 Fire
- 1 Light
- 1 Heat
- 1 Sound
- 1 Smell
- 1 Taste
- 1 Touch
- 1 Sight
- 1 Hearing
- 1 Feeling
- 1 Thinking
- 1 Understanding
- 1 Reasoning
- 1 Judgment
- 1 Will
- 1 Power
- 1 Force
- 1 Energy
- 1 Motion
- 1 Action
- 1 Reaction
- 1 Effect
- 1 Cause
- 1 Result
- 1 End
- 1 Beginning
- 1 Middle
- 1 End
- 1 Conclusion
- 1 Summary
- 1 Appendix
- 1 Index
- 1 Table
- 1 Diagram
- 1 Map
- 1 Picture
- 1 Drawing
- 1 Engraving
- 1 Photograph
- 1 Stereotype
- 1 Lithograph
- 1 Etching
- 1 Woodcut
- 1 Copperplate
- 1 Steelplate
- 1 Zincplate
- 1 Galvanoplate
- 1 Electroplate
- 1 Enamel
- 1 Glass
- 1 Metal
- 1 Wood
- 1 Stone
- 1 Earth
- 1 Water
- 1 Air
- 1 Fire
- 1 Light
- 1 Heat
- 1 Sound
- 1 Smell
- 1 Taste
- 1 Touch
- 1 Sight
- 1 Hearing
- 1 Feeling
- 1 Thinking
- 1 Understanding
- 1 Reasoning
- 1 Judgment
- 1 Will
- 1 Power
- 1 Force
- 1 Energy
- 1 Motion
- 1 Action
- 1 Reaction
- 1 Effect
- 1 Cause
- 1 Result
- 1 End
- 1 Beginning
- 1 Middle
- 1 End
- 1 Conclusion
- 1 Summary
- 1 Appendix
- 1 Index
- 1 Table
- 1 Diagram
- 1 Map
- 1 Picture
- 1 Drawing
- 1 Engraving
- 1 Photograph
- 1 Stereotype
- 1 Lithograph
- 1 Etching
- 1 Woodcut
- 1 Copperplate
- 1 Steelplate
- 1 Zincplate
- 1 Galvanoplate
- 1 Electroplate
- 1 Enamel
- 1 Glass
- 1 Metal
- 1 Wood
- 1 Stone
- 1 Earth
- 1 Water
- 1 Air
- 1 Fire
- 1 Light
- 1 Heat
- 1 Sound
- 1 Smell
- 1 Taste
- 1 Touch
- 1 Sight
- 1 Hearing
- 1 Feeling
- 1 Thinking
- 1 Understanding
- 1 Reasoning
- 1 Judgment
- 1 Will
- 1 Power
- 1 Force
- 1 Energy
- 1 Motion
- 1 Action
- 1 Reaction
- 1 Effect
- 1 Cause
- 1 Result
- 1 End
- 1 Beginning
- 1 Middle
- 1 End
- 1 Conclusion
- 1 Summary
- 1 Appendix
- 1 Index
- 1 Table
- 1 Diagram
- 1 Map
- 1 Picture
- 1 Drawing
- 1 Engraving
- 1 Photograph
- 1 Stereotype
- 1 Lithograph
- 1 Etching
- 1 Woodcut
- 1 Copperplate
- 1 Steelplate
- 1 Zincplate
- 1 Galvanoplate
- 1 Electroplate
- 1 Enamel
- 1 Glass
- 1 Metal
- 1 Wood
- 1 Stone
- 1 Earth
- 1 Water
- 1 Air
- 1 Fire
- 1 Light
- 1 Heat
- 1 Sound
- 1 Smell
- 1 Taste
- 1 Touch
- 1 Sight
- 1 Hearing
- 1 Feeling
- 1 Thinking
- 1 Understanding
- 1 Reasoning
- 1 Judgment

Epps's Cocoa.—GREATFUL AND COMFORTING.—By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well selected cocoa Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctor's bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame. —Cutler's Service to Coffee.—Sold only in Packets labelled—JAMES EPPS & CO., Homoeopathic Chemists, 48, Thredacelle Street, and 170 Piccadilly, London. 42 ly.

THE EXPRESS.

NAPANEE, NOV. 15, 1878.

Personal.

Mr. R. J. Cartwright arrived in town on Thursday morning!

—Mr. J. C. Holton, collector of Inland Revenue, port of Belleville, died on the 5th inst.

'Devils Elbow.'

Dorland P. O., has been opened at the corners known as Devil's Elbow, and is served by the daily mail to Adolphustown.

I HAVE waited patiently on every customer up to this time, but now I insist upon every order due account being paid at once—I cannot wait for ever. HENRY R. SPENCER.

Barley

Mr. E. M. Fralick has been buying a cargo of A. I. Barley for a Boston firm. The grain is shipped per Grand Trunk, through freight.

—Mr. E. M. Fralick has been doing an immense business in buying eggs this season. He has shipped no less than 112,000 dozen to Boston since last spring.

—W. A. Rose comes out with some good common sense in his advertisement in this issue. We commend it to the perusal of all our readers.

SPENCER expects every man to pay up his overdue accounts, as he will wait no longer.

—Remember the Auction Sale of Farm Property and Household effects, on the premises of the late Mrs. Salisbury, South Fredericksburgh, on Wednesday next. Full particulars in our advertising columns.

Intermediate Examinations.

The next Intermediate and Second Class examinations will commence on the 16th December, and last one week. All intending applicants must send their names to the head master of the High schools, on or before the 16th inst.

HENRY R. SPENCER gives value every time for the price paid for all kinds of first-class clothing. Under the Mistletoe Boughs

Is the title of the last number of the Franklin Square Library, and is truly a Christmas story. It is one of Mrs. Braden's best, and will be found very interesting. To be found at Henderson's, Dundas Street, Napanee; price only 15 cents.

Travelers going west will find first class accommodation at the Filmore House (formerly Scott's Hotel), corner Michigan and Carroll Streets, Buffalo, N. Y. Robert Sully, Proprietor. This house has recently been refitted and refurnished in modern style. Terms $1 per day, meals 25 cents each.—[Ad.]

New Harness Shop.

Mr. G. W. Goodwin has opened a new harness shop in the McMullen Block, Napanee. He is a workman of 16 years experience, and being enterprising we doubt not but he will do a good business. We have no space for further reference.

—The Hastings is only making tricky trips between Kingston and Belleville.

—Active measures are being taken by the presiding elders in the various districts in the Bay of Quinte and Niagara Conference to celebrate the semi-centenary of Canadian Methodism.

Arrested.

About a month ago the quiet village of Adolphustown was disturbed by the sensation of robbing and attempt at incendiarism. A Mr. Gibbs of that place, had $184 taken from a chest, the thief having piled a lot of clothes on the chest from which he purloined the money, and set them on fire to prevent the discovery of the theft. Detective Hagerty, of Kingston, took the matter up, and on Saturday last arrived in Napanee with a prisoner named Hart, who is charged with committing the theft. He was brought up before Justice James on Monday for examination, and remanded for trial.

Mail Robbery.

The Whig gives the following particulars of the discovery of a mail robbery in Addington. On the 20th of October a letter sent by the Ontario Government to Mr. B. Watkins, to pay for labor on colonization roads, was robbed at Mountain Grove Post Office of its contents, $280. The robbery was a surprise and mystery for a time, but in a few days suspicion fastened on Warren Godfrey, son of the Mountain Grove Postmaster who had spent money rather lavishly at Arden, a village not far distant. Inspector Barker applied himself to the case and made, by patient inquiry and careful observation, certain progress, but he failed to reach a satisfactory issue until this week, when he felt justified in taking action. On Wednesday he and Detective Macauley left the city, and on 7th inst. Warren Godfrey was arrested and taken to Kingston. He was lodged in the police station until Friday evening, when he was escorted to the residence of Inspector Baker and made a clean breast of the offence, confessing that he had stolen the money, twenty-eight $10 bills, on Sunday night, October 2nd and spent some of it, while the balance he hid in the woods in the township of Olden. It may be difficult to find the missing wealth, but Mr. Baker has hopes of being successful, he being guided by directors given him by Godfrey. The prisoner who is a young man about 27 years of age, is very respectably connected, and deeply feels his criminal position. On Saturday morning he appeared before the Police Magistrate, and was committed for trial before Judge Price.

Godfrey was brought before Judge Price on Wednesday and sentenced to five years in the Penitentiary. The money has not yet been recovered though the authorities feel sanguine of discovery its location.

SPENCER has got the largest stock of Shirts, Cuffs, Collars, Neckties, Underclothing, &c., in Napanee.

N. A. A. S. A.

The gymnastic exhibition given by the Napanee Academy Athletic Sports Association, in the Town Hall, on Friday evening last, was very fairly attended, considering the counter attractions. The entertainment was opened by an overture, by Mr. and Mrs. Odell, after which the President, Mr. W. Chipman, E. A., read an admirable essay on the rise and progress of gymnastic and athletic sports from the earliest times down to the present, clearly demonstrating that the benefits derived from a well developed muscular system more than compensated for the time spent in exercise, stating further that the object of the exhibition was not to make money, but simple to show what could be done in this branch by practice. He was warmly endorsed, The

He recommended that the librarian be requested to keep the register in accordance with the regulations laid down by the Department.

Mr. Hall moved, sec. by Mr. Davis that the Secretary be instructed to communicate with the librarian and instruct him to keep a library register according to the regulations of the Education Department.—Carried.

Mr. Osborne having entered the room, was heard on the subject, stating that his predecessor had taken a plan of his own invention, which he (Mr. Osborne) had followed, of simply taking the name of the pupil getting a book on a card. When he took charge of the library, 125 books were out, and he had succeeded in collecting all but 47, having the names of these with the exception of 13.

The Secretary here took the opportunity of reading to the librarian the resolution passed by the Board.

On motion of Mr. Detlor sec. by Mr. Hall, the sum of $10 was granted the East Ward school with which to purchase a reference library.

Mr. Matheson stated that the school would give $10, and that as the Government always doubled the amount raised, which would make the snug sum of $40, that this would be sufficient to furnish all the books required.

By request of Mr. Matheson the old tree on the East Ward school grounds was ordered to be removed.

On motion of Mr. Hall the committee on school property were authorized to purchase a new stove for Mr. Tilley's room, in East Ward.

Mr. McCoy stated that he had purchased twelve tons of coal, for the West Ward school, at $4.90 per ton and that six tons more would be required.

On motion of Mr. Henry, sec. by Mr. Molloy, the school property Com. were authorized to purchase the amount of coal lacking.

The matter of two odd seats in Miss Fraser's room, was referred to the Com. on school property.

The following accounts were passed: W. Joy, repairing stove, etc., $1.75; R. Madden, wood, $6; T. Pierson, painting, $4.50; Henry & Bro., stationery, etc., $28.34; Treasurer, to cash advanced for purchase of wood, $20; Board of Examiners, expenses of late Intermediate examination, $13.07; W. Saul, pointing Academy, $30; F. Seldon, brooms, 30c; J. Crysdale, repairing, 75 cts.

By request of Mr. Osborne, the roof of the West Ward school building was ordered to be repaired.

The Secretary was instructed to get what printing he required done, and Miss Lane's room was ordered to be furnished with blackboard, brush and bell.

Board adjourned.

Our Toronto Lotter.

CHIT-CHAT OF THE QUEEN CITY.

From our own correspondent.

On Tuesday evening one of the largest fires that we have had in Toronto for some time occurred. The Central Prison being so far away from the different fire halls the fire had a good chance to get absolute sway before the firemen could get into operation. The damage is estimated at $90,000 but that amount will not be a total loss as the insurance is said to be $75,000. The contractors (McMurray and Fuller) will lose more than the Government, as the greater part of this woodwork was not insured. The fire is supposed to have originated from rags saturated with benzine and vanished, being carelessly thrown aside and becoming ignited from the steam pipes which encircle the building, the flames were then carried to a couple of benzine barrels which have been standing in the paint shop offices for some time, from which the fire quickly spread to the buildings.

Candidates for the Local Legislature are cropping up on all sides. Alderman

MANITOBA

Newsy Paragraphs from North-West

Clipped from the "Free Press" Winnipeg, November 2nd

Winnipeg Locals.

Lake Manitoba is frozen on teams are driving the ice. Popular Point had twelve inches of snow fall the other day.

The Winnipeg city policemen rigged out in new buffalo overcoats. Winter rates on the stage on operation last Tuesday—16.50 cts.

The Battleford Herald quote at Prince Albert, N.W.T., at $ bushel.

Fargo, Dakota, can luxuriate in $9.50 a ton—just about half that asked in Winnipeg.

The Rev. Mr. Dyer, the Methodist minister stationed at Stonewall, for $1 subscriptions, through the diocese, towards the erection of a age at that place.

Work on Fort Francis canal here for this season. The rock-work canal is completed, and the rest of the wood-work will be finished spring.

The steam ferry boat, Adelaid, into winter quarters Saturday mouth of the Seine. The acev the spring is being utilized till t of navigation.

Mr. Geo. Balkwill, of Rapid C has been down in Ontario pi machinery for a saw and grist rived last week with the necessa ments. He also brings some ve stock.

Besides the Marquette Re paper to be published shortly Portage, by Mr. Collins, we h Mr. Douglas, formerly of t William Daybrook, intende pi a paper either at Emerson or Pe On Saturday evening, Flynn, ed of burglary and stealing a overcoat from C. J. Mulder, was ed to three years imprisonment Provincial Penitentiary; and White, for forgery, to five years same institution.

Geo. West returned the other Gladstone, where he has been l part of his property into town. sold no fewer than thirty-six lot dately upon their being survey ten more since his arrival in t prices ranging from $20 to $75.

The Cheyenne arrived at Tuesday evening about eight o'clock the Dakota got froze in just ab Pembina. The latter boat had of freight and about forty pa The Selkirk reached Grand For day night with about sixty pi and a light manifest of freight.

A despatch from Bismarck s Capt. Allen, of the N. W. M'ce, arrived at that place recei Fort Walsh, and reports that an attempt to assassinate Major W frustrated by Sitting Bull. He that while Sitting Bull is dete his hostility to the United Stat of his followers are inclined to re

The steamers Manitoba, M International and Alpha are laic Grand Forks, D. T. The Selkirk last heard from, was on the w Fisher's to the forks. The Da expected to reach Pembina this where she will probably winter, Cheyenne went up yesterday Lynne, where she will lay up, if there.

Salsbury Items.

The first public meeting was l week on the visit of the Rev. J.

next. Full particulars in our advertising columns.

Intermediate Examinations.

The next Intermediate and Second Class examinations will commence on the 16th December, and, last one week. All intending applicants must send their names to the head master of the High schools, on or before the 16th inst.

HENRY R. SPENCER gives value every time for the price paid for all kinds of first-class clothing.

Under the Mistletoe Boughs

Is the title of the last number of the Franklin Square Library, and is truly a Christmas story. It is one of Mrs. Bradshaw's best, and will be found very interesting. To be found at Henderson's, Dundas Street, Napanee; price only 15 cents.

Travelers going west will find first class accommodation at the Filmore House (formerly Scott's Hotel), corner Michigan and Carroll Streets, Buffalo, N. Y. Robert Sully, Proprietor. This house has recently been refitted and refurnished in modern style. Terms $1 per day, meals 25 cents each.—[Ad.]

New Harness Shop.

Mr. G. W. Goodwin has opened a new harness shop in the McMullen Block, Napanee. He is a workman of 16 years experience, and being enterprising we doubt not but he will do a good business. We have no space for further reference this week but would simply direct attention to his ad. in this issue.

What a wonderful discovery is Perry's Pain-Kuler! It not only cures the ills of the human family, but is also the sure remedy for horses with colic. It has never been known to fail in a cure of the worst cases; and for sprains, galls, &c., it never fails—try it once. Directions accompany each bottle. Sold by druggists.

H. R. SPENCER gives the best fits in clothing in town. Try him.

Oh! for that N. P.

Capt. Collier was in town yesterday with a schooner load of apples from Little Soda, New York state, which he was selling for $1.50 per barrel. The ruling price for home produce on Saturday was $2 to $2.25. Oh! for that National Policy. Why the delay when poor laboring men are being ruined by buying Yankee apples at $1.50 per barrel!

For the Poor.

The programme for the entertainment this evening, by the Napanee Dramatic Club, for the benefit of the poor of the town, has been circulated, and promises to be unusually interesting. The farce will be placed on the boards first, and is entitled, "Villikins and his Dinah." "La Tour du Nesle" will then be played. As this is the Club's third appearance in the drama, an excellent representation may be expected.

—Mr. Slaven of Slaven & Ironside has spent the week in Montreal, attending Messrs Ogilvy & Co's grand Auction Sale of dry goods. A despatch in the telegraphic reports say $150,000 worth of goods is to be disposed of. Merchants can only be first in these days of keen competition by taking advantage of every opportunity for favorable purchases in the wholesale markets.

The Industrial Home

The poor of this town are so "toney" that they object to going "the poor house" so the very obliging chairman of the Poor and Sanitary committee has christened his new boarding house "the Industrial Home." The change is entirely satisfactory and the majority of those for whom it is intended will move in at once. The buildings has been completely renovated and the apartments fitted up, and will be ready for occupation to-day.

Go to Henry R. Spencer for your Fall suit, if you want it in first class style.

directors given him by Godfrey. The prisoner who is a young man about 27 years of age, is very respectably connected, and deeply feels his criminal position. On Saturday morning he appeared before the Police Magistrate, and was committed for trial before Judge Price.

Godfrey was brought before Judge Price on Wednesday and sentenced to five years in the Penitentiary. The money has not yet been recovered though the authorities feel sanguine of discovery its location.

SPENCER has got the largest stock of Shirts, Cuffs, Collars, Neckties, Underclothing, &c., in Napanee.

N. A. A. S. A.

The gymnastic exhibition given by the Napanee Academy Athletic Sports Association, in the Town Hall, on Friday evening last, was very fairly attended, considering the counter attractions. The entertainment was opened by an overture, by Mr. and Mrs. Odell, after which the President, Mr. W. Chipman, E. A., read an admirable essay on the rise and progress of gymnastic and athletic sports from the earliest times down to the present, clearly demonstrating that the benefits derived from a well developed muscular system more than compensated for the time spent in exercise, stating further that the object of the exhibition was not to make money, but simple to show what could be done in this branch by practice. He was warmly encouraged. The programme of the evening was then gone through with, consisting of parallel bar, trapeze, horizontal bar, tumbling, and Indian club exercises, three of the class competing for prizes in the last named act. We have not space to individualize all the performers, but the movements of Messrs. Lott McKim and McCabe in the parallel bar and vaulting feats elicited the hearty applause of the audience. The daring acts of Masters Mills, Tilley, James, and Bell, on the trapeze and horizontal bar, were also well received. In the Indian club competition for prizes, Messrs. Mills, James, and Tilley took part. The exercise throughout was an excellent one, all showing proficiency in handling the clubs, but Mr. Mills carried off the palm, being awarded first prize—Tennyson's book of poems, which we think met the approval of all present as the lightning-like velocity with which he would whirl the six-pounders was truly surprising. James and Tilley submitted with a good grace to second and third prizes—Longfellow's and Shakespeare's poems. The entertainment was agreeably interspersed with music by Odell's character, which added largely to the evening's enjoyment. The proceeds of the evening are to be devoted to improving the gymnasium in connection with the school. Napanee can well be proud of an institution of this character, which has for its object the advancement of so laudable a cause, and we hope to see greater interest manifested in this necessary branch of training, not only by teachers, but all those interested in the elevation, advancement, and development of the mind and muscle of the rising generation.

THE TOMB.

At her residence, Adolphustown, on the 6th inst., Miss Mary Dorland, aged 71 years.

SCHOOL BOARD.

A special meeting of the School Board was held on last Tuesday evening.

Present—Messrs. Molloy, S. Dettlor, J. Perry, Davis, Hall, R. McCoy, Webster and T. Henry.

A. C. Davis took the chair, on motion. After routine communications were received as follows:

From A. C. Osborne, requesting an increase of salary. Referred to committee on Teachers to report.

From the Secretary Education Department, stating the semi-annual grant to the High School for first half 1878, to be $329.75, also a further grant of $50 to the

of the West Ward school building was ordered to be repaired.

The Secretary was instructed to get what printing he required done, and Miss Lane's room was ordered to be furnished with blackboard, brush and bell. Board adjourned.

Our Toronto Letter.

CHIT CHAT OF THE QUEEN CITY.

From our own correspondent.

On Tuesday evening one of the largest fires that we have had in Toronto for some time occurred. The Central Prison being so far away from the different fire halls the fire had a good chance to get absolute sway before the firemen could get into operation. The damage is estimated at $90,000 but that amount will not be a total loss as the insurance is said to be $75,000. The contractors (McMurray and Fuller) will lose more than the Government, as the greater part of the woodwork was not insured. The fire is supposed to have originated from rags saturated with benzine and varnish, being carelessly thrown aside and becoming ignited from the steam pipes which encircle the building, the flames were then carried to a couple of benzine barrels which have been standing in the paint shop offices for some time, from which the fire quickly spread to the buildings.

Candidates for the Local Legislature are cropping up on all sides. Alderman John Hallam threatens to take the field against the Hon. M. C. Cameron on the exemption question. The "fussy little" Alderman informs Mr. Cameron that if he will go in for the abolition of exemptions, he will not oppose him, but otherwise he will do so. However John has not a ghost of a chance of being elected. In west Toronto Harry Piper the redoubtable Alderman is up on the Conservative ticket. Harry is noted for being one of the representatives of what is called the "rowdy ward," in the city council, as well as for being one of the "bhoys." Nicholas Flood Davin (the defeated of Haldimand) and Robert Bell the present M. P. are also mentioned in addition to Messrs. Piper and Meek. Mr. Meek is the nominee of some of the Liberal Conservatives Workingmen's League. The Reformers as yet have not nominated any one but in all probability D. Ogden will be their candidate. Municipal election matters are rather flat, no addition being made to the list of candidates for the mayoralty.

The chief Justiceship of the Queens Bench has not yet been filled. Rumour has it that Mr. Christopher Robinson has been offered and declined the chief Justiceship, and that in all probability it will be tendered to the Hon. Adam Wilson, Mr. Hector Cameron Q. C., M. P. for Victoria, it is also whispered stands a chance for the puisne Judgeship. Mr. Cameron is a good enough Lawyer in his way, still I do not think he knows enough law to accept a position on the Bench.

Cigar makers still continue on strike, and announce that they will have their co-operative factory in operation in the course of three or four weeks.

Building matters have been brisk all summer. On the south-west corner of King and George streets the Dominion Bank has erected a building which is far ahead of any banking office in Canada, nearly opposite the north of Scotland Canadian Mortgage Company have their new offices, which though not equal to those of the Dominion Bank, still are far ahead of any other Loan Company's offices. On Toronto street, the Farmer's Loan and Savings Company are putting up a new building which will compare favorably with the majority of public buildings in the city. The buildings I have mentioned will add considerably to the beauty of our streets as well as enhance the value of property in the vicinity.

Burglaries have been common in the city for some time, and now the cry goes up for more police protection.

same institution.

Geo. West returned the other Gladstone, where he has been a part of his property into town. He sold no fewer than thirty-six lots directly upon their being surveyed ten more since his arrival in the prices ranging from $20 to $75.

The Cheyenne arrived at Tuesday evening about eight o'clock the Dakota got froze in just ab Pembina. The latter boat had of freight and about forty passengers. The Selkirk reached Grand Port day night with about sixty passengers and a light manifest of freight.

A despatch from Bismarck to Capt. Allen, of the N. W. M. Co. arrived at that place received Fort Walsh, and reports that an attempt to assassinate Major W. J. was frustrated by Sitting Bull. He said while Sitting Bull is deterring his hostility to the United States of his followers are inclined to retire.

The steamers Manitoba, M International and Alpha are laid Grand Forks, D. T. The Selkirk last heard from, was on the way Fisher's to the forks. The Dakota expected to reach Pembina this week where she will probably winter. Cheyenne went up yesterday Lynne, where she will lay up, if there.

Salsbury Items.

The first public meeting was held week on the visit of the Revs. J. M. M. A., and W. R. Morrison, putation from the Methodist M Society.

Many of the settlers are now in their families. We shall soon have a good opening for a here, and a grist mill will very necessity also. One very excellent is offered to a suitable party.

North-West News.

From the Saskatchewan Herald 7th October we glean the following items:

There are three ten horse threshing machines at work in Albert Settlement. All the grain is ready for market.

A private letter says six years little land was cultivated at H outside of that upon the Hudson Company's farm, while this, according to Father LeDuc, of St. Mission, who is good authority are over thirty thousand bushels raised around Edmonton.

Captain Moore, of Prince Albert here for several days last week, reports the wheat as threshing and being of a very superior quality.

The payment to the Indians in Treaty with the Dominion Gov began on Wednesday at ten about 700 Indians were present receive treaty money, and above were paid out. The Indians collected from Jasper House, and Crees. The Iroquois number few lodges, and are the descendants few were brought here many years by the Hudson's Bay Company and voyagers. During the prices were quoted as follows: to 50c, sugar 22c to 30c, flour $1 a bag, pork 10c to 15c, matches dry goods merely nominal, with of tobacco or a shovel of a thrown in two the purchase worth. Good three-point blank steadily at $1 a piece. The still hold the fort, as it were, and dancing are the order of the night.

Emerson.

With snow falling fast and ice in the river, it looks as if winter is in.

Notwithstanding the flatness season, work on several new have been commenced.

Real estate is in demand, and is generally very good.

The American railway travel about two hours drive from a wagon loads of passengers.

never been known to fail in a cure of the worst cases; and for sprains, galls, &c., it never fails—try it once. Directions accompany each bottle. Sold by druggists.

H. R. SPENCER gives the best fits in clothing in town. Try him.

Oh! for that N. P.

Capt. Collier was in town yesterday with a schooner load of apples from Little Sodus, New York state, which he was selling for $1.50 per barrel. The ruling price for home produce on Saturday was $2 to $2.25. Oh! for that National Policy. Why the delay when poor laboring men are being ruined by buying Yankee apples at $1.50 per barrel!

For the Poor.

The programme for the entertainment this evening, by the Napanee Dramatic Club, for the benefit of the poor of the town, has been circulated, and promises to be unusually interesting. The farce will be placed on the boards first, and is entitled, "Villikins and his Dinah." "La Tour 'ds Nesle" will then be played. As this is the Club's third appearance in the drama, an excellent representation may be expected.

—Mr. Slaven of Slaven & Ironside has spent the week in Montreal, attending Messrs Ogilvy & Co's grand Auction Sale of dry goods. A despatch in the telegraphic reports says $150,000 worth of goods is to be disposed of. Merchants can only be first in these days of keen competition by taking advantage of every opportunity for favorable purchases in the wholesale markets.

The Industrial Home.

The poor of this town are so "toney" that they object to going to "the poor house" so the very obliging chairman of the Poor and Sanitary committee has christened his new boarding house "the Industrial Home." The change is entirely satisfactory and the majority of those for whom it is intended will move in at once. The buildings has been completely renovated and the apartments fitted up, and will be ready for occupation to-day.

Go to Henry R. Spencer for your Fall suit, if you want it in first class style.

—When you are on the road and happen to strike Buffalo, the place to obtain refreshments is at Jerry Shaver's eastern summer saloon, 20 Exchange st., near N.Y. & H.R.R. depot. Warm meals at all hours; wines, liquors and cigars, and all the luxuries of the season. Terms reasonable. —AD.

Remember

The missionary sermons in connection with the C. M. Church will be preached on next Sunday morning and evening, by Rev. S. J. Haver, of Toronto, and on the following Monday night the annual missionary meeting will take place, when the above gentleman and Rev. Mr. Galbraith, of Kingston, are expected to be present and deliver addresses.

It is acknowledged by every gentleman who has examined the immense stock of Scotch, Canadian and English Tweeds and Overcoats on exhibition at Henry R. Spencer's clothing store, that he has the largest and cheapest stock ever before shown in the county of Lennox & Addington when quality is considered.

Street Repairs.

Our streets have been put in thorough repair for the winter, during the past few weeks, with the exception of the crossing at McDonald's corner, and we hope to see this attended to before winter sets in. The street committee, and more especially Mr. Cliff, deserve the thanks of the public for the efficient manner in which these repairs have been carried forward, and although the committee have more than expended the appropriation, still we do not think any rate-payer will begrudge the few extra dollars expended, as the improvements made were very much needed, and will be appreciated by all during the next six months.

movements of Messrs. Lott McKim and McCabe in the parallel bar and vaulting feats elicited the hearty applause of the audience. The daring acts of Masters Mills, Tilly, James, and Bell, on the trapeze and horizontal bar, were also well received. In the Indian club competition for prizes, Messrs. Mills, James, and Tilley took part. The exercise throughout was an excellent one, all showing proficiency in handling the clubs, but Mr. Mills carried off the palm, being awarded first prize—Tennyson's book of poems, which we think met the approval of all present as the lightning-like velocity with which he would whirl the six-pounders was truly surprising. James and Tilley submitted with a good grace to second and third prizes—Longfellow's and Shakespeare's poems. The entertainment was agreeably interspersed with music by Odell's character, which added largely to the evening's enjoyment. The proceeds of the evening are to be devoted to improving the gymnasium in connection with the school. Napanee can well be proud of an institution of this character, which has for its object the advancement of so laudable a cause, and we hope to see greater interest manifested in this necessary branch of training, not only by teachers, but all those interested in the elevation, advancement, and development of the mind and muscle of the rising generation.

THE TOMB.

At her residence, Adolphustown, on the 6th inst., Miss Mary Dorland, aged 71 years.

SCHOOL BOARD.

A special meeting of the School Board was held on last Tuesday evening.

Present—Messrs. Molloy, S. Dettlor, J. Perry, Davis, Hall, R. McCoy, Webster and T. Henry.

A. C. Davis took the chair, on motion. After routine communications were received as follows:

From A. C. Osborne, requesting an increase of salary. Referred to committee on Teachers to report.

From the Secretary Education Department, stating the semi-annual grant to the High School for first half 1878, to be $329.75, also a further grant of $50 to the Model School for the past term.

Mr. J. Perry informed the Board that a great deal of dodging was going on among the teachers of the town. Some would leave their schools for two or three days at a stretch in charge of a scholar or some incompetent person. He thought they should be required to attend more strictly to their duties.

Mr. Perry moved, sec. by Mr. Molloy, that the headmasters of East and West Ward schools be required to keep a record of the number of days absence of all teachers, and report to the Board each month. Carried.

Mr. Chipman, by consent, addressed the Board on the subject of draining the East Ward school ground. The pupils and teachers had done what they could by way of open drains, but these had not proved sufficient. The grounds are of no use for two or three months in the spring and fall. He thought $6 would cover the expense.

Mr. Perry moved, sec. by Mr. Hall, that the East Ward School committee be authorized to have the necessary drains built.—Carried.

The Inspector's and Teachers' report for October were presented, the former giving the total number of pupils on the West Ward registers as 574—average attendance 442.

Dr. Rutan here entered and took the Chair.

A communication was presented from F. Burrows, stating the school library to be in a very dilapidated condition. Some of the books had become badly torn and soiled through misusage; about 47 numbers of the library were missing, and 18 volumes had been taken out without even the name of the person being given.

not a ghost of a chance of being elected. In west Toronto Harry Piper the redoubtable Alderman is up on the Conservative ticket. Harry is noted for being one of the representatives of what is called the "rowdy ward," in the city council, as well as for being one of the "bhoys." Nicholas Flood Davin (the defeated of Haldimand) and Robert Bell the present M. P. are also mentioned in addition to Messrs. Piper and Meek. Mr. Meek is the nominee of some of the Liberal Conservatives Workingmen's lodges. The Reformers as yet have not nominated any one but in all probability D. Ogden will be their candidate. Municipal election matters are rather flat, no addition being made to the list of candidates for the mayoralty.

The chief Justiceship of the Queen's Bench has not yet been filled. Rumour has it that Mr. Christopher Robinson has been offered and declined the chief Justiceship, and that in all probability it will be tendered to the Hon. Adam Wilson, Mr. Hector Cameron Q. C., M. P. for Victoria, it is also whispered stands a chance for the puisne Judgeship. Mr. Cameron is a good enough Lawyer in his way, still I do not think he knows enough law to accept a position on the Bench.

Cigar makers still continue on strike, and announce that they will have their co-operative factory in operation in the course of three or four weeks.

Building matters have been brisk all summer. On the south-west corner of King and George streets the Dominion Bank has erected a building which is far ahead of any banking office in Canada, nearly opposite the north of Scotland Canadian Mortgage Company have their new offices, which though not equal to those of the Dominion Bank, still are far ahead of any other Loan Company's offices. On Toronto street, the Farmer's Loan and Savings Company are putting up a new building which will compare favorably with the majority of public buildings in the city. The buildings I have mentioned will add considerably to the beauty of our streets as well as enhance the value of property in the vicinity.

Burglaries have been common in the city for some time, and now the cry goes up for more police protection.

We have had in our midst for some time the Rev. Wm. Taylor of California fame, who has been holding revival meetings in the Elm Street Methodist Church. Some of his remarks sound rather queer in the ears of old Methodists, but still they are to the point. However up to date he has not been particularly successful in inducing sinners to "flee the wrath to come." On Sunday last Rev. Dr. Thomas preached in the Bloor Street Methodist Church to an immense audience. The Dr. is a true Yanker, but has some sound ideas in his head.

Leaving religious and other subjects I will turn to sporting matters. On Friday and Saturday next we are going to have a series of handicap spurt races. Some of the best runners in the continent have given in their names, notable among whom are Barnes and Carruthers of this city, and F. W. Steve of Philadelphia.

Hanlan has been matched to row a race with Hawden in May next on the Tyne. The way "our" Ned will shake up the English boating men will astonish the world or I am mistaken. After his tour in England he will in all likelihood have a match with the Gandauer Bros., of Orilla. Their backer Mr. R. Russell of Orilla seems to think because they have beaten Elliott and McKen, and Hanlan and Adair that they are invincible. I think before the season of 1879 closes he will find out his mistake.

Football is all the rage. On Saturday next the Argonauts of Toronto play the Hamilton Football Club (Rugby Union Rules) on the Toronto cricket ground.

Toronto, Nov. 13th, 1878.

necessity also. One very excellent is offered to a suitable party.

North-West News.

From the Saskatchewan Herald, 7th October we glean the following items:

There are three ten ho threshing machines at work in Albert Settlement. All the grain soon be ready for market.

A private letter says six years little land was cultivated at I outside of that upon the Hudson Company's farm, while this according to Father LeDuc, of St. Mission, who is good authority are over thirty thousand bushel raised around Edmonton.

Captain Moore, of Prince Albert here for several days last week, ports the wheat as threshing and being of a very superior quality.

The payment to the Indians Treaty with the Dominion Government on Wednesday at ten about 700 Indians were present to receive treaty money, and about were paid out. The Indians collected from Jasper House and Crees. The Indians number few lodges, and are the descend few were brought here many by the Hudson's Bay Company and voyageurs. During the prices were quoted as follows: to 50c, sugar 22c to 30c, flour $1 a bag, paunkiller 35c, matches dry goods merely nominal, with of tobacco or a shovel of thrown in two the purchase worth. Good three-point blank steadily at $1 a piece. The still hold the fort, as it were, a sing and dancing are the order of and night.

Emerson.

With snow falling fast and ice in the river, it looks as if winter in.

Notwithstanding the flatness season, work on several new have been commenced.

Real estate is in demand, and generally is very good.

The American railway track about two hours drive from Winnipeg loads of passengers yesterday for the track, distant miles.

Manitoba Railway Inter.

The Free Press thus views the change of Ministry at Ottawa have upon what is justly regarded Manitoba's principal interest.

"In a recent issue it was logically inferred that a change of administration at Ottawa would delay the time when Manitoba afforded railway facilities—at the Dominion. We need not time is a very important connection in this connection. Settlers in the more remote sections of the Province feel—and for good reason that they have already waited ways just about as long as they the present state of affairs it is advantage to them to raise money is required for their own purposes; for, as has been repeatedly in these columns, the country in the vicinity of the River, grain cannot be cultivated at a profit. This is the want of transportation facilities. The localities most railways immediately are those the Red River and north and the Assiniboine, respective roads, at least, are requisite. colonization railway policy of Government, brought before Parliament last session, we had great expectation and had that party been in power we are ever so confident an early day we should have seen railways stimulated into constant policy. But, not only have

Board adjourned.

On Tuesday evening one of the largest fires that we have had in Toronto for some time occurred. The Central Prison being so far away from the different fire halls the fire had a good chance to get absolute sway before the firemen could get into operation. The damage is estimated at $90,000 but that amount will not be a total loss as the insurance is said to be $75,000. The contractors (McMurray and Fuller) will loose more than the Government, as the greater part of the woodwork was not insured. The fire is supposed to have originated from rags saturated with benzine and varnish, being carelessly thrown aside and becoming ignited from the steam pipes which encircle the building, the flames were then carried to a couple of benzine barrels which have been standing in the paint shop offices for some time, from which the fire quickly spread to the buildings.

Newsy Paragraphs from the North-West

Clipped from the "Free Press," Winnipeg, November 2nd, '78.

The steamers Manitoba, Minnesota, International and Alpha are laid up at Grand Forks, D. T. The Selkirk, when last heard from, was on the way from Fisher's to the forks. The Dakota was expected to reach Pembina this afternoon where she will probably winter, and the Cheyenne went up yesterday to West Lynne, where she will lay up, if she gets there.

The first public meeting was held last

The Saskatchewan Herald of the 23rd September, says: "The Lieutenant Governor returned to Battleford on Wednesday evening last from his visit to Carleton, Duck Lake, and Prince Albert. He held satisfactory consultations with the Indian chiefs of the former and latter places respecting the location of their reserves. The chiefs of Duck Lake, however, were indisposed to discuss the boundaries of their reserves until some demand, not included in the treaty, were acceded to. These His Honor could not grant, and the question of locating their reserves had, for the present, to stand in abeyance. Indeed, one of the chiefs called "The Beardy," who being a medicine man has many superstitious notions, refused with a few of his band to accept the year's annuity. The other chiefs, however, and the majority of the Beardy band, took their treaty money.

HEALTH IS MORE VALUABLE THAN WEALTH is the exclamation of the invalid. In using any remedy for the restoration of health, it is a duty in ourselves to use those that have stood the test of trial and have never been condemned, but always spoken of in terms of the highest praise by every one that has ever used

Barley—60c. to $1 per bushel.
Wheat—80c. to 85c per bushel.
Oats—70c. to 81 per bushel.
Rye—50c per bushel.
Peas—60c. per bushel.
Buckwheat 30c. per bushel.
Flour—$2.25 per cental.,
May—$3 to 10.00 per ton.
Hides—$1.40. to $3.00 per cwt.
Horned Hides—1.00.
Onions—80c. to $1.00 per bushel.
Butter—18c. to 20c. per lb.
Eggs—12c. per dozen.
Lambs and skins—35c. to 40c.
Potatoes—60c per bag.
Calf skins 8c. per lb rough.
Calf skins 9c. per lb trimmed.
Cheese—11c. to 12c. per lb.
Clover Seed—$3.00 to $3.75 per bush.
Hemp—5c. per lb.
Deacon skins—20c.
Chickens—25c. to 30c. per pair.

The advertiser, a retired physician, having providentially discovered, in the "Medical Magazine," published in South East Asia, a very simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of Consumption, Asthma, Bronchitis, Catarrh, and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical specific for Nervous Debility, Premature Decay, and all Nervous Complaints, feels it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellow-men, and for this motive, he has respectfully sent (free of charge) to all who desire it, the recipe for preparing and full directions for successfully using, this providentially discovered remedy. Those who wish to avail themselves of the benefits of this discovery without cost, can do so by returning mailly addressing, with stamp,

Dr. C. A. A. S. HALL,
No. 8 Niagara Street,
St. R. H. P. A. T. A., N. Y.

INVALIDS, do you wish to gather flesh, to acquire an appetite, to enjoy a regular habit of body, to obtain refreshing sleep, to feel and know that every fibre and tissue of your system is being braced and renovated? If so commence at once and use the Quinine Wine prepared by Northrop and Lyman of Toronto, and in a short time you will feel the whole system invigorated and strengthened. It is a well-known fact that Quinine has been acknowledged by the medical faculty for many years as the best appetizer and tonic known. And for general debility, this combination will be found superior to all other preparations. And combined as it is with fine sherry wine and choice aromatics, it is made an agreeable and pleasant invigorator to the whole system. The properties of Quinine are febrifuge tonic and antiperiodic. Small doses, frequently repeated, strengthen the pulse, increase muscular force, and invigorate the tone of the nervous system. The peculiar operation of this medicine in general debility and as an appetizer, has undergone long and close observation, and it is believed it will never fail, if properly and judiciously administered, unless other diseases predominate of a different character. Persons of weak constitutions may use it without the least difficulty, as it strengthens the stomach and digestive organs and seldom requires more than one or two bottles to effect a decided benefit, as it contains nothing injurious to the most delicate constitution. Remember to ask for the "Quinine Wine prepared by Northrop and Lyman, Toronto," and we are sure you will be satisfied that you have full value for your money.

In the Goods of

WILLIAM WEST.

UPON reading the affidavit filed herein I do order that a Citation do issue out of this Honorable Court, directed to John West, Patrick West, Sarah Ann Sweeney, Mary Rutledge, Catherine Lacey, Jacob West, Charles West, Joseph West, Thomas West, Ann West and Mary West, and that said Citation be served on Charles West. Mary Rutledge.

From our own correspondent.

On Tuesday evening one of the largest fires that we have had in Toronto for some time occurred. The Central Prison being so far away from the different fire halls the fire had a good chance to get absolute sway before the firemen could get into operation. The damage is estimated at $80,000 but that amount will not be a total loss as the insurance is said to be $75,000. The contractors (McMurray and Fuller) will lose more than the Government, as the greater part of the woodwork was not insured. The fire is supposed to have originated from rags saturated with benzine and varnish, being carelessly thrown aside and becoming ignited from the steam pipes which encircle the building, the flames were then carried to a couple of benzine barrels which have been standing in the paint shop offices for some time, from which the fire quickly spread to the buildings.

Candidates for the Local Legislature are cropping up on all sides. Alderman John Hallam threatens to take the field against the Hon. M. C. Cameron on the exemption question. The "fussy little" Alderman informs Mr. Cameron that if he will go in for the abolition of exemptions, he will not oppose him, but otherwise he will do so. However, John has not a ghost of a chance of being elected. In west Toronto Harry Piper the respectable Alderman is up on the Conservative ticket. Harry is noted for being one of the representatives of what is called the "rowdy ward," in the city council, as well as for being one of the "bhoys." Nicholas Flood Davin (the defeated of Haldimand) and Robert Bell the present M. P. P. are also mentioned in addition to Messrs. Piper and Meek. Mr. Meek is the nominee of some of the Liberal Conservatives Workmen's lodges. The Reformers as yet have not nominated any one but in all probability D. Ogden will be their candidate. Municipal election matters are rather flat, no addition being made to the list of candidates for the mayoralty.

The chief Justiceship of the Queens Bench has not yet been filled. Rumour has it that Mr. Christopher Robinson has been offered and declined the chief Justiceship, and that in all probability it will be tendered to the Hon. Adam Wilson. Mr. Hector Cameron Q. C., M. P. for Victoria, it is also whispered stands a chance for the puisne Judgeship. Mr. Cameron is a good enough lawyer in his way, still I do not think he knows enough law to accept a position on the Bench.

Cigar makers still continue on strike, and announce that they will have their co-operative factory in operation in the course of three or four weeks.

Building matters have been brisk all summer. On the south-west corner of King and George streets the Dominion Bank has erected a building which is far ahead of any banking office in Canada, nearly opposite the north of Scotland Canadian Mortgage Company have their new offices, which though not equal to those of the Dominion Bank, still are far ahead of any other Loan Company's offices. On Toronto street, the Farmer's Loan and Savings Company are putting up a new building which will compare favorably with the majority of public buildings in the city. The buildings I have mentioned will add considerably to the beauty of our streets as well as enhance the value of property in the vicinity.

Burglaries have been common in the city for some time, and now the cry goes up for more police protection.

We have had in our midst for some time the Rev. Wm. Taylor of California fame, who has been holding revival meetings in the Elm Street Methodist Church. Some of his remarks sound rather queer in the ears of old Methodists, but still they are to the point. However up to date he has not been par-

The Cheyenne arrived at Emerson Tuesday evening about eight o'clock; but the Dakota got froze in just above Fort Pembina. The latter boat had 250 tons of freight and about forty passengers. The Selkirk reached Grand Forks Tuesday night with about sixty passengers and a light manifest of freight.

A despatch from Bismarck says that Capt. Allen, of the N. W. Mounted Police, arrived at that place recently from Fort Walsh, and reports that an Indian attempt to assassinate Major W. was frustrated by Sitting Bull. He also says that while Sitting Bull is determined in his hostility to the United States, some of his followers are inclined to return.

The steamers Manitoba, Minnesota, International and Alpha are laid up at Grand Forks, D. T. The Selkirk, when last heard from, was on the way from F. Fisher's to the forks. The Dakota was expected to reach Pembina this afternoon where she will probably winter, and the Cheyenne went up yesterday to West Lynne, where she will lay up, if she gets there.

Salsbury Items.

The first public meeting was held last week on the visit of the Revs. J. F. German M.A., and W. R. Morrison, as a deputation from the Methodist Missionary Society.

Many of the settlers are now bringing in their families. We shall soon fill up.

There is a good opening for a sawmill here, and a grist mill will very soon be a necessity also. One very excellent site is offered to a suitable party.

North-West News.

From the Saskatchewan Herald of the 7th October we glean the following news items:

There are three ten horse-power threshing machines at work in Prince Albert Settlement. All the grain will soon be ready for market.

A private letter says six years ago very little land was cultivated at Edmonton outside of that upon the Hudson's Bay Company's farm, while this year, according to Father LeDuc, of St. Albert's Mission, who is good authority, there are over thirty thousand bushels of grain raised around Edmonton.

Captain Moore, of Prince Albert, was here for several days last week. He reports the wheat as threshing out well, and being of a very superior quality.

The payment to the Indians under the Treaty with the Dominion Government, began on Wednesday at ten o'clock. About 700 Indians were present to receive treaty money, and about $8,700 were paid out. The Indians consisted of Iroquois from Jasper House, Staneys and Crees. The Iroquois number only a few lodges, and are the descendants of a few were brought here many years ago by the Hudson's Bay Company as trappers and voyageurs. During the payment prices were quoted as follows: Tea 35c to 50c, sugar 22c to 30c, flour $10 to $12 a bag, painkiller 35c, matches 50c, and dry goods merely nominal, with a pound of tobacco or a shovel of ammunition thrown in two the purchaser of $10 worth. Good three-point blankets stood steadily at $1 a piece. The Indians still hold the fort, as it were, and feasting and dancing are the order of the day and night.

Emerson.

With snow falling fast and ice running in the river, it looks as if winter had set in.

Notwithstanding the flatness of the season, work on several new buildings have been commenced.

Real estate is in demand, and business generally is very good.

The American railway track is still about two hours drive from us. Three waggon loads of passengers left here yesterday for the track, distant nine miles.

Manitoba Railway Interests.

The Free Press thus views the effect the change of Ministry at Ottawa will have upon what is justly regarded as to stand in abeyance. Indeed, one of the chiefs called "The Beardy," who being a medicine man has many superstitious notions, refused with a few of his band to accept the year's annuity. The other chiefs, however, and the majority of the Beardy band, took their treaty money.

MORE VALUABLE THAN GOLD.
ARUNICA AND OIL LINIMENT is not only the best but the cheapest for external use. It is not offensive, neither stains nor irritates and the most penetrating liniment ever put in a bottle, consequently reduces inflammation, removes the soreness and effects a cure at once. Once tried, always used.

Price 25 and 30 cents.

POSITIVELY A PREVENTATIVE.—It is a well-known fact that Consumption is a hereditary disease. Nevertheless, probably two-thirds of the cases that prove fatal are brought on by a neglected cough. Hundreds of lives might be saved yearly by the timely use of Bower's Balsamic Elixr. It is a sure and effectual remedy, and can always be relied on. In the last stages of consumption it will give great relief, and may be taken advantageously with Cod Liver Oil.

HEALTH IS MORE VALUABLE THAN WEALTH. is the exclamation of the invalid. In using any remedy for the restoration of health, it is a duty in ourselves to use those that have stood the test of trial and have never been condemned, but always spoken of in terms of the highest praise by every one that has used them. BAXTER'S MANDRAKE BITTERS for any disorders of the Liver, such as Jaundice, Sick Headache, Bilious Colic, Dysentery, Diarrhoea, can be used with a guarantee of perfect success.

Price 25 cents.

PETTIT'S EYE-SALVE
An Infallible Remedy for all Diseases of the Eye (acute or chronic.) Granulation of the Lids, Ulceration of the Lacrymal Glands, Film, and Weakness of the Vision from any cause.

THE AMERICAN EYE-SALVE is presented to the public with the assurance of its efficiency as a curative of most diseases of the eye, acute or chronic inflammation, whether induced by scrofulous origin or otherwise, weakness or defect of vision, diminished tone of the optic nerve, or a decreased state of the tissues constituting that organ. Also, for all persons whose vocation requires an incessant action of the eyes, the salve will act as a charm in restoring a uniform, healthy action, where weakness, pain, and misery may have long threatened a fatal termination. It is the most simple, safe, and effectual remedy ever discovered. The materials of which it is made are pure, perfect, and costly, compounded with elaborate care and exactness, safe in its application, being used externally, and, of course, avoiding the pain and danger which necessarily attends the introduction of caustic minerals and eye-washes. RINGWORM AND OLD CHRONIC SORES, of scrofulous origin, or resulting from whatever cause, yield to the AMERICAN EYE-SALVE. IT IS USED SUCCESSFULLY FOR PILLS. Its soothing effect is immediate, and a permanent cures requires but a few applications. The proprietors of "Dr. J. Pettit's American Eye-Salve," while making new and improved machinery for making a more perfect box for the eye salve, have changed the Trade Mark on the cover so as to correspond with the Cut on the Wrapper, Advertisements, etc. We call attention to this, as it might otherwise be regarded as counterfeiting.

PETTIT & BARKER,
Proprietors, Fredonia, N.Y.
NORTHROP & LYMAN,
Toronto, Agents for Canada.

Read what the People say in regard to the Great Shoshonees Remedy and Pills.

LEVI JONES, Markham, says: I had a severe attack of Bronchitis. I was so bad that I could hardly get my breath. I sought for a quick remedy, and seeing the Shoshonees Remedy so highly recommended, I procured a bottle, and am happy to say that, by the time it was taken, I was entirely well and have remained so, although I was much exposed through the winter in travelling.

REV. F. B. SPRATTON, Demorestville, writes: I have found your remedies particularly beneficial for Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia and Bronchial Affections, and would advise all similarly affected to give them a trial.

MRS. A. D. PIERCE, Waverly, N. Y., says: It affords me much pleasure to express my heartfelt gratitude for the benefit I have received from using the Great Shoshonees Remedy. I was sore-gans and seldom requires more than one or two bottles to effect a decided benefit, as it contains nothing injurious to the most delicate constitution. Remember to ask for the "Quinnie Wine prepared by Northrop and Lyman, Toronto," and we are sure you will be satisfied that you have full value for your money.

Sold by all Medicine Dealers.

In the Surrogate Court

—OF THE COUNTY OF—
LENNOX AND ADDINGTON.

In the Goods of

WILLIAM WEST,
DECEASED

UPON reading the affidavit filed herein I do order that a Citation do issue out of this Honorable Court, directed to John West, Patrick West, Sarah Ann Sweeney, Mary Rutledge, Catherine Lacey, Jacob West, Charles West, Joseph West, Thomas West, Ann West and Mary West, and that said Citation be served on Charles West, Mary Rutledge and Jacob West by publication of this Order and said Citation in the Globe daily newspaper, printed in Toronto, once in each week for two weeks, and also in the NAPANEZ EXPRESS newspaper for two weeks.

(Signed,)

W. H. WILKISON,
J.

Chambers, 2nd Nov. 1878.

—IN THE— SURROGATE COURT

—OF THE COUNTY OF—
Lennox and Addington

In the Goods of

WILLIAM WEST,
Deceased

TO THE next of kin (if any) and to other persons having or pretending to have any interest in the Estate of Effects of William West, late of the Township of Sheffield, in the County of Lennox and Addington, yeoman.

You, and each of you, are cited on or before the
TWENTIETH DAY OF NOVEMBER,
A. D. 1878,

to appear in the Office of the Registrar of this Court at Napanee, in the County of Lennox and Addington, and Province of Ontario, and accept or refuse letters of administration to the personal Estate and Effects of the said William West or show cause why the same should not be granted to William West, of the Township of Sheffield, in said County yeoman, one of the sons of the said William West, deceased, to whom, in default of your appearing, such letters of administration will be granted.

WITNESS, WILLIAM HENRY WILKISON Esquire, Judge of the said Surrogate Court of the County of Lennox and Addington, at Napanee, this Second day of November, in the year of our Lord on thousand eight hundred and seventy eight.

(Signed,)

J. B. McGUIN,
Registrar of said Court.

Farm for Sale.

75 ACRES of the choicest Bay of Quinte barley land, situated in the Township of Sophiasburgh, six miles from Picton. A rare chance to get first class land on good terms.
Apply to

In west Toronto Harry Piper the redoubtable Alderman is up on the Conservative ticket. Harry is noted for being one of the representatives of what is called the "rowdy ward," in the city council, as well as for being one of the "bhoys." Nicholas Flood Davin (the defeated of Haldimand) and Robert Bell the present M. P. P. are also mentioned in addition to Messrs. Piper and Meek. Mr. Meek is the nominee of some of the Liberal Conservatives Workingmen's lodges. The Reformers as yet have not nominated any one but in all probability D. Ogden will be their candidate. Municipal election matters are rather flat, no addition being made to the list of candidates for the mayoralty.

The chief Justiceship of the Queens Bench has not yet been filled. Rumour has it that Mr. Christopher Robinson has been offered and declined the chief Justiceship, and that in all probability it will be tendered to the Hon. Adam Wilson. Mr. Hector Cameron Q. C., M. P. for Victoria, it is also whispered stands a chance for the puisne Judgeship. Mr. Cameron is a good enough Lawyer in his way, still I do not think he knows enough law to accept a position on the Bench.

Cigar makers still continue on strike, and announce that they will have their co-operative factory in operation in the course of three or four weeks.

Building matters have been brisk all summer. On the south-west corner of King and George streets the Dominion Bank has erected a building which is far ahead of any banking office in Canada, nearly opposite the north of Scotland Canadian Mortgage Company have their new offices, which though not equal to those of the Dominion Bank, still are far ahead of any other Loan Company's offices. On Toronto Street, the Farmer's Loan and Savings Company are putting up a new building which will compare favorably with the majority of public buildings in the city. The buildings I have mentioned will add considerably to the beauty of our streets as well as enhance the value of property in the vicinity.

Burglaries have been common in the city for some time, and now the cry goes up for more police protection.

We have had in our midst for some time the Rev. Wm. Taylor of California fame, who has been holding revival meetings in the Elm Street Methodist Church. Some of his remarks sound rather queer in the ears of old Methodists, but still they are to the point. However up to date he has not been particularly successful in inducing sinners to "flee the wrath to come." On Sunday last Rev. Dr. Thomas preached in the Bloor Street Methodist Church to an immense audience. The Dr. is a true Yankee, but has some sound ideas in his head.

Leaving religious and other subjects I will turn to sporting matters. On Friday and Saturday next we are going to have a series of handicap sprint races. Some of the best runners in the continent have given in their names, notable among whom are Burnes and Carruthers of this city, and F. W. Steve of Philadelphia.

Hanlan has been matched to row a race with Hawden in May next on the Tyne. The way "our" Ned will shake up the English boating men will astonish the world or I am mistaken. After his tour in England he will in all likelihood have a match with the Gandauer Bros., of Orilla. Their backer Mr. R. Russell of Orilla seems to think because they have beaten Elliott and McKen, and Hanlan and Adair that they are invincible. I think before the season of 1879 closes he will find out his mistake.

Football is all the rage. On Saturday next the Argonauts of Toronto play the Hamilton Football Club (Rugby Union Rules) on the Toronto cricket ground.

SANKEY.

Toronto, Nov. 13th, 1878.

is offered to a suitable party.

North-West News.

From the Saskatchewan Herald of the 7th October we glean the following news items:

There are three ten horse-power threshing machines at work in Prince Albert Settlement. All the grain will soon be ready for market.

A private letter says six years ago very little land was cultivated at Edmonton outside of that upon the Hudson's Bay Company's farm, while this year, according to Father LeDuc, of St. Albert's Mission, who is good authority, there are over thirty thousand bushels of grain raised around Edmonton.

Captain Moore, of Prince Albert, was here for several days last week. He reports the wheat as threshing out well, and being of a very superior quality.

The payment to the Indians under the Treaty with the Dominion Government, began on Wednesday at ten o'clock. About 700 Indians were present to receive treaty money, and about $8,700 were paid out. The Indians consisted of Iroquois from Jasper House, Staneys and Crees. The Iroquois number only a few lodges, and are the descendants of a few were brought here many years ago by the Hudson's Bay Company as trappers and voyageurs. During the payment prices were quoted as follows: Tea 35c to 50c, sugar 22c to 30c, flour $10 to $12 a bag, punkiller 35c, matches 50c, and dry goods merely nominal, with a pound of tobacco or a shovel of ammunition thrown in two the purchaser of $10 worth. Good three-point blankets stood steadily at $1 a piece. The Indians still hold the fort, as it were, and feasting and dancing are the order of the day and night.

Emerson.

With snow falling fast and ice running in the river, it looks as if winter had set in.

Notwithstanding the flatness of the season, work on several new buildings have been commenced.

Real estate is in demand, and business generally is very good.

The American railway track is still about two hours drive from us. Three wagon loads of passengers left here yesterday for the track, distant nine miles.

Manitoba Railway Interests.

The Free Press thus views the effect the change of Ministry at Ottawa will have upon what is justly regarded as Manitoba's principal interest.

"In a recent issue it was, we think, logically inferred that a change of administration at Ottawa would probably delay the time when Manitoba would be afforded railway facilities—at least by the Dominion. We need not say that time is a very important consideration in this connection. Settlers in the interior and more remote sections of the Province feel—and for good reason too—that they have already waited for railways just about as long as they can. In the present state of affairs it is but little advantage to them to raise more grain than is required for their own home purposes; for, as has been repeatedly presented in these columns, expecting in the country in the vicinity of the Red River, grain cannot be cultivated and marketed at a profit. This is so because of the want of transportation facilities—railways. The localities most needing railways immediately are those west of the Red River and north and south of the Assiniboine, respectively. Two roads, at least, are requisite. From the colonization railway policy of the late Government, brought before Parliament last session, we had great expectations; and had that party been continued in power we are ever so confident that at an early day we should have seen local railways stimulated into construction by this policy. But, not only have the pro-

Lachrymal Glands. Film, and Weakness of the Vision from any cause.

THE AMERICAN EYE-SALVE is presented to the public with the assurance of its efficiency as a curative of most diseases of the eye, acute or chronic inflammation, whether induced by scrofulous origin or otherwise, weakness or defect of vision, diminished tone of the optic nerve, or a decreased state of the tissues constituting that organ. Also, for all persons whose vocation requires an incessant action of the eyes, the salve will act as a charm in restoring a uniform, healthy action, where weakness, pain, and misery may have long threatened a fatal termination. It is the most simple, safe, and effectual remedy ever discovered. The materials of which it is made are pure, perfect, and costly, compounded with elaborate care and exactness, safe in its application, being used externally, and, of course, avoiding the pain and danger which necessarily attends the introduction of caustic minerals and eye-washes. RINGWORM and OLD CHRONIC SORES, of scrofulous origin, or resulting from whatever cause, yield to the AMERICAN EYE-SALVE. IT IS USED SUCCESSFULLY FOR PILLS. Its soothing effect is immediate, and a permanent cures requires but a few applications. The proprietors of "Dr. J. Pettit's American Eye-Salve," while making new and improved machinery for making a more perfect box for the eye salve, have changed the Trade Mark on the cover so as to correspond with the Cut on the Wrapper, Advertisements, etc. We call attention to this, as it might otherwise be regarded as counterfeiting.

PETTIT & BARKER,
Proprietors, Fredonia, N.Y.
NORTHROP & LYMAN,
Toronto, Agents for Canada.

Read what the People say in regard to the Great Shoshonees' Remedy and Pills.

LEVI JONES, Markham, says: I had a severe attack of Bronchitis. I was so bad that I could hardly get my breath. I sought for a quick remedy, and seeing the Shoshonees' Remedy so highly recommended, I procured a bottle, and am happy to say that, by the time it was taken, I was entirely well and have remained so, although I was much exposed through the winter in travelling.

REV. F. B. SPRATTON, Demorestville, writes: I have found your remedies particularly beneficial for Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia and Bronchial Affections, and would advise all similarly affected to give them a trial.

MRS. A. D. PIERCE, Waverly, N. Y., says: It affords me much pleasure to express my heartfelt gratitude for the benefit I have received from using the Great Shoshonees' Remedy. I was sorely afflicted with dyspepsia and Disease of the Lungs. After having used six bottles, I have become hearty and well. I never knew a medicine to have such wonderful effects. I cannot speak too highly of its merits.

JOHN FINLAYSON, Athol, says: When travelling one of my feet got sore and broke out. I could not cure it and had to return home. It became better, and afterwards much worse. I finally purchased a bottle of the Remedy and a box of Pills, and before they were half gone I commenced to improve, and before they were finished my foot was completely cured. It is now seventeen months since, but have had no further attack. Price of the Remedy in pint bottles, $1; Pills, 25 cents a box. Sold by all medicine dealers.

STRAYED.

Early in October, TWO COWS—one red, low-set, and hipped, the other white, with a small red spot on the neck. Any person giving information of the above will be suitably rewarded.

Richmond, Nov. 14, 1878. O. T. CLARK.

WANTED.

A GOOD General Servant. Good wages to a suitable person. Apply to:
A. T. HARSHAW
Napanea, Oct. 10th, 1878. 23

Chambers, 2nd Nov. 1878.

—IN THE— SURROGATE COURT —OF THE COUNTY OF— Lennox and Addington

In the Goods of

WILLIAM WEST,

Deceased.

TO THE next of kin (if any) and to other persons having or pretending to have any interest in the Estate of Effects of William West, late of the Township of Sheffield, in the County of Lennox and Addington, yeoman.

You, and each of you, are cited on and before the TWENTIETH DAY OF NOVEMBER,
A. D. 1878,

to appear in the Office of the Registrar of this Court at Napanea, in the County of Lennox and Addington, and Province of Ontario, and accept or refuse letters of administration to the personal Estate and Effects of the said William West, or show cause why the same should not be granted to William West, of the Township of Sheffield, in said County yeoman, one of the sons of the said William West, deceased, to whom, in default of your appearing, such letters of administration will be granted.

WITNESS, WILLIAM HENRY WILKISON ESQUIRE, Judge of the said Surrogate Court of the County of Lennox and Addington, at Napanea, this Second day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and seventy-eight.

(Signed),

J. B. MCGUIN,
Registrar of said Court.

Farm for Sale.

75 ACRES of the choicest Bay of Quinte barley land, situated in the Township of Sophiasburgh, six miles from Picton. A rare chance to get first class land on good terms.

Apply to

L. J. McDOWALL,
Demorestville, Ont.

A NATIONAL STANDARD.

Warmly indorsed by

Bancroft, Prescott, George P. Mar- h, Motely, John G. Whittier, Fitz-Greene Hall's, John G. Saxe, N. P. Willis, Daniel Webster, Elihu Burritt, H. Coleridge, Rufus Chapote, Horace Mann, Smart.

More than fifty College Presidents. And the best American and European Scholars. More than 30,000 copies have been placed in the public schools of the United States.

Recommended by 35 State Superintendents of Schools and more than 50 College Presidents. The sale of Webster's Dictionaries is 20 times as great as the sale of any other series of Dictionaries.

August 4, 1877. The Dictionary used in the Government Printing Office is Webster's Unbridged.

Is it not rightly claimed that WEBSTER is

THE NATIONAL STANDARD

Published by

G. & C. MERRIAM,
Springfield, Mass.

lors of that policy passed from power, their successors declared against the fundamental principle of that policy—ing local railways in this Province him any reasonable period. We shall before have to fall back on our own sources."

An American Recommendation.
It is not often that we see the Americans lauding Canada above their country as an advantageous field for migration. The following from the Chicago News will therefore be appreciated: "The great advantage of railway connection will be apparent when from present mode of communication. When connection is completed an area nearly 800,000 square miles of the most fertile soil on the continent will be open to settlement and trade with our most western commercial centres. The enormous yield of cereals produced in this region, as yet so sparsely settled, is bounding, even to Kansas and Minnesota farmers. The average yield of wheat is from thirty to forty bushels to the acre, and will weigh sixty-eight pounds to the bushel. Cases are known of a yield of sixty bushels of spring wheat to the acre, and even seventy-five bushels have been produced from one bushel sown. Oats and barley are produced in like proportion, and all varieties of beet roots and grasses yield immensely and attain the greatest perfection. During the past season, with its disadvantages of access, the migration into this favored region is estimated at over 12,000 well-to-do migrants, principally farmers from the province of Ontario, while with the increased facilities of access for the coming year, the immigration from Canada to Great Britain will probably quadruple that amount. * * * Within the next decade we shall probably see a population of over 500,000 people occupied in the agricultural development of this enormously fertile region, and producing a grain crop equal to that of the State of Minnesota at present."

Easy Payments in the North West.
The Saskatchewan Herald of the 23rd September, says: "The Lieutenant Governor returned to Battleford on Wednesday evening last from his visit to Rielton, Duck Lake, and Prince Albert. He held satisfactory consultations with the Indian chiefs of the former and lat-places respecting the location of their reserves. The chiefs of Duck Lake, however, were indisposed to discuss the boundaries of their reserves until some demand, not included in the treaty, was acceded to. These His Honor did not grant, and the question of losing their reserves had, for the present, stand in abeyance. Indeed, one of the chiefs called 'The Beardy,' who being a medicine man has many superstitious notions, refused with a few of his band to accept the year's annuity. The other chiefs, however, and the majority of the Beardy band, took their money."

MORE VALUABLE THAN GOLD.
ARNICA AND OIL LINIMENT is not the best but the cheapest for external use. Not offensive, neither stains nor irritates. It is the most penetrating liniment ever put in title, consequently, reduces inflammation, cures the soreness and effects a cure at once. Once tried, always used.
Price 25 and 30 cents.

POSITIVELY A PREVENTATIVE.—It is a well-known fact that Consumption is an hereditary disease. Nevertheless, probably three-fourths of the cases that prove fatal are brought on by a neglected cough. Hundreds of lives might be saved yearly by the timely use of Wm. B. Baxter's Elixer. It is a sure and natural remedy, and can always be relied upon. In the last stages of consumption it will give great relief, and may be taken advantage of with Cod Liver Oil.

HEALTH IS MORE VALUABLE THAN WEALTH is the exclamation of the invalid. In using any remedy for the restoration of health, it is a duty in ourselves to use those that stand the test of trial and have never been denuded, but always spoken of in terms of the best praise by every one that has ever used it. BAXTER'S MANDRAKE BITTERS are disorders of the Liver, such as Jaundice, Headache, Bilious Colic, Dysentery, Diarrhoea, can be used with a guarantee of perfect

MARKETS.

(Corrected weekly.)

NAPANEE Nov. 8th, 78.

Report by Diamond and Sherwood, Napanee.

Barley—40c. to 41 per bushel.
Oats—37c. to 38 per bushel.
Rye—50c. per bushel.
Pease—60c. per bushel.
Buckwheat 35c. per bushel.
Flour—$2.25 per cental.
Hay—$8 to 10.00 per ton.
Hides—$4.00 to 5.00 per cwt.
Marian Hides—3.00.
Onions—80c. to $1.00 per bushel.
Butter—18c. to 20c. per lb.
Eggs—12c. per dozen.
Lamb and skins—35c. to 40c.
Potatoes—60c per bag.
Calf skins 8c. per lb rough.
Calf skins 9c. per lb trimmed.
Cheese—11c. to 12c. per lb.
Clover Seed—$3.50 to $3.75 per bush.
Tallow—5c. per lb.
Deacon skins—20c.
Chickens—25c. to 30c. per pair.

TO CONSUMPTIVES.

The advertiser, a retired physician, having providentially discovered, while a Medical Missionary in Southern Asia, a very simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of Consumption, Asthma, Bronchitis, Catarrh, and all throat and lung affections, a positive and radical specific for Nervous Debility, Premature Decay, and all Nervous Complaints, feels it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive, he will cheerfully send (free of charge) to all who desire it, the recipe for preparing, and full directions for successfully using, this providentially discovered remedy. Those who wish to avail themselves of the benefits of this discovery without cost, can do so by return mail by addressing, with stamp,
DR. CHARLES P. MARSHALL,
No. 8 Niagara Street,
33 BUFFALO, N. Y.

INVALIDS, do you wish to gather flesh, to acquire an appetite, to enjoy a regular habit of body, to obtain refreshing sleep to feel and know that every fibre and tissue of your system is being braced and renovated? If so commence at once and use the Quinine Wine prepared by Northrop and Lyman of Toronto, and in a short time you will feel the whole system invigorated and strengthened. It is a well-known fact that Quinine has been acknowledged by the medical faculty for many years as the best appetizer and tonic known. And for general debility, this combination will be found superior to all other preparations. And combined as it is with fine sherry wine and choice aromatics, it is made an agreeable and pleasant invigorator to the whole system. The properties of Quinine are a febrifuge tonic and antiperiodic. Small doses, frequently repeated, strengthen the pulse, increase muscular force, and invigorate the tone of the nervous system. The peculiar operation of this medicine in general debility and as an appetizer, has undergone long and close observation, and it is believed it will never fail, if properly and judiciously administered, unless other diseases predominate of a different character. Persons of weak constitutions may use it without the least difficulty, as it strengthens the stomach and digestive organs and seldom requires more than one or two bottles to effect a decided benefit, as it contains nothing injurious to the most delicate constitution. Remember to ask for the "Quinine Wine prepared by Northrop and Lyman, Toronto," and we are sure you will be satisfied that you have full value for your money.
Sold by all Medicine Dealers.

In the Surrogate Court
—OF THE COUNTY OF—
LENNOX AND ADDINGTON.

In the Goods of
WILLIAM WEST,
DECEASED.

UPON reading the affidavit filed herein, I do order that a Citation do issue out of this Honorable Court, directed to John West, Patrick West, Sarah Ann Sweeney, Mary Rutledge, Catherine Lacey, Jacob West, Charles West, Joseph West, Thomas West, Ann West and Mary West, and that said Citation be served on Charles West, Mary Rutledge and Jacob West by publication of this Order and said Citation in the Globe daily newspaper, printed in Toron-

MESSRS, OGILWAY,

Of Montreal, are Selling Off their

WHOLESALE STOCK

— BY —

AUCTION.

Messrs. SLAVEN and IRONSIDE,

ARE SENDING A

Buyer to Attend the Sale,

AND WILL HAVE

GREAT BARGAINS TO OFFER, WHEN HE RETURNS.

DOWNEY & CO'S

SHAWL & MANTLE

DEPARTMENT.

LADIES' JACKETS IN PRESIDENT.
LADIES' JACKETS IN BEAVER.
LADIES' JACKETS IN DIAGONAL.
LADIES' JACKETS IN WITNEY.

TRIMMED WITH FUR.
TRIMMED WITH SILK.
TRIMMED WITH SATIN.
TRIMMED WITH GALLOON.

SHAWLS of every Quality and Price,
Single or Double.

A large and complete Stock to select from.

DOWNEY & CO.

IMPORTANT SALE

OF

Dry Goods,

Ready-Made Clothing,

Hats and Caps,

Boots and Shoes,

Teas and Tobaccos.

&c. &c. &c. &c.

Indian chiefs of the former and latter places respecting the location of their reserves. The chiefs of Duck Lake, however, were indisposed to discuss the undaries of their reserves until some mand, not included in the treaty, re- acceded to. These His Honor id not grant, and the question of lo- ing their reserves had, for the present, stand in abeyance. Indeed, one of chiefs called "The Beardy," who ng a medicine man has many super- ious motions, refused with a few of and, to accept the year's annuity. e other chiefs, however, and the ma- ty of the Beardy band, took their afy money.

ONE VALUABLE THAN GOLD.
ARUNICA AND OIL LINIMENT is not the best but the cheapest for external use, not offensive, neither stains nor irritates the most penetrating liniment ever put in the, consequently, reduces inflammation, over the soreness and effects a cure at once. Price 25 and 30 cents.

POSITIVELY A PREVENTATIVE.—It is a well-known fact that Consumption is an ordinary disease. Nevertheless, probably three-fourths of the cases that prove fatal are brought on by a neglected cough. Hundreds of might be saved yearly by the timely use of WINE, Balsamic Elixir, it is a sure and stal remedy, and can always be relied up- In the last stages of consumption it will great relief, and may be taken advantage- ly with Cod Liver Oil.

HEALTH IS MORE VALUABLE THAN WEALTH is the exclamation of the inva- In using any remedy for the restoration of lth, it is a duty in ourselves to use those that e stood the test of trial and have never been demed, but always spoken of in terms of the test praise by every one that has ever used n. BAXTER'S ANDERAKE BITTERS any disorders of the Liver, such as Jaundice, Headache, Bilious Colic, Dysentery, Dia- a. can be used with a guarantee of perfect cess. Price 25 cents.

PETTIT'S EYE-SALVE
 Infalible Remedy for all Diseases of the Eye (acute or chronic). Granulation of the Lids, Ulceration of the Achrymal Glands, Film, and Weakness of the Vision from any cause.

THE AMERICAN EYE-SALVE is present- to the public with the assurance of its cency as a curative of most diseases of eye, acute or chronic inflammation, ether induced by scrofulous origin or erwise, weakness or defect of vision, inished tone of the optic nerve, or a de- ased state of the tissues constituting r organ. Also, for all persons whose ation requires an incessant action of the s, the salve will act as a charm in re- ring a uniform, healthy action, where akness, pain, and misery may have long- eated a fatal termination. It is the t simple, safe, and effectual remedy r discovered. The materials of which it made are pure, perfect, and costly, com- uded with elaborate care and exactness, e in its application, being used external- and, of course, avoiding the pain and rger which necessarily attends the in- duction of caustic minerals and eye- shes. RINGWORM AND OLD CHRONIC ES, of scrofulous origin, or resulting n whatever cause, yield to the AMER- ic Eye Salve. IT IS USED SUCCESS- LLY FOR PILLS. Its soothing effect mediate, and a permanent cures re- res but a few application. The proprie- s of "Dr. J. Pettit's American Eye- ve," while making new and improved chinery for making a more perfect box the eye salve, have changed the Trade rk on the cover so as to correspond with Cut on the Wrapper, Advertisements. We call attention to this, as it might erwise be regarded as counterfeiting. PETTIT & BARKER, Proprietors, Freedonia, N. Y. ORTHROP & LYMAN, Toronto, Agents for Canada.

Read what the People say in regard to the Great Shoshonees Remedy and Pills.

LEVI JONES, Markham, says: I had a ere attack of Bronchitis. I was so d that I could hardly get my breath. ought for a quick remedy, and seeing e Shoshonees Remedy so highly re- mended, I procured a bottle, and am py to say that, by the time it was en, I was entirely well and have re- ined so, although I was much exposed ough the winter in travelling, REV. F. B. SPATTON, Demorestville, ites: I have found your remedies tained me in good health for Liver Com-peculiar operation of this medicine in gen- eral debility and as an appetizer, has un- dergone long and close observation, and it is believed it will never fail, if properly and judiciously administered, unless other diseases predominate of a different charac- er. Persons of weak constitutions may use it without the least difficulty, as it strengthens the stomach and digestive or- gans and seldom requires more than one or two bottles to effect a decided benefit, as it contains nothing injurious to the most deli- cate constitution. Remember to ask for the "Quinnie Wine prepared by Northop and Lyman, Toronto," and we are sure you will be satisfied that you have full value for your money. Sold by all Medicine Dealers.

In the Surrogate Court
 —OF THE COUNTY OF—
LENNOX AND ADDINGTON.

In the Goods of
WILLIAM WEST,
DECEASED.

UPON reading the affidavit filed herein, I do order that a Citation do issue out of this Honorable Court, directed to John West, Patrick West, Sarah Ann Sweeney, Mary Rutledge, Catherine Lacey, Jacob West, Charles West, Joseph West, Thomas West, Ann West and Mary West, and that said Citation be served on Charles West, Mary Rutledge and Jacob West by publication of this Order and said Citation in the Globe daily newspaper, printed in Toron- to, once in each week for two weeks, and also in the NAPANEE EXPRESS newspaper for two weeks.

(Signed,) W. H. WILKISON,
 J.
Chambers, 2nd Nov. 1878.

—IN THE—
SURROGATE COURT !
 —OF THE COUNTY OF—
Lennox and Addington,

In the Goods of
WILLIAM WEST,
Deceased.

TO THE next of kin (if any) and all other persons having or pretending to have any interest in the Estate or Effects of William West, late of the Township of Sheffield, in the County of Lennox and Addington, yeoman.

You, and each of you, are cited on or before the TWENTIETH DAY OF NOVEMBER, A. D. 1878, to appear in the Office of the Registrar of this Court at Napanee, in the County of Lennox and Addington, and Province of Ontario, and accept or refuse letters of administration to the personal Estate and Effects of the said William West, or show cause why the same should not be granted to William West, of the Township of Sheffield, in said County, yeoman, one of the sons of the said William West, deceased, to whom, in default of your appearing, such letters of administration will be granted.

WITNESS, WILLIAM HENRY WILKISON, Esquire, Judge of the said Surrogate Court of the County of Lennox and Addington, at Napanee, this Second day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and seventy-eight.

(Signed,) J. B. MCGUIN,
Registrar of said Court.

SHAWLS of every Quality and Price,
 Single or Double.
 A large and complete Stock to select from.

DOWNEY & CO.

IMPORTANT SALE

OF

Dry Goods,
 Ready-Made Clothing,
 Hats and Caps,
 Boots and Shoes,
 Teas and Tobaccos.
 &c., &c., &c., &c.

The undersigned in consequence of having to remove from the Store they now occupy, intend to commence their

Slaughtering SALE !

Of the whole of the above Stock,

AMOUNTING TO OVER $6,000,

CONSISTING IN PART OF
 Plain and Fancy Dress Goods,
 Flannels, Shirts, Tickings,
 Wincey Shirts and Drawers,
 Pants and Vests,
 Boys' and Mens' Overcoats,
 Tweed and Black Coats,
 Boys' Pea Jackets and Overcoats
 Boots and Shoes,
 White and Colored Shirts,
 Gents Felt Hats and Caps,
 Ladies Fur Setts and Single Muffs,
 Children's Furs, Ladies jackets,
 Kid Mitts and Gloves,
 Corsets, Cloth Gloves, Small Wares, &c.

THEY ALSO INTEND SELLING BY

A UCTION !

EVERY

Saturday, Tuesday and Thursday,

at the hour of 3 and 7:30 o'clock p.m., until the whole stock is sold, commencing on Saturday, Nov. 9th. Don't

Lachrymal Glands, Film, and Weakness of the Vision from any cause.

THE AMERICAN EYE-SALVE is presented to the public with the assurance of its efficacy as a curative of most diseases of the eye, acute or chronic inflammation, either induced by scrofulous origin or otherwise, weakness or defect of vision, diminished tone of the optic nerve, or a diseased state of the tissues constituting it or organ. Also, for all persons whose vision requires an incessant action of the eye, the salve will act as a charm in restoring a uniform, healthy action, where sickness, pain, and misery may have long threatened a fatal termination. It is the simplest, safe, and effectual remedy ever discovered. The materials of which it is made are pure, perfect, and costly, combined with elaborate care and exactness, in its application, being used external, and, of course, avoiding the pain and danger which necessarily attends the introduction of caustic minerals and eye-shes. RINGWORM and OLD CHRONIC EYES, of scrofulous origin, or resulting in whatever cause, yield to the AMERICAN EYE-SALVE. IT IS USED SUCCESSFULLY FOR PILLS. Its soothing effect is immediate, and a permanent cure requires but a few applications. The proprietors of "Dr. J. Pettit's American Eye-Salve," while making new and improved machinery for making a more perfect box for the eye salve, have changed the Trade Mark on the cover so as to correspond with the Cut on the Wrapper, Advertisements. We call attention to this, as it might otherwise be regarded as counterfeiting.

LEVI JONES, Markham, says: I had a severe attack of Bronchitis. I was so bad that I could hardly get my breath. I sought for a quick remedy, and seeing a Shoshonees Remedy so highly recommended, I procured a bottle, and am happy to say that, by the time it was used, I was entirely well and have remained so, although I was much exposed through the winter in travelling.

LEVI JONES, Markham, says: I had a severe attack of Bronchitis. I was so bad that I could hardly get my breath. I sought for a quick remedy, and seeing a Shoshonees Remedy so highly recommended, I procured a bottle, and am happy to say that, by the time it was used, I was entirely well and have remained so, although I was much exposed through the winter in travelling.

LEVI JONES, Markham, says: I had a severe attack of Bronchitis. I was so bad that I could hardly get my breath. I sought for a quick remedy, and seeing a Shoshonees Remedy so highly recommended, I procured a bottle, and am happy to say that, by the time it was used, I was entirely well and have remained so, although I was much exposed through the winter in travelling.

LEVI JONES, Markham, says: I had a severe attack of Bronchitis. I was so bad that I could hardly get my breath. I sought for a quick remedy, and seeing a Shoshonees Remedy so highly recommended, I procured a bottle, and am happy to say that, by the time it was used, I was entirely well and have remained so, although I was much exposed through the winter in travelling.

LEVI JONES, Markham, says: I had a severe attack of Bronchitis. I was so bad that I could hardly get my breath. I sought for a quick remedy, and seeing a Shoshonees Remedy so highly recommended, I procured a bottle, and am happy to say that, by the time it was used, I was entirely well and have remained so, although I was much exposed through the winter in travelling.

LEVI JONES, Markham, says: I had a severe attack of Bronchitis. I was so bad that I could hardly get my breath. I sought for a quick remedy, and seeing a Shoshonees Remedy so highly recommended, I procured a bottle, and am happy to say that, by the time it was used, I was entirely well and have remained so, although I was much exposed through the winter in travelling.

LEVI JONES, Markham, says: I had a severe attack of Bronchitis. I was so bad that I could hardly get my breath. I sought for a quick remedy, and seeing a Shoshonees Remedy so highly recommended, I procured a bottle, and am happy to say that, by the time it was used, I was entirely well and have remained so, although I was much exposed through the winter in travelling.

LEVI JONES, Markham, says: I had a severe attack of Bronchitis. I was so bad that I could hardly get my breath. I sought for a quick remedy, and seeing a Shoshonees Remedy so highly recommended, I procured a bottle, and am happy to say that, by the time it was used, I was entirely well and have remained so, although I was much exposed through the winter in travelling.

Chambers, 2nd Nov. 1878.

-IN THE-
SURROGATE COURT!
-OF THE COUNTY OF-
Lennox and Addington.

In the Goods of
WILLIAM WEST,
Deceased.

TO THE next of kin (if any) and all other persons having or pretending to have any interest in the Estate or Effects of William West, late of the Township of Sheffield, in the County of Lennox and Addington, yeoman.

You, and each of you, are cited on or before the
TWENTIETH DAY OF NOVEMBER,
A. D. 1878,

to appear in the Office of the Registrar of this Court at Napanee, in the County of Lennox and Addington, and Province of Ontario, and accept or refuse letters of administration to the personal Estate and Effects of the said William West, or show cause why the same should not be granted to William West, of the Township of Sheffield, in said County, yeoman, one of the sons of the said William West, deceased, to whom, in default of your appearing, such letters of administration will be granted.

WITNESS, WILLIAM HENRY WILKINSON, ESQUIRE, Judge of the said Surrogate Court of the County of Lennox and Addington, at Napanee, this Second day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and seventy-eight.

(Signed),
J. B. MCGUIN,
Registrar of said Court.

Farm for Sale.

75 ACRES of the choicest Bay of Quinte barley land, situated in the Township of Sophiasburgh, six miles from Picton. A rare chance to get first-class land on good terms.
Apply to
R. J. McDOWALL,
Demorestville, Ont.

A NATIONAL STANDARD.

Warmly indorsed by Bancroft, Prescott, George P. May, Fitzgibbon, Hallock, John G. Whittier, W. P. Willis, John G. Saxe, Elihu Burritt, Daniel Webster, Rufus Chateau, H. Coleridge, Smart, Horace Mann.

More than fifty College Presidents. And the best American and European Scholars. More than 30,000 copies have been placed in the public schools of the United States.

Recommended by 35 State Superintendents to Schools and more than 50 College Presidents. The sale of Webster's Dictionaries is 20 times as great as the sale of any other series of Dictionaries.

August 4, 1877. The Dictionary used in the Government Printing Office is Webster's Unabridged.

Is it not rightly claimed that WEBSTER is
THE NATIONAL STANDARD
Published by
G. & C. MERRIAM,
Springfield, Mass

The undersigned in consequence of having to remove from the Store they now occupy, intend to commence their

Slaughtering SALE!

Of the whole of the above Stock,

AMOUNTING TO OVER $6,000,

- CONSISTING IN PART OF
Plain and Fancy Dress Goods,
Flannels, Shirts, Tickings,
Wincey Shirts and Drawers,
Pants and Vests,
Boys' and Mens' Overcoats,
Tweed and Black Coats,
Boys' Pea Jackets and Overcoats
Boots and Shoes,
White and Colored Shirts,
Gents Felt Hats and Caps,
Ladies Fur Setts and Single Muffs,
Children's Furs, Ladies jackets,
Kid Mitts and Gloves,
Corsets, Cloth Gloves, Small Wares, &c.

THEY ALSO INTEND SELLING BY

AUCTION!

EVERY Saturday, Tuesday and Thursday,

at the hour of 3 and 7:30 o'clock p.m., until the whole stock is sold, commencing on Saturday, Nov. 9th. Don't fail to attend, as all goods offered will be sold without reserve.

MEAGHER BRO'S.
Campbell House Block.

IMPORTANT! $5.00 REWARD.

BANKRUPT STOCK.
STRAYED OR STOLEN.

CHANCE FOR A GREAT BARGAIN. Yoke of Steers,

IMPORTANT TO GRAIN BUYERS, SHIP OWNERS, SEAMEN, &c.
A CKNOWLEDGED to be one of the best built, best timbered, and best adapted V SSEL for the Bay and Lake trade, is now being built at Bath, Ont.

Capacity about 7,000 Bush. Light Draught of Water.

About $800 will complete her. She will be sold right out, or half interest preserved.

Apply to
E. BURLEY,
Bath, Ont.

Bath, Oct. 9th, 1878. 23-11

GRACE'S SALVE.

A Vegetable Preparation, invented in the 17th century by Dr. Wm. Grace, Surgeon in King James' army. Through its agency he cured thousands of the most serious sores and wounds, and was regarded by all who knew him as a public benefactor. 25c. a box, by mail 30c. For sale by druggists generally.

AGENTS WANTED.
SETLOW, BOWLER & SON, Boston

The Vendetta in Corsica.

(From the Correspondent of the London Standard.)

PARIS, Oct. 7.—In Corsica there are two sorts of vendettas; when it is the son who kills the murderer of his father, or the brother who avenges his brother or sister, the vendetta is direct; when, on the contrary, the feud is kept up by distant relations, the vendetta is indirect or transversal. The latter, however, is considered just as legitimate as the former; it is rigorously enforced by the customs of the country, and so long as there remains one member of the two contending families the field is open to reprisal. In an island where duelling did not exist till but recently, it is easy to conceive the number of persons that must have fallen victims to the vendetta. Filippini, one of the best historians of Corsica, estimates that in thirty years no fewer than 30,000 men have been sacrificed to the barbarous custom. Another writer calculates that from 1359 to 1715 as many as 300,000 vendetta murders were committed in Corsica. But these figures, it must be stated, are not based on any serious documents, and are probably very exaggerated. However, a report addressed by the Prefect to the Council General in 1852 stated that since 1821 nearly 5,000 assassinations arising from family quarrels were perpetrated in Corsica. The evil at that time was considered sufficiently serious to den and some extraordinary remedy. The vendetta was abolished in the island, and the only person allowed to shoot was Prince Pierre Bonaparte. But towards the end of the Second Empire this prohibition was repealed, and the vendetta broke out again with renewed force and barbarity. Unfortunately these family murderers are absolved and even encouraged by public opinion.

Vengeance is a feeling dear to the Corsicans, and everything contributes to inflame it. The popular songs are nearly all consecrated to the celebration of the exploits accomplished to punish an offence. If the man who falls leaves only a child in the cradle, it is the wife or sister who carefully preserves the blood-stained handkerchief or shot-riddled shirt to nerve the arm of the orphan twenty years later. Time does not efface hatreds, and revenge long waited for is only the sweeter to them. There is scarcely any family in Corsica that has not some sanguinary legend in its history, and it is transmitted from generation to generation like a sacred inheritance. The most crushing reproach one can offer to a Corsican is to have failed in the obligation imposed on him by a vendetta. This reproach has even a special name among the people; it is called the rimbeccare, or backing out, and in the Middle Ages the rimbeccare was forbidden by the law. According to the statute, anybody who backed out of a vendetta was first fined a heavy sum, and then, if he did not do his "duty" within a week, he was banished from the island for a twelve-month. In 1851 a new edict condemned the person guilty of a rimbeccare to have his tongue slit. But these laws were not often applied, for the simple reason that the Corsicans were too fond of their feuds to expose themselves to such punishments, which entailed everlasting disgrace and degradation in the eyes of the people. In some instances the most insignificant causes set families in arms against one another, and the quarrel often extended to villages.

Thus, for example, the village of Sartone was divided from 1815 to 1848 between the Rocca-Seras and the Ortolini. Houses remained loopholed for thirty years like veritable fortresses, and the inmates at times continued in a state of siege for months together. If perchance they left the door open one day, or showed themselves at the window, they were sure to fall before the deadly aim of the rival family lying in wait with powder and shot. No consideration whatever age, which, it is to be hoped, will give way to the progress of civilization. But the first thing necessary to bring about a reform in the savage manners of the Corsicans is education, for nothing, perhaps, tends to keep up the vendetta so much as the state of ignorance in which the lower classes of the island are plunged.

A Heresy Doomed.

We have not been over-anxious about the wave of ruinous error which has passed over our land in the form of the protection mania. It has come too late in the day to accomplish the evil it might once have done. We have been hitherto free traders as a people, because the country from which we derive our origin has grasped the free trade doctrine with a tenacity proportioned to the experience which it cost. The people of the United States, probably partly because they hated English ideas, have been equally wedded to the protection theory. It was perhaps not to be wondered at that with no convictions formed out of our own experience there should be an overflow of American opinion into Canada, and that at a time of prolonged depression we should yield under pressure to the momentary conviction that our doctrine was the wrong one and their the right one. It is not, however, in one sense correct to say that protectionism is the doctrine of the American Republic, for although the people generally still hold to it as they do to the Declaration of Independence, their thinkers have given it up, and even the leading papers of what has always been the great protectionist party, have pronounced strongly against it. The same change for the better is spreading downwards among those most interested in the study of the question—the manufacturing classes themselves. The operatives have found that, however much high duties may seem to protect the profits of the manufacturer, they afford no protection to labor, and that they have resulted in largely replacing the native operative with unskilled, unpatriotic, and ignorant foreigners, who work cheaper and who vote against the interests and institutions of the country. Moreover, the very manufacturers who have always been the agitators for protection, and in whose interest all protection measures were enacted, are largely coming to the conclusion that they are not gainers by the process. A Montreal merchant recently visiting a manufacturer of woolen goods in the United States, asked him if he called himself a free-trader or a protectionist. The other laughed at the question, and said he had always been a protectionist. Our friend then asked him bluntly if protection had been of advantage to himself. "Well, no," he replied, "we are too much protected. We have five factories where there should be three, and no outlet for our over-supply. We are carrying on our business now only because all these villages are depending on it, but should things get any worse we must stop, and the people will be all thrown out of work." On the same journey this enquirer met an English manufacturer of the steel. His American acquaintances had asked him why he did not open works in the United States, and take advantage of the American tariff for the supply of his American customers. His reply was that he had found in the States many manufacturers already established, and none of them making money. Hard as times were in England, he had no ambition to exchange them for those in the United States. The stern logic of facts is thus rapidly teaching the Americans what they never would have learned from their neighbours. Their acknowledgments of error will necessarily be the death blow to protection in this country, if it is not destroyed sooner by the necessary failure of the Government to fulfil the wild promises which bore it into power. We can, therefore, see it the result with reasonable

POTTER BROS., LIVERY AND SALE STABLES

(ADJOINING THE ERISCOMOUSE.)

NAPANEE, ONT.

We keep nothing but first-class Horses and Vehicles, and at REASONABLE PRICES

Will Cure Consumption.

To all suffering from the following diseases a ray of hope is offered through the kindness of an unassuming friend who has sent me the formula of a pure vegetable medicine which has long been used by the native medicine men of Hindostan—for the positive and radical cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma, Catarrh, Dyspepsia, Throat and Lung difficulty, General Debility, Loss of Manhood and all Nervous Affections, its power has been tested in hundreds of cases without a failure. I now feel it my sacred duty as far as possible to relieve human misery and will send the recipe—FREE OF CHARGE—to any person who may desire it with directions for using. Sent by return mail by addressing with 2 stamps naming this paper, Dr. O. B. Brigham, Drawer 28 Utica, N. Y.

Dr. William Gray's Specific Medicine.

Before Taking this medicine, After Taking, follow as a sequence of Faint Abuse, as Loss of Memory, Universal Lassitude, Pain in the Back, Dimness of Vision, Premature Old Age, and many other diseases that lead to Insanity or Consumption and a Premature Grave, all of which as a rule are first caused by deviating from the path of nature and overlooking indulgence. The Specific Medicine is the result of a life study and many years of experience in treating these special diseases. Pamphlet free by mail. The Special Medicine is sold by all Druggists at $1 per package, or six packages for $5, or will be sent by mail on receipt of the money by addressing.

WILLIAM GRAY & Co., Windsor, Ont.

ELECTRICITY!

THOMAS' EXCELSIOR ELECTRIC OIL.

WORTH TEN TIMES ITS WEIGHT IN GOLD—
PAIN CANNOT STAY WHERE IT IS USED.

It is the cheapest medicine ever made. One dose cures common sore throat. One bottle has cured Bronchitis. Fifty cents worth has cured an old standing cough. It positively cures catarrh, asthma, and croup. Fifty cents worth has cured crick in the back, and the same quantity back of eight years' standing. It cures swollen neck, tumors, rheumatism, neuralgia, contraction of the muscles, stiff joints, spinal difficulties, and pain and soreness in any part, no matter where it may be, nor from what cause it may arise, it always does you good. Twenty-five cents worth has cured bad cases of chronic and bloody dysentery. One teaspoonful cures colic in 15 minutes. It will cure any case of piles it is possible to cure. Six or eight applications is warranted to cure any case of excoriated nipples or inflamed breast. For bruises, if applied often and bound up, there is never the slightest discoloration of the skin. It stops the pain of a burn as soon as applied. Cures frosted feet, boils, warts, and corns, and wounds of every description on man or beast.

Beware of Imitations.—Ask for Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. See that the signature of S. N. THOMAS is on the wrapper, and the names of Northrop and Lyman are blown in the bottle, and TAKE NO OTHER. Sold by all medicine dealers. Price 25 cts. NORTHROP & LYMAN N., Toronto, Ont.,

Mitchell's Belladonnas Improves

Rubber Porous Plaster

There never has been a time when so many different diseases have been outward application as the present. It displaced that that over half of the entire globe resort to the use of plasters.

The principal ingredients used in these Plasters are Gum Olibanum—or better, the Frankincense of the Bible—Rubber gundy Pitch, which, when scientifically pounded, is full of electricity, and when ed with the pure medicinal gums, is for one of the greatest healing mediums ever known to the human race.

They are acknowledged by all who have tried them to be not quicker than any other Plaster ever before tried, and that one of those who will do more real service than a hundred ordinary kinds. All other plasters are slow, and require to be worn continually, a cure; but with these it is entirely different ones applied the patient will find relief.

They possess all the soothing, warming, porting and strengthening qualities of Plasters. Many who have been relieved of RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, and other pains in the KIDNEYS, BREAST and believe it is solely due to the qualities which the Porous Plasters contain which is imparted to the system, thus, them to a healthy condition.

They are very soft and pliable, still, and a sure cure for WEAK PAINS IN THE SIDE AND BREAST, invaluable to those who have a COLD standing, and often prevents CONSUMPTION. Some even tell us they believe they were cured by the use of them of them of seated Consumption.

Prepared by GEO. E. MITCHELL, S.S. Sold by all Druggists.

MANHOOD

HOW LOST, HOW RESOR

WE have recently published a new of Dr. Culvertwell's Celebrated say on the radical and permanent cure of Nervous Debility, Me Physical Weakness, Impediments to etc., resulting from excesses. Price, in a sealed envelope, only 6 two postage stamps.

The celebrated author, of this admits say clearly demonstrates, from thirty years' careful practice, that alarming consumption may be radically cured without the use of internal medicine or the application of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure simple, certain and effectual, by means every sufferer, no matter what his condition, may himself cheaply, privately and every youth and every man in the land Address

THE CULVERTWELL MEDICAL

Office Box 4586 41 Ann St., N

Consumption Cur

AN OLD PHYSICIAN, retired from active practice, has placed in his hands a Real India the formula of a Vegetable Remedy for the most CONSUMPTION ASTHMA BRONCHITIS CAT and all Throat and Lung Affections; also a Radical Cure for Nervous Debility and all other ailments, after having thoroughly tested his powerful in thousands of cases. feels it his duty to know to his suffering fellow-men. Actuated by it and a commendable desire to relieve suffering, he will send FREE OF CHARGE, to all who will receive, with full directions for preparing and using, sent by return mail by addressing with this paper, DR. C. STEVENSON, Box 11, Windsor.

The Great Female Remedy

JOB MOSES' PILLS

This invaluable medicine is unfailingly cure of all those painful and dangerous disorders to which the female constitution is liable. It invigorates the debilitated and by regulating and strengthening the fortifies the youthful constitution for ties of life, and when taken in middle age, proves a real blessing, and on the old, a most refreshing system. It should be taken two or three weeks previous to confinement to be derived are incalculable fortify the constitution, lessen the suffering labor, prevent weakness of the or ease the mother, and secure her due comfort to herself and child.

In all cases of Nervous and spinal Pain in the Back and Limbs, Heaviness on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, nervousness, Hysterics, Sick Headaches, and all the painful diseases of the female system, these PILLS will cure when all other means have failed, though a powerful remedy, does not contain calomel, antimony, or anything hurtful to the constitution.

Job MOSES, NEW YORK, SOLE PREPARED 1.00 and 12½ cents for postage, one Northrop & Lyman, Toronto, Ont. for the Dominion, will insure a bottle or over 30 pills, by return mail. Sold in all parts by all Druggists, Mitchell & Co., Toronto, Ont.

orphan twenty years later. Time does not efface hatreds, and revenge long waited for is only the sweeter to them. There is scarcely any family in Corsica that has not some sanguinary legend in its history, and it is transmitted from generation to generation like a sacred inheritance. The most crushing reproach one can offer to a Corsican is to have failed in the obligation imposed on him by a vendetta. This reproach has even a special name among the people; it is called the rimbeccare, or backing out, and in the Middle Ages the rimbeccare was forbidden by the law. According to the statute, anybody who backed out of a vendetta was first fined a heavy sum, and then, if he did not do his "duty" within a week, he was banished from the island for a twelve-month. In 1851 a new edict condemned the person guilty of a rimbeccare to have his tongue slit. But these laws were not often applied, for the simple reason that the Corsicans were too fond of their feuds to expose themselves to such punishments, which obtained everlasting disgrace and degradation in the eyes of the people. In some instances the most insignificant causes set families in arms against one another, and the quarrel often extended to villages.

Thus, for example, the village of Sartone was divided from 1815 to 1848 between the Rocca-Seras and the Ortoli. Houses remained loop-holed for thirty years like veritable fortresses, and the inmates at times continued in a state of siege for months together. If perchance they left the door open one day, or showed themselves at the window, they were sure to fall before the deadly aim of the rival family lying in wait with powder and shot. No consideration whatever, will prevent the vendettist from carrying out his fell purpose. Not very long ago, a priest, who never went to church without an armed gun on his shoulder, and preceded by his secretary, also armed, was assassinated in the middle of the mass by his enemy, who had hidden himself in the confessional-box. The greatest man Corsica produced in the eighteenth century, the illustrious Paoli, always studied in a room the windows of which were lined with cork as a protection from balls without. Attempts have been made at all times to arrange these sanguinary feuds. The delicate task was placed in the hands of men designated by the name of parolanti, a kind of voluntary magistrate, who conciliated parties and imposed peace on them by oath. Their decisions, when agreed to, were always scrupulously respected; but the negotiations more often ended in war than in peace. However, notable examples may be quoted in which the desire for vengeance gave way to the more elevated sentiments of patriotism and religion. In the month of January, 1756, Paoli was surprised at Bozio by Emmanuel Matro, one of his most formidable enemies. He had only just time enough to take refuge in a convent, where he was soon besieged. Paoli, who was not a warrior, began to speak of capitulation, when unexpected assistance arrived in the person of Thomas Carnoni, the son of one of his enemies, whose mother herself sent him to the combat; she sacrificed her hatred to her country.

The story of Marianna Pozzo di Borgo is a still more striking anecdote. In the midst of the carnival festivities her son fell mortally wounded. The assassin, Andsea Romanetti, fled into the thickets. Marianna dressed herself up in masculine attire, and followed by a few friends, went in pursuit of the murderer. Tracked from right to left, Romanetti was forced to return home, but his house was soon besieged in such a way that he saw it was no use holding out. So he offered to surrender himself on the condition of being allowed to confess. Marianna consented, and accompanied him to the residence of the priest. During the confession of Romanetti she knelt down and united her prayers to those of her enemy. The murderer was then led outside the village and tied to a tree. The muskets were raised, the word of command to fire was about to been the agitators for protection, and in whose interest all protection measures were enacted, are largely coming to the conclusion that they are not gainers by the process. A Montreal merchant recently visiting a manufacturer of woolen goods in the United States, asked him if he called himself a free-trader or a protectionist. The other laughed at the question, and said he had always been a protectionist. His friend then asked him bluntly if protection had been of advantage to himself. "Well, no," he replied, "we are too much protected. We have five factories where there should be three, and no outlet for our over-supply. We are carrying on our business now only because all these villages are depending on it, but should things get any worse we must stop, and the people will be all thrown out of work." On the same journey this engineer met an English manufacturer of the steel. His American acquaintances had asked him why he did not open works in the United States, and take advantage of the American tariff for the supply of his American customers. His reply was that he had found in the States many manufacturers already established, and none of them making money. Hard as times were in England, he had no ambition to exchange them for those in the United States. The stern logic of facts is thus rapidly teaching the Americans what they never would have learned from their neighbours. Their acknowledgments of error will necessarily be the death blow to protection in this country, if it is not destroyed sooner by the necessary failure of the Government to fulfil the wild promises which bore it into power. We can, therefore, await the result with reasonable equanimity. — Montreal Witness.

Stolen Church Ornaments.

SOME OF THE BOOTY OF THE OLD CHAMBERS GANG.

Quebec, Oct. 31.—Some days ago a farmer named Vachon, of the parish of Broughton, county of Beauce, turned up in a field, while plowing, a silver candle-stick and other church ornaments, which were stolen from the church of the Congregationists, in this city, February, 1835. The robbery was committed by a gang commanded by one Chambers, a lumberman, of St. Rochs. This gang, which consisted of twenty persons, began operation in 1832, and defied detection for three years. Chambers was a man of means, carrying on a good business, and his respectability gave him admission into the houses of the best people in Quebec. He and his men murdered two young Englishmen named Griffith on Goose Island, Captain Surcouf, keeper of the light-house at Point Platon, and Mrs. Montgomery, a wealthy, old lady, who lived on St. Helen street. In 1824 Chambers visited the cure of Beauport; Church was robbed of its sacred vessels. Chambers swore he saw the beadle, an old man named Pitou, carrying off the goods, and the beadle was sent to prison. On the 9th of February, 1835, the Church of the Congregationists on the Esplanade Hill was robbed of the chalice, crucifixes, images, and candelabre. Waterworth, a member of the gang, became frightened, and turned King's evidence on his associates. Some of the property was found near Cape Rouge, but, although the informer said the rest of it was buried in Broughton's parish, it could not be found. The articles found the other day, however, are known to be the missing ones. Waterworth made a clean breast of all the crimes committed by the gang, and Chambers and nineteen accomplices were convicted and transported for life. They were sent to the British penal settlement in Van Dieman's Land, and on the voyage there in the brig Ceres they mutinied. Two of them were killed and the others ended their days in the colony. — New York Tribune.

An Extraordinary Story.

The Victoria, B. C., Colonist of the

WILLIAM GRAY & CO.,
Windsor, Ont.

ELECTRICITY!

THOMAS' EXCELSIOR ELECTRIC OIL.

WORTH TEN TIMES ITS WEIGHT IN GOLD—
PAIN CANNOT STAY WHERE IT IS USED.

IT is the cheapest medicine ever made. One dose cures common sore throat. One bottle has cured Bronchitis. Fifty cents worth has cured an old standing cough. It positively cures catarrh, asthma, and croup. Fifty cents worth has cured crick in the back, and the same quantity lumb back of eight years' standing. It cures swelled neck, tumors, rheumatism, neuralgia, contraction of the muscles, stiff joints, spinal difficulties, and pain and soreness in any part, no matter where it may be, nor from what cause it may arise, it always does you good. Twenty-five cents worth has cured bad cases of chronic and bloody dysentery. One teaspoonful cures colic in 15 minutes. It will cure any case of piles it is possible to cure. Six or eight applications is warranted to cure any case of excoriated nipples or inflamed breast. For bruises, if applied often and bound up, there is never the slightest discoloration of the skin. It stops the pain of a burn as soon as applied. Cures frosted feet, boils, warts, and corns, and wounds of every description on man or beast.

Beware of Imitations.—Ask for Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. See that the signature of S. N. THOMAS is on the wrapper, and the names of Northrop and Lyman are blown in the bottle, and TAKE NO OTHER. Sold by all medicine dealers. Price 25 cts. NORTHROP & LYMAN, Toronto, Ont., Proprietors for the Dominion.

NOTE.—Electric—Selected and Electrized.

Awarded the Highest Medal at Vienna.

E. & H. T. Anthony & Co.,

591 Broadway, New York.

(Opp. Metropolitan Hotel.)

Manufacturers, Importers & Dealers in

Engravings, Chromos and Frames,

Stereoscopes and Views,

Albums, Graphoscopes, Photographs

And kindred goods—Celebrities, Actresses, etc.

Photographic Materials

We are Headquarters for everything in the way of

Stereopticons and Magic Lanterns,

Being Manufacturers of the

Micro-Scientific Lantern,

Stereopticon,

University Stereopticon,

Advertiser's Stereopticon,

Artopticon,

School Lantern,

Family Lantern,

People's Lantern.

Each style being the best of its class in the market.

Beautiful Photographic Transparencies of Statuary and Engravings for the window.

Convex Glass. Manufacturers of Velvet Frames for Miniatures and Convex Glass Pictures.

Catalogues of Lanterns and Slides, with directions for using, sent on application.

Any enterprising man can make money with a Magic Lantern.

Send Cutout this advertisement for reference.

UNION BOX 1000

Consumption Cure

A NEW PHYSICIAN, retired from active practice, has placed in his hands by an East India firm the most perfect and healthy remedy for the most common and dangerous disease of the human system.

CONSUMPTION ASTHMA BRONCHITIS CATARRH and all Throat and Lung Affections, such as Croup, Whooping Cough, Sore Throat, and all other pulmonary affections, after having thoroughly tested the wonderful powers in thousands of cases, it is his duty to announce to the public that he has discovered a most efficacious and safe remedy, and will send it FREE OF CHARGE, to all who send a receipt for it, and will also send a small pamphlet, containing full directions for its use, by return mail, on receipt of this paper.

DR. C. STEVENS.

The Great Female Remedy JOB MOSES' PILL

This invaluable medicine is unfailing cure of all those painful and dangerous disorders to which the female constitution is subject. It invigorates the debilitated and enervated system, and by regulating and strengthening the functions of the youthful constitution, fortifies the system, and when taken in middle age, prevents the weakness of the system, and the occurrence of the various diseases of old age. Child-birth, these Pills should be taken two or three weeks previous to confinement, the benefits to be derived are incalculable, for they fortify the constitution, lessen the suffering of labor, prevent weakness of the organs, enable the mother to perform her duties comfortably to herself and child.

In all cases of Nervous and spinal Affections, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Headaches, on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, nervousness, Irritability, Sick Headaches, Whites, and all the painful diseases, caused by a disordered system, these Pills will cure when all other means have failed; though a powerful remedy, do not contain calomel, arsenic, or anything hurtful to the constitution.

Full directions in the pamphlet around package.

JOB MOSES, NEW YORK, SOLE PROPRIETOR: 1.00 and 12½ cents for postage, enclosed Northrop & Lyman, Toronto, Ont., agents for the Dominion, will insure a bottle cost over 50 pills, by return mail.

Sold in Napanee by all Druggists, Mill by W. G. Egar, Tamworth J. Aylsworth, Medicine dealers.

WANTED.

We want reliable, energetic canvassers in every town in the Dominion of Canada. This work is magnificent, containing over 2,000 column quarto pages, and over 300 full page engravings. The work is published in Paris, on a plan which is its welcome to every English family. To energetic young men and who are willing to work, we will give a permanent position for two and good pay. Don't fail write to us private terms, sample pages, etc. is a grand opportunity for school to make more than double their salary without interfering with their social duties. The works being factured at a cost of over $20,000 literary, artistic and mechanical work producing the plates by the old known, reliable Lovell Printing and Engraving Co., of Montreal. All letter agents must be addressed to the Publisher.

HAZEN B. BIGNEY & Co.
28 and 30 St. Francis Xavier
MONTREAL, C.

FOR SAW

SOLID AND INSERTED TOOTH
SAW GUMMER

SAW SWAGES SAW TEETH SAW SET

WATEROUS ENGINE WORKS (C)

BRANTFORD, ONT.

Where you saw this advertisement.

KNOW

By reading and practising the inestimable truths contained in the best medical book ever issued, entitled SELF-PRESERVATION. Price only $1. Sent by mail on receipt of price.

THYSELF

Treats of Exhausted Vitality, Premature Decline, Nervous and Physical Debility, and the end of the matter, and contains more than 500 original prescriptions, any one of which is worth the price of the book. This book was written by the most extensive and probably the most skillful practitioner in America, to whom was awarded a gold and silver medal by the National Medical Association. A Pamphlet, illustrated with the very best of art and beauty, sent with all. Send

HEAL

The story of Marianna Pozzo di Borgo is a still more striking instance. In the midst of the carnival festivities her son fell mortally wounded. The assassin, Andsea Romanetti, fled into the thickets. Marianna dressed herself up in masculine attire, and followed by a few friends, went in pursuit of the murderer. Tracked from right to left, Romanetti was forced to return home, but his house was soon besieged in such a way that he saw it was no use holding out. So he offered to surrender himself on the condition of being allowed to confess. Marianna consented, and accompanied him to the residence of the priest. During the confession of Romanetti she knelt down and united her prayers to those of her enemy. The murderer was then led outside the village and tied to a tree. The muskets were raised, the word of command to fire was about to be given, when Marianna herself intervened, unbound the ropes, and pardoned him. This event took place in 1694, and it the people still talk of it is because it is so contrary to their traditions and usages. Whence arose the vendetta? The Corsicans throw the responsibility of it on the shoulders of the Genoese. Justice, they say, was then so uncertain that the victims were forced to make up for the insufficiency of the magistrates by taking the law into their own hands. But the explanation is more specious than just. The love of vengeance is natural to the Corsican, and he obeys a passion fostered by old prejudices. The vendetta defied even the efforts of Paoli, who established the most rigorous and impartial justice everywhere throughout the island. The only excuse the Corsican can make is that the detestable custom is also practiced by several peoples of Eastern Europe, such as the Greeks, and Servians, the Montenegrins, and that it is to be found in all countries where society is badly organized, and where family life, on the contrary, is strongly constituted. Such for a long time was the situation of Corsica. No authority was powerful enough to enforce respect for the law; everything was settled by brute force, and nothing remained intact but families and clans. Families in Corsica are still united by the strongest ties. Every member of a family is bound to assist and protect, even by arms, the other members. The number of men in a family gives it an importance far greater than the amount of wealth or property. A young man recently had to decide between the choice of two girls for a wife; the first was rich, and the second poor, but he chose the latter "because there were 17 muskets (i. e. men) in her family." These are the customs of another

What a wonderful discovery! Dr. J. C. Davis' Pain-Killer! It not only cures the ails of the human family, but is also the sure remedy for horses with colic. It has never been known to fail in a cure of the worst cases: and for strains, galls, &c., it never fails—try it. Sold by druggists and company each bottle.

TERMS MODERATE
Office—Bridge Street.

WE are prepared to Loan Money on any term of years, at Low Commission Charge 1. Good Notes
Most Ages Purchased.
WILLIAMS & SMITH
Finance, S. E. 24th, '78.

POTTER BROS., LIVERY AND SALE STABLES

(ADJOINING THE ERISCOMOUSE.)

NAPANEE, ONT.

We keep nothing but first-Class Horses and Vehicles, and at REASONABLE PRICES

Will Cure Consumption.

TO all suffering from the following diseases a ray of hope is offered through the kindness of a missionary friend who has sent me the formula of a pure vegetable medicine which has long been used by the native medical men of Hindostan:—for the positive and radical cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma, Catarrh, Dyspepsia, Throat and Lung difficulty, General Debility, Loss of Manhood and all Nervous Affections, its power has been tested in hundreds of cases without a failure. I now feel it my sacred duty as far as possible to relieve human misery and will send the recipe—FREE OF CHARGE—to any person who may desire it with directions for using. Sent by return mail by addressing with 2 stamps naming this paper, Dr. O. R. Brigham Draw 128 Utica, N. Y. 19-1y

Dr. William Gray's Specific Medicine.

Before Taking diseases that After Taking follow as a sequence of Self Abuse, as Loss of Memory, Universal Lassitude, Pain in the Back, Dimness of Vision, Premature Old Age, and many other diseases that lead to Paralysis or Consumption and a Premature Grave, all of which as a rule are first caused by deviating from the path of nature and overindulgence.

The Specific Medicine is the result of a life study and many years of experience in treating these special diseases. Pamphlet free by mail. The Specific Medicine is sold by all Druggists at $1 per package, or six packages for $5, or will be sent by mail on receipt of the money by addressing.

WILLIAM GRAY & Co.,
Windsor, Ont.

ELECTRICITY!

THOMAS' EXCELSIOR ELECTRIC OIL.

WORTH TEN TIMES ITS WEIGHT IN GOLD—
PAIN CANNOT STAY WHERE IT IS USED.

IT is the cheapest medicine ever made. One dose cures common sore throat. One bottle has cured Bronchitis. Fifty cents worth has cured an old standing cough. It positively cures catarrh, asthma, and croup. Fifty cents worth has cured crick in the back, and the same quantity lumb back of eight years' standing. It cures swollen neck, tumors, rheumatism, neuralgia, contraction of the muscles, stiff joints, spinal difficulties, and pain and soreness in any part, no matter where it may lie, nor from what cause it may arise, it always does you good. Twenty-five cents worth has cured bad cases of chronic and bloody dysentery. One teaspoonful cures colic in 15 minutes. It will cure any case of piles it is possible to cure. Six or eight applications is warranted to cure any case of excoriated nipples or inflamed breast. For bruises, if applied often and bound up, there is never the slightest discoloration of the skin. It stops the pain of a burn as soon as applied. Cures frosted feet, boils, warts, and corns, and wounds of every description on man or beast.

Beware of Imitations.—ask for Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. See that the signature of S. N. THOMAS is on the wrapper, and the names of Northrop and Lyman are Mitchell's Belladonnas Improved Indian Rubber Porous Plaster.

There never has been a time when the healing of so many dangerous diseases has been caused by outward application as the present. It is an undisputed fact that over half of the entire population of the globe resort to the use of ordinary plasters.

The principal ingredients used in making these Plasters are Gum Olibanum—or better known as the Frankincense of the Bible—Rubber and Burgundy Pitch, which, when scientifically compounded, is full of electricity, and when combined with the pure medicinal gums, is found to be one of the greatest healing mediums ever brought before the human race.

They are acknowledged by all who have used them to set quicker than any other Plaster they ever before tried, and that one of these Plasters will do more real service than a hundred of the ordinary kind. All other plasters are slow of action, and require to be worn continually to effect a cure; but with these it is entirely different; the instant one is applied the patient will feel its effect.

They possess all the soothing, warming, supporting and strengthening qualities of all other Plasters. Many who have been relieved of RHEUMATISM, TIC DOLOREUX, and various other pains in the KIDNEYS, BREAST or SIDE, and believe it is solely done by the electrical qualities which the Porous Plasters contain, and which is imparted to the system, thus restoring them to a healthy condition.

They are very soft and pliable, still very adhesive, and a sure cure for WALK BACKS, PAINS IN THE SIDE AND BREAST; and are invaluable to those who have a COLD of long standing, and often prevents CONSUMPTION. Some even tell us they believe they were entirely cured by the use of them of a long-seated Consumption.

Prepared by GEO. E. MITCHELL, Lowe, and Sold by all Druggists. -611v

MANHOOD: HOW LOST, HOW RESORED!

WE have recently published a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical and permanent cure (with out medicine) of Nervous Debility, and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc., resulting from excesses.

Price, in a sealed envelope, only 6 cents, or two postage stamps.

The celebrated author, of this admirable Essay clearly demonstrates from thirty years successful practice, that alarming consequences may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

This Lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land.

Address
THE CULVERTWELL MEDICAL CO.,
Office Box 4586 41 Ann St., New York 45-1v.

Consumption Cured.

AN OLD PHYSICIAN, retired from active practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India Missionary the formula of a Vegetable Remedy for the permanent cure of

CONSUMPTION ASTHMA BRONCHITIS CATARRH and all Throat and Lung Affections; also a Positive and Radical Cure for Nervous Debility and Catarrh of the Bladder, after having thoroughly tested his wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, feels it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellow-men, and on the approach of a conscientious desire to relieve human suffering, he will send FREE OF CHARGE, to all who desire it, this new and full directions for treating and curing Consumption. Sent by return mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper.

DR. C. STEVENS,
Box 81, Brockville, Ont.

The Great Female Remedy. JOB MOSES' PILLS.

This invaluable medicine is unfailing in the cure of all those painful and dangerous disorders to which the female constitution is subject. It invigorates the debilitated and delicate; and by regulating and strengthening the system, fortifies the youthful constitution for the duties of life, and when taken in middle or old age, proves a real blessing, and on the approach of Child-birth, these Pills should be used for two or three weeks previous to confinement; the benefits to be derived are incalculable; they fortify the constitution, lessen the suffering during labor, prevent weakness of the organs, and enable the mother to perform her duties with comfort to herself and child.

In all cases of Nervous and spinal Affections, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Heaviness, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Lowness of spirits, Hysterics, Sick Headaches, Whites, and all the painful diseases occasioned by a disordered system, these Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed; and, although a powerful remedy, do not contain iron, calomel, antimony, or anything hurtful to the constitution.

Full directions in the pamphlet around each package.
JOB MOSES, NEW YORK, SOLE PROPRIETOR.
1.00 and 12½ cents for postage, enclosed to

HARVEST TOOLS

Largest Stock

— AND —

Lowest Prices

IN THE COUNTY, AT

WRIGHT & Co's.,

Napanee

S. G. BEATTY & Co.

BELLEVILLE, - - Ontario.

S. G. BEATTY. W. R. ROBINSON. J. W. JOHNSON

Ontario Business College,

Which has been in existence for 10 years, and, during which time
Has Trained Hundreds of Young Men
For Business Life, who are now filling important positions in the community, offers advantage for obtaining a

COMMERCIAL EDUCATION,

Equal to any Institution in Canada, or the United States. Its several departments are conducted by thoroughly competent men who teach that which they have learned by actual business experience, and therefore practically understand.

THE PUBLICATIONS OF THE COLLEGE:

The "Canadian Accountant," "Joint Stock Company Book Keeping," "Beatty's Guide to Elemen Writing, etc., have obtained a National reputation, and are the productions of the principals of the College, who are daily engaged, together with their staff of teachers, in the Class and Lecture Rooms, College Bank, and Merchants Emporium with the Students.

THE COURSE IS SHORT,

because the teaching is thorough and practical, and no pains are spared to give to each student individually, as well as to the various classes, the personal attention of the teachers.

GOOD BOARD

can be obtained in Belleville at a lower rate than in any other place having a Business College in Canada or the United States.

The College Journal, containing full information respecting terms, nature of course, etc., and specimens of penmanship, sent free on application.

Address, S. G. BEATTY & Co.,
BELLEVILLE, ONTARIO

Belleville, September 1877.

19-6v

Dizziness of Vision, Premature Old Age, and many other diseases that lead to Insanity or Consumption and a Premature Grave, all of which as a rule are first caused by deviating from the path of nature and overlooking indulgence.

The Specific Medicine is the result of a life study and many years of experience in treating these special diseases. Pamphlet free by mail.

The Specific Medicine is sold by all Druggists at $1 per package, or six packages for $5, or will be sent by mail on receipt of the money by addressing,

WILLIAM GRAY & Co.,
Windsor, Ont.

ELECTRICITY!

THOMAS' EXCELSIOR ELECTRIC OIL.

WORTH TEN TIMES ITS WEIGHT IN GOLD—
PAIN CANNOT STAY WHERE IT IS USED.

IT is the cheapest medicine ever made. One dose cures common sore throat. One bottle has cured Bronchitis. Fifty cents worth has cured an old standing cough. It positively cures catarrh, asthma, and croup. Fifty cents worth has cured crick in the back, and the same quantity lumb back of eight years' standing. It cures swelled neck, tumors, rheumatism, neuralgia, contraction of the muscles, stiff joints, spinal difficulties, and pain and soreness in any part, no matter where it may be, nor from what cause it may arise, it always does you good. Twenty-five cents worth has cured bad cases of chronic and bloody dysentery. One teaspoonful cures colic in 15 minutes. It will cure any case of piles it is possible to cure. Six or eight applications is warranted to cure any case of excoriated nipples or inflamed breast. For bruises, if applied often and bound up, there is never the slightest discoloration of the skin. It stops the pain of a burn as soon as applied. Cures frosted feet, boils, warts, and corns, and wounds of every description on man or beast.

Beware of Imitations.—ask for Dr. Thomas Electric Oil. See that the signature of S. N. THOMAS is on the wrapper, and the names of Northrop and Lyman are blown in the bottle, and TAKE NO OTHER. Sold by all medicine dealers. Price 25 cts. NORTHROP & LYMAN, Toronto, Ont., Proprietors for the Dominion.

Norm.—Electric—Selected and Electrized.

Awarded the Highest Medal at Vienna.

E. & H. T. Anthony & Co.,
591 Broadway, New York.
(Opp. Metropolitan Hotel.)

Manufacturers, Importers & Dealers in Engravings, Chromes and Frames,
Stereoscopes and Views,
Albums, Graphoscopes, Photographs
and kindred goods—Celebrities, Actresses, etc.

Photographic Materials

We are Headquarters for everything in the way of Stereoscopes and Magic Lanterns,
Being Manufacturers of the Micro-Scientific Lantern,
Stereoscopic, Panopticon,
University Stereoscopic, Advertiser's Stereoscopic,
Artopticon,
School Lantern,
Family Lantern,
People's Lantern.

Each style being the best of its class in the market.

Beautiful Photographic Transparencies of Statuary and Engravings for the window.

Convex Glass. Manufacturers of Velvet frames for Miniatures and Convex Glass Pictures.

use of internal medicine, or the application of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, can himself cheaply, privately and radically.

This Lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land.

Address
THE CULVERTWELL MEDICAL CO.,
Office Box 4586 41 Ann St., New York. 45-1v.

Consumption Cured.

AN OLD PHYSICIAN, retired from active practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India Missionary a certain and effectual Remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of
CONSUMPTION ASTHMA BRONCHITIS CATARRH
and all Throat and Lung Affections; also a Positive and Radical Cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Disorders, after having thoroughly tested the various powerful powders in thousands of cases, feels it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellow-men. Assisted by this positive and a conscientious desire to relieve human suffering, he will send FREE OF CHARGE, to all who desire it, his recipe, with full directions for preparing and using the same. Sent by return mail by adding this stamp, and enclosing this paper.

DR. C. STEVENS.
Box 65, Belleville, Ont.

The Great Female Remedy.
JOB MOSES' PILLS.

This invaluable medicine is unfailing in the cure of all those painful and dangerous disorders to which the female constitution is subject. It invigorates the debilitated and delicate; and by regulating and strengthening the system, fortifies the youthful constitution for the duties of life, and when taken in middle or old age, proves a real blessing, and on the approach of old birth, these Pills should be used for two or three weeks previous to confinement; the benefits to be derived are incalculable; they fortify the constitution, lessen the suffering during labor, prevent weakness of the organs, and enable the mother to perform her duties with comfort to herself and child.

In all cases of Nervous and spinal Affections, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Heaviness, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Lowness of spirits, Hysterics, Sick Headaches, Whites, and all the painful diseases occasioned by a disordered system, these Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed; and, although a powerful remedy, do not contain iron, calomel, antimony, or anything hurtful to the constitution.

Full directions in the pamphlet around each package.

JOB MOSES, NEW YORK, SOLE PROPRIETOR.
100 and 125 cents for postage, enclosed to Northrop & Lyman, Toronto, Ont. general agents for the Dominion, will insure a bottle containing over 50 pills, by return mail.

Sold in Napanea by all Druggists, Mill Point, by W. G. Egan, Tamworth J. Aylsworth, and all medicine dealers.

WANTED.

We want reliable, energetic canvassing agents in every town in the Dominion for the new 'Illustrated History of the Dominion of Canada.' This work is truly magnificent, containing over 2,000 double column quarto pages, and over 300 superb full page engravings. The work is published in Parts, on a plan which insures its welcome to every English reading family. To energetic young men and ladies, who are willing to work, we will guarantee a permanent position for two years, and GOOD PAY. Don't fail write! to for our private terms, sample pages, etc. This is a grand opportunity for school teachers to make more than double their salaries without interfering with their professional duties. The works being manufactured at a cost of over $20,000 for the literary, artistic and mechanical work of producing the plates by the old well known, reliable Lovell Printing and Publishing Co., of Montreal. All letters from agents must be addressed to the Publishers General agents as follows:

HAZEN B. BIGNEY & Co.,
28 and 30 St. Francis Xavier Street,
MONTREAL, QUE.

FOR SAWS

SOLID AND INSERTED TOOTH
SAW GUMMERS, SAW SWAGS SAW TEETH SAW SETS

ADDRESS THE
Waterous Engine Works Co.,
BRANTFORD, ONT.

State where you saw this advertisement.

KNOW THYSELF

By reading and practicing the inestimable truths contained in the best medical book ever issued, entitled SELF-PRESERVATION Price only $1. Sent by mail on receipt of price.

BELLEVILLE, - - Ontario.
S. G. BEATTY. W. R. ROBINSON. J. W. JOHNSON

Ontario Business College,
Which has been in existence for 10 years, and, during which time
Has Trained Hundreds of Young Men
For Business Life, who are now filling important positions in the community, offers advantages for obtaining a

COMMERCIAL EDUCATION,
Equal to any Institution in Canada, or the United States. Its several departments are conducted by thoroughly competent men who teach that which they have learned by actual business experience, and therefore practically understand.

THE PUBLICATIONS OF THE COLLEGE:
The "Canadian Accountant," "Joint Stock Company Book Keeping," "Beatty's Guide to Elegant Writing, etc., have obtained a National reputation, and are the productions of the principals of the College, who are daily engaged, together with their staff of teachers, in the Class and Lecture Rooms, College Bank, and Merchants Emporium with the Students.

THE COURSE IS SHORT,
because the teaching is thorough and practical, and no pains are spared to give to each student, individually, as well as to the various classes, the personal attention of the teachers.

GOOD BOARD
can be obtained in Belleville at a lower rate than in any other place having a Business College in Canada or the United States.

The College Journal, containing full information respecting terms, nature of course, etc. and specimens of penmanship, sent free on application.

Address, S. G. BEATTY & Co.,
BELLEVILLE, ONTARIO.

Belleville, September 1877. 12-6m

ALWAYS AHEAD!

J. GIBBARD & SON is always ahead in Style, Ware and Finish of their Furniture. Our War-rooms were never better Stocked, our Prices were never Lower. We are constantly making improvements in our goods, and as they are all Manufactured on our own premises, and under our own supervision, we can guarantee them as good as the best.

& H. T. Anthony & Co.,

591 Broadway, New York.

(Opp. Metropolitan Hotel.)

Manufacturers, Importers & Dealers in gravings, Chromes and Frames,

Stereoscopes and Views,

Albums, Graphoscopes, Photographs

Picture Books—Celebrities, Actresses, etc.

Photographic Materials

are Headquarters for everything in the way of receptions and Magic Lanterns,

Being Manufacturers of the

Pro-Scientific Lantern,

Stereo-Panopticon,

University Stereopticon,

Advertiser's Stereopticon,

Artopticon,

School Lantern,

Family Lantern,

People's Lantern.

Each style being the best of its class in the market.

Beautiful Photographic Transparencies of Starry and Engravings for the window.

Convex Glass. Manufacturers of Velvet

Frames for Miniatures and Convex Glass Pictures.

Catalogues of Lanterns and Slides, with direction for using sent on application.

Any enterprising man can make money with a magic lantern.

77 Cutout this advertisement for reference.

SIXTY-SIX

specimen Copies of Our Beautiful Oil

Chromes.

We send sixty-six copies of our oil chromes to responsible agents. They are in 14 to 18 cent oil colors, bringing forth in bold relief

the lights and shades in nature with pleasing etc. Any live young man or woman can make in 50 to 100 in their own town. The following are among our specimens: "Experience,"

"Sinking a Bessing," "Bad Man's Bull,"

"Christ Blessing Little Children," "Nature's sons," "Spek the Truth," "Search the Scriptures," "God Bless Our Home," "Praise the Lord," "The Lord is My Shepherd," "Bessing

and Thine," "Joy be With Thee," "Peace be thine," "Be Just and Fear Not," "Landscape

views," "Faith, Hope and Charity," "Country scenes," etc., etc. Enclose 25 cents to pay charges.

STEIGELMAN & Co.,

104 W. 6th St., Cincinnati.

GRADUATE OF

Ontario Veterinary College.

is qualified on all diseases of Domestic Animals, particularly in Cattle, Horses, and Poultry.

TERMS MODERATE.

OFFICE—Bridge Street.

We want reliable, energetic canvassing agents in every town in the Dominion for the new "Illustrated History of the Dominion of Canada." This work is truly magnificent, containing over 2,000 double column quarto pages, and over 300 superb full page engravings. The work is published in Parts, on a plan which insures its welcome to every English reading family. To energetic young men and ladies, who are willing to work, we will guarantee a permanent position for two years, and GOOD PAY. Don't fail write! to for our private terms, sample pages, etc. This is a grand opportunity for school teachers to make more than double their salaries without interfering with their professional duties. The works being manufactured at a cost of over $20,000 for the literary, artistic and mechanical work of producing the plates by the old well known, reliable Lovell Printing and Publishing Co., of Montreal. All letters from agents must be addressed to the Publishers General agents as follows:

HAZEN B. BIGNEY & Co.,
28 and 30 St. Francis Xavier Street,
MONTREAL, QUE.

FOR SAWS
SOLID AND INSERTED TOOTH
SAW GUMMERS,
SAW SWAGES SAW TEETH SAW SETS
ADDRESS THE
Waterous Engine Works Co.,
BRANTFORD, ONT.
State where you saw this advertisement.

KNOW YOURSELF
By reading and practicing the inestimable truths contained in the best medical book ever issued, entitled THE KNOW YOURSELF. Price only $1. Sent by mail on receipt of price. It contains of Exhausted Vitality, Premature Decline, Nervous and Physical Debility, and the endless concomitant ills and untold miseries that result therefrom, and contains more than 50 original prescriptions, any one of which is worth the price of the book. This book was written by the most extensive and probably the most skillful practitioner in America, to whom was awarded a gold and silver medal by the National Medical Association. Steel Engravings—a marvel of art and beauty—sent FREE to all. Send for it at once. Address FEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, No. 4 Bulfinch St., Boston, Mass.

HEAL YOURSELF

$66 a week in your own town, $5 out at free. No risk. Reader, if you want a business at which persons of either sex can make great pay all the time they work, write for particulars to H. HALLETT & Co. Portland, Maine.

CATARRH
CANNOT be cured by snuff, washes or local applications. Thousands of cases, some of fifty years standing, have been entirely cured by CONSERVATIVE CATARRH REMEDY. For sale by all druggists. Send stamp for Treatise on Catarrh to T. J. B. HARDING, BRISTOL, ONT.

Five Years' Success On and Off Year of Constitutional Catarrh Remedy. Pain in Chest, Back and Legs, and Droppings in Throat, Disappear. Dr. Harding, P. Q., Sept. 1878.

MR. T. J. B. HARDING.
Dear Sir,—Being desirous that others may know something of the merits of your CONSERVATIVE CATARRH REMEDY, I will inform you what it has done for me. I am 57 years old, had been out of health for about five years. I had employed the use of four different doctors, and received various medicines, without receiving any permanent benefit. I continued rather to grow worse, until last fall, when I had become so bad as to be unable to do any sort of work at a time. I had severe soreness and pain under the shoulder blades and through the shoulders, with very lame back, and a feeling in my right lung as though there was a weight bearing it down, with continual droppings in the throat and down upon the lungs. Such was my condition when I commenced to take your Catarrh Remedy. The bottle of which I used my pains and gave me an improved appetite, and after taking four bottles I was restored to health, so as to be able to resume hard and continued labor. Such as chopping and clearing land at which I have been engaged the past season. My recovery I attribute solely, with God's blessing, to the use of your Catarrh Remedy. I am, Sir, very respectfully,
Yours truly,
HENRY SMITH.
ASK FOR LITTLE BIRD'S CONSTITUTIONAL CATARRH REMEDY. TAKE NO OTHER.

MONEY TO LOAN.
We are prepared to loan money for any term of years, at low rates. Commission Charge. Good Notes and Mortgages Purchased.
WILLIAMS & SMITH.
Napanee, Sept. 24th, 78.

J. GIBBARD & SON is always ahead in Style, Ware and Finish of their Furniture. Our War-rooms were never better Stocked, our Prices were never Lower. We are constantly making improvements in our goods, and as they are all Manufactured on our own premises, and under our own supervision, we can guarantee them as good as the best.

$777 is not easily earned in these times, but it can be made in three months by anyone of either sex, in any part of the country who is willing to work steadily at the employment that we furnish. $66 per week in your own town. You need not be away from home over night. You can give your whole time to the work, or only your spare moments. We have agents who are making over $20 per day. All who engage at once can make money fast. At the present time money cannot be made so easily and rapidly at any other business. It costs nothing to try the business. Terms and $5 outfit free. Address at once, H. HALLETT & Co., Portland, Maine.

PULMONA
is beyond comparison the best remedy for the CURS OF CONSUMPTION (EVEN IN ITS ADVANCED STAGES), Asthma, Bronchitis, Catarrh, and all derangements of the NERVOUS SYSTEM. A circular containing PARTICULARS OF MANY CASES SUCCESSFULLY TREATED, full advice for the treatment of the diseases above mentioned, and certificates of actual cures, will be sent free by mail to all applicants. Address OSCAR G. MOSES, Sole Proprietor 15 Cortlandt Street, 22

Farm & Water Privilege FOR SALE.
200 ACRES OF LAND FOR SALE. Situate in the centre of the Township of Kenebec. The Salmon River passes through it lengthwise, on which there is a good water privilege. The survey of the Ottawa and Toronto Railway crosses the lot at said water privilege. Enquire of E. PERRY, Tamworth. 25-3m Tamworth, Oct. 17th, 78.

GRACE'S SALVE.
A Vegetable Preparation, introduced in the 17th century by Dr. Wm. Grace, Surgeon in King James' army. Through its agency he cured thousands of the most serious sores and wounds, and was regarded by all who knew him as a public benefactor. 25c. a box, by mail 30c. For sale by druggists generally.
AGENTS WANTED.
SETH W. DOWLER & SON, Boston,

50 Cheese Makers Wanted!
to buy 20 bags each of choice Factory filled LIVERPOOL SALT.
ALSO FOR SALE Ground Oil Cake at $3 per cwt., by THOMAS SYMINGTON, Dealer in FLOUR, FEED, AND PROVISIONS.
Grass Seeds of all kinds a specialty.
DUNDAS STREET, NAPANEE,
Napanee, April 4th, 1878. 149-

FOR SALE.
SEVERAL Valuable Building Lots, pleasantly situated in Upper Napanee.
Apply to J. BENSON, Napanee, July 8th, 1878. 11.5m

Farmers Attention. THRESHING!

THE SUBSCRIBER begs to inform the farmers of South Fredericksburgh, that he has just purchased a Threshing Machine of a new and improved make, (patented 1878,) manufactured by Daniel Maxwell, of Paris, and warranted to do work superior to any other machine in the Dominion. This machine will thresh 1,000 bushels per day, doing good work. For information as to terms and service, apply to HIRAM YOUNG, Hanley, P.O. Fredericksburgh, Aug. 14th, '78. 154

SS, NOV. 15, 1878.

HARVEST TOOLS!

largest Stock

Lowest Prices

IN THE COUNTY, AT

WRIGHT & Co's.,

Napanee.

L. G. BEATTY & Co.,

BELLEVILLE, - - Ontario.

L. BEATTY. W. R. ROBINSON. J. W. JOHNSON

Ontario Business College,

which has been in existence for 10 years, and, during which time
Has Trained Hundreds of Young Men
Business Life, who are now filling important positions in the community, offers advantages obtaining a

COMMERCIAL EDUCATION,

equal to any Institution in Canada, or the United States. Its several departments are conducted by thoroughly competent men who teach that which they have learned by actual business experience, and therefore practically understand.

THE PUBLICATIONS OF THE COLLEGE:

the "Canadian Accountant," "Joint Stock Company Book Keeping," "Beatty's Guide to Elegant Living, etc., have obtained a National reputation, and are the productions of the principals of the College, who are daily engaged, together with their staff of teachers, in the Class and Lecture Rooms, College Bank, and Merchants Emporium with the Students.

THE COURSE IS SHORT,

and the teaching is thorough and practical, and no pains are spared to give to each student individuality, as well as to the various classes, the personal attention of the teachers.

GOOD BOARD

can be obtained in Belleville at a lower rate than in any other place having a Business College in Canada or the United States.

* The College Journal, containing full information respecting terms, nature of course, etc., and specimens of penmanship, sent free on application.

Address, S. G. BEATTY & Co.,
BELLEVILLE, ONTARIO.

Belleville, September 1877.

BACON,
7c. per lb., Printing!

— AT —

Diamond

AND

Sherwood's STORE,

John Street.

Flour,
Feed,

Groceries and Provisions.

THE PRINCE EDWARD COUNTY
MUTUAL FIRE INSURANCE CO
HEAD OFFICE—PICTON, ONT.
(Established 30th Sept., 1854).

PRESIDENT—LEWIS B. STINSON.
VICE-PRESIDENT—JOHN PRINYER.
MANAGER AND INSPECTOR—L. B. STINSON.

SECRETARY—C. D. MORDEN.
TREASURER—PHILIP LOW, Q. C.
SOLICITOR—W. H. R. ALLISON
DIRECTORS—STEPHEN B. HUBBS,
JNO. PRINYER, JOHN VANALSTINE,
LEWIS B. STINSON, ADAM H. SAYLOR,
CARLETON MCCARTNEY, and GEORGE MARTIN.

HONORARY DIRECTORS—G. Striker, Esq.,
M. P. P., Pictou; R. Clapp, Esq., Milford;
E. Graham, Esq., Belleville; P. Allan, C. A. Lloyd, Esq., P. Dorland, Esq., Adolphstown; J. C. Hoffman, Esq., J. T. George, Esq., M. P. P., Napanee; J. E. Proctor, Esq., Brighton; G. W. Webb, Esq., Colborne; G. Jones, Esq., Trenton;
J. Redner, Esq., Rednersville; Owen Roblin, Esq., Wm. DeLong, Esq., Ameliasburg;
H. A. McPaul, Esq., Hillier; Jas. Johnson, Esq., thol W. Boulter, Sophiasburgh, Jas. Calnan, Esq., Hillier, and Charles B. Kemp, Esq., Brighton.

This Company is established upon strictly Mutual principles, insuring farm property Townships, and property not more hazardous in Towns and Villages and offers great advantages to insure at low rates for Three or Five Years either, on the Premium Note or Cash System.
Feb 26th, 1878.

ASSURANCE COMPANY

JOB

THE JOBBING DEPARTMENT

—OF THE—

NAPANEE EXPRESS

IS EXCELLED BY

No Office In The Dominion

ITS OUTFIT INCLUDES A

LARGE STOCK

OF THE

Very Latest Styles of New type

And every Facility exists for turning out

JOB PRINTING

IN THE

Ontario Business College,

has been in existence for 10 years, and, during which time

Has Trained Hundreds of Young Men

business life, who are now filling important positions in the community, offers advantages arising from

COMMERCIAL EDUCATION,

to any Institution in Canada, or the United States. Its several departments are conducted by thoroughly competent men who teach that which they have learned by actual business experience and therefore practically understand.

THE PUBLICATIONS OF THE COLLEGE:

"Canadian Accountant," "Joint Stock Company Book Keeping," "Beatty's Guide to Elegant G., etc., have obtained a National reputation, and are the productions of the principals of the College, who are daily engaged, together with their staff of teachers, in the Class and Lecture, College Bank, and Merchants Emporium with the Students.

THE COURSE IS SHORT,

and the teaching is thorough and practical, and no pains are spared to give to each student fully, as well as to the various classes, the personal attention of the teachers.

GOOD BOARD

obtained in Belleville at a lower rate than in any other place having a Business College in the United States.

The College Journal, containing full information respecting terms, nature of course, etc. specimens of penmanship, sent free on application.

Address, S. G. BEATTY & Co.;
BELLEVILLE, ONTARIO.

11th, September 1877.

13-6m.

ALWAYS AHEAD!

J. GIBBARD & SON is always ahead in Style, Ware and Finish of their Furniture. Our War-rooms were never better Stocked, our Prices were never Lower. We are constantly making improvements in our goods, and as they are all Manufactured on our own premises, and under our own supervision, we can guarantee them as good as the best.

HEAD OFFICE—PICTON, ONT.

(Established 30th Sept., 1854).

PRESIDENT—LEWIS B. STINSON.
VICE-PRESIDENT—JOHN PRINYER.
MANAGER AND INSPECTOR—L. B. STINSON.

SECRETARY—C. D. MORDEN.
TREASURER—PHILIP LOW, Q. C.
SOLICITOR—W. H. R. ALLISON.
DIRECTORS—STEPHEN B. HUBBS, JNO. PRINYER, JOHN VANALSTINE, LEWIS B. STINSON, ADAM H. SAYLOR, CARLETON MCCARTNEY, and GEORGE MARTIN.

HONORARY DIRECTORS.—G. Striker, Esq. M. P. P., Pictou; R. Clapp, Esq., Milford; E. Graham, Esq., Belleville; P. Allan, C. A. Lloyd, Esq., P. Dorland, Esq., Adolphustown; J. E. Hoffman, Esq., J. E. George, Esq., M. P. P., Napanee; J. T. Proctor, Esq., Brighton; G. W. Webb, Esq., Colborne; G. Jones, Esq., Trenton; J. Redner, Esq., Rednersville; Owen Roblin, Esq., Wm. Delong, Esq., Ameliasburg; H. A. McFaul, Esq., Hillier; Jas. Johnson, Esq., thol. W. Boulter, Sophiasburgh, Jas. Calnan, Esq., Hillier, and Charles B. Kemp, Esq., Brighton.

This Company is established upon strictly Mutual principles, insuring farm property Townships, and property not more hazardous in Towns and Villages and offers great advantages to insure at low rates for Three or Five Years either, on the Premium Note or Cash System.

Feb 26th, 1878.

521-y.

ASSURANCE COMPANY

Incorporated 1851.

CAPITAL, $800,000
With power to increase to $1,000,000.

FIRE AND MARINE.

HEAD OFFICE: Toronto, Ont.

President.

HON. JOHN MCMEURICH.

Vice-President.

HARLES MACRATH.

Directors.

JAS. MICHIE, Esq., NOAH BARNHART, Esq., JOHN FISKIN, Esq., ROBT. BEATTY, Esq., A. SMITH, Esq., WM. GOODERHAM, Esq., BARNARD HILDAN, Managing Director, FREDIE G. C. Secretary.

W. V. DETLOR, Esq., Vice-President, 144-145 King St. East, Toronto, Marine Inspector.

Insurance effected at the lowest current rates on Hulls, Goods, Marine, and other property, against loss or damage by fire.

On Hulls, Goods, and Freight against the perils of Inland Navigation.

On Goods, with the Maritime Provinces by sail or steam.

On Goods by Steamers to British Ports.

W. V. DETLOR,

Agent for Napanee

EMPLOYMENT.

IN EVERY VILLAGE and Township of Ontario, not yet occupied, one active, intelligent lady or gentleman can obtain a most respectable and very profitable engagement.

Address, with full particulars as to age and experience,

D. DOWNIE & CO.,

4 King St. East 51 Toronto

April 1878

BEST Business you can engage in, $5 to $25 per day, made by any worker of either sex, right in their own localities. Particulars and samples worth $5000. Improve your spare time at the business. Address STINSON & Co., Portland Maine. 454 c-2-y

BIGGEST chance to make money ever offered. Honest, pleasant, profitable. Costs nothing to try it. For particulars address MONTREAL NOVELTY CO., 53 St. James Street, Montreal.

To Consumptives.

The advertiser, a retired physician, having practiced in the West, a Medical Missionary for 10 years, a very simple vegetable remedy for the cough and consumptive cure of Consumption, Asthma, Bronchitis, Catarrh, all throat and lung affections—also a positive and radical specific for Nervous

ITS OUTFIT INCLUDES A

LARGE STOCK

OF THE

Very Latest Styles of New type

And every Facility exists for turning out

JOB PRINTING

IN THE

BEST STYLE

OF THE ART.

LAW WORK A SPECIALITY

Assessment Blanks,
Auction Bills,
Articles of Agreement,
Briefs,
Bill Heads,
Ball Programmes,
Bills of Fare,
Circulars,
Chancery Bills,
Cards,
Catalogues,
Debitv., &c.

Dockets,
Date Lines,
Envelopes,
Exhibition Bills,
Funeral Circulars,
Financial Reports,
Headings,
Horse Bills,
Indentures,
Invitations

Letter Headings,
Law Forms,
Lawyers' Briefs,
Labels,
Monthly Statements,
Mourning Cards,
Municipal Forms,
Note Headings,
Notarial Circulars

777 is not easily earned in these times, but it can be made in three months by any one of either sex, in any part of the country who is willing to work steadily at the moment that we furnish, $86 per week in own town. You need not be away from over night. You can give your whole time

50 Cheese Makers Wanted!

to buy 20 bags each of choice Factory filled

LIVERPOOL SALT

Aug 30th, 1878.